AMPHITRYON

Translated by Henry Thomas Riley

Amphitryon is Plautus' only play on a mythological subject, which the playwright refers to as a tragic comedy in the prologue. The majority of the text survives, but includes several large missing sections in its latter portion. The plot involves Amphitryon's jealous and confused reaction to Alcmena's seduction by Jupiter and ends with the birth of Hercules.

Some scholars believe the play was sourced from a lost work of Middle Comedy. The line between Old and Middle Comedy is not clearly marked chronologically, so that Aristophanes and some late writers of the Old Comedy are sometimes regarded as the earliest Middle Comic poets. For ancient scholars, the term may have meant little more than "later than Aristophanes and his contemporaries, but earlier than Menander". Middle Comedy is generally regarded as differing from Old Comedy in three ways: the role of the chorus was diminished to the point where it had no influence on the plot; public characters were not impersonated or personified onstage; and the objects of ridicule were general rather than personal, literary rather than political. For at least a time, mythological burlesque was popular among the Middle Comic poets. Stock characters of all sorts also emerge: courtesans, parasites, revellers, philosophers, boastful soldiers, and especially the conceited cook with his parade of culinary science. As no complete Middle Comic plays have been preserved in Greek, it is difficult to offer any real assessment of their literary value or "genius". However, Plautus' Amphitryon certainly illustrates many of the genre's notable features.

THE SUBJECT

CREON, King of Thebes, being at war with the Teleboans or Taphians, under the command of Ptereias, sends an army against them. This is commanded by Amphitryon, who leaves his wife Alcmena pregnant at his departure from Thebes. During his absence from home, Jupiter, assuming his form, and Mercury that of his servant Sosia, present themselves to Alcmena, as though just returned from the expedition against the Taphians. By means of this stratagem, Jupiter is admitted to the embraces of Alcmena. While Mercury is keeping watch at the door of Amphitryon's house, Sosia, who has just arrived at Thebes with Amphitryon, makes his appearance for the purpose of announcing to Alcmena his master's return. Mercury, pretending that he himself is the real Sosia, and that the other is an impostor, drives him away from the door. He goes back to his master, who returns with him to the house, and on meeting Alcmena, she denies his assertion that he has but that moment returned from the expedition, and now presents himself to her for the first time since his return. On this, Amphitryon charges her with infidelity, and goes away to the harbour to find a witness who may persuade Alcmena of the truth of his assertions. When he returns, he is first driven away from the house by Mercury, and is afterwards accused by Jupiter of attempting to personate Amphitryon, which person Jupiter asserts himself to be. The dispute is referred to Blepharo, the pilot of Amphitryon, who, after making minute enquiries into the matter, professes himself utterly unable to decide between them. In the Fifth Act, at the moment in which Alcmena is delivered of Hercules and Iphiclus, a violent peal of thunder is heard, and Amphitryon swoons with the shock. Bromia, the attendant of Alcmena, comes out of the house, and having raised Amphitryon from the ground, on his recovery informs him of the delivery of Alcmena. At this juncture, Jupiter descends in his own character, and reveals the mystery to Amphitryon, who then becomes reconciled with his wife.

THE ACROSTIC ARGUMENT.

[Supposed to have been written by Priscian the Grammarian.]

JUPITER, being captivated by love (Amore) for Alcmena, has changed (Mutavit) himself into the form of her husband, while Amphitryon is fighting for (Pro) his country with the foe; in the form (Habitu) of Sosia, Mercury acts as his servant. He (Is) imposes upon the master and the servant, on their arrival. Amphitryon commences a quarrel (Turbas) with his wife; and Jupiter and Amphitryon seize (Raptant) one another as adulterers. Blepharo, chosen as umpire, is not able to determine which of the two (Uter) is Amphitryon. At last they understand all (Omnem) the matter; and she brings forth twins.

ACT I.

THE PROLOGUE.

MERCURY

As, in purchasing and selling your merchandize, you are desirous to render me propitious to your bargains, and that I should assist you in all things; and as both in foreign countries and at home, you desire me to turn to the best advantage the business and the accounts of you all, and that with fair and ample profit, without end, I should crown the venture both which you have begun, and which you shall begin; and as you wish me to delight you and all yours with joyous news — these tidings will I bring, that I may announce them to you, things which in especial are for your common interest (for already do you know, indeed, that it has been given and assigned to me by the other Divinities, to preside over news and profit): : as you would wish me to favour and promote these things, that lasting gain may ever be forthcoming for you, so shall you give silence for this play, and so shall you be fair and upright judges here, all of you. Now, by whose command, and for what reason I am come, I'll tell you, and at the sane time, myself, I will disclose my name. By the command of Jupiter I am come; my name is Mercury. My father has sent me hither to you to entreat, although, what should as his commands be enjoined on you, he knew that you would do, inasmuch as he knew full well that you venerate and fear himself, as is befitting Jupiter. But, certainly, he bade me ask this of you with entreaty, in gentle tones, and in bland accents. For, in fact, this Jupiter, by whose command I am come, dreads a mishap not less than any one of you. Born of a mortal mother, a mortal sire, it is not reasonable to be surprised if he has apprehensions for himself. And I too, as well, who am the son of Jupiter, through my relationship to my father, stand in dread of ill. Therefore, in peace am I come to you, and peace do I bring. I wish a thing to be asked of you that's reasonable and feasible; for, reasonable things to ask of the reasonable, a reasonable mediator have I been sent. For from the reasonable it is not right to ask things unreasonable; whereas from the unreasonable to ask things reasonable, is sheer folly, since these unrighteous persons are ignorant of what is right, and observe it not. Now then, all lend your attention here to the things which I shall say. What we wish, you ought to wish as well: both I and my father have well deserved of you and of your state. But why should I mention how in Tragedies I have seen others, such as Neptune, Valour, Victory, Mars, Bellona, making mention of the good services which they had done you? Of all these benefits, the ruler of the Deities, my sire, was the founder. But this has never been the habit of my father, to throw in your teeth what good he has done unto the good. He thinks that this is gratefully returned by you to him, and that he bestows these blessings on you deservedly, which he does bestow. Now, the matter which I came here to ask, I'll first premise, after that I'll tell the subject of this Tragedy. Why have you contracted your brows? Is it because I said that this would be a Tragedy? I am a God, and I'll change it. This same, if you wish it, from a Tragedy I'll make to be a Comedy, with all the lines the same. Whether would ye it were so, or not? But I'm too foolish; as though I didn't know, who am a God, that you so wish it; upon this subject I understand what your feelings are. I'll make this to be a mixture — a Tragi-comedy. For me to make it entirely to be a Comedy, where Kings and Gods appear, I do not deem right. What then? Since here the servant has a part as well, just as I said, I'll make it to be a Tragi-comedy. Now Jupiter has ordered me to beg this of you, that the inspectors should go among each of the seats throughout the whole theatre, amid the spectators, that, if they should see any suborned applauders of any actor, there should in the theatre be taken away from them the pledge of their coats, as a security for their good behaviour. But if any should solicit the palm of victory for the actors, or if for any artist, whether by written letters, or whether any person himself should solicit personally, or whether by messenger; or if the Ædiles, too, should unfairly adjudge to any one the reward; Jupiter has commanded the law to be the same as if he had sought by solicitation an appointment for himself or for another. By valour has he declared that you exist as victors, not by canvassing or unfair dealing. Why any the less should there be the same principle for the player, which there is for the greatest man? By merit, not by favourers, ought we to seek our ends. He who does aright has ever favourers enough, if there is honesty in them in whose disposal this matter rests. This, too, he directed me likewise in his injunctions, that there should be inspectors over the players; that, he who should have procured suborned persons to applaud himself, or he who should have contrived for another give less satisfaction, from the same they might strip off his dress and leather mask. I don't wish you to be surprised, for what reason Jupiter now concerns himself about actors. Don't be surprised, Jupiter himself is about to take part in this play. Why are you wondering at this? As though, indeed, a new thing were now mentioned, that Jupiter takes to the calling of a player. But a year since, when here on the stage the actors invoked Jupiter, he came; he aided them. Besides, surely in Tragedy he has a place. This play, I say, Jupiter himself will take a part in this day, and I together with him. Now do you give attention while I shall relate to you the subject of this Comedy.

This city is Thebes; in that house there pointing , Amphitryon dwells, born at Argos, of an Argive sire; whose wife is Alcmena, daughter of Electryon. This Amphitryon is now the general of the Theban troops; for between the Teleboans and the Theban people there is war. He, before he departed hence for the expedition, left his wife Alcmena pregnant. But I believe that you already know how my father is disposed how free in these affairs he has been, and how great a lover of many a woman, if any object once has captivated him. Unknown to her husband, he began to love Alcmena, and took temporary possession of her person for himself, and made her pregnant, too, by his embrace. Now, that more fully you may understand the matter with respect to Alcmena, she is pregnant by both; both by her husband and by supreme Jupiter And my father is now lying here he points to the house in-doors with her; and for this reason is this night made longer, while he is taking this pleasure with her whom he desires. But he has so disguised himself, as though he were Amphitryon. Now, that you may not be surprised at this dress of mine, inasmuch as I have come out here this way in servile garb, an ancient and an antique circumstance, made new, will I relate to you, by reason of which I have come to you attired in this new fashion; for lo! my father Jupiter, now in the house, changes himself into the likeness of Amphitryon, and all the servants who see him think it is he, so shifting in his shape does he render himself when he chooses. I have taken on myself the form of the servant Sosia, who has gone hence together with Amphitryon on the expedition, that I may be able to serve my father in his amour, and that the servants may not be enquiring who I am, when they see me here frequenting oft the house. Now, as they will suppose me a servant and their fellow-servant, not any one will enquire who I am, or why I'm come. My father, now in-doors, is gratifying his inclination, and is embracing her of whom he is especially enamoured. What has been done there at the army, my father is now relating to Alcmena. She, who really is with a paramour, thinks that he is her own husband. There, my father is now relating how he has routed the legions of the enemy; how he has been enriched with abundant gifts. Those gifts which there were given to Amphitryon, we have carried off; what he pleases, my father easily performs. Now will Amphitryon come hither this day from the army, his servant too, whose form I am bearing. Now, that you may be able the more easily to distinguish between us, I always shall carry these little wings here pointing upon my broad-brimmed cap; then besides, for my father there will be a golden tuft beneath his cap; that mark will not be upon Amphitryon. These marks no one of these domestics will be able to see; but you will see them. But yonder is Sosia, the servant of Amphitryon; he is now coming yonder from the harbour, with a lantern. I will now drive him, as he arrives, away from the house. Attend, it will be worth the while of you spectators, for Jupiter and Mercury to perform here the actors' part.

Enter SOSIA, with a Lantern.

to himself. What other person is there more bold than I, or who more stout of heart, who know the humours of young men, and who am walking at this hour of night alone? What shall I do, if now the officers of the watch should thrust me into prison. To-morrow shall I be dealt out from there, just as though from a store-closet, for a whipping; nor will it be allowed me to plead my cause, nor will there be a bit of aid from my master; nor will there be a person but that they will imagine, all of them, that I am deserving. And so will eight sturdy fellows be thumping on wretched me just like an anvil; in this way, just come from foreign parts, I shall be received with hospitality by the public. The inconsiderateness of my master compels me to this, who has packed me off from the harbour at this time of night whether I would or no. Couldn't he as well have sent me here by daylight? For this reason, is servitude to a man of high station a greater hardship; for this reason is the servant of a wealthy man the more wretched: both night and day, without ceasing, there is enough, and more than enough of work for him; for doing or for saying occasion is ever arising, so that you can't be at rest. The master, abounding in servants, and free from labour himself; thinks that whatever he happens to choose, can be done; he thinks that just, and reckons not what the labour is; nor will he ever consider whether he commands a thing that's reasonable or unreasonable. Wherefore, in servitude many hardships do befall us; in pain this burden must be borne and endured.

MERCURY

(to the AUDIENCE). 'Twere with better reason for me to complain of servitude after this fashion; I, who to-day was free, and whom my father is now employing as a slave: this fellow is complaining, who was born a slave.

SOSIA

to himself. Really I am a rascal beyond a doubt; for only this moment it has suggested itself to me, that on my arrival I should give thanks, and address the Gods for their kindnesses vouchsafed. For surely, by my troth, if they were only desirous to give me a return according to my deserts, they would commission some person on my arrival soundly to box my ears, since those kindnesses which they have done me I have held as worthless and of no value.

MERCURY

apart. He does what people are not generally in the habit of doing, in knowing what his deserts are.

to himself. What I never expected, nor any one else of my townsmen, to befall him, that same has come to pass, for us to come home safe and sound. Victorious, the enemy conquered, the troops are returning home, this very mighty war brought to an end, and the enemy slain. A city that has caused many a bitter death for the Theban people, that same has been conquered by the strength and valour of our soldiers, and taken by storm, under the command and conduct of my master Amphitryon in especial. With booty, territory, and glory, too, has he loaded his fellow-citizens, and for Creon, King of Thebes, has he firmly fixed his sway. From the harbour he has sent me before him to his house that I may bear these tidings to his wife, how he has promoted the public good by his guidance, conduct, and command. This now will I consider, in what manner I shall address her, when I've arrived there. If I tell a falsehood. I shall be doing as I am accustomed after my usual wont; for when they were fighting with all their might, then with all my might I ran away. But still I shall pretend as though I was present, and I'll tell her what I heard. But in what manner and with what expressions it is right for me to tell my story, I still wish first to consider here with myself. He assumes an attitude of thought. In these terms will I give this narrative. "In the first place, when we arrived there, when first we made land, Amphitryon immediately made choice of the powerful men among the chieftains. Those he despatched on the embassy, and bade them tell his mind to the Teleboans; that if without constraint and without warfare they should be ready to deliver up what was plundered and the plunderers, and if they should be ready to restore what they had carried off, he would immediately conduct the army homewards, that the Greeks would depart from their territory, and that he would grant peace and quietness to them : but if they should be otherwise disposed, and not concede the things which he demanded, he, in consequence, would attack their city with extreme violence and with his men. When the ambassadors had repeated these things, which Amphitryon had enjoined, in order to the Teleboans, being men stout of heart, relying on their valour, and confident in their prowess, they rebuked our ambassadors very rudely. They answered that they were able in warfare to protect themselves and theirs, and that at once they must lead the army with all haste out of their territories. When the ambassadors brought back this message, straightway Amphitryon drew out all his army from the encampment; on the other side, the Teleboans led forth their legions from the town, furnished with most gorgeous arms. After they had gone forth on either side in full array, the soldiers were marshalled, the ranks were formed. We, after our manner and usage, drew up our legions; the enemy, too, drew up their legions facing us. Then either general went forth into the mid-space beyond the throng of the ranks, and they parleyed together. It was agreed between them, that, which ever side should be conquered in that battle, they should surrender up their city, lands, altars, hearths. and theraselves. After that was done, the trumpets on either side gave the signal; the earth re-echoed, they raised a shout on either side. Each general, both upon this side and on that, offered vows to Jupiter, and then encouraged his troops. Each man according to his ability does that which each one can and has the strength to do; he smites with his falchion; the weapons crash; the welkin bellows with the uproar of the men; of breaths and pantings a cloud is formed; men fall by wounds inflicted by men. At length, as we desired, our troops conquered; the foe fell in numbers; ours, on the other hand, pressed on; firm in our strength, we were victorious. But still not one betook himself to flight, nor yet gave way at his post, but standing there he waged the combat. Sooner than quit the spot, they parted with their lives; each, as he stood, lay there and kept his rank in death. When my master Amphitryon saw this, at once he ordered the cavalry on the right to charge. The cavalry obeyed directly; from the right wing, with a tremendous shout, with brisk onset they rushed on; and rightfully did they slaughter and trample down the impious forces of the foe.”

MERCURY

apart . Not even one word of these has he yet uttered correctly; for I was there in the battle personally, and my father too, when it was fought.

SOSIA

continuing . “The enemy betook themselves to flight. Then was new spirit added to our men, the Teleboans flying, with darts were their bodies filled, and Amphitryon himself, with his own hand, struck off the head of Pterelas their king. This battle was being fought there even from the morning till the evening. This do I the better remember for this reason; because on that day I went without my breakfast. But night at last, by its interposing, cut short this combat. The next day, the chiefs came weeping from the city to us at the camp. With covered hands, they entreated us to pardon their offences; and they all surrendered rendered up themselves. and all things divine and human, their city and their children, into the possession and unto the disposal of the Theban people. Lastly, by reason of his valour, a golden goblet was presented to my master Amphitryon, from which king Pterelas had been used to drink.” These things I’ll thus tell my mistress. I’ll now proceed to obey my master’s order and to betake me home. He moves.

MERCURY

apart . Heyday! he’s about to come this way; I’ll go meet him; and I’ll not permit this fellow at any time to-day to approach this house. Since I have his form upon myself, I’m resolved to play the fellow off. And indeed, since I have taken upon me his figure and his station, it is right for me likewise to have actions and manners like to his. Therefore it befits me to be artful, crafty, very cunning, and by his own weapon, artfulness, to drive him from the door. But what means this? He is looking up at the sky. I’ll watch what scheme he’s about.

SOSIA

looking up at the sky . Upon my faith, for sure, if there is aught besides that I believe, or know for certain, I do believe that this night the God of Night has gone to sleep drunk; for neither does the Wain move itself in any direction in the sky, nor does the Moon bestir herself anywhere from where she first arose; nor does Orion, or the Evening Star, or the Pleiades, set. In such a fashion are the stars standing stock-still, and the night is yielding not a jot to the day.

MERCURY

apart . Go on, Night, as you've begun, and pay obedience to my father. In best style, the best of services are you performing for the best of beings; in giving this, you reap a fair return.

SOSIA

to himself . I do not think that I have ever seen a longer night than this, except one of like fashion, which livelong night I was hanging up, having been first whipped. Even that as well, by my troth, does this one by far exceed in its length. I' faith, I really do believe that the Sun's asleep, and is thoroughly drenched. It's a wonder to me if he hasn't indulged himself a little too much at dinner.

MERCURY

apart . Do you really say so, you scoundrel? Do you think that the Gods are like yourself? I' faith, you hang-dog, I'll entertain you for these speeches and misdeeds of yours; only come this way, will you, and you'll find your ruin.

SOSIA

to himself . Where are those wenchers, who unwillingly lie a-bed alone? A rare night this for making the best of what was a bad bargain at first.

MERCURY

apart . My father then, according to this fellow's words, is doing rightly and wisely, who in his amorousness, indulging his passion, is lying in the embraces of Alcmena.

SOSIA

to himself . I'll go tell Alcmena, as my master ordered me. (Advancing, he discovers MERCURY.) But who is this fellow that I see before the house at this time of night? I don't like it.

MERCURY

aside . There is not in existence another such cowardly fellow as this.

SOSIA

aside . Now, when I think of it, this fellow wishes to take my mantle off once more.

MERCURY

aside . The fellow's afraid; I'll have some sport with him.

SOSIA

aside . I'm quite undone, my teeth are chattering. For sure, on my arrival, he is about to receive me with the hospitality of his fist. He's a merciful person, I suppose; now, because my master has obliged me to keep awake, with his fists just now he'll be making me go to sleep. I'm most confoundedly undone. Troth now, prithee, look, how big and how strong he is.

MERCURY

aside . I'll talk at him aloud, he shall hear what I say. Therefore indeed, in a still greater degree, shall he conceive fears within himself. In a loud voice, holding up his fists. Come, fists, it's a long time now since you found provision for my stomach; it seems to have taken place quite a long time ago, when yesterday you laid four men asleep, stript naked.

SOSIA

aside . I'm dreadfully afraid lest I should be changing my name here, and become a Quintus instead of a Sosia. He declares that he has laid four men asleep; I fear lest I should be adding to that number.

MERCURY

throwing about his arms . Well, now then for it. This is the way I intend.

SOSIA

aside . He is girded tight; for sure, he's getting himself ready.

MERCURY

He shan't get off without getting a thrashing.

SOSIA

aside . What person, I wonder? MERC. Beyond a doubt, whatever person comes this way, he shall eat my fists.

SOSIA

aside . Get out with you, I don't wish to eat at this time of night; I've lately dined. Therefore do you, if you are wise, bestow your dinner on those who are hungry.

MERCURY

The weight of this fist is no poor one.

SOSIA

aside . I'm done for; he is poisoning his fists.

MERCURY

What if I were to touch him, stroking him down, so that he may go to sleep?

SOSIA

aside . You would be proving my salvation; for I've been watching most confoundedly these three nights running.

MERCURY

My hand refuses to learn to strike his cheek; it cannot do a disgraceful action. Hand of mine, of a changed form must he become whom you smite with this fist.

SOSIA

aside . This fellow will be furbishing me up, and be moulding my face anew.

MERCURY

to his fist . The man that you hit full, his face must surely be boned.

SOSIA

aside . It's a wonder if this fellow isn't thinking of boning me just like a lamprey. Away with a fellow that bones people! If he sees me, I'm a dead man.

MERCURY

Some fellow is stinking to his destruction.

SOSIA

aside . Woe to me! Is it I that stink?

MERCURY

And he cannot be very far off; but he has been a long way off from here.

SOSIA

aside . This person's a wizard.

MERCURY

My fists are longing.

SOSIA

aside . If you are going to exercise them upon me, I beg that you'll first cool them down against the wall.

MERCURY

A voice has come flying to my ears.

SOSIA

aside . Unlucky fellow, for sure, was I, who didn't clip its wings. I've got a voice with wings, it seems.

MERCURY

This fellow is demanding of me for himself a heavy punishment for his beast's back.

SOSIA

aside . As for me, I've got no beast's back.

MERCURY

He must be well loaded with my fists.

SOSIA

aside . I' faith, I'm fatigued, coming from board ship, when I was brought hither; even now I'm sea-sick. Without a burden, I can hardly creep along, so don't think that with a load I can go.

MERCURY

Why, surely, somebody is speaking here.

SOSIA

aside . I'm all right, he doesn't see me; he thinks it's "Somebody" speaking: Sosia is certainly my name.

MERCURY

But here, from the right-hand side, the voice, as it seems, strikes upon my ear.

SOSIA

aside . I'm afraid that I shall be getting a thrashing here this day, in place of my voice, that's striking him. Moves.

MERCURY

Here he is — he's coming towards me, most opportunely.

SOSIA

aside . I'm terrified — I'm numbed all over. Upon my faith, I don't know where in the world I now am, if any one should ask me; and to my misfortune, I cannot move myself for fright. It's all up with me; the orders of his master and Sosia are lost together. But I'm determined boldly to address this fellow to his face, so that I may be able to appear valiant to him; that he may keep his hands off me Advances towards the door.

MERCURY

accosting him . Where are you going, you that are carrying Vulcan enclosed in your horn?

SOSIA

Why do you make that enquiry, you who are boning men's heads with your fists?

MERCURY

Are you slave or free man?

SOSIA

Just as it suits my inclination.

MERCURY

Do you really say so?

SOSIA

I really do say so.

MERCURY

Whip-scoundrel!

SOSIA

Now you are telling a lie.

MERCURY

But I'll soon make you own that I'm telling the truth.

SOSIA

What necessity is there for it?

MERCURY

Can I know whence you have set out, whose you are, or why you are come?

SOSIA

pointing . This way I'm going, and I'm the servant of my master. Are you any the wiser now?

MERCURY

I'll this day make you be holding that foul tongue of yours.

SOSIA

You can't; it is kept pure and becomingly.

MERCURY

Do you persist in chattering? What business now have you at this house? Points to the house.

SOSIA

Aye, and what business have you?

MERCURY

King Creon always sets a watch every night.

SOSIA

He does right; because we were abroad, he has been protecting our house. But however, do go in now, and say that some of the family servants have arrived.

MERCURY

How far you are one of the family servants I don't know. But unless you are off from here this instant, family servant as you are, I'll make you to be received in no familiar style.

SOSIA

Here, I say, I live, and of these people I am the servant.

MERCURY

But do you understand how it is? Unless you are off, I'll make you to be exalted this day.

SOSIA

In what way, pray?

MERCURY

You shall be carried off, you shan't walk away, if I take up a stick.

SOSIA

But I declare that I am one of the domestics of this family.

MERCURY

Consider, will you, how soon you want a drubbing, unless you are off from here this instant.

SOSIA

Do you want, as I arrive from foreign parts, to drive me from my home?

MERCURY

Is this your home?

SOSIA

It is so, I say.

MERCURY

Who is your master, then?

SOSIA

Amphitryon, who is now the general of the Theban forces, to whom Alcmena is married.

MERCURY

How say you? What's your name?

SOSIA

The Thebans call me Sosia, the son of my father Davus.

MERCURY

Assuredly, at your peril have you come here this day, with your trumped-up lies, your patched-up knaveries, you essence of effrontery.

SOSIA

Why no, it's rather with garments patched-up that I'm arrived here, not with knaveries.

MERCURY

Why, you are lying again; you come with your feet, surely, and not with your garments.

SOSIA

Yes, certainly.

MERCURY

Then certainly take that for your lie. He strikes him.

SOSIA

By my troth, I certainly don't wish for it of course.

MERCURY

But by my faith, you certainly shall have it of course, whether you wish or not: for, in fact, this is certainly my determination, and it is not at your own option. He strikes him.

SOSIA

Mercy, I entreat of you.

MERCURY

Do you dare to say that you are Sosia, when I myself am he? Strikes him.

SOSIA

crying at the top of his voice . I'm being murdered.

MERCURY

Why, you are crying out for a trifle as yet, compared with what it will be. Whose are you now?

SOSIA

Your own; for with your fists you have laid hands on me. Help, help, citizens of Thebes. MERCURY striking him.

MERCURY

What, still bawling, you scoundrel? Speak — what have you come for?

SOSIA

For there to be somebody for you to belabour with your fists.

MERCURY

Whose are you?

SOSIA

Amphitryon's Sosia, I tell you.

MERCURY

For this reason then you shall be beaten the more, because you prate thus idly; I am Sosia, not you.

SOSIA

aside . I wish the Gods would have it so, that you were he in preference, and that I were thrashing you.

MERCURY

What, muttering still? Strikes him .

SOSIA

I'll hold my tongue then.

MERCURY

Who is your master?

SOSIA

Whoever you like.

MERCURY

How then? What's your name now?

SOSIA

Nothing but what you shall command.

MERCURY

You said that you were Amphitryon's Sosia.

SOSIA

I made a mistake; but this I meant to say, that I was Amphitryon's associate.

MERCURY

Why, I was sure that we had no servant called Sosia except myself.

Your senses are forsaking you.

SOSIA

I wish that those fists of yours had done so.

MERCURY

I am that Sosia, whom you were just now telling me that you are.

SOSIA

I pray that I may be allowed to discourse with you in quietness, so as not to be beaten.

MERCURY

Well then, let there be a truce for a short time, if you want to say anything.

SOSIA

I'll not speak unless peace is concluded, since you are the stronger with your fists.

MERCURY

If you wish to say anything, speak; I'll not hurt you.

SOSIA

Am I to trust in your word?

MERCURY

Yes, in my word.

SOSIA

What, if you deceive me?

MERCURY

Why, then may Mercury be angry with Sosia.

SOSIA

Then give attention: now I'm at liberty to say in freedom anything I please. I am Sosia, servant of Amphitryon.

MERCURY

What, again? Offering to strike him.

SOSIA

I have concluded the peace, ratified the treaty — I speak the truth.

MERCURY

Take that, then. Hie strikes him.

SOSIA

As you please, and what you please, pray do, since you are the stronger with your fists. But whatever you shall do, still, upon my faith, I really shall not be silent about that.

MERCURY

So long as you live, you shall never make me to be any other than Sosia at this moment.

SOSIA

I' faith, you certainly shall never make me to be any other person than my own self; and besides myself we have no other servant of the name of Sosia — myself, who went hence on the expedition together with Amphytryon.

MERCURY

This fellow is not in his senses.

SOSIA

The malady that you impute to me, you have that same yourself. How, the plague, am I not Sosia, the servant of Amphytryon? Has not our ship, which brought me, arrived here this night from the Persian port? Has not my master sent me here? Am I not now standing before our house? Have I not a lantern in my hand? Am I not talking? Am I not wide awake? Has not this fellow been thumping me with his fists? By my troth, he has been doing so; for even now, to my pain, my cheeks are tingling. Why, then, do I hesitate? Or why don't I go in-doors into our house? He makes towards the door.

MERCURY

stepping between . How — your house?

SOSIA

Indeed it really is so.

MERCURY

Why, all that you have been saying just now, you have trumped up; I surely am Amphitryon's Sosia. For in the night this ship of ours weighed anchor from the Persian port, and where king Pterelas reigned, the city we took by storm, and the legions of the Teleboans in fighting we took by arms, and Amphitryon himself cut off the head of king Pterelas in battle.

SOSIA

aside . I do not trust my own self, when I hear him affirm these things; certainly, he really does relate exactly the things that were done there. Aloud. But how say you? What spoil from the Teleboans was made a present to Amphitryon?

MERCURY

A golden goblet, from which king Pterelas used to drink.

SOSIA

aside . He has said the truth. Where now is this goblet?

MERCURY

'Tis in a casket, sealed with the seal of Amphitryon.

SOSIA

Tell me, what is the seal?

MERCURY

The Sun rising with his chariot. Why are you on the catch for me, you villain?

SOSIA

aside . He has overpowered me with his proofs. I must look out for another name. I don't know from whence he witnessed these things. I'll now entrap him finely; for what I did alone by myself, and when not another person was present in the tent, that, he certainly will never be able this day to tell me. Aloud. If you are Sosia, when the armies were fighting most vigorously, what were you doing in the tent? If you tell me that, I'm vanquished.

MERCURY

There was a cask of wine; from it I filled an earthen pot.

SOSIA

aside . He has got upon the track.

MERC.

That I drew full of pure wine, just as it was born from the mother grape.

SOSIA

aside . It's a wonder if this fellow wasn't lying hid inside of that earthen pot. It is the fact, that there I did drink an earthen pot full of wine.

MERCURY

Well — do I now convince you by my proofs that you are not Sosia?

SOSIA

Do you deny that I am?

MERCURY

Why should I not deny it, who am he myself?

SOSIA

By Jupiter I swear that I am he, and that I do not say false.

MERCURY

But by Mercury, I swear that Jupiter does not believe you; for I am sure that he will rather credit me without an oath than you with an oath.

SOSIA

Who am I, at all events, if I am not Sosia? I ask you that.

MERCURY

When I choose not to be Sosia, then do you be Sosia; now, since I am he, you'll get a thrashing, if you are not off hence, you fellow without a name.

SOSIA

aside . Upon my faith, for sure, when I examine him and recollect my own figure, just in such manner as I am (I've often looked in a glass): , he is exactly like me. He has the broad-brimmed hat and clothing just the same; he is as like me as I am myself. His leg, foot, stature, shorn head, eyes, nose, even his lips, cheeks, chin, beard, neck — the whole of him. What need is there of words? If his back is marked with scars, than this likeness there is nothing more like. But when I reflect, really, I surely am the same person that I always was. My master I know, I know our I house; I am quite in my wits and senses. I'm not going to I obey this fellow in what he says; I'll knock at the door. Goes towards the door.

MERCURY

Whither are you betaking yourself?

SOSIA

Home.

MERCURY

If now you were to ascend the chariot of Jove and fly away from here, then you could hardly be able to escape destruction.

SOSIA

Mayn't I be allowed to deliver the message to my mistress that my master ordered me to give?

MERCURY

If you want to deliver any message to your own mistress; this mistress of mine I shall not allow you to approach. But if you provoke me, you'll be just now taking hence your loins broken.

SOSIA

In preference, I'll be off. Aside. Immortal Gods, I do beseech your mercy. Where did I lose myself? Where have I been transformed? Where have I parted with my figure? Or have I left myself behind there, if perchance I have forgotten it? For really this person has possession of all my figure, such as it formerly was. While living, that is done for me, which no one will ever do for me when dead. I'll go to the harbour, and I'll tell my master these things as they have happened — unless even he as well shall not know me, which may Jupiter grant, so that this day, bald, with shaven crown, I may assume the cap of freedom. (Exit.)

MERCURY, alone

MERCURY

Well and prosperously has this affair gone on for me; from the door have I removed the greatest obstacle, so that it may be allowed my father to embrace her in security. When now he shall have reached his master, Amphitryon there, he will say that the servant Sosia has repulsed himself from the door here; and then the other will suppose that he is telling him a lie, and will not believe that he has come here as he had ordered him. Both of them and the whole household of Amphitryon I will fill with mistakes and distraction, even until my father shall have had full enjoyment of her whom he loves; then at last all shall know what has been done. In the end Jupiter shall restore Alcmena to the former affection of her husband. For Amphitryon will just now be beginning a quarrel with his wife, and will be accusing her of incontinence; then will my father change for her this strife into tranquillity. Now, inasmuch as yet I've said but little about Alcmena, this day will she bring forth two sons, twins; the one will be born in the tenth month after he was begotten, the other in the seventh month; of these the one is the son of Amphitryon, the other of Jupiter. But of the younger son the father is the superior, of the elder the inferior. To the AUDIENCE. Now do you comprehend this how it is? But for the sake of the honor of this Alcmena, my father will take care that it shall happen at one birth, so that in one travail she may complete her double pangs, and not be laid under suspicion of unchastity, and that the clandestine connexion may remain concealed. Although, as I have said just now, Amphytrion shall still know all the matter in the end. What then? No one surely will impute it to Alcmena as a disgrace; for it does not seem that a God is acting justly to permit his own offences and his own faultiness to fall upon a mortal. I'll cut short my talk: the door makes a noise. See, the counterfeit Amphytrion is coming out of doors, and together with him Alcmena, the wife that he has taken the loan of.

Enter JUPITER and ALCMENA, from the house.

JUPITER

Kindly fare you well, Alcmena; take care, as you are doing, of our common interest, and pray be sparing of yourself; you see that now your months are completed. It's necessary for me to go away from here; but the offspring that shall be born do you bring up.

ALCMENA

What business is this, my husband, since you thus suddenly leave your home?

JUPITER

By my troth, 'tis not that I am wearied of you or of my home; but when the chief commander is not with the army, that is sooner done which ought not to be done than that which needs to be done.

MERCURY

aside . This is a very clever counterfeit, who really is my own father. To the AUDIENCE. Do you observe him, how blandly he smooths the lady over.

ALCMENA

I' faith, I find by experience how much you value your wife.

JUPITER

If there is no one among women whom I love so much, are you satisfied?

MERCURY

aside . Verily, upon my faith, if Juno only knew that you were giving your attention to such matters, I'd warrant that you'd rather be Amphytrion than Jupiter.

ALCMENA

I would rather that I should find it so by experience, than that it should be told me. You leave me before the spot in the bed where you have been lying has well grown warm. Yesterday, in the middle of the night, you came, and now you are going away. Is this your pleasure?

MERCURY

aside . I'll approach, and address her, and play second fiddle to my father. He approaches ALCMENA. Never, upon my faith, do I believe that any mortal did so. distractedly love his wife as he distractedly dotes upon you.

JUPITER

Scoundrel! — don't I know you of old? Won't you be off out of my sight? What business have you in this matter, whip-knave? or why your muttering? Whom this very instant, with this walking-stick, I'll — Shakes his stick over his head.

ALCMENA

Oh don't.

JUPITER

Only make a whisper.

MERCURY

aside . My first attempt at playing second fiddle had almost come to an unfortunate conclusion.

JUPITER

But as to what you say, my wife, you ought not to be angry with me. I came away privately from the army: these moments I stole for you, that you the first might know from me the first, how I had managed the common interests. All this have I related to you. If I had not loved you very much, I should not have done so.

MERCURY

aside . Isn't he doing just as I said? In her alarm, he is smoothing her down.

JUPITER

That the army then mayn't find it out, I must return there privately, lest they should say that I have preferred my wife before the common interests.

ALCMENA

By your departure you set your wife in tears.

JUPITER

Be quiet; don't spoil your eyes: I'll return very shortly.

ALCMENA

That "very shortly" is a long time.

JUPITER

I do not with pleasure leave you here, or go away from you.

ALCMENA

I am sensible of it; for, the night that you have come to me, on the same you go away. (She embraces him.)

JUPITER

Why do you hold me? It is time to go: I wish to depart from the city before it dawns. Now, Alcmena, this goblet which has been given me there on account of my valour, from which king Pterelas used to drink, he whom I slew with my own hand, the same I present to you. Presents to her the goblet.

ALCMENA

taking the goblet . You do as you are wont in other things. By heavens, it is a noble gift; like him who gave the gift.

MERCURY

Aye, a noble gift; just like her to whom it has been given as a gift.

JUPITER

What, still going on? Can't I, you scoundrel, make an end of you?

ALCMENA

Amphitryon, there's a dear, don't be angry with Sosia on my account.

JUPITER

Just as you wish I'll do.

MERCURY

aside . From his intriguing, how very savage he does become!

JUPITER

Do you wish for anything else?

ALCMENA

That when I am absent you will love me — me, who am yours, though absent.

MERCURY

Let's go, Amphitryon; it's already dawning.

JUPITER

Go you first, Sosia. Exit MERCURY. I'll follow this instant. To ALCMENA. Is there anything you wish?

ALCMENA

Yes; that you'll come back speedily.

JUPITER

I will; and sooner than you expect will I be here therefore be of good heart. ALCMENA goes into the house. Now Night, thou who hast tarried for me, I permit these to give place to Day, that thou mayst shine upon mortals with a bright and brilliant light. And Night, as much as on this last thou wast too long, so much the shorter will I make the Day to be, that a Day of equal disparity may succeed the Night. I'll go and follow Mercury. (Exit.)

ACT II.

Enter AMPHITRYON and SOSIA, at the end of the stage.

AMPH.

Come, do you follow after me.

SOSIA

I'm following; I'm following close after you.

AMPH.

I think that you are the veriest rogue ——

SOSIA

But for what reason?

AMPH.

Because that which neither is, nor ever was, nor will be, you declare to me.

SOSIA

Look at that; you are now acting according to your usual fashion, to be putting no trust in your servants.

AMPH.

Why is it so? For what reason? Surely now, by the powers, I'll cut out that villanous tongue of yours, you villain.

SOSIA

I am yours; do each thing just as it is agreeable and as it pleases you. Still you never can, by any method, hinder me from saying these things just as they took place here.

AMPH.

You consummate villain, do you dare tell me this, that you are now at home, who are here present?

SOSIA

I speak the truth.

AMPH.

A mishap shall the Gods send upon you, and I this day will send it as well.

SOSIA

That's in your power, for I am your property.

AMPH.

Do you dare, you whip-scurdrel, to play your tricks with me, your master? Do you dare affirm that which no person ever yet before this has seen, and which cannot possibly happen, for the same man to be in two places together at the same time?

SOSIA

Undoubtedly, such as I say is the fact.

AMPH.

May Jupiter confound you!

SOSIA

What evil, master, have I been deemed deserving of in your service?

AMPH.

Do you ask me, you rogue, who are even making sport of me?

SOSIA

With reason might you curse me, if it had not so happened. But I tell no lie, and I speak as the thing really did happen.

AMPH.

This fellow's drunk, as I imagine.

SOSIA

What, I?

AMPH.

Yes — you there.

SOSIA

I wish I were so.

AMPH.

You are wishing for that which is fact; where have you been drinking?

SOSIA

Nowhere, indeed.

AMPH.

What is this, that is the matter with the fellow?

SOSIA

Really I have told you ten times over. I am both at home now, I say (do you mark me?), and I, Sosia, am with you likewise. Don't I appear, master, to have told you quite distinctly, and quite circumstantially, that this is so.

AMPH.

Avaunt, get away with you from me.

SOSIA

What's the matter?

AMPH.

A pestilence possesses you.

SOSIA

But why do you say so to me? I really am quite well and in perfect health, Amphitryon.

AMPH.

But I'll make you this very day, just as you have deserved, not to be quite so well, and to be miserable instead of your perfect health, if I return home. Follow me, you who in this fashion are making sport of your master with your crack-brained talk; you, who, since you have neglected to perform what your master ordered, are now come even of your own accord to laugh at your master. Things which neither can happen, and which no one ever yet heard of in talk, you are telling of, you villain; on your back I'll take care and make those lies to tell this very day.

SOSIA

Amphitryon, this is the most wretched of wretchedness to a good servant, who is telling the truth to his master, if that same truth is overpowered by violence.

AMPH.

Discuss it with me by proofs. Why, how the plague can such a thing happen, for you now to be both here and at home? That I want to be told.

SOSIA

I really am both here and there; this any person has a right to wonder at; nor, Amphitryon, does this seem more strange to you than to myself.

AMPH.

In what way?

SOSIA

In no degree, I say, is this more strange to you than to myself; nor, so may the Deities love me, did I at first credit Sosia — me myself, until that Sosia, I myself, made me to believe me myself. In order did he relate everything, as each thing came to pass, when we sojourned with the enemy; and then besides, he has carried off my figure together with my name. Not even is milk more like to milk than is that I myself like to me myself. For when some time since, before daybreak, you sent me from the harbour home before you ——

AMPH.

What then?

SOSIA

I had been standing a long time at the door before I had got there.

AMPH.

Plague on it, what nonsense! Are you quite in your senses?

SOSIA

I'm just as you see me.

AMPH.

Some mischief, I know not what, has befallen this fellow from an evil hand since he left me.

SOSIA

I confess it; for I have been most shockingly bruised with his fists.

AMPH.

Who has been beating you?

SOSIA

I myself, who am now at home, beat me myself.

AMPH.

Take you care to say nothing but what I shall ask you. Now, do you answer me. First of all, who this Sosia is, of that I want to be informed.

SOSIA

He is your servant.

AMPH.

Really I have even more than I desire by your own one self. Never, too, since I was born, had I a servant Sosia besides yourself.

SOSIA

But now, Amphytryon, I say this; I'll make you, I say, on your arrival, meet with another Sosia at home, a servant of yours, besides myself, a son of Davus, the same father with myself, of figure and age as well just like myself. What need is there of words? This Sosia of yours is become twofold.

AMPH.

You talk of things extremely wonderful. But did you see my wife?

SOSIA

Nay, but it was never allowed me to go in-doors into the house.

AMPH.

Who hindered you?

SOSIA

This Sosia, whom I was just now telling of, he who thumped me.

AMPH.

Who is this Sosia?

SOSIA

Myself, I say; how often must it be told you?

AMPH.

But how say you? Have you been sleeping the while?

SOSIA

Not the slightest in the world.

AMPH.

Then, perhaps, you might perchance have seen some Sosia in your dreams.

SOSIA

I am not in the habit of performing the orders of my master in a sleepy fashion. Awake I saw him, awake I now see you, awake I am talking, awake did he, a little while since, thump me about with his fists.

AMPH.

What person did so?

SOSIA

Sosia, that I myself, — he, I say. Prithee, don't you understand?

AMPH.

How, the plague, can any one possibly understand? You are jabbering such nonsense.

SOSIA

But you'll know him shortly.

AMPH.

Whom?

SOSIA

You'll know this servant Sosia.

AMPH.

Follow me this way, then; for it is necessary for me first to enquire into this. But take care that all the things that I ordered are now brought from the ship.

SOSIA

I am both mindful and diligent that what you order shall be performed; together with the wine, I have not drunk up your commands.

AMPH.

May the Gods grant, that, in the event, what you have said may prove untrue. They stand apart.

Enter ALCMENA, from the house, attended by THESSALA.

ALCMENA

Is not the proportion of pleasures in life and in passing our existence short in comparison with what is disagreeable? So it is allotted to each man in life; so has it pleased the Gods that Sorrow should attend on Pleasure as her companion; but if aught of good befalls us, more of trouble and of ill forthwith attends us. For this do I now feel by experience at home and in relation to myself, to whom delight has been imparted for a very short time, while I had the opportunity of seeing my husband for but one night; and now has he suddenly gone away hence from me before the dawn. Deserted do I now seem to myself, because he is absent from here, he whom before all I love. More of grief have I felt from the departure of my husband, than of pleasure from his arrival. But this, at least, makes me happy, that he has conquered the foe, and has returned home loaded with glory. Let him be absent, if only with fame acquired he betakes himself home. I shall bear and ever endure his absence with mind resolved and steadfast; if only this reward is granted me, that my husband shall be hailed the conqueror in the warfare, sufficient for myself will I deem it. Valour is the best reward; valour assuredly surpasses all things: liberty, safety, life, property and parents, country too, and children, by it are defended and preserved. Valour comprises everything in itself: all blessings attend him in whose possession is valour.

AMPH.

apart . By my troth, I do believe that I shall come much wished for by my wife, who loves me, and whom, in return, I love: especially, our enterprise crowned with success, the enemy vanquished, whom no one had supposed to be able to be conquered: these, under my conduct and command, at the first meeting, have we vanquished; but I know for sure that I shall come to her much wished for.

SOSIA

aside . Well, and don't you think that I shall come much wished for to my mistress? SOSIA.

ALCMENA

to herself . Surely, this is my husband.

AMPH.

to SOSIA . Do you follow me this way.

ALCMENA

to herself. But why has he returned, when just now he said that he was in haste? Is he purposely trying me, and is he desirous to make proof of this, how much I regret his departure? By my faith, against no inclination of mine has he betaken himself home.

SOSIA

Amphitryon, it were better for us to return to the ship.

AMPH.

For what reason?

SOSIA

Because there's no person at home to give us a breakfast on our arrival.

AMPH.

How comes that now into your mind?

SOSIA

Why, because we have come too late.

AMPH.

How so?

SOSIA

Because I see Alcmena standing before the house, with her stomach-full already.

AMPH.

I left her pregnant here when I went away.

SOSIA

Alas, to my sorrow, I'm undone!

AMPH.

What's the matter with you?

SOSIA

I have come home just in good time to fetch the water in the tenth month after that, according as I understand you to compute the reckoning.

AMPH.

Be of good heart.

SOSIA

Do you know of how good heart I am? By my troth, do you never after this day entrust to me aught that is sacred, if I don't draw up all the life of that well, if I do but make a beginning.

AMPH.

Do you only follow me this way. I'll appoint another person for that business; don't you fear.

ALCMENA

advancing . I think that I shall now be doing my duty more, if I go to meet him. (They meet.)

AMPH.

With joy, Amphytryon greets his longed for wife — her, whom of all women in Thebes her husband deems by far the most excellent, and whom so much the Theban citizens truthfully extol as virtuous. Have you fared well all along? Do I arrive much wished for by you?

SOSIA

aside . I never saw one more so; for she greets her own husband not a bit more than a dog.

AMPH.

When I see you pregnant, and so gracefully burdened, I am delighted.

ALCMENA

Prithee, in the name of all that's good, why, for the sake of mockery, do you thus salute and address me, as though you hadn't lately seen me — as though now, for the first time, you were betaking yourself homeward here from the enemy? For now you are addressing me just as though you were seeing me after a long time.

AMPH.

Why, really for my part, I have not seen you at all this day until now.

ALCMENA

Why do you deny it?

AMPH.

Because I have learned to speak the truth.

ALCMENA

He does not do right, who unlearns the same that he has learned. Are you making trial what feelings I possess? But why are you returning hither so soon? Has an ill omen delayed you, or does the weather keep you back, you who have not gone away to your troops, as you were lately speaking of?

AMPH.

Lately? How long since was this “lately?”

ALCMENA

You are trying me; but very lately, just now.

AMPH.

Prithee, how can that possibly be as you say?— “but very lately, just now.”

ALCMENA

Why, what do you imagine? That I, on the other hand, shall trifle with you who are playing with me, in saying that you are now come for the first time, you who but just now went away from here?

AMPH.

Surely she is talking deliriously.

SOSIA

Stop a little while, until she has slept out this one sleep.

AMPH.

Is she not dreaming with her eyes open?

ALCMENA

Upon my faith, for my part I really am awake, and awake I am relating that which has happened; for, but lately, before daybreak, I saw both him pointing at SOSIA and yourself.

AMPH.

In what place?

ALCMENA

Here, in the house where you yourself dwell.

AMPH.

It never was the fact.

SOSIA

Will you not hold your peace? What if the vessel brought us here from the harbour in our sleep?

AMPH.

Are you, too, going to back her as well?

SOSIA

aside to AMPHITRYON . What do you wish to be done? Don't you know, if you wish to oppose a raving Bacchanal, from a mad woman you'll render her more mad — she'll strike the oftener; if you humour her, after one blow you may overcome her?

AMPH.

But, by my troth, this thing is resolved upon, somehow to rate her who this day has been unwilling to greet me on my arrival home.

SOSIA

You'll only be irritating hornets.

AMPH.

You hold your tongue. Alcmena, I wish to ask you one thing.

ALCMENA

Ask me anything you please.

AMPH.

Is it frenzy that has come upon you, or does pride overcome you?

ALCMENA

How comes it into your mind, my husband, to ask me that?

AMPH.

Because formerly you used to greet me on my arrival, and to address me in such manner as those women who are virtuous are wont their husbands. On my arrival home I've found that you have got rid of that custom.

ALCMENA

By my faith, indeed, I assuredly did both greet you yesterday, upon your arrival, at that very instant, and at the same time I enquired if you had continued in health all along, my husband, and I took your hand and gave you a kiss.

SOSIA

What, did you welcome him yesterday?

ALCMENA

And you too, as well, Sosia.

SOSIA

Amphitryon, I did hope that she was about to bring you forth a son; but she isn't gone with child.

AMPH.

What then?

SOSIA

With madness.

ALCMENA

Really I am in my senses, and I pray the Gods that in safety I may bring forth a son; but to SOSIA hap-ill shall you be having, if he does his duty: for those ominous words, omen-maker, you shall catch what befits you.

SOSIA

Why really an apple ought to be given to the lady thus pregnant, that there may be something for her to gnaw if she should begin to faint.

AMPH.

Did you see me here yesterday?

ALCMENA

I did, I say, if you wish it to be ten times repeated.

AMPH.

In your sleep, perhaps?

ALCMENA

No — I, awake, saw you awake.

AMPH.

Woe to me!

SOSIA

What's the matter with you?

AMPH.

My wife is mad.

SOSIA

She's attacked with black bile; nothing so soon turns people mad.

AMPH.

When, madam, did you first find yourself affected?

ALCMENA

Why really, upon my faith, I'm well, and in my senses.

AMPH.

Why, then, do you say that you saw me yesterday, whereas we were brought into harbour but last night? There did I dine, and there did I rest the livelong night on board ship, nor have I set my foot even here into the house, since, with the army, I set out hence against the Teleboan foe, and since we conquered them.

ALCMENA

On the contrary, you dined with me, and you slept with me.

AMPH.

How so?

ALCMENA

I'm telling the truth.

AMPH.

On my honor, not in this matter, really; about other MATTERS

I don't know.

ALCMENA

At the very break of dawn you went away to your troops.

AMPH.

By what means could I?

SOSIA

She says right, according as she remembers; she's telling you her dream. But, madam, after you arose, you ought to have sacrificed to Jove, the disposer of prodigies, either with a salt cake or with frankincense.

ALCMENA

A mischief on your head!

SOSIA

That's your own business, if you take due care.

ALCMENA

Now again this fellow is talking rudely to me, and that without punishment.

AMPH.

to SOSIA . You hold your tongue. To ALCMENA. Do you tell me now — did I go away hence from you at daybreak?

ALCMENA

Who then but your own self recounted to me how the battle went there?

AMPH.

And do you know that as well?

ALCMENA

Why, I heard it from your own self, how you had taken a very large city, and how you yourself had slain king Pterelas.

AMPH.

What, did I tell you this?

ALCMENA

You yourself, this Sosia standing by as well.

AMPH.

to SOSIA . Have you heard me telling about this to-day?

SOSIA

Where should I have heard you?

AMPH.

Ask her.

SOSIA

In my presence, indeed, it never took place, that I know of.

ALCMENA

It would be a wonder if he didn't contradict you.

AMPH.

Sosia, come here and look at me.

SOSIA

looks at him . I am looking at you.

AMPH.

I wish you to tell the truth, and I don't want you to humour me. Have you heard me this day say to her these things which she affirms?

SOSIA

Prithee now, by my troth, are you, too, mad as well, when you ask me this, me, who, for my part, my own self now behold her in company with you for the first time?

AMPH.

How now, madam? Do you hear him?

ALCMENA

I do, indeed, and telling an untruth.

AMPH.

Do you believe neither him nor my own self, your husband?

ALCMENA

No; for this reason it is, because I most readily believe myself, and I am sure that these things took place just as I relate them.

AMPH.

Do you say that I came yesterday?

ALCMENA

Do you deny that you went away from here to-day?

AMPH.

I really do deny it, and I declare that I have now come home to you for the first time.

ALCMENA

Prithee, will you deny this too, that you to-day made me a present of a golden goblet, with which you said that you had been presented?

AMPH.

By heavens, I neither gave it nor told you so: but I had so intended, and do so now, to present you with that goblet. But who told you this?

ALCMENA

Why, I heard it from yourself, and I received the goblet from your own hand. She moves as if going.

AMPH.

Stay, stay, I entreat you. Sosia, I marvel much how she knows that I was presented there with this golden goblet, unless you have lately met her and told her all this.

SOSIA

Upon my faith, I have never told her, nor have I ever beheld her except with yourself.

AMPH.

What is the matter with this person?

ALCMENA

Should you like the goblet to be produced?

AMPH.

I should like it; to be produced

ALCMENA

Be it so. Do you go, Thessala, and bring from indoors the goblet, with which my husband presented me today. THESSALA goes into the house, and AMPHITRYON and SOSIA walk on one side.

AMPH.

Sosia, do you step this way. Really, I do wonder extremely at this beyond the other wondrous matters, if she has got this goblet.

SOSIA

And do you believe it, when it's carried in this casket, sealed with your own seal. He shows the casket.

AMPH.

Is the seal whole?

SOSIA

Examine it.

AMPH.

examining it . All right, it's just as I sealed it up.

SOSIA

Prithee, why don't you order her to be purified as a frantic person?

AMPH.

By my troth, somehow there's need for it, for, i' faith, she's certainly filled with sprites. ALCMENA.

ALCMENA

What need is there of talking? See, here's the goblet; here it is.

AMPH.

Give it me.

ALCMENA

Come, now then, look here, if you please, you who deny what is fact, and whom I shall now clearly convict in this case. Isn't this the goblet with which you were presented there?

AMPH.

Supreme Jupiter! what do I behold? Surely this is that goblet. Sosia, I'm utterly confounded.

SOSIA

Upon my faith, either this woman is a most consummate juggler, or the goblet must be in here pointing to the casket . AMPH. Come, then, open this casket.

SOSIA

Why should I open it? It is securely sealed. The thing is cleverly contrived; you have brought forth another Amphitryon, I have brought forth another Sosia; now if the goblet has brought forth a goblet, we have all produced our doubles.

AMPH.

I'm determined to open and examine it.

SOSIA

Look, please, how the seal is, that you may not hereafter throw the blame on me.

AMPH.

Now do open it. For she certainly is desirous to drive us mad with her talking.

ALCMENA

Whence then came this which was made a present to me, but from yourself?

AMPH.

It's necessary for me to enquire into this.

SOSIA

opening the casket . Jupiter, O Jupiter!

AMPH.

What is the matter with you?

SOSIA

There's no goblet here in the casket.

AMPH.

What do I hear.

SOSIA

That which is the truth.

AMPH.

But at your peril now, if it does not make its appearance.

ALCMENA

showing it . Why, it does make its appearance.

AMPH.

Who then gave it you?

ALCMENA

The person that's asking me the question.

SOSIA

to AMPHITRYON . You are on the catch for me, inasmuch as you yourself have secretly run before me hither from the ship by another road, and have taken the goblet away from here and given it to her, and afterwards you have secretly sealed it up again.

AMPH.

Ah me! and are you too helping her frenzy as well? To ALCMENA
Do you say that we arrived here yesterday?

ALCMENA

I do say so, and on your arrival you instantly greeted me, and I you, and I gave you a kiss.

SOSIA

aside . That beginning now about the kiss doesn't please me.

AMPH.

Go on telling it.

ALCMENA

Then you bathed.

AMPH.

What, after I bathed?

ALCMENA

You took your place at table.

SOSIA

Bravo, capital! Now make further enquiry.

AMPH.

to SOSIA . Don't you interrupt. To ALCMENA . Go on telling me.

ALCMENA

The dinner was served; you dined with me; I reclined together with you at the repast.

AMPH.

What, on the same couch?

ALCMENA

On the same.

SOSIA

Oh dear, I don't like this banquet.

AMPH.

Now do let her give her proofs. To ALCMENA. What, after we had dined?

ALCMENA

You said that you were inclined to go to sleep; the table was removed; thence we went to bed.

AMPH.

Where did you lie?

ALCMENA

In the chamber, in the same bed together with your. self.

AMPH.

You have proved my undoing.

SOSIA

What's the matter with you?

AMPH.

This very moment has she sent me to my grave.

ALCMENA

How so, pray?

AMPH.

Don't address me.

SOSIA

What's the matter with you?

AMPH.

To my sorrow I'm undone, since, in my absence from here, dishonor has befallen her chastity.

ALCMENA

In heaven's name, my lord, why, I beseech you, do I hear this from you?

AMPH.

I, your lord? False one, don't call me by a false name.

SOSIA

aside . 'Tis an odd matter this, if indeed he has been made into my lady from my lord.

ALCMENA

What have I done, by reason of which these expressions are uttered to me?

AMPH.

You yourself proclaim your own doings; do you enquire of me in what you have offended?

ALCMENA

In what have I offended you, if I have been with you to whom I am married?

AMPH.

You, been with me? What is there of greater effrontery than this impudent woman? At least, if you were wanting in modesty of your own, you might have borrowed it.

ALCMENA

That criminality which you lay to my charge befits not my family. If you try to catch me in incontinence, you cannot convict me.

AMPH.

Immortal Gods! do you at least know me, Sosia?

SOSIA

Pretty well.

AMPH.

Did I not dine yesterday on board ship in the Persian Port?

ALCMENA

I have witnesses as well, who can confirm that which I say.

SOSIA

I don't know what to say to this matter, unless, perchance, there is another Amphitryon, who, perhaps, though you yourself are absent, takes care of your business, and who, in your absence, performs your duties here. For about that counterfeit Sosia it is very surprising. Certainly, about this Amphitryon, now, it is another matter still more surprising.

AMPH.

Some magician, I know not who, is bewildering this woman.

ALCMENA

By the realms of the supreme Sovereign I swear, and by Juno, the matron Goddess, whom for me to fear and venerate it is most especially fitting, that no mortal being except yourself alone has ever touched my person in contact with his so as to render me unchaste.

AMPH.

I could wish that that was true.

ALCMENA

I speak the truth, but in vain, since you will not believe me.

AMPH.

You are a woman; you swear at random.

ALCMENA

She who has not done wrong, her it befits to be bold and to speak confidently and positively in her own behalf.

AMPH.

That's very boldly said.

ALCMENA

Just as befits a virtuous woman.

AMPH.

Say you so? By your own words you prove it.

ALCMENA

That which is called a dowry, I do not deem the same my dowry; but chastity, and modesty, and subdued desires, fear of the Gods, and love of my parents, and concord with my kindred; to be obedient to yourself and bounteous to the good, ready to aid the upright.

SOSIA

Surely, by my troth, if she tells the truth in this, she's perfect to the very ideal.

AMPH.

Really I am so bewildered, that I don't know myself who I am.

SOSIA

Surely you are Amphitryon; take you care, please, that you don't peradventure lose yourself; people are changing in such a fashion since we came from abroad.

AMPH.

Madam, I'm resolved not to omit having this matter enquired into.

ALCMENA

I' faith, you'll do so quite to my satisfaction.

AMPH.

How say you? Answer me; what if I bring your own kinsman, Naucrates, hither from the ship, who, together with me, has been brought on board the same ship; and if he denies that that has happened which you say has happened, what is proper to be done to you? Do you allege any reason. why I should not at your cost dissolve this our marriage?

ALCMENA

If I have done wrong, there is no reason.

AMPH.

Agreed. Do you, Sosia, take these people in-doors. I'll bring Naucrates hither with me from the ship. (Exit.) going close to ALCMENA . Now then, there's no one here except ourselves; tell me the truth seriously, is there any Sosia in-doors who is like myself?

SOSIA

ALCMENA

Won't you hence away from me, fit servant for your master?

SOSIA

If you command me, I'm off, Goes into the house.

ALCMENA

to herself . By heavens, it is a very wondrous proceeding, how it has pleased this husband of mine thus to accuse me falsely of a crime so foul. Whatever it is, I shall now learn it from my kinsman Naucrates. Goes into the house.

ACT III.

Enter JUPITER.

JUPITER

I am that Amphitryon, whose servant Sosia is the same that becomes Mercury when there is occasion — I, who dwell in the highest story, who sometimes, when it pleases me, become Jupiter. But, hither soon as ever I turn my steps, I become Amphitryon that moment, and I change my garb. Now hither am I come for the sake of a compliment to you, that I may not leave this Comedy incomplete. I've come as well to bring assistance to Alcmena, whom, guiltless woman, her husband Amphitryon is accusing of dishonor, For what I myself have brought about, if that undeservedly should fall as an injury upon her in her innocence, it would be my blame. Now, as I have already begun, I'll again pretend that I am Amphitryon, and this day will I introduce extreme confusion into this household. Then afterwards, at last, I'll cause the matter to be disclosed, and to Alcmena timely aid will I bring, and will cause that at one birth she shall bring forth, without pangs, both the child with which she is pregnant by her husband and that with which she is pregnant by myself. I have ordered Mercury forthwith to follow me, if I should wish to give him any commands. Now will I accost her. He stands apart.

Enter ALCMENA, from the house.

ALCMENA

I cannot remain in the house. That I should be thus accused by my husband of dishonor, incontinence, and disgrace! he cries aloud that things which have been done, have really not been done; and of things which have not been done, and of which I have not been guilty, he accuses me, and supposes that I shall treat it with indifference. By heavens, I will not do so, nor will I allow myself to be falsely charged with dishonor; but rather I'll either leave him, or make him give satisfaction and swear as well that he wishes unsaid the things which he has alleged against me in my innocence.

JUPITER

apart . This must be done by me, which she requires to be done, if I wish for her to receive me into her company as loving her: since that which I have done, that same conduct has proved to the detriment of Amphitryon, and since my love has already created trouble for him who is really guiltless, why now his wrath and his resentment towards her shall fall on me that am not accused.

ALCMENA

And lo! I see him, who just now was accusing wretched me of incontinence and dishonor.

JUPITER

advancing . Wife, I would discourse with you. She turns from him. Why turn yourself away?

ALCMENA

Such is my disposition; I always hate to look upon my enemies.

JUPITER

Heyday! enemies indeed!

ALCMENA

It is so, I speak the truth; unless you are going to allege that this is falsely said as well.

JUPITER

offering to embrace her . You are too angry.

ALCMENA

repulsing him . Can't you keep your hands off? For surely if you were wise, or quite in your senses, with her, whom you deem and pronounce to be unchaste, you would neither hold discourse, in mirth or in seriousness, unless, indeed, you are more foolish than the most foolish.

JUPITER

If I did say so, not a bit the more are you so, nor do I think you so, and therefore have I returned hither that I might excuse myself to you. For never has anything proved more grievous to my feelings than when I heard that you were angry with me. “Why did you charge me?” you will say. I’ll tell you; by my troth, not that I deemed you to be unchaste; but I was trying your feelings, what you would do, and in what manner you would bring yourself to bear it. Really, I said these things to you just now in jest, for the sake of the joke. Do but ask Sosia this.

ALCMENA

But why don’t you bring here my kinsman, Naucrates, whom you said just now that you would bring as a witness that you had not come here?

JUPITER

If anything was said in joke, it isn’t right for you to take it in earnest.

ALCMENA

I know how much this has pained me at heart.

JUPITER

Prithee, Alcmena taking her hand , by your right hand I do entreat you, grant me pardon; forgive me, don’t be angry.

ALCMENA

By my virtue have I rendered these accusations vain. Since then I eschew conduct that’s unchaste, I would wish to avoid imputations of unchastity. Fare you well, keep your own property to yourself, return me mine. Do you order any maids to be my attendants?

JUPITER

Are you in your senses?

ALCMENA

If you don’t order them, let me go alone; chastity shall I take as my attendant. Going.

JUPITER

Stay — at your desire, I'll give my oath that I believe my wife to be chaste. If in that I deceive you, then, thee, supreme Jupiter, do I entreat that thou wilt ever be angered against Amphitryon.

ALCMENA

Oh! rather may he prove propitious.

JUPITER

I trust that it will be so; for before you have I taken a truthful oath. Now then, you are not angry?

ALCMENA

I am not.

JUPITER

You act properly. For in the life of mortals many things of this nature come to pass; and now they take their pleasures, again they meet with hardships. Quarrels intervene, again do they become reconciled. But it perchance any quarrels of this nature happen between them, when again they have become reconciled, twofold more loving are they between themselves than they were before.

ALCMENA

At the first you ought to have been careful not to say so; but if you excuse yourself to me for the same, it must be put up with.

JUPITER

But bid the sacred vessels to be got ready for me, that I may fulfil all those vows which I made when with the army, in case I should return safe home.

ALCMENA

I'll take care of that.

JUPITER

To a SERVANT. Call out Sosia hither. Let him fetch Blepharo, the pilot that was on board my ship, to breakfast with us. Aside. He shall be fooled this day so as to go without his breakfast, while I shall drag Amphitryon hence by the throat.

ALCMENA

aside . It's surprising what he can be arranging alone in secrecy with himself. But the door opens; Sosia's coming out.

Enter SOSIA, from the house

SOSIA

Amphitryon, I'm here; if any way you have need of me, command me; your commands I will obey.

JUPITER

Very opportunely are you come.

SOSIA

Has peace been made then between you two? But since I see you in good humour, I'm delighted, and it is a pleasure to myself. And so does it seem becoming for a trusty servant to conduct himself; just as his superiors are, so should he be likewise; by their countenances he should fashion his own countenance; if his superiors are grave, let him be grave; if they rejoice, let him be merry. But come, answer me; have you two now come to a reconciliation?

JUPITER

You are laughing at me, who know full well that these things were just now said by me in joke.

SOSIA

In joke did you say it? For my part, I supposed that it was said seriously and in truthfulness.

JUPITER

Still, I've made my excuses; and peace has been made.

SOSIA

'Tis very good.

JUPITER

I shall now perform the sacrifice in-doors, and the vows which I have made.

SOSIA

So I suppose.

JUPITER

Do you invite hither, in my name, Blepharo, the pilot, from the ship, so that when the sacrifice has been performed, he may breakfast with me.

SOSIA

I shall be here again, while you'll be thinking that I'm there.

JUPITER

Return here directly. Exit SOSIA.

ALCMENA

Do you wish for anything else, but that I should go in-doors now, that the things that are requisite may be got ready?

JUPITER

Go then, and take care that everything is prepared as soon as possible.

ALCMENA

Why, come in-doors whenever you please; I'll take care that there shall not be any delay.

JUPITER

You say well, and just as befits an attentive wife. ALCMENA goes into the house. Now both of these, both servant and mistress, are, the pair of them, deceived, in taking me to be Amphitryon; egregiously do they err. Now, you immortal Sosia, take you care and be at hand for me. You hear what I say, although you are not present here. Take care that you contrive to drive away Amphitryon, on his arrival just now, by some means or other, from the house. I wish him to be cajoled, while with this borrowed wife I now indulge myself. Please, take care that this is attended to just in such way as you know that I desire, and that you assist me while to myself I am offering sacrifice.

Goes into AMPHITRYON'S house.

Enter MERCURY, running, at the end of the stage.

MERCURY

Stand by and make room all of you, get you out of the way. And let not any person now be so presumptuous as to stand before me in the road. For surely, why, by my troth, should I, a God, be any less allowed to threaten the public, if it does not get out of my way, than a slave in Comedies? He is bringing news that the ship is safe, or else the approach of some angry old blade; whereas I am obeying the bidding of Jove, and by his command do I now hie me. For this reason, it is more fitting to get out of the road and to make room for me. My father calls me, I am following him, to his orders so given am I obedient. As it befits a son to be dutiful to his father, just so am I to my father; in his amours I play second fiddle to him, I encourage him, assist him, advise him, rejoice with him. If anything is pleasing to my father, that pleasure is an extremely great one for myself. Is he amorously disposed? He is wise; he does right, inasmuch as he follows his inclination; a thing that all men ought to do, so long as it is done in a proper manner. Now, my father wishes Amphitryon to be cajoled; I'll take care, Spectators, that he shall be rarely cajoled, while you look on. I'll place a chaplet on my head, and pretend that I am drunk. And up there pointing to the top of the house will I get; from that spot, at the top of the house, I'll cleverly drive this person off when he comes hither: I'll take care that, sober, he shall be drenched. Afterwards, his own servant Sosia will presently be suffering the punishment for it; he'll be accusing him of doing, this day, the things which I myself have done what's that to me? It's proper for me to be obedient to my father; it's right to be subservient to his pleasure. But see! here is Amphitryon; he's coming. Now shall he be rarely fooled, if, indeed, to the AUDIENCE you are willing, by listening, to lend your attention. I'll go in-doors, and assume a garb that more becomes me; then I'll go up upon the roof, that I may drive him off from hence. Goes into the house, and fastens the door.

ACT IV.

Enter AMPHITRYON.

AMPH.

to himself. Naucrates, whom I wanted to find, was not on board ship; neither at home nor in the city do I meet with any one that has seen him; for through all the streets have I crawled, the wrestling-rings and the perfumers' shops, to the market, too, and in the shambles, the school for exercise, and the Forum, the doctors' shops, the barbers' shops, and among all the sacred buildings. I'm wearied out with seeking him, and yet I nowhere meet with Naucrates. Now I'll go home, and from my wife will I continue to make enquiry into this matter, who the person was, by the side of whom she submitted her body to dishonor. For it were better that I was dead, than that I this day should leave this enquiry incomplete. Goes up to the door. But the house is closed. A pretty thing indeed! This is done just like the other things have been done: I'll knock at the door. Knocks. Open this door; ho there! is there anybody here? Is any one going to open this door?

MERCURY appears on the top of the house, with a chaplet on his head, pretending to be drunk.

MERCURY

Who's that at the door?

AMPH.

'Tis I.

MERCURY

Who's "'tis I?"

AMPH.

'Tis I that say so.

MERCURY

For sure, Jupiter and all the Deities are angered with you who are banging at the door this way.

AMPH.

In what manner?

MERCURY

In this manner, that without a doubt you must be spending a wretched life.

AMPH.

Sosia.

MERCURY

Well; I'm Sosia, unless you think that I've forgotten myself. What do you want now?

AMPH.

What, you rascal, and do you even ask me that, what it is I want?

MERCURY

I do so ask you; you blockhead, you've almost broken the hinges from off the door. Did you fancy that doors were supplied us at the public charge? Why are you looking up at me, you stupid? What do you want now for yourself, or what fellow are you?

AMPH.

You whip-scoundrel, do you even ask me who I am, you hell of elm-saplings? I' faith, this day I'll make you burn with smarts of the scourge for these speeches of yours.

MERCURY

You surely must have formerly been a spendthrift in your young days.

AMPH.

How so?

MERCURY

Because in your old age you come begging a hap-ill of me for yourself.

AMPH.

Slave! for your own torture do you give vent to these expressions this day.

MERCURY

Now I'm performing a sacrifice to you.

AMPH.

How?

MERCURY

Why, because I devote you to ill-luck with this libation. Throws water on him. ...

AMPH.

What, you, devote me, you villain? If the Gods have not this day taken away my usual form, I'll take care that you shall be laden with bull's hide thongs, you victim of Saturn. So surely will I devote you to the cross and to torture. Come out of doors, you whip-knave.

MERCURY

You shadowy ghost — you, frighten me with your threats? If you don't betake yourself off from here this instant, if you knock once more, if the door makes a noise with your little finger even, I'll break your head with this tile, so that with your teeth you may sputter out your tongue.

AMPH.

What, rascal, would you be for driving me away from my own house? What, would you hinder me from knocking at my own door? I'll this instant tear it from off all its hinges.

MERCURY

Do you persist?

AMPH.

I do persist.

MERCURY

Take that, then. Throws a tile at him.

AMPH.

Scoundrel! at your master? If I lay hands upon you this day, I'll bring you to that pitch of misery, that you shall be miserable for evermore.

MERCURY

Surely, you must have been playing the Bacchanal, old gentleman.

AMPH.

Why so?

MERCURY

Inasmuch as you take me to be your slave.

AMPH.

What? I — take you?

MERCURY

Plague upon you! I know no master but Amphytrion.

AMPH.

to himself . Have I lost my form? It's strange that Sosia shouldn't know me. I'll make trial. Calling out . How now! Tell me who I appear to be? Am I not really Amphytrion?

MERCURY

Amphytrion? Are you in your senses? Has it not been told you before, old fellow, that you have been playing the Bacchanal, to be asking another person who you are? Get away, I recommend you, don't be troublesome while Amphytrion, who has just come back from the enemy, is indulging himself with the company of his wife.

AMPH.

What wife?

MERCURY

Alcmena.

AMPH.

What man?

MERCURY

How often do you want it told? Amphytryon, my master; — don't be troublesome.

AMPH.

Who's he sleeping with?

MERCURY

Take care that you don't meet with some mishap in trifling with me this way.

AMPH.

Prithee, do tell me, my dear Sosia.

MERCURY

More civilly said — with Alcmena.

AMPH.

In the same chamber?

MERCURY

Yes, as I fancy, he is sleeping with her side by side.

AMPH.

Alas! — wretch that I am!

MERCURY

to the AUDIENCE . It really is a gain which he imagines to be a misfortune. For to lend one's wife to another is just as though you were to let out barren land to be ploughed.

AMPH.
Sosia!

MERCURY
What, the plague, about Sosia?

AMPH.
Don't you know me, you whip-scoundrel?

MERCURY
I know that you are a troublesome fellow, who have no need to go buy a lawsuit.

AMPH.
Still once more — am I not your master Amphitryon?

MERCURY
You are Bacchus himself, and not Amphitryon. How often do you want to be told? Any times more? My master Amphitryon, in the same chamber, is holding Alcmena in his embraces. If you persist, I'll produce him here, and not without your great discomfiture.

AMPH.
I wish him to be fetched. Aside. I pray that this day, in return for my services, I may not lose house, wife, and household, together with my figure.

MERCURY
Well, I'll fetch him; but, in the meantime, do you mind about the door, please. Aside. I suppose that by this he has brought the sacrifice that he was intending, as far as the banquet. Aloud. If you are troublesome, you shan't escape without my making a sacrifice of you. He retires into the house.

AMPH.
Ye Gods, by my trust in you, what madness is distracting my household? What wondrous things have I seen since I arrived from abroad! Why, it's true, surely, what was once heard tell of, how that men of Attica were transformed in Arcadia, and remained as savage wild beasts, and were not ever afterwards known unto their parents.

Enter BLEPHARO and SOSIA, at a distance.

BLEPHARO

What's this, Sosia? Great marvels are these that you are telling of. Do you say that you found another Sosia at home exactly like yourself?

SOSIA

I do say so — but, hark you, since I have produced a Sosia, Amphitryon an Amphitryon, how do you know whether you, perchance, may not be producing another Blepharo? O that the Gods would grant that you as well, belaboured with fists, and with your teeth knocked out, going without your breakfast, might credit this. For I, that other Sosia, that is to say, who am yonder, has mauled me in a dreadful manner.

BLEPHARO

Really, it is wonderful; but it's as well to mend our pace; for, as I perceive, Amphitryon is waiting for us, and my empty stomach is grumbling.

AMPH.

apart . — And why do I mention foreign legends? More wondrous things they relate to have happened among our Theban race in former days; that mighty searcher for Europa, attacking the monster sprung from Mars, suddenly produced his enemies from the serpent-seed; and in that battle fought, brother pressed on brother with lance and helm; the Epirote land, too, beheld the author of our race, together with the daughter of Venus, gliding as serpents. From on high supreme Jove thus willed it; thus destiny directs. All the noblest of our country, in return for their bright achievements, are pursued with direful woes. This fatality is pressing hard on me — still I could endure disasters so great, and submit to woes hardly to be endured

SOSIA

Blepharo.

BLEPHARO

What's the matter?

SOSIA

I don't know; I suspect something wrong.

BLEPHARO

Why?

SOSIA

Look, please, our master, like an humble courtier, is walking before the door bolted fast.

BLEPHARO

It's nothing; walking to and fro, he's looking for an appetite.

SOSIA

After a singular fashion, indeed; for he has shut the door, that it mayn't escape out of the house.

BLEPHARO

You do go yelping on.

SOSIA

I go neither yelping on nor barking on; if you listen to me, observe him. I don't know why he's by himself alone; he's making some calculation, I suppose. I can hear from this spot what he says — don't be in a hurry.

AMPH.

apart . How much I fear lest the Gods should blot out the glory I have acquired in the conquest of the foe. In wondrous manner do I see the whole of my household in commotion. And then my wife, so full of viciousness, incontinence, and dishonor, kills me outright. But about the goblet, it is a singular thing; yet the seal was properly affixed. And what besides? She recounted to me the battles I had fought; Pterelas, too, besieged and bravely slain by my own hand, Aye, aye — now I know the trick; this was done by Sosia's contrivance, who as well has disgracefully presumed to-day to get before me on my arrival.

SOSIA

to BLEPHARO . He's talking about me, and in terms that I had rather not. Prithee, don't let's accost this man until he has disclosed his wrath.

BLEPHARO

Just as you please.

AMPH.

apart . If it is granted me this day to lay hold of that whip-scurdrel, I'll show him what it is to deceive his master, and to assail me with threats and tricks.

SOSIA

Do you hear him?

BLEPHARO

I hear him.

SOSIA

That implement pointing to AMPHITRYON'S walkingstick is a burden for my shoulder-blades. Let's accost the man, if you please. Do you know what is in the habit of being commonly said?

BLEPHARO

What you are going to say, I don't know; what you'll have to endure I pretty well guess.

SOSIA

It's an old adage— "Hunger and delay summon anger to the nostrils."

BLEPHARO

Aye, and well suited to the occasion. Let's address him directly — Amphitryon!

AMPH.

looking round . Is it Blepharo I hear? It's strange why he's come to me. Still, he presents himself opportunely, for me to prove the guilty conduct of my wife. Why have you come here to me, Blepharo?

BLEPHARO

Have you so soon forgotten how early in the morning you sent Sosia to the ship, that I might take a repast with you to-day?

AMPH.

Never in this world was it done. But where is that scoundrel?

BELPH.

Who?

AMPH.

Sosia.

BLEPHARO

See, there he is. Points at him.

AMPH.

looking about . Where? BLEPH. Before your eyes; don't you see him?

AMPH.

I can hardly see for anger, so distracted has that fellow made me this day. You shall never escape my making a sacrifice of you. Offers to strike SOSIA, on which BLEPHARO prevents him. Do let me, Blepharo.

BLEPHARO

Listen, I pray.

AMPH.

Say on, I'm listening — gives a blow to SOSIA you take that.

SOSIA

For what reason? Am I not in good time? I couldn't have gone quicker, if I had betaken myself on the oar-like wings of Dædalus.

AMPHITRYON tries to strike him again.

BLEPHARO

Prithee, do leave him alone; we couldn't quicken our pace any further.

AMPH.

Whether it was the pace of a man on stilts or that of the tortoise, I'm determined to be the death of this villain. Striking him at each sentence. Take that for the roof; that for the tiles; that for closing the door; that for making fun of your master; that for your abusive language.

BLEPHARO

What injury has he been doing to you?

AMPH.

Do you ask? Shut out of doors, from that housetop pointing to it he has driven me away from my house.

SOSIA

What, I?

AMPH.

What did you threaten that you would do if I knocked at that door? Do you deny it, you scoundrel?

SOSIA

Why shouldn't I deny it? See, he's sufficiently a witness with whom I have just now come; I was sent on purpose that by your invitation I might bring him to your house.

AMPH.

Who sent you, villain?

SOSIA

He who asks me the question.

AMPH.

When, of all things?

SOSIA

Some little time since-not long since — just now. When you were reconciled at home to your wife.

AMPH.

Bacchus must have demented you.

SOSIA

May I not be paying my respects to Bacchus this day, nor yet to Ceres. You ordered the vessels to be made clean, that you might perform a sacrifice, and you sent me to fetch him pointing to BLEPHARO , that he might breakfast with you.

AMPH.

Blepharo, may I perish outright if I have either been in the house, or if I have sent him. To SOSIA. Tell me — where did you leave me?

SOSIA

At home, with your wife Alcmena. Leaving you, I flew towards the harbour, and invited him in your name. We are come, and I've not seen you since till now.

AMPH.

Villanous fellow! With my wife, say you? You shall never go away without getting a beating. Gives him a blow.

SOSIA

crying out . Blepharo! BLEPH. Amphytryon, do let him alone, for my sake, and listen to me.

AMPH.

Well then, I'll let him alone. What do you want? Say on.

BLEPHARO

He has just now been telling me most extraordinary marvels. A juggler, or a sorcerer, perhaps, has enchanted all this household of yours. Do enquire in other quarters, and examine how it is. And don't cause this poor fellow to be tortured, before you understand the matter.

AMPH.

You give good advice; let's go in, I want you also to be my advocate against my wife. Knocks at the door.

Enter JUPITER, from the house.

JUPITER

Who with such weighty blows has been shaking this door on all the hinges? Who has been making such a great disturbance for this long while before the house? If I find him out, I'll sacrifice him to the shades of the Teleboans. There's nothing, as the common saying is, that goes on well with me to-day. I left Blepharo and Sosia that I might find my kinsman Naucrates; him I have not found, and them I have lost. But I espy them; I'll go meet them, to enquire if they have any news.

SOSIA

Blepharo, that's our master that's coming out of the house; but this man's the sorcerer.

BLEPHARO

O Jupiter! What do I behold? This is not, but that is, Amphytrion; if this is, why really that cannot be he, unless, indeed, he is double.

JUPITER

See now, here's Sosia with Blepharo; I'll accost them the first. Well, Sosia, come to us at last? I'm quite hungry.

SOSIA

Didn't I tell you, Blepharo, that this one was the sorcerer?

AMPH.

Nay, Theban citizens, I say that this is he pointing to JUPITER who in my house has made my wife guilty of incontinence, through whom I find a store of unchastity laid up for me.

SOSIA

to JUPITER Master, if now you are hungry, crammed full of fisticuffs, I betake me to you.

AMPH.

Do you persist, whip-scurdrel?

SOSIA

Hie thee to Acheron, sorcerer.

AMPH.

What, I a sorcerer? Strikes him. Take that.

JUPITER

What madness possesses you, stranger, for you to be beating my servant?

AMPH.

Your servant?

JUPITER

Mine.

AMPH.

You lie.

JUPITER

Sosia, go in-doors, and take care the breakfast is got ready while I'm sacrificing this fellow.

SOSIA

I'll go. Aside. Amphitryon, I suppose, will receive the other Amphitryon as courteously as I, that other Sosia, did me, Sosia, a while ago. Meantime, while they are contending, I'll turn aside into the victualling department: I'll clean out all the dishes, and all the vessels I'll drain. Goes into the house.

JUPITER, AMPHITRYON, and BLEPHARO.

JUPITER

Do you say that I lie?

AMPH.

You lie, I say, you corrupter of my family.

JUPITER

For that disgraceful speech, I'll drag you along here, seizing you by the throat. Seizes him by the throat.

AMPH.

Ah wretched me!

JUPITER

But you should have had a care of this beforehand.

AMPH.

Blepharo, aid me!

BLEPHARO

aside . The two are so exactly alike that I don't know which to side with. Still, so far as possible, I'll put an end to their contention. Aloud. Amphitryon, don't slay Amphitryon in fight; let go his throat, I pray.

JUPITER

Are you calling this fellow Amphitryon?

BLEPHARO

Why not? Formerly he was but one, but now he has become double. While you are wanting to be he, the other, too, doesn't cease to be of his form. Meanwhile, prithee, do leave go of his neck.

JUPITER

I will leave go. Lets go of AMPHITRYON. But tell me, does that fellow appear to you to be Amphitryon?

BLEPR.

Really, both of you do.

AMPH.

O supreme Jupiter! when this day didst thou take from me my form? I'll proceed to make enquiry of him; are you Amphitryon?

JUPITER

Do you deny it?

AMPH.

Downright do I deny it, inasmuch as in Thebes there is no other Amphitryon besides myself.

JUPITER

On the contrary, no other besides myself; and, in fact, do you, Blepharo, be the judge.

BLEPHARO

I'll make this matter clear by proofs, if I can. To AMPHITRYON. Do you answer first.

AMPH.

With pleasure.

BLEPHARO

Before the battle with the Taphians was begun by you, what orders did you give me?

AMPH.

The ship being in readiness, for you carefully to keep close to the rudder.

JUPITER

That if our people should take to flight, I might betake myself in safety thither.

BLEPHARO

Anything else as well?

AMPH.

That the bag loaded with treasure should be carefully guarded.

JUPITER

Because the money ——

BLEPHARO

Hold your tongue, you, if you please; it's my place to ask. Did you know the amount?

JUPITER

Fifty Attic talents.

BLEPHARO

He tells the truth to a nicety. And you to AMPHITRYON, how many Philippeans?

AMPH.

Two thousand.

JUPITER

And obols twice as many.

BLEPHARO

Each of you states the matter correctly. Inside the bag one of you must have been shut up.

JUPITER

Attend, please. With this right hand, as you know, I slew king Pterelas; his spoils I seized, and the goblet from which he had been used to drink I brought away in a casket; I made a present of it to my wife, with whom this day at home I bathed, I sacrificed, and slept.

AMPH.

Ah me! what do I hear? I scarcely am myself. For, awake, I am asleep; awake, I am in a dream; alive and well, I come to destruction. I am that same Amphitryon, the descendant of Gorgophone, the general of the Thebans, and the sole combatant for Creon against the Teleboans; I, who have subdued by my might the Acarnanians and the Taphians, and, by my consummate warlike prowess, their king. Over these have I appointed Cephalus, the son of the great Deioneus.

JUPITER

I am he who by warfare and my valour crushed the hostile ravagers. They had destroyed Electryon and the brothers of my wife. Wandering through the Ionian, the Ægean, and the Cretan seas, with piratical violence they laid waste Achaia, Ætolia, and Phocis.

AMPH.

Immortal Gods! I cannot trust my own self, so exactly does he relate all the things that happened there. Consider, Blepharo.

BLEPHARO

One thing only remains; if so it is, do you be Amphitryons both of you.

JUPITER

I knew what you would say. The scar that I have on the muscle of my right arm, from the wound which Pterelas gave me ——

BLEPHARO

Well, that.

AMPH.

Quite to the purpose.

JUPITER

See you! look, behold!

BLEPHARO

Uncover, and I'll look.

JUPITER

We have uncovered. Look! They show their naked arms.

BLEPHARO

looking at the right arm of each . Supreme Jupiter, what do I behold?

On the right-arm muscle of each, in the same spot, the scar clearly appears with the same mark, reddish and somewhat livid, just as it has first commenced to close. Reasoning is at a standstill, all judgment is struck dumb; I don't know what to do

BLEPHARO

Do you settle these matters between yourselves; I'm off, for I have business; and I do not think that I have ever anywhere beheld such extraordinary wonders.

AMPH.

Blepharo, I pray that you'll stay as my advocate, and not go away.

BLEPHARO

Farewell. What need is there of me for an advocate, who don't know which of the two to side with?

JUPITER

I'm going hence in-doors: Alcmena is in labour. Exit BLEPHARO, and JUPITER goes into AMPHITRYON'S house.

AMPH.

aloud to himself . I'm undone, wretch that I am; for what am I to do, when my advocates and friends are now forsaking me? Never, by heavens, shall he deride me unrevenged, whoever he is. Now will I betake myself straight to the king, and tell him of the matter as it has happened. By my faith, I will this day take vengeance on this Thessalian sorcerer, who has wrongfully distracted the minds of my household. But where is he? Looking around. By my troth, he's off into the house, to my wife, I suppose. What other person lives in Thebes more wretched than myself? What now shall I do? I, whom all men deny and deride just as they please. I am resolved; I'll burst into the house; there, whatever person I perceive, whether maid-servant or man-servant, whether wife or whether paramour, whether father or whether grandfather, I'll behead that person in the house; neither Jupiter nor all the Deities shall hinder me from this, even if they would, but that I'll do just as I have resolved. As he advances to the door, it thunders, and he falls in a swoon upon the ground.

ACT V.

Enter BROMIA, from the house, AMPHITRYON lying on the ground.

BROMIA

to herself. The hopes and resources of my life lie buried in my breast, nor is there any boldness in my heart, but what I have lost it. So much to me do all things seem, the sea, the earth, the heavens, to be conspiring, that now I may be crushed, that I may be destroyed. Ah, wretched me! I know not what to do. Prodigies so great have come to pass within the house. Ah! woe is me! I'm sick at heart, some water I could wish! I'm overpowered and I'm utterly undone. My head is aching, and I cannot hear, nor do I see well with my eyes. No woman is there more wretched than myself, nor can one seem to be more so. Thus has it this day befallen my mistress; for when she invoked for herself the Deities of travail, what rumblings and grumblings, crashes and flashes; suddenly, how instantaneously did it thunder, and how woundy loud. On the spot where each one stood, at the peal he fell; then some one, I know not who, exclaimed in a mighty voice, "Alcmena, succour is at hand, fear not: propitious both to thee and thine, the Ruler of the Heavens comes. Arise," it said, "ye who have fallen down in your terror through dread of me." As I lay, I arose; I fancied that the house was in flames. Then Alcmena called me; and then did that circumstance strike me with horror. Fears for my mistress took possession of me; I ran to her to enquire what she wanted; and then I beheld that she had given birth to two male children; not yet did any one of us perceive when she was delivered, or indeed expect it. Sees AMPHITRYON. But what's this? Who's this old man that's lying thus before our house? Has Jupiter then smitten him with his thunders? By my troth, I think so; for, oh Jupiter! he is in a lethargy just like one dead. I'll approach, that I may learn who it is. She advances. Surely, this is my master Amphitryon. Calls aloud. Ho! Amphitryon!

AMPH.

I'm dead.

BROMIA

Arise.

AMPH.

I'm slain outright.

BROMIA

Give me your hand. Takes his hand.

AMPH.

recovering . Who is it that has hold of me?

BROMIA

Bromia, your maid-servant.

AMPH.

rising . I tremble all over, to such a degree has Jove pealed against me. And no otherwise is it than if I had come hither from Acheron. But why have you come out of the house?

BROMIA

The same alarm has scared ourselves, affrighted with horror; in the house where you yourself dwell, have I seen astounding prodigies. Woe to me, Amphitryon; even now do my senses fail me to such a degree.

AMPH.

Come now, tell me; do you know me to be your master Amphitryon?

BROMIA

I do know it.

AMPH.

Look even once again.

BROMIA

I do know it.

AMPH.

She alone of all my household has a sane mind.

BROMIA

Nay but, really, they are all of them sane.

AMPH.

But my wife causes me to be insane by her own shameful practices.

BROMIA

But I'll make you, Amphytryon, to be holding other language; that you may understand that your wife is dutiful and chaste, upon that subject I will in a few words discover some tokens and some proofs. In the first place of all, Alcmena has given birth to two sons.

AMPH.

Two, say you?

BROMIA

Two.

AMPH.

The Gods preserve me!

BROMIA

Allow me to speak, that you may know that all the Deities are propitious to yourself and to your wife.

AMPH.

Say on.

BROMIA

After that, this day, your wife began to be in labour, when the pangs of childbirth came on, as is the custom with women in travail, she invoked the immortal Gods to give her aid, with washed hands and with covered head. Then forthwith it thundered with most tremendous crash. At first we thought that your house was falling; all your house shone bright, as though it had been made of gold.

AMPH.

Prithee, relieve me quickly from this, since you have kept me long enough in suspense. What happened then?

BROMIA

While these things were passing, meanwhile, not one of us heard your wife groaning or complaining; and thus, in fact, without pain was she delivered.

AMPH.

Then do I rejoice at this, whatever she has merited at my hands.

BROMIA

Leave that alone, and hear these things which I shall tell you. After she was delivered, she bade us wash the babes; we commenced to do so. But that child which I washed, how stout, how very powerful he is; and not a person was there, able to wrap him in the swaddling-clothes.

AMPH.

Most wondrous things you tell of. If these things are true, I do not apprehend but that succour has been brought to my wife from heaven.

BROMIA

Now shall I make you own to things more wondrous still. After he was laid in the cradle, two immense crested serpents glided down through the skylight; instantly they both reared their heads.

AMPH.

Ah me!

BROMIA

Be not dismayed — but the serpents began to gaze upon all around. After they beheld the children, quickly they made towards the cradle; I, fearing for the children, alarmed for myself, going backwards, began to draw and pull the cradle to and fro, and so much the more fiercely did the serpents pursue. After that one of the children caught sight of the serpents, he quickly leapt from the cradle, straightway he made an attack upon them, and suddenly he grasped them, one in each hand.

AMPH.

You tell of wondrous things; a very fearful exploit do you relate; for at your words horror steals upon the limbs of wretched me. What happened then? Say on.

BBOM.

The child slew both the serpents. While these things are passing, in a loud voice there calls upon your wife ——

AMPH.

What person —— ?

BROMIA

Jupiter, the supreme Ruler of Gods and men. He said that he had secretly enjoyed Alcmena in his embraces, and that he was his own son who had overcome those serpents; the other, he said, was your child.

AMPH.

By my troth, I am not sorry if I am allowed to take my half of a blessing in partnership with Jupiter. Go home, and bid the sacred vessels to be at once prepared for me, that with many victims I may seek my peace with supreme Jove. I will apply to Tiresias the soothsayer, and consult him what he considers ought to be done; at the same time I'll relate to him this matter just as it has happened. It thunders. But what means this? How dreadfully it thunders! Ye Gods, your mercy, I do entreat.

JUPITER appears, in his own character, above.

JUPITER

Be of good cheer, Amphytrion; I am come to thy aid: thou hast nothing to fear; all diviners and soothsayers let alone. What is to be, and what has past, I will tell thee; and so much better than they can, inasmuch as I am Jupiter. First of all, I have made loan of the person of Alcmena, and have caused her to be pregnant with a son. Thou, too, didst cause her to be pregnant, when thou didst set out upon the expedition; at one birth has she brought forth the two together. One of these, the one that is sprung from my parentage, shall bless thee with deathless glory by his deeds. Do thou return with Alcmena to your former affection; she merits not that thou shouldst impute it to her as her blame; by my power has she been compelled thus to act. I now return to the heavens. He ascends.

AMPH.

I'll do as thou dost command me; and I entreat thee to keep thy promises. I'll go in-doors to my wife. I dismiss the aged Tiresias from my thoughts.

An ACTOR.

Spectators, now, for the sake of supreme Jove, give loud applause.

ASINARIA

Translated by Henry Thomas Riley

The title of this comic drama can be translated as ‘The One with the Asses’ and is famous for containing the lines “Lupus est homo homini, non homo, quom qualis sit non novit,” (A man is a wolf rather than a man to another man, when he hasn’t yet found out what he’s like) and the quotation “Facias ipse quod faciamus nobis suades,” (Practice yourself what you preach).

The action takes place in Athens, near the homes of the old man Demaenetus and the procuress Cleareta. Demaenetus is submissive to his wife Artemona, but wishes to help his son Argyrippus gain money to free his lover, the hetaera (courtesan) Philenium, who works for Cleareta. Demaenetus conspires with his slaves Libanus and Leonida to cheat his wealthy wife of the money. The play belongs to the genre fabula palliate – a Greek play adapted for a Roman audience.

This painting, on the inside of a kylix, depicts a hetaira playing kottabos, a drinking game played at a symposia, in which the participants flicked the dregs of their wine at a target.

THE SUBJECT

ARGYRIPPUS,

the son of Demænetus, is violently in love with Philenium, a young woman, who is living with her mother, Cleæreta, a procuress. The latter has made an agreement with a Captain, of the name of Diabolus, to transfer Philenium to him for twenty minæ, on condition, however, that if Argyrippus shall first pay that sum, he shall have her. Argyrippus, having exhausted all his own resources, applies to his father, Demænetus, an over-indulgent and immoral old man, and requests him to furnish him with twenty minæ. Demænetus is married to Artemona, a rich woman, and is totally dependant on the will of herself and her favourite slave, the chamberlain Saurea. Being destitute of money, Demænetus orders his servant, Libanus, by some means or other to cheat his mistress or the chamberlain out of that sum. Just then an ass-dealer arrives, to pay to Saurea twenty minæ, the price of some asses which he has previously purchased. Libanus then arranges with his fellow-servant, Leonida, that the latter shall personate Saurea, and so receive the money from the ass-dealer. This is done, and the money is paid to Leonida, in the presence of Demænetus, who assures the dealer that Leonida really is the person to whom the money is payable. This sum is then given to Argyrippus, but with the disgraceful stipulation that for one day his father shall enjoy the company of Philenium. This he submits to, and the three sit down to a banquet. The Captain discovers this, and sends his Parasite to inform Artemona of her husband's conduct. She accordingly accompanies the Parasite, and discovers her husband in the company of his son and the young woman; after soundly rating him, she leads him off; while Argyrippus remains in possession of Philenium.

THE PROLOGUE.

PROLOGUS

Attend now, Spectators, if you please, forthwith to this, and may this matter turn out fortunately for me and for yourselves, and for this company, and for our employers, and for our managers. Now, crier, do you at once make all the people give. attentive ear. Come, be seated now, only be careful that 'tis not for nought. Now I will tell you why I have come forward here, and what my intention is, that you may know the name of this play. For, so far as relates to the plot, it really is a short one. Now I will tell you what I said I was wishful to inform you upon. The name of this play in Greek is Onagos — Demophilus composed it — MarcusPlautus turned it into Latin. He wishes it to be called Asinaria if by your leaves it may be so. In this play there is both pleasantry and fun. 'Tis a droll story; kindly lend me your attention; may Mars, too, as, full oft at other times he has done, so give you now his aid.

ACT I.

Enter DEMÆNETUS and LIBANUS, from the house of the former.

LIBANUS

As you desire your own only son to survive your own existence, prosperous, and living on; so by your lengthened years, and by that wife of yours of whom you stand in awe, do I conjure you, that if this day you have said anything that's false against myself, your wife may then survive your own existence, and that, she living, you, still alive, may come to utter destruction.

DEMAENETUS

By the Gods above as to what you seek to know, I see that I must, perforce, speak out, whatever you question me upon, being thus conjured; so determinedly have you accosted me, that I really do not dare otherwise than to disclose everything to you making all these enquiries. Say then at once what it is that you desire so much to know; as I myself shall know, so will I let you know.

LIBANUS

Troth now, prithee answer me seriously what I ask you; take care that you tell me no falsehood.

DEMAENETUS

Why, then, don't you ask?

LIBANUS

Will you, then, be sending me there, where stone grinds stone?

DEMAENETUS

What place is that? Or where in the world is that place?

LIBANUS

Where worthless men are weeping, who breakfast upon pearled barley.

DEMAENETUS

What that place is, or where it is, I cannot understand, where worthless men are weeping, who breakfast upon pearly barley.

LIBANUS

Why, in the islands of club-land and rattle-chains, where dead oxen attack living men.

DEMAENETUS

I' faith, I now understand, Libanus, what place it is; that perhaps you mean, where the pearly barley is prepared.

LIBANUS

O dear: I'm not speaking of that, i' faith, nor do I wish to speak of it. Troth now, prithee, do spit out the words that you have spoken.

DEMAENETUS

Be it so; you shall be indulged. He coughs and spits.

LIBANUS

Come, come — hawk away.

DEMAENETUS

What, still more? Spits on.

LIBANUS

Troth now; prithee, do go on — still more.

DEMAENETUS

What-from the very bottom of my throat? Spits.

LIBANUS

Even more still.

DEMAENETUS

Why, how long? Spits.

LIBANUS

I want you, even to the death ——

DEMAENETUS

Take you care of a woful mishap, if you please.

LIBANUS

Of your wife, I mean, not of yourself.

DEMAENETUS

For that speech, I give you leave to be free from apprehension.

LIBANUS

May the Gods grant you whatever you desire.

DEMAENETUS

In return, give me your attention. Why should I ask this of you? Or why should I threaten you, because you have not made me acquainted with it? Or why, in fine, should I censure my son as other fathers do?

LIBANUS

What new affair is this? Aside. I wonder much what it is, and I'm in dread what the upshot of it may be.

DEMAENETUS

In fact, I'm now aware that my son's in love with that Courtesan Philenium, that lives close by. Is not this as I say, Libanus?

LIBANUS

You are upon the right track; such is the fact. But a dreadful malady has overtaken him.

DEMAENETUS

What is the malady?

LIBANUS

Why, that his presents don't equal his promises.

DEMAENETUS

Are you, then, one who assists my son in his amours?

LIBANUS

I really am, and our Leonida is another.

DEMAENETUS

I' faith, you do kindly, and you gain thanks from me. But this wife of mine, Libanus, don't you know what sort of a person she is?

LIBANUS

You are the first to experience it, but we give a guess beforehand.

DEMAENETUS

I confess that she is troublesome and not to be pleased.

LIBANUS

You say that later than I believed you in it.

DEMAENETUS

All parents, Libanus, who listen to me, will show indulgence to their children, inasmuch as they will find their sons more kindly disposed and more affectionate; and that do I desire to do myself. I wish to be loved by mine; I wish myself to be like my father, who, for my sake, himself in the disguise of a ship-master, carried off from a procurer a female with whom I was in love; nor was he ashamed, at that time of life, to devise stratagems, and to purchase with good turns me, his son, for himself. These ways of my father have I resolved to imitate. For to-day my son Argyrippus has entreated me to give him a supply of money for his amours; and I very much wish in that to oblige my son. I wish to forward his amours; I wish him to be fond of myself, his father. Although his mother keeps him strictly, and with a tight rein, as fathers have been in the habit of doing, all that I dismiss. Especially as he has deemed me deserving, for him to entrust it to ire, I ought to pay all due regard to his feelings. Inasmuch as he has applied to me, as it is right that a respectful son should do, I wish him to have some money for him to give to his mistress * * * * *

LIBANUS

You are desiring that which I find you are do siring to no purpose.
Your wife brought her servant Saurea with her on her marriage, who has more in his control trol than you have.

DEMAENETUS

I received money with her, and for the portion I sold my authority.
Now I'll compress into a few words what I want of you; my son is now in need of twenty silver minæ: do you manage that it may be forthwith found for him.

LIBANUS

From what place in the world?

DEMAENETUS

Cheat me of them.

LIBANUS

You are talking downright nonsense. You are bidding me take the clothes from off a naked man. I, cheat you? — come now, fly you without wings, please. What, am I to cheat you who have nothing in your power for your own self? Unless you have first cheated your wife out of something.

DEMAENETUS

Impose upon or rob myself in any way you can, my wife in any way, my servant Saurea in any way. I promise you that it shall not prove to your detriment, if you effect it to-day.

LIBANUS

On the same principle you might bid me to fish in the air, and to hunt with a javelin in the midst of the sea.

DEMAENETUS

Take Leonida as your coadjutor; devise some plan or other, think of some expedient: bring it about that my son this day gets some money to give his mistress.

LIBANUS

What say you, Demænetus * * * * * if the foe should intercept me, will you ransom me?

DEMAENETUS

I will ransom you.

LIBANUS

Then do you attend to something else, whatever you please.

DEMAENETUS

I'm off to the Forum, unless you wish for anything.

LIBANUS

Be of — why are you not walking?

DEMAENETUS

And do you hear, too —— ?

LIBANUS

Well now.

DEMAENETUS

If I want you for anything, where will you be?

LIBANUS

Wherever it shall be agreeable to my feelings. Really, there's not a person that I shall stand in dread of from this time forward, for fear he might be able to do me an injury, since in your discourse you have disclosed to me all your sentiments. Why, your own self even I don't stand much in awe of, if I carry this out. I'll go where I intended, and there I'll commune upon my plans.

DEMAENETUS

Do you hear me? I shall be with Archibulus, the banker.

LIBANUS

In the Forum, you mean? DEM. There, if there shall be any occasion for me.

LIBANUS

I'll remember it. (Exit.)

DEMAENETUS

to himself Not any servant can there be more artful than this fellow, nor yet more crafty, nor one that it is more difficult for you to be on your guard against. If you want anything well managed, entrust it to this same fellow; he'd rather he should die in wretchedness, than not have that quite completed which he has promised. For I know that this money is as surely forthcoming for my son, as that I look upon this same walking-stick. But why am I delaying to go to the Forum where I had intended ... (Exit.)

Enter ARGYRIPPUS, from the house of CLEÆRETA, addressing her within.

ARGYRIPPUS

Is't thus it is, — me to be shut out of doors? Is this the reward that's given to me who deserve so highly of you? To him who deserves well you are unkind, to him who deserves ill you are indulgent. But to your own misfortune, for now from this spot will I go to the Triumvirs, and there I'll take care your names shall be. I'll punish capitally yourself and your daughter, you enticers, pests, and destruction of young men! For, compared with you, the sea is not the sea; you are a most dangerous sea. For on the sea did I find it, here have I been cleaned out of my wealth. What I have given, and what kindnesses I have done, I find them all valueless for good, and thrown away. But from hence-forth, whatever harm I shall be able to do you, I will do it, and do it at your deserts. I' faith, I'll reduce you to the verge of poverty, that state from which you have risen. By my troth, I'll make you to know what you now are, and what you once were; what you were before I visited that daughter of yours, and, in my passion, bestowed upon her my affection; on coarse bread you were enjoying your life, in rags, and in want. And if these you had, especial thanks did you return to all the Divinities. Now, bad woman, you the same person, when 'tis better with you, don't know me through whose means it is so. From a wild beast, I'll make you tame through hunger, only trust me for that. But I have no reason to blame your daughter herself; she does not deserve it in the least. She acts by your command; she obeys your bidding; you are her mother, you too her mistress. I'll revenge myself on you; I'll ruin you; as you are deserving, and as you merit at my hands. But look now, the hag, how she really doesn't think me worthy for her to come to and address and deprecate my resentment. But, see, the enticer's coming out at last, I think. Here, before the door, I'll address her in my own fashion, as I please, since I'm not allowed to do so within.

Enter CLEAERETA, from her house.

CLEAERETA

If any purchaser should come, he could not carry him away from me each single word of those for gold Philippean pieces. What you say wrongfully against us is good gold and silver. Your heart is locked up here with us, at the helm of Cupid. With oars and with sails make haste and fly as fast as you can; the further you betake yourself to sea, the more the tide will bring you back to harbour.

ARGYRIPPUS

I faith, I'll be depriving this custom-house officer of his dues. From henceforth I'll persist in treating you as you have deserved of me and mine, since you have treated me not as I deserve, in excluding me from your house.

CLEAERETA

I know that that is rather said with the tongue, than that it will happen in deed.

ARGYRIPPUS

I alone have brought you from obscurity and from want; if I alone patronize you, you can never return sufficient thanks.

CLEAERETA

Do you still be the only one to patronize me, if you alone will always give me what I ask. Do you always keep what has been promised you, on this condition, that you surpass others in your presents.

ARGYRIPPUS

What limit is there to be to giving? For really you can never be satisfied; the moment that you've received something, not very long after, you are devising something for you to be asking for.

CLEAERETA

What limit is there to be to your enjoying yourself, and to your indulging your amour? Can you never be satisfied? The moment that you have sent her home, that instant, you are directly asking me to send her back to you.

ARGYRIPPUS

In fact, I have given whatever you have demanded of me.

CLEAERETA

And I have sent the damsel to you. A requital has been given, like for like; a return for the money.

ARGYRIPPUS

You treat me badly.

CLEAERETA

Why do you blame me if I do my duty? For nowhere is it either feigned in story or represented in pictures or written in poems, where a procuress, who wishes to thrive, treats any lover well.

ARGYRIPPUS

Still, 'twere right for you to show favour to me at least, that I might last the longer for you.

CLEAERETA

Don't you know, the woman that shows favour to a lover, that same woman shows little favour to herself? Just like a fish, so is a lover to a procuress; he's good for nothing if he isn't fresh. Then it has juice, then it has sweetness; in any fashion you like you may season it, either stewed or roasted; ill any way you will, you may turn it. So the lover; he's ready to give, he longs for something to be asked of him, for there it's taken from a full stock, nor does he know what he's giving, or what mischief he's doing. Of this matter does the new lover think; he wishes himself to please his mistress, he wishes to please me, he wishes to please her lady's maid, he wishes to please the men-servants, he wishes to please the maid-servants as well, and even my dog does he caress, that when it sees him, it may be delighted. I tell the truth; it shows cleverness for every person to be fair-dealing for his own advantage.

ARGYRIPPUS

I've thoroughly learned that this is true, to my own great misfortune.

CLEAERETA

I' faith, if you now had anything to give, you'd be uttering different remarks; now, since you've got nothing, you expect to be having her by means of harsh language.

ARGYRIPPUS

'Tis not my way.

CLEAERETA

Nor yet mine, indeed, i' faith, to be sending her to you for nothing; but this shall be done out of regard for your youthful age and your own sake, since you have rather been the cause of profit to us than of reputation to yourself. If two talents of silver are paid me down, reckoned in my hand, this night will I grant you for nothing, as a present, by reason of my respect for you.

ARGYRIPPUS

What if I haven't it?

CLEAERETA

I'll believe that you haven't it — still, she shall go to another.

ARGYRIPPUS

Where is that which I have given you already?

CLEAERETA

Spent; for if it was remaining to me, the damsel should be sent to you, and I should never ask for anything. Daylight, water, the sun, the moon, the night, these things I purchase not with money; the rest, whatever we wish to enjoy, we purchase on Grecian trust. When we ask bread of the baker, wine from the wineshop — if they receive the money, they give their wares; the same principle do I go upon. My hands always have eyes in them; they believe what they see. There's an old saying, "trusting is good for nought;" you know whose it is — I say no more.

ARGYRIPPUS

Now I'm clean stripped, you tell me another tale; a very different one, I say, you give me now from formerly, when I was making presents; a different one from formerly, when with kindness and good words you used to entice me to your house. Then did your house even smile upon me, when I used to come to you. You used to say that I alone of all loved you and her. When I had given anything, just like the young ones of a pigeon were you both upon my lips; and all your likings were according to my own liking. You always kept close to me; whatever I requested, whatever I wished, you used to do; what I didn't wish and forbade, that, with carefulness, you used to avoid, nor did you first venture to attempt to do it. Now, you jades, you don't much care either what I do wish or what I don't wish.

CLEAERETA

Don't you know? This calling of ours is very like that of the fowler. The fowler, when he has prepared the spot, sprinkles the food about. The birds are accustomed to the spot. 'Tis necessary for him to make an outlay, who seeks for gain. They eat often; if they are caught once, they reimburse the fowler. So in like manner here with us. Our house is the spot, I am the fowler, the courtesan is the food, the couch is the decoy, the lovers the birds. By kindly welcoming them, by addressing them courteously, by dallying, and by chattering over the wine, and amusing conversation, they are won. If one of them has touched her bosom, that is not without advantage to the fowler. If he has taken a kiss, him you may take without a net. That you should be forgetful of these things, you who have been schooled so long!

ARGYRIPPUS

That's your own fault, in turning away from you a scholar half instructed.

CLEAERETA

Come back again without hesitation, if you've got the pay; for the present, be off. Pretends to go.

ARGYRIPPUS

Stay, stay; don't you hear me? Say what you think it fair that I should give you for her, that for this year she may be with no one else.

CLEAERETA

What, you? Twenty minæ. And on this condition: if any other person shall bring them first to me, to you — good-bye.

ARGYRIPPUS

But I —— There's still something that I wish to say to you before you go.

CLEAERETA

Say what you please.

ARGYRIPPUS

I'm not entirely ruined yet; there's still something more left for me to come to ruin. I have wherewithal to give you what you ask; but I'll give it you on my own terms, that you may be enabled to understand that throughout all this year she is to be at my service, and that, in the meantime, she is to admit no other man whatever to her, besides myself.

CLEAERETA

Why, if you choose, the male-servants that are at home, I'll make eunuchs of. In fine, take you care and bring articles of agreement that we will be as you wish. Impose conditions upon us as you wish, and as you shall choose. Do you only bring the money with you, I'll readily put up with the rest. The doors of procurers are very like those of a custom-house officer; if you bring anything, then they are opened; if there is nothing for you to give, then the doors are not opened. Goes into her house.

ARGYRIPPUS

to himself. I'm undone, if I don't procure these twenty minæ. And really, unless I make away with this much money, I must come to destruction. Now I'll go to the Forum, and make trial with my resources, with all my endeavours. I'll beg, I'll earnestly entreat each friend as I see him; both good and bad am I determined to apply to, and make trial of. But if I can't borrow it, I'll take it up at interest, I'm resolved. (Goes into the house of DEMÆNETUS.)

ACT II.

Enter LIBANUS, from the house of DEMÆNETUS.

LIBANUS

Upon my faith, Libanus, it really were better for you now to be waking, and to be devising some plan for procuring the money. A long time has now elapsed, since you parted with your master and went to the Forum. For that end that you might devise some plan for procuring the money, there till this time of day have you been sleeping at your ease. Why don't you away with all slothfulness from yourself, and remove all sluggishness, and betake yourself again to your former dexterous ingenuity. Preserve your master; take you care, too, how you do the same that other servants are wont, who employ a clever ingenuity in cheating their master? Whence shall I get it? Whom shall I diddle out of it? Whither shall I steer this fly-boat? 'Tis settled, 'tis confirmed by auspices; on each side do the birds give good omens. The woodpecker and the crow are on my right, the raven, as well, upon my left. They are persuading me to it: i' faith, I'm resolved to follow your advice. Starts and listens. But what means this, that the woodpecker is tapping the elm-tree? That's not for nothing. Troth, for certain, so far as I can gather omens from augury, the rods are in readiness for my own back, or for Saurea the chamberlain. But what means this that Leonida is running this way out of breath? I fear that this bodes ill for my trumped-up schemes Stands apart.

Enter LEONIDA, running.

LEONIDA

to himself. Where now shall I find Libanus, or my master's son, that I may make them more mirthful than is Mirth herself? Great booty and a triumph do I bring them on my arrival. Inasmuch as together with me they drink, together with me they are wont to wench, why, this booty that I've got, together with them will I share it.

LIBANUS

apart . This fellow has been robbing a house, if he has been acting after his usual manner. Woe to the person that has so carelessly kept the door!

LEONIDA

to himself . I could be ready to be a slave for an age, if I could only meet with Libanus.

LIBANUS

apart . I' faith, with my assistance, indeed, you shall never be free a bit the sooner.

LEONIDA

to himself . I'd give two hundred teeming lashes on my back as well.

LIBANUS

apart . He's giving away all his substance, for he carries his treasures on his back.

LEONIDA

to himself . But if time should intervene upon this opportunity, never, upon my faith, will he hereafter obtain it again, oven with white horses. He'll be deserting his master in the siege; he'll be increasing the courage of the foe. But if with me he is desirous to seize hold upon this opportunity which has presented itself, very great bounties brimful of joyousness, will he, together with myself, be producing for his masters, both for the son and the father. So that, for life, they will be indebted to us both, bound by our services.

LIBANUS

apart . He's talking of persons being bound, I don't know who. I don't like it; I fear for us in common, lest he may have been cheating in some cheatery.

LEONIDA

to himself . I'm utterly undone, unless I find Libanus at once, wherever in the world he is.

LIBANUS

apart . This fellow's looking out for an accomplice, to unite with himself in a bad design. I don't like it: 'tis a portentous sign that instant, when a person trembles that sweats.

LEONIDA

to himself . But why, as I hasten, do I loiter here with my feet, and make myself so bounteous with my tongue? Why don't I bid it be quiet, that in its talkativeness is wearing out the day?

LIBANUS

apart . Upon my faith, an unfortunate man, to check his patroness; for if he has done anything roguishly, his tongue perjures itself in his behalf.

LEONIDA

to himself . I'll make haste, lest I should be providing a safe keeping for my spoil too late.

LIBANUS

apart . What spoil is this? I'll go meet him, and enquire what it is. He accosts him. I wish you health in as loud a voice as my strength admits of.

LEONIDA

Exerciser of the whip, health to you.

LIBANUS

Keeper of the gaol, how do you do?

LEONIDA

Ha! colonizer of the chains.

LIBANUS

Ha! delight of the scourges.

LEONIDA

When naked, how many pounds do you say you are in weight?

LIBANUS

Upon my faith, I don't know.

LEONIDA

I know that you don't know; but, i' faith, I who have weighed you do know. Tied up naked, you were a hundred pounds in weight, when you were hanging with your feet downwards.

LIBANUS

On what evidence is that?

LEONIDA

I'll tell you on what evidence, and in what way. When you are tied up with a full hundred pounds to your feet, when the manacles are fastened to your hands, and tied to the beam, you are weighing neither more nor less, than as being a worthless and good-for-nothing fellow.

LIBANUS

Woe be to you!

LEONIDA

That, Servitude bequeaths to you by her will.

LIBANUS

I wish this skirmishing of words to be cut short. What matter is this?

LEONIDA

Am I sure in trusting you?

LIBANUS

You may, without hesitation.

LEONIDA

If you wish to assist our master's son in his amour, there is so much of a good opportunity on a sudden, but still mingled with evil — all the hangman's days will be rendered famous by ourselves. Libanus, now have we occasion to find some boldness and inventiveness. An exploit so great have I thought of just now, that we two may be pronounced the most deserving of all for torture to befall us.

LIBANUS

'Twas on that account I was wondering why my shoulder-blades were aching just now, which were beginning to prognosticate that there was some danger for them at home. Whatever it is, speak out.

LEONIDA

'Tis great booty with great risk.

LIBANUS

If indeed all persons by compact were to collect all the tortures, I have, I fancy, a back at home, so that I need not seek it out of doors.

LEONIDA

If you maintain such firmness of resolve, then we are all right.

LIBANUS

Why, if the matter were to be atoned for by my back, I could wish to seize the public money: I'll persist in my denial, and I'll endure all; in fine, I'll forswear myself.

LEONIDA

Ah! that's true valour, when occasion is, for one to endure misfortune with boldness. He that endures misfortune with boldness, that man afterwards enjoys good fortune.

LIBANUS

Why don't you tell the matter at once? I'm longing to tempt the scourge.

LEONIDA

breathing hard . Ask deliberately each particular then, that I may rest me. Don't you see that I'm still out of breath with running?

LIBANUS

Well, well, I'll wait your pleasure, even, in fact, till you die.

LEONIDA

Where's our master, pray?

LIBANUS

The old one is at the Forum, the young one is here in-doors.

LEONIDA

That's enough for me then.

LIBANUS

Is it then that you've become a rich man?

LEONIDA

Leave off your raillery.

LIBANUS

I'll have done; for my ears are in expectation of what you are bringing me.

LEONIDA

Give your attention, that equally with myself you may learn this.

LIBANUS

I'm silent, then.

LEONIDA

You oblige me. Don't you remember that our chamberlain sold some Arcadian asses to a dealer of Pella?

LIBANUS

I remember it; after that, what then?

LEONIDA

Well, he has sent some money here then to be paid to Saurea, for the asses; a young man has just now come who has brought this money.

LIBANUS

Where is this person?

LEONIDA

You think he ought to be devoured this instant, if you could see him.

LIBANUS

Aye, to be sure. But, however, you are speaking, I suppose, of those asses, aged and lame, whose hoofs were quite worn away to their very thighs?

LEONIDA

Those same ones, that carried the elm twigs hither from the country, for your use.

LIBANUS

I understand you; and the same ones carried you from here, bound, into the country.

LEONIDA

You say what's quite correct. But as I was sitting in the barber's shop, he began to make enquiries of me, whether I knew a certain Demænetus, the son of Strato. At once I said that I knew him, and that I was his servant; and I pointed out our house.

LIBANUS

After that, what then?

LEONIDA

He said that he was bringing the money for the asses to the chamberlain Saurea, twenty minæ in amount; but that he himself didn't know the individual, who he was, but that he knew Demænetus quite well. Since he spoke thus to this effect ——

LIBANUS

What then?

LEONIDA

Listen then, and you'll know. At once I made myself courteous, and a person of consequence. I said that I was the chamberlain. Thus, in these terms did he answer me: "Upon my faith, I don't know Saurea, nor yet of what appearance he is. It isn't fair for you to blame me; but if you like, bring here Demænetus, your master, whom I do know; I'll not prevent you taking the money then." I said that I would bring him, and that I should be at home immediately. He's about to go to the baths, from there he'll afterwards come here. What plan do you think, now, I ought to adopt? Tell me.

LIBANUS

Why, I'm thinking of this, how to get between the money, and the stranger, and Saurea. At present this matter is rough-hewn; but if this stranger brings here the money first, then are we both at once shut out from it. But the old man to-day took me apart at a distance from the house, and threatened me and yourself that we should be tasters of the elm twigs, if Argyrippus didn't this very day get twenty mine of silver. He commanded that we should cheat either the chamberlain or his own wife, and said that he would give the aid he promised. Now, do you go to the Forum to our master, and tell him this, how we are going to manage; that you, from Leonida, are going to be the chamberlain Saurea, until the dealer has brought the money for the asses.

LEONIDA

I'll do as you request me.

LIBANUS

In the meantime, I'll amuse him here, if by chance he should come first.

LEONIDA

But what say you —— ?

LIBANUS

What do you want?

LEONIDA

If I give you a blow on the cheek with my fist, by-and-by, while I'm personating Saurea, don't you be offended.

LIBANUS

I' faith, but you'll have a care not to be touching me, if you are wise; you'll surely have changed your name to day with a bad omen.

LEONIDA

Prithee, do endure it with resolution.

LIBANUS

Do you endure the cuff that I, too, shall be giving you in return.

LEONIDA

I speak as it's in the habit of being done.

LIBANUS

I' faith, and I speak, too, of how I'm likely to act.

LEONIDA

Don't refuse me.

LIBANUS

Why I promise, I tell you, to give you a like return, just as you deserve.

LEONIDA

I'm off; I know that you'll put up with it by-and-by. But who's this? 'Tis he— 'tis the very man himself. I'll return here just now; in the meantime do you detain him here; I want to inform the old gentleman. (Exit.)

LIBANUS

Well, do your duty, then, and fly.

Enter the ASS-DEALER, with a BOY.

THE ASS-DEALER.

to himself . According as it was pointed out to me, this must be the house where Demænetus is said to live. To the BOY. Go, boy, and knock, and call Saurea the chamberlain out here, if he's in-doors. The BOY goes to knock.

LIBANUS

Who's breaking in our door in this fashion? Enough there, I say, if you hear me at all.

THE ASS-DEALER.

No one has touched it as yet: are you out of your senses?

LIBANUS

Why I thought that you had touched it, because you were steering your course in that direction. I don't want the door, my fellow-slave, to be thumped by you; I really am attached to our house.

THE ASS-DEALER.

I' faith, there's no fear of the hinges being broken off the doors, if you answer all who make enquiries in this fashion.

LIBANUS

This door is of this habit; it cries out at once for the porter, if it sees any door-kicker at a distance coming towards it. But what are you come for? What are you enquiring about?

THE ASS-DEALER.

I wanted Demænetus.

LIBANUS

If he were at home, I would tell you so.

THE ASS-DEALER.

Well, his chamberlain then?

LIBANUS

No more is he at home.

THE ASS-DEALER.

Where is he?

LIBANUS

He said he was going to the barber's.

THE ASS-DEALER.

Hasn't he returned, since he went there?

LIBANUS

I' faith, he hasn't. What did you want?

THE ASS-DEALER.

He was to have received twenty mine of silver, if he had been in.

LIBANUS

What was it for?

ASS-D.

He sold some asses at market to a dealer from Pella.

LIBANUS

I understand; you are bringing it now. I think that he'll be here just now.

THE ASS-DEALER.

Of what appearance is your chamberlain Saurea? If it's he, I shall be able to know at once.

LIBANUS

Lantern-jawed, with reddish hair, a little pot-bellied, with glaring eyes, middling stature, sour aspect.

THE ASS-DEALER.

A painter couldn't have more correctly described his appearance — And, i' faith, I see the very man; he's coming this way, wagging his head.

LIBANUS

Whoever gets in his way when he's in a passion, he'll be for striking him.

THE ASS-DEALER.

By my faith, if, indeed, he were coming filled with the threats and the courage of the grandson of Æacus, if he were to touch me in his wrath, in his wrath he would be getting a thrashing.

Enter LEONIDA, counterfeiting SAUREA.

LEONIDA

to himself. What's this to do here? Not a person bares a bit about my orders! How did I order Libanus to come to the barber's shop, and he didn't come at all. I' faith, for sure he hasn't consulted well for his back and his legs.

THE ASS-DEALER.

to himself. This is a very overbearing fellow.

LIBANUS

to the ASS-DEALER. Woe to me this day!

LEONIDA

I bid welcome to Libanus, the freed-man! Are you set at liberty now?

LIBANUS

I do implore you.

LEONIDA

In good sooth, to your great misfortune surely have you fallen in my way. Why didn't you come to the barber's shop, as I ordered you?

LIBANUS

pointing to the ASS-DEALER. This person detained me.

LEONIDA

I' faith, if in fact you were now to say that supreme Jove had detained you, and he were present to sue for you, you shouldn't escape the evil consequences. Whip-knave, did you disobey my orders? Offers to strike him.

LIBANUS

to the ASS-DEALER . Stranger, I'm done for.

THE ASS-DEALER.

Prithee, Saurea, for my sake, don't beat him.

LEONIDA

I wish, now, I had a whip in my hand ——

THE ASS-DEALER.

Prithee, do be appeased.

LEONIDA

— With which to lash your sides, which have grown callous with blows. To the ASS-DEALER, who interposes. Stand off this way; let me be the death of this fellow who is continually inflaming me with anger — a thief to whom I can never once enjoin a single thing, but that I must command the same things a hundred times, and din them in his ears. For that reason, now, by my troth, what with bawling and passion, I cannot endure the labour. Have you, you rascal, pointing ordered this dirt to be removed hence from the door? Have you ordered the labours of the spiders to be swept down from the pillars? Have you ordered those bosses on our door to be brought to brightness? It's of no use; I must walk about with a stick, as though I were a lame man. Because only for these single three days I have been giving my constant attendance at the Forum, in order to find some one who requires money upon interest, here, in the meantime, are you sleeping at home, and my master is living in a pigstye, not in a house. He strikes LIBANUS. There now, take you that.

LIBANUS

to the ASS-DEALER . Prithee, stranger, do take my part.

THE ASS-DEALER.

Saurea, for my sake, I entreat you, do let him go.

LEONIDA

Hark you! has any one paid for the carriage of that olive oil?

LIBANUS

He has paid.

LEONIDA

To whom was it given?

LIBANUS

To Stichus himself, your deputy.

LEONIDA

Tut! you're trying to mollify me. I know that he is my deputy, and that there isn't a servant in the house who is more valuable to his master than he is. But the wines that I sold yesterday to Exærambus, the wine merchant, has he yet paid Stichus for them?

LIBANUS

I think he has, in full; for I saw Exærambus himself bringing hither his banker.

LEONIDA

On such terms would I always deal; before, what I've trusted, I've hardly been paid within a year after. Now he's quite in a hurry; even of his own accord he brings him to the house, and writes a transfer of the money.

LEONIDA

Has Dromo paid down the wages agreed upon?

LIBANUS

Less than half, I think.

LEONIDA

What about the remainder?

LIBANUS

He said that he would pay it directly it was paid to him; for it was retained until he had finished the work that was agreed on to be done by him.

LEONIDA

The cups that I lent to Philodamus, has he brought them back?

LIBANUS

Not yet.

LEONIDA

What, not yet? If you wish to make a present, lend to a person that is a friend —— aside . I' faith, I'm quite undone; he'll be just now driving me away with his ill-temper.

THE ASS-DEALER.

LIBANUS

in a low voice to LEONIDA . Hallo! you, enough now. Do you hear what he's saying?

LEONIDA

in the same way to LIBANUS . I hear, and I'll have done.

THE ASS-DEALER.

aside . At last, I think, he has done: now it's best to accost him before he commences again to prate. To LEONIDA. How soon, sir, will you give me your attention?

LEONIDA

Oh, by all means — have you been here any time? Troth, I didn't observe you; pray, don't lay it to my charge: anger has so blinded my eyesight.

THE ASS-DEALER.

'Tisn't to be wondered at. But if he's at home, I was wanting Demænetus.

LEONIDA

Libanus says that he isn't within. But still, if you like to pay that money over to me, I'll give you an acquittance that the account is discharged as to that item.

THE ASS-DEALER.

This way rather, for me to pay you in the presence of your master, Demænetus.

LIBANUS

My master knows him, and he my master.

THE ASS-DEALER.

In his master's presence, I'll pay him.

LIBANUS

At my peril, so you only pay him, I'll engage the matter's safe. For if our old gentleman were to know that confidence wasn't placed in him, to whom he himself always entrusts the management of all matters, he would be angry.

LEONIDA

I don't much care; don't let him not pay it, if he don't like; so let him stand here.

LIBANUS

Give it him, I say. Oh dear, I'm sadly afraid that he'll be thinking that I've persuaded you not to trust him; prithee, do give it and don't be afraid. Upon my word, it will be safe.

THE ASS-DEALER.

I think it will be — so long, indeed, as I myself keep it in my hand. I'm a stranger; I don't know Saurea.

LIBANUS

Well, know him now then.

THE ASS-DEALER.

It may be he, it may not be he; i' faith, I know not; if it's he, why then it must be he. I know for sure that I shall give this up to no person that I don't know.

LEONIDA

aside . Troth now, may all the Gods confound the fellow. Aloud to LIBANUS. Take care you don't entreat him with a word. He's arrogant, because he's fingering my twenty minæ. No one will take it. To the ASS-DEALER. Take yourself off home, be off from here, and don't be troublesome.

THE ASS-DEALER.

You are in too angry mood: it isn't right for a person who is a slave to give himself airs.

LIBANUS

By my faith, to your own great misfortune now are you talking uncivilly to him. Dirty, worthless fellow, don't you see he's angry?

LEONIDA

to the ASS-DEALER . Be off then.

LIBANUS

to the ASS-DEALER . Scoundrelly fellow. Aside to him. Prithee, do give him the money lest he should abuse you.

THE ASS-DEALER.

On my word, you are seeking evil for yourselves.

LEONIDA

to LIBANUS . By the powers, your legs shall be broken, if you don't proclaim this shameless fellow.

LIBANUS

Troth, I'm undone. Be off, you shameless fellow.

LEONIDA

You rascal.

LIBANUS

to the ASS-DEALER . Won't you venture to assist me, you rascal?

LEONIDA

Do you persist in soliciting the scamp?

THE ASS-DEALER.

How's this? To LEONIDA. Do you, rascal, who are a slave, speak abusively to a free man?

LEONIDA

Give him a beating.

ASS-D.

By my faith, that surely shall befall yourself to get a beating as soon as ever I shall see Demænetus this day. I summon you to judgments.

LEONIDA

I shan't go.

ASS-D.

You won't go? Remember ——

LEONIDA

I do remember.

ASS-D.

I' faith, I'll have satisfaction out of your back.

LEONIDA

Woe unto you? What, villain — satisfaction to be given by us to you indeed?

THE ASS-DEALER.

Aye, and even this very day satisfaction shall be given me for your abusive language.

LEONIDA

How now, whip-knave? How say you, hang-dog? Do you suppose that we shall run away from our master? Go this instant then to our master, where you were citing us just now, and where you were wishing to go.

THE ASS-DEALER.

What, now at last? Still, you shall never get a coin of money away from me, unless Demænetus shall order me to give it.

LEONIDA

Do so. Come, move on then. Are you to offer insults to another person, and are they not to be repeated to yourself? I'm a man as much as you are.

THE ASS-DEALER.

No doubt such is the fact.

LEONIDA

Follow me this way, then. With your good leave I would now say this: not a person has ever accused me by reason of my deserving it, nor is there in Athens one other individual, this day, whom they would think they could as safely trust.

THE ASS-DEALER.

Perhaps so: but still, you shall never this day persuade me to entrust to you, whom I don't know, this money. A man to a man is a wolf, not a man, when the other doesn't know of what character he is.

LEONIDA

Now at last you are appealing me: I was sure that this day you would give satisfaction to this poor head of mine; although I'm in mean garb, still, I'm well to do, nor can an estimate of my means be formed from it.

THE ASS-DEALER.

Perhaps so.

LEONIDA

Still more then I tell you: Periphanes, a merchant of Rhodes, a rich man, in the absence of my master, himself alone paid over to me, in private, a talent of silver, and trusted me, nor was he deceived in it.

THE ASS-DEALER.

Perhaps so.

LEONIDA

And you, too, yourself, as well, if you had enquired about me of other people, would, i' faith, I'm quite sure, have entrusted to me what you now have with you.

THE ASS-DEALER.

I don't deny it. (Exeunt.)

ACT III.

Enter CLEAERETA and PHEILENIUM, from the house of the former.

CLEAERETA

And am I unable to render you obedient to my injunctions? Or are you so disposed as to be free from the control of your mother?

PHEILENIUM

How could I propitiate Piety, if I could desire to please you, being endowed with these manners, after the fashion, mother, that you enjoin upon me?

CLEAERETA

Is it consistent with propriety for you to oppose my precepts?

PHEILENIUM

How so?

CLEAERETA

Is this worshipping Piety, to lessen the authority of a mother?

PHEILENIUM

Those who act right I blame not, nor do I love those who do wrong.

CLEAERETA

You are a very prating, lovesick girl.

PHEILENIUM

Mother, that is my living. His tongue woos me, his person seeks me, his passion pleads, opportunity prompts.

CLEAERETA

I was purposing to convince you. Are you come as my accuser?

PHEILENIUM

By my troth, I neither do accuse you, nor do I think it right I should do so; but I do complain of my lot, when I am separated from him whom I love.

CLEAERETA

Will then one bit of the whole day's talk be left for myself?

PHILENIUM

Both my share of the speaking and your own do I give up to you. Do you yourself keep the signal both for speaking and for being silent. But, i' faith, if I only put up my oars in the boat-house while I'm resting, all the welfare of the household is at a standstill for you.

CLEAERETA

How say you, the out and out most insolent woman that ever I saw? How often have I forbidden you to speak to Argyrippus, the son of Demænetus, or to touch him, or to hold discourse with him, or to look at him? What has he ever given? What has he ordered to be brought to our house? Or do you fancy to yourself that smooth words are gold? — that clever speeches are as good as presents? Of your own accord you fell in love with him; of your own accord you go after him; of your own accord you request him to be sent for to you. Those who are givers, those same you laugh at; those who are cheating us, you are dying for. If any one promises you that he'll make you rich when his mother dies, ought you to be waiting for that? I' faith, a great risk impends over ourselves and the household, that we may die of hunger while we are awaiting her death. Now therefore, unless he brings me here twenty minæ of silver, upon my word, though profuse of his tears, he shall certainly be turned from here out of doors. This day's the end of excuses for poverty at my house.

PHILENIUM

If, my mother, you were to order me to go without victuals, I would submit.

CLEAERETA

I don't forbid you to love those who give that for the sake of which they ought to be loved.

PHILENIUM

What, mother, if this inclination of mine is fixed? What am I to do?
Tell me.

CLEAERETA

Oh dear — look at my head, if, indeed, you consider your own interest.

PHILENIUM

Even the shepherd, mother, that feeds the sheep of another, has a certain one of his own to be the consoler of his hopes. For the sake of my affection, do allow me to love Argyrippus only, who is my choice.

CLEAERETA

Go in-doors, for, upon my word, there is really nothing more impudent than yourself.

PHILENIUM

Mother, you have given birth to a daughter obedient to your commands. They go into the house.

Enter LEONIDA and LIBANUS.

LEONIDA

Great praise and thanks we give deservedly to perfidy, when relying upon our tricks, our stratagems, and our devices, upon our confidence in our shoulder-blades and the hardihood resulting from the elm-twigs so oft applied, against the whips, the searing-irons, the crosses, and the fetters, the cords, the chains, the prisons, the stocks, the shackles, the collars, and taskmasters most cruel and well acquainted with our backs, who many a time before have imprinted scars upon our shoulder-blades; by conquering, now, these legions, troops and armies of thieves, by our prowess, through our perjuries, O brave, have we gained the victory. This, through the valour of this comrade of mine, and through my own courtesy, has been brought about.

LIBANUS

What man is there more firm than myself at enduring stripes?

LEONIDA

By the powers, you who can extol your exploits now, as I can do exploits, which in peace and in warfare you have so —— villanously performed; verily, in troth, many in number may they be now recounted according to your deserts; where you have defrauded him that trusted you, where you have proved faithless to your master, where knowingly and wilfully you have on solemn oath been perjured, where you have bored through party walls, where you have been detected in theft, where you have full oft pleaded your cause, as you hung up, against eight clever, hardened fellows, sturdy stripers.

LIBANUS

Certainly I do admit, Leonida, that it is true as you say. But verily, in troth, your many misdeeds, too, may be recounted as well and truly; where wilfully you have proved faithless to the trusting, where you have been detected in theft and scourged in public, where you have proved forsworn, where you have laid hands on sacred things, where to your masters you have full oft proved a loss, a trouble, and a disgrace, where you have stoutly denied that that was given to you which had been entrusted to you, where you have proved more faithful to your wench than to your friend, where through your hardihood you have frequently reduced to weariness eight sturdy lictors, armed with pliant twigs of elm. To the AUDIENCE. Is the compliment ill repaid in the way that I've praised my comrade?

LEONIDA

Just as befits both me and yourself, and our dispositions.

LIBANUS

Now drop this, and answer me this that I ask.

LEONIDA

Enquire of me what you please.

LIBANUS

Have you got the twenty silver minæ?

LEONIDA

Guess — Upon my word, the old gentleman Demænetus, has been very obliging to us. How cleverly he pretended that I was Saurea. With the greatest difficulty did I withhold my laughter, when he rebuked the stranger, because in his absence he had been unwilling to put confidence in me; and with what readiness did he call me Saurea the chamberlain.

LIBANUS

Stop a moment.

LEONIDA

What's the matter?

LIBANUS

Isn't this Philenium that's coming from in-doors, and Argyrippus with her.

LEONIDA

Keep silence, 'tis he; let's listen quietly to them. In tears, she holds him, weeping, by the lappet of his garment; what, I wonder, am I to say is the matter?

LIBANUS

Let's listen in silence.

LEONIDA

Dear me, a thought, I' faith, has just come into my mind; I very much wish I had a long stick here.

LIBANUS

For what reason?

LEONIDA

With which to beat these asses, if perchance they should begin to bray out here, from within the bag. They stand apart.

Enter ARGYRIPPUS from the house of CLEÆRETA, followed by

PHILENIUM.

ARGYRIPPUS

Why are you holding me back?

PHILENIUM

Because, as I love you, I cannot bear your departing.

ARGYRIPPUS

Farewell.

PHILENIUM

I should fare somewhat better, if you were to remain here.

ARGYRIPPUS

Blessings on you.

PHILENIUM

Do you wish for blessings on me, to whom you are bringing disease by your departure?

ARGYRIPPUS

Your mother has bid me the last farewell; she has requested me to go home.

PHILENIUM

A bitter death will she cause her daughter, if I must part from you.

LIBANUS

apart, to LEONIDA . Troth now, the man has been turned out of doors there.

LEONIDA

apart . Such is the fact. ARG. Prithee, do let me go.

PHILENIUM

Whither are you going now? Why don't you stay here?

ARGYRIPPUS

This night, if you choose, I'll stay.

LIBANUS

apart . Don't you hear him? How profuse he is of his attentions by night. But now, in the daytime, he's engaged; surely he's a Solon to write laws whereby the public may regulate itself. Psha! those who would be in readiness for themselves to pay obedience to his laws, would decidedly never do any good; they would be drinking night and day.

LEONIDA

apart . Troth now, for sure, he wouldn't budge a foot from her if she would let him, who is now in such haste, and is threatening that he's going away from her.

LIBANUS

apart . Now make an end of your talk, that I may catch his discourse.

ARGYRIPPUS

Farewell!

PHILENIUM

Whither are you hastening?

ARGYRIPPUS

Kindly fare you well! I shall see you in the other world. For indeed now, so soon as I can, I shall sever myself from life.

PHILENIUM

Prithee, why, while I do not deserve it, do you wish to consign me to death?

ARGYRIPPUS

I — you? whom, if I were to hear that you were in want of life, at once would I present you my own life, and from my own would add to yours.

PHILENIUM

Why, then, do you threaten that you will quit life? For what do you suppose that I shall do, if you do that which you are talking of? I'm determined to do everything exactly the same to myself that you do to yourself.

ARGYRIPPUS

O! sweeter than honey are you to me.

PHILENIUM

And surely you are my life. Embrace me.

ARGYRIPPUS

I do so with pleasure. They embrace.

PHILENIUM

Would that thus we might be carried to the tomb.

LEONIDA

apart . O Libanus, how wretched is the man that loves.

LIBANUS

apart . Aye, but surely, faith, the man that's hanging up is much more wretched.

LEONIDA

apart . I know that, who have had experience of it. Let's go round them: let's accost them, one on the one side, one on the other. One walks towards them from each side.

LIBANUS

Health to you, master. But is this female, smoke, that you are embracing?

ARGYRIPPUS

Why so?

LIBANUS

Because your eyes are filled with tears; 'twas for that reason I asked.

ARGYRIPPUS

One who would have been a protector to you, you have lost.

LIBANUS

I' faith, I surely haven't lost one; for this reason, be cause I never had one.

LEONIDA

Health to you, Philenium.

PHILENIUM

What you desire, the Gods will give you.

LIBANUS

I could desire your favours, and a cask of wine, if wishes were to come to pass.

ARGYRIPPUS

Whip-knave, beware how you speak a word.

LIBANUS

Why, 'tis for you, not for myself, I wish it.

ARGYRIPPUS

For that reason, then, say on what you please.

LIBANUS

pointing to LEONIDA . Troth, I'd like to give him a beating.

LEONIDA

Who, pray, would allow you to do so, you frizzle- pated mountebank? Could you thrash me, you, who reckon as your daily food your own thrashings?

>ARG.

How far superior, Libanus, are your lots to my own, who never will live this day until the evening.

LIBANUS

For what reason, prithee?

ARGYRIPPUS

pointing to PHILENIUM . Because I'm in love with her, and she's in love with me, and nowhere have I anything to bestow upon her; for that reason has her mother expelled me with all my affection from her house. The twenty minæ of silver have brought me to my end, which the young man, Diabolus, declared that he would give her this day, in order that she mightn't send her anywhere, for this whole year, except to himself. Don't you see of what force are twenty minæ of silver, or what they can effect? The man who parts with them is happy; I, who part not with them, am undone.

LIBANUS

Has he already paid the money?

ARGYRIPPUS

He hasn't paid it.

LIBANUS

Be of good courage; don't be afraid.

LEONIDA

to LIBANUS . Step this way, Libanus, I want you.

LIBANUS

Certainly, if you want anything. Steps aside, putting his hand on the shoulder of LEONIDA.

ARGYRIPPUS

I entreat of you, is it more pleasant in this same matter for you to discourse hugging one another?

LIBANUS

Understand, master, that all things are not equally sweet to all persons. 'Tis pleasant for you lovers to converse, hugging one another; I care nothing for his hugging pointing to LEONIDA , and pointing to PHILENIUM she despises mine. Do you then yourself do that which you would be suggesting to us to do.

ARGYRIPPUS

Indeed I will, and really with pleasure, i' faith. Placing his arm round PHILENIUM'S neck. In the meantime, if it seems good to you, do you step aside there.

LEONIDA

to LIBANUS . Should you like our master to be bantered a bit?

LIBANUS

He really is deserving of it.

LEONIDA

Should you like me, in his presence, to make Philenium embrace me?

LIBANUS

I' faith, I should like it.

LEONIDA

Follow me this way They join ARGYRIPPUS.

ARGYRIPPUS

Is there any escape at all? Have you conversed enough?

LEONIDA

Listen, and give attention, and devour my words. First of all, that we are your slaves, we don't deny; but if twenty silver minæ are forthcoming for you, by what name will you call us?

ARGYRIPPUS

Freed-men.

LEONIDA

And not patrons?

ARGYRIPPUS

That in preference.

LEONIDA

produces the bag . Here are twenty minæ in this bag. These, if you like, I'll give you.

ARGYRIPPUS

May the Deities ever preserve you, protector of your master, honor to the people, treasury of resources, preserver of my inner man, and commander of love; place it here, put down that bag, here on the spot, at once.

LEONIDA

I don't like you, who are my master, to carry this load.

ARGYRIPPUS

Still, do you rid yourself of the trouble, and fasten that bag to myself.

LEONIDA

I'll carry it, porter-like; you, as befits my master, go, without any burden, before me.

ARGYRIPPUS

How now? Why's this? Why don't you give up the bag here, for your master to feel its weight?

LEONIDA

Bid her to whom I'm about to give it, to beg and entreat it of me. For that's a dangerous spot where you bid me put it down at once.

PHILENIUM

to LEONIDA . Apple of my eye, my rose, my life, my delight, Leonida, do give me the money, and don't sever us lovers asunder.

LEONIDA

to PHILENIUM . Call me, then, your little sparrow, your chicken, your quail, your pet lamb: say that I'm your pet kid or your pet calf; take me by the ears, press your lips to my lips.

ARGYRIPPUS

She, kiss you, you whip-scurdrel?

LEONIDA

Really, how unbecoming it does seem! But, by the powers, you shan't get it this day, if my knees are not embraced.

>ARG.

aside . Necessity compels to anything. To LEONIDA. Let them be embraced kneels down and embraces his knees : now give what I'm asking for.

PHILENIUM

Come, my Leonida, prithee do bring safety to your master thus in love. Redeem yourself from him by this service, and purchase him for yourself with this money.

LEONIDA

You are very pretty and amiable; and if this were mine, you should never this day ask me for it, but I would give it you: 'tis better for you to ask it of him pointing to LIBANUS , for 'twas he gave it me to keep for him. Approach him then prettily, my pretty one. Delivers the bag to LIBANUS. Take this, please, Libanus.

ARGYRIPPUS

Scurdrel, are you still trifling with me?

LEONIDA

I' faith, I should never have done so, if you hadn't embraced my knees so roughly. Aside to LIBANUS. Come, please, in your turn, do you at once have some sport with him, and give her an embrace.

LIBANUS

aside to LEONIDA . Hold your tongue; trust me for that.

ARGYRIPPUS

Why don't we accost him, Philenium? pointing to LIBANUS — really, a very worthy fellow, upon my faith, and not like this thief pointing to LEONIDA .

LIBANUS

aside to LEONIDA . We must walk up and down; now, in my turn, they'll be entreating me.

ARGYRIPPUS

By heaven, Libanus, I do entreat you, be pleased by your deeds to come to your master's rescue; do give me those twenty minæ: you see that thus in love I stand in need of them.

LIBANUS

It shall be seen to; I wish it done; return here at nightfall. Now bid her, ever so little, to beg and entreat them of me.

PHILENIUM

to LIBANUS . Do you wish me to begin with caressing, or with kissing you?

LIBANUS

Why, really, with them both.

PHILENIUM

And do you then, I do entreat you, prove the saving of us both.

ARGYRIPPUS

O Libanus, my patron, do give me that; 'tis more becoming for the freed-man, than for the patron, to be carrying a burden in the street.

PHILENIUM

My Libanus, golden apple of my eye, the gift and the very grace of love; there's a dear, whatever you wish, I'll do; prithee, do give us that money.

LIBANUS

Call me, then, your little duck, dove, or your puppet; your swallow, jackdaw, little sparrow, your mannikin: make of me the reptile that crawls, so that I may have a double tongue; enfold me in your arms, and embrace my neck.

ARGYRIPPUS

She, embrace you, villain?

LIBANUS

Really, how undeserving I do seem. You shan't for no purpose have uttered a speech so unseemly against me. By my troth, if indeed you expect to get this money, this day you shall carry myself on your shoulders.

ARGYRIPPUS

What? I, carry you?

LIBANUS

Otherwise, you shan't get this money from me.

ARGYRIPPUS

Heavens, I'm undone! Still, if indeed it is decorous for the master to carry the servant, mount.

LIBANUS

In this way are proud people wont to be tamed. Stand still then, just as you were wont to do when formerly a boy. Do you understand what I say? He prepares to get upon the shoulders of ARGYRIPPUS. Aye — so — move on: I praise you much; not any horse is there more clever than yourself as a horse.

ARGYRIPPUS

while stooping . Get on, directly. LIB. I'll do so. He gets on. Hallo! — what's the matter? How are you going? By my troth, I'll deprive you of your barley then, if you don't amble, lifting up your feet.

ARGYRIPPUS

Prithee, Libanus, there's enough now.

LIBANUS

Never this day, by my troth, shall you get anything by entreaty. For now up hill with the spur will I push on my steed. After that, I'll deliver you to the millers, that there you may be tortured as you run. Stand still, that I may now at once get down for the hill, although you are but a bad one. Gets off his shoulders.

ARGYRIPPUS

Well now — since you've both made fun of me just as you liked, are you going to give the money?

LIBANUS

Why, yes, if, indeed, you erect to me a statue and an altar, and then sacrifice an ox to me here as though to a God; for I am the Divinity Salvation to you.

LEONIDA

Nay, but, master, do you betake yourself away from him, and do you come to me. And, what he has demanded for himself, will you erect a statue for me, and offer prayers to me?

ARGYRIPPUS

But what Divinity am I to call you?

LEONIDA

Fortune, and that the Propitious one.

ARGYRIPPUS

You are better than he then.

LIBANUS

Why, is there ever anything better for a man than Salvation?

ARGYRIPPUS

Though I praise Fortune, still, not to speak in dispraise of the Divinity Salvation ——

PHILENIUM

By the powers, but they are good, both of them.

ARGYRIPPUS

I shall know it, when they have conferred anything that's good.

LEONIDA

Wish for that which you desire to befall you.

ARGYRIPPUS

What if I do wish it?

LEONIDA

It shall come to pass.

ARGYRIPPUS

I wish for her to be devoted to me alone this whole year round.

LEONIDA

You have obtained it.

ARGYRIPPUS

Do you really say so?

LEONIDA

I do say so for certain.

LIBANUS

Come to me, in my turn, and make trial: wish ardently for that which you especially desire to happen to you; it shall be done.

ARGYRIPPUS

What other thing could I ardently wish for rather than that of which I am in want? Oblige me with twenty silver minæ to give to her mother.

LIBANUS

They shall be given: take care and be of good courage, your wishes shall be fulfilled.

ARGYRIPPUS

Just as they are wont, Salvation and Fortune are deceiving mortals.

LEONIDA

I this day have been the head in finding this money for you.

LIBANUS

I have been the foot.

ARGYRIPPUS

Why, neither head nor foot of your talking is visible; I can understand neither what you mean, nor why you are trifling with me.

LIBANUS

I think that now you've been teased enough; now let's disclose the matter as it really stands. Give your attention, Argyrippus, if you please. Your father has ordered us to bring this money to you.

ARGYRIPPUS

How very à propos and opportunely you have brought it.

LIBANUS

giving him the bag . Here, in this, there will be twenty good minæ, obtained by bad means: these, on certain conditions, he bade us give you.

ARGYRIPPUS

Prithee, what are they?

LIBANUS

That you would grant him her favours and an entertainment.

ARGYRIPPUS

Bid him come, I beg. For him who deserves it right well, we'll do what he wishes, him who has brought these scattered loves of ours to a happy result.

LEONIDA

You'll permit your father then, Argyrippus, to caress her?

ARGYRIPPUS

She, by being restored to me, will easily cause me to permit it.
Prithee, Leonida, run, and beg my father to come here.

LIBANUS

He has been in the house some time.

ARGYRIPPUS

He hasn't come this way, at all events.

LIBANUS

pointing to the back way . He came round that way by the lane, through the garden, lest any one of his friends should see him coming here; he's afraid that his wife may come to know of it. If your mother knew about the money, how it was obtained ——

ARGYRIPPUS

Well, well — do use words of good omens; go in-doors quickly, farewell.

LEONIDA

And you two, love on. He and LIBANUS go into the house of DEMÆNETUS; ARGYRIPPUS and PHILENIUM into that of CLEÆRETA.

ACT IV.

Enter DIABOLUS and a PARASITE, with a scroll in his hand.

DIABOLUS

Come now, show me this agreement that you've written out between myself and the procuress. Read over the conditions; for you are a quite unique composer in such matters.

A PARASITE

I'll make the procuress be terrified when she hears the conditions.

DIABOLUS

Troth now, prithee, proceed and read them over to me.

A PARASITE

Are you attending?

DIABOLUS

I'm all attention.

A PARASITE

reads the agreement . "Diabolus, the son of Glaucus, has made a present to Cleæreta, the procuress, of twenty silver minæ, that Philenium may be with him night and day for this whole year."

DIABOLUS

Yes, and not with any other person.

A PARASITE

Am I to add that?

DIABOLUS

Add it, and take care and write it plainly and distinctly.

A PARASITE

writes it down, and then reads . "And not admit any other man whatever, because either her friend or her patron, she may choose to call him — —”

DIABOLUS

Not any one!

A PARASITE

“Or because she may say that he is the lover of a female friend of hers. The door must be closed to all men except to yourself. On the door she must write that she is engaged. Or, because she may affirm that the letter has been brought from abroad, there is not to be even any letter in the house, nor so much as a waxed tablet; and if there is any useless picture, let her sell it; if she does not part with it, within four days from the time when she has received the money of you, let it be considered as your own; you to burn it if you like; so that she may have no wax, with which she may be able to make a letter. She is to invite no guest; you are to invite them. On no one of them is she to cast her eyes: if she looks upon any other person, she must be blind forthwith. Then she is to drink cup by cup equally with yourself. She is to receive it from you; she is to hand it to you for you to drink. She is not to have a relish for less or for more than yourself.”

DIABOLUS

That's quite to my taste.

A PARASITE

reading . “She is to remove all causes of suspicion from her, nor is she to tread on any man's foot with her foot; when she rises she is neither to step upon the next couch, nor when she gets down from the couch is she thence to extend her hand to any one; she is not to give to nor ask of any one a ring for her to look at; she is not to present dice to any man whatever except to yourself; when she throws them, she is not to say, You I call upon,’ she is to mention your name. She may call on any Goddess that she pleases as propitious to her, but on no God: if she should chance to be very full of devotion, she is to tell you, and you are to pray to him that he may be propitious. She is neither to nod at any man, wink, or make a sign. In fine, if the lamp goes out, she is not to move a single joint of herself in the dark.”

DIABOLUS

That’s very good; so, in fact, she must do: but expunge that about the chamber; for my part, I prefer that she should move. I don’t wish her to have an excuse, and to say that it is forbidden her by her vow.

A PARASITE

I understand, you fear some quibble.

DIABOLUS

Just so.

A PARASITE

Then as you bid me, I’ll strike it out. Erases it.

DIABOLUS

And why not?

A PARASITE

Hear the rest.

DIABOLUS

Say on, I’m listening.

A PARASITE

goes on reading . “And she is not to use any shuffling words, nor is she to know how to speak in any tongue but the Attic. If perchance she should begin to cough, she is not to cough so as to expose her tongue to any one in coughing. But if she should pretend as though she had a running at the nose, even then she is not to do so; you yourself must wipe her lips rather than that she should open her mouth before another person. And her mother, the procuress, is not to come in in the middle of the wine, nor is she to utter a word of abuse to any one; if she does so speak, let this be her fine, to go for twenty days without wine.”

DIABOLUS

You have written it nicely; a clever agreement.

A PARASITE

“Then, if she bids her maid-servant carry chaplets, garlands, or unguents, to Venus or to Cupid, your servant is to watch whether she gives them to Venus or to a man. If perchance she should say she wishes to keep herself in purity, let her account for as many nights as she has kept herself in purity. These are no trifles; for they are no funeral dirge.”

DIABOLUS

The conditions please me entirely; follow me indoors.

A PARASITE

I follow. (They go into the house of CLEÆRETA.) ...

Enter DIABOLUS and the PARASITE.

DIABOLUS

Follow this way. Am I to put up with this, or shall I hold my tongue? I would rather die than not discover this to his wife. And say you so, old man? With a mistress would you be acting the part of a youngster? Would you be excusing yourself to your wife, and calling yourself an aged man? Would you be taking the mistress from her lover? And would you be presenting the money to the procuress, and be secretly pilfering it from your wife at home? You should hang me, rather than you should carry off these matters undiscovered. On my honor, I'll really go this instant hence to her whom I'm sure that you'll very soon be destroying, in order that you may be able to supply your extravagance, unless, indeed, she shall first prevent you.

A PARASITE

I'm of opinion that thus you must act. 'Tis more becoming that I should disclose this matter, rather than yourself, lest she may think that you, excited by reason of love, rather than for her own sake, have acted thus.

DIABOLUS

Why, faith, you say what's right. Do you then contrive to raise a storm and strife against him, that he, together with his own son, is carousing with one mistress the livelong day, and that he's secretly pilfering from her.

A PARASITE

Don't suggest to me. I'll take care of that.

DIABOLUS

But I'll wait for you at home. Exit DIABOLUS; the PARASITE goes into the house of DEMÆNETUS.

ACT V.

A Table, and everything requisite for an Entertainment, being placed before the house of CLEÆRETA, enter ARGYRIPPUS, DEMÆNETUS, and PHILENIUM, from the house of CLEÆRETA.

ARGYRIPPUS

Come then, father, let's take our places, please.

DEMAENETUS

As you bid me, my son, so it shall be.

ARGYRIPPUS

. to the ATTENDANTS . Lads, spread the table.

DEMAENETUS

Is it at all displeasing to you, son, if she takes her place by me? They take their places.

ARGYRIPPUS

Duty, father, keeps sorrow from my eyes; although I love her, still I can control my feelings, not to take it to heart because she takes her place by you.

DEMAENETUS

It becomes a young man to be respectful, Argyrippus.

ARGYRIPPUS

Troth, father, through proper regard for you, I can be so.

DEMAENETUS

Come, then, let's enjoy this banquet with wine and pleasant discourse. I don't wish to be feared, I prefer myself to be loved by you, my son.

ARGYRIPPUS

In truth, I do them both, as is proper for a son.

DEMAENETUS

I'd believe it, if I saw you were cheerful.

ARGYRIPPUS

Why, do you think that I'm sorrowful?

DEMAENETUS

Do I think so? You, whom I see as melancholy as if the day of trial had been named for you.

ARGYRIPPUS

Don't you say that.

DEMAENETUS

Don't you be so, then I'll not say so.

ARGYRIPPUS

Well then, look at me; I'm laughing. He affects to laugh.

DEMAENETUS

I'd like that those who wish me ill would laugh thus.

ARGYRIPPUS

I know, indeed, father, why you now suppose to yourself that I'm sad; it is because she is by you. And really, father, by my faith, to tell you the truth, that matter does hurt me; and not for this reason, that I don't desire for you that which you wish, but because I love her; another woman, indeed, I could easily endure to be by you.

DEMAENETUS

But I have a fancy for this one.

ARGYRIPPUS

Then you have what you desire; for myself, I wish for what I could desire.

DEMAENETUS

Submit to it this one day, since I've given you the power to be with her for a year, and have procured for you the command of money in your amour.

ARGYRIPPUS

Well, by doing that, you have laid me under an obligation to you.

DEMAENETUS

Why then don't you show yourself cheerful to me? They commence the banquet, PHILENIUM reclining below DEMÆNETUS.

Enter ARTEMONA and the PARASITE, from the house of DEMÆNETUS, at the further side of the stage.

ARTEMONA

Prithee, do you say that my husband is carousing here, together with my son? — and that he has carried to his mistress twenty minæ of silver? — and that, with the knowledge of my son, his father is perpetrating this wickedness?

A PARASITE

Trust me in nothing henceforth, either divine or human, Artemona, if you find me untruthful in this matter.

ARTEMONA

Wretched then am I, who have supposed that, beyond others, my husband was sober, decent, chaste, and especially fond of his wife.

A PARASITE

But now, henceforth, understand that he, before all men, is a person of the smallest worth — a drunkard, a good-for-nothing fellow, unchaste, and a contemner of his own wife.

ARTEMONA

I' faith, if this wasn't true, he would never be doing the things that he is now doing.

A PARASITE

Upon my word, I too always hitherto took him to be a decent person; but by this action he declares himself, — to be carousing, indeed, together with his son, and, a decrepit old man, toying with a mistress in his company.

ARTEMONA

For this it is, i' faith, that he's going out to dinner every day. He says that he's going to Archidemus, Chereas, Chærestratus, Clinius, Chremes, Cratinus, Dinias, Demosthenes: while he's thinking of debauchery, and public dens of infamy with his harlot.

A PARASITE

Why don't you bid your maid-servants carry him off home upon their shoulders?

ARTEMONA

Do you only be quiet. By my troth, I'll surely give him some trouble.

A PARASITE

I'm sure of it, that so it will befall him, so long, indeed, as you shall continue married to him.

ARTEMONA

I was fancying that this fellow was still giving attendance either in the senate or to his dependants: that for that reason it was, that, worn out with fatigue, he snored the whole night through. Wearied with his labours out of doors he comes home at night. Another's farm he ploughs, his own he leaves untilled. Both he himself is corrupted, and he corrupts his son as well.

A PARASITE

Do you only follow me this way, I'll make you just now to fall upon the man himself in the very fact.

ARTEMONA

By heaven, there's nothing that I could more wish for.

A PARASITE

Just stop there. He moves stealthily forward, and examines the other side of the stage.

ARTEMONA

What's the matter?

A PARASITE

returning to her . If perchance you were to see your husband reclining, if you beheld him with a garland on, caressing a mistress, could you recognize him?

ARTEMONA

I' troth, I could.

A PARASITE

points to the other end of the stage . Then there's your man.

ARTEMONA

moving stealthily forward with the PARASITE . I'm undone.

A PARASITE

Stay a little. Let's observe in private, from ambush, what business they are about.

ARGYRIPPUS

What end will you put to your caresses, father?

DEMAENETUS

I confess, my son ——

ARGYRIPPUS

What do you confess?

DEMAENETUS

That I'm utterly undone with love for her.

A PARASITE

to ARTEMONA . Do you hear what he says?

ARTEMONA

I hear.

DEMAENETUS

to PHILENIUM . Ought I not to filch the mantle from my wife at home, which she is so fond of, and bring it to you? Though my wife's life should last a whole year in consequence, by my troth I could not be dissuaded from doing so.

A PARASITE

to ARTEMONA . Do you suppose that he has been accustomed to frequent a brothel to-day for the first time?

ARTEMONA

Upon my faith, it was he that was pilfering me; whereas I was suspecting my maid-servants, and was tormenting the wretched creatures who were innocent all the while.

ARGYRIPPUS

Father, bid him pour out some wine; 'tis a long time since I drank first.

DEMAENETUS

to the SERVANT . Begin, boy, from the top. To PHILENIUM . Come, do you meanwhile from below give me a kiss. Kisses her.

ARTEMONA

to the PARASITE . Wretch that I am, I'm undone! How the villain, the garnishing of a bier, is kissing away.

DEMAENETUS

A breath, by my faith, somewhat sweeter than that of my wife.

PHILENIUM

Tell me, there's a dear, does the breath of your wife smell bad?

DEMAENETUS

I'd prefer to drink bilge-water, if it were necessary, rather than kiss her.

ARTEMONA

apart . By heavens, you are a wretch. PAR. apart . I' faith, he's deserving so to be.

ARGYRIPPUS

How say you, father? Takes a draught in the meanwhile.

ARTEMONA

apart . Aye, pray, how say you? By my troth, to your own great detriment, you've surely said that against me. Never mind; only de you come home, I'll let you know what danger there is in speaking abusively against a wife with a dowry.

ARGYRIPPUS

Don't you love my mother?

DEMAENETUS

Who — I? I love her just now, because she isn't present.

ARGYRIPPUS

How, when she is present?

DEMAENETUS

Then, I wish she was dead.

A PARASITE

apart to ARTEMONA . This fellow is fond of you, according to what he says.

ARTEMONA

On my word, he's surely laying out all this at interest; for if, this day, he returns home, I'll especially have my revenge in kissing him.

ARGYRIPPUS

handing the dice-box . Father, throw the dice; that afterwards I may have a throw.

DEMAENETUS

By all means. You, Philenium, for myself, and death for my wife. He throws. 'Tis Venus's cast. Lads, clap your hands, and give me some honeyed wine in my cup, in honor of my throw.

ARTEMONA

apart . I can hold out no longer.

A PARASITE

apart . If you haven't learned the fulling trade, it's not to be wondered at; now it's quite fitting for you to beset his eyes. They make their appearance before the revellers.

ARTEMONA

By heavens, I will live, and you this day have made that invocation to your own great misfortune.

A PARASITE

Will some one run to fetch the undertakers?

ARGYRIPPUS

Health to you, mother.

ARTEMONA

Health indeed after this fashion!

A PARASITE

aside . Demænetus is dead. 'Tis time to betake myself hence: this battle bravely waxes hot. I'll be off to Diabolus. I'll tell him his orders are performed as he desired them; and in the meantime I'll persuade him that we should take a meal, while these people are squabbling. Afterwards, in fine, I'll bring him here to-morrow, to the procuress, that he may give her the twenty mince, that, in his turn, he in his passion may be enabled to obtain this damsel. I hope that Argyrippus will be able to be prevailed upon to allow him to pass each alternate night with him in her company; for, unless I obtain that, I've lost my patron; so great is the passion of the man by reason of his love. He quietly withdraws.

ARTEMONA

addressing PHILENIUM . What business have you to give a retreat here in your house to my husband?

PHILENIUM

Troth, he really will this day be the death of wretched me, through sheer disgust.

ARTEMONA

to DEM AENETUS . Rise, wench, be off home.

DEMAENETUS

I'm undone.

ARTEMONA

Yes, you are; don't, i' faith, gainsay it, you most vile of all men. Why, the cuckoo's still on his nest. Rise, wench, be off home.

DEMAENETUS

Woe to me!

ARTEMONA

You prophesy correctly. Rise, wench, be off home.

DEMAENETUS

Step a little this way then.

ARTEMONA

Rise, wench, be off home.

DEMAENETUS

Now, prithee, wife ——

ARTEMONA

Do you remember now that I'm your wife? It was but just now, when you were heaping abuse upon me, that I wasn't your wife.

DEMAENETUS

I'm utterly ruined.

ARTEMONA

Why, pray? Does the breath of your wife smell strong?

DEMAENETUS

It smells of myrrh.

ARTEMONA

Have you filched my mantle then to be giving to your harlot?

ARGYRIPPUS

By the powers — what, did he promise that he would filch your mantle?

ARTEMONA

Won't you hold your tongue?

ARGYRIPPUS

I was going to dissuade him, mother.

ARTEMONA

to ARGYRIPPUS . A pretty son! To DEMÆNETUS. Is it proper for a father to teach these morals to his children? Are you ashamed of nothing?

DEMAENETUS

I' faith, if there's nothing else, I'm ashamed of you, wife.

ARTEMONA

With your hoary head, your wife is dragging you, you cuckoo, from dens of infamy.

DEMAENETUS

The dinner's cooking; mayn't I stop, only to take my dinner?

ARTEMONA

Faith, you'll dine to-day on a heavy mishap, as you deserve.

DEMAENETUS

rising . I shall repose but uncomfortably; my wife is taking me home condemned.

ARGYRIPPUS

I told you, father, not to devise ill against my mother.

PHILENIUM

to DEMÆNETUS . Do remember about the mantle, there's a dear.

DEMAENETUS

calls out to CLEÆRETA . Won't you order her to go away from here?

PHILENIUM

No, I'll go in, in preference. To ARGYRIPPUS. Follow me this way, my life.

ARGYRIPPUS

Yes, I follow.

ARTEMONA

to DEMÆNETUS . Be off home.

PHILENIUM

to DEMÆNETUS . Do give me a kiss, at least, before you go.

DEMAENETUS

to PHILENIUM . Go hang yourself. (Exeunt.)

The COMEDIANS.

If this old fellow, unknown to his wife, has been in any way indulging his own inclinations, he has been doing nothing new or wonderful, or otherwise than others are in the habit of doing. No one is there of a disposition so severe, or of a temper so firm, but that he will enjoy himself when he has any opportunity. Now if you wish to interpose in behalf of this old man, so that he be not punished, we think that it can be brought about if you give us loud applause.

AULULARIA

Translated by Henry Thomas Riley

Aulularia, which has been translated as ‘The Pot of Gold’, revolves around a horde of gold that the miserly protagonist, Euclio, guards zealously. The play’s ending has not survived, though there are indications of how the plot is resolved in later summaries and a few fragments of dialogue. The play opens with Lar Familiaris, the household deity of Euclio, an old man with a marriageable daughter named Phaedria, issuing a prologue about how he allowed Euclio to discover a pot of gold buried in his house. Euclio is then shown fanatically guarding his gold from real and imagined threats. Unknown to Euclio, Phaedria is pregnant by a young man named Lyconides. Phaedria is never seen on stage, though at a key point in the play the audience hears her painful cries in labour.

The figure of the miser had been a stock character of comedy for many years in Greece. Plautus does not spare his protagonist various embarrassments caused by the vice, but he is relatively gentle in his satire. Euclio is eventually portrayed as a good-hearted man that has been only temporarily affected by his cupidity.

The playwright’s frequent theme of clever servants outwitting their supposed superiors is a recurring theme found throughout Plautus’ works. Not only does Lyconides’ slave manage to filch Euclio’s beloved gold, but also Euclio’s housemaid Staphyla is shown as intelligent and kind in her attitude toward the unfortunately pregnant Phaedria.

During the Renaissance there were a number of adaptations of the Aulularia. One of the earliest was Giovanni Battista Gelli’s La Sporta (The Basket), which was published in Florence in 1543. A Croatian version by Marin Držić was titled Skup (The Miser, 1555) and set in Dubrovnik. In 1597 Ben Jonson adapted elements of the plot for his early comedy The Case is Altered. At about the same time it was also used by the Danish Hieronymus Justesen Ranch (1539–1607) as the basis for his play Karrig Nidding (The Stingy Miser).

ACT V.

THE SUBJECT

EUCLIO, a miserly old Athenian, has a daughter named Phædra, who has been ravished by a young man named Lyconides, but is ignorant from whom she has received that injury. Lyconides has an uncle named Megadorus, who being ignorant of these circumstances, determines to ask Phædra of her father, in marriage for himself. Euclio has discovered a pot of gold in his house which he watches with the greatest anxiety. In the meantime, Megadorus asks his daughter in marriage, and his proposal is accepted; and while preparations are making for the nuptials, Euclio conceals his treasure, first in one place and then in another. Strobilus, the servant of Lyconides, watches his movements, and, having discovered it, carries off the treasure. While Euclio is lamenting his loss, Lyconides accosts him, with the view of confessing the outrage he has committed on his daughter, and of announcing to him that his uncle, Megadorus, has cancelled his agreement to marry her, in favour of himself. Euclio at first thinks that he is come to confess the robbery of the treasure. After much parleying, his mistake is rectified, and the matter is explained; on which Lyconides forces Strobilus to confess the theft; and (although the rest of the Play in its original form is lost) we learn from the acrostic Argument that Strobilus gives up the treasure, and Lyconides marries the daughter of Euclio, and receives the gold for a marriage-portion. The Supplement written by Codrus Urcens to supply the place of what is lost has been added.

THE ACROSTIC ARGUMENT OF PRISCIAN.

A POT (Aulam) that he has found full of gold, Euclio watches with the greatest strictness (Vi), being distracted in a dreadful manner. Lyconides (Lyconides) debauches his daughter. Megadorus wishes (Vult) to marry her without a portion, and to do it in a cheerful way (Lubens), he provides cooks with provisions. Euclio is afraid on account of the gold (Auro); he drives them out of the house; and the whole matter (Re) having been seen, the servant of the ravisher steals it (Id). He discloses the matter to Euclio; by (Ab) him he is presented with the gold, a wife, and a son. THE PROLOGUE

THE HOUSEHOLD GOD

Lest any one should wonder who I am, I will tell you in a few words. I am the household God of this family, from whose house you have seen me coming forth. It is now many years that I have been occupying this houses and I inhabited it for the father and the grandfather of this person who now dwells here. But beseeching me, his grandfather entrusted to me a treasure of gold, unknown to all. He deposited it in the midst of the hearth, praying me that I would watch it for him. He, when he died, was of such an avaricious disposition, that he would never disclose it to his own son, and preferred rather to leave him in want than to show that treasure to that son. He left him no large quantity of land, on which to live with great laboriousness and in wretchedness. When he died who had entrusted that gold to me, I began to take notice whether his son would any how pay greater honor to me than his father had paid me. But he was in the habit of venerating me still less and less by very much, and gave me a still less share of devotion. So in return was it done by me; and he likewise ended his life. He left this person who now dwells here, his son, of the same disposition as his father and grandfather were. He has an only daughter; she is always every day making offerings to me, either with incense, or wine, or something or other; she presents me, too, with chaplets. Out of regard for her, I have caused this Euclio to find this treasure, in order that he might more readily give her in marriage if he should wish; for a young man of very high rank has ravished her; this young man knows who it is that he has ravished; she knows him not, nor yet does her father know that she has been ravished. This day I shall cause the old gentleman here, our neighbour, to ask her as his wife; that will I do for this reason, that he may the more easily marry her who has ravished her. And this old gentleman who shall ask her as his wife, the same is the uncle of that young man who debauched her in the night time at the festival of Ceres. But this old fellow is now making an uproar in the house, as usual; he is thrusting the old woman out of doors, that she may not be privy to the secret. I suppose he wants to look at the gold, if it be not stolen.

ACT I.

Enter EUCLIO, driving out STAPHYLA.

EUCLIO

Get out, I say, be off, get out; by my troth, you must budge out of this house here, you pryabout woman, with your inquisitive eyes.

STAPHYLA

Pray why are you beating me, wretched creature that I am?

EUCLIO

That you may be wretched, and that, curst as you are. you may pass a curst life, well befitting you.

STAPHYLA

But for what reason have you now pushed me out of the house?

EUCLIO

Am I to be giving you a reason, you whole harvest of whips. Get away there from the door! There, do look, if you please, how she does creep along. But do you know how matters stand with you? If I just now take a stick or a whip in my hand, I'll quicken that tortoise pace for you.

STAPHYLA

O that the Gods would drive me to hang myself, rather indeed than that I should be a slave in your house on these terms!

EUCLIO

Hark how the hag is grumbling to herself! By my troth, you wretch, I'll knock out those eyes of yours, that you mayn't be able to watch me, what business I'm about. Get out pushes her with his hands - further yet! still further! further! There now, stand you there! By my faith, if you budge a finger's breadth, or a nail's width from that spot, or if you look back until I shall order you, i' faith, I'll give you up at once as a trainer for the gibbet. Aside. I know for sure that I did never see one more accursed than this hag, and I'm sadly in fear of her, lest she should be cheating me unawares, or be scenting it out where the gold is concealed, a most vile wretch, who has eyes in the back of her head as well. Now I'll go and see whether the gold is just as I concealed it, that so troubles wretched me in very many ways. He goes into his house.

STAPHYLA

By heavens, I cannot now conceive what misfortune, or what insanity, I am to say has befallen my master; in such a way does he often, ten times in one day, in this fashion push wretched me out of the house. I' faith, I know not what craziness does possess this man; whole nights is he on the watch; then, too, all the day long does he sit for whole days together at home like a lame cobbler. Nor can I imagine now by what means to conceal the disgrace of my master's daughter, whose lying-in approaches near; and there isn't anything better for me, as I fancy, than to make one long capital letter of myself, when I've tied up my neck in a halter.

Enter EUCLIO, from his house.

EUCLIO

to himself. Now, with my mind at ease, at length I go out of my house, after I've seen that everything is safe in-doors. Now do you return at once into the house to STAPHYLA, and keep watch in-doors.

STAPHYLA

Keep watch in-doors upon nothing at all, forsooth! or is it, that no one may carry the house away. For here in our house there's nothing else for thieves to gain, so filled is it with emptiness and cobwebs.

EUCLIO

'Tis a wonder that, for your sake, Jupiter doesn't now make me a King Philip, or a Darius, you hag of hags. I choose those cobwebs to be watched for me. I am poor, I confess it — I put up with it. What the Gods send, I endure. Go in-doors, shut to the door, I shall be there directly. Take you care not to let any strange person into the house.

STAPHYLA

What if any person asks for fire?

EUCLIO

I wish it to be put out, that there may be no cause for any one asking it of you. But if the fire shall be kept in, you yourself shall be forthwith extinguished. Then do you say that the water has run out, if any one asks for it.

STAPHYLA

The knife, the hatchet, the pestle and mortar, utensils that neighbours are always asking the loan of ——

EUCLIO

Say that thieves have come and carried them off. In fact, in my absence, I wish no one to be admitted into my house; and this, too, do I tell you beforehand, if Good Luck should come, don't you admit her.

STAPHYLA

I' faith, she takes good care, I think, not to be admitted; for though close at hand, she has never come to our house.

EUCLIO

Hold your tongue, and go in-doors.

STAPHYLA

I'll hold my tongue, and be off.

EUCLIO

Shut the door, please, with both bolts. I shall be there directly.

STAPHYLA goes into the house. I'm tormented in my mind, because I must go away from my house I' faith, I go but very unwillingly; but I know full well what I'm about; for the person that is our master of our ward has given notice that he will distribute a didrachm of silver to each man; if I relinquish that, and don't ask for it, at once I fancy that all will be suspecting that I've got gold at home; for it isn't very likely that a poor man would despise ever such a trifle, so as not to ask for his piece of money. For as it is, while I am carefully concealing it from all, lest they should know, all seem to know it, and all salute me more civilly than they formerly used to salute me; they come up to me, they stop, they shake hands; they ask me how I am, what I'm doing, what business I'm about. Now I'll go there whither I had set out; afterwards, I'll betake myself back again home as fast as ever I can.

ACT II.

Enter EUNOMIA and MEGADORUS, from their house.

EUNOMIA

I could wish you, brother, to think that I utter these words by reason of my own regard and your welfare, as is befitting your own sister to do. Although I'm not unaware that we women are accounted troublesome; for we are all of us deservedly considered very talkative, and, in fact, they say at the present day that not a single woman has been found dumb in any age. Still, brother, do you consider this one circumstance, that I am your nearest relation, and you in like manner are mine. How proper it is that I should counsel and advise you, and you me, as to what we may judge for the interest of each of us; and for it not to be kept concealed or kept silence upon through apprehension, but rather that I should make you my confidant, and you me in like manner. For that reason, now, have I brought you here apart out of doors, that I might here discourse with you upon your private concerns.

MEGADORUS

Best of women, give me your hand. Takes her hand.

EUNOMIA

looking about . Where is she? Who, pray, is this best of women?

MEGADORUS

Yourself.

EUNOMIA

Do you say so?

MEGADORUS

If you say no, I say no.

EUNOMIA

Indeed, it's right that the truth should be spoken; for the best of women can nowhere be found; one is only worse than another, brother.

MEGADORUS

I think the same, and I'm determined never to contradict you on that point, sister. What do you wish?

EUNOMIA

Give me your attention, I beg of you.

MEGADORUS

'Tis at your service; use and command me, please, if you wish for aught.

EUNOMIA

A thing that I consider very greatly for your advantage I'm come to recommend you.

MEGADORUS

Sister, you are doing after your usual manner.

EUNOMIA

I wish it were done.

MEGADORUS

What is it, sister?

EUNOMIA

That you may enjoy everlasting blessings in being the father of children.

MEGADORUS

May the Gods so grant it.

EUNOMIA

I wish you to bring home a wife.

MEGADORUS

Ha! I'm undone.

EUNOMIA

How so?

MEGADORUS

Because, sister, your words are knocking out the brains of unfortunate me; you are speaking stones.

EUNOMIA

Well, well, do this that your sister requests you.

MEGADORUS

If she requests me, I will do it.

EUNOMIA

'Tis for your own interest.

MEGADORUS

Yes, for me to die before I marry. Let her who comes here tomorrow, be carried out of the house the day after, sister; on that condition, give me her whom you wish to give; get ready the nuptials.

EUNOMIA

I am able, brother, to provide you with a wife with a very large marriage-portion. But she's somewhat aged; she's of the middle-age of woman. If you request me, brother, to ask her for you, I'll ask her.

MEGADORUS

Would you like me to ask you a question?

EUNOMIA

Yes, if you like, ask it.

MEGADORUS

Suppose any old man, past mid-age, brings home a middle-aged wife, if by chance he should have a child by this old woman, do you doubt at all but that the name of that child is Posthumus, all prepared? Now, sister, I'll remove and lessen this labour for you. I, by the merits of the Gods and of my forefathers, am rich enough; these high families, haughty pride, bountiful portions, acclamations, imperiousness, vehicles inlaid with ivory, superb mantles and purple, I can't abide, things that by their extravagance reduce men to slavery.

EUNOMIA

Tell me, pray, who is she whom you would like to take for a wife?

MEGADORUS

I'll tell you. Do you know that Euclio, the poor old man close by?

EUNOMIA

I know him; not a bad sort of man, i' faith.

MEGADORUS

I'd like his maiden daughter to be promised me in marriage. Don't make any words about it, sister; I know what you are going to say; that she's poor. This poor girl pleases me.

EUNOMIA

May the Gods prosper it.

MEGADORUS

I hope the same.

EUNOMIA

What do you want me now for? Do you wish for anything?

MEGADORUS

Farewell.

EUNOMIA

And you the same, brother. Goes into the house.

MEGADORUS

I'll go meet Euclio, if he's at home. But, see! the very person is betaking himself home, whence, I know not.

Enter EUCLIO.

EUCLIO

to himself . My mind had a presentiment that I was going to no purpose when I left my house; and therefore I went unwillingly; for neither did any one of the wardsmen come, nor yet the master of the ward, who ought to have distributed the money. Now I'm making all haste to hasten home; for I myself am here, my mind's at home.

MEGADORUS

accosting him . May you be well, and ever fortunate, Euclio!

EUCLIO

May the Gods bless you, Megadorus!

MEGADORUS

How are you? Are you quite well, and as you wish?

EUCLIO

aside . It isn't for nothing when a rich man accosts a poor man courteously; now this fellow knows that I've got some gold; for that reason he salutes me more courteously.

MEGADORUS

Do you say that you are well?

EUCLIO

Troth, I'm not very well in the money line.

MEGADORUS

I' faith, if you've a contented mind, you have enough to passing a good life with.

EUCLIO

aside . By my faith, the old woman has made a discovery to him about the gold; 'tis clear it's all out. I'll cut off her tongue, and tear out her eyes, when I get home.

MEGADORUS

Why are you talking to yourself?

EUCLIO

I'm lamenting my poverty; I've a grown-up girl without a portion, and one that can't be disposed of in marriage; nor have I the ability to marry her to anybody.

MEGADORUS

Hold your peace; be of good courage, Euclio: she shall be given in marriage; you shall be assisted by myself. Say, if you have need of aught; command me.

EUCLIO

aside . Now is he aiming at my property, while he's making promises; he's gaping for my gold, that he may devour it; in the one hand he is carrying a stone. while he shows the bread in the other. I trust no person, who, rich himself, is exceedingly courteous to a poor man; when he extends his hand with a kind air, then is he loading you with some damage. I know these polypi, who, when they've touched a thing, hold it fast.

MEG.(

Give me your attention, Euclio, for a little time: I wish to address you in a few words, about a common concern of yours and mine.

EUCLIO

aside . Alas! woe is me! my gold has been grabbed from in-doors: now he's wishing for this thing, I'm sure, to come to a compromise with me; but I'll go look in my house. He goes towards his door.

MEGADORUS

Where are you going?

EUCLIO

I'll return to you directly, for there's something I must go and see to at home. He goes into his house.

MEGADORUS

By my troth, I do believe that when I make mention of his daughter, for him to promise her to me, he'll suppose that he's being laughed at by me; nor is there out of the whole class of paupers one more beggarly than he. EUCLIO returns from his house.

EUCLIO

aside . The Gods do favour me; my property's all safe. If nothing's lost, it's safe. I was very dreadfully afraid, before I went in-doors! I was almost dead! Aloud. I'm come back to you, Megadorus, if you wish to say anything tome.

MEGADORUS

I return you thanks; I beg that as to what I shall enquire of you, you'll not hesitate to speak out boldly.

EUCLIO

So long, indeed, as you enquire nothing that I mayn't choose to speak out upon.

MEGADORUS

Tell me, of what sort of family do you consider me to be sprung?

EUCLIO

Of a good one.

MEGADORUS

What think you as to my character?

EUCLIO

'Tis a good one.

MEGADORUS

What of my conduct?

EUCLIO

Neither bad nor dishonest.

MEGADORUS

Do you know my years?

EUCLIO

I know that they are plentiful, just like your money.

MEGADORUS

I' faith, for sure I really did always take you to be a citizen without any evil guile, and now I think you so.

EUCLIO

aside . He smells the gold. Aloud. What do you want with me now?

MEGADORUS

Since you know me, and I know you, what sort of person you are — a thing, that may it bring a blessing on myself, and you and your daughter, I ask your daughter as my wife. Promise me that it shall be so.

EUCLIO

Heyday! Megadorus, you are doing a deed that's not becoming to your usual actions, in laughing at me, a poor man, and guiltless towards yourself and towards your family For neither in act, nor in words, have I ever deserved it of you, that you should do what you are now doing.

MEGADORUS

By my troth, I neither am come to laugh at you, nor am I laughing at you, nor do I think you deserving of it.

EUCLIO

Why then do you ask for my daughter for your self?

MEGADORUS

That through me it may be better for you, and through you and yours for me.

EUCLIO

This suggests itself to my mind, Megadorus, that you are a wealthy man, a man of rank; that I likewise am a person, the poorest of the poor; now, if I should give my daughter in marriage to you, it suggests itself to my mind that you are the ox, and that I am the ass; when I'm yoked to you, and when I'm not able to bear the burden equally with yourself, I, the ass, must lie down in the mire; you, the ox, would regard me no more than if I had never been born; and I should both find you unjust, and my own class would laugh at me; in neither direction should I have a fixed stall, if there should be any separation; the asses would tear me with their teeth, the oxen would butt at me with their horns. This is the great hazard, in my passing over from the asses to the oxen.

MEGADORUS

The nearer you can unite yourself in alliance with the virtuous, so much the better. Do you receive this proposal, listen to me, and promise her to me.

EUCLIO

But indeed there is no marriage-portion.

MEGADORUS

You are to give none; so long as she comes with good principles, she is sufficiently portioned.

EUCLIO

I say so for this reason, that you mayn't be supposing that I have found any treasures.

MEGADORUS

I know that; don't enlarge upon it. Promise her to me.

EUCLIO

So be it. Starts and looks about. But, O Jupiter, am I not utterly undone?

MEGADORUS

What's the matter with you?

EUCLIO

What was it sounded just now as though it were iron?

MEGADORUS

Here at my place, I ordered them to dig up the garden. EUCLIO runs off into his house. But where is this man? He's off, and he hasn't fully answered me; he treats me with contempt. Because he sees that I wish for his friendship, he acts after the manner of mankind. For if a wealthy person goes to ask a favour of a poorer one, the poor man is afraid to treat with him; through his apprehension he hurts his own interest. The same person, when this opportunity is lost, too late, then wishes for it.

EUCLIO

coming out of the house, addressing STAPHYLA within. By the powers, if I don't give you up to have your tongue cut out by the roots, I order and I authorize you to hand me over to any one you please to be incapacitated.

MEGADORUS

By my troth, Euclio, I perceive that you consider me a fit man for you to make sport of in my old age, for no deserts of my own.

EUCLIO

I' faith, Megadorus, I am not doing so, nor, should I desire it, had I the means.

MEGADORUS

How now? Do you then betroth your daughter to me?

EUCLIO

On those terms, and with that portion which I mentioned to you.

MEGADORUS

Do you promise her then?

EUCLIO

I do promise her.

MEGADORUS

May the Gods bestow their blessings on it.

EUCLIO

May the Gods so do. Take you care of this, and remember that we've agreed, that my daughter is not to bring you any portion.

MEGADORUS

I remember it.

EUCLIO

But I understand in what fashion you, of your class, are wont to equivocate; an agreement is no agreement, no agreement is an agreement, just as it pleases you.

MEGADORUS

I'll have no misunderstanding with you. But what reason is there why we shouldn't have the nuptials this day?

EUCLIO

Why, by my troth, there is very good reason for them.

MEGADORUS

I'll go, then, and prepare matters. Do you want me in any way?

EUCLIO

That shall be done. Fare you well.

MEGADORUS

going to the door of his house and calling out . Hallo! Strobilus, follow me quickly, in all haste, to the fleshmarket. (Exit MEGADORUS.)

EUCLIO

He has gone hence. Immortal Gods, I do beseech you! How powerful is gold! I do believe, now, that he has had some intimation that I've got a treasure at home; he's gaping for that; for the sake of that has he persisted in this alliance.

EUCLIO, alone.

EUCLIO

going to the door of his house, he opens it, and calls to STAPHYLA within . Where are you who have now been blabbing to all my neighbours that I'm going to give a portion to my daughter? Hallo! Staphyla, I'm calling you! Don't you hear? Make haste in-doors there, and wash the vessels clean. I've promised my daughter in marriage; to-day I shall give her to be married to Megadorus here. from the house.

STAPHYLA

as she enters . May the Gods bestow their blessings on it! But, i' faith, it cannot be; 'tis too sudden.

EUCLIO

Hold your tongue, and be off. Take care that things are ready when I return home from the Forum, and shut the house up. I shall be here directly. (Exit.)

STAPHYLA

What now am I to do? Now is ruin near at hand for us, both for myself and my master's daughter; for her disgrace and her delivery are upon the very point of becoming known; that which even until now has been concealed and kept secret, cannot be so now. I'll go in-doors, that what my master ordered may be done when he comes. But, by my faith, I do fear that I shall have to drink of a mixture of bitterness! (Exit.)

Enter STROBIOUS, ANTHRAX, and CONGRIO, with MUSIC GIRLS and PERSONS carrying provisions.

STROBILUS

After my master had bought the provisions, and hired the cooks and these music- girls in the market-place, he ordered me to divide these provisions into two parts.

LYCONIDES

By my troth, but you really shan't be dividing me, I tell you plainly. If you wish me to go anywhere whole, I'll do my best.

ANTHRAX

A very pretty and modest fellow, indeed. As if, when you are a conger by name, you wouldn't like to be cut into pieces.

LYCONIDES

But, Anthrax, I said that in another sense, and not in the one which you are pretending.

STROBILUS

Now my master's going to be married to-day.

ANTHRAX

Whose daughter is he to marry?

STROBILUS

The daughter of this Euclio, his near neighbour here. For that reason he has ordered half of these provisions here to be presented to him — one cook, and one music-girl likewise.

ANTHRAX

That is, you take one half to him, the other half home?

STROBILUS

'Tis just as you say.

ANTHRAX

How's that? Couldn't this old fellow provide from his own resources for the wedding of his daughter.

STROBILUS

Pshaw!

ANTHRAX

What's the matter?

STROBILUS

What's the matter, do you ask? A pumice stone isn't so dry as is this old fellow.

ANTHRAX

Do you really say that it is as you affirm?

STROBILUS

Do be judge yourself. Why, he's for ever crying out for aid from Gods and men, that his property has gone, and that he is ruined root and branch, if the smoke by chance escapes out of doors through the rafters of his house. Why, when he goes to sleep, he ties a bag beneath his gullet.

ANTHRAX

Why so?

STROBILUS

That when he sleeps, he may lose no breath.

ANTHRAX

And does he stop up the lower part of his windpipe as well, lest, perchance, he should lose any breath as he sleeps?

STROBILUS

In that 'tis as fair that you should credit me, as it is for me to credit you.

ANTHRAX

Why really, I do believe you.

STROBILUS

But, further, do you know how it is? I' faith, he grieves to throw away the water when he washes.

ANTHRAX

Do you think a great talent might be begged of this old fellow for him to give us, through which we might become free?

STROBILUS

By my troth, if you were to ask it, he would never let you have the loan of hunger. Why, the other day, the barber had cut his nails; he collected all the parings, and carried them off.

ANTHRAX

I' faith, you do describe a miserably stingy wretch.

LYCONIDES

But do you think that he does live so very stingily and wretchedly?

STROBILUS

A kite, the other day, carried off his morsel of food; the fellow went crying to the Prætor; there, weeping and lamenting, he began to request that he might be allowed to compel the kite to give bail. There are innumerable other things that I could mention, if I had the leisure. But which of you two is the sharper? Tell me.

LYCONIDES

I — as being much the better one.

STROBILUS

A cook I ask for, not a thief.

LYCONIDES

As a cook, I mean.

STROBILUS

to ANTHRAX . What do you say?

ANTHRAX

I'm just as you see me.

LYCONIDES

He's a nine-day cook; every ninth day he's in the habit of going out to cook.

ANTHRAX

You, you three-lettered fellow; do you abuse me, you thief?

LYCONIDES

To be sure I do, you trebly-distilled thief of thieves.

STROBILUS

Now do you hold your tongue for the present, and, that lamb, whichever is the fatter of the two ——

LYCONIDES

Very well.

STROBILUS

Do you, Congrio, take that, and go in-doors there pointing to EUCLIO'S house ; and to a MUSIC-GIRL and some of the PEOPLE with provisions do you follow him; the rest of you this way, to our house.

LYCONIDES

By my troth, you've made an unfair division; they've got the fattest lamb.

STROBILUS

But the fattest music-girl shall be given you then. Do you, therefore, go along with him, Phrygia. And do you, Eleusium, step in-doors here, to our house.

LYCONIDES

O you crafty Strobilus, have you pushed me off here upon this most miserly old fellow, where if I ask for anything, I may ask even to hoarseness before anything's found me?

STROBILUS

'Tis very foolish, and 'tis thanklessly done, to do a service to you, when what you do goes for nothing.

LYCONIDES

But how so?

STROBILUS

Do you ask? In the first place then, there will be no confusion for you there in the house; if you want anything to use, bring it from your own home, don't lose your trouble in asking for it. But here, at our house, there's great confusion, and a large establishment — furniture, gold, garments, silver vessels. If anything's lost here (as I know that you can easily keep hands off — if nothing's in your way), they may say, "The cooks have stolen it; seize them, bind them, beat them, thrust them in the dungeon". Nothing of that sort will happen to you, inasmuch as there will be nothing for you to steal. Follow me this way.

LYCONIDES

I follow.

STROBILUS

knocking at the door of EUCLIO'S house . Ho, there Staphyla, come out and open the door.

STAPHYLA

from within . Who calls there? STRO. Strobilus.

Enter STAPHYLA.

STAPHYLA

What do you want?

STROBILUS

For you to take in these cooks, and this music-girl, and these provisions for the wedding. Megadorus bade me take these things to Euclio.

STAPHYLA

Are you about to make this wedding, Strobilus, in honor of Ceres?

STROBILUS

Why?

STAPHYLA

Because I don't see any wine brought.

STROBILUS

Why, that will be brought just now, when he himself comes back from the market.

STAPHYLA

There's no firewood here in our house.

LYCONIDES

There are the beams.

STAPHYLA

I' faith, there are.

LYCONIDES

There is wood, then; don't you be seeking it out of doors.

STAPHYLA

What, you unpurified fellow, although your business is with the fire, for the sake of a dinner, or of your own hire, do you request us to set our house on fire?

LYCONIDES

I don't ask you.

STROBILUS

Take them in-doors.

STAPHYLA

Follow me. They follow her in-doors, and STROBILUS goes with the others into the house of MEGADORUS.

Enter PYTHODICUS, from the house of MEGADORUS.

PYTHODICUS

Mind you your business; I'll step in and see what the cooks are doing, to observe whom, i' faith, to-day it is a most laborious task. Unless I manage this one thing, for them to cook the dinner down in the dungeon; thence, when cooked, we might bring it up again in small baskets. But if they should eat below whatever they should cook, those above would go without their dinner, and those below have dined. But here am I chattering, as though I had no business, when there's such a pack of thieves in the house. Goes into the house.

Enter EUCLIO, with some chaplets of flowers in his hand.

EUCLIO

I wished at length to screw up my courage to-day, so as to enjoy myself at the wedding of my daughter. I come to the market, I enquire about fish; they tell me that it is dear, that lamb is dear, beef is dear, veal, large fish, and pork, all of them are dear. And for this reason were they still dearer; I hadn't the money. I came away thence in a rage, since I had nothing wherewithal to make a purchase; and thus did I baulk all those rascals. Then I began to think with myself upon the road, "If you are guilty of any extravagance on a festive day, you may be wanting on a common day, unless you are saving." After I disclosed this reasoning to my heart and appetite, my mind came over to my opinion, that I ought to give my daughter in marriage at as little expense as possible. Now I've bought a bit of frankincense, and these chaplets of flowers; these shall be placed upon the hearth for our household God, that he may grant a propitious marriage to my daughter. But what do I —— ? Do I behold my house open? There's a noise, too, within; is it that I'm robbed, wretch that I am?

LYCONIDES

speaking within the house . Seek of the neighbours a bigger pot if you can; this one's too little, it can't hold it.

EUCLIO

Woe to me! By my faith, I'm a dead man; the gold's being carried off — my pot's being looked for. I am certainly murdered, unless I make haste to run with all haste in-doors here! Apollo, prithee do assist and help me, whom thou hast already, before this, helped in such circumstances. Pierce with thine arrows the plunderers of my treasures. But am I delaying to run, before I perish outright. He runs into his house.

Enter ANTHRAX, from the house of MEGADORUS.

ANTHRAX

speaking to some within . Dromo, do you scale the fish. Do you, Machærio, have the conger and the lamprey boned. I'm going to ask the loan of a baking-pan of our neighbour Congrio. You, if you are wise, will have that capon more smoothly picked for me than is a plucked play-actor. But what's this clamour that's arising here hard by? By my faith, the cooks, I do believe, are at their usual pranks. I'll run in-doors, lest there may be any disturbance here for me as well. Retreats into the house of MEGADORUS.

ACT III.

Enter CONGRIO, in haste, from the house of EUCLIO.

LYCONIDES

roaring out . Beloved fellow-citizens, fellow- countrymen, inhabitants, neighbours, and all strangers, do make way for me to escape! Make all the streets clear! Never have I at any time, until this day, come to Bacchants, in a Bacchanalian den, to cook; so sadly have they mauled wretched me and my scullions with their sticks. I'm aching all over, and am utterly done for; that old fellow has so made a bruising school of me; and in such a fashion has he turned us all out of the house, myself and them, laden with sticks. Nowhere, in all the world, have I ever seen wood dealt out more plentifully. Alackaday! by my faith, to my misery, I'm done for; the Bacchanalian den is opening, here he comes. He's following us. I know the thing I'll do: that the master himself has taught me.

Enter EUCLIO, from his house, driving the COOKS and the MUSIC GIRL before him.

EUCLIO

(calling out, while CONGRIO and the others are running off) Come back! Where are you running to, now? Hold you!

LYCONIDES

Why are you crying out, you stupid?

EUCLIO

Because this instant I shall give your name to the Triumvirs.

LYCONIDES

Why?

EUCLIO

Because you've got a knife.

LYCONIDES

'Tis the proper thing for a cook.

EUCLIO

Why did you threaten me?

LYCONIDES

I think that it was badly managed, that I didn't pierce your side with it.

EUCLIO

There's not a person that's living this day a greater rascal than you, nor one to whom designedly I would with greater pleasure cause a mischief.

LYCONIDES

I' faith, though you should hold your noise, really that's quite clear; the thing itself is its own witness. As it is, I'm made softer by far with your sticks than any ballet-dancer. But what right have you to touch us, you beggarman? What's the matter?

EUCLIO

Do you even ask me? Is it that I've done less than I ought to have done? Only let me — Is going to strike him.

LYCONIDES

Now, by my faith, at your great peril, if this head should feel it!

EUCLIO

Troth, I don't know what may happen hereafter; your head feels it just now! But what business, pray, had you in my house, in my absence, unless I had ordered you? I want to know that.

LYCONIDES

Hold your noise, then; because we came to cook for the wedding.

EUCLIO

Why the plague do you trouble yourself whether I eat meat raw or cooked, unless you are my tutor.

LYCONIDES

I want to know if you will allow or not allow us to cook the dinner here?

EUCLIO

I, too, want to know whether my property will be safe in my house.

LYCONIDES

I only wish to carry the things away safe that I brought here! I don't care for yours; should I be coveting your things?

EUCLIO

I understand; don't teach me; I know.

LYCONIDES

What is it, on account of which you now hinder us from cooking the dinner here? What have we done? What have we said to you otherwise than you could wish?

EUCLIO

Do you even ask me, you rascally fellow? You who've been making a thoroughfare of every corner of my house, and the places under lock and key? If you had stopped by the fireside, where it was your business, you wouldn't have had your head broken. It has been done for you deservedly! Therefore that you may now know my determination; if you come nearer to the door here, unless I order you, I'll make you to be the most wretched of creatures. Do you now know my determination? He goes into his house.

LYCONIDES

Where are you going? Come you back again! So may Laverna love me well, I'll expose you at once with loud abuse here before the house, if you don't order my utensils to be restored to me! What shall I do now? Verily, by my faith, I came here with unlucky auspices; I was hired for a didrachm; I stand in more need now of a surgeon than of wages.

Enter EUCLIO, from his house, with the pot of money under his cloak.

EUCLIO

to himself, as he enters . This, by my faith, wherever I shall go, really shall be with me, and with myself will I carry it, nor will I ever again entrust it to that place, for it to be in such great peril. Speaking to CONGRIO and his SCULLIONS. Now, then, go you all of you in the house, cooks and music-girls; introduce even, if you like, a whole company of hirelings; cook, bustle, and hurry now at once just as much as you please.

LYCONIDES

O dear, I'm a ruined man.

EUCLIO

Be off! your labour was hired here, not your talk.

LYCONIDES

Harkye, old gentleman, for the beating, by my faith, I shall demand of you a recompense. I was hired a while ago to cook, and not to be basted.

EUCLIO

Proceed against me at law! Don't be troublesome! Either cook the dinner, or away with you from the house to downright perdition!

LYCONIDES

Go there yourself then. CONGRIO and the COOKS and MUSIC-GIRL go back into the house.

EUCLIO, alone.

EUCLIO

He's gone. Immortal Gods! A poor man, who begins to have dealings or business with an opulent one, commences upon a rash undertaking! Thus, for instance, Megadorus who has pretended that, for the sake of honoring me, he sends these cooks hither, is plaguing unfortunate me in every way; for this reason has he sent them, that they might purloin this putting his hand on the pot from unfortunate me. Just as I might expect, even my dunghill-cock in-doors, that was bought with the old woman's savings, had well nigh been the ruin of me; where this was buried, he began to scratch there all round about with his claws. What need of more words? So exasperated were my feelings, I took a stick, and knocked off the head of the cock — a thief caught in the act. I' faith, I do believe that the cooks had promised a reward to the cock, if he should discover it; I took the opportunity out of their hands, however. What need of many words? I had a regular battle with the dunghill-cock. But see, my neighbour Megadorus is coming from the Forum. I can't, then, venture to pass by him, but I must stop and speak to him. He retires close to his door.

Enter MEGADORUS, at a distance.

MEGADORUS

to himself. I've communicated to many friends my design about this proposal; they speak in high terms of the daughter of Euclio. They say that it was discreetly done, and with great prudence. But, in my opinion, indeed, if the other richer men were to do the same, so as to take home as their wives, without dower, the daughters of the poorer persons, both the state would become much more united, and we should meet with less ill feeling than we now meet with; both, they, the wives, would stand in fear of punishment more than they do stand in fear of it, and we husbands should be at less expense than we now are. In the greater part of the people this is a most just way of thinking; in the smaller portion there is an objection among the avaricious, whose avaricious minds and insatiate dispositions there is neither law nor magistrate to be able to put a check upon. But a person may say this; "How are these rich women with portions to marry, if this law is laid down for the poor?" Let them marry whom they please, so long as the dowry isn't their companion. If this were so done, the women would acquire for themselves better manners for them to bring, in place of dowry, than they now bring. I'd make mules, which exceed horses in price, to become cheaper than Gallic geldings.

EUCLIO

aside . So may the Gods favour me, I listen to him with delight; very shrewdly has he discoursed on the side of economy.

MEGADORUS

to himself . No wife should then be saying: “Indeed, I brought you a marriage-portion far greater than was your own wealth; why, it really is fair that purple and gold should be found for me, maid-servants, mules, muleteers, and lacqueys, pages to carry compliments, vehicles in which I may be carried.”

EUCLIO

aside . How thoroughly he does understand the doings of the wives! I wish he were made Prefect of the manners of the women.

MEGADORUS

to himself . Now, go where you will, you may see more carriages among the houses than in the country when you go to a farm-house. But this is even light, in comparison with when they ask for their allowance; there stands the scourer, the embroiderer, the goldsmith, the woollen-manufacturer, retail dealers in figured skirts, dealers in women’s under-clothing, dyers in flame-colour, dyers in violet, dyers in wax- colour, or else sleeve-makers, or perfumers; wholesale linendrapers, shoemakers, squatting cobblers, slipper-makers; sandasmakers stand there; stainers in mallow colour stand there; hairdressers make their demands, botchers their demands; boddice-makers stand there; makers of kirtles take their stand. Now you would think them got rid of; these make way, others make their demands; three hundred duns are standing in your hall; weavers, lace-makers, cabinet-makers, are introduced; the money’s paid them. You would think them got rid of by this; when dyers in saffroncolours come sneaking along; or else there’s always some horrid plague or other which is demanding something.

EUCLIO

aside . I would accost him, if I didn't fear that he would cease to descant upon the ways of women; for the present I'll leave him as he is.

MEGADORUS

When the money has been paid to all the nicknackmongers, for these saffron-coloured garments and stomachers, your wife's expenses, then at the last comes the tax-gatherer and asks for money. You go, your account is being made up with your banker; the tax-gatherer waits, half-starved, and thinks the money will be paid. When the account has been made up with the banker, even already is the husband himself in debt to the banker, and the hopes of the tax-gatherer are postponed to another day. These, and many others, are the inconveniences and intolerable expenses of great portions; but she who is without portion is in the power of her husband; the portioned ones overwhelm their husbands with loss and ruin. But see; here's my connexion by marriage before the house! How do you do, Euclio?

EUCLIO

With very great pleasure have I listened to your discourse.

MEGADORUS

Did you hear me?

EUCLIO

Everything from the very beginning.

MEGADORUS

eyeing him from head to foot . Still, in my way of thinking indeed, you would be acting a little more becomingly if you were more tidy at the wedding of your daughter.

EUCLIO

Those who have display according to their circumstances and splendour according to their means, remember themselves, from whence they are sprung; neither by myself, Megadorus, nor by any poor man, are better circumstances enjoyed than appearances warrant.

MEGADORUS

Surely they are; and may the Gods, I hope, make them so to be, and more and more may they prosper that which you now possess.

EUCLIO

aside . That expression don't please me, "which you now possess." He knows that I've got this, as well as I do myself: the old woman has discovered it to him.

MEGADORUS

Why do you separate yourself thus alone, apart from the Senate?

EUCLIO

Troth, I was considering whether I should accuse you deservedly.

MEGADORUS

What's the matter?

EUCLIO

Do you ask me what's the matter? You who have filled every corner in my house, for wretched me, with thieves? You who have introduced into my dwelling five hundred cooks, with six hands a-piece, of the race of Geryon, whom were Argus to watch, who was eyes all over, that Juno once set as a spy upon Jupiter, he never could watch them; a music-girl besides, who could alone drink up for me the Corinthian fountain of Pirene, if it were flowing with wine? And then as to provisions ——

MEGADORUS

Troth, there's enough for a procurer even. I sent as much as a lamb.

EUCLIO

Than which lamb, I, indeed, know right well that there is nowhere a more curious beast existing.

MEGADORUS

I wish to know of you why is this lamb curious?

EUCLIO

Because it's all skin and bone, so lean is it with care; why, even when alive, by the light of the sun you may look at its entrails; it's just as transparent as a Punic lantern.

MEGADORUS

I bought it to be killed.

EUCLIO

Then it's best that you likewise should bargain for it to be carried out for burial; for I believe it's dead by this time.

MEGADORUS

Euclio, I wish this day to have a drinking with you.

EUCLIO

By my troth, I really must not drink.

MEGADORUS

But I'll order one cask of old wine to be brought from my house.

EUCLIO

I' faith, I won't have it; for I've determined to drink water.

MEGADORUS

I'll have you well drenched this day, if I live, you who have determined to drink water.

EUCLIO

aside . I know what plan he's upon; he's aiming at this method, to overcome me with wine, and after that, to change the settlement of what I possess: I'll take care of that, for I'll hide it somewhere out of doors. I'll make him lose his wine and his trouble together.

MEGADORUS

Unless you want me for anything, I'm going to bathe, that I may sacrifice. He goes into his house.

EUCLIO

By my faith, you pot taking it from under his cloak , you surely have many enemies, and that gold as well which is entrusted to you! Now this is the best thing to be done by me, to take you away, my pot, to the Temple of Faith, where I'll hide you carefully. Faith, thou dost know me, and I thee; please, do have a care not to change thy name against me, if I entrust this to thee. Faith, I'll come to thee, relying on thy fidelity. He goes into the Temple of faith.

ACT IV.

Enter STROBILUS .

STROBILUS

This is the duty of a good servant, to do what I'm intending, not to consider the commands of his master a bore or trouble to him. For that servant who resolves to serve his master with hearty goodwill, him it behoves to act expeditiously for his master, slowly for himself; but if he sleeps, let him so sleep as to bethink himself that he is a servant. But he who lives in servitude to one in love, as I am serving, if he sees love overcoming his master, this I think to be the duty of the servant; to restrain him for his safety, not to impel him onwards towards his own inclination. Just as a float of bulrushes is placed beneath boys who are learning to swim, by means of which they may labour less, so as to swim more easily and move their hands; in the same way do I consider that it is proper for the servant to be a buoy to his master thus in love, so as to bear him up lest he should go to the bottom; and so * * * * should he learn the will of his master, that his eyes should know what his mouth chooses not to speak. What he orders, he should hasten to perform more swiftly than the swift steeds. He who shall have a care for these things, will escape the castigation of the ox's hide, nor by his own means will he ever bring the fetters to brightness. Now, my master's in love with the daughter of this poor man, Euclio; word has just now been brought to my master that she is given to Megadorus here: he has sent me here to spy out, that he may be made acquainted with the things that are going on. Now, without any suspicion, I'll sit here by the sacred altar. From this spot I shall be able, in this direction and that, to witness what they are about. He sits by the altar, and on seeing EUCLIO, hides behind it.

Enter EUCLIO, from the Temple

EUCLIO

O Goddess Faith, do thou but take care not to discover to any person that my gold is there. I have no fear that any one will find it, so well is it concealed in its hiding place. By my troth, he will surely have a charming booty there, if any one shall meet with that pot loaded with gold. But I entreat thee, Faith, to hinder that. Now I shall go wash me, that I may perform the sacrifice; so that I may not delay my new connexion by marriage, but that, when he sends to me, he may forthwith take my daughter home. Over and over again now, Goddess Faith, do thou take care that I shall carry away the pot safe from thy Temple. To thy fidelity have I entrusted the gold; in thy grove and Temple is it placed. Goes into his house.

STROBILUS

coming from behind the altar . Immortal Gods, what a deed did I hear this person speaking of, how that he had hidden here, in the Temple of Faith, a pot filled with gold; prithee, beware you, how you are more faithful to him than to myself! And he, as I fancy, is the father of her whom my master's in love with. I'll go hence into it; I'll thoroughly ransack the Temple, to see if I can anywhere find the gold, while he's engaged. But if I do find it, O Goddess Faith, I'll offer to thee a gallon jug full of honeyed wine, that I'll surely offer to thee; but I'll drink it up myself, when I have offered it. Retreats behind the altar.

Enter EUCLIO, from his house.

EUCLIO

to himself . It wasn't for nothing that the raven was just now croaking on my left hand; he was both scratching the ground with his feet and croaking with his voice. At once my heart began to jump about, and to leap within my breast. But why do I delay to run?

EUCLIO

He discovers STROBILUS, and drags him from behind the altar. Out, out, you earthworm, who have this instant crept out of the earth; who just now were nowhere seen, and now that you are seen shall die for it. By my faith, you juggler, I'll receive you now after a disagreeable fashion. Begins to shake and beat him.

STROBILUS

What the curst plague does ail you? What business have you with me, old fellow? Why do you torment me? Why are you dragging me? For what reason are you beating me?

EUCLIO

You out-and-out whipping-post, do you even ask that, you, not thief, but thrice-dotted thief.

STROBILUS

What have I stolen from you?

EUCLIO

Give me that back here, if you please.

STROBILUS

What do you want me to give you back?

EUCLIO

Do you ask me that?

STROBILUS

As for me, I've taken nothing away from you.

EUCLIO

But give up that which you have taken away for yourself. Are you going to do so?

STROBILUS

Do what?

EUCLIO

You can't carry it off.

STROBILUS

What do you want?

EUCLIO

Lay it down.

STROBILUS

Troth, for my part, I think that you are in the habit of quizzing, old gentleman.

EUCLIO

Put that down, please; cease your quibbling; I'm not trifling now.

STROBILUS

What am I to put down? Why don't you mention it, whatever it is, by its own name? By my faith, I really have neither taken nor touched anything.

EUCLIO

Show me your hands, here.

STROBILUS

Well, I do show them; see, here they are. Holding out his hands.

EUCLIO

I see them. Come, show me the third, as well.

STROBILUS

aside . Sprites, and frenzy, and madness, possess this old fellow. Are you doing me an injustice, or not?

EUCLIO

A very great one, I confess, inasmuch as you are not strung up; and that too shall be done this moment, unless you do confess.

STROBILUS

What am I to confess to you?

EUCLIO

What it was you took away hence.

STROBILUS

May the Gods confound me, if I've taken away anything of yours, aside and if I don't wish I had taken it away.

EUCLIO

Come then, shake out your cloak.

STROBILUS

At your pleasure. Shakes it.

EUCLIO

You haven't it among your under-clothing?

STROBILUS

Search where you please.

EUCLIO

Pshaw! how civilly the rascal speaks, that I mayn't suppose he has taken it away! I know your tricks. Come, show me here again that right hand.

STROBILUS

Here it is. Extending it. EUC. Now show me your left.

STROBILUS

Well, then, I show you both, in fact. Extending them.

EUCLIO

Now I leave off searching. Give back that here.

STROBILUS

Give back what?

EUCLIO

Are you trifling with me? You certainly have got it.

STROBILUS

I, got it? Got what?

EUCLIO

I shan't say; you want to hear. Whatever you have of mine, give it back.

STROBILUS

You are mad; you've searched me all over at your own pleasure, and yet you've found nothing of yours in my possession.

EUCLIO

starting . Stop, stop; who was that? Who was the other that was within here, together with yourself? Troth, I'm undone; he's now rummaging about within. If I let this one go, he'll escape. At last, I've now searched this one all over; he has got nothing. Be off where you please; Jupiter and the Gods confound you!

STROBILUS

He returns his thanks not amiss.

EUCLIO

I'll go in here now, and I'll at once throttle this accomplice of yours. Will you not fly hence from my sight? Will you away from here, or no?

STROBILUS

I'm off.

EUCLIO

Take you care, please, how I see you. (He goes into the Temple.)

STROBIOUS, alone.

STROBILUS

I would rather that I were dead outright, by a shocking death, than not lay an ambush this day for that old fellow. But he'll not venture now to hide his gold here; he'll now be carrying it with him, I guess, and be changing the spot. But hark! there's a noise at the door. Looking in the direction of the Temple. See, the old fellow's bringing out the gold with him! Meanwhile, I'll step aside here to the door. Conceals himself near the door.

Enter EUCLIO, from the Temple, with the pot of money.

EUCLIO

to himself . I had thought that there was the very greatest dependence upon Faith; very nearly had she played me a pretty trick. If the raven hadn't come to my assistance, to my sorrow I should have been undone. Troth, I very much wish that raven would come to me which gave me the warning, that I might say something kind to him; for I would as soon give him something to eat as lose it. Now I'm thinking of a lonely spot where I shall hide this. The grove of Sylvanus, outside of the wall, is unfrequented, and planted with many a willow; there will I choose a spot. I'm determined to trust Sylvanus, rather than Faith. (Exit.)

STROBILUS

re-appearing from his hiding-place . Capital! capital! the Gods will me to be safe and preserved! Now will I run before to that place, and climb up into some tree, and thence will I watch where the old fellow hides the gold. Although my master bade me remain here, I'm resolved rather to risk a mishap along with emolument. (Exit.)

Enter LYCONIDES and EUNOMIA, from the house of MEGADORUS.

LYCONIDES

I've told you all, mother; as well as I do myself, you understand all about the daughter of Euclio. Now, I do entreat you, my mother, make mention of it to my uncle, and I now unask of you, mother, that which before I entreated of you, to conceal this from Megadorus.

EUNOMIA

You know, yourself, that what you desire to be done, I desire, and I trust that I shall obtain this of my brother; and the reason is good, if 'tis so as you say, that in a drunken fit you debauched this damsel.

LYCONIDES

Could I, my mother, tell a falsehood in your presence?

PHÆDRA cries out in labour, in EUCLIO'S house. I die, my nurse; my pangs are coming on! I entreat thee for thy protection, Juno Lucina!

LYCONIDES

Ah! my mother, I see a more convincing proof for you; she's crying aloud — she's in the pangs of labour.

EUNOMIA

Come in-doors here, with me, my son, to my brother, that I may obtain a grant from him of that which you beg of me.

LYCONIDES

Go; I'll follow you this instant, mother. EUNOMIA goes into the house. But my servant, Strobilus, I wonder where he is, whom I ordered to wait here for me. Now I reflect with myself, if he's lending me his assistance, it isn't fair that I should be angry with him. I'll go in-doors, where they are sitting in judgment upon my life. Goes into the house of MEGADORUS.

Enter STROBILUS, with the pot of money.

STROBILUS

I, by myself, exceed the riches of the Griffins, who inhabit the golden mountains, For I'm unwilling to make mention of those other kings, beggarly fellows — I am the king Philip. O charming day! for when I went from here, just now, I arrived there much the first, and, long before, I placed myself in a tree, and thence observed where the old fellow hid the gold. When he departed thence, I let myself down from the tree, and dug up the pot full of gold. Thence, from that spot, I saw the old fellow betaking himself back again; he didn't see me, for I turned a little on one side, out of the path. Heyday! here he comes himself. I'll go and hide this away, at home. Goes into the house of MEGADORUS.

Enter EUCLIO, tearing his hair and wringing his hands.

EUCLIO

I'm ruined! I'm done for! I'm murdered! Whither shall I run? Whither not run? Stop him — stop him. Whom? who? I don't know. I see nothing! I'm going blindfold; and, in fact, whither I am going, or where I am, or who I am, I can't in my mind find out for certain. To the AUDIENCE. I beseech you, give me your aid (I beg and entreat of you), and point me out the person that has taken it away. What's the matter? Why do you laugh? I'm acquainted with you all; I know that there are many thieves here, who conceal themselves with white clothes and chalk, and sit as though they were honest! To one of the SPECTATORS. What say you? You I'm resolved to believe; for I perceive, even by your looks, that you are honest. Well then, none of these has got it? You've been the death of me! Tell me, then, who has got it? You don't know? Oh, wretched, wretched me! I'm done for! wofully undone! In most sorry plight I go; so much groaning, and misfortune, and sorrow, has this day brought upon me, hunger and poverty, too. I'm the most utterly ruined of all men upon the earth! For what need of life have I, who have lost so much gold that I so carefully watched? I pinched myself, and my inclinations, and my very heart! Now others are rejoicing at this, my loss and my misfortune! I cannot endure it. He runs about, crying and stamping. Enter LYCONIDES, from the house of MEGADORUS.

LYCONIDES

What person, I wonder, is this before our house lamenting, and that utters complaints with his moaning? Why, surely, this is Euclio, as I imagine. I'm utterly undone! The thing's all out; he knows now, as I suppose, that his daughter is brought to bed. I'm in a state of uncertainty now what I shall do, whether go or remain, accost him or fly.

EUCLIO

What person is it that speaks there?

LYCONIDES

'Tis I, wretch that I am.

EUCLIO

Yes, and so am I, and wretchedly ruined, whose lot is misfortune so great and sorrow.

LYCONIDES

Be of good courage.

EUCLIO

How, prithee, can I be so?

LYCONIDES

Because that deed which is afflicting your mind, I did it, and I confess it.

EUCLIO

What is it I hear from you?

LYCONIDES

That which is the truth.

EUCLIO

What evil, young man, have I deserved, by reason of which you should do thus, and go to ruin both me and my children?

LYCONIDES

A Divinity was my prompter; he prompted me to do it.

EUCLIO

How?

LYCONIDES

I confess that I have done wrong, and I know that I deserve censure; for that reason I'm come to beseech you, that, with feelings assuaged, you will pardon me.

EUCLIO

Why did you dare do so, to touch that which was not your own?

LYCONIDES

What do you wish to be done? The thing has been done; it can't be undone. I believe that the Gods willed it, for if they hadn't willed it, I know it wouldn't have happened.

EUCLIO

But I believe that the Gods have willed that I should be the death of you in fetters.

LYCONIDES

Don't say that!

EUCLIO

What business then have you to touch what is my own against my will?

LYCONIDES

Because I did it under the evil influence of wine and love.

EUCLIO

Most audacious man, that you should dare to come here to me with that speech, you impudent fellow! For if this is lawful, so that you may be able to excuse it — let us openly, in broad daylight, plunder their golden trinkets from ladies — after that, if we are caught, let us excuse ourselves, that we did it when intoxicated, by reason of being in love. Too cheap are wine and love, if one in liquor and in love is allowed to do with impunity whatever he pleases.

LYCONIDES

But I come to you of my own accord to supplicate you on account of my folly.

EUCLIO

Persons don't please me, who, when they've done wrong, excuse themselves. You knew that you had no right there; you oughtn't to have touched.

LYCONIDES

Therefore, inasmuch as I did dare to touch, I make no objection to keep by all means.

EUCLIO

You, keep what is my own against my will?

LYCONIDES

Against your will, I do not ask; but I think that that which was yours ought to be mine. Moreover, Euclio, you'll find, I say, that mine it ought to be.

EUCLIO

Now really, on my word, I'll drag you to the Prætor and take proceedings against you, unless you make restitution.

LYCONIDES

Make restitution of what to you?

EUCLIO

What you've stolen of mine.

LYCONIDES

I, stolen of yours? Whence, or what is it?

EUCLIO

So shall Jupiter love you, how ignorant you are about it!

LYCONIDES

Unless, indeed, you tell me what you are enquiring for.

EUCLIO

The pot of gold, I say, I'm asking back of you, which you confessed to me that you had taken away.

LYCONIDES

By my faith, I've neither said so, nor have I done it.

EUCLIO

Do you deny it?

LYCONIDES

Yes, I do utterly deny it; for neither the gold nor yet this pot, what it means, do I know or understand.

EUCLIO

Give me up that pot which you took away from the wood of Sylvanus. Come, give it me back! I would rather give you the one-half of it. Although you are a thief to me, I'll not be hard upon the thief. Give it me back.

LYCONIDES

You are not in your senses, to call me a thief; I thought, Euclio, that you had come to the knowledge of another matter; as concerns myself, it is a great matter which I wish to speak with you upon at your leisure, if you are at leisure.

EUCLIO

Tell me, in good faith, have you not stolen that gold?

LYCONIDES

In good faith, No.

EUCLIO

Nor know who has taken it away?

LYCONIDES

In good faith, No, to that as well.

EUCLIO

But if you should know who has taken it away, will you discover it to me?

LYCONIDES

I will do so.

EUCLIO

Nor accept of a share from him, whoever he is, for yourself, nor harbour the thief?

LYCONIDES

Even so.

EUCLIO

What if you deceive me?

LYCONIDES

Then may great Jupiter do unto me what he pleases.

EUCLIO

I'm satisfied. Come, then, say what you wish.

LYCONIDES

If you know me but imperfectly, of what family I'm born:
Megadorus here is my uncle; Antimachus was my father; my name is Lyconides; Eunomia is my mother.

EUCLIO

I know the family; now, what do you want?

LYCONIDES

I want to know this. You have a daughter of yours?

EUCLIO

Why, yes, she's there at home.

LYCONIDES

You have, I think, recently betrothed her to my uncle?

EUCLIO

You have the whole matter.

LYCONIDES

He has now bade me announce to you his refusal of her.

EUCLIO

A refusal, when the things are got ready, and the wedding's prepared? May all the immortal Gods and Goddesses confound him, so far as is possible, by reason of whom this day, unhappy wretch that I am, I have lost so much gold!

LYCONIDES

Be of good heart, and speak in kindly terms; now, a thing — may it turn out well and prosperously to you and your daughter. — May the Gods so grant — say.

EUCLIO

May the Gods so grant.

LYCONIDES

And for me, too, may the Gods so grant it. Now, then, do you listen. The man that admits a fault is not so much to be despised, if he feels a sense of shame when he excuses himself. Now, Euclio, I do beseech you, that what unawares I have done wrong towards yourself or your daughter, you will grant me pardon for the same, and give her for a wife to me, as the laws demand. I confess that I did violence to your daughter on the festival of Ceres, by reason of wine and the impulse of youth.

EUCLIO

Woe is me! What shocking deed do I hear of you?

LYCONIDES

Why do you exclaim? You whom I've made to be a grandfather now at the very wedding of your daughter. For your daughter has just been brought to bed in the ninth month after — calculate the number; for that reason, in my behalf, has my uncle sent his refusal. Go in-doors; enquire whether it is so or not as I say.

EUCLIO

I'm undone utterly; so very many misfortunes unite themselves for my undoing. I'll go in-doors, that I may know what of this is true. He goes into his house.

LYCONIDES

I'll follow you this instant. This matter seems now to be pretty nearly in the haven of safety. Now, where to say my servant Strobilus is, I don't know, but yet I'll wait here still a little while; after that I'll follow this man indoors; now, in the meantime, I'll give him leisure to enquire of the nurse about my doings, the attendant of his daughter, whether she knows the truth. Moves as if going.

ACT V.

Enter STROBILUS, at a distance.

STROBILUS

to himself . Immortal Gods, with what and how great delights do you present me! I've got a four pound pot filled with gold; who there is richer than I? What man is there greater than I at Athens now; any one, I mean, to whom the Gods are propitious?

LYCONIDES

to himself . Why, surely, I seemed just now to hear the voice of some one speaking here.

STROBILUS

to himself . Ha! do I not see my master?

LYCONIDES

to himself . Do I see Strobilus now, my servant?

STROBILUS

to himself . 'Tis he himself.

LYCONIDES

to himself . 'Tis no other.

STROBILUS

to himself . I'll accost him.

LYCONIDES

to himself . I'll step out towards him. I do think that he has been, as I requested him, to the old woman, the nurse herself of this damsel.

STROBILUS

to himself . Why don't I tell him that I've found this prize, and speak out? For that reason, I'll beg of him to make me free. I'll go and speak to him. Addressing him. I've found ——

LYCONIDES

What have you found?

STROBILUS

Not that which the boys cry out that they've found in the bean.

LYCONIDES

And are you trifling with me then, as you are in the habit of doing?

He turns as if to go away.

STROBILUS

Master, stop; I'll speak out then; do listen.

LYCONIDES

Come then, tell me.

STROBILUS

I've found to-day, master very great riches.

LYCONIDES

Where, pray?

STROBILUS

A four pound pot, I say, full of gold!

LYCONIDES

What crime is this that I hear of from you?

STROBILUS

I've stolen it from this old fellow, Euclio.

LYCONIDES

Where is this gold?

STROBILUS

In my box at home; I now wish to be made free.

LYCONIDES

I, make you free, you fellow, brimful of wickedness?

STROBILUS

Out upon you, master, I know what you would be at. Troth, I've cleverly tried your inclination; you were just getting ready to take it away from me; what would you do, if I had found it?

LYCONIDES

You can't make good your pretences. Come, give up the gold!

STROBILUS

I, give up the gold?

LYCONIDES

Give it up, I say, that it may be given back to him.

STROBILUS

Where am I to get it from?

LYCONIDES

That which you confessed just now to be in your box.

STROBILUS

I' faith, I'm in the habit of talking nonsense; 'twas in that way I was speaking.

LYCONIDES

seizing him . But do you know what? ——

STROBILUS

Even kill me outright, i' faith, you never shall get it hence of me ...
A SUPPLEMENT TO THE AULULARIA BY CODRUS URCEUS.

STROBILUS

—— the pot belonging to the old fellow, which I've not got.

LYCONIDES

I will have it, whether you will or no; when I've tied you up all fours, and torn asunder your body for you tied up to the beam. But why do I delay to rush upon the jaws of this rascal, and why this instant do I not compel his soul to take its journey before its time? Are you going to give it me or not?

STROBILUS

I will give it you.

LYCONIDES

I want you to give it me now, and not at a future time.

STROBILUS

I'll give it now; but I entreat you to allow me to recover breath.

LYCONIDES lets him go. Aha! What is it you want me to give you, master?

LYCONIDES

Don't you know, you rascal? And do you dare to refuse me the four pound pot full of gold which you just now said you had stolen?

Calling at the door. Hallo there! Where now are the flogging men?

STROBILUS

Master, do hear a few words. Lyc. I won't hear; floggers, hallo there — hallo!

Enter two FLOGGING SLAVES.

SLAVE.

What's the matter?

LYCONIDES

I want the chains to be got ready.

STROBILUS

Listen to me, I beg of you; afterwards order them to bind me as much as you please.

LYCONIDES

I will hear you; but hasten the matter very quickly.

STROBILUS

If you order me to be tortured to death, see what you obtain; in the first place, you have the death of your slave. Then, what you wish for you cannot get. But if you had only allured me by the reward of dear liberty, you would already have obtained your wish. Nature produces all men free, and by nature all desire freedom. Slavery is worse than every evil, than every calamity; and he whom Jupiter hates, him he first makes a slave.

LYCONIDES

You speak not unwisely

STROBILUS

Now then hear the rest. Our age has produced masters too grasping, whom I'm in the habit of calling Harpagos, Harpies, and Tantalus, poor amid great wealth, and thirsty in the midst of the waters of Ocean; no riches are enough for them, not those of Midas, not of Cræsus; not all the wealth of the Persians can satisfy their Tartarean maw. Masters use their slaves rigorously, and slaves now obey their masters but tardily; so on neither side is that done which would be fair to be done. Their provisions, kitchens, and store-cellars, avaricious old fellows shut up with a thousand keys. Slaves, thievish, doubledealers, and artful, open for themselves things shut up with a thousand keys, which the owners hardly like to be granted to their lawful children, and stealthily do they carry off, consume, and lick them up — fellows that will never disclose their hundred thefts even at the gibbet; thus in laughter and joking do bad slaves take revenge upon their slavery. So then, I come to the conclusion that liberality renders slaves faithful.

LYCONIDES

Rightly, indeed, have you spoken, but not in a few words, as you promised me. But if I do make you free, will you give me back what I'm asking for?

STROBILUS

I will give it back; but I wish for witnesses to be present; you'll pardon me, master, I trust you but little.

LYCONIDES

Just as you please; let there be present even a hundred; then I shouldn't care about it.

STROBILUS

going to the door of the house of MEGADORUS . Megadorus, and you, Eunomia, please come here, I beg of you; the business finished, you shall return directly.

Enter MEGADORUS and EUNOMIA.

MEGADORUS

Who's calling us? Ha! Lyconides!

EUNOMIA

Ha! Strobilus, what is the matter? Say.

LYCONIDES

'Tis a short matter.

MEGADORUS

What is it?

STROBILUS

I'm calling you as witnesses. If I bring here a four pound pot full of gold and give it up to Lyconides, Lyconides makes me a free man, and orders me to be my own master. To LYCONIDES. Do you not promise me so?

LYCONIDES

I do promise so.

STROBILUS

Have you heard now what he has said?

MEGADORUS

We have heard.

STROBILUS

Swear, then, by Jupiter.

LYCONIDES

Alas! to what I am reduced by the misfortunes of others! You are too insulting; still, I'll do what he bids me.

STROBILUS

Hark you, our generation hasn't much confidence in people: the documents are signed; the twelve witnesses are present; the registrar writes down the time and the place; and still, the pleader is found to deny that it has been done.

LYE.

But release me speedily, please.

STROBILUS

Here, take this stone. Giving him a stone.

LYCONIDES

If I knowingly deceive you, so may Jupiter reject from me his blessings, the city and citadel safe, as I do this stone. (He throws it.) Have I now satisfied you?

STROBILUS

I am satisfied; and I'm going to bring the gold.

LYCONIDES

Go with the speed of Pegasus, and return devouring the road with your rapid steps. Exit STROBILUS. Any impertinent slave, that wishes to be more wise than his master, is a nuisance to a decent man. Let this Strobilus be off as a free man to utter perdition, if he only brings me the pot full of pure gold, so that I may restore Euclio, my father-in-law, from his grief to joy, and obtain the favour of his daughter, who is just brought to bed by reason of my debauching her. But see! Strobilus is returning, loaded; as I guess, he's bringing the pot; and, for sure, it is the pot that he's carrying.

Enter STROBIOUS, carrying the pot of gold.

STROBILUS

Lyconides, I bring you my findings that I promised — the four pound pot of gold; have I been long?

LYCONIDES

Why, yes. He takes some of the gold out of the pot. O immortal Gods, what do I behold? Or what is it I hold? More than six hundred Philipean pieces, three or four times over. But let's call out Euclio forthwith.

LYCONIDES

going to the door of EUCLIO'S house . Ho, Eucho, Euclio!

MEGADORUS

Euclio, Euclio!

EUCLIO

opening his window . What' the matter?

LYCONIDES

Come down to us, for the Gods will you to be saved; we've got the pot.

EUCLIO

Have you got it, or are you trifling with me?

LYCONIDES

We've got it, I say. Now, if you can, fly down hither.

EUCLIO

having come out of the house to them . O great Jupiter! O household Divinity and Queen Juno! and Alcides, my treasurer! that at length you do show pity upon a wretched old man. Taking the pot in his arms. O my pot! O how aged I, your friend, do clasp you with joyful arms, and receive you with kisses; with a thousand embraces even I cannot be satisfied. O my hope! my heart! that dissipates my grief.

LYCONIDES

aside, to MEGADORUS . I always thought that to be in want of gold was the worst thing for both boys and men, and all old people.

Indigence compels boys to be guilty of misdeeds, men to thieve, and old men themselves to become beggars. But 'tis much worse, as I now see, to abound in gold beyond what's necessary for us. Alas! what miseries has Euclio endured on account of the pot, that a little while since was lost by him!

EUCLIO

To whom shall I give deserved thanks? Whether to the Gods, who show regard for good men, or to my friends, upright men, or to them both? Rather to both, I think; and first to you, Lyconides, the origin and author of so great a good; you do I present with this pot of gold; accept it with pleasure. I wish it to be your own, and my daughter as well, in the presence of Megadorus, and his good sister, Eunomia.

LYCONIDES

receiving the pot of gold . The favour is received, and is returned, in thanks, as you deserve, Eucho, a father-in-law most acceptable to me.

EUCLIO

I shall think the favour sufficiently returned to me, if you now receive with pleasure my gift, and myself as well for your father-in-law.

LYCONIDES

I do receive it; and I wish my house to be that of Euclio.

STROBILUS

What still remains, master, — remember now that I'm to be free.

LYCONIDES

You've well put me in mind. Be you a free man, O Strobilus, for your deserts; and now prepare in-doors the dinner that has been so disturbed.

STROBILUS

coming forward . Spectators, the avaricious Euclio has changed his nature; he has suddenly become liberal; so, too, do you practise liberality; and if the play has pleased you well, loudly clap your hands.

BACCHIDES

Translated by Henry Thomas Riley

The plot of this comedy revolves around the misunderstandings surrounding two sisters, each called Bacchis, who work in a brothel. Bacchides includes The play was most likely an adaptation of the play Δις Ἐξαπατῶν (Dis Exapaton), meaning Twice Deceiving but more commonly known as The Double Deceiver, by the Greek New Comedy playwright Menander. The beginning of the text is lost and so is often reconstructed in modern-day adaptations using contextual clues as well as twenty surviving fragments.

The plot opens with two young friends, Mnesilochus and Pistoclerus, who have fallen in love with two sisters, the courtesans named Bacchis. Mnesilochus's Bacchis has been hired for a year by Cleomachus. In order to get the money to purchase her release Mnesilochus asks Chrysalus, the clever slave, to extort money from Nicobulus (a common recipe in Greek and Roman comedies). Chrysalus succeeds in getting two hundred coins from the old man but then Pistoclerus announces his love for Bacchis. Mnesilochus, not knowing that there is more than one Bacchis, hands back the money to his father and reveals the whole deception and Chrysalus's part in it. Then the truth is revealed... There are two Bacchises and Pistoclerus loves the other Bacchis!

Menander (c. 342/41–c. 290 BC), a Greek dramatist and the best-known representative of Athenian New Comedy, is believed to be the original source behind this play. He wrote 108 comedies and took the prize at the Lenaia festival eight times.

THE SUBJECT.

MNESILOCHUS, when absent at Ephesus, writes and requests his friend, Pistoclerus, to search for his mistress, Bacchis, who has left Athens with a military Captain. Having discovered her on her return to Athens, Pistoclerus falls in love with her twin-sister, whose name is also Bacchis, and is severely reprov'd by his tutor, Lydus, for so doing. Mnesilochus returns to Athens, and discovers from Lydus that his friend Pistoclerus is in love with a female of the name of Bacchis. He thereupon imagines that he has supplanted him with his own mistress, and in his anger resolves to restore to his father some money of his which he had gone to Ephesus to recover, and a part of which he had contriv'd, through a scheme of the servant Chrysalus, to retain, in order that he might redeem his mistress from the Captain. Having afterwards discovered the truth, he greatly repents that he has done so, as the officer threatens to carry Bacchis off instantly, if the money is not paid. On this, Chrysalus contrives another stratagem against Nicobulus, his aged master, and makes him, through fear of the Captain's threats, pay the required sum. Having gained not only this but a still further sum of money, the young men regale themselves at the house of Bacchis. Nicobulus afterwards discovers from the Captain the trick that has been played upon him, and he and Mnesilochus repair to the house of Bacchis to demand their sons. The damsels, hereupon, apply themselves to coaxing the old men, who are at last persuaded to forgive their sons and Chrysalus and to go into the house and join the entertainment.

THE ACROSTIC ARGUMENT.

MNESILOCHUS is inflamed with love for Bacchis (Bacchidis). But, first of all, he goes to Ephesus, to bring back some gold (Aurum). Bacchis sails for Crete (Cretam), and meets with (Convenit) the other Bacchis; thence she returns to Athens; upon this (Hinc), Mnesilochus sends a letter to Pistoclerus, that he may seek for her (Illam). He returns; he makes a quarrel while (Dum) he supposes that his own mistress is beloved by Pistoclerus; when they have discovered the mistake as to the twin-sisters, Mnesilochus pays the gold to that (Ei) Captain; equally are the two in love. The old men (Senes), while they are looking after their sons, join the women, and carouse. THE PROLOGUE.

SILENUS

mounted on his Ass.

'Tis a wonder if the spectators on the benches this day don't hiss, and cough, and make a snorting noise at this ridiculous sight, furrow their brows, and, with cries with one consent, shout all aloud, and mutter imprecations. Hardly in their youth can beardless actors, or mimics with their beards plucked out, find room upon the stage. Why comes forth this aged and lethargic go-between, who is borne upon the ass's back? Listen, I pray, and give me your attention, while I tell you the name of this quiet Comedy. 'Tis proper for you to make silence for a Divinity. It befits not those to use the resources of the voice, who come here not to exclaim, but to be spectators. Give me attentive ears; but not into my hands I mean; I wish my voice, as it flies, to strike these vacant ears. What do you fear? Are those blows more hurtful which open what is shut, or which close what is open? You're very kind; the inhabitants of heaven do love you deservedly. There is profound silence — even the children are still — and now, attend to a new-come messenger, on a new errand. Who I am — why I am come to you — I'll tell you in a few words; at the same time, I'll disclose to you the name of this Comedy. Now, behold, I shall tell you what you wish to know; do you then give me your attention. I am a God of Nature, the foster-father of most mighty Bromius, him who, with a female army, gained a kingdom. Whatever about him renowned nations relate, some part, at least, has been accomplished by my advice. That which pleases me is never displeasing to him. 'Tis right if one father another father does obey. Ass-borne do the Ionian multitudes style me, because I am borne on an ass for my conveyance. Who I am, you understand: if you understand, allow me now to tell the name of this quiet play; at the same time, you may learn why I have come to you. Philemon formerly produced a play in Greek; this, those who speak the Greek language call "Evantides;" Plautus, who speaks the Latin, calls it "Bacchides." 'Tis not to be wondered, then, if hither I have come. Bacchus sends to you the Bacchides — the Bacchanalian Bacchanals. I am bringing them unto you. What! Have I told a lie? It don't become a God to tell a lie; but the truth I tell — I bring not them; but the salacious ass, wearied with its journey, is bringing to you three, if I remember right. One you behold; see now, what on my lips I bring — to wit, two Samian sisters, Bacchanalians, merry Courtesans, born of the same parents, at one time, at a twin-birth; not less alike than milk to milk, if you compare it, or water to water; were you to see them you would think them halved; so much would you confuse your sight, that you would not be able to distinguish which was which. What remains you long to hear. Now give attention: the story of this Play I will disclose. What country Samos is, is known to all; for seas, lands, mountains, and islands, have your legions made easy of access. There, Sostrata bore to her husband, Pyrgoteles Pyrocles, twin daughters at one birth; and it pleased them, being initiated at the triennial festival of Bacchus, to call after his name the damsels of which they were the parents. The parents, as often happens, gave a turn to their future fortunes. A Captain carried one of them with him to Crete. The other of the twins sailed for Athens. As soon as Mnesilochus, the son of Nicobulus, beheld her, he began to love her, and frequently paid her visits. Meantime, his father sent the youth to Ephesus, to bring back thence some gold, which he himself, some time before, had deposited with Archidemides, an ancient friend of his, an aged Phœnician. When, for two years he had stayed at Ephesus, he received the sad news that Bacchis was gone from Athens, for some sailors of his acquaintance sent him word that she had set sail. On this, he writes a letter to Pistoclerus, his only friend, the son of Philoxenus, entreating him to seek the fugitive with care and earnestness. While Pistoclerus is devoting his services to his friend, the twin-sisters, who have just returned to Athens, arouse a passion in the seeker. The one wins Pistoclerus for herself; the other longs for the coming of Mnesilochus. What wonder if two bewitching, merry, pretty Bacchantes, should attract to themselves two unfledged Bacchanalians, and if they should ensnare their decrepit, most aged fathers, fit subjects for the undertaker, bowed down by the weight of their years? But, see, here's Pistoclerus, who is returning to the Bacchides so lately found, and in his simplicity is blowing in himself the sparks of passion so lately kindled. Now I'm off — do you attend. (Exit.)

ACT I.

Enter PISTOCLERUS.

PISTOCLERUS

PISTOCLERUS

Of what country did he seem to you?

SERVANT

I think he is of Præneste; he was such a boaster.

PISTOCLERUS

... The city ... and I don't think it is in spurious boastfulness. ... *Enter that with ease you can enchant the heart of any man.

1st BACCHIS

And suppose it is much better that you should hold your peace, and I should speak?

2nd BACCHIS

With pleasure; you may proceed.

1st BACCHIS

When my memory shall fail me, then do you take care to aid me, sister.

2nd BACCHIS

I' faith, I'm more afraid that I shan't have the choice of prompting you.

1st BACCHIS

Troth, I'm afraid the little nightingale may lose her powers of song.
Follow this way. They move. Enter PISTOCLERUS.

PISTOCLERUS

What are these two Courtesans, the namesake-sisters, about?

1st BACCHIS

Nothing is there more wretched than a woman.

PISTOCLERUS

What, say you, is there more worthy of it? What have you been planning in your consultation?

1st BACCHIS

What's proper?

PISTOCLERUS

I' faith, that doesn't belong to the Courtesan.

1st BACCHIS

This sister of mine entreats me so to find some person to protect her against this Captain; that when she as served her time he may bring her back home. Do you, I entreat you, be her protector.

PISTOCLERUS

Why should I protect her?

1st BACCHIS

That she may be brought home again, when she has fulfilled her engagement to him, so that he may not take her as a servant for himself. But, if she had the gold to pay him back again, gladly would she do so.

PISTOCLERUS

Where now is this person?

1st BACCHIS

I expect that he'll be here just now. But this you'll be able to arrange better among ourselves; and sitting there, you shall wait until he comes. So you will drink some wine, and so, I'll give you a kiss when you have drunk it.

PISTOCLERUS

Your coaxing is mere birdlime.

1st BACCHIS

How so?

PISTOCLERUS

Because, in fact, I understand how you two are aiming at one poor pigeon, myself; aside very nearly is the limed reed breaking my feathers. Madam, I judge that such deeds befit me not.

1st BACCHIS

Why so, I pray?

PISTOCLERUS

Bacchis, it is, because I dread you Bacchantes, and your Bacchanalian den.

1st BACCHIS

What is it that you dread? Surely, not that the couch in my house may lead you into mischief?

PISTOCLERUS

Your allurements, more than your couch, do I dread. You're a mischievous serpent. But, madam, a lurking-place does not befit this youthful age.

1st BACCHIS

Should you wish at my house to do anything that's unwise, I myself should hinder it. But, when the Captain comes, I wish you to be at my house for this reason; because, when you are present, no one will do her and me any injury. You will prevent that, and by the same means you will be aiding your friend; this Captain, too, on arriving, will suspect that I am your mistress. Why are you silent, pray?

PISTOCLERUS

Because these things are pleasant in the talking of; but in the practice, and when you make trial, the same are armed with stings.

They pierce the feelings, goad one's fortune, and wound one's merits and character.

2nd BACCHIS

What do you dread from her?

PISTOCLERUS

What do I dread, do you ask? Am I a person in my youth to enter a place of exercise of such a nature, where people sweat to their undoing? — where for the quoit I receive a loss, disgrace, too, for my running?

2nd BACCHIS

How charmingly you do talk.

PISTOCLERUS

Where I'm to take a turtle-dove instead of a sword, and where another puts into my hand the goblet instead of the cestus; the drinking-cup is in place of the helmet, the wreathed garland instead of the crest, the dice in place of the lance. For the coat of mail I should have to assume a soft cloak; where, too, in place of a horse a couch must be given me, — for shield, a strumpet may be lying by me. Avaunt from me — avaunt!

2nd BACCHIS

O, you're too fierce.

PISTOCLERUS

I am attending to my own interests.

2nd BACCHIS

You must be softened down; and, in fact, I offer you my aid in this.

PISTOCLERUS

But you are too expensive an assistant.

1st BACCHIS

Do pretend that you are in love with me.

PISTOCLERUS

Whether should I be pretending that in jest, or seriously?

1st BACCHIS

Well said! better to do the last. When the Captain comes here, I want you to embrace me.

PISTOCLERUS

What need is there of my doing that?

1st BACCHIS

I want him to see you. I know what I'm about?

PISTOCLERUS

And I, i' faith, I know not what I'm in fear of. But what say you
—— ?

1st BACCHIS

What's the matter now?

PISTOCLERUS

Well, suppose perchance on a sudden a breakfast or a drinking bout, or else a dinner, should take place at your house, just as is the wont in such places of resort; where, then, should I take my place?

1st BACCHIS

Near myself, my life, that with a she wit a he wit may be reclining at the repast. A place here, at our house, should you come late, is always at your service. When you wish right merrily to disport yourself, my rosebud, you say to me, "Do let me enjoy myself to-day," I'll provide you a delightful place where it may be so.

PISTOCLERUS

Here is a rapid stream; not without hazard can this way be passed.

1st BACCHIS

aside . And, by my troth, something must you lose amid this stream.
Aloud. Give me your hand and follow me.

PISTOCLERUS

O, by no means. 1st

FIRST BACCHIS

Why so?

PISTOCLERUS

Because to a man in his youth nothing can be more alluring than these — night, women, wine.

1st BACCHIS

Away, then, with you; for my part, I don't at all care for it, but for your own sake. The Captain, then, shall take her off; don't you be present at all if you don't choose.

PISTOCLERUS

to himself . And am I a thing of nothing, who cannot moderate my own passions?

1st BACCHIS

What's there for you to fear?

PISTOCLERUS

There's nothing; all nonsense. Madam, I resign myself to you. I'm yours; to you do I devote my services.

1st BACCHIS

You are a dear man. Now I wish you to do this. To-day I want to give a welcome entertainment to my sister. For that purpose I shall at once order the money to be brought you from in-doors. Do you take care and cater for us a splendid entertainment.

PISTOCLERUS

No, I'll stand treat; for it would be a shame, that on my account you both should take trouble for me, and by reason of that trouble should pay the expense from your own means.

1st BACCHIS

But I can't allow you to give anything.

PISTOCLERUS

Do let me.

1st BACCHIS

Well, I'll let you, if you choose. Prithee, do make haste.

PISTOCLERUS

I shall be here again, before I cease to love you. (Exit PISTOCLERUS.)

2nd BACCHIS

You entertain me pleasantly upon my return, my sister.

1st BACCHIS

How so, prithee?

2nd BACCHIS

Because, in my way of thinking, this day a lucky haul has fallen to your lot.

1st BACCHIS

He's mine, assuredly. Now, sister, with respect to Mnesilochus, I'll give you my aid, that here at home you may be receiving gold, rather than be going hence together with the Captain.

2nd BACCHIS

That's my desire.

1st BACCHIS

My aid shall be given you. The water's warm; let's go in, that you may bathe. For, as you have travelled on board ship, you are faint, I think.

2nd BACCHIS

A little so, sister. PISTOCLERUS is seen at a distance. Besides, he's beginning to cause I don't know what bustle. Let's begone hence.

1st BACCHIS

Follow me this way in-doors to bathe, that you may relieve your weariness.

Enter PISTOCLERUS, accompanied by People with Provisions for the Entertainment, followed by LYDES.

LYDUS

For some time, Pistoclerus, I've been following you in silence, watching what you were doing in this dress. For, so may the Gods favour me, even Lycurgus himself seems to me as if he could be led into debauchery here. Whither now are you betaking yourself hence in an opposite direction with such a train?

PISTOCLERUS

To this place pointing to the house .

LYDUS

Why to this place? Who lives there?

PISTOCLERUS

Love, Pleasure, Venus, Beauty, Joy, Jestings, Dalliance, Converse, and Sweet-kissing.

LYDUS

What intercourse have you with these most destructive Deities?

PISTOCLERUS

Bad are those men who speak evil of the good. You speak not well of even the Gods themselves; you do what is not right.

LTD.

Is Sweet-kissing, then, some God?

PISTOCLERUS

And do you not think she is? O Lydus, why, what a barbarians you are, you, whom I had deemed to be far more wise than Thales himself. Go to, you are more foolish than Potitius, the foreigner, who, at an age so advanced, knew not the names of the Divinities.

LYDUS

This dress of yours pleases me not.

PISTOCLERUS

But no one prepared it for you; it was prepared for myself, whom it pleases well.

LYDUS

And do you commence upon your repartees against myself even? You, who, if you had even ten tongues, ought to be silent.

PISTOCLERUS

Not every age, Lydus, is suited for school. One thing especially is just now on my mind, how the cook may with due care attend to these things as befits the elegance of the entertainment.

LYDUS

Now have you undone yourself and me and all my labours, me who so oft have shown you what is right, all to no purpose.

PISTOCLERUS

In the same place have I lost my labour where you've lost yours: your instructions profit neither me nor yourself.

LYDUS

O obdurate heart!

PISTOCLERUS

You are troublesome to me. Hold your tongue, Lydus, and follow me.

LYDUS

Now, see that, please; he no longer calls me "tutor," but mere "Lydus."

PISTOCLERUS

It seems not proper, nor can it be fit, that, when a person is in a house, and is reclining at the feast together with his mistress, and is kissing her, and the other guests are reclining too, the tutor should be there too in their presence.

LYDUS

Are these provisions purchased for such a purpose, pray?

PISTOCLERUS

My intentions, indeed, expect so; how it falls out, is in the hands of the Gods.

LYDUS

Will you be having a mistress?

PISTOCLERUS

When you see, then you'll know.

LYDUS

Aye, but you shall not have one, and I won't allow it. Go back again home.

PISTOCLERUS

Do leave me alone, Lydus, and beware of mischief.

LYDUS

What? Beware of mischief? O yawning gulf, where art thou now? How gladly would I avail myself of thee! Already have I lived far longer than I could have wished. 'Twere much better now to have once existed than to be living still. That any pupil should thus threaten his tutor!

PISTOCLERUS

My years are now advanced beyond your tutorship.

LYDUS

I want no pupils for me with heated blood. An up-grown one may harass me thus devoid of strength.

PISTOCLERUS

As I guess, I shall become a Hercules, and you a Linus.

LYDUS

I' faith, I fear more that through your goings-on I shall become a Phoenix, and have to tell the news to your father that you are dead.

PISTOCLERUS

Enough of these stories.

LYDUS

This youth is lost to shame; the man's ruined. And does it then recur to you that you have a father?

PISTOCLERUS

Am I your servant, or you mine?

LYDUS

By my troth, you made an exchange not desirable for that age of yours, when you gained these impudent ways. Some bad master has been teaching you all this, not I. You are a scholar far more apt at these pursuits than at those lessons which I taught you when I was losing my labour. Troth, 'twas a bad piece of deceit you were guilty of at your age, when you concealed these vicious tendencies from myself and from your father.

PISTOCLERUS

Lydus, you have thus far had liberty of speech; that is enough. So now do you follow this way, and hold your tongue. They go into the house of BACCHIS.

ACT II.

Enter CHRYSALUS.

CHRYSALUS

All hail, land of my master! which I joyfully behold after the two years that I have been absent hence at Ephesus. I salute thee, neighbour Apollo, who dost have thy shrine close by our house, and to thee do I make my prayer, that thou wilt not let me meet our old gentleman, Nicobulus, before I have seen Pistoclerus, the friend of Mnesilochus, him to whom Mnesilochus has sent the letter about his mistress, Bacchis.

Enter PISTOCLERUS from the house of BACCHIS.

PISTOCLERUS

to the FIRST BACCHIS within . 'Tis strange that you are so earnestly begging me to return, who am able by no possible means to depart hence, if I were willing, so bound down, and so enchained with love do you hold me.

CHRYSALUS

O, ye immortal Gods, I espy Pistoclerus! O, Pistoclerus, hail!

PISTOCLERUS

Hail, Chrysalus, to you!

CHRYSALUS

I will at present compress many speeches for you in a small space. You are glad that I am come; I give you credit for it. You promise me lodging and an entertainment coming from my journey, as it is befitting, and I agree to come. I bring you the sincere greetings of your friend. Would you ask me where he is? He's come.

PISTOCLERUS

Is he alive and well?

CHRYSAIUS

That I was wishful to enquire of yourself.

PISTOCLERUS

How can I know?

CHRYSAIUS

No one better.

PISTOCLERUS

Why, in what way?

CHRYSAIUS

Because if she has been found whom he so loves, he is alive and well. If she is not found, he is not well, and is like to die. His mistress is the very life of a lover. If she is away, he is non-existent; if she is with him, his property is non-existent, and himself worthless and wretched. But what have you done in respect of his commission?

PISTOCLERUS

And ought I not to have his request complied with against his arrival, which his messenger brought to me from him? I'd sooner be dwelling in the realms of Acheron than not.

CHRYSAIUS

How now, have you found out this Bacchis?

PISTOCLERUS

Yes, and a Samian one too.

CHRYSAIUS

Prithce, do take care that no one handles her carelessly: you know how soon a Samian vessel is wont to break.

PISTOCLERUS

What now, your old habit?

CHRYSAIUS

Prithee, do tell me where she now is.

PISTOCLERUS

Here, where you just now saw me coming out.

CHRYSalUS

How capital that is! She's living almost next door. Does she at all remember Mnesilochus?

PISTOCLERUS

Do you ask me that? Aye, him alone does she esteem at the very highest value.

CHRYSalUS

Indeed!

PISTOCLERUS

Yes, and were you to believe her, distractedly in love — she quite longs for him.

CHRYSalUS

That's good.

PISTOCLERUS

Yes, Chrysalus; see, now; not even so small a space of time ever passes by as this, out that she is uttering his name.

CHRYSalUS

I' faith, so much the better. Moving, as if about to go.

PISTOCLERUS

Yes; but — Holds him. CHRYS. Yes, faith, I'd rather be off.

PISTOCLERUS

And do you so unwillingly hear how your master's interests have prospered?

CHRYSalUS

No, not the subject, but the actor offends my feelings with his tediousness. Even “Epidicus,” a play that I love quite as much as my own self, were Pollio to act it, no play would I see so reluctantly. But, does Bacchis seem handsome, as well, to you?

PISTOCLERUS

Do you ask the question? Had I not got a Venus, I should pronounce her a Juno.

CHRYSLUS

I’ faith, Mnesilochus, as I find these matters proceeding, there’s something ready for you to love; ’tis needful that you find something to give her. But, perhaps you have need of gold for that other one?

PISTOCLERUS

Yes, some Philippeans.

CHRYSLUS

And you have need of it directly, perhaps?

PISTOCLERUS

Aye, and even sooner than directly. For there’s a Captain coming here just now ——

CHRYSLUS

A Captain, indeed!

PISTOCLERUS

Who is demanding some gold here for relinquishing Bacchis.

CHRYSLUS

Let him come when he pleases, and so there be no delay. The money’s at home; I fear not for myself, nor do I go begging to any man; so long, at least, as this heart of mine shall be armed with its inventiveness. Go in; I’ll manage here. Do you tell them in-doors, that Mnesilochus is coming to Bacchis.

PISTOCLERUS

I'll do as you request. Goes into the house of BACCHIS.

CHRY SALUS

The money business belongs to me. From Ephesus we have brought twelve hundred golden Philippeans, which our entertainer owed to our old gentleman. Hence, some contrivance will I this day contrive, to procure gold for this son of my master thus in love. But there's a noise at our door — who's coming out of doors, I wonder? Stands aside.

Enter NICOBULUS from his house.

NICOBULUS

to himself. To the Piræus will I go; I'll go see whether any merchant-ship has come into harbour from Ephesus. For my mind misgives me; my son lingers there so long, and does not return.

CHRY SALUS

aside. Now, I'll finely unravel him, if the Gods are propitious. There must be no sleeping; gold is requisite for Chrysalus. I'll accost him, whom for sure this day I'll make a ram of Phryxus of; so, even to the quick, will I shear him of his gold. Accosting him. His servant Chrysalus salutes Nicobulus.

NICOBULUS

O, immortal Gods! where is my son?

CHRY SALUS

Why don't you return the salutation first, which I gave you?

NICOBULUS

Well, save you. But where on earth is Mnesilochus P

CHRY SALUS

He is alive and well. Nico. Is he not come?

CHRY SALUS

He is come. Nico. Hurra! you've brought me to my senses. And has he all along been well?

CHRYSLUS

Aye, well as a boxer and an athlete.

NICOBULUS

But what as to this — the business on account of which I sent him hence to Ephesus? Has he not received the gold from his entertainer, Archidemides?

CHRYSLUS

Alas! my heart and my brain are cleft, Nicobulus, whenever mention is made of that fellow. Why don't you call that entertainer of his your enemy?

NICOBULUS

Troth now, prithee, why so?

CHRYSLUS

Because, i' faith, I know for sure, that Vulcan, the Moon, the Sun, the Day, those four Divinities, never shone upon another more wicked.

NICOBULUS

What, than Archidemides? Dear me!

CHRYSLUS

Than Archidemides, I say.

NICOBULUS

What has he done?

CHRYSLUS

What has he not done? Why don't you ask me that? In the first place, then, he began to make denials to your son, and to assert that he didn't owe three obols to you. Forthwith, Mnesilochus summoned to himself there our ancient host, the old gentleman, Pelago; in his presence, he at once showed the fellow the token, which you yourself had given to your son to deliver to him.

NICOBULUS

Well — when he showed him the token?

CHRYSAUS

He began to say that it was counterfeit, and that it was not a true token; and how many reproaches he did utter against him so undeserving of them! and he said that in other matters he had committed forgery.

NICOBULUS

Have you not the gold? In the first place, I want that to be told me.

CHRYSAUS

Yes, after the Prætor had appointed delegates; being cast, at length compelled by force he paid down twelve hundred Philippeans.

NICOBULUS

He owed that much.

CHRYSAUS

Besides, listen to another struggle of his, as well, which he was desirous to enter on.

NICOBULUS

What, besides, as well? Oho! this will turn out now a regular hawk's nest. I've been deceived. I've entrusted my gold to an Autolycus for my host!

CHRYSAUS

Nay, but do you listen ——

NICOBULUS

Well, I wasn't aware of the disposition of my avaricious entertainer.

CHRYSAUS

Afterwards, at last we had got the gold, and embarked on board ship, desirous for home. By chance, as I was sitting on the deck, while I was looking about me, at that moment I beheld a long bark being fitted out by this cheating knave.

NICOBULUS

Troth, I'm undone; that bark breaks my heart.

CHRYSAUS

This was held in partnership by your host and some pirates.

NICOBULUS

And that I should be such a blockhead as to trust him, when his very name of Archidemes cried aloud to me that he would deprive me of it, if I should entrust anything to him.

CHRYSAUS

This bark was lying in wait for our ship. I began to watch them, to see what business they were about. Meanwhile, from harbour our ship set sail. When we had fully left the harbour, these fellows began to follow with their oars; nor birds, nor winds more swiftly. As I discovered what scheme was being carried out, at once we dropped anchor. As they beheld us stopping, they began to keep their vessel back in harbour.

NICOBULUS

Wicked wretches, by my troth. What did you do at last?

CHRYSAUS

We returned again into harbour.

NICOBULUS

'Twas cleverly done by you. What after that?

CHRYSAUS

At nightfall they returned ashore.

NICOBULUS

Troth now, they intended to carry off the gold; they were attempting that plan, no doubt.

CHRYSAULUS

It didn't escape me; I discovered it: I was almost terrified to death by it. As I saw that a scheme was being laid against the gold, forthwith on this we came to this determination; the next day we carried away all the gold thence in their presence, openly and publicly, that they might know it was done.

NICOBULUS

Skilfully managed, i' faith. Tell me, what did they?

CHRYSAULUS

Chopfallen at once, — soon as ever they saw us leaving the harbour with the gold, shaking their heads, they hauled their bark ashore. We deposited all the gold with Theotimus, who is a priest there of Ephesian Diana.

NICOBULUS

Who is this Theotimus?

CHRYSAULUS

The son of Megalobyzus, who is now living at Ephesus, a man most dear to the Ephesians.

NICOBULUS

By my troth, he'll surely turn out very much more dear to me if he shall chouse me out of all that gold.

CHRYSAULUS

But it is stowed away in the very temple itself of the Goddess Diana; there they keep guard at the public expense.

NICOBULUS

You kill me outright; much more safely would it have been kept in private hands. But haven't you brought any of the gold home here?

CHRYSAULUS

O yes; but how much he has brought, I don't know.

NICOBULUS

How's that? — not know?

CHRYSAUS

Because Mnesilochus went privately by night to Theotimus; and didn't wish to entrust it to me, nor to any one in the ship. For that reason I don't know how much he has brought, but he hasn't brought very much.

NICOBULUS

Do you think it was even a half?

CHRYSAUS

By my troth, I know not; but I don't think it.

NICOBULUS

Does he bring a third part?

CHRYSAUS

Troth, I think not; but I do not know the truth. Indeed, I know nothing at all about the gold, except that I do know nothing about it. Now, you yourself must take a voyage there on board ship, to carry home this gold from Theotimus; and, hearken — Takes him by the arm.

NICOBULUS

What do you want?

CHRYSAUS

Take care and remember to carry your son's ring.

NICOBULUS

What need is there of the ring?

CHRYSAUS

Because that is the token agreed on with Theotimus, that the person who brings it to him, to him he is to give up the gold.

NICOBULUS

I'll remember it, and you advise me well. But is this Theotimus rich?

CHRYSAIUS

What, do you ask that? Why, hasn't he the soles fastened to his shoes with gold?

NICOBULUS

Why does he thus despise it?

CHRYSAIUS

He has such immense riches; he doesn't know what to do with his gold.

NICOBULUS

I wish he'd give it me. But in whose presence was this gold delivered to Theotimus?

CHRYSAIUS

In presence of the people; there's not a person in Ephesus but what knows it.

NICOBULUS

My son at least did wisely there, in entrusting that gold to a rich man to keep. From him it may be recovered even at a moment's notice.

CHRYSAIUS

Aye, and look here, he'll never keep you waiting even thus much shows his finger-nail from receiving it on the very day you arrive there.

NICOBULUS

I thought that I had escaped a seafaring life, and that, at length, an old man of my years, I shouldn't be sailing about. But now I find that I'm not allowed to have the choice whether I would or no; 'tis my fine host Archidemides has done me this. Where, then, is my son, Mnesilochus, at present?

CHRYSAIUS

He has gone to the market-place to pay his respects to the Deities and his friends.

NICOBULUS

Then I'll go hence to meet him as soon as I can. (Exit NICOBULUS.)

CHRYSAIUS

He's right well loaded, and carries more than his proper burden. Not so very badly has this web been commenced by me, that I may find means for the son of my master in his amour. I've managed it so, that he may take as much of the gold as he chooses, and give up to his father as much as he may like to give up. The old gentleman will be going hence to Ephesus to fetch his gold; here our life will be spent in a delicious manner, since the old man will leave me and Mnesilochus here, and not be taking us along with him. O! what a kick-up I shall be making here. But what's to be done, when the old gentleman shall have discovered this? When he shall have found out that he has made his journey thither to no purpose, and that we have misspent his gold, what will become of me after that? I' faith, I think upon his arrival he'll be changing my name, and at once be making me Crucisaius instead of Chrysalus. Troth, I'll run away, if there shall be a greater necessity for it. If I'm caught, I'll plague him for a punishment; if his rods are in the fields, still my back's at home. Now I'll be off, and tell my master's son this contrivance about the gold, and about his mistress Bacchis who has been found. (Exit.)

ACT III.

Enter LYDUS from the house of BACCHIS.

LYDUS

Open and throw back straightway this gate of hell, I do entreat. For, really, I do deem it nothing else; inasmuch as no one comes here but he whom all hopes have deserted, that he may yet be a decent person. Bacchis — no, not Bacchis is their name, but they are most determined Bacchanals. Avaunt from me, you sisters, who suck the blood of men. Richly and elegantly furnished is this house — for destruction. Soon as I beheld all this, at once I straight-way way betook myself to my heels. And ought I to carry these things concealed in secrecy? Ought I, Pistoclerus, to conceal from your father your excesses, or your misdeeds, or your places of resort? by which you are aiming to drive your father and myself, and your own self and all your friends, to disgrace, and shame, and ruin altogether, and to destroy us all. Within yourself you entertain no awe of either me or your own self on account of the deeds which you are doing by which you have made your own father and myself as well, your friends and your connexions, to be abettors in the disgrace of your excesses. Now, before you add this mischief to the rest, I am resolved at once to tell your parent. This instant from myself will I remove this blame, and shall disclose the matter to the old gentleman, that he may forthwith draw forth his son out from this loathsome pollution. (Exit.)

Enter MNESILOCHUS.

MNESILOCHUS

In many ways have I thought it over with myself, and thus I think it is; a man your friend, who is a friend such as the name imports — except the Gods — nothing does excel him. By fact have I experienced it so to be. For when I departed hence to Ephesus ('tis now almost two years ago it happened), from Ephesus I sent letters hither to my friend Pistoclerus, requesting that he would find out my mistress Bacchis for me. I hear that he has found her, as my servant Chrysalus has brought me word. How aptly, too, has he framed a device against my father about the gold, that I may have abundance in my amour. I see 'tis right that I should make a due return. 'Tis better for you to be styled extravagant than ungrateful; but, i' faith, in my way of thinking at least, there's nothing more extravagant than the ungrateful man. The former the good will praise, the latter even the bad will censure. 'Twere better for an ill-doer to escape than for a benefactor to be deserted. For this reason, then, it behoves me to take the greater care; I needs must be on the watch. Now, Mnesilochus, the sample is on view, now the contest is being decided, whether you are or are not such as you ought to be; good or bad, of whichever kind; just or unjust, penurious or liberal, fretful or complying. Take you care, if you please, lest you let your servant exce. you in doing well. Whatever you shall prove, I warn you, you shall not be concealed. But see, I perceive my friend's father and his tutor coming this way. I'll listen what matter 'tis they are upon. He retires aside.

Enter LYDUS and PHILOXENUS.

LYDUS

I'll now make trial, whether your heart is sharpened by wisdom in your breast. Follow me.

PHILOXENUS

Whither shall I follow? Whither are you now leading me?

LYDUS

To her who has undone, utterly destroyed your single, only son.

PHILOXENUS

How now, Lydus; those are the wiser who mode-rate their passion. 'Tis less to be wondered at if this age does some of these things than if it does not do so; I, as well, did the same in my youth.

LYDUS

Ah me! ah me! this over-indulgence has proved his ruin. For had he been without you, I should have had him trained up to moral rectitude; now, by reason of you and your trusting disposition, Pistoclerus has become abandoned.

MNESILOCHUS

aside . Immortal Gods! he names my friend. What means this, that Lydus is thus exciting his master, Pistoclerus?

PHILOXENUS

'Tis but a little time, Lydus, that a man has a desire to indulge his inclinations; the time will soon come, when he will hate himself even. Humour him; so that care is taken that he offends not beyond the line of honor, e'en suffer him.

LYDUS

I'll suffer him not, nor, for my part, while I'm alive, will I allow him to be corrupted. But you, who are pleading his cause for a son so profligate, was this same your own training, when you were a young man? I declare that for your first twenty years you had not even this much liberty, to move your foot out of the house even a finger's length away from your tutor. When it did happen so, this evil, too, was added to the evil; both pupil and preceptor were esteemed disgraced. Before the rising of the sun had you not come to the school for exercise, no slight punishment would you have had at the hands of the master of the school. There did they exercise themselves rather with running, wrestling, the quoit, the javelin, boxing, the ball, and leaping, rather than with harlots or with kissing; there did they prolong their lives, and not in secret-lurking holes. Then, when from the hippodrome and school of exercise you had returned home, clad in your belted frock, upon a stool by your masters would you sit; and there, when you were reading your book, if you made a mistake in a single syllable, your skin would be made as spotted as your nurse's gown.

MNESILOCHUS

(aside). I'm sorely vexed, to my sorrow, that on my account these things should be said about my friend. In his innocence he incurs this suspicion for my sake.

PHILOXENUS

The manners, Lydus, now are altered.

LYDUS

That, for my part, I know full well. For formerly, a man used to receive public honors by the votes of the people, before he ceased to be obedient to one appointed his tutor. But now-a-days, before he is seven years old, if you touch a boy with your hand, at once the child breaks his tutor's head with his tablet. When you go to complain to the father, thus says the father to the child: "Be you my own dear boy, since you can defend yourself from an injury." The tutor then is called for; "Hallo! you old good-for-nothing, don't you be touching the child for this reason, that he has behaved so boldly;" and thus the despised tutor becomes just like a lantern with his oiled linen rags. Judgment pronounced, they go away thence. Can this preceptor then, on these terms, keep up his authority, if he himself is to be beaten the first?

MNESILOCHUS

aside . This is a severe accusation. So far as I understand his words, 'tis strange if Pistoclerus has never thumped Lydus with his fists.

LYDUS

seeing MNESILOCHUS . But who is it that I see standing here before the door? O Philoxenus, I would not prefer for myself to behold even the propitious Gods rather than him.

PHILOXENUS

Who's this?

LYDUS

Why, he's Mnesilochus, the friend of your son. He is not of a like turn of mind with him who reclines and takes his meals in brothels. Fortunate Nicobulus! who begot him for himself.

PHILOXENUS

(advancing). My greetings to you, Mnesilochus; I'm glad that you have arrived safe.

MNESILOCHUS

May the Gods favour you, Philoxenus.

LYDUS

He, now, was born at a lucky moment for his father; he goes to sea, attends to the interests of his family, takes care of the house, is obedient and attentive to the wish and commands of his father. He, when but a boy, was the companion of Pistoclerus in his boyhood; 'tis not by three days that he is the older in age, but his disposition is more improved by thirty years than that of the other.

PHILOXENUS

Beware of a mischief, and forbear to speak of him unjustly.

LYDUS

Hold your peace. You're a foolish man, who cannot bear to have him badly spoken of who does badly. But I would rather have him draw upon my mishaps than upon my savings.

PHILOXENUS

Why so?

LYDUS

Because, if he were to draw upon my mishaps, he would each day be making them less.

MNESILOCHUS

Why, Lydus, are you censuring your pupil, my friend?

LYDUS

Your friend is ruined.

MNESILOCHUS

May the Gods forbid it.

LYDUS

'Tis so as I say. And further, I myself saw it when he was undone; I am not censuring him from hearsay.

MNESILOCHUS

What has been done by him?

LYDUS

He is disgracefully doting upon a harlot.

MNESILOCHUS

Won't you be silent now?

LYDUS

She, too, like a tide, most voraciously swallows all up, whenever she has touched any one.

MNESILOCHUS

Where does this woman live?

LYDUS

Here. (Points to the house.)

MNESILOCHUS

Whence do they say she comes?

LYDUS

From Samos.

MNESILOCHUS

What's her name?

LYDUS

Bacchis.

MNESILOCHUS

You are wrong, Lydus; I know the whole affair, just as it is. You are blaming Pistoclerus without reason, and in his innocence. For he is carefully performing the business enjoined on him by his friend and companion, his sincere well-wisher. Neither is he himself in love, nor do you suppose him so.

LYDUS

Is it necessary for him carefully to perform the business enjoined upon him by his friend in this fashion — for himself, sitting down, to hold a damsel in his lap who is kissing him? Can the business thus entrusted be in no way transacted unless ever and anon he is placing his hand upon the bosom of Bacchis, or never withdraws his lips from hers? But I'm ashamed to make mention of other things which I have seen him do; when, in my presence, I saw him take most unbecoming liberties with the person of Bacchis, and yet not be at all ashamed. What need of words is there? My pupil, your friend, his son pointing to PHILOXENUS, is ruined. For I say that he is ruined, whose modesty in fact is lost. What need of words is there? Had I been willing to wait only a little time, that I might have had a better opportunity of viewing him, I then should, I think, have seen more than would have been proper for me to see, and for him to do.

MNESILOCHUS

(aside). Friend, you have undone me. And ought I not to punish this woman with death? I should prefer that I should perish after some dreadful fashion. Isn't it the fact, you know not whom to deem faithful to yourself, or in whom to put your trust?

LYS.

Don't you see how much he grieves that your son, his friend, has been corrupted? and how he is afflicting himself with sorrow?

PHILOXENUS

Mnesilochus, I beg this of you, that you will influence his feelings and his disposition. Preserve for yourself a friend as well as a son for me.

MNESILOCHUS

I fain would do so.

LYDUS

to PHILOXENUS . Much better, too, would you leave me here together with him.

PHILOXENUS

Mnesilochus has cares, more than enough.

LYDUS

Rate the man soundly, who disgraces me, yourself his friend, and others, by his excesses.

PHILOXENUS

to MNESILOCHUS . Upon you do I impose all this responsibility. Lydus, follow me this way.

LYDUS

I follow you. (Exeunt PHILOXENUS and LYDUS.)

MNESILOCHUS, alone.

MNESILOCHUS

Which of the two now I should think to be my greater enemy, my companion or Bacchis, is extremely doubtful. Has she chosen him in preference? Let her keep him, that's the best. Surely, by my troth, she has done this to her own loss. For never let any one entrust to me aught that is sacred, if I don't by an abundant example, and —— assuredly love her. I'll make her not to say that she has got hold of a person to make a fool of. But I'll go home now and pilfer something from my father. Even to such straits will I force her, that beggary shall be the lot of —— my father. But do I really now possess my wits with a mind unimpaired, who am in this fashion prating here of these things that are to come to pass? I' faith, I'm of opinion that I'm in love, inasmuch as I know for sure I am. But still, than that she, from my abundance, should, by the scraping of a single feather, grow the richer, I'd rather outvie a beggar in begging. Never, by Heaven, while I live, shall she make a laughing-stock of me. For I have made up my mind to pay down all the gold at once to my father. Upon me, therefore, needy and penniless, shall she fawn, at the time, when it shall be for her advantage not a whit the more than if she were saying her pretty things to a dead man at his tomb. Beyond a doubt, 'tis my fixed determination to give the gold up to my father. Likewise, I'll entreat that, for my sake, my father won't hurt Chrysalus, nor censure him at all on my account with respect to the gold which he has deceived him about. For 'tis right that I should have a care for him, who, for my sake, has told this falsehood. (To some ATTENDANTS) Do you follow me, Goes into his father's house.

Enter PISTOCLERUS from the house of BACCHIS.

PISTOCLERUS

speaking to BACCHIS as he comes out . Before other matters, Bacchis, will I give place to what you enjoin me, that I find out Mnesilochus, and bring him, together with myself, to you. But at this my mind is surprised, if my messenger has reached him, what it is that delays him. I'll go into his house here, and see if perchance he's at home.

Enter MNESILOCHUS from his father's house.

MNESILOCHUS

as he enters . I've given up to my father all the gold. Now could I wish that she should meet me, after I am penniless, this fair one so scornful of me. Yet with what great difficulty did he grant me a pardon for Chrysalus. But I prevailed on him at last that he wouldn't be at all angry with him.

PISTOCLERUS

apart . Isn't this my friend?

MNESILOCHUS

apart . Isn't this my foe that I see?

PISTOCLERUS

For sure 'tis he.

MNESILOCHUS

'Tis he.

PISTOCLERUS

apart . I'll go to meet him, and I'll mend my pace. Aloud. Health to you, Mnesilochus!

MNESILOCHUS

Hail!

PISTOCLERUS

As you are arrived safe from abroad, a dinner must be given.

MNESILOCHUS

A dinner pleases me not, which excites my choler.

PISTOCLERUS

Has any vexation befallen you on your arrival?

MNESILOCHUS

Aye, and a very grievous one.

PISTOCLERUS

From what quarter?

MNESILOCHUS

From a person whom heretofore I had supposed to be my friend.

PISTOCLERUS

Many live after that manner and method, who, when you think them to be friends, are found false with their deceitfulness, strong in their talking, slothful in their doing, of faith infirm. Not one is there whom they don't envy on their enjoying prosperity; through their own indolence do they themselves take right good care that no envy is directed against them.

MNESILOCHUS

By my troth, you surely understand their ways most thoroughly. But still this one misfortune do they find from their bad disposition; they are the friends of no one, while they themselves are all at enmity against themselves; and these, while they are deceiving themselves, in their foolishness imagine that others are deceived. Just so is he whom I supposed to be as much a friend to me as I am to my own self. He, so far as in him lay, has taken all care to do whatever injury he could towards me, to turn all my own resources against me.

PISTOCLERUS

This same must me a bad man.

MNESILOCHUS

I judge that so he is.

PISTOCLERUS

Troth now, prithee, do tell me who it is.

MNESILOCHUS

He lives on good terms with yourself. But were he not; so, I would entreat you to do him whatever harm you could do.

PISTOCLERUS

Only tell me the person, who he is; if I don't do him an injury, some way or other, do you say that I'm the greatest of cowards.

MNESILOCHUS

The person's a bad one, but he's your friend, i' faith.

PISTOCLERUS

So much the rather, then, tell me who he is. In good sooth, I set no value on the esteem of a worthless person.

MNESILOCHUS

I appear, then, not to be able to avoid disclosing to you his name. Pistoclerus, you have utterly undone me, your friend.

PISTOCLERUS

How's that?

MNESILOCHUS

How's that? Did I not send you a letter from Ephesus about my mistress, that you should find her out for me?

PISTOCLERUS

I own you did; and I have discovered her.

MNESILOCHUS

How now? Was there not a choice for you of other Courtesans in Athens, for you to form engagements with, instead of with her whom I had recommended to your care? Could you yourself begin to love, and to contrive an injury against myself?

PISTOCLERUS

Are you in your senses?

MNESILOCHUS

I have found out the whole affair from your tutor; don't deny it. You've ruined me.

PISTOCLERUS

What, still upbraiding me without reason with these rebukes of yours?

MNESILOCHUS

Why? You're in love with Bacchis.

PISTOCLERUS

But look you, two persons of the name of Bacchis are living here in this house.

MNESILOCHUS

How, two?

PISTOCLERUS

Aye, and the two are sisters.

MNESILOCHUS

You are now designedly telling idle stories.

PISTOCLERUS

In fine, if you persist in thinking there's but little confidence in me, I'll take you upon my shoulders, and carry you hence into their house.

MNESILOCHUS

Well, I'll go; but stay a moment.

PISTOCLERUS

I will not stay, and you shall not be holding me under a false suspicion.

MNESILOCHUS

I follow you then. (They go into the house of BACCHIS.)

ACT IV.

Enter a PARASITE and a BOY.

PARASITE

Of a debauched and unscrupulous fellow am I the Parasite — a Captain, who has brought his mistress with him from Samos. Now he has ordered me to go to her, and make enquiry whether she will pay back the gold, or whether she will depart together with him. You, boy, who have for some time been with her, whichever of these is the house, do you knock. Go to the door forthwith. The BOY goes to knock. Are you coming back from there, you hangdog? How the graceless scoundrel does knock! You can gobble up a loaf three feet wide, and yet you don't know how to knock at a door. He calls out and knocks violently. Is there any one in-doors? Hallo! is there any one here? Does any one open this door? Who's coming out?

Enter PISTOCLERUS from the house.

PISTOCLERUS

What's the matter? What's this knocking? Why, what the confounded torment possesses you, to be exerting your strength in this fashion on another person's door? You've almost broken the door down. What do you want now?

PARASITE

Young gentleman, my respects.

PISTOCLERUS

And my respects. But whom are you looking for?

PARASITE

For Bacchis.

PISTOCLERUS

But which of them?

PARASITE

Of that I know nothing, only it's Bacchis. In a few words, the Captain, Cleomachus, has sent me to her, either for her to pay back the tyro hundred golden Philippeans, or to go hence this day, together with him, to Elatia.

PISTOCLERUS

She doesn't go: she says she shan't go. Begone, and take back this message — she loves another person, and not him. Take yourself off from the house.

PARASITE

You're too hasty.

PISTOCLERUS

And would you know now hasty I am? By my faith, your phiz isn't far off from a mishap; so much are these teeth-crackers looking at his fists longing in my fists.

PARASITE

aside . So far as I understand his words, 'tis a warning to me, lest he should knock my nut-crackers out of my jaws. To PISTOCLERUS. At your own peril, I'll tell him this.

PISTOCLERUS

What do you say?

PARASITE

I'll tell him that which you bade me.

PISTOCLERUS

Who are you? Tell me.

PARASITE

I'm the skill of his body

PISTOCLERUS

He needs must be a scampish fellow, who has got so worthless a skin.

PARASITE

He'll be coming here, swollen up with wrath.

PISTOCLERUS

I wish he may burst.

PARASITE

about to go . Is there anything you want?

PISTOCLERUS

Be off; you must do so this instant.

PARASITE

Good-bye, teeth-cracker. Exit. PISTOC. And you, skin of his body, good-bye! This matter has come to such a point, that what advice to give my friend about his mistress, I know not; who, in his pet, has given up all the gold to his father, and not a coin is there that may be paid to the Captain. But I'll step aside, for the door makes a noise. O, here's Mnesilochus coming out, and pensive, too. He stands apart.

Enter MNESILOCHUS from the house of BACCHIS.

MNESILOCHUS

Insolent, of a froward, passionate, ungovernable, inconsiderate disposition, without reason and moderation, am I; without fine principles of rectitude and honor, hard of belief, powerless to control my passions, born of a temper ill-disposed, unamiable and ungracious is my life In fine, I am that which I could wish others to be. There's not a person more worthless, or more unworthy for the Gods to bless, or for men to love or to associate with. 'Tis more just that I should have enemies than friends— 'tis more reasonable that the bad should give me their assistance than the good. There's not a person more deserving of all the reproaches that are befitting worthless men, than I, who have given up to my father the money that was in my power. Could this be believed by any one whatever? Am I not a madman, who have miserably undone myself and the device of Chrysalus?

PISTOCLERUS

aside . He must now be consoled by me; I'll accost him. Aloud.

Hallo, Mnesilochus! what's the matter?

MNESILOCHUS

I'm ruined.

PISTOCLERUS

May the Gods grant better things!

MNESILOCHUS

I'm ruined.

PISTOCLERUS

Won't you hold your tongue, simpleton?

MNESILOCHUS

Hold my tongue?

PISTOCLERUS

You are not now quite right in your senses.

MNESILOCHUS

I'm undone. Many sharp and poignant woes are now arising in my breast. Did I not put faith in that accusation? Without any cause was I angry with you.

PISTOCLERUS

Come, come, do have a good heart.

MNESILOCHUS

Whence have it? A dead man is of more value than I am.

PISTOCLERUS

The Captain's Parasite came here, just now, to fetch the gold hence. I drove the fellow away from this door and from this fair one, and packed him off through my harsh language.

MNESILOCHUS

But of what service is that to me? Wretch that I am, what shall I do? I have nothing; and he certainly will carry her off.

PISTOCLERUS

By my faith, if I had the means, I'd engage not.

MNESILOCHUS

I know you'd give it me; I know your ways; and were you not in love, I should now have the very greatest possible confidence in your assistance. At present, you yourself have more than enough of your own business, for me to suppose that you, who are in want yourself; are able to give me any assistance.

PISTOCLERUS

Do but hold your tongue: some Divinity will favour us.

MNESILOCHUS.

Nonsense. Moves as if going.

PISTOCLERUS

Do stay Takes hold of him.

MNESILOCHUS

What's the matter?

PISTOCLERUS

Why, I see Chrysalus here, your main resource.

Enter CHRYSALUS, at a distance.

CHRYSALUS

to himself. It's right this man pointing to himself should be worth his weight in gold: it's fair that a statue of gold should be erected for him. For, this day, two exploits have I achieved; with twofold spoils have I been graced. So cleverly have I gulled my elder master this day, that he has been made a fool of. The crafty old blade, by my crafty tricks, have I compelled and constrained to believe me in everything. Then, for the son of the old gentleman, my master here in love, together with whom I drink, with whom I eat and go a-courting, I have procured regal and golden treasures, that he may take from thence at home, and not go seeking abroad. Those Parmenos and those Syruses, please me not, who filch some two or three minae from their masters. There's nothing more worthless than a servant without skill — worthless, if he has not a breast mightily well-stocked, so that, whenever there is necessity, he may draw his supply from his own breast. No one can be a person well to do ... unless he understands both how to do good and how to do evil. With rogues he must be a rogue; with thieves let him filch whatever he can. It befits him who is truly wise, to be a person that can shift his very skin. Good with the good let him be, bad with the bad: just as things are, so let him ever frame his humour. But I should like to know how much gold my master has taken for himself, and what he has given up to his father. If he is a prudent person, he has made a Hercules of his parent: he has given him the tenth part, and has kept back nine for himself. But, see! the person whom I was looking for; he meets me most opportunely. To MNESILOCHUS. Has any of your money fallen down, my master, that thus, in silence, you are looking down upon the ground? Why do I see you two sad and sorrowful? I like it not; and 'tis not without some reason. Are you going now to give me any answer?

MNESILOCHUS

I'm undone, Chrysalus.

CHRYSALUS

Perhaps you took too little of the gold.

MNESILOCHUS

How, a plague, too little? Why, yes, indeed, a very great deal less than too little.

CHRYSALUS

Why the mischief then, simpleton, since by my skill an opportunity was procured for that very purpose, that you might take as much as you pleased, did you thus take it up with the tips of two fingers? Or, didn't you know how rarely an opportunity of that kind presents itself to a person?

MNESILOCHUS

You are mistaken.

CHRYSAIUS

Why, surely, 'tis you yourself that were mistaken, when you dip't your fingers in not deep enough.

MNESILOCHUS

I' faith, you'd upbraid me more than now you do, if you knew the matter better. I'm undone.

CHRYSAIUS

My mind is now foreboding further mischief from those words.

MNESILOCHUS

I'm ruined.

CHRYSAIUS

How so?

MNESILOCHUS

Because I've given all up to my father, with every particle of it.

CHRYSAIUS

Given it up?

MNESILOCHUS

Given it up.

CHRYSAIUS

What, all?

MNESILOCHUS

Every jot.

CHRYSLUS

We are done for. How came it into your mind to do this deed so foul?

MNESILOCHUS

I had a suspicion, Chrysalus, by reason of a charge, that Bacchis and he (pointing to PISTOCLERUS) had been playing me false; for that reason, in my anger, I gave up all the gold to my father.

CHRYSLUS

What did you say to your father when you gave up the gold?

MNESILOCHUS

That I had at once received this gold from his host, Archidemides.

CHRYSLUS

Eh! by that speech you have this day consigned Chrysalus to the torture; for, when he shall set eyes on me, the old gentleman will carry me off that instant to the executioner.

MNESILOCHUS

I've besought my father.

CERYS.

I suppose, to do, in fact, the thing that I was speaking of?

MNESILOCHUS

Nay, not to punish you, or to blame you at all on account of this business. And with some difficulty I've prevailed. Now, Chrysalus, this must be your care.

CHRYSLUS

What do you wish should be my care?

MNESILOCHUS

That once again you should make a second inroad upon the old gentleman. Contrive, devise, invent whatever you please; frame your plans, so that this day you may cleverly deceive the old man unawares, and carry off the gold.

CHRYSAIUS

It scarcely seems possible to be done.

MNESILOCHUS

Set about it, and you'll easily effect it.

CHRYSAIUS

How the plague "easily," for me, whom he has this moment caught out in a lie? Should I entreat him not to believe me at all, he would not venture even to believe me in that.

MNESILOCHUS

Aye, and if you were to hear what things he said about you in my presence.

CHRYSAIUS

What did he say?

MNESILOCHUS

That if you were to say that this sun was the sun, he would believe it was the moon, and that that is the night which is now the day.

CHRYSAIUS

By my troth, I'll bamboozle the old chap right well this very day, so that he shan't have said that for nothing.

PISTOCLERUS

Now, what would you have us do?

CHRYSAIUS

Why, nothing, except that I beg you'll still love on. As for the rest, ask of me as much gold as you please; I'll find it you. Of what use is it for me to have the name of Chrysalus, unless I give proofs by fact? But now, tell me, Mnesilochus, how much gold is requisite for you.

MNESILOCHUS

There's occasion for two hundred pieces at once, to pay the Captain for Bacchis.

CHRYSAIUS

I'll find it you.

MNESILOCHUS

Then we have need of some for current expenses.

CHRYSAIUS

Aye, aye, I wish us to do each thing deliberately; when I've accomplished the one, then I'll set about the other. First, for the two hundred pieces, I shall direct my engine of war against the old gentleman. If with that engine I batter down the tower and the outworks, straight at the gate that instant I'll attack the old town and the new one; if I take it, then carry to your friends the gold in baskets, just as your heart wishes.

PISTOCLERUS

Our hearts are with you, Chrysalus.

CHRYSAIUS

Now, do you go in-doors to Bacchis, Pistoclerus, and quickly bring out —

PISTOCLERUS

What?

CHRYSAIUS

A pen, some wax, tablets, and some cord.

PISTOCLERUS

I'll have them here this instant. Goes into the house.

MNESILOCHUS

What now are you about to do? Do tell me that.

CHRYSAIUS

Let a breakfast be prepared; there will be you two, and your mistress will make a third with you.

MNESILOCHUS

Just as you say.

CHRYSAIUS

Pistoclerus has no mistress?

MNESILOCHUS

O yes, she's here; he's in love with the one sister, I with the other, both of the name of Bacchis.

CHRYSAIUS

What were you going to say? MNES. This; how we are to manage.

CHRYSAIUS

Where are your couches laid out?

MNESILOCHUS

Why o you ask that?

CHRYSAIUS

So the matter stands; I wish to be informed. You know not what I am about to do, nor what a great exploit I shall attempt.

MNES.

Give me your hand, and follow me close, to the door. Peep in.

CHRYSAIUS looks in at the door of the house of BACCHIS.

CHRYSAIUS

Hurra! 'Tis a very pretty place, this, and exactly as I could wish it to be. Re-enter PISTOCLERUS, with pen and tablets.

PISTOCLERUS

The things that you ordered — what's ordered for a good purpose is forthwith done by the obedient.

CHRYSAIUS

What have you brought?

PISTOCLERUS

Everything that you bade me bring.

CHRYSAIUS

to MNESILOCHUS . Do you take the pen at once, and these tablets.

MNESILOCHUS

taking them . What then? CHRYS. Write there what I shall bid you; for I wish you to write for this reason, that your father may know the hand when he reads it. Write now.

MNESILOCHUS

What shall I write?

CHRYSAIUS

Health to your father, in your own language. MNESILOCHUS writes.

PISTOCLERUS

Suppose he were to write “disease and death,” in preference, that would be much better.

CHRYSAIUS

Don’t you interrupt us.

MNESILOCHUS

What you have ordered is now written on the wax.

CHRYSAIUS

Tell me in what terms.

MNESILOCHUS

“Mnesilochus sends health to his father.”

CHRYSAIUS

Write this, too, quickly: “My father, Chrysalus is always and everywhere talking at me, and in no measured terms, because I gave you up the gold, and because I did not cheat you of it.”

MNESILOCHUS writes.

PISTOCLERUS

Stop till he has written it.

CHRYSAIUS

It befits the hand of a lover to be active.

PISTOCLERUS

I’ faith, that hand is more active by far at lavishing than at writing.

MNESILOCHUS

Say on; that’s written down.

CHRYSAIUS

“Now, my dear father, do you henceforth be on your guard against him, for he is forming knavish plans to deprive you of the gold, and has declared that he will have it beyond a doubt.” Write legibly.

MINE.

You only dictate. Writes. CHRYS. “And he promises that he will give this gold to me, for me to give away to naughty women, and to consume it and live like a Greek in dens of infamy. But, father, do you take care that he does not impose on you this day; I entreat you, do beware.”

MNESILOCHUS

Only say on.

CHRYSAIUS

Just write on, then.

MNESILOCHUS

Only say what I am to write

CHRYSAIUS

MNESILOCHUS writing . “But, father, what you promised me I beg that you will remember, that you will not beat him, but keep him in chains at your house at home.” Do you give me the wax and cord forthwith. Come, fasten it, and seal it in an instant.

MNESILOCHUS

sealing the tablets . Prithee, what use is there in this writing after such a fashion, that he is to give no credence to you, and to keep you in chains at home?

CHRYSAIUS

Because it pleases me so. Can't you possibly take care of your own self, and have no thought about me? In confidence in myself I undertook the task, and at my own peril do I carry on the matter.

MNESILOCHUS

You say what's true.

CHRYSAIUS

Give me the tablets.

MNESILOCHUS

giving them . Take them.

CHRYSAIUS

Give attention now; Mnesilochus, and you, Pistoclerus, do you take care that each of you goes at once and reclines on his couch with his mistress; so 'tis requisite; and on that same spot where the couches are now laid, do you forthwith commence to carouse.

PISTOCLERUS

Anything else?

CHRYSAIUS

This, and this especially: when you shall have once taken your places together, don't you arise anyhow, until the signal shall be given by me.

PISTOCLERUS

O skilful commander!

CHRYSAIUS

You ought by this time to have taken your second draught.

MNESILOCHUS

Capital; let's go.

CHRYSAIUS

Do you take care of your duty, and I'll do mine. MNESILOCHUS and PISTOCLERUS go into the house.

CHRYSAIUS, alone.

CHRYSAIUS

A tremendously great business am I undertaking, and I have my fears how in this one day I may accomplish it. But now I have occasion for the old blade to be fierce and savage at me. For it suits not this plan of mine that the old fellow should be calm when he has beheld me in his presence. I'll turn him about this day, finely, if I live. I'll have him parched as well as ever pea was parched. I'll walk before the door, that when he comes out, at once as he comes up, I may put the letters in his hand. Stands near the door of BACCHIS.

Enter NICOBULUS, at a distance.

NICOBULUS

This is a matter of great vexation to me, that Chrysalus has thus escaped me this day.

CHRYSAIUS

aside . I'm all right: the old fellow is in a passion. Now's my time for me to accost my man.

NICOBULUS

Who speaks hard by? Looking round. Why surely this is Chrysalus, I think.

CHRYSAIUS

aside . I'll accost him. NICO. My honest servant, hail to you. What's doing now? How soon do I set sail for Ephesus, to bring back the gold home from Theotimus? What — silent? I swear by all the Gods, if I didn't love my son so much as to wish everything done for him that he desires ... that your sides should be wealed now right well with rods, and that in irons at the mill you should be lingering out your life. I've learnt of Mnesilochus all your wicked pranks.

CHRYSAIUS

Has he accused me? 'Tis very good; I am a bad one, I am a cursed one — a wicked one. Only reflect upon the matter. I'll utter not one word.

NICOBULUS

What? Hangdog, do you even threaten me?

CHRYSAIUS

You'll find out before long what sort of man he is. He ordered me just now to carry this letter to you. He requested that that which is there written may be done.

NICOBULUS

Give it me,

CHRYSAIUS

Take notice of the seal Gives him the tablets.

NICOBULUS

I know it. Where is he himself?

CHRYSAIUS

I don't know. I ought to know nothing now; I've forgotten everything. I know that I'm a slave; I know not even that which I do know. Aside. Now from the springe this thrush is catching at the worm; he'll be finely noosed this day, so well I've set the snare.

NICOBULUS

Stay here but a moment; I'll return to you directly, Chrysalus. Goes into his house.

CHRYSALUS

How he does dissemble with me; how ignorant I am of the business he's about. He has gone to fetch slaves from in-doors to bind me. The ship speeds prosperously on; finely, too, is this craft boarding it. But I'll hold my tongue, for I hear the door opening.

Re-enter NICOBULUS, with SLAVES carrying fetters.

NICOBULUS

Artamo, do you fasten the hands of that fellow this very instant. The SLAVES bind him.

CHRYSALUS

What have I done?

NICOBULUS

Pitch your fist into him if he mutters a word. To CHRYSALUS, pointing at the tablets. What does this letter say?

CHRYSALUS

Why do you ask me? As I received it from him, so I've brought it sealed to you.

NICOBULUS

Come now, you rascal, have you not shamefully abused my son in your talk, because he gave me up that gold, and said that you would still take that gold away from me by some knavish trick?

CHRYSALUS

Have I said so?

NICOBULUS

You have.

CHRYSALUS

What person is there, who says that I've said so?

NICOBULUS

Hold your tongue. No person says so; this letter which you have brought me accuses you. See, 'tis this that requests you to be chained. Points to the open tablets.

CHRYSAIUS

Ah! your son has been making a Bellerophon of me; I myself brought this letter, for the purpose that I might be bound. Be it so.

NICOBULUS

This I am doing for this reason, because you persuade my son to live like a Greek with you, you thrice-dotted villain.

CHRYSAIUS

aside . O fool, fool, you know not that you are at this moment on sale; and that you are standing on the very stone as the auctioneer puts you up.

NICOBULUS

overhearing him . Answer me; who is selling me?

CHRYSAIUS

He whom the Gods favour dies in youth, while he is in his health, has his senses and judgment sound. This person (pointing to NICOBULUS) , if any God had favoured him, ought to have been dead more than ten years — aye, more than twenty years ago. 'Tis for long, he has walked, a nuisance, on the earth; so devoid is he of either judgment or sense. He is of as much value as a rotten mushroom is.

NICOBULUS

Do you think that I am a nuisance to the earth? Away with him indoors, and tie him tightly to the post. You shall never take away any gold from here.

CHRYSAIUS

No, but you'll soon be giving it me.

NICOBULUS

I, give it you?

CHRYSAUS

You'll be entreating me, too, of your own accord to receive it, when you shall come to know this accuser of mine, in how great danger and in what a dreadful situation he is. Then will you be offering his liberty to Chrysalus; but I certainly shan't accept it.

NICOBULUS

Tell me, source of mischief, tell me, in what danger is my son Mnesilochus.

CHRYSAUS

Follow me this way; I'll soon let you know.

NICOBULUS

Where on earth shall I follow you?

CHRYSAUS

Only three steps.

NICOBULUS

Aye, ten even.

CHRYSAUS

Come, then, Artamides, do you open you this door out a very little way; softly, don't make it creak. The door of the house of BACCHIS is opened. That's enough. Now, step you hither. To NICOBULUS, who looks in. Do you see the entertainment?

NICOBULUS

still looking in. I see Pistoclerus and Bacchis right opposite.

CHRYSAUS

Who are upon that other couch?

NICOBULUS

looking on the other side . Wretch that I am, I'm undone. CHRYS.
Do you recognize that person?

NICOBULUS

I do recognize him.

CHRYSALUS

Now tell me, if you please, does that woman seem of handsome appearance?

NICOBULUS

Very much so.

CHRYSALUS

Well, do you take her to be a courtesan?

NICOBULUS

Why not?

CHRYSALUS

You are mistaken.

NICOBULUS

Who is she then, prithee?

CHRYSALUS

You'll find out from me. indeed, you'll get no more information to-day.

Enter CLEOMACHUS, at a distance.

CLEOMACHUS

aloud . Is this Mnesilochus, the son of Nicobulus, by force to detain my own mistress? What proceeding is this?

NICOBULUS

Who's this?

CHRYSAIUS

aside . This Captain's opportunely come for me.

CLEOMACHUS

He doesn't consider that I am a soldier, but a woman, who cannot defend myself and mine. But may neither Bellona nor Mars ever put confidence in me, if I don't put him out of life, if I meet him, or if I don't make him lose possession of his existence.

NICOBULUS

Chrysalus, who's this that's threatening my son?

CHRYSAIUS

This is the husband of that woman with whom he is now reclining.

NICOBULUS

What! The husband?

CHRYSAIUS

The husband, I say.

NICOBULUS

Prithee, is she married then?

CHRYSAIUS

You'll know before very long.

NICOBULUS

Wretch that I am; I'm utterly undone.

CHRYSAIUS

How now? Does Chrysalus seem such a villain to you? Come, chain me now, and do listen to your son. Didn't I tell you that you would discover what sort of person he is?

NICOBULUS

What shall I do now?

CHRYSalUS

Order me at once to be released, if you please; for, if I'm not released, he'll just now be overpowering the young man in our presence.

CLEOMACHUS

There's no gain that I should this day take so much delight in making, as I should in falling upon him as he reclines with her, so that I might kill them both.

CHRYSalUS

to NICOBULUS . Don't you hear what he says Why don't you order me to be released?

NICOBULUS

to the SLAVES . Unbind him. I'm ruined; wretch that I am! I'm in a dreadful fright.

CLEOMACHUS

Then I'd make her, who publicly puts up her person for sale, not to say that she has got a person for her to laugh at.

CHRYSalUS

to NICOBULUS . You may make terms with him for a little money.

NICOBULUS

Make terms, then, I beg, for what you like; so that he mayn't, in our presence, fall upon the young man, or kill him outright.

CLEOMACHUS

Unless the two hundred Philippeans are repaid to me at once, I'll this instant swallow the lives of them both outright.

NICOBULUS

to CHRYSalUS . Make terms with him, if you can; prithee, do make haste; agree for any sum you like.

CHRYSalUS

I'll go, and do it carefully. Goes up to CLEOMACHUS. Why are you exclaiming so?

CLEOMACHUS

Where's your master?

CHRYSAUS

Nowhere; I don't know. Do you wish the two hundred pieces to be promised you at once, so as to make no riot or disturbance here?

CLEOMACHUS

There's nothing that I would desire more.

CHRYSAUS

And that I may heap many a curse upon you?

CLEOMACHUS

Just as you please.

CHRYSAUS

aside . How the villain does cringe. To CLEOMACHUS. This is the father of Mnesilochus: follow me; he shall promise it you. Do you ask for the gold. As to the rest, a word's enough. They go up to NICOBULUS.

NICOBULUS

What has been done?

CHRYSAUS

I've struck the bargain for two hundred Philippeans.

NICOBULUS

Well done! Goddess Salvation, thou hast saved me. Well, how soon am I to say I'll pay it?

CHRYSAUS

to CLEOMACHUS . Do you ask it of him; and to NICOBULUS do you promise it him.

NICOBULUS

I promise it. To CLEOMACHUS. Come, ask me.

CLEOMACHUS

Will you give me two hundred golden Philippean pieces, lawful money?

CHRYSAUS

“They shall be given,” say: do answer him.

NICOBULUS

I’ll give them.

CHRYSAUS

Well, now, filthy fellow is there anything owing to you? Why are you plaguing him? Why are you frightening him about death? Both I and he wish you every ill luck. If you have a sword, still we have a spit at home; with which, in fact, if you provoke me, I’ll make you more full of holes than a rat’s skin when caught in a trap. I’ faith, for my part, some time since I found out what suspicion it was that tormented you; namely, that he was with that wife of yours.

CLEOMACHUS

Yes; and so he is.

CHRYSAUS

So may Jupiter, Juno, Ceres, Minerva, Hope, Latona, Ops, Virtue, Venus, Castor, Pollux, Mars, Mercury, Hercules, Summanus, the Sun, Saturn, and all the Deities, prosper me, he neither reclines with her, nor walks, nor kisses, nor does that which is wont to be reported.

NICOBULUS

aside . How he does swear! He’s saving me, however, by his perjury.

CLEOMACHUS

Where then, at this moment, is Mnesilochus?

CHRYSAUS

His father has sent him into the country. And she has gone hence to the citadel, to see the temple of Minerva. The door's open now; go in, and see if he's there.

CLEOMACHUS

I'll be off to the Forum next.

CHRYSAIUS

Or rather, by my troth, to very perdition.

CLEOMACHUS

Am I to demand this gold to-day?

CHRYSAIUS

Demand it, and go hang yourself; don't you suppose, you worthless fellow, that we shall be entreating of you. Exit CLEOMACHUS. He's taken himself off. Permit me, master, I entreat you by the immortal Gods, to go in-doors here to your son. Pointing to the house of BACCHIS.

NICOBULUS

But why go in there?

CHRYSAIUS

That with many words I may rebuke him, since after this fashion he has been going on this way.

NICOBULUS

Well, I beg you will do so, Chrysalus; and I entreat you not to spare him in your talking to him.

CHRYSAIUS

And do you instruct even myself? Isn't it sufficient, if this day he shall hear from me more harsh things than ever Clinias heard from Demetrius? Goes into the house of BACCHIS.

NICOBULUS

This servant of mine is very like a running eye; if you have it not, you don't wish for it or desire it; if you have it, you can't keep off from rubbing it. But if he hadn't, by lucky chance, been here to-day, the Captain would have surprised Mnesilochus with his wife, and have killed him as an adulterer detected in the fact. Now, in a manner have I ransomed my son with the two hundred Philippeans which I have promised to give to the Captain; which, however, I shall not rashly pay him down, before I have met with my son. By my troth, I'll never rashly give credence in anything to Chrysalus. But I have a mind even once again to read over this letter; 'tis right that when a letter is sealed we should give credence to it. Goes into his house.

Enter CHRYSALUS from the house of BACCHIS.

CHRYSALUS

The two brothers, the sons of Atreus, are said to have done a most famous deed, when, with arms, and horses, and an army, and with chosen warriors, and with ships a thousand in number, after the tenth year, they subdued Pergamus, the native land of Priam, founded by hands divine. Not more decidedly did it fall by the engine of war, than I shall storm my master here, without a fleet, and without an army and so great array of soldiers. I have won, I have taken by storm this gold from his father for my master's son, in his amour. Now, before the old man comes here, I wish to lament until he does come out. O Troy! O my country! O Pergamus! O Priam! old man, you are undone, you, who'll be wretchedly and shockingly choused out of four hundred golden Philippeans. For those tablets, sealed on the one side and on the other, they are not tablets, but the horse which the Greeks sent, of wood. Pistoclerus is the Epeus; from him were these received. Mnesilochus is the Simon left behind. Behold him! not in Achilles' tomb, but on a couch he reclines: he has Bacchis with him; just as the other formerly had the fire with which to give the signal; so now does she inflame himself. I am Ulysses, by whose advice they do these things. Then, the characters which there are written, are the soldiers in this horse, armed and of high courage. So even thus far has the matter prospered with me. This horse, too, will be making his attack, not on a citadel, but on a coffer A ruin, a destruction, a cleaner-out of the old man's gold, will this horse prove this day. To this silly old man of ours, in fact, I give the name of Ilium; the Captain is Menelaüs; I, Agamemnon; I, too, am Ulysses, the son of Laërtes; Mnesilochus is Alexander, who will be the destruction of his father's fortunes; he has borne off the Helen, on whose account I am now carrying on the siege of Ilium. For there I have heard say that Ulysses was both bold and full of mischief, just as I am. I have been detected in my tricks — he, discovered in a beggar's guise, had almost perished, while he was spying out there the doings of the Trojans. Similarly has it happened to myself to-day. I have been bound, but by my devices I have redeemed myself; he, too, preserved himself by artifice. I have heard that there were three destinies attending Troy, which were fatal to it; if the statue should be lost from the citadel; whereas the second was the death of Troilus; the third was when the upper lintel of the Phrygian gate should be demolished. Just so are there three fatalities for this Troy of ours, corresponding with those three; for, first of all, when, a short time since, as I told our old gentleman the lying story about his host, and the gold, and the bark, then, that instant, did I steal the statue from the citadel. And even then two fatalities were remaining, and no further had I taken this city. Afterwards, when I carried the letter to the old man, then I killed my Troilus. When he supposed, just now, that Mnesilochus was with the Captain's wife, from that, with difficulty, did I disengage myself. And that danger do I compare to what they say, how that Ulysses, recognized by Helen, was betrayed to Hecuba. But as, in olden time, by his coaxing arts, he liberated himself from her, and persuaded her to let him go, so I, by my devices, have rescued myself from the danger, and have deceived the old man. Afterwards, I engaged with the blustering Captain, who, unarmed, takes cities with his words, and there I repulsed my man. Then I engaged in fight with the old gentleman; straightway by one lying device did I vanquish him; by one blow, in a moment, did I take the spoils away from him. He now will give the two hundred Philippean pieces to the Captain, which he has promised that he will give. ... Now, I have occasion for another two hundred, to be distributed when Ilium is taken, that there may be the usual draught of honeyed wine with which the soldiers may celebrate their triumph. But this Priam is far superior to him of old. Not fifty sons only has he, but four hundred, and all choice ones, without a blemish; all these this day will I cut off at two single blows. Now, if there were any purchaser for this Priam of ours, I would sell the old fellow in the lump, whom I have on sale the moment that J shall have taken the city. But, lo! I see our Priam standing before the door; I'll go and speak to him.

Enter NICOBULUS from his house.

NICOBULUS

Pray, whose voice is it that sounds near me?

CHRYSAIUS

O Nicobulus!

NICOBULUS

What's the matter?

CHRYSAIUS

O, capital!

NICOBULUS

Well, have you done aught of what I sent you upon?

CHRYSAIUS

What — ask you that? Step closer this way.

NICOBULUS

coming nearer . Well, I do come closer.

CHRYSAIUS

I am an excellent pleader. By rebuking him, and by whatever hard language I really was able to think of, I forced the fellow to tears.

NICOBULUS

What did he say?

CHRYSAIUS

He uttered not a word: crying, he listened in silence to what I was saying; in silence he wrote down on his tablets; these sealed he gave to me; he bade me deliver them to you. Gives him the tablets. But I am afraid that they sing to the same tune that the former ones did. Observe the seal, is it his?

NICOBULUS

I recognize it. I'd like to read them over. Goes to a distance.

CHRYSAIUS

Read them through. Aside. Now is the upper lintel being cut down, now is the destruction of Troy near at hand. The wooden horse is shaking it right cleverly.

NICOBULUS

Chrysalus, just step here while I am reading these through.

CHRYSAIUS

Prithee, what need is there for me to be near you?

NICOBULUS

That you may know what's written here.

CHRYSAIUS

I don't care, and I don't wish to know.

NICOBULUS

Still, do come here.

CHRYSAIUS

What need is there?

NICOBULUS

Hold your tongue.

CHRYSAIUS

I won't, I say.

NICOBULUS

But I will, I say.

CHRYSAULUS

What need is there?

NICOBULUS

Still do you only do that which I bid you.

CHRYSAULUS

I'll come. 'Tis right to do so; your own servant ought to be obedient at your command. Goes up to him.

NICOBULUS

looking at the tablets . Heyday! he hasn't been sparing of his wax or pen. But whatever it is, I'm resolved to read it through. Attend to me, please, this very instant.

CHRYSAULUS

When you choose, read on; I devote to you the attention of my ears.

NICOBULUS

looking close . Bless me! the letters are small.

CHRYSAULUS

To one, indeed, who cannot see well with his eyes but they are quite large enough for one who can see well.

NICOBULUS

Give your attention then. He reads. "Father, I beseech you, do give two hundred Philippeans to Chrysalus, if you wish me to be safe or alive for you — —"

CHRYSAULUS

By my troth, really a very great mistake, I tell you.

NICOBULUS

What's the matter?

CHRYSAIUS

He hasn't first written the salutation to you.

NICOBULUS

looking . I don't see it anywhere.

CHRYSAIUS

Even from its very commencement the letter is an impertinent one. If you are wise, you'll not give it; but at the best, if you give it him, why, let him find out some other porter for himself, if he is wise; for I won't carry it if you order me ever so much. I've been quite enough suspected as it is, when I was guiltless of a fault.

NICOBULUS

Listen on now, while I read through what's written. (Reading.) "I am ashamed, father, to appear before you in your presence; such disgraceful conduct of mine have I heard that you are aware of, that I have formed an intercourse with the wife of a strange Captain." By my troth, you are not joking there; for I have saved your life from the consequences of this foul deed with two hundred golden Philippeans.

CHRYSAIUS

There's not a particle of these things but what I've told him.

NICOBULUS

reading . "I confess that I have acted foolishly. But I beseech you, father, do not forsake me, if, in my folly, I have transgressed. Of fierce desires, and eyes uncontrolled, have I been; I have been urged on to do a deed of which I am now ashamed." It were proper, then, that you should have taken heed before you were ashamed.

CHRYSAIUS

All these very same words did I say to him only just now.

NICOBULUS

reading . "I beseech you, father, to consider that it is enough that Chrysalus has reproached me with many cutting words, and by his advice has made me a better man, so that 'tis right that you should return him sincere thanks.”

CHRYSAIUS

Is that written there?

NICOBULUS

Look and see, then you’ll know. Shows him the letter.

CHRYSAIUS

He that has so offended, how humble to all he is, and of his own accord.

NICOBULUS

reading . “Now, father, if even yet I may be allowed to ask anything of you, do give me two hundred Philippean pieces, I do entreat you.”

CHRYSAIUS

By my troth, now, not one even, if you are wise.

NICOBULUS

Let me read on. Reading. “In set form I have taken an oath that I would give this to the woman this day before nightfall, ere she leaves me. Now, father, have a care that I be not forsworn, and take me hence away from her as soon as you can, on whose account I have incurred so much loss and guilt. Take care and let not the two hundred pieces be a cause of annoyance to you; I will repay you innumerable times as much, if I live. Farewell, and do attend to these matters.” Now, Chrysalus, what do you think?

CHRYSAIUS

I won’t give you one bit of advice this day, and I won’t run the risk, that if any mistake is made, you should say that you had done it by my counsel. But, as I conceive, if I were in your place, I would rather give the gold than suffer him to be corrupted. There is a twofold choice consider which you would adopt; either to lose the gold, or for a lover to be forsworn. I neither order you, nor forbid you, nor do I persuade you.

NICOBULUS

I'm sorry for him.

CHRYSAULUS

You don't do anything surprising — he is your son. If still more must be lost, 'tis better for it to go, than for this disgrace to be everywhere proclaimed.

NICOBULUS

By my troth, I certainly had much rather he had been at Ephesus, so long as he was well, than that he had returned home. But why don't I hasten to get rid of that which is doomed to be squandered away? I'll bring you just now from in-doors twice two hundred Philippeans, both those which, a little time since, to my sorrow, I promised to the Captain, and these others. Wait there; I'll be out to you, Chrysalus, this instant. Goes into his house.

CHRYSAULUS

Troy is laid waste, the chiefs have razed Pergamus. I knew some time ago that I should be the ruin of Pergamus. I' faith I wouldn't dare make a bet with him who should say that I was deserving of severe torture; so great confusion am I making. But the door makes a noise; the plunder's being brought forth from Troy. For the present I'll hold my tongue. with the money in two bags.

NICOBULUS

Take you this gold, Chrysalus; go, carry it to my son. But I'll go hence to the market-place to pay this to the Captain.

CHRYSAULUS

For my part, I'll not receive it; do you seek somebody at once to take it. I won't have it entrusted to me.

NICOBULUS

But do take it; you're worrying me now. Holds it to him.

CHRYSAULUS

For my part, I'll not take it.

NICOBULUS

But, prithee do.

CHRYSalUS

I am telling you what is the fact.

NICOBULUS

You are delaying me.

CHRYSalUS

I don't want, I say, the gold to be entrusted to me. At all events, find some person to keep a watch upon me.

NICOBULUS

You're plaguing me.

CHRYSalUS

Well, give it me, if it must be so. Holds out his hand.

NICOBULUS

gives him the money. Take care of it. I'll be back here just now.
(Exit.)

CHRYSalUS

I've taken care —— that you shall be a most wretched old fellow; this is bringing an undertaking to a fair ending; even as it has proved my lot to go rejoicing, laden with the spoil. With safety to myself, and the city taken by stratagem, I now bring home my whole army unhurt. But, Spectators, don't you now be surprised that I don't go in triumph; 'tis such a common thing, I don't care for it. Still however, the soldiers shall be received with the usual honeyed wine. Now I'll carry off all this booty at once to the Quæstor. Goes into the house of BACCHIS. Enter PHILOXENUS.

PHILOXENUS

The more I revolve it in my breast, what disturbances my son has raised, into what a course of life, and into what habits he unwittingly has headlong plunged himself, the greater is my concern, and the more do I dread lest he may be ruined or corrupted. I know it; I once was of the same age, and I did all these things; but in a quiet way. I was gay, I had my mistress, I drank, I feasted, I made presents, but still it was seldom I did so. The methods, too, please me not which I see parents in general employ towards their sons. I have determined to give some latitude to my son, that he may have some scope for his inclinations. I think that's right; but still, I don't wish him to give way too much to sloth and wantonness. Now I'm going to Mnesilochus, to see whether, as I requested, by his endeavours he has turned him for me to virtue and to sobriety; as, indeed, I am sure he has done if he has met him, of such a disposition is he by nature. (Exit.)

ACT V.

Enter NICOBULUS, wringing his hands.

NICOBULUS

Whoever there are in any place whatsoever, whoever have been, and whoever shall be, in time to come, fools, blockheads, idiots, dolts, sots, oafs, lubbers, I singly by far exceed them all in folly and absurd ways. I'm undone. I'm ashamed of myself; that I at this time of life should disgracefully have been twice made a fool of! The more I think of this confusion which my son has made, the more am I incensed. I'm ruined, and I'm utterly destroyed; I'm distracted in every possible way. All plagues harass me, by all modes of death do I perish. This day has Chrysalus rent me in pieces; Chrysalus has plundered wretched me; he, the villain, by his clever tricks, has shaved, to the very quick, simple me, just as he has pleased. For the Captain says that she is a Courtezan, whom that fellow said was his wife; and he has informed me of everything, as each particular happened; how that she had been hired by him for this year; how that that much gold was left to be repaid, which I, most simple man, had promised him. 'Tis this, this, I say, through which my breast boils with indignation; 'tis this, in fine, by which I am distracted; that I, at my time of life, should be made a fool of, aye, by Heaven, so made a very sport of, and with my hoary head and white beard, that wretched I should be bamboozled out of my gold. Undone am I, inasmuch as this slave of mine has dared in this way to set not the value of a nutshell upon me. And I — if any other way I had lost a greater sum — I should have taken it less amiss, and have deemed it less of a loss to me. Enter PHILOXENUS.

PHILOXENUS

as he enters . For sure, some person, I know not who, seems to be talking near to me. But who's this I see? Really, 'tis the father of Mnesilochus.

NICOBULUS

Hah! I see a partner in affliction. Save you, Philoxenus!

PHILOXENUS

And you; whence are you betaking yourself?

NICOBULUS

From a place whence comes a wretched and a luckless mortal.

PHILOXENUS

Why, troth, I'm surely on the earth, the spot where it befits a wretched and a luckless mortal to be.

NICOBULUS

We now, as we are of like age, are meeting with similar fortunes.

PHILOXENUS

So it is. But as to yourself, what's the matter with you?

NICOBULUS

I' faith, mine's the same mishap as your own.

PHILOXENUS

Does this misfortune in any way relate to your son?

NICOBULUS

Such is the fact.

PHILOXENUS

The same disease exists in my own breast.

NICOBULUS

Aye, and that very worthy fellow, Chrysalus, has been ruining my son, myself, and all my fortunes.

PHILOXENUS

Pray now, what is this mishap of yours about your son?

NICOBULUS

You shall know: together with your own son he's undone; both of them are keeping mistresses alike.

PHILOXENUS

How do you know?

NICOBULUS

I have seen them.

PHILOXENUS

Ah! wretch that I am! I'm ruined outright.

NICOBULUS

Why do we hesitate a moment to knock and to call them both hither out of doors.

PHILOXENUS

I don't object.

NICOBULUS

knocks at the door of the house of BACCHIS . Hallo there! Bacchis! Bid the door to be opened this instant, if you please, unless you had rather the door and the posts be knocked to bits with hatchets.

Enter FIRST BACCHIS and SECOND BACCHIS from the house.

1st BACCHIS

Who is it that calls out my name with such a noise and tumult, and is knocking so hard at the door?

NICOBULUS

I and this person here. Pointing to PHILOXENUS.

1st BACCHIS

Pray, what's the matter now? Who has been driving these sheep to us?

NICOBULUS

These most shocking hussies call us sheep.

2nd BACCHIS

Their shepherd's asleep, as they come straying thus from the flock.

1st BACCHIS

But, i' faith, they are not white; they both look dirty.

2nd BACCHIS

Because they have both been shorn just now.

PHILOXENUS

How they seem to be laughing at us.

NICOBULUS

Let them, just as long as they please.

1st BACCHIS

Don't you think that these sheep are shorn three times a year?

2nd BACCHIS

I' faith, to-day one of them has been already shorn twice, that's sure.

1st BACCHIS

They are old and fleeceless, both of them.

2nd BACCHIS

But I think they have been in good plight once.

1st BACCHIS

Prithee, do you see how they are looking with a sheep's eye at us?

2nd BACCHIS

By my troth, I really do believe they are without any ill design.

PHILOXENUS

This happens to us deservedly, for having come here.

1st BACCHIS

Well, let them be driven in-doors to fold.

2nd BACCHIS

I don't know what occasion there is for that, as they have neither milk nor wool. Let them stand as they are. Of whatever value they have been, they are now out of date; all their fruit has fallen off them by this. Don't you see, how, straying unattended, they are ranging about at liberty? Why, I fancy that they must be dumb with age; they don't bleat even, though they are absent from the rest of the flock. They seem both silly and worthless.

1st BACCHIS

Let's return in-doors, sister.

NICOBULUS

Stay where you are, both of you; these sheep want you.

2nd BACCHIS

Why, surely this is a prodigy; sheep are addressing us with a human voice.

PHILOXENUS

These sheep will return you the heavy and great injury which they owe to you.

1st BACCHIS

If you owe me aught, I forgive it you; keep it to yourself; I'll never demand it of you. But what is the reason that you are threatening mischief to us?

PHILOXENUS

Because they say that our two lambs are shut up here. Pointing to the house.

NICOBULUS

And besides those lambs, my dog is there concealed that bites. If they are not now produced to us and sent out of the house, we shall be furious rams; we shall attack you forthwith.

1st BACCHIS

Sister, I have something to say to you in private.

2nd BACCHIS

How now, prithee? They go apart.

NICOBULUS

Whither are they going?

FIRST BACCHIS

Sister, I give to you that old fellow that's farthest off, that you may have him cleverly smoothed down; I'll now attack this other one that's angry; if we can only entice them here indoors.

2nd BACCHIS

I'll manage my task with cleverness, although 'tis to caress an old skeleton.

1st BACCHIS

Take care and do your best.

2nd BACCHIS

Be quiet; do you do yours; I'll manage what I have said.

NICOBULUS

Why are these two women holding a council here in private?

PHILOXENUS

What say you, my good fellow —— ?

NICOBULUS

What would you with me?

PHILOXENUS

I really am ashamed to tell you a certain thing.

NICOBULUS

What is it that you're ashamed about?

PHILOXENUS

Still, as you are a person, a friend of mine, I'm determined to entrust you with what I could wish. Whispers. I'm good for nought.

NICOBULUS

I've known that this long time; but tell me why you're good for nought?

PHILOXENUS

I've been terribly touched with birdlime: troth, my heart is pierced by the goad.

NICOBULUS

I' faith, 'twere much better if your flanks were goaded, you worthless fellow. But what is it? Although I suspect that I myself pretty well know already what it is; still, I should even like to hear it from yourself.

PHILOXENUS

Do you see that woman? Pointing to the SECOND BACCHIS.

NICOBULUS

I see her.

PHILOXENUS

She's not an uncomely person.

NICOBULUS

Troth, but she is decidedly uncomely; and you are a good-for-nothing fellow.

PHILOXENUS

Why more? I'm in love.

NICOBULUS

You, in love?

PHILOXENUS

'Pon honor.

NICOBULUS

And do you, you rotten creature, presume to become a lover at your time of life?

PHILOXENUS

Why not?

NICOBULUS

Because it's a disgrace.

PHILOXENUS

What need of words? I am not vexed with my son, nor yet is it right you should be vexed with yours: if they are in love, they do wisely.

1st BACCHIS

... Follow me this way. They approach the old men.

NICOBULUS

See, they are moving at last, these allurers and enticers to disgrace. To the women. How now? Do you this instant restore us our sons and my servant, or am I to try rougher means with you?

PHILOXENUS

Won't you away with you? You surely are not a man, to address a pretty woman so rudely in that fashion.

1st BACCHIS

Most worthy old gentleman, by whatsoever is upon the earth, let me entreat this of you, that you will cease to attack this error with such great vehemence.

NICOBULUS

If you don't away with you, although you are so handsome, I'll be doing you some great mischief just now.

1st BACCHIS

I shall endure it; I don't apprehend that any blow that you can give, will cause me any pain.

NICOBULUS

How smooth of speech she is. O me! I am in alarm.

1st BACCHIS

aside . He's more calm already. Aloud. Step this way with me in-doors; and there, if you choose, correct your son. Takes his arm.

NICOBULUS

Avaunt from me, abomination! Shakes her off.

1st BACCHIS

Do, my love, let me prevail upon you.

NICOBULUS

You, prevail upon me? 2nd

FIRST BACCHIS

For sure, I shall prevail, at all events, upon this gentleman. Pointing PHILOXENUS.

PHILOXENUS

Yes, I beg of you to show me in-doors.

2nd BACCHIS

What a dear man you are.

PHILOXENUS

But do you know on what condition you are to show me in-doors?

2nd BACCHIS

That you are to be with me.

PHILOXENUS

You mention all that I desire.

2nd BACCHIS

...

NICOBULUS

I have seen wicked men; but not one worse than yourself.

PHILOXENUS

I am as I am.

1st BACCHIS

to NICOBULUS . Step this way in-doors with me, where you may be elegantly received with viands, wine, and unguents.

NICOBULUS

Enough, enough now of your banquets; it matters not to me how I'm received. My son and Chrysalus have choused me out of four hundred Philippeans. If I don't surely this day put him to the torture, may I never receive as large a sum again.

1st BACCHIS

What, pray, if half the gold is paid you back? Will you go in-doors here with me, and so control your feelings as to forgive them their faults?

PHILOXENUS

He'll do it. Takes his arm.

NICOBULUS

Certainly not — I won't — I don't care — let me alone, now. Shakes him off. I had rather punish them both.

PHILOXENUS

Take you care, you good-for-nothing man, that through your own fault you don't lose even that which the favouring Gods offer you. One half of the gold is offered; take it, and carouse, and enjoy yourself with your partner.

NICOBULUS

What, am I to carouse in that very place where my son is being corrupted?

PHILOXENUS

You must carouse there.

NICOBULUS

Am I to be the witness of it when she is reclining with him at table?

1st BACCHIS

Nay, so far as I'm concerned, i' faith, I'll recline at table with your own self.

NICOBULUS

My head does itch so. Aside. I'm a ruined man — I can scarce deny her.

PHILOXENUS

And has it not before this come into your mind, that if, while you live, you enjoy yourself, that, i' faith, is for no very long time; and that, if you lose the present day, it can never return to you after you are dead?

NICOBULUS

What am I to do?

PHILOXENUS

What are you to do? Do you even ask it?

NICOBULUS

I should like, and yet I'm afraid.

1st BACCHIS

What are you afraid of?

NICOBULUS

Lest I should be exposed before my son and my servant.

1st BACCHIS

Pray now, my honey; such things do happen. He's your own son; whence do you suppose that he is to have money, except that only which you give him yourself? Let me obtain pardon of you for them both.

NICOBULUS

aside . How she does work her way. She's now prevailing on me against that which I was quite resolved upon.

1st BACCHIS

I will love you, and embrace you.

NICOBULUS

Through your doing, and for your sake am I corrupted.

1st BACCHIS

I certainly had rather 'twere for your own than for mine.

NICOBULUS

Come then, however that may be, although it is to my disgrace, I'll submit; I'll induce my feelings to do so.

1st BACCHIS

Have I that solemnly promised? ...

NICOBULUS

What I have once said, I will not alter.

1st BACCHIS

The day wears apace. Come into the house, to take your places at table: your sons are expecting within ——

NICOBULUS

How soon, in fact, we may be dead, d'ye mean?

1st BACCHIS

'Tis evening, already; come, follow us.

PHILOXENUS

Lead us in like bondsmen. They go into the house.

1st BACCHIS

to the SPECTATORS . Right cleverly are these persons entrapped themselves, who for their sons had laid a snare. Goes in.

The COMPANY The company: The whole company of actors (Caterva) now comes forward, and chant or repeat the moral of the Play which has just been acted. of COMEDIANS

Had not these old men been worthless from their youth upwards, they would not, with their hoary heads, have this day done an action so disgraceful; nor, indeed, should we have represented this, if we had not, before this, seen it happen that fathers became the rivals of their sons in the houses of procurers. Spectators, we wish you Farewell! and that you will grant us loud applause.

CAPTIVI

Translated by Henry Thomas Riley

Captivi (The Captives) concerns the theme of slavery and prisoners of war, a relatively serious treatment of significant themes compared to most of Plautus' other comedies. Plautus himself points out this difference in tone in the prologue. The plot involves Philocrates and his slave Tyndarus, of the Greek district of Elis, who have been captured in war against another Greek region, Aetolia. They are now prisoners and slaves bought by Hegio, a well-to-do resident of Aetolia, who is planning to trade them for his son, Philipolemus, who has been captured in Elis. Pretending to be each other, the supposed slave Philocrates is sent to make the trade, while Tyndarus risks his life by remaining.

Unlike most of Plautus' comedies, this play offers little in the way of sexual references and instead concentrates on serious subjects, including personal freedom, slavery and war. Although the mistaken identity elements of the plot are sometimes played for laughs and the sponger Ergasilus adds simple humour, there are also serious speeches about the fate of slaves and the realities of war. The German poet and philosopher Gotthold Ephraim Lessing famously pronounced Captivi to be the finest play ever staged. This praise has been deprecated by later critics, but the play has still earned plaudits for dealing with important ethical issues. Ben Jonson indirectly paid tribute to the play by adapting the plot of Captivi for his early comedy The Case is Altered.

THE SUBJECT.

HEGIO, a wealthy native of Ætolia, had two sons, one of which was stolen by a slave when four years old, and being carried away to Elis, was sold there; the father being unable for many years to learn what has become of him. A war having commenced between the Eleans and the Ætolians, Phiiopolemus, the other son of Hegio, is taken prisoner by the Eleans. The Ætolians having taken many Elean prisoners, Hegio commences to traffic in captives, with the view of thereby redeeming his son from the Eleans, in exchange for some prisoner of rank. At this conjuncture the Play commences. Among the captives whom Hegio has purchased, Philocrates is one, having been taken prisoner, together with his servant, Tyndarus. With the object of deceiving Hegio, Philocrates and Tyndarus change their clothes, and having exchanged names as well, Philocrates pretends to be the servant of Tyndarus. Hegio being desirous to procure the exchange of his son, Philocrates (in the character of the servant of his fellowcaptive) is sent to Elis for that purpose. After his departure, Aristophontes, another captive, accidentally puts Hegio in the way of discovering the manner in which he has been deceived. On this, the old man, losing all hope of obtaining the liberation of his son, sends Tyndarus in chains to the stone-quarries. Shortly after, Philocrates returns, and brings with him Philopolemus, the son of Hegio, and Stalagmus, the runaway slave, that had stolen his other son. It is then discovered that Stalagmus had sold the child to the father of Philocrates, and that he is no other than Tyndarus, the slave; on which, Tyndarus is sent for, and is informed that he is the lost son of Hegio. Stalagmus is then condemned to the chains from which Tyndarus is liberated.

THE ACROSTIC ARGUMENT.

[Supposed to have been written by Priscian the Grammarian]

One son of Hegio has been made prisoner (Captus) in battle. A runaway slave has sold the other (Alium) when four years old. The father (Pater) traffics in Elean captives, only (Tantum) desirous that he may recover his son, and (Et) among these he buys his son that was formerly lost. He (Is), his clothes and his name changed with his master, causes that (Ut) he is lost to Hegio; and he himself is punished. And (Et) he brings back the captive and the runaway together, through whose information (Indicio) he discovers his other son.

THE PROLOGUE.

PROLOGUS

THESE two captives pointing to PHILOCRATES and TYNDARUS , whom you see standing here, are standing here because — they are both standing, and are not sitting. That I am saying this truly, you are my witnesses. The old man, who lives here pointing to HEGIO'S house , is Hegio — his father pointing to TYNDARUS . But under what circumstances he is the slave of his own father, that I will here explain to you, if you give attention. This old man had two sons; a slave stole one child when four years old, and flying hence, he sold him in Elis, to the father of this captive pointing to PHILOCRATES . Now, do you understand this? Very good. I' faith, that man at a distance there pointing says, no. Come nearer then. If there isn't room for you to sit down, there is for you to walk; since you'd be compelling an actor to bawl like a beggar. I'm not going to burst myself for your sake, so don't you be mistaken. You who are enabled by your means to pay your taxes, listen to the rest; I care not to be in debt to another. This runaway slave, as I said before, sold his young master, whom, whom he fled, he had carried off, to this one's father. He, after he bought him, gave him as his own private slave to his son of his, because they were of about the same age. He is now the slave at home of his own father, nor does his father know it. Verily, the Gods do treat us men just like footballs. You hear the manner now how he lost one son. Afterwards, the Ætolians are waging war with the people of Elis, and, as happens in warfare, the other son is taken prisoner. The physician Menarchus buys him there in Elis. On this, this Hegio begins to traffic in Elean captives, if, perchance, he may be able to find one to change for that captive son of his. He knows not that this one who is in his house is his own son. And as he heard yesterday that an Elean knight of very high rank and very high family was taken prisoner, he has spared no expense to rescue his son. In order that he may more easily bring him back home, he buys both of these of the Quæstors out of the spoil.

Now they, between themselves, have contrived this plan, that, by means of it, the servant may send away hence his master home. And therefore among themselves they change their garments and their names. He, there pointing , is called Philocrates; this one pointing , Tyndarus; he this day assumes the character of this one, this one of him. And this one to-day will cleverly carry out this plot, and cause his master to gain his liberty; and by the same means he will save his own brother, and without knowing it, will cause him to return back a free man to his own country to his father. just as often now, on many occasions, a person has done more good unknowingly than knowingly. But unconsciously, by their devices, they have so planned and devised their plot, and have so contrived it by their design, that this one is living in servitude with his own father. And thus now, in ignorance, he is the slave of his own father. What poor creatures are men, when I reflect upon it! This plot will be performed by us — a play for your entertainment. But there is, besides, a thing which, in a few words, I would wish to inform you of. Really, it will be worth your while to give your attention to this play. 'Tis not composed in the hackneyed style, nor yet like other plays, nor are there in it any ribald lines unfit for utterance: here is neither the perjured procurer, nor the artful courtesan, nor yet the braggart captain. Don't you be afraid because I've said that there's war between the Ætolians and the Eleans. There pointing , at a distance, beyond the scenes, the battles will be fought. For this were almost impossible for a Comic establishment, that we should at a moment attempt to be acting Tragedy. If, therefore, any one is looking for a battle, let him commence the quarrel; if he shall find an adversary more powerful, I'll cause him to be the spectator of a battle that isn't pleasant to him, so that hereafter he shall hate to be a spectator them all. I now retire. Fare ye well, at home, most upright judges, and in warfare most valiant combatants.

ACT I.

Enter ERGASILUS.

ERGASILUS

The young men have given me the name of “the mistress,” for this reason, because invocated I am wont to attend at the banquet. I know that buffoons say that this is absurdly said, but I affirm that it is rightly said. For at the banquet the lover, when he throws the dice, invokes his mistress. Is she then invocated, or is she not? She is, most clearly. But, i’ faith, we Parasites with better reason are so called, whom no person ever either invites or invokes, and who, like mice, are always eating the victuals of another person. When business is laid aside, when people repair to the country, at that same moment is business laid aside for our teeth. Just as, when it is hot weather, snails lie hidden in secret, and live upon their own juices, if the dew doesn’t fall; so, when business is laid aside, do Parasites lie hidden in retirement, and miserably live upon their own juices, while in the country the persons are rustivating whom they sponge upon. When business is laid aside, we Parasites are greyhounds; when business recommences, like mastiffs, we are annoying-like and very troublesome-like. And here, indeed, unless, i’ faith, any Parasite is able to endure cuffs with the fist, and pots to be broken about his head, why he may e’en go with his wallet outside the Trigeminian Gate. That this may prove my lot, there is some danger. For since my patron has fallen into the hands of the enemy — (such warfare are the Ætolians now waging with the Eleans; for this is Ætolia; this Philopolemus has been made captive in Elis, the son of this old man Hegio who lives here pointing to the house — a house which to me is a house of woe, and which so oft as I look upon, I weep). Now, for the sake of his son, has he commenced this dishonorable traffic, very much against his own inclination. He buys up men that have been made captives, if perchance he may be able to find some one for whom to gain his son in exchange. An object which I really do much desire that he may gain. for unless he finds him, there’s nowhere for me to find myself. I have no hopes in the young men; they are all too fond of themselves. He, in fine, is a youth with the old-fashioned nanners, whose countenance I never rendered cheerful without a return. His father is worthily matched, as endowed with like manners. Now I'll go to him; — but his door is opening, the door from which full oft I've sallied forth drunk with excess of cheer. He stands aside.

Enter, from his house, HEGIO and a SLAVE.

HEGIO

Now, give attention you, if you please. Those two captives whom I purchased yesterday of the Quæstors out of the spoil, put upon them chains of light weight; take off those greater ones with which they are bound. Permit them to walk, if they wish, out of doors, or if in-doors, but so that they are watched with the greatest care. A captive at liberty is like a bird that's wild; if opportunity is once given for escaping, 'tis enough; after that, you can never catch him.

A SLAVE

Doubtless we all are free men more willingly than we live the life of slaves.

HEGIO

You, indeed, don't seem to think so.

A SLAVE

If I have nothing to give, should you like me to give myself to flight?

HEGIO

If you do so give yourself, I shall at once have something to be giving to you.

A SLAVE

I'll make myself just like the wild bird you were telling of.

HEGIO

'Tis just as you say; for if you do so, I'll be giving you to the cage. But enough of prating; take you care of what I've ordered, and be off.

The SLAVE goes into the house. I'll away to my brother's, to my other captives; I'll go see whether they've been making any disturbance last night. From there I shall forthwith betake myself home again.

ERGASILUS

apart . It grieves me that this unhappy old man is following the trade of a slave-dealer, by reason of the misfortune of his son. But, if by any means he can be brought back here, I could even endure for him to become an executioner.

HEGIO

overhearing him . Who is it that's speaking?

ERGASILUS

'Tis I, who am. pining at your affliction, growing thin, waxing old, and shockingly wasting away. Wretched man that I am, I'm but skin and bone through leanness; nor does anything ever do me good that I eat at home; even that ever so little which I taste out of doors, the same refreshes me.

HER.

Ergasilus, save you!

ERGASILUS

crying . May the Gods kindly bless you, Hegio!

HER.

Don't weep.

ERGASILUS

Must I not weep for him? Must I not weep for such a young man?

HEGIO

I've always known you to be a friend to my son, and I have understood him to be so to you.

ERGASILUS

Then at last do we men know our blessings, when we have lost those things which we once had in our power. I, since your son fell into the power of the enemy, knowing by experience of what value he was, now feel his loss.

HEGIO

Since you, who are no relation, bear his misfortune so much amiss, what is it likely that I, a father, should do, whose only son he is?

ERGASILUS

I, no relation to him? He, no relation to me? Oh, Hegio! never do say that, nor come to such a belief. To you he is an only child, but to me he is even more only than an only one.

HEGIO

I commend you, in that you consider the affliction of your friend your own affliction. Now be of good heart.

ERGASILUS

crying . O dear! HEG. half-aside . 'Tis this afflicts him, that the army for guttling is now disbanded. Meanwhile, have you found no one to command for you the army that you mentioned as disbanded?

ERGASILUS

What do you think? All to whom it used to fall are in the habit of declining that province since your son Philopolemus was taken prisoner.

HEGIO

I' faith, 't isn't to be wondered at, that they are in the habit of declining that province. You have necessity for numerous troops, and those of numerous kinds. Well, first you have need of the Bakerians. Of these Bakerians there are several kinds, You have need of Roll-makerians, you have need too of Confectionerians, you have need of Poultererians, you have need of Beccaficorians; besides, all the maritime forces are necessary for you.

ERGASILUS

How the greatest geniuses do frequently lie concealed! How great a general now is this private individual!

HEGIO

Only have good courage; for I trust that in a few days I shall bring him back home. For see now; there's a captive here, a young man of Elis, born of a very high family, and of very great wealth; I trust that it will come to pass that I shall get my son in exchange for him.

ERGASILUS

May the Gods and Goddesses grant it so!

HEGIO

But are you invited out anywhere to dinner?

ERGASILUS

Nowhere that I know of. But, pray, why do you ask me?

HEGIO

Because this is my birthday; for that reason I'd like you to be invited to dinner at my house.

ERGASILUS

'Tis kindly said.

HEGIO

But if you can be content to eat a very little ——

ERGASILUS

Aye, even ever so little; for on such fare as that do I enjoy myself every day at home.

HEGIO

Come, then, please, set yourself up for sale.

ERGASILUS

I'll put myself up for purchase, just like a landed estate, unless any one shall privately make a better offer that pleases myself and my friends more, and to my own conditions will I bind myself.

HEGIO

You are surely selling me a bottomless pit, and not a landed estate.
But if you are coming, do so in time.

ERGASILUS

Why, for that matter, I'm at leisure even now.

HEGIO

Go then, and hunt for a hare; at present, in me you have but a ferret, for my fare is in the way of frequenting a rugged road.

ERGASILUS

You'll never repulse me by that, Hegio, so don't attempt it. I'll come, in spite of it, with teeth well shod.

HEGIO

Really, my viands are but of a rough sort.

ERGASILUS

Are you in the habit of eating brambles?

HEGIO

Mine is an earthy dinner.

ERGASILUS

A pig is an earthy animal.

HEGIO

Earthy from its plenty of vegetables.

ERGASILUS

Treat your sick peoples at home with that fare? Do you wish anything else?

HEGIO

Come in good time.

ERGASILUS

You are putting in mind one who remembers quite well. (Exit.)

HEGIO

I'll go in-doors, and in the house I'll make the calculation how little money I have at my banker's; afterwards I'll go to my brother's, whither I was saying I would go. Goes into his house.

ACT II.

Enter, from the house, PHILOCRATES, TYNDARUS, and SLAVES and CAPTIVES of HEGIO.

A SLAVE

If the immortal Gods have so willed it that you should undergo this affliction, it becomes you to endure it with equanimity; if you do so, your trouble will be lighter. At home you were free men, I suppose; now if slavery has befallen you, 'tis a becoming way for you to put up with it, and by your dispositions to render it light, under a master's rule. Unworthy actions which a master does must be deemed worthy ones.

PHILOCRATES

and

TYNDARUS

Alas! alas! alas!

A SLAVE

There's no need for wailing; you cause much injury to your eyes. In adversity, if you use fortitude of mind, it is of service.

and

TYNDARUS

But we are ashamed, because we are in bonds.

A SLAVE

But in the result it might cause vexation to our master, if he were to release you from chains, or allow you to be loose, whom he has purchased with his money.

and

TYNDARUS

What does he fear from us? We know our duty, what it is, if he allows us to be loose.

A SLAVE

Why, you are meditating escape. I know what it is you are devising.

and

TYNDARUS

We, make our escape? Whither should we escape?

A SLAVE

To your own country.

and

TYNDARUS

Out upon you; it would ill befit us to be following the example of runaways.

A SLAVE

Why, faith, should there be an opportunity, I don't advise you not.

PHILOCRATES

and

TYNDARUS

Do you allow us to make one request.

A SLAVE

What is it, pray?

and

TYNDARUS

That you will give us an opportunity of conversing, without these and yourselves for overlookers.

A SLAVE

Be it so; go you away from here, you people. Let's step here, on one side. To the other CAPTIVES and SLAVES. But commence upon a short conversation only.

PHILOCRATES

O yes, it was my intention so to do. Step aside this way to TYNDARUS .

A SLAVE

to the other CAPTIVES . Stand apart from them.

TYNDARUS

to the SLAVE . We are both greatly obliged to you, by reason of your doing so, since you allow us to obtain what we are desirous of.

PHILOCRATES

Step here then, at a distance now, if you think fit, that no listeners may be enabled to overhear our discourse, and that this plan of ours mayn't be divulged before them for a stratagem is no stratagem, if you don't plan it with art but it is a very great misfortune if it becomes disclosed. For if you are my master, and I represent myself as your servant, still there's need of foresight, and need of caution, that this may be carried out discreetly and without overlookers, with carefulness and with cautious prudence and diligence. So great is the matter that has been commenced upon; this must not be carried out in any drowsy fashion.

TYNDARUS

Just as you shall desire me to be, I will be.

PHILOCRATES

I trust so.

TYNDARUS

For now you see that for your precious life I'm setting at stake my own, as dear to me.

PHILOCRATES

I know it.

TYNDARUS

But remember to know it when you shall be enjoying that which you wish for; for mostly, the greatest part of mankind follow this fashion; what they wish for, until they obtain it, they are rightminded; but when they have now got it in their power, from being rightminded they become most deceitful, and most dishonest; now I do consider that you are towards me as I wish. What I advise you, I would advise my own father.

PHILOCRATES

I' faith, if I could venture, I would call you father; for next to my own father, you are my nearest father.

TYNDARUS

I understand.

PHILOCRATES

And therefore I remind you the more frequently, that you may remember it. I am not your master, but your servant; now this one thing I do beseech you. Inasmuch as the immortal Gods have disclosed to us their wishes, that they desire me to have once been your master, and now to be your fellow-captive; what formerly of my right I used to command you, now with entreaties do I beg of you, by our uncertain fortunes, and by the kindness of my father towards you, and by our common captivity, which has befallen us by the hand of the enemy, don't you pay me any greater respect than I did you when you were my slave; and don't you forget to remember who you were, and who you now are.

TYNDARUS

I know, indeed, that I now am you, and that you are I.

PHILOCRATES

Well, if you are able carefully to remember that, I have some hope in this scheme of ours.

Enter HEGIO, from his house, speaking to those within.

HEGIO

I shall return in-doors just now, when I shall have discovered from these people what I want to know. To the SLAVES. Where are those persons whom I ordered to be brought out of doors here, before the house ?

PHILOCRATES

By my faith, I find that you have taken due precaution that we shouldn't be missed by you, so walled in are we with chains and keepers.

HEGIO

He that takes precaution that he mayn't be deceived, is hardly on his guard, even while he's taking precaution; even when he has supposed that he has taken every precaution, full often is this wary man outwitted. Was there not good reason, indeed, for me to watch you carefully, whom I purchased with so large a sum of ready money?

PHILOCRATES

Troth, it isn't fair for us to hold you to blame, because you watch us closely; nor yet for you us, if we go away hence, should there be an opportunity.

HEGIO

As you are here, so is my son a captive there among your people.

PHILOCRATES

He, a captive?

HEGIO

Even so.

PHILOCRATES

We, then, have not proved the only cowards.

HEGIO

to PHILOCRATES, supposing him to be the SERVANT of the other .
Step you aside this way, for there are some things that I wish to enquire of you in private, on which subjects I would have you not to be untruthful to me, They step aside.

PHILOCRATES

I will not be, as to that which I shall know; if I shall not know anything, that which I don't know I'll tell you of.

TYNDARUS

. aside . Now is the old fellow in the barber's shop; now, at this very instant, is Philocrates wielding the razor. He hasn't cared, indeed, to put on the barber's cloth, so as not to soil his dress. But whether to say that he's going to shave him close, or trim him through the eomb, I don't know; but if he's wise, he'll scrape him right well to the very quick.

HEGIO

to PHILOCRATES . Which would you? Would you prefer to be a slave, or a free man? — Tell me.

PHILOCRATES

That which is the nearest to good, and the furthest off from evil, do I prefer; although my servitude hasn't proved very grievous to me, nor has it been otherwise to me than if I had been a son in the family.

TYNDARUS

aside . Capital! I wouldn't purchase, at a talent's price even, Thales the Milesian; for compared with this man's wisdom, he was a very twaddler. How cleverly has he suited his language to the slave's condition.

HEGIO

Of what family is this Philocrates born?

PHILOCRATES

The Polyplusian; which one family is flourishing there, and held in highest esteem.

>HEG.

. What is he himself? In what esteem is he held there?

PHILOCRATES

In the highest, and that by the very highest men.

HEGIO

Since, then, he is held in such great respect among the Eleans, as you tell of, what substance has he? — Of large amount?

PHILOCRATES

Enough for him, even, when an old man, to be melting out the tallow.

HEGIO

What is his father? Is he living?

PHILOCRATES

When we departed thence, we left him alive; whether he's living now or not, Orcus, forsooth, must know that.

TYNDARUS

aside . The matter's all right; he's not only lying, but he's even philosophizing now.

HEGIO

What's his name?

PHILOCRATES

Thesaurochrysonicocræsides.

HEGIO

That name has been given, I suppose, by reason of his wealth, as it were.

PHILOCRATES

Troth, not so, but rather by reason of his avarice and grasping disposition; for, indeed, he was Theodoromedes originally by name.

HEGIO

How say you? Is his father covetous?

PHILOCRATES

Aye, by my faith, he is covetous. Why, that you may even understand it the better, — when he's sacrificing at any time to his own Genius, the vessels that are needed for the sacrifice he uses of Samian ware, lest the Genius himself should steal them; from this, consider how much he would trust other people.

HEGIO

addressing TYNDARUS as though PHILOCRATES . Do you then follow me this way. (Aside.) The things that I desire to know, I'll enquire of him.Addressing TYNDARUS. Philocrates, this person has done as it becomes an honest man to do. For from him I've learnt of what family you are sprung; he has confessed it to me. If you are willing to own these same things (which, however, understand that I already know from him), you will be doing it for your own advantage.

TYNDARUS

He did his duty when he confessed the truth to you, although, Hegio, I wished carefully to conceal both my rank and my wealth; now, inasmuch as I've lost my country and my liberty, I don't think it right for him to be dreading me rather than you. The might of warfare has made my fortunes on a level with himself. I remember the time when he didn't dare to do it in word; now, in deed, he is at liberty to offend me. But don't you see? Human fortune moulds and fashions just as she wills. Myself, who was a free man she has made a slave, from the very highest the very lowest. I, who was accustomed to command, now obey the mandates of another. And indeed, if I meet with a master just such as I proved the ruler in my own household, I shall not fear that he will rule me harshly or severely. With this, Hegio, I wished you to be acquainted, unless perchance you your self wish it not.

HEGIO

Speak boldly out.

TYNDARUS

As free a man was I till lately as your son. As much did a hostile hand deprive me of my liberty as him of his. As much is he a slave among my people, as I am now a slave here with yourself. There is undoubtedly a God, who both hears and sees the things which we do. Just as you shall treat me here, in the same degree will he have a care for him. To the well-deserving will he show favour, to the ill-deserving will he give a like return. As much as you lament your son, so much does my father lament me.

HEGIO

That I am aware of. But do you admit the same that lie has disclosed to me?

TYNDARUS

I confess that my father has very great wealth at home, and that I am born of a very noble family; but I entreat you, Hegio, let not my riches make your mind too prone to avarice, lest it should seem to my father, although I am his only son, more suitable that I should be a slave in your house, bountifully supplied at your expense and with your clothing, rather than be living the life of a beggar where 'twould be far from honorable.

HEGIO

By the favour of the Gods and of my forefathers, I am rich enough. I don't quite believe that every kind of gain is serviceable to mankind. I know that gain has already made many a man famous; and yet there are occasions when it is undoubtedly better to incur loss than to make gain. Gold I detest: many a one has it persuaded to many an evil course. Now give your attention to this, that you may know as well what my wishes are. My son, taken prisoner. is in servitude at Elis there among your people; if you restore him to me, don't you give me a single coin besides; both you and him, your servant, I'll send back from here; on no other terms can you depart hence.

TYNDARUS

You ask what's very right and very just, and you are the very kindest person of all mankind. But whether is he in servitude to a private person or to the public?

HEGIO

In private servitude to Menarchus, a physician.

PHILOCRATES

By my faith, that person's surely his father's dependant. Why really, that's down as pat for you, as the shower is when it rains.

HEGIO

Do you then cause this person, my son, to be redeemed.

TYNDARUS

I'll do so: but this I beg of you, Hegio ——

HEGIO

Whatever you wish, so that you request nothing against my interest, I'll do.

TYNDARUS

Listen then, and you'll know. I don't ask for myself to be released, until he has returned. But I beg of you to give me him pointing to PHILOCRATES with a price set upon him, that I may send him to my father, that this person, your son, may be redeemed there.

HEGIO

Why no; I'd rather send another person hence, when there shall be a truce, to confer with your father there, and to carry your injunctions which you shall entrust him with, just as you wish.

TYNDARUS

But it's of no use to send to him one that he doesn't know; you'd be losing your labour. Send this person; he'll have it all completed, if he gets there. And you cannot send any person to him more faithful, nor one in whom he places more confidence, nor who is more a servant after his own mind; nor, in fact, one to whom he would more readily entrust your son. Have no fears; at my own peril I'll make proof of his fidelity, relying upon his disposition; because he is sensible that I'm kindly disposed towards him.

HEGIO

Well then, I'll send him with a price set upon him, on the surety of your promise, if you wish it.

TYNDARUS

I do wish it; so soon as ever it can, I want this matter to be brought to completion.

HEGIO

What reason is there, then, that if he doesn't return, you should not pay me twenty minæ for him?

TYNDARUS

Yes — very good.

HEGIO

to the SLAVES, who obey . Release him now forthwith; and, indeed, both of them. On being released, PHILOCRACTES goes into the house.

TYNDARUS

May all the Gods grant you all your desires, since you have deigned me honor so great, and since you release me from my chains. Really, this is not so irksome now, since my neck is free from the collar-chain.

HEGIO

The kindnesses that are done to the good, thanks for the same are pregnant with blessings. Now, if you are about to send him thither, direct, instruct him, give him the orders which you wish to be carried to your father. Should you like me to call him to you?

TYNDARUS

Do call him. HEGIO goes to the door, and calls PHILOCRATES.

Enter PHILOCRATES, from the house

HEGIO

May this affair turn out happily for myself and for my son, and for yourselves. To PHILOCRATES. Your new master wishes you to pay faithful obedience to your former owner in what he wishes. For I have presented you to him, with the price of twenty minæ set upon you: and he says that he is desirous to send you away hence to his father, that he may there redeem my son, and that an exchange may be made between me and him for our respective sons.

PHILOCRATES

My disposition takes its course straight in either direction, both to yourself and to him; as a wheel you may make use of me; either this way or that can I be turned, whichever way you shall command me.

HEGIO

You yourself profit the most from your own disposition, when you endure slavery just as it ought to be endured. Follow me. (To TYNDARUS.) See here's your man.

TYNDARUS

I return you thanks, since you give me this opportunity and permission to send this messenger to my parents, who may relate all the matter in its order to my father, what I'm doing here, and what I wish to be done. To PHILOCRATES. Now, Tyndarus, thus is it arranged between myself and him, that I'm to send you, valued at a fixed price, to my father in Elis; so that, if you don't return hither, I'm to give twenty minæ for you.

PHILOCRATES

I think that you've come to a right understanding. For your father expects either myself or some messenger to come from here to him.

TYNDARUS

I wish you, then, to mind what message it is I want you to carry hence to my country to my father.

PHILOCRATES

Philocrates, as up to this moment I have done, I will take all due care to endeavour that which may especially conduce to your interest, and to pursue the same with heart and soul, and with my ears.

TYNDARUS

You act just as you ought to act; now I wish you to give attention. In the first place of all, carry my respects to my mother and my father, and to my relations, and if any one else you see well-disposed towards me: say that I am in health here, and that I am a slave, in servitude to this most worthy man, who has ever honored me more and more with his respect, and does so still.

PHILOCRATES

Don't you be instructing me as to that; I can, still, easily bear that in mind.

TYNDARUS

For, indeed, except that I have a keeper, I deem myself to be a free man. Tell my father on what terms I have agreed with this party about his son.

PHILOCRATES

What I remember, it is sheer delay to be putting me in mind of.

TYNDARUS

To redeem him, and to send him back here in exchange for both of us.

PHILOCRATES

I'll remember it.

HEGIO

But as soon as he can that is especially to the interest of us both.

PHILOCRATES

You are not more anxious to see your son, than he is to see his.

HEGIO

My son is dear to myself, and his own to every man.

PHILOCRATES

to TYNDARUS . Do you wish any other message to be carried to your father?

TYNDARUS

Say that I am well here; and do you boldly tell him, Tyndarus, that we have been of dispositions for uninterrupted harmony between ourselves, and that you have neither been deserving of censure, nor that I have proved your enemy; and that still, amid miseries so great, you have shown implicit obedience to your master, and that you have never abandoned me, either in deed or in fidelity, amid my wavering, unprosperous fortunes. When my father shall know this, Tyndarus, how well-disposed you have proved towards his son and himself, he will never be so avaricious but that he'll give you your liberty for nothing. And by my own endeavours, if I return hence, I'll make him do so the more readily. For by your aid and kindness, and good disposition and prudence, you have caused me to be allowed to return to my parents once again, inasmuch as to Hegio you have confessed both my rank and my wealth; by means of which, through your wisdom, you have liberated your master from his chains.

PHILOCRATES

The things which you mention I have done, and I am pleased that you remember this. Deservedly have they been done for you by me; for now, Philocrates, if I, too, were to mention the things that you have kindly done for me, the night would cut short the day. For, had you been my slave even, no otherwise were you always obliging to me.

HEGIO

Ye Gods, by our trust in you! behold the kindly disposition of these persons! How they draw the very tears from me! See how cordially they love each other, and with what praises the servant has commended his master.

PHILOCRATES

I' troth, he hasn't commended me the one hundredth part of what he himself deserves to be commended in my praises.

HEGIO

to PHILOCRATES . Since, then, you have acted most becomingly, now there's an opportunity to add to your good deeds in managing this matter with fidelity towards him.

PHILOCRATES

I am not able more to wish it done, than by my endeavours to try to bring it about. That you may know this, Hegio, with praises do I call supreme Jove to witness that I will not prove unfaithful to Philocrates ——

HEGIO

You are a worthy fellow.

PHILOCRATES

And that I will never in anything act otherwise towards him than towards my own self.

TYNDARUS

I wish you to put these speeches to the test, both by your deeds and your actions; and inasmuch as I have said the less about you than I had wished, I wish you the more to give me your attention, and take you care not to be angry with me by reason of these words. But, I beseech you, reflect that you are sent hence home with a price set upon you at my risk, and that my life is here left as a pledge for you. Do not you forget me the very moment that you have left my presence, since you will have left me here behind a captive in captivity for yourself, and don't consider yourself as free, and forsake your pledge, and not use your endeavours for you to bring his son home again, in return for me. Understand that you are sent hence valued at twenty minæ. Take care to prove scrupulously faithful; take care that you show not a wavering fidelity. For my father, I am sure, will do everything that he ought to do. Preserve me as a constant friend to you, and find out this person so lately discovered. These things, by your right hand, holding you with my own right hand, do I beg of you; do not prove less true to me than I have proved to you. This matter do you attend to; you are now my master, you my patron, you my father; to you do I commend my hopes and my fortunes.

PHILOCRATES

You have given injunctions enough. Are you satisfied if I bring back accomplished what you have enjoined?

TYNDARUS

Satisfied.

PHILOCRATES

to HEGIO . According to your wishes, and to TYNDARUS according to yours, will I return hither provided. Is there anything else?

TYNDARUS

For you to return back as soon as ever you can.

PHILOCRATES

The business itself reminds me of that.

HEGIO

to PHILOCRATES . Follow me, that I may give you your expenses for the journey at my banker's; on the same occasion I'll get a passport from the Prætor.

TYNDARUS

What passport?

HEGIO

For him to take with him hence to the army, that he may be allowed to go home from here. To TYNDARUS. You go in-doors.

TYNDARUS

Speed you well.

Right heartily, farewell. TYNDARUS goes into the house.

HEGIO

aside . I' faith, I compassed my design, when I purchased these men of the Quæstors out of the spoil. I have released my son from slavery, if so it pleases the Gods; and yet I hesitated a long time whether I should purchase or should not purchase these persons. Watch that man indoors, if you please, you servants, that he may nowhere move a foot without a guard. I shall soon make my appearance at home; now I'm going to my brother's, to see my other captives; at the same time I'll enquire whether any one knows this young man. To PHILOCRATES. Do you follow, that I may despatch you. I wish attention first to be paid to that matter. (Exeunt.)

ACT III.

Enter ERGASILUS.

ERGASILUS

Wretched is that man who is in search of something to eat, and finds that with difficulty; but more wretched is he who both seeks with difficulty, and finds nothing at all; most wretched is he, who, when he desires to eat, has not that which he may eat. But, by my faith, if I only could, I'd willingly tear out the eyes of this day; — with such enmity has it filled all people towards me. One more starved out I never did see, nor one more filled with hunger, nor one who prospers less in whatever he begins to do. So much do my stomach and my throat take rest on these fasting holidays. Away with the profession of a Parasite to very utter and extreme perdition! so much in these days do the young men drive away from them the needy drolls. They care nothing now-a-days for these Laconian men of the lowest benches — these whipping-posts, who have their clever sayings without provision and without money. They now-a-days seek those who, when they've eaten at their pleasure, may give them a return at their own houses. They go themselves to market, which formerly was the province of the Parasites. They go themselves from the Forum to the procurers with face as exposed as the magistrates in court, with face exposed, condemn those who are found guilty; nor do they now value buffoons at one farthing; all are so much in love with themselves. For, when, just now, I went away from here, I came to some young men in the Forum: "Good morrow," said I; "whither are we going together to breakfast?" On this, they were silent. "Who says, 'here, at my house,' or who makes an offer?" said I. Just like dumb men, they were silent, and didn't smile at me. "Where do we dine?" said I. On this they declined. I said one funny saying out of my best bon mots, by which I formerly used to get feasting for a month; not an individual smiled; at once I knew that the matter was arranged by concert. Not even one was willing to imitate a dog when provoked; if they didn't laugh, they might, at least, have grinned with their teeth. From them I went away, after I saw that I was thus made sport of. I went to some others; then to some others I came; then to some others — the same the result. All treat the matter in confederacy, just like the oil-merchants in the Velabrum. Now, I've returned thence, since I see myself made sport of there. In like manner do other Parasites walk to and fro, to no purpose, in the Forum. Now, after the foreign fashion, I'm determined to enforce all my rights. Those who have entered into a confederacy, by which to deprive us of food and life, — for them I'll name a day. I'll demand, as the damages, that they shall give me ten dinners at my own option, when provisions are dear: thus will I do. Now I'll go hence to the harbour. There, is my only hope of a dinner; if that shall fail me, I'll return here to the old gentleman, to his unsavoury dinner.

Enter HEGIO and ARISTOPHONTES.

HEGIO

to himself. What is there more delightful than to manage one's own interests well for the public good, just as I did yesterday, when I purchased these men. Every person, as they see me, comes to meet me, and congratulates me on this matter. By thus stopping and detaining unlucky me, they've made me quite tired. With much ado have I survived from being congratulated, to my misfortune. At last, to the Prætor did I get. There, scarcely did I rest myself. I asked for a passport; it was given me: at once I delivered it to Tyndarus. He started for home. Thence, straightway, after that was done, I passed by my house; and I went at once to my brother's, where my other captives are. I asked about Philocrates from Elis, whether any one of them all knew the person. This man pointing to ARISTOPHONTES called out that he had been his intimate friend; I told him that he was at my house. At once he besought and entreated me that I would permit him to see him. Forthwith I ordered him to be released from chains. Thence have I come. To ARISTOPHONTES. Now, do you follow me, that you may obtain what you have besought of me, the opportunity of meeting with this person. They go into the house.

Enter TYNDARUS, from the house.

TYNDARUS

Now stands the matter so, that I would much rather that I had once existed, than that I still exist; now do my hopes, my resources, and my succour, desert me and spurn themselves. This is that day, when, for my life, no safety can be hoped; nor yet is death my end; nor hope is there, in fact, to dispel this fear for me; nor cloak have I anywhere for my deceitful stratagems; nor for my devices or my subterfuges is there anywhere a screen presented to me. No deprecating is there for my perfidy; no means of flight for my offences. No refuge is there anywhere for my trusting; and no escape for my cunning schemes. What was concealed is now exposed; my plans are now divulged. The whole matter is now laid open; nor is there any ado about this matter, but that I must perish outright, and meet with destruction, both on behalf of my master and myself. This Aristophontes has proved my ruin, who has just now come into the house. He knows me. He is the intimate friend and kinsman of Philocrates. Not Salvation herself can save me now, even if she wishes; nor have I any means of escape, unless, perchance, I devise some artifice in my mind. He meditates. Plague on it!-how? What can I contrive? — what can I think of? Some very great folly and trifling I shall have to begin with. I'm quite at a loss. He retires aside.

Enter HEGIO, ARISTOPHONTES, and SLAVES, from the house

HEGIO

Whither am I to say, now, that this man has betaken himself from the house out of doors?

TYNDARUS

apart. Now, for a very certainty, I'm done for; the enemies are coming to you, Tyndarus! What shall I say? — what shall I talk of? What shall I deny, or what confess? All matters are reduced to uncertainty. How shall I place confidence in my resources? I wish the Gods had destroyed you, before you were lost to your own country, Aristophontes, who, from a plot well concerted, are making it disconcerted. This plan is ruined outright, unless I find out for myself some extremely bold device.

HEGIO

to ARISTOPHONTES . Follow me. See, there is the man; go to him and address him.

TYNDARUS

aside, and turning away . What mortal among mortals is there more wretched than myself?

ARISTOPHONTES

coming up to him . Why's this, that I'm to say that you are avoiding my gaze, Tyndarus? And why that you are slighting me as a stranger, as though you had never known me? Why, I'm as much a slave as yourself; although at home I was a free man, you, even from your childhood, have always served in slavery in Elis.

HEGIO

I' faith, I'm very little surprised, if either he does avoid your gaze, or if he does shun you, who are calling him Tyndarus, instead of Philocrates.

TYNDARUS

Hegio, this person was accounted a madman in Elis. Don't you give ear to what he prates about; for at home he has pursued his father and mother with spears, and that malady sometimes comes upon him which is spit out Do you this instant stand away at a distance from him.

HEGIO

to the SLAVES . Away with him further off from me.

ARISTOPHONTES

Do you say, you whipp'd knave, that I am mad, and do you declare that I have followed my own father with spears? And that I have that malady, that it's necessary for me to be spit upon?

HEGIO

Don't be dismayed; that malady afflicts many a person to whom it has proved wholesome to be spit upon, and has been of service to them.

ARISTOPHONTES

Why, what do you say? Do you, too, credit him?

HEGIO

Credit him in what?

ARISTOPHONTES

That I am mad?

TYNDARUS

Do you see him, with what a furious aspect he's looking at you? 'Twere best to retire, Hegio; it is as I said, his frenzy grows apace; have a care for yourself.

HEGIO

I thought that he was mad, the moment that he called you Tyndarus.

TYNDARUS

Why, he's sometimes ignorant of his own name, and doesn't know what it is.

HEGIO

But he even said that you were his intimate friend.

TYNDARUS

So far from that, I never saw him. Why, really, Alcmaëon, and Orestes, and Lycurgus besides, are my friends on the same principle that he is.

ARISTOPHONTES

Villain, and do you dare speak ill of me, as well? Do I not know you?

HEGIO

I' faith, it really is very clear that you don't know him, who are calling him Tyndarus, instead of Philocrates. Him whom you see, you don't know; you are addressing him as the person whom you don't see.

ARISTOPHONTES

On the contrary this fellow's saying that he is the person who he is not; and he says that he is not the person who he really is.

TYNDARUS

You've been found, of course, to excel Philocrates in truthfulness.

ARISTOPHONTES

By my troth, as I understand the matter, you've been found to brazen out the truth by lying. But i' faith, prithee, come then, look at me.

TYNDARUS

looking at him . Well! ARIST. Say, now; do you deny that you are Tyndarus?

TYNDARUS

I do deny it, I say.

ARISTOPHONTES

Do you say that you are Philocrates?

TYNDARUS

I do say so, I say.

ARISTOPHONTES

to HEGIO . And do you believe him?

HEGIO

More, indeed, than either you or myself. For he, in fact, who you say that he is pointing to TYNDARUS , has set out hence to-day for Elis, to this person's father.

ARISTOPHONTES

What father, when he's a slave.

TYNDARUS

And so are you a slave, and yet you were a free man; and I trust that so I shall be, if I restore his son here to liberty.

ARISTOPHONTES

How say you, villain? Do you say that you were born a free man [liber]?

TYNDARUS

> I really do not say that I am Liber, but that I am Philocrates.

ARISTOPHONTES

How's this? How this scoundrel, Hegio, is making sport of you now. For he's a slave himself, and never, except his own self, had he a slave.

TYNDARUS

Because you yourself are destitute in your own country, and haven't whereon to live at home, you wish all to be found like to yourself; you don't do anything surprising. 'Tis the nature of the distressed to be ill-disposed, and to envy the fortunate.

ARISTOPHONTES

Hegio, take you care, please, that you don't persist in rashly placing confidence in this man; for so far as I see, he is certainly now putting some device in execution, in saying that he is redeeming your son from captivity; that is by no means satisfactory to me.

TYNDARUS

I know that you don't wish that to be done; still I shall effect it, if the Gods assist me. I shall bring him back here, and he will restore me to my father, in Elis. For that purpose have I sent Tyndarus hence to my father.

ARISTOPHONTES

Why, you yourself are he; nor is there any slave in Elis of that name, except yourself.

TYNDARUS

Do you persist in reproaching me with being a slave — a thing that has befallen me through the fortune of war?

ARISTOPHONTES

Really, now, I cannot contain myself.

TYNDARUS

to HEGIO . Ha! don't you hear him? Why don't you take to flight? He'll be pelting us just now with stones there, unless you order him to be seized.

ARISTOPHONTES

I'm distracted.

TYNDARUS

His eyes strike fire; there's need of a rope, Hegio. Don't you see how his body is spotted all over with livid spots? Black bile is disordering the man.

ARISTOPHONTES

And, by my faith, if this old gentleman is wise, black pitch will be disordering you with the executioner, and giving a light to your head.

TYNDARUS

He's now talking in his fit of delirium; sprites are in possession of the man.

HEGIO

By my troth, suppose I order him to be seized?

TYNDARUS

You would be acting more wisely.

ARISTOPHONTES

I'm vexed that I haven't a stone, to knock out the brains of that whip-scoundrel, who's driving me to madness by his taunts.

TYNDARUS

Don't you hear that he's looking for a stone?

ARISTOPHONTES

I wish to speak with you alone, separately, Hegio.

HEGIO

Speak from where you are, if you want anything; though at a distance, I shall hear you.

TYNDARUS

Yes, for, by my faith, if you approach nearer, he'll be taking your nose off with his teeth.

ARISTOPHONTES

By heavens, Hegio, don't you believe that I am mad, or that I ever was so, or that I have the malady which that fellow avers. But if you fear anything from me, order me to be bound; I wish it, so long as that fellow is bound as well.

TYNDARUS

Why really, Hegio, rather let him be bound that wishes it.

ARISTOPHONTES

Now hold your tongue! I'll make you, you false Philocrates, to be found out this day to be a real Tyndarus. Why are you making signs at me?

TYNDARUS

I, making signs at you? To HEGIO. What would he do, if you were at a greater distance off?

HEGIO

What do you say? What if I approach this madman?

TYNDARUS

Nonsense; you'll be made a fool of; he'll be prating stuff, to you, neither the feet nor the head of which will ever be visible. The dress only is wanting; in seeing this man, you behold Ajax himself.

HEGIO

I don't care; still I'll approach him. Advances to ARISTOPHONTES.

TYNDARUS

aside . Now am I utterly undone; now between the sacrifice and the stone do I stand, nor know I what to do.

HEGIO

I lend you my attention, Aristophontes, if there is anything that you would wish with me.

ARISTOPHONTES

From me you shall hear that truth, which now you think to be false, Hegio. But I wish, in the first place, to clear myself from this with you — that madness does not possess me, and that I have no malady, except that I am in captivity; and, so may the King of Gods and of men make me to regain my native land, that fellow there is no more Philocrates than either I or you.

HEGIO

Come, then, tell me who he is?

ARISTOPHONTES

He whom I've told you all along from the beginning. If you shall find him any other than that person, I show no cause why I shouldn't suffer the loss with you both of my parents and of my liberty for ever.

HEGIO

to TYNDARUS . What say you to this?

TYNDARUS

That I am your slave, and you my master.

HEGIO

I didn't ask that — were you a free man?

TYNDARUS

I was.

ARISTOPHONTES

But he really wasn't; he is deceiving you.

TYNDARUS

How do you know? Were you, perchance, the midwife of my mother, since you dare to affirm this so boldly?

ARISTOPHONTES

When a boy, I saw yourself, a boy.

TYNDARUS

But, grown up, I now see you grown up; so, there's for you, in return. If you did right, you wouldn't be troubling yourself about my concerns; do I trouble myself about yours?

HEGIO

Was his father called Thesaurochrysonicocræsides?

ARISTOPHONTES

He was not; and I never heard that name before this day.
Theodoromedes was the father of Philocrates.

TYNDARUS

aside . I'm downright undone. Why don't you be quiet, heart of mine? Go and be stretched, and hang yourself; you are throbbing so, that unfortunate I can hardly stand up for my fear.

HEGIO

Is a full assurance given me that this was a slave in Elis, and that he is not Philocrates?

ARISTOPHONTES

So fully, that you will never find this to be otherwise; but where is he now?

HEGIO

Where I the least, and he the most could wish himself. In consequence, then, I'm cut asunder, disjointed, to my sorrow, by the devices of this scoundrel, who has bamboozled me by his tricks just as he has thought fit. But do, please, have a care that you are right.

ARISTOPHONTES

Why, I assure you of this, as an ascertained and established fact.

HEGIO

For certain?

ARISTOPHONTES

Why, nothing, I say, will you find more certain than this certainty. Philocrates, from when a boy, has ever since that time been my friend.

HEGIO

But of what appearance is your friend Philocrates?

ARISTOPHONTES

I'll tell you: with a thin face, sharp nose, light hair, dark eyes, somewhat ruddy, with hair rather crisp and curling,

HEGIO

The description is like.

TYNDARUS

aside . Aye, so much so, indeed, that I've this day, much to my sorrow, got into the midst of this, i' faith. Woe to those unfortunate rods which this day will be meeting their end upon my back.

HEGIO

I see that I've been imposed upon.

TYNDARUS

aside . Why, fetters, do you delay to run towards me and to embrace my legs, that I may have you in custody?

>HEG.

And have these two rascally captives really deceived me this day with their tricks? The other one pretended that he was the servant, and this one that he himself was the master. I've lost the kernel; for a security, I've left the shell. To such a degree have they imposed upon me, both on this side and that, with their trickeries. Still, this fellow shall never have the laugh against me. Colaphus, Cordalio, Corax to the SLAVES , go you away and bring out the thongs.

A SLAVE

Are we to be sent to gather faggots? The SLAVES go and bring the thongs from the house.

HEGIO, TYNDARUS, ARISTOPHONTES, and SLAVES

HEGIO

to the SLAVES . Put the manacles on this whipp'd villain.

TYNDARUS

whilst the SLAVES are fastening him . What's the matter? What have I done wrong?

HEGIO

Do you ask the question? You weeder and sower of villanies, and in especial their reaper.

TYNDARUS

Ought you not to have ventured to say the harrower first? For countrymen always harrow before they weed.

HEGIO

Why, with what assurance he stands before me.

TYNDARUS

It's proper for a servant, innocent and guiltless, to be full of confidence, most especially before his master.

HEGIO

to the SLATES . Bind this fellow's hands tightly, will you.

TYNDARUS

I am your own — do you command them to be cut off even. But what is the matter on account of which you blame me?

HEGIO

Because me and my fortunes, so far as in you singly lay, by your rascally and knavish stratagems you have rent in pieces, and have distracted my affairs and spoiled all my resources and my plans, in that you've thus robbed me of Philocrates by your devices, I thought that he was the slave, you the free man. So did you say yourselves, and in this way did you change names between you.

TYNDARUS

I confess that all was done so, as you say, and that by a stratagem he has got away from you, through my aid and cleverness; and prithee, now, do you blame me for that, i' faith?

HEGIO

Why, it has been done with your extreme torture for the consequence.

TYNDARUS

So I don't die by reason of my misdeeds, I care but little. If I do die here, then he returns not, as he said he would; but when I'm dead, this act will be remembered to my honor, that I caused my captive master to return from slavery and the foe, a free man, to his father in his native land; and that I preferred rather to expose my own life to peril, than that he should be undone.

HEGIO

Take care, then, to enjoy that fame at Acheron.

TYNDARUS

He who dies for virtue's sake, still does not perish.

HEGIO

When I've tortured you in the most severe manner, and for your schemes put you to death, let them say either that you have perished or that you have died; so long as you do die, I don't think it matters if they say you live.

TYNDARUS

I' faith, if you do do so, you'll do it not without retribution, if he shall return here, as I trust that he will return.

ARISTOPHONTES

aside . O ye immortal Gods! I understand it now; now I know what the case really is. My friend Philocrates is at liberty with his father, in his native land. 'Tis well; nor have I any person to whom I could so readily wish well. But this thing grieves me, that I've done this person a bad turn, who now on account of me and my talking is in chains.

HEGIO

to TYNDARUS . Did I not forbid you this day to utter anything false to me?

TYNDARUS

You did forbid me.

HEGIO

Why did you dare to tell me lies?

TYNDARUS

Because the truth would have prejudiced him whom I was serving; now falsehood has advantaged him.

HEGIO

But it will prejudice yourself.

TYNDARUS

'Tis very good. Still, I have saved my master, whom I rejoice at being saved, to whom my elder master had assigned me as a protector. But do you think that this was wrongly done?

HEGIO

Most wrongfully.

TYNDARUS

But I, who disagree with you, say, rightly. For consider, if any slave of yours had done this for your son, what thanks you would have given him. Would you have given that slave his freedom or not? Would not that slave have been in highest esteem with you? Answer me that.

HEGIO

I think so.

TYNDARUS

Why, then, are you angry with me?

HEGIO

Because you have proved more faithful to him than to myself.

TYNDARUS

How now? Did you expect, in a single night and day, for yourself to teach me — a person just made captive, a recent slave, and in his noviciate — that I should rather consult your interest than his, with whom from childhood I have passed my life?

HEGIO

Seek, then, thanks from him for that. To the SLAVES. Take him where he may receive weighty and thick fetters, thence, after that, you shall go to the quarries for cutting stone. There, while the others are digging out eight stones, unless you daily do half as much work again, you shall have the name of the six-hundred-stripe man.

ARISTOPHONTES

By Gods and men, I do entreat you, Hegio, not to destroy this man.

HEGIO

He shall be taken all care of For at night, fastened with chains, he shall be watched; in the daytime, beneath the ground, he shall be getting out stone. For many a day will I torture him; I'll not respite him for a single day.

ARISTOPHONTES

Is that settled by you?

HEGIO

Not more settled that I shall die. To the SLAVES. Take him away this instant to Hippolytus, the blacksmith; bid thick fetters to be rivetted on him. From there let him be led outside the gate to my freedman, Cordalus, at the stone-quarries. And tell him that I desire this man so to be treated, that he mayn't be in any respect worse off than he who is the most severely treated.

TYNDARUS

Why, since you are unwilling, do I desire myself to survive? At your own hazard is the risk of my life. After death, no evil have I to apprehend in death. Though I should live even to extreme age, still, short is the space for enduring what you threaten me with. Farewell and prosper although you are deserving for me to say otherwise. You, Aristophontes, as you have deserved of me, so fare you; for on your account has this befallen me.

>HEG.

to the SLAVES. Carry him off.

TYNDARUS

But this one thing I beg, that, if Philocrates should come back here, you will give me an opportunity of meeting him.

HEGIO

to the SLAVES. At your peril, if you don't this instant remove him from my sight. The SLAVES lay hold of TYNDARUS, and push him along.

TYNDARUS

I' troth, this really is violence, to be both dragged and pushed at the same time. He is borne off by the SLAVES.

HEGIO

He has been led off straight to prison as he deserves. Let no one presume to attempt such an enterprise. Had it not been for you who discovered this to me, still would they have been leading me by the bridle with their tricks. Now am I resolved henceforth never to trust any person in anything. This once I have been deceived enough; I did hope, to my sorrow, that I had rescued my son from slavery. That hope has forsaken me. I lost one son, whom, a child in his fourth year, a slave stole from me; and, indeed, never since have I found either slave or son; the elder one has fallen in the hands of the enemy. What guilt is this of mine? As though I had become the father of children for the purpose of being childless. To AISTOPHONTES. Follow this way. I'll conduct you back where you were. I'm determined to have pity upon no one, since no one has pity upon me.

ARISTOPHONTES

Forth from my chains with evil omen did I come; now I perceive that with like ill omen to my bonds I must return. (Exeunt.)

ACT IV.

Enter ERGASILUS

ERGASILUS

Supreme Jove! thou dost preserve me, and dost augment my means. Plenty, extreme and sumptuous, dost thou present to me; celebrity, profit, enjoyment, mirth, festivity, holidays, sights, provisions, carousings, abundance, joyousness. And to no man have I now determined with myself to go a-begging; for I'm able either to profit my friend or to destroy my enemy, to such extent has this delightful day heaped delights upon me in its delightfulness. I have lighted upon a most rich inheritance without incumbrances. Now will I wend my way to this old gentleman Hegio, to whom I am carrying blessings as great as he himself prays for from the Gods, and even greater. Now, this is my determination, in the same fashion that the slaves of Comedy are wont, so will I throw my cloak around my neck, that from me, the first of all, he may learn this matter. And I trust that I, by reason of this news, shall find provision up to the end.

Enter HEGIO, at a distance.

HEGIO

to himself. The more that I revolve this matter in my breast, the more is my uneasiness of mind increased. That I should have been duped in this fashion to-day! and that I wasn't able to see through it! When this shall be known, then I shall be laughed at all over the city. The very moment that I shall have reached the Forum, all will be saying, "This is that clever old gentleman, who had the trick played him." But is this Ergasilus, that I see coming at a distance? Surely he has got his cloak gathered up; what, I wonder, is he going to do?

ERGASILUS

advancing, and talking to himself. Throw aside from you all tardiness, Ergasilus, and speed on this business. I threaten, and I strictly charge no person to stand in my way, unless any one shall be of opinion that he has lived long enough. For whoever does come in my way, shall stop me upon his face. He runs along, flourishing his arms about.

HEGIO

to himself . This fellow's beginning to box.

ERGASILUS

to himself . I'm determined to do it; so that every one may pursue his own path, let no one be bringing any of his business in this street; for my fist is a balista, my arm is my catapulta, my shoulder a battering-ram; then against whomsoever I dart my knee, I shall bring him to the ground. I'll make all persons to be picking up their teeth, whomsoever I shall meet with.

HEGIO

to himself . What threatening is this? For I cannot wonder enough.

ERGASILUS

I'll make him always to remember this day and place, and myself as well. Whoever stops me upon my road, I'll make him put a stop to his own existence.

HEGIO

to himself . What great thing is this fellow preparing to do, with such mighty threats?

ERGASILUS

I first give notice, that no one, by reason of his own fault, may be caught — keep yourselves in-doors at home, and guard yourselves from my attack.

HEGIO

to himself . By my faith, 'tis strange if he hasn't got this boldness by means of his stomach. Woe to that wretched man, through whose cheer this fellow has become quite swaggering.

ERGASILUS

Then the bakers, that feed swine, that fatten their pigs upon refuse bran, through the stench of which no one can pass by a baker's shop; if I see the pig of any one of them in the public way, I'll beat the bran out of the masters' themselves with my fists.

HEGIO

to himself . Royal and imperial edicts does he give out. The fellow is full; he certainly has his boldness from his stomach.

ERGASILUS

Then the fishmongers, who supply stinking fish to the public — who are carried about on a gelding, with his galloping galling pace — the stench of whom drives all the loungers in the Basilica into the Forum, I'll bang their heads with their bulrush fish-baskets, that they may understand what annoyance they cause to the noses of other people. And then the butchers, as well, who render the sheep destitute of their young—who agree with you about killing lamb, and then offer you lamb at double the price — who give the name of wether mutton to a ram — if I should only see that ram in the public way, I'll make both ram and owner most miserable beings.

HEGIO

to himself . Well done! He really does give out edicts fit for an Ædile, and 'tis indeed a surprising thing if the Ætolians haven't made him inspector of markets.

ERGASILUS

No Parasite now am I, but a right royal king of kings; so large a stock of provision for my stomach is there at hand in the harbour. But why delay to overwhelm this old gentleman Hegio with gladness? With him, not a person among mankind exists equally fortunate.

HEGIO

apart . What joy is this, that he, thus joyous, is going to impart to me?

ERGASILUS

knocking at HEGIO'S door . Hallo, hallo! — where are you? Is any one coming to open this door?

HEGIO

apart . This fellow's betaking himself to my house to dine.

ERGASILUS

Open you both these doors, before I shall with knocking cause the destruction, piecemeal, of the doors.

HEGIO

apart . I'd like much to address the fellow. Aloud. Ergasilus!

ERGASILUS

Who's calling Ergasilus?

HEGIO

Turn round, and look at me.

ERGASILUS

not seeing who it is . A thing that Fortune does not do for you, nor ever will do, you bid me to do. But who is it.

HEGIO

Look round at me. 'Tis Hegio.

ERGASILUS

turning round . O me! Best of the very best of men, as many as exist, you have arrived opportunely.

HEGIO

You've met with some one at the harbour to dine with; through that you are elevated.

ERGASILUS

Give me your hand.

HEGIO

My hand?

ERGASILUS

Give me your hand, I say, this instant.

HEGIO

Take it. Giving him his hand.

ERGASILUS

Rejoice.

HEGIO

Why should I rejoice?

ERGASILUS

Because I bid you; come now, rejoice.

HEGIO

I' faith, my sorrows exceed my rejoicings.

ERGASILUS

'Tis not so, as you shall find; I'll at once drive away every spot of sorrow from your body. Rejoice without restraint.

HEGIO

I do rejoice, although I don't at all know why I should rejoice.

ERGASILUS

You do rightly; now order ——

HEGIO

Order what?

ERGASILUS

A large fire to be made.

HEGIO

A large fire?

ERGASILUS

So I say, that a huge one it must be.

HEGIO

What, you vulture, do you suppose that for your sake I'm going to set my house on fire?

ERGASILUS

Don't be angry. Will you order, or will you not order, the pots to be put on, and the saucepans to be washed out, the bacon and the dainties to be made warm in the heated cooking-stoves, another one, too, to go purchase the fish?

HEGIO

This fellow's dreaming while awake.

ERGASILUS

Another to buy pork, and lamb, and pullets.

HEGIO

You understand how to feed well, if you had the means.

ERGASILUS

Gammons of bacon, too, and lampreys, spring pickled tunny-fish, mackerel, and sting-ray; large fish, too, and soft cheese.

HEGIO

You will have more opportunity, Ergasilus, here at my house, of talking about these things than of eating them.

ERGASILUS

Do you suppose that I'm saying this on my own account?

HEGIO

You will neither be eating nothing here to-day, nor yet much more than usual, so don't you be mistaken. Do you then bring an appetite to my house for your every-day fare.

ERGASILUS

Why, I'll so manage it, that you yourself shall wish to be profuse, though I myself should desire you not.

HEA.

What, I?

ERGASILUS

Yes, you.

HEGIO

Then you are my master.

ERGASILUS

Yes, and a kindly disposed one. Do you wish me to make you happy?

HEGIO

Certainly I would, rather than miserable.

ERGASILUS

Give me your hand.

HEGIO

extending his hand . Here is my hand.

ERGASILUS

All the Gods are blessing you.

HEGIO

I don't feel it so.

ERGASILUS

Why, you are not in a quickset hedge, therefore you don't feel it; but order the vessels, in a clean state, to be got for you forthwith in readiness for the sacrifice, and one lamb to be brought here with all haste, a fat one.

HEGIO

Why?

ERGASILUS

That you may offer sacrifice

HEGIO

To which one of the Gods?

ERGASILUS

To myself, i' faith, for now am I your supreme Jupiter. I likewise am your salvation, your fortune, your life, your delight, your joy. Do you at once, then, make this Divinity propitious to you by cramming him.

HEGIO

You seem to me to be hungry.

ERGASILUS

For myself am I hungry, and not for you.

HEGIO

I readily allow of it at your own good will.

ERGASILUS

I believe you; from a boy you were in the habit —

HEGIO

May Jupiter and the Gods confound you.

ERGASILUS

I' troth, 'tis fair that for my news you should return me thanks; such great happiness do I now bring you from the harbour.

HEGIO

Now you are flattering me. Begone, you simpleton; you have arrived behind time, too late.

ERGASILUS

If I had come sooner, then for that reason you might rather have said that. Now, receive this joyous news of me which I bring you; for at the harbour I just now saw your son Philopolemus in the common fly-boat, alive, safe and sound, and likewise there that other young man together with him, and Stalagmus your slave, who fled from your house, who stole from you your little son, the child of four years old.

HEGIO

Away with you to utter perdition! You are trifling with me.

ERGASILUS

So may holy Gluttony love me, Hegio, and so may she ever dignify me with her name, I did see ——

HEGIO

My son?

ERGASILUS

Your son, and my good Genius.

HEGIO

That Elean captive, too?

ERGASILUS

Yes, by Apollo

HEGIO

The slave, too? My slave Stalagmus, he that stole my son —— ?

ERGASILUS

Yes, by Cora.

HEGIO

So long a time ago?

ERGASILUS

Yes, by Præneste!

HEGIO

Is he arrived?

ERGASILUS

Yes, by Signia!

HEGIO

For sure?

ERGASILUS

Yes, by Phrysinone!

HEGIO

Have a care, if you please.

ERGASILUS

Yes, by Alatrium!

HEGIO

Why are you swearing by foreign cities?

ERGASILUS

Why, because they are just as disagreeable as you were declaring your fare to be.

HEGIO

Woe be to you!

ERGASILUS

Because that you don't believe me at all in what I say in sober earnestness. But of what country was Stalagmus, at the time when he departed hence?

HEGIO

A Sicilian.

ERGASILUS

But now he is not a Sicilian — he is a Boian; he has got a Boian woman. A wife, I suppose, has been given to him for the sake of obtaining children.

HEGIO

Tell me, have you said these words to me in good earnest?

ERGASILUS

In good earnest.

HEGIO

Immortal Gods, I seem to be born again, if you are telling the truth.

ERGASILUS

Do you say so? Will you still entertain doubts, when I have solemnly sworn to you? In fine, Hegio, if you have little confidence in my oath, go yourself to the harbour and see.

HEGIO

I'm determined to do so. Do you arrange in-doors what's requisite. Use, ask for, take from my larder what you like; I appoint you cellarman.

ERGASILUS

Now, by my troth, if I have not prophesied truly to you, do you comb me out with a cudgel.

HEGIO

I'll find you in victuals to the end, if you are telling me the truth.

ERGASILUS

Whence shall it be?

HEGIO

From myself and from my son.

ERGASILUS

Do you promise that?

HEGIO

I do promise it.

ERGASILUS

But I, in return, promise you that your son has arrived.

HEGIO

Manage as well as ever you can.

ERGASILUS

A happy walk there to you, and a happy walk back. (Exit HEGIO.)

ERGASILUS, alone

ERGASILUS

He has gone away from here, and has entrusted to me the most important concern of catering. Immortal Gods how I shall now be slicing necks off of sides; how vast a downfall will befall the gammon; how vast a belabouring the bacon! How great a using-up of udders, how vast a bewailing for the brawn! How great a bestirring for the butchers, how great a preparation for the porksellers! But if I were to enumerate the rest of the things which minister to the supply of the stomach, 'twould be sheer delay. Now will I go off to my government, to give laws to the bacon, and, those gammons that are hanging uncondemned, to give aid to them. Goes into the house.

Enter a LAD, a servant of HEGIO.

A LAD

May Jupiter and the Deities confound you, Ergasilus, and your stomach, and all Parasites, and every one who henceforth shall give a dinner to Parasites. Destruction and devastation and ruin have just now entered our house. I was afraid that he would be making an attack on me, as though he had been an hungry wolf. And very dreadfully, upon my faith, was I frightened at him; he made such a gnashing with his teeth. On his arrival, the whole larder, with the meat, he turned upside down. He seized a knife, and first cut off the kernels of the neck from three sides. All the pots and cups he broke, except those that held a couple of gallons; of the cook he made enquiry whether the salting pans could be set on the fire to be made hot. All the cellars in the house he has broken into, and has laid the store-closet open. At the door. Watch him, servants, if you please;

I'll go to meet the old gentleman. I'll tell him to get ready some provisions for his own self, if, indeed, he wishes himself to make use of any. For in this place, as this man, indeed, is managing, either there's nothing already, or very soon there will be nothing. (Exit.)

ACT V.

Enter HEGIO, PHILOPOLEMUS, PHILOCRATES, and behind them, STALAGMUS.

HEGIO

To Jove and to the Deities I return with reason hearty thanks, inasmuch as they have restored you to your father, and inasmuch as they have delivered me from very many afflictions, which, while I was obliged to be here without you, I was enduring, and inasmuch as I see that that fellow pointing to STALAGMUS is in my power, and inasmuch as his word pointing to PHILOCRATES has been found true to me.

PHILOPOLEMUS

Enough now have I grieved from my very soul, and enough with care and tears have I disquieted myself. Enough now have I heard of your woes, which at the harbour you told me of. Let us now to this business.

PHILOCRATES

What now, since I've kept my word with you, and have caused him to be restored back again to freedom?

HEGIO

Philocrates, you have acted so that I can never return you thanks enough, in the degree that you merit from myself and my son.

PHILOPOLEMUS

Nay, but you can, father, and you will be able, and I shall be able; and the Divinities will give the means for you to return the kindness he merits to one who deserves so highly of us; as, my father, you are able to do to this person who so especially deserves it.

HEGIO

What need is there of words? I have no tongue with which to deny whatever you may ask of me.

PHILOCRATES

I ask of you to restore to me that servant whom I left here as a surety for myself; who has always proved more faithful to me than to himself; in order that for his services I may be enabled to give him a reward.

HEGIO

Because you have acted thus kindly, the favour shall be returned, the thing that you ask; both that and anything else that you shall ask of me, you shall obtain. And I would not have you blame me, because in my anger I have treated him harshly.

PHILOCRATES

What have you done?

HEGIO

I confined him in fetters at the stone-quarries, when I found out that I had been imposed upon.

PHILOCRATES

Ah wretched me! That for my safety misfortunes should have happened to that best of men.

HEGIO

Now, on this account, you need not give me even one groat of silver for him. Receive him of me without cost that he may be free.

PHILOCRATES

On my word, Hegio, you act with kindness; but I entreat that you will order this man to be sent for.

HEGIO

Certainly. To the attendants, who immediately obey. Where are you? Go this instant, and bring Tyndarus here. To PHILOPOLEMUS and PHILOCRATES. Do you go in-doors; in the meantime, I wish to enquire of this statue for whipping, what was done with my younger son. Do you go bathe in the meantime.

PHILOPOLEMUS

Philocrates, follow me this way in-doors.

PHILOCRATES

I follow you. They go into the house.

HEGIO and STALAGMUS.

HEGIO

Come you, step this way, you worthy fellow, my fine slave.

STALAGMUS

What is fitting for me to do, when you, such a man as you are, are speaking false? I was never a handsome, or a fine, or a good person, or an honest one, nor shall I ever be; assuredly, don't you be forming any hopes that I shall be honest.

HEGIO

You easily understand pretty well in what situation your fortunes are. If you shall prove truth-telling, you'll make your lot from bad somewhat better. Speak out, then, correctly and truthfully; but never yet truthfully or correctly have you acted.

STALAGMUS

Do you think that I'm ashamed to own it, when you affirm it?

HEGIO

But I'll make you to be ashamed; for I'll cause you to be blushes all over.

STALAGMUS

Heyday-you're threatening stripes, I suppose, to me, quite unaccustomed to them! Away with them, I beg. Tell me what you bring, that you may carry off hence what you are in want of.

HEGIO

Very fluent indeed. But now I wish this prating to be cut short.

HEGIO

As you desire, so be it done.

HEGIO

to the AUDIENCE . As a boy he was very obedient; now that suits him not. Let's to this business; now give your attention, and inform me upon what I ask. If you tell the truth, you'll make your fortunes somewhat better.

STALAGMUS

That's mere trifling. Don't you think that I know what I'm deserving of?

HEGIO

Still, it is in your power to escape a small portion of it, if not the whole.

STALAGMUS

A small portion I shall escape, I know; but much will befall me, and with my deserving it, because I both ran away, and stole your son and sold him.

HEGIO

To what person?

STALAGMUS

To Theodoromedes the Polyplusian, in Elis, for six minæ.

HEGIO

O ye immortal Gods! He surely is the father of this person, Philocrates.

STALAGMUS

Why, I know him better than yourself, and have seen him more times.

HEGIO

Supreme Jove, preserve both myself and my son for me. He goes to the door, and calls aloud. Philocrates, by your good Genius, I do entreat you, come out, I want you.

Enter PHILOCRATES, from the house

PHILOCRATES

Hegio, here am I; if you want anything of me, command me.

HEGIO

He pointing to STALAGMUS declares that he sold my son to your father, in Elis, for six minæ.

PHILOCRATES

to STALAGMUS . How long since did that happen?

STALAGMUS

This is the twentieth year, commencing from it.

PHILOCRATES

He is speaking falsely.

STALAGMUS

Either I or you do. Why, your father gave you the little child, of four years old, to be your own slave.

PHILOCRATES

What was his name? If you are speaking the truth, tell me that, then.

STALAGMUS

Pægnium, he used to be called; afterwards, you gave him the name of Tyndarus.

PHILOCRATES

Why don't I recollect you?

STALAGMUS

Because it's the fashion for persons to forget, and not to know him whose favour is esteemed as worth nothing.

PHILOCRATES

Tell me, was he the person whom you sold to my father, who was given me for my private service?

STALAGMUS

It was his son pointing to HEGIO .

HEGIO

Is this person now living?

STALAGMUS

I received the money I cared nothing about the rest.

HEGIO

to PHILOCRATES . What do you say?

PHILOCRATES

Why, this very Tyndarus is your son, according, indeed, to the proofs that he mentions. For, a boy himself together with me from boyhood was he brought up, virtuously and modestly, even to manhood.

HEGIO

I am both unhappy and happy, if you are telling the truth. Unhappy for this reason, because, if he is my son, I have badly treated him. Alas! why have I done both more and less than was his due. That I have ill treated him I am grieved; would that it only could be undone. But see, he's coming here, in a guise not according to his deserts.

Enter TYNDARUS, in chains, led in by the SERVANTS.

TYNDARUS

to himself . I have seen many of the torments which take place at Acheron often represented in paintings; but most certainly there is no Acheron equal to where I have been in the stone-quarries. There, in fine, is the place where real lassitude must be undergone by the body in laboriousness. For when I came there, just as either jackdaws, or ducks, or quails, are given to Patrician children, for them to play with, so in like fashion, when I arrived, a crow was given me with which to amuse myself. But see, my master's before the door; and lo! my other master has returned from Elis.

HEGIO

Hail to you, my much wished-for son.

TYNDARUS

Ha! how — my son? Aye, aye, I know why you pretend yourself to be the father, and me to be the son; it is because, just as parents do, you give me the means of seeing the light.

PHILOCRATES

Hail to you, Tyndarus.

TYNDARUS

And to you, for whose sake I am enduring these miseries.

PHILOCRATES

But now I'll make you in freedom come to wealth. For pointing to HEGIO this is your father; pointing to STALAGMUS that is the slave who stole you away from here when four years old, and sold you to my father for six minæ. He gave you, when a little child, to me a little child for my own service. He pointing to STALAGMUS has made a confession, for we have brought him back from Elis.

TYNDARUS

How, where's Hegio's son?

PHILOCRATES

Look now; indoors is your own brother.

TYNDARUS

How do you say? Have you brought that captive son of his?

PHILOCRATES

Why, he's in-doors, I say.

TYNDARUS

By my faith, you've done both well and happily.

PHILOCRATES

pointing to HEGIO . Now this is your own father; pointing to STALAGMUS this is the thief who stole you when a little child.

TYNDARUS

But now, grown up, I shall give him grown up to the executioner for his thieving.

PHILOCRATES

He deserves it.

TYNDARUS

I' faith, I'll deservedly give him the reward that he deserves. To HEGIO. But tell me I pray you, are you my father?

HEGIO

I am he, my son.

TYNDARUS

Now, at length, I bring it to my recollection, when I reconsider with myself: troth, I do now at last recall to memory that I had heard, as though through a mist, that my father was called Hegio.

HEGIO

I am he.

PHILOCRATES

I pray that your son may be lightened of these fetters, and this slave be loaded with them.

HEGIO

I'm resolved that that shall be the first thing attended to. Let's go in-doors, that the blacksmith may be sent for, in order that I may remove those fetters from you, and give them to him. They go into the house.

STALAGMUS

To one who has no savings of his own, you'll be rightly doing so.
coming forward.

Spectators, this play is founded on chaste manners. No wenching is there in this, and no intriguing, no exposure of a child, no cheating out of money; and no young man in love here make his mistress free without his father's knowledge. The Poets find but few Comedies of this kind, where good men might become better. Now, if it pleases you, and if we have pleased you, and have not been tedious, do you give this sign of it: you who wish that chaste manners should have their reward, give us your applause.

CASINA

Translated by Henry Thomas Riley

The play takes place on the streets of Athens and revolves around the beautiful girl, Casina, who is being fought over by two men. In her infancy, she was abandoned at the door of Lysidamus and his wife Cleostrata, and has been raised as a servant. Euthynicus, son of Lysidamus, has fallen in love with Casina and wants to marry her. As the wedding approaches, however, Lysidamus desires Casina for himself, and devises an elaborate ruse to remove Euthynicus to the country and have Casina marry his servant Olympio instead. Lysidamus would then be able to have sex with Casina whenever he wanted, and she would be the wife of his servant in name only: she would in effect become his concubine, without his own wife Cleostrata finding out. Cleostrata opposes his plan and wants Casina to marry her slave Chalinus, who would stand in for Euthynicus until his return from the country.

THE SUBJECT.

A SERVANT, having obtained from a woman a female infant which was about to be exposed, brings it to his mistress, Cleostrata, who brings it up with the greatest care. The child is called Casina; and when she grows up, both Stalino, the husband, and Euthynicus, the son of Cleostrata, fall in love with her. Cleostrata, being aware of this, and favouring the passion of Euthynicus, is desirous to give Casina in marriage to Chalinus, his armour-bearer, as a covert method of putting her in the power of Euthynicus. On the other hand, Stalino wishes her to be married to Olympio, the bailiff of his farm, as a means of getting her into his own possession. It is at last arranged that the matter shall be decided by lot, which being drawn, Olympio is the winner. Cleostrata then resorts to a stratagem to defeat her husband's plan. With the assistance of Myrrhina and her own female servants, she dresses up Chalinus to represent Casina, who is taken by the bridegroom Olympio to a house in the vicinity, which has been secretly engaged by Stalino. The Play concludes with Olympio and Stalino rushing out of the house in dismay, after having been soundly beaten by Chalinus. Stalino implores pardon of his wife, which, at the intercession of Myrrhina, is granted. It is then discovered that Casina is really the daughter of Alcesimus, and the Audience is informed that she is to be given in marriage to Euthynicus.

THE ACROSTIC ARGUMENT.

[Supposed to have been written by Priscian the Grammarian.]

Two fellow-servants seek their fellow-servant (Conservam) as a wife; the old man prompts the one (Alium), his son the other. A decision by lot (Sors) favours the old man; but he is deceived by a stratagem; and so (Ita) for him, in place of the damsel, a rascally (Nequam) servant is substituted, who thrashes his master and the bailiff. The young man (Adolescens) marries Casina, when known to be a citizen.

THE PROLOGUE

The Prologue: This Prologue appears to have been written many years after the death of the author, and indeed bears internal marks of having been composed at a period nearer to the Augustan age than the time of Plautus. Judging, however, from the fourteenth line, there were, at the time when it was written, some persons still surviving who had been present at the original representation of the Play.

I bid you, most worthy Spectators, welcome; who most highly esteem the Goddess Faith, and Faith esteems you. If I have said the truth, then give me loud applause, that even now, from the very beginning forward, I may know that you are favourably disposed towards me. Those who make use of aged wine, I deem to be wise; and those as well, who, through choice, are the spectators of ancient Plays. Since antique works and words are pleasing to you, 'tis just that ancient Plays should in preference please you; for the new Comedies which come out now-a-days are much more worthless than the new-coined money. We, since we have heard the report in public, that you ardently wish for the Plays of Plautus, have brought forward this ancient Comedy of his, which you, who are among the older ones, have formerly approved. But I am aware that those who are among the younger ones are not acquainted with it; still, that they may make acquaintance with it, we will carefully use our best endeavours. When this was first represented, it surpassed all other Plays. In those days there was the very felite of the poets, who have now departed hence to the place common to all. But though departed, yet do they prove of advantage to those who are still existing. All of you, with the greatest earnestness, I would have entreated that you'll kindly lend attention to this our company. Dismiss from your thoughts cares and monies due; let no man stand in dread of his duns. 'Tis a holiday this — to the bankers a holiday has been given. 'Tis now a calm; about the Forum these are Halcyon days. Reasonably do they act: during the games they ask no man for money; but during the games to no one do they pay. If your ears are disengaged, give me your attention; I wish to mention to you the name of the Play. "Clerumenæ" this Comedy is called in Greek; in Latin, "Sortientes."

Diphilus wrote it in Greek, and after that, over again, Plautus with the barking name in Latin afresh. Pointing to the house of STALINO. An old married man is living here; he has a son; he, with his father, is dwelling in this house. He has a certain slave, who with disease is confined — aye, faith, to his bed, he really is, that I may tell no lie. But sixteen years ago, it happened that on a time this servant, at early dawn, beheld a female child being exposed. He went at once to the woman who was exposing it, and begged her to give it to himself. He gained his request: he took it away, and carried it straight home. He gave it to his mistress, and entreated her to take care of it, and bring it up. His mistress did so; with great care she brought it up, as though it had been her own daughter, not much different. Since then she has grown up to that age to be able to prove an attraction to the men; but this old gentleman loves this girl distractedly, and, on the other hand, so does his son as well. Each of them now, on either side, is preparing his legions, both father and son, each unknown to the other. The father has deputed his bailiff to ask her as his wife; he hopes that, if she's given to him, an attraction out of doors will be, unknown to his wife, provided for him. But the son has deputed his armour-bearer to ask her for himself as a wife. He knows that if he gains that request, there will be an object for him to love, within his abode. The wife of the old gentleman has found out that he is gratifying his amorousness; for that reason, she is making common cause together with her son. But this father, when he found out that his son was in love with this same woman, and was a hindrance to him, sent the young man hence upon business abroad. His mother, understanding this, still lends him, though absent, her assistance. Don't you expect it; he will not, in this Play, to-day, return to the city. Plautus did not choose it: he broke down the bridge that lay before him in the way. There are some here, who, I fancy, are now saying among themselves, "Prithee, what means this, i' faith? — the marriage of a slave Are slaves to be marrying wives, or asking them for themselves? They've introduced something new — a thing that's done nowhere in the world." But I affirm that this is done in Greece, and at Carthage, and here in our own country, and in the Apulian country; and that the marriages of slaves are wont to be solemnized there with more fuss than even those of free persons. If this is not the fact, if any one pleases, let him bet with me a stake towards a jug of honied wine, so long as a Carthaginian is the umpire in my cause, or a Greek in fact, or an Apulian. A pause. What now? You don't take it? No one's thirsty, I find. I'll return to that foundling girl, whom the two slaves are, with all their might, contending for as a wife. She'll be found to be both chaste and free, of freeborn parents, an Athenian girl, and assuredly of no immodesty at all will she be guilty in this Comedy at least. But i' faith, for sure, directly afterwards, when the Play is over, if any one offers the money, as I guess, she'll readily enter into matrimony with him, and not wait for good omens. Thus much I have to say. Farewell; be prosperous in your affairs, and conquer by true valour, as hitherto you've done.

ACT I.

Enter OLYMPIO, CHALINUS following him.

OLYMPIO

Isn't it to be allowed me for myself to speak and think about my own affairs by myself, just as I choose, without you as an overlooker? Why the plague are you following me about?

CHALINUS

Because I'm resolved, just like your shadow, wherever you go, to follow you about. Why troth, even if you are ready to go to the cross, I'm determined to follow you. Hence judge of the sequel, whether you can or not, by your artifices, silyly deprive me of Casina for a wife, just as you are attempting.

OLYMPIO

What business have you with me?

CHALINUS

What say you, impudence? Why are you creeping about in the city, you bailiff, so very valuable in this place?

OLYMPIO

Because I choose.

CHALINUS

But why ain't you in the country, at your post of command? Why don't you rather pay attention to the business that has been entrusted to you, and keep yourself from meddling in city matters? Have you come hither to deprive me of my betrothed? Be off to the country — be off to your place of command, and be hanged to you.

OLYMPIO

Chalinus, I have not forgotten my duty. I've given charge to one who will still take care that all's right in the country. When I've got that for which I came hither to the city, to take her as my wife whom you are dying for — the fair and charming Casina, your fellow-servant — when I've carried her off with myself into the country as my wife, I'll then stick fast in the country, at my post of command.

CHALINUS

What, you marry her? By my faith, 'twere better I should die by a halter, than that you should be the winner of her.

OLYMPPIO

She's my prize; do you put yourself in a halter at once.

CHALINUS

Fellow, dug up from your own dunghill, is she to be your prize?

OLYMPPIO

You'll find that such is the fact. Woe be unto you! in what a many ways, if I only live, I'll have you tormented at my wedding!

CHALINUS

What will you do to me?

OLYMPPIO

What will I do to you? In the first place of all, you shall hold the lighted torch for this new-made bride of nine; that always, in future, you may be worthless, and not esteemed. Then next after that, when you get to the country-house, a single pitcher shall be found you, and a single path, a single spring, a single brass cauldron, and eight casks; and unless these shall be always kept filled, I'll load you with lashes. I'll make you so thoroughly bent with carrying water, that a horse's crupper might be manufactured out of you. And then, in future, unless in the country you either feed on pulse, or, like a worm, upon the soil, should you require to taste of any better food, never, upon my faith, is hunger as full of hungriness as I'll make you to be in the country. After that, when you're tired out, and starved with famine, care shall be taken that, at night, you go to bed as you deserve.

CHALINUS

What will you do?

OLYMPPIO

You shall be shut up fast in a nook with bars, where you can listen while I'm caressing her, while she is saying to me, "My soul, my own Olympio, my life, my sweet, my delight, do let me kiss your dear eyes, my love! do, there's a dear, let yourself be loved! my own day of happiness, my sparrow-chick, my own dove, my leveret!" When these expressions shall be being uttered to me, then will you, you villain, be wriggling about like a mouse in the middle of the wall. Now, that you mayn't be trying to give me an answer, I'll off in-doors; I'm tired of your talk. Goes into the house of STALINO.

CHALINUS

I'll follow you. Here, indeed, on my word, assuredly you shall do nothing without me for an overlooker. Follows him into the house.

ACT II.

Enter CLEOSTRATA and PARDALISCA, from the house of STALINO.

CLEOSTRATA

at the door, to the SERVANTS, within . Seal fast the store-rooms, bring back the signet to me. I'm going here to my next door neighbour; if my husband wants me for anything, take care and send for me thence.

PARDALISCA

The old gentleman ordered a breakfast to be got ready for him to-day.

CLEOSTRATA

Tut! Hold your tongue, and be off. PARDALISCA goes into the house. I don't prepare it, and it shan't be cooked; since he sets himself against myself and his son, for the sake of his passion and his appetite. A disgraceful fellow that! I'll punish this lover with hunger, I'll punish him with thirst, with abuse, with hardships. By my faith, I'll thoroughly worry him with disagreeable speeches; I'll make him to pass a life in future just as he deserves — fit food for Acheron, a hunter after iniquity, a stable of infamy! Now I'll away hence to my neighbours, to lament my lot. But the door makes a noise; and see, she's coming out of doors herself. On my word, I've not started for my call at a convenient time.

Enter MYRRHINA, from the house of ALCESIMUS.

MYRRHINA

to her SERVANTS, at the door . Follow me, my attendants, here next door. You there! Does any one hear this that I say? I shall be here, if my husband or any person shall seek me. Did I order my distaff to be taken there? For when I'm at home alone, drowsiness takes effect upon my hand.

CLEOSTRATA

Myrrhina, good morrow.

MYRRHINA

Good morrow, my dear Cleostrata. But, prithee, why are you sad?

CLEOSTRATA

So all are wont to be who are unfortunately married; at home and abroad, there's always enough to make them sad. But I was going to your house.

MYRRHINA

And, troth, I was coming here to yours. But what is it that now distresses your mind? For the thing that distresses you, that same is a trouble to me.

CLEOSTRATA

On my word, I do believe you. For with good reason no female neighbour of mine do I love better than yourself, nor any one with whom I have more ties of intimacy, to afford me pleasure.

MYRRHINA

I thank you kindly, and I long to know what this is.

CLEOSTRATA

My husband has put slights upon me in a most unworthy manner.

MYRRHINA

Hah! What is it? Prithee, repeat that same again; for, on my word, I don't in my mind sufficiently comprehend your complaints.

CLEOSTRATA

My husband has put slights upon me in a most unworthy manner, and I have not the advantage of enjoying my own rights.

MYRRHINA

'Tis surprising, if you say the truth; for husbands can scarce obtain from their wives what's their own right.

CLEOSTRATA

Why, against my will, he demands a female servant of me, who belongs to myself, and was brought up at my own expense, for him to give to his bailiff. But he is in love with her himself.

MYRRHINA

Pray, do hold your tongue.

CLEOSTRATA

looking round . But here we may speak at present; we are alone ——

MYRRHINA

It is so. But whence did you get her? For a good wife ought to have no property unknown to her husband; and she who has got any, it is not to her credit, for she must either have purloined it from her husband, or obtained it by unfaithfulness. Whatever is your own, all that I take to be your husband's.

CLEOSTRATA

Surely, you're saying all this out of opposition to your friend.

MYRRHINA

Do hold your tongue, will you, simpleton, and attend to me. Do you forbear to oppose him, will you. Let him love on; that which he chooses let him do, so long as nothing's denied you at home.

CLEOSTRATA

Are you quite in your senses? For really, you are saying these things against your own interest.

MYRRHINA

Silly creature, do you always take care and be on guard against this expression from your husband ——

CLEOSTRATA

What expression?

MYRRHINA

“Woman! out of doors with you!”

CLEOSTRATA

in a low voice . ‘St! be quiet.

MYRRHINA

What’s the matter?

CLEOSTRATA

Hush! Looks in a particular direction.

MYRRHINA

Who is it that you see?

CLEOSTRATA

Why look, my husband’s coming; go you in-doors. Make all haste; be off, there’s a dear.

MYRRHINA

You easily prevail; I’m off.

CLEOSTRATA

At a future time, when you and I shall have more leisure, then I’ll talk to you. For the present, adieu!

MYRRHINA

Adieu! Goes into her house. CLEOSTRATA stands aside.

Enter STALINO.

STALINO

to himself . I do believe that love excels all things and delights that are exquisite. It is not possible for anything to be mentioned, that has more relish and more that’s delicious in it. Really, I do much wonder at the cooks, who employ sauces so many, that they don’t employ this one seasoning, which excels them all. For where love shall be the seasoning, that I do believe will please every one; nor can there be anything relishing or sweet, where love is not mixed with it. The gall which is bitter, that same it will make into honey; a man from morose into one cheerful and pleasant. This conjecture do I form rather from myself at home than from anything I've heard; who, since I've been in love with Casina, more than in my young days have excelled Neatness herself in neatness; I give employment to all the perfumers; wherever an unguent is excellent, I perfume myself, that I may please her. And I do please her, as I think. But inasmuch as she keeps living on, my wife's a torment. Catches sight of his WIFE, and speaks in a low voice. I espy her standing there in gloominess. This plaguy baggage must be addressed by me with civility. Going towards her. My own wife and my delight, what are you about? Takes hold of her.

CLEOSTRATA

shaking him of. Get you gone, and keep your hand off!

STALINO

O fie! my Juno. You shouldn't be so cross to your own Jupiter. Where art come now?

CLEOSTRATA

Let me alone. Moves as if going.

STALINO

Do stay.

CLEOSTRATA

still going. I shan't stay.

STALINO

I' troth, then I'll follow you. Follows her.

CLEOSTRATA

turning round. Prithee, are you in your senses?

STALINO

In my senses, inasmuch as I love you.

CLEOSTRATA

I don't want you to love me.

STALINO

You can't have your way there.

CLEOSTRATA

You plague me to death.

STALINO

I only wish you spoke the truth.

CLEOSTRATA

There I believe you. Moves on.

STALINO

Do look back, O my sweet one.

CLEOSTRATA

About as much, I suppose, as you are to me. Whence is this strong smell of perfumes, prithee?

STALINO

aside . O dear, I'm undone; to my misfortune, I'm caught in the fact. Why delay to rub it off my head with my cloak? Rubs his head with his cloak. May good Mercury confound you, you perfumer, who provided me with this.

CLEOSTRATA

How now, you worthless grey gnat! I can hardly restrain myself from saying what you deserve. In your old age, good-for-nothing, are you walking along the streets reeking with perfumes?

STALINO

I' faith, I lent my company to a certain friend of mine, while he was purchasing some perfumes.

CLEOSTRATA

How readily he did trump that up. Are you ashamed of anything?

STALINO

Of everything that you like.

CLEOSTRATA

In what dens of iniquity have you been lying?

STALINO

with an air of surprise . I, in dens of iniquity?

CLEOSTRATA

I know more than you think I do.

STALINO

What is it that you know?

CLEOSTRATA

That not one among all the old men is more worthless than yourself, an old man. Whence come you, good-for-nothing? Where have you been? In what den amusing yourself? Where have you been drinking? You are come, on my word; look at his cloak, how it's creased. Points at it.

STALINO

May the Gods confound both me and yourself, if I this day have put a drop of wine into my mouth.

CLEOSTRATA

Very well then; just as you like: drink, eat, and squander away your property!

STALINO

Hold, wife; there's now enough of it; you din me too much. Do leave a little of your talk, that you may wrangle with me to-morrow. But what say you? Have you by this time subdued your temper, so as to do that in preference which your husband wishes to be done, rather than strive against him?

CLEOSTRATA

About what matter are you speaking?

STALINO

Do you ask me? About the handmaid Casina — that she may be given in marriage to our bailiff, an honest servant, where she'll be well off, in wood, warm water, food, and clothing, and where she may properly bring up the children which she may have, in preference to that rascally servant of an armour-bearer, a good-for-nothing and dishonest, a fellow that hasn't this day a leaden dump of money his own.

CLEOSTRATA

Upon my faith, I am surprised that in your old age you do not remember your duty.

STALINO

How so?

CLEOSTRATA

Because if you were to act rightly or becomingly, you'd let me manage the maid-servants, which is my own province.

STALINO

Why the plague do you wish to give her to a fellow that carries a shield?

CLEOSTRATA

Because it's our duty to gratify our only son.

STALINO

But although he is an only one, not a bit the more is he my only son than I am his only father. It's more becoming for him to conform to me, than for me to him.

CLEOSTRATA

By my troth, sir, you're providing for yourself a serious piece of trouble.

STALINO

aside . She suspects it, I find that. To his wife. What, I, do you mean?

CLEOSTRATA

You; but why do. you stammer so?> Why do you wish for this with such anxiety?

STALINO

Why, that she may rather be given to a servant that's honest, than to a servant that's dishonest.

CLEOSTRATA

What if I prevail upon, and obtain of the bailiff, that for my sake he'll give her up to the other one?

STALINO

But what if I prevail upon the armour-bearer to give her up to the other one? And I think that I can prevail upon him in this.

CLEOSTRATA

That's agreed upon. Should you like that, in your name, I should call Chalinus hither out of doors? Do you beg of him, and I'll beg of the bailiff.

STALINO

I'm quite willing.

CLEOSTRATA

He'll be here just now. Now we'll make trial which of us two is the most persuasive. She goes into the house.

STALINO

to himself . May Hercules and the Gods confound her! — a thing that now I'm at liberty to say. I'm wretchedly distracted with love; but she, as though on purpose, thwarts me. My wife has some suspicion now of this that I'm planning; for that reason is she purposely lending her assistance to the armour-bearer.

Enter CHALINUS, from the house.

STALINO

aside, on seeing him . May all the Gods and Goddesses confound him!

CHALINUS

addressing him . Your wife said that you were calling me.

STALINO

Why yes, I did order you to be sent for.

CHALINUS

Tell me what you want.

STALINO

In the first place, I want you to speak to me with a more cheerful countenance.

CHALINUS

It would be folly for me to be morose toward you whose rule is the strongest.

STALINO

Indeed! I consider you to be an honest fellow.

CHALINUS

So I find. But if you think so, why don't you give me my freedom?

STALINO

Why so I wish to do; but it's of no use for me to wish a thing to be done, unless you aid me with your actions.

CHALINUS

What you wish, I only wish myself to be acquainted with it.

STALINO

Listen then; I'll tell you. I've promised to give Casina as a wife to our bailiff.

CHALINUS

But your wife and your son have promised her to me.

STALINO

I know it; but whether now would you prefer yourself to be single and a free man, or, as a married man, to pass your lives, yourself and your children, in slavery? This choice is your own: whichever condition of these two you prefer, take it.

CHALINUS

If I am free, I live at my own cost; at present I live at yours. As to Casina, I'm resolved to give way to no born man.

STALINO

Go in-doors, and at once be quick and call my wife here, out of doors; and bring hither together with you an urn, with some water, and the lots.

CHALINUS

I'm quite agreeable.

STALINO

I' faith, in some way or other I'll now ward off this weapon of yours; for if, as it is, I shall not be able to prevail by persuasion, at least I'll try it by lot. There I shall take vengeance upon you and your abettors.

CHALINUS

Still, for all that the lot will fall to me ——

STALINO

Aye, faith, for you to go to perdition with direful torments.

CHALINUS

She shall marry me, contrive what you will, in any way you please.

STALINO

Won't you away hence from my sight?

CHALINUS

Unwillingly you look upon me, still I shall live on. Goes into the house.

STALINO

to himself . Am I not a wretched man? Don't all things go quite contrary with me? I'm now afraid that my wife will prevail upon Olympio not to marry Casina. If that's done, why look, it's all over with me in my old age! If she does not prevail, there is still some tiny hope in the lots. But if the lots fail me, I'll make a pillow of a sword, and lay me down upon it. But see, most opportunely Olympio's coming out of doors.

Enter OLYMPIO, from the house, speaking to CLEOSTRATA, within.

OLYMPIO

By my faith, all in an instant shut me up in a hot furnace, and parch me there for a hard-baked biscuit, good mistress, before you shall gain that point of me which you desire.

STALINO

apart . I'm all right. My hope's realized, according as I hear his words.

OLYMPIO

at the door, to his MISTRESS, within . But why do you frighten me about liberty? Why, even though you should oppose it, and your son as well, against your wills and in spite of you both, for a single penny I can become free.

STALINO stepping forward . What's this? Who are you wrangling with, Olympio?

OLYMPIO

With the same person that you always are.

STALINO

What, with my wife?

OLYMPPIO

What wife are you speaking of to me? Really you are a hunter, as it were: your nights and days you pass with a female cur.

STALINO

What does she say? What's she talking to you about?

OLYMPPIO

She's begging and entreating of me that I won't be taking Casina as my wife.

STALINO

What did you say after that?

OLYMPPIO

Why, I declared that I wouldn't give way to Jupiter himself, if he were to entreat me.

STALINO

May the Gods preserve you for me!

OLYMPPIO

She's now all in a ferment; she's swelling so against me.

STALINO

By my troth, I could like her to burst in the middle.

OLYMPPIO

I' faith, I fancy she will, if indeed you manage cleverly. But your amorousness, i' faith, is a cause of trouble to me; your wife is at enmity with me, your son at enmity, my fellow-servants at enmity.

STALINO

What matters that to you? So long as pointing to himself this Jupiter only is propitious to you, do you take care and esteem the lesser Gods at a straw's value.

OLYMPPIO

That's great nonsense; as if you didn't know how suddenly your human Jupiters take to dying. So after all, if you, my Jupiter, are dead and gone, when your realm devolves upon the lesser Gods, who shall then come to the rescue of my back, or head, or legs?

STALINO

Affairs will go with you better than you expect, if I obtain this — the enjoyment of my Casina.

OLYMPPIO

I' faith, I do not think it possibly can be; so earnestly is your wife striving that she shall not be given to me.

STALINO

But this way I'll proceed: I'll put the lots in an urn, and draw the lots for yourself and Chalinus. I find that the business has come to this pass; it's necessary to fight with swords hand to hand.

OLYMPPIO

What, if the lot should turn out different from what you wish?

STALINO

Speak with good omen. I rely upon the Gods; we'll trust in the Gods.

OLYMPPIO

That expression I wouldn't purchase at a rotten thread, for all people are relying upon the Gods; but still I've frequently seen many of those deceived who relied upon the Gods.

STALINO

But hold your tongue a little while. Pointing.

OLYMPPIO

What is it you mean?

STALINO

Why look; here's Chalinus coming from the house, out here, with the urn and the lots. Now, with standards closing, we shall fight.

Enter CLEOSTRATA and CHALINUS, with the urn and lots.

CLEOSTRATA

Let me know, Chalinus, what my husband wants with me.

CHALINUS

By my troth, he wants to see you burning outside of the Metian gate.

CLEOSTRATA

I' faith, I believe he does want that.

CHALINUS

But, by my troth, I don't believe it, but I know it for certain.

STALINO

aside to OLYMPIO . I've got more men of business than I imagined: I've got this fellow, a Diviner, in my house. What, if we move our standards nearer, and go to meet them? Follow me. Goes up to CLEOSTRATA and CHALINUS. What are you about?

CHALINUS

All the things are here which you ordered; your wife, the lots, the urn, and myself.

STALINO

By yourself only, there is more here than I want.

CHALINUS

I' faith, so it seems to you indeed. I'm a stinger to you now; I'm pricking that dear little heart of yours; even now it's palpitating from alarm.

STALINO

Whip-knave ——

CLEOSTRATA

Hold your tongue, Chalinus,

OLYMPIO

Do make that fellow be quiet.

CHALINUS

No, that fellow rather pointing to OLYMPIO , who has learned to misbehave.

STALINO

to CHALINUS . Set the urn down here. CHALINUS puts it down.

Give me the lots: lend your attention now. But I did think, my wife, that I could have prevailed upon you thus far, for Casina to be given me as my wife, and even now I think so.

OLE.

She, given to you?

STALINO

Why yes, to me —— dear me, I didn't mean to say that. While I meant for myself, I said him; aside why really, while I'm wanting her for myself, I've already, i' faith, been chattering at random.

CLEOSTRATA

overhearing him . Upon my word, you really have; and you are still doing so.

STALINO

For him — no, no; for myself, i' faith. Plague take it, at last, with great difficulty, I've got into the right road!

CLEOSTRATA

Very often, i' faith, you are making your mistakes.

STALINO

Such is the case when you desire anything very much. But each of us, both he pointing to OLYMPIO and I, apply to you for our rights

CLEOSTRATA

How's that?

STALINO

Why, I'll tell you, my sweet. As to this Casina, you must make a present of her to this bailiff of ours.

CLEOSTRATA

But, i' faith, I neither do make it, nor do I intend it.

STALINO

In that case, then, I'll divide the lots between them.

CLEOSTRATA

Who forbids you?

STALINO

I judge with reason that that is the best and fairest way. In fine, if that happens which we desire, we shall be glad; but if otherwise, we'll bear it with equanimity. Giving a lot to OLYMPIO. Take, this lot — take it; see what's written on it.

OLYMPIO

looking at it. Number one. CHA. It isn't fair, be cause that fellow has got one before me.

STALINO

giving one to CHALINUS. Take this, will you.

CHALINUS

taking it. Give it me. Stop though; one thing has just now come into my mind. To CLEOSTRATA. Do you see that there's no other lot in there by chance at the bottom of the water.

STALINO

Whip-rascal! do you take me to be your own self? To CLEOSTRATA.
There is none; only set your feelings at rest.

OLYMPPIO

to CHALINUS. May it prove lucky and fortunate to me, a great mischance to you!

CHALINUS

I' faith, it will certainly fall to you, I fancy; I know your pious ways.
But stop a bit; is that lot of yours of poplar or of fir?

OLYMPPIO

Why do you trouble yourself about that?

CHALINUS

Why, because I'm afraid that it may float on the surface of the water.
They go up to the urn.

STALINO

Capital! — take care! Now then, both of you, throw your lots in here.
Pointing to the urn. Look now, wife, all's fair. They throw them in.

OLYMPPIO

Don't you trust your wife.

STALINO

Be of good courage.

OLYMPPIO

Upon my faith, I do believe that she'll lay a spell upon the lots this very day, if she touches them.

STALINO

Hold your tongue.

OLYMPPIO

I'll hold my tongue. I pray the Gods ——

CHALINUS

Aye, that this day you may have to endure the chain and the bilboes.

OLYMPPIO

That the lot may fall to me.

CHALINUS

Aye, faith, that you may hang up by the feet.

OLYMPPIO

Aye, that you may blow your eyes out of your head through your nose.

CHALINUS

to STALINO . What are you afraid of? It must be ready by this —— Turning to OLYMPPIO. A halter for you, I mean.

OLYMPPIO

to CHALINUS . You're undone!

STALINO

Give attention, both of you.

OLYMPPIO

I'll be mum.

STALINO

Now you, Cleostrata, that you may not say that anything has been done cheatingly by me in this matter, or suspect it, I give you leave, do you yourself draw the lots.

OLYMPPIO

to STALINO . You are ruining me.

CHALINUS

He's gaining an advantage rather.

CLEOSTRATA

to STALINO . You do what's fair.

CHALINUS

to OLYMPIO . I pray the Gods that your lot say run away out of the urn.

OLYMPIO

Say you so? Because you are a runaway yourself, do you wish all to follow your example? I wish, indeed, that that lot of yours, as they say that of the descendants of Hercules once did, may melt away while the lots are drawing.

CHALINUS

And you, that you may melt away yourself, and just now be made hot with twigs.

STALINO

Attend, will you, to the business in hand, Olympio!

OLYMPIO

Yes, if this thrice-dotted fellow 'll let me.

STALINO

May this prove lucky and fortunate to me.

OLYMPIO

Yes indeed; to me as well.

CHALINUS

Not so.

OLYMPIO

By my troth, yes, I say.

CHALINUS

By my troth, yes, for myself, I say.

STALINO

to OLYMPPIO .He'll be the winner; you'll live in wretchedness. Do you give him a punch in the face this instant! Well, what are you about?

CLEOSTRATA

to OLYMPPIO . Don't you raise your hand.

OLYMPPIO

to STALINO . With clenched or open hand am I to strike him?

STALINO

Do just as you please.

OLYMPPIO

striking CHALINUS . There's for you, take that!

CLEOSTRATA

to OLYMPPIO . What business have you to touch him?

OLYMPPIO

Because my Jupiter pointing to STALINO commanded me.

CLEOSTRATA

to CHALINUS . Do you slap him in the face in return. CHALINUS strikes OLYMPPIO in the face.

OLYMPPIO

calling out to STALINO . I'm being murdered, I'm being punched with his fists, Jupiter!

STALINO

to CHALINUS . What business had you to touch him?

CHALINUS

Because this Juno of mine pointing to CLEOSTRATA ordered me.

STALINO

I must put up with it, since, as long as I live, my wife will have the mastery.

CLEOSTRATA

to STALINO . He pointing to CHALINUS ought to be allowed to speak as much as that fellow.

OLYMPIO

Why by his talk does he occasion me an unlucky omens

STALINO

I think, Chalinus, you should be on your guard against a mishap.

CHALINUS

Full time, after my face has been battered!

STALINO

Come, wife, now then draw the lots. To the SERVANTS. Do you give your attention. To CLEOSTRATA. And give it, you, as well.

OLYMPIO

Where I am I know not. I'm undone, I've got my heart full of maggots, I think; it's jumping about already; with its throbbing it beats against my breast.

CLEOSTRATA

putting her hand into the urn . I've got hold of a lot.

STALINO

Draw it out, then.

CHALINUS

to OLYMPIO . Are you not dead now?

OLYMPIO

Show it. She shows it. It's mine.

CHALINUS

Really this is an unlucky mishap.

CLEOSTRATA

You are beaten, Chalinus.

STALINO

Then I'm glad that we are to survive after all, Olympio.

OLYMPIO

Through my own piety and that of my forefathers has it happened.

STALINO

Wife, go in-doors and make ready for the wedding.

CLEOSTRATA

I'll do as you bid me.

STALINO

Do you know that it's to a distance in the country, at the farm-house, that he is to take her?

CLEOSTRATA

I know.

STALINO

Go in-doors, and although this is disagreeable to you, still take care and attend to it.

CLEOSTRATA

Very well. Goes into the house.

STALINO

to OLYMPIO . Let us, as well, go in-doors; let's entreat them to make all haste.

OLYMPIO

Am I delaying at all? For in his presence pointing to CHALINUS I don't want there to be any further conversation. They go into the house.

CHALINUS, alone.

CHALINUS

to himself. If now I were to hang myself, I should be losing my pains, and besides my pains, putting myself to the expense of purchasing a rope, and doing a pleasure to my evil-wishers. What need is there for me, who, indeed, am dead even as it is? At the lots I'm beaten; Casina's to be married to the bailiff. And this now is not so much to be regretted, that the bailiff has got the better, as the fact that the old man so vehemently desired that she shouldn't be given me, and should marry him. How frightened he was, how in his misery he did bustle about, how he did caper about after the bailiff had won. By-the-bye, I'll step aside here; I hear the door opening. Sees STALINO and OLYMPIO, coming out. My well-wishers and friends are coming out. Here in ambush I'll lay in wait against them. Goes on one side.

Enter STALINO and OLYMPIO, from the house.

OLYMPIO

Only let him come into the country; I'll send the fellow back into the city to you with his porter's knot, as black as a collier.

STALINO

So it ought to be.

OLYMPIO

I'll have that done and well taken care of.

STALINO

I intended, if he had been at home, to send Chalinus to cater with you; that, even in his sadness, I might, in addition, inflict this misfortune upon our foe.

CHALINUS

apart, retreating to the wall of the house. I'll betake me back again to the wall; I'll imitate the crab. Their conversation must be secretly picked up by me; for the one of them is tormenting me, the other wasting me with anguish. Why, this whip-rascal is marching along in his white garb, a very receptacle for stripes. My own death I defer;

I'm determined to send this fellow to Acheron before me.

OLYMPPIO

How obsequious have I been found to you! A thing that you especially desired, that same have I put in your power; this day the object that you love shall be with you, unknown to your wife.

STALINO

Hush! So may the Deities kindly bless me, I can hardly withhold my lips from kissing you on account of this, my own delight!

CHALINUS

apart . What? Kiss him? What's the meaning of this? What's this delight of yours?

OLYMPPIO

Do you love me at all now?

STALINO

Aye, by my faith, myself even less than you. May I embrace you?

OLYMPPIO

You may. STALINO embraces him.

STALINO

How, when I touch you, I do seem to myself to be tasting honey!

CHALINUS

apart . I really do think he intends to choke the bailiff.

OLYMPPIO

pushing STALINO away . Away with you, you lover; get off, with your too close acquaintanceship!

CHALINUS

apart . I' faith, I think that this very day they'll be making terms.
Surely, this old fellow is an universal admirer. This is the reason, this is it why he made him his bailiff; some time ago, too, when I came in his way, he wanted to make me his chamberlain upon the like terms.

OLYMPIO

How subservient have I proved to you to-day, how attentive to your pleasure!

STALINO

How surely, so long as I live, will I prove more of a well-wisher to you than to my own self! How will I this day give full many a kiss to Casina! How will I, unknown to my wife, right pleasantly enjoy myself!

CHALINUS

apart . Oho! Now, faith, at last I've got into the right track. It's himself that's dying for Casina. I've caught the fellows.

STALINO

Even now, by my troth, am I longing to embrace her; even now to be kissing her.

OLYMPIO

Do let her be brought out first from the house. Why the plague are you in such a hurry?

STALINO

I'm in love.

OLYMPIO

But I don't think that this can possibly be managed to-day.

STALINO

It can, if, indeed, you think that you can possibly receive your freedom to-morrow.

CHALINUS

apart . Why, really, I must make still better use here of my ears; now, in one thicket, I shall be cleverly catching two boars.

STALINO

pointing to the house of ALCESIMUS . At the house of this friend and neighbour of mine there's a place provided; I have confided to him all my amorousness: he said that he would find me a room.

OLYMPPIO

What will his wife do? Where will she be?

STALINO

I've cleverly contrived that: my wife will invite her here, to her own house, to the wedding; to be here with her, to help her, to sleep with her. I have requested it, and my wife has said that she will do so. She'll be sleeping here: I'll take care her husband is away from home. You shall take your wife home into the country; that country shall be this house, for a period, until I've had my marriage with Casina. Hence, before daylight, you shall afterwards take her home to-morrow. Isn't it very skilfully managed?

OLYMPPIO

Cleverly!

CHALINUS

apart . Only do proceed; contrive away. By my troth, to your own mischance are you so clever.

STALINO

Do you know what you must do now?

OLYMPPIO

Tell me.

STALINO

giving him a purse . Take this purse. Be off and buy some provisions: make haste. But I want it nicely done: delicate eatables, just as she herself is a delicate bit.

OLYMPPIO

Very well.

STALINO

Buy some cuttle-fish, mussels, calamaries, barley-fish.

CHALINUS

apart . Aye, wheaten fish, if you know what you're about.

STALINO

Some sole-fish.

CHALINUS

apart . Prithee, why those rather than soles of wood, with which your head may be banged, you most vile old fellow?

OLYMPIO

Should you like some tongue-fish?

STALINO

What need is there, since my wife's at home? She is our tongue-fish, for she's never silent.

OLYMPIO

While I'm about it, I must make choice out of the supply of fish what to purchase.

STALINO

You say what's good: be off. I don't care to spare for cost; provide abundantly. But it's requisite also that I should see this neighbour of mine, that he may attend to what I've requested.

OLYMPIO

Am I to go now?

STALINO

I wish you. Exit OLYMPIO. STALINO goes into the house of ALCESIMUS.

CHALINUS

coming forward . By three freedoms I could not be induced this day to do other than provide a heavy retribution for them, and at once disclose all this matter to my mistress. I've caught and fully detected my enemies in their guilt. But if my mistress is ready now to do her duty, the cause is all our own: I'll cleverly be beforehand with the fellows. With omens in our favour the day proceeds: just conquered, we are the conquerors. I'll go indoors, that that which another cook has seasoned, I now, in my turn, may season after another fashion; and that for him for whom it was prepared, it may really not be prepared; and that that may be prepared for him, which before was not prepared. Goes into the house.

ACT III.

Enter ALCESIMUS and STALINO, from the house of the former.

STALINO

Now, Alcesimus, I shall know whether you are the very picture of friend or foe to me; now is the proof upon view; now is the contest going on. "But why do I do so;" forbear to correct me; save yourself all that. "With your hoary head, at an age unfit;" save yourself that as well. "One who has a wife;" save yourself that like wise.

ALCESIMUS

I never saw a person more distracted with love than yourself.

STALINO

Do take care that the house is clear.

ALCESIMUS

Why, faith, men-servants, maid-servants, all of them I'm determined to send out of the house to yours.

STALINO

Heyday! with your adroitness you are very adroit! But only take care and remember the lines which Colax repeats; take care that every one comes with his own provisions, as if they were going to Sutrium.

ALCESIMUS

I'll remember it.

STALINO

Why now there's no public ordinance better ordered than yourself, in fact. Attend to this. I'm now going to the Forum; I shall be here just now.

ALCESIMUS

Luck go with you.

STALINO

Take care that your house gets a tongue.

ALCESIMUS

Why so?

STALINO

That when I come, it may invite me.

ALCESIMUS

Pooh, pooh! you are a person that stands in good need of a basting; you're making too free with your fun.

STALINO

Of what use is it for me to be in love, unless I'm quite ready and talkative? But take you care that you haven't to be sought for by me.

ALCESIMUS

I'll be at home all the while. Exit STALINO; ALCESIMUS goes into his house.

Enter CLEOSTRATA, from her house.

CLEOSTRATA

to herself. This was the reason, then, I' faith, why my husband entreated me, with such great earnestness, to make haste and invite my female neighbour to our house — that the house might be clear for him to be taking Casina there. Now, therefore, I shall by no means invite her, so that liberty of free range shan't be any way given to worn-out bell-wethers. ALCESIMUS is coming out of his house. But look, the pillar of the Senate's coming forward, the safeguard of the public, my neighbour, the person who is finding free range for my husband. I' faith, the measure of wit that has been sold to him, was purchased at no cheap rate.

ALCESIMUS

to himself. I'm wondering that my wife, who's already waiting at home, dressed out, to be sent for, hasn't been invited by this to my neighbour's here. But see, here she is; she's come to fetch her, I guess. Going up to CLEOSTRATA. Good day, Cleostrata!

CLEOSTRATA

And you the same, Alcesimus. Where's your wife?

ALCESIMUS

She's waiting in-doors for you to send for her; for your husband requested me to send her to help you. Do you wish me to call her?
Going towards the door.

CLEOSTRATA

Let it alone; I don't care; * * if she's busy.

ALCESIMUS

She's at leisure.

CLEOSTRATA

I don't care about it; I don't want to be troublesome to her; I'll see her at a future time.

ALCESIMUS

Are you not getting ready for a wedding there at your house?

CLEOSTRATA

I am getting ready and making preparations.

ARC.

Don't you require an assistant then?

CLEOSTRATA

We have enough at home. When the marriage has taken place, then I'll call upon her; for the present, farewell, and bid her the same from me. Goes into her house.

ALCESIMUS

to himself. What am I to do now? To my sorrow. I've done a most disgraceful action for the sake of that vile and toothless goat, who has engaged me in this. I've promised the aid of my wife out of doors, as though to go lick dishes like a dog. A worthless fellow, to tell me that his wife was going to send for her, whereas she herself declares that she does not want her. And upon my faith, it's a wonder if this female neighbour of mine hasn't already her suspicions of this. But yet, on the other hand, when I reflect with myself on this notion, if there were anything of that, there would have been enquiries of me. I'll go in-doors, that I may lay up the ship again in the dockyard. Goes into his house. Enter CLEOSTRATA, from her house.

CLEOSTRATA

to herself. Now he has been finely made a fool of. In what a bustle are these unfortunate old fellows. Now I do wish that that good-for-nothing decrepit husband of mine would come, that I might make a fool of him in his turn, after I have thus fooled the other one. For I long to make a bit of a quarrel between these two. But look, he's coming. Why, when you see him so serious, you'd think him a decent person. She stands on one side, unseen.

Enter STALINO.

STALINO

aloud, to himself. It's a great folly, to my notion at least, for any man that's in love to go to the Forum on that day on which the object which he loves is close at hand; as I in my folly have been doing; I've spent the day, standing pleading for a certain relative of mine, who, faith, I'm very delighted has lost his cause; so that he hasn't for nothing chosen me as his advocate to-day. He ought first to ask and make enquiry, whether his mind is at home or not at home, whom he's choosing for his advocate; if he says it isn't, without his mind he should send him off home. Catches sight of his wife. But look, there's my wife before the house! Alas! wretch that I am! I'm afraid that she isn't deaf, and has heard this.

CLEOSTRATA

apart. By my troth, I have heard it to your great cost.

STALINO

I'll go nearer to her. Goes up to CLEOSTRATA. What are you about, my delight?

CLEOSTRATA

I' faith, I was waiting for you.

STALINO

Are the things ready now? Have you by this brought over here to our house this female neighbour of yours, who was to assist you?

CLEOSTRATA

I sent for her as you requested me; but this companion of yours, your very good friend, was in a pet with his wife about something, I don't know what; he said, when I went to fetch her, that he wouldn't send her.

STALINO

That's your greatest fault; you are not courteous enough.

CLEOSTRATA

It's not the part of matrons, but of harlots, to be showing courtesies, my husband, to the husbands of others. Go yourself and fetch her; I wish to attend in-doors, my husband, to what is requisite to be done.

STALINO

Make haste then.

CLEOSTRATA

Very well. Aside. Now, faith, I shall inspire some apprehensions in his heart. I'll this day render this lovesick man completely miserable. She goes into the house.

Enter ALCESIMUS, from his house.

ALCESIMUS

to himself. I'll go see here if the lover has come back home from the Forum, who, an old ghost, has been making fools of myself and my wife. But see, there he is before his house. Addressing STALINO. I' faith, 'twas just in good time I was coming to your house.

STALINO

And, i' faith, I to yours. How say you, you good-for-nothing fellow? What did I enjoin you? What did I beg of you?

ALCESIMUS

What's the matter?

STALINO

How nicely you've had your house empty for me! How well you have sent your wife over to our house here! Isn't it through yourself that I and the opportunity are lost, both of us?

ALCESIMUS

Why don't you go hang yourself? Why, 'twas you yourself said that your wife would come and fetch mine from our house?

STALINO

Then she declares that she has been to fetch her, and that you said you wouldn't let her go.

ALCESIMUS

But she herself, of her own accord, said to me that she didn't care for her assistance.

STALINO

But 'tis she herself who has deputed me to come and fetch her.

ALCESIMUS

But I don't care for that.

STALINO

But you are proving my ruin.

ALCESIMUS

But that's as it should be. But I shall still go on delaying; but I very much long for nothing but to do you some mischief; but I'll do it with pleasure. Never this day shall you have a "but" the more than I. But, in fine, really, upon my faith, may the Gods confound you.

STALINO

What now? Are you going to send your wife to my house?

ALCESIMUS

You may take her, and be off to utter and extreme perdition, both with her and with that one of yours, and with that mistress of yours as well. A way with you, and attend to something else; I'll at once bid my wife to pass thither through the garden to your wife.

STALINO

Now you are proving yourself a friend to me in genuine style!

ALCESIMUS goes into his house. Under what auspices am I to say that this passion was inflicted upon me, or what have I ever done amiss towards Venus, that when I'm thus in love crosses so many should befall me in my path? A noise is heard. Hey day! what's that noise, prithee, that's going on in our house?

Enter PARDALISCA, running out of the house.

PARDALISCA

bawling out at the door. I'm undone, I'm undone, I'm utterly, utterly ruined! My heart is deadened with fear. My limbs, in my misery, are all a-trembling! I know not whence to obtain or look for any assistance, safety, or refuge for myself, or any means of relief: things so surprising, in a manner so surprisingly done, have I just now witnessed in-doors, a new and unusual piece of audacity. Be on your guard, Cleostrata! prithee do get away from her, lest amid such transports she may be doing you some mischief! Tear away that sword from her, who's not in possession of her senses!

STALINO

Why, what is the matter — that she, frightened and half dead with fear, rushes hither out of doors? Pardalisca!

PARDALISCA

looking wildly about her . Whence do my ears catch the sound?

STALINO

Just look back at me.

PARDALISCA

My master!

STALINO

What's the matter? What?

PARDALISCA

I'm undone.

STALINO

How undone?

PARDALISCA

I'm undone, and you are undone.

STALINO

Disclose it, what's the matter with you?

PARDALISCA

Woe to you!

STALINO

Aye, and the same to yourself.

PARDALISCA

That I mayn't fall down, prithee do hold, hold me. Staggers, on which STALINO supports her.

STALINO

Whatever it is, tell me quickly.

PARDALISCA

Do support my throbbing breast, prithee do make a little air with your cloak.

STALINO

fanning her with the lappet of his cloak . I'm in alarm as to what is the matter; aside unless this woman has been somewhere upsetting herself with the pure cream of Bacchus.

PARDALISCA

Hold my ears, pray do. Her head falls on her shoulder.

STALINO

Away to utter perdition; breast, ears, head, and yourself, may the Gods confound! For, unless I quickly learn from you this matter, whatever it is, I'll forth with be knocking your brains out, you viper, you hussey, who have thus far been making a laughing-stock of me.

PARDALISCA

My master!

STALINO

What do you want, my servant?

PARDALISCA

You are too angry.

STALINO

You are saying so too soon. But whatever this is, tell it; relate in a few words what has been the disturbance in-doors.

PARDALISCA

You shall know. Hear this most foul crime which just now in-doors at our house your female slave began to attempt after this fashion, a thing that does not befit the regulations of Attica.

STALINO

What is it?

PARDALISCA

Fever prevents the use of my tongue.

STALINO

What is it? Can I possibly learn from you what is the matter?

PARDALISCA

I'll tell you. Your female slave, she whom you intend to give as a wife to your bailiff, in-doors she ——

STALINO

In-doors what? What is it?

PARDALISCA

Is imitating the wicked practices of wicked women, in threatening her husband ——

STALINO

What then?

PARDALISCA

Ah!

STALINO

What is it?

PARDALISCA

She says that she intends to take her husband's life. A sword ——

STALINO

starting . Hah! PAR. A sword ——

STALINO

What about that sword?

PARDALISCA

She has got one.

STALINO

Ah! wretch that I am! Why has she got it?

PARDALISCA

She is pursuing them all at home all over the house, and she won't allow any person to approach her; and so, all, hiding in chests and under beds, are mute with fear.

STALINO

I'm murdered and ruined outright! What malady is this that has so suddenly befallen her?

PARDALISCA

She is mad.

STALINO

I do think that I am the most unfortunate of men!

PARDALISCA

Aye, and if you were to know the speeches she uttered to-day.

STALINO

I long to know about what she said.

PARDALISCA

Listen. By all the Gods and Goddesses she swore that she would murder the person with whom she should bed.

STALINO

Will she murder me?

PARDALISCA

Does that bear reference to yourself in any way?

STALINO

Pshaw!

PARDALISCA

What business have you with her?

STALINO

I made a mistake; him, the bailiff, I meant to say.

PARDALISCA

It's on purpose that you are turning aside from the high road into bye-paths.

STALINO

Does she threaten anything against myself?

PARDALISCA

She is hostile to you individually more than any person.

STALINO

For what reason?

PARDALISCA

Because you have given her as a wife to Olympio; she says that she'll neither suffer your life, nor her own, nor that of her husband, to be prolonged until the morrow. I have been sent hither to tell you this, that you might beware of her.

STALINO

aside . By my troth, to my misery I'm quite undone! There neither is nor ever was any old man in love so wretched as I.

PARDALISCA

aside, to the AUDIENCE . Don't I play him off cleverly? For everything that I've been telling him as taking place, I've been telling him falsely. My mistress and she who lives next door have concocted this scheme. I've been sent to fool him.

STALINO

Hark you, Pardalisca!

PARDALISCA

What is it?

STALINO

There is ——

PARDALISCA

What?

STALINO

There is something that I want to enquire of you about.

PARDALISCA

You are causing me delay.

STALINO

Why, you are causing me sorrow. But has Casina got that sword even still?

PARDALISCA

She has; but two of them.

STALINO

Why two?

PARDALISCA

She says that this very day she'll murder you with the one, the bailiff with the other.

STALINO

I am now the most utterly murdered of all people that do exist. I'll put on me a coat of mail; I think that's the best. What did my wife do? Didn't she go and take them away from her?

PARDALISCA

No person dares go near her.

STALINO

She should have prevailed on her.

PARDALISCA

She is entreating her. She declares that assuredly she will lay them down on no other terms, unless she understands that she shall not be given to the bailiff.

STALINO

But whether she likes it or no, because she refuses, she shall marry him this day. For why shouldn't I carry this out that I've begun, for her to marry me? — that, indeed, I didn't intend to say — but, our bailiff?

PARDALISCA

You're making your mistakes pretty often.

STALINO

It's alarm that impedes my words. But, prithee, do tell my wife, that I entreat her to prevail upon her to put down the sword, and allow me to return in-doors.

PARDALISCA

I'll tell her.

STALINO

And do you entreat her.

PARDALISCA

And I'll entreat her.

STALINO

And in soft language, in your usual way. But do you hear me? If you manage this, I'll give you a pair of shoes and a gold ring for your finger, and plenty of nice things.

PARDALISCA

I'll do my best.

STALINO

Take care and prevail.

PARDALISCA

Now then I'll be off; unless you detain me for anything.

STALINO

Be off, and take care.

PARDALISCA

aside . Look, his assistant is returning, at last, with the provisions; he's bringing a train after him. She goes into the house.

Enter OLYMPIO, a COOK, and his ASSISTANTS, with provisions.

OLYMPIO

to the COOK . See, you thief, that you lead on your briars beneath their banners.

A COOK.

But how are they briars?

OLYMPIO

Because that which they have touched, they instantly seize hold of; if you go to snatch it from them, they instantly rend it; so, wherever they come, wherever they are, with a twofold loss do they mulct their masters.

A COOK.

Heyday, indeed!

OLYMPIO

Well, well! This way I'm delaying to go meet my master with a magnificent, patrician, and patronizing air. He struts along.

STALINO

My good man, save you.

OLYMPIO

I admit that so I am.

STALINO

How goes it?

OLYMPIO

You are in love, but I'm hungering and thirsting.

STALINO

You have come capitally provided.

OLYMPIO

Pooh! pooh! Goes towards the door.

STALINO

But stop you, although you do hold me in contempt ——

OLYMPIO

O dear, O dear! your converse has a bad smell to me. Moving away.

STALINO

What's the matter?

OLYMPIO

pointing to the baskets of provisions . That's the matter.

STALINO

Will you not stop there?

OLYMPIO

Why, really, you are causing me ennui.

STALINO

I shall be giving you a grand coup, I fancy, if you don't stand still forthwith. Catches hold of him.

OLYMPIO

O mon Dieu! Can't you get away from me, unless you would like me to be sick just now?

STALINO

Do stop a bit.

OLYMPIO

How's this? Staring at him. What person's this?

STALINO

I'm your master.

OLYMPIO

What master?

STALINO

He whose slave you are.

OLYMPIO

I, a slave?

STALINO

Aye, and mine.

OLYMPIO

Am I not a free man? Remember! remember!

STALINO

Stop and stay you there! Catches hold of him.

OLYMPIO

Let me alone.

STALINO

I am your slave.

OLYMPIO

That's very good.

STALINO

My dear little Olympio, my father, my patron, I do beg of you ——

OLYMPIO

Well, you certainly are in your senses.

STALINO

Of course I am your slave.

OLYMPPIO

What need have I of so worthless a slave?

STALINO

Well now, how soon are you going to provide me some amusement?

OLYMPPIO

If the dinner were but drest.

STALINO

Then let them be off this instant in-doors. To the COOK and his ASSISTANTS. Go you into the house and despatch with all haste. I'll come in just now. Have the dinner charmingly sauced up for me; I want to have a charming meal. I really don't care, now, to be eating in the style of your sumptuous foreigners. Be off, will you; but for the present, however, I take up my abode here. The COOK and his ASSISTANTS go into the house.

OLYMPPIO

Is there anything that detains you here?

STALINO

The servant-maid says that Casina has got a sword in-doors, to deprive you and me of life with it.

OLYMPPIO

I understand it. Just let her alone with it. They are imposing on you: I know these worthless baggages. However, do you now go into the house with me.

STALINO

But, i' faith, I'm fearful of mischief: only do you go. Reconnoitre, first, what's going on within.

OLYMPPIO

My life's as dear to me as yours is to you.

STALINO

But only do go now.

OLYMPIO

If you'll go yourself, I'll go in with you. They go into the house.

ACT IV.

Enter PARDALISCA, from the house, laughing aloud.

PARDALISCA

to herself . Upon my faith, I do not believe that at Nemea, nor do I think that at Olympia, or anywhere else, there ever where such funny games as these ridiculous games that are going on in-doors here with our old gentleman and our bailiff Olympio. In-doors, all over the house, all are in a bustle; the old man is bawling away in the kitchen, and urging on the cooks. “Why don’t you go to work at once? Why don’t you serve up, if you are going to serve up? Make haste; the dinner ought to have been cooked by this.” And then this bailiff is strutting about with his chaplet, clothed in white and finely rigged out. And then these women are dressing up the armour-bearer in the bedroom, to give him to be married to our bailiff in place of Casina; but the artful baggages very cleverly conceal what the upshot of this is really to be. Then too, in a manner quite worthy of them, the cooks are very cleverly doing their best to the end that the old gentleman mayn’t get his dinner. They are upsetting the pots, and putting out the fire with the water. At the request of these ladies they are so doing; they, too, are determined to bundle the old fellow dinnerless out of doors, that they by themselves may blow out their own stomachs. I know these female gluttons; a merchant-ship full of victuals they can devour. But the door is opening.

Enter STALINO, from the house.

STALINO

speaking to CLEOSTRATA, within . If you are wise, wife, you’ll dine, after all, when the dinner’s cooked. I shall dine in the country, for I’m desirous to attend the new-made husband and the newly-made bride into the country (I know the mischievous habits of persons), that no one may carry her off. Do you people indulge your appetite. But do make haste and send him and her out immediately, that at least we may get there in daylight. I shall be here tomorrow; to-morrow, wife, I'll be having a banquet still.

PARDALISCA

aside . 'Tis as I said it would be; the women are packing the old fellow dinnerless out of doors.

STALINO

to PARDALISCA .What are you doing here?

PARDALISCA

I'm going whither she sent me.

STALINO

Really?

PARDALISCA

Seriously.

STALINO

What are you looking for here?

PARDALISCA

Really I'm looking for nothing at all.

STALINO

Be off; you are loitering here; the others are bustling about in-doors.

PARDALISCA

I'm off.

STALINO

Be off, then, will you, away from here, you jade of jades.

PARDALISCA goes into the house. Is she gone then? I may now say here anything I please. He that's in love, i' faith, even if he is hungry, isn't hungry at all. But see, the bailiff, my associate, companion, and husband-in-copartnership, is coming out of doors with wreath and torch.

Enter OLYMPIO, dressed in white, with a wreath on his head, and a torch in his hand, accompanied by MUSICIANS to one of the MUSICIANS . Come, piper, while they are escorting the new-made bride out of doors, make the whole of this street resound with a sweet wedding-tune. He sings aloud. Io Hymen hymenæ! Io Hymen!

OLYMPIO

STALINO

accosting him . How fare you, my preserver?

OLYMPIO

I'm very hungry, faith; and, in fact, I'm not thirsty a little.

STALINO

But I'm in love.

OLYMPIO

Still, upon my faith, love, I shan't be making any trial of you. For some time past my inside has been grumbling with emptiness.

STALINO

But why is she now delaying so long in-doors, just as though on purpose? The greater the haste I'm in, in so much the less is she.

OLYMPIO

What if I were even to trill an hymeneal lay?

STALINO

I agree to that; and I'll help you at these our common nuptials.

OL. (STALINO

joining, they sing). Hymen hymenæ! Io Hymen!

STALINO

Upon my faith, I'm dreadfully done up; one may burst one's self with singing this hymeneal lay; if I do burst this way, I can't burst any other, that I may make sure of.

OLYMPIO

Upon my faith, for sure, if you were a horse, you'd never be broken in.

STALINO

On what grounds?

OLYMPIO

You are too hard-mouthed.

STALINO

Have you ever found me so?

OLYMPIO

The Gods forbid! But the door makes a noise; they are coming out.

STALINO

I' troth, the Gods do will me to be preserved at last. I already smell Casina at a distance. They move to a distance.

Enter, from the house, two FEMALE SERVANTS leading CHALINUS, veiled and dressed in women's clothes, as CASINA.

TWO MAID-SERVANTS

Move on, and raise your feet a little over the threshold, newly-married bride; prosperously commence this journey, that you may always be alive for your husband, that you may be his superior in power, and the conqueror, and that your rule may gain the upper hand. Let your husband find you in clothes; you plunder your husband; by night and day to be tricking your husband, prithee, do remember.

OLYMPIO

to STALINO . Upon my faith, at her downright peril, the instant she offends me ever so little!

STALINO

Hold your tongue.

OLYMPPIO

I shall not hold my tongue.

STALINO

What's the matter

OLYMPPIO

These wicked jades are wickedly teaching her wicked lessons.

STALINO

Instead of being all ready, they'll be bringing this matter all into confusion for me. They are striving at that, wishing for it, that they may have it all undone.

TWO MAID-SERVANTS

Come, Olympio, as soon as you please, receive this wife of yours from us. They present CHALINUS to him.

OLYMPPIO

Hand her to me then, if you are going to hand her to me at all to-day. They hand CHALINUS to him.

STALINO

to the FEMALE SERVANTS . Be off in-doors.

TWO MAID-SERVANTS

Prithee, do deal gently with her who is so young and inexperienced.

STALINO

It shall be so. Farewell; be off now.

TWO MAID-SERVANTS

Farewell. They go into the house.

STALINO

Is my wife now gone?

OLYMPIO

She's in the house; don't be afraid.

STALINO

Hurra! Now, faith, I'm free at last. Addressing himself to CHALINUS as CASINA. My sweetheart, my spring-flower, my little honey! Embraces him.

OLYMPIO

But, hark you! you'll beware, if you are wise, of some mishap: she's mine.

STALINO

I know that; but mine's the first enjoyment.

OLYMPIO

holding him the torch . Hold this torch for me.

STALINO

Why, no, I'll hold her in my arms in preference. All-powerful Venus, a happy existence hast thou given me in giving me the possession of her! A dear little body! a dear little honey! Hugs CHALINUS, who pretends to struggle.

OLYMPIO

shouting aloud . O my dear little wife! Jumps about on one leg.

STALINO

What's the matter?

OLYMPIO

She has trod upon my toes.

STALINO

aside . I'll compliment her, as it were. A mist is not so soft as is —— Pulls CHALINUS about. A pretty little bosom, upon my faith.

CHALINUS gives him a thrust with his elbow, on which he roars out.
Woe to unfortunate me!

OLYMPPIO

What's the matter?

STALINO

She struck me in the breast with her elbow.

OLYMPPIO

Why then, pray, do you maul her about? But she does not do so to me, who touch her gently. CHALINUS gives him a poke with his elbow. O me!

STALINO

What's the matter?

OLYMPPIO

Prithee, how robust she is! she has almost laid me flat with her elbow.

STALINO

She wishes, then, to go to bed.

OLYMPPIO

Nay but, why don't we be off?

STALINO

taking hold of CHALINUS . My pretty, pretty little dear! They go into the house of ALCESIMUS.

ACT V.

Enter MYRRHINA and PARADALISCA, from the house of STALINO.

MYRRHINA

Having been well and handsomely entertained indoors, we've come out here in the street to see the wedding-sports. I'd like to know how Chalinus gets on — the newly-married bride with her new-made husband. Never, upon my faith, any day did I laugh so much, nor in the time that's to come do I think I shall laugh more; and no poet ever did contrive a more artful plot than this was skilfully contrived by us. I'd now very much like the old fellow to come out, with his face well battered, than whom there is not a more wicked old man alive. Not even him do I deem to be more wicked who finds the room for him. Now, Pardalisca, do you be guard here pointing to the door of her house ; that whoever comes out from here, you may have some sport with him.

PARDALISCA

I'll do it with pleasure, and in my usual way.

MYRRHINA

Observe from here everything that's going on indoors.

PARDALISCA

Prithee, get behind me.

MYRRHINA

You have liberty, too, to say freely and boldly to him anything you like.

PARDALISCA

in a low voice . Be quiet; your door makes a noise. They hide themselves.

Enter OLYMPIO, in great alarm, from the house of ALCESIMUS.

OLYMPPIO

bawling aloud . Neither where to fly to, nor where to conceal myself, nor how to hide this disgrace, do I know; so much have my master and myself been supereminently disgraced at these nuptials of ours. I'm now so ashamed, and now so afraid, and so ridiculous are we both. But, a simpleton, I'm now doing what's new to me: I'm ashamed at that which has never shamed me before. To the AUDIENCE. Lend me your attention, while I repeat my exploits; it's worth your while to catch them with your ears; so ridiculous to be heard, to be repeated, are these mishaps which I have met with in the house. [When straightway I had led my new-made bride into the room, I fastened the bolt; but, however, the gloom there was just like the night. I placed, I propped things against the door; I struggled hard that before the old fellow * * * * with my bride. Then I began to be slow in my proceedings, for I looked behind me every now and then, lest the old fellow should break in * * * * , a kiss, that provocative to lust, I asked of her first. She pushed back my hand, and allowed me not to give her a kiss in a quiet way. But then the more anxious was I, the more desirous to assert my privilege with Casina, and I longed to do the old fellow out of that task. The door I blocked up, so that the old man might not over-power me. from the house.

MYRRHINA

apart to CLEOSTRATA . Come now, you accost him Pointing to OLYMPPIO.

CLEOSTRATA

accosting OLYMPPIO . Where is your newly-made bride?

OLYMPPIO

aside . By heavens, I'm utterly undone; the thing's all out.

CLEOSTRATA

overhearing him . It's right, then, that you should relate the whole affair as it happened. What's going on in-doors? How fares Casina? Is she quite obsequious to your will?

OLYMPPIO

I'm ashamed to tell it.

CLEOSTRATA

Relate it in its order just as you proceeded.

OLYMPPIO

Upon my faith, I am ashamed.

CLEOSTRATA

Proceed boldly. After you went to bed, I want you to tell what took place after that.

OLYMPPIO

But it's a disgraceful matter.

CLEOSTRATA

I'll take care that those who hear it shall be on their guard as to mentioning it.

OLYMPPIO

That's the principal thing.

CLEOSTRATA

You kill me with weariness. Why don't you proceed?

OLYMPPIO

—— Ubi * * * * us subtus porro * * * quid.

OLYMPPIO

Babæ!

CLEOSTRATA

Quid?

OLYMPPIO

Papæ! * * quid est?

OLYMPPIO

Oh, erat maximum. Gladium ne haberet metui; id quærere occœpi.
Dum, gladiumne habeat, quæro, arripio capulum. Sed, quom cogito, non habuit gladium; nam id esset frigidius.

CLEOSTRATA

Eloquere.

OLYMPPIO

At pudet.

CLEOSTRATA

Num radix fuit?

OLYMPPIO

Non fuit.

CLEOSTRATA

Num cucumis?

OLYMPPIO

Profecto hercle non fuit quidquam olerum; Nisi quidquid erat, calamitas profecto attigerat nunquam. Ita, quidquid erat, grande erat.

MYRRHINA

Quid fit denique? Edisserta.

OLYMPPIO

—— sepi veste id, quæ estis. Ubi illum saltum video obseptum; Rogo, ut altero sinat ire. Ita, quidquid erat, grande erat. Tollo ut obvortam cubitissim * * * Ullum mutire * * * * Surge, ut ineam in * * * * Atque illam in * * * * *

MYRRHINA

Perlepide narrat * * * *

OLYMPPIO

When I addressed Casina, “Casina,” said I, “my dear wife, why do you slight your husband in this fashion? Really, upon my faith, you do this quite without my deserving it, inasmuch as I have given you the preference as my wife.” She answered not a word. When I attempted a kiss, a beard pricked my lips just like briars. Forthwith, as I was upon my knees, she struck my head with her feet. I tumbled headlong from the bed; she leapt down upon me and punched my face. From there in silence out of doors I came in this guise; by your leaves I say it; may the old fellow drink of the same cup that I have been drinking of.

CLEOSTRATA

Most excellent. But where’s your cloak?

OLYMPPIO

pointing to the house of ALCESIMUS . I left it here in-doors.

CLEOSTRATA

Well now; hasn’t a very nice trick been played you?

OLYMPPIO

Yes, and deservedly. Hush! the door makes a noise. What, is she following me, I wonder? They go to a distance.

Enter STALINO, in haste, from the house of ALCESIMUS.

STALINO

aloud to himself . I’m branded with the greatest disgrace, nor what, under my circumstances to do, do I know. Nor yet how to look my wife in the face; so utterly undone am I! All my misdeeds are discovered. In every way, to my confusion, I am ruined! So clearly am I hooked fast by the jaws! nor know I in what way to clear myself before my wife; wretch that I am, to have been stripped of my cloak! * * * * These clandestine nuptials are all discovered. * * * * I judge it best for me * * * * She taught my wife * the way * * But who is there, what person would be ready to undertake this office for me? What now to do I know not, except to imitate worthless slaves, and fly from the house; for there’s no safety for my shoulder-blades if I return home. I may tell lies there; i’ faith, I shall get a basting, though much against my will, although I have earned my punishment. I'll at once betake myself in this direction in flight. He begins to run.

OLYMPIO

coming forward with the others . Hallo there! Stop, this instant, you amorous one!

STALINO

to himself . I'm utterly undone! I'm being called back. I'll be off, as though I didn't hear. Runs on.]

Enter CHALINUS, from the house of ALCESIMUS, dressed in woman's clothes.

CHALINUS

Where are you, you who imitate the morals of the Massilians? Now, if you wish to be taking liberties with me, is a good opportunity [* * * at your risk. By my troth, you are undone. Come, only step this way. * * * Now I fancy that when a witness out of * * * * * I'll find * * * * thus out of the street I order * * * * a murmur I * * *

STALINO

Now am I in extreme danger, between the stone and the sacrifice, nor know I which way to fly * * * * The wolf-dogs * * * it was * * *

CHALINUS

I' faith, I do think * * * * old there now like new.]

STALINO

turning about . I'll go this way. I trust that the omen of a bitch's barking will prove the better.

CLEOSTRATA

What are you doing, my husband, my good man? Whence come you in this guise? What have you done with your walking-stick, or how disposed of the cloak you had?

TWO MAID-SERVANTS

While he was playing his loving pranks with Casina, he lost it, I fancy.

STALINO

aside . Utterly undone!

CHALINUS

coming up to STALINO . Shall we go to bed again? I am Casina.

STALINO

Away with you to utter perdition!

CHALINUS

Don't you love me?

CLEOSTRATA

Nay, but answer me; what has become of your cloak?

[

STALINO

running about, exclaiming . Upon my faith, wife, the Bacchantes! Bacchantes! Bacchantes!

TWO MAID-SERVANTS

He's making pretence on purpose for, upon my word, no Bacchantes are exhibiting at the present time.

STALINO

I forgot that. But still, the Bacchantes! ——

CLEOSTRATA

How, the Bacchantes? Why, that cannot be.

TWO MAID-SERVANTS

By my troth, you are in a fright.

STALINO

What I?

to the SERVANT. I' faith, do tell no lies, for it's quite clear. * * * * *

Won't you hold your tongue?

I' troth, I certainly shall not hold my tongue; for with the greatest earnestness you begged me to ask for Casina as my wife.

That I did on account of my love for you.

I' faith, of her rather. Turning to CHALINUS. He'd have been making an attack upon you, in fact.

I been doing these things that you mention?

And do you ask me that?

If indeed I have done so, I've been doing wrong.

Just come back in-doors here; I'll remind you, if you have forgotten anything.

Troth, I think, I'll believe you in preference as to what you say. But, wife, do grant pardon to your husband for this; Myrrhina, do entreat Cleostrata! If ever, from this time forward, I love Casina, or even think of it, should I love her, I say, should I ever hereafter, in fact, be guilty of such a thing, there's no reason, wife, why you shouldn't lash me with twigs as I hang up by the arms.

MYRRHINA

On my word, I do think that forgiveness may be granted for this.

CLEOSTRATA

to MYRRHINA . I'll do as you request me. To STALINO. On this account with the less difficulty do I now grant you this pardon, that, from being a long one, we mayn't be making this Play still longer.

STALINO

You are not angry?

CLEOSTRATA

I am not angry.

STALINO

Am I to trust your word?

CLEOSTRATA

You may my word.

STALINO

No person ever did have a more amiable wife than I've got.

CHALINUS

Keep to her, then.

CLEOSTRATA

to CHALINUS . Come you, give him back his walking-stick and cloak.

CHALINUS

taking them from behind him, where he had held them . Take them, if you wish. Upon my faith, a great injustice has really been most egregiously done me; I've been married to two husbands; neither has behaved to me as to a new-made bride.

The PLAYERS.

Spectators, what's to be done within, we'll tell you here. This Casina will be discovered to be the daughter of this person next door, and she'll be married to Euthynicus, our master's son. Now it's only fair that with your deserving hands you should give us deserved applause. He who does so, may he always keep his mistress without the knowledge of his wife. But he who doesn't with his hands clap as loud as he can, in place of a mistress, may a he-goat, soused in bilge-water, be palmed off upon him.

THE SUBJECT.

DEMIPHO, a merchant of Lemnos, having ravished Phanostrata, a young woman of Sicyon, she is brought to bed of a female child. This she gives to her servant Lampadiscus, to be exposed. On this being done, in the sight of Lampadiscus, a Procuress picks up the infant, and afterwards makes a present of it to her friend Melænis, by whom it is brought up, under the name of Silenium. Alcesimarchus, a young man of Sicyon, falls violently in love with her, and takes her under his protection. In the meantime, Demipho, who has married another wife, after her death marries Phanostrata, and comes to live at Sicyon. He and his wife are then anxious, if possible, to regain their lost child. The daughter of Demipho by his first wife is destined by her father to become the wife of Alcesimarchus; on hearing which, Melænis removes her foster-child from his protection. At this conjuncture Lampadiscus finds out the Procuress that had taken up the infant when exposed, and from her discovers that the child of his mistress is with Melænis. He informs his mistress of this, while Melænis is, unknown to them, standing by; upon which she determines to confess the truth, and to restore Silenium to her parents. While she is thinking upon this plan, Alcesimarchus lays hands on Silenium, and carries her off to his father's house. In the confusion attendant on this, Halisca, the servant of Melænis, drops a casket in the street, containing some trinkets which had been worn by Silenium at the time when she was exposed. Phanostrata and Lampadiscus find the casket, and on Halisca coming to search for it, they discover where Silenium is. They go into the house, and Phanostrata discover her long-lost child.

THE ACROSTIC ARGUMENT.

[Supposed to have been written by Priscian the Grammarian.]

A young man of Lemnos ravishes (Comprimit) a woman of Sicyon. He (Is) returns to his country, and becomes father of a daughter by his marriage there. The woman of Sicyon (Sicyonia) also bears a daughter. A servant takes (Tollit) and exposes her, and keeps watch in secret; her (Eam), taken up, a Courtesan presents to another. Coming back afterwards from Lemnos (Lemno), he marries her whom he had ravished; and his daughter born at Lemnos (Lemni) he promises in marriage to a young man captivated by passion (A more) for the one that had been exposed. On making enquiry (Requirens), the servant finds her whom he had exposed; and so (Itaque) legally and properly does Alcesimarchus (Alcesimarchus) gain her recognized as a true woman, whom before he had had as a concubine.

ACT I.

Enter SILENIUM, GYMNASIUM, and PROCURESS, from the house of SILENIUM.

SILENIUM

Inasmuch as hitherto I have loved you, and have deemed you to be my friend, my dear Gymnasium, and your mother as well; so have you shown it to me this day, both you and she. If you had been my own sister, how more you two could possibly have held me in esteem I know not; but, according as is my way of thinking, I conceive it could not possibly be, such ready assistance, all other things laid aside, have you given me. For this reason do I love you, and for it a vast obligation have you both conferred upon me.

GYMNASIUM

I' faith, at such a price as this, indeed, it's easy for us to give you our attendance and to do you good offices; so handsomely and so elegantly have you entertained us at breakfast at your house, as we shall ever remember.

SILENIUM

It has been done with hearty good will by me, and will be done, to get those things which I shall think you are desirous of.

A PROCURESS

As the man said, who was borne by a prospering breeze on a calm sea: "I rejoice that we came to you;" in such a delightful manner have we been here this day received; nor except in the management, was there anything there at your house but what pleased me.

SILENIUM

How so, prithee?

A PROCURESS

Too seldom did the servant give me something to drink, and, as it was, it clouded the colour of the wine.

GYMNASIUM

Pray, is that becoming to be mentioned here?

A PROCURESS

It's both right and proper; there's no other person here.

SILENIUM

With reason do I love you both, who esteem and honor me.

A PROCURESS

I' faith, my dear Silenium, it befits this class to be kindly disposed among themselves, and carefully to keep up friendships, when you see these matrons of elevated rank, born of the noblest families, how they value friendship, and how carefully they keep it united between themselves. If we do that same thing, if we imitate the same example, still as it is, with difficulty do we exist with their extreme dislike. Of their own enjoyments they would have us to be in want, in resources of our own they would have us not to possess any power, and to stand in need of them in all matters, that we may be their humble servants. If you wait upon them, you'd rather be giving your room than your company. So very kind are they before the world to our class; in private, if ever there's the opportunity, underhandedly they pour cold water upon us. They declare that we are in the habit of having commerce with their husbands; they say that we are their supplanters; they attempt to crush us. Because we are the free daughters of slaves, both I and your mother, we became Courtesans; she brought up yourself, and I this girl pointing to GYMNASIUM , by chance-fathers. Nor yet for the sake of vanity have I driven her to the calling of a Courtesan, but that I mightn't starve.

SILENIUM

But it had been better to give her in marriage to a husband in preference.

A PROCURESS

Heyday, now! Surely, faith, she's married to a husband every day;

she has both been married to one to-day, she'll be marrying again to-night. I've never allowed her to go to bed a widow. For if she weren't to be marrying, the household would perish with doleful famine.

GYMNASIUM

It behoves me, mother, to be just as you wish I should be.

A PROCURESS

I' troth, I don't regret it, if you will prove such as you say you'll be; for if, indeed, you shall be such as I intend, you'll never be a Hecale in your old age, and you'll ever keep that same tender age which you now have, and you'll prove a loss to many and a profit to myself full oft, without any outlay of my own.

GYMNASIUM

May the Gods grant it.

A PROCURESS

Without your own energies, the Gods cannot possibly do anything in this.

GYMNASIUM

I' faith, for my own part, I'll zealously devote my energies to it. But what mean you amid this conversation, apple of my eye, my own Silenium? (never did I see you more sad;) prithee, do tell me, why does mirth so shun you? And you are not so neat as you usually are. SILENIUM sighs. Do look at that, please, how deep a sigh she heaved. You are pale too. Tell us both what's the matter with you, and in what you want our aid; so that we may know. Prithee, don't by your tears be causing me anxiety.

SILENIUM

My dear Gymnasium, I'm sadly affected; I feel ill, I am shockingly distress; I am pained in spirits, I feel pain in my eyes, I am in pain from faintness. What shall I say, but that my own folly drives me to sadness?

GYMNASIUM

Take you care, then, that you have your folly entombed in that very same place from which it takes its rise.

SILENIUM

What shall I do?

GYMNASIUM

Hide it in darkness, in the very deepest recesses of your breast. Take you care and have it so, that you yourself are alone sensible of your own folly, without any other witnesses.

SILENIUM

But I've got the heart-ache.

GYMNASIUM

Why so? For what reason have you the heartache, prithee, tell me, a thing that I neither have, nor any other woman whatever, according as the men say?

SILENIUM

If there's any heart to feel pain, it does feel pain; but if there isn't, still this pains me here. Pointing to her left-side.

A PROCURESS

This woman's in love.

GYMNASIUM

Come now, to begin to be in love, is it bitter, prithee?

A PROCURESS

Why, troth, love is most fruitful both in honey and in gall; inasmuch as it produces sweetness in a mere taste, but causes bitterness even to repletion.

SILENIUM

Of that character is the malady that afflicts me, my dear Gymnasium.

GYMNASIUM

Love is full of treachery.

SILENIUM

He's taking his spoils of me, then.

GYMNASIUM

Be of good courage, you'll get the better of this malady.

SILENIUM

I trust it will be so, if the physician comes that can administer the medicine to this malady.

GYMNASIUM

He will come.

SILENIUM

A hard expression is that to one in love, "He will come," unless he does come. But by my own fault and foolishness, am I, wretched creature, more afflicted, because for him alone have I longed for myself, with whom to pass my life.

A PROCURESS

That is more suitable to a married woman, my dear Silenium, to love but one, and with him to pass her life, to whom she has once been married; but, indeed, a Courtesan is most like a flourishing city; she cannot alone increase her fortunes without a multitude of men.

SILENIUM

I want you to give heed to this matter; the thing on account of which you have been sent for to me, I'll disclose. Now, my mother, because I don't wish myself to be called a Courtesan, complied with my desire; in that matter she indulged myself who have been obedient to her; to allow me to live with him alone whom I so ardently loved.

A PROCURESS

I' faith, she acted foolishly. But look, have you ever kept company with any man?

SILENIUM

With no one, indeed, except Alcesimarchus; nor has any other person whatever committed an infringement on my chastity.

A PROCURESS

Prithee, by what means did this man gain your good graces?

SILENIUM

At the festival of Bacchus my mother took me to see the procession. While I was returning home, from a secret look-out he secretly traced me even to the door; after that, he insinuated himself into the friendship of my mother and myself as well, by endearments, presents, and gifts.

A PROCURESS

I should like a man of that sort to be offered me. How I'd work him.

SILENIUM

What need is there of words? Through intercourse, I on the other hand began to love him, and he myself.

A PROCURESS

O my dear Silenium —— !

SILENIUM

What's the matter?

A PROCURESS

You ought to pretend to be in love; for if you fall in love at once, you'll be much better consulting the interests of him whom you love than your own.

SILENIUM

But in solemn form he took an oath before my mother that he would take me as his wife. Now, another woman is about to be taken home by him, a Lemnian lady, his relation, who is living here hard by pointing to DEMIPHO'S house ; for his father has compelled him. Now my mother is enraged with me, because I didn't return home to her, when I came to know of this matter, that he was about to take another as his wife.

A PROCURESS

Nothing's unfair in love.

SILENIUM

Now, I entreat you that you'll let her pointing to GYMNASIUM be here only for the next three days, and keep house for me; for I've been sent for to my mother's house.

A PROCURESS

Although this will be a troublesome three days for me, and you'll be causing me a loss, I'll do so.

SIL,

You act kindly and like a friend. But you, my dear Gymnasium, if in my absence Alcesimarchus shall come, don't you chide him roughly; however he has deserved of myself, still he has my affections; but, prithee, act gently, so that you mayn't say anything that may cause him pain. Take the keys giving them to her ; if you have need to take out anything for use, take it out. I wish to go ——

GYMNASIUM

weeping . How you have drawn tears from me.

SILENIUM

My dear Gymnasium, kindly, farewell.

GYMNASIUM

Take care of yourself, there's a dear. Prithee, will you go in this dishabille? Pointing to her dress.

SILENIUM

It's right that such neglect should attend upon my prospects thus disarranged.

GYMNASIUM

At least do lift up that outer garment.

SILENIUM

Let it be dragged, while I myself am being dragged down.

GYMNASIUM

Since so it pleases you, fare you well and prosper.

SILENIUM

If I could, I would. (Exit.)

GYMNASIUM

Mother, do you wish anything of me, before I go indoors? Upon my faith, to me she does seem to be in love.

A PROCURESS

For this reason, then, it is, that I'm repeatedly dinning it into your ears, not to be in love with any man. Go in-doors.

GYMNASIUM

Do you wish anything of me?

A PROCURESS

That you may fare well.

GYMNASIUM

Fare you well GYMNASIUM goes into the house of SILENTIUM.

The PROCURESS, alone.

A PROCURESS

to the AUDIENCE . It's the same fault with myself as with a great part of us women who are following this calling; who, as soon as ever we have got our load of food, are forthwith full of talk; more than is enough do we say. Why, myself now, inasmuch as I'm filled to my heart's content, and because I've charged myself quite full of the choicest of wine, it pleases me to use my tongue more at freedom; to my misfortune I can't keep silent on that which it were necessary to be silent upon. But once upon a time, that girl, who has gone hence in tears, from a lane I carried off a little child exposed. There is here a certain youth, of the highest rank; his father, of a very high family, is living at Sicyon; he is dying desperately in love for this young woman, who has just. now gone hence in tears; on the other hand, she is smitten with love. I made a present of her to my friend, this Courtesan: who had often made mention of it to me that somewhere I must find for her a boy or a girl, just born, that she herself might pass it off as her own. As soon as ever the opportunity befell me, I immediately granted her request in that which she had asked of me. After she had received this female child from me, at once she was brought to bed of the same female child which she had received from me, without the aid of a midwife and without pain, just as other women bring forth, who seek a trouble to themselves; but she said that her lover was a foreigner, and that by reason of that circumstance she was palming it off. This, we two alone are aware of, I who gave the child to her, and she who received it from me; to the AUDIENCE except yourselves, indeed. Thus was this affair managed; if any occasion should arise, I wish you to remember this circumstance. I'm off home. (Exit.)

Enter the GOD OF HELP, who speaks the PROLOGUE.

THE GOD OF HELP

To the AUDIENCE. This old woman is both a much-talker and a much-tippler. Isn't it the fact that she has hardly left room to a Divinity for him to speak, so much has she forestalled him in talking about the substitution of this girl? But if she had held her tongue, still I was about to mention it — a God, who could do it better; for my name is Help. Now to the AUDIENCE lend your attention, that I may clearly explain this plot to you. Some time since, at Sicyon,; there was the Festival of Bacchus; a merchant of Lemnos came hither to the games, and he, an ungovernable young man, ravished a maiden in the dark, in the street, at the dead of night. He, as he knew that he was deserving of a heavy punishment, at once found shelter with his heels, and made off for Lemnos, where he then lived. She whom he had ravished, the ninth ensuing month completed, brought forth a daughter here. Since she did not know the person guilty of this deed, who he was, she made the servant of her father partaker of her counsels, and gave to that servant the child to be exposed to death. He exposed it; this woman took up the child; that servant, who had exposed it, secretly took note whither or to what house she carried away the child. As you have heard her own self confess, she gave this child to the Courtesan Melænis; and she brought her up as being her own daughter, honestly and virtuously. But then, this Lemnian married a neighbour there, his relation, for his wife. She departed this life; there she was compliant to her husband. After he had performed the due obsequies to his wife, at once he removed hither; here he married for his wife that same woman whom formerly, when a maid, he ravished. When he understood that it was she whom he had ravished, she told him that, in consequence of the violation, she had brought forth a daughter, and had at once given her to a servant to be exposed. He forthwith ordered this same servant to make enquiries, if anyhow he could discover who had taken it up. Now to that task is the servant always assiduously devoting his attention, if he can find out that Courtesan, whom formerly, when he himself exposed her, he from his hidingplace had seen take her up. Now, what remains unpaid, I wish to discharge, that my name may be struck out, so that I mayn't remain a debtor. A young man is here at Sicyon, his father is alive; with affection he distractedly dotes upon this exposed girl, who just now went hence in tears unto her mother; and she loves him in return, which is the most delightful love of all. As human matters go, nothing is granted for everlasting: the father is wishful to give the young man a wife. When the mother came to know of this, she ordered her to be sent for home. Thus have these matters come to pass. Kindly fare you well, and conquer by inborn valour, as you have done before; defend your allies, both ancient ones and new; increase resources by your righteous laws; destroy your foes; laud and laurels gather; that, conquered by you, the Pœni may suffer the penalty. (Exit.)

ACT II.

Enter ALCESIMARCHUS and MELÆNIS.

ALCESIMARCHUS

I do believe that Love was the first to invent torture among mankind. This conjecture do I form from myself at home, not to go seek it out of doors; I, who surpass all men, exceed them in the pangs of my feelings. I'm tossed, tormented, agitated, goaded, whirled on the wheel of love in my misery, I'm deprived of sensation, carried one way, carried another way, I'm torn and rent asunder; such clouded faculties of mind have I, where I am, there I am not; where I am not, there my thoughts are; to such a degree have I now all kinds of feelings in me; what I like, then all at once I like not the same; so much does love trifle with me changing my mind, drive me, pursue, desire, and seize for itself, retain, trepan, and promise; what it gives, it gives not; it deludes me; what this moment it has persuaded me, it now dissuades me from; what it has dissuaded me from, it now points out to me that same. After the manner of the sea is it experienced by me; so much does it distract my enamoured feelings; and only in that, in my misery, I do not sink utterly, is there any evil removed from me thus ruined; in such a way has my father detained me these six days running in the country, at his house there; nor has it been allowed me in the meantime to visit my mistress. Isn't this dreadful to relate?

MELÆNIS

Are you joking for this reason, because you've got another wife engaged, a rich lady of Lemnos? Have her then! We are neither of a family so great as you are, nor is our wealth so substantial as yours; but still I have no fears that any one will impeach our oath; you then, if you shall feel any pain, will know for what reason you do feel pain.

ALCESIMARCHUS

May the Gods confound me —

MELAENIS

Whatever you wish for, I desire it may befall you.

ALCESIMARCHUS

If ever I'll marry that wife which my father has engaged for me.

MELAENIS

And me, if ever I give you my daughter for a wife.

ALCESIMARCHUS

Will you allow me to be forsworn?

MELAENIS

Yes, and a little more easily than myself and my affairs to go to ruin, and my daughter to be trifled with. Begone! go seek where there is confidence enough in your oaths; here now, with us, Alcesimarchus, you've renounced your title to our friendship.

ALCESIMARCHUS

Make trial of me but once.

MELAENIS

I have made that trial full oft; which I lament has been so made.

ALCESIMARCHUS

Give her back to me.

MELAENIS

Under new circumstances I'll use an old proverb: "What I have given, I wish I had not given; what's left, that I shall not give."

ALCESIMARCHUS

Won't you restore her again to me?

MELAENIS

Answer yourself for me.

ALCESIMARCHUS

You won't restore her then?

MELAENIS

You know the whole of my resolution already.

ALCESIMARCHUS

Is that quite resolved upon by you in your heart?

MELAENIS

Why, in fact, I'm thinking about something else; i' faith, I don't at present catch these words of yours with my ears.

ALCESIMARCHUS

Not hear? Why, what are you doing?

MELAENIS

Then do you give heed at once, that you may know what you are doing.

ALCESIMARCHUS

Then, so may the Gods and Goddesses of above and below, and of middle rank, and so may Juno the queen and the daughter of supreme Jove, and so may Saturn his uncle ——

MELAENIS

I' troth, his father ——

ALCESIMARCHUS

And so may Ops the opulent, his grandam ——

MELAENIS

Indeed, his mother, rather.

ALCESIMARCHUS

Juno his daughter, and Saturn his uncle, supreme Jove — You are maddening me; it's through you I make these mistakes.

MELAENIS

Go on saying so.

ALCESIMARCHUS

Is it that I'm to know what conclusion you are going to come to?

MELAENIS

Go on talking; I shall not send her back, that's resolved upon.

ALCESIMARCHUS

Why then, so may Jupiter, and so may Juno and Saturn, to me, so may — I don't know what to say — Now I know — Yes, madam, listen, that you may know my mind; may all the Deities, great and small, and those honored with the platter * * * cause me not surviving to give a kiss this day to Silenium, if I don't this very day murder you and your daughter and myself, and after that, with the break of day, if I don't to-morrow kill you both, and indeed, by all the powers, if at the third onset I don't demolish you all, if you don't send her back to me. I've said what I intended. Farewell. Goes into his FATHER'S house.

MELAENIS

to herself. He's gone in-doors in a rage. What shall I do now? If she comes back to him, matters will be just in the same position. When satiety begins to take possession; he'll be turning her out of doors, when he shall be bringing home this Lemnian wife. But still I'll go and follow him; there's necessity for caution, lest he, in love, should be doing some mischief. In fine, since with strict justice a poor person's not allowed to contend with a rich one, I'll lose my labour rather than lose my daughter. But who's this that straight along the street is directing his course this way? Both the other matter do I fear, and this do I dread; so utterly in trepidation am wretched I. She stands aside.

Enter LAMPADISCUS.

LAMPADISCUS

to himself. I've followed the old woman with my clamour through the streets; I've kept her most dreadfully plagued. In what a multitude of ways has she, this day, kept guard upon herself, and been able to remember nothing. How many alluring things, what advantages I've promised her. How many inventions I've applied to her, how many stratagems in questioning her. With difficulty have I extorted it from her that she should tell me, because I promised to give her a cask of wine.

Enter PHANOSTRATA, from her house.

PHANOSTRATA

to herself. I seemed just now to be hearing the voice of my servant Lampadiscus before the house.

LAMPADISCUS

stepping forward. You are not deaf, mistress, you heard aright.

PHANOSTRATA

What are you doing here?

LAMPADISCUS

A thing for you to rejoice at.

PHANOSTRATA

What's that?

LAMPADISCUS

pointing to the house of SILENIUM. A little while ago, I saw a woman coming out of that house there.

PHANOSTRATA

Her that took up my daughter?

LAMPADISCUS

You have the matter right.

PHANOSTRATA

What after that?

LAMPADISCUS

I told her in what way I had seen her take up the daughter of my mistress from the Hippodrome. Then she was in a fright.

MELAENIS

apart . Now my body's in a shudder, my heart is throbbing; for I recollect that from the Hippodrome the little female infant was brought to me, and that I brought it up as my own.

PHANOSTRATA

Come, prithee, do go on; my soul's longing to hear how the matter proceeded.

MELAENIS

apart . I only wish you couldn't hear.

LAMPADISCUS

I proceed * * * saying, "This old woman calls you her daughter wrongfully. * * * * * For this woman here is your foster-mother, so don't think she is your mother. I'm to take you back and invite you to opulence, where you may be settled in a noble family, where your father may present you with twenty great talents for a portion. For this is not a place where after the Etrurian mode you are disgracefully to earn a dowry for yourself by prostitution of your person."

PHANOSTRATA

Is she, pray, a Courtesan, who took it up?

LAMPADISCUS

Yes, she was a Courtesan. But how it happened, I'll tell you about that matter. I was now winning her over to me by my persuasion. The old woman embraced her knees, weeping and entreating that she would not forsake her; saying that she was her own daughter; and she took a solemn oath to me that she herself had borne her. " Her," said she, "whom you are in search of, I gave to a friend of mine to bring her up as her own daughter; and she is alive," said she. "Where is she?" immediately said I.

PHANOSTRATA

Preserve me, ye Gods, I do entreat you.

MELAENIS

apart . But me you are undoing!

PHANOSTRATA

You ought to have enquired to whom she gave it.

LAMPADISCUS

I did enquire, and she said to the Courtesan Melænis.

MELAENIS

apart . He has mentioned my name? I'm utterly undone!

LAMPADISCUS

When she mentioned her, I straightway asked, "Where does she live?" said I; "take and show me." "She has been carried off hence," says she, "to live abroad."

MELAENIS

He's sprinkling a little cold water now.

LAMPADISCUS

"Wherever she has been carried off, thither we will follow. Do you trifle in this fashion? You are undone, if, i' faith, you don't disclose this." I insisted to such a degree, that the old woman swore that she would soon inform me.

PHANOSTRATA

But you oughtn't to have let her go.

LAMPADISCUS

She's all safe; but she said that she wished first to meet a certain woman, a friend of hers, with whom this was a matter of interest in common, and I'm sure she'll come.

MELAENIS

apart . She'll be discovering me, and adding her own distress to mine.

PHANOSTRATA

Make me acquainted what you now wish me to do.

LAMPADISCUS

Go in-doors, and be of good heart. If your husband shall come, bid him wait at home, lest he should be required by me, if I want him for anything. I'm going to run back to the old woman.

PHANOSTRATA

Lampadio, prithee, do take care.

LAMPADISCUS

I'll have this matter well managed.

PHANOSTRATA

I trust in the Gods and in yourself.

LAMPADISCUS

And I in the same. — that you'll now go home. PHANOSTRATA goes into her house.

MELAENIS

coming forward . Young man, stay and listen.

LAMPADISCUS

What, are you calling to me, woman?

MELAENIS

To you.

LAMPADISCUS

What's the matter? For I'm fully engaged.

MELAENIS

Pointing to the house of DEMIPHO . Who lives there?

LAMPADISCUS

Demipho, my master.

MELAENIS

It is he, I suppose, that has betrothed his daughter with such great wealth to Alcesimarchus?

LAMPADISCUS

It is he himself.

MELAENIS

How now, you? What other daughter, then, are you people now in search of?

LAMPADISCUS

I'll tell you; not his daughter by his wife, but his wife's daughter.

MELAENIS

What's the meaning of that speech?

LAMPADISCUS

By a former woman, I say, my master had a daughter born.

MELAENIS

Surely, just now you said you were in search of the daughter of her who has been talking here.

LAMPADISCUS

Her daughter I am in search of.

MELAENIS

In what way then, pray, is she a "former woman," who is now his wife?

LAMPADISCUS

Woman, whoever you are, you weary me with your prating. The middle woman whom he had for a wife, of her this maiden was born that's being given to Alcesimarchus. That wife is dead. Do you understand now?

MELAENIS

I understand that quite well; but it's this knotty point I'm enquiring about, how the first can be the last, the last be the first.

LAMPADISCUS

The fact is this; this woman he ravished before he took her home as his wife; before that she was pregnant, and before that she gave birth to a daughter: after she gave birth to her, she ordered the infant to be exposed; I myself exposed her; another woman took her away; I was on the look-out; after that, my master married her. That girl, her daughter, we are now in search of. MELÆNIS turns aside her head. Why now, with face upturned, are you looking up towards the heavens?

MELAENIS

Now, then, be off at once whither you were hastening; I won't detain you; I understand it now.

LAMPADISCUS

I' troth, to the Deities I do give thanks; for if you hadn't understood me, I do think you would never have let me go. (Exit.) to herself. Now it's necessary for me to be honest, whether I will or no, although I had rather not; I find the thing is discovered. Now will I myself lay them under an obligation to me, rather than she shall peach upon me. I'll go home, and I'll bring Silenium to her parents. (Exit.)

MELAENIS

ACT III.

Enter MELÆNIS, SILENIUM, and HALISCA.

MELÆNIS

I've disclosed the whole matter to you; follow, my Silenium, that you may rather belong to those to whom you ought to belong, than be mine. Although against my will I shall part with you, still I'll reconcile my mind to consult that which in especial conduces to your benefit. Giving her a casket. For here in this are the trinkets, together with which she who gave you to me formerly brought you to me; that your parents may recognize you the more easily. Take this casket, Halisca, and then go and knock at that door pointing to the house of DEMIPHO : say that I request that some one will come from within. Make haste, quickly. Enter ALCESIMARCHUS, from his FATHER'S house, with his sword drawn.

ALCESIMARCHUS

calling aloud . Death, receive me unto thyself, a friend and well-wisher to me!

SILENIUM

My mother, to our sorrow, we are undone!

ALCESIMARCHUS

aloud, to himself . Whether shall I pierce my side here striking his right side or on the left.

MELÆNIS

to SILENIUM . What's the matter with you?

SILENIUM

pointing . Don't you see Alcesimarchus? He's grasping a sword.
ALC. aloud, in a frantic manner . What art about? Thou art delaying.
Quit the light of day.

SILENIUM

Do run and aid him, pray, that he mayn't kill himself. They run to assist him, on which HALISCA drops the casket.

ALCESIMARCHUS

O Safety more healthful than my own safety, you now, whether I wish or don't wish, alone do cause me to live.

MELAENIS

Fie on it! Were you ready to commit such violence?

ALCESIMARCHUS

I've nought to do with you — to you I'm dead. Clasping SILENIUM in his arms. Her, as I hold her, I'm determined not to lose. For, by heaven, I am resolved henceforth to have her entirely rivetted fast unto me. Goes to the door of the house, and calls. Where are you, servants? Shut the door with bolts, with bars, when I shall have carried her within the threshold! He carries SILENIUM into the house, followed by HALISCA.

MELAENIS

exclaiming, while wringing her hands . He's gone off: he has carried the damsel away. I'll go — I'll at once follow him in-doors, that he may know of me these same things, if from being angered with me I can render him pleased. Goes into the house.

ACT IV.

Enter LAMPADISCUS.

LAMPADISCUS

I do believe I never saw a more tormenting old nag than this is. What she just now confessed to me, is she to be denying it? But look, I see my mistress. Why seeing the casket on the ground , how's this, that this casket is lying here with these trinkets, and that I see no other person in the street? I must act the child's part; I'll stoop to pick up the casket. Picks it up. from her house.

PHANOSTRATA

What are you about, Lampadio?

LAMPADISCUS

giving the casket to PHANOSTRATA . Is this casket from out of our house here, I wonder. For I picked it up, lying here near the door.

PHANOSTRATA

What news do you bring about the old woman?

LAMPADISCUS

That there's not one other on earth more wicked. She denies all those things which she just now confessed to me. But, i' faith, for me to allow that old jade to be laughing at me, it's preferable for me to die by any kind of death.

PHANOSTRATA

Ye Gods, I do adjure you by our trust in you! Opening the casket.

LAMPADISCUS

Why do you call upon the Gods?

PHANOSTRATA

Save us!

LAMPADISCUS

What's the matter?

PHANOSTRATA

These are the trinkets with which you exposed my little daughter to death.

LAMPADISCUS

Are you in your senses?

PHANOSTRATA

These certainly are.

LAMPADISCUS

Do you persist?

PHANOSTRATA

These are they.

LAMPADISCUS

If any other woman were to speak to me after that fashion, I should say she was drunk.

PHANOSTRATA

By heaven! I'm talking no nonsense. But prithee, whence in the world did these come, or what Deity placed this before our door? As though for a given purpose, at the very instant sacred Hope comes to my aid?

Enter HALISCA, at a distance, from the house of the FATHER of ALCESIMARCHUS.

HAL.

to herself. Unless the Gods give me some aid, I'm utterly undone; nor do I know whence I am to seek for aid. To such a degree does carelessness possess wretched me in mind, which I sadly fear may be lighting upon my own back, if my mistress knows that I'm so negligent as I really am. The casket which I took and held in my hands here before the door, where it is I know not; except, as I fancy, it was dropt by me about this spot. Looks about on the ground. My good sirs to the AUDIENCE , my kind Spectators, do give me information if any one has seen it, if any one has taken it away, or any one picked it up; and whether in this direction or that he has taken his departure? She pauses for a reply. I'm none the wiser for asking these persons, or for worrying them, who are always delighted at a woman's mishaps. Now I'll mark if there are any footsteps here; for if no one had passed this way since I went in-doors, the casket would be lying here. Why say "here?" It's lost, I guess; it's done for. It's all over with unhappy and unlucky me! It's nowhere, and nowhere am I. This, by its loss, has proved my loss. But still, as I've begun, I'll e'en go on; I'll make search; for both within do I fear, and without I am afraid; so much, on either side, does fear agitate me now. In this are mortals intensely wretched. He is now joyous, whoever he is, that has found it, which is of no use at all to any person else; to myself it may be. But I cause delay to myself, while I'm doing this with remissness. Halisca, attend to what you are about: look down upon the ground, and look round about; search with your eyes; guess with shrewdness.

LAMPADISCUS

apart, at a distance . Mistress!

PHANOSTRATA

apart . Well, what's the matter?

LAMPADISCUS

apart . That's she. Pointing at HALISCA.

PHANOSTRATA

apart . Who?

LAMPADISCUS

apart. She who let fall the casket. Why surely she's tracing out that spot where it fell.

PHANOSTRATA

apart. It seems so.

HAL.

to herself, looking on the ground . But that person has gone this way; this way I perceive the imprint of his shoe; this way I'll follow him. She moves along, still looking on the ground. In this spot now has he stopped, along with another person. Here now a circle presents itself to my sight, nor did he go straight forward this way; here he came to a pause. This way did he come out of that circle. Here was a conference with some one. It points to two persons now. Who are these? Heyday I see the footsteps of only one. But he has gone this way. I'll consider it: hither he went from thence; from hence he has never gone. I'm troubling myself to no purpose. What's lost is lost; my hide along with the casket. I'll go in-doors again. Going towards the house of the FATHER of ALCESIMARCHUS.

PHANOSTRATA

calling out . Hallo, woman-stop; there are some persons who wish to meet with you.

HAL.

Who's calling me back?

LAMPADISCUS

A good female and a bad male want you.

HAL.

Away with you, bad male; I want a good one. To herself. After all, he who calls knows better what he wants than I who am called; I'll return. Aloud. Prithee, have you seen any person hereabouts pick up a casket with some trinkets, which I, to my misfortune, have lost here? For when, just now, we were running into the house of Alcesimarchus, that he mightn't put an end to his life, at that moment I think that, through terror, the casket fell down from me here.

LAMPADISCUS

aside to PHANOSTRATA . This woman's to our purpose; let's then give heed to her a little, mistress.

HAL.

To my sorrow, I'm utterly undone. What shall I say to my mistress, who bade me with such earnestness take care of it, through which Silenium might the more readily recognize her parents — who, when little, was adopted by my mistress as her own, and whom a certain Courtesan gave to her?

LAMPADISCUS

aside . She's talking about this matter of ours. According as she gives these indications by her talk, she must surely know where your daughter is.

HAL.

Now is she desirous of her own accord to restore her to her father and mother, whose daughter she is; prithee, my good sir, you are attending to something else; I commend my matter to you.

LAMPADISCUS

I'm giving my attention to this, and this is as good as food to me, that you are talking of; but amid my attending to this matter, I was answering this mistress of mine what she was enquiring; now I return to you. If you have need of anything, say you, and give your orders. What were you looking, for?

HAL.

My good sir and my good madam, I greet you.

PHANOSTRATA

And we you. But what are you looking for?

HAL.

I'm tracing footsteps here, the way that something has escaped me here, I don't know how.

PHANOSTRATA

What is it?

LAMPADISCUS

What is it, pray?

HAL.

Something to bring a loss to another, and a calamity on our family.

LAMPADISCUS

aside to PHANOSTRATA . A worthless baggage is this, mistress, and a crafty one.

PHANOSTRATA

aside . I' faith, and so she seems.

LAMPADISCUS

aside . She imitates a worthless animal and a mischievous.

PHANOSTRATA

aside . Which one, prithee? LAM. aside . A caterpillar, which twisting about winds itself in the leaf of the vine; just in the same way does she begin a story that twists about. To HALISCA. What are you looking for?

HAL.

A casket, my good young man, has flown away from me here.

LAMPADISCUS

You ought to have put it in a cage.

HAL.

I' faith, the booty was no great one.

LAMPADISCUS

It's a wonder, if a whole troop of slaves isn't there in the casket.

PHANOSTRATA

Do let her speak.

LAMPADISCUS

If indeed she would speak.

PHANOSTRATA

to HALISCA . Come say you, what was in it?

HAL.

Trinkets only.

LAMPADISCUS

There's a certain man, who declares that he knows where it is.

HAL.

But, by my faith, he'll confer an obligation on a certain woman if he'll discover it.

LAMPADISCUS

But this certain man wishes a reward to be given to him.

HAL.

But, by my faith, this certain woman, that has lost this casket, declares that she has nothing to give to this certain man.

LAMPADISCUS

But still this certain man looks for some money.

HAL.

But still he looks for it in vain.

LAMPADISCUS

But, by my faith, good woman, in no matter does this certain man give his pains for nothing.

PHANOSTRATA

Lend me your conversation: it will now be for your own advantage. We confess that we have got the casket.

HAL.

Then may Salvation preserve you; where is it now?

PHANOSTRATA

producing the casket . See, here it is, safe. But I wish to discourse with you upon a matter of importance to myself; I take you as a sharer with me in my own preservation.

HAL.

What matter is this, or who are you?

PHANOSTRATA

I am the mother of her who had these things with her, when exposed.

HAL.

Do you live here then? Pointing to the house.

PHANOSTRATA

You are a diviner. But, prithee, good woman, do lay aside all mystification, and to the point; tell me at once, whence did you get these trinkets?

HAL.

This daughter of my mistress had them.

LAMPADISCUS

You tell a falsehood; for my own mistress's daughter had them, not yours.

PHANOSTRATA

Don't interrupt.

LAMPADISCUS

I'll be mum.

PHANOSTRATA

Good woman, go on speaking. Where is she who had them?

HAL.

pointing to the house of ALCESIMARCHUS . Here, next door.

PHANOSTRATA

By the powers, surely the son-in-law of my husband is living there.

LAMPADISCUS

Surely ——

PHANOSTRATA

to LAMPADISCUS . Interrupting again? To HALISCA. Go on relating it. How many years old is she said to be?

HAL.

Seventeen.

PHANOSTRATA

She is my own daughter then!

LAMPADISCUS

'Tis she, as the number of her years has proved.

HAL.

What you are seeking, you have found; I now seek what's mine.

LAMPADISCUS

Why, faith, they've found what's their own, I'll seek for number three.

PHANOSTRATA

My daughter, the object which I was seeking, I have discovered.

HAL.

It's proper to keep in safety what has been entrusted in confidence, lest a kindness should turn out a detriment to the well-deserving. This fosterling of ours is assuredly your daughter, and my mistress is about to restore you your own, and for that purpose has she come from her house. But, prithee, enquire of her own self; I am but a servant.

PHANOSTRATA

You ask what's just.

HAL.

To her rather do I choose this obligation to belong. But I beg that you'll restore me that casket.

PHANOSTRATA

What's to be done, Lampadio?

LAMPADISCUS

What's your own, keep as your own.

PHANOSTRATA

But I feel compassion for her.

LAMPADISCUS

This I think ought to be done; give her the casket, and go in-doors together with her.

PHANOSTRATA

I'll follow your advice. Giving it to HALISCA. Take you the casket. Let's go in-doors. But what's the name of your mistress?

HAL.

Melænis.

PHANOSTRATA

Go first; I'll follow you at once. Exit LAMPADISCUS, and the others go into the house of the FATHER of ALCESIMARCHUS.

ACT V.

Enter DEMIPHO.

DEMIPHO

What affair is this, that all persons are talking about in the street — that my daughter has been found? They say, too, that Lampadio has been seeking me in the Forum. Enter LAMPADISCUS.

LAMPADISCUS

Master, whence come you?

DEMIPHO

From the Senate.

LAMPADISCUS

I rejoice that through my means there is an addition to your children.

DEMIPHO

But it don't please me; I don't want that I should be having more children by means of another person. But what is the meaning of this?

LAMPADISCUS

pointing to the house of the FATHER of ALCESIMARCHUS . Make haste, and go in-doors here to the house of your neighbour; you'll at once recognize your daughter. Your wife's in-doors there as well. Go quickly.

DEMIPHO

I'm resolved that this shall, before all other matters, be attended to. They go into the house of the FATHER of ALCESIMARCHUS.

The Company of COMEDIANS

Don't you wait, Spectators, till they come out to you; no one will come out; they'll all finish the business indoors; when that shall be done, they'll lay aside their dress; then, after that, he that has done amiss will get a beating; he that has not done amiss will get some drink. Now as to what's left, Spectators, for you to do, after the manner of your ancestors, give your applause at the conclusion of the Play.

CURCULIO

Translated by Henry Thomas Riley

The shortest of Plautus' extant plays, Curculio concerns the young man Phaedromus, who is in love with Planesium, a slave girl belonging to the pimp Cappadox. Phaedromus sends Curculio (a stock parasite character) to borrow money to help him buy Planesium. Unsuccessful, Curculio happens to run into Therapontigonus, a soldier that intends to purchase Planesium. After Curculio learns of his plans, he steals the soldier's ring and returns to Phaedromus. They fake a letter and seal it using the ring. Curculio takes it to the soldier's banker Lyco, tricking him into thinking he was sent by Therapontigonus. Lyco pays Cappadox, under the conditions that the money will be returned if it is later discovered that she is freeborn. Curculio takes the girl back to Phaedromus. When the trick is later discovered, the angry Therapontigonus confronts the others...

PHÆDROMUS

is desperately in love with Planesium, who is in the possession of Cappadox, an avaricious Procurer. Not having the means of obtaining her freedom, Phædromus sends Curculio, his Parasite, to Caria, to borrow the money from a friend. The friend being unable to lend it, Curculio by accident meets a military officer, named Therapontigonus, and is invited by him to dinner. The Captain accidentally mentions to him that he has agreed to purchase Planesium of the Procurer, and that the money is deposited with Lyco, the banker, who, has been ordered, on receiving a letter signed with the Captain's signet, to have the young woman delivered to the bearer. While the Captain is overpowered with wine, Curculio steals his signet, and hastens back to Epidaurus, where he forges a letter by means of it, which he delivers to Lyco, as though from the Captain. The money is paid to the Procurer, and Planesium is handed over to Curculio; a condition having been previously made, that if she should turn out to be a free woman by birth, the money shall be repaid to the purchaser. Curculio then delivers Planesium to Phædromus. The same day, the Captain arrives at Epidaurus, and is soon after recognized by Planesium as her brother, through the medium of the ring, which had belonged to her father. To corroborate her assertion, Planesium produces another ring, which Therapontigonus had presented to her when a child as a birthday present. On this, she is given by her brother in marriage to Phædromus; and Cappadox, much against his will, is forced to refund the money to the Captain.

THE ACROSTIC ARGUMENT.

[Supposed to have been written by Priscian the Grammarian.]

On an errand of Phædromus, Curculio (Curculio) goes to Caria, that (Ut) he may obtain some money; there he despoils the rival (Rivalem) of Phædromus of his ring. He writes a letter, and seals it with that seal. Lyco, when he sees it, recognizes (Cognoscit) the seal of the Captain; that (Ut) he may send him his mistress, he pays the money to the Procurer. The Captain threatens to summon Lyco (Lyconem) and the Procurer to justice: he himself (Ipsus) discovers his sister that was lost, at whose request (Oratu) he gives her in marriage to Phædromus.

ACT I.

(Before daybreak.) Enter at one side of the stage PHÆDROMUS, with a lighted torch, and followed by SLAVES with wine and provisions for an entertainment, and PALINURUS on the opposite side.

PALINURUS

Whither away must I say that you are going out of doors at this time o' night, Phædromus, with that dress and with this train?

PHÆD.

Whither Venus and Cupid summon me, and Love persuades me; whether 'tis the midnight or whether the earliest twilight, if the day is fixed for pleading your cause with your antagonist, still must you go where they command you, whether you will or no.

PALINURUS

But pray, pray ——

PHÆD.

Pray —— you are annoying to me.

PALINURUS

Really that is neither pretty nor befitting you to say. You are your own servant; in your fine garb you are showing the light with your waxen torch.

PHÆD.

And ought I not to carry that which is gathered by the labour of the little bees — which has its birth in sweets — to my own sweet one, my little honey?

PALINURUS

But whither must I say that you are going?

PHÆD.

If you ask me that, I'll tell, so that you may know.

PALINURUS

If I make the enquiry, what would you answer me?

PHÆD.

This is the Temple pointing to it of Æsculapius.

PALINURUS

That I have known for more than a twelvemonth past.

PHÆD.

Close to it is that door, dear as my very eyes. Points to the door of CAPPADOX. Hail to you! door, dear as my very eyes; have you been quite well of late?

PALINURUS

Did a fever leave you but yesterday, or the day before, and did you take your dinner yesterday?

PHÆD.

Are you laughing at me?

PALINURUS

Why then, madman, are you enquiring whether the door is well or not?

PHÆD.

I' faith, I've known it as a door most comely and most discreet: never one word does it whisper; when it is opened, it is silent; and when, by night, she secretly comes out to me, it holds its peace.

PALINURUS

And are you not, Phædromus, doing, or contemplating the doing of, some deed which is unworthy of yourself or of your family? Are you not laying a snare for some modest fair one, or for one that should be modest?

PHÆD.

For no one; and may Jupiter not permit me to do so.

PALINURUS

I wish the same. Ever, if you are wise, so bestow your love, that if the public should know the object which you love, it may be no disgrace to you. Ever do you take care that you be not disgraced.

PHÆD.

What means that expression?

PALINURUS

For you to proceed with caution on your path; the object that you love, love in the presence of witnesses.

PHÆD.

Why, 'tis a Procurer that lives here. He points.

PALINURUS

No one drives you away from there, nor yet forbids you, if you have the money, to buy what's openly on sale. No one forbids any person from going along the public road, so long as he doesn't make a path through the field that's fenced around; so long as you keep yourself away from the wife, the widow, the maiden, youthful age, and free-born children, love what you please.

PHÆD.

This is the house of a Procurer.

PALINURUS

A curse befall it.

PHÆD.

Why so?

PALINURUS

Because it serves in an infamous service.

PHÆD.

You speak out.

PALINURUS

Be it so, most especially.

PHÆD.

Once more, will you hold your tongue?

PALINURUS

You bade me speak out, I thought.

PHÆD.

Then, now I forbid you. But, as I had begun to say, he has a young female slave ——

PALINURUS

This Procurer, you mean, who's living here?

PHÆD.

You have hold of it exactly.

PALINURUS

The less shall I be in dread of its falling.

PHÆD.

You are impertinent. He wishes to make her a courtesan, while she is desperately in love with me; whereas I don't wish to have her upon loan.

PALINURUS

Why so?

PHÆD.

Because I'm for having her as my own; I love her equally as well.

PALINURUS

Clandestine courtship is bad; 'tis utter ruin.

PHÆD.

I' troth, 'tis so as you say.

PALINURUS

Has she as yet submitted to the yoke of Venus?

PHÆD.

For me she is as chaste as though she were my own sister, unless, indeed, she is any the more unchaste for some kissing.

PALINURUS

Always, do you understand, flame follows very close on smoke; with smoke, nothing can be burnt, with flame, it can. He who wishes to eat the kernel of the nut, first breaks the nut; he who wishes to seduce, opens the dance with kisses.

PHÆD.

But she is chaste, and never yet has bestowed her favours upon man.

PALINURUS

That I could believe, if any Procurer had any shame.

PHÆD.

Well, but what think you of her? When she has any opportunity, she steals away to me; when she has given me a kiss, she's off again. This happens by reason of this, because this Procurer is lying a-bed ill in the Temple of Æsculapius; that fellow is my torturer.

PALINURUS

How so?

PHÆD.

At one time he asks me for thirty minæ for her, at another for a great talent; and from him I cannot obtain any fair and just dealing.

PALINURUS

You are too exacting, in requiring that of him which no Procurer possesses.

PHÆD.

Now, I've sent my Parasite hence to Caria, to ask for money on loan from my friend; if he doesn't bring me this, which way to turn myself I know not.

PALINURUS

If you salute the Deities, towards the right I think; now this is this altar of Venus before their door.

PHÆD.

I have already vowed to bring me an early breakfast for my Venus.

PALINURUS

What? Will you then be giving up yourself as a breakfast to Venus?

PHÆD.

Myself, and you, and all of these. Pointing to the SLAVES.

PALINURUS

Then you would have Venus to be sick outright.

PHÆD.

to an ATTENDANT. Here, boy, give me the bowl.

PALINURUS

What are you going to do?

PHÆD.

You'll know directly. An old hag is in the habit of sleeping here, as the keeper of the door; the name of the Procuress is "Much-bibber" and "Neat-bibber."

PALINURUS

Just as you would speak of a flagon, in which Chian wine is wont to be.

PHÆD.

What need is there of words? She is a most vinous soul; and the very moment that I've sprinkled this door with the wine, she knows by the smell that I'm here, and opens it forthwith.

PALINURUS

Is it for her the bowl is brought with the wine?

PHÆD.

Unless you object.

PALINURUS

I' faith, I do object; for I'd rather have it broken about him who has brought it. I fancied it was brought for ourselves.

PHÆD.

Why don't you hold your tongue? If any's left after her, it will be enough for ourselves.

PALINURUS

What river is it, pray, that the sea does not receive?

PHÆD.

Follow me this way, Palinurus, to the door; do you be obedient to me.

PALINURUS

I'll do so. They advance to the door of the PROCURER'S house.

PHÆD.

sprinkling the door with wine . Come, drink, you joyous door, quaff on, readily prove propitious unto me.

PALINURUS

in an affected tone . Door, would you like some olives or a tit-bit, or some capers?

PHÆD.

Arouse and send out here to me your portress.

PALINURUS

You're spilling the wine; what matter is it that possesses you? Takes hold of his arm.

PHÆD.

Let me alone. Don't you see? This most joyous door is opening; does the hinge make a bit of creaking? 'Tis a charming one.

PALINURUS

Why don't you then give it a kiss?

PHÆD.

Hold your tongue; let's keep back the light and our noise.

PALINURUS

Be it so. They stand apart, leaving the bowl near the door.

Enter the PROCURESS, from the house of CAPPADOX.

PROC.

The savour of aged wine has reached my nostrils; the love of it has brought me in my eagerness hither in the dark; wherever it is, it's near me. O capital, I've found it. Stooping, and smelling at the bowl. Hail to you, my soul, Joy of dear Bacchus; how enamoured am I of your old age. For in comparison with yours, the odour of all unguents were mere bilge-water; you are my myrrh, you my cinnamon, you my rose, you my saffron unguent and my cassia, you are my vine-palm scent. But, where you have been poured, there would I most earnestly hope to be buried.

PALINURUS

apart . This old lady's thirsty; how limited is her thirst? PHÆD.

apart . She's a moderate person; she swallows eight gallons only.

PALINURUS

apart . I' faith, according to your account, this year's vintage is not enough for this old woman alone.

PROC.

But since as yet you, fragrance, alone have penetrated to my nostrils, so in its turn afford some delight to my throat. Feels for the bowl on the ground, which PALINURUS draws away. I find you not; where is your own dear self? I'm longing to touch you; do let me pour your liquids into me by sip-sipping. But in this direction it has gone, this way I'll follow it. Goes in the direction of PALINURUS, who has the bowl.

PALINURUS

apart . It really had been more proper for her to be a dog; she has a good nose.

PROC.

Prithee, whose voice is it that I hear at a distance.

PHÆD.

apart . I think that this old hag should be accosted. I'll approach her. Aloud. Come back, Procuress, and look back towards me.

PROC.

Who is it that gives his commands?

PHÆD.

The all-powerful in wine, jolly Bacchus; he who, when you're hawking, parched, and half asleep, brings you a draught and comes to quench your thirst.

PROC.

How far is he away from me?

PHÆD.

holding up the torch . See this light.

PROC.

Then, prithee, do quicken your pace towards me.

PHÆD.

Health to you.

PROC.

How can I have health, who am parched with thirst?

PHÆD.

But you shall drink in a moment.

PROC.

'Tis long a-coming.

PHÆD.

extending the bowl . Here's for you, jolly old dame.

PROC.

Health to you, gentleman dear as my very eyes.

PALINURUS

Come, toss this off quickly into your abyss; scour out your sink right speedily.

PHÆD.

Hold your tongue; I won't have her ill spoken to.

PALINURUS

aside . In preference, then, I'll do her ill.

PROC.

pouring some of the residue on the altar . Venus, of this little, this very little will I give to thee — sore against my will; for all the lovers, in their cups, to propitiate thee, expend their wine upon thee: not such windfalls often fall to me. Drinks again.

PALINURUS

Do look at that, please, how greedily the filthy hag swills down the pure wine into herself with distended gullet.

PROC.

patting her stomach and chuckling . Ha, ha, ha

PALINURUS

How is it? Do you like it?

PROC.

I do like it.

PALINURUS

And I, too, should like to goad with a spur as well.

PHÆD.

aside to PALINURUS . Don't you — do hold your tongue.

PALINURUS

I'll hold my tongue; the old woman drinks but see, the rainbow's drinking; I' faith, I do believe it will rain to-day.

PHÆD.

Troth now, I'm quite undone; what first to say to her I know not.

PALINURUS

Why, the same thing that you said to me.

PHÆD.

What's that?

PALINURUS

Say that you're quite undone.

PHÆD.

May the Gods confound you.

PALINURUS

Say so to her.

PHÆD.

Am I to say then to her —— ?

PALINURUS

Say what?

PHÆD.

That I'm quite undone.

PALINURUS

Well then, say so.

PHÆD.

Old lady, do listen. I wish you to know this; to my sorrow, I'm quite undone.

PROC.

But, i' faith, for my part, I'm altogether brought to life. But why is it that you are pleased to say you are quite undone?

PHÆD.

Because I'm deprived of the object which I love. Pretends to weep

PROC.

My dear Phædromus, prithee, do not weep; do you take care that I'm not thirsty, I'll at once bring out here for you the object which you love. Goes into the house.

PHÆD.

Assuredly, if you keep faith with me, in place of a golden statue, I'll erect for you one of wine, which shall be a memorial of your gullet Palinurus, who on earth will be so blest as myself, if she comes to me?

PALINURUS

By my faith, he who is in love, if he is in want as well, is afflicted with a dreadful malady.

PHÆD.

Such is not the case with me; for I feel sure that this very day my Parasite will come hither to me with the money.

PALINURUS

You attempt something mighty, if you expect that which nowhere exists.

PHÆD.

What if I approach the door, and trill a carol?

PALINURUS

If you choose; I neither bid nor request you, since, my master, I see that you are of manners and disposition thus changed.

PHÆD.

sings . Bolts, O ye bolts, with pleasure do I salute you. I love you, I court you, I seek you, and you entreat; most kindly lend your aid to me in love; become, for my sake, as though play-actors from foreign climes; leap upwards pray, and send out of doors this fair one, who drains my blood for me distractedly in love. Addressing PALINURUS. Look at that, how those most accursed bolts sleep on, and none the quicker for my sake do they bestir themselves. Addressing the door. I see quite clearly that you don't value my esteem at all. Hist! hush, hush!

PALINURUS

I' troth, for my part I'm silent enough.

PHÆD.

I hear a noise; at last, i' faith, these bolts have become complaisant to me.

Re-enter the PROCURESS, with PLANESIUM, from the house of CAPPADOX.

PROC.

to PLANESIUM, while opening the door . Come softly out, and prevent the noise of the doors and the creaking of the hinges, my dear Planesium, that our master mayn't perceive that that is going on which we are doing here. Stay, I'll pour a little water on it. Pours water on the hinges.

PALINURUS

to PHÆDROMUS . Do you see how the palsied hag is giving her dose? She herself has learnt right well to drink up the wine; to the door she's giving water for it to drink.

PLANESIUM

looking around . Where are you — you who have summoned me on the recognizances of Venus? To you do I present myself, and, in the same way do I call on you, on the other hand, to present yourself to me.

PHÆD.

stepping forward . Here I am; for could I be absent, I wouldn't repine for any misfortune to befall me, my honey. PLAN. My life, it is not becoming for one thus in love to be at a distance.

PHÆD.

Palinurus, Palinurus!

PALINURUS

Say on; why is it that you call upon Palinurus?

PHÆD.

aside . She is a charming one.

PALINURUS

aside . Aye, too charming. PHÆD. I am a God.

PALINURUS

Why, no — a mortal, of no great value.

PHÆD.

What have you seen, or what will you see, more nearly to be compared with the Gods?

PALINURUS

You are not in your senses, master; a thing that's grievous to me.

PHÆD.

You are not sufficiently respectful to me: hold your tongue.

PALINURUS

The person that sees the object which he loves, and enjoys not the opportunity while he may, is one who torments his own self.

PHÆD.

Rightly does he rebuke me; really there's nothing which for this long time past I have more eagerly desired.

PLANESIUM

Clasp me, embrace me then.

PHÆD.

embracing her . This, too, is a reason for which I could wish to live; because your master restrains, you, in secret do I court you.

PLANESIUM

Restrain me? He neither can restrain me, nor will he restrain me, unless death should separate my soul from you.

PHÆD.

Let monarchs keep their kingdoms to themselves, the rich their riches to themselves, to themselves their honors, to themselves their prowess, to themselves their combats, to themselves their battles; so long as they abstain from envying me, let each one of them keep what is his own.

PALINURUS

aside . Of a truth, I cannot refrain from giving a lecture to my master; for, really, it is good to love in a moderate degree; to distraction, it is not good; but to love to entire distraction, is the thing that my master's doing. Aloud. What say you, sir? Have you made a vow, Phædromus, you'd watch the night through for Venus? For really, upon my faith, before very long hence the dawn will be breaking.

PRÆD.

Do hold your tongue.

PALINURUS

Why hold my tongue? What, are you going to sleep?

PHÆD.

I am asleep; don't you make a noise.

PALINURUS

Why, but you're broad awake.

PHÆD.

Age, but after my own fashion I'm asleep; this is my slumber.

PALINURUS

to PLANESIUM . A word with you, madam; 'tis thoughtlessness to treat amiss one who deserves it not.

PLANESIUM

You would be angry, if, when you are eating, he were to drive you away from your food.

PALINURUS

aside . It's all over with him. I see that these two are equally in love to distraction; and both of them are mad. D'ye see how intensely they hug each other? They cannot embrace enough. Addressing them. Are you going to part yet?

PLANESIUM

No human being has blessings that last for ever. To this pleasure, then, is that plague added.

PALINURUS

What say you, you shocking hussy? What, you little tipsy ninny, are even you with your owlish eyes to be calling me a plague, you whipper-snapper?

PHÆD.

What, you abusing my own Venus? And really, is a slave well trounced with the rod to be commencing a discussion with myself?
But, by the powers, you've surely said that to your own misfortune.
Strikes him. There, take that, by way of punishment for this abusive language, that you may be able to put a check upon your speech.

PALINURUS

to PLANESIUM . Your aid, I pray, you night- watching Venus.

PHÆD.

What, do you still persist, whip- scoundrel? Strikes hint.

PLANESIUM

Don't, there's a dear, be beating a stone, lest you should hurt your hand.

PALINURUS

You perpetrate, Phædromus, a flagitious and a shameful deed of great enormity; one who directs you aright, you pummel with your fists; her you are in love with, a mere nonentity. Is it right that you should behave yourself in this unreasonable manner?

PHÆD.

Find me a reasonable lover against his weight in gold; here, take the gold of me. Holds out his purse.

PALINURUS

Do you find me a person for me to serve in his sound senses against his weight in double-distilled gold.

PLANESIUM

Kindly fare you well, apple of my eye, for I hear the sound and creaking of doors; I think the keeper is opening the temple. But, prithee, in this same manner shall we always enjoy our love by stealth?

PHÆD.

Far from it; for I sent my Parasite four days since to Caria to fetch some money; he'll be here to-day.

PLANESIUM

You are very long in your contriving.

PHÆD.

So may Venus love me, I'll never allow you to be three days in this house here, before I procure your liberty.

PLANESIUM

Take care to remember it. Once more, before I go hence, take this kiss. Kisses him.

PHÆD.

By heavens, really if a kingdom now were offered me, I should not obtain it with greater pleasure. When shall I see you again?

PLANESIUM

Why now, for that expression get ready the Prætor's rod; if you love me, purchase my freedom; don't make any haggling. Take care to prevail with your offer. Kindly adieu! Goes into the house of the PROCURER.

PHÆD.

And am I then left behind? Palinurus, I'm Lilled outright.

PALINURUS

And I as well, who am dying with thumps and sleepiness.

PHÆD.

Do you follow me. They go into the house of PHÆDROMUS.

ACT II.

Enter CAPPADOX, from the Temple of ÆSCULAPIUS.

CAPPADOX

to himself . I am resolved to depart from this Temple out of doors forthwith, since thus I find the determination of Æsculapius, who sets me at nought, and chooses not that I should be healed. My health is declining, my weakness increases. For now I walk, girded with my spleen as though with a belt; in my stomach do I seem to be holding a twin offspring. I'm afraid of nothing, but that, in my misery, I should burst asunder in the middle. PHÆDROMUS.

PALINURUS

speaking to PHÆDROMUS within as he enters . If you do right, Phædromus, you'll listen to me, and banish this sorrow from your feelings. You are anxious because your Parasite hasn't returned from Caria. I think he'll bring the money; but if he doesn't bring it, by a chain of iron he couldn't be withheld from betaking himself to eat at his manger.

CAPPADOX

turning round . What person is it that speaks?

PALINURUS

to himself . Whose voice is it that I hear?

CAPPADOX

Isn't this Palinurus, the servant of Phædromus?

PALINURUS

aside . Who is this fellow with extended paunch, and eyes as green as grass? From his figure I know him; from his complexion I cannot recognize him. O, now I do know him: it's the Procurer Cappadox. I'll accost him.

CAPPADOX

Save you, Palinurus.

PALINURUS

O source of villanies, save you; how are you?

CAPPADOX

I'm just alive.

PALINURUS

Just as you deserve, I suppose? But what's the matter with you?

CAPPADOX

My spleen is killing me, my reins are in torment, my lungs are being torn asunder, my liver is being tortured, my heart-strings are giving way, all my intestines are in pain.

PALINURUS

The liver complaint is afflicting you, then.

CAPPADOX

My spleen is expanded.

PALINURUS

Take walking exercise; that's the best thing for the spleen.

CAPPADOX

'Tis an easy matter to laugh at the afflicted.

PALINURUS

Well, then, do you hold out for some days until your intestines become putrid. Now, while the humours are pretty sound, if you do that, you yourself might sell for a worse price than those intestines of yours.

CAPPADOX

Prithee, have done with this, and answer me this which I ask; can you possibly form a conjecture on it, if I relate to you what I dreamt last night in my sleep?

PALINURUS

Psha, this — pointing to himself — this is the sole person that is really skilled in divination; why, the interpreters of dreams ask advice of myself; the answer that I have given them, by that opinion they all stand.

Enter a COOK, from the house of PHÆDROUMS.

COOK

Palinurus, why do you delay? Why are not the things served out for me which are needed for the breakfast to be prepared for the Parasite when he comes.

PAR.

Wait, please, until I interpret his dream. Pointing to CAPPADOX.

COOK

Why, you your own self, if you've had any dream, always apply to me.

PALINURUS

I confess it.

COOK

Be off, then, and serve out the things.

PALINURUS

to CAPPADOX . Come now, do you in the meantime relate your dream to him. I give you a substitute better than I am myself; for what I do know, all of it I know from him. Pointing to the COOK.

CAPPADOX

Let him give his attention then.

PALINURUS

He'll give it.

CAPPADOX

He does what few do, in being attentive to their masters even. To the COOK. Do you give me your attention then. PALINURUS goes into the house of PHÆDROMUS.

COOK

Although I don't know you, I'll give it you.

CAPPADOX

Last night I seemed in my sleep to behold Æsculapius, seated at a distance far away from me; and it seemed that he didn't come near me, or set any value upon me.

COOK

The other Gods will do the same, you must know; in fact, among themselves they agree with perfect unanimity. It isn't to be wondered at, if it fares no better with you. But it had been better for you to pass the night in Jove's Temple, who has given you his assistance in your oaths.

CAPPADOX

If, indeed, those should wish to sleep there who have been guilty of perjury, it were not possible for room to be found them in the Capitol.

COOK

Give your attention to this; ask peace of Æsculapius, lest perchance some great mishap befall you, which has been portended to you in your rest.

CAPPADOX

You do well in advising me; I'll go and pray to him. Goes into the Temple.

COOK

And ill speed you with it * * * * * Goes into the house of PHÆDROMUS. Enter PALINURUS, from the house.

PALINURUS

looking in the distance, as he enters . O immortal Gods, whom do I behold? Who's that yonder? Pointing. Isn't that the Parasite, who was sent to Caria? Goes to the door. Hallo, come out, Phædromus, come out, come out, come out this instant, I say. from the house.

PHÆD.

Why are you making this noise here?

PALINURUS

] see your Parasite running; see, there he is pointing , down at the end of the street. Let's listen from here what he's about.

PHÆD.

I think it's as well. They stand aside.

Enter CURCULIO, at a distance, walking fast.

CURCULIO

to himself . Known or unknown, make way for me, while here I execute my commission; fly all of you, be off, and get out of the way, lest I should hurt any person in my speed with my head, or elbow, or breast, or with my knee. So suddenly now am I charged with a business of quickness and despatch. And be there no person ever so opulent to stop me in my way, neither general, nor any tyrant, nor market-officer, nor demarch nor comarch, with their honors so great, but that down he goes, and tumbles head first from the footpath into the carriage-road. And then those Grecians with their cloaks, who walk about with covered heads, who go loaded beneath their cloaks with books, and with baskets, they loiter together, and engage in gossiping among themselves, the gad-about; you may always see them enjoying themselves in the hot liquor-shops; when they have scraped up some trifle, with their covered pates they are drinking mulled wine, sad and maudlin they depart: if I stumble upon them here, from every single one of them I'll squeeze out a belch from their pearled-barley diet. And then those servants of your dainty townsmen, who are playing at catch-ball in the road, both throwers and catchers, all of them I'll pitch under foot. Would they avoid a mishap, why then, let them keep at home.

PHÆD.

apart . He points out aright, he only requires that he should speak with authority; for such manners are in vogue in the present day, such at present are the slaves; really, control cannot be held over them.

CURCULIO

to himself . Is there any one, I wonder, who can point out to me Phædromus, my good Genius? The matter is of such pressing nature, I really must meet with the man this instant.

PALINURUS

apart . He's looking for you. PHÆD. apart . What if we accost him? Aloud. Hallo! Curculio, I want you.

CURCULIO

looking round . Who's calling me? Who's mentioning my name?

PHÆD.

One who wishes to meet with you.

CURCULIO

seeing him . You don't wish more for me than I wish for you.

PHÆD.

O my own ready occasion, Curculio, much longed-for, greetings to you.

CURCULIO

Greetings to you.

PHÆD.

I'm glad that you have arrived safe; give me your right hand. How stand my hopes? Troth now, prithee, do speak out.

CURCULIO

To you, troth now, prithee, do speak out, how stand my own. Makes curious gestures.

PHÆD.

What's the matter with you?

CURCULIO

A dimness is beginning to come, my knees are failing through fasting.

PHÆD.

I' faith, through lassitude, I think.

CURCULIO

staggering . Support me, prithee, do support me.

PHÆD.

See how pale he has turned; will you give him a seat, for him to be seated at once, and an ewer with some water? Will you make haste, this very instant?

CURCULIO

I'm faint.

PHÆD.

Would you like some water?

CURCULIO

If it's full of bits of meat, prithee, give it me to swallow down, i' faith.

PHÆD.

Woe be to that head of yours.

CURCULIO

Troth now, prithee do give me cause to rejoice at my arrival.

PHÆD.

begins to fan him . By all means.

CURCULIO

Prithee, what's this you're about.

PHÆD.

Some air.

CURCULIO

Really, for my part, I don't want a breath to be raised.

PHÆD.

What then?

CURCULIO

To eat, that I may rejoice on my arrival.

PHÆD.

May Jupiter and the Deities confound you.

CURCULIO

I'm quite undone; I can hardly see; my mouth is bitter; my teeth, I find, are blunted; my jaws are clammy through fasting; with my entrails thus lank with abstinence from food am I come.

PHÆD.

You shall eat something just now.

CURCULIO

I' faith, I don't want "something;" I'd rather have what's fixed for certain, than your "something."

PHÆD.

Aye, but if you only knew what has been put by for you.

CURCULIO

I'd very much like to know where it is; for really it's necessary for it and my teeth to make acquaintance.

PHÆD.

A gammon of bacon, a sow's stomach, some udder and kernels of the throat.

CURCULIO

What, all this do you say? Perhaps you mean that they are in the flesh-market?

PHÆD.

In the dishes, I mean; they've been got ready for you, since we knew that you were about to arrive.

CURCULIO

Take care you don't be fooling me.

PHÆD.

So may the fair one love me whom I love, I don't say what's false. But as to what I sent you upon I'm none the wiser yet.

CURCULIO

I've brought back nothing.

PHÆD.

You've undone me.

CURCULIO

I can find something, if you'll give me your attention. After, at your request, I had set out, I arrived in Caria; I saw your friend; I asked him to make me a loan of some money. In answer, you were to know that he was willing to oblige you; he didn't wish to disappoint you, as it is only proper that a person who is a friend should be ready, and should assist his friend. In a few words he answered me, and quite in confidence, that he also was in the same extreme want of money as yourself.

PHÆD.

By your words you ensure my undoing.

CURCULIO

Why no; I'm saving you, and wish you to be saved. After this answer was given me, I went away from him to the Forum, in sorrow that I had applied to him in vain. By accident I espied a military officer; this person I accosted, and as I approached I saluted him. "Save you," said he to me, took my right hand, drew me aside, and asked me why I had come to Caria. I said that I had come there for the sake of amusement. Upon this he asked me whether I knew a certain Lyco, a banker of Epidaurus. I said I knew him. "Well, and the Procurer Cappadox?" I answered yes, that I had seen him. "But what do you want of him?" said I. "Because," said he, "I bought of him a girl for thirty minæ, her clothes and golden jewels too; and for these last ten minæ more are added." "Have you paid the money?" said I. "No," said he; "it is lodged with this Lyco the banker, whom I was mentioning, and I've instructed him that the person who should bring a letter sealed with my own ring, to him he was to give his services, that he might receive the damsel, with her jewels of gold and her clothes, from the Procurer." After he told me this, I was going away from him. At once he called me back, invited me to dinner; it was a point of conscience, I was unwilling to refuse him. "What if we go off home, and take our places at table?" said he. The suggestion pleased me; it is neither proper to lengthen out the day, nor to curtail the night. Everything was prepared, and we, for whom it was prepared, were at our places. After we had dined and well drunk, he asked for the dice to be fetched him. He challenged me to play with him a game of hazard. I staked my cloak, he staked his ring against it; he called on the name of Planesium.

PHÆD.

What, my mistress?

CURCULIO

Be silent a while. He threw a most losing cast. I took up the dice, and invoked Hercules as my genial patron; I threw a first-rate cast, and pledged him in a bumping cup; in return he drank it off, reclined his head, and fell fast asleep. I slyly took away from him the ring, and took my legs quietly from off the couch, so that the Captain mightn't perceive it. The servants enquired whither I was going; I said that I was going whither persons when full are wont to go. When I beheld the door, at once on the instant I betook myself away from the place.

PHÆD.

I commend you.

CURCULIO

Commend me when I've brought this thing about which you desire. Now let's go indoors, that we may seal the letter.

PHÆD.

Do I delay you?

CURCULIO

But let's cram down something first, the gammon, the udder, and the kernels; these are the foundations for the stomach, with bread and roast beef, a good-sized cup and a capacious pot, that counsel enough may be forthcoming. Do you, yourself, seal the letter; he'll do the honors pointing to PALINURUS while I am eating. I'll dictate after what fashion you're to write. Follow me this way, in-doors.

PHÆD.

I follow. They go into the house of PHÆDROMUS.

ACT III.

Enter LYCO.

LYCO

I seem to be in opulence; I've struck my balance, how much money I have, and how much I owe. I'm rich, if I don't pay those to whom I'm in debt. If I do pay those to whom I'm in debt, my debts are the greatest. But really, upon my faith, when I carefully consider, if they press me hard, I'll resort to the Prætor. Most bankers have this habit, for one to borrow of the other, and to pay nobody, and to discharge the debt with their fists, if any one duns in a loudish tone. The person that has in a short time acquired wealth, unless in good time he saves it, in good time comes to starvation. I'd like to buy a servant for myself, who now, however, must be sought by me on hire: there's occasion for my ready money. within.

CURCULIO

Don't you be reminding me now I'm full; I recollect and understand. I'll render up to you all this cleverly carried out; do hold your peace. I' faith, I've surely filled myself in-doors right well, and still in my stomach I've left room for one corner, in which to stow away the remnants of these remnants. Seeing LYCO. Who's this that with covered head is saluting Æsculapius? Heyday, the very man I wanted. To an ATTENDANT. Follow me. I'll make pretence as though I didn't know him. Aloud. Hark you; I want you.

LYCO

turning round. One-eyed man, save you.

CURCULIO

Prithee, do you jeer me?

LYCO

I suppose that you are of the family of the Coclites; for they are one-eyed.

CURCULIO

This was knocked out for me by a catapulta, at Sicyon.

LYCO

What matters it to me, pray, if it had been knocked out by a broken pot with cinders in it?

CURCULIO

aside. This fellow's a wizard, surely; he tells the truth, for such catapultas are often directed at me. Aloud. Young man, as I bear this mark on my face in the service of the public, prithee don't be uncivil to me.

LYCO

May I then inforize you, if I may not incomitiatize?

CURCULIO

You shan't be inforizing me, indeed; and really I don't care at all about your Forum or your Comitia. But if you can point me out this person that I'm seeking, you will be doing me a real and a great service. I'm looking for Lyco the banker.

LYCO

Tell me why you are now seeking for him, or, of what country are you?

CURCULIO

I'll tell you: I'm come from Therapontigonus Platagidorus, the Captain.

LYCO

I' faith, I know the name: aside for with that same name, when I wrote, I filled four whole sides. To CURCULIO. But why are you seeking for Lyco?

CURCULIO

showing the letter. I've been ordered to deliver this letter to him. LYC. What person are you?

CURCULIO

His freed-man, whom all call Summanus.

LYCO

Summanus, my greetings. But why Summanus? Let me know.

CURCULIO

Because, when in my drunken fit I've gone to sleep, I "summane" the garments; for that reason do all people call me Summanus.

LYCO

'Twere better for you to look out for entertainment for you somewhere else; really in my own house I have no room for a Summanus. But I am the person that you are looking for.

CURCULIO

Prithee, are you he, Lyco the banker?

LYCO

I am.

CURCULIO

Therapontigonus requested me to give you a hearty greeting, and to deliver this letter.

LYCO

What, to me?

CURCULIO

Just so. Take it, recognize the seal. Do you know it? LYCO takes the letter.

LYCO

Why should I not know it? On which, a man, holding a shield, is cleaving an elephant asunder with a sword.

CURCULIO

What's written there he bade me request you to do immediately, if you wished for his esteem.

LYCO

Step aside; I'll look what's written in it.

CURCULIO

stepping aside . By all means, at your pleasure, so long as I receive of you that which I'm come for.

LYCO

reads . "Therapontigonus Platagidorus, the Captain, his guest, sends to his host Lyco, at Epidaurus, right hearty greeting."

CURCULIO

aside . This fellow's my own; he's swallowing the hook.

LYCO

going on . "I beg and request of you that, the person who delivers this letter to you, to him be given up the girl whom I purchased there (which I did there in your presence, and you being the negotiator), and the golden trinkets and clothes as well. You know already how it was agreed upon. You give the money to the Procurer, and give the young woman to this person." To CURCULIO. Where is he himself? Why doesn't he come?

CURCULIO

I'll tell you; because it is but four days since we arrived in Caria, from India; there he now intends to order a solid golden statue to be made of Philippean gold, which is to be seven feet high — a memorial of his exploits.

LYCO

For what reason this?

CURCULIO

I'll tell you; why, because within twenty days he singly has subdued the Persians, Paphlagonians, Sinopians, Arabians, Cretans, Syrians, Rhodia and Lycia, Peredia and Bibesia, Centauromachia and Classia Unomammia, and all Libya, and all Conterebromia; one half even of all nations has he conquered unaided in twenty days.

LYCO

Dear me!

CURCULIO

Why are you surprised?

LYCO

Why, because if all these people were penned up in a cage as close as chickens, even so they couldn't be encompassed in a year. Upon my faith, I do believe that you are come from him; for you do jabber such nonsense.

CURCULIO

Aye, and I can tell you still more, if you like.

LYCO

No; I don't want it. Follow me this way. I'll pay you that, on account of which you came; and lo, I see * * * * * from his house.

LYCO

Save you, Procurer.

CAPPADOX

May the Gods prosper you.

LYCO

Do you know what this is about which I'm come to you?

CAPPADOX

Say on what you please.

LYCO

You are to receive the money, and to send away the young woman with him. Pointing to CURCULIO.

CAPPADOX

But what if I'm bound on oath to another?

LYCO

What matters that to you, so long as you get the money?

CAPPADOX

He who advises is as good as an accomplice. Do you follow.

CURCULIO

Procurer, take care that you don't cause me any delay. They go into the house of CAPPADOX.

ACT IV.

Enter the CHOREGUS , as CHORUS.

THE CHOREGUS

By my faith, Phædromus has cleverly met with this clever rogue; but whether a salt-water rogue or a dry-land one I'm the rather to say he is, I really don't know. The costume that I've lent I fear I shan't get back. Although I have nothing whatever to do with him (I trusted Phædromus himself), still I'll keep an eye upon him. But until he comes out of doors, I'll point out in what place you may easily meet with each person, that he mayn't lose his labour through too much trouble, if any one wishes to meet either a rascal or one without rascality, or an honest man or a dishonest one. He who desires to meet with a perjured fellow, let him go into the courts of law; he who wants a liar and a braggart, near the rites of Cloacina. The rich and erring husbands seek you at the magisterial halls of the Basilica. There, too, will be the worn-out harlots, and those who are wont to haggle for them. Contributors to pic-nic dinners you'll find in the fishmarket. In the lower part of the Forum good men and opulent do walk; in the middle, near the canal, there are the mere puffers-off. Beyond the lake of Curtius are impudent, talkative, and malevolent fellows, who boldly, without reason, utter calumnies about another, and who, themselves, have sufficient that might with truth be said against them. There, at the old shops, are these who lend and those who borrow at interest. Behind the Temple of Castor there are those to whom unguardedly you may be lending to your cost. There, in the Etrurian street, are those men who hold themselves on sale. In the Velabrum you'll find either baker, or butcher, or soothsayer; either those who sell retail themselves, or supply to others things to be sold by retail. Rich sinning husbands you'll find at the house of Oppian Leucadia. But, meantime, the door makes a noise; I must curb my tongue. (Exit.)

Enter, from the house of CAPPADOX, CURCULIO, leading PLANESIUM, followed by LYCO and CAPPADOX.

CURCULIO

Maiden, do you go before; what is behind me I cannot keep my eye upon. Both the trinkets of gold, and all the clothing that she had, were his own, he said.

CAPPADOX

No one is going to deny it.

CURCULIO

Still, however, it's somewhat better for me to remind you.

LYCO

Remember that you've undertaken, that, if any one should assert in course of law that she's properly free, all the money is to be returned to me—thirty minæ.

CAPPADOX

I shall remember; be easy about that; and now I say the same.

CURCULIO

But I wish you to remember this well.

CAPPADOX

I remember, and I shall deliver her to you on warranty.

CURCULIO

And am I to take anything on warranty from a Procurer, people who have nothing of their own except a tongue only; who, if anything's entrusted them, deny it upon oath? You Procurers dispose of what belongs to others, you give liberty to what belongs to others, and what belongs to others you give your commands to; no guarantee of ownership is there in the transfer to yourselves, nor are you yourselves guarantees to another person. The race of Procurers, among mortals, in my way of thinking at least, are just like flies, gnats, bugs, lice, and fleas — a plague, a mischief, and a nuisance; you are of no serviceable use, and no respectable person dares to stand with you in the Forum; he that does associate with you, they censure him, he's spat upon and abused; they say that he has lost his property and his honor, although he has done nothing at all.

LYCO

Upon my faith, my clever one-eyed friend, in my way of thinking, you are well acquainted with the Procurers.

CURCULIO

You bankers, i' faith, I put and place in the same rank; you are the very counterparts of them. They, at least, are on sale in dark corners, you in the very Forum. You tear men to pieces with usury, they by persuading them amiss and by means of their dens. Full many a proposed statute has the public confirmed on your account, which when confirmed you break; some loophole you find out; just as boiling water becomes cold, so do you deem the laws.

LYCO

aside . I'd rather I'd held my tongue CAP. Not wrongfully, and with good reason, are you abusive against them.

CURCULIO

If abuse is uttered against those who deserve it not, that I do hold to be abuse; but if it is uttered against those who are deserving, it is fair censure, in my way of thinking, at least. I care nothing about your warranty, nor about any other Procurer whatever. Lyco, do you want anything with me?

LYCO

Heartily fare you well.

CURCULIO

Farewell. Going.

CAPPADOX

Hark you! I say to you ——

CURCULIO

Say on; what do you want?

CAPPADOX

Prithee do you take care that all's well with her pointing to PLANESIUM ; I've brought her up in my house carefully and in chastity.

CURCULIO

If you have such compassion for her, pray, what would you give for it to be all well with her?

CAPPADOX

A plaguy mishap for yourself.

CURCULIO

You need take due care on that score about yourself.

CAPPADOX

to PLANESIUM, who is weeping . Why, simpleton, do you cry? Don't be afraid; upon my faith, I've sold you favourably. Take care, will you, and be a good girl; now prettily accompany him, pretty one.

LYCO

Summanus, do you want anything with me at present?

CURCULIO

Fare you well, and health attend you. Aside. For you've kindly given me your services and your money.

LYCO

Give abundant greetings to my patron.

CURCULIO

I'll give them. (Exit with PLANESIUM.)

LYCO

Procurer, do you wish for anything?

CAPPADOX

Give me those ten minæ for me to manage for myself with, until things are better with me.

LYCO

They shall be paid; order them to be fetched to-morrow. (Exit.)

CAPPADOX

Since I've successfully finished the matter, I wish to return thanks here in the Temple. For long since, when a little girl, I bought her for ten minæ; but him who sold her to me, never since then have I set eyes upon. I think he's dead. What matters that to me? I've got the money. The man to whom the Gods are propitious, for him, no doubt, they throw gain in his way. Now will I give my attention to my devotions; it's clear that he has a kind regard for me. Goes into the Temple.

Enter THERAPONTIGONUS. and LYCO.

THERAPONTIGONUS

I'm come now, inflamed with wrath in no moderate degree, but with that same with which I've learned to deal destruction upon cities. At once now, unless this moment you make haste instantly to pay me the thirty minæ which I left with you, make haste to lay down your life.

LYCO

By my troth, to no little mischief do I now devote you, but to that same to which I am wont to devote that man to whom I owe nothing at all.

THERAPONTIGONUS

Don't you be making yourself bold with me, or suppose that I shall be entreating you.

LYCO

And you, indeed, shall never force me to pay you what has been paid, nor shall I give it you.

THERAPONTIGONUS

I thought this, when I entrusted you with it, that you would repay nothing at all.

LYCO

Why then are you now asking it back of me?

THERAPONTIGONUS

I wish to know to whom you have paid it.

LYCO

To your one-eyed freed-man; he said that he was called Summanus; I paid it to him, who brought me this sealed letter. Gives him the letter.

THERAPONTIGONUS

What letter of mine, what one-eyed freed-man, what people called Summanus are you dreaming about? I really have no freed-man at all.

LYCO

You act more wisely than a portion of the military men who have freed-men, and then forsake them.

THERAPONTIGONUS

What have you done?

LYCO

What you requested me, I've done for your sake, that I mightn't slight the messenger who had brought your seal's impression.

THERAPONTIGONUS

More fool than fool were you to give credit to this letter.

LYCO

To that by which matters both public and private are carried on ought I not to have given credit? I'll be off; the money has been properly paid you. Warrior, farewell.

THERAPONTIGONUS

How — farewell?

LYCO

Fare you ill then, if you choose, — aye, all your life, so far as I'm concerned. (Exit.)

THERAPONTIGONUS

What shall I do now? Of what use is it that I have caused kings to obey me, if this obscure fellow is this day to laugh at me?

Enter CAPPADOX, from the Temple.

CAPPADOX

to himself. The man to whom the Gods are propitious, they cannot, I think, be angered with him. After I ad finished my devotions, it then came into my mind, lest the banker should abscond, to go fetch the money, that I may make good cheer rather than he.

THERAPONTIGONUS

I had left my compliments for you at your house.

CAPPADOX

Therapontigonus Platagidorus, save you; since you are come safe to Epidaurus this day, at my house — you won't lick up one grain of salt.

THERAPONTIGONUS

You give me a kind invitation; things, however, are in a train for it to go badly with yourself. But how fares my purchase at your house?

CAPPADOX

Why, not at my house at all. Don't be bringing your witnesses — assuredly, I don't owe you anything.

THERAPONTIGONUS

How's that?

CAPPADOX

What I was bound on oath to do, I've done.

THERAPONTIGONUS

Will you give me up the girl or not, before I spit you with this sabre of mine, you whip-scoundrel?

CAPPADOX

I bid you go to perdition with all my heart; don't you be terrifying me. She has been carried off; you shall be carried off hence away from me, beyond a doubt, if you persist in abusing me, to whom I owe nothing but a punishing.

THERAPONTIGONUS

What, threaten me with a punishing?

CAPPADOX

Aye, and by my troth, I'll not be threatening, but I'll give it, if you persist in being impertinent to me.

THERAPONTIGONUS

A Procurer, forsooth, threatening me; and are my combats in battle, so many in number, lying trodden under foot? But so may my sabre and my shield * * * * trustily aid me when fighting in the field; unless the girl is restored to me, I'll at once cause the ants to carry you away piecemeal from this spot.

CAPPADOX

And so may my tweezers, my comb, my looking-glass, my crimping-iron, and my hair-scissors and scrubbing-towel love me well, I don't value your high-sounding words, nor these big threats of yours, a bit the more than my servant-girl that washes out my sink. I've given her up to him who brought the money from you.

THERAPONTIGONUS

What person was that?

CAPPADOX

He said that he was Summanus, your freed-man.

THERAPONTIGONUS

Mine? You don't say so; i' faith, it's that Curculio that has put a trick upon me, when I think upon it; he stole my ring from me.

CAPPADOX

aside . The Captain has been finely appointed to a cashiered company.

THERAPONTIGONUS

Where now shall I find Curculio?

CAPPADOX

In some wheat with the greatest ease I'll make you find even five hundred Curculios instead of one. Therefore I'm off; fare you well, and my service to you. (Exit.)

THERAPONTIGONUS

Fare you ill, a plague attend you. What shall I do? Shall I stop or go away? That I should have been imposed upon in this way! I'd like to give a reward to him who would point out that fellow to me. (Exit.)

ACT V.

Enter CURCULIO, with a ring, from the house of PHÆDROMUS.

CURCULIO

I've heard that an ancient Poet wrote in a Tragedy, that two women are worse than one; such is the fact. But a more crafty woman than is this mistress of Phædromus, I never saw or heard of, nor, i' faith, can one be spoken of or imagined; she, as soon as ever she saw that I had got this ring, asked me whence I got it. "Why do you ask that?" said I. "Because I've need to know," said she. I said I wouldn't tell her. To get it away, she seized hold of my hand with her teeth. With much ado I betook me out of doors, and made my escape. Away with this slut.

Enter PLANESIUM, followed by PHÆDROMUS, from his house.

PLANESIUM

My Phædromus, make haste.

PHÆD.

Make haste for what?

PLANESIUM

That you mayn't let the Parasite escape; the affair's of consequence.

PHÆD.

Nothing have I of consequence; for what I did have I quickly made away with? Seizes CURCULIO. I've got him; what's the matter?

PLANESIUM

Ask him whence he got that ring: my father used to wear it.

CURCULIO

Why, troth, and so did my aunt.

PLANESIUM

My mother gave it him to wear.

CURCULIO

And your father, in his turn, to me.

PLANESIUM

You are talking nonsense.

CURCULIO

I'm in the habit; for by reason of it I make a livelihood the more easily. What is the matter now?

PLANESIUM

I entreat you, don't be keeping me from finding my parents.

CURCULIO

How can I? Have I got your father and mother hidden beneath the stone? Holding up the ring.

PLANESIUM

I was born a free woman.

CURCULIO

And so were many others, who are now in servitude.

PLANESIUM

Really now, I'm vexed.

CURCULIO

For my part, I've told you how this came into my possession. How often must you be told? I cheated the Captain at dice, I tell you.
THERAPONTIGONUS.

THERAPONTIGONUS

eyeing CURCULIO . I'm all right; see, here he is whom I was looking for. How do you do, good sir?

CURCULIO

I hear you; three casts of the dice, if you like, even for that scarf of yours.

THERAPONTIGONUS

Why don't you go to very perdition, with your casts and catch-pennies? Either give me back the money or the young woman?

CURCULIO

with an air of surprise . What money? what rubbish are you talking about to me? What young woman are you demanding back of me?

THER. The one that you took away this day from the Procurer, you scoundrelly fellow.

CURCULIO

I took none away.

THERAPONTIGONUS

Why, surely, I see her. There she is. Pointing to PLANESIUM.

PHÆD.

This young woman is free.

THERAPONTIGONUS

What, my female slave free, to whom I have never given her liberty?

PHÆD.

Who gave you possession of her, or of whom did you buy her? Let me know that?

THERAPONTIGONUS

Why, I paid the money for her through my banker — a sum which I'll have refunded to me fourfold by you and the Procurer.

PHÆD.

You, who understand how to traffic in young women, kidnapped and of free birth, come you before the judge.

THERAPONTIGONUS

I shan't come.

PHÆD.

I may call my witness to the summons.

THERAPONTIGONUS

No, you mayn't.

PHÆD.

May Jupiter then utterly confound you: live without witnesses then.

CURCULIO

But I'm a person that he may summon.

PHÆD.

to CURCULIO . Do you step this way.

THERAPONTIGONUS

What? A slave summoned as a witness? Take you care.

CURCULIO

Well, that you may know it, I'm free.

THERAPONTIGONUS

Then come before the judge. There's for you: take that. Gives him a blow.

CURCULIO

O townsmen, townsmen, help.

THERAPONTIGONUS

Why do you bawl so?

PHÆD.

What right have you to strike him?

THERAPONTIGONUS

Because I choose.

PHÆD.

to CURCULIO . Step this way you pushes him towards the CAPTAIN ; there, I'll give him up to you. Hold your noise.

CURCULIO

Phædromus, prithee do save me.

PHÆD.

As I would myself and my own good Genius. Captain, prithee, do tell me whence you got that ring, which this Parasite purloined from you.

PLANESIUM

kneeling before the CAPTAIN . By your knees, I do entreat you to give us that information.

THERAPONTIGONUS

What matters that to you? You might as well ask after this sabre and this scarf, how each came into my possession.

CURCULIO

What airs the swaggerer does give himself!

THERAPONTIGONUS

Send that fellow away pointing to CURCULIO ; then I'll tell you all.

CURCULIO

It's nonsense what he says.

PHÆD.

Prithee, do let me know.

THERAPONTIGONUS

I'll tell you: to PLANESIUM get up. Listen to this matter, and give attention. My father Periphanes used to wear it.

PLANESIUM

Ha! Periphanes?

THERAPONTIGONUS

He, before he died, gave it to me as being his son, as it was right he should.

PLANESIUM

O Jupiter!

THERAPONTIGONUS

And on that occasion he made me his heir.

PLANESIUM

O filial affection, do thou preserve me, since I have carefully preserved thee. Welcome, my brother.

THERAPONTIGONUS

How am I to believe that? Tell me, if you are speaking the truth, who was your mother?

PLANESIUM

Cleobula.

THERAPONTIGONUS

Who was your nurse?

PLANESIUM

Archestrata. Amid the sacred rites of Bacchus she had carried me to see the sights * * * * * after we had come thither, when now she had found me a place, a whirlwind arose; the scaffolding of the stage there tumbled down; I was greatly alarmed, and then some one, I know not who, seized hold of me trembling and frightened, neither alive nor dead; and in what manner he carried me off I cannot say.

THERAPONTIGONUS

I recollect that disturbance happening; but, do you tell me, where is this person, who carried you away?

PLANESIUM

I know not; but showing a ring this ring I have all along preserved by me, with it long since was I lost.

THERAPONTIGONUS

Give it me to look at.

CURCULIO

to PLANESIUM . Are you in your senses to be trusting it to that fellow? Holds her arm.

PLANESIUM

Do you only leave me alone. (She gives it to the CAPTAIN.) examining it . O Jupiter! This is the same that I presented you upon your birthday; I recognize it as easily as my own self. Welcome to you, my sister.

THERAPONTIGONUS

PLANESIUM

My brother, welcome to you.

PHÆD.

I trust the Gods will prosper this matter for you.

CURCULIO

And I, for all of us. To the CAPTAIN. Do you, as having this day arrived, give a dinner in honor of your sister he pointing to PHÆDROMUS , to-morrow, will give one in honor of his marriage; we promise that.

PHÆD.

to CURCULIO . Do you hold your tongue.

CURCULIO

I shan't hold my tongue, as things are turning out so well. Captain, do you promise her to him; I'll give the marriage-portion.

THERAPONTIGONUS

What is the marriage-portion?

CURCULIO

What, that I give? Why, that always as long as he lives he's to feed me.

THERAPONTIGONUS

I' troth, he says what's fair; with my consent you shall do so. But this Procurer owes me the thirty minæ.

PHÆD.

For what reason so?

THERAPONTIGONUS

Because he agreed with me on these terms to give it back: that if any one should assert her to be free born in due course of law, he would, without dispute, pay back all the money.

CURCULIO

Then let's go to the Procurer.

THERAPONTIGONUS

I agree.

PHÆD.

This first I wish; to despatch my matter.

THERAPONTIGONUS

What's that?

PHÆD.

That you will betroth her to me. The CAPTAIN considers.

CURCULIO

Why do you hesitate, Captain, to give her as a wife to him?

THERAPONTIGONUS

If she is agreable.

PLANESIUM

My brother, it is my wish.

THERAPONTIGONUS

So be it then.

CURCULIO

You do rightly.

PHÆD.

Captain, do you betroth me to her for my wife?

THERAPONTIGONUS

I do betroth her.

PHÆD.

pointing to CURCULIO . And to him do I promise support at my expense.

CURCULIO

You do kindly. But * * * * *

THER,

* * * * * But see, here's the Procurer coming; my treasurer, I mean.

Enter CAPPADOX, in haste.

CAPPADOX

to himself . Those who say it's bad for bankers to be trusted, utter nonsense; I say it's neither good nor bad for them to be trusted, and that, I've fully experienced this day. They are not badly trusted, who never repay, but with whom it is lost outright. As for example, before this Lyco paid me the ten minæ, he had to go to every banker's counter. After there were no proceeds, I summoned the fellow with much noise; he appealed against me to the court. I was most confoundedly afraid that this day he'd be settling accounts with me before the Prætor; but my friends forced him, so he paid the money at home. Now I'm resolved to make haste to my house. Runs towards his door.

THERAPONTIGONUS

Hallo! you Procurer; I want you.

PHÆD.

And I want you.

CAPPADOX

But I don't want either of you.

THERAPONTIGONUS

Stay this instant, will you.

PHÆD.

And make you haste to disgorge the money with all despatch.

CAPPADOX

to PHÆDROMUS . What have you to do with me? To the CAPTAIN.
Or what have you?

THERAPONTIGONUS

Because this day I shall be making a javelin of you, discharged from a catapulta, and twist you with the string, just as the catapultas are in the habit of doing.

PHÆD.

I'll this day make a coxcomb of you, to be sleeping with a puppy in your bed — an iron one, I mean.

CAPPADOX

But I'll make you both to be rotting in a strong-barred prison.

THERAPONTIGONUS

Seize him by the throat, and away with him to extreme torture.

PHÆD.

However that is, he'll be going there of his own accord. The

CAPTAIN seizes him.

CAPPADOX

O Gods and men, your aid! that I, uncondemned, and without evidence against me, should thus be dragged along! Prithee, Planesium, and you, Phædromus, do give me assistance.

PLANESIUM

Brother, I do beseech you, don't ruin him uncondemned; he treated me kindly and modestly at his house.

THERAPONTIGONUS

That was through no inclination of his own; give you thanks to this Æsculapius pointing to the Temple that you've preserved your chastity; for if he had been well, he'd long ago have packed you off wherever he could.

PHÆD.

Now attend to me, both of you, if I can arrange between you. To the CAPTAIN. You let him go. Procurer, come you this way. I'll pronounce my opinion, if indeed you are ready to abide by what I shall decide you should do.

THERAPONTIGONUS

We leaves it to you. He lets go of the PROCURER.

CAPPADOX

So long, i' faith, as you give a decision to the effect that no one is to take the money away from me.

THERAPONTIGONUS

What, not that which you promised?

CAPPADOX

I, promised? How?

THERAPONTIGONUS

With your tongue.

CAPPADOX

With that same tongue I now gainsay it; that was given me by Nature for the purpose of speaking, not of losing my property.

THERAPONTIGONUS

He's trifling; seize the fellow by the throat. Seizes him. CAP. I'll at once then do as you bid me.

THERAPONTIGONUS

Since you are an honest man, answer me this that I ask you.

CAPPADOX

Ask me what you please.

THERAPONTIGONUS

Did you not promise, that if any one should show that she pointing to PLANESIUM was freeborn, you would pay back all the money?

CAPPADOX

I don't remember saying so.

THERAPONTIGONUS

What, do you deny it?

CAPPADOX

I' faith, I really do deny it. In whose presence? In what place was it?

THERAPONTIGONUS

In my own presence, and that of Lyco the banker.

CAPPADOX

Why don't you hold your tongue?

THERAPONTIGONUS

I shan't hold my tongue.

CAPPADOX

I don't care a rush for you; don't be bullying me.

THERAPONTIGONUS

In my own presence and that of Lyco it took place.

PHÆD.

to the CAPTAIN . I quite believe you. Now, therefore, Procurer, that you may know my judgment, pointing to PLANESIUM she is a free woman; he pointing to the CAPTAIN is her brother, and she is his sister; she is engaged to me; do you restore him the money; that's my decision.

CAPPADOX

Upon my faith, Phædromus, you have given this decision corruptly. It shall both be bad for you, and you, Captain, — may the Gods and Goddesses confound you.

THERAPONTIGONUS

And as for you, you shall be clapt in prison at once, unless the money's returned me.

CAPPADOX

Then follow me.

THERAPONTIGONUS

Follow you where?

CAPPADOX

To my banker — to the Prætor; for it's there that I pay my money to all persons to whom I'm indebted.

THERAPONTIGONUS

I'll be carrying you hence to prison, and not to the Prætor, if you don't pay back the money.

CAPPADOX

I do most earnestly wish you may come to a bad end, so don't misunderstand me.

THERAPONTIGONUS

Do you really so?

CAPPADOX

I' faith, I really do so.

THERAPONTIGONUS

I don't misunderstand these fists of mine. Holding them up.

CAPPADOX

What then?

THERAPONTIGONUS

What then, do you ask? With these same fists, if you provoke me, I'll be making you quiet immediately.

CAPPADOX

taking the money from his girdle . Well then, take this back at once.

THERAPONTIGONUS

taking the money . By all means.

PHÆD.

Captain, you'll dine with me; the nuptials shall take place to-day.

THERAPONTIGONUS

May this matter turn out well for me and for yourselves.

An ACTOR.

Spectators, give us your applause.

EPIDICUS

Translated by Henry Thomas Riley

Epidicus is said to be one of Plautus' most popular works. It concerns the eponymous slave, who works hard to please his master's son, Stratippocles. The main plot was based on a Greek play, though the story line was changed in order to prevent a brother from marrying his half-sister. This change was made as Romans considered this incest, unlike the Greeks.

In the plot, Epidicus tricks his master, Periphanes, out of a sum of money in order to purchase a female slave, Acropolitis, who the master's son, Stratippocles, has fallen in love with. Epidicus does this by convincing Periphanes that this girl is his daughter from Philippa, whom he hasn't seen in many years, and has been captured in Thebes and brought to Athens. Believing this young woman is his daughter, Periphanes willingly hands over the money. Stratippocles soon goes off to war and falls in love with a different woman while away. To purchase this new woman, Stratippocles borrows money from a banker. When Stratippocles returns home, he vows not to meet with his father until the debt is paid back to the banker.

THE SUBJECT.

The plot of this Play is of an involved nature. Periphanes, an aged Athenian, has a son, born in wedlock, named Stratippocles. By Philippa, a woman of Epidaurus, whom he has formerly seduced, he has had a daughter, named Telestis who has been residing with her mother at Thebes. A war arising between the Athenians and Thebans, Stratippocles, on setting out for the army, commissions Epidicus, his father's servant, to purchase for him Acropolistis, a music-girl, of whom he is enamoured. Epidicus, on this, persuades Periphanes that this girl is really his daughter by Philippa, whom he has not seen for many years, and that she has been taken captive at Thebes, and brought to Athens. On this the old man gives Epidicus the requisite sum, and she is brought home and introduced to him as his daughter Telestis. In the meantime, Stratippocles meets with another damsel who has been taken captive, and agrees with a Banker to borrow forty mince, for the purpose of purchasing her. He returns to Athens, and resolves not to meet his father until he has paid the money to the Banker and gained possession of the damsel, and Epidicus is threatened by him with a severe punishment, if he does not manage to raise the sum required. On this he accosts his aged master, and tells him that he must find a wife for his son, who is about to purchase a singing-girl of the name of Acropolistis. The old man is persuaded to give a sum of money to Epidicus for the purpose of buying Acropolistis, that she may be kept out of the way of his son. On receiving the money, Epidicus hands it over to Stratippocles, to be paid to the Banker. The old gentleman having that morning ordered a singing-girl to be hired to perform at a sacrifice at his house, she is brought to him as Acropolistis, having been instructed how to play her part. A Captain, who admires Acropolistis, having heard that Periphanes has purchased her, applies to him, and offers to give him a profit of ten minæ if he will transfer her to him. Periphanes, thereupon, brings to him the music-girl who is assuming that character (while the real Acropolistis is taken for his daughter), on which the Captain discovers the deception, and Periphanes finds out that the girl is already free, and has been only brought to his house to perform at the sacrifice. At this conjuncture Philippa arrives, having heard that her daughter has been brought to Athens. Periphanes meets her, and assures her that her daughter is safe at his house. On this, Philippa is introduced to Acropolistis, and declares that she is not her daughter, and that Periphanes has been imposed upon. On being questioned, Acropolistis confesses that she has only called Periphanes her father because he has called her his daughter. Epidicus, on being discovered to be guilty of this second fraud upon his master, is greatly alarmed; but just then he perceives the Banker, who has come for the money, leading the Theban captive. He immediately recognizes her as Telestis, the real daughter of Periphanes and Philippa, Stratippocles, somewhat to his sorrow, is informed that the captive is his half-sister, and therefore, most probably, consoles himself with Acropolistis. For making this discovery, Epidicus is not only pardoned by Periphanes, but receives his freedom.

THE ACROSTIC ARGUMENT.

[Supposed to have been written by Priscian the Grammarian.]

An old gentleman, thinking her his daughter, purchases (Emit) a music-girl, by the advice (Persuasu) of his servant, who, a second time (Iterum), substitutes for him, in place of his son's mistress, another one hired; he gives (Dat) to his master's son the money; with it the young man, not knowing it (Imprudens), purchases his sister. Soon afterwards, by the aid of a woman whom he has seduced, and of a Captain, the old man understands (Cognoscit) that he has been imposed upon, as (Ut) the one is in search of his mistress, the other of her daughter. But (Sed) on finding his daughter, he gives his servant his liberty.

ACT I.

Enter THESPRIO, followed by EPIDICUS.

EPIDICUS

pulling THESPRIO by the cloak . Harkye! young man.

THESPRIO

Who pulls me by the cloak, when thus in haste?

EPIDICUS

An intimate.

THESPRIO

I confess it; for with your annoyance you are too intimate.

EPIDICUS

But do look back, Thesprio!

THESPRIO

looking round . What? Is it Epidicus that I see?

EPIDICUS

Why surely you've the use of your eyes.

THESPRIO

Greetings to you.

EPIDICUS

May the Gods grant what you desire. I'm glad that you've got here safe.

THESPRIO

What besides?

EPIDICUS

According to the usage, a dinner shall be given you.

THESPRIO

I agree.

EPIDICUS

What to do?

THESPRIO

That I'll accept it, if you offer it.

EPIDICUS

How are you? Fare you as you could wish?

THESPRIO

The proof's before you.

EPIDICUS

I understand. Eyeing him from top to toe. Marvellous! You seem quite plump and hearty.

THESPRIO

pointing to his left hand . Thanks to this.

EPIDICUS

Which, indeed, you ought to have parted with long ago.

THESPRIO

I'm less of a pilferer now than formerly.

EPIDICUS

How so?

THESPRIO

I rob above-board.

EPIDICUS

May the immortal Gods confound you, with what huge strides you do walk! for when I caught sight of you at the harbour, I began to run at a rapid pace; I was hardly able to overtake you just now.

THESPRIO

You are a town wit.

EPIDICUS

I know that you, on the other hand, are a military gentleman.

THESPRIO

Speak out as boldly as you please.

EPIDICUS

How say you? Have you been well all along?

THESPRIO

In a varied way.

EPIDICUS

Those who are well in a varied way, a race of men of the goat kind or of the panther kind, don't please me.

THESPRIO

What do you wish me to tell you but that which is fact?

EPIDICUS

To answer to these things fairly; how's our master's son? Is he well?

THESPRIO

Stout as a boxer and an athlete.

EPIDICUS

You've brought me joyous tidings on your arrival. But where is he?

THESPRIO

I came here together with him.

EPIDICUS

Where is he then? Unless, perchance, you've brought him in your wallet, or, perhaps, in your knapsack.

THESPRIO

May the Gods confound you!

EPIDICUS

I want to make enquiries of you. Lend me your attention; attention shall be lent you in return.

THESPRIO

You say what's law.

EPIDICUS

It becomes me to do so.

THESPRIO

But why now are you acting the Prætor over us?

EPIDICUS

What other person in Athens will you say is more deserving of it than I?

THESPRIO

But still, Epidicus, one thing is wanting for your Prætorship.

EPIDICUS

What, pray?

THESPRIO

You shall know; two lictors two osier bundles of twigs —— shaking his fist at him . Woe unto you! But how say you —— ?

EPIDICUS

THES. What is it you ask?

EPIDICUS

Where are the arms of Stratippocles?

THESPRIO

I' faith, they've gone over to the enemy.

EPIDICUS

What, his arms?

THESPRIO

Aye, and quickly too.

EPIDICUS

Do you say that seriously?

THESPRIO

Seriously I say it; the enemy have got them.

EPIDICUS

By my troth, a disgraceful affair.

THESPRIO

Still, before now, other persons have done the same. This affair will turn out to his honor.

EPIDICUS

How so?

THESPRIO

Because it has been so to others before.

EPIDICUS

Mulciber, I suppose, made the arms which Stratippocles had; they flew over to the enemy.

THESPRIO

Why, then, e'en let this son of Thetis lose them; the daughters of Nereus will bring him others.

EPIDICUS

Only this must be looked to, that material may be found for the armourers, if in each campaign he yields a spoil to the enemy.

THESPRIO

Have done now with these matters.

EPIDICUS

You yourself make an end of them when you please.

THESPRIO

Cease your enquiries then.

EPIDICUS

Say, where is Stratippocles himself?

THESPRIO

There is a reason, for which reason he has been afraid to come together with me.

EPIDICUS

Pray, what is it?

THESPRIO

He doesn't wish to see his father as yet.

EPIDICUS

For what reason?

THESPRIO

You shall hear; because he has purchased out of the spoil a young female captive of charming and genteel figure.

EPIDICUS

What is it I hear from you?

THESPRIO

That which I'm telling you.

EPIDICUS

Why has he purchased her?

THESPRIO

To please his fancy.

EPIDICUS

How many fancies has this man? For assuredly, before he went away from home to the army, he himself commissioned me, that a music-girl whom he was in love with should be purchased of a Procurer for him. That I have managed to accomplish for him.

THESPRIO

Whichever way the wind is at sea, Epidicus, in that direction the sail is shifted.

EPIDICUS

Woe unto wretched me! He has utterly undone me!

THESPRIO

What's the meaning of this? What's the matter, pray?

EPIDICUS

Well now — she whom he has bought, at what sum has he purchased her?

THESPRIO

A very little.

EPIDICUS

That I don't ask you.

THESPRIO

What then?

EPIDICUS

For how many minæ?

THESPRIO

holding up all his fingers four times . For so many.

EPIDICUS

Forty minæ?

THESPRIO

For that purpose, he borrowed the money on interest of a Banker at Thebes, at a didrachm for each silver mina per day.

EPIDICUS

Surprising!

THESPRIO

This Banker, too, has come together with him, and is dunning for his money.

EPIDICUS

Immortal Gods! now I'm fairly done for!

THESPRIO

Why so, or what's the matter, Epidicus?

EPIDICUS

He has proved my ruin!

THESPRIO

Who?

EPIDICUS

Who? He who lost his arms.

THESPRIO

But why so?

EPIDICUS

Because he himself was every day sending me letters from the army — but I shall hold my tongue; it's best to do so. It's best for a man in servitude to know more than he says; that's true wisdom.

THESPRIO

On my faith, I don't understand why you are alarmed. You are frightened, Epidicus; I see it by your countenance. You seem here, in my absence, to have got into some scrape or other.

EPIDICUS

Can't you cease annoying me?

THESPRIO

I'll be off. Moves as if going.

EPIDICUS

Stand still; I'll not let you go from here. Holds him. THES. Why do you hold me back?

EPIDICUS

Is he in love with her whom he has purchased out of the spoil?

THESPRIO

Do you ask me? He dotes to death upon her.

EPIDICUS

The hide will be stripped from off my back.

THESPRIO

He loves her, too, more than ever he loved you.

EPIDICUS

May Jupiter confound you!

THESPRIO

Let me go now; for he has forbidden me to go to our house; he ordered me to come here pointing to the house to our neighbour's, Chæribulus; there he bade me wait; he's about to come there himself.

EPIDICUS

Why so?

THESPRIO

I'll tell you; because he doesn't wish to meet with or see his father, before he has paid down this money which is owing for her.

EPIDICUS

O dear! an involved business, i' faith.

THESPRIO

Do let go of me, that I may now be off forthwith.

EPIDICUS

When the old gentleman knows this, our ship will fairly founder.

THESPRIO

What matters it to me in what way you come to your end?

EPIDICUS

Because I don't wish to perish alone; I'd like you to perish with me, well-wisher with well-wisher.

THESPRIO

tearing himself away from EPIDICUS . Away with you from me to utter and extreme perdition with those terms of yours!

EPIDICUS

Be off, then, if you are in great haste about anything.

THESPRIO

aside . I never met with any person from whom I parted with greater pleasure. Goes into the house of CHÆRIBULUS.

EPIDICUS

to himself . He's gone away from here; you are now alone. In what plight this matter is, you now see, Epidicus. Unless you have some resources in your own self, you are done for. Ruination so great is impending over you — unless you support yourself stoutly, you cannot hold up; to such a degree are mountains of misfortune threatening to tumble on you. Neither does any plan just now please me by means of which to find myself disengaged from my entanglement. To my misfortune, by my trickeries I have forced the old man to imagine that he was making purchase of his own daughter; whereas he has bought for his own son a music-girl whom he was fond of, and whom on his departure he commissioned me about. He now, to please his fancy, has brought another one from the army. I've lost my hide, for when the old man finds out that he has been played tricks with, he'll be flaying my back with twigs. But still, do you take all precautions. He stands still and thinks. That's of no use! clearly this head of mine is addled! You are a worthless fellow, Epidicus. In another tone. What pleasure have you in being abusive? Because you are forsaking yourself. What am I to do? Do you ask me the question? Why you yourself, in former days, were wont to lend advice to others. Well, well; something must be found out. But why delay to go meet the young man, that I may know how the matter stands? And here he is himself. He is in a grave mood. He's coming with Chæribulus, his year's-mate. I'll step aside here, whence at my leisure I'll follow their discourse. He steps aside.

Enter STRATIPPOCLES and CHÆRIBULUS.

STRATIPPOCLES

I've told you all the matter, Chæribulus, and I have fully disclosed to you the sum of my griefs and loves.

CHÆR.

You are foolish, Stratippocles, beyond your age and lineage. Does it shame you, because you have bought a captive girl, born of good family, from among the spoil? Who will there be to impute it as a fault to you?

STRATIPPOCLES

Through doing this, I've found that those who are envious are all enemies to me; but I've never offered violence or criminal assault against her chastity.

CHÆR.

Then, so far, in my opinion at least, you are a still more deserving man, inasmuch as you are temperate in your passion.

STRATIPPOCLES

He effects nothing who consoles a desponding man with his words: he is a friend, who, in dubious circumstances, aids in deed when deeds are necessary.

CHÆR.

What do you wish me to do?

STRATIPPOCLES

To lend me forty minæ of silver, to be paid to the Banker from whom I borrowed it on interest.

CHÆR.

On my word, if I had it, I would not deny you.

STRATIPPOCLES

What then does it signify your being bounteous in talk, if all aid in the matter is dead outright.

CHÆR.

Why faith, I myself am quite wearied and distracted with being dunned.

STRATIPPOCLES

I had rather my friends of that sort were thrust into a furnace than into litigation. But now I could wish to buy me the assistance of Epidicus at a weighty price, a fellow whom I'll hand over well-liquored with stripes to the baker, unless he this day finds me forty minæ before I've mentioned to him the last syllable of the sum.

EPIDICUS

apart . The matter's all right; he promises well; he'll keep faith, I trust. Ironically. Without any expenditure of my own, an entertainment is already provided for my shoulder-blades. I'll accost the man. He goes up to STRATIPPOCLES. The servant Epidicus wishes health to his master Stratippocles, on his arrival from abroad.

STRATIPPOCLES

turning round . Where is he?

EPIDICUS

Here he is; I'm delighted that you have returned safe.

STRATIPPOCLES

I believe you as much in that as I do myself.

EPIDICUS

Have you been well all along?

STRATIPPOCLES

I've been free from disease; in mind I've been ailing.

EPIDICUS

As regarded myself, I've taken care of what you entrusted to me; it has been obtained; the female captive has been bought, about which matter you were sending me letters so often.

STRATIPPOCLES

You've lost all your labour.

EPIDICUS

But why have I lost it?

STRATIPPOCLES

Because she is not dear to my heart, nor does she please me.

EPIDICUS

What means it, then, that you gave me such strict injunctions, and sent letters to me?

STRATIPPOCLES

Formerly I did love her; but now another passion influences my heart.

EPIDICUS

I' faith, it is a shocking thing for that to be unpleasant for a man which you have managed well for him; where I've done well, I've in reality done ill, since love has shifted sides.

STRATIPPOCLES

I wasn't right in my mind when I sent those letters to you.

EPIDICUS

Is it proper that I should be the atonement for your folly, so as for you to substitute my back as the scape-goat for your folly?

STRATIPPOCLES

Why are we making words about that? This man pointing to himself has need of forty minæ, ready money, and in all haste, for him to pay a Banker, and speedily too.

EPIDICUS

Only tell me from what quarter you wish me to get them. From what banker am I to seek them?

STRATIPPOCLES

From where you like. But if I don't finger them before sunset, don't you enter my house; off with yourself to the mill.

EPIDICUS

You easily say that without risk and concern, and with a gay heart. I know our floggers; I feel the pain when I'm beaten.

STRATIPPOCLES

How say you now? Will you suffer me to destroy myself?

EPIDICUS

Don't do that. I'll cope with this peril and bold attempt in preference.

STRATIPPOCLES

Now you please me; now do I commend you.

EPIDICUS

I'll submit to this in any way that's pleasing to you.

STRATIPPOCLES

What then is to be done about this music-girl?

EPIDICUS

Some method shall be found out; by some means I'll disengage myself; some way I shall get extricated.

STRATIPPOCLES

You are full of scheming; I know you of old.

EPIDICUS

There is a rich Captain of Eubœa, abounding in plenty of gold, who, when he knows that that one was bought for you, and that this other one has been brought here, will forthwith be entreating you, of his own accord, to transfer that other one to him. But where is she whom you have brought with you?

STRATIPPOCLES

I shall have her here just now.

CHÆR.

What are we now doing here?

STRATIPPOCLES

Let's go in-doors here at your house, that, for the present, we may pass this day merrily. They go into the house of CHÆRIBULUS.

EPIDICUS

to himself. Go in-doors; I'll now call a council in my heart to adopt measures about this money business, against whom, in especial, war is to be declared, and out of whom I'm to get the money. Epidicus, consider what you are to do; thus suddenly has this business been thrown upon you. But now you must not be slumbering, nor have you any leisure for delay. Now must you be daring! 'Tis my fixed determination to lay siege to the old man. I'll go indoors; I'll tell the young man, my master's son, not to walk abroad here, or come anywhere in the way of the old gentleman. Goes into the house of CHÆRIBULUS.

ACT II.

Enter APÆCIDES and PERIPHANES, from the house of the former.

APAECIDES

Mostly all men are ashamed when they have no occasion to be; when they ought to be ashamed, then does shame forsake them, when there's a necessity for their being ashamed. That man, in fact, are you. What is there to be ashamed of in your bringing home a wife, poor, but born of good family? Especially her, whose daughter you say this girl is, who is at your house?

PERIPHIANES

I have some regard for my son.

APAECIDES

But, i' faith, the wife whom you buried I thought you had felt some respect for; whose tomb as oft as you see, you straightway sacrifice victims to Orcus; and not without reason, in fact, since you've been allowed to get the better of her by surviving her.

PERIPHIANES

Ah me! I was a Hercules while she was with me; and, upon my faith, the sixth labour was not more difficult to Hercules than the one that fell to my lot.

APAECIDES

I' faith, money's a handsome dowry.

PERIPHIANES

Troth, so it is, which isn't encumbered with a wife.

Enter EPIDICUS, from the house of CHÆRIBULUS, softly crossing the stage.

EPIDICUS

at the door, as he enters . Hist! hist! be silent, and have good courage; with a fair omen have I come out of doors, the bird upon the left hand. Pointing to his head. I've got a sharp knife, with which to embowel the old man's purse; but see! here he is before the house of Apæcides, the two old fellows, just as I want. Now I shall change me into a leech, and suck out the blood of these who are called the pillars of the Senate.

PERIPHIANES

Let him be married at once.

APAECIDES

I approve of your design.

PERIPHIANES

For I've heard that he's entangled with love with a certain music-girl, I don't know who. At that I'm vexed to death.

EPIDICUS

apart . By my troth, all the Deities do aid, amplify, and love me; really, these men themselves are pointing out to me the way by means of which I'm to get the money out of them. Now then, come, equip yourself, Epidicus, and throw your cloak about your neck suiting the action to the word , and pretend as though you had been in search of the man all the city over. On with it, if you are going to do it! He hurries past the OLD MEN as though he didn't see them, and calls out aloud. Immortal Gods! I do wish I could meet with Periphanes at home, whom I'm tired with searching for all over the city, throughout the doctors' shops, throughout the barbers' shops, in the gymnasium, and in the Forum, at the perfumers' shops and the butchers' stalls, and round about the bankers' shops. I'm become hoarse with enquiring; I've almost dropped down with running.

PERIPHIANES

Epidicus!

EPIDICUS

looking round . Who is it that's calling Epidicus back?

PERIPHIANES

It's I, Periphanes.

APAECIDES

And I, Apæcides.

EPIDICUS

And I, indeed, am Epidicus. But, master, I find that you've both met me at the nick of time.

PERIPHIANES

What's the matter?

EPIDICUS

Wait, wait! puffs and blows ; prithee, do let me get breath!

PERIPHIANES

By all means, rest yourself.

EPIDICUS

I'm quite faint; I must recover my breath.

APAECIDES

Do rest yourself at your leisure.

EPIDICUS

Lend me your attention. All the men of the army have been remanded home from Thebes.

APAECIDES

Who knows for certain that this has been done?

EPIDICUS

I say that it has been done.

PERIPHIANES

Are you sure of that?

EPIDICUS

I am sure of it.

PERIPHIANES

Why are you sure of it?

EPIDICUS

Because I've seen the soldiers marching through the streets in shoals. They are bringing back their arms and their baggage-horses.

PERIPHIANES

Very good indeed!

EPIDICUS

Then, what prisoners they've got with them! boys, girls, in twos and threes; another one has got five; there's a crowd in the streets; they are looking out each for his son.

PERIPHIANES

I' troth, a business very well managed!

EPIDICUS

Then, filly as many of the courtesans as there are in the whole city were going decked out each to meet her lover; they were going to trap them; that's the fact, inasmuch as I gave especial attention to it; several of these had with them nets beneath their garments. When I came to the harbour, forthwith I espied her waiting there, and with her were four music-girls.

PERIPHIANES

With whom, Epidicus?

EPIDICUS

With her whom your son has been loving and doting on for years, with whom he's making all haste to ruin credit, property, himself, and yourself. She was on the lookout for him at the harbour.

PERIPHIANES

Just see the sorceress now!

EPIDICUS

But decked out, sparkling with gold, and adorned so splendidly! so nicely! so fashionably!

PERIPHIANES

What was she drest in? Was it a royal robe, or was it a plain dress?

EPIDICUS

A skylight one, according as these women coin names for garments.

PERIPHIANES

What! was she dressed in a skylight?

EPIDICUS

What's there wonderful in that? As though many women didn't go through the streets decked out with farms upon them. But when the tax is demanded, they declare it cannot be paid; while to these hussies, to whom a larger tax is paid, it can be paid. Why, what new names every year these women are finding for their clothing — the thin tunic, the thick tunic, your fulled linen cloth, chemises, bordered shifts' the marigold or saffron-coloured dress, the under-petticoat or else the light vermilion dress, the hood, the royal or the foreign robe, the wave pattern or the feather-pattern, the wax or the apple-tint. The greatest nonsense! From dogs, too, do they even take the names.

PERIPHIANES

How so?

EPIDICUS

They call one the Laconian. These names compel men to make auctions.

PERIPHIANES

But do you say on as you commenced.

EPIDICUS

Two other women behind me began to speak thus between themselves; I, like my wont, went away a little distance from them; I pretended that I wasn't attending to their talk: I didn't quite hear all, and still I wasn't deceived in a word they said.

PERIPHIANES

I long to hear it.

EPIDICUS

Then one of them said to the other with whom she was talking ——

PERIPHIANES

What?

EPIDICUS

Be quiet then, that you may hear. After they had caught sight of her whom your son is dying for: "Prithee, how happily and luckily has it befallen that woman for her lover to be wishing to set her free."
"Who is he?" said the other. She mentioned Stratippocles.

PERIPHIANES

Troth now, I'm undone; what is it I hear of you?

EPIDICUS

That which really took place. After this, I myself, when I heard them talking, began again to draw closer towards them little by little, as though the crowd of people was pushing me, whether I would or no.

PERIPHIANES

I understand.

EPIDICUS

Then the one asked the other, "How do you know?" "Why, because a letter has been brought her to-day from Stratippocles; that he has borrowed money on interest from a banker at Thebes; that it is ready, and he himself has brought it for that purpose."

PERIPHIANES

Tell on — I'm undone!

EPIDICUS

She said that she had heard so from her and from the letter which she had seen.

PERIPHIANES

What am I to do now? I ask your advice, Apæcides.

APAECIDES

Let us find some clever, useful expedient; for he, indeed, will either be here just now, or is here already.

EPIDICUS

If it were right for me to be wiser than you, I could give you some good advice, which you will praise, I fancy, both of you ——

PERIPHIANES

Then where is it, Epidicus?

EPIDICUS

Yes, and useful for this purpose,

APAECIDES

Why do you hesitate to mention it?

EPIDICUS

It's proper for yourselves, who are the wiser, to be the first to speak, and for me to speak afterwards.

PERIPHIANES

Aye, aye, of course — come, say on.

EPIDICUS

But you'll laugh at me.

APAECIDES

On my word, we will not do so.

EPIDICUS

Well then, if it pleases you, use my advice; if it doesn't please you, find better. There's neither sowing nor reaping for me in this matter; only that I do wish the same that you wish.

PERIPHIANES

I return you thanks. Make us partakers in your wisdom.

EPIDICUS

Let a wife at once be chosen for your son; and so take vengeance on this music-girl whom he wants to liberate, and who is corrupting him for you; and so let it be managed, that even until her dying day she may remain a slave.

APAECIDES

It ought to be so managed.

PERIPHIANES

I am ready to do anything, so long only as this may be brought about

EPIDICUS

Well then, now there's an opportunity of doing so, before he comes into the city, as to-morrow he will be here; to-day he will not have come.

PERIPHIANES

How do you know?

EPIDICUS

I do know, because another person told me, who came from there, that he would be here in the morning.

PERIPHIANES

Then say you what we are to do.

EPIDICUS

I'm of opinion that you ought to do thus: you must pretend as though you were desirous to give her liberty to the music-girl for your own whim, and as though you were violently in love with her.

PERIPHIANES

To what advantage does that tend?

EPIDICUS

Do you ask that? Why, that you may purchase her beforehand with money, before your son comes, and may say that you bought her to set her at liberty ——

PERIPHIANES

I understand.

EPIDICUS

When she's bought, you must remove her somewhere out of the city; unless your own feelings are any way opposed.

PERIPHIANES

O no, skilfully suggested.

EPIDICUS

But what say you, Apæcides?

APAECIDES

Why, what should I? Except that I think you've contrived it very cleverly.

EPIDICUS

Then, in consequence, all thoughts of marriage with her will be removed from him, so that he will make no difficulties as to what you wish.

APAECIDES

Long life to you, wise as you are, it really does please us.

EPIDICUS

Do you then skilfully do whatever you are going to do.

PERIPHIANES

I' faith, you speak to the purpose.

EPIDICUS

I have found, too, how this suspicion may be removed from yourself.

PERIPHIANES

Let me know it.

EPIDICUS

You shall know it; just listen.

APAECIDES

He's come with a breast full of counsel.

EPIDICUS

There's need of a person to carry the money there for the music-girl; but there's no equal necessity for yourself to do it.

PERIPHIANES

Why so?

EPIDICUS

Lest he should think you are doing it for the sake of your son ——

PERIPHIANES

Cleverly thought of!

EPIDICUS

By which means you'll keep him away from her; lest any difficulty might arise by reason of that suspicion.

PERIPHIANES

What person shall we find suited to this purpose?

EPIDICUS

pointing to APAECIDES. He will be the best; he will be able to take all due precautions, as he understands the laws and ordinances.

PERIPHIANES

Epidicus, receive my thanks. But I'll attend to this with all care.

EPIDICUS

I'll find him and bring him here to you, to whom the music-girl belongs; and I'll take the money along with him. Pointing to APÆCIDES.

PERIPHIANES

For how much, at the lowest, can she be bought?

EPIDICUS

What, she? Perhaps she might possibly be bought at the lowest for forty minæ; but if you give me more, I shall return it. There's no trickery in this matter. This money, too, of yours won't be locked up ten days.

PERIPHIANES

How so?

EPIDICUS

Why, because another young man is dying with love for this woman, one abounding in money, a great warrior, a Rhodian, a spoiler of his foes, a boaster; he'll buy her of you, and give the money with pleasure. You only do it; there's a large profit for you here.

PERIPHIANES

I really pray the Gods it may be so.

EPIDICUS

You'll obtain your prayer.

APAECIDES

Why then, don't you go in-doors and bring the money out here? I'll go visit the Forum. Epidicus, do you come thither.

EPIDICUS

to APÆCIDES. Don't you go away from there before I come to you.

APAECIDES

I'll wait till then.

PERIPHIANES

to EPIDICUS . Do you follow me in- doors.

EPIDICUS

Go and count it out; I'll not detain you at all. (Exit APÆCIDES, and PERIPHANES goes into his house.)

EPIDICUS, alone.

EPIDICUS

to himself . I do think that in the Attic land there is no spot of land so fertile as is this Periphanes of ours; why, from the locked and sealed-up money-chest I summon forth silver just as much as I please. But this, i' troth, I am afraid of, that if the old man should come to know it, he'll be making parasites of elm-twigs, to be shaving me quite clean. But one matter and consideration disturbs me — what music-girl, one that goes out on hire, I'm to show to Apæcides. He muses. And that as well I've got: this morning the old gentleman bade me bring for him on hire some music-girl to his house here, to sing for him while he was performing a sacrifice. She shall be hired, and be instructed beforehand in what way she's to prove herself cunning towards the old man. I'll away in-doors; I'll get the money out of the swindled old fellow. He goes into the house of PERIPHANES.

ACT III.

Enter STRATIPPOCLES and CHÆRIBULUS, from the house of the latter.

STRATIPPOCLES

I'm distractedly in suspense and worn to the heart with waiting how the fair promises of Epidicus will turn out for me. I've been tormented too long. Whether there is to be anything, or whether there is not, I wish to know.

CHÆR.

For all these resources you may still seek some other resources for yourself. For my part, I knew at the first, or the instant, that there was no help for you in him.

STRATIPPOCLES

Upon my faith, I'm ruined!

CHÆR.

You act absurdly in tormenting yourself in mind. By my troth, if I should catch him, I would never allow that slave of a fellow to be laughing at us with impunity.

STRATIPPOCLES

What can you expect him to do, you, who have such great wealth at home, and have not a coin of it, as you say, and have in yourself no resources for your friend?

CHÆR.

I' faith, if I had had it, I should have proffered it with pleasure; but something in some manner, in some way, in some direction, from some person, some hope I have for you, that there'll be some good fortune for you to share with me.

STRATIPPOCLES

Woe to you, you sneaking fellow.

CHÆR.

Why does it please you to abuse me?

STRATIPPOCLES

Why, because you are prating to me about something in some manner, from somewhere or other, from some persons, that nowhere exists, and I won't admit it to my ears. Of no more assistance are you unto me than he who never yet has been born. They stand near the door of the house of CHÆRIBULUS.

Enter EPIDICUS, from the house of PERIPHANES, with a bag of money round his neck.

EPIDICUS

to PERIPHANES, within the house. You've done your duty then; it now befits me to do mine. Through this care of mine, you may be allowed to be at ease. In a lower voice. This, in fact, is now lost to you; don't at all be setting your hopes on it. Holding some of the coins in his hands. How very shining it is! You only trust me for that. This way I'm going to act, this way my forefathers have acted before me. O ye immortal Gods, what a brilliant day you have bestowed upon me in this how propitious and how favourable to my requests! But why do I delay to take my departure hence, that I may bear this supply with lucky auspices to the colony. I'm delaying while I'm standing here. But what means this? Before the house I see the two companions, my master and Chæribulus. Accosting them. What are you doing? Take this, will you. Gives STRATIPPOCLES the bag of money.

STRATIPPOCLES

How much is there in this?

EPIDICUS

As much as is enough, and more than enough; a superabundance; I've brought more by ten minæ than you owe to the Banker. So long as I please and obey you, I value my own back at a straw.

STRATIPPOCLES

But why so?

EPIDICUS

Because I shall make your father a bag-murderer.

STRATIPPOCLES

What kind of expression is that?

EPIDICUS

I don't at all care for your old-fashioned and every-day words; you chouse by purses full, but I'll chouse by bags full. For the procurer took away a whole lot of money for the music-girl (I paid it; with these hands I counted it out), her whom your father supposes to be his own daughter. Now, again, that your father may be deceived, and assistance be provided for you, I've discovered a method. In such a way have I persuaded the old gentleman — and had a talk to this effect, that, when you returned, you might not have possession of her

STRATIPPOCLES

Bravo! — bravo!

EPIDICUS

She's now at your house in place of her.

STRATIPPOCLES

I understand.

EPIDICUS

Now he has given me Apæcides by way of guarantee in this matter (he's waiting for me at the Forum), as if to seem the purchaser.

STRATIPPOCLES

Not a bad precaution!

EPIDICUS

The cautious man's now taken in himself; your own father himself placed this purse around my neck. He's making preparation, that immediately on your arrival home you shall be married.

STRATIPPOCLES

In one way only will he persuade me; if Orcus takes her away from me, who has been brought with me.

EPIDICUS

Now I've hit upon this scheme: I'll go by myself alone to the procurer's house; I'll instruct him, if any one comes to him, to say that the money has been paid him for the music-girl; inasmuch as, the day before yesterday, I paid it down with my own hands for this mistress of yours, whom your father takes to be his own daughter. Then the procurer, unknowingly, will be staking his accursed head, as though he had received the money for her who has now been brought here together with you.

CHÆR.

You are more versatile than a potter's-wheel.

EPIDICUS

Now I'll get ready some artful music-girl, who's hired at a didrachm, to pretend that she has been purchased, and cleverly to trick the two old fellows: Apæcides, together with her, will bring her to your father.

STRATIPPOCLES

How adroitly managed!

EPIDICUS

Her, prepared beforehand with my devices, and provided with my schemes, I shall send to him. But I'm talking at too great length; you have delayed me too long: you now know these things how they are to be; I'll be off.

STRATIPPOCLES

Success attend you! Exit EPIDICUS.

CHÆR.

He is very clever at artful tricks.

STRATIPPOCLES

Indeed, by his plans, he has saved me, that's sure.

CHÆR.

Let's go hence into my house.

STRATIPPOCLES

Yes, and a little more joyfully than I came out of your house, by the courage and conduct of Epidicus, do I return into camp with the spoil. They go into the house.

Enter PERIPHANES.

PERIPHIANES

to herself. Not only for the sake of the face were it right for men to have a mirror for themselves wherein to look at their faces; but one with which they might be enabled to examine the heart of discretion, and therefore be able to examine the resources of the mind; when they had looked in that, they might afterwards consider how they had once passed their lives in youth. Just as myself, for instance, who, for the sake of my son, began to torment myself in mind, as though my son had been guilty of some offence against, me, or as though my own misdeeds had not been most heavy in my youth. In truth, we old fellows are out of our senses sometimes. This, in my own opinion at least, has proved advantageous. But my friend Apæcides is coming with the spoil. I'm glad that the negotiator has returned safe. Enter APÆCIDES, with a MUSIC-GIRL.

PERIPHIANES

How goes it?

APÆCIDES

The Gods and Goddesses are favouring you.

PERIPHIANES

The omen pleases me.

APAECIDES

A person with whom all things go on prosperously. But do you order her to be taken in-doors.

PERIPHIANES

going to the door of his house, and calling . Hallo there! come out of doors here, some one. A SERVANT comes out. Take that woman into the house! And, do you hear?

SERV.

What do you desire?

PERIPHIANES

Take care you don't permit this woman to associate with my daughter, or to see her. Now do you understand? I wish her to be shut up apart in that little chamber; there's a great difference between the manners of a maiden and a courtesan. The SERVANT leads the MUSIC-GIRL into the house.

APAECIDES

You speak cleverly and judiciously; each man cannot keep too strict a guard upon the chastity of his daughter. Upon my faith, we certainly did forestall this woman from your son just in time.

PERIPHIANES

Why so?

APAECIDES

Because another person told me that he had just seen your son here.

PERT.

I' troth, he was stirring in this business.

APAECIDES

Upon my faith, it really is so, clearly. You really have a clever servant, and worth any price.

PERIPHIANES

At his weight in gold he would not be dear.

APAECIDES

How well he kept that Music-girl quite in ignorance that she was purchased for you; so full of joke and fun did he bring her hither along with him.

PERIPHIANES

It's wonderful how that could be managed.

APAECIDES

He said that you were going to offer a sacrifice at home for your son, because he had returned safe from Thebes.

PERIPHIANES

He hit upon the right thing.

APAECIDES

Yes, and he himself told her that she had been hired to assist you here in the sacrifice. He said that you were about to perform it, and that you had a sacrifice at home. But I then made pretence that I was ignorant, as it were, inasmuch as I made myself out half-witted.

PERIPHIANES

Why yes; it was right to do so.

APAECIDES

An important trial of a friend is going on at the Forum; I want to go as his advocate.

PERIPHIANES

Go, and when you have leisure, return to me mediately.

APAECIDES

I'll be here just now. (Exit.) to himself. Nothing is there more opportune to man than a friend in need; without labour of your own, what you want is done nevertheless. If I had commissioned any one upon this business, a less skilful person, and less fitted for this matter, he would have been gulled; and so, grinning with his white teeth, my son would have most deservedly laughed at me. But who is this I see coming this way, that with his swaggering makes his scarf to be streaming in the wind? He stands aside.

PERIPHIANES

Enter a CAPTAIN, with his SERVANT.

A CAPTAIN

to his SERVANT . Take care not to pass by any house without asking where lives the old gentleman, Periphanes of Plothea. Take care that you don't return to me without knowing it.

PERIPHIANES

coming forward . Young man, if I point out to you the person whom you are in search of, what thanks shall I get of you?

A CAPTAIN

In arms, by the might of war, I've deserved that all people ought to give me thanks.

PERIPHIANES

You haven't found out, young man, a tranquil spot where to recount your virtues as you wish; for, if an inferior vaunts his battles to a superior, by his lips they become soiled; but this Periphanes of Plothea whom you are seeking, I am he, if you want him for anything.

A CAPTAIN

Him, you mean, who in his youth among kings in arms, by his skill in war, gained vast wealth?

PERIPHIANES

Aye, if you were to hear of my achievements, drop ping your hands you would run off home.

A CAPTAIN

I' faith, I'm rather in search of one to whom to speak of my own, than of one to be speaking of his to me.

PERIPHIANES

This is not the place for it. Do you then look out for another person, into whom to stuff your scraps of nonsense. Aside. And yet this is folly, for me to impute that to him as a fault, which I myself used to do in my youth when I was a soldier; in recounting my battles I used to tear out men's ears by the roots, when I had once begun.

A CAPTAIN

Lend your attention, that you may learn what I've come to you about. I've heard that you have purchased my mistress.

PERIPHIANES

aside . Heyday! now at last I know who he is; the officer whom Epidicus was telling me about a short time since. To the OFFICER. Young man, it is as you say; I have purchased her.

A CAPTAIN

I want a few words with you, if it is not inconvenient to you.

PERIPHIANES

Upon my faith, I don't know whether it's convenient or not, until perhaps you say what you want.

A CAPTAIN

I want you to transfer her to me, and take the ransom.

PERIPHIANES

You may have her.

A CAPTAIN

But why should I hesitate to speak out to you? I wish at once to make her my freed-woman, that she may be my mistress.

PERIPHIANES

I'll make short work with you; she was bought for me for fifty minæ of silver; if sixty minæ are paid down to me, I'll let the damsel employ your holidays, and so assuredly so, that, if you like, you may remove her from this country.

A CAPTAIN

Is she then purchased by me?

PERIPHIANES

On those terms you may have her. You have made a good bargain. Going to the door of his house. Hallo there! bring out of doors the Music-girl you took in. The harp, too, as well, that was thrown in with her, I'll make you a present of it for nothing. MUSIC-GIRL.

PERIPHIANES

taking her by the hand and leading her to the CAPTAIN. Come, take her, please.

A CAPTAIN

What madness possesses you? What mystery are you devising for me? Why don't you order the Music-girl to be brought from in-doors?

PERIPHIANES

Why, this is the Music-girl. There's no other one here.

A CAPTAIN

You can't impose on me. Why don't you bring out here the Music-girl Acropolistis?

PERIPHIANES

This, I tell you, is she.

A CAPTAIN

This, I tell you, is not she. Do you suppose that I can't know my own mistress?

PERIPHIANES

It was this Music-girl, I tell you, for whom my son was dying with love.

A CAPTAIN

This is not she.

PERT.

How, not she?

A CAPTAIN

It is not.

PERT.

Where in the world, then, does, she come from? For my part, i' faith, I certainly paid the money for her.

A CAPTAIN

Foolishly paid, I guess, and a mighty mistake.

PERIPHIANES

Nay, but this is she; for I sent the servant who is in the habit of attending my son; he himself this moment purchased the Music-girl.

A CAPTAIN

Well then, this fellow has cut you up joint by joint, old gentleman, this servant of yours.

PERIPHIANES

How, cut me up?

A CAPTAIN

Such is my suspicion; for she has been palmed upon you for that Music-girl. Old gentleman, you've been bubbled clearly and cleverly. I shall now go seek her wherever she is. Warrior, farewell!
(Exeunt the OFFICER and SERVANT.)

PERIPHIANES

stamnping with rage . Bravo, bravo! Epidicus You're a clever fellow! You have fought well — you're a man! you've wiped my nose when snivelling, worthless fellow that I am! To the MUSIC-GIRL. Did Apæcides purchase you to-day of the procurer? A pause. Come now, tell me.

MUS.-G.

I never heard of that person before to-day, nor, indeed, was any one able to purchase me for any money; I've been free now for more than five years.

PERIPHIANES

What business have you, then, at my house?

MUS.-G.

You shall hear; I came, being hired to perform for an old gentleman while he was sacrificing.

PERIPHIANES

I do confess that I am the most worthless of all men in Athens of Attica. But do you know Acropolistis the Music-girl?

MUS.-G.

As well as my own self.

PERIPHIANES

Where does she live?

MUS.-G.

Since she has been made free, I don't know for certain.

PERIPHIANES

Well now, I should like to know who has made her free, if you know?

MUS.-G.

That which I have heard, you shall hear; I heard that Stratippocles, the son of Periphanes, had provided in his absence that she should be made free.

PERIPHIANES

By heavens, I'm undone, most clearly, if these things are true.
Epidicus has disembowelled my purse!

MUS.-G.

I've heard to that effect. Do you want me for anything else?

PERIPHIANES

Away to perdition in the veriest torments, and off this instant!

MUS.-G.

Won't you give me back my harp?

PERT.

Neither harp nor pipes. Make haste, then, and escape from here, if the Gods love you!

MUS.-G.

I'll be off. At a future time, however, you'll restore it, with the greater disgrace to yourself. (Exit.)

PERIPHIANES

to himself. What now? Shall I, who have been placed before so many edicts, allow him to get with impunity? No; even though as much again should be required to be lost, I'll lose it rather than allow myself to be held in derision with impunity and plundered by them.
That I should have been thus cheated openly to my face, and that I should have been set at nought before this Apæcides, who is famed as being the framer and founder of all the laws and ordinances! He too declares that he is a wise man! that the hammer, forsooth, should be wiser than the handle! He stands aside.

ACT IV.

Enter PHILIPPA, at a distance.

PHILIPPA

to herself . If a mortal being has aught of misery, through which, miserable creature, to be wretched from the heart, that same do I experience, for whom full many a woe unites in the same spot, which, all, at the same instant are beating against my breast. A multitude of troubles keep me in suspense. Poverty and misery alarm the thoughts of my heart; nor have I anywhere a spot of safety where to fix my hopes; in such a way has my daughter fallen into the power of the enemy; nor do I know where she now is.

PERIPHIANES

apart . Who is this woman coming from a distance with a breast filled with alarms, and who thus bewails her lot?

PHILIPPA

to herself . It was told me that Periphanes was living in this neighbourhood.

PERIPHIANES

apart . She's mentioning me; need of hospitality has befallen her, I suppose.

PHILIPPA

to herself . I would be very willing to give a reward to any one who would point me out that man, or where he dwells.

PERIPHIANES

apart . I recognize her; for I think I have seen her before; where, I know not. Is it, or is it not she, whom my mind suspects her to be?

>PHIL.

seeing him . Good Gods! I have seen this person before!

PERIPHIANES

to himself . It surely is she, a poor woman whom I remember having an intrigue with at Epidaurus.

PHILIPPA

to herself . Surely it is he, who at Epidaurus first violated my maiden modesty.

PERIPHIANES

to himself . She who had the daughter by me whom I've now got at home.

PHILIPPA

to herself . What if I accost him?

PERIPHIANES

to himself . I don't know whether to make up to her. If this is she to herself . But if it is the man, as length of years renders me doubtful to himself . Length of time renders my mind uncertain. But if it is she, whom with some doubt I conjecture it to be, I'll accost her circumspectly.

PHILIPPA

PERIPHIANES

PHILIPPA

to herself . A woman's artfulness must be employed by me.

PERIPHIANES

to himself . I'll address her.

PHILIPPA

to herself . I'll bring my powers of conversation to bear against him.

PERIPHIANES

accosting her . Health to you!

PHILIPPA

That health I accept for me and mine.

PERIPHIANES

What besides?

PHILIPPA

Health to yourself; what you lent me, I return.

PERIPHIANES

I don't impeach your punctuality. Don't I know you?

PHILIPPA

If I know you, I'll move your feelings, so that you shall know me.

PERIPHIANES

Where have I been in the habit of seeing you?

PHILIPPA

You are unfairly hard upon me.

PERIPHIANES

Why so?

PHILIPPA

Because you think it right that I should be the prompter of your memory.

PERIPHIANES

You speak to the purpose.

PHILIPPA

You say what's strange to me, Periphanes.

PERIPHIANES

Ah now! that's better. Do you remember, Philippa ——

PHILIPPA

Yes, I remember that.

PERIPHIANES

At Epidaurus ——

PHILIPPA

Ah! you have moistened my burning breast with a little drop of comfort.

PERIPHIANES

How I relieved the poverty of you, a poor young maiden, and your mother?

PHILIPPA

What, are you he who for your own gratification brought heavy troubles upon me?

PERIPHIANES

I am he. Health to you.

PHILIPPA

I am in health, since I see you in health.

PERIPHIANES

Give me your hand.

PHILIPPA

extending her hand, which he takes . Take it — you hold by the hand a woman distressed and full of woes.

PERIPHIANES

What is it that disturbs your features?

PHILIPPA

The daughter whom I had by you ——

PERIPHIANES

What of her?

PHILIPPA

When I had brought her up, I lost her; she fell into the hands of the enemy.

PERIPHIANES

Keep your mind in quiet and at rest. Why look, she's here at my house safe and sound. For immediately I heard from my servant that she was a captive, instantly I gave the money for her to be purchased; he managed this affair as discreetly and frugally as in other matters he is egregiously — dishonest.

PHILIPPA

Let me see her, whether it is she or no.

PERIPHIANES

going to the door of his house . Hallo there! you — Canthara, this instant bid my daughter come out before the house, that she may see her mother.

PHILIPPA

My spirits now at last return to me.

Enter ACROPOLISTIS from the house.

ACROPOLISTIS

Why is it, father, that you have called me out before the house?

PERIPHIANES

That you may see and accost your mother, and wish her health on her arrival, and give her kisses.

ACROPOLISTIS

looking about . What mother of mine?

PERIPHIANES

pointing to PHILIPPA . She who, half dead, is following your gaze.

PHILIPPA

Who is this that you are requesting to kiss me?

PERIPHIANES

Your own daughter.

PHILIPPA

What, she?

PERIPHIANES

She.

PHILIPPA

What — am I to kiss her?

PERIPHIANES

Why not, her who was born of you?

PHILIPPA

Man, you are mad.

PERIPHIANES

What, I?

PHILIPPA

Yes, you.

PERT.

Why?

PHILIPPA

Because this woman — I neither know nor understand who she is, nor have I beheld her with my eyes before this day.

PERIPHIANES

I know why you are mistaken; because this woman has her dress and ornaments changed.

PHILIPPA

Puppies have one smell, pigs quite another; I say that I do not know her, who she is.

PERIPHIANES

stamping with rage . Oh! by our trust in Gods and men, what is this? Am I following the calling of a Procurer, to be keeping strange women in my house, and to be emptying my house of my money? To ACROPOLISTIS. What are you to be calling me your father and kissing me? Why stand you stupidly there? Why do you keep silent?

ACROPOLISTIS

What do you want me to say?

PERIPHIANES

pointing to PHILIPPA . She denies that she is your mother.

ACROPOLISTIS

Don't let her be so, if she don't choose. For my own part, whether she likes it or not, I shall be my mother's daughter still. It isn't right for me to compel this woman to be my mother if she doesn't like.

PERIPHIANES

Why then did you call me father?

ACROPOLISTIS

That is your own fault, not mine; ought I not to call you father when you call me daughter? Her too, as well pointing to PHILIPPA if she were to call me daughter, I should call mother. She declares that I am not her daughter; then she is not my mother. In fine, this is no fault of mine; what I've been taught, I've told you all of it. Epidicus was my instructor.

PERIPHIANES

I'm undone! I've upset my waggon!

ACROPOLISTIS

Have I done anything amiss towards that?

PERIPHIANES

Upon my faith, if I ever hear you call me father, I'll put an end to your life, you jade!

ACROPOLISTIS

I shan't call you so. When you want to be my father, then be so; when you don't want, don't be my father.

PHILIPPA

to PERIPHANES . What? Did you purchase her for that reason, because you supposed her to be your daughter? By what signs did you recognize her?

PERIPHIANES

By none.

PHILIPPA

Why did you suppose her to be our daughter?

PERIPHIANES

My servant Epidicus told me so.

PHILIPPA

What if it had seemed to your servant otherwise? Prithee, could you not have known?

PERIPHIANES

How should I, who had never seen her after having once beheld her.

PHILIPPA

Wretched creature, I'm quite undone! Begins to weep.

PERIPHIANES

Don't weep, madam; go in-doors; be of good courage; I'll find her out.

PHILIPPA

An Attic citizen from Athens here purchased her Indeed, they said it was a young man who had bought her.

PERIPHIANES

I will find her; hold your peace. Only do go in-doors, and keep an eye upon this Circe, this daughter of the Sun. She goes into the house, followed by ACROPOLISTIS. All business laid aside, I'll give my attention to seeking for Epidicus. If I find him, I'll make this day become the final one for him. (Exit.)

ACT V.

Enter STRATIPPOCLES, from the house of CHÆRIBULUS.

STRATIPPOCLES

to himself. The Banker is inattentive to me, not to seek the money of me, or bring this woman who has been purchased out of the spoil. But see — here comes Epidicus How's this, that in gloominess his brow is wrinkled? at a distance.

EPIDICUS

to himself. If Jupiter unto himself were to take the eleven Gods beside himself, even then, all of them would not be able to rescue Epidicus from torture. I've seen Periphanes buying the thongs; Apæcides was together with him; now, I do believe that these persons are in search of me. They have found it out; they know that they've been imposed upon.

STRATIPPOCLES

coming forward. What are you about, my ready occasion?

EPIDICUS

That which a wretched fellow is about.

STRATIPPOCLES

What's the matter with you?

EPIDICUS

Why don't you prepare for me the necessaries for flight before I'm quite undone? For the two fleeced old gentlemen are hunting for me through the city; they are carrying in their hands handcuffs an inch and a half thick.

STRATIPPOCLES

Be of good heart ——

EPIDICUS

Of course I will, whose freedom is so close at hand.

STRATIPPOCLES

I will preserve you.

EPIDICUS

I' faith, they'll do it better for me, if they catch me. But who's this young woman, this greyish old fellow, too, that's coming along? are seen at a distance.

STRATIPPOCLES

This is the Banker, and this is the woman whom I purchased out of the spoil.

EPIDICUS

What, is this she?

STRATIPPOCLES

It is she. Isn't she just like what I told you? Look at her.

EPIDICUS

Is it she?

STRATIPPOCLES

Survey her, Epidicus. Even from her nail to the top of her hair she is most lovely! Is she not? Do look at her! Observe her! You'll be looking at a picture beautifully painted.

EPIDICUS

Judging from your words you are foretelling that my hide will be beautifully painted; me, whom Apelles and Zeuxis, the pair of them, will be painting with elm-tree pigments. Enter the BANKER and TELESIS.

STRATIPPOCLES

to the BANKER. Immortal Gods! I'm surprised at your slowness. The man that's spoken of in the proverb with swollen feet, would have got here sooner than you have arrived for me.

A BANKER.

pointing to TELESTIS . I' faith, 'twas she delayed me.

STRATIPPOCLES

If indeed you delayed for her sake, because she wished it, you have come too quickly.

A BANKER.

Well, well, dispatch with me and count out the money, that I mayn't be detaining my friends.

STRATIPPOCLES

It has been counted out.

A BANKER.

giving him a bag . Take this bag; put it into it.

STRATIPPOCLES

You come discreetly provided! Wait till I bring out the money to you.

A BANKER.

Make haste.

STRATIPPOCLES

It's at home. Goes into the house of CHÆRIBULUS.

EPIDICUS

looking steadily at TELESTIS . Have I the use of my eyes quite unimpaired, or is it otherwise? Do I not behold in you, Telestis, the daughter of Periphanes, born at Thebes of your mother Philippa, and conceived at Epidaurus?

TELESTIS

What person are you who are making mention of the name of my parents and my own?

EPIDICUS

Don't you know me?

TELESTIS

Not, indeed, so far as recurs to my mind just now.

EPIDICUS

Don't you remember my bringing you a crescent upon your birthday, and a little gold ring for your finger? STRATIPPOCLES returns with the money.

TELESTIS

I remember it. What, are you that person?

EPIDICUS

I am, and pointing to STRATIPPOCLES, at a distance he there is your brother by another mother and the same father.

TELESTIS

in agitation . What of my father? Is he alive?

EPIDICUS

Be of calm and composed feelings; hold your peace.

TELESTIS

The Gods will that from being lost I should be saved, if you speak the truth.

EPIDICUS

I have no occasion to be telling untruths to you.

STRATIPPOCLES

to the BANKER . Take this money, Banker; here are forty minæ. If any piece shall be doubtful I'll change it. Gives him the money.

A BANKER.

You do well. Kindly farewell. (Exit.)

STRATIPPOCLES

to TELESTIS . Now then you are my own ——

TELESTIS

Why yes — sister, i' faith, that you may know it as well. Greetings to you, brother.

STRATIPPOCLES

to EPIDICUS . Is this woman in her senses?

EPIDICUS

In her senses, if she calls you her brother.

STRATIPPOCLES

How's this? Have I just now become her brother while going in-doors and coming out?

EPIDICUS

What good fortune there is, do you in silence keep your peace thereon and rejoice.

STRATIPPOCLES

Sister, you have both lost and found me!

EPIDICUS

Simpleton, hold your tongue! Through my endeavours, there's ready for you at home, in fact, a Music-girl for you to make love to; I too, through my endeavours, have restored your sister to liberty.

STRATIPPOCLES

Epidicus, I confess ——

EPIDICUS

Be off into the house, and order the water to be made warm for her. The rest I'll let you know afterwards, when there's leisure.

STRATIPPOCLES

Follow me this way, sister.

EPIDICUS

I'll bid Thesprio come across to you. But remember, if the old gentlemen are at all savage, you, with your sister, to run and help me.

STRATIPPOCLES

That will be easy. He and TELESTIS go into the house of PERIPHANES.

EPIDICUS

going to the door of the house of CHÆRIBULUS. Thesprio, come this way through the garden. Come to my rescue at home! The matter's of importance! To himself. I care much less for the old fellows than I did just now. I'll return in-doors, that the strangers may be attended to on their arrival. I'll tell these same things that I know, in-doors to Stratippocles. I shall not take to flight; I'm determined to be there at home, and he shan't throw it in my teeth that he has been provoked by my running away. I'll away in-doors; I've been talking too long. (Goes into the house of PERIPHANES.)

Enter PERIPHANES and APÆCIDES, with thongs in their hands.

PERIPHIANES

Hasn't this fellow quite made a laughing-stock of us two decrepit old people?

APAECIDES

Why yes, I' faith, you've really kept me plagued in a shocking fashion.

PERIPHIANES

Now do hold your tongue. Only let me catch the fellow!

APAECIDES

I'll tell you now, that you may know it. It's best for you to seek another companion; so much, while I've been following you, has the congested blood, from weariness, come down into the knees of poor me.

PERIPHIANES

After how many fashions has this fellow made sport of me and you to-day! besides, how he has disembowelled my silver resources for me!

APAECIDES

Away with him from me; for surely he's the son of Vulcan in his wrath: wherever he touches, he sets all on fire; if you stand by him, he scorches you with his heat. unperceived, from the house.

EPIDICUS

to himself. More than the twelve Gods, the immortal Gods as many as are in the heavens, are now assistants in my rescue, and are fighting on my side. As to whatever I have offended in, I have aid and assistance at home. All my enemies I quite spurn by the heels.

PERIPHIANES

looking about. Where in the world shall I look for him?

APAECIDES

So long as you look for him without me, you may look for him even in the middle of the sea, as far as I'm concerned.

EPIDICUS

coming forward, and addressing PERIPHANES Why are you looking for me? Why are you taking this trouble? Why are you worrying him? Pointing to APAECIDES. See, here I am. Have I run away from you? Have I betaken myself from the house? Have I hid myself from your sight? I don't entreat you either. Do you wish to bind me? Look then, I present my hands. Holding out his hands. You have got thongs; I saw you purchase them. Why do you delay now? Do bind me!

PERIPHIANES

It's all over. He gives bail to me of his own accord for his appearance.

EPIDICUS

Why don't you bind me?

APAECIDES

A wicked slave, upon my faith!

EPIDICUS

Really, Apæcides, I don't want you to intercede for me.

APAECIDES

You easily obtain your wish, Epidicus.

EPIDICUS

to PERIPHANES . Are you going to do anything?

PERIPHIANES

What, at your pleasure?

EPIDICUS

Troth, at my own, indeed, and not at yours, are these hands to be bound by you to-day.

PERIPHIANES

But I don't choose; I shan't bind them.

APAECIDES

to PERIPHANES . He's preparing to throw a dragnet over you; he's framing some plan, I know not what.

EPIDICUS

You are causing delay to yourself, while I stand unbound; bind them, I tell you, bind them together.

PERIPHIANES

But I choose rather to question you unbound.

EPIDICUS

But you shall know nothing.

PERIPHIANES

turning to APÆCIDES . What am I to do?

APAECIDES

What are you to do? Let him be complied with.

EPIDICUS

You are a worthy person, Apæcides.

PERIPHIANES

Hold out your hands then.

EPIDICUS

holding out his hands . They don't at all object; bind them fast together too. Don't be afraid. PERIPHANES binds his hands. I'm submissive. When the job is done, then pronounce your judgment.

PERIPHIANES

There, that is good.

EPIDICUS

Now then, to the point, with your enquiries of me; ask me what you please.

PERIPHIANES

In the first place, with what assurance did you presume to say that she who was bought the day before yesterday was my daughter?

EPIDICUS

I chose to; on that assurance.

PERIPHIANES

Do you say so? You chose to?

EPIDICUS

I do say so. Even lay me a wager that she is not the daughter ——

PERIPHIANES

A woman whom the mother declares she doesn't know?

EPIDICUS

Then, if she isn't the daughter of her mother, make me a bet about it, my didrachm to your talent.

PERIPHIANES

Why, that's a mere catch. But who is this woman?

EPIDICUS

The mistress of your son, that you may know the whole matter.

PERIPHIANES

Did I not give you the thirty minæ for my daughter?

EPIDICUS

I confess that they were given, and that with that money I purchased this Music-girl, your son's mistress, instead of your daughter. As to those thirty minæ, in fact, I imposed upon you.

PERIPHIANES

For what reason did you play a trick upon me about that hired Music-girl?

EPIDICUS

I' faith, I really did do it, and I think it was rightly done.

PERIPHIANES

In the last place, what has been done with the silver I gave you?

EPIDICUS

I'll tell you; I gave it to a person neither bad nor yet good — your son Stratippocles.

PERIPHIANES

Why did you dare to give it him?

EPIDICUS

Because it pleased me.

PERIPHIANES

stamping . Plague on it! what insolence is this?

EPIDICUS

Am I to be bawled at just as if I were a slave?

PERIPHIANES

ironically . As you are a free man, I rejoice.

EPIDICUS

I have deserved to become so.

PERIPHIANES

You — deserved?

EPIDICUS

Go look in-doors; I'll let you know that this is the truth.

PERIPHIANES

What's the matter?

EPIDICUS

The thing itself will tell you so at once. Only do go in-doors.

PERIPHIANES

Aye, aye! this is not without its meaning. Do you keep an eye on him, Apæcides. Goes into his house.

APAECIDES

What's the meaning of this, Epidicus?

EPIDICUS

I' faith, it's with the greatest injustice that I'm standing here bound, through whose aid his daughter has been discovered to-day.

APAECIDES

Do you say that you have found his daughter?

EPIDICUS

I have found her, and she is at home. But how hard it is, when, for services done, you reap a harvest of evil.

APAECIDES

What, her whom this day we've both been weary with seeking throughout the city?

EPIDICUS

I'm weary with finding, you weary with seeking. from the house.

PERIPHIANES

at the door, to those within . Why do you entreat me thus earnestly in his behalf? For I find that he does deserve that I should be pleased to act according to his deserts. To EPIDICUS. Hold out your hands, you, that I may unbind them.

EPIDICUS

Don't you touch them.

PERIPHIANES

But do you present them to me.

EPIDICUS

I don't choose.

PERIPHIANES

You don't do right.

EPIDICUS

Upon my faith, I'll never allow myself to be unbound this day, unless you give me satisfaction.

PERIPHIANES

You ask what's very fair and very just. Shoes, a tunic, and a cloak I'll give you.

EPIDICUS

What next, after that?

PERIPHIANES

Your freedom.

EPIDICUS

But after that? There's need for a new-made freed-man to pick a bit.

PERIPHIANES

It shall be given; I'll find you food.

EPIDICUS

On my word, never this day shall you release me, unless you beg my pardon.

PERIPHIANES

I do entreat you, Epidicus, to forgive me, if unawares in fault I've done anything wrong. But by way of return for this matter, be a free man.

EPIDICUS

Against my inclination do I grant you this pardon, but I'm compelled by necessity. Unbind them then, if you choose. He holds out his hands, which are unbound by PERIPHANES, and they go into his house. coming forward.

This is that man who by his roguery has gained his freedom. Clap your hands, and fare you well! Stretch your loins, and rise from your seats.

MENAECHMI

Translated by Henry Thomas Riley

Considered by some to be Plautus' most accomplished drama, Menaechmi is a comedy about mistaken identity, involving a set of twins, Menaechmus of Epidamnus and Menaechmus of Syracuse. It incorporates various Roman stock characters including the parasite, the courtesan, the cunning slave, the domineering wife, the doddering father-in-law and the quack doctor. As with most of Plautus' plays, much of the dialogue was in fact sung.

The plot introduces Moschus' twin sons, Menaechmus and Sosicles. Moschus decides to take only one of the twins, Menaechmus, with him on a business trip, while the twins are still young. During the trip, Menaechmus is abducted and adopted by a businessman that lives in Epidamnus, separating the twins. Their father dies of sorrow and their grandfather changes Sosicles' name to Menaechmus (i.e., Menaechmus of Syracuse). When the twins are grown to manhood, Menaechmus of Syracuse sets out in search of his brother. He arrives in Epidamnus, unaware that his twin brother is there also.

The play was a major source for William Shakespeare's The Comedy of Errors, which was subsequently adapted for the musical theatre by Rodgers and Hart in The Boys from Syracuse. A similar line of influence was Carlo Goldoni's 1747 play I due gemelli veneziani (The Two Venetian twins) (also adapted as The Venetian Twins in 1979).

THE SUBJECT.

MOSCHUS, a merchant of Syracuse, had two twin sons who exactly resembled each other. One of these, whose name was Menaechmus, when a child, accompanied his father to Tarentum, at which place he was stolen and carried away to Epidamnus, where in course of time he has married a wealthy wife. Disagreements, however, arising with her, he forms an acquaintance with the Courtesan Erotium, and is in the habit of presenting her with clothes and jewels which he pilfers from his wife. The original name of the other twin-brother was Sosicles, but on the loss of Menaechmus, the latter name has been substituted by their grandfather for Sosicles, in remembrance of the lost child. Menaechmus Sosicles, on growing to manhood, determines to seek his lost brother. Having wandered for six years, he arrives at Epidamnus, attended by his servant, Messenio. In consequence of his resemblance to his brother, many curious and laughable mistakes happen between him and the Courtesan Erotium, the wife of Menaechmus of Epidamnus, the Cook Cylindrus, the Parasite Peniculus, the father-in-law of Menaechmus of Epidamnus, and lastly Messenio himself. At length, through the agency of the latter, the brothers recognize each other; on which Messenio receives his liberty, and Menaechmus of Epidamnus resolves to make sale of his possessions and to return to Syracuse, his native place.

THE ACROSTIC ARGUMENT.

[Supposed to have been written by Priscian the Grammarian.]

A SICILIAN merchant (Mercator) who had two sons, on one being stolen from him (Ei), ended his life. As a name (Nomen) for him who is at home, his paternal grandfather (Avus) gives him that of Menaechmus instead of Sosicles. And (Et) he, as soon as he is grown up, goes to seek his brother about (Circum) all countries. At last he comes to Epidamnus; hither (Huc) the one that was stolen has been carried. All think that the stranger, Menaechmus (Menaechmum), is their fellow-citizen, and address him (Eum) as such: Courtesan, wife, and father-in-law. There (Ibi) at last the brothers mutually recognize each other.

THE PROLOGUE.

Prologus

In the first place now, Spectators, at the commencement, do I wish health and happiness to myself and to you. I bring you Plautus, with my tongue, not with my hand: I beg that you will receive him with favouring ears. Now learn the argument, and give your attention; in as few words as possible will I be brief. And, in fact, this subject is a Greek one; still, it is not an Attic, but a Sicilian one. But in their Comedies the poets do this; they feign that all the business takes place at Athens, in order that it may appear the more Grecian to you. I will not tell you that this matter happened anywhere except where it is said to have happened. This has been my preface to the subject of this play. Now will I give the subject, meted out to you, not in a measure, nor yet in a threefold measure, but in the granary itself; so great is my heartiness in telling you the plot.

There was a certain aged man, a merchant at Syracuse; to him two sons were born, twins, children so like in appearance that their own foster-mother, who gave the breast, was not able to distinguish them, nor even the mother herself who had given them birth; as a person, indeed, informed me who had seen the children; I never saw them, let no one of you fancy so. After the children were now seven years old, the father freighted a large ship with much merchandize. The father put one of the twins on board the ship, and took him away, together with himself, to traffic at Tarentum; the other one he left with his mother at home. By accident, there were games at Tarentum when he came there: many persons, as generally happens at the games, had met together; the child strayed away there from his father among the people. A certain merchant of Epidamnus was there; he picked up the child, and carried it away to Epidamnus. But its father, after he had lost the child, took it heavily to heart, and through grief at it he died a few days after at Tarentum. Now, after news reached the grandfather of the children at home about this matter, how that one of the children had been stolen, the grandfather changed the name of that other twin. So much did he love that one which had been stolen, that he gave his name to the one that was at home. That you may not mistake hereafter, I tell you then this beforehand; the name of both the twin-brothers is the same. He gave the same name of Menaechmus to this one as the other had; and by the same name the grandfather himself was called. I remember his name the more easily for the reason that I saw him cried with much noise. Now must I speed back on foot to Epidamnus, that I may exactly disclose this matter to you. If any one of you wishes anything to be transacted for him at Epidamnus, command me boldly and speak out; but on these terms, that he give me the means by which it may be transacted for him. For unless a person gives the money, he will be mistaken; in a lower tone except that he who does give it will be very much more mistaken. But I have returned to that place whence I set forth, and yet I am standing in the self-same spot. This person of Epidamnus, whom I mentioned just now, that stole that other twin child, had no children, except his wealth. He adopted as his son the child so carried off, and gave him a well-portioned wife, and made him his heir when he himself died. For as, by chance, he was going into the country, when it had rained heavily, entering, not far from the city, a rapid stream, in its rapidity it threw the ravisher of the child off his legs; and hurried the man away to great and grievous destruction. And so a very large fortune fell to that youth. Here pointing to the house does the stolen twin now dwell. Now that twin, who dwells at Syracuse, has come this day to Epidamnus with his servant to make enquiry for this own twin-brother of his. This is the city of Epidamnus while this play is acting; when another shall be acted, it will become another town; just as our companies, too, are wont to be shifted about. The same person now acts the procurer, now the youth, now the old man, the pauper, the beggar, the king, the parasite, the soothsayer ...

ACT I.

Enter PENICULUS.

PENICULUS

The young men have given me the name of Peniculus, for this reason, because when I eat, I wipe the tables clean. ... The persons who bind captives with chains, and who put fetters upon runaway slaves, act very foolishly, in my opinion at least. For if bad usage is added to his misfortune for a wretched man, the greater is his inclination to run away and to do amiss. For by some means or other do they release themselves from the chains; while thus fettered, they either wear away a link with a file, or else with a stone they knock out the nail; 'tis a mere trifle this. He whom you wish to keep securely that he may not run away, with meat and with drink ought he to be chained; do you bind down the mouth of a man to a full table. So long as you give him what to eat and what to drink at his own pleasure in abundance every day, i' faith he'll never run away, even if he has committed an offence that's capital; easily will you secure him so long as you shall bind him with such chains. So very supple are these chains of food, the more you stretch them so much the more tightly do they bind. But now I'm going directly to Menaechmus; whither for this long time I have been sentenced, thither of my own accord I am going, that he may enchain me. For, by my troth, this man does not nourish persons, but he quite rears and reinvigorates them; no one administers medicine more agreeably. Such is this young man; himself with a very well-stocked larder, he gives dinners fit for Ceres; so does he heap the tables up, and piles so vast of dishes does he arrange, you must stand on your couch if you wish for anything at the top. But I have now had an interval these many days, while I've been lording it at home all along together with my dear ones; — for nothing do I eat or purchase but what it is most dear. But inasmuch as dear ones, when they are provided, are in the habit of forsaking us, I am now paying him a visit. But his door is opening; and see, I perceive Menaechmus himself; he is coming out of doors.

Enter MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus, from his house.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

speaking at the door to his WIFE within . Unless you were worthless, unless you were foolish, unless you were stark wild and an idiot, that which you see is disagreeable to your husband, you would deem to be so to yourself as well. Moreover, if after this day you do any such thing to me, I'll force you, a divorced woman, turned out of my doors to go visit your father. For as often as I wish to go out of the house, you are detaining me, calling me back, asking me questions; whither I am going, what matter I am about, what business I am transacting, what I am wanting, what I am bringing, what I have been doing out of doors? I've surely brought home a custom-house officer as my wife; so much am I obliged to disclose all my business, whatever I have done and am doing. I've had you hitherto indulged too much. Now, therefore, I'll tell you how I am about to act. Since I find you handsomely in maids, provisions, wool, gold trinkets, garments, and purple, and you are wanting in nought, you'll beware of a mischief if you're wise; you'll leave off watching your husband. In a lower voice. And therefore, that you mayn't be watching me in vain, for your pains I shall find me a mistress to-day, and invite her to dinner somewhere out of doors.

PENICULUS

apart . This fellow pretends that he's upbraiding his wife, but he's addressing myself; for if he does dine out of doors, he really is punishing me, not his wife.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

to himself . Hurra! I' troth, by my taunts I've driven my wife from the door at last. Where now are your intriguing husbands? Why do they hesitate, all returning thanks, to bring presents to me who have fought so gallantly? This mantle of my wife's taking it from under his cloak I've just now stolen from in-doors, and I'm taking it to my mistress. This way it's proper for a clever trick to be played this knowing husband-watcher. This is a becoming action, this is right, this is skilful, this is done in workman-like style; inasmuch as at my own risk I've taken this from my plague, this same shall be carried off to destruction. With the safety of my allies I've gained a booty from the foe.

PENICULUS

aloud, at a distance . Harkye! young man; pray what share have I in that booty?

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

I'm undone; I've fallen into an ambuscade.

PENICULUS

Say a safeguard rather. Don't be afraid.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

What person's this?

PENICULUS

'Tis I. Coming up to him.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

O my convenient friend — O my ready occasion, save you.

PENICULUS

And save you. they shake hands.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

What are you about?

PENICULUS

Holding my good Genius in my right hand.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

You couldn't have come to me more à propos than you have come.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

I'm in the habit of doing so; I understand all the points of ready occasion.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Would you like to be witness of a brilliant exploit?

PENICULUS

What cook has cooked it? I shall know at once if he has made any mistake, when I see the remnants..

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Tell me — did you ever see a picture painted on a wall, where the eagle is carrying off Ganymede, or Venus Adonis?

PENICULUS

Many a time. But what are these pictures to me?

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Come, look at me. Do I at all bear any resemblance to them?

PENICULUS

What's this garb of yours?

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Pronounce me to be a very clever fellow.

PENICULUS

Where are we to feed?

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Only do you say that which I requested you.

PENICULUS

Well, I do say so; very clever fellow.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

And don't you venture to add anything of your own to it?

PENICULUS

— And very pleasant fellow.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Go on.

PENICULUS

I' faith, I really can't go on, unless I know for what reason. You've had a fall-out with your wife; on that ground am I the more strongly on my guards against you.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

While you are interrupting me, you are delaying yourself.

PENICULUS

Knock out my only eye, Menaechmus, if I speak one word but what you bid me.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

... where, unknown to my wife, we will erect the funeral pile ... and let us consume this day upon it.

PENICULUS

Well, come then, since you request what's fair, how soon am I to set fire to the pile? Why really, the day's half dead already down to its navel.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Come this way from the door.

PENICULUS

Be it so. Moves from the door.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Come still more this way.

PENICULUS

Very well. Moves.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus

Even still, step aside boldly from the lioness's den.

PENICULUS

still moving . Well done; by my troth, as I fancy, you really would be an excellent charioteers.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Why so?

PENICULUS

That your wife mayn't follow you, you are looking back ever and anon.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

But what say you?

PENICULUS

What, I? Why, whatever you choose, that same do I say, and that same do I deny.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Could you make any conjecture at all from the smell, if perchance you were to take a smell at something?

PENICULUS

Were the college of Augurs summoned ...

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

holds out the skirt of the mantle . Come then, take a sniff at this mantle that I'm holding. What does it smell of? Do you decline?

PENICULUS

It's as well to smell the top of a woman's garment; for at this other place the nose is offended with an odour that can't be washed out.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

holding another part . Take a smell here then, Peniculus, as you are so daintily nice.

PENICULUS

Very well. He smells it.

MENAECHMUS

How now? What does it smell of? Answer me.

PENICULUS

Theft, a mistress, and a breakfast. To you ...

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

You have spoken out ... now it shall be taken to this mistress of mine, the Courtesan Erotium. I'll order a breakfast at once to be got ready, for me, you, and her; then will we booze away even to the morrow's morning star.

PENICULUS

Capital. You've spoken out distinctly. Am I to knock at the door then?

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Knock — or hold, rather.

PENICULUS

You've removed the goblet a full mile by that.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Knock gently.

PENICULUS

You're afraid, I think, that the doors are made of Samian crockery.
Goes to knock.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Hold, prithee, hold, i' faith; see, she's coming out herself. The door of EROTIUM'S house is opened. Ha you behold the sun, is it not quite darkened in comparison with the bright rays of her person.

Enter EROTIUM, from her house.

EROTIUM

My life, Menaechmus, save you.

PENICULUS

And what for me?

EROTIUM

You are out of my number.

PENICULUS

... that same thing is wont to be done for the other supernumeraries of the legion.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

I would order a skirmish to be got ready there at your house for me to-day.

EROTIUM

To-day it shall be done.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

In that skirmish we two shall drink. Him shall you choose that shall be found there the better warrior with the goblet; do you make up your mind with which of the two you'll pass this night. How much, my love, when I look upon you, do I hate my wife.

EROTIUM

Meantime, however, you cannot help being wrapped in something of hers. What's this? Takes hold of the mantle.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

taking it off. 'Tis a new dress for you, and a spoil from my wife, my rosebud.

EROTIUM

You have a ready way of prevailing, so as to be superior in my eyes to any one of those that pay me suit. Embraces him.

PENICULUS

aside . The harlot's coaxing in the meantime, while she's looking out what to plunder ... to EROTLUM for if you really loved him, by this his nose ought to have been off with your teething him..

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Take hold of this, Peniculus: I wish to dedicate the spoil that I've vowed.

PENICULUS

Give it me. Holds it while MENAECHMUS puts it on. But, i' faith, prithee, do dance afterwards with the mantle on in this way.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

I — dance? I' faith, you're not in your senses.

PENICULUS

Are you or I the most? If you won't dance, then take it off.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

to EROTIUM . At a great risk have I stolen this to-day. In my opinion, indeed, Hercules didn't ever carry off the belt from Hippolyta with danger as great. Take this for yourself he takes it off, and gives her the mantle , since you are the only one alive that's compliant with my humours.

EROTIUM

With such feelings 'tis proper that real lovers should be animated.

PENICULUS

aside . Those, indeed, who are making haste to bring themselves down to beggary.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

I purchased that for my wife a year since at the price of four minae.

PENICULUS

aside . The four minae are clearly gone for ever, as the account now stands.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Do you know what I wish you to attend to?

EROTIUM

I don't know; but I'll attend to whatever you do wish.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Order a breakfast, then, to be provided for us three at your house, and some dainties to be purchased at the market; kernels of boars' neck, or bacon off the gammon, or pig's head, or something in that way, which, when cooked and placed on table before me, may promote an appetite like a kite's: and-forthwith ——

EROTIUM

I' faith, I will.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

We're going to the Forum: we shall be here just now. While it's cooking, we'll take a whet in the meantime.

EROTIUM

Come when you like, the things shall be ready.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Only make haste, then. Do you follow me to PENICULUS .

PENICULUS

By my troth, I certainly shall keep an eye on you, and follow you. I wouldn't take the wealth of the Gods to lose you this day. (Exeunt MENAECHMUS and PENICULUS.) speaking at the door of her house . Call Cyndrus, the cook, out of doors this moment from within.

EROTIUM

Enter CYLINDRUS, from the house.

EROTIUM

Take a hand-basket and some money. See, you have three didrachmns here. Giving him money. .

CYLINDRUS

I have so.

EROTIUM

Go and bring some provisions, see that there's enough for three; let it be neither deficient nor overmuch.

CYLINDRUS

What sort of persons are these to be?

EROTIUM

Myself, Menaechmus, and his Parasite.

CYLINDRUS

Then these make ten, for the Parasite easily performs the duty of eight persons.

EROTIUM

I've now told you the guests; do you take care of the rest.

CYLINDRUS

Very well. It's cooked already; bid them go and take their places.

EROTIUM

Make haste back.

CYLINDRUS

I'll be here directly. (Exit CYLINDRUS, and EROTIUM goes into her house.)

ACT II.

Enter MENAECHMUS SOSICLES and MESSENIO.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

There's no greater pleasure to voyagers, in my notion, Messenio, than at the moment when from sea they espy the land afar.

MESSENIO

There is a greater, I'll say it without subterfuge, — if on your arrival you see the land that is your own. But, prithee, why are we now come to Epidamnus? Why, like the sea, are we going round all the islands?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

To seek for my own twin-brother born?

MESSENIO

Why, what end is there to be of searching for him? This is the sixth year that we've devoted our attention to this business. We have been already carried round the Istrians, the Hispanians, the Massilians, the Illyrians, all the Upper Adriatic Sea, and foreign Greece, and all the shores of Italy, wherever the sea reaches them. If you had been searching for a needle, I do believe you would, long ere this, have found the needle, if it were visible. Among the living are we seeking a person that's dead; for long ago should we have found him if he had been alive.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

For that reason I am looking for a person to give me that information for certain, who can say that he knows that he really is dead; after that I shall never take any trouble in seeking further. But otherwise I shall never, while I'm alive, desist; I know how dear he is to my heart.

MESSENIO

You are seeking a knot in a bulrush. Why don't we return homeward hence, unless we are to write a history?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Have done with your witty sayings, and be on your guard against a mischief. Don't you be troublesome; this matter shan't be done at your bidding.

MESSENIO

aside . Aye, aye; by that same expression do I rest assured that I'm a slave; he couldn't in a few words have said more in a plain-spoken way. But still I can't restrain myself from speaking. Aloud. Do you hear, Menaechmus? When I look in the purse, I find, i' faith, we're only equipped for our journey like summer travellers. By my troth, I guess, if you don't be returning home, while you're seeking your twin-brother, you'll surely be groaning, when you have nothing left. For such is this race of people; among the men of Epidamnus there are debauchees and very great drinkers; swindlers besides, and many wheedlers are living in this city; then the women in the harlot line are said nowhere in the world to be more captivating. The name of Epidamnus was given to this city for the very reason, because hardly any person sojourns here without some damnable mishaps.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

I'll guard against that. Just give me the purse this way.

MESSENIO

What do you want with it?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

I'm apprehensive then about yourself, from your expressions.

MESSENIO

Why are you apprehensive?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Lest you should cause me some damnable mishap in Epidamnus. You are a great admirer of the women, Messenio, and I'm a passionate man, of an unmanageable disposition; of both these things will I have a care, when I've got the money, that you shall not commit a fault, and that I shall not be in a passion with you.

MESSENIO

giving him the purse . Take and keep it; with all my heart you may do so.

Enter CYLINDRUS, with a basket of provisions.

CYLINDRUS

I've catered well, and to my mind. I'll set a good breakfast before the breakfasters. But see, I perceive Menaechmus. Woe to my back; the guests are now already walking before the door, before I've returned with the provisions. I'll go and accost him. Save you, Menaechmus.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

The Gods bless you, whoever you are. ...

CYLINDRUS

... who I am?

MESSENIO

I' faith, not I, indeed.

CYLINDRUS

Where are the other guests?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

What guests are you enquiring about?

CYLINDRUS

Your Parasite.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

My Parasite? Surely this fellow's deranged.

MESSENIO

Didn't I tell you that there were many swindlers here?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

What Parasite of mine, young man, are you enquiring about?

CYLINDRUS

Peniculus.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

... Where is my ... ?

MESSENIO

See, I've got your sponge [Peniculus] all safe in the wallet.

CYLINDRUS

Menaechmus, you've come here too soon for breakfast; I'm but now returning with the provisions.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Answer me this, young man: at what price do pigs sell here, unblemished ones, for sacrifice?

CYLINDRUS

At a didrachm a-piece.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

holding out his hand . Receive, then, a didrachm of me; bid a sacrifice be made for you at my expense; for, by my faith, I really am sure in very truth that you are deranged, who are annoying me, a person that's a stranger, whoever you are.

CYLINDRUS

I am Cylindrus; don't you know my name?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Whether you are Cylindrus or Caliendrus, confound you. I don't know you, and, in fact, I don't want to know you.

CYLINDRUS

Well, your name, however, is Menaechmus, that I do know.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

You speak like a sane person when you call me by my name. But where have you known me?

CYLINDRUS

Where have I known you, you who have Erotium, this mistress of mine pointing to the house , for your lady?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

By my troth, I have not, nor do I know yourself what person you are.

CYLINDRUS

Not know who I am, who have many a time filled the cups for your own self at our house, when you've been drinking?

MESSENIO

Woe to me, that I've got nothing with which to break this fellow's head.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Are you in the habit of filling the cups for me, who, before this day, have never beheld Epidamnus, nor been there?

CYLINDRUS

Do you deny it?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Upon my honor,, I decidedly do deny it.

CYLINDRUS

Don't you live in that house? Pointing to the house of MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

May the Gods send to perdition those that live there.

CYLINDRUS

Surely, this fellow's mad, who is thus uttering curses against his own self. Do you hear, Menaechmus?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

What do you want?

CYLINDRUS

If you take my advice, that didrachm, which you just now promised to give me — you would order, if you were wise, a pig to be procured with it for yourself. For, i' faith, you really for sure are not in your senses, Menaechmus, who are now uttering curses against your own self.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Alas! By my faith, a very silly fellow, and an annoyance to me.

CYLINDRUS

to MESSENIO . He's in the habit of often joking with me in this fashion. How very droll he is, when his wife isn't present. How say you —— ?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

What do you mean, you rascal?

CYLINDRUS

pointing to the basket . Has this that you see been provided in sufficient quantity for three persons, or am I to provide still more for yourself and the Parasite and the lady?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

What ladies — what Parasites are you talking about?

MESSENIO

What, you villain, urges you to be an annoyance to him?

CYLINDRUS

Pray what business have you with me? I don't know you; I'm talking to this person, whom I do know.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

By my troth, you are not a person in his right senses, that I know for sure.

CYLINDRUS

I'll have these things cooked directly; there shall be no delay. Don't you be going after this anywhere at a distance from the house. Do you want anything?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

You to go to utter and extreme perdition.

CYLINDRUS

I' faith, 'twere better for you to go in-doors at once and take your place, while I'm subjecting these things to the strength of the fire. I'll go in-doors now, and tell Erotium that you are standing here, that she may fetch you away hence, rather than you be standing here out of doors. He goes into the house.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Is he gone then? He is gone. By my faith, I find by experience that your words are not untrue.

MESSENIO

Do you only be on your guard; for I do believe that some woman in the harlot line is living here, as, in fact. this madman said, who has just gone away from here.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

But I wonder how he came to know my name.

MESSENIO

I' faith, 'tis far from surprising: courtesans have this custom; they send servant-boys and servant-girls down to the harbour; if any foreign ship comes into port, they enquire of what country it is, and what its name is; after that, at once they set themselves to work, and fasten themselves upon him; if they inveigle him, they send him home a ruined man. Now in this harbour there stands a piratical craft, against which I really think that we must be on our guard.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

I' troth, you really counsel aright.

MESSENIO

Then, in fine, shall I be sure that I've counselled aright, if you are rightly on your guard.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Be silent for a moment, then; for the door makes a noise. Let's see who's coming out from there.

MESSENIO

Meanwhile, I'll lay this down. He puts down the wallet. Do you keep watch upon these things, if you please, you sailors.

Enter EROTIVM from her house.

EROTIVM

speacking to her SERVANTS within . Leave the door ajar thus; begone. I don't want it shut: prepare, attend, and provide within; what is requisite, let it be done. Lay down the couches, burn the perfumes; neatness, that is the charm for the minds of lovers. Our agreeableness is for the lover's loss, for our own gain. To herself. But where is he whom the Cook said was in front of the house? O, I see him there — one who is of service to me, and who profits me very much. And right willingly is such usage shown to him, as he deserves to be of especial importance in my house. Now I'll accost him; I'll address him of my own accord. To MENAECHMUS. My dear life, it seems wonderful to me that you are standing here out of doors, for whom the door is wide open, more so than your own house, inasmuch as this house is at your service. Everything's ready as you requested and as you desired; nor have you now any delay indoors. The breakfast, as you ordered, is prepared here; when you please, you may go and take your place.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

To whom is this woman addressing herself?

EROTIUM

Why, I'm talking to yourself.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

What business have I ever had with you, or have I now?

EROTIUM

Troth, inasmuch as Venus has willed that you singly above all I should exalt; and that not without your deserving it. For, by my faith, you alone make me, by your kindnesses, to be thriving.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

For sure this woman is either mad or drunk, Messemo, that addresses me, a person whom she knows not in so familiar a way.

MESSENIO

Didn't I say that these things are in the habit of occurring here? The leaves are falling now; in comparison with this, if we shall be here for three days, the trees will be tumbling upon you. For to such a degree are all these Courtesans wheedlers out of one's money. But only let me address her. Harkye, woman, I'm speaking to you.

EROTIUM

What's the matter?

MESSENIO

Where have you yourself known this person?

EROTIUM

In that same place where he has known me for this long time, in Epidamnus.

MESSENIO

In Epidamnus? A man who, until this day, has never put a foot here inside of this city.

EROTIUM

Heyday! You are making fun, my dear Menaechmus. But, prithee, why not go in? There, it will be more suitable for you.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

I' faith, this woman really does address me rightly by my name. I wonder very much what's the meaning of this business.

MESSENIO

aside . That purse that you are carrying has been smelt out by her.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

aside . I' faith, and rightly have you put me in mind. Take it, then; I'll know now whether she loves myself or the purse most. Gives him the purse.

EROTIUM

Let's go in the house to breakfast.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

You invite me kindly; so far, my thanks.

EROTIUM

Why then did you bid me a while since prepare a breakfast for you?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

I, bid you prepare?

EROTIUM

Certainly you did, for yourself and your Parasite.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

A plague, what Parasite? Surely this woman isn't quite right in her senses.

EROTIUM

Peniculus.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Who is this Peniculus The one with which the shoes are wiped clean?

EROTIUM

Him, I mean, who came with you a while ago, when you brought me the mantle which you purloined from your wife.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

What do you mean? I, gave you a mantle, which I purloined from my wife? Are you in your senses? Surely this woman dreams standing, after the manner of a gelding.

EROTIUM

Why does it please you to hold me in ridicule, and to deny to me things that have been done by you?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Tell me what it is that I deny after having done it?

EROTIUM

That you to-day gave me your wife's mantle.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Even still do I deny it. Indeed, I never had a wife, nor have I one; nor have I ever set my foot here within the city gate since I was born. I breakfasted on board ship; thence did I come this way, and here I met you.

EROTIUM

See that now; I'm undone, wretched creature that I am! What ship are you now telling me about?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

A wooden one, weather-beaten full oft, cracked full oft, many a time thumped with mallets. Just as the implements of the furrier; so peg is close to peg.

EROTIUM

Now, prithee, do leave off making fun of me, and step this way with me.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

... for, madam, you are looking for some other person, I know not whom, not me.

EROTIUM

Don't I know you, Menaechmus, the son of your father Moschus, who are said to have been born in Sicily, at Syracuse, where King Agathocles reigned, and after him Pintia, the third Liparo, who at his death left the kingdom to Hiero — which Hiero is now king?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

You say, madam, what is not untrue.

MESSENIO

By Jupiter, hasn't this woman come from there, who knows you so readily? ...

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

apart . Troth, I think she must not be denied.

MESSENIO

apart . Don't you do it. You are undone, if you enter inside her threshold.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

apart . But you only hold your tongue ... The matter goes on well. I shall assent to the woman, whatever she shall say, if I can get some entertainment. Just now, madam speaking to her in a low voice , I contradicted you not undesignedly; I was afraid of that fellow, lest he might carry word to my wife about the mantle and the breakfast. Now, when you please, let's go in-doors.

EROTIUM

Are you going to wait for the Parasite as well?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

I'm neither going to wait for him, nor do I care a straw for him, nor, if he should come, do I want him to be admitted in-doors.

EROTIUM

By my faith, I shall do that not at all reluctantly. But do you know what I beg you to do?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Only command me what you will.

EROTIUM

For you to take that mantle which you gave me just now to the embroiderer's, that it may be trimmed again, and that some work may be added which I want.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

I' faith, you say what's right; in such a way shall it be disguised that my wife shan't know that you are wearing it, if she should see you in the street.

EROTIUM

Then take it away with you just now, when you go away.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

By all means.

EROTIUM

Let's go in-doors. Goes into her house.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

I'll follow you this instant; I only wish to speak to this person. So, there! Messenio, step to me this way.

MESSENIO

What's the matter?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Listen.

MESSENIO

What need for it?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

There is need, I know what you'll say to me ——

MESSENIO

So much the worse.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Hold your tongue ... I've got some spoil; thus much of the business have I begun upon. Go, and, as quick as you can, take away those peoples at once to an inn. Then do you take care to come and meet me before sunset.

MESSENIO

Don't you know that these people are harlots, master?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Hold your tongue, I say, and go you away from here. It will cost me pain, not you, if I do anything here that's foolish. This woman is silly and inexperienced. So far as I've perceived just now, there's some spoil for us here. He goes into the house of EROTIUM.

MESSENIO

I'm undone. Are you going away then? He is certainly ruined; the piratical craft is now leading the boat straight to destruction. But I'm an unreasonable fellow to wish to rule my master; he bought me to obey his orders, not to be his commander. To the ATTENDANTS. Follow me, that, as I'm ordered, I may come in good time to meet my master.

ACT III.

Enter PENICULUS.

PENICULUS

More than thirty years have I been born yet during that time I never did any more mischievous or more evil trick than this day, when, to my misfortune, I thrust myself into the midst of the assembly. while I was gaping about there, Menaechmus stole away from me, and went, I suppose, to his mistress, and didn't want to take me. May all the Divinities confound that man who first mischievously devised the holding of an assembly, which keeps men thus engaged. By my troth, is it not fitting that men who are disengaged should be chosen for that purpose? These, when they are cited, if they are not present, let the officers exact the fine forthwith ... the senate ... Abundance of men are there who every day eat their victuals alone, who have no business, who are neither invited nor invite to feast; these ought to give their attendance at the assembly and the law-courts. If so it had been, this say I shouldn't have lost my breakfast; to which I deemed myself as much accustomed, as to see myself alive. I'll go; even yet the hope of the scraps comforts my mind. But why do I see Menaechmus here? He's coming out of doors with a chaplet on? The banquet is removed; i' faith, I come just in time to meet him. I'll watch the fellow, what he's about, then I'll go and accost him. He steps aside.

Enter MENAECHMUS SOSICLES, from the house of EROTIUM, with the mantle on.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

speaking to EROTIUM within . Can't you rest content, if this day I bring it you back in good time, nicely and properly trimmed? I'll cause you to say it isn't itself, so much shall it be disguised.

PENICULUS

apart . He's carrying the mantle to the embroiderer's, the breakfast finished and the wine drunk up, and the Parasite shut out of doors.

By my troth, I'm not the person that I am, if I don't handsomely avenge this injury and myself. 'Tis requisite I should watch ... I'll give something.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

to himself . O ye immortal Gods! on what man ever have you conferred more blessings in one day, who hoped for less? I've been breakfasting, drinking, feasting with a mistress; and I've carried off this mantle, of which she shall no more be owner after this day.

PENICULUS

Isn't he now talking about me, and my share of the repast? I can't well hear what he says.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

to himself . She says that I secretly gave her this, and that I stole it away from my wife. When I perceived that she was mistaken, at once I began to assent, as though I really had had acquaintanceship with her. Whatever the woman said, the same said I. What need of many words? I was never entertained at less expense.

PENICULUS

apart . I'll accost the fellow; for I quite long to have a row.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Who's this that's coming up towards me? Takes off the mantle, and hides it.

PENICULUS

What say you, you fellow lighter than a feather, most rascally and most abandoned — you disgraceful man — you cheat, and most worthless fellow? Why have I deserved this of you? For what reason should you ruin me? How you stole yourself away from me just now at the Forum. You've been performing the funeral of the breakfast in my absence. Why did you dare to do so, when I was entitled to it in an equal degree?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Young man, prithee, what business with me have you, who are thus purposely insulting a person whom you know not? Do you wish a punishment to be given you for your abuse?

PENICULUS

Do be quiet; by my faith, I discover that you've done that already indeed.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Answer me, young man, I beg; what is your name?

PENICULUS

Are you laughing at me, as well, as though you didn't know my name?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

By my troth, I never saw or knew you, that I'm aware of, before this day; but at all events, whoever you are, if you do what's right, you won't be an annoyance to me.

PENICULUS

Don't you know me?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

I shouldn't deny it if I did know you.

PENICULUS

Menaechmus, awake.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

I' troth, I really am awake, so far as I know.

PENICULUS

Don't you know your own Parasite?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Young man, I find that your headpiece isn't sound.

PENICULUS

Answer me; have you not purloined that mantle from your wife to-day, and given it to Erotium?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

I' faith I have no wife, nor have I given the mantle to Erotium, nor have I purloined it.

PENICULUS

Are you really in your senses? ... This matter's settled. Did I not see you coming out of doors clad in a mantle?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Woe to your head. Do you think that all people are effeminate rogues because you are one? Do you declare that I was clothed in a mantle?

PENICULUS

Troth, I really do.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Why don't you go where you are deserving to go, or else request yourself to be atoned for, you downright madman?

PENICULUS

By my troth, never shall any one prevail upon me not to tell your wife the whole matter now, just as it happened. All these insults shall be retorted upon yourself. I'll take care that you shan't have devoured the breakfast unpunished. He goes into the house of MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

What's the meaning of this business? Why, Just as I see each person, do they all make fun of me in this way? But the door makes a noise.

Enter a MAID-SERVANT, from the house of EROTIIUM.

MAID-SERVANT of Erotium.

Menaechmus, Erotium says that she entreats you much, that at the same opportunity you'll take this to the goldsmith's, and add to it an ounce in weight of gold, and order the bracelet to be fashioned anew.

Gives him a bracelet.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Tell her that I'll attend both to this and anything else that she shall wish, if she wishes anything else attended to.

MAID-SERVANT of Erotium.

Do you know what this bracelet is?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

I don't know, unless it's of gold.

MAID-SERVANT of Erotium.

This is the same one that you once said that you had secretly stolen out of the closet from your wife.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

By my troth, 'twas never done.

MAID-SERVANT of Erotium.

Prithee, don't you remember it?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Not in the least.

MAID-SERVANT of Erotium.

Give it me back then, if you don't remember it. Tries to take it.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Stop. Pretends to examine the bracelet. O yes, I really do remember it; it's the same, I believe, that I presented to her.

MAID-SERVANT of Erotium.

I' faith, it is the same.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Where are the clasps which I gave her together with them?

MAID-SERVANT of Erotium.

You never gave her any.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Why, faith, I gave them together with this ...

MAID-SERVANT of Erotium.

Shall I say that you'll attend to it?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Do say so; it shall be attended to. I'll take care that the mantle and the bracelet are brought back together.

MAID-SERVANT of Erotium.

My dear Menaechmus, do, pray, give me some earrings, the pendants to be made two didrachms in weight; that I may look on you with delight when you come to our house.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Be it so. Give me the gold; I'll find the price of the workmanship.

MAID-SERVANT of Erotium.

Give it yourself, please; at a future time I'll give it you back.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

No, give it yourself; at a future time I'll give it you twofold.

MAID-SERVANT of Erotium.

I haven't any.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

But when you have it, do you give it me, then.

MAID-SERVANT of Erotium.

Do you wish for aught?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Say that I'll attend to these things, aside to be sold as soon as they can, and for what they'll fetch. The MAID-SERVANT goes into the house. Has she now gone off in-doors? She's gone, and has shut the door. Surely all the Gods are favouring, amplifying, and prospering me. But why do I delay while opportunity and time are granted me to get away from these procurers' dens? Make haste, Menaechmus; pull foot and quicken your pace. I'll take off this chaplet, and throw it away on the left hand side throws the chaplet down , that, if they follow me, they may think I've gone in that direction. I'll go and meet my servant, if I can, that he may learn from me these blessings which the Gods confer upon me.

ACT IV.

Enter, from her house, the WIFE of MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus, followed by PENICULUS.

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

And shall I allow myself to remain in wedlock here, when my husband secretly pilfers whatever's in the house, and carries it thence off to his mistress?

PENICULUS

Why don't you hold your peace? I'll let you now catch him in the fact; do you only follow me this way. They go to the opposite side of the stage. In a state of drunkenness, with a chaplet on, he was carrying the mantle to the embroiderer's, which he purloined from you at home to-day. But see, here is the chaplet which he had on. Seeing the chaplet on the ground. Now am I saying false? Aha, this way has he gone, if you wish to trace his footsteps. And, by my faith, see, here he comes on his way back most opportunely, but he isn't wearing the mantle.

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

What now shall I do to him?

PENICULUS

The same as usual; abuse him.

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

So I am resolved.

PENICULUS

Let's step aside this way watch him from ambush. They retire on one side.

Enter MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

to himself . How we do practise a custom here that is very foolish and extremely troublesome, and how even those who are the most worthy and great do follow this habit: all wish their dependants to be many in number; whether they are deserving or undeserving, about that they don't enquire. Their property is more enquired about, than what the reputation of their clients is for honor. If any person is poor and not dishonest, he is considered worthless; but if a rich man is dishonest, he is considered a good client. Those who neither regard laws nor any good or justice at all, the same have zealous patrons. What has been entrusted to them, they deny to have been so entrusted; men full of litigation, rapacious, and fraudulent; who have acquired their property either by usury or by perjury; their whole pleasure is in litigation. When the day for trial is appointed, at the same time it is mentioned to their patrons, in order that they may plead for them, about what they have done amiss. Before the people, or at law before the Praetor, or before the Aedile, is the cause tried. Just so, this day, a certain dependant has kept me very much engaged, nor was it allowed me to do what I wished, or in company with whom I wished; so fast did he stick to me, so much did he detain me. Before the Aedile, in behalf of his doings, very many and very disgraceful, did I plead his cause; a compromise I obtained, obscure and perplexed — more than enough I said, and than I needed to say, that surety for him might end this litigation. What did he do? Well, what? He gave bail. And never did I at any time see any person more clearly detected; three very adverse witnesses against all his misdeeds were there. May all the Gods confound him, he has so spoilt this day for me; and myself as well, who ever this day beheld the Forum with my eyes. I ordered a breakfast to be prepared; my mistress is expecting me, I'm sure; as soon as ever I had the opportunity, I made haste immediately to leave the Forum. Now, I suppose, she's angry with me; the mantle, however, will appease her that I gave her, the one I took away to-day from my wife and carried to Erotium here.

PENICULUS

apart to the WIFE . What say you now?

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

apart . That I'm unfortunately married to a worthless fellow.

PENICULUS

apart . Do you perfectly hear what he says?

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

apart . Quite well.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

If I am wise, I shall be going hence in-doors, where it may be comfortable for me.

PENICULUS

coming forward Stop; on the contrary, it shall be uncomfortable.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

... she is very sorrowful; this doesn't quite please me, but I'll speak to her. Tell me, my wife, what is it amiss with you?

PENICULUS

to the WIFE . The pretty fellow's soothing you.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Can't you cease being annoying to me? Did I address you?

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

turning away from MENAECHMUS . Take yourself off — away with your caresses from me. Do you persist in it?

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Why are you offended with me?

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

You ought to know.

PENICULUS

The rascal knows, but he pretends not to know.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Has any one of the servants done amiss? Do either the maid or the men-servants give you saucy answers? Speak out; it shan't be done with impunity.

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

You are trifling.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Surely you are angry at some one of the domestics?

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

You are trifling.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Are you angry with me at all events?

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Now you are not trifling.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

I' faith, I haven't done wrong in anything.

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Ah! now you are trifling again.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Wife, what's the matter?

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Do you ask me that?

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Do you wish me to ask him? To PENICULUS. What's the matter?

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

The mantle.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

The mantle?

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

A certain person has taken a mantle. MENAECHMUS starts.

PENICULUS

to MENAECHMUS . Why are you alarmed?

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

For my part, I'm not alarmed at all — aside except about one thing; the mantle makes my face mantle.

PENICULUS

aside to MENAECHMUS . But as for me, you shouldn't have slyly devoured the breakfast. To the WIFE. Go on against your husband.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

making signs to PENICULUS . Won't you hold your tongue?

PENICULUS

Faith, I really will not hold my tongue. To the WIFE. He's nodding to me not to speak.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

On my word, I really never did nod to you, or wink in any way.

PENICULUS

Nothing is more audacious than this man, who resolutely denies those things which you see.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

By Jupiter and all the Gods, I swear, wife, that I did not nod to him; isn't that enough for you?

PENICULUS

She now believes you about that matter; go back again there.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Go back where?

PENICULUS

Why, to the embroiderer, as I suppose. Go and bring the mantle back.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

What mantle is it?

PENICULUS

Now I hold my tongue, since he doesn't remember his own business.

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Did you suppose that you could possibly commit these villainies unknown to me? By heavens, you have assuredly taken that away from me at a heavy usury; such is the return. Shaking her fist.

PENICULUS

Such is the return. Do you make haste to eat up the breakfast in my absence; and then in your drunkenness make fun of me, with your chaplet on, before the house.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

By all the powers, I have neither breakfasted, nor have I this day set foot inside of that house.

PENICULUS

Do you deny it?

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

By my troth, I really do deny it.

PENICULUS

Nothing is there more audacious than this fellow. Did I not just now see you standing here before the house, with a chaplet of flowers on, when you were declaring that my headpiece wasn't sound, and declaring that you didn't know me, and saying that you were a foreigner?

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

On the contrary, as some time since I parted with you, so I'm now returning home at last.

PENICULUS

I understand you. You didn't think it was in my power to take vengeance upon you; i' faith, I've told it all to your wife.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Told her what?

PENICULUS

I don't know; ask her own self.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

turning to his WIFE . What's this, wife? Pray, what has he been telling you? What is it? Why are you silent? Why don't you say what it is?

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

As though you didn't know. I' faith, I certainly am a miserable woman.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Why are you a miserable woman? tell me.

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Do you ask me?

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Faith, I shouldn't ask you if I knew.

PENICULUS

O the wicked fellow; how he does dissemble. You cannot conceal it; she knows the matter thoroughly; by my faith, I've disclosed everything.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

What is it?

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Inasmuch as you are not at all ashamed, and don't wish to confess of your own accord, listen, and attend to this; I'll both let you know why I'm sorrowful, and what he has told me. My mantle has been purloined from me at home.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Mantle purloined from me?

PENICULUS

to the WIFE . D'you see how the rogue is catching you up? To MENAECHMUS. It was purloined from her, not from you; for certainly if it had been purloined from you, it would now be safe.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

to PENICULUS . I've nothing to do with you. But to his WIFE what is it you say?

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

A mantle, I say, has been lost from home.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Who has stolen it?

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

I faith, he knows that, who took it away.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

What person was it?

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

A certain Menaechmus.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

By my troth, 'twas villanously done. Who is this Menaechmus?

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

You are he, I say.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

I?

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

You.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Who accuses me?

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

I, myself.

PENICULUS

I, too; and you carried it off to Erotium here, your mistress.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

I, gave it her?

PENICULUS

You, you, I say. Do you wish for an owl to be brought here, to say “you, you,” continually to you? For we are now quite tired of it.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

By Jupiter and all the Gods, I swear, wife (and isn’t that enough for you?), that I did not give it.

PENICULUS

Aye, and I, by all the powers, that we are telling no untruth.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

But I haven’t given it away, but just only lent it to be made use of.

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

But, i’ faith, for my part, I don’t lend either your scarf or your cloak out of the house, to any one, to be made use of. ’Tis fair that the woman should lend out of the house the woman's apparel, the man the man's. But why don't you bring the mantle home again?

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

I'll have it brought back.

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

For your own interest you'll do so, as I think; for you shall never enter the house to-day unless you bring the mantle with you. I'm going home.

PENICULUS

to the WIFE . What's there to be for me, who have given you this assistance?

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Your assistance shall be repaid, when anything shall be purloined from your house. The WIFE goes into the house.

PENICULUS

Then, by my troth, that really will never be; for nothing have I at home to lose. May the Gods confound you, both husband and wife. I'll make haste to the Forum, for I see clearly that I've quite fallen out with this family. (Exit.)

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

My wife thinks that she does me an injury when she shuts me out of doors; as though I hadn't another better place to be admitted into. If I displease you, I must endure it; I shall please Erotium here, who won't be shutting me out of her house, but will be shutting me up in her house rather. Now I'll go; I'll beg her to give me back the mantle that I gave her a while since. I'll purchase another for her — a better one. Hallo! is any one the porter here? Knocks at EROTIUM'S door. Open here, and some one of you call Erotium before the door.

Enter EROTIUM, from her house.

EROTIUM

Who's enquiring for me here?

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

One that's more of an enemy to his own self than to yourself.

EROTIUM

My dear Menaechmus? Why are you standing before the house? Do follow me in-doors.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Stop. Do you know why it is that I'm come to you?

EROTIUM

I know well; that you may amuse yourself with me.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Why no, troth, that mantle which I gave you a while since, give it me back, I entreat you; my wife has become acquainted with all the transaction, in its order, just as it happened. I'll procure for you a mantle of twofold greater value than you shall wish.

EROTIUM

Why, I gave it your own self a little while since, that you might take it to the embroiderer's, and that bracelet, too, that you might take it to the goldsmith's that it might be made anew.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

You, gave me the mantle and the bracelet? You'll find 'twas never done. For, indeed, after I gave it you a while ago, and went away to the Forum, I'm but just returning, and now see you for the first time since.

EROTIUM

I see what plan you are upon; that you may defraud me of what I entrusted to you, at that thing you are aiming ——

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

On my word, I do not ask it for the sake of defrauding you. But I tell you that my wife has discovered the matter.

EROTIUM

Nor did I of my own accord beg you to give it me; of your own accord you yourself brought it me. You gave it me as a present; now you're asking for the same thing back again. I'll put up with it; keep it to yourself; take it away; make use of it, either yourself or your wife, or squeeze it into your money-box even. After this day, that you mayn't be deceived, you shan't set your foot in this house, since you hold me in contempt, who deserve so well of you. Unless you bring money, you'll be disappointed; you can't cajole me. Find some other woman, henceforth, for you to be disappointing.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

By my troth, very angry at last. Hallo! you; stay, I bid you. Come you back. Will you stay now? Will you even for my sake come back?

EROTIUM goes into her house, and shuts the door. She has gone indoors, and shut the house. Now I'm regularly barred out; I have neither any credit at home now, nor with my mistress. I'll go and consult my friends on this matter, as to what they think should be done. (Exit.)

ACT V.

Enter MENAECHMUS SOSICLES, with the mantle on.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

I did very foolishly a while since, in entrusting my purse to Messenio with the money. I suspect he has got himself into some bad house or other. Enter the WIFE of Menaechmus of Epidamnus, from the house.

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

I'll look out to see how soon my husband is going to return home. But here he is; I see him; I'm all right, he's bringing back the mantle.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

to himself. I wonder where Messenio can be walking now.

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

I'll go and receive the fellow with such language as he deserves. Accosting him. Are you not ashamed to come forward in my presence, you disgraceful man, in that garb?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

What's the matter? What thing is troubling you, woman?

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Do you dare, you shameless fellow, to utter even a single word, or to speak to me?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Pray, what wrong have I committed, that I shouldn't dare to speak to you?

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Do you ask me? O dear, the impudent audacity of the fellow!

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Don't you know, madam, for what reason the Greeks used to say that Hecuba was a bitch?

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

I don't know, indeed.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Because Hecuba used to do the same thing that you are now doing. She used to heap all kinds of imprecations on every one she saw; and, therefore, for that reason she was properly begun to be called a bitch.

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

I can't put up with this disgraceful conduct of yours; for I had rather see my life that of a widow, than endure this vile conduct of yours that you are guilty of.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

What is it to me, whether you are able to endure to live in the married state, or whether you will separate from your husband? Is it thus the fashion here to tell these stories to a stranger on his arrival?

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

What stories? I say, I'll not endure it henceforth, but live separate rather than put up with these ways.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Troth, so far indeed as I'm concerned, do live separate, even so long as Jupiter shall hold his sway.

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

By heavens, I'll certainly now send for my father, and I'll tell him your disgraceful conduct that you are guilty of. Go, Decio calling to a SERVANT, seek for my father, that he may come along with you to me; tell him that occasion has arisen for it. I'll now disclose to him this disgraceful conduct of yours.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Are you in your senses? What disgraceful conduct of mine?

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

When you filch from home my mantle and gold trinkets, without the knowledge of your wife, and carry them off to your mistress. Don't I state this correctly?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

O dear! madam, by my faith, you are both very bold and very perverse. Do you dare to say pointing at the mantle that this was stolen from you which another woman gave me, for me to get it trimmed?

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

A little while since you didn't deny that you had purloined it from me; do you now hold up that same before my eyes? Are you not ashamed?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

By my faith, madam, I entreat you, if you know, show me what I'm to drink, by means of which I may put up with your impertinence. What person you are taking me to be, I don't know; I know you just as well as Parthaon.

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

If you laugh at me, still, i' troth, you can't do so at him; my father, I mean, who's coming here. Why don't you look back? Do you know that person?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Just as well as Calchas do I know him; I have seen him on that same day on which I have seen yourself before this present day.

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Do you deny that you know me? Do you deny that you know my father?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Troth, I shall say the same thing, if you choose to bring your grandfather.

THE WIFE OF MENAECHEMUS of Epidamnus.

I' faith, you do this and other things just in a like fashion.

Enter an OLD MAN, hobbling with a stick.

OLD MAN

According as my age permits, and as there is occasion to do so, I'll push on my steps and make haste to get along. But how far from easy 'tis for me, I'm not mistaken as to that. For my agility forsakes me, and I am beset with age; I carry my body weighed down; my strength has deserted me. How grievous a pack upon one's back is age. For when it comes, it brings very many and very grievous particulars, were I now to recount all of which, my speech would be too long. But this matter is a trouble to my mind and heart, what this business can possibly be on account of which my daughter suddenly requires me to come to her, and doesn't first let me know what's the matter, what she wants, or why she sends for me. But pretty nearly do I know now what's the matter; I suspect that some quarrel has arisen with her husband. So are these women wont to do, who, presuming on their portions, and haughty, require their husbands to be obedient to them; and they as well full oft are not without fault. But still there are bounds, within which a wife ought to be put up with. By my troth, my daughter never sends for her father to come to her except when either something has been done wrong, or there is a cause for quarrelling. But whatever it is, I shall now know. And see, I perceive her herself before the house, and her husband in a pensive mood. 'Tis the same as I suspected. I'll accost her.

THE WIFE OF MENAECHEMUS of Epidamnus.

I'll go and meet him. May every happiness attend you, my father.

OLD MAN

Happiness attend you. Do I find you in good spirits? Do you bid me be fetched in happy mood? Why are you sorrowful? And why does he pointing at MENAECHMUS in anger stand apart from you?

Something, I know not what, are you two wrangling about between you. Say, in few words, which of the two is in fault: no long speeches, though.

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

For my part, I've done nothing wrong; as to that point do I at once make you easy, father. But I cannot live or remain here on any account; you must take me away hence immediately.

OLD MAN

Why, what's the matter?

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

I am made a laughing-stock of, father.

OLD MAN

By whom?

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

By him to whom you gave me, my husband.

OLD MAN

Look at that — a quarrel now. How often, I wonder, have I told you to be cautious, that neither should be coming to me with your complaints.

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

How, my father, can I possibly guard against that?

OLD MAN

Do you ask me? ... unless you don't wish. How often have I told you to be compliant to your husband. Don't be watching what he does, where he goes, or what matter he's about.

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Why, but he's in love with a courtesan here close by.

OLD MAN

. He is exceedingly wise: and for this painstaking of yours, I would even have him love her the more.

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

He drinks there, too.

OLD MAN

And will he really drink the less for you, whether it shall please him to do so there or anywhere else? Plague on it, what assurance is this? On the same principle, you would wish to hinder him from engaging to dine out, or from receiving any other person at his own house. Do you want husbands to be your servants? You might as well expect, on the same principle, to be giving him out his task, and bidding him sit among the female servants and card wool.

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Why, surely, father, I've sent for you not to be my advocate, but my husband's: on this side you stand, on the other you plead the cause.

OLD MAN

If he has done wrong in anything, so much the more shall I censure him than I've censured you. Since he keeps you provided for and well clothed, and finds you amply in female servants and provisions, 'tis better, madam, to entertain kindly feelings.

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

But he purloins from me gold trinkets and mantles from out of the chests at home; he plunders me, and secretly carries off my ornaments to harlots.

OLD MAN

He does wrong, if he does that; if he does not do it, you do wrong in accusing him when innocent.

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Why at this moment, even, he has got a mantle, father, and a bracelet, which he had carried off to her; now, because I came to know of it, he brings them back.

OLD MAN

I'll know from himself, then, how it happened. I'll go up to this man and accost him. Goes up to MENAECHMUS. Tell me this, Menaechmus, what you two are disputing about, that I may know. Why are you pensive? And why does she in anger stand apart from you?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Whoever you are, whatever is your name, old gentleman, I call to witness supreme Jove and the Deities ——

OLD MAN

For what reason, or what matter of all matters?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

That I have neither done wrong to that woman, who is accusing me of having purloined this pointing to the mantle away from her at home ... and which she solemnly swears that I did take away. If ever I set foot inside of her house where she lives, I wish that I may become the most wretched of all wretched men.

OLD MAN

Are you in your senses to wish this, or to deny that you ever set foot in that house where you live, you downright madman?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Do you say, old gentleman, that I live in this house? Pointing at the house.

OLD MAN

Do you deny it?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

By my faith, certainly do deny it.

OLD MAN

In your fun you are going too far in denying it; unless you flitted elsewhere this last night. Step this way, please, daughter. To the WIFE. What do you say? Have you removed from this house?

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.
To what place, or for what reason, prithee?

OLD MAN
I' faith, I don't know.

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.
He's surely making fun of you.

OLD MAN
Can't you keep yourself quiet? Now, Menaechmus, you really have joked long enough; now do seriously attend to this matter.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES
Prithee, what have I to do with you? Whence or what person are you? Is your mind right, or hers, in fact, who is an annoyance to me in every way?

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.
Don't you see how his eyes sparkle? How a green colour is arising on his temples and his forehead; look how his eyes do glisten ...

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES
O me! They say I'm mad, whereas they of themselves are mad.

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.
How he yawns, as he stretches himself. What am I to do now, my father?

OLD MAN
Step this way, my daughter, as far as ever you can from him.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES
aside . What is there better for me than, since they say I'm mad, to pretend that I am mad, that I may frighten them away from me? He dances about. Evoë, Bacchus, ho! Bromius, in what forest dost thou invite me to the chase? I hear thee, but I cannot get away from this spot, so much does this raving mad female cur watch me on the left side. And behind there is that other old he-goat, who many a time in his life has proved the destruction of an innocent fellow-citizen by his false testimony.

OLD MAN

shaking his stick at him . Woe to your head.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Lo! by his oracle, Apollo bids me burn out her eyes with blazing torches. He points with his fingers at her.

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

I'm undone, my father; he's threatening to burn my eyes out.

OLD MAN

Hark you, daughter.

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

What's the matter? What are we to do?

OLD MAN

What if I call the servants out here? I'll go bring some to take him away hence, and bind him at home, before he makes any further disturbance.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

aside . So now; I think now if I don't adopt some plan for myself, these people will be carrying me off home to their house. Aloud. Dost thou forbid me to spare my fists at all upon her face, unless she does at once get out of my sight to utter and extreme perdition? I will do what thou dost bid me, Apollo. Runs after her.

OLD MAN

to the WIFE . Away with you home as soon as possible, lest he should knock you down.

THE WIFE OF MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

I'm off. Watch him, my father, I entreat you, that he mayn't go anywhere hence. Am I not a wretched woman to hear these things?
She goes into her house.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

aside . I've got rid of her not so badly. Aloud . Now as for this most filthy, long-bearded, palsied Tithonus, who is said to have had Cygnus for his father, you bid me break in pieces his limbs, and bones, and members with that walking-stick which he himself is holding.

OLD MAN

Punishment shall be inflicted if you touch me indeed, or if you come nearer to me.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

shouting aloud . I will do what thou dost bid me; I will take a two-edged axe, and I will hew this old fellow to his very bones, and I will chop his entrails into mincemeat.

OLD MAN

retreating as far as he can . Why really against that must I take care and precaution. As he threatens, I'm quite in dread of him, lest he should do me some mischief.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

jumping and raising his arms . Many things dost thou bid me do, Apollo. Now thou dost order me to take the yoked horses, unbroke and fierce, and to mount the chariot, that I may crush to pieces this aged, stinking, toothless lion. Now have I mounted the chariot; now do I hold the reins; now is the whip in my hand. Speed onward, ye steeds, let the sound of your hoofs be heard; in your swift course let the rapid pace of your feet be redoubled. Points at the OLD MAN as he pretends to gallop.

OLD MAN

Are you threatening me with your yoked steeds?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Lo! again, Apollo, thou dost bid me to make an onset against him who is standing here, and to murder him. But what person is this that is tearing me hence by the hair down from the chariot? He revokes thy commands and the decree of Apollo.

OLD MAN

Alas! a severe and obstinate malady, i' faith. By our trust in you, ye Gods ... even this person who is now mad, how well he was a little time since. All on a sudden has so great a distemper attacked him. I'll go now and fetch a physician as fast as I can. (Exit.)

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Prithee, are these persons gone now out of my sight, who are compelling me by force, while in my wits, to be mad? Why do I delay to be off to the ship, while I can in safety? ... And all of you to the SPECTATORS, if the old gentleman should return, I beg not to tell him, now, by what street I fled away hence. (Exit.)

Enter the OLD MAN, very slowly.

OLD MAN

My bones ache with sitting, my eyes with watching, while waiting for the Doctor, till he returned from his business. At last the troublesome fellow has with difficulty got away from his patients. He says that he has set a broken leg for Aesculapius, and an arm for Apollo. I'm now thinking whether I'm to say that I'm bringing a doctor or a carpenter. But, see, here he comes. — Do get on with your ant's pace.

Enter a DOCTOR.

DOCTOR.

What did you say was his disorder? Tell me, respected sir. Is he harassed by sprites, or is he frenzied? Let me know. Is it lethargy, or is it dropsy, that possesses him?

OLD MAN

Why, I'm bringing you for that reason, that you may tell me that, and make him convalescent.

DOCTOR.

That indeed is a very easy matter. Why, I shall heal innumerable times as many in the day.

OLD MAN

I wish him to be treated with great attention.

DOCTOR.

That he shall be healed, I promise that on my word; so with great attention will I treat him for you.

OLD MAN

Why, see! here's the man himself.

DOCTOR.

Let's watch what matter he's about. (They stand aside.)

Enter MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

to himself. By my faith, this day has certainly fallen out perverse and adverse for me, since the Parasite, who has filled me full of disgrace and terror, has made that all known, which I supposed I was doing secretly; my own Ulysses, who has brought so great evil on his king — a fellow that, by my troth, if I only live, I'll soon finish his life. But I'm a fool, who call that his, which is my own. With my own victuals and at my own expense has he been supported; of existence will I deprive the fellow. But the Courtesan has done this in a way worthy of her, just as the harlot's habit is: because I ask for the mantle, that it may be returned again to my wife, she declares that she has given it me. O dear! By my faith, I do live a wretched man.

OLD MAN

apart . Do you hear what he says ?

DOCTOR.

apart . He declares that he is wretched.

OLD MAN

apart . I wish you to accost him.

DOCTOR.

going up to him . Save you, Menaechmus. Prithee, why do you bare your arm? Don't you know how much mischief you are now doing to that disease of yours?

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Why don't you go hang yourself?

OLD MAN

What think you now?

DOCTOR.

What shouldn't I think? This case can't be treated with even ointment of hellebore. But what have you to say, Menaechmus?

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

What do you want?

DOCTOR.

Tell me this that I ask of you; do you drink white wine or dark-coloured?

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

What need have you to enquire?

DOCTOR.

...

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Why don't you go to utter perdition ?

OLD MAN

Troth, he's now beginning to be attacked with the fit.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Why don't you ask whether I'm wont to eat dark bread, or purple, or yellow? Or whether I'm wont to eat birds with scales, or fish with wings?

OLD MAN

Dear, dear! To the DOCTOR. Don't you hear how deliriously he talks? Why do you delay to give him something by way of a potion, before his raving overtakes him?

DOCTOR.

Stop a little; I'll question him on some other matters as well.

OLD MAN

You are killing me by your prating.

DOCTOR.

to MENAECHMUS . Tell me this; are your eyes ever in the habit of becoming hard?

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

What? Do you take me to be a locust, you most worthless fellow?

DOCTOR.

Tell me, now, do your bowels ever rumble that you know of?

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

When I'm full, they don't rumble at all; when I'm hungry, then they do rumble.

DOCTOR.

I' faith, he really gave me that answer not like an insane person. Do you always sleep soundly until daylight? Do you easily go to sleep when in bed?

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

I sleep throughout if ... I go to sleep if I have paid my money to him to whom I owe it.

DOCTOR.

...

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

to the DOCTOR . May Jupiter and all the Divinities confound you, you questioner.

DOCTOR.

aside . Now this person begins to rave. To the OLD MAN. From those expressions do you take care of yourself.

OLD MAN

Why, he's now really quite favourable in his language, in comparison with what he was a short time since; for, a little while ago, he was saying that his wife was a raving cur.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

What did I say?

OLD MAN

You were raving, I say.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

What, I?

OLD MAN

You there; who threatened as well to ride me down with your yoked steeds.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

...

OLD MAN

I myself saw you do this; I myself accuse you of this.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

And I know that you stole the sacred crown of Jupiter; and that on that account you were confined in prison; and after you were let out, I know that you were beaten with rods in the bilboes; I know, too, that you murdered your father and sold your mother. Don't I give this abuse in answer for your abuse, like a sane person?

OLD MAN

I' faith, Doctor, whatever you are about to do, prithee, do it quickly. Don't you see that the man is raving?

DOCTOR.

Do you know what's the best for you to do? Have him taken to my house.

OLD MAN

Do you think so?

DOCTOR.

Why should I not? There at my own discretion I shall be able to treat the man.

OLD MAN

Do just as you please.

DOCTOR.

to MENAECHMUS . I'll make you drink hellebore some twenty days.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

But, hanging up, I'll flog you with a whip for thirty days.

DOCTOR.

to the OLD MAN . Go fetch some men to take him off to my house.

OLD MAN

How many are sufficient?

DOCTOR.

Since I see him thus raving, four, no less.

OLD MAN

They shall be here this instant. Do you keep an eye on him, Doctor.

DOCTOR.

Why, no, I shall go home that the things may be got ready, which are necessary to be prepared. Bid your servants carry him to my house.

OLD MAN

I'll make him be there just now.

DOCTOR.

I'm off.

OLD MAN

Farewell. (Exeunt OLD MAN and DOCTOR, separately.)

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

My father-in-law is gone, the Doctor is gone; I'm alone. O Jupiter! Why is it that these people say I'm mad? Why, in fact, since I was born, I have never for a single day been ill. I'm neither mad, nor do I commence strifes or quarrels. In health myself, I see others well; I know people, I address them. Is it that they who falsely say I'm mad, are mad themselves? What shall I do now? I wish to go home; but my wife doesn't allow me; and here pointing to EROTIUM'S house no one admits me. Most unfortunately has this fallen out. Here will I still remain; at night, at least, I shall be let into the house, I trust.
Stands near his door.

Enter MESSENIO.

MESSENIO

to himself. This is the proof of a good servant, who takes care of his master's business, looks after it, arranges it, thinks about it, in the absence of his master diligently to attend to the affairs of his master, as much so as if he himself were present, or even better. It is proper that his back should be of more consequence than his appetite, his legs than his stomach, whose heart is rightly placed. Let him bear in mind, those who are good for nothing, what reward is given them by their masters — lazy, worthless fellows. Stripes, fetters, the mill, weariness, hunger, sharp cold; these are the rewards of idleness. This evil do I terribly stand in awe of. Wherefore 'tis sure that to be good is better than to be bad. Much more readily do I submit to words, stripes I do detest; and I eat what is ground much more readily than supply it ground by myself. Therefore do I obey the command of my master, carefully and diligently do I observe it; and in such manner do I pay obedience, as I think is for the interest of my back. And that course does profit me. Let others be just as they take it to be their interest; I shall be just as I ought to be. If I adhere to that, I shall avoid faultiness; so that I am in readiness for my master on all occasions, I shall not be much afraid. The time is near, when, for these deeds of mine, my master will give his reward. After I had deposited the goods and the servants in the inn, as he ordered me, thus am I come to meet him. Going to the door of EROTIUM'S house. Now I'll knock at the door, that he may know that I'm here, and that out of this thick wood of peril I may get my master safe out of doors. But I'm afraid that I'm come too late, after the battle has been fought.

Enter the OLD MAN, with SERVANTS.

OLD MAN

to the SERVANTS. By Gods and men, I tell you prudently to pay regard to my commands, as to what I have commanded and do command. Take care that this person is carried at once upon your shoulders to the surgery, unless, indeed, you set no value upon your legs or your sides. Take care each of you to regard at a straw whatever threats he shall utter. What are you standing for? Why are you hesitating? By this you ought to have had him carried off on your shoulders. I'll go to the Doctor; I'll be there ready when you shall come. (Exit. The SERVANTS gather around MENAECHMUS.)

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

I'm undone. What business is this? Why are these men running towards me, pray? What do you want? What do you seek? Why do you stand around me? They seize and drag him. Whither are you dragging me? Whither are you carrying me? I'm undone. I entreat your assistance, citizens, men of Epidamnus, come and help me. To the men. Why don't you let me go?

MESSENIO

running towards them . O ye immortal Gods, I beseech you, what do I behold with my eyes? Some fellows, I know not who, are most disgracefully carrying off my master upon their shoulders.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Who is it that ventures to bring me aid?

MESSENIO

I, master, and right boldly. Aloud. O shameful and scandalous deed, citizens of Epidamnus, for my master, here in a town enjoying peace, to be carried off, in daylight, in the street, who came to you a free man. Let him go.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Prithee, whoever you are, do lend me your aid, and don't suffer so great an outrage to be signally committed against me.

MESSENIO

Aye, I'll give you my aid, and I'll defend you, and zealously succour you. I'll never let you come to harm; 'tis fitter that I myself should come to harm. I'll now make a sowing on the faces of these fellows, and there I'll plant my fists. I' faith, you're carrying this person off this day at your own extreme hazard. Let him go. He lays about him.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

fighting with them . I've got hold of this fellow's eye.

MESSENIO

Make the socket of his eye be seen in his head. You rascals! you villains! you robbers!

THE SERVANTS

severally . We are undone. Troth, now, prithee, do ——

MESSENIO

Let him go then.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

What business have you to touch me? Thump them with your fists.

MESSENIO

Come, begone, fly hence to utter perdition with you. Three run away. Here's for you, too giving the fourth one a punch ; because you are the last to yield, you shall have this for a reward. They all disappear. Right well have I marked his face, and quite to my liking. Troth, now, master, I really did come to your help just now in the nick of time.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

And may the Gods, young man, whoever you are, ever bless you. For, had it not been for you, I should never have survived this day until sunset.

MESSENIO

By my troth, then, master, if you do right, you will give me my freedom.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

I, give you your freedom?

MESSENIO

Doubtless: since, master, I have saved you.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

How's this? Young man, you are mistaken.

MESSENIO

How, mistaken?

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

By father Jove, I solemnly swear that I am not your master.

MESSENIO

Will you not hold your peace?

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

I'm telling no lie; nor did any servant of mine ever do such a thing as you have done for me.

MESSENIO

In that case, then, let me go free, if you deny that I am your servant.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

By my faith, so far, indeed, as I'm concerned, be free, and go where you like.

MESSENIO

That is, you order me to do so?

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

I' faith, I do order you, if I have aught of authority over you.

MESSENIO

Save you, my patron. Since you seriously give me my freedom, I rejoice.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

I' faith, I really do believe you.

MESSENIO

But, my patron, I do entreat you that you won't command me any the less now than when I was your servant. With you will I dwell, and when you go I'll go home together with you. Wait for me here; I'll now go to the inn, and bring back the luggage and the money for you. The purse, with the money for our journey, is fast sealed up in the wallet; I'll bring it just now here to you.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Bring it carefully.

MESSENIO

I'll give it back safe to you just as you gave it to me. Do you wait for me here. (Exit MESSENIO.)

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Very wonderful things have really happened this day to me in wonderful ways. Some deny that I am he who I am, and shut me out of doors; others say that I am he who I am not, and will have it that they are my servants. He for instance, who said that he was going for the money, to whom I gave his freedom just now. Since he says that he will bring me a purse with money, if he does bring it, I'll say that he may go free from me where he pleases, lest at a time when he shall have come to his senses he should ask the money of me. My father-in-law and the Doctor were saying that I am mad. Whatever it is, it is a wonderful affair. These things appear to me not at all otherwise than dreams. Now I'll go in the house to this Courtesan, although she is angry with me; if I can prevail upon her to restore the mantle for me to take back home. He goes into EROTIVM'S house.

Enter MENAECHMUS SOSICLES and MESSENIO.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Do you dare affirm, audacious fellow, that I have ever met you this day since the time when I ordered you to come here to meet me?

MESSENIO

Why, I just now rescued you before this house, when four men were carrying you off upon their shoulders. You invoked the aid of all Gods and men, when I ran up and delivered you by main force, fighting, and in spite of them. For this reason, because I rescued you, you set me at liberty. When I said that I was going for the money and the luggage, you ran before to meet me as quickly as you could, in order that you might deny what you did.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

I, bade you go away a free man?

MESSENIO

Certainly.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Why, on the contrary, 'tis most certain that I myself would rather become a slave than ever give you your freedom.

Enter MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus, from EROTIUM's house.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

at the door, to EROTIUM within . If you are ready to swear by your eyes, by my troth, not a bit the more for that reason, most vile woman, will you make it that I took away the mantle and the bracelet to-day.

MESSENIO

Immortal Gods, what do I see?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

What do you see?

MESSENIO

Your resemblance in a mirror.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

What's the matter?

MESSENIO

'Tis your image; 'tis as like as possible.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

catching sight of the other . Troth, it really is not unlike, so far as I know my own form.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

to MESSENIO . O young man, save you, you who preserved me, whoever you are.

MESSENIO

By my troth, young man, prithee, tell me your name, unless it's disagreeable.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

I' faith, you've not so deserved of me, that it should be disagreeable for me to tell what you wish. My name is Menaechmus.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Why, by my troth, so is mine.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

I am a Sicilian, of Syracuse.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Troth, the same is my native country.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

What is it that I hear of you?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

That which is the fact.

MESSENIO

To MENAECHMUS SOSICLES, by mistake . I know this person myself pointing to the other MENAECHMUS ; he is my master, I really am his servant; but I did think I belonged to this other. To MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus, by mistake. I took him to be you; to him, too, did I give some trouble. To his master. Pray, pardon me if I have said aught foolishly or unadvisedly to you.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

You seem to me to be mad. Don't you remember that together with me you disembarked from board ship to-day?

MESSENIO

Why, really, you say what's right — you are my master; to MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus do you look out for a servant. To his master. To you my greetings (to MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus) to you, farewell. This, I say, is Menaechmus.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

But I say I am.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

What story's this? Are you Menaechmus?

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

I say that I'm the son of Moschus, who was my father.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Are you the son of my father?

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Aye, I really am, young man, of my own father. I don't want to claim your father, nor to take possession of him from you.

MESSENIO

Immortal Gods, what un hoped-for hope do you bestow on me, as I suspect. For unless my mind misleads me, these are the two twin-brothers; for they mention alike their native country and their father. I'll call my master aside — Menaechmus.

BOTH OF THE MENAECHMI.

What do you want?

MESSENIO

I don't want you both. But which of you was brought here in the ship with me?

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Not I.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

But 'twas I.

MESSENIO

You, then, I want. Step this way. They go aside.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

I've stepped aside now. What's the matter?

MESSENIO

This man is either an impostor, or he is your twin-brother. But I never beheld one person more like another person. Neither water, believe me, is ever more like to water nor milk to milk, than he is to you, and you likewise to him; besides, he speaks of the same native country and father. 'Tis better for us to accost him and make further enquiries of him.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

I' faith, but you've given me good advice, and I return you thanks. Troth, now, prithee, do continue to lend me your assistance. If you discover that this is my brother, be you a free man.

MESSENIO

I hope I shall.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

I too hope that it will be so.

MESSENIO

to MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus . How say you? I think you said that you are called Menaechmus?

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

I did so indeed.

MESSENIO

pointing to his master . His name, too, is Menaechmus. You said that you were born at Syracuse, in Sicily; he was born there. You said that Moschus was your father; he was his as well. Now both of you can be giving help to me and to yourselves at the same time.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

You have deserved that you should beg nothing but what you should obtain that which you desire. Free as I am, I'll serve you as though you had bought me for money.

MESSENIO

I have a hope that I shall find that you two are twin-born brothers, born of one mother and of one father on the same day.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

You mention wondrous things. I wish that you could effect what you've promised.

MESSENIO

I can. But attend now, both of you, and tell me that which I shall ask.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Ask as you please, I'll answer you. I'll not conceal anything that I know.

MESSENIO

Isn't your name Menaechmus?

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

I own it.

MESSENIO

Isn't it yours as well?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

It is.

MESSENIO

Do you say that Moschus was your father?

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.
Truly, I do say so.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES
And mine as well.

MESSENIO
Are you of Syracuse?

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.
Certainly.

MESSENIO
And you?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES
Why not the same?

MESSENIO
Hitherto the marks agree perfectly well. Still lend me your attention.
To MENAECHMUS. Tell me, what do you remember at the greatest distance of time in your native country?

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.
When I went with my father to Tarentum to traffic; and afterwards how I strayed away from my father among the people, and was carried away thence.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES
Supreme Jupiter, preserve me!

MESSENIO
to MENAECHMUS SOSICLES. Why do you exclaim? Why don't you hold your peace? To MENAECHMUS. How many years old were you when your father took you from your native country?

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.
Seven years old; for just then my teeth were changing for the first time. And never since then have I seen my father.

MESSENIO

Well, how many sons of you had your father then?

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

As far as I now remember, two.

MESSENIO

Which of the two was the older — you or the other?

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Both were just alike in age.

MESSENIO

How can that be?

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

We two were twins.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

The Gods wish to bless me.

MESSENIO

to MENAECHMUS SOSICLES . If you interrupt, I shall hold my tongue.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Rather than that, I'll hold my tongue.

MESSENIO

Tell me, were you both of the same name?

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

By no means; for my name was what it is now Menaechmus; the other they then used to call Sosicles.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

embracing his brother . I recognize the proofs, I cannot refrain from embracing him. My own twin-brother, blessings on you; I am Sosicles.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

How then was the name of Menaechmus afterwards given to you?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

After word was brought to us that you ... and that my father was dead, my grandfather changed it; the name that was yours he gave to me.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

I believe that it did so happen as you say. But answer me this.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Ask it of me.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

What was the name of our mother?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Teuximarcha.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

That quite agrees. He again embraces him. O welcome, unhopèd-for brother, whom after many years I now behold.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

And you, whom with many and anxious labours I have ever been seeking up to this time, and whom I rejoice at being found.

MESSENIO

to his master . It was for this reason that this Courtesan called you by his name; she thought that you were he, I suppose, when she invited you to breakfast.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Why, faith, to-day I ordered a breakfast to be got ready here pointing to EROTIUM'S house for me, unknown to my wife; a mantle which a short time since I filched from home, to her I gave it.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Do you say, brother, that this is the mantle which I'm wearing?

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

How did this come to you?

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

The Courtesan who took me here pointing to EROTIUM'S house to breakfast, said that I had given it to her. I breakfasted very pleasantly; I drank and entertained myself with my mistress; she gave me the mantle and this golden trinket. Showing the bracelet. ...

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

I' faith, I'm glad if any luck has befallen you on my account; for when she invited you to her house, she supposed it to be me.

MESSENIO

Do you make any objection that I should be free as you commanded?

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

He asks, brother, what's very fair and very just Do it for my sake.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

touching MESSENIO'S shoulder . Be thou a free man.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

I am glad, Messenio, that you are free.

MESSENIO

Why, better auspices were required that I should be free for life. ...

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Since these matters, brother, have turned out to our wishes, let us both return to our native land.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

Brother, I'll do as you wish. I'll have an auction here, and sell whatever I have. In the meantime, brother, let's now go in-doors.

MENAECHMUS SOSICLES

Be it so.

MESSENIO

Do you know what I ask of you?

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

What?

MESSENIO

To give me the place of auctioneer.

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

It shall be given you.

MESSENIO

Would you like the auction, then, to be proclaimed at once? For what day?

MENAECHMUS of Epidamnus.

On the seventh day hence.

MESSENIO

coming forward, and speaking in a loud voice . An auction of the property of Menaechmus will certainly take place on the morning of the seventh day hence. His slaves, furniture, house, and farms, will be sold. All will go for whatever they'll fetch at ready money prices. His wife, too, will be sold as well, if any purchaser shall come. I think that by the entire sale Menaechmus will hardly get fifty hundred thousand sesterces. To the SPECTATORS. Now, Spectators, fare you well, and give us loud applause.

MERCATOR

Translated by Henry Thomas Riley

Mercator (The Merchant) is based on a Greek play by Philemon, (c. 362 BC – c. 262 BC), who was an Athenian poet and playwright of the New Comedy. Philemon was born either at Soli in Cilicia or at Syracuse in Sicily, but moved to Athens some time before 330 BC, when he is known to have been producing plays. He attained remarkable popularity, for he repeatedly won victories over his younger contemporary and rival Menander, whose delicate wit was apparently less to the taste of the Athenians of the time than Philemon's comedy. In later times his successes over Menander were so unintelligible as to be ascribed to the influence of malice and intrigue.

The plot of Mercator concerns a young man named Charinus, who has fallen in love with Pasicompsa while on a business trip for his father and so he has brought her back to Athens. Charinus' father Demipho comes to the boat while it is docking with Pasicompsa on board, and Charinus is away. To explain the girl's presence, Acanthio, a slave of Charinus, devises a story that Charinus bought her to be a slave for his mother. Demipho falls for the girl as well and hatches a plot to get her for himself, leading to hilarious consequences...

THE SUBJECT.

THIS Play (which is thought by some not to have been the composition of Plautus) describes the follies of a vicious old man and his son. Two years before the period when the Play opens, Charinus has been sent by his father Demipho to traffic at Rhodes. Returning thence, he brings with him a young woman, named Pasicompsa, who is in reality his mistress, but whom he pretends to have purchased for the purpose of her being an attendant upon his mother. Demipho, in the absence of his son, goes down to the ship, and seeing the young woman there, falls desperately in love with her. He then pretends to Charinus that she is too handsome to be brought into the house as a servant, and that she must be sold again. Insisting upon this, he persuades his friend, Lysimachus, to purchase her for him in his own name, and to take her to his own house. This being done, and the damsel brought to the house, the wife of Lysimachus unexpectedly returns home from the country, and finds her there. In the meanwhile, Charinus, being reduced to despair on losing his mistress, determines to leave the country. His friend Eutychus, the son of Lysimachus, having discovered his friend's mistress in his father's house, stops him just as he is about to depart, and informs him where she has been found. He then reconciles his own parents, and the Play concludes with his very just censure of Demipho for his vicious conduct.

THE ACROSTIC ARGUMENT.

[Supposed to have been written by Priscian the Grammarian.]

A YOUNG man, being sent (Missus) by his father to traffic, buys (Emit) a damsel of remarkable beauty, and brings her home. The old man, after he has seen her, makes enquiry (Requirat) who she is. The servant pretends (Confingit) that she has been bought by the son as an attendant for his mother. The old man falls in love with (Amat) her, and pretending that he has sold her, gives her in the charge of (Tradit) his neighbour. His wife thinks that he has brought (Obduxit) a mistress home. Then his friend stops (Retrahit) Charinus in his flight, after he has discovered his mistress.

ACT I.

The PROLOGUE, spoken by CHARINUS.

CHARINUS

Two things have I now resolved to do at the same time; both the subject and my own amours will I disclose. I am not doing like as I have seen other lovers do in Comedies, who relate their woes either to the night or to the day, or to the Sun or to the Moon; who, faith, I don't suppose pay much regard to the complaints of mortals, either what they wish or what they don't wish. To yourselves in preference will I now relate my woes. In the Greek this Play is called the Emporos of Philemon; the same in the Latin is the Mercator of Marcus Accius. My father sent me hence to trade at Rhodes. Two years have now passed since I left home. There I began to love a fair one of remarkable beauty. But how I was captivated by her, I'll tell you, if you'll lend ear, and if you'll have the kindness to give your attention to this. And yet in this, but little have I followed the method of our forefathers in my own person, and on the spot as a tell-tale of my own amours am I represented before you. But all these failings are wont to attend on love — care, trouble, and refinement overmuch. Not only him who loves, but every one to whom this latter fault extends, him with a great and weighty evil does it affect; nor by my troth, in fact, does any one aim at refinement, beyond what his means allow of, without heavy disaster. But to love as well are these evils incident, which I have not as yet recounted — sleeplessness, a troubled mind, confusion, terror, and apprehension, trifling, and folly even, rashness too, thoughtlessness, foolhardy impudence, wantonness, lust, and malevolence; covetousness is inherent as well, idleness, injustice, want, contumely and wastefulness, talkativeness or moody silence. This latter is the fact, because things which relate not to the purpose, nor are of utility, the same does the lover give utterance to full oft at an unseasonable moment; and yet again, this moody silence for this reason do I commend, because no lover is ever so skilled in eloquence, as to be enabled to give utterance to that which is for his own interest. You, then, must not be offended with myself for my babbling; Venus bestowed it upon me on that same day on which this passion. To that point am I resolved to return, that what I commenced upon I may disclose. In the first place, when in life I had passed from my boyish days, and my disposition was weaned from childish pursuits, I began distractedly to love a Courtesan in this place. Forthwith, unknown to my father, my means went to be wasted upon her; an exacting Procurer, the owner of this damsel, by every method that he could, grasped everything into his own possession. Night and day my father censured me for this; represented the perfidy, the wickedness of Procurers; how that his own property was being forcibly rent in pieces, while that of this Procurer was increasing; this too in the loudest tones; sometimes muttering to himself; refusing to speak to me; even denying that I was his child; crying aloud through all the city and proclaiming that all should withhold from trusting me when desiring to borrow; that love had allured many a one to ruin; that I, passing all bounds, regardless of decency, and acting wrongfully, laid hands upon and tore whatever I could from him at home; that 'twas a most vile system that those choice possessions which he, by enduring every hardship, had acquired, should all be squandered away and parted with through the violence of my desire. That now for so many years he had supported myself, a reproach to him; that were I not ashamed, I ought not to desire to live. That he himself, at the very moment after he had passed his boyish days, did not, like me, devote his attention to love or indolence in slothfulness, nor, indeed, had he the control of himself, so very strictly by his father was he held in check; that in the various sordid pursuits of the country he was employed, and that only every fifth year even was he then enabled to visit the city, and that immediately after he had had a sight of the Festival, back again instantly into the country was he wont to be driven by his father. That there by far the most of all the household did he toil, while thus his father would say to him: "For yourself you are ploughing, for yourself you harrow, for yourself you sow, for your own self too do you reap; for yourself, in fine, will this labour be productive of happiness." That after life had left his father's body, he had sold the farm, and with that money had bought for himself a bark of fifteen tons, and with the same had transported merchandize to every quarter, even until he had acquired the property which he then possessed. That I ought to do the same, if I would be as it behoved me to be. I, when I found that I was disliked by my father and was an object of hate to him whom I was bound to please, distracted and in love as I was, resolutely made up my mind. I said that I would go to traffic, if he pleased; that I would renounce my amour, so as to be obedient to him. He gave me thanks, and praised my good feeling, but failed not to exact my promise; he built a merchant-ship, and purchased merchandize; the ship ready, he placed it on board; besides, to myself with his own hand he paid down a talent of silver; with me he sent a servant, who formerly had been my tutor from the time when I was a little child, to be as though a guardian to me. These things completed, we set sail; we came to Rhodes, where the merchandize which I had brought I sold to my mind according as I wished; I made great profits, beyond the estimate of the merchandize which my father had given me; and so I made a large sum. But while in the harbour I was walking there, a certain stranger recognized me, and invited me to dinner. I went, and took my place at table, being merrily and handsomely entertained. When at night we went to rest, behold, a female came to me, than whom not another female is there more charming. That night, by order of my entertainer, did she pass with me; consider your own selves, how very much he gratified me. Next day, I went to my host; I begged him to sell her to me; I said that for his kindnesses I should ever be grateful and obliged. What need is there of talking? I bought her, and yesterday I brought her hither. I don't wish my father to come to know I've brought her. For the present, I've left her and a servant in the harbour on board the ship. But why do I see my servant running hither from the harbour, whom I forbade to leave the ship? I dread what the reason may be. Stands aside.

Enter ACANTHIO, at a distance, in haste.

ACANTHIO

to himself. With your utmost power and might always try and endeavour that your younger master may by your aid be preserved. Come then, Acanthio, away with weariness from you; take care and be on your guard against sloth. At the same time put an end to this panting; troth, I can hardly fetch my breath; at the same time, too, drive right full against all those persons who come in the way, shove them aside, and push them into the road. This custom here is a very bad one; no one thinks it proper for him to give way to one who is running and in haste; and thus three things must be done at the same moment, when you have commenced upon but one; you must both run and fight, and squabble as well, upon the road.

CHARINUS

apart . What's the reason of this, that he's requiring speed for himself at a rate so rapid? I have some anxiety, what the business is, or what news he brings.

ACANTHIO

to himself . I'm trifling about it. The more I stop, the greater the risk that's run.

CHARINUS

apart . He brings news of some misfortune, I know not what.

ACANTHIO

to himself . His knees are failing this runner. I'm undone, my spleen is in rebellion, it's taking possession of my breast. I'm done up, I can't draw my breath. A very worthless piper should I be. I' faith, not all the baths will ever remove this lassitude from me. Am I to say that my master Charinus is at home or abroad?

CHARINUS

apart . I'm doubtful in my mind what the matter is; I'd like for myself to learn of him, that I may become acquainted with it.

ACANTHIO

to himself . But why still standing here? Why still hesitating to make splinters of this door? Knocks at the door of DEMIPHO'S house, and calls. Open the door, some one. Where's my master, Charinus? Is he at home or abroad? Does any one think fit to come to the door?

CHARINUS

presenting himself . Why, here am I, whom you're looking for, Acanthio.

ACANTHIO

not seeing him . There is nowhere a more lazy management than in his house.

CHARINUS

What matter is afflicting you so terribly?

ACANTHIO

turning round . Many, master, both yourself and me.

CHARINUS

What's the matter?

ACANTHIO

We are undone.

CHARINUS

That beginning do you present unto our foes.

ACANTHIO

But your own self it has befallen, as fate would have it.

CHARINUS

Tell me this matter, whatever it is.

ACANTHIO

Quietly — I want to take a rest. He pants.

CHARINUS

But, i' faith, do take the skirt of your coat, and wipe the sweat from off you.

ACANTHIO

For your sake, I've burst the veins of my lungs; I'm spitting blood already. He spits.

CHARINUS

Swallow Ægyptian resin with honey; you'll make it all right.

ACANTHIO

Then, i' faith, do you drink hot pitch; then your troubles will vanish.

CHARINUS

I know no one a more tetchy fellow than yourself.

ACANTHIO

And I know no one more abusive than yourself

CHARINUS

But what if I'm persuading you to that which I take to be for your benefit?

ACANTHIO

Away with benefit of that sort, that's accompanied with pain.

CHARINUS

Tell me, is there any good at all that any one can enjoy entirely without evil; or where you mustn't endure labour when you wish to enjoy it?

ACANTHIO

I don't understand these things; I never learnt to philosophize, and don't know how. I don't want any good to be given me, to which evil is an accompaniment.

CHARINUS

extending his hand . Come now, Acanthio, give me your right hand.

ACANTHIO

It shall be given; there then, take it. Gives his hand.

CHARINUS

Do you intend yourself to be obedient to me, or don't you intend it?

ACANTHIO

You may judge by experience, as I've ruptured myself with running for your sake, in order that what I knew, you might have the means of knowing directly.

CHARINUS

I'll make you a free man within a few months.

ACANTHIO

You are smoothing me down.

CHARINUS

What, should I presume ever to make mention of an untrue thing to you? On the contrary, before I said so, you knew already whether I intend to utter an untruth.

ACANTHIO

Ah! your words, upon my faith, are increasing my weakness. You are worrying me to death!

CHARINUS

What, is this the way you're obedient to me?

ACANTHIO

What do you want me to do?

CHARINUS

What, you? What I want is this ——

ACANTHIO

What is it then that you do want?

CHARINUS

I'll tell you.

ACANTHIO

Tell me, then.

CHARINUS

But still, I'd like to do it in a quiet way.

ACANTHIO

Are you afraid lest you should wake the drowsy Spectators from their nap?

CHARINUS

Woe be to you!

ACANTHIO

For my part, that same am I bringing to you from the harbour.

CHARINUS

What are you bringing? Tell me.

ACANTHIO

Violence, alarm, torture, care, strife, and beggary.

CHARINUS

I'm undone! You really are bringing me hither a store of evils. I'm ruined outright.

ACANTHIO

Why, yes, you are ——

CHARINUS

I know it already; you'll be saying I'm wretched.

ACANTHIO

'Tis you have said so; I'm mum.

CHARINUS

What mishap is this?

ACANTHIO

Don't enquire. It is a very great calamity.

CHARINUS

Prithee, do relieve me at once. Too long a time have I been in suspense.

ACANTHIO

Softly; I still wish to make many enquiries before I'm beaten.

CHARINUS

By my troth, you assuredly will be beaten, unless you say at once, or get away from here.

ACANTHIO

Do look at that, please, how he does coax me; there's no one more flattering when he sets about it.

CHARINUS

By heavens, I do entreat and beseech you to disclose to me at once what it is; inasmuch as I see that I must be the suppliant of my own servant.

ACANTHIO

And do I seem so unworthy of it?

CHARINUS

Oh no, quite worthy.

ACANTHIO

Well, so I thought.

CHARINUS

Prithee, is the ship lost?

ACANTHIO

The ship's all right; don't fear about that.

CHARINUS

Well then, the rest of the cargo?

ACANTHIO

That's right and tight.

CHARINUS

Why then don't you tell me what it is, for which, just now, running through the city, you were seeking me?

ACANTHIO

Really, you are taking the words out of my mouth.

CHARINUS

I'll hold my tongue.

ACANTHIO

Do hold your tongue. I doubt, if I brought you any good news, you'd be dreadfully pressing, who are now insisting upon my speaking out, when you must hear bad news.

CHARINUS

Troth then, prithee do you let me know what this misfortune is.

ACANTHIO

Since you beg of me, I'll tell you. Your father ——

CHARINUS

My father did what?

ACANTHIO

Your mistress ——

CHARINUS

What about her?

ACANTHIO

He has seen her.

CHARINUS

Seen her? Ah wretch that I am! What I ask you, answer me.

ACANTHIO

Nay, but do you ask me, if you want anything.

CHARINUS

How could he see her?

ACANTHIO

With his eyes.

CHARINUS

In what way?

ACANTHIO

Wide open.

CHARINUS

Away hence and be hanged. You are trifling, when my life's at stake.

ACANTHIO

How the plague am I trifling, if I answer you what you ask me?

CHARINUS

Did he see her for certain?

ACANTHIO

Aye, troth, as certainly as I see you and you see me.

CHARINUS

Where did he see her?

ACANTHIO

Down on board the ship, as he stood near the prow and chatted with her.

CHARINUS

Father, you have undone me. Come now, you, come now, you sir?
Why, you whip-rascal, didn't you take care that he mightn't see her?
Why, villain, didn't you stow her away, that my father mightn't perceive her?

ACANTHIO

Because we were busily employed about our business; we were engaged in packing up and arranging the cargo. While these things were being done, your father was brought alongside in a very small boat; and not an individual beheld the man until he was aboard the ship.

CHARINUS

In vain have I escaped the sea with its dreadful tempests! Just now I really did suppose that I was both ashore and in a place of safety; but I see that by the raging waves I am being hurried towards the rocks. Say on; what took place?

ACANTHIO

After he espied the woman, he began to ask her to whom she belonged.

CHARINUS

What did she answer?

ACANTHIO

That instant I ran up and interposed, saying that you had bought her as a maid-servant for your mother.

CHARINUS

Did he seem to believe you in that?

ACANTHIO

Do you e'en ask me that? Why the rogue began to take liberties with her.

CHARINUS

Prithee, what, with her?

ACANTHIO

'Twere a wonder if he had taken liberties with myself.

CHARINUS

By heavens, my heart is saddened, which, drop by drop is melting away, just as though you were to put salt in water. I'm undone.

ACANTHIO

Aye, aye, that one expression have you most truly uttered.

CHARINUS

This is mere folly. What shall I do? I do think. my father won't believe me if I say that I bought her for my mother; and then, besides, it seems to me a shame that I should tell a lie to my parent. He'll neither believe, nor indeed is it credible, that I bought this woman of surpassing beauty as a maid-servant for my mother.

ACANTHIO

Won't you be quiet, you most silly man? Troth, he will believe it, for he just now believed me.

CHARINUS

I'm dreadfully afraid that a suspicion will reach my father how the matter really stands. Prithee, answer me this that I ask you.

ACANTHIO

What do you ask?

CHARINUS

Did he seem to suspect that she was my mistress?

ACANTHIO

He did not seem. On the contrary, in everything, just as I said it, he believed me.

CHARINUS

As being true-as he seemed to yourself at least.

ACANTHIO

Not so; but he really did believe me.

CHARINUS

Ah! wretched man that I am! I'm ruined! But why do I kill myself here with repining, and don't be off to the ship? Follow me.

Hastening along.

ACANTHIO

If you go that way, you'll conveniently come slap upon your father. As soon as he shall see you, dismayed and out of spirits, at once he'll be stopping you, and enquiring where you bought her, and for how much you bought her; he'll be trying you in your dismay.

CHARINUS

turning about . I'll go this way in preference. Do you think that by this my father has left the harbour?

ACANTHIO

Why, it was for that reason I ran before him hither, that he mightn't come upon you unawares and fish it out of you.

CHARINUS

Very properly done. (Exeunt.)

ACT II.

Enter DEMIPHO.

DEMIPHO

to himself. In wondrous ways do the Gods make sport of men, and in wondrous fashions do they send dreams in sleep. As, for instance, I, this very last night that has passed, have sufficiently experienced in my sleep, and, mortal that I am, was much occupied therewith. I seemed to have purchased for myself a beautiful she-goat. That she might not offend that other she-goat which I had at home before, and that they mightn't disagree if they were both in the same spot, after that I had purchased her, I seemed to entrust her to the charge of an ape. This ape, not very long afterwards, came to me, uttered imprecations against me, and assailed me with reproaches; he said that by her means and through the arrival of the she-goat he had suffered injury and loss in no slight degree; he said that the she-goat, which I had entrusted to him to keep, had gnawed away the marriage-portion of his wife. This seemed extremely wonderful to me, how that this single she-goat could possibly have gnawed away the marriage-portion of the wife of the ape. The ape, however, insisted that it was so, and, in short, gave me this answer, that if I didn't make baste and remove her away from his own house, he would bring her home into my house to my wife. And, by my troth, I seemed very greatly to take an interest in her, but not to have any one to whom to entrust this she-goat; wherefore the more, in my distress, was I tormented with anxiety what to do. Meanwhile, a kid appeared to address me, and began to tell me that he had carried off the she-goat from the ape, and began to laugh at me. But I began to lament and complain that she was carried off. To what reality I am to suppose that this vision points, I can't discover; except that I suspect that I have just now discovered this she-goat, what she is, or what it all means. This morning, at daybreak, I went away hence down to the harbour. After I had transacted there what I wanted, suddenly I espied the ship from Rhodes, in which my son arrived here yesterday. I had an inclination, I know not why, to visit it; I went on board a boat, and put off to the ship; and there I beheld a woman of surpassing beauty, whom my son has brought as a maid-servant for his mother. After I had thus beheld her, I fell in love with her, not as men in their senses, but after the fashion in which madmen are wont. I' faith, in former times, in my youthful days, I fell in love, 'tis true; but after this fashion, according as I'm now distracted, never. Now beyond a doubt, surely thus this matter stands; this is that she-goat. But what that ape and that kid mean, I'm afraid. One thing, i' faith, I really do know for certain, that I'm undone for love; to the AUDIENCE consider yourselves the other point, what a poor creature I am. But I'll hold my tongue; lo! I see my neighbour; he's coming out of doors. Stands aside.

Enter LYSIMACHUS and a SERVANT with some rakes, from the house of the former.

LYSIMACHUS

Really I will have this goat mutilated, that's giving us so much trouble at the farm.

DEMIPHO

apart . Neither this omen nor this augury pleases me; I'm afraid that my wife will be just now mutilating me like the he-goat, and be acting the part of this same ape.

LYSIMACHUS

Do you go hence to my country-house, and take care and deliver personally into his own hands those rakes to the bailiff Pistus himself. Take care and tell my wife that I have business in the city, so that she mayn't expect me; for do you mention that I have three causes coming on for judgment to-day. Be off, and remember to say this.

SERV.

Anything more?

LYSIMACHUS

That's enough. (Exit)

SERVANT.

DEMIPHO

Stepping forward . Greetings to you, Lysimachus.

LYSIMACHUS

Well met! and greetings to you, Demipho. How are you? How goes it?

DEMIPHO

As with one that's most wretched.

LYSIMACHUS

May the Gods grant better things.

DEMIPHO

As for the Gods, it's they that do this.

LYSIMACHUS

What's the matter?

DEMIPHO

I'd tell you, if I saw that you had time or leisure.

LYSIMACHUS

Although I have business in hand, if you wish for anything, Demipho, I'm never too busy to give attention to a friend.

DEMIPHO

You speak of your kindness to myself who have experienced it. How do I seem to you as to age?

LYSIMACHUS

A subject for Acheron — an antiquated, decrepit old fellow.

DEMIPHO

You see in a wrong light. I am a child, Lysimachus, of seven years old.

LYSIMACHUS

Are you in your senses, to say that you are a child?

DEMIPHO

I'm telling what's true.

LYSIMACHUS

I' faith, it has this moment come into my mind what you mean to say; directly a person is old, no longer has he sense or taste; people say that he has become a child again.

DEMIPHO

Why, no; for I'm twice as hearty as ever I was before.

LYSIMACHUS

I' faith, it's well that so it is, and I'm glad of it.

DEMIPHO

Aye, and if you did but know; with my eyes, too, I see even better now than I did formerly.

LYSIMACHUS

That's good.

DEMIPHO

Of a thing that's bad, I'm speaking.

LYSIMACHUS

Then that same is not good.

DEMIPHO

But, if I wished at all, could I venture to disclose something to you?

LYSIMACHUS

Boldly.

DEMIPHO

Give heed, then.

LYSIMACHUS

It shall be carefully done.

DEMIPHO

This day, Lysimachus, I've begun to go to school to learn my letters.
I know three letters already.

LYSIMACHUS

How? Three letters?

DEMIPHO

spelling . A M O [I am in love].

LYSIMACHUS

What! you, in love, with your hoary head, you most shocking old fellow?

DEMIPHO

Whether that is hoary, or whether red, or whether black, I'm in love.

LYSIMACHUS

You're now playing upon me in this, I fancy, Demipho.

DEMIPHO

Cut my throat, if it's false, what I'm saying. That you may be sure I'm in love, take a knife, and do you cut off either my finger, or my ear, or my nose, or my lip: if I move me, or feel that I'm being cut, then, Lysimachus, I give you leave to torture me to death here with being in love.

LYSIMACHUS

aside to the AUDIENCE . If ever you've seen a lover in a picture, why, there he is pointing at DEMIPHO : for really, in my way of thinking, an antiquated, decrepit old man is just about the same as though he were a figure painted upon a wall.

DEMIPHO

Now, I suppose, you are thinking of censuring me.

LYSIMACHUS

What, I, censure you?

DEMIPHO

Well, there's no reason that you should censure me. Other distinguished men have done the like before. It's natural to be in love, it's natural, as well, to be considerate. Then, please, don't reprove me; no inclination impelled me to this.

LYSIMACHUS

Why, I'm not reproving you.

DEMIPHO

But still, don't you think any the worse of me for acting thus.

LYSIMACHUS

I, think the worse of you? O, may the Deities forbid it.

DEMIPHO

Still, please, only do take care of that.

LYSIMACHUS

Due care is taken.

DEMIPHO

Quite sure?

LYSIMACHUS

You're wearing me out. Aside. This person's deranged through love. To DEMIPHO. Do you desire aught with me?

DEMIPHO

Farewell!

LYSIMACHUS

I'm making haste to the harbour; for I've got business there.

DEMIPHO

Good luck go with you.

LYSIMACHUS

Heartily fare you well.

DEMIPHO

Kindly fare you well. (Exit LYSIMACHUS.) DEMIPHO continues, to himself. And what's more, I too as well have got some business at the harbour; now, therefore, I shall be off thither. But, look! most opportunely I see my son. I'll wait for the fellow; it's necessary for me now to see him, to persuade him, as far as I possibly can, to sell her to me, and not make a present of her to his mother; for I've heard that he has brought her as a present for her. But I have need of precaution, that he mayn't any way imagine that I have set my fancy upon her.

Enter CHARINUS, at a distance.

CHARINUS

to himself. Never, I do think, was any person more wretched than myself, nor one who had more everlasting crosses. Isn't it the fact, that whatever thing there is that I have commenced to attempt, it cannot fall out to my wish according as I desire? To such an extent is some evil fortune always befalling me, which overwhelms my fair intentions. To my misfortune, I procured me a mistress to please my inclination; I acquired her for a sum of money, fancying that I could keep her unknown to my father. He has found her out, and has seen her, and has undone me. Nor have I yet determined what to say when he asks me, so much do uncertain thoughts, aye, tenfold, struggle within my breast; nor know I now in my mind what resolution I can possibly take; so much uncertainty, mingled with anxiety, is there in my feelings, at one moment the advice of my servant pleases me, then again it doesn't please me, and it doesn't seem possible for my father to be induced to think that she was bought as a maid-servant for my mother. Now, if I say, as is the fact, and declare that I purchased her for myself, what will he think of me? He may take her away, too, and carry her hence beyond sea, to be sold! Well taught at home, I know how severe he is. Is this, then, being in love? I'd rather be at the plough-tail than love in this fashion. Before to-day, long ago, he drove me away against my inclination from his house, my home, and bade me go and traffic. There did I meet with this misfortune. When its misery can surpass its pleasure, what is there delightful in it? In vain I've hidden her, concealed her, kept her in secret; my father's a very fly; nothing can be kept away from him; nothing so sacred or so profane is there, but that he's there at once; neither have I any assured hope in my mind through which to feel confidence in my fortunes.

DEMIPHO

apart . What's the reason of this, that my son is talking to himself alone? He seems to me anxious about some matter, I know not what.

CHARINUS

looking round . Heyday, now! Why, surely it's my father here that I see. I'll go and accost him. Accosting him. How goes it, father?

DEMIPHO

Whence do you come? Why are you in a hurry, my son?

CHARINUS

It's all right, father.

DEMIPHO

So I trust; but what's the reason that your colour's so changed? Do you feel ill at all?

CHARINUS

I know not what it is affects my spirits, father; this last night I didn't rest quite as well as I wished.

DEMIPHO

As you've been travelling by sea, your eyes, I suppose, are at present rather unaccustomed to the shore.

CHARINUS

No doubt it is that; but it will be going off presently.

DEMIPHO

Troth, it's for that reason you are pale; if you were prudent, you'd go home and lie down.

CHARINUS

I haven't the leisure; I wish to attend to business on commission.

DEMIPHO

Attend to it to-morrow; the day after, attend to it.

CHARINUS

I've often heard from you, father, it behoves all wise men, the first thing, to give their earliest attention to business upon commission.

DEMIPHO

Do so, then; I have no wish to be striving against your opinion.

CHARINUS

aside . I'm all right, if, indeed, his adherence to that sentiment is immoveable and lasting.

DEMIPHO

aside . Why is it that he calls himself aside into counsel with himself? I'm not afraid now lest he should be able to come to know that I'm in love with her, because I've not as yet done anything in a foolish manner, as people in love are wont to do.

CHARINUS

aside . I' faith, the affair for the present is really quite safe; for I'm quite certain that he doesn't know anything about that mistress of mine; if he did know, his talk would have been different.

DEMIPHO

aside . Why don't I accost him about her?

CHARINUS

aside . Why don't I betake myself off hence? Aloud. I'm going to deliver the commissions from my friends to their friends. Moves as if going.

DEMIPHO

Nay, but stop; I still want to make a few enquiries of you first.

CHARINUS

Say what it is you wish.

DEMIPHO

Have you all along been well?

CHARINUS

Quite well all the time, so long, indeed, as I was there; but as soon as I had arrived here in harbour, I don't know what faintness it was came over me.

DEMIPHO

I' faith, I suppose it arose from sea-sickness; but it will be going off just now. But how say you? What servant-maid is this that you have brought from Rhodes for your mother?

CHARINUS

I've brought one.

DEMIPHO

Well, what sort of a woman is she as to appearance?

CHARINUS

Not an ill-favored one, i' faith.

DEMIPHO

How is she as to manners?

CHARINUS

In my way of thinking, I never saw one better.

DEN.

So, indeed, i' faith, she seemed to me when I saw her.

CHARINUS

How now, have you seen her, father?

DEMIPHO

I have seen her; but she doesn't suit our ways, and so she doesn't please me.

CHARINUS

Why so?

DEMIPHO

Because she hasn't a figure suitable to our establishment; we stand in need of no female servant but one who can weave, grind, chop wood, make yarn, sweep out the house, stand a beating, and who can have every day's victuals cooked for the household. This one will be able to do not any single one of these things.

CHARINUS

Why, in fact, for this reason I purchased her, to make a present of her to my mother.

DEMIPHO

Don't you be giving her, nor mention that you have brought her.

CHARINUS

aside . The Deities favour me.

DEMIPHO

aside . I'm shaking him by slow degrees. Aloud. But, what I omitted to say, — she can neither with due propriety follow your mother as an attendant; nor will I allow it.

CHARINUS

But why?

DEMIPHO

Because, with those good looks, it would be scandalous if she were to be following a matron when she's walking through the streets; all people would be staring, gazing, nodding, winking, hissing, twitching, crying out, be annoying, and singing serenades at our door; my door, perhaps, would be filled with the charcoal marks of her praises; and, according as persons are scandalizing at the present day, they might throw it in the teeth of my wife and myself, that we are carrying on the business of a Procurer. Now what occasion is there for this?

CHARINUS

Why, faith, you say what's just, and I agree with you. But what shall be done with her now?

DEMIPHO

Exactly; I'll buy for your mother some stout wench of a female slave, not a bad servant, but of ungainly figure, as befits the mistress of a family — either a Syrian or an Egyptian woman: she shall do the grinding, spin out the yarn, and stand a lashing; and on her account no disgrace at all will be befalling our doors.

CHARINUS

What then if she is restored to the person of whom she was purchased?

DEMIPHO

By no means in the world.

CHARINUS

He said that he would take her back, if she didn't suit.

DEMIPHO

There's no need of that; I don't want you to get into litigation, nor yet your honor to be called in question. I' troth, I would much rather, if any must be endured, put up with the loss myself, than that disgrace or scandal on account of a woman should be brought upon my house. I think that I am able to sell for you at a good profit.

CHARINUS

I' faith, so long, indeed, as you don't be selling her at a less price than I bought her at, father.

DEMIPHO

Do you only hold your tongue; there is a certain old gentleman who commissioned me to buy one for him of just that same appearance.

CHARINUS

But, father, a certain young man commissioned me to buy one for him of just that same appearance that she is of.

DEMIPHO

I think that I am able to dispose of her for twenty minæ.

CHARINUS

But, if I had chosen, there have been already seven-and-twenty minæ offered.

DEMIPHO

But I ——

CHARINUS

Nay, but I, I say ——

DEMIPHO

But you don't know what I was going to say; do hold your tongue. I can add three minæ even to that, so that there will be thirty. Looks as though on one side at a distance.

CHARINUS

What are you turning yourself towards?

DEMIPHO

Towards him who's making the purchase.

CHARINUS

staring about . Why, where in the world is this person?

DEMIPHO

Look there, I see him, yonder pointing ; he's bidding me even still to add five minæ.

CHARINUS

aside . By my troth, may the Gods send a curse upon him, whoever he is!

DEMIPHO

looking in the distance . There he is again, making a sign to me, even still, for me to add six minæ.

CHARINUS

My man is bidding seven minæ, for her, full weight, father. Aside. I' faith, he shall never this day outdo me.

DEMIPHO

He's bidding in vain; I will have her!

CHARINUS

But the other one made the first offer.

DEMIPHO

I care nothing for that.

CHARINUS

He bids fifty.

DEMIPHO

No, a hundred's the offer. Can't you desist from bidding against the determination of my mind. I' troth, you'll be having an immense profit, in such a way is this old gentleman for whom she's being purchased. He's not in his senses by reason of his love; whatever you ask, you'll get.

CHARINUS

I' faith, that young man, for whom I'm purchasing, is assuredly dying with distraction for love of her.

DEMIPHO

Troth, very much more so is that old gentleman, if you did but know it.

CHARINUS

I' faith, that old man never was nor ever will be more distracted with love than that young man, father, to whom I'm lending this assistance.

DEMIPHO

Do be quiet, I tell you; I'll see to that matter, that it's all right.

CHARINUS

How say you —— ?

DEMIPHO

What is it?

CHARINUS

I didn't take her for a slave; but it was he that took her for such.

DEMIPHO

Let me alone.

CHARINUS

By law you cannot put her up for sale.

DEMIPHO

I'll somehow see to that.

CHARINUS

And then besides, she's the common property of myself and another person; how do I know how he's disposed, whether he does wish or doesn't wish to sell her?

DEMIPHO

I'm sure he does wish.

CHARINUS

But, i' faith, I believe that there's a certain person who doesn't wish.

DEMIPHO

What matters that to me?

CHARINUS

Because it's right that he should have the disposal of his own property.

DEMIPHO

What is it you say?

CHARINUS

She is the common property of myself and another person; he isn't here at present.

DEMIPHO

You are answering me before I ask.

CHARINUS

You are buying, father, before I sell. I don't know, I say, whether he chooses to part with her or not.

DEMIPHO

But if she is purchased for that certain person who gave you the commission, will he choose it then? If I purchase her for that person who gave me the commission, will he then not choose it? You avail nothing. Never, on my faith, shall any person have her in preference to the person that I wish. That I'm resolved upon.

CHARINUS

Have you made up your mind that it is resolved upon?

DEMIPHO

Why, I'm going hence at once to the ship; there she shall be sold.

CHARINUS

Do you wish me to go there with you?

DEMIPHO

I don't wish you.

CHARINUS

You don't choose it, then.

DEMIPHO

It's better for you to give your earliest attention to the business which you've been commissioned upon.

CHARINUS

You are hindering me from doing so.

DEMIPHO

Then do you make your excuse that you have used all diligence. Don't you go to the harbour, I tell you that now.

CHARINUS

That shall be attended to.

DEMIPHO

aside . I'll be off to the harbour, and (I have need of caution lest he should find it out) I'll not buy her myself, but commission my friend Lysimachus; he said just now that he was going to the harbour. I'm delaying while I'm standing here. (Exit.)

CHARINUS, alone.

CHARINUS

wringing his hands, and crying aloud . I'm lost — I'm undone. They say that the Bacchanals tore Pentheus to pieces. I do believe that that was the merest trifle compared with the manner in which I am rent asunder in different ways. Why do I exist? Why don't I die? What good is there for me in life? I'm determined, I'll go to a doctor, and there I'll put myself to death by poison, since that is being taken from me for the sake of which I desire to remain in existence. He is going off. Enter EUTYCHUS, from the house of LYSIMACHUS.

EUTYCHUS

Stop, prithee, stop, Charinus.

CHARINUS

turning . Who is it, that calls me back?

EUTYCHUS

Eutychus, your friend and companion, your nearest neighbour as well.

CHARINUS

You don't know what a vast weight of my woes I am enduring.

EUTYCHUS

I do know. I listened to it all at the door: I know the whole matter.

CHARINUS

What is it that you know?

EUTYCHUS

Your father wishes to sell ——

CHARINUS

You have the whole matter.

EUTYCHUS

— Your mistress ——

CHARINUS

You know by far too much.

EUTYCHUS

— Against your wish.

CHARINUS

You know everything. But how do you know that this woman is my mistress?

EUTYCHUS

You yourself told me yesterday.

CHARINUS

Isn't it the fact that I had quite forgotten that I told you yesterday?

EUTYCHUS

It's not surprising it is so.

CHARINUS

I now consult you. Answer me; by what death do you think that I should die in preference?

EUTYCHUS

Won't you hold your peace? Take you care how you say that.

CHARINUS

What then do you wish me to say?

EUTYCHUS

Should you like me to trick your father nicely?

CHARINUS

I really should like it.

EUTYCHUS

Should you like me to walk to the harbour ——

CHARINUS

What, rather than that you should fly?

EUTYCHUS

And release the fair one for a sum.

CHARINUS

What, rather than you should pay her weight in gold?

EUTYCHUS

Whence is it to come?

CHARINUS

I'll entreat Achilles to lend me the gold with which Hector was ransomed

EUTYCHUS

Are you in your senses?

CHARINUS

I' faith, if I were in my senses, I shouldn't be seeking you for my physician.

EUTYCHUS

Do you wish her to be purchased for as high a price as he asks?

CHARINUS

Throw in something by way of surplus; even a thousand didrachms more than he shall demand.

EUTYCHUS

Now, do hold your peace. But what say you as to this? Whence will the money come, for you to give, when your father asks for it?

CHARINUS

It shall be found, it shall be sought out, something shall be done.

EUTYCHUS

You are worrying me to death. For I'm afraid of that "Something shall be done."

CHARINUS

Why won't you hold your tongue?

EUTYCHUS

You give your commands to one who is dumb.

CHARINUS

Is this matter sufficiently pointed out to you?

EUTYCHUS

Can't you possibly be attending to something else?

CHARINUS

It isn't possible.

EUTYCHUS

going . Kindly fare you well.

CHARINUS

I' faith, I cannot fare well, before you come back to me.

EUTYCHUS

To better purpose, recover your senses.

CHARINUS

Farewell, and prevail, and be my preserver.

EUTYCHUS

I'll do so. Wait for me at home.

CHARINUS

Do you take care, then, to betake yourself back just now with the booty. (Exit EUTYCHUS, and CHARINUS goes into DEMIPHO'S house.)

ACT III.

Enter LYSIMACHUS, with PASICOMPSA, weeping.

LYSIMACHUS

to himself. I've lent my assistance to my friend in a friendly manner; this piece of goods, which my neighbour requested me, I've purchased. Turning to PASICOMPSA. You are my own; then follow me. Don't weep. You are acting very foolishly; spoiling such eyes. Why, really you have more reason to laugh than to be crying.

PASICOMPSA

In the name of heaven, prithee, my good old gentleman, do tell me
—

LYSIMACHUS

Ask me what you please.

PASICOMPSA

Why have you bought me?

LYSIMACHUS

What, I, bought you? For you to do what you are bidden; in like manner what you bid me, I'll do.

PASICOMPSA

I am determined, to the best of my ability and skill, to do what I shall think you desire.

LYSIMACHUS

I shall bid you do nothing of laborious work.

PASICOMPSA

Why, really, for my part, my good old gentleman, I haven't learnt, i' faith, to carry burdens, or to feed cattle at the farm, or to nurse children.

LYSIMACHUS

If you choose to be a good girl, it shall be well for you.

PASICOMPSA

Then, i' faith, to my sorrow, I'm undone.

LYSIMACHUS

Why so?

PASICOMPSA

Because in the place from which I have been conveyed hither, it used to be well with the worthless.

LYSIMACHUS

aside . By my troth, her talk alone is worth more than the sum that she was purchased at. To PASICOMPSA. As though you would say that no woman is good.

PASICOMPSA

Indeed I don't say so; nor is it my way, to say a thing which I believe all people are acquainted with.

LYSIMACHUS

I want to ask this one thing of you.

PASICOMPSA

I'll answer you when you ask.

LYSIMACHUS

What say you now? What am I to say your name is?

PASICOMPSA

Pasicompsa.

LYSIMACHUS

The name was given you from your good looks. But what say you, Pasicompsa? Can you, if occasion should arise, spin a fine woof?

PASICOMPSA

I can.

LYSIMACHUS

If you know how to do a fine one, I'm sure you can spin a coarser one.

PASICOMPSA

For spinning, I fear no woman that's of the same age.

LYSIMACHUS

Upon my faith, I take it that you are good and industrious, since, young woman, now that you are grown up, you know how to do your duty.

PASICOMPSA

I' faith, I learned it from a skilful mistress. I won't let my work be called in question.

LYSIMACHUS

Well, thus the matter stands, i' faith. Look now, I'll give you a sheep for your own, one sixty years old.

PASICOMPSA

My good old gentleman, one so old as that?

LYSIMACHUS

It's of the Grecian breed. If you take care of it, it is a very good one; it is shorn very easily.

PASICOMPSA

For the sake of the compliment, whatever it is that shall be given me, I shall receive it with thanks.

LYSIMACHUS

Now, damsel, that you mayn't be mistaken, you are not mine; so don't think it.

PASICOMPSA

Prithee, tell me, then, whose I am?

LYSIMACHUS

You've been bought back for your own master. I've bought you back for him; he requested me to do so.

PASICOMPSA

My spirits have returned, if good faith is kept with me.

LYSIMACHUS

Be of good courage; this person will give you your liberty. I' troth, he did so dote upon you this day as soon as ever he had seen you.

PASICOMPSA

I' faith, it's now two years since he commenced his connexion with me. Now, as I'm sure that you are a friend of his, I'll disclose it.

LYSIMACHUS

How say you? Is it now two years since he formed the connexion with you?

PASICOMPSA

Certainly, it is; and we agreed, on oath, between ourselves, I with him, and he with me, that I would never have intercourse with any man except himself, nor he with any woman except myself.

LYSIMACHUS

Immortal Gods! Isn't he even to sleep with his wife?

PASICOMPSA

Prithee, is he a married man? He neither is nor will he be.

LYSIMACHUS

Indeed, I wish he wasn't. I' faith, the fellow has been committing perjury.

PASICOMPSA

No young man do I more ardently love.

LYSIMACHUS

Why, really he's a child, you simpleton; for, in fact, it's not so very long a time since his teeth fell out.

PASICOMPSA

What? His teeth?

LYSIMACHUS

It's no matter? Follow me this way, please; he requested that I would find you room for one day in my house, since my wife is away in the country. He goes into his house, followed by PASICOMPSA.

Enter DEMIPHO.

DEMIPHO

to himself. At last I've managed to ruin myself; a mistress has been purchased for me without the knowledge of my wife and son. I'm resolved on it; I'll have recourse again to former habits and enjoy myself. In my allotment of existence, almost now run through, the little that there remains of life, I'll cheer up with pleasure, wine, and love. For it's quite proper for this time of life to enjoy itself. When you are young, then, when the blood is fresh, it's right to devote your exertions to acquiring your fortune; and then when at last, you are an old man, you may set yourself at your ease; drink, and be amorous; this, the fact that you are living, is now so much profit. This, as I say, I'll carry out in deed. Turning to his house. Meanwhile, however, I'll take a look in-doors here at my house; my wife has been some time expecting me at home quite hungry: now, she'll be worrying me to death with her scolding, if I go in-doors. But, in fine, whatever comes of it, i' faith, I'll not go, but I'll first meet this neighbour of mine before I return home; I want him to hire some house for me, where this damsel may dwell. And, see, he's coming out of doors.

Enter LYSIMACHUS, from his house.

LYSIMACHUS

to PASICOMPSA, within . I'll bring him to you directly, if I meet him.

DEMIPHO

behind . He's meaning me.

LYSIMACHUS

turning about . How say you, Demipho?

DEMIPHO

Is the damsel at your house?

LYSIMACHUS

What do you suppose?

DEMIPHO

What if I go see her? Moves towards the house.

LYSIMACHUS

Why making such haste? Stay.

DEMIPHO

What am I to do?

LYSIMACHUS

What you ought to do; take care and consider.

DEMIPHO

Consider what? Why troth, for my own part, I think there's need for my doing this, going in-doors there, I mean.

LYSIMACHUS

What, is it so, you old wether? Would you be going in?

DEMIPHO

What should I do else?

LYSIMACHUS

First listen to this, and attend; there's something even before this that

I think it proper you should do. For if you now go in-doors to her, you'll be wishing to embrace her, chatting with her, and kissing her.

DEMIPHO

Really you know my feelings; you understand what I would be at.

LYSIMACHUS

You will be doing wrong.

DEMIPHO

What, with that which you love?

LYSIMACHUS

So much the less reason. Would you, full of hungriness, with a foul breath, a stinking old fellow, be kissing a woman? And wouldn't you, as you approached, be setting a female vomiting?

DEMIPHO

I' faith, I'm sure that you're in love, as you point out these things beforehand to me. What then, if I give a dinner? If you approve of this, let's lay hold of some cook, who may be cooking away a meal here at your house, even until the evening.

LYSIMACHUS

Well, I'm of that way of thinking. Now you are talking wisely, and like a lover.

DEMIPHO

Why are we standing here? Why then don't we be off and procure the provisions, that we may be comfortable?

LYSIMACHUS

For my part, I'll follow you. And, i' troth, you'll be finding out a lodging for her, if you are prudent; for, i' faith, she shan't be at my house a single day beyond the present; I'm afraid of my wife, lest, if she should return from the country to-morrow, she'll be finding her here. (Exeunt.)

Enter CHARINUS, from DEMIPHO's house.

CHARINUS

to himself . Am I not a wretched mortal, who can rest quietly nowhere? If I'm at home, my mind's abroad; but if I'm abroad, my mind's at home. To such a degree. has love kindled a flame in my breast and in my heart; did not the tears fall from my eyes, why then, I doubt, my head would be on fire. I cling to hope; safety I've lost; whether she'll return or no, I know not. If my father seizes her, as he has said, then my welfare is gone in exile; but if my companion has done what he promised, then my welfare has not departed. But still, even if Eutychus had had gouty feet, he could have been back from the harbour by this. This is a very great fault of his, that he is too slow, against the wishes of my feelings. But looking towards the side isn't this he whom I espy running? 'Tis he himself; I'll go meet him. Clasps his hands. Thou who art the overlooker of Gods and of men and the mistress of mortals as well, inasmuch as thou hast indulged me in this hope that I entertained, I do return thee thanks. Does any hope remain? Alas! I'm utterly undone. His countenance by no means pleases me! He moves along in sadness. My breast burns. I am in doubt. He shakes his head. Eutychus! Enter EUTYCHUS.

EUTYCHUS

Alas! Charinus. He pants.

CHARINUS

Before you take breath, in one word, speak out. Where am I? Here, or among the dead?

EUTYCHUS

You are neither among the dead nor here.

CHARINUS

I'm saved, immortality has been vouchsafed me — he has purchased her. He has nicely tricked my father. There's no one living more clever at gaining his purpose. Prithee, do tell me; if I'm neither here nor at Acheron, where am I?

EUTYCHUS

Nowhere in the world.

CHARINUS

I'm utterly undone! That speech has just put an end to me here.
Whatever it is, do come to the material points of the matter.

EUTYCHUS

First of all, we are ruined.

CHARINUS

But why don't you in preference tell me that which I don't know? It is an annoying way of speaking, when you should despatch the business, to be beating about the bush.

EUTYCHUS

The damsel has been taken away from you.

CHARINUS

Eutychus, you are guilty of a capital offence.

EUTYCHUS

How so?

CHARINUS

Because you are killing your year's-mate and friend, a free citizen.

EUTYCHUS

May the Gods forbid it!

CHARINUS

You've thrust a sword into my throat; this moment I shall fall.

EUTYCHUS

Troth now, prithee, don't be desponding in mind.

CHARINUS

I have none to be desponding in. Tell on, then, the rest of your bad news; for whom has she been purchased?

EUTYCHUS

I don't know. She had been already knocked down to the bidder and taken off by him, when I got to the harbour.

CHARINUS

Ah me! Already, indeed, have you heaped burning mountains of woe upon me. Proceed, executioner, torment me on, since you have once begun.

EUTYCHUS

This is not more a cause of anguish to yourself, than it has proved to me this day.

CHARINUS

Tell me, who bought her?

BUT.

I' faith, I do not know.

CHARINUS

Well, is this a good friend giving one his aid?

EUTYCHUS

What would you have me do?

CHARINUS

The same that you see me doing, die with grief. But did you make enquiry, what was the appearance of the person that had bought her? Perhaps the damsel might have been traced out by that means.

EUTYCHUS

Ah! wretch that I am ——

CHARINUS

Do cease lamenting; attend to that which you are now about.

EUTYCHUS

What have I done?

CHARINUS

Proved the destruction of myself, and with myself of your own word.

EUTYCHUS

The Gods know that that is not any fault of mine.

CHARINUS

A fine thing, indeed! You mention the Gods, who are absent, as witnesses; how am I to believe you in that?

EUTYCHUS

Why, it rests with your own self what to believe; with myself, what to say, that rests with me.

CHARINUS

On that point you are ready, so as to give answer like for like; but as to what you are requested, you are lame, blind, dumb, defective, and weak. You promised that you would trick my father; I myself supposed that I was entrusting the matter to a skilful person, and I entrusted it to an utter stone.

EUTYCHUS

What could I do?

CHARINUS

What could you do, do you ask me? You should have enquired, and asked who he was or whence he was, of what lineage; whether he was a citizen or a foreigner ——

EUTYCHUS

They said that he was a citizen of Attica.

CHARINUS

At least, you should have found out where he lives, if you couldn't the name.

EUTYCHUS

No person was able to say he knew.

CHARINUS

But at least you should have enquired what was the appearance of the man.

EUTYCHUS

I did do so.

CHARINUS

Of what figure, then, did they say he was?

EUTYCHUS

I'll tell you: grey-headed, bandy-legged, pot-bellied, wide-mouthed, of stunted figure, with darkish eyes, lank jaws, splay-footed rather.

CHARINUS

You are mentioning to me not a human being, but a whole storehouse, I don't know what, of deformities. Is there anything else that you can tell about him?

EUTYCHUS

It is just as much as I know.

CHARINUS

I' troth, for sure, with his lank jaws he has caused my jaw to drop. I cannot endure it; I'm determined that I'll go hence in exile. But what state in especial to repair to, I'm in doubt; Megara, Eretria, Corinth, Chalcis, Crete, Cyprus, Sicyon, Cnidos, Zacynthus, Lesbos, or Bœotia.

EUTYCHUS

Why are you adopting that design?

CHARINUS

Why, because love is tormenting me.

EUTYCHUS

What say you as to this? Suppose, if when you have arrived there, whither you are now intending to go, you begin there to fall desperately in love, and there, too, you fail of success, then you'll be taking flight from there as well, and after that, again, from another place, if the same shall happen, what bounds, pray, will be set to your exile, what limits to your flight? What country or home can possibly be certain for you? Tell me that. Say now, if you leave this city, do you fancy that you'll leave your love here behind? If it is so fully taken as certain in your mind that so it will be, if you hold that as a point resolved upon, how much better is it for you to go away somewhere in the country, to be there, to live there, until the time when desire for her and passion have set you at liberty?

CHARINUS

Have you now said your say?

EUTYCHUS

I have said it.

CHARINUS

You have said it to no purpose; this is my full determination. I'll be off home, to pay my duty to my father and my mother; after that, unknown to my father, I'll fly from this country, or adopt some other plan. Goes into DEMIPHO'S house, leaving EUTYCHUS alone to himself. How suddenly he has taken himself off and gone away. Ah! wretch that I am! if he goes away, all will say that it has happened through my remissness. I'm determined at once to order as many criers as possible to be hired to search for her to find her; after that, I'll go to the Prætor forthwith, and beg him to give me search-warrant officers in all the quarters of the city; for I find that nothing else whatever is now left for me to do. (Exit.)

EUTYCHUS

ACT IV.

Enter DORIPPA.

DORIPPA

to herself . Since a messenger came to me in the country from my husband, that he couldn't come into the country, I made up my mind, and came back to follow after him who fled from me. But looking round I don't see our old woman Syra following. Aye, look, there she comes at last. with a bundle of green sprigs.

DORIPPA

Why don't you go quicker?

SYRA

By my troth, I cannot; so great is this burden that I'm carrying.

DORIPPA

What burden?

SYRA

Fourscore years and four, and to that are added servitude, sweat, and thirst; these things as well which I am carrying weigh me down.

DORIPPA

Give me something, Syra, with which to decorate this altar of our neighbour.

SYRA

holding out a sprig . Present this sprig of laurel, then. DOR. Now do you go into the house.

SYRA

I'm going. Goes into the house of LYSIMACHUS.

DORIPPA

laying the sprig on the altar . Apollo, I pray thee that thou wilt propitiously grant peace, safety, and health, unto our household, and that in thy propitiousness thou wilt show favour to my son. rushes out of the house, clapping her hands.

SYRA

I'm utterly undone! Wretch that I am, I'm ruined! Ah! wretched me!

DORIPPA

Prithee, are you quite in your senses? What are you howling for?

SYRA

Dorippa, my dear Dorippa!

DORIPPA

Prithee, why are you crying out?

SYRA

Some woman, I know not who, is here in-doors in the house.

DORIPPA

What? A woman?

SYRA

A harlot woman.

DORIPPA

Is it so, really?

SYRA

In serious truth. You know how to act very prudently, in not remaining in the country. A fool even could have found it out that she was the mistress of your very pretty husband.

DORIPPA

By heavens, I believe it.

SYRA

taking her arm . Step this way with me, that you, my Juno, may see as well your rival Alcmena.

DORIPPA

I' troth, I certainly shall go there, as fast as I can. They go into the house of LYSIMACHUS.

Enter LYSIMACHUS.

LYSIMACHUS

to himself . Is this too little of a misfortune that Demipho's in love, that he must be extravagant as well? If he had been inviting ten men of highest rank to dinner, he has provided too much. But the cooks he directed in such a way just as at sea the time-keeper is wont to direct the rowers. I hired a Cook myself, but I'm surprised that he hasn't come as I directed him. But who's this, I wonder, that's coming out of my house? The door's opening. He stands aside.

Enter DORIPPA, from the house of LYSIMACHUS.

DORIPPA

weeping . No woman ever will be, or ever has been, more wretched than myself in being married to such a husband. Alas! unhappy that I am! Just see, to what a husband have you committed yourself and the property you have! Just see, to what a person I brought ten talents for a portion; that I should see these things, that I should endure these insults.

LYSIMACHUS

behind . I' troth, I'm undone; my wife's returned from the country already. I do believe she has seen the damsel in the house. But what she says I cannot distinctly hear from hence; I'll go nearer to her. Approaches her.

DORIPPA

Ah! woe to wretched me!

LYSIMACHUS

behind . Aye, and to me as well.

DORIPPA

I'm utterly undone!

LYSIMACHUS

behind . As for me, i' faith, to my sorrow I'm downright undone! she has seen her. May all the Gods confound you, Demipho!

DORIPPA

I' troth, this was it, why my husband wouldn't go into the country.

LYSIMACHUS

behind . What shall I do now, but go up and speak to her? Goes up to her. The husband bids health to his wife. Are the country people becoming townsfolk?

DORIPPA

They are acting more decently than those who are not become country people.

LYSIMACHUS

Are the people in the country at all in fault?

DORIPPA

I' faith, less so than the townsfolk, and much less mischief do they meet with for themselves.

LYSIMACHUS

But in what have the townsfolk done wrong? Tell me that.

DORIPPA

Whose woman is that in the house?

LYSIMACHUS

What, have you seen her?

DORIPPA

I have seen her.

LYSIMACHUS

Whose is she, do you ask?

DORIPPA

I shall find out, in spite of you; i' faith, I long to know. But you are trying me on purpose.

LYSIMACHUS

Do you wish me to tell you whose she is? She, she —— Aside. Ah me! upon my faith, I don't know what to say.

DORIPPA

Do you hesitate?

LYSIMACHUS

aside . I never saw one who did it more.

DORIPPA

But why don't you tell me?

LYSIMACHUS

Nay, but if I may ——

DORIPPA

You ought to tell me.

LYSIMACHUS

I cannot, you hurry me so; you press me as though were guilty.

DORIPPA

ironically . I know you are free from all guilt.

LYSIMACHUS

Speak out as boldly as you please.

DORIPPA

Tell me, then.

LYSIMACHUS

I, tell you?

DORIPPA

Why, it must be told, in spite of everything.

LYSIMACHUS

She is —— Do you wish me tell her name as well?

DORIPPA

You are trifling. I've caught you in the fact; you are guilty.

LYSIMACHUS

Guilty of what? If now I had no occasion for silence, now I shouldn't tell you. Why, this same woman is —

DORIPPA

Who is she?

LYSIMACHUS

She ——

DORIPPA

Marry, come up! don't you know who she is?

LYSIMACHUS

Why, yes, I do know. I've been chosen as an arbitrator with respect to her.

DORIPPA

An arbitrator? Now I know; you have invited her here to consult with you.

LYSIMACHUS

Why no; she has been given me as a deposit.

DORIPPA

ironically . I understand.

LYSIMACHUS

By my troth, it's not anything of that sort.

DORIPPA

You are clearing yourself too soon.

LYSIMACHUS

aside . Too much of a business have I met with; really I'm stuck fast.

Enter a COOK, at a distance, with SCULLIONS and provisions.

A COOK.

Make haste, get quickly on, for I've got to cook a dinner for an old gentleman in love. And, in fact, when I think of it again, it's to be cooked for ourselves, not him for whom we've been hired: for a person that's in love, if he has that with which he is in love, he esteems that as food, to see her, embrace her, kiss her, chat with her; but we, I trust, shall return well laden home. Step this way. But see, here's the old gentleman that hired us.

LYSIMACHUS

aside . Why, look! I'm undone! here's the Cook.

A COOK.

going up to LYSIMACHUS . We are come.

LYSIMACHUS

Be off!

A COOK.

How, be off?

LYSIMACHUS

in a low voice . Hush! Be off!

A COOK.

What, I, be off?

LYSIMACHUS

Be off, I say.

A COOK.

Are you not going to have a dinner?

LYSIMACHUS

We are full already.

DORIPPA

But ——

LYSIMACHUS

aside . I'm utterly undone.

DORIPPA

What say you? Have those persons ordered these things to be brought to you as well, between whom you were appointed arbitrator?

A COOK.

Is this person pointing to DORIPPA your mistress, whom a little time since you told me you were in love with, when you were buying the provisions?

LYSIMACHUS

Won't you hold your tongue?

A COOK.

A very pretty figure of a woman.! I' faith, she does love a sweetheart.

LYSIMACHUS

Won't you be off to perdition?

A COOK.

She's not amiss.

LYSIMACHUS

But you are amiss.

A COOK.

I' troth, I do fancy she's a nice bed-fellow.

LYSIMACHUS

Won't you be off? I'm not the person that hired you just now.

A COOK.

How's that? Nay but, upon my faith, you are that very man.

LYSIMACHUS

aside . Alas wretch that I am!

A COOK.

Your wife's in the country, I suppose, whom you were saying a little time ago you hated full as much as vipers.

LYSIMACHUS

I, said that to you?

A COOK.

Aye, to me, upon my faith.

LYSIMACHUS

So may Jupiter love me, wife, I never did say that.

DORIPPA

Do you deny that as well?

A COOK.

to DORIPPA . He didn't say he hated you, but his wife.

DORIPPA

This is made clear, that you detest me.

LYSIMACHUS

But I deny it.

A COOK.

And he said that his wife was in the country.

LYSIMACHUS

pointing to DORIPPA . This is she. Why are you annoying me?

A COOK.

Because you say that you don't know me. Are you afraid of her?

LYSIMACHUS

I'm wise in being so; for she's my only companion.

A COOK.

Do you wish to use my services?

LYSIMACHUS

I don't wish.

A COOK.

Give me my pay.

LYSIMACHUS

Ask for it to-morrow; it shall be given you; for the present, be off.

Aside. Alas, wretch that I am! I now find that that old saying is a true one, that some bad comes through a bad neighbour.

A COOK.

to the SCULLIONS . Why are we standing here?

LYSIMACHUS

Why don't you be gone?

A COOK.

aside to LYSIMACHUS . If any inconvenience happens to you, that's not my fault.

LYSIMACHUS

aside to the COOK . Why, you are utterly ruining wretched me

A COOK.

aside to LYSIMACHUS . I understand now what you want. You mean, you wish me to go away from here.

LYSIMACHUS

aside to the COOK . I do wish it, I say.

A COOK.

aside to LYSIMACHUS . I'll be off. Pay me a drachma.

LYSIMACHUS

aside to the COOK . It shall be paid.

A COOK.

aside to LYSIMACHUS . Then order it to be paid me, please. It can be paid in the meantime, while they are putting down the provisions.

LYSIMACHUS

aside to the COOK . Why don't you be off? Can't you cease being troublesome? Slips the money into his hand.

A COOK.

to the SCULLIONS . Come, do you set down those provisions before the feet of that old gentleman. These baskets I'll order to be fetched from your house either by-and-by or else to-morrow. To the SCULLIONS. Do you follow me. Exeunt, having set down the provisions.

LYSIMACHUS

Perhaps you are surprised at that Cook, that he came and brought these things. I'll tell you why it is.

DORIPPA

I'm not surprised if you do anything wrongful or criminal; and, by heavens, I'll not put up with it, that I am married thus unfortunately, and that harlots are brought into my house in this way. Syra, go ask my father, in my name, to come here directly together with you.

SYRA

I'll go.

LYSIMACHUS

Prithee, wife, you don't know what the matter is. In set form now will I make oath, that I have never had anything to do with her. Exit SYRA. What, is Syra gone now? By heaven, I'm undone! DORIPPA goes into the house.

LYSIMACHUS

to himself. But, see, she's off as well! Woe to wretched me! Then, neighbour Demipho, may the Gods and Goddesses confound you, together with your mistress and your intrigings! He has most unjustly loaded me with suspicions; he has stirred up enemies against me. At home my wife is most infuriated. I'll be off to the Forum, and tell this to Demipho, that I'll drag this woman by the hair into the street, unless he takes her hence out of this house wherever he chooses. Goes to the door and calls. Hark you! wife, wife! although you're angry at me, you'll order, if you are wise, these things to be carried hence indoors. We shall be able by-and-by to dine all the better upon the same.

Enter SYRA and EUTYCHUS, at a distance, on opposite sides.

SYRA

to herself. Whither my mistress sent me, to her father ——, he's not at home; they said that he has gone off into the country. Now, I'll take home this answer. I' faith, the women do live upon hard terms, and, wretched creatures, on much more unjust ones than the men. For if a husband has been keeping a mistress without the knowledge of his wife, if the wife comes to know it, the husband gets off with impunity; if, unknown to the husband, the wife goes from the house out of doors, a pretext arises for the husband, the marriage is dissolved. I wish the law was the same for the husband as for the wife; for the wife that is a good one, is content with one husband; why, any the less, should the husband be content with one wife? By my troth, I'd give cause, if men were punished in the same way (if any one should be keeping a mistress unknown to his wife), as those women are repudiated who are guilty of a slip, that there should be more divorced men than there are women now.

EUTYCHUS

to himself, apart . I'm quite tired with hunting the whole city through; I find nothing whatever about this woman. But my mother has returned from the country; for I see Syra standing before the house. Syra!

SYRA

Who is it that's calling me?

EUTYCHUS

'Tis I, your master and foster-child.

SYRA

turning round . Save you, my foster-child. EUT. Has my mother returned from the country then? Answer me.

SYRA

Aye, for her own especial sake and that of the family.

EUTYCHUS

What is it that's the matter?

SYRA

That very pretty father of yours has brought a mistress into the house.

EUTYCHUS

How say you?

SYRA

Your mother, on arriving from the country, found her at home.

EUTYCHUS

By my troth, I didn't think my father was a person for those practices. Is the woman now even still in-doors?

SYRA

Even still.

EUTYCHUS

Do you follow me. He goes into the house of LYSIMACHUS.

[

SYRA

to herself. How now? Do I see Peristrata here, the wife of Demipho? She quickens her pace; she glances about with her eyes; she turns herself round; she inclines her neck on one side. I'll observe from here what matter she's about; it's something of importance, whatever scent she's upon. Stands aside.

Enter PERISTRATA and LYCISSA, from the house of DEMIPHO.

PERISTRATA

The Goddess Astarte is the might of mortals and of the Gods, their life, their health; she, the same, who is likewise their death, destruction, downfall, the seas, the earth, the heaven, and the stars. Whatever Temples of Jove we inhabit, they are guided by her nod; her do they obey; to her do they pay regard; what displeases her, the other Deities do quickly put aside. Whatever pleases her, that, all things, which live and have sense, do pursue. Some she tortures, destroys; others, with her own milk does she nourish and raise aloft; but those whom she tortures, they live and enjoy their senses; those whom she hastens to rear and raise aloft, these last indeed do perish forthwith, and to their sorrow use their senses. Then, well-wishers, they lie prostrate, objects of dislike they bite the ground, grovel upon their faces, roar out, and make a riot; and when they think they live, then in especial do they rush on to ruin, then, then do they show eagerness in the pursuit of the object beloved; young men stumble, aged men likewise are led away. They love themselves; the object which they love, they wish to be loved and known. But if at that age they begin to fall in love, much more grievous is their madness. But if they do not love, then they hate, they are morose, too, and wayward; tattlers, haters, ill-disposed, passionate, envious for themselves and theirs. What they have formerly been shamelessly guilty of themselves, if it is done in a more quiet way, fathers do not tolerate as they ought to do; but they proclaim it, and indecently cry it out aloud.

SYRA

apart . So far as I understand, Demipho is treating this lady badly too.

PERISTRATA

This is the truth. My son is in love and is dying; when his father came to know of it, he was enraged beyond bounds. What insanity is this? This same husband of mine at one time packed my son off to Rhodes to traffic; now, according to the news Acanthio brings, he'll be betaking himself into banishment. O unjust father! O unfortunate son! whither will you betake yourself? Where will you leave your mother? Shall I pass my life bereft? Shall I lose my son? I will not endure it. Has his father sold her? Wherever she shall be found, the mother will redeem her. Do you tell me, Lycissa, do they suppose that she was brought into this neighbourhood?

LYCISSA

pointing to the house of LYSIMACHUS . To that, I fancy; to the house of a certain old gentleman, a friend.

PERISTRATA

Here, there is no one that I know of besides Lysimachus.

SYRA

apart . They are mentioning Lysimachus. It's a wonder if the old fellows, who are neighbours, haven't been going halves in the same nest.

PERISTRATA

I'll go look for Dorippa, his wife. The door of the house of LYSIMACHUS opens.

LYCISSA

Why go look for her? Don't you see her?

PERISTRATA

Indeed, I do see her. Let's listen; she's muttering something in a passion, I know not what, to herself. They stand aside.

Enter DORIPPA, from the house of LYSIMACHUS.

DORIPPA

to herself. Syra hasn't come back, whom, poor wretch, it's now a long time since I sent to fetch my father; in her very slowness, she has either hardened into a stone, or she has stopped from swelling with the sting of a serpent.

SYRA

apart. I'm undone; here's my mistress, she's looking after me.

DORIPPA

continuing. I cannot remain at home; my eyes cannot abide that pretty young harlot; I would have shut her out of doors, but my son Eutychus prevented me. Still, I shan't altogether believe the news he brings.

LYCISSA

apart. Do you hear, mistress?

PERISTRATA

apart. I hear; let her go on.

LYCISSA

apart. I'll let her. DOR. to herself. He says that she has come hither to our house for the sake of an old gentleman, a friend; that he has her for sale, so that he may withdraw her from his son, who's in love with her. This really is a falsehood, either in my husband or my son; the accounts differ. The husband says that she was given him as a deposit; but the son says that she's on sale.

SYRA

apart. I'll go meet her on a sudden, that she mayn't find out that I've been loitering.

DORIPPA

In this matter I shan't believe my son, who's acting in compliance with his father; for, for him, like a regular cuckoo, has he determined to tell abundance of lies: for my own part I shall believe the Cook, in preference. But see, here's Syra. How the old witch does run. Syra!

SYRA

Who's calling me? Stares around her.

DORIPPA

The Gods send a plague upon you!

SYRA

Mistress, if you are wise, bestow this upon your rival and your husband in preference.

DORIPPA

For saying that, I'm no longer angry with you. But where's your father? Why does he delay? Does gout hinder the man?

SYRA

He's lame with neither gout nor chalk-stones, whom his feet carry into the country.

DORIPPA

Not at home?

SYRA

No.

DORIPPA

Where then?

SYRA

They say he's in the country, and that it's uncertain whether he'll return to-day, he has such a large account with his bailiff.

DORIPPA

Everything is befalling me this day contrary to my wishes. I shan't live till the evening, unless I drive that hussy away from the house. She turns to the door. I'm going home.

LYCISSA

apart . The mistress is going away.

PERISTRATA

apart . What, going away? Call her.

LYCISSA

calling . Dorippa! Dorippa!

DORIPPA

turning round . What nuisance is this? Who's calling me back?

PERISTRATA

I'm not a nuisance, but a well-wisher; and it's your friend Peristrata addresses you. Prithee, do stay.

DORIPPA

Why, Peristrata — i' faith, I didn't know you: dreadful vexation is tormenting and agitating me.

PERISTRATA

This I enquire about — prithee don't deny me. I heard you just now; tell me what annoyance is troubling you.

DORIPPA

Peristrata, so may the Gods prosper your only son, do kindly lend me your attention; none could be given me more agreeably: our ages are alike; together we grew up; we have husbands alike in age; with no one do I converse with greater pleasure. I'm really annoyed with good reason. What now would your feelings be, if at this time of life your husband Demipho were to bring a mistress before your eyes?

PERISTRATA

Has he brought one?

DORIPPA

So it is.

PERISTRATA

She's at your house?

DORIPPA

At my house; aye, and cooks were hired; a banquet was being prepared, if my coming hadn't upset everything. Venus and Cupid are tormenting the wretched old fellow at an unseasonable time.

PERISTRATA

But these things are trifles, Dorippa. I wish that I wasn't more wretched.

DORIPPA

Trifles?

PERISTRATA

Really trifles.

DORIPPA

What worse could your husband do?

PERISTRATA

Aye, worse than worse.

DORIPPA

What is it? Prithree do say. As you to me, so I to you, let's give advice to each other what needs to be done, It's an old saying, that, "he's truly wise who is wise at the risk of another."

PERISTRATA

Dorippa, I have an only son; do you know that?

DORIPPA

I do know it.

PERISTRATA

Him his father some time ago packed off from his own house to Rhodes.

DORIPPA

For what reason?

PERISTRATA

Because he was in love.

DORIPPA

For that very thing?

PERISTRATA

Yes, and the very same thing now as well — inasmuch as he had brought a female slave here, his father coming to know of it, took her away, and put her up for sale.

DORIPPA

Aye, aye, I know it; my son told me the truth. I fancied she was the mistress of my husband. To whom was she entrusted?

PERISTRATA

To a certain old gentleman in this neighbourhood, his friend. I think that he has no other friend here except your husband.

DORIPPA

aside . It certainly is she. To PERISTRATA. What does your son?

PERISTRATA

He declares that he'll leave this city.

DORIPPA

The matter's in a safe position. What if he finds her?

PERISTRATA

I imagine he'll stay.

DORIPPA

Beyond expectation we are saved; don't doubt it; she's at my house.

PERISTRATA

At your house? It was she, I suppose, about whom I heard you talking just now.

DORIPPA

It was she.

PERISTRATA

O well done; I love you with reason; you've restored me my son. Do let me see her.

DORIPPA

Let's go in-doors then.

PERISTRATA

Let's go. Turning round. Come here, Lycissa. Do you go tell these things to Acanthio. I'll go here to Dorippa's house. Exit LYCISSA.
DORIPPA, PERISTRATA, and SYRA go into the house of LYSIMACHUS.

ACT V.

Enter CHARINUS, from the house of DEMIPHO, in a travelling habit.

CHARINUS

looking towards the door . O higher and lower portions of the threshold, now both of you farewell. This day for the last time do I raise this foot within my father's house. The ease, the enjoyment, the in-dwelling, the habitation of this house is henceforth for me cut off, destroyed, and alienated. I am undone! The household Gods of my parents, the Lar the father of the family, to you do I recommend, that you will kindly protect the possessions of my parents. I shall now seek other household Gods for myself, another Lar, another city, another state. The people of Attica I do detest; for where worse manners are on the increase every day, where, those who are friends, those who are faithless, you are not able, to distinguish, and where that is torn away from you, which especially pleases your taste, there, in fact, if a kingdom were given one, that country is not desirable.
Stands aside in deep thought.

Enter EUTYCHUS, from the house of LYSIMACHUS, at a distance.

EUTYCHUS

to himself . Thou who art the overlooker of Gods and of men, and the mistress of mortals as well, inasmuch as thou hast indulged me in this hope that I entertained, I do return thee thanks. What Deity is there now that is joyous with gladness like mine? That was at home which I was in search of. There did I find six companions, life, friendship, my native land, festivity, mirth, and jollity. On finding these, at the same moment did I utterly destroy ten very bad things, wrath, hatred, folly, ruin, perverseness, grief, tears, exile, want, and loneliness. Ye Gods, I pray you grant me a speedy opportunity of meeting him.

CHARINUS

to himself, not seeing EUTYCHUS . I'm ready prepared, as you see.

Pride I cast aside; I'm my own companion, attendant, horse, groom, esquire; I'm my own master, I, too, obey myself; for my own self do I carry what I require. O Cupid! how powerful art thou. For easily dost thou render any one resolute through thy deeds, and then again, the same person diffident forthwith from being over bold.

EUTYCHUS

to himself . I'm thinking which way to run in search of him.

CHARINUS

continuing . The matter's resolved upon, that I'll seek her everywhere, wherever in the world she has been carried off from hence; and neither shall any river stand in my way, nor mountain, nor the sea, indeed, nor heat, nor cold; I dread neither wind nor hail; the torrents of rain I'll submit to; labour, heat, and thirst, will I endure. I'll neither stop nor rest anywhere at night, or in the day, assuredly, before I shall have met with either my mistress or my death.

EUTYCHUS

looking round . Some voice, I know not who's, flew to my ear.

CHAR. continuing . You do I invoke, ye Lares of the roads, that you will kindly lend me aid.

EUTYCHUS

seeing CHARINUS . Jupiter! isn't that Charinus?

CHARINUS

turning round . Fellow-citizens, fare ye well.

EUTYCHUS

aloud . Charinus, stop, this instant.

CHARINUS

Who calls me back?

EUTYCHUS

Hope, Safety, Victory.

CHARINUS

What do you want with me?

EUTYCHUS

To go along with you.

CHARINUS

Look for another companion; these companions that have possession of me, will not part with me.

EUTYCHUS

Who are they?

CHARINUS

Care, misery, sickness, tears, and lamentation.

EUTYCHUS

Drive away those companions, and look this way and return.

CHARINUS

If indeed you wish to speak to me, do you follow. Moves on.

EUTYCHUS

Stop, this instant!

CHARINUS

You do amiss, in delaying me as I haste; the sun is setting.

EUTYCHUS

If you would make haste in this direction, just as you are hastening in that one, you'd be doing more rightly; this way there is now a prospering gale, only tack about. Here is a fair Westerly breeze; there is a showery Southern blast. The one causes a calm; the other stirs up all the waves. Betake yourself towards the land, Charinus, in this direction. Don't you see right opposite? Black clouds and showers are coming on. Look now to the left, how full the heaven is of brightness. Don't you see right opposite?

CHARINUS

He has thrown religious scruples in my way; I'll betake myself in that direction. Turns towards EUTYCHUS.

EUTYCHUS

You are wise. O Charinus, turn your steps, and turn your feet as well, in the opposite direction, Extend your arm. Catch hold of me. Do you hold me new?

CHARINUS

I'm holding you.

EUTYCHUS

Hold on, then. Whither now were you going?

CHARINUS

Into banishment.

EUTYCHUS

What to do there?

CHARINUS

As a wretched person would.

EUTYCHUS

Don't fear; this instant shall I restore you to joyousness before you go away.

CHARINUS

I'm going. Moves.

EUTYCHUS

A thing that you especially long to hear, the same shall you hear for you to rejoice at. Stay this instant; I'm come as a friend, full of the kindest feelings.

CHARINUS

What is it?

EUTYCHUS
Your mistress ——

CHARINUS
What of her?

EUTYCHUS
I know where she is.

CHARINUS
Prithee, do you?

EUTYCHUS
She's safe and sound.

CHARINUS
Where is she safe?

EUTYCHUS
I know where.

CHARINUS
I'd much rather I did.

EUTYCHUS
Can't you possibly be calm in your feelings?

CHARINUS
What if my feelings are agitated?

EUTYCHUS
I'll bring them for you into a safe and tranquil state; don't you fear.

CHARINUS
Prithee * * * do say where she is — where you've seen her. Why are you mute? Speak — you are torturing to death wretched me by your silence.

EUTYCHUS

She isn't far from here.

CHARINUS

Why then don't you point her out, if you see her?

EUTYCHUS

I' faith, I don't see her at this moment; but I saw her just now.

CHARINUS

Why, then, don't you cause me to see her?

EUTYCHUS

I will cause it.

CHARINUS

That means a long time for one in love.

EUTYCHUS

Are you still in apprehension? I'll disclose it all. No person is there living more beloved by me than is he who has got her; nor is there one to whom it is right that I should be a better wisher.

CHARINUS

I don't care about that; I'm looking for her.

EUTYCHUS

About her, then, I'm telling you. Really, this has not come into my mind but this moment, to tell it you ——

CHARINUS

Tell me, then, where she is.

EUTYCHUS

In our house.

CHARINUS

If you are telling the truth, a worthy house, and aptly built, I deem it. But how am I to credit that? Have you seen her; or do you speak from hearsay?

EUTYCHUS

I've seen her myself.

CHARINUS

Who took her to your house?

EUTYCHUS

Why, you're asking an unfair question. What matters it to you with whom she came?

CHARINUS

So long as she's there ——

EUTYCHUS

She certainly is.

CHARINUS

Then, for these tidings, do you wish whatever you please.

EUTYCHUS

What if I do wish?

CHARINUS

Pray to the Gods to bring its fulfilment.

EUTYCHUS

You are laughing at me.

CHARINUS

My fortunes, in fine, are redeemed, if I can see her. But why don't I lay aside this garb? Goes to the door of DEMIPHO'S house, and calls. Hallo, somebody, come here this instant out of doors. Come out, and bring me thence a cloak this way.

EUTYCHUS

Well, now how much you do gratify me.

CHARINUS

to a BOY who enters, bringing his cloak . You boy, who have come with such speed, take my scarf giving it , and now stand aside there; that, if these things are not true, I may hasten to go upon this intended journey. To EUTYCHUS. Are you telling the truth?

EUTYCHUS

Really, Charinus, you are not ashamed of anything. Don't you believe me?

CHARINUS

For my part, I really do believe everything that you tell me. But why don't you introduce me to her, that I may see her?

EUTYCHUS

Wait a little.

CHARINUS

Why am I to wait?

EUTYCHUS

It's not a convenient moment to go into the house.

CHARINUS

You are torturing me to death.

EUTYCHUS

There's no need, I tell you, for you to go into the house just now.

CHARINUS

Answer me-for what reason?

EUTYCHUS

She's not at leisure.

CHARINUS

Why so?

EUTYCHUS

Because it isn't convenient to her.

CHARINUS

Is it so? Not convenient to her who loves me, and whom I love in return? He's trifling with me in every way. I'm too foolish to believe him. He's only delaying me. Turns to the BOY. I'll put on my scarf again.

EUTYCHUS

Stop a little, and listen to this.

CHARINUS

taking off the cloak . You boy, take this cloak, please. Puts on the travelling scarf.

EUTYCHUS

Really this hasn't come but this moment into my mind to tell it you. My mother's dreadfully angry with my father, because he has brought into the house a harlot before her very eyes, while she was away in the country. She suspects that she's his own mistress.

CHARINUS

not attending to him . I've taken up my belt. Puts it on.

EUTYCHUS

She's now enquiring into this matter in-doors.

CHARINUS

inattentive . Now my sword's in hand. Taking it from the BOY.

EUTYCHUS

But if I were now to introduce you?

CHARINUS

inattentive . I'll take my bottle, and be off from here. Moves.

EUTYCHUS

Stop, stop, Charinus!

CHARINUS

You are mistaken; you can't deceive me.

EUTYCHUS

And, i' faith, I have no wish.

CHARINUS

Why, then, don't you allow me to proceed upon my journey?

EUTYCHUS

I won't let you.

CHARINUS

I'm delaying myself. Boy, do you this instant be off hence in-doors.
The BOY goes into the house. Now I've ascended the chariot; now I've taken the reins in my hands. Imitating the action of a charioteer.

EUTYCHUS

You are not in your senses.

CHARINUS

Feet of mine, why don't ye betake yourselves into the chariot, straight for Cyprus, since my father determines on my banishment?

EUTYCHUS

You are silly. Prithee, don't be saying this.

CHARINUS

as though to himself. I'm resolved to persist — to use my endeavours to seek her out where she is.

EUTYCHUS

Why, she's at our house.

CHARINUS

as though to himself. For what that person said, he told a falsehood in it.

EUTYCHUS

Really, I told you the truth.

CHARINUS

continuing . Now I've come to Cyprus.

EUTYCHUS

Nay, but follow me, that you may see her whom you are looking for.

Moves towards his FATHER'S house.

CHARINUS

pretending not to hear . Enquiring there, I didn't find her. EUT. I'll not care then for my mother's anger.

CHARINUS

still pretending . I'll still go on to seek her. Now I've got to Chalcis; I see there my former host at Zacynthus; I tell him why I've come thither; I make enquiry if he has heard say who has brought her thither, who has got possession of her.

EUTYCHUS

Why don't you cease that nonsense, and step with me this way in-doors?

CHARINUS

still pretending . My host answered that figs grew, not bad ones, at Zacynthus.

EUTYCHUS

He didn't say false there.

CHARINUS

continuing . But he says that he has heard about my mistress, that she's here at Athens.

EUTYCHUS

Really, this Zacynthian is quite a Calchas.

CHARINUS

continuing . I get aboard ship, and start at once. I'm now at home; now I've returned from banishment. My friend, Eutyclus turning towards him , greetings to you! How have you been? How are my parents? Are they well? Do you come to my mother, you say — you invite me kindly; you speak politely. At your house to-morrow; for the present at home. So it is proper; so it ought to be done.

EUTYCHUS

How now? What are you dreaming about? This man's not in his senses.

CHARINUS

Why don't you, as a friend, make haste to cure me then?

EUTYCHUS

Follow me, please.

CHARINUS

running close behind him . I'm following.

EUTYCHUS

turning round . Softly, pray; you are treading on my heels. Don't you hear me?

CHARINUS

I've heard you for some time past.

EUTYCHUS

I want a reconciliation to be made between my father and mother; for now she's in a passion ——

CHARINUS

pushing him . Only do go on. EUT. About that woman —— pushing him . Only do go on.

CHARINUS

EUTYCHUS

Therefore take care ——

CHARINUS

pushing him . Nay, but do go on then; I'll make her as mild as Juno is when she's kind to Jupiter. They go into the house of LYSIMACHUS.

Enter DEMIPHO and LYSIMACHUS.

LYSIMACHUS

[Demipho, this saying of the wise, I think you have often heard, "Pleasure is the bait for misfortune;" because, by it, not less are men aught than are fishes with the hook Although aged people fly from it, still you don't pay that regard to your old age: since it hasn't even withdrawn love from you, but has forced you to it even more vehemently. Wherefore it utterly confounds yourself and your understanding and your mind, and dazzles your eyesight. Myself too have you brought into great trouble, and I know not what to do,

DEMIPHO

Lysimachus, this is the will of the Gods, not of men. If you reflect upon this with yourself, you will be of opinion that you are not doing right, in censuring so heavily a person your friend and the sharer of your secrets.] As though you yourself had never done anything like this action.

LYSIMACHUS

By heavens, never. I took care not to do anything: wretch that I am, I am scarcely alive; for my wife is lying all in a ferment about her.

DEMIPHO

But I'll undertake to clear you, so that she mayn't be angry.

LYSIMACHUS

Follow me — but I see my son coming out.

Enter EYTUCHUS, from the house of LYSIMACHUS.

EUTYCHUS

as he comes out, to CHARINUS, within . I'll go to my father, that he may know my mother's wrath is appeased. I'll return just now.

LYSIMACHUS

to DEMIPHO . The beginning pleases me. Going up to EUTYCHUS. What are you about? How goes it, Eutychus?

EUTYCHUS

Extremely opportunely have you both met me.

LYSIMACHUS

What's the matter?

EUTYCHUS

Your wife is peaceful and appeased. Give me your right hands this moment. Shakes hands with them both.

LYSIMACHUS

The Gods are favouring me.

EUTYCHUS

to DEMIPHO . I bring you word that you have got no mistress.

DEMIPHO

The Gods confound you. Why, prithee, what affair is this?

EUTYCHUS

I'll tell you. Give your attention then, both of you.

LYSIMACHUS

Well then, we are giving you our attention, both of us.

EUTYCHUS

Those who are born of a good family, if they are of bad tendencies, by their own faultiness withdraw nobleness from their rank, and disgrace their disposition.

DEMIPHO

He says what's true.

LYSIMACHUS

Then it's to yourself he says it.

EUTYCHUS

For this reason is this the more true; for at this time of life, it wasn't just for you to take away from your son, a young man, his mistress, purchased with his own money.

DEMIPHO

How say you? Is she the mistress of Charinus?

EUTYCHUS

aside . How the rogue does dissemble.

DEMIPHO

Why, he said that he had bought her as a maidservant for his mother.

EUTYCHUS

Was it for that reason, then, you bought her, you young lover, you old boy?

LYSIMACHUS

Very well said, i' troth! Proceed, proceed. I'll stand by him here on the other side. Let's both load him well with such speeches as he's worthy of.

DEMIPHO

aside . I'm done for. EUT. Who has done an injustice so great to his blameless son; whom, in fact, upon my faith, I brought back home just when he was setting out in self-banishment; for he was going into exile.

DEMIPHO

Has he gone then?

LYSIMACHUS

What, do you speak, you hobgoblin? At this time of life you ought to abstain from those pursuits.

DEMIPHO

I confess it; undoubtedly I've acted wrong.

EUTYCHUS

What, do you speak, you hobgoblin? You ought at this time of life to have done with these guilty practices. Just as the seasons of the year, so different lines of conduct befit different ages; but if this is proper, that old fellows should be wenching in their old age, where in the world is our common welfare?

DEMIPHO

Alas! wretch that I am! I'm undone.

EUTYCHUS

The young men are more in the habit of giving their attention to following those pursuits.

DEMIPHO

Troth, now, prithee, do take her to yourselves, with pigs and with basket.

EUTYCHUS

Restore her to your son; let him have her, now, as he wishes.

DEMIPHO

So far as I'm concerned, he may have her.

EUTYCHUS

High time, i' faith, since you haven't the power of doing otherwise.

DEMIPHO

For this injury let him take what satisfaction he likes; only do you make peace, I beg of you, that he mayn't be angry with me. I' faith, if I had known it, or if, indeed, he had told me in the slightest way of joke that he was in love with her, I should never have proceeded to take her away from him so in love. Enitychus, you are his companion, preserve and rescue me, I beg of you. Make this old fellow your client. You shall say that I'm mindful of a kindness.

LYSIMACHUS

Entreat him that he'll pardon his offences and his youthful age.

DEMIPHO

Heyday now, are you still persisting in inveighing against me with your airs? I trust that a like opportunity will befall me as well for returning you a similar compliment.

LYSIMACHUS

I've long made an end of those pursuits.

DEMIPHO

And really so shall I from this time forward.

LYSIMACHUS

Not a bit of it. Through usage your inclinations will be leading you to it again.

DEMIPHO

Prithee, do now be satisfied. Rather, scourge me with thongs even, if you like.

LYSIMACHUS

You say right. But that your wife will do, when she comes to know of this.

DEMIPHO

There's no need for her to come to know of it.

EUTYCHUS

What's that? She shan't come to know of it; don't be afraid. Let's go in-doors; this place isn't a suitable one for your practices, for there to be persons to overhear who are passing through the street, while we are talking.

DEMIPHO

Why, faith, you say what's right; that way the story will be shorter.
Let's be off

EUTYCHUS

Your son is in-doors here at our house.

DEMIPHO

It's very good. We'll pass that way through the garden home.

LYSIMACHUS

Eutychus, I want this affair to be settled before I set my foot again within doors.

EUTYCHUS

What is it?

LYSIMACHUS

Each person thinks about his own concerns. Answer me this: do you know for certain that your mother isn't angry with me?

EUTYCHUS

I do know it.

LYSIMACHUS

Take care.

EUTYCHUS

Trust me for it. Are you satisfied?

LYSIMACHUS

I am. But still, troth now, prithee, do take care.

EUTYCHUS

Don't you believe me?

LYSIMACHUS

Yes, I do believe you; but still I'm dreadfully afraid.

DEMIPHO

Let's go in-doors.

EUTYCHUS

Aye, but I think we must pronounce. the law for the old men before we depart, on what terms they are to keep check upon themselves and to be continent. Whoever shall be sixty years of age, if we know of any one, whether husband or, i' faith, whether bachelor, in fact, who goes a wenching, upon these terms shall we deal with him; we shall deem him a fool. And, i' faith, so far as we're concerned, he shall be in want who has squandered away his property. And let no one hereafter forbid his youthful son to be in love and to keep a mistress, so it be done in a decent manner. If he shall forbid him, let him, unknown to himself, suffer more loss than if he had openly permitted him. Let this law, then, from this night forward, be binding upon the old men. To the AUDIENCE. Young men, kindly fare you well; and if this law, enacted for the sake of the old ones, pleases you, it is right that you should give us loud applause.

MILES GLORIOSUS

Translated by Henry Thomas Riley

Miles Gloriosus (The Swaggering Soldier) is based on a lost Greek play called Alazon or The Braggart. The action takes place in Ephesus, a Greek city on the coast of Asia Minor, famous for its Temple of Artemis. The play commences with the entrance of Pyrgopolynices (the ‘Miles Gloriosus’ of the play’s title), posing in a heroic, but pompous manner. He is followed by his “parasite”, Artotrogus, who earns his meals by flattering the soldier excessively, and several minions that carry his enormous shield. Pyrgopolynices constantly boasts about his accomplishments and portrays himself as a fantastic military hero. In reality, his accomplishments are far smaller — hence the play’s title. After he leaves the stage we meet one of the main characters of the play, Palaestrio, who formerly served a young Athenian, Pleusicles. His former master had a lover named Philocomasium, who was kidnapped from Athens and taken by Pyrgopolynices. When Palaestrio tried to reach his master with this bad news, the slave was seized by pirates and given, by chance, to the same soldier. Both he and the girl have been living in the soldier’s house in Ephesus, but Palaestrio has sent a letter secretly to his former master telling him where they are. Now Pleusicles has come to Ephesus and is staying with Periplectomenus, who lives next door to the soldier, and the wise Palaestrio has cut a hole in the wall so the two lovers can see one another.

THE SUBJECT

PLIEUSICLES, a young Athenian, is in love with Philocomasium, a Courtesan of Athens, who returns his affection. Being sent on public business to Naupactus, a certain Captain of Ephesus, Pyrgopolinices by name, comes to Athens, and insinuates himself into the good graces of her mother, in order that he may get Philocomasium into his power. Having deceived the mother, he places the daughter on board ship and carries her off to Ephesus. On this, Palaestrio, a faithful servant of Pleusicles, hastens to embark for Naupactus, with the view of telling his master what has happened. The ship being taken by pirates, he is made captive, and by chance is presented as a gift to Pyrgopolinices. He recognises the mistress of Pleusicles in the Captain's house; but he carefully conceals from the Captain who he himself is. He then privately writes to Pleusicles, requesting him to come to Ephesus. On arriving, Pleusicles is hospitably entertained by Periplecomenus, a friend of his father, an old gentleman who lives next door to the Captain. As Philocomasium has a private room of her own in the Captain's house, a hole is made through the partition wall, and by this contrivance she meets Pleusicles in the house of his entertainer, who gives his sanction to the plan.

At this juncture, the play begins. A servant of the Captain, named Sceledrus, has been appointed to be the keeper of Philocomnasium. Pursuing a monkey along the roof of the house, he looks down the skylight of the house next door, and there sees Pleusicles and Philocomasium conversing and toying with each other. When this has been discovered to be the case, a plan is arranged, by which Sceledrus shall not only not divulge to the Captain what he has seen, but shall even be made to believe that he has not actually seen it himself. Palaestrio, therefore, persuades him that the twin-sister of Philocomasium has arrived at Ephesus, and with her lover is staying at their neighbour's house. To forward their designs, Palaestrio then invents another plan. He persuades the Captain to believe that the wife of his neighbour, Periplecomenus, is in love with him. Through his agency, a Courtesan, named Acroteleutium, pretends that she is the wife so desperately in love with the Captain. he believes this story, and, that he may the more conveniently receive her in his house, by the advice of Palaestrio, he sends Philocomasium away, and gives her into the charge of Pleusicles, who is disguised in the dress of a master of a ship. They go to the harbour and set sail, accompanied by Palaestrio, whom the Captain has given to Philocomasium at her request. The Captain, then, at the invitation of the maid of Acroteleutium, goes to the house next door, to visit her mistress. On this, Periplecomenus, with his servants, sallies forth upon him, and, having first threatened to cut him in pieces, and then having beaten and stripped him, they let him go, after they have exacted from him a confession that he has been rightly served, and a promise that he will molest no one in return for the treatment he has received.

THE ACROSTIC ARGUMENT.

[Supposed to have been written by Priscian, the Grammarian.]

A Captain carries off to Ephesus a Courtesan (Meretricem) from Athens. While his servant is intending to tell this (Id) to his master, her lover, who is an Ambassador (Legato) abroad, he himself is captured at sea, and (Et) is given as a present to the same Captain. The servant sends for his (Suum) master from Athens, and cleverly makes a hole in the party wall, common to the two (Geminis) houses, that it may be possible (Liceret) for the two lovers secretly to meet. Wandering about (Oberrans), her keeper sees them from the tiles, but he is played a trick (Ridiculis) upon, as though it were another person. Palaestrio, too, as well (Item) persuades the Captain to have his mistress dismissed (Omissam), since the wife of the old man (Senis), his neighbour, wishes to marry him. He begs that she will go away of her own accord (Ultro), and gives her many things. He, himself, caught in the house of the old man (Senis), receives punishment as an adulterer.

ACT I.

Enter PYRGOPOLINICES, ARTOTROGUS, and Soldiers.

PYRGOPOLINICES

Take ye care that the lustre of my shield is more bright than the rays of the sun are wont to be at the time when the sky is clear; that when occasion comes, the battle being joined, 'mid the fierce ranks right opposite it may dazzle the eyesight of the enemy. But, I wish to console this sabre of mine, that it may not lament nor be downcast in spirits, because I have thus long been wearing it keeping holiday, which so longs right dreadfully to make havoc of the enemy. But where is Artotrogus?

ARTOTROGUS

Here he is; he stands close by the hero, valiant and successful, and of princely form. Mars could not dare to style himself a warrior so great, nor compare his prowess with yours.

PYRGOPOLINICES

Him you mean whom I spared on the Gorgonidonian plains, where Bumbomachides Clytomestoridysarchides, the grandson of Neptune, was the chief commander?

ARTOTROGUS

I remember him; him, I suppose, you mean with the golden armour, whose legions you puffed away with your breath just as the wind blows away leaves or the reed-thatched roof.

PYRGOPOLINICES

That, on my troth, was really nothing at all.

ARTOTROGUS

Faith, that really was nothing at all in comparison with other things I could mention — (aside) which you never did. If any person ever beheld a more perjured fellow than this, or one more full of vain boasting, faith let him have me for himself, I'll resign myself for his slave; if 'tis not the fact that my one mess of olive pottage is eaten up by me right ravenously.

PYRGOPOLINICES

Where are you?

ARTOTROGUS

Lo! here am I. I' troth in what a fashion it was you broke the fore-leg of even an elephant, in India, with your fist.

PYRGOPOLINICES

How? — the fore-leg?

ARTOTROGUS

I meant to say this — the thigh.

PYRGOPOLINICES

I struck the blow without an effort.

ARTOTROGUS

Troth, if, indeed, you had put forth your strength, your arm would have passed right through the hide, the entrails, and the frontispiece of the elephant.

PYRGOPOLINICES

I don't care for these things just now.

ARTOTROGUS

I' faith, 'tis really not worth the while for you to tell me of it, who know right well your prowess. (Aside) 'Tis my appetite creates all these plagues. I must hear him right out with my ears, that my teeth mayn't have time to grow, and whatever lie he shall tell, to it I must agree.

PYRGOPOLINICES

What was it I was saying?

ARTOTROGUS

O, I know what you were going to say just now. I' faith 'twas bravely done; I remember its being done.

PYRGOPOLINICES

What was that?

ARTOTROGUS

Whatever it was you were going to say.

PYBG.

Have you got your tablets?

ARTOTROGUS

Are you intending to enlist? I have them, and a pen as well.

PYRGOPOLINICES

How cleverly you do suit your mind to my own mind.

ARTOTROGUS

'Tis fit that I should know your inclinations studiously, so that whatever you wish should first occur to me.

PYRGOPOLINICES

What do you remember?

ARTOTROGUS

I do remember this. In Cilicia there were a hundred and fifty men, a hundred in Cryphiolathronia, thirty at Sardis, sixty men of Macedon, whom you slaughtered altogether in one day.

PYRGOPOLINICES

What is the sum total of those men?

ARTOTROGUS

Seven thousand.

PYRGOPOLINICES

It must be as much: you keep the reckoning well.

ARTOTROGUS

Yet I have none of them written down; still, so I remember it was.

PYRGOPOLINICES

By my troth, you have a right good memory.

ARTOTROGUS

aside . 'Tis the flesh-pots give it a fillip.

PYRGOPOLINICES

So long as you shall do such as you have done hitherto, you shall always have something to eat: I will always make you a partaker at my table.

ARTOTROGUS

Besides, in Cappadocia, you would have killed five hundred men altogether at one blow, had not your sabre been blunt.

PYRGOPOLINICES

I let them live, because I was quite sick of fighting.

ARTOTROGUS

Why should I tell you what all mortals know, that you, Pyrgopolinices, live alone upon the earth, with valour, beauty, and achievements most unsurpassed? All the women are in love with you, and that not without reason, since you are so handsome. Witness those girls that pulled me by my mantle yesterday.

PYRGOPOLINICES

What was it they said to you?

ARTOTROGUS

They questioned me about you. "Is Achilles here?" says one to me. "No," says I, "his brother is." Then says the other to me: "By my troth, but he is a handsome and a noble man. See how his long hair becomes him Certainly the women are lucky who share his favours."

PYBG.

And pray, did they really say so?

ARTOTROGUS

They both entreated me to bring you past to-day by way of a sight to them.

PYRGOPOLINICES

'Tis really a very great plague to be too handsome a man.

ARTOTROGUS

They are quite a nuisance to me; they are praying, entreating, beseeching me, to let them see you; bidding me be fetched to them; so that I can't give my attention to your business.

PYRGOPOLINICES

It seems that it is time for us to go to the Forum, that I may count out their pay to those soldiers whom I have enlisted of late. For King Seleucus entreated me with most earnest suit that I would raise and enlist recruits for him. To that business have I resolved to devote my attention this day.

ARTOTROGUS

Come, let's be going then.

PYRGOPOLINICES

Guards, follow me. (Exeunt.)

ACT II.

The prologue. Enter PALAESTRIO.

PALAESTRIO

To tell the subject of this our play, I have all willingness, if you will but have the kindness to listen to it. But he who does not wish to listen, let him arise and go out, that there may be room where he may sit who does wish to listen. Now I will disclose to you both the subject and the name of the play which we are just now about to act, and for the sake of which you are now seated in this mirthful place, “Alazon” is the name, in Greek, of this Comedy; the same we call in Latin. “the Braggart” (Gloriosus). This city is Ephesus; then, the Captain, my master, who has gone off hence to the Forum, a bragging, impudent, stinking fellow, brimful of lying and lasciviousness, says that all the women are following him of their own accord. Wherever he goes, he is the laughing-stock of all; and so, the Courtesans here — since they make wry mouths at him, you may see the greater part of them with lips all awry. I wish you now to know this, how I came to be his slave, from him to whom I was servant before; for ’tis not long that I have been in slavery to him. Give your attention, for now I will begin the argument. A very worthy young man at Athens was my master. He was in love with a Courtesan, brought up at Athens, in Attica, and she on the other hand loved him; such affection is most worthy to be cherished. In the public service, he was sent to Naupactus as Ambassador on behalf of that mighty republic. In the mean time, by chance, this Captain came to Athens. He introduced himself to this lady of my master, began to cajole her mother with presents of wine, trinkets, and costly treats; and so the Captain made himself on intimate terms with the procuress. As soon as ever an opportunity was presented for this Captain, he tricked this procuress, the mother of the damsel, whom my master loved. For, unknown to her mother, he put the daughter on board ship, and carried this woman, against her will, hither to Ephesus. Soon as I knew that the lady of my master was carried off from Athens, as quickly as ever I was able, I procured for myself a ship: I embarked, that I might carry tidings of this matter to my master at Naupactum. When we had got out to sea, some pirates, as they had hoped to do, took that ship on board of which I was; thus I was undone before I reached my master, for whom I had commenced to proceed on my voyage. He that took me, gave me as a present to this same Captain. After he had taken me home to his own house, I saw there that favorite of my master who lived at Athens. When, on the other hand, she perceived me, she gave me a sign with her eyes not to address her by name. Afterwards, when there was an opportunity, the damsel complained to me of her hard fate. She said that she wished to escape to Athens from this house, that she was attached to him, that master of mine who lived at Athens, and that she had never hated any one more thoroughly than this same Captain. As I discovered the feelings of the damsel, I took tablets, sealed them in private, and gave them to a certain merchant to carry to him (my master, I mean, who was at Athens, and who had so loved her), in order that he might come hither. He did not slight the message, for he both is come, and is lodging here next door, with his host, a friend of his father's, a nice old man. He, too, gives every assistance to his guest in his amour, and encourages and seconds us with his help and his advice. Therefore, here (pointing to the CAPTAIN'S house), indoors, I have found a grand contrivance, by which to cause these lovers, each, to meet the other. For one room, which the Captain gave to his mistress for no one but herself to set foot in, in that same room I have dug a hole through the party-wall, in order that there may secretly be an ingress for the damsel from the one house to the other. And this I have done with the knowledge of the old gentleman; 'twas he that gave the advice. But my fellow-servant, whom the Captain has given as a keeper to his mistress, is a person of no great worth. By clever contrivances and ingenious devices, we will throw dust in his eyes, and we will make him so as not to see what he really does see. And that you may not hereafter make mistakes, this damsel to-day, in this house and in that, will perform in turn a double part, and will be the same, but will pretend to be another, person. Thus will the keeper of the damsel be gulled. But there is a noise at the door here of the old gentleman, our neighbour. 'Tis himself coming out 'tis he, the nice old man that I was speaking of. (He retires to a distance.

Enter PERIPLECOMENUS from his house.

PERIPLECOMENUS

speaking to his servants within . Faith, if you don't in future smash his ankle-bones for any stranger that you see on my tiles, I will cut you so with lashes as to make thongs of your sides. My neighbours, i' faith, are overlookers of what is going on in my own house; so often are they peeping down through the skylight. And now, therefore, I give you all notice, whatever person of this Captain's household you shall see upon our tiles, except Palaestrio only, push him headlong here into the street. Suppose he says that he is following some hen, or pigeon, or monkey; woe be to you, if you don't badly maul the fellow even to death. And so, that they may commit no infringement against the laws of dice, do you take good care that they keep holiday at home without any ankle-bones at all.

PALAESTRIO

aside . Something amiss, — what, I know not, has been done him by our family so far as I can hear, inasmuch as the old man has ordered the ankles of my fellow-servants to be broken. But he has excepted me; nothing care I what he does to the rest of them. I'll accost the old man. (Advances.)

PERIPLECOMENUS

The person that is coming this way, is he coming towards me? He comes as if he was coming to me.

PALAESTRIO

How do you do, Periplecomenus?

PERIPLECOMENUS

There are not many men, if I were to wish, whom I would rather now see and meet with than yourself.

PALAESTRIO

What's the matter? What disturbance have you with our family?

PERIPLECOMENUS

We are done for.

PALAESTRIO

What's the matter?

PERIPLECOMENUS

The thing's discovered.

PALAESTRIO

What thing's discovered?

PERIPLECOMENUS

Some one just now of your household was looking in from the tiles through our skylight at Philocomasium and my guest as they were toying together.

PALAESTRIO

What person saw it?

PERIPLECOMENUS

Your fellow-servant.

PALAESTRIO

Which person was it?

PERIPLECOMENUS

I don't know; he took himself off so suddenly — in an instant.

PALAESTRIO

I suspect I'm ruined.

PERIPLECOMENUS

When he went away, I cried: "Hallo! you sir!" said I, "what are you doing upon the tiles?" As he went away he replied to me in these terms, that he was following a stray'd monkey.

PALAESTRIO

Woe to wretched me! that I must be ruined for a worthless beast. But is Philocomasium there with you even still?

PERIPLECOMENUS

When I came out, she was there.

PALAESTRIO

If she is, then bid her return to our house as soon as ever she can, that the servants may see that she is at home; unless, indeed, she wishes that we, who are slaves, her fellow- slaves, should all be given up together to tortures by the cross on account of her courting.

PERIPLECOMENUS

I bade her do so; unless you would aught else.

PALAESTRIO

I would. Tell her this: that, by my troth, she must not hesitate at all to bring in play her skill and cleverness.

PERIPLECOMENUS

In what way?

PALAESTRIO

That by her words she may persuade him who saw her here at your house, that he did not see her. Should he accuse her, on the other hand let her convince him with her oath. Even though she were seen a hundred times over, still let her deny it. Aside. For, if she is at all inclined to ill, a woman never goes begging to the gardener for material, she has a garden at home and a stock of her own for all mischievous contrivances; at home she has impudence, a lying tongue, perfidiousness, malice, and boldness, self-conceit, assurance, and deceitfulness, — at home she has wiles, — at home captivating contrivances, — stratagems at home.

PERIPLECOMENUS

I'll tell her this, if she shall be in-doors here pointing to his house . But what is it, Palaestrio, that you are considering with yourself in your mind?

PALAESTRIO

Be silent a moment, while I am calling a council in my mind, and while I am considering what I am to do, what plan I must contrive, on the other hand, as a match for my crafty fellow-servant, who has seen her billing here in your house; so that what was seen may not have been seen.

PERIPLECOMENUS

Do contrive one; in the meantime, I'll retire hence to a distance from you, to this spot. He retires to a distance. Look at him, please to the AUDIENCE, revolving his cares with brow severe, how he stands. He strikes his breast with his fingers I fancy he's about to call his heart outside. See, he shifts his posture; again he places his left hand upon his left thigh. His right hand is reckoning down his plans upon his fingers; in despair he strikes his thigh. His right hand is moving rapidly; with difficulty does it suggest what he is to do. He snaps his fingers now; he's striving hard; full oft he changes his position. But see how he shakes his head; it pleases him not what he has hit upon. Whatever it is, nothing crude will he bring forth, something well-digested will he produce. But see, he is building; he has placed his hand as a pillar beneath his chin. Have done with it in truth, this mode of building pleases me not; for I have heard say that the head of a foreign Poet is wont to be supported thus, over whom two guards are ever at all hours keeping watch. Bravo! how becomingly he stands, — i' faith, how like a very slave, and how faithful to his part. Never, this day, will he rest, before he has completed that which he is in search of. He has it, I suspect. Come — to the business you're about: keep wide awake, think not of sleep; unless, indeed, you wish to be keeping your watch here all chequered o'er with stripes. 'Tis T, that am talking to you; schemer, don't you know that I am speaking to you? Palaestrio! awake, say; arouse yourself, I say; 'tis daylight now, I say.

PALAESTRIO

I hear you.

PERIPLECOMENUS

Don't you see that the enemy is upon you, and that siege is being laid to your back? Take counsel, then; obtain aid and assistance in this matter; the hastily, not the leisurely, is befitting here. Get the start of them in some way, and in some direction this moment lead around your troops. Close round the enemy in siege; prepare the convoy for our side. Cut off the enemy's provision, secure yourself a passage, by which supplies and provision may be enabled in safety to reach yourself and your forces. Look to this business; the emergency is sudden. Invent — contrive — this instant give us some clever plan; so that that which has been seen here within, may not have been seen; that which has been done, may not have been done. There, my man, you undertake a great enterprise; lofty the defences which you erect. If you yourself alone but say you undertake this, I have a certainty that we are able to rout our foes.

PALAESTRIO

I do say so, and I do undertake it.

PERIPLECOMENUS

And I do pronounce that you shall obtain that which you desire.

PALAESTRIO

May Jupiter kindly bless you then!

PERIPLECOMENUS

But, friend, do you impart to me the plan which you have devised.

PALAESTRIO

Be silent, then, while I am inducting you in the direction of my devices; that you may know as well as my own self my plans.

PERIPLECOMENUS

The same you shall receive safe from the same spot where you have deposited them.

PALAESTRIO

My master is surrounded with the hide of an elephant, not his own, and has no more wisdom than a stone.

PERIPLECOMENUS

I myself know the same thing.

PALAESTRIO

Now, thus I would begin upon my plan; this contrivance I shall act upon. I shall say that her other own twin-sister has come here from Athens, with a certain person, her lover, to Philocomasium, as like to her as milk is to milk. I shall say that they are lodged and entertained here in your house.

PERIPLECOMENUS

Bravo! bravo! cleverly thought of. I approve of your device.

PALAESTRIO

So that, if my fellow-servant should accuse her before the Captain, and say that he has seen her here at your house, toying with another man, I shall assert, on the other hand, that my fellow-servant has seen the other one, the sister, at your house, fondling and toying with her own lover.

PERIPLECOMENUS

Aye, most excellent. I'll say the same, if the Captain shall inquire of me.

PALAESTRIO

But do you say that they are extremely alike; and this must be imparted in time to Philocomasium, in order that she may know; that she mayn't be tripping if the Captain should question her.

PERIPLECOMENUS

A very clever contrivance. But if the Captain should wish to see them both in company together, what shall we do then?

PALAESTRIO

That's easy enough. Three hundred excuses may be picked up — she is not at home; she has gone out walking; she is asleep; she is dressing; she is bathing; she is at breakfast; she is taking dessert; she is engaged; she is enjoying her rest; in fact, she can't come. There are as many of these put-offs as you like, if I can only persuade him at the very outset to believe that to be true which shall be contrived.

PERIPLECOMENUS

I like what you say.

PALAESTRIO

Go in-doors then; and if the damsel's there, bid her return home directly, and instruct and tutor her thoroughly in this plan, that she may understand our scheme, as we have begun it, about the twin-sister.

PERIPLECOMENUS

I'll have her right cleverly tutor'd for you. Is there anything else?

PALAESTRIO

Only, be off in-doors.

PERIPLECOMENUS

I'm off. (Exit.) PALAESTRIO alone.

PALAESTRIO

And I'll go home, too; and I'll conceal the fact that I am giving her my aid in seeking out the man, which fellow-servant of mine it was, that to-day was following the monkey. For it cannot be but in his conversation he must have made some one of the household acquainted about the lady of his master, how that he himself has seen her next door here toying with some stranger spark. I know the habit myself; "I can't hold my tongue on that which I know alone." If I find out the person who saw it, I'll plant against him all my mantelets and covered works. The material is prepared; 'tis a sure matter that I must take this person by force, and by thus besieging him. If so I don't find the man, just like a hound I'll go smelling about, even until I shall have traced out the fox by his track. But our door makes a noise: I'll lower my voice; for here is the keeper of Philocomasium, my fellow-servant, coming out of doors. (Stands aside.) Enter SCELEDRUS from the CAPTAIN's house.

SCELEDRUS

Unless, in fact, I have been walking this day in my sleep upon the tiles, i' faith, I know for sure that I have seen here, at our neighbour's next door, Philocomasium, the lady of my master, on the high road to mischief to herself.

PALAESTRIO

aside . 'Twas he that saw her billing, so far as I have heard him say.

SCELEDRUS

Who's that?

PALAESTRIO

Your fellow-servant. How are you, Sceledrus?

SCELEDRUS

I am glad that I have met you, Palaestrio.

PAT.

What now? Or what's the matter? Let me know.

SCELEDRUS

I'm afraid.

PALAESTRIO

What are you afraid of?

SCELEDRUS

By my troth, lest, this day, as many domestics as there are of us here, we shall jump into a most woful punishmient by way of torture.

PALAESTRIO

Jump you alone, please; for I don't at all like this jumping in and jumping out.

SCELEDRUS

Perhaps you don't know what new mischance has happened at home?

PALAESTRIO

What mischance is this?

SCELEDRUS

A disgraceful one.

PALAESTRIO

Do you then keep it to yourself alone: don't tell it me; I don't want to know it.

SCELEDRUS

But I won't let you not know it. To-day I was following our monkey upon the tiles, next door there. Points to the house.

PALAESTRIO

By my troth, Sceledrus, a worthless fellow, you were following a worthless beast.

SCELEDRUS

The Gods confound you!

PALAESTRIO

That befits yourself, since you began the conversation.

SCELEDRUS

By chance, as it happened, I looked down there through the skylight, into the next house; and there I saw Philocomasium toying with some strange young man, I know not whom.

PALAESTRIO

What scandalous thing is this I hear of you, Sceledrus?

SCELEDRUS

I' faith, I did see her, beyond a doubt.

PALAESTRIO
What, yourself?

SCELEDRUS
Yes, I myself, with these eyes of mine.

PALAESTRIO
Get away, it isn't likely what you say, nor did you see her.

SCELEDRUS
Do I, then, appear to you as if I were purblind?

PALAESTRIO
'Twere better for you to ask the doctor about that. But, indeed, if the Gods only love you, don't you rashly father this idle story. Now are you breeding thence a fatal dilemma for your legs and head; for, in two ways, the cause is contrived for you to be ruined, unless you put a check upon your foolish chattering.

SCELEDRUS
But how, two ways?

PALAESTRIO
I'll tell you. First then, if you falsely accuse Philocomasium, by that you are undone; in the next place, if it is true, having been appointed her keeper, there you are undone.

SCELEDRUS
What may happen to me, I know not; I know for certain that I did see this.

PALAESTRIO
Do you persist in it, unfortunate wretch?

SCELEDRUS
What would you have me say to you, but that I did see her?
Moreover, she is in there, next door, at this very moment.

PALAESTRIO

What! Isn't she at home?

SCELEDRUS

Go and see. Go in-doors yourself; for I don't ask now for any confidence to be put in me.

PALAESTRIO

I'm determined to do so.

SCELEDRUS

I'll wait here for you. PALAESTRIO goes into the CAPTAIN'S house. SCELEDRUS, alone.

SCELEDRUS

In this direction will I be on the watch for her, how soon the heifer may betake herself from the pasture this way towards her stall. What now shall I do? The Captain gave me to her as her keeper. Now, if I make a discovery, I'm undone; if I am silent, still I am undone, if this should be discovered. What is there more abandoned or more daring than a woman? While I was upon the tiles, this woman betook herself out of doors from her dwelling. By my troth, 'twas a brazen act she did. If, now, the Captain were to know of this, i' faith, I believe he would pull down the whole entire house next door, and me he would send to the gibbet.. Whatever comes of it, i' faith, I'll hold my tongue rather than come to a bad end. I cannot keep effectual guard on a woman that puts herself up for sale. Enter PALAESTRIO from the CAPTAIN's house.

PALAESTRIO

Sceledrus, Sceledrus, what one man is there on earth more impudent than yourself? Who more than yourself has been born with the Deities hostile and enraged?

SCELEDRUS

What's the matter?

PALAESTRIO

Do you want those eyes of yours gouged out, with which you see what never existed?

SCELEDRUS

How, what never existed?

PALAESTRIO

I would not buy your life at the price of a rotten nut.

SCELEDRUS

Why, what's the matter?

PALAESTRIO

What's the matter, do you ask?

SCELEDRUS

And why shouldn't I ask?

PALAESTRIO

Why don't you beg for that tongue of yours to be cut out, that prates so at random?

SCELEDRUS

Why should I beg for that?

PALAESTRIO

Why, Philocomasium is there at home, she whom you were saying that you had seen next door kissing and toying with another man.

SCELEDRUS

'Tis a wonder that you are in the habit of feeding on darnel, with wheat at so low a price.

PALAESTRIO

Why so?

SCELEDRUS

Because you are so dim of sight.

PALAESTRIO

You gallows-bird, 'tis you, indeed, that are blind, with a vengeance, and not dim of sight; for, sure enough, there she is at home.

SCELEDRUS

How? At home?

PALAESTRIO

At home, i' faith, undoubtedly.

SCELEDRUS

Be off with you; you are playing with me, Palaestrio

PALAESTRIO

My hands are dirty, then.

SCELEDRUS

How so?

PALAESTRIO

Because I am playing with dirt.

SCELEDRUS

A mischief on your head.

PALAESTRIO

Nay rather, Sceledrus, it shall be on yours, I promise you, unless you change for fresh your eyes and your talk. But our door made a noise.

SCELEDRUS

Well, I shall watch here out of doors, for there is no way by which she can pass hence in-doors, except through the front door.

PALAESTRIO

But there she is, at home. I don't know, Scledrus, what mischief is possessing you.

SCELEDRUS

I see for my own self, I judge for my own self, I have especial faith in my own self: no man shall frighten me out of it, but that she is in that house. Points to the house of PERIPLECOMENUS. Here I'll take my stand, that she may not steal out home without my knowledge.

PALAESTRIO

(aside) This fellow is in my hands; now will I drive him from his strong hold. (To SCLEDRUS) Do you wish me now to make you own that you don't see correctly?

SCELEDRUS

Come, do it then.

PALAESTRIO

And that you neither think aright in your mind, nor yet make use of your eyes?

SCELEDRUS

I'd have you do it.

PALAESTRIO

Do you say, then that the lady of your master is there in that house?

SCELEDRUS

I assert, as well, that I saw here here in this house (points to the house of PERIPLECOMENUS) , toying with a strange man.

PALAESTRIO

Don't you know that there is no communication between our house here and that one?

SCELEDRUS

I know it.

PALAESTRIO

Neither by the terrace, nor by the garden, only through the skylight?

SCELEDRUS

I know it.

PALAESTRIO

What then, if she is now at home? If I shall make her, so as you may see her, come out hence from our house, are you not deserving of many a lashing?

SCELEDRUS

I am so deserving.

PALAESTRIO

Watch that door, then, that she may not privily betake herself out thence without your knowledge and pass here into our house.

SCELEDRUS

'Tis my intention to do so.

PALAESTRIO

Upon her feet will I place her this moment here before you in the street.

SCELEDRUS

Come, then, and do so. PALAESTRIO goes into the CAPTAIN's house. SCELEDRUS, alone.

SCELEDRUS

I wish to know whether I did see that which I did see, or whether he can do that which he says he can do — make her to be at home. For, really, I have eyes of my own, and I don't ever ask to borrow them out of doors. But this fellow is forever fawning about her; he is always near her; he is called first to meat; his mess is given to him first. For this fellow has been, perhaps, about three years with us; nor fares it better with any other servant in our family than with him. But it is necessary for me to mind what I am about; to keep my eye upon this door. If I take my station here, this way, in faith, I warrant they will never impose on me.

Enter PALAESTRIO and PHILOCOMASium from the CAPTAIN's house.

PALAESTRIO

(speaking to her in a low voice as he enters) Be sure to remember my instructions.

PHILOCOMASium

(aside) It's strange you should so often remind me.

PALAESTRIO

(aside) But I fear you may not prove cunning enough.

PHILOCOMASium

(aside) Give me even ten scholars, though far from artful, I could instruct them so as to prove artful; in me alone is there a superabundance of artfulness; come, then, now put your plans in force; I'll step aside here. (Steps aside.)

PALAESTRIO

What have you to say, Scledrus?

SCELEDRUS

(not lifting up his eyes) I'm about this business of mine; I have got ears, say what you please.

PALAESTRIO

I think that in that self-same position you will have to die outside the gates, when, with hands outstretched, you will be carrying your cross.

SCELEDRUS

For what reason so?

PALAESTRIO

Just look on your left hand; who is that lady?

SCELEDRUS

looking . O ye immortal Gods, it really is the lady of my master!

PALAESTRIO

I' faith, so she seems to me as well. Do then, now, since so you would have it ——

SCELEDRUS

Do what?

PALAESTRIO

Die this very instant.

PHILOCOMASium

advancing . Where is this faithful servant, who has falsely accused me in my innocence of this most heinous crime?

PALAESTRIO

See, here he is; 'tis he that told it me, — assuredly 'twas he.

PHILOCOMASium

Villain, did you say that you had seen me next door here kissing?

PALAESTRIO

Besides, he said it was with some strange young man.

SCELEDRUS

I' faith, I did. say so, undoubtedly.

PHILOCOMASium

You, saw me?

SCELEDRUS

Yes, with these self-same eyes.

PHILOCOMASium

I fancy you will lose those eyes, which see more than what they really do see.

SCELEDRUS

By my faith, I shall never be intimidated from having seen what I really did see.

PHILOCOMASIUM

In my foolishness I am delaying too long in parleying with this madman, whom, by the powers, I'll punish with death.

SCELEDRUS

Forbear to threaten me: I know that the cross will prove my tomb; there are laid my forefathers, my father, grandfather, great-grandfather, great-great-grandfather. 'Tis not in possibility, however, for these eyes of mine to be dug out by your threats. But I want a few words with you; prithee, Palaestrio, whence came she hither?

PALAESTRIO

Whence but from our house?

SCELEDRUS

From our house?

PALAESTRIO

Do you credit me?

SCELEDRUS

I do credit you: but 'tis a thing to be wondered at, how she has been able to return from that house to ours. For, beyond a doubt, we have neither a terrace to our house, nor any garden, nor any window but what is latticed. To PHILOCOMASIUM. But, undoubtedly, I did see you in the house next door.

PALAESTRIO

Do you persist, you rascal, in pretending to accuse her?

PHILOCOMASIUM

In good sooth, then, the dream has not turned out untrue, that I dreamed last night.

PALAESTRIO

What did you dream?

PHILOCOMASIAM

I'll tell you; but, I pray you, give attention. Last night, in my sleep, my twin-sister seemed to have come from Athens to Ephesus with a certain person, her lover. Both of them seemed to me to be having their lodgings here next door.

PALAESTRIO

to the AUDIENCE . The dream that's being related is Palaestrio's — pray, go on.

PHILOCOMASIAM

I seemed to be delighted because my sister had come, and on her account I seemed to be incurring a most grievous suspicion. For, in my sleep, my own servant seemed to accuse me, as you are now doing, of being caressed by a strange young man, whereas it was that own twin-sister of mine, who had been toying with her own friend. Thus did I dream that I was wrongfully accused of a crime.

PALAESTRIO

And isn't just the same thing befalling you when awake, that you speak of as seen in your sleep? Capital; i' faith, the dream is verified: go in-doors, and pray. I should recommend that this be told to the Captain.

PHILOCOMASIAM

I am resolved to do so; nor, in fact, will I allow myself, with impunity, to be accused of disgraceful conduct. Goes into the CAPTAIN'S house.

SCELEDRUS

I fear for the thing I have done; my back does so tingle all over.

PALAESTRIO

Are you not aware that you are done for?

SCELEDRUS

Now, indeed, I'm sure she is at home; I am now resolved to watch our door, wheresoever she may be. Places himself at the door.

PALAESTRIO

But, prithee, Sceledrus, how very like the dream she dreamt to what has happened; and how you really did believe that you had seen her kissing. * * * * *

SCELEDRUS

And do you suppose that I didn't see her?

PALAESTRIO

I' faith, I verily believe you'll come to your senses when 'tis too late. If this matter should only reach our master, you certainly are undone.

SCELEDRUS

Now, at length, I find out that there was a mist placed before my eyes.

PALAESTRIO

I' faith, that really has been plain for some time now; as she was here in-doors all the while.

SCELEDRUS

Not a word of certainty have I to utter; I did not see her, although I did see her.

PALAESTRIO

By my troth, through this folly of yours you certainly have nearly ruined us; while you have wished to prove yourself faithful to your master, you have been almost undone. But the door of our next neighbour makes a noise; I'll be silent.

Enter PHILOCOMASIMUM, dressed in another habit, from the house of PERIPLECOMENUS.

PHILOCOMASIMUM

to a servant SERVANT. Put fire on the altar, that in my joy I may return praises and thanks to Diana of Ephesus, and that I may send up for her a grateful smoke with odours of Arabia: she who has preserved me in the realms of Neptune and amid the boisterous temples, where with raging billows I have been so recently dismayed.

SCELEDRUS

discovering her . Palaestrio! O Palaestrio!

PALAESTRIO

Sceledrus! O Sceledrus! What is it you want?

SCELEDRUS

This lady that has come out of that house just now — is she Philocomasium, our master's lady, or is she not?

PALAESTRIO

I' faith, I think, it seems to be she. But 'tis a wondrous thing how she could pass from our house to next door; if, indeed, it is she.

SCELEDRUS

And have you any doubt that this is she?

PALAESTRIO

It seems to be she.

SCELEDRUS

Let us approach her, and accost her. Hallo! how's this, Philocomasium? What is there owing to you in that house? What is your business there? Why are you silent now? I am speaking to you.

PALAESTRIO

No, faith, you are talking to yourself; for nothing at all does she answer.

SCELEDRUS

I am addressing you, woman, brimful of viciousness and disgrace, who are roaming about among your neighbours.

PHILOCOMASIUM

To whom are you talking?

SCELEDRUS

To whom but to yourself?

PHILOCOMASIUM

What person are you? Or what business have you with me?

SCELEDRUS

O, you ask me who I am, do you?

PHILOCOMASIUM

Why shouldn't I ask that which I don't know?

PALAESTRIO

Who am I, then, if you don't know him?

PHILOCOMASIUM

You are an annoyance to me, whoever you are, both you and he.

SCELEDRUS

What? don't you know us?

PHILOCOMASIUM

No, neither of you.

SCELEDRUS

I very much fear ——

PALAESTRIO

What do you fear?

SCELEDRUS

Why, that we have lost ourselves somewhere or other; for she says that she knows neither you nor me.

PALAESTRIO

I wish, Sceledrus, to examine into this, whether we are ourselves, or else some other persons; lest secretly somehow some one of our neighbours may have transformed us without our knowing it.

SCELEDRUS

For my part, beyond a doubt, I am my own self.

PALAESTRIO

I' faith, and so am I.

SCELEDRUS

My lady, you are seeking your destruction. To you I am speaking; hark you, Philocomasium!

PHILOCOMASIUM

What craziness possesses you, to be calling me wrongly by a crackjaw name?

SCELEDRUS

How now! What are you called, then?

PHILOCOMASIUM

My name is Glycera.

SCELEDRUS

For a bad purpose, Philocomasium, you wish to have a wrong name. Away with you, shocking woman; for most notably are you doing a wrong to my master.

PHILOCOMASIUM

I?

SCELEDRUS

Yes, you.

PHILOCOMASIUM

I, who arrived from Athens yesterday evening at Ephesus, with my lover, a young man of Athens?

SCELEDRUS

Tell me, what business have you here in Ephesus?

PHILOCOMASIUM

I had heard that my own twin-sister is here in Ephesus; I came here to look for her.

SCELEDRUS

You're a good-for-nothing woman.

PHILOCOMASIUM

Yes, i' faith, I am a very foolish one to be parleying with you fellows. I am going.

SCELEDRUS

I won't let you go. Catches hold of her.

PHILOCOMASIUM

Let me go.

SCELEDRUS

You are discovered in the fact. I won't let you go.

PHILOCOMASIUM

But my hands shall just now sound again against your cheek, if you don't let me go.

SCELEDRUS

to PALAESTRIO . Why the plague are you standing idle? Why don't you hold her on the other side?

PALAESTRIO

I don't choose to bring the business down upon my back. How do I know but that this is not Philocomasium, but is some other female that resembles her?

PHILOCOMASIUM

Will you let me go, or will you not let me go?

SCELEDRUS

No; by force and against your will, in spite of you, I'll drag you home, unless you'll go of your own accord.

PHILOCOMASIUM

pointing to the house of PERIPLECOMENUS . This is my lodging here abroad, at Athens is my home.

SCELEDRUS

But your master lives here pointing to the CAPTAIN'S house .

PHILOCOMASIUM

I have nothing to do with that house, nor do I know or understand yourselves what persons you are.

SCELEDRUS

Proceed against me at law. I'll never let you go, until you give me your solemn word that you will go indoors here pointing to the CAPTAIN'S house if I let go of you.

PHILOCOMASIUM

You are compelling me by force, whoever you are. I give you my word, that if you let go of me, I will go into that house where you bid me.

SCELEDRUS

Then, now I let go of you.

PHILOCOMASIUM

And, as I'm let go, I'll go in here. Runs into the house of PERIPLECOMENUS.

SCELEDRUS

She has acted with a woman's honour.

PALAESTRIO

Sceledrus, you've lost the prey through your hands; as sure as possible she is the lady of our master. Do you intend to act in this matter with spirit?

SCELEDRUS

How am I to act?

PALAESTRIO

Bring me a sword out here from in-doors.

SCELEDRUS

What will you do with it?

PALAESTRIO

I'll break right into the house; and whatever man I see in-doors there caressing Philocomasium, I'll behead him on the spot.

SCELEDRUS

And do you think that it was she?

PALAESTRIO

I' faith, it was she, sure enough.

SCELEDRUS

But how she did dissemble.

PALAESTRIO

Go, bring me a sword out here.

SCELEDRUS

I'll have it here this moment. Goes into the CAPTAIN'S house.

PALAESTRIO alone.

PALAESTRIO

Beyond a doubt, neither any horse nor foot has so great a degree of boldness in carrying out anything with as much confidence as some women. How cleverly and how skilfully she performed her part in both her characters! — how her wary keeper, my fellow-servant, is being gulled! 'Tis most fortunate that the passage communicates through the party-wall. Enter SCELEDRUS from the CAPTAIN'S house.

SCELEDRUS

Hallo! Palaestrio, there's no occasion for the sword.

PALAESTRIO

How so? — or what's the matter now?

SCELEDRUS

Our master's lady is there, at home.

PALAESTRIO

What? At home?

SCELEDRUS

She's lying on the sofa.

PALAESTRIO

Faith, but you've certainly brought on yourself a disagreeable affair, according to what you report.

SCELEDRUS

How so?

PALAESTRIO

Inasmuch as you have dared to touch that lady next door here.

SCELEDRUS

I' faith, I fear it much. But no one shall ever make her to be any other than her own twin-sister.

PALAESTRIO

'Twas she, in troth, that you saw toying: and, in fact, 'tis plain that it is she, as you remark.

SCELEDRUS

What was there more likely than that I should have been undone, if I had spoken of it to my master.

PALAESTRIO

Then, if you're wise, you'll hold your tongue. It befits a servant to know of more than he speaks. I'm going to leave you, that I may not at all participate in your designs. And I shall go to our neighbour here; these turmoils of yours don't please me. My master, if he comes, should he inquire for me, I shall be there; send for me next door. Goes into the house of PERIPLECOMENUS.

SCLEDRUS, alone.

SCELEDRUS

Well, he's off; nor cares he any more for his master's business than if he were not in his service. For sure she really is now here in-doors in the house, for I myself found her just now lying down in our house. I am resolved now to employ myself in watching. Places himself against the CAPTAIN'S door. Enter PERIPLECOMENUS from his house.

PERIPLECOMENUS

Faith, but these men here, these servants of my neighbour the Captain, take me not to be a man, but a woman, so much do they trifle with me. My lady guest, who came here yesterday from Athens with the gentleman, my guest, is she to be mauled about and made fun of here in the street — a lady, free-born and free?

SCELEDRUS

aside . By my troth, I'm undone. He's coming in a straight line up towards me. I fear that this matter may cause me great trouble, so far as I have heard this old gentleman speak.

PERIPLECOMENUS

I'll up to this fellow. Was it you, Sceledrus, source of mischief, that were just now making fun of my lady guest before the house?

SCELEDRUS

Good neighbour, listen, I beg.

PERIPLECOMENUS

I, listen to you?

SCELEDRUS

I wish to clear myself.

PERIPLECOMENUS

You, clear yourself to me, who have done an action so gross and so unbecoming? And because you are soldiers, do you suppose, you gallows-bird, that you may do what you like with us?

SCELEDRUS

May I —— ?

PERIPLECOMENUS

But so may all the Gods and Goddesses prosper me, if a punishment with the rod is not given to you at my request, a long and lasting one, from morning to evening; because you have been breaking my gutters and my tiles, while you were following there a monkey like your own self; because, too, you have been peeping down from there at my guest in my house, when he was caressing and fondling his mistress; besides, you have dared to accuse the chaste lady of your master of criminality, and myself of a heinous offence; and further, because you have dared to maul about my lady guest before my house. If the punishment of the whip is not given to you, I will cause your master to be more laden with disgrace than the sea is full of waves in a heavy storm.

SCELEDRUS

I am driven to such straits, Periplecomenus, that I don't know whether it is fitter for me rather to dispute this matter with you, or whether, if she is not our lady, and if our lady was not seen by me, it seems more proper for me to excuse myself to you; as even now I don't know which I saw, so like is that guest of yours to our lady — if, indeed, she is not the same person.

PERIPLECOMENUS

Go into my house and look: you'll soon see.

SCELEDRUS

May I go?

PERIPLECOMENUS

Why, I command you; go and examine at your leisure.

SCELEDRUS

I am determined to do so. Goes into the house of PERIPLECOMENUS.

PERIPLECOMENUS

probably looking up to a window in the CAPTAIN'S house . Ho! Philocomasium! pass instantly, with all speed, into my house; 'tis absolutely necessary. Afterwards, when Sceledrus shall have come out from my house, pass quickly, with all haste, back again to your own house. By my troth, now, I'm afraid she'll be making some blunder. Should he not see the woman * * * * My door opens. Enter SCELEDRUS from the house of PERIPLECOMENUS.

SCELEDRUS

O ye immortal Gods! A woman more like, and more the same, who is not the same, I do not think the Gods could make.

PERIPLECOMENUS

What now?

SCELEDRUS

I certainly merit chastisement.

PERIPLECOMENUS

What then? Is it she?

SCELEDRUS

Although 'tis she, 'tis not she.

PERIPLECOMENUS

Have you seen this lady?

SCELEDRUS

I have seen both her and the gentleman, your guest, caressing and kissing.

PERIPLECOMENUS

Is it she?

SCELEDRUS

I know not.

PERIPLECOMENUS

Would you know for certain?

SCELEDRUS

I should like to.

PERIPLECOMENUS

Go you this instant into your own house: see whether your lady is within.

SCELEDRUS

Very well: you've advised me rightly. I'll be out again to you this instant. Goes into the CAPTAIN'S house.

PERIPLECOMENUS

I' faith, I never saw any man more cleverly fooled, and by more singular devices. But here he is coming. Enter SCELEDRUS from the CAPTAIN'S house.

SCELEDRUS

Periplectomenus, by Gods and men, and by my own folly, and by your knees! I do beseech you ——

PERIPLECOMENUS

What now?

SCELEDRUS

Pardon my ignorance and my folly; now, at length, I know that I am half-witted, blind, and thoughtless; for, behold! Philocomasium is at home.

PERIPLECOMENUS

How, then, hang-dog. Have you seen them both?

SCELEDRUS

I have seen them.

PERIPLECOMENUS

I wish you to bring your master to me.

SCELEDRUS

Indeed, I confess that I deserve a very great punishment; and I own that I have done a wrong to your lady guest. But I thought that she was the lady of my master, to whom the Captain, my master, gave me as a keeper; for it is not possible for water ever to be drawn more like to water from the same well, than is she to this lady guest of yours. And I will confess, as well, that I did look through the skylight into your house.

PERIPLECOMENUS

Why shouldn't you confess what I saw myself?

SCELEDRUS

And there saw in your house this lady guest of yours, kissing.

PERIPLECOMENUS

You saw her?

SCELEDRUS

I saw her. Why should I deny what I did see? But I fancied that I had seen Philocomasium.

PERIPLECOMENUS

And did you suppose me to be the very vilest of all men, in allowing, with my own knowledge, such an injury so glaringly to be done to my neighbour?

SCELEDRUS

Now, at length, I am of opinion that it was done foolishly by me, when I come to understand the matter; but still I did not do it with any ill intent.

PERIPLECOMENUS

Yes, but 'twas improperly done; for it befits a person that is a servant to keep his eyes, and hands, and talk, asleep.

SCELEDRUS

Now, if after this day I mutter anything, even what I know for certain, give me over to torture; I'll give myself up to you. This time, prithee, do pardon me for this.

PERIPLECOMENUS

I shall subdue my feelings, so as to think that it was not done by you with malicious intent. I will pardon you in this matter.

SCELEDRUS

May the Gods bless you, then!

PERIPLECOMENUS

Troth now, as the Gods may prosper you, really do restrain your tongue henceforth; even that which you do know, don't know, and don't you see what you do see.

SCELEDRUS

You counsel me aright; so I'm resolved to do. Are you quite appeased?

PERIPLECOMENUS

Away with you.

SCELEDRUS

Is there aught else you now require of me?

PERIPLECOMENUS

That you would know me not. Makes as if he is departing.

SCELEDRUS

aside . He has been cajoling me. How kindly he vouchsafed his favour not to be angry. I know what plan he is upon: that directly the Captain returns home from the Forum, I may be caught at home. He and Palaestrio together have me in their power: I have perceived that, and for some time I've known it. I' faith, never will I be seeking a bait this day from out of that wicker-net. For now somewhither will I betake myself, and for some days will I lie concealed until this turmoil is hushed and their resentment is softened. Enough punishment for my unlucky prating have I already merited. But still, whatever befalls me I'll be off hence home. Goes into the CAPTAIN'S house. PERIPLECOMENUS, alone.

PERIPLECOMENUS

So he has departed hence. I' faith, I know right well, that a dead pig full oft has more relish by far than a living one: so bamboozled has he been, that he did not see what he really did see. For his eyes, and ears, and thoughts have come over to us. So far, 'tis right cleverly managed; the lady has played her part most excellently. I'll go back again to my Senate; for Palaestrio is now at home in my house, and now Sceledrus is gone from the door. A full Senate can now be held. I'll go in; lest while I am absent, there should be a distribution of their parts among them. Goes into his house.

ACT III.

Enter PALAESTRIO from the house of PERIPLECOMENUS.

PALAESTRIO

on entering he calls to PLEUSICLES and PERIPLECOMENUS, who are in the house of the latter . Keep yourselves within doors, yet a moment, Pleusicles. Let me first look out, that there may be no ambush anywhere, against that council which we intend to hold. For now we have need of a safe place from which no enemy can win the spoils of our counsels. For a well-devised plan is very often filched away, if the place for deliberating has not been chosen with care or with caution; and what is well-advised is ill-advised if it proves of use to the enemy; and if it proves of use to the enemy, it cannot otherwise than prove a detriment to yourself. For if the enemy learn your plans, by your own self-same plans they tie your tongue and bind your hands; and they do the very same to you that you intended to do to them. But I'll spy about, lest any one, either in this direction on the left or on the right, should come like a huntsman on our counsels with his ears like toils. Looks about. Quite vacant is the prospect hence right to the bottom of the street. I'll call them out. Hallo! Periplecomenus and Pleusicles, come out! Enter PERIPLECOMENUS and PLEUSICLES from the house of the former.

PERIPLECOMENUS

Behold us here obedient to your call.

PALAESTRIO

The sway is easy over the good. But I wish to know, if we are to carry out the matter on the same plan that we formed within?

PERIPLECOMENUS

Why, in fact there's nothing can be more conducive to our purpose. Well, what say you, Pleusicles?

PLEUSICLES

Can that displease me which pleases yourselves? What person is there more my friend than your own self?

PERIPLECOMENUS

You speak kindly and obligingly.

PALAESTRIO

Faith, and so he ought to do.

PLEUSICLES

But this affair shockingly distresses me, and torments my very heart and body.

PERIPLECOMENUS

What is it that torments you? Tell me.

PLEUSICLES

That I should cause childish actions in a person of your years, and that I should require of you deeds that neither become yourself nor your virtues; and that, with all your might, for my sake you are striving to aid me in my passion, and are doing actions of such a kind, as, when done, these years of yours are wont rather to avoid than follow. I am ashamed that I cause you this trouble in your old age.

PERIPLECOMENUS

You are a person in love after a new fashion. If, in fact, you are ashamed of anything you do, you are nothing of a lover. You are rather the shadow of those who are in love, than a true lover, Pleusicles.

PLEUSICLES

Ought I to employ these years of yours in seconding my love?

PERIPLECOMENUS

How say you? Do I seem to you so very much a subject for Acheron? So much a bier's-man? Do I seem to you to have had so very long a life? Why, really, I am not more than four-and-fifty years old; I see clearly with my eyes, I'm ready with my hands, I'm active with my feet.

PALAESTRIO

If he is seen by you to have white hair, he is by no means an old man in mind; in him the natural strength of his mind is unimpaired.

PLEUSICLES

By my troth, for my part, I have found it to be so as you say, Palaestrio; for, in fact, his kindness is quite that of a young man.

PERIPLECOMENUS

Yes, my guest, the more you make trial of it, the more you will know my courtesy towards you in your love.

PLEUSICLES

What need to know what's known already?

PERIPLECOMENUS

I'll show you more amiability on my part than I'll make mention of * * * * * that you may have instances for proving it at home, and not have to seek it out of doors. For unless one has loved himself, with difficulty he sees into the feelings of one in love. But I have some little love and moisture in my body still, and not yet am I dried up for the pursuits of merriment and pleasure. Either the merry banterer likewise, or the agreeable boon-companion will I be; no interrupter of another am I at a feast. I bear in mind how properly to keep myself from proving disagreeable to my fellow-guests; and how to take a due share with my conversation, and to be silent as well in my turn, when the discourse belongs to another. Far from being a spitter or hawker am I, far from being a dirty-nosed old fellow, too. And never do I take liberties with any person's mistress when out in company; I don't snatch up the dainty bits before another, nor take the cup before my turn; nor, through wine, do dissensions ever arise on my account at the convivial board. If there is any one there that is disagreeable, I go off home; I cut the parley short. Stretched at my ease, I devote myself to pleasure, love, and mirth. In fine, at Ephesus was I born, not among the Apulians, not at Animula.

PLEUSICLES

O what a most delightful old man, if he possesses the qualities he mentions! Why, troth, surely now, he was brought up in the very rearing of Venus.

PALAESTRIO

Why, in fact, you will not find another person who is of his years, more accomplished in every respect, or who is more a friend to his friend.

PLEUSICLES

By my troth, your whole manners really do show marks of first-rate breeding. Find me three men of such manners against a like weight in double-distilled gold.

PERIPLECOMENUS

I'll make you confess that I really am a youngster in my manners; so abounding in kindnesses will I prove myself to you in every respect. Should you have need of an advocate, severe or fierce? I am he. Have you need of one that is gentle? You shall say that I am more gentle than the sea is when hush'd, and something more balmy will I prove than is the Zephyr breeze. In this same person will I display to you either the most jovial boon-companion, or the first-rate trencher-man, and the best of caterers. Then, as for dancing, there is no ballet-master that is so supple as I.

PALAESTRIO

to PLEUSICLES. What could you wish added to these accomplishments, if the option were given you?

PLEUSICLES

That thanks could be returned by me to him in degree equal to his deserts, and to yourself, to both of whom I feel that I am now the cause of extreme anxiety. But it is grievous to me to be the cause of so great expense to you.

PERIPLECOMENUS

You are a simpleton. For, if you lay anything out on a bad wife and upon an enemy, that is an expense; that which is laid out on a deserving guest and a friend is gain; as that, which is expended upon sacred rites, is a profit to the wise man. By the blessing of the Gods, I have enough, with which to receive you with hospitality in my house. Eat, drink, indulge your tastes with me, and surfeit yourself with enjoyments; my house is at your service, myself likewise do I wish to be at your service. For, through the blessing of the Gods, I may say that, by reason of my wealth, I could have married a dowered wife of the best family; but I don't choose to introduce an everlasting female barker at me into my house.

PLEUSICLES

Why don't you choose? For 'tis a delightful thing to be the father of children [liberos].

PERIPLECOMENUS

Troth, 'tis very much sweeter by far to be free [liberum] yourself. For a good wife, if it is possible for her to be married anywhere on earth, where can I find her? But am I to take one home who is never to say this to me, "Buy me some wool, my dear, with which a soft and warm cloak may be made, and good winter under-clothes, that you mayn't catch cold this winter-weather;" such an expression as this you can never hear from a wife, but, before the cocks crow, she awakes me from my sleep, and says, "Give me some money, my dear, with which to make my mother a present on the Calends, give me some money to make preserves; give me something to give on the Quinquatrus to the sorceress, to the woman who interprets the dreams, to the prophetess, and to the female diviner; besides, 'tis impossible for me, in civility, not to fee the expiating woman; for long has the mattress-maker been grumbling, because she has received nothing; besides, the midwife found fault with me, that too little had been sent for her. What! arn't you going to send something to the nurse that brings up the young slaves? It's a shame if nothing's sent her; with what a brow she does look at me." These and many other expenses of the women like to these frighten me from a wife, to be uttering speeches to me like to this.

PALAESTRIO

In good sooth, the Gods are propitious to you; for so soon as you lose this liberty, you will not easily reinstate yourself in the same condition.

PLEUSICLES

You are a person who are able to counsel wisely both for another and for yourself. But 'tis some merit for a man of noble family and of ample wealth to rear children — a memorial of his race and of himself.

PERIPLECOMENUS

Since I have many relations, what need have I of children? Now I live well and happily, and as I like, and as contents my feelings. For I shall bequeath my property to my relations, and divide it among them. These, like children, pay attentions to me; they come to see how I do, or what I want; before it is daybreak they are with me; they make inquiry how I have enjoyed my sleep in the night. Them will I have for children who are ever sending presents to me. Are they sacrificing — they give a greater part of it to me than to themselves; they take me home with them to share the entrails; they invite me to their houses to breakfast and to dinner. He thinks himself most unfortunate, who has sent but very little to me. They vie with one another with their presents; I say in a low voice to myself: "They are gaping after my property; while, in their emulation, they are nourishing me and loading me with presents."

PALAESTRIO

Upon right good grounds and right well do you fully understand yourself and your own interests, and if you are happy, sons twofold and threefold have you.

PERIPLECOMENUS

Troth, if I had had them, enough anxiety should I have had from my children. * * * * * I should have been everlastingly tormented in mind; but if perchance one had had a fever, I think I should have died. Or if one, in liquor, had tumbled anywhere from his horse, I should have been afraid that he had broken his legs or neck on that occasion.

PALAESTRIO

'Tis right that riches should come, and that long life should be granted to this man, who both husbands his property and yet enjoys himself and has kind wishes for his friends.

PLEUSICLES

O what a delightful person! So may the Gods and Goddesses prosper me, 'twere right the Deities should so ordain that all should not live after one rule as to the duration of life. Just as he who is a trusty market-officer sets their prices on the wares; as that which is good or valuable is sold according to its excellence, and that which is worthless, according to the faultiness of the commodity, deprives its owner of its price; so were it right that the Gods should. portion out the life of man, so as to give to him who is kindly disposed a long life, and speedily to deprive of existence those who are reprobate and wicked. If they had provided this, bad men would both have been fewer, and with less hardihood would they do their wicked deeds; and then, those who were good men, of them there would have been a more plenteous harvest.

PERIPLECOMENUS

He who would blame the ordinances of the Gods must be foolish and ignorant. * * * At present we must at once have an end of these matters; for new I want to go to market, that, my guest, according to your own deserts and mine, I may entertain you hospitably at my house, heartily and with right hearty cheer.

PLEUSICLES

I am content with the expense that I have been to you already. For no guest can be thus hospitably entertained by a friend, but that when he has been there three days running, he must now become a bore; but when he is prolonging his stay for ten successive days, he is a nuisance to the household. Although the master willingly allows it, the servants grumble.

PERIPLECOMENUS

I have trained up the servants that are in my service, my guest, not to rule over me, or for me to be obedient to them. If that is disagreeable to them which is agreeable to me, I steer my own course; that which they don't like must still be done at their peril, and whether they like it or no. Now, as I intended, I shall go to market.

PLEUSICLES

If you are resolved, do cater somewhat within bounds, at no great expense; anything is enough for me.

PERIPLECOMENUS

Won't you now have done with that old-fashioned and antiquated talk? Now surely, guest, you are using the cant of the vulgar. For they are in the habit of saying, when they have taken their places, when dinner is put on table: "What necessity was there for you to go to this great expense on our account? Surely you were mad, for this same dinner was enough for ten persons." What has been provided on their account they find fault with; they eat it up, however.

PALAESTRIO

Troth, in that self-same fashion 'tis generally done. How clever and shrewd is his discernment.

PERIPLECOMENUS

But these same persons never say, although such an abundance has been provided, "Do order that to be taken off; do take away this dish; remove this gammon of bacon, I'll have none of it; put aside that piece of pork; this conger's good when cold; remove it, take and put it aside." You hear none of them saying this in earnest, but they stretch themselves out, while with half their bodies on the table, they are indulging their appetite.

PALAESTRIO

How cleverly the good soul has described their bad manners.

PERIPLECOMENUS

I have not said a hundredth part of what I could have enlarged upon had there been leisure for the matter.

PALAESTRIO

The business, then, that we are about — to that we ought first to turn our thoughts. Do you both, now, give me your attention. I have need, Periplecomenus, of your assistance; for I have hit upon a pleasant trick, how this Captain with his long locks may be fleeced quite close, and how we may effect a means for Philocomasium, and this her lover, that he may carry her off hence, and have her as his own.

PERIPLECOMENUS

I wish this plan to be imparted to me.

PALAESTRIO

And I, wish that ring of yours to be imparted to me.

PERIPLECOMENUS

For what purpose is it to be used?

PALAESTRIO

When I have got it, I will impart the plan of my devices.

PERIPLECOMENUS

Take and use it. (Gives him the ring.)

PALAESTRIO

Take from me in return the plan of my contrivance that I have hit upon.

PERIPLECOMENUS

We are listening to you with most attentive ear.

PALAESTRIO

My master is such a shocking rake among the women, that I think no one ever was his equal, nor ever will be.

PERIPLECOMENUS

I believe the same as well.

PALAESTRIO

He boasts, too, that his beauty exceeds that of Alexander; and, therefore, he says that all the women in Ephesus of their own accord are courting him.

PERIPLECOMENUS

Aye, faith, many there are who could wish that you were now telling an untruth about him. But I am convinced full well that it is as you say. For that reason, Palaestrio, do compress your words in as short a compass as ever you possibly can.

PALAESTRIO

Can you, then, find any woman of agreeable person, whose mind and body are full of merriment and subtlety?

PERIPLECOMENUS

Free by birth, or bondwoman made free?

PALAESTRIO

I consider that a matter of indifference, so that you find one who is greedy for gain, who supports her body by her charms, who has, too, her senses all awake; as for her heart, that cannot be so, as none of them have one.

PERIPLECOMENUS

Do you want one that has taken her degrees, or one as yet a novice in the art?

PALAESTRIO

One sober but plump, a juicy bit; as taking a one as ever you can find, and one very young.

PERIPLECOMENUS

Why, I have one, a dependant of mine, a courtesan, a very young woman. But what is the occasion for her?

PALAESTRIO

For you to bring her home at once to your house as your wife, and, for that reason, to bring her there dressed out, so that she may wear her locks with her hair arranged, and fillets after the fashion of matrons, and may pretend that she is your wife; so you must instruct her.

PERIPLECOMENUS

I am at a loss what road you are taking.

PALAESTRIO

Well, you shall know. But what sort of a maid has she?

PERIPLECOMENUS

She is a rare clever one.

PALAESTRIO

We have need of her as well; so give your instructions to the damsel and her maid, to pretend that she is your wife and is doting upon this Captain; and as though she had given this ring to her maid, then she to me, that I might deliver it to the Captain; and I must be as though it were a go-between in this matter.

PERIPLECOMENUS

I hear you; don't stun my ears as if I were deaf.

PALAESTRIO

I myself will go straightway to him; I'll say that it has been brought and delivered to me from your wife, in order that I might introduce her to him. He'll be distractedly longing for her at home, a scoundrel that cares for nothing else whatever but intriguing.

PERIPLECOMENUS

If you had commissioned the Sun himself to search them out, he couldn't have found, better than myself, two more cleverly suited for this business. Be of good courage about it.

PALAESTRIO

Take you every care then. There is need of despatch. (Exit PERIPLECOMENUS.)

PALAESTRIO

Now, do you listen, Pleusicles.

PLEUSICLES

I am all attention to you.

PALAESTRIO

Take care of this. When the Captain comes home, do you remember not to call Philocomasium by her name.

PLEUSICLES

What am I to call her?

PALAESTRIO

Glycera.

PLEUSICLES

The same, you mean, that was agreed upon a little time since.

PALAESTRIO

Hush! — Be off.

PLEUSICLES

I'll remember; but still I don't know what use it is to keep it in my mind.

PALAESTRIO

But I will tell you, at the time, when occasion shall require. Meanwhile, be quiet; so that, bye and bye, when he too shall be acting his part, you may, on the instant, be minding your cue.

PLEUSICLES

I'll go in then.

PALAESTRIO

Go, and do take care steadily to follow my instructions.
PLEUSICLES goes into the house of PERIPLECOMENUS.

PALAESTRIO

What mighty turmoils I create! What mighty engines I do set to work! This very day I shall take his mistress away from the Captain, if my soldiers are only well drilled. But I'll call him out. Goes to the door and calls. Hallo! Sceledrus, if you are not busy, come out to the front of the house; I, Palaestrio, call you. Enter LUCRIO from the CAPTAIN's house.

LUCRIO

Sceledrus is not at leisure.

PALAESTRIO

Why so?

LUCRIO

He's fast asleep, gulping.

PALAESTRIO

How, gulping?

LUCRIO

He's snoring, 'twas that I meant to say: but, because 'tis very like gulping when you are snoring —— * * * * *

PALAESTRIO

What ! Is Sceledrus asleep in-doors?

LUCRIO

Not with his nose, in fact; for with that he is calling out loud enough.

PALAESTRIO

He has taken a cup by stealth; the butler has lately tapped a cask of nardine. Oho! you rascal, you are his deputy-butler. Oho!

LUCRIO

What do you mean?

PALAESTRIO

How has he thought fit to go to sleep?

LUCRIO

With his eyes, I suppose.

PALAESTRIO

I don't ask you that, you vagabond. Step this way: you're undone now, unless I know the truth. Did you draw the wine for him?

LUCRIO

I did not draw it.

PALAESTRIO

Do you deny it?

LUCRIO

I' faith, I do deny it undoubtedly; for he charged me not to tell. I really didn't just draw for him eight half pints into a pitcher, and, when drawn, he didn't just drink it hot, at his breakfast.

PALAESTRIO

And you didn't just drink as well?

LUCRIO

The Gods confound me if I did drink — if I could drink.

PALAESTRIO

Why so?

LUCRIO

Because, in fact, I only sipped; for it was too hot; it burnt my throat.

PALAESTRIO

Some are gloriously drunk, while others are drinking vinegar-water. The cellar's trusted to an honest butler, as well as under-butler.

LUCRIO

I' faith, you'd be doing the same, if it was entrusted to you. Since you can't follow our example, you are envious now.

PALAESTRIO

Come, now, did he ever draw any wine before this? Answer me, you rascal. And, that you may understand it, I give you this notice: if you purposely tell me an untruth, you shall be put to the torture.

LUCRIO

Indeed so? That you may inform, forsooth, that I told you; and then I shall be turned out of my fattening post in the cellar, that you may find another under-butler to draw for your own self.

PALAESTRIO

On my honour, I will not; come, speak out boldly to me.

LUCRIO

By my troth, I never saw him draw any. But thus was it; he requested me, and then I drew it.

PALAESTRIO

Think of that now! very frequently, I guess, the casks were standing on their heads there.

LUCRIO

No, faith, the casks would not have stood so very badly there. But there happened to be in the cellar a bit of a slippery spot; a two-pint pot was placed there, near the casks, in this fashion shows the way . Frequently, that was filled ten times in a day. When the pot acted the reveller, the casks were all tottering.

PALAESTRIO

Get you gone in-doors. Both of you, I find, are acting the revellers in the wine-cellar. I' faith, I shall fetch my master home just now from the Forum.

LUCRIO

aside . I'm ruined. My master, when he comes home, will have me tortured, when he knows of these doings. I' faith, I'll fly somewhither, and put off this punishment to another day. To the AUDIENCE. Don't you tell him, I do entreat you most earnestly. He is going.

PALAESTRIO

Whither are you betaking yourself?

LUCRIO

I am sent elsewhere: I'll come back here just now.

PALAESTRIO

Who has sent you?

LUCRIO

Philocomasium.

PALAESTRIO

Go; be back directly.

LUCRIO

If it is divided, prithee do you only take my share of the punishment while I'm away. (Exit LUCRIO.) PALAESTRIO, alone.

PALAESTRIO

So — I understand what scheme the lady is upon. Because Sceledrus is asleep, she has sent her under-keeper away out of doors, whilst she may pass from our house to next door. That's all right. Looks down the street. But Periplecomenus is bringing here a woman of very comely appearance, her, for whom I commissioned him. By my faith, the Gods are helping us in this matter. How becomingly drest she struts along, not like a Courtesan. This business is prospering charmingly in our hands. Stands aside.

Enter PERIPLECOMENUS, with ACROTELEUTIUM and MILPHIDIPPA.

PERIPLECOMENUS

as he advances . I have explained the whole affair, Acroteleutium, to you, and, Milphidippa, to you as well. If you don't well understand this device and plan, I wish you to hear it all over again. If you comprehend it aright, there is something else that we may speak of in preference.

ACROTELEUTIUM

I' faith, it would be folly, and ignorance, and foolishness, for me to engage in the service of another, or to promise you my assistance, if, in its fabrication, I did not know how to be either mischievous or clever at deceiving.

PERIPLECOMENUS

But, 'tis better for you to be instructed.

ACROTELEUTIUM

Really I don't understand of what great use it is for a Courtesan to be instructed. How now! have I told you all in vain, after my ears had drunk in the draughts of your discourse, in what fashion it was possible for the Captain to be cajoled?

PERIPLECOMENUS

But no one, unaided, is sufficiently perfect; for full oft have I seen many a person lose the road to good advice before they had found it.

ACROTELEUTIUM

If a woman has anything to do mischievously and maliciously, in that case her memory is immortal at remembering it for everlasting; but if anything is to be done for a good purpose, or honestly, it will fall out that those same women will become oblivious that instant, and be unable to remember.

PERIPLECOMENUS

Therefore do I fear that same, because both those things happen to be about to be done by us; for that will be a benefit to me in which you both will be acting mischievously towards the Captain.

ACROTELEUTIUM

So long as we do anything that's good, not knowing it, don't you fear. No woman is awkward * * * * * Have no apprehensions, they are ready for the worst.

PERIPLECOMENUS

So it befits you. Do you follow me.

PALAESTRIO

advancing . Why do I hesitate to go and accost them?

PERIPLECOMENUS

Well met, and opportunely, Palaestrio. See, here they are whom you commissioned me to bring, and in the very dress.

PALAESTRIO

Well done: accept my thanks. I am glad that you have come safe. I' faith, you bring them nicely dressed Palaestrio salutes Acroteleutium.

ACROTELEUTIUM

Prithee, who's this, that calls me so familiarly by name?

PERIPLECOMENUS

This is our master-plotter.

ACROTELEUTIUM

Health to you, master-plotter.

PALAESTRIO

And health to you. But, tell me, has he any way given you full instructions?

PERIPLECOMENUS

I bring them both thoroughly prepared.

PALAESTRIO

I'd like to hear how. I'm afraid lest you should be making some mistake.

PERIPLECOMENUS

I have added to your instructions nothing new of my own.

ACROTELEUTIUM

I suppose you wish the Captain, your master, to be gulled.

PALAESTRIO

You've said what's true.

ACROTELEUTIUM

Cleverly and skilfully, adroitly and pleasantly, the whole thing is planned.

PALAESTRIO

In fact, I wish you to pretend to be his wife. Points to PERIPLECOMENUS.

ACROTELEUTIUM

That shall be done.

PALAESTRIO

To pretend as though you had set your affection on the Captain.

ACROTELEUTIUM

And so it shall be.

PALAESTRIO

And as though this affair is managed through me, as the go-between, and your servant-maid.

ACROTELEUTIUM

You might have made a good prophet; for you tell what is to be.

PALAESTRIO

As though this maid of yours had conveyed from you this ring to me, which I was then to deliver to the Captain, in your name.

ACROTELEUTIUM

You say what's true.

PERIPLECOMENUS

What need is there to mention these things now, which they remember so well?

ACROTELEUTIUM

Still, it is better. For think of this, my patron; when the shipwright is skilful, if he has once laid down the keel exact to its lines, 'tis easy to build the ship, when * * * * Now this keel of ours has been skilfully laid and firmly placed; the workmen and the master-builders are not unskilled in this business. If he who furnishes the timber does not retard us in giving what is needed, I know the adroitness of our ingenuity — soon will the ship be got ready.

PALAESTRIO

You know the Captain, my master, then?

ACROTELEUTIUM

'Tis strange you should ask me. How could I not know that scorn of the public, that swaggering, frizzle-headed, perfumed debauchee?

PALAESTRIO

But does he know you?

ACROTELEUTIUM

He never saw me: how, then, should he know who I am?

PALAESTRIO

'Tis most excellent what you say. For that reason, i' faith, the thing will be able to be managed all the more cleverly.

ACROTELEUTIUM

Can you only find me the man, and then be easy as to the rest? If I don't make a fool of the fellow, do you lay all the blame on me.

PALAESTRIO

Well, go you in then; apply yourselves to this business with all your skill.

ACROTELEUTIUM

Trust me for that.

PALAESTRIO

Come, Periplectomenus, do you conduct them at once in-doors. I'm off to the Forum; I'll meet him, and give him this ring, and will tell him that it has been delivered to me from your wife, and that she is dying for him. As soon as we shall have come from the Forum, do you send her (points to MILPHIDIPPA) to our house as though she were privately sent to him.

PERIPLECOMENUS

We'll do so; trust us for that.

PALAESTRIO

Do you only attend to the business; I'll now polish him off with a pretty burden on his back. (Exit.)

PERIPLECOMENUS

Go, with good luck to you, manage the matter cleverly. To ACROTELEUTIUM. But now, if I shall manage this adroitly, that my guest can this day gain the mistress of the Captain, and carry her off hence to Athens; if, I say, this day we shall succeed in this plan, what shall I give you for a present?

ACROTELEUTIUM

* * * * * If now the lady seconds our efforts on her part, I think it will be right cleverly and adroitly managed. When a comparison shall be made of our artifices, I have no fear that I shall not prove superior in the cleverness of my contrivances.

PERIPLECOMENUS

Let's go in-doors, then, that we may deeply weigh these plans, that carefully and cautiously we may carry out what is to be done, so that, when the Captain comes, there may be no tripping.

ACROTELEUTIUM

You are delaying us with your talk. They go into the house of
PERIPLECOMENUS.

ACT IV.

Enter PYRGOPOLINICES and PALAESTRIO.

PYRGOPOLINICES

'Tis a pleasure what you do, if it succeeds agreeably and to your mind. For I this day have sent my Parasite to King Seleucus, to lead those soldiers, that I have levied, hence to Seleucus; in order that they may defend his kingdom till I have leisure to attend in person.

PALAESTRIO

Why don't you attend to your own concerns rather than those of Seleucus. What a charming new proposal is being offered to you through me as the negotiator.

PYRGOPOLINICES

Well then, I lay all other things aside, and I give my attention to you. Speak out: my ears, in fact, I surrender at your disposal.

PALAESTRIO

Look around, then, that no one here may be an eavesdropper for our discourse; for this business was entrusted me to transact with you in private.

PYRGOPOLINICES

(looks around). There's no one near.

PALAESTRIO

In the first place, receive from me this pledge of affection. Gives him the ring.

PYRGOPOLINICES

What's this? Whence comes it?

PALAESTRIO

From a charming and a handsome lady, one who loves you, and dotes upon your extreme beauty. Her maid just now gave me the ring that I might then give it to you.

PYRGOPOLINICES

What? Is she free born or a freed woman, made free from a slave by the Praetor's rod?

PALAESTRIO

Pshaw! Should I presume to be the bearer of a message to you from a person once a slave, who cannot sufficiently answer the demands of the free women who are longing for you?

PYRGOPOLINICES

Is she wife, or is she widow?

PALAESTRIO

She is both wife and widow.

PYRGOPOLINICES

In what way is it possible for the same woman to be a wife and a widow?

PALAESTRIO

Because she is a young woman married to an old man.

PYRGOPOLINICES

That's good.

PALAESTRIO

She is of genteel and charming person.

PYRGOPOLINICES

Beware of misrepresenting.

PALAESTRIO

It is alone worthy to be compared with your own charms.

PYRGOPOLINICES

By my faith, you make her out to be a beauty. But who is she?

PALAESTRIO

The wife of that old gentleman, Periplecomenus, next door. She is dying for you, and wishes to leave him; she hates the old fellow. Now she has begged me to entreat and beseech you that you will give her your support and assistance.

PYRGOPOLINICES

I' faith, I'm ready for my part if she desires it.

PALAESTRIO

Doesn't she long for it?

PYRGOPOLINICES

What shall we do with that mistress of mine, who is at my house?

PALAESTRIO

Why, do you bid her to be gone about her business, wherever she chooses; as her twin-sister has come here to Ephesus, and her mother, and they are come to fetch her.

PYRGOPOLINICES

Ha! what's that you say? Has her mother come to Ephesus?

PALAESTRIO

Those say so who know it.

PYRGOPOLINICES

I' faith, a charming opportunity for me to turn the wench out of doors.

PALAESTRIO

Aye, but do you wish to do the thing handsomely?

PYRGOPOLINICES

Speak out, and give me your advice.

PALAESTRIO

Do you wish to pack her off forthwith, that she may quit you with a good grace?

PYRGOPOLINICES

I do so wish.

PALAESTRIO

Then this is the thing you must do. You have a superabundance of wealth; bid the woman to keep as a present for herself the gold and trinkets which you have supplied her with, and to take herself off from your house wherever she likes.

PYRGOPOLINICES

It pleases me what you say; but yet, only think, if I should lose her, and the other change her mind?

PALAESTRIO

Pshaw! you're over nice; a lady, that loves you as her own eyes.

PYRGOPOLINICES

Venus befriends me.

PALAESTRIO

Hist! hush! the door is opening; come this way a little out of sight.
MILPHIDIPPA comes out of the house of PERIPLECOMENUS.
This is her fly-boat-her go-between, that's coming out there.

PYRGOPOLINICES

How so — fly-boat?

PALAESTRIO

This is her maid that is coming ut of the house, she that brought that ring which I deliver to you.

PYRGOPOLINICES

I' faith, she too is a prettyish wench.

PALAESTRIO

This one is a little monkey and an owl in comparison with the other.

Do you see how she hunts around with her eyes, and goes fowling about with her ears. They stand aside.

Enter MILPHIDIPPA.

MILPHIDIPPA

as she enters . My Circus, then, is before the house, where my sports are to take place. I'll make pretence, as though I didn't see them, or knew as yet that they are here.

PYRGOPOLINICES

Hush! let's quietly listen, whether any mention is made of me.

MILPHIDIPPA

aloud . Is there no one near at hand here, to attend to another's business rather than his own? — to prowling after me to see what I'm about? No one who is feeding this evening at his own expense? I dread such men as these, lest they should now come in the way, or prove an hindrance somehow, should my mistress privately pass from her house this way, who is so enamoured of his person, who so dotes upon this very charming man with his exceeding beauty — the Captain Pyrgopolinices

PYRGOPOLINICES

And doesn't she dote upon me, too? She is praising my beauty.

PALAESTRIO

I' faith, her language stands in need of no ashes.

PYRGOPOLINICES

For what reason?

PALAESTRIO

Why, because her language is clean spoken and far from slovenly. Whatever she says about yourself, she handles it in no slovenly way. And, then, besides, she herself is a very pretty and a very dainty wench.

PYRGOPOLINICES

Troth, indeed, she has made an impression already, Palaestrio, at first sight.

PALAESTRIO

What! before you have seen the other with your eyes?

PYRGOPOLINICES

What I see, in that I have faith for myself; for this mackerel, in the absence of the mullet, compels me to be in love with her.

PALAESTRIO

I' faith, you really mustn't be falling in love with her, she's engaged to me. If the other weds you to-day, forthwith I shall take this one for my wife.

PYRGOPOLINICES

Why, then, do you delay to accost her?

PALAESTRIO

Follow me this way, then.

PYRGOPOLINICES

I am your lackey at your heels.

MILPHIDIPPA

aloud . I wish that I had an opportunity of meeting him on account of whom I came here out of doors.

PALAESTRIO

accosting her . It shall be so, and you shall have what you so greatly wish; be of good courage, don't fear; there is a certain person who knows where that is which you are seeking.

MILPHIDIPPA

Who's that I hear at hand?

PALAESTRIO

The sharer of your plans and the partaker of your secrets.

MILPHIDIPPA

I' faith, then, what I do conceal I don't conceal.

PALAESTRIO

Aye, but still you don't conceal it this way.

MILPHIDIPPA

How so?

PALAESTRIO

From the uninitiated you conceal them. I am sure and trustworthy to you.

MILPHIDIPPA

Give me the sign, if you are one of these votaries.

PALAESTRIO

A certain lady loves a certain gentleman.

MILPHIDIPPA

Faith, many ladies do that indeed.

PALAESTRIO

But not many ladies send a present from off their fingers.

MILPHIDIPPA

Aye, I know now. You've now made the matter level for me instead of steep. But is there a certain person here?

PALAESTRIO

Either he is or he is not.

MILPHIDIPPA

Come aside with me alone, in private.

PALAESTRIO

For a short or for a lengthy conversation?

MILPHIDIPPA

For three words only.

PALAESTRIO

to PYRGOPOLINICES . I'll return to you this instant.

PYRGOPOLINICES

What? Shall I be standing here in the meanwhile, with such charms and valorous deeds, thus to no purpose?

PALAESTRIO

Submit to it and wait; for you am I doing this service.

PYRGOPOLINICES

Make haste; I am tortured with waiting.

PALAESTRIO

You know that commodities of this kind are only wont to be reached step by step.

PYRGOPOLINICES

Well, well; as is most agreeable to yourself.

PALAESTRIO

aside . There is no stone more stupid than this fellow. I now return to you. To MILPHIDIPPA. What would you with me? Retires with her to distance.

MILPHIDIPPA

In the way in which I received it of you a short time since, I bring you back your clever lot; my story is as though she were dying with love for him.

PALAESTRIO

That I understand. Do you commend his beauty and his appearance, and make mention of his prowess.

MILPHIDIPPA

For that purpose I am armed at all points, as I have shown you before already. On the other hand, do you give all attention, and be on the watch, and take your cue from my words.

PYRGOPOLINICES

Prithee do now, in fine, give me some share in the business; step this way this instant, I beg.

PALAESTRIO

goes up to him . Here I am. If you wish for aught, give me your commands.

PYRGOPOLINICES

What is she saying to you?

PALAESTRIO

She is saying that her mistress is lamenting, and, in tears, is tormenting and afflicting herself because she wishes for you, and because she possesses you not; for that reason has she been sent here to you.

PYRGOPOLINICES

Bid her approach.

PALAESTRIO

But do you know how you are to act? Pretend that you are full of disdain, as though it pleased you not; exclaim against me, because I make you so common to the mob.

PYRGOPOLINICES

I remember, and I'll follow your instructions.

PALAESTRIO

I'll call her, then, who is inquiring after you.

PYRGOPOLINICES

If she wants anything, let her come.

PALAESTRIO

Wench, if you want anything, step this way.

MILPHIDIPPA

approaching . Save you, charmer.

PYRGOPOLINICES

She makes mention of my surname. May the Gods grant you whatever you may desire.

MILPHIDIPPA

To pass life with you is the wish of ——

PYRGOPOLINICES

You are wishing too much.

MILPHIDIPPA

I am not speaking of myself, but of my mistress, who is dying for you.

PYRGOPOLINICES

Many others are wishing for the same thing, who have not the opportunity.

MILPHIDIPPA

By my troth, 'tis not to be wondered at; you set a high value on yourself — a person so handsome, and so illustrious for his prowess, and so valorous in his deeds! O! was there ever any one more worthy to be a man?

PALAESTRIO

aside . I' faith, the filthy fellow is not a human being; indeed, I think there is something more human in a vulture.

PYRGOPOLINICES

aside . Now I shall make myself of importance, since she so praises me up. Struts about.

PALAESTRIO

aside . Do you see the blockhead, how he struts? To PYRGOPOLINICES. But will you not answer her; she is the woman that's come from the lady whom I was mentioning just now.

PYRGOPOLINICES

But from which one of them? For there are so many courting me, I cannot remember them all.

MILPHIDIPPA

From her who strips her own fingers and adorns your fingers; for I delivered to him pointing to PALAESTRIO that ring from her who is sighing for you, and then he to you.

PYRGOPOLINICES

Tell me, wench, what is it you want then?

MILPHIDIPPA

That you will not despise her who is sighing for you; who lives now but in your life: whether she is to exist or not, her hope is in you alone.

PYRGOPOLINICES

What does she want then?

MILPHIDIPPA

To talk with you, to embrace you, and to be intimate with you. For unless you bring her succour, she will soon be quite desponding in her mind. Come, my Achilles, let that be done which I entreat; save her, charmer, by your charming ways. Call forth your kind disposition, stormer of cities, slayer of kings.

PYRGOPOLINICES

O! by my troth, 'tis a vexatious thing! To PALAESTRIO. How often, whip-scurdrel, have I forbidden you to make promises of my attention thus common.

PALAESTRIO

Do you hear that, hussy? I have told you already, and I now tell you again, unless a fee is given to this boar- pig, he cannot possibly throw away his attentions in any quarter.

MILPHIDIPPA

A fee shall be given, as large as he shall demand.

PALAESTRIO

He requires a talent of gold, in Philippean pieces. Less he will take from no one.

MILPHIDIPPA

O, by my troth, but that's too little, surely.

PYRGOPOLINICES

By nature there's no avarice in me; I have riches enough. I' faith! I've more than a thousand measures full of Philippean gold coins.

PALAESTRIO

Besides your treasures. Then, of silver, he has mountains, not ingots; Aetna is not so high.

MILPHIDIPPA

aside . By the stars! O, what a lie!

PALAESTRIO

to MILPHIDIPPA, aside . How rarely I am playing him off!

MILPHIDIPPA

to PALAESTRIO, aside . And I; how do I do it? Ain't I gulling him?

PALAESTRIO

aside . Rarely.

MILPHIDIPPA

But, prithee, do let me go now.

PALAESTRIO

to the CAPTAIN . But do you give her some answer, either that you will do it, or that you won't do it. Why cause this poor lady so much anguish of mind, who has never deserved any ill of you?

PYRGOPOLINICES

Bid her come to me herself. Tell her that I will do everything that she requires.

MILPHIDIPPA

You now act as it is proper for you to act. since you wish the same yourself that she is wishing.

PALAESTRIO

to himself, aside . No poor faculty of invention has she.

MILPHIDIPPA

Since too you have not scouted your petitioner, and have suffered me to prevail upon you. Aside to PALAESTRIO. How now? Haven't I played him off?

PALAESTRIO

aside to MILPHIDIPPA . Faith, I couldn't refrain from laughing.

MILPHIDIPPA

aside to PALAESTRIO . Yes; and for the same reason I turned in this direction away from you.

PYRGOPOLINICES

By my troth, wench, you don't understand how great an honor I am now paying her.

MILPHIDIPPA

I know, and I shall tell her so.

PALAESTRIO

To another he could have sold his favours for his weight in gold.

MILPHIDIPPA

I' faith, I believe you in that.

PALAESTRIO

Of those that are parents by him true warriors are born, and his sons live eight hundred years.

MILPHIDIPPA

aside to PALAESTRIO . Fie on you for a fibber!

PYRGOPOLINICES

Why, straight on, from age to age, they live for a thousand years.

PALAESTRIO

I spoke within limits, for the reason that she mightn't suppose I was telling lies to her.

MILPHIDIPPA

aside . I burst, I die! Aloud. How many years will he live himself whose sons live so long?

PYRGOPOLINICES

Wench, I was born the day after Jupiter was born of Ops.

PALAESTRIO

If he had only been born the day before the other was, he would have had the realms of heaven.

MILPHIDIPPA

aside to PALAESTRIO . Now, now, prithee, no more do let me get away from you, if I can, alive.

PALAESTRIO

Why don't you go then, as you have your answer?

MILPHIDIPPA

I'll go, and I'll bring her here, on whose behalf I am employed. Is there aught else you wish?

PYRGOPOLINICES

May I never be more handsome than I am at pre sent; so much trouble do my good looks cause me.

PALAESTRIO

Why do you stay now? Why don't you go?

MILPHIDIPPA

I'm going.

PALAESTRIO

aside to MILPHIDIPPA . And tell her, too, do you hear, cleverly and correctly, what has passed.

MILPHIDIPPA

to PALAESTRIO . So that her very heart may leap for joy.

PALAESTRIO

aside to MILPHIDIPPA If Philocomasium is there, tell her to pass through into our house; that the Captain here.

MILPHIDIPPA

to PALAESTRIO . She is there with my mistress for, on the sly, they have been overhearing this conversation.

PALAESTRIO

aside to MILPHIDIPPA . 'Twas cleverly done; here after they will take their cue the more readily from this conversation.

MILPHIDIPPA

to PALAESTRIO . You are delaying me. I'm off.

PALAESTRIO

to MILPHIDIPPA . I'm not delaying you, nor touching you, nor — I'm mum.

PYRGOPOLINICES

Bid her make haste to come out here; we'll give our first attention to this matter especially. MILPHIDIPPA goes into the house of PERIPLECOMENUS.

PYRGOPOLINICES, PALAESTRIO.

PYRGOPOLINICES

What do you advise me now to do, Palaestrio, about my mistress? For this lady can by no means be received into my house before I have sent the other away.

PALAESTRIO

Why consult me what you are to do? So far as I am concerned, I have told you by what method that can be effected in the gentlest manner. The gold trinkets and female clothing with which you have furnished her, let her keep it all for herself: let her take it, be off, and carry it away: tell her that it is high time for her to go home; say that her twin-sister and her mother are come, in company with whom she may go straight home.

PYRGOPOLINICES

How do you know that they are here?

PALAESTRIO

Because, with my own eyes, I've seen her sister here.

PYRGOPOLINICES

Have you met her?

PALAESTRIO

I have met her.

PYRGOPOLINICES

And did she seem a brisk wench?

PALAESTRIO

You are wishing to have everything.

PYRGOPOLINICES

Where did the sister say her mother was?

PALAESTRIO

The captain that brought them told me that she was in bed, on board the ship, with sore and inflamed eyes. This captain of the ship is lodging with them next door.

PYRGOPOLINICES

And he, too, is he a very fine fellow?

PALAESTRIO

Away with you, if you please. What have you to do with him? You have your hands quite full enough with the women. Attend to this for the present.

PYRGOPOLINICES

As to that advice you were giving me, I wish you to have a few words with her upon that subject. For, really, a conversation on that subject with her is more becoming for you.

PALAESTRIO

What is more advisable than for you to go yourself, and transact your own concerns? You must say that it is absolutely necessary for you to marry: that your relations are persuading, your friends are urging, you.

PYRGOPOLINICES

And do you think so?

PALAESTRIO

Why shouldn't I think so?

PYRGOPOLINICES

I'll go in, then. Do you, in the mean time, keep watch here before the house, that when the other woman comes out you may call me out.

PALAESTRIO

Do you only mind the business that you are upon.

PYRGOPOLINICES

That, indeed, is resolved upon. For if she will not go out of her own accord, I'll turn her out by force.

PALAESTRIO

Do you take care how you do that; but rather let her go from your house with a good grace, and give her those things that I mentioned. The gold trinkets and apparel, with which you furnished her, let her take away.

PYRGOPOLINICES

By my troth, I wish she would.

PALAESTRIO

I think you'll easily prevail upon her. But go indoors; don't linger here.

PYRGOPOLINICES

I obey you. Goes into his house .

PALAESTRIO

to the AUDIENCE . Now, does he really appear to be anything different from what, awhile ago, I told you he was, this wenching Captain? Now it is requisite that Acroteleutium should come to me, her maid too, and Pleusicles. O Jupiter! and does not opportunity favour me in every respect? For those whom I especially wished to see, I perceive at this moment coming out here from our neighbour's.

Enter ACROTELEUTIUM, MILPHIDIPPA, and PLEUSICLES from the house of PERIPLECOMENUS.

ACROTELEUTIUM

Follow me; at the same time look around, that there may be no overlooker.

MILPHIDIPPA

Faith, I see no one, only him whom we want to meet.

PALAESTRIO

Just as I want you.

MILPHIDIPPA

How do you do, our master-plotter?

PALAESTRIO

I, the master-plotter? Nonsense.

MILPHIDIPPA

How so?

PALAESTRIO

Because, in comparison with yourself, I am not worthy to fix a beam in a wall.

ACROTELEUTIUM

Aye, indeed so.

PALAESTRIO

She's a very fluent and a very clever hand at mischief. How charmingly she did polish off the Captain.

MILPHIDIPPA

But still, not enough.

PALAESTRIO

Be of good courage all the business is now prospering under our hands. Only do you, as you have begun, still give a helping hand; for the Captain himself has gone in-doors, to entreat his mistress to leave his house, with her mother and sister, for Athens.

PLEUSICLES

Very good — well done.

PALAESTRIO

Besides, all the gold trinkets and apparel which he himself has provided for the damsel, he gives her to keep as a present for herself

— so have I recommended him.

PLEUSICLES

Really, it's easily done, if both she wishes it, and he desires it as well.

PALAESTRIO

Don't you know that when, from a deep well, you have ascended up to the top, there is the greatest danger lest you should thence fall back again from the top. This affair is now being carried on at the top of the well. If the Captain should have a suspicion of it, nothing whatever of his will be able to be carried off. Now, most especially, we have need of clever contrivances.

PLEUSICLES

I see that there is material enough at home for that purpose — three women, yourself the fourth, I am the fifth, the old gentleman the sixth.

PALAESTRIO

What an edifice of stratagems has been erected by us! I know for certain. that any town seems as though it could be taken by these plans: only do you lend your assistance.

ACROTELEUTIUM

For that purpose are we come to you, to see if you wish for anything.

PALAESTRIO

You do what's à propos. Now to you do I assign this department.

ACROTELEUTIUM

General, you shall assign me whatever you please, so far as I am capable.

PALAESTRIO

I wish this Captain to be played off cleverly and adroitly.

ACROTELEUTIUM

I' faith, you're assigning me what's a pleasure to me.

PALAESTRIO

But do you understand how?

ACROTELEUTIUM

You mean that I must pretend that I am distracted with love for him.

PALAESTRIO

Right — you have it.

ACROTELEUTIUM

And as though by reason of that love I had foregone my present marriage, longing for a match with him.

PALAESTRIO

Everything exactly in its due order; except only this one point; you must say that this house pointing to the house of PERIPLECOMENUS was your marriage-portion; that the old man had departed hence from you after you had carried out the divorce, lest he should be afraid just now to come here into the house of another man.

ACROTELEUTIUM

You advise me well.

PALAESTRIO

But when he comes out from in-doors, I wish you — standing at a distance there — so to make pretence, as though in comparison with his beauty you despised your own, and as though you were struck with awe at his opulent circumstances; at the same time, too, praise the comeliness of his person, the beauty of his face. Are you tutored enough?

ACROTELEUTIUM

I understand it all. Is it enough that I give you my work so nicely finished off that you cannot find a fault with it.

PALAESTRIO

I'm content. Now addressing PLEUSICLES , in your turn, learn what charge I shall give to you So soon as this shall be done, when she shall have gone in, then do you immediately take care to come here dressed in the garb of a master of a ship. Have on a broad-brimmed hat of iron-grey, a woollen shade before your eyes; have on an iron-grey cloak (for that is the seaman's colour); have it fastened over the left shoulder, your right arm projecting out, * * * * * your clothes some way well girded up, pretend as though you are some master of a ship. And all these requisites are at the house of this old gentleman, for he keeps fishermen.

PLEUSICLES

Well, when I'm dressed out, why don't you tell me what I'm to do then?

PALAESTRIO

Come here, and, in the name of her mother, bring word to Philocomasium, that, if she would return to Athens, she must go with you to the harbour directly, and that she must order it to be carried down to the ship if she wishes anything to be put on board; that if she doesn't go, you must weigh anchor, for the wind is favourable.

PLEUSICLES

I like your plan much: do proceed.

PALAESTRIO

The Captain will at once advise her to go speedily that she may not delay her mother.

PLEUSICLES

Every way you are clever.

PALAESTRIO

I shall tell him that she asks for me as a helper to carry her baggage down to the harbour. I shall go, and, understand you, I shall immediately be off with you straight to Athens.

PLEUSICLES

And when you have reached there, I'll never let you be ashore three days before you're free.

PALAESTRIO

Be off speedily and equip yourself.

PLEUSICLES

Is there anything besides?

PALAESTRIO

Only to remember all this.

PLEUSICLES

I'm off. Exit.

PALAESTRIO

And do you to ACROTELEUTIUM and MILPHIDIPPA be off hence in-doors this instant, for I'm quite sure that he'll just now be coming out hence from in-doors.

ACROTELEUTIUM

With us your command is as good as law.

PALAESTRIO

Come, then, begone. But see, the door opens opportunely. The women go into the house of PERIPLECOMENUS.

Enter PYRGOPOLINICES from his house.

PYRGOPOLINICES

What I wished I have obtained just as I wished, on kind and friendly terms, that she would leave me.

PALAESTRIO

For what reason am I to say that you have been so long in-doors?

PYRGOPOLINICES

I never was so sensible that I was beloved by that woman as now.

PALAESTRIO

Why so?

PYRGOPOLINICES

How many words she did utter! How the matter was protracted! But in the end I obtained what I wanted, and I granted her what she wanted and what she asked of me. I made a present of you also to her.

PALAESTRIO

What — me, too? In what way shall I exist without you?

PYRGOPOLINICES

Come, be of good heart; I'll make you free from exit, too. But I used all endeavours, if I could by any method persuade her to go away, and not take you with her, she forced me, however.

PALAESTRIO

In the Gods and yourself I'll place my trust. Yet, at the last, although it is bitter to me that I must be deprived of an excellent master, yourself, at least it is a pleasure to me that, through my means, by reason of the excellence of your beauty, this has happened to you with regard to this lady neighbour, whom I am now introducing to you.

PYRGOPOLINICES

What need of words? I'll give you liberty and wealth if you obtain her for me.

PALAESTRIO

I'll win her.

PYRGOPOLINICES

But I'm impatient.

PALAESTRIO

But moderation is requisite; curb your desires; don't be over anxious.
But see, here she is herself; she is coming out of doors.

Enter ACROTELEUTIUM and MILPHIDIPPA from the house of PERIPLECOMENUS.

MILPHIDIPPA

in a low voice . Mistress, see! the Captain's near.

ACROTELEUTIUM

in a low voice . Where is he?

MILPHIDIPPA

Only look to the left. Eye him askance, that he mayn't perceive that we are looking at him.

ACROTELEUTIUM

I see him. Troth, now's the time, in our mischief, for us to become supremely mischievous.

MILPHIDIPPA

'Tis for you to begin.

ACROTELEUTIUM

aloud . Prithee, did you see him yourself? Aside. Don't spare your voice, so that he may hear.

MILPHIDIPPA

aloud . By my troth, I talked with his own self, at my ease, as long as I pleased, at my leisure, at my own discretion, just as I wished.

PYRGOPOLINICES

to PALAESTRIO . Do you hear what she says?

PALAESTRIO

to PYRGOPOLINICES . I hear. How delighted she is because she had access to you.

ACROTELEUTIUM

aloud . O happy woman that you are!

PYRGOPOLINICES

How I do seem to be loved!

PALAESTRIO

You are deserving of it.

MILPHIDIPPA

aloud . By my troth, 'tis passing strange what you say, that you had access to him and prevailed. They say that he is usually addressed, like a king, through letters or messengers.

MILPHIDIPPA

aloud . But, i' faith, 'twas with difficulty I had an opportunity of approaching and beseeching him.

PALAESTRIO

to PYRGOPOLINICES . How renowned you are among the fair

PYRGOPOLINICES

to PALAESTRIO . I shall submit, since Venus wills it so.

ACROTELEUTIUM

aloud . By heavens! I return to Venus grateful thanks, and her I do beseech and entreat, that I may win him whom I love and whom I seek to win, and that to me he may prove gentle, and not make a difficulty about what I desire.

MILPHIDIPPA

aloud . I hope it may be so; although many ladies are seeking to win him for themselves, he disdains them and estranges himself from all but you alone.

ACROTELEUTIUM

aloud . Therefore this fear torments me, since he is so disdainful, lest his eyes, when he beholds me, should change his sentiments, and his own gracefulness should at once disdain my form.

MILPHIDIPPA

aloud . He will not do so; be of good heart.

PYRGOPOLINICES

to PALAESTRIO . How she does slight herself!

ACROTELEUTIUM

aloud . I fear lest your account may have surpassed my looks.

MILPHIDIPPA

aloud. I've taken care of this, that you shall be fairer than his expectations.

ACROTELEUTIUM

aloud . Troth, if he shall refuse to take me as his wife, by heavens I'll embrace his knees and entreat him! If I shall be unable to prevail on him, in some way or other, I'll put myself to death. I'm quite sure that without him I cannot live.

PYRGOPOLINICES

to PALAESTRIO . I see that I must prevent this woman's death. Shall I accost her?

PALAESTRIO

By no means; for you will be making yourself cheap if you lavish yourself away of your own accord. Let her come spontaneously, seek you, court you, strive to win you. Unless you wish to lose that glory which you have, please have a care what you do. For I know that this was never the lot of any mortal, except two persons, yourself and Phaon of Lesbos, to be loved so desperately.

ACROTELEUTIUM

aloud . I'll go in-doors — or, my dear Milphidippa, do you call him out of doors.

MILPHIDIPPA

aloud . Aye; let's wait until some one comes out.

ACROTELEUTIUM

aloud . I can't restrain myself from going il to him.

MILPHIDIPPA

aloud . The door's fastened. ACROT. aloud . I'll break it in then.

MILPHIDIPPA

aloud . You are not in your senses.

ACROTELEUTIUM

aloud . If he has ever loved, or if he has wisdom equal to his beauty, whatever I may do through love, he will pardon me by reason of his compassionate feelings.

PALAESTRIO

to PYRGOPOLINICES . Prithee, do see, how distracted the poor thing is with love.

PYRGOPOLINICES

to PALAESTRIO . 'Tis mutual in us.

PALAESTRIO

Hush! Don't you let her hear.

MILPHIDIPPA

aloud . Why do you stand stupefied? Why don't you knock?

ACROTELEUTIUM

aloud . Because he is not within whom I want.

MILPHIDIPPA

aloud . How do you know?

ACROTELEUTIUM

aloud . By my troth, I do know it easily; for my nose would scent him if he were within.

PYRGOPOLINICES

to PALAESTRIO . She is a diviner. Because she is in love with me, Venus has made her prophesy.

ACROTELEUTIUM aloud . He is somewhere or other close at hand whom I do so long to behold. I'm sure I smell him.

PYRGOPOLINICES

to PALAESTRIO . Troth, now, she really sees better with her nose than with her eyes.

PALAESTRIO

to PYRGOPOLINICES . She is blind from love.

ACROTELEUTIUM

aloud . Prithee, do support me.

MILPHIDIPPA

aloud . Why?

ACROTELEUTIUM

aloud . Lest I should fall.

MILPHIDIPPA

aloud . Why?

ACROTELEUTIUM

aloud . Because I cannot stand; my senses — my senses are sinking so by reason of my eyes.

MILPHIDIPPA

aloud . Heavens! you've seen the Captain.

ACROTELEUTIUM aloud . I have.

MILPHIDIPPA

aloud . I don't see him. Where is he?

ACROTELEUTIUM

aloud . Troth, you would see him if you were in tove.

MILPHIDIPPA

aloud . I' faith, you don't love him more than I do myself, with your good leave.

PALAESTRIO

to PYRGOPOLINICES . No doubt all of the women, as soon as each has seen you, are in love with you.

PYRGOPOLINICES

to PALAESTRIO . I don't know whether you have heard it from me or not; I'm the grandson of Venus.

ACROTELEUTIUM

aloud . My dear Milphidippa, prithee do approach and accost him.

PYRGOPOLINICES

to PALAESTRIO . How she does stand in awe of me!

PALAESTRIO

to PYRGOPOLINICES . She is coming towards us.

MILPHIDIPPA

advancing . I wish to speak with you.

PYRGOPOLINICES

And we with you.

MILPHIDIPPA

I have brought my mistress out of the house, as you requested me.

PYRGOPOLINICES

So I see.

MILPHIDIPPA

Request her, then, to approach.

PYRGOPOLINICES

Since you have entreated it, I have prevailed upon my mind not to detest her just like other women.

MILPHIDIPPA

I' faith she wouldn't be able to utter a word if she were to come near you; while she was looking at you, her eyes have in the meantime tied her tongue.

PYRGOPOLINICES

I see that this woman's disorder must be cured.

MILPHIDIPPA

See how terrified she is since she beheld you.

PYRGOPOLINICES

Even armed men are the same; don't wonder at a woman being so. But what does she wish me to do?

MILPHIDIPPA

You to come to her house; she wishes to live and to pass her life with you.

PYRGOPOLINICES

What! — I come home to her, when she is a married woman? Her husband is to be stood in fear of.

MILPHIDIPPA

Why, — for your sake, she has turned her husband out of her house.

PYRGOPOLINICES

How? How could she do so?

MILPHIDIPPA

The house was her marriage-portion.

PYRGOPOLINICES

Was it so?

MILPHIDIPPA

It was so, on my word.

PYRGOPOLINICES

Bid her go home; I'll be there just now.

MILPHIDIPPA

Take care, and don't keep her in expectation; don't torment her feelings.

PYRGOPOLINICES

Not I, indeed. Do you go then.

MILPHIDIPPA

We are going. ACROTELEUTIUM and MILPHIDIPPA go into the house of PERIPLECOMENUS.

PYRGOPOLINICES

But what do I see?

PALAESTRIO

What do you see?

PYRGOPOLINICES

See there, some one is coming, I know not who, but in a sailor's dress.

PALAESTRIO

He is surely wanting us, now; really, it is the shipmaster.

PYRGOPOLINICES

He's come, I suppose, to fetch her.

PALAESTRIO

I fancy so.

Enter PLEUSICLES, at a distance, in a Sailor's dress.

PLEUSICLES

to himself . Did I not know that another man in other ways has done many a thing unbecomingly on account of love, I should be more ashamed by reason of love for me to be going in this garb. But since I have learned that many persons by reason of love have committed many actions, disgraceful and estranged from what is good, * * * * * for I pass by how Achilles suffered his comrades to be slain —— But there's Palaestrio, he's standing with the Captain. My talk must now be changed for another kind. Woman is surely born of tardiness itself. For every other delay, which is a delay just as much, seems a less delay than that which is on account of a woman. I really think that this is done merely from habit. But I shall call for this Philocomasium. I'll knock at the door then. Hallo! is there any one here? Knocks at the CAPTAIN'S door.

PALAESTRIO

Young man — what is it? What do you want? Why are you knocking?

PLEUSICLES

I'm come to inquire for Philocomasium; I'm come from her mother. If she's for going, let her set off. She is delaying us all; we wish to weigh anchor.

PYRGOPOLINICES

Her things have been some time in readiness. Hearkye, Palaestrio, take some assistants with you to carry to the ship her golden trinkets, her furniture, apparel, all her precious things. All the articles are already packed up which I gave her.

PALAESTRIO

I'll go. Goes into the house.

PLEUSICLES

Troth now, prithee, do make haste.

PYRGOPOLINICES

There shall be no delay. Pray, what is it that has been done with your eye?

PLEUSICLES

Troth, hut I have my eye. Points to the right one.

PYRGOPOLINICES

But the left one I mean.

PLEUSICLES

I'll tell you. On account of the sea, I use this eye less; but if I kept away from the sea, I should use the one like the other. But they are detaining me too long.

PYRGOPOLINICES

See, here they are coming out.

Enter PALAESTRIO and PHILOCOMASIUM from the CAPTAIN'S house.

PALAESTRIO

to PHILOCOMASIUM . Prithee, when will you this day make an end of your weeping?

PHILOCOMASIUM

What can I do but weep? I am going away hence where I have spent my days most happily.

PALAESTRIO

See, there's the man that has come from your mother and sister pointing to PLEUSICLES .

PHILOCOMASIUM

I see him.

PYRGOPOLINICES

Palaestrio, do you hear?

PALAESTRIO

What is your pleasure?

PYRGOPOLINICES

Aren't you ordering those presents to be brought out which I gave her?

PLEUSICLES

Health to you, Philocomasium.

PHILOCOMASIUM

And health to you.

PLEUSICLES

Your mother and sister bade me give their love to you.

PHILOCOMASIUM

Heaven prosper them.

PLEUSICLES

They beg you to set out, so that, while the wind is fair, they may set sail. But if your mother's eyes had been well, she would have come together with me.

PHILOCOMASIUM

I'll go; although I do it with regret-duty compels me.

PLEUSICLES

You act wisely.

PYRGOPOLINICES

If she had not been passing her life with myself, this day she would have been a blockhead.

PHILOCOMASIUM

I am distracted at this, that I am estranged from such a man. For you are able to make any woman what-ever abound in wit; and because I was living with you, for that reason I was of a very lofty spirit. I see that I must lose that loftiness of mind. Pretends to cry.

PYRGOPOLINICES

Don't weep.

PHILOCOMASIUM

I can't help it when I look upon you.

PYRGOPOLINICES

Be of good courage.

PHILOCOMASIUM

I know what pain it is to me.

PALAESTRIO

I really don't wonder now, Philocomasium, if you were here with happiness to yourself, when I, a servant — as I look at him, weep because we are parting pretends to cry, so much have his beauty, his manners, his valour, captivated your feelings.

PHILOCOMASIUM

Prithee, do let me embrace you before I depart?

PYRGOPOLINICES

By all means

PHILOCOMASIUM

embracing him. O my eyes! O my life!

PALAESTRIO

Do hold up the woman, I entreat you, lest she should fall. He takes hold of her, and she pretends to faint.

PYRGOPOLINICES

What means this?

PALAESTRIO

Because, after she had quitted you, she suddenly became faint, poor thing.

PYRGOPOLINICES

Run in and fetch some water.

PALAESTRIO

I want no water; but I had rather you would keep at a distance.

Prithee, don't you interfere till she comes to.

PYRGOPOLINICES

observing PLEUSICLES, who is holding PHILOCOMASIUM in his arm. They have their heads too closely in contact between them; I don't like it; he is soldering his lips to hers. What the plague are you about?

PLEUSICLES

I was trying whether she was breathing or not.

PYRGOPOLINICES

You ought to have applied your ear then.

PLEUSICLES

If you had rather, I'll let her go.

PYRGOPOLINICES

No, I don't care; do you support her.

PALAESTRIO

To my misery, I'm quite distracted.

PYRGOPOLINICES

Go and bring here from in-doors all the things that I have given her.

PALAESTRIO

And even now, household God, do I salute thee before I depart; my fellow-servants, both male and female, all farewell, and happy may you live; prithee, though absent, among yourselves bestow your blessings upon me as well.

PYRGOPOLINICES

Come, Palaestrio, be of good courage.

PALAESTRIO

Alas! alas! I cannot but weep since from you I must depart.

PYRGOPOLINICES

Bear it with patience.

PHILOCOMASIUM

feigning to recover . Ha! how's this? What means it? Hail, O light!

PLEUSICLES

Are you recovered now?

PHILOCOMASIUM

Prithee, what person am I embracing? I'm undone. Am I myself?

PLEUSICLES

in a low voice . Fear not, my delight.

PYRGOPOLINICES

What means all this?

PALAESTRIO

Just now she swooned away here. * * * * * I fear and dread that this at last may take place too openly.

PYRGOPOLINICES

What is that you say?

PALAESTRIO

I fear that some one may turn it to your discredit, while all these things are being carried after us through the city.

PYRGOPOLINICES

I have given away my own property, and not theirs. I care but little for other people. Be off then, go with the blessing of the Gods.

PALAESTRIO

'Tis for your sake I say it.

PYRGOPOLINICES

I believe you.

PALAESTRIO

And now farewell!

PYRGOPOLINICES

And heartily farewell to you!

PALAESTRIO

*to PLEUSICLES and PHILOCOMASIU*M as they leave. Go you quickly on; I'll overtake you directly; I wish to speak a few words with my master. To PYRGOPOLINICES. Although you have ever deemed others more faithful to yourself than me, still do I owe you many thanks for all things; and if such were your feelings, I would rather be a slave to you by far than be the freedman of another.

PYRGOPOLINICES

Be of good courage.

PALAESTRIO

Ah me! When it comes in my mind, how my manners must be changed, how womanish manners must be learnt, and the military ones forgotten!

PYRGOPOLINICES

Take care and be honest.

PALAESTRIO

I can be so no longer; I have lost all inclination.

PYRGOPOLINICES

Go, follow them; don't linger.

PALAESTRIO

Fare you right well.

PYRGOPOLINICES

And heartily fare you well.

PALAESTRIO

Prithee, do remember me; if perchance I should happen to be made free, I'll send the news to you; don't you forsake me.

PYRGOPOLINICES

That is not my habit.

PALAESTRIO

Consider every now and then how faithful I have been to you. If you do that, then at last you'll know who is honest towards you and who dishonest.

PYRGOPOLINICES

I know it; I have often found that true, as well before as to-day in especial.

PALAESTRIO

Do you know it? Aye, and this day I'll make you hereafter say still more how true it is.

PYRGOPOLINICES

I can hardly refrain from bidding you to stay.

PALAESTRIO

Take you care how you do that. They may say that you are a liar and not truthful, that you have no honor; they may say that no one of your slaves is trustworthy except my-self. If, indeed, I thought you could do it with honor, I should advise you. But it cannot be; take care how you do so.

PYRGOPOLINICES

Be off; I'll be content then, whatever happens.

PALAESTRIO

Then, fare you well.

PYRGOPOLINICES

‘Twere better you should go with a good heart.

PALAESTRIO

Still, once more, farewell. Exit.

PYRGOPOLINICES

Before this affair, I had always thought that he was a most rascally servant; still, I find that he is faithful to me. When I consider with myself, I have done unwisely in parting with him. I’ll go hence at once now to my love here: the door, too, I perceive, makes a noise there.

Enter a BOY from the house of PERIPLECOMENUS.

A BOY.

to some one within . Don’t you be advising me; I remember my duty; this moment I’ll find him. Wherever on earth he may chance to be, I’ll search him out; I’ll not be sparing of my pains.

PYRGOPOLINICES

’Tis I he is looking for, I’ll go and meet this boy.

A BOY.

O, I’m looking for you; save you, dearest sir, one loaded by opportunity with her gifts, and whom before all others two Divinities do favour.

PYRGOPOLINICES

What two?

A BOY.

Mars and Venus.

PYRGOPOLINICES

A sprightly boy.

A BOY.

She entreats that you will go in; she wishes — she longs for you, and while expecting you, she's dying for you. Do succour one in love. Why do you stay? Why don't you go in?

PYRGOPOLINICES

Well, I'll go. Enters the house of PERIPLECOMENUS.

A BOY.

There has he entangled himself at once in the toils. The snare is prepared: the old gentleman is standing at his post to attack the lecher, who is so boastful of his good looks; who thinks that, whatever woman sees him, all are in love with him; whom all, both men and women, detest. Now I will on to the uproar; I hear a tumult within.

ACT V.

Enter PERIPLECOMENUS from his house, with CARIO and other SERVANTS, dragging PYRGOPOLINICES.

PERIPLECOMENUS

Bring that fellow along. If he doesn't follow, drag him, lifted on high, out of doors. Make him to be between heaven and earth; cut him in pieces. They beat him.

PYRGOPOLINICES

By my troth, I do entreat you, Periplecomenus.

PERIPLECOMENUS

By my troth, you do entreat in vain. Take care, Cario, that that knife of yours is very sharp.

CARIO

Why, it's already longing to rip up the stomach of thisletcher. I'll make his entrails hang just as a bauble hangs from a baby's neck.

PYRGOPOLINICES

I'm a dead man.

PERIPLECOMENUS

Not yet; you say so too soon.

CARIO

Shall I have at this fellow now?

PERIPLECOMENUS

Aye, — but first let him be thrashed with cudgels.

CARIO

True, right lustily.

PERIPLECOMENUS

Why have you dared, you disgraceful fellow, to seduce another man's wife?

PYRGOPOLINICES

So may the Gods bless me, she came to me of her own accord.

PERIPLECOMENUS

It's a lie. Lay on. They are about to strike.

PYRGOPOLINICES

Stay, while I tell ——

PERIPLECOMENUS

Why are you hesitating?

PYRGOPOLINICES

Will you not let me speak?

PERIPLECOMENUS

Speak, then.

PYRGOPOLINICES

I was entreated to come here.

PERIPLECOMENUS

How did you dare? There's for you, take that. Strikes him.

PYRGOPOLINICES

O! O! I've had enough. Prithee, now.

CARIO

Am I to begin cutting him up at once?

PERIPLECOMENUS

As soon as you like. Stretch the fellow out, and spread out his pinions in opposite ways.

PYRGOPOLINICES

By heavens, prithee, do hear my words before he cuts me.

PERIPLECOMENUS

Speak before you're made of no sex.

PYRGOPOLINICES

I supposed that she was a widow; and so her maid, who was her go-between, informed me.

PERIPLECOMENUS

Now take an oath that you won't injure any person for this affair, because you have been beaten here today, or shall be beaten hereafter, if we let you go safe hence, you dear little grandson of Venus.

PYRGOPOLINICES

I swear by Dione and Mars that I will hurt no one because I have been beaten here this day; and I think that it was rightfully done; and if I don't go hence further injured, I am rightly punished for the offence.

PERIPLECOMENUS

But what if you don't do so?

PYRGOPOLINICES

Then, may I always have my word not to be trusted

CARIO

Let him be beaten once more; after that I think he may be dismissed.

PYRGOPOLINICES

May the Gods ever bless you, since you so kindly come as my advocate.

CARIO

Give us a golden mina, then.

PYRGOPOLINICES

For what reason?

CARIO

That we may now let you go hence unmaimed, you little grandson of Venus; otherwise you shall not escape from here; don't you deceive yourself.

PYRGOPOLINICES

It shall be given you.

CARIO

You're very wise. As for your tunic, and your scarf, and sword, don't at all hope for them; you shan't have them.

A SERVANT.

Shall I beat him again, or do you let him go?

PYRGOPOLINICES

I'm tamed by your cudgels. I do entreat you.

PERIPLECOMENUS

Loose him.

PYRGOPOLINICES

I return you thanks.

PERIPLECOMENUS

If I ever catch you here again, I'll insert a disqualifying clause.

PYRGOPOLINICES

Well: I make no objection.

PERIPLECOMENUS

Let's go in, Cario. PERIPLECOMENUS, CARIO, and SERVANTS go into his house. Enter SCLEDROS and other SERVANTS of the CAPTAIN.

PYRGOPOLINICES

Here are some of my servants, I see. Tell me, is Philocomasium off yet.

SCELEDRUS

Aye, some time since.

PYRGOPOLINICES

Ah me!

SCELEDRUS

You would say that still more if you were to know what I know, for that fellow who had the wool before his eye was no sailor.

PYRGOPOLINICES

Who was he, then?

SCELEDRUS

A lover of Philocomasium's.

PYRGOPOLINICES

How do you know?

SCELEDRUS

I do know: for after they had got out of the city gate, they didn't wait a moment before falling to kissing and embracing each other at once.

PYRGOPOLINICES

O wretched fool that I am! I see that I have been gulled. That scoundrel of a fellow, Palaestrio, it was he that contrived this plot against me.

SCELEDRUS

I think it was properly done. If it were so done to other lechers, there would be fewer lechers here; they would stand more in awe, and give their attention less to these pursuits.

PYRGOPOLINICES

Let's go into my house.

AN ACTOR

to the AUDIENCE . Give us your applause.

MOSTELLARIA

Translated by Henry Thomas Riley

Mostellaria, which has been translated as ‘The Haunted House’, is set in Athens, on a street in front of the houses of Theopropides and Simo. The narrative concerns a young man called Philolaches, who enjoys a carousing lifestyle, while his father is away on business. He has also borrowed a lot of money to buy the freedom of the slave-girl he loves. One day he is having a house party with many friends, when his slave Tranio interrupts the merry-making to announce that Philolaches’ father has returned unexpectedly and will arrive from the harbour at any moment. Amid the general panic, Tranio has an idea. He hustles Philolaches and his friends into the house and locks the door; when his father arrives, Tranio greets him respectfully but pretends that it is dangerous to enter the house as it is haunted...

THE SUBJECT.

WHILE Theuropides is absent from home on business, his son Philolaches leads a dissolute life at home with his friend Callidamates and his own servant Tranio. While they are in the midst of their carousals, the father of Philolaches unexpectedly arrives at Athens. Their first impulse is to leave the house immediately, but, Callidamates being in a state of helpless intoxication, they are prevented from so doing. In this dilemma, Tranio undertakes to rescue them. He requests them to remain perfectly quiet in the house, and not to stir out of it. The house is then shut up, and he sallies forth to meet Theuropides. He pretends to him that the house has been shut up for some months past, in consequence of its being haunted. In the midst of the conversation, he is accosted by a Banker, who duns him for the interest of some money which Philolaches has borrowed of him for the purpose of procuring the freedom of Philematium, his mistress. Theuropides enquires what the money was borrowed for, on which Tranio says that Philolaches has purchased a house with it. On Theuropides making further enquiries, Tranio says that he has bought the house in which Simo is living. On this, Theuropides wishes to examine this new purchase, and sends Tranio to request Simo to allow him to do so, if not inconvenient. Tranio obtains the permission, Simo being ignorant of the object, and they go over the house, Theuropides being much pleased with his son's bargain. Tranio is then sent by Theuropides into the country to fetch Philolaches thence, he having pretended that he is there. Shortly after, a servant of Callidamates comes to the house that is shut up to fetch his master home. Theuropides questions him, and then finds out the deception that has been practised upon him; and on receiving further information from Simo, who declares that he has not sold his own house, he resolves to punish Tranio. The latter, on finding this to be the case, runs to an altar for refuge. Callidamates, who is now sober, and has got out of the house by the back-gate, now makes his appearance, and, at his earnest intercession, pardon is granted by Theuropides to Philolaches and Tranio.

THE ACROSTIC ARGUMENT.

PHILOLACHES has given liberty to (Manumisit) his mistress who has been bought by him, and he consumes all (Omnem) his substance in the absence of his father. When he returns, Tranio deceives the old man (Senem); he says that frightful (Terrifica) apparitions have been seen in the house, and (Et) that at once they had removed from it. A Usurer, greedy of gain (Lucripeta), comes up in the meantime, asking for the interest of some money, and again the old man is made sport of (Lusus); for the servant says that a deposit for a house which has been bought has been taken up (Acceptum) on loan. The old man enquires (Requirat) which it is; he says that of the neighbour next door. He then looks over (Inspectat) it. Afterwards he is vexed that he has been laughed at; still by (Ab) the companion of his son he is finally appeased.

ACT I.

Enter, from the house of THEUROPIDES, GRUMIO, pushing out TRANIO.

GRUMIO

Get out of the kitchen, will you; out of it, you whip-scoundrel, who are giving me your cavilling talk amid the platters; march out of the house, you ruin of your master. Upon my faith, if I only live, I'll be soundly revenged upon you in the country. Get out, I say, you steam of the kitchen. Why are you skulking thus?

TRANIO

Why the plague are you making this noise here before the house? Do you fancy yourself to be in the country? Get out of the house; be off into the country. Go and hang yourself. Get away from the door. Striking him. There now, was it that you wanted?

>

GRUMIO

running away . I'm undone! Why are you beating me? TRA. Because you want it.

GRUMIO

I must endure it. Only let the old gentleman return home; only let him come safe home, whom you are devouring in his absence.

TRANIO

You don't say what's either likely or true, you blockhead, as to any one devouring a person in his absence.

GRUMIO

Indeed, you town wit, you minion of the mob, do you throw the country in my teeth? Really, Tranio, I do believe that you feel sure that before long you'll be handed over to the mill. Within a short period, i' faith, Tranio, you'll full soon be adding to the iron-bound race in the country. While you choose to, and have the opportunity, drink on, squander his property, corrupt my master's son, a most worthy young man, drink night and day, live like Greeks, make purchase of mistresses, give them their freedom, feed parasites, feast yourselves sumptuously. Was it thus that the old gentleman enjoined you when he went hence abroad? Is it after this fashion that he will find his property well husbanded? Do you suppose that this is the duty of a good servant, to be ruining both the estate and the son of his master? For I do consider him as ruined, when he devotes himself to these goings on. A person, with whom not one of all the young men of Attica was before deemed equally frugal or more steady, the same is now carrying off the palm in the opposite direction. Through your management and your tutoring has that been done.

TRANIO

What the plague business have you with me or with what I do? Prithee, haven't you got your cattle in the country for you to look to? I choose to drink, to intrigue, to keep my wenches; this I do at the peril of my own back, and not of yours

GRUMIO

Then with what assurance he does talk! Turning away in disgust.
Faugh!

TRANIO

But may Jupiter and all the Deities confound you; you stink of garlick, you filth unmistakeable, you clod, you he-goat, you pig-sty, you mixture of dog and she-goat.

GRUMIO

What would you have to be done? It isn't all that can smell of foreign perfumes, if you smell of them; or that can take their places at table above their master, or live on such exquisite dainties as you live upon. Do you keep to yourself those turtle-doves, that fish, and poultry; let me enjoy my lot upon garlick diet. You are fortunate; I unlucky. It must be endured. Let my good fortune be awaiting me, your bad yourself.

TRANIO

You seem, Grumio, as though you envied me, because I enjoy myself and you are wretched. It is quite my due. It's proper for me to make love, and for you to feed the cattle; for me to fare handsomely, you in a miserable way.

GRUMIO

O riddle for the executioner, as I guess it will turn out; they'll be so pinking you with goads, as you carry your gibbet along the streets one day, as soon as ever the old gentleman returns here.

TRANIO

How do you know whether that mayn't happen to yourself sooner than to me?

GRUMIO

Because I have never deserved it; you have deserved it, and you now deserve it.

TRANIO

Do cut short the trouble of your talking, unless you wish a heavy mischance to befall you.

GRUMIO

Are you going to give me the tares for me to take for the cattle? If you are not, give me the money. Go on, still persist in the way in which you've commenced! Drink, live like Greeks, eat, stuff yourselves, slaughter your fatlings!

TRANIO

Hold your tongue, and be off into the country; I intend to go to the Piræus to get me some fish for the evening. To-morrow I'll make some one bring you the tares to the farm. What's the matter? Why now are you staring at me, gallows-bird?

GRUMIO

I' faith, I've an idea that will be your own title before long.

TRANIO

So long as it is as it is, in the meantime I'll put up with that "before long."

GRUMIO

That's the way; and understand this one thing, that that which is disagreeable comes much more speedily than that which you wish for.

TRANIO

Don't you be annoying; now then, away with you into the country, and betake yourself off. Don't you deceive yourself, henceforth you shan't be causing me any impediment. (Exit.) to himself. Is he really gone? Not to care one straw for what I've said! O immortal Gods, I do implore your aid, do cause this old gentleman of ours, who has now been three years absent from here, to return hither as soon as possible, before everything is gone, both house and land. Unless he does return here, remnants to last for a few months only are left. Now I'll be off to the country; but look! I see my master's son, one who has been corrupted from having been a most excellent young man. (Exit.)

GRUMIO

Enter PHILOLACHES, from the house of THEUROPIDES.

PHILOLACHES

to himself. I've often thought and long reflected on it, and in my breast have held many a debate, and in my heart (if any heart I have) have revolved this matter, and long discussed it, to what thing I'm to consider man as like, and what form he has when he is born? I've now discovered this likeness. I think a man is like unto a new house when he is born. I'll give my proofs of this fact. To the AUDIENCE. And does not this seem to you like the truth? But so I'll manage that you shall think it is so. Beyond a doubt I'll convince you that it is true what I say. And this yourselves, I'm sure, when you have heard my words, will say is no otherwise than just as I now affirm that it is. Listen while I repeat my proofs of this fact; I want you to be equally knowing with myself upon this matter. As soon as ever a house is built up, nicely polished off, carefully erected, and according to rule, people praise the architect and approve of the house, they take from it each one a model for himself. Each one has something similar, quite at his own expense; they do not spare their pains. But when a worthless, lazy, dirty, negligent fellow betakes himself thither with an idle family, then is it imputed as a fault to the house, while a good house is being kept in bad repair. And this is often the case; a storm comes on and breaks the tiles and gutters; then a careless owner takes no heed to put up others. A shower comes on and streams down the walls; the rafters admit the rain; the weather rots the labours of the builder; then the utility of the house becomes diminished; and yet this is not the fault of the builder. But a great part of mankind have contracted this habit of delay; if anything can be repaired by means of money, they are always still putting it off, and don't * * * do it until the walls come tumbling down; then the whole house has to be built anew. These instances from buildings I've mentioned; and now I wish to inform you how you are to suppose that men are like houses. In the first place then, the parents are the builders-up of the children, and lay the foundation for the children; they raise them up, they carefully train them to strength, and that they may be good both for service and for view before the public. They spare not either their own pains or their cost, nor do they deem expense in that to be an expense. They refine them, teach them literature, the ordinances, the laws; at their own cost and labour they struggle, that others may wish for their own children to be like to them. When they repair to the army, they then find them some relation of theirs as a protector. At that moment they pass out of the builder's hands. One year's pay has now been earned; at that period, then, a sample is on view how the building will turn out. But I was always discreet and virtuous, just as long as I was under the management of the builder. After I had left him to follow the bent of my own inclinations, at once I entirely spoiled the labours of the builders. Idleness came on; that was my storm; on its arrival, upon me it brought down hail and showers, which overthrew my modesty and the bounds of virtue, and untiled them for me in an instant. After that I was neglectful to cover in again; at once passion like a torrent entered my heart; it flowed down even unto my breast, and soaked through my heart. Now both property, credit, fair fame, virtue, and honor have forsaken me; by usage have I become much worse, and, i' faith (so rotten are these rafters of mine with moisture), I do not seem to myself to be able possibly to patch up my house to prevent it from falling down totally once for all, from perishing from the foundation, and from no one being able to assist me. My heart pains me, when I reflect how I now am and how I once was, than whom in youthful age not one there was more active in the arts of exercise, with the quoit, the javelin, the ball, racing, arms, and horses. I then lived a joyous life; in frugality and hardihood I was an example to others; all, even the most deserving, took a lesson from me for themselves. Now that I'm become worthless, to that, indeed, have I hastened through the bent of my inclinations. He stands apart.

Enter PHILEMATITUM and SCAPHA, with all the requisites for a toilet.

PHILEMATIUM

On my word, for this long time I've not bathed in cold water with more delight than just now; nor do I think that I ever was, my dear Scapha, more thoroughly cleansed than now.

SCAPHA

May the upshot of everything be unto you like a plenteous year's harvest.

PHILEMATIUM

What has this harvest got to do with my bathing?

SCAPHA

Not a bit more than your bathing has to do with the harvest.

PHILOLACHES

apart. O beauteous Venus, this is that storm of mine which stripped off all the modesty with which I was roofed; through which Desire and Cupid poured their shower into my breast; and never since have I been able to roof it in. Now are my walls soaking in my heart; this building is utterly undone.

PHILEMATIUM

Do look, my Scapha, there's a dear, whether this dress quite becomes me. I wish to please Philolaches my protector, the apple of my eye.

SCAPHA

Nay but, you set yourself off to advantage with pleasing manners, inasmuch as you yourself are pleasing. The lover isn't in love with a woman's dress, but with that which stuffs out the dress.

PHILOLACHES

apart . So may the Gods bless me, Scapha is waggish; the hussy's quite knowing. How cleverly she understands all matters, the maxims of lovers too!

PHILEMATIUM

Well now?

SCAPHA

What is it?

PHILEMATIUM

Why look at me and examine, how this becomes me.

SCAPHA

Thanks to your good looks, it happens that whatever you put on becomes you.

PHILOLACHES

apart . Now then, for that expression, Scapha, I'll make you some present or other to-day, and I won't allow you to have praised her for nothing who is so pleasing to me.

PHILEMATIUM

I don't want you to flatter me.

SCAPHA

Really you are a very simple woman. Come now, would you rather be censured undeservedly, than be praised with truth? Upon my faith, for my own part, even though undeservedly, I'd much rather be praised than be found fault with with reason, or that other people should laugh at my appearance.

PHILEMATIUM

I love the truth; I wish the truth to be told me; I detest a liar.

SCAPHA

So may you love me, and so may your Philolaches love you, how charming you are.

PHILOLACHES

apart . How say you, you hussy? In what words did you adjure? "So may I love her?" Why wasn't "So may she love me" added as well? I revoke the present. What I just now promised you is done for; you have lost the present.

SCAPHA

Troth, for my part I am surprised that you, a person so knowing, so clever, and so well educated, are not aware that you are acting foolishly.

PHILEMATIUM

Then give me your advice, I beg, if I have done wrong in anything.

SCAPHA

I' faith, you certainly do wrong, in setting your mind upon him alone, in fact, and humouring him in particular in this way and slighting other men. It's the part of a married woman, and not of courtesans, to be devoted to a single lover.

PHILOLACHES

apart . O Jupiter! Why, what pest is this that has befallen my house? May all the Gods and Goddesses destroy me in the worst of fashions, if I don't kill this old hag with thirst, and hunger, and cold.

PHILEMATIUM

I don't want you, Scapha, to be giving me bad advice.

SCAPHA

You are clearly a simpleton, in thinking that he'll for everlasting be your friend and well-wisher. I warn you of that; he'll forsake you by reason of age and satiety.

PHILEMATIUM

I hope not.

SCAPHA

Things which you don't hope happen more frequently than things which you do hope. In fine, if you cannot be persuaded by words to believe this to be the truth, judge of my words from facts; consider this instance, who I now am, and who I once was. No less than your are now, was I once beloved, and I devoted myself to one, who, faith, when with age this head changed its hue, forsook and deserted me. Depend on it, the same will happen to yourself.

PHILOLACHES

apart . I can scarcely withhold myself from flying at the eyes of this mischief-maker.

PHILEMATIUM

I am of opinion that I ought to keep myself alone devoted to him, since to myself alone has he given freedom for himself alone.

PHILOLACHES

apart . O ye immortal Gods! what a charming woman, and of a disposition how chaste! By heaven, 'tis excellently done, and I'm rejoiced at it, that it is for her sake I've got nothing left.

SCAPHA

On my word you really are silly.

PHILEMATIUM

For what reason?

SCAPHA

Because you care for this, whether he loves you.

PHILEMATIUM

Prithee, why should I not care for it?

SCAPHA

You now are free. You've now got what you wanted; if he didn't still love you, as much money as he gave for your liberty, he'd lose.

PHILOLACHES

apart . Heavens, I'm a dead man if I don't torture her to death after the most shocking fashion. That evil-persuading enticer to vice is corrupting this damsel.

PHILOLACHES

Scapha, I can never return him sufficient thanks for what he deserves of me; don't you be persuading me to esteem him less.

SCAPHA

But take care and reflect upon this one thing, if you devote yourself to him alone, while now you are at this youthful age, you'll be complaining to no purpose in your aged years.

PHILOLACHES

apart . I could wish myself this instant changed into a quinsy, that I might seize the throat of that old witch, and put an end to the wicked mischief-maker.

PHILEMATIUM

It befits me now to have the same grateful feelings since I obtained it, as formerly before I acquired it, when I used to lavish caresses upon him.

PHILOLACHES

apart . May the Gods do towards me what they please, if for that speech I don't make you free over again, and if I don't torture Scapha to death.

SCAPHA

If you are quite assured that you will have a provision to the end, and that this lover will be your own for life, I think that you ought to devote yourself to him alone, and assume the character of a wife.

PHILEMATIUM

Just as a person's character is, he's in the habit of finding means accordingly; if I keep a good character for myself I shall be rich enough.

PHILOLACHES

apart . By my troth, since selling there must be, my father shall be sold much sooner than, while I'm alive, I'll ever permit you to be in want or go a-begging.

SCAPHA

What's to become of the rest of those who are in love with you?

PHILEMATIUM

They'll love me the more when they see me displaying gratitude to one who has done me services.

PHILOLACHES

apart . I do wish that news were brought me now that my father's dead, that I might disinherit myself of my property, and that she might be my heir.

SCAPHA

This property of his will certainly soon be at an end; day and night there's eating and drinking, and no one displays thriftiness; 'tis downright cramming.

PHILOLACHES

apart . I' faith, I'm determined to make trial on yourself for the first to be thrifty; for you shall neither eat nor drink anything at my house for the next ten days.

PHILEMATIUM

If you choose to say anything good about him, you shall be at liberty to say it; if you speak otherwise than well, on my word you shall have a beating instantly.

PHILOLACHES

apart . Upon my faith, if I had paid sacrifice to supreme Jove with that money which I gave for her liberty, never could I have so well employed it. Do see, how, from her very heart's core, she loves me! Oh, I'm a fortunate man; I've liberated in her a patron to plead my cause for me.

SCAPHA

I see that, compared with Philolaches, you disregard all other men; now, that on his account I mayn't get a beating, I'll agree with you in preference, if you are quite satisfied that he will always prove a friend to you.

PHILEMATIUM

Give me the mirror, and the casket with my trinkets, directly, Scapha, that I may be quite dressed when Philolaches, my delight, comes here.

SCAPHA

A woman who neglects herself and her youthful age has occasion for a mirror; what need of a mirror have you, who yourself are in especial a mirror for a mirror.

PHILOLACHES

apart . For that expression, Scapha, that you mayn't have said anything so pretty in vain, I'll to-day give something for your savings — to you, my Philematium.

PHILEMATIUM

while SCAPHA is dressing her hair . Will you see that each hair is nicely arranged in its own place?

SCAPHA

When you yourself are so nice, do believe that your hair must be nice.

PHILOLACHES

apart . Out upon it! what worse thing can possibly be spoken of than this woman? Now the jade's a flatterer, just now she was all contradictory.

PHILEMATIUM

Hand me the ceruse.

SCAPHA

Why, what need of ceruse have you?

PHILEMATIUM

To paint my cheeks with it.

SEA.

On the same principle, you would want to be making ivory white with ink.

PHILOLACHES

apart . Cleverly said that, about the ink and the ivory! Bravo! I applaud you, Scapha.

PHILEMATIUM

Well then, do you give me the rouge.

SCAPHA

I shan't give it. You really are a clever one. Do you wish to patch up a most clever piece with new daubing? It's not right that any paint should touch that person, neither ceruse, nor quince-ointment, nor any other wash. Take the mirror, then. Hands her the glass.

PHILOLACHES

apart . Ah wretched me! — she gave the glass a kiss. I could much wish for a stone, with which to break the head of that glass.

SCAPHA

Take the towel and wipe your hands.

PHILEMATIUM

Why so, prithee?

SCAPHA

As you've been holding the mirror, I'm afraid that your hands may smell of silver; lest Philolaches should suspect you've been receiving silver somewhere.

PHILOLACHES

apart . I don't think that I ever did see any one procuress more cunning. How cleverly and artfully did it occur to the jade's imagination about the mirror!

PHILEMATIUM

Do you think I ought to be perfumed with unguents as well?

SCAPHA

By no means do so.

PHILEMATIUM

For what reason?

SCAPHA

Because, i' faith, a woman smells best when she smells of nothing at all. For those old women who are in the habit of anointing themselves with unguents, vampt up creatures, old hags, and toothless, who hide the blemishes of the person with paint, when the sweat has blended itself with the unguents, forthwith they stink just like when a cook has poured together a variety of broths; what they smell of, you don't know, except this only, that you understand that badly they do smell.

PHILOLACHES

apart . How very cleverly she does understand everything! There's nothing more knowing than this knowing woman! To the AUDIENCE. This is the truth, and a very great portion, in fact, of you know it, who have old women for wives at home who purchased you with their portions.

PHITE.

Come now, examine my golden trinkets and my mantle; does this quite become me, Scapha?

SCAPHA

It befits not me to concern myself about that.

PHILEMATIUM

Whom then, prithee?

SCAPHA

I'll tell you; Philolaches; so that he may not buy anything except that which he fancies will please you. For a lover buys the favours of a mistress for himself with gold and purple garments. What need is there for that which he doesn't want as his own, to be shown him still? Age is to be enveloped in purple; gold ornaments are unsuitable for a woman. A beautiful woman will be more beautiful naked than drest in purple. Besides, it's in vain she's well-drest if she's ill-conducted; ill-conduct soils fine ornaments worse than dirt. But if she's beauteous, she's sufficiently adorned.

PHILOLACHES

apart . Too long have I withheld my hand. Coming forward. What are you about here?

PHILEMATIUM

I'm decking myself out to please you.

PLILO.

You are dressed enough. To SCAPHA. Go you hence in-doors, and take away this finery. SCAPHA goes into the house. But, my delight, my Philematium, I have a mind to regale together with you.

PHILEMATIUM

And, i' faith, so I have with you; for what you have a mind to, the same have I a mind to, my delight.

PHILOLACHES

Ha! at twenty minæ that expression were cheap.

PHILEMATIUM

Give me ten, there's a dear; I wish to let you have that expression bought a bargain.

PHILOLACHES

You've already got ten minæ with you; or reckon up the account: thirty minæ I gave for your freedom ——

PHILEMATIUM

Why reproach me with that?

PHILOLACHES

What, I reproach you with it? Why, I had rather that I myself were reproached with it; no money whatever for this long time have I ever laid out equally well.

PHILEMATIUM

Surely, in loving you, I never could have better employed my pains.

PHILOLACHES

The account, then, of receipts and expenditure fully tallies between ourselves; you love me, I love you. Each thinks that it is so deservedly. Those who rejoice at this, may they ever rejoice at the continuance of their own happiness. Those who envy, let not any one henceforth be ever envious of their blessings.

PHILEMATIUM

pointing to a couch on the stage . Come, take your place, then. At the door, to a SERVANT, who obeys. Boy, bring some water for the hands; put a little table here. See where are the dice. Would you like some perfumes? They recline on the couch.

PHILOLACHES

What need is there? Along with myrrh I am reclining. But isn't this my friend who's coming hither with his mistress? 'Tis he; it's Callidamates; look, he's coming. Capital! my sweet one, see, our comrades are approaching; they're coming to share the spoil.

Enter CALLIDAMATES, at a distance, drunk, and DELPHIUM, followed by a SERVANT.

CALLIDAMATES

to his SERVANT . I want you to come for me in good time to the house of Philolaches; listen you; well then! those are your orders. Exit SERVANT. For from the place where I was, thence did I betake myself off;> so confoundedly tired was I there. with the entertainment and the discourse. Now I'll go to Philolaches to have a bout there he'll receive us with jovial feelings and handsomely. Do I seem to you to be fairly drenched, my bubsy?

DELPHIUM

You ought always to live pursuing this course of life.

CALLIDAMATES

Should you like, then, for me to hug you, and you me?

DELPHIUM

If you've a mind to do so, of course.

CALLIDAMATES

You are a charming one. He stumbles. Do hold me up, there's a dear.

DELPHIUM

holding him by the arm . Take care you don't fall. Stand up.

CALLIDAMATES

O! you are the apple of my eye. I'm your fosterling, my honey. He stumbles.

DELPHIUM

still holding him up . Only do take care that you don't recline in the street, before we get to a place where a couch is ready laid.

CALLIDAMATES

Do let me fall.

DELPHIUM

Well, I'll let you. Lets go.

CALLIDAMATES

dragging her as he falls . But that as well which I've got hold of in my hand.

DELPHIUM

If you fall, you shan't fall without me falling with you. Then some one shall pick us both up as we lie Aside. The man's quite drenched.

CALLIDAMATES

overhearing . Do you say that I am drenched, my bubsy?

DELPHIUM

Give me your hand; I really do not want * * you hurt.

CALLIDAMATES

giving his hand . There now, take it.

DELPHIUM

Come, move on with me.

CALLIDAMATES

Where am I going, do you know?

DELPHIUM

I know.

CALLIDAMATES

It has just come into my head: why, of course I'm going home for a booze.

DELPHIUM

Why yes, really now I do remember that.

PHILOLACHES

Won't you let me go to find them, my life? Of all persons I wish well to him especially. I'll return just now. Goes forward towards the door.

PHILEMATIUM

That "just now" is a long time to me.

CALLIDAMATES

going to the door and knocking . Is there any person here?

PHILOLACHES

'Tis he.

CALLIDAMATES

turning round . Bravo! Philolaches, good day to you, most friendly to me of all men.

PHILOLACHES

May the Gods bless you. Pointing to a couch. Take your place, Callidamates. He takes his place. Whence are you betaking yourself?

CALLIDAMATES

Whence a drunken man does.

PHILOLACHES

Well said. But, my Delphium, do take your place, there's a dear. She takes her place on a couch.

CALLIDAMATES

Give her something to drink. I shall go to sleep directly. Nods and goes to sleep.

PHILOLACHES

He doesn't do anything wonderful or strange. What shall I do with him then, my dear?

DELPHIUM

Let him alone just as he is.

PHILOLACHES

Come, you boy. Meanwhile, speedily pass the goblet round, beginning with Delphium.

ACT II.

Enter TRANIO, at a distance.

TRANIO

to himself . Supreme Jove, with all his might and resources, is seeking for me and Philolaches, my master's son, to be undone. Our hopes are destroyed; nowhere is there any hold for courage; not even Salvation now could save us if she wished. Such an immense mountain of woe have I just now seen at the harbour: my master has arrived from abroad; Tranio is undone! To the AUDIENCE. Is there any person who'd like to make gain of a little money, who could this day endure to take my place in being tortured? Where are those fellows hardened to a flogging, the wearers- out of iron chains, or those, who, for the consideration of three didrachms, would get beneath besieging towers, where some are in the way of having their bodies pierced with fifteen spears? I'll give a talent to that man who shall be the first to run to the cross for me; but on condition that twice his feet, twice his arms are fastened there. When that shall have been done, then ask the money down of me. But am I not a wretched fellow, not at full speed to be running home?

PHILOLACHES

Here come the provisions; see, here's Tranio; he's come back from the harbour.

TRANIO

running . Philolaches!

PHILOLACHES

What's the matter?

TRANIO

Both I and you ——

PHILOLACHES

What about "Both I and you?"

TRANIO
Are undone!

PHILOLACHES
Why so?

TRANIO
Your father's here.

PHILOLACHES
What is it I hear of you?

TRANIO
We are finished up. Your father's come, I say.

PHILOLACHES
starting up. Where is he, I do entreat you?

TRANIO
He's coming.

PHILOLACHES
Coming? Who says so? Who has seen him?

TRANIO
I saw him myself, I tell you.

PHILOLACHES
Woe unto me! what am I about?

TRANIO
Why the plague now do you ask me what you are about? Taking your place at table, of course.

PHILOLACHES
Did you see him?

TRANIO
I my own self, I tell you.

PHIOLACHES

For certain?

TRANIO

For certain, I tell you.

PHIOLACHES

I'm undone, if you are telling the truth.

TRANIO

What good could it be to me if I told a lie?

PHIOLACHES

What shall I do now?

TRANIO

pointing to the table and couches . Order all these things to be removed from here. Pointing. Who's that asleep there?

PHIOLACHES

Callidamates.

TRANIO

Arouse him, Delphium.

DELPHIUM

bawling out in his ear . Callidamates! Callidamates! awake! CALL. raising himself a little . I am awake; give me something to drink.

DELPHIUM

Awake; the father of Philolaches has arrived from abroad.

CALLIDAMATES

I hope his father's well.

PHIOLACHES

He is well indeed; but I am utterly undone.

CALLIDAMATES

You, utterly undone? How can that be?

PHILOLACHES

By heavens! do get up, I beg of you; my father has arrived.

CALLIDAMATES

Your father has come? Bid him go back again. What business had he to come back here so soon?

PHILOLACHES

What am I to do? My father will, just now, be coming and unfortunately finding me amid drunken carousals, and the house full of revellers and women. It's a shocking bad job, to be digging a well at the last moment, just when thirst has gained possession of your throat; just as I, on the arrival of my father, wretch that I am, am now enquiring what I am to do.

TRANIO

pointing at CALLIDAMATES . Why look, he has laid down his head and gone to sleep. Do arouse him.

PHILOLACHES

shaking him . Will you awake now? My father, I tell you, will be here this instant.

CALLIDAMATES

How say you? Your father? Give me my shoes, that I may take up arms. On my word, I'll kill your father this instant.

PHILOLACHES

seizing hold of him . You're spoiling the whole business; do hold your tongue. To DELPHIUM. Prithee, do carry him off in your arms into the house.

CALLIDAMATES

To DELPHIUM, who is lifting him up . Upon my faith, I'll be making an utensil of you just now, if you don't find me one. He is led off into the house.

PHILOLACHES

I'm undone!

TRANIO

Be of good courage; I'll cleverly find a remedy for this alarm.

PHILOLACHES

I'm utterly ruined!

TRANIO

Do hold your tongue; I'll think of something by means of which to alleviate this for you. Are you satisfied, if on his arrival I shall so manage your father, not only that he shall not enter, but even that he shall run away to a distance from the house? Do you only be off from here in-doors, and remove these things from here with all haste.

PHILOLACHES

Where am I to be?

TRANIO

Where you especially desire: with her pointing to PHILEMATIUM ; with this girl, too, you'll be. Pointing to DELPHEIUM.

DELPHIUM

How then? Are we to go away from here?

TRANIO

Not far from here, Delphium. For carouse away in the house not a bit the less on account of this.

PHILOLACHES

Ah me! I'm in a sweat with fear as to how these fine words are to end!

TRANIO

Can you not be tranquil in your mind, and do as I bid you?

PHILOLACHES

I can be.

TRANIO

In the first place of all, Philematium, do you go in-doors; and you, Delphium.

DELPHIUM

We'll both be obedient to you. They go into the house.

TRANIO

May Jupiter grant it so! Now then, do you give attention as to what I'd have attended to. In the first place, then, before anything, cause the house to be shut up at once. Take care and don't let any one whisper a word indoors.

PHILOLACHES

Care shall be taken.

TRANIO

Just as though no living being were dwelling within the house.

PHILOLACHES

Very well.

TRANIO

And let no one answer, when the old gentleman knocks at the door.

PHILOLACHES

Anything else?

TRANIO

Order the master-key of the house to be brought me at once from within; this house I'll lock here on the outside.

PHILOLACHES

To your charge I commit myself, Tranio, and my hopes. He goes into the house, and the things are removed from the stage.

TRANIO

to himself. It matters not a feather whether a patron or a dependant is the nearest at hand for that man who has got no courage in his breast. For to every man, whether very good or very bad, even at a moment's notice, it is easy to act with craft; but this must be looked to, this is the duty of a prudent man, that what has been planned and done in craftiness, may all come about smoothly and without mishap; so that he may not have to put up with anything by reason of which he might be loth to live; just as I shall manage, that, from the confusion which we shall here create, all shall really go on smoothly and tranquilly, and not produce us any inconvenience in the results. Enter a BOY, from the house. But, why have you come out? I'm undone! (The shows him the key.) O very well, you've obeyed my orders most opportunely.

A BOY.

A BOY.

He bade me most earnestly to entreat you some way or other to scare away his father, that he may not enter the house.

TRANIO

Even more, tell him this, that I'll cause that he shan't venture even to look at the house, and to take to flight, covering up his head with the greatest alarm. Give me the key taking it, and be off in-doors, and shut to the door, and I'll lock it on this side. The BOY goes into the house, and TRANIO locks the door. Bid him now come forthwith. For the old gentleman here while still alive this day will I institute games in his presence, such as I fancy there will never be for him when he's dead. Moving away. I'll go away from the door to this spot; hence, I'll look out afar in which direction to lay the burden on the old fellow on his arrival. Exit to a little distance.

Enter THEUROPIDES, followed by ATTENDANTS.

THEUROPIDES

to himself . Neptune, I do return extreme thanks to thee that thou hast just dismissed me from thee, though scarce alive. But if, from this time forward, thou shalt only know that I have stirred a foot upon the main, there is no reason why, that instant, thou shouldst not do with me that which thou hast now wished to do. Away with you, away with you from me henceforth for ever after to-day; what I was to entrust to thee, all of it have I now entrusted. overhearing him.

TRANIO

apart . By my troth, Neptune, you've been much to blame, to have lost this opportunity so fair.

THEUROPIDES

After three years, I've arrived home from Ægypt. I shall come a welcome guest to my household, I suppose.

TRANIO

apart . Upon my faith, he might have come a much more welcome one, who had brought the tidings you were dead.

THEUROPIDES

looking at the door . But what means this? Is the door shut in the daytime? I'll knock. Knocks at the door. Hallo, there! is any one going to open this door for me?

TRANIO

coming forward, and speaking aloud . What person is it that has come so near to our house?

THEUROPIDES

Surely this is my servant Tranio.

TRANIO

O Theuropides, my master, welcome; I'm glad that you've arrived in safety.

HAVE you been well all along?

THEUROPIDES

All along, as you see.

TRANIO

That's very good.

THEUROPIDES

What about yourselves? Are you all mad?

TRANIO

Why so?

THEUROPIDES

For this reason; because you are walking about outside; not a born person is keeping watch in the house, either to open or to give an answer. With kicking with my feet I've almost broken in the pannels?

TRANIO

How now? Have you been touching this house?

THEUROPIDES

Why shouldn't I touch it? Why, with kicking it, I tell you, I've almost broken down the door.

TRANIO

What, you touched it?

THEUROPIDES

I touched it, I tell you, and knocked at it.

TRANIO

Out upon you!

THEUROPIDES

Why so?

TRANIO

By heavens! 'twas ill done.

THEUROPIDES

What is the matter?

TRANIO

It cannot be expressed, how shocking and dreadful a mischief you've been guilty of.

THEUROPIDES

How so?

TRANIO

Take to flight, I beseech you, and get away from the house. Fly in this direction, fly closer to me. He runs to wards TRANIO. What, did you touch the door?

THEUROPIDES

How could I knock, if I didn't touch it?

TRANIO

By all that's holy, you've been the death ——

THEUROPIDES

Of what person?

TRANIO

Of all your family.

THEUROPIDES

May the Gods and Goddesses confound you with that omen.

TRANIO

I'm afraid that you can't make satisfaction for yourself and them.

THEUROPIDES

For what reason, or what new affair is this that you thus suddenly bring me news of?

TRANIO

And whispering hark you, prithee, do bid those people to move away from here. Pointing to the ATTENDANTS of THEUROPIDES.

THEUROPIDES

to the ATTENDANTS . Move away from here.

TRANIO

Don't you touch the house. Touch you the ground as well. (Exeunt the ATTENDANTS.)

THEUROPIDES

I' faith, prithee, do speak out now.

TRANIO

Because it is now seven months that not a person has set foot within this house, and since we once for all left it.

THEE.

Tell me, why so?

TRANIO

Just look around, whether there's any person to overhear our discourse.

THEUROPIDES

looking around . All's quite safe.

TRANIO

Look around once more.

THEUROPIDES

looking around . There's nobody; now then, speak out. TRA. in a loud whisper . The house has been guilty of a capital offence.

THEUROPIDES

I don't understand you.

TRANIO

A crime, I tell you, has been committed there, a long while ago, one of olden time and ancient date.

THEUROPIDES

Of ancient date?

TRANIO

'Tis but recently, in fact, that we've discovered this deed.

THEUROPIDES

What is this crime, or who committed it? Tell me.

TRANIO

A host slew his guest, seized with his hand; he, I fancy, who sold you the house.

THEUROPIDES

Slew him?

TRANIO

And robbed this guest of his gold, and buried this guest there in the house, on the spot.

THEUROPIDES

For what reason do you suspect that this took place?

TRANIO

I'll tell you; listen. One day, when your son had dined away from home, after he returned home from dining; we all went to bed, and fell asleep. By accident, I had forgotten to put out my lamp; and he, all of a sudden, called out aloud ——

THEUROPIDES

What person? My son?

TRANIO

Hist! hold your peace: just listen. He said that a dead man came to him in his sleep ——

THEUROPIDES

In his dreams, then, you mean?

TRANIO

Just so. But only listen. He said that he had met with his death by these means ——

THEUROPIDES

What, in his sleep?

TRANIO

It would have been surprising if he had told him awake, who had been murdered sixty years ago. On some occasions you are absurdly simple. But look, what he said: "I am the guest of Diapontius, from beyond the seas; here do I dwell; this has been assigned me as my abode; for Orcus would not receive me in Acheron, because prematurely I lost my life. Through confiding was I deceived: my entertainer slew me here, and that villain secretly laid me in the ground without funereal rites, in this house, on the spot, for the sake of gold. Now do you depart from here; this house is accursed, this dwelling is defiled." The wonders that here take place, hardly in a year could I recount them. Hush, hush! He starts.

THEUROPIDES

Troth now, what has happened, prithee?

TRANIO

The door made a noise. Was it he that was knocking?

THEUROPIDES

turning pale . I have not one drop of blood! Dead men are come to fetch me to Acheron, while alive!

TRANIO

aside . I'm undone! those people there will mar my plot. A noise is heard from within. How much I dread, lest he should catch me in the fact.

THEUROPIDES

What are you talking about to yourself? Goes near the door.

TRANIO

Do get away from the door. By heavens, fly, I do beseech you.

THEUROPIDES

Fly where? Fly yourself, as well.

TRANIO

I am not afraid: I am at peace with the dead.

A VOICE

from within . Hallo! Tranio.

TRANIO

in a low voice, near the door . You won't be calling me, if you are wise. Aloud, as if speaking to the APPARITION. 'Tis not I that's guilty; I did not knock at the door.

THEUROPIDES

Pray, what is it that's wrong? What matter is agitating you, Tranio?
To whom are you saying these things?

TRANIO

Prithee, was it you that called me? So may the Gods bless me, I fancied it was this dead man expostulating because you had knocked at the door. But are you still standing there, and not doing what I advise you?

THEUROPIDES

What am I to do?

TRANIO

Take care not to look back. Fly; cover up your head!

THEUROPIDES

Why don't you fly?

TRANIO

I am at peace with the dead.

THEUROPIDES

I recollect. Why then were you so dreadfully alarmed just now?

TRANIO

Have no care for me, I tell you; I'll see to myself. You, as you have begun to do, fly as quick as ever you can; Hercules, too, you will invoke.

THEUROPIDES

Hercules, I do invoke thee! Runs off.

TRANIO

to himself. And I, as well, old fellow, that; this day he'll send some heavy mishap upon you. O ye immortal Gods, I do implore your aid. Plague on it! what a mess I have got into to-day. (Exit.)

ACT III.

Enter a BANKER, at the end of the stage.

A BANKER.

to himself . I never knew any year worse for money upon interest, than this year has turned out to me. From morning even until night, I spend my time in the Forum; I cannot lend out a coin of silver to any one. Enter TRANIO.

TRANIO

apart . Now, faith, I am clearly undone in an everlasting way! The Banker's here who found the money with which his mistress was bought. The matter's all out, unless I meet him a bit beforehand, so that the old man may not at present come to know of this. I'll go meet him. But seeing THEUROPIDES I wonder why he has so soon betaken himself homeward again. I'm afraid that he has heard something about this affair. I'll meet him, and accost him. But how dreadfully frightened I am! Nothing is more wretched than the mind of a man with a guilty conscience, such as possesses myself. But however this matter turns out, I'll proceed to perplex it still further: so does this affair require. THEUROPIDES.

TRANIO

accosting him . Whence come you?

THEUROPIDES

I met that person from whom I bought this house.

TRANIO

Did you tell him anything about that which I was telling you?

THEUROPIDES

I' faith, I certainly told him everything.

TRANIO

aside . Woe to unfortunate me! I'm afraid that my schemes are everlastingly undone!

THEUROPIDES

What is it you are saying to yourself?

TRANIO

Why nothing. But tell me, prithee, did you really tell him?

THEUROPIDES

I told him everything in its order, I tell you.

TRANIO

Does he, then, confess about the guest?

THEUROPIDES

Why no; he utterly denies it.

TRANIO

Does he deny it?

THEUROPIDES

Do you ask me again? I should tell you if he had confessed it. What now are you of opinion ought to be done?

TRANIO

What is my opinion? By my troth, I beg of you, appoint an arbitrator together with him; but take you care that you appoint one who will believe me; you'll overcome him as easily as a fox eats a pear.

A BANKER.

to himself . But see, here's Tranio, the servant of Philolaches, people who pay me neither interest nor principal on my money. Goes towards TRANIO, who steps forward to meet him.

THEUROPIDES

to TRANIO . Whither are you betaking yourself?

TRANIO

I'm going no whither. Aside. For sure, I am a wretch, a rascal, one born with all the Gods my foes! He'll now be accosting me in the old man's presence. Assuredly, I am a wretched man; in such a fashion both this way and that do they find business for me. But I'll make haste and accost him. Moves towards the BANKER.

A BANKER.

apart . He's coming towards me. I'm all right I've some hopes of my money; he's smiling.

TRANIO

to himself . The fellow's deceived. To the BANKER. I heartily bid you hail, my friend Saturides.

A BANKER.

And hail to you. What about the money?

TRANIO

Be off with you, will you, you brute. Directly you come, you commence the attack against me.

A BANKER.

apart . This fellow's empty-handed.

TRANIO

overhearing him . This fellow's surely a conjurer.

A BANKER.

But why don't you put an end to this trifling?

TRANIO

Tell me, then, what it is you want.

A BANKER.

Where is Philolaches?

TRANIO

You never could have met me more opportunely than you have met me.

A BANKER.

How's that?

TRANIO

taking him aside . Step this way.

A BANKER.

aloud . Why isn't the money repaid me?

TRANIO

I know that you have a good voice; don't bawl out so loud.

A BANKER.

aloud . I' faith, I certainly shall bawl out.

TRANIO

O do humour me now.

A BANKER.

What do you want me to humour you in?

TRANIO

Prithee, be off hence home.

A BANKER.

Be off?

TRANIO

Return here about mid-day.

A BANKER.

Will the interest be paid then?

TRANIO

It will be paid. Be off.

A BANKER.

Why should I run to and fro here, or use or waste my pains? What if I remain here until mid-day in preference?

TRANIO

Why no; be off home. On my word, I'm telling the truth. Only do be off.

A BANKER.

aloud . Then do you pay me my interest. Why do you trifle with me this way?

TRANIO

Bravo! faith. Really now, do be off; do attend to me.

A BANKER.

aloud . I' faith, I'll call him now by name.

TRANIO

Bravo! stoutly done! Really you are quite rich now when you bawl out.

A BANKER.

aloud . I'm asking for my own. In this way you've been disappointing me for these many days past. If I'm troublesome, give me back the money; I'll go away then. That expression puts an end to all replies.

TRANIO

pretending to offer it him . Then, take the principal.

A BANKER.

aloud . Why no, the interest; I want that first.

TRANIO

What? Have you, you fellow most foul of all fellows, come here to burst yourself? Do what lies in your power. He's not going to pay you; he doesn't owe it.

A BANKER.

Not owe it?

TRANIO

Not a tittle, indeed, can you get from here. Would you prefer for him to go abroad, and leave the city in exile, driven hence for your sake? Why then, in preference let him pay the principal.

A BANKER.

But I don't ask for it.

THEUROPIDES

calling out to TRANIO, from a distance . Hark you! you whip-knave, come back to me.

TRANIO

to THEUROPIDES . I'll be there just now. To the BANKER. Don't you be troublesome: no one's going to pay you; do what you please. You are the only person, I suppose, that lends money upon interest. Moves towards THEUROPIDES.

A BANKER.

bawling aloud . Give me my interest! pay me my interest! you pay my interest! Are you going to give me my interest this instant? Give me my interest!

TRANIO

Interest here, interest there! The old rogue knows how to talk about nothing but interest. I do not think that ever I saw any beast more vile than you.

A BANKER.

Upon my faith, you don't alarm me now with those expressions. This is of a hot nature; although it is at a distance off, it scorches badly.

TRANIO

Don't you be troublesome; no one's going to pay you; do what you please. You are the only person, I suppose, that lends money upon interest.

THEUROPIDES

to TRANIO . Pray, what interest is this that he is asking for?

TRANIO

in a low voice, to the BANKER . Look now; his father has arrived from abroad, not long since; he'll pay you both interest and principal; don't you then attempt any further to make us your enemies. See whether he puts you off.

A BANKER.

Nay but, I'll take it, if anything's offered.

THEUROPIDES

to TRANIO, coming towards him . What do you say, then —— ?

TRANIO

What is it you mean?

THEUROPIDES

Who is this? What is he asking for? Why is he thus rudely speaking of my son Philolaches in this way, and giving you abuse to your face? What's owing him?

TRANIO

to THEUROPIDES . I beg of you, do order the money to be thrown in the face of this dirty brute.

THEUROPIDES

I, order it?

TRANIO

Order the fellow's face to be pelted with money.

A BANKER.

coming nearer . I could very well put up with a pelting with money.

THEUROPIDES

to TRANIO . What money's this?

TRANIO

Philolaches owes this person a little.

THEUROPIDES

How much?

TRANIO

About forty minæ.

A BANKER.

to THEUROPIDES . Really, don't think much of that; it's a trifle, in fact.

TRANIO

Don't you hear him? Troth now, prithee, doesn't he seem just suited to be a Banker — a generation that's most roguish?

THEUROPIDES

I don't care, just now, for that, who he is or whence he is; this I want to be told me, this I very much wish to know — I heard from him that there was interest owing on the money as well.

TRANIO

Forty-four minæ are due to him. Say that you'll pay it, that he may be off.

THEUROPIDES

I, say that I'll pay it?

TRANIO

Do say so.

THEUROPIDES

What, I?

TRANIO

You yourself. Do only say so. Do be guided by me. Do promise.
Come now, I say; I beg of you.

THEUROPIDES

Answer me; what has been done with this money?

TRANIO

It's safe.

THEUROPIDES

Pay it yourselves then, if it's safe,

TRANIO

Your son has bought a house.

THEUROPIDES

A house?

TRANIO

A house.

THEUROPIDES

Bravo! Philolaches is taking after his father! The fellow now turns to merchandize. A house, say you?

TRANIO

A house, I tell you. But do you know of what sort?

THEUROPIDES

How can I know?

TRANIO

Out with you!

THEUROPIDES

What's the matter?

TRANIO

Don't ask me that.

THEUROPIDES

But why so?

TRANIO

Bright as a mirror, pure brilliancy itself.

THEUROPIDES

Excellently done, upon my faith! Well, how much did he agree to give for it?

TRANIO

As many great talents as you and I put together make; but these forty minæ he paid by way of earnest. Pointing to the BANKER. From him he received what we paid the other man. Do you quite understand? For after this house was in such a state as I mentioned to you, he at once purchased another house for himself.

THEUROPIDES

Excellently done, upon my faith!

A BANKER.

touching TRANIO. Hark you. Mid-day is now close at hand.

TRANIO

Prithee, do dismiss this puking fellow, that he mayn't worry us to death. Forty-four minæ are due to him, both principal and interest.

A BANKER.

'Tis just that much; I ask for nothing more.

TRANIO

Upon my faith, I really could have wished that you had asked more, if only by a single coin.

THEUROPIDES

to the BANKER. Young man, transact the business with me.

A BANKER.

I'm to ask it of you, you mean?

THEUROPIDES

Come for it to-morrow.

A BANKER.

I'll be off, then; I'm quite satisfied if I get it tomorrow. (Exit.) aside . A plague may all the Gods and Goddesses send upon him! so utterly has he disarranged my plans. On my word, no class of men is there more disgusting, or less acquainted with fair dealing than the banking race.

TRANIO

THEUROPIDES

In what neighbourhood did my son buy this house?

TRANIO

aside . Just see that, now! I'm undone!

THEUROPIDES

Are you going to tell me that which I ask you?

TRANIO

I'll tell you; but I'm thinking what was the name of the owner.

Pretends to think.

THEUROPIDES

Well, call it to mind, then.

TRANIO

aside . What am I to do now, except put the lie upon this neighbour of ours next door? I'll say that his son has bought that house. I' faith, I've heard say that a lie piping-hot is the best lie; this is piping-hot; although it is at a distance off, it scorches badly. Whatever the Gods dictate, that am I determined to say.

THEUROPIDES

Well now? Have you recollected it by this?

TRANIO

aside . May the Gods confound that fellow! — no this other fellow, rather. To THEUROPIDES. Your son has bought the house of this next-door neighbour of yours.

THEUROPIDES

In real truth?

TRANIO

If, indeed, you are going to pay down the money, then in real truth; if you are not going to pay it, in real truth he has not bought it.

THEUROPIDES

He hasn't bought it in a very good situation.

TRANIO

Why yes, in a very good one.

THEUROPIDES

I' faith, I should like to look over this house; just knock at the door, and call some one to you from within, Tranio.

TRANIO

aside . Why just look now, again I don't know what I'm to say. Once more, now, are the surges bearing me upon the self-same rock. What now? I' faith, I can't discover what I am now to do; I'm caught in the fact.

THEUROPIDES

Just call some one out of doors; ask him to show us round.

TRANIO

going to the door of SIMO'S house . Hallo there, you! Turning round
But there are ladies here; we must first see whether they are willing or unwilling.

THEUROPIDES

You say what's good and proper; just make enquiry, and ask. I'll wait here outside until you come out.

TRANIO

aside . May all the Gods and Goddesses utterly confound you, old gentleman! in such a fashion are you thwarting my artful plans in every way. Bravo! very good! Look, Simo himself, the owner of the house, is coming out of doors. I'll step aside here, until I have convened the senate of council in my mind. Then, when I've discovered what I am to do, I'll join him. THEUROPIDES and TRANIO stand at a distance from SIMO'S house, in opposite directions, THEUROPIDES being out of sight.

Enter SIMO, from his house.

SIMO

to himself . I've not enjoyed myself better at home this year than I have to-day, nor has at any time any meal pleased me better. My wife provided a very nice breakfast for me; now she bids me go take a nap. By no means! It instantly struck me that it didn't so happen by chance. She provided a better breakfast than is her wont; and then, the old lady wanted to draw me away to my chamber. Sleep is not good after breakfast — out upon it! I secretly stole away from the house, out of doors. My wife, I'm sure, is now quite bursting with rage at home.

TRANIO

apart . A sore mischance is provided for this old fellow by the evening; for he must both dine and go to bed in-doors in sorry fashion.

SIMO

continuing . The more I reflect upon it in my mind: if any person has a dowried wife, sleep has no charms for him. I detest going to take a nap. It's a settled matter with me to be off to the Forum from here, rather than nap it at home. And, i' faith to the AUDIENCE , I don't know how your wives are in their behaviour; this wife of mine, I know right well how badly she treats me, and that she will prove more annoying to me hereafter than she has been.

TRANIO

apart . If your escape, old gentleman, turns out amiss, there'll be no reason for you to be accusing any one of the Gods; by very good right, you may justly lay the blame upon yourself. It's time now for me to accost this old fellow. 'Tis down upon him. I've hit upon a plan whereby to cajole the old fellow, by means of which to drive grief away from me. I'll accost him. Accosting him. May the Gods, Simo, send on you many blessings! Takes him by the hand.

SIMO

Save you, Tranio!

TRANIO

How fare you?

SIMO

Not amiss. What are you about?

TRANIO

Holding by the hand a very worthy man.

SIMO

You act in a friendly way, in speaking well of me.

TRANIO

It certainly is your due.

SIMO

But, i' faith, in you I don't hold a good servant by the hand.

THEUROPIDES

calling from a distance, where he is not perceived by SIMO . Hark you! you whip-knave, come back to me.

TRANIO

turning round . I'll be there just now.

SIMO

Well now, how soon —— ?

TRANIO

What is it?

SIMO

The usual goings-on.

TRANIO

Tell me then, these usual goings-on, what are they?

SIMO

The way that you yourselves proceed. But, Tranio, to say the truth, according as men are, it so befits you to humour them; reflecting, at the same time, how short life is.

TRANIO

What of all this? Dear me, at last, after some difficulty, I perceive that you are talking about these goings-on of ours.

SIMO

I' faith, you people are living a merry life, just as befits you: on wine, good cheer, nice dainty fish, you enjoy life.

TRANIO

Why yes, so it was in time past, indeed; but now these things have come to an end all at once.

SIMO

How so?

TRANIO

So utterly, Simo, are we all undone!

SIMO

Won't you hold your tongue? Everything has gone on prosperously with you hitherto.

TRANIO

I don't deny that it has been as you say; undoubtedly, we have lived heartily, just as we pleased; but, Simo, in such a way has the breeze now forsaken our ship ——

SIMO

What's the matter? In what way?

TRANIO

In a most shocking way.

SIMO

What, wasn't it hauled ashore in safety?

TRANIO

Ah me!

SIMO

What's the matter?

TRANIO

Ah wretched me! I'm utterly undone!

SIMO

How so?

TRANIO

Because a ship has come, to smash the hull of our ship.

SIMO

I would wish as you would wish, Tranio, for your own sake. But what is the matter? Do inform me.

TRANIO

I will inform you. My master has arrived from abroad.

SIMO

In that case, the cord will be stretched for you; thence to the place where iron fetters clink; after that, straight to the cross.

TRANIO

Now, by your knees, I do implore you, don't give information to my master.

SIMO

Don't you fear; he shall know nothing from me.

TRANIO

Blessings on you, my patron.

SIMO

I don't care for clients of this description for myself.

TRANIO

Now as to this about which our old gentleman has sent me.

SIMO

First answer me this that I ask you. As yet, has your old gentleman discovered anything of these matters?

TRANIO

Nothing whatever.

SIMO

Has he censured his son at all?

TRANIO

He is as calm as the calm weather is wont to be. Now he has requested me most earnestly to beg this of you, that leave may be given him to see over this house of yours.

SIMO

It's not for sale.

TRANIO

I know that indeed; but the old gentleman wishes to build a woman's apartment here in his own house, baths, too, and a piazza, and a porch.

SIMO

What has he been dreaming of?

TRANIO

I'll tell you. He wishes to give his son a wife as soon as he can; for that purpose he wants a new apartment for the women. But he says that some builder, I don't know who, has been praising up to him this house of yours, as being remarkably well built; now he's desirous to take a model from it, if you don't make any objection ——

SIMO

Indeed, he is really choosing a plan for himself from a piece of poor workmanship.

TRANIO

It was because he heard that here the summer heat was much modified; that this house was wont to be inhabited each day all day long.

SIMO

Why really, upon my faith, on the contrary, while there's shade in every direction, in spite of it, the sun is always here from morning till night: he stands, like a dun, continually at the door; and I have no shade anywhere, unless, perhaps, there may be some in the well.

TRANIO

Well now, have you one from Sarsina, if you have no woman of Umbria?

SIMO

Don't be impertinent. It is just as I tell you.

TRANIO

Still, he wishes to look over it.

SIMO

He may look over it, if he likes. If there is anything that takes his fancy, let him build after my plan.

TRANIO

Am I to go and call this person hither?

SIMO

Go and call him.

TRANIO

(to himself, as he goes to the other side of the stage to call THEUROPIDES). They say that Alexander the Great and Agathocles achieved two very great exploits; what shall be the lot of myself, a third, who, unaided, am achieving deeds imperishable? This old fellow is carrying his pack-saddle, the other one, as well. I've hit upon a novel trade for myself, not a bad one; whereas muleteers have mules to carry pack-saddles; I've got men to carry the pack-saddles. They are able to carry heavy burdens; whatever you put upon them, they carry. Now, I don't know whether I am to address him. I'll accost him, however. Calling aloud. Hark you, Theuropides!

THEUROPIDES

coming forward. Well; who's calling me?

TRANIO

A servant most attached to his master. Where you sent me, I got it all agreed to.

THEUROPIDES

Prithce, why did you stay there so long?

TRANIO

The old gentleman hadn't leisure; I was waiting until then.

THEUROPIDES

You keep up that old way of yours, of being tardy.

TRANIO

Hark you! if you please reflect upon this proverb: to blow and swallow at the same moment isn't easy to be done; I couldn't be here and there at the same time.

THEUROPIDES

What now?

TRANIO

Come and look, and inspect it at your own pleasure.

THEUROPIDES

Very well, you go before me.

TRANIO

Am I delaying to do so?

THEUROPIDES

I'll follow after you.

TRANIO

as they advance . Look, the old gentleman himself is awaiting you before the door, but he is concerned that he has sold this house.

THEUROPIDES

Why so?

TRANIO

He begs me to persuade Philolaches to let him off.

THEUROPIDES

I don't think he will. Each man reaps on his own farm. If it had been bought dear, we shouldn't have had permission to return it on his hands. Whatever profit there is, it's proper to bring it home. It don't, now-a-days, befit men to be showing compassion.

TRANIO

I' faith, you are losing time while you are talking. Follow me.

THEUROPIDES

Be it so.

TRANIO

to THEUROPIDES . I'll give you my services. Pointing. There's the old gentleman. To SIMO. Well now, I've brought you this person.

SIMO

I'm glad that you've arrived safely from abroad, Theuropides.

THEUROPIDES

May the Gods bless you.

SIMO

Your servant was telling me that you were desirous to look over this house.

THEUROPIDES

Unless it's inconvenient to you.

SIMO

Oh no; quite convenient. Do step in-doors and look over it.

THEUROPIDES

pausing . But yet — the ladies ——

SIMO

Take you care not to trouble yourself a straw about any lady. Walk in every direction, wherever you like, all over the house just as though it were your own.

THEUROPIDES

apart to TRANIO . “Just as though —— ?”

TRANIO

whispering . Oh, take care that you don't throw it in his teeth now in his concern, that you have bought it. Don't you see him, how sad a countenance the old gentleman has?

THEUROPIDES

apart . I see. TRA. apart . Then don't seem to exult, and to be overmuch delighted; in fact, don't make mention that you've bought it.

THEUROPIDES

apart . I understand; and I think you've given good advice, and that it shows a humane disposition. Turning to SIMO. What now?

SIMO

Won't you go in? Look over it at your leisure, just as you like.

THEUROPIDES

I consider that you are acting civilly and kindly.

SIMO

Troth, I wish to do so. Should you like some one to show you over.

THEUROPIDES

Away with any one to show me over. I don't want him.

SIMO

Why? What's the matter?

THEUROPIDES

I'll go wrong, rather than any one should show me over.

TRANIO

pointing . Don't you see, this vestibule before the house, and the piazza, of what a compass it is?

THEUROPIDES

Troth, really handsome!

TRANIO

Well, look now. what pillars there are, with what strength they are built, and of what a thickness.

THEUROPIDES

I don't think that I ever saw handsomer pillars.

SIMO

I' faith, they were some time since bought by me at such a price!

TRANIO

aside, whispering . Don't you hear— "They were once"? He seems hardly able to refrain from tears.

THEUROPIDES

At what price did you purchase them?

SIMO

I gave three minæ for the two, besides the carriage, He retires to some distance.

THEUROPIDES

after looking close at them, to TRANIO . Why, upon my word, they are much more unsound than I thought them at first.

TRANIO

Why so?

THEUROPIDES

Because, i' faith, the woodworm has split them both from the bottom.

TRANIO

I think they were cut at an improper season; that fault damages them; but even as it is, they are quite good enough, if they are covered with pitch. But it was no foreign pulse-eating artisan did this work. Don't you see the joints in the door? Pointing.

THEUROPIDES

I see them.

TRANIO

Look, how close together they are sleeping.

THEUROPIDES

Sleeping?

TRANIO

That is, how they wink, I intended to say. Are you satisfied?

THEUROPIDES

The more I look at each particular, the more it pleases me.

TRANIO

pointing . Don't you see the painting, where one crow is baffling two vultures? The crow stands there; it's pecking at them both in turn. This way, look, prithee, towards me, that you may be able to see the crow. THEUROPIDES turns towards him. Now do you see it?

THEUROPIDES

looking about . For my part, I really see no crow there.

TRANIO

But do you look in that direction, towards yourselves, since you cannot discover the crow, if perchance you may be able to espy the vultures. THEUROPIDES turns towards SIMO. Now do you see them?

THEUROPIDES

Upon my faith, I don't see them.

TRANIO

But I can see two vultures.

THEUROPIDES

To make an end of it with you, I don't see any bird at all painted here.

TRANIO

Well then, I give it up. I excuse you; it is through age you cannot see.

THEUROPIDES

These things which I can see, really they do all please me mightily.

SIMO

coming forward . Now, at length, it's worth your while to move further on. THEU. Troth, you give good advice.

SIMO

calling at the door . Ho there, boy! take this person round this house and the apartments. But I myself would have shown you round, if I hadn't had business at the Forum.

THEUROPIDES

Away with any one to show me over. I don't want to be shown over. Whatever it is, I'd rather go wrong than any one should show me over.

SIMO

The house I'm speaking of.

THEUROPIDES

Then I'll go in without any one to show me over.

SIMO

Go, by all means.

THEUROPIDES

I'll go in-doors, then.

TRANIO

holding him back . Stop, please; let me see whether the dog ——

THEUROPIDES

Very well then, look. TRANIO looks into the passage.

TRANIO

There is one.

THEUROPIDES

looking in . Where is it?

TRANIO

to the dog . Be off and be hanged! ‘St, won’t you be off to utter perdition with you? What, do you still linger? ‘St, away with you from here!

SIMO

coming nearer to the door . There’s no danger. You only move on. It’s as gentle as a woman in childbed. You may boldly step in-doors wherever you like. I’m going hence to the Forum.

THEUROPIDES

You’ve acted obligingly. Good speed to you. Exit SIMO. Tranio, come, make that dog move away from the door inside, although it isn’t to be feared.

TRANIO

Nay but pointing , you look at it, how gently it lies. Unless you’d like yourself to appear troublesome and cowardly ——

THEUROPIDES

Very well, just as you like.

TRANIO

Follow me this way then.

THEUROPIDES

For my part, I shall not move in any direction from your feet. They go into the house.

ACT IV.

Enter PHANISCUS.

PHANISCUS

to himself. Servants who, though they are free from fault, still stand in awe of punishment, those same are wont to be serviceable to their masters. But those who fear nothing, after they have merited punishment, hit upon foolish plans for themselves: they exercise themselves in running; they take to flight. But, if they are caught, they acquire from punishment a hoard, which by good means they cannot. They increase from a very little, and from that they lay by a treasure. The resolution that's in my mind is to be determined to be on my guard against punishment, before my back comes to lose its state of soundness. As hitherto it has been, so does it become my hide still to be, without a bruise, and such that I should decline its being beaten. If I have any control over it, I shall keep it well covered up. When punishment is being showered down on others, don't let it be showered down on me. But as servants wish their master to be, such is he wont to be. He is good to the good, bad to the bad. But now at our house at home there do live so many rogues, lavish of their property, bearers of stripes. When they are called to go fetch their master, "I shan't go; don't be plaguing me; I know where you are hurrying off to," is the reply. "Now, faith, you mule, you're longing to go to pasturage out of doors." With better deserts, this advantage have I reaped from them, and, in consequence, I have come from home. I alone, out of so many servants, am going to fetch my master. When, to-morrow, my master comes to know this, in the morning he will chastise them with bull's-hide spoils. In fine, I care less for their backs than for my own. Much rather shall they be bull's-hide-scourged than I be rope-scourged. Moves on.

Enter a SERVANT.

ANOTHER SERVANT of Callidamates.

Hold you and stop this instant. Phaniscus! look round, I say!

PHANISCUS

not turning round . Don't be annoying to me.

ANOTHER SERVANT of Callidamates.

Do see how scornful the monkey is!

PHANISCUS

I am so for myself; I choose to be. Why do you trouble yourself about it? Walking on.

ANOTHER SERVANT of Callidamates.

Are you going to stop this instant, you dirty parasite?

PHANISCUS

turning round . How am I a parasite?

ANOTHER SERVANT of Callidamates.

Why, I'll tell you: you can be drawn anywhere by victuals. Do you give yourself airs, because your master's so fond of you?

PHANISCUS

rubbing his eyes . O dear, my eyes do ache.

ANOTHER SERVANT of Callidamates.

Why so?

PHANISCUS

Because the smoke's so troublesome.

ANOTHER SERVANT of Callidamates.

Hold your tongue, will you, you clever workman, who are in the habit of coining money out of lead.

PHANISCUS

You cannot compel me to be abusive to you. My master knows me.

ANOTHER SERVANT of Callidamates.

Why, really, his own pillow he ought to know, for resting on when drunk.

PHANISCUS

If you were sober, you wouldn't be abusive.

ANOTHER SERVANT of Callidamates.

Am I to give heed to you, when you won't to me.

PHANISCUS

But, you rascal, you come along with me to fetch him.

ANOTHER SERVANT of Callidamates.

Troth now, Phaniscus, prithee, do leave off talking about these matters.

PHANISCUS

I'll do so, and knock at the door. Knocks at the door of the house of THEUROPIDES. Hallo there! is there any person here to protect this door from a most serious injury? Knocking again. Is any one, is any one, I say, coming out here and going to open it? Why, really, no one comes out here. Just as befits such worthless fellows, so they are. But on that account, I've the more need to be cautious that no one may come out and use me ill. They stand aside.

Enter TRANIO and THEUROPIDES, from the house of SIMO.

TRANIO

What's your opinion of this bargain?

THEUROPIDES

I am quite delighted.

TRANIO

Does it seem to you to have been bought too dear?

THEUROPIDES

I' faith, I'm sure that I never anywhere saw a house thrown away, this one only excepted.

TRANIO

Does it please you, then?

THEUROPIDES

Does it please me, do you ask me? Why yes, upon my faith, it really does please me very much.

TRANIO

What a fine set of rooms for the women! What a porch!

THEUROPIDES

Exceedingly fine. For my part, I don't think that there is any Porch larger than this in the public buildings.

TRANIO

Why, I myself and Philolaches have taken the measure sure of all the porches in the public buildings.

THEUROPIDES

Well, what then?

TRANIO

This is far larger than all of them.

THEUROPIDES

Immortal Gods — a splendid bargain! On my word, if he were now to offer six great talents of silver, ready money, for it, I would never take it.

TRANIO

Upon my faith, if you were inclined to take it, I would never let you.

THEUROPIDES

My money has been well invested upon this purchase.

TRANIO

Boldly confess that by my advice and prompting it was done, who urged him to take up the money of the Banker upon interest, which we paid this person by way of deposit.

THEUROPIDES

You've saved the whole ship. Eighty minæ, you say, are owing for it?

TRANIO

Not a coin more.

THEUROPIDES

He may have it to-day.

TRANIO

By all means so, that there may be no dispute arising; or else pay them over to me, I'll then pay them over to him.

THEUROPIDES

But still, don't let there be any taking me in, if I do give them to you.

TRANIO

Could I venture to deceive you in deed or word even in jest only?

THEUROPIDES

Could I venture not to be on my guard against you, so as not to trust anything to you?

TRANIO

Why, have I ever imposed upon you in anything, since I was your servant?

THEUROPIDES

But I've taken good care of that; I owe thanks to myself and my own judgment for that. If I'm only on my guard against you solely, I'm quite wise enough.

TRANIO

aside . I agree with you.

THEUROPIDES

Now be off into the country; tell my son that I've arrived.

TRANIO

I'll do as you wish.

THEUROPIDES

Run with all speed; bid him come to the city at once together with you.

TRANIO

Very well. Aside. Now I'll betake myself this way by the back-door to my boon-companions; I'll tell them that things are quiet here, and how I have kept him away from here. (Exit.)

THEUROPIDES, PHANISCUS, and another SERVANT.

PHANISCUS

coming forward . Really, I don't hear either the sound of revellers here, as once it was, nor yet the music-girl singing, nor any one else. Goes towards the door.

THEUROPIDES

What's the matter here? What are these people seeking at my house? What do they want? What are they peeping in for?

PHANISCUS

I shall proceed to knock at the door. Knocks. Hallo there, unlock the door! Hallo, Tranio! are you going to open it, I say?

THEUROPIDES

advancing . What story's this, I wonder?

PHANISCUS

aloud . Are you going to open it, I say? I've come to fetch my master Callidamates.

THEUROPIDES

Harkye, you lads! what are you doing there? Why are you breaking down that door?

PHANISCUS

Our master's at a drinking-party here.

THEUROPIDES

Your master at a drinking-party here?

PHANISCUS

I say so.

THEUROPIDES

You're carrying the joke too far, my lad.

PHANISCUS

We've come to fetch him.

THEUROPIDES

What person?

PHANISCUS

Our master. Prithee, how often must I tell you?

THEUROPIDES

There's no one living here my lad; for I do think that you are a decent lad.

PHANISCUS

Doesn't a young gentleman called Philolaches live in this house?

ANOTHER SERVANT of Callidamates.

aside . This old fellow's crack-brained, surely.

PHANISCUS

You are entirely mistaken, respected sir; for unless he moved from here to-day or yesterday, I know for certain that he's living here.

THEUROPIDES

Why, no one has been living here for these six months past.

ANOTHER SERVANT of Callidamates.

You are dreaming.

THEUROPIDES

What, I?

ANOTHER SERVANT of Callidamates.

You.

THEUROPIDES

Don't you be impertinent. Let me speak to the lad. Pointing to PHANISCUS.

PHANISCUS

No one lives there? O dear ——

THEUROPIDES

It's the fact.

PHANISCUS

Really! why, yesterday and the day before, four, five, six days ago, all along, in fact, since his father went abroad from here, eating and drinking have never ceased for a single three days here.

THEUROPIDES

What is it you say?

PHANISCUS

That eating and drinking have never stopped for a single three days here, bringing in wenches, living like Greeks, hiring harpists and music-girls.

THEUROPIDES

Who was it did this?

PHANISCUS

Philolaches.

THEUROPIDES

What Philolaches?

PHANISCUS

He whose father I take to be Theuropides.

THEUROPIDES

apart . O dear, O dear! I'm utterly undone, if he says the truth in this. I'll continue to question him still Do you say that this Philolaches, whoever he is, has been in the habit of drinking here together with your master?

PHANISCUS

Here, I tell you.

THEUROPIDES

My lad, contrary to your appearance, you are a fool. See now, please, that you've not perchance been dropping in somewhere for an afternoon's whet, and have been drinking there a little more than was enough.

PHANISCUS

What do you mean?

THEUROPIDES

Just what I say: don't be going by mistake to other persons' houses.

PHANISCUS

I know where I ought to go, and the place to which I was to come. Philolaches lives here, whose father is Theuropides; and who, after his father went away to trade, made free a music-girl here.

THEUROPIDES

Philolaches, say you?

PHANISCUS

Just so; Philematium, I mean.

THEUROPIDES

For how much?

ANOTHER SERVANT of Callidamates.

For thirty talents.

PHANISCUS

No, by Apollo; you mean minæ.

THEUROPIDES

Do you say that a mistress was purchased for Philolaches for thirty minæ?

PHANISCUS

I do say so.

THEUROPIDES

And that he gave her her freedom?

PHANISCUS

I do say so.

THEUROPIDES

And that after his father had departed hence abroad, he has been carousing here continually with your master?

PHANISCUS

I do say so.

THEUROPIDES

Well, has he made purchase of the house next door here?

PHANISCUS

I don't say so.

THEUROPIDES

Has he given forty minæ, too, to this person, to be as a deposit?

PHANISCUS

Nor yet do I say so.

THEUROPIDES

Ah me! you've proved my ruin!

PHANISCUS

Aye, and he has proved the ruin of his father.

THEUROPIDES

You prophesy the truth! I could wish it false!

PHANISCUS

A friend of his father, I suppose?

THEUROPIDES

Ah me! Upon my faith, you do pronounce him to be a wretched father.

PHANISCUS

Why really, this is nothing at all-thirty minæ, in comparison with the other expenses he has incurred in good living. He has ruined his father. There's one servant there a very great scoundrel, Tranio by name; he could even waste the revenue of a Hercules. On my word, I'm sadly distressed for his father; for when he comes to know that things have gone on thus, a hot coal will be scorching his breast, poor man.

THEUROPIDES

If, indeed, this is the truth.

PHANISCUS

What am I to gain, that I should tell a lie? Knocks again at the door.
Hollo, you! is any one coming to open this door?

ANOTHER SERVANT of Callidamates.

Why do you knock in this way, when there's no one in the house?

PHANISCUS

I fancy that he's gone elsewhere to carouse. Now then, let's begone.
They move as if going.

THEUROPIDES

What, my lad, are you off then? Liberty's the overcoat for your back.

PHANISCUS

Nothing have I with which to cover my back, except to pay respect and service to my master. (Exeunt PHANISCUS and SERVANT.)

THEUROPIDES

to himself. By my troth, I am undone! What need is there of talking? According to the words I have heard, I surely haven't lately voyaged hence to Ægypt, but even to some desolate land and the most remote shores have I been borne about, so much am I at a loss to know where I now am. But I shall soon know; for see, here's the person of whom my son bought the house. Enter SIMO.

THEUROPIDES

What are you about?

SIMO

I'm coming home from the Forum.

THEUROPIDES

Has anything new been going on at the Forum to-day?

SIMO

Why yes.

THEUROPIDES

What is it, pray?

SIMO

I saw a dead man being carried to burial.

THEUROPIDES

Dear me! that is something new!

SIMO

I saw one who was dead being carried out to burial They said that he had been alive but just before.

THEUROPIDES

Woe to that head of yours for your nonsense!

SIMO

Why are you, thus idling about, enquiring after the news?

THEUROPIDES

Because I've just arrived from abroad.

SIMO

I'm engaged out to dine: don't suppose I shall invite you.

THEUROPIDES

I' faith, I don't want.

SIMO

But, to-morrow, unless any person invites me first, I'll even dine with you.

THEUROPIDES

I' faith, and that, too, I don't want. Unless you are engaged with something of greater importance, lend me your attention.

SIMO

By all means.

THEUROPIDES

You have received, as far as I understand, forty minæ of Philolaches.

SIMO

Never a coin, so far as I know.

THEUROPIDES

What? Not from my servant Tranio?

SIMO

Much less is that the case.

THEUROPIDES

Which he gave you by way of deposit?

SIMO

What are you dreaming about?

THEUROPIDES

What, I? Why, really, 'tis yourself, who hope that, by dissembling in this manner, you'll be able to make void this bargain.

SIMO

Why, what do you mean?

THEUROPIDES

The business that, in my absence, my son transacted with you here.

SIMO

How did your son, in your absence, transact any business with me?
What pray, or on what day?

THEUROPIDES

I owe you eighty minæ of silver.

SIMO

Not to me, indeed, upon my faith; but still, if you do owe them, give them me. Faith must be kept. Don't be attempting to deny it.

THEUROPIDES

Assuredly, I shall not deny that I owe them; and I shall pay them. Do you take care how you deny that you received the forty from him.

SIMO

Troth now, prithee, look this way at me, and answer me. He said that you were wishful to give a wife to your son; for that reason, he said that you intended building on your own premises.

THEUROPIDES

I, intended building here?

SIMO

So he told me.

THEUROPIDES

Ah me! I'm ruined outright! I've hardly any voice left. Neighbours, I'm undone, ruined quite!

SIMO

Has Tranio been causing any confusion?

THEUROPIDES

Yes; he has thrown everything into confusion. He has made a fool of me to-day in a disgraceful manner.

SIMO

What is it you say?

THEUROPIDES

This matter is just as I am telling you: he has this day made a fool of me in an outrageous manner. Now I beseech you that you'll kindly aid me, and lend me your assistance.

SIMO

What would you have?

THEUROPIDES

I beg of you, come this way together with me.

SIMO

Be it so.

THEUROPIDES

Lend me the assistance of your slaves and some scourges.

SIMO

Take them by all means.

THEUROPIDES

At the same time I'll tell you about this, in what a fashion he has this day imposed upon me. They go into the house of SIMO.

ACT V.

Enter TRANIO.

TRANIO

to himself . The man that shall prove timid in critical matters, will not be worth a nutshell. And, really, to say what that expression, “worth a nutshell,” means, I don’t know. But after my master sent me into the country to fetch his son hither, I went that way pointing slily through the lane to our garden. At the entrance to the garden that’s in the lane, I opened the door; and by that road I led out all the troop, both men and women. After, from being in a state of siege, I had led out my troops to a place of safety, I adopted the plan of convoking a senate of my comrades, and when I had convoked it, they forthwith banished me from the senate. When I myself perceived that the matter must be decided by my own judgment, as soon as ever I could, I did the same as many others do, whose affairs are in a critical or a perplexed state; they proceed to render them more perplexed, so that nothing can be settled. But I know full well, that now by no means can this be concealed from the old man. But how’s this, that our next neighbour’s door makes a noise? Why, surely this is my master: I’d like to have a taste of his talk. Goes aside, out of sight of THEUROPIDES. house.

THEUROPIDES

in the doorway, speaking to SIMO’S SLAVES . Do you stand there, in that spot within the threshold; so that, the very instant I call, you may sally forth at once. Quickly fasten the handcuffs upon him. I’ll wait before the house for this fellow that makes a fool of me, whose hide I’ll make a fool of in fine style, if I live.

TRANIO

apart . The affair’s all out. Now it’s best for you, Tranio, to consider what you are to do.

THEUROPIDES

to himself . I must go to work to catch him cleverly and artfully when he comes here. I'll not disclose to him my feelings all at once; I'll throw out my line; I'll conceal the fact that I know anything of these matters.

TRANIO

apart . O cunning mortal! not another person in Athens can be pronounced more clever than he. One can no more this day deceive him than he can a stone. I'll accost the man; I'll address him.

THEUROPIDES

to himself . Now I do wish that he would come here.

TRANIO

apart . I' faith, if me indeed you want, here I am ready at hand for you. Comes forward.

THEUROPIDES

Bravo! Tranio, what's being done?

TRANIO

The country people are coming from the country Philolaches will be here in a moment.

THEUROPIDES

I' faith, he comes opportunely for me. This neighbour of ours I take to be a shameless and dishonest fellow.

TRANIO

Why so?

THEUROPIDES

Inasmuch as he denies that he knows you.

TRANIO

Denies it?

THEUROPIDES

And declares that you never gave him a single coin of money

TRANIO

Out with you, you are joking me, I do believe; he doesn't deny it.

THEUROPIDES

How so?

TRANIO

I am sure now that you are joking; for surely he doesn't deny it.

THEUROPIDES

Nay but, upon my faith, he really does deny it; or that he has sold this house to Philolaches.

TEA.

Well now, pray, has he denied that the money was paid him?

THEUROPIDES

Nay more, he offered to take an oath to me, if I desired it, that he had neither sold this house, nor had any money him paid been. I told him the same that you told me.

TRANIO

What did he say?

THEUROPIDES

He offered to give up all his servants for examination.

TRANIO

Nonsense! On my faith, he never will give them up.

THEUROPIDES

He really does offer them.

TRANIO

Why then, do you summon him to trial.

THEUROPIDES

Wait a bit; I'll make trial as I fancy. I'm determined on it.

TRANIO

Bring the fellow here to me.

THEUROPIDES

What then, if I go fetch some men?

TRANIO

It ought to have been done already; or else bid the young man to demand possession of the house.

THEUROPIDES

Why no, I want to do this first — to put the servants under examination.

TRANIO

I' faith, I think it ought to be done. Meantime, I'll take possession of this altar.Runs to the altar.

THEUROPIDES

Why so?

TRANIO

You can understand nothing. Why, that those may not be able to take refuge here whom he shall give up for examination, I'll keep guard here for you; so that the examination may not come to nothing.

THEUROPIDES

Get up from the altar.

TRANIO

By no means.

THEUROPIDES

Prithee, don't you take possession of the altar.

TRANIO

Why so?

THEUROPIDES

You shall hear; why, because I especially want this, for them to be taking refuge there. Do let them; so much the more easily shall I get him fined before the judge.

TRANIO

What you intend to do, do it. Why do you wish to sow further strife? You don't know how ticklish a thing it is to go to law.

THEUROPIDES

Just get up, beckoning this way; it's, then, to ask your advice upon something that I want you.

TRANIO

Still, as I am, I'll give my advice from this spot: my wits are much sharper when I'm sittings. Besides, advice is given with higher sanction from holy places.

THEUROPIDES

Get up; don't be trifling. Just look me in the face.

TRANIO

looking at him . I am looking.

THEUROPIDES

Do you see me?

TRANIO

I do see — that if any third person were to step in here, he would die of hunger.

THEUROPIDES

Why so?

TRANIO

Because he would get no profit; for, upon my faith, we are both artful ones.

THEUROPIDES

I'm undone!

TRANIO

What's the matter with you?

THEUROPIDES

You have deceived me.

TRANIO

How so, pray?

THEUROPIDES

You've wiped me clean.

TRANIO

Consider, please, if it wasn't well done; is your nose running still?

THEUROPIDES

Aye, all my brains besides have you been wiping out of my head as well. For all your villanies I have discovered from their very roots; and not from the roots, indeed, i' faith, but even from beneath the very roots. Never this day, by my troth, will you have planned all this without being punished. I shall at once, you villain, order fire and faggots to be placed around you.

TRANIO

Don't do it; for it's my way to be sweeter boiled than roasted.

THEUROPIDES

Upon my faith, I'll make an example of you.

TRANIO

Because I please you, you select me for an example.

THEUROPIDES

Say now: what kind of a person did I leave my son, when I went away from here?

TRANIO

One with feet and hands, with fingers, ears, eyes, and lips.

THEUROPIDES

I asked you something else than that.

TRANIO

For that reason I now answer you something else. But look, I see Callidamates, the friend of your son, coming this way. Deal with me in his presence, if you want anything Enter CALLIDAMATES, at a distance.

CALLIDAMATES

to himself . When I had buried all drowsiness, and slept off the debauch, Philolaches told me that his father had arrived here from abroad; in what a way too his servant had imposed upon the man on his arrival; he said that he was afraid to come into his presence. Now of our company I am deputed sole ambassador, to obtain peace from his father. And look, most opportunely here he is. Accosting THEUROPIDES. I wish you health, Theuropides, and am glad that you've got back safe from abroad. You must dine here with us to-day. Do so.

THEUROPIDES

Callidamates, may the Gods bless you. For your dinner I offer you my thanks.

CALLIDAMATES

Will you come then?

TRANIO

To THEUROPIDES. Do promise him; I'll go for you, if you don't like.

THEUROPIDES

Whip-scoundrel, laughing at me still?

TRANIO

What, because I say that I'll go to dinner for you?

THEUROPIDES

But you shan't go. I'll have you carried to the cross, as you deserve.

TRANIO

Come, let this pass, and say that I shall go to the dinner. Why are you silent?

CALLIDAMATES

to TRANIO . But why, you greatest of simpletons, have you taken refuge at the altar?

TRANIO

He frightened me on his arrival. To THEUROPIDES. Say now, what I have done amiss. Look, now there's an umpire for us both; come, discuss the matter.

THEUROPIDES

I say that you have corrupted my son.

TRANIO

Only listen. I confess that he has done amiss; that he has given freedom to his mistress; that in your absence he has borrowed money at interest; that, I admit, is squandered away. Has he done anything different to what sons of the noblest families do?

THEUROPIDES

Upon my faith, I must be on my guard with you; you are too clever a pleader.

CALLIDAMATES

Just let me be umpire in this matter. TO TRANIO. Get up; I'll seat myself there.

THEUROPIDES

By all means: take the management of this dispute to yourself.

Pushes him to one side of the altar.

TRANIO

Why, this is surely a trick. Make me, then, not to be in a fright, and yourself to be in a fright in my stead.

THEUROPIDES

I consider now everything of trifling consequence, compared with the way in which he has fooled me.

TRANIO

I' faith, 'twas cleverly done, and I rejoice that it was done. Those who have white heads ought at that age to be wiser.

THEUROPIDES

What am I now to do if my friend Demipho or Philonides ——

TRANIO

Tell them in what way your servant made a fool of you. You would be affording most capital plots for Comedies.

CALLIDAMATES

Hold your tongue awhile; let me speak in my turn. — Listen.

THEUROPIDES

By all means.

CALLIDAMATES

In the first place of all then, you know that I am the companion of your son; he has gone to my house, for he is ashamed to come into your presence, because he knows that you are aware what he has done. Now, I beseech you, do pardon his simplicity and youthfulness. He is your son; you know that this age is wont to play such pranks; whatever he has done, he has done in company with me. We have acted wrong: the interest, principal, and all the sum at which the mistress was purchased, all of it we will find, and will contribute together, at our own cost, not yours.

THEUROPIDES

No mediator could have come to me more able to influence me than yourself. I am neither angry with him, nor do I blame him for anything: nay more, in my presence, wench on, drink, do what you please. If he's ashamed of this, that he has been extravagant, I have sufficient satisfaction.

CALLIDAMATES

I'm quite ashamed myself

TRANIO

He grants pardon thus far; now then, what is to become of me?

THEUROPIDES

Filth, tied up as you hang, you shall be beaten with stripes.

TRANIO

Even though I am ashamed?

THEUROPIDES

Upon my faith, I'll be the death of you, if I live!

CALLIDAMATES

Make this pardon general; do, pray, forgive Tranio this offence, for my sake.

THEUROPIDES

I would more readily put up with your obtaining any other request of me than that I should forbear sending to perdition this fellow for his most villanous doings.

CALLIDAMATES

Pray, do pardon him.

TRANIO

Do pardon me?

THEUROPIDES

Look there, don't you see how the villain sticks there? Pointing to the altar.

CALLIDAMATES

Tranio, do be quiet, if you are in your senses.

THEUROPIDES

Only do you be quiet in urging this matter. I'll subdue him with stripes, so that he shall be quiet.

CALLIDAMATES

Really, there is no need. Come now, do allow yourself to be prevailed upon.

THEUROPIDES

I wish you would not request me.

CALLIDAMATES

Troth now, I do entreat you.

THEUROPIDES

I wish you would not request me, I tell you.

CALLIDAMATES

It's in vain you wish me not; only do grant this one pardon for his offence, pray, for my sake, I do entreat you.

TRANIO

Why make this difficulty? As if to-morrow I shouldn't be very soon committing some other fault; then, both of them, both this one and that, you'll be able to punish soundly.

CALLIDAMATES

Do let me prevail upon you.

THEUROPIDES

Well then, have it so; begone, unpunished! TRANIO jumps down from the altar. There now, pointing to CALLIDAMATES return him thanks for it. Coming forward. Spectators, this Play is finished; grant us your applause.

THE SUBJECT.

TOXILUS, who is left in charge of his master's house in his absence, is desirous of obtaining the liberty of his mistress Lemniselene, who belongs to the Procurer Dordalus. He applies to his friend Sagaristio to lend him the sum necessary for that purpose. Sagaristio has not the money himself, but succeeds in finding some for the use of his friend. With the view of getting back the money when paid to Dordalus, Toxilus prevails on the Parasite Saturio to allow his daughter to be sold by Sagaristio to Dordalus, as though she were a slave. While these arrangements are being made, Lemniselene sends her attendant Sophoclidisca with a letter to Toxilus, and he at the same time sends the boy Pægnium with a message to Lemniselene. On receiving the money from Sagaristio, Toxilus pays it to Dordalus, who sets Lemniselene at liberty. Immediately after this, Sagaristio, dressed as a Persian, brings the daughter of Saturio, also dressed as a Persian captive, and sells her to Dordalus, without warranty, for a large sum of money. Immediately upon the departure of Sagaristio, Saturio makes his appearance, and claiming his daughter, takes her away. Toxilus and Sagaristio conclude with a feast, and make merry over the Procurer's misfortunes.

THE ACROSTIC ARGUMENT.

[Supposed to have been written by Priscian the Grammarian.]

HIS master being absent (Profecto), Toxilus purchases (Emit) his mistress, and contrives that the Procurer sets her at liberty; and he then persuades him to buy of her capturer a young woman, a captive (Raptam), the daughter of hit Parasite being dressed up (Subornatâ) for that purpose; and (Atque) as he carouses, he makes sport of Dordalus, thus cajoled.

ACT I.

Enter TOXILUS and SAGARISTIO, on different sides.

TOXILUS

to himself . He who, falling in love, destitute of means, has first entered upon the paths of love, has in his own labours exceeded all the labours of Hercules. For with the lion, and with the Hydra, with the stag, with the Ætolian boar, with the birds of Stamphalus, with Antæus, would I rather contend than with love. So wretched am I become with hunting after money to borrow; and yet, those whom I ask know of nothing to answer me, except “I have got none.”

SAGARISTIO

apart . The servant that is desirous faithfully to serve his master, i’ troth, it surely does behove him to treasure up full many a thing in his breast which he may think will please his master, both present and abroad. I neither serve with cheerfulness, nor am I quite to my master’s satisfaction; but, as though from a running eye, my master is still unable to keep his hands off me, in giving me his commands, in making me the support of his affairs.

TOXILUS

Who’s this that’s standing opposite to me?

SAGARISTIO

Who’s that that’s standing opposite to me?

TOXILUS

It’s like Sagaristio.

SAGARISTIO

Surely this is my friend Toxilus.

TOXILUS

Certainly it is he.

SAGARISTIO

I think it is he.

TOXILUS

I'll go meet him.

SAGARISTIO

I'll go up and accost him.

TOXILUS

meeting him . O Sagaristio, may the Gods bless you.

SAGARISTIO

O Sagaristio, the Gods grant you what you may desire. How fare you?

TOXILUS

Just as I can.

SAGARISTIO

What's the matter?

TOXILUS

I still live.

SAGARISTIO

Quite then to your satisfaction?

TOXILUS

If the things come to pass which I desire, quite.

SAGARISTIO

You deal with your friends in a very silly fashion.

TOXILUS

How so?

SAGARISTIO

Because you ought to give them your commands.

TOXILUS

As for myself, you were already dead to me, because I haven't seen you.

SAGARISTIO

Business, upon my faith ——

TOXILUS

In the iron chain line, perhaps.

SAGARISTIO

For more than a twelvemonth I've been promoted in chains to be commanding officer in the basting line at the mill.

TOXILUS

Why, that's your old line of service.

SAGARISTIO

Have you been quite well all along?

TOXILUS

Not very.

SAGARISTIO

I' faith, it's with reason then you are so pale.

TOXILUS

I've been wounded in the battles of Venus; Cupid has pierced my heart with his arrow.

SAGARISTIO

Do servants then fall in love here?

TOXILUS

Why, what could I do? Was I to be struggling against the Gods? Was I, like the sons of Titan, to be waging war with the Deities, with whom I am not quite able to cope?

SAGARISTIO

Do you only take care that “catapultæ” made of elm don’t pierce your sides.

TOXILUS

In right royal manner I’m celebrating the feast of Freedom.

SAGARISTIO

How so?

TOXILUS

Because my master’s gone abroad.

SAGARISTIO

Do you say so? Is he gone abroad?

TOXILUS

If you can bear to be enjoying yourself, do you come: you shall live with me; you shall be treated with right royal entertainment.

SAGARISTIO

Out upon it rubbing himself; my shoulder-blades are quite itching now, because I’ve heard you mention these things.

TOXILUS

But this one thing is torturing me.

SAGARISTIO

Why, what is it?

TOXILUS

This day is the very last day, to determine whether my mistress is to be free, or whether she is to endure lasting servitude.

SAGARISTIO

What, then, do you now desire?

TOXILUS

You have it in your power to make me your friend for ever.

SAGARISTIO

In what way?

TOXILUS

In lending me six hundred didrachms, for me to pay the same for her freedom, which I will forthwith refund you in the next three or four days. Come, do be good-natured; give me your help.

SAGARISTIO

With what assurance, you impudent fellow, do you venture to ask so much money of me? Why, if I myself were to be sold all in one lot, it's hardly possible for as much to be received as you are asking me for; for now you are asking for water from a pumice-stone, which is all a-dry itself.

TOXILUS

Ought you to be treating me in this fashion?

SAGARISTIO

What am I to do?

TOXILUS

Do you ask the question? Beg it on loan from somebody.

SAGARISTIO

You do the same as you are asking me.

TOXILUS

I've been trying; I've found it nowhere.

SAGARISTIO

I really will try, if any one will trust me.

TOXILUS

Am I then to consider it as a thing in possibility?

SAGARISTIO

If I had had it at home, I'd promise it at once. This is in my power, to use my best endeavours.

TOXILUS

Whatever it is, come you home to me.

SAGARISTIO

Still do you try to get it; I'll carefully do the same. If anything shall turn up, I'll let you know at once.

TOXILUS

I entreat you, and entreat over and over again, do give me your stanch help in this.

SAGARISTIO

O dear! you are worrying me to death by your importunity.

TOXILUS

It's through the fault of love, and not my own, that I'm now become a silly prater to you.

SAGARISTIO

Then, i' troth, I'll now be taking my leave of you Moving.

TOXILUS

Are you going away, then? A good walk to you. But betake yourself back as soon as you can, and do take care that I haven't to seek you; I shall be close at home until I have cooked up a mishap for the Procurer. (Exit SAGARISTIO, and TOXILUS goes into the house.)

Enter SATURIO.

SATURIO

to himself. The old and ancient calling of my forefathers do I follow, and hold, and cultivate with great care. For never was there any one of my forefathers, but that by acting the parasite they filled their bellies: my father, grandfather, great-grandfather, great-great-grandfather, his father, and his grandfather, just like mice, always fed on the victuals of others, and in love of good eating no one could excel them. Hard Heads was their surname. From them have I derived this calling, and the station of my forefathers; nor do I wish myself to turn informer, nor indeed does it become me, without risk of my own, to go seize upon the goods of other people; nor do those persons please who do so; I'm speaking out. For whoever does this, more for the sake of the public than of his own benefit, my mind can be induced to believe that he is a citizen both faithful and deserving; but if he should not prosecute to conviction the breaker of the laws, let him pay one half of the intended penalty to the public. And let this, too, be written in that law; when an informer has prosecuted any one, let the other in his turn sue him for just as much, and upon equal terms let them come before the Triumvirs. If that were done, assuredly I'd make those nowhere to be seen, who here with their whitened nets lay siege to the property of others. But am I not a simpleton, to be taking care of the public interests when there are the magistrates, whose duty it is to take care of them? Now I'll in-doors here; I'll go look after the scraps from yesterday, whether they have rested well or not; whether they have had a fever; whether they've been well covered up or not, so that no one could creep up to them. But the door is opening; I must pause in my steps.

Enter TOXILUS, from the house of his MASTER.

TOXILUS

to himself. I've hit upon the whole matter, so that with his own money the Procurer may this day make her his feed-woman. But see, here's the Parasite whose assistance I have need of. I'll make believe as though I didn't see him; in that way I'll allure the fellow. Goes to the door, and calls to the SERVANTS within. Do you attend, you there, and quickly make haste, that I mayn't have any delay when I come in-doors. Mix the honied wine; get ready the quinces and the junkets, that they may be nicely warmed upon the dishes, and throw in some scented calamus. I' faith, that boon-companion of mine, I fancy, will be here just now.

SATURIO

apart . He's meaning me — bravo!

TOXILUS

I think that he'll be here just now from the baths when he has bathed.

SATURIO

apart . How he does keep everything in its due order.

TOXILUS

Take you care that the gravy-cakes and the cheese-biscuits are hot; don't be giving them to me unbaked.

SATURIO

apart . He's speaking the very fact; they are worth nothing raw, only if you swallow them warm. Then, unless the broth for the gravy-cakes is of a thick consistency, that miserable, thin, pale, transparent stuff, is worth nothing at all. The broth for a gravy-cake ought to be like a soup. I don't want it to be going into my bladder, I want it for my stomach.

TOXILUS

pretending not to see him . Some one, I know not who, is talking near me here.

SATURIO

accosting him . O my earthly Jupiter, your fellow-feaster addresses you.

TOXILUS

O Saturio, you've come opportunely for me.

SATURIO

Upon my faith, you are telling a lie, and it becomes you not; for as Hungerio I'm come, not as Saturio am I come.

TOXILUS

But you shall have something to eat; for now the creature-comforts for the stomach are smoking away in-doors. I've ordered the remnants to be warmed.

SATURIO

Why, it's the proper thing for the gammon to be served up cold the day after.

TOXILUS

I've ordered it so to be done.

SATURIO

Any caviare?

TOXILUS

Get out — do you ask the question?

SATURIO

You have a capital notion of what's good.

TOXILUS

But do you at all remember the matter about which I was making mention to you yesterday?

SATURIO

I recollect; that the lamprey and the conger ought not to be made warm; for they are much better stripped of their meat when cold. But why do we delay to commence the engagement? While it's the morning, it befits all people to eat.

TOXILUS

It's almost too early in the morning.

SATURIO

The business that you begin to do in the morning, that same lasts on throughout the day.

TOXILUS

Prithee, do give your attention to this. For yesterday I mentioned it to you, and entreated you to lend me six hundred didrachms.

SATURIO

I recollect it and am aware, both that you did ask me, and that I hadn't any to lend. A Parasite's good for nothing that has got money at home; he has a longing at once to begin upon an entertainment, and to gobble away at his own expense, if he has anything at home. A Parasite ought to be a right down needy Cynic; he ought to have a leather bottle, a strigil, an utensil, a pair of slippers, a cloak, and a purse; and in that a little of the needful, with which he may just cheer up the existence of his own household.

TOXILUS

I don't want money now; lend me your daughter.

SATURIO

By my troth, never to any person whatsoever have I lent her as yet.

TOXILUS

Not for that purpose which you are insinuating.

SATURIO

Why do you want her then?

TOXILUS

You shall know; because she's of a pretty and genteel figure.

SATURIO

Such is the fact.

TOXILUS

This Procurer pointing to the house of DORDALUS neither knows yourself nor your daughter.

SATURIO

How should any one know me, except him who finds me food?

TOXILUS

Such is the fact. This way you can find some money for me.

SATURIO

I' faith, I wish I could.

TOXILUS

Then do you allow me to sell her.

SATURIO

You to sell her?

TOXILUS

Why no, I'll depute another person to sell her, and to say that he is a foreigner; since it isn't six months since that Procurer removed hither from Megara.

SATURIO

The remnants are spoiling; this, however, can be done afterwards.

TOXILUS

Do you understand on what terms it can? Never, on my word, shall you eat here this day, so don't be mistaken, before you declare to me that you'll do this that I'm requesting; and unless you bring your daughter with you hither at once as soon as you can, by my faith, I'll cashier you from this squad. What now? What's the matter? Why don't you say what you will do?

SATURIO

I' troth, prithee sell even myself as well, if you like, so long as you sell me with my stomach full.

TOXILUS

If you are going to do this, do it.

SATURIO

For my part, I'll do what you desire,

TOXILUS

You act kindly. Make haste, be off home; cleverly tutor your daughter beforehand, instruct her cunningly, what she is to say, where she is to declare she was born, who were her parents, how she was kidnapped. But let her declare that she was born at a distance from Athens; and let her shed tears when she makes mention of it.

SATURIO

Now won't you hold your tongue? Three times more artful is she than you would have her be.

TOXILUS

I' troth, you say what's excellent. But do you know what you are to do? Get a tunic and a girdle, and bring a scarf and a broad-brimmed hat for him to wear who is to sell her to this Procurer ——

SATURIO

Well-capital!

TOXILUS

As though he were a foreigner.

SATURIO

I approve of it ——

TOXILUS

And do you bring your daughter cleverly drest up after a foreign fashion.

SAGARISTIO

“Où sont” the dresses?

TOXILUS

Borrow them of the chorus-leader. He ought to lend them; the Ædiles have contracted for them to be found.

SATURIO

I'll have them here just now. But I'm to be acquainted with nothing of these matters?

TOXILUS

I' faith, nothing, in fact. But, when I've got the money, do you at once claim her of the Procurer.

SATURIO

Let him keep her for himself, if I don't immediately carry her off from him.

TOXILUS

Be off and attend to this. Exit SATURIO. In the meantime, I want to send a boy to my mistress; that she may be of good courage, and that I shall manage it to-day. I'm talking too much at length. Goes into the house.

ACT II.

Enter SOPHOCLIDISCA and LEMNISELENE, from the house of DORDALUS.

SOPHOCLIDISCA

It were enough to tell an untaught, thoughtless, silly girl the same thing so many times over; really, in fact, I do imagine that I'm quite looked upon by you as a blockhead and a country booby. Although I do drink wine, still I'm not in the habit of swallowing down your commands together with it. I really had fancied that both myself and my ways had now been sufficiently proved by you; for, as for me, I've attended you now these five years; whereas, in that time, a cuckoo even, I do believe, if he had gone to school, could by now have been made to know his letters well; while, in the meantime, whether speaking or not speaking, you have not made yourself acquainted with my disposition. Can you not hold your tongue? Can you not cease advising me? I remember, and I know, and I understand, and I keep in mind; i' faith, you are in love, poor thing; on that account your mind's disturbed. I'll cause that that shall be calmed for you.

LEMNISELENE

Wretched is the person that's in love. Goes into the house.

SOPHOCLIDISCA

to herself. Good for nothing, indeed, he certainly is, who is in love with nothing. What need has that person of life? I ought to go, that I may prove obedient to my mistress; that through my aid she may the sooner become a free woman. I'll go meet this Toxilus, however; his ears I'll stuff with what has been enjoined upon me. Stands aside.

Enter, from the house, TOXILUS and PÆGNIUM.

TOXILUS

Are these things quite clear and certain to you — do you quite remember and understand them?

PÆG.

Better than you who have instructed me.

TOXILUS

Say you so, you whip-rascal?

PÆG.

I really do say so.

TOXILUS

What did I say then P

PÆG.

I'll tell it to her all correctly.

TOXILUS

I' faith, you don't know it.

PÆG.

Troth now, lay me a wager that I don't remember and know it all.

TOXILUS

Why, for my part, I'll lay a wager with you on this, whether you know your own self, how many fingers you have this day upon your hand.

PÆG.

Without hesitation — if you are desirous to lose.

TOXILUS

A fair truce rather let there be.

PÆG.

For that reason, then, do you let me go.

TOXILUS

I both bid and permit you. But I wish you so to attend to it, that you are back home while I'm thinking that you are there.

PÆG.

I'll do so. Moves towards their own house.

TOXILUS

Whither are you now going?

PÆG.

Home; that I may be at home while you are thinking that I am there.

TOXILUS

You are a rascal of a boy, and —— for this service I'll give you something to add to your savings.

PÆG.

I'm aware how want of shame is wont to be imputed to a master's word, and that masters cannot ever be compelled to appear before the judge on account of those promises.

TOXILUS

Be off now.

PÆG.

I'll give you reason to command me.

TOXILUS

But, Pægnium, take you care and give that letter to Lemniselene herself, and tell her what I bade you.

SOPHOCLIDISCA

apart . Do I delay to go whither I was sent?

PÆG.

I'm off.

TOXILUS

Then do be off; I'll off home. Take care and manage this business with attention. Fly post haste. Goes into the house.

PÆG.

That's what the ostrich is wont to do in the Circus He's off from here m-doors there. But who's this woman that's coming towards me?

SOPHOCLIDISCA

advancing . Surely this is Pægnimn.

PÆG.

This is Sophoclidisca, the private servant of her to whom I'm sent.

SOPHOCLIDISCA

aside . There's not a person this day that's reported to be more artful than this boy. I'll accost him.

PÆG.

At this bar I must come to a stop.

SOPHOCLIDISCA

Pægnium, my charmer of a boy, save you; how are you? How do you do?

PÆG.

Sophoclidisca, the Gods will favour me.

SOPHOCLIDISCA

Why "me?" Which of us?

PÆG.

I' faith, I don't know. But if they were to do as you deserve, by my troth they'd hold you in hate, and treat you but badly.

SOPHOCLIDISCA

Do leave off your abusive talking.

PÆG.

Since I'm saying just as you I'm talking to deserve, properly, not abusively.

SOPHOCLIDISCA

What are you about now?

PÆG.

Standing opposite to you, looking at a worthless woman.

SOPHOCLIDISCA

For my own part, assuredly, I do not know any more good-for-nothing boy than yourself.

PÆG.

What mischief do I do, or to what person do I speak abusively?

SOPHOCLIDISCA

I' faith, to every one that you have the opportunity.

PÆG.

Not an individual has ever thought so.

SOPHOCLIDISCA

But, i' faith, full many a one knows that so it is.

PÆG.

Heyday, indeed!

SOPHOCLIDISCA

Heyday, indeed!

PÆG.

According to your own disposition you judge of the ways of others.

SOPHOCLIDISCA

I certainly do confess that I'm just as befits one of a Procurer's household to be.

PÆG.

I've now had enough of your chattering.

SOPHOCLIDISCA

What say you? Do you plead guilty to what I take you to be?

PÆG.

If I were so, I should confess it.

SOPHOCLIDISCA

Be off then; you've got the victory.

PÆG.

Now then be off with you.

SOPHOCLIDISCA

Do you then tell me this — whither are you going?

PÆG.

Whither are you?

SOPHOCLIDISCA

Say you.

PÆG.

Say you.

SOPHOCLIDISCA

I was the first to ask.

PÆG.

Then you shall be the last to know.

SOPHOCLIDISCA

I'm going not far hence.

PÆG.

And I, indeed, not far.

SOPHOCLIDISCA

Whither then, you rascal?

PÆG.

Unless I know first of you, you shall never know this of me that you are enquiring.

SOPHOCLIDISCA

On my honor you shall never this day know before I've heard it of you.

PÆG.

Is such the fact?

SOPHOCLIDISCA

Is such the fact?

PÆG.

You are a worthless one.

SOPHOCLIDISCA

Rogue.

PÆG.

That befits me.

SOPHOCLIDISCA

Me then it does not befit.

PÆG.

What do you say? Are you quite determined, you hussy, to conceal whither you are going?

SOPHOCLIDISCA

And are you quite resolved to hide whither you are betaking yourself, you scoundrel?

PÆG.

You are giving answer to what I say like for like; be off with you then, since such is your determination. I don't care at all to know. Good-bye. Moving.

SOPHOCLIDISCA

Stop!

PÆG.

But I'm in a hurry.

SOPHOCLIDISCA

And, i' faith, I as well.

PÆG.

Have you got anything? Pointing to her hand.

SOPHOCLIDISCA

Have you anything? Pointing likewise.

PÆG.

Really nothing whatever.

SOPHOCLIDISCA

Show me your hand then.

PÆG.

showing his right hand . Is this the hand?

SOPHOCLIDISCA

Where is that other, the pilfering left hand?

PÆG.

hiding his left hand . Why, it is at home, d'ye see; I've not brought one hither.

SOPHOCLIDISCA

trying to seize his hand . You've got something, what it is I know not.

PÆG.

pushing her away . Don't be mauling me about you she-groper.

SOPHOCLIDISCA

But suppose I'm in love with you.

PÆG.

You employ your pains to no purpose.

SOPHOCLIDISCA

Why so?

PÆG.

Why, because you are in love with nothing at all, when you are in love with one who doesn't return it.

SOPHOCLIDISCA

It befits these youthful looks and age to be on the watch for pleasure il good time; so that, when your hair comes to change its hue, you may not be always in a grovelling servitude. Why, really, as yet you are not eighty pounds in weight.

PÆG.

Still, that warfare is waged much more successfully by spirit than by weight. But I'm losing my pains.

SOPHOCLIDISCA

Why so?

PÆG.

Because I'm teaching those who know it all. But I'm loitering here.
Moves.

SOPHOCLIDISCA

taking hold of him . Do stop.

PÆG.

You are annoying to me.

SOPHOCLIDISCA

And so I shall be then, if I don't find out whither you are betaking yourself.

PÆG.

To your house.

SOPHOCLIDISCA

And I to your house, i' faith.

PÆG.

Why thither?

SOPHOCLIDISCA

What's that to you?

PÆG.

standing before her . Why, you shan't go now, unless, in return, I know.

SOPHOCLIDISCA

You are teasing.

PÆG.

I choose to.

SOPHOCLIDISCA

Never, upon my faith, shall you wring this out of me, so as to prove yourself more artful than I am.

PÆG.

It's a misery to contend with you in artfulness.

SOPHOCLIDISCA

You are a mischievous baggage.

PÆG.

What is there for you to fear?

SOPHOCLIDISCA

The very same that there is for you.

PÆG.

Say then, what is it?

SOPHOCLIDISCA

But I'm forbidden to tell this to any person, and am instructed that all the dumb people are to speak of it before myself.

PÆG.

And most especially was I cautioned not to trust this to any person, so that all the dumb people were to mention this before myself.

SOPHOCLIDISCA

Still, do you do so; on giving our words, let's trust each other.

PÆG.

I know this — all procuresses are light of faith, and the weight of a water-gnat is not more light than is the word of a procurer.

SOPHOCLIDISCA

Tell me, there's a dear.

PÆG.

Tell me, there's a dear.

SOPHOCLIDISCA

I don't want to be your dear.

PÆG.

You'll easily prevail upon me in that.

SOPHOCLIDISCA

Keep it yourself.

PÆG.

And you be mum about this. Showing her a letter.

SOPHOCLIDISCA

It shall be kept a secret.

PÆG.

It shall not be known. She shows him a letter.

SOPHOCLIDISCA

I'm carrying this letter to Toxilus, your master.

PÆG.

Be off; he's there at home. And I am carrying this pinewood tablet sealed, to Lemniselene, your mistress.

SOPHOCLIDISCA

What's written there.

PÆG.

If you don't know, pretty much like yourself, I don't know, except soft words, perhaps.

SOPHOCLIDISCA

I'm off.

PÆG.

And I'll be off.

SOPHOCLIDISCA

Move on then. They go into the respective houses.

Enter SAGARISTO.

SAGARISTIO

to himself. To Jove the opulent, the renowned, the son of Ops, the strong, the mighty in power, who riches, hopes, kind plenty does bestow, joyously and gratefully do I offer the sacrifice of thanksgiving, inasmuch as in a friendly way they have bestowed for my friend this opportunity of satisfying his necessity and of borrowing the money, so that I can lend him aid in his need. Whereas I no more dreamed, or thought, or imagined that I should have this opportunity — that same has now fallen from heaven as it were. For my master has sent me to Eretria; he has given me the money to purchase some trained oxen for him; but he said that the fair would take place seven days hence; a simpleton to trust this money to me whose propensity he knew; for this money I shall misapply in some other purpose: there were no oxen for me to buy. Now I'll both promote the success of my friend, and will give my inclination full enjoyment. The pleasures that belong to a long time will I serve up in a single day. Crack, crack it will be upon my back; I don't care. Now, to a person that is my friend I shall present these trained oxen from out of my purse; for this, in fact, is a delightful thing, handsomely to bite your thrice-dotted niggardly, antiquated, covetous, spiritless people, who against their servant seal up the saltcellar with the salt. It's a virtue, when occasion prompts, to hold them in contempt. What will he do to me? He'll order me to be beaten with stripes, the fetters to be put on. I may get a beating. Don't let him fancy that I shall go begging to him. Woe be unto him! Nothing new can now be inflicted upon me but what I have already experienced it. But see, here comes Pægnium, Toxilus's boy.

Enter PÆGNIUM, from the house of DORDALUS.

PÆG.

to himself . My task that was set me I've finished; now I'm hastening home.

SAGARISTIO

Stop, although you are in haste — Pægnium, listen to me.

PÆG.

You ought to buy a person, for you to desire to be obedient to you.

Moves on.

SAGARISTIO

Stop there, I say.

PÆG.

You'd be giving some trouble, I fancy, if I were to be owing you anything, who are now so troublesome.

SAGARISTIO

You rascal, will you look back then?

PÆG.

I am aware of what age I am; for that reason you shall get off for this abuse with impunity.

SAGARISTIO

Where is Toxilus, your master?

PÆG.

Wherever he pleases, and he don't ask your advice.

SAGARISTIO

Won't you tell me, then, where he is, you villain?

PÆG.

I don't know, I say, you elm-twigg spoiler.

SAGARISTIO

You are abusive to your senior.

PÆG.

As you deserved it first, do you put up with it. My master bade me hold my labour at his bidding, my tongue in freedom.

SAGARISTIO

Will you not tell me, where is Toxilus?

PÆG.

I tell you that — you may go to perdition everlasting.

SAGARISTIO

This day you shall be flogged with a rope's end.

PÆG.

On your account, indeed, you cuckoo! I' faith, you carrion, if I were to give you a broken head, I shouldn't be afraid of that.

SAGARISTIO

I understand you, you've been up to some bad work just now.

PÆG.

So I have. What business is that to you? But I haven't, like yourself, all for nothing.

SAGARISTIO

Assurance!

PÆG.

I' faith, I certainly am; for I am assured that I shall be free; don't be hoping that you'll ever be so.

SAGARISTIO

Can't you cease your impertinence?

PÆG.

That which you are mentioning, you can't do yourself.

SAGARISTIO

Away with you to utter perdition.

PÆG.

And off home with you; for there it's all ready prepared for you.

SAGARISTIO

He summons me on my recognizances.

PÆG.

I only wish the sureties may be out of the way, so that you may get to prison.

SAGARISTIO

Why's this?

PÆG.

Aye, why is it?

SAGARISTIO

Still abusing me, rascal?

PÆG.

Why, inasmuch as you are a slave, it ought at least to be allowed a slave to abuse you.

SAGARISTIO

And is it so? Just look holding up his fist what I shall give you.

PÆG.

Nothing; for nothing have you.

SAGARISTIO

May all the Gods and Goddesses confound me, if I don't this very day, if I lay hold of you, fell you to the ground with blows.

PÆG.

I am your friend; I trust that what you wish may befall you, and that it may come to pass; if you fell me, may others make you feel yourself fixed to the cross before long.

SAGARISTIO

But you may the Gods and Goddesses —— You understand what I was going to say after that, if I hadn't been able to restrain my tongue. Can't you be off?

PÆG.

You drive me off with ease; for already my shadow's getting a whipping in-doors. Goes into the house.

SAGARISTIO

to himself. May the Gods and Goddesses confound that fellow! just like a crawling serpent he has got a double tongue, and is a wicked one. Upon my faith, I'm glad he's gone. Going towards the door. Open, you door. But look! he's coming from within, the person that I most especially wished to meet with.

Enter TOXILUS, from his MASTER'S house, followed by

SOPHOCLIDISCA.

TOXILUS

to SOPHOCLIDISCA . Tell her that it's now arranged whence the money is to come. Bid her be of good heart; tell her that I love her exceedingly. When she cheers up, then does she cheer me up. What I've told you to tell her, do you quite understand it?

SOPHOCLIDISCA

Better than your legs under-stand you, do I understand it.

TOXILUS

Make all haste, be off home. SOPHOCLIDISCA goes into the house of DORDALUS.

SAGARISTIO

apart . Now I'll make myself a perfect droll towards him; I'll carry myself with arms a-kimbo, and assume a lordly air. Struts along.

TOXILUS

But who's this that's walking like a two-handled jug?

SAGARISTIO

apart . I'll spit about me in a dignified style. Spits about.

TOXILUS

Why, surely this is Sagaristio. How are you, Sagaristio? How do you do? Is there any tiny hope in you as to that which I entrusted to you?

SAGARISTIO

in a lofty way . Step this way; it shall be seen to; I would have it done. Advance — move forward.

TOXILUS

What's this swelling here upon your neck? Touches his neck.

SAGARISTIO

It's a tumour; forbear to press it, for when any person touches it with a rude hand, pain is the result.

TOXILUS

When did that first come upon you?

SAGARISTIO

To-day.

TOXILUS

You should order it to be lanced.

SAGARISTIO

I'm afraid to lance it before it's ripe, lest it should cause me more trouble.

TOXILUS

I'd like to examine your complaint. Comes nearer.

SAGARISTIO

retreating . Be off, and do be careful, will you, of the horns. TOX.
Why so?

SAGARISTIO

Because a couple of oxen are here in the purse.

TOXILUS

Do let them out, please; don't starve them with hunger — do let them go to pasture.

SAGARISTIO

Why, I'm afraid that I mayn't be able to drive them back to their stall, lest they should wander.

TOXILUS

I'll drive them back; be of good heart,

SAGARISTIO

You shall be trusted then; I'll lend them you Follow this way, please taking the purse from his neck ; in this there is the money which you were asking me for a short time since.

TOXILUS

What is it you say?

SAGARISTIO

My master has sent me to Eretria to purchase some oxen; at present my Eretria shall be this house of yours.

TOXILUS

You speak quite enchantingly; and I shall very soon return you all the money safe; for now I've arranged and put in readiness all my devices, in which way I'm to get this money out of this Procurer.

SAGARISTIO

So much the better.

TOXILUS

Both for the damsel to be set at liberty, and, still further, for himself to pay the money. But follow me; I have need of your assistance in this affair.

SAGARISTIO

Make use of it just as you please. They go into the house.

ACT III.

Enter SATURIO and his DAUGHTER, in the habit of a PERSIAN.

SATURIO

May this same matter turn out well for me, and for yourself, and for my stomach, and for everlasting victuals for it as well for all time to come; that I may have more than enough, a superfluity, and that it may outlast me. Follow me this way, my daughter, with the Gods' good leave. The matter to which we are to give our attention, you know, you remember, you understand; to you I have communicated all my designs. For that reason have I dressed you out after this fashion; young woman, to-day you are to be sold.

DAU.

Prithee, my dear father, although you do eagerly long for victuals at another's cost, are you for the sake of your appetite going to sell your own daughter?

SATURIO

It is a wonder, indeed, if I don't sell you, who are my own, for the sake of King Philip or Attalus, rather than my own.

DAU.

Whether do you regard me as your slave or as your daughter?

SATURIO

I' faith, that of the two which shall appear most for the interest of my stomach; it's my authority over you, I suppose, not yours over me.

DAU.

This power is yours, father; but still, although our circumstances are but very limited, it's better to pass our lives with frugality and moderation; for if disgrace is added to poverty, poverty will be more unendurable, our character more frail.

SATURIO

Why really you are impertinent.

DAU.

I am not, nor do I think that I am, when, though of youthful age, I give good advice to my father. For enemies carry about slander not in the form in which it took its rise.

SATURIO

Let them carry it about, and let them go to utter and extreme perdition. I don't value all their enmities any more than if an empty table were now set before me.

DAU.

Father, the scandal of men is everlasting; even then does it survive, when you would suppose it to be dead.

SATURIO

What? Are you afraid lest I should sell you?

DAU.

I am not afraid of that, father; but I wish you not to pretend to do so.

SATURIO

Then it's in vain you wish me not; this shall be done rather after my own fashion than yours.

DAU.

Shall be done!

SATURIO

What is the matter, now?

DAU.

Father, reflect upon these words: if a master has threatened punishment to a slave, although it is not intended to be, still, when the whip is taken up, while he is taking off his tunics, with what an amount of misery is he afflicted. Now, that which is not to be, I'm still in fear of.

SATURIO

Damsel or woman none will there ever be, but what she must be good for nothing, who is too wise to be giving satisfaction to her parents.

DAU.

Damsel and woman none can there be, but what she must be good for nothing, who holds her peace if she sees anything going on wrong.

SATURIO

‘Twere better for you to beware of a mischief.

DAU.

But if I cannot beware, what am I to do? For it’s as to yourself I wish to beware.

SATURIO

What, am I a mischief?

DAU.

You are not, nor is it becoming for me to say so; but for this purpose am I using my endeavours, that others may not say so who have that liberty.

SATURIO

Let each one say what he pleases; from this purpose I shall not be moved.

DAU.

But, could it be after my own way, you would be acting prudently, rather than foolishly.

SATURIO

It is my pleasure.

DAU.

I know that I must let it be your pleasure so far as I’m concerned; but it should not please you to be your pleasure, if I had my way.

SATURIO

Are you going to be obedient to your father's orders, or not?

DAU.

To be obedient.

SATURIO

Do you know then what I instructed you?

DAU.

Everything.

SATURIO

Both this, how you were stolen?

DAU.

I understand it perfectly well.

SATURIO

And who your parents were?

DAU.

I keep it in my memory. You cause me of necessity to be artful; but take you care, when you wish to give me in marriage, that this story doesn't cause the match to be given up.

SATURIO

Hold your tongue, simpleton. Do you not see the customs of people now-a-days, that marriage is easily effected here with a reputation of any kind? So long as there's a marriage-portion, no fault is reckoned as a fault.

DAU.

Then take you care, and let this occur to your thoughts, that I am without a fortune.

SATURIO

Take you care, please, how you say that. By my faith, through the merits of the Gods and of my ancestors I'll say it, you must not say that you are without a fortune, who have a marriage-portion at home. Why look, I've got a whole carriage-full of books at home. If you carefully give your attention to this matter in which we are exerting ourselves, six hundred bon-mots shall be given you out of them as a fortune, all Attic ones, too; you shall not receive a single Sicilian one. With this for a fortune, you might safely marry a beggar even.

DAU.

Why, then, don't you take me, father, if you are going to take me anywhere? Either do you sell me, or do with me what you please.

SATURIO

You ask what's fair and right. Follow me this way.

DAU.

I'm obedient to your command. They go into the house, to TOXILUS.

Enter DORDALUS, from his house.

DORDALUS

to himself. I wonder what I'm to say my neighbour is going to do, who swore to me that he would pay the money to-day? But if he should not pay it, and this day go by, I shall have forfeited the money, he his oath. But the door there makes a noise. I wonder who's coming out of doors?

Enter TOXILUS, from his MASTER'S house, with a purse in his hand.

TOXILUS

speaking at the door to the PERSONS within. Take you care of that in-doors; I shall betake myself home just now.

DORDALUS

Toxilus, how are you?

TOXILUS

How now! — pimping filth mixed up with mud! How now! — public dung-heap! dirty, dishonest, lawless, enticer, disgrace to the public; you hawk after money, greedy and envious; you impudent, rapacious, craving fellow (in three hundred lines no person could run through your villainies), will you take the money? Holding out the purse. Take the money, will you, shameless fellow. Take hold of the money, will you. Are you going to take the money, then? Can I make you take the money, filth? Keeps moving it away. You didn't suppose that I should have had so much money — you, who didn't venture to trust me at all except upon oath?

DORDALUS

Do let me recover breath, so as to give you an answer. Fellow, dregs of the populace, you stable for she-slaves, you liberator of harlots, you surface for the lash, you wearer-out of the fetters, you citizen of the treadmill, you slave everlastingly, you gormandizer, glutton, pilferer, runaway, give me the money, will you. Give me the money, impudence. Can I get the money out of you? Give me the money, I say. Why don't you give me the money? Are you ashamed of nothing? You impersonation of slavery, a Procurer is asking money of you for the liberation of your mistress, so that all may hear it.

TOXILUS

Troth now, prithee, do hold your tongue. For sure your voice is in first-rate strength.

DORDALUS

I've got a tongue made for returning a compliment. Salt is provided for me at the same price as for yourself; Unless this tongue protects me, it shall never lick a bit of salt.

TOXILUS

I'll cease to be angry now. It was for this I blamed you, because you refused to trust me for the money.

DORDALUS

'Twas a wonder, indeed, that I didn't trust you, that you might do the same to me that some of the bankers do. When you've entrusted them with anything, they immediately run more quickly away from the Forum than a hare, when, at the games, he's let out of the entrance of his cage.

TOXILUS

holding out the money . Take this, will you.

DORDALUS

Why don't you give it then?

TOXILUS

giving it . There will be here six hundred didrachms, full weight and counted; cause the damsel to be set at liberty, and bring her out here forthwith.

DORDALUS

I'll have her here this moment. I' faith, I don't know to whom now to give this money to be tested.

TOXILUS

Perhaps you are afraid to entrust it to any one's hands?

DORDALUS

Strange if I wasn't. More quickly, now-a-days, do bankers abscond from the Forum, than a wheel spins round in a race.

TOXILUS

pointing . Do you go that way, through the alleys, the back way to the Forum; let this damsel pass through the same way to our house, through the garden.

DORDALUS

I'll have her here this moment.

TOXILUS

But not in public view.

DORDALUS
Very discreet.

TOXILUS
To-morrow she must go to return thanks.

DORDALUS
I' faith, just so indeed.

TOXILUS
While you've been loitering, you might have got back. Exit
DORDALUS; TOXILUS goes into the house.

ACT IV.

Enter TOXILUS.

TOXILUS

to himself. If you give attention to any matter with steadiness or with good management, that same is wont properly to thrive to your satisfaction. And, by my faith, pretty nearly according as each man gives attention to his business, in the same manner do the results finally ensure him success. If he is knavish or a rogue, the business turns out badly which he has commenced; but if he uses good management, it results profitably. Cleverly and skilfully did I commence upon this business; for that reason do I trust that it will turn out well for me. Now, I'll this day have the Procurer so hampered, that he shan't know himself which way to extricate himself. Goes to the door. Sagaristio, hallo! Come forth, and bring out the young woman, and that letter which I sealed for you, which you brought me all the way from Persia, from my master.

Enter SAGARISTIO and the DAUGHTER of SATURIO, from the house, each dressed in Persian costume.

SAGARISTIO

Have I delayed at all?

TOXILUS

Bravo! bravo! dressed out in splendid style. To SAGARISTIO. The tiara does finely set off your dress. Then, too, how beautifully does the slipper become this stranger damsel! But are you thoroughly up in your parts?

SAGARISTIO

Tragedians and Comedians have never been up so well.

TOXILUS

Troth, you are giving me kind assistance. Come, be off that way pointing, to a distance out of sight, and hold your tongue. When you see me conversing with the Procurer, that will be the time to accost us; now be off, you, — away with you. SAGARISTIO and the DAMSEL go aside, out of sight.

Enter DORDALUS.

DORDALUS

to himself . The man to whom the Deities are propitious, in his way they throw some profit. For I this day have made a saving of two loaves daily; this way, she who this day was my slave is now her own; by his cash he has prevailed; this day then she'll be dining at the expense of another, she'll be tasting nothing of mine. Am I not a worthy man, am I not a courteous citizen, who this day have made the extensive state of Attica still larger, and increased it by a female citizen? But how obliging have I been to-day! To how many have I given credit, and have from no person taken surety; so readily did I give credit to all: and I don't fear that of those whom I've trusted to-day any one will forswear himself against me upon trial. I wish from this day forth to be honest — a thing that never will be and never was.

TOXILUS

apart . This fellow, this very day, by clever contrivances, I'll catch in a springe; and so the snare is cunningly laid for him; I'll accost the fellow. Aloud. What are you about? DOR. Giving credit.

TOXILUS

Whence do you betake yourself, Dordalus?

DORDALUS

I'm going to give you credit.

TOXILUS

May the Gods grant whatever you may desire. How now, have you given the damsel her liberty by this?

DORDALUS

I'm going to give you credit, i' faith, I'm going to give you credit, I repeat.

TOXILUS

Are you now increased in number by one freed-woman?

DORDALUS

You worry me to death. Why, I tell you that I'll give you credit.

TOXILUS

Tell me in sober truth, is she now at liberty?

DORDALUS

Go, go to the Forum, to the Prætor; make all enquiries, since you don't choose to give me credit. She is at liberty, I say. Do you hear me at all?

TOXILUS

May all the Deities bless you then. And never from this time forward, will I wish to you or yours what you don't wish.

DORDALUS

Be off: don't be swearing that. I quite believe you.

TOXILUS

Where is your freed-woman now?

DORDALUS

At your house.

TOXILUS

Do you say so? Is she at our house?

DORDALUS

I do say so, I tell you; she is at your house, I say.

TOXILUS

So may the Deities favour me, for this thing many blessings from me are in store for you: for there's a certain matter, which I refrained from mentioning to you; now I'll disclose it, and from it you can make a very large profit. I'll give you cause to remember me so long as you exist.

DORDALUS

My ears are wanting some kind deeds by way of assistance to these kind words.

TOXILUS

It's only your deserts, that I should do as you deserve. And that you may know that I will do so, take this letter showing him a letter ; read it over.

DORDALUS

What has this got to do with me?

TOXILUS

Why yes, it bears reference to yourself, and it does relate to you. But it has just now been brought me from Persia, from my master.

DORDALUS

When?

TOXILUS

Not long since.

DORDALUS

What does it say?

TOXILUS

Make enquiry of its own self: it will tell you itself.

DORDALUS

Give it me, then. Taking it from TOXILUS.

TOXILUS

But read it aloud.

DORDALUS

Be silent while I read it over.

TOXILUS

I'll not utter a word.

DORDALUS

reading . "Timarchides sends health to Toxilus and all the family. If you are well, I am glad; I am quite well, and carrying on my business, and am making money; and I am not able to return home for these eight months, for there is some business which detains me here; the Persians have taken Chrysopolis, a city of Arabia, full of good things, and an ancient town; there the booty is being collected, that a public auction may be made; this matter causes me to be absent from home. I wish attention and hospitality to be shown to the person who brings this letter to you. Attend to what he wants; for at his own house at home he has shown me the greatest attentions." What has it to do with me or my welfare, what matters the Persians are about, or what your master is doing?

TOXILUS

Hold your tongue, silly babbler; you don't know what blessing awaits you. It's in vain that Fortune is ready to light for you her torch that leads to profit.

DORDALUS

What Fortune is this that leads to profit?

TOXILUS

pointing to the letter . Ask that which knows: I know about as much as yourself, except that I was the first to read it through. But as you've begun, learn the matter from the letter.

DORDALUS

You counsel me aright. Keep silence.

TOXILUS

Now you'll come to that which does relate to your interest.

DORDALUS

reading on . “The person that brings this letter, has taken with him a well-bred female of engaging charms, who has been stolen, and brought from the inmost parts of Arabia; I wish you to take charge of her that she may be sold there; but he who makes purchase of her, must buy her at his own risk; nobody will promise or give a warranty. Take you care that he receives money full weight and counted. Pay attention to this, and give attention that the stranger is attended to. Farewell.”

TOXILUS

What then? After you have read over what has been committed to the wax, do you believe me now?

DORDALUS

Where now is this stranger that brought this letter?

TOXILUS

He'll be here just now, I believe; he has sent for her from the ship.

DORDALUS

I don't want any lawsuits or quirks at all. Why should I be laying out so much money at such a distance? Unless I get her on warranty, what need have I of this purchase?

TOXILUS

Will you, or will you not, hold your tongue? I never did believe you to be such a blockhead. What are you afraid of?

DORDALUS

I' faith, I really am afraid; I've experienced it now so many times, and it will not befall me without having already experienced it, to be getting stuck in such a quagmire.

TOXILUS

There seems to be no risk.

DORDALUS

I know that; but I'm afraid about myself.

TOXILUS

It matters nothing whatever to me, so far as I'm concerned; it's for your sake I mentioned it, that I might at the earliest moment give you an opportunity of advantageously purchasing her.

DORDALUS

I return you thanks; but it's a nicer thing for you to become wise through others, than for others through yourself.

TOXILUS

Surely no person can follow after her from the inmost parts of Arabia. Will you make purchase of her, then?

DORDALUS

Only let me see the commodity.

TOXILUS

You say what's fair. But look, most à propos, the stranger is coming himself, who brought this letter hither.

DORDALUS

pointing down the side-scene . Is that he?

TOXILUS

That's he.

DORDALUS

And is that the girl that was stolen?

TOXILUS

I know just about as well as yourself, except that I have seen her. Upon my faith, she certainly is genteel looking, whoever she is.

DORDALUS

Faith, she has pretty regular features.

TOXILUS

aside . With what contempt the hang-dog does speak of her. To DORDALUS. Let's examine her beauty in silence.

DORDALUS

I approve of your advice. They stand aside.

Enter SAGARISTIO and the DAUGHTER of SATURIO, dressed as PERSIANS.

SAGARISTIO

Doesn't Athens seem to you a rich and opulent place?

DAU.

I've seen the appearance of the city; the customs of the people I've observed but little of.

TOXILUS

apart . At the very outset has she forborne to make a wise remark.

DORDALUS

apart . I cannot by her very first words form an estimate of her wisdom.

SAGARISTIO

What as to that which you have seen? How does the city seem fortified to you, with its wall?

DAU.

If the inhabitants have good morals, I think it's properly fortified. If Perfidiousness, and Peculation, and Avarice are exiled from the city, Envy in the fourth place, Ambition in the fifth, Scandal in the sixth, Perjury in the seventh.

TOXILUS

apart . Bravo!

DAU.

Idleness in the eighth, Injustice in the ninth, Immorality, which is the very worst in its attack, in the tenth. If these things shall not be away from it, a wall a hundred-fold were too little for preserving its interests.

TOXILUS

apart . What say you? DOR. apart . What do you mean?

TOXILUS

apart . You are among those ten companions; you must depart in banishment from here.

DORDALUS

apart . Why so? TOX. apart . Because you are perjured.

DORDALUS

apart . Really she has spoken not without some cleverness.

TOXILUS

apart . That's to your advantage, I say; you buy her.

DORDALUS

apart . Upon my faith, the more I look at her, the more she pleases me.

TOXILUS

apart . If you do buy her, immortal Gods, no other Procurer will be more wealthy than yourself; at your will you'll be turning people out of their estates and households; you'll be transacting business with men of the highest rank; they'll be longing for your favour; they'll be coming to make merry at your house.

DORDALUS

apart . But I shan't allow them to be admitted.

TOXILUS

apart . But then at night they'll be singing before your threshold, and be burning down your door; do you at once order your house to be fastened with a door of iron, change for a house of iron, fix in thresholds of iron, a bar of iron and a ring; if you don't prove sparing of the iron, do you order thick fetters of iron to be rivetted upon yourself.

DORDALUS

apart . Away to utter perdition! TOX. pushing him . Go then, make purchase of her, and follow my advice.

DORDALUS

apart . Only let me know how much he asks for her.

TOXILUS

apart . Should you like me to call him here?

DORDALUS

apart . I'll go to him.

TOXILUS

accosting him . How fare you, guest?

SAGARISTIO

I'm come; I've brought her pointing to the DAMSEL , as I just now said I would. For yesterday at night the ship arrived in harbour: I want her to be sold, if she can; if she cannot, I intend to go away from here as soon as I can.

DORDALUS

Greetings to you, young man.

SAGARISTIO

If indeed I shall dispose of her at her own price —— pointing to DORDALUS . Why, you'll either sell her handsomely with him for your purchaser, or you can to no one.

TOXILUS

SAGARISTIO

Are you a friend of his?

TOXILUS

In the same measure as all the Divinities who inhabit the heavens.

DORDALUS

Then you are an assured enemy to me; for to the race of procurers no God was ever so kind as to prove propitious.

SAGARISTIO

Attend to the business in hand. Have you any need to purchase her?

DORDALUS

If you have need for her to be sold, I, too, have need to purchase her; if you have no sudden occasion to sell, just in the same degree have I to buy.

SAGARISTIO

State a sum; name a price.

DORDALUS

The commodity is your own; it's for you to name a sum.

TOXILUS

to SAGARISTIO . He asks what's right.

SAGARISTIO

Do you wish to buy at a bargain?

DORDALUS

Do you wish to sell at a handsome profit?

TOXILUS

I' faith, I'm sure that both of you would like to do so.

DORDALUS

Come, boldly name your price.

SAGARISTIO

I tell you beforehand; no one will dispose of her to you on warranty. Do you so understand it, then?

DORDALUS

I understand it. Declare what's the lowest price at which you'll offer her, for which she may be taken by the purchaser.

TOXILUS

Hold your tongue, hold your tongue. Really, upon my faith, you are a very simple man, with your childish ways.

DORDALUS

Why so?

TOXILUS

Why because I wish you first to make enquiries of the damsel which relate to your interest.

DORDALUS

And really, upon my faith, you've given me no bad advice. Look at that, will you. I, an experienced Procurer, had almost fallen into the pit, if you had not been here. How important a point it is to have a person your friend at hand when you are about anything.

TOXILUS

I want you to make enquiry of her, of what family or in what country she was born, or of what parents, so that you mayn't say that you've bought her at hazard by my persuasion or suggestion.

DORDALUS

On the contrary, I approve of your counsel, I tell you.

TOXILUS

to SAGARISTIO . Unless it's troublesome, he's desirous to make a few enquiries of her.

SAGARISTIO

By all means; at his own pleasure.

TOXILUS

to DORDALUS . Why do you delay? Go to him yourself; and do you yourself ask him as well, that you may be allowed to make such enquiries as you please; although he has told me that he gives permission to do so of her, still I had rather that you yourself should go to him, that he mayn't be holding you in contempt.

DORDALUS

You give me very proper advice. Accosting SAGARISTIO. Stranger, I should like to ask some questions of her. Pointing to the YOUNG WOMAN.

SAGARISTIO

From earth to heaven, whatever you like.

DORDALUS

Just bid her to step this way to me.

SAGARISTIO

to the YOUNG WOMAN . Go you, then, and humour him. To DORDALUS. Make enquiry, question her, just as you please.

TOXILUS

to DORDALUS . Well, well, get on then; make your preparations. Aside to the YOUNG WOMAN. Take you care to commence with a good omen.

DAU.

The auspices are favourable.

TOXILUS

Aside to the YOUNG WOMAN . Hold your tongue. To DORDALUS. Step you aside here; I will now conduct her to you.

DORDALUS

Do what you think is most for my interest.

TOXILUS

to the YOUNG WOMAN, who advances with him . Follow me. To DORDALUS. I've brought her, if you are wishful to make any enquiries of her.

DORDALUS

But I want you to be present.

TOXILUS

I cannot do otherwise than pay attention to this stranger pointing to SAGARISTIO , whom my master bade me show courtesy to. What if he doesn't choose that I should be present together with you?

SAGARISTIO

Yes, but do come.

TOXILUS

to DORDALUS . I'll lend you my assistance, then.

DORDALUS

You're lending it yourself as well when you are assisting your friend.

TOXILUS

Examine her. Aside to the YOUNG WOMAN. Hark you, be on your guard.

DAU.

aside . Enough has been said to me. Aloud. Although I am a slave, I know my duty, so that whatever he asks I'll tell the truth as I have heard it.

TOXILUS

pointing to DORDALUS . Young woman, this is an honorable man.

DAU.

I believe you.

TOXILUS

You'll not be long in servitude with him.

DAU.

I' faith, and so I trust, if my parents do their duty.

DORDALUS

I do not wish you to be surprised, if we make enquiries of you about either your country or your parents.

DAU.

Why should I be surprised at that, my dear sir? My state of servitude has forbidden me to be surprised at any misfortune of my own.

TOXILUS

aside . May the Gods confound her! so cunning and crafty is she. She has got shrewd sense: how readily she does say what's needed.

DORDALUS

What's your name?

TOXILUS

aside . Now I'm afraid she'll be tripping.

DAU.

My name was Lucris in my own country.

TOXILUS

The name and the omen are worth any price. Why don't you make purchase of her? Aside. I was greatly afraid that she would be tripping. She has got herself free.

DORDALUS

If I make purchase of you, I trust that you'll prove Lucris to myself as well.

TOXILUS

If you do make purchase of her, never, on my word, do I think that she'll remain your slave throughout the month.

DORDALUS

And so indeed I'd hope, i' faith.

TOXILUS

That what you wish may come to pass, employ your own energies.

Aside. In nothing even as yet has she made a slip.

DORDALUS

Where were you born?

DAU.

According to what my mother told me, in the kitchen, in a corner on the left hand.

TOXILUS

to DORDALUS. This woman will prove a lucky Courtesan for you; she has been born in a warm spot, where full oft there is an abundance of all good things. Aside. The Procurer was taken in when he asked where she was born. She has played him off nicely.

DORDALUS

But I ask of you, what is your country?

DAU.

What should be mine but that where I now am?

DORDALUS

But this I'm asking, what was?

DAU.

Everything that was, do I consider as nothing, since it was, and is not now. Just like a man when he has breathed forth his spirit; why enquire of him who he was?

TOXILUS

aside. So may the Deities kindly favour me, right cleverly. And yet I really do pity her.

DORDALUS

But still, young woman, come, tell me at once which is your country? Why are you silent?

DAU.

For my part, I really am telling you my country. Since I'm in servitude here, this is my country.

TOXILUS

Do cease now making enquiries about that. Don't you see that she's unwilling to declare, lest you should recall to her the remembrance of her misfortunes?

DORDALUS

What's the matter? Is your father in captivity?

DAU.

Not in captivity; but what he had, he has lost.

TOXILUS

She will prove to be born of a good family; she knows how to say nothing but the truth.

DORDALUS

Who was he? Tell me his name?

DAU.

Why should I tell of him, wretched man, who he was? For the present 'twere proper for him to be called Miserable, and me Miserable.

DORDALUS

What kind of a person was he considered by the public?

DAU.

Not a person more acceptable; slaves and free persons all liked him.

TOXILUS

You do speak of a miserable man, inasmuch as he's almost lost himself, and has lost his friends.

DORDALUS

I shall purchase her, I think.

TOXILUS

What, still “ I think?”

DORDALUS

I imagine that she’s of a noble family.

TOXILUS

You’ll make riches by her.

DORDALUS

May the Gods grant it so.

TOXILUS

Do you only buy her.

DAU.

Now this I tell you: my father will be here directly, when he knows that I’ve been sold, and will ransom me thus separated from him.

TOXILUS

What say you now Don. What’s the matter?

TOXILUS

Do you hear what she says?

DAU.

For although his fortunes are broken, he still has friends. Pretends to cry.

DORDALUS

Don’t weep, please; you’ll soon be at liberty, if — you have sweethearts enough. Would you like to belong to me?

DAU.

So long, indeed, as I don't belong to you too long. I'd like.

TOXILUS

How well she does keep in mind her liberty. She'll be producing you fine hauls. About it, if you are about it. I'll go back to him. To the YOUNG WOMAN. Do you follow me. To

SAGARISTIO

) I've brought her back to you.

DORDALUS

Young man, are you disposed to sell her?

SAGARISTIO

I'd like it, rather than lose her.

DORDALUS

Do you compress it then into a few words; state the price at which she's offered.

SAGARISTIO

I'll do so, as I see you wish it. Take her for a hundred minæ.

DORDALUS

That's too much.

SAGARISTIO

For eighty.

DORDALUS

That's too much.

SAGARISTIO

There can't a didrachm be abated from the price which I shall now name.

DORDALUS

What is it, then? Speak out at once and name it.

SAGARISTIO

At your own risk, she's offered at sixty minæ.

DORDALUS

Toxilus, what am I to do?

TOXILUS

aside to DORDALUS . The Gods and Goddesses are pursuing you with their vengeance, you rogue, for not making haste to purchase her.

DORDALUS

Take them, then.

TOXILUS

Well done, you have got a rich prize! Be off, and fetch the money out here. On my faith, she's not dear at three hundred minæ.

SAGARISTIO

Hark you, for her clothing there'll be ten minæ added to this as well.

DORDALUS

Yes, be deducted, not added.

TOXILUS

Do hold your tongue, will you; don't you see that he's seeking an excuse to have the bargain broken? Why don't you be off and fetch the money?

DORDALUS

to TOXILUS, as he is going . Hark you, do you keep an eye upon him.

TOXILUS

Why don't you then go in?

DORDALUS

I'll go and fetch the money. Goes into his house.

The DAUGHTER of SATURIO, TOXILUS, and SAGARISTIO.

TOXILUS

Upon my word, young lady, you have given us praiseworthy aid, good. and wise, and sensible.

DAU.

If for good persons anything good is done, the same is wont to be both important and pleasing.

TOXILUS

Do you hear, you Persian, when you've got the money of him, do you pretend as though you are going straight to the ship.

SAGARISTIO

Don't teach me.

TOXILUS

Betake yourself back again to our house, that way pointing down the lane through the garden.

SAGARISTIO

You are naming what's intended to be done.

TOXILUS

But don't you at once be changing your quarters with the money, I recommend you.

SAGARISTIO

What's worthy of yourself, do you take to be worthy of me?

TOXILUS

Hold your tongue; lower your voice; the spoil is coming out of doors.

Re-enter DORDALUS, from his house, with a bag of money.

DORDALUS

Sixty minæ of assayed silver are here pointing at the bag, less two didrachms.

SAGARISTIO

What's the meaning of those didrachms?

DORDALUS

To pay for this bag, or else to cause it to come home again.

SAGARISTIO

Lest you mightn't be enough of a Procurer, did you fear, wretched, filthy, avaricious creature, that you might lose your bag?

TOXILUS

Pray, let him alone; since he is a Procurer, he isn't doing anything surprising.

DORDALUS

I've judged from omens that I should make some profit to-day; nothing is of value so small to me, but that I grudge to lose it. Come, take this, will you? Holds out the bag to SAGARISTIO.

SAGARISTIO

Place it around my neck, if it is not too much trouble.

DORDALUS

Certainly, it shall be done. Hangs it round his neck.

SAGARISTIO

Is there anything else that you wish with me?

TOXILUS

Why are you in such haste?

SAGARISTIO

My business is of that nature; the letters that have been entrusted me, I want to deliver; and I've heard that my twin-brother's a slave here; I wish to be off to seek him out, and redeem him.

TOXILUS

And, i' faith, you've not badly put me in mind of it; I think that I've seen here one very like you in figure, of just the same size.

SAGARISTIO

Why, it must surely be my brother.

DORDALUS

But we'd like to know what your name is.

TOXILUS

What does it matter to us to know?

SAGARISTIO

Listen then, that you may know; my name is Lying- speakerus, Virgin-seller-onides, Trifle-great-talker-ides, Silver-screw-outides, Thee-worthy-to-talk-to-ides, Wheedler-out-of-coin-ides, What-he-has-once-got-hold-of-ides, Never-again-part-with-it-ides.

DORDALUS

Dear me; upon my faith, this name of yours is written in many ways.

SAGARISTIO

Such is the way with the Persians; we have long names of many words twisted together. Do you wish for anything else?

DORDALUS

Farewell!

SAGARISTIO

And you farewell; for my mind's aboard ship already.

DORDALUS

You'd better have gone to-morrow, and dined here to-day.

SAGARISTIO is going. Farewell! (Exit SAGARISTIO.)

TOXILUS, DORDALUS, and the DAUGHTER of SATURIO.

TOXILUS

Since that fellow's gone, I may say here whatever I please. This day has assuredly shone a gainful one for you; for you've not been buying her, but making a clear profit of her.

DORDALUS

He indeed quite understands what he has been about, in having sold me a stolen woman at my own risk; he has got the money, and taken himself off. How do I know now whether she mayn't be claimed at once? Whither am I to follow him? To the Persians, nonsense.

TOXILUS

I imagined that my services would be a cause for thankfulness with you.

DORDALUS

Why, yes, indeed, I do return you thanks, Toxilus, for I found that you zealously gave me your assistance.

TOXILUS

What, I, to you?

DORDALUS

In seriousness, yes. By-the-bye, I forgot just now to give some directions in-doors, which I intended to be given. Do keep watch on her. Pointing to the YOUNG WOMAN.

TOXILUS

She's all safe, for certain DORDALUS goes into his house.

DAU.

My father's delaying now.

TOXILUS

What, if I put him in mind?

DAU.

It's full time.

TOXILUS

going to the side of the stage, and calling aloud . Hallo! Saturio, come forward; now's the opportunity for taking vengeance on the enemy. SATURIO.

SAGARISTIO

See, here I am. Have I delayed at all?

TOXILUS

Well, go you off there at a distance out of sight; keep silence. When you see me talking to the Procurer, do you then make a row.

SATURIO

A word's enough to the wise. He withdraws out of sight.

Enter DORDALUS, from his house, with a whip in his hand.

DORDALUS

On coming into the house, I lashed them all with the whip; my house and furniture are in such a dirty state.

TOXILUS

Are you returned at last?

DORDALUS

I'm returned.

TOXILUS

Assuredly, I have this day done you many services.

DORDALUS

I confess it; I give you thanks.

TOXILUS

Do you want anything else with me?

DORDALUS

That happiness may. attend you.

TOXILUS

I' faith, all that indeed I shall surely enjoy at home now; for I shall now go take my place at table with your freed-woman. You, when I'm gone ——

DORDALUS

Why don't you hold your tongue? I know what it is you want.

TOXILUS goes into the house.

Enter SATURIO, in a seeming rage.

SATURIO

If I don't prove the destruction of that fellow ——

DORDALUS

I'm undone.

SATURIO

And most luckily there he is, himself, before the door.

DAU.

running towards him . Most welcome, my dear father. She embraces him.

SATURIO

Welcome, my child.

DORDALUS

aside . That Persian has utterly ruined me!

DAU.

to DORDALUS . This is my father.

DORDALUS

Ha! — what? — father? I'm utterly undone! Why then, in my misery, do I delay to bewail my sixty minæ?

SATURIO

By my faith, you scoundrel, I'll give you cause to bewail your own self as well.

DORDALUS

I'm undone!

SATURIO

Come, walk before a magistrate, Procurer.

DORDALUS

Why do you summon me before a magistrate?

SATURIO

I'll tell you there, before the Prætor. But before the magistrate I summon you.

DORDALUS

Don't you summon a witness?

SATURIO

What, for your sake, hangdog, am I to be touching the ear of any being that's free — you, who are here trading in persons, free citizens?

DORDALUS

Let me but speak ——

SATURIO

I won't.

DORDALUS

Hear me.

SATURIO

I'm deaf. Walk on — follow me this way dragging him, you villanous mouser after maidens! Follow after me this way, my daughter, to the Prætor.

DAU.

I'll follow. Exit SATURIO, dragging DORDALUS, his DAUGHTER following.

ACT V.

Enter TOXILUS, from the house.

TOXILUS

to himself. The foe subdued, the citizens safe, the state in tranquillity, peace fully ratified, the war finished, our affairs prospering, the army and the garrisons untouched; inasmuch, Jupiter, and all you other Deities potent in the heavens, you have kindly aided us, for that reason do I return and give you thanks; because I have been fully revenged upon my foe. Now, for this reason, among my partners will I divide and allot the spoil. To the SLAVES in the house, who obey his orders. Come out of doors; here, before the entrance and the door, I wish to entertain my commates with hospitality. Lay down the couches here; place here the things that are usual. Here am I determined that my eagle shall be first pitched; from which spot I'll cause all to become merry, joyous, and delighted, by the aid of whom those things which I wished to be effected have been rendered for me easy to be done; for worthless is the man who knows how to receive a kindness, and knows not how to return it. Enter LEMNISELENE, SAGARISTIO, and PÆGNIUM, from the house.

LEMNISELENE

My Toxilus, why am I without you? And why are you without me?

TOXILUS

Come then, my own one, approach me, and embrace me, please.

LEMNISELENE

Indeed I will. Embraces him.

TOXILUS

O, nothing is there more sweet than this. But, there's a dear, apple of my eye, why don't we at once betake us to the couches?

LEMNISELENE

Everything that you wish, the same do I desire.

TOXILUS

It's mutual. Come, come-come then. You, Sagaristio, recline in the upper place.

SAGARISTIO

I don't at all care for it. Give me but equal shares in what I've earned.

TOXILUS

All in good time.

SAGARISTIO

For me that "good time" is too late.

TOXILUS

Attend to the matter in hand. Take your place; this delightful day let's keep as a joyous birthday of mine. To the SLAVES. Bring water for our hands; arrange the table. The SLAVES obey, and the GUESTS take their places. To you, blooming one addressing LEMNISELENE, I give this blooming wreath. Places a garland on her head. You shall be our governess here. Come, lad, commence these games from the top with a round of seven cups. Bestir your hands; make haste. Pægnium, you are slow in giving me the cups; really, do give them. Here's luck to me, luck to you, luck to my mistress, luck to us all. This much wished-for day has been sent me by the Gods this day, inasmuch as I am allowed to embrace you a free woman. He drinks.

LEMNISELENE

By your own agency it was effected. Giving him the cup. This cup my hand presents to you, as it becomes a mistress to her love.

TOXILUS

Give it me.

LEMNISELENE

Take it. Gives him the cup.

TOXILUS

Here's luck to him who envies me, and to him who rejoices in this

joy. Drinks.

Enter DORDALUS, at a distance.

DORDALUS

to himself. Those who are, and those who shall be, and those who have been, and those who are to be hereafter, all of them I singly by far surpass, in being the most wretched of men alive. I'm undone, ruined quite! This day has shone upon me the most unfortunate of days; that ruiner Toxilus has so outmanœuvred me, and has so laid waste my property! A whole cartload of silver, to my misfortune, have I upset, and lost, and have not that for which I did upset it. May all the Deities utterly confound that Persian, and all Persians, and all persons besides! in such a way has Toxilus, the wretch, conjured this up against me. Because I didn't trust him for the money, for that reason has he contrived this plan against me, — a fellow, that, by my faith, if I only live, I'll bring to torture and the fetters; if, indeed, his master ever returns here, as I trust he will. Catching sight of the REVELLERS. But what is it I see? Do look at that. What play is this? By my troth, they're carousing here surely. I'll accost them. He goes up to them. O worthy sir to TOXILUS, my greetings to you — you, too to LEMNISELENE, my worthy freed-woman.

TOXILUS

Why surely this is Dordalus.

SAGARISTIO

Invite him, then, to come.

TOXILUS

to DORDALUS. Come here, if you like. Aside. Come, let's sing his praises. Aloud. Dordalus, most delightful fellow, welcome, here's a place for you; take your place here pointing to a couch. Bring water for his feet to the SLAVES. Are you going to give it, lad? Is going to pat DORDALUS on the shoulder.

DORDALUS

Don't you, please, be touching me with a single finger, lest I should fell you to the ground, you villain.

PÆG.

holding up a cup . And I this very instant will be striking out your eye with this tankard.

DORDALUS

What do you say, gallows, you wearer-away of the whip? How have you imposed upon me to-day? Into what embarrassments have you thrown me? How have I been baulked about the Persian?

TOXILUS

You'll be off with your abuse from here, if you are wise.

DORDALUS

to LEMNISELENE . But, my worthy freed-woman, you knew of this, and concealed it from me.

LEMNISELENE

It's folly for a person who can enjoy himself to turn to brawling in preference. 'Twere more proper for you to arrange about those matters another time.

DORDALUS

My heart's in flames.

TOXILUS

Give him a goblet, then; put out the fire, if his heart's in flames, that his head mayn't be burnt.

DORDALUS

You're making sport of me, I find.

TOXILUS

Would you like a new playfellow for you, Pægnium? Pointing at DORDALUS. But sport on as you are wont, as this is a place of freedom. PÆGNIUM struts about round DORDALUS. O rare! you do stalk in a princely style and right merrily.

PÆG.

It befits me to be merry, and I've a longing to play this Procurer some pranks, since he's deserving of it.

TOXILUS

As you commenced, proceed.

PÆG.

striking him . Take that, Procurer!

DORDALUS

I'm undone! he has almost knocked me down!

PÆG.

Hey — be on your guard again. Strikes at him.

DORDALUS

Sport on just as you please, while your master's away from here.

PÆG.

skipping around him . Don't you see how obedient I am to your request? But why, on the other hand, are not you obedient to my request as well, and why don't you do that which I advise you?

DORDALUS

What's that?

PÆG.

Do you take a stout rope for yourself, and go hang yourself.

DORDALUS

shaking his stick . Take you care, will you, that you don't touch me, lest I give you a heavy return with this walking-stick. PÆG. Make use of it; I give you leave.

TOXILUS

Come, come, Pægnium, put an end to it.

DORDALUS

By my faith, I'll utterly destroy you all.

TOXILUS

But he, who dwells above us, wishes you all ill, and will do you all ill. It's not they that tell you so, but I.

TOXILUS

Come to the SLAVES, carry round the honied wine; give us drink in goblets quite full: it's a long time now since we last drank; we've been athirst too long.

DORDALUS

May the Gods grant that you may drink that which may never pass through you.

PÆG.

I cannot forbear, Procurer, from at least dancing a hornpipe for you, which Hegea formerly composed. But just look if it quite pleases you. He dances.

SAGARISTIO

rising. I'd like also to repeat that one which Diodorus formerly composed in Ionia. Goes close to DORDALUS.

DORDALUS

I'll be doing you a mischief, if you are not off!

SAGARISTIO

Still muttering, impudence? If you provoke me, I'll just now be bringing you the Persian again.

DORDALUS

I' faith, I'm silenced now. Why, you are the Persian that has been fleecing me to the quick!

TOXILUS

Hold your tongue, simpleton; this is his twin-brother.

DORDALUS

Is it he? Tox. Aye, and a very twin of twins.

DORDALUS

May the Gods and Goddesses rack both yourself and your twin-brother.

SAGARISTIO

Him, you mean, who has been ruining you; for I don't deserve anything.

DORDALUS

But still, what he deserves, I hope that that may prove to your undoing.

TOXILUS

to SAGARISTIO . Come, if you like, let's have some sport with this fellow, unless he isn't deemed worthy of it.

SAGARISTIO

Just now it's right.

LEMNISELENE

aside . But it isn't proper for me.

TOXILUS

aside . For the reason, I suppose, that he made no difficulties when I purchased you.

LEMNISELENE

aside . But still ——

TOXILUS

aside . No "still." Beware, then, of a mishap, will you, and obey me. It becomes you to be heedful of my orders; for, i' faith, had it not been for me and my protection, he would before long have made a street-walker of you. But such are some of those who have gained their freedom, unless they thwart their patron, they don't appear to themselves free enough, or wise enough, or honest enough, unless they oppose him, unless they abuse him, unless they are found ungrateful to him who has been kind.

LEMNISELENE

aside . I' troth, your kindnesses command me to pay obedience to your commands.

TOXILUS

aside . I clearly am your patron, who paid the money for you to that man pointing to DORDALUS ; in return for that, I choose that he shall be made sport of.

LEMNISELENE

aside . For my part, I'll do my utmost.

DORDALUS

For sure, these persons are consulting to do something, I know not what, to injure me.

SAGARISTIO

Hark you.

TOXILUS

What do you say?

SAGARISTIO

Is this person here, Dordalus the Procurer, who deals in free women?
Is this he who was formerly st stalwart?

DORDALUS

What means this? PÆGNIUM strikes him. Oh, oh! he has given me a slap in the face! I'll do you a mischief. Shakes his fist at him.

TOXILUS

But we have done you one, and shall do it again too.

DORDALUS

PÆGNIUM pinching him . Oh, oh! he's pinching my behind.

PÆG.

Of course; it has been many a time twitched before this.

DORDALUS

Are you still prating, you bit of a boy?

LEMNISELENE

to DORDALUS . My patron, do, there's a dear, come in-doors to dinner.

DORDALUS

My lump of laziness, are you now scoffing at me?

LEMNISELENE

What, because I invite you to enjoy yourself?

DORDALUS

I don't want to enjoy myself.

LEMNISELENE

Then don't.

TOXILUS

How then? The six hundred didrachms, how are they? What disturbances they do cause.

DORDALUS

aside . I'm utterly undone! They understand full well how to return the compliment to an enemy.

TOXILUS

Have we now had satisfaction enough?

DORDALUS

I confess it; I hold up my hands to you.

TOXILUS

And, ere long, you shall be holding them beneath the bilboes. Be off in-doors.

SAGARISTIO

To perdition!

DORDALUS

to the AUDIENCE . Have these fellows here worked me in too slight a degree? Goes into his house.

TOXILUS

calling after him . Keep in mind that you met with a Toxilus. To the AUDIENCE. Spectators, kindly fare you well. The Procurer is demolished. Grant us your applause.

POENULUS

Translated by Henry Thomas Riley

Poenulus, 'The Little Carthaginian', was most likely written between 195 and 189 BC and is noteworthy for containing text in Carthaginian Punic, spoken by the character Hanno in the fifth act.

The plot concerns Agorastocles, who is in love with Adelphasium, a slave belonging to the pimp Lycus. Like Agorastocles, she and her sister Anterastilis were stolen from Carthage when they were children and sold into slavery. Agorastocles was purchased not to become a slave, but rather adopted as a son, whereas the girls were bought to become prostitutes. The action deals with Milphio, the slave of Agorastocles, and his attempts to help his master obtain Adelphasium.

THE SUBJECT

THERE were two cousins, citizens of Carthage; the daughters of one of them named Hanno, were stolen in their childhood, and being carried off to Calydon, were there purchased by Lycus, a Procurer. In the same place there is living Agorastocles, the son of the cousin of Hanno, who, having been stolen in his infancy, was sold to a wealthy old man, and finally adopted by him. Here, without knowing their relationship, Agorastocles falls in love with Adelphasium, the elder of the sisters, while Anthemonides, a military officer, entertains a passion for Anterastylis, the younger sister. The Procurer being at enmity with Agorastocles, the latter, with the assistance of his servant Milphio, devises a plan for outwitting him. Collybiscus, the bailiff of Agorastocles, is dressed up as a foreigner, and, a sum of money being given him for the purpose, pretends to take up his abode in the house of Lycus. On this being effected, by previous arrangement Agorastocles comes with witnesses, and accuses the Procurer of harbouring his slave, and encouraging him to rob his master. At this conjuncture, Hanno arrives at Calydon in search of his daughters. He discovers them, and finds that Agorastocles is the son of his deceased cousin. The play ends with the removal of the damsels from the house of Lycus, who is brought to task for his iniquities; and Adelphasium is promised by her father in marriage to Agorastocles.

THE ACROSTIC ARGUMENT.

A BOY (Puer), seven years old, is stolen at Carthage. An old man, a hater (Osco) of women, adopts him when bought, and (Et) makes him his heir. His two kinswomen and their nurse (Nutrix) are also carried off. Lycus buys them and torments (Vexat) Agorastocles in love. But he palms off his bailiff with some gold upon the Procurer (Lenoni), and so convicts him of theft. Hanno, the Carthaginian, comes (Venit), discovers him to be the son of his cousin, and recognizes his own (Suas) daughters whom he had lost. PROLOGUE I HAVE a mind to imitate the Achilles of Aristarchus from that Tragedy I'll take for myself the opening: "Be silent, and hold your tongues, and give attention." The head-manager it is who bids you listen, that with a good grace they may be seated on the benches, both those who have come hungry and those who have come well filled. You who have eaten, by far the most wisely have you done: you who have not eaten, do you be filled with the Play. But he who has something ready for him to eat, 'tis really great folly in him, for our sakes, to come here to sit fasting. Rise up, cryer! bespeak attention among the people: I'm now waiting to see if you know your duty. Exercise your voice, by means of which you subsist and find your clothes; for unless you do cry out, in your silence starvation will be creeping upon you. Well, now sit down again, that you may earn double wages. Heaven grant success! do you obey my commands. Let no worn-out debauchee be sitting in the front of the stage, nor let the lictor or his rods be noisy in the least; and let no seat-keeper be walking about before people's faces, nor be showing any to their seats, while the actor is on the stage. Those who have been sleeping too long at home in idleness, it's right for them now to stand contentedly, or else let them master their drowsiness. Don't let slaves be occupying the seats, that there may be room for those who are free; or else let them pay down the money for their places; if that they cannot do, let them be off home, and escape a double evil, lest they be variegated both here with scourges, and with thongs at home, if they've not got things in due order when their masters come home. Let nurses keep children, baby-bantlings, at home, and let no one bring them to see the Play; lest both they themselves may be athirst, and the children may die with hunger; and that they mayn't be squealing about here, in their hungry fits, just like kids. Let the matrons see the piece in silence, in silence laugh, and let them refrain from screaming here with their shrill voices; their themes for gossip let them carry off home, so as not to be an annoyance to their husbands both here and at home. And, as regards the managers of the performance, let not the palm of victory be given to any player wrongfully, nor by reason of favour let any be driven out of doors, in order that the inferior may be preferred to the good ones. And this, too, besides, which I had almost forgotten: while the performance is going on, do you, lacqueys, make an onset on the cookshops; now, while there's an opportunity, now, while the tarts are smoking hot, hasten there. These injunctions, which have been given as the manager's command, Heaven prosper them! troth now, let every one remember for himself. Now, in its turn, I wish to go back to the plot, that you may be equally knowing with myself. Its site, its limits, its boundaries I'll now lay down; for that purpose have I been appointed surveyor. But, unless it's troublesome, I wish to give you the name of this Comedy: but if it is an annoyance, I'll tell you still, since I have leave from those who have the management. This Comedy is called the "Carthaginian;" in the Latin, Plautus has called it "the Pulse-eating Kinsman." You have the name, then; now hear the rest of the story; for here will this plot be judged of by you. Its own stage is the proper place for every plot; you are the critics; I pray you lend attention. There were two cousins-german, Carthaginians, of a very high and very wealthy family. One of them is still alive, the other's dead. The more confidently do I inform you of this, because the undertaker told me so, who anointed him for the pile. But the only son there was of that old man who died, being separated from his father, was stolen at Carthage when seven years old, six years, in fact, before his father died. When he saw that his only son was lost to him, he himself, from grief, fell sick; he made this cousin-german of his his heir; he himself departed for Acheron without taking leave. The person who stole the child, carried him off to Calydon, and sold him here to a certain rich old man for his master, one desirous of children, but a hater of women. This old man, without knowing it, bought the son of his host, that same child, and adopted him as his own son, and made him his heir when he himself departed this life. This young man is dwelling here in this house. Pointing to the house of AGORASTOCLES. Once more do I return to Carthage. If you want to give any commission, or anything to be managed — unless a person gives the money, he will be mistaken; but he who does give it will be very much more mistaken. But this father's cousin of his at Carthage, the old man who is still alive, had two daughters. The one when in her fifth year, the other in her fourth, were lost, together with their nurse, from the walks in the suburbs. The person who kidnapped them, carried them off to Anactorium, and sold them all, both nurse and girls, for ready money, to a man (if a Procurer is a man) the most accursed of men, as many as the earth contains; but do you yourselves now form a conjecture what sort of man it is whose name is Lycus. He removed, not long ago, from Anactorium, where he formerly lived, to Calydon here, for the sake of his business. He dwells in that house. Pointing to the house of LYCUS. This young man is dying distractedly in love with one of them, his kinswoman, not knowing that fact; neither is he aware who she is, nor has he ever touched her (so much does the Procurer hamper him); neither has he hitherto ever had any improper connexion with her, nor ever taken her home to his house; nor has that Procurer been willing to send her there. Because he sees that he is in love, he wishes to touch this man for a good haul. A certain Captain, who is desperately in love with her, is desirous to buy this younger one to be his mistress. But their father, the Carthaginian, since he lost them, has been continually seeking them in every quarter, by sea and land. When he has entered any city, at once he seeks out all the courtesans, wherever each of them is living; he gives her gold, and prolongs the night in his enquiries; after that he asks whence she comes, of what country, whether she was made captive or kidnapped, born of what family, who her parents were. So diligently and so skilfully does he seek for his daughters. He knows all languages, too; but, though he knows them, he pretends not to know them: what need is there of talking? He is a Carthaginian all over. He, in the evening of yesterday, came into harbour here on board ship. The father of these girls, the same is the father's cousin of this young man. Now d'ye take this? If you do take it, draw it out: take care not to break it asunder; pray, let it proceed. Moving as if to go. Dear me! I had almost forgotten to say the rest. He who adopted this young man as his own son, the same was the guest of that Carthaginian, this old man's father. He will come here to-day, and discover his daughters here, and this person, his cousin's son, as indeed I've learnt. He, I say, who'll come to-day, will find his daughters and this his cousin's son. But after this, farewell! — attend; I'm off; I now intend to become another man. As to what remains, some others remain who'll explain all to you. I'll go and dress. With kindly feelings do you then recognize me. Farewell! and give me your aid, that Salvation may prove propitious to you.

ACT I.

Enter, from his house, AGORASTOCLES, followed by MILPHIO.

AGORASTOCLES

Full oft have I entrusted many matters to you, Milphio, matters of doubt and necessity, and standing in need of good counsel, which you wisely, discreetly, cleverly, and skilfully have by your aid brought to completion for me. For which services I do confess that both your liberty and many kind thanks are due unto you.

MILPHIO

An old adage, if you timely introduce it, is a clever thing: but your compliments are to me what are wont to be called sheer nonsense, and, upon my faith, mere bagatelles. Just now, you are full of kind speeches towards me; yesterday, without hesitation, upon my back you wore out three bulls' hides with flogging.

AGORASTOCLES

But if, being in love, I did anything by reason of my distraction, Milphio, it's only reasonable that you should pardon me for it.

MILPHIO

I've seen nothing more reasonable. I, too, am now dying for love; allow me to thrash you just as you did me, for no fault at all; and then, after that, do you pardon me being thus in love.

AGORASTOCLES

If you have a mind for it, or it gives you pleasure, I do permit it; tie me up, bind me, scourge me; I recommend you, I give you my permission.

MILPHIO

If, hereafter, you should revoke your permission, when you are unloosed, I myself should be hung up for punishment.

AGORASTOCLES

And would I venture to do that, to yourself especially? On the contrary, if I see you but struck, it gives me pain immediately.

MILPHIO

To me, indeed, i' faith.

AGORASTOCLES

No, to me.

MILPHIO

I could prefer that to be the case. But what now do you wish?

AGORASTOCLES

Why need I tell a lie to you? I am desperately in love.

MILPHIO

My shoulder-blades feel that.

AGORASTOCLES

But I mean with this damsel, my neighbour Adelphasium, the elder Courtesan that belongs to this Procurer.

MILPHIO

For my own part, I've heard that from yourself already.

AGORASTOCLES

I'm on the rack with love for her. But than this Procurer Lycus, her master, not dirt itself is more dirty.

MILPHIO

Do you wish now to present him with some mischief?

AGORASTOCLES

I should like it.

MILPHIO

Why look then, present him with me.

AGORASTOCLES

Go and be hanged!

MILPHIO

But tell me seriously, do you wish to present him with a plague?

AGORASTOCLES

I should like it.

MILPHIO

Well then, present him with this selfsame me; I'd cause him to be having both a mischief and a plague.

AGORASTOCLES

You are joking.

MILPHIO

Should you like this very day, without risk to yourself, to make her free?

AGORASTOCLES

I should like it, Milphio.

MILPHIO

I'll manage for you to make her so. You have indoors three hundred golden Philippean pieces.

AGORASTOCLES

Six hundred even.

MILPHIO

Three hundred are enough.

AGORASTOCLES

To do what with them?

MILPHIO

Hold your peace. This day I'll make you a present of the Procurer, whole, with all his household.

AGORASTOCLES

What to do?

MILPHIO

You shall soon know. Collybiscus, your bailiff, is in the city just now. The Procurer doesn't know him. Do you fully understand?

AGORASTOCLES

I' faith, I understand that; but what you are driving at I know not.

MILPHIO

You don't know?

AGORASTOCLES

Not I, faith.

MILPHIO

But I'll soon let you know. The gold shall be given him, for him to take to the Procurer, and say that he's a stranger from another city; that he's amorously inclined, and wishes to gratify his inclinations; that he wants free range to be found him, where he may secretly indulge his appetite, so that there may be no overlooker. The Procurer, greedy for the gold, will at once take him into his house; he'll conceal the man and the gold.

AGORASTOCLES

The design pleases me.

MILPHIO

Do you then enquire of him whether your slave hasn't come to him. He'll think that I am being sought for; immediately he'll say no to you. Have you any doubt but that the Procurer will at once have to double the gold for you, and be considered to have stolen the man? Neither has he the means of raising it. When he comes to trial, the Prætor will award his whole household to you. Thus with a pitfall shall we deceive the Procurer Lycus.

AGORASTOCLES

The design pleases me.

MILPHIO

Aye, when I've polished it up, you'll then say so still more even; now it's but in the rough.

AGORASTOCLES

I'm going to the Temple of Venus, unless, Milphio, you wish for anything. It's the Aphrodisia to-day.

MILPHIO

I know.

AGORASTOCLES

I wish to amuse my eyes with the harlot finery.

MILPHIO

Let's first proceed to this, the plan we have resolved upon. Let's go in-doors, that we may instruct Collybiscus, the bailiff, how to plant this cheatery.

AGORASTOCLES

Although Cupid has the sway in my heart, still I'll listen to you.

MILPHIO

I'll cause you to be glad it's done. AGORASTOCLES goes into his house. There is a speck of love upon this man's breast, which cannot by any means be washed out without great harm; this Lycus, too, the Procurer, is such a wicked person, against whom the engine of mischief is now well aimed, which before long I shall discharge from my battery. But see, here's Adelphasium coming out, and Anterastylis. The first is the one who renders my master distracted. But I'll call him out. Goes to the door and calls. Hallo! Agorastocles, come out of doors if you would see most joyous sports! in haste, from the house.

AGORASTOCLES

What's this bustle, Milphio?

MILPHIO

pointing to the door of LYCUS'S house . Why, here's your mistress, if you'd like to see her.

AGORASTOCLES

O may the Gods bestow many a blessing on you, for having presented to me a sight so charming as this! They stand apart.

Enter ADELPHASIUM, ANTERASTYLIS, and an ATTENDANT.

ADELPHASIUM

The man who wants to find abundance of employment for himself — a woman and a ship, these two things, let him procure; for no two things do produce more trouble, if, perchance, you begin to equip them; neither are these two things ever equipped enough, nor is the largest amount of equipment sufficient for them. And as I mention these things, from experience at home do I now say thus; for we two, even from daybreak up to the present hour of the day, have never ceased either washing, or scrubbing, or rubbing, or dressing, smoothing, polishing, painting, trimming, with all our might, and at the same time the two maid-servants, that have been provided for each of us, have been giving us their assistance in washing and cleaning; and in carrying water two men have become quite weary. Fie upon it! how great a plague there is in one female. But if there are two, I know full well that they are able to give to any one, the mightiest nation whatsoever, more trouble than enough, in being night and day, always, at all hours, dressing, washing, rubbing, polishing. In fine, there's no moderation in women, nor do we understand how ever to set a limit to washing and scrubbing. But she who is washed clean, unless she is thoroughly dressed, in my notion at least, is just as though she were dirty.

ANTERASTYLIS

I really wonder, sister, that you talk in this fashion; you who are so knowing, and discreet, and clever; for when with all care we have ourselves in trim, hardly and with difficulty do we find poor pitiful admirers.

ADELPHASIUM

Such is the fact; but still reflect upon this one thing; a limit is best to be observed in all things, sister; all things in excess give too much trouble to mortals of themselves.

ANTERASTYLIS

Sister, prithee, do reflect that we are accounted just in the same way as pickled salt-fish is thought of — without any relish and without sweetness; unless full oft and long it is soaked in water, it smells badly, and is salt, so that you cannot touch it. Just so are we. Women of this class are utterly tasteless, and devoid of grace, without dress and expense.

MILPHIO

apart . She surely is a cook, Agorastocles, according to my notion; she knows how to soak pickled fish.

AGORASTOCLES

pushing him away . Why are you thus troublesome?

ADELPHASIUM

Sister, do, there's a dear, forbear. It's quite sufficient for others to say that to us, not to be ourselves as well proclaiming our foibles.

ANTERASTYLIS

I'll have done, then.

ADELPHASIUM

I thank you: but now answer me this; are all things here which ought to be provided for propitiating the Gods?

ANTERASTYLIS

I've taken care of everything.

AGORASTOCLES

apart . How charming and joyous a day, and full of delight, worthy of Venus, by my troth, whose Aphrodisia are celebrated to-day!

MILPHIO

apart . Any thanks for me, for calling you out of doors? Oughtn't I now to be presented with a cask of old wine? Say it shall be given. Don't you answer me? His tongue has fallen out, I imagine. What, plague on it, have you been struck with amazement standing here? He shakes him.

AGORASTOCLES

apart . Do let me love on; don't disturb me, and do hold your peace.

MILPHIO

apart . I'll hold my peace.

AGORASTOCLES

apart . If you had held your peace, why then that "I'll hold my peace" would not have been in existence.

ANTERASTYLIS

Let's go, my sister. She moves.

ADELPHASIAM

How now — why, prithee, are you now hastening that way?

ANTERASTYLIS

Do you ask me? Because our master is waiting for us at the Temple of Venus.

ADELPHASIAM

Let him wait, i' faith. Do you stay; there's a crowd just now at the altar. Do you wish yourself to be pushed about among those common prostitutes, the doxies of bakers, the cast-offs of the spelt-bread sellers; wretched creatures, daubed over with grease, followers of poor slaves, who stink for you of their stable and stall, their seats and very sheds; whom, in fact, not a single freeman has ever touched or taken home with him, the twopenny strumpets of dirty trumpery slaves?

MILPHIO

apart . Away with you to utter perdition! Do you dare, then, to despise the slaves, you hussey? As if she was a beauty, as if kings were in the habit of making her their choice. A monstrosity of a woman! Diminutive as she is, she does spit out such mighty words — seven nights with whom I wouldn't purchase at a cupful of vapour.

AGORASTOCLES

apart . Immortal and omnipotent Divinities, what is there among you more beauteous? What have you that I should deem you more immortal than I am myself. in beholding with my eyes these delights so great? But Venus is not Venus; for my own part, her will I worship as Venus; that she may love me and prove propitious. Milphio! — hallo! Milphio, where are you?

MILPHIO

apart . See, here I am with you.

AGORASTOCLES

apart . But I want you boiled.

MILPHIO

apart . Why really, master, you are making merry.

AGORASTOCLES

apart . Why, it was from yourself I learnt all this.

MILPHIO

apart . What, even to be in love with her whom you have never touched? Really, that is nonsense.

AGORASTOCLES

apart . I' faith, the Gods as well do I love and fear from whom, nevertheless, I keep off my hands.

ANTERASTYLIS

Alas! upon my word, when I look at the dress of us both, I'm grieved at the way we are dressed out.

ADELPHASIU

Why really, it's quite in a proper style; for our master's gain and our own we are dressed quite well enough. For no profits can result, if the outlay exceeds them, sister; therefore, that is better to be had which is enough, than that which is more than enough.

AGORASTOCLES

apart . So may the Gods love me, may she love me (I had rather she than the Gods), Milphio; why, this woman has it in her power to force a flint-stone to be in love with her.

MILPHIO

apart . Upon my faith, in that you certainly tell no lie, for you are more senseless than a flint-stone to be in love with her.<

AGORASTOCLES

apart . But consider this, will you; I've never soiled her with a kiss.

MIL. apart . I'll run, then, somewhere to a fish-pond or a pool, and fetch some soil.

AGORASTOCLES

apart . What need is there of that?

MILPHIO

apart . I'll tell you; to soil her lips and yours.

AGORASTOCLES

apart . To utter perdition with you!

MILPHIO

apart . For my part, I'm there already.

AGORASTOCLES

apart . Do you persist?

MILPHIO

apart . I'll hold my tongue.

AGORASTOCLES

apart . But I wish you to do so always.

MILPHIO

apart . Why really, master, you challenge me at my own game, and still you make fun of me.

ANTERASTYLIS

At present, sister, I suppose you think yourself quite well enough drest; but when the instances of other courtesans are compared, then you will be having the heartache, if perchance you should see any one more nicely drest.

ADELPHASium

Envy was never inbred in me, my sister, nor yet spitefulness: I had rather by far that I was adorned with a good disposition than with gold; gold is met with by luck, a good disposition is found by nature. I very much prefer for myself to be called good than fortunate. It more befits a courtesan to show modesty than purple; and more does it become a courtesan to show modesty than golden jewels. Evil habits soil a fine dress more than mud; good manners, by their deeds, easily set off a lowly garb.

AGORASTOCLES

apart to MILPHIO . How now, you; would you like to play a merry and a frolicsome prank?

MILPHIO

apart . I should like.

AGORASTOCLES

apart . Can you, then, give attention to me?

MILPHIO

apart . I can.

AGORASTOCLES

apart . Be off home, and go hang yourself.

MILPHIO

apart . Why? AGO. apart . Because you'll never again hear so many words as sweet as these. What need have you to live? Only listen to me, and go hang yourself.

MILPHIO

apart Why yes, if, like grapes that are drying, you'll hang together with me.

AGORASTOCLES

apart . But I do love her.

MILPHIO

apart . But I, to eat and drink.

ADELPHASIUM

to her SISTER . How now, you? How say you — ?

ANTERASTYLIS

What is it you ask me?

ADELPHASIUM

Do you see? My eyes which were full of dirt, are they clear now?

ANTERASTYLIS

looking close at her eyes . Why, even still there's a little dirt in the middle of the eye.

ADELPHASIUM

Lend me your right hand, please.

AGORASTOCLES

apart . And would you really touch or rub her eyes with unwashed hands?

ANTERASTYLIS

Too great indolence has taken possession of us to-day.

ADELPHASIAM

For what reason, prithee?

ANTERASTYLIS

Why, because we didn't come long since, before daylight, to the Temple of Venus, to be the first to place fire upon her altar.

ADELPHASIAM

O, there's no need for doing that; those who have faces suited for the night only, make haste to go and sacrifice by night; before Venus is awake, they are already hurrying with all haste to sacrifice; for if they were to come when Venus is awake, so ugly are they, upon my faith, I do believe they would drive Venus herself away from the Temple.

AGORASTOCLES

apart . Milphio! MIL. apart . Poor Milphio, i' faith! What do you want with me now?

AGORASTOCLES

apart . Troth now, prithee, do mark how she speaks honied wine!

MILPHIO

apart , Nothing at all, except tile- cakes, sesamum, and poppies, wheat and parched nuts.

AGORASTOCLES

apart . Do I seem at all to be in love?

MILPHIO

apart . In love to your loss, a thing that Mercury is by no means in love with.

AGORASTOCLES

apart . Why, really, by my troth, it befits no lover to be in love with pelf.

ANTERASTYLIS

Let's go, my sister.

ADELPHASIAM

Do, please, just as you like. Follow me this way.

ANTERASTYLIS

I'll follow. They move.

AGORASTOCLES

apart . They are going. What if we accost them?

MILPHIO

apart . You accost them.

AGORASTOCLES

going towards them . In the first place, health to you, the elder; and you, the younger, health to you in the second degree of estimation; to the ATTENDANT you, the third, health to you, without any place in my estimation.

ATT.

In that case, faith, I've wasted my oil and my labour.

AGORASTOCLES

to ADELPHASIAM . Whither are you betaking yourself?

ADELPHASIAM

What I? To the Temple of Venus.

AGORASTOCLES

Why thither?

ADELPHASIAM

To propitiate Venus.

AGORASTOCLES

How now? Is she angry, then? Upon my faith, she is propitious. I will even answer for her. Stands before her.

ADELPHASIAM

What are you about? Prithee, why are you annoying me?

AGORASTOCLES

Thus cruel? Alas!

ADELPHASIUM

Let me go away, I beg of you.

AGORASTOCLES

Why in such a hurry? There's a crowd there at present.

ADELPHASIUM

I know it; there are other females there whom I wish to see, and by whom to be seen.

AGORASTOCLES

How can it give you pleasure to look at ugly people, and to afford one so beautiful to be looked at?

ADELPHASIUM

Because to-day, at the Temple of Venus, there's a fair for the courtesans; there the dealers meet; there I wish myself to be shown.

AGORASTOCLES

To wares unsaleable, its right to entice the buyer of one's own accord; good wares easily meet with a purchaser, although they may be placed in concealment. How say you? When, at my house here pointing will you lay your head and side by me?

ADELPHASIUM

On the day on which Orcus sends away the dead from Acheron.

AGORASTOCLES

I've got in-doors I know not how many golden coins in a state of madness.

ADELPHASIUM

Bring them to me; I'll make their madness pretty soon come to an end.

MILPHIO

with indignation . A nice one, upon my word!

AGORASTOCLES

Away to utter and extreme perdition with you, and go and be hanged!

MILPHIO

aside to AGORASTOCLES . The more I look at her, the more insignificant she is, and a mere bauble.

AGORASTOCLES

Keep your prating to yourself; I'm tired of it. To ADELPHASIUM. Come, do lift up this outer garment. Raises it from the ground, and attempts to embrace her.

ADELPHASIUM

I'm in a state of purity; prithee forbear to touch me, Agorastocles.

AGORASTOCLES

What am I to do, then?

ADELPHASIUM

If you are wise, you may be saving yourself your anxiety.

AGORASTOCLES

What? Me not be anxious on your account? What are you about, Milphio? Beckons to him.

MILPHIO

aside . See now, my aversion, this. Aloud. What is it you want with me?

AGORASTOCLES

pointing to ADELPHASIUM . Why is she angry with me?

MILPHIO

Why is she angry with you? Why should I trouble myself about that?
For that is rather your own concern.

AGORASTOCLES

On my word, it's all over with you this very instant, if you don't make her as smooth for me as the sea is at the time when the halcyon is rearing her young ones there.

MILPHIO

What am I to do?

AGORASTOCLES

Entreat her, soothe, and flatter her.

MILPHIO

I'll do so with all diligence; but see, please, that you don't afterwards be giving this ambassador of yours a dressing with your fists.

AGORASTOCLES

I'll not do so.

ADELPHASIUM

to her SISTER . Let's now begone. AGORASTOCLES stands before her. Do you detain me still? You act badly; you make me many fair promises; of those many, the whole come to nothing at all. Not once, but a hundred times, have you sworn to give me my freedom. While depending on you, I have neither anywhere procured any other resources for myself, nor is this assistance of yours at all visible. And thus none the less am I still a slave. Move on, sister. To AGORASTOCLES. Get you gone from me!

AGORASTOCLES

Utterly undone! Come now, Milphio, what are you about? Points at ADELPHASIUM.

MILPHIO

addressing ADELPHASIUM . My joy, my delight, my life, my pleasure, apple of my eye, my little lip, my health, my sweet kiss, my honey, my heart, my biestings, my cream-cheese ——

AGORASTOCLES

aside . Am I to allow these things to be said in my presence? I'm quite distracted, wretch that I am, if I don't order him at full speed to be hurried off to the executioner in a chariot and four!

MILPHIO

to ADELPHASIAM . Prithee, for my sake, don't be angry with my master. I'll make ——

ADELPHASIAM

Let me alone.

MILPHIO

You are too cross. He'll pay the money for you, and make you a citizen of Attica, and a free woman.

ADELPHASIAM

to MILPHIO, who is standing before her , But why don't you let me go away? What is it you want? Just as he wishes me well, in like manner do you wish me well.

MILPHIO

If, indeed, he has deceived you before, from this time forward he shall be truthful to you.

ADELPHASIAM

Get you gone hence, will you, you trepanner.

MILPHIO

I'll obey you. But on what terms — do you understand? Do let me prevail upon you; do let me take you by those little ears; do let me give you a kiss. By my troth, I shall now set him a> weeping, if I don't make you kind; and (unless I do make you kind he certainly will do it) I'm dreadfully afraid lest he should beat me. I know the harsh manners of this crabbed man. Wherefore, my delight, pray do let me prevail upon you.

AGORASTOCLES

aside . I'm not a man worth threepence, if I don't tear out the eyes and teeth of that whip-scoundrel. He beats MILPHIO. There's your delight for you! There's your honey! There's your heart! There are your biestings! There's your health! There's your sweet kiss! Giving him a blow at each sentence.

MILPHIO

Master, you are rendering yourself guilty of impiety! You are beating an ambassador.

AGORASTOCLES

More than that even still. Beating him again. I shall now add the apple of the eye, the little lip too, and the tongue.

MILPHIO

When will you be making an end?

AGORASTOCLES

Was it in that fashion I requested you to plead for me?

MILPHIO

How then was I to plead?

AGORASTOCLES

Do you ask me that? Why thus you should have said, you scoundrel: "his" delight, I do entreat of you, "his" honey, "his" heart, "his" little lip, "his" tongue, "his" sweet kiss, "his" biestings, "his" sweet cream-cheese, you whip-scoundrel. All these things which you spoke of as yours, you should have mentioned as mine.

MILPHIO

addressing ADELPHASium . By my troth, I do entreat you, his delight and my own aversion; his full-bosomed mistress, my enemy and evil-wisher; his eye, my eyesore; his honey, my gall — don't you be angry with him; or, if that cannot be, do take a rope and hang yourself, with your master and your household: for I see that henceforth, on your account, I shall have to live upon sighing; and as it is, I've already got my back about as hard with weals as an oyster-shell, by reason of your amours.

ADELPHASIUM

Prithee, do you wish me to hinder him from beating you, rather than that he should not prove untrue towards me?

ANTERASTYLIS

to her SISTER . Do answer him in somewhat kindly terms, there's a dear, that he mayn't be annoying to us; for he's detaining us from our purpose.

ADELPHASIUM

That's true. This one fault more will I pardon you for, Agorastocles. I am not angry.

AGORASTOCLES

You are not?

ADELPHASIUM

I am not.

AGORASTOCLES

That I may believe you, give me a kiss then.

ADELPHASIUM

I'll give you one by-and-by, when I return from the sacrifice.

AGORASTOCLES

Be off, then, in all haste.

ADELPHASIUM

Follow me, sister.

AGORASTOCLES

And do you hear too? Pay all compliments to Venus in my name.

ADELPHASIUM

I'll pay them.

AGORASTOCLES

Listen to this, too ——

ADELPHASIUM

What is it?

AGORASTOCLES

Perform the ceremony in few words. And do you hear? Look back at me. She looks back. She did look back. By my troth, I trust that Venus will do the same for you. ADELPHASIUM, ANTERASTYLIS, and ATTENDANT go into the Temple of Venus.

AGORASTOCLES and MILPHIO.

AGORASTOCLES

What now do you advise me to do, Milphio?

MILPHIO

To give me a beating, and then have an auction; for pointing to the house really, upon my faith, with utter impunity you might put up this house for sale.

AGORASTOCLES

Why so?

MILPHIO

For the greater part you make your dwelling in my mouth.

AGORASTOCLES

Do have done with those expressions.

MILPHIO

What now do you wish?

AGORASTOCLES

I just now gave three hundred Philippeans to the bailiff Collybiscus, before you called me out of doors. I now adjure you, Milphio, by this right hand, and by this left hand its sister, and by your eyes, and by my passion, and by my own Adelphasium, and by your liberty ——

MILPHIO

Why, now you adjure me by nothing at all.

AGORASTOCLES

My dear little Milphio, my kind occasion, my safeguard, do what you promised me you would do, that I may prove the ruin of this Procurer.

MILPHIO

Why, that's very easy to be done. Be off, bring here with you your witnesses; meanwhile, in-doors I'll forthwith provide your bailiff with my disguise and stratagems. Make haste and be off.

AGORASTOCLES

I fly.

MILPHIO

That's more my part than yours.

AGORASTOCLES

Should I not, should I not, if you effect this adroitly ——

MILPHIO

Only do begone.

AGORASTOCLES

Ought I not this very day ——

MILPHIO

Only do be off.

AGORASTOCLES

To give you freedom

MILPHIO

Only do begone.

AGORASTOCLES

By my troth, I should not deserve-ah!

MILPHIO

Bah! Only do be off.

AGORASTOCLES

As many as are the dead in Acheron ——

MILPHIO

Will you, then, move off?

AGORASTOCLES

Nor yet as many as there are waves in the sea ——

MILPHIO

Are you going to move off?

AGORASTOCLES

Nor as many as there are clouds ——

MILPHIO

Do you persist in going on this way?

AGORASTOCLES

Nor as there are stars in heaven ——

MILPHIO

Do you persist in dinning my ears?

AGORASTOCLES

Neither this thing nor that; nor yet, indeed, seriously speaking — nor, by my faith, indeed. What need is there of words? And why not? — a thing that in one word — here we may say anything we please — and yet, i' faith, not seriously in reality. D'ye see how 'tis? So may the Gods bless me! — do you wish me to tell you in honest truth? A thing that here we may between ourselves — so help me Jupiter —— Do you see how? Look you — do you believe what I tell you?

MILPHIO

If I cannot make you go away, I shall go away myself: for really, upon my faith, there's need of an Œdipus as a diviner for this speech of yours, him who was the interpreter to the Sphinx. He goes into the house of AGORASTOCLES.

AGORASTOCLES

He has gone off in a passion; now must I beware, lest, through my own fault, I place an impediment in the way of my love. I'll go and fetch the witnesses, since love commands me, a free man, to be obedient to my own slave. (Exit.)

ACT II.

Enter LYCUS.

LYCUS

to himself. May all the Gods render him unfortunate, should any Procurer, after this day, ever immolate any victim to Venus, or should any one sacrifice a single grain of frankincense. For wretched I, this day, have sacrificed to my most wrathful Deities six lambs, and still I could not manage to make Venus to be propitious unto me. Since I could not appease her, forthwith I departed thence in a passion; I forbade the entrails to be cut, and would not examine them. Inasmuch as the soothsayer pronounced them not propitious, I deemed the Goddess not deserving. By these means I fairly played a trick upon the greedy Venus. When, that which was enough, she would not have to be enough, I made a pause. 'Tis thus I act, and thus it befits me to act. I'll make the other Gods and Goddesses henceforth more contented, and less greedy, when they know how the Procurer put a trick upon Venus. The soothsayer, in manner right worthy of him, a fellow not worth threepence, said that in all the entrails misfortune and loss were portended to me, and that the Gods were angry with me. In what matter either divine or human is it right for me to put trust in him? Just after that, a mina of silver was given me. But where, pray, has this Captain stopped just now, who gave it me, and whom I've invited to breakfast? But look! here he comes.
ANTHEMONIDES.

ANTHEMONIDES

So, as I began to tell you, you sorry pimp, about that Pentethronic battle, in which, with my own hands, in one day, I slew sixty thousand flying men.

LYCUS

Heyday! Flying men?

ANTHEMONIDES

Certainly I do affirm it.

LYCUS

Prithee, are there anywhere men that fly?

ANTHEMONIDES

There were; but I slew them.

LYCUS

How could you?

ANTHEMONIDES

I'll tell you. I gave birdlime and slings to my troops; beneath it they laid leaves of coltsfoot.

LYCUS

For what purpose?

ANTHEMONIDES

That the birdlime mightn't adhere to the slings.

LYCUS

Proceed. Aside. I faith, you do lie most egregiously. Aloud. What after that?

ANTHEMONIDES

They placed pretty large pellets of birdlime in their slings: with which I ordered them to be taken aim at as they flew. Why many words? Each one did they hit with the birdlime-they fell to the ground as thick as pears. As each one dropped, I straightway pierced him through the brain with his own feathers, just like a turtle-dove.

LYCUS

By my troth, if ever this did take place, then may Jupiter make me to be ever sacrificing, and never propitiating him.

ANTHEMONIDES

And don't you believe me in this?

LYCUS

I do believe, in the same degree that it is proper that I should be believed. Come, let's go in-doors, until the entrails are brought home.

ANTHEMONIDES

I wish to relate to you a single battle more.

LYCUS

I don't care about it.

ANTHEMONIDES

Do listen.

LYCUS

Upon my faith, no.

ANTHEMONIDES

Why then I'll break your head this distant, if you don't listen, or else be off to utter perdition!

LYCUS

I'd sooner go to utter perdition!

ANTHEMONIDES

Are you determined then?

LYCUS

Determined.

ANTHEMONIDES

In that case, do you, then, upon this lucky day, the Aphrodisia, make over to me the younger one of your courtesans.

LYCUS

The sacred ceremony has by its omens been to me today of such a nature — I put off all serious matters from today until another day. I am resolved to make it really a holiday. Now let's go hence in-doors. Follow me this way.

ANTHEMONIDES

I follow. For this day, then, I'm out on hire to you. They go into the house of LYCUS.

ACT III.

Enter AGORASTOCLES, and several ASSISTANTS walking behind him.

AGORASTOCLES

So may the Deities love me, there's nothing more annoying than a tardy friend, especially to a man in love, who's in a hurry in everything that he does; just as I'm leading on these assistants, fellows of most crawling step; they are more slow than merchant-ships in a calm sea. And upon my faith, I really did on purpose wave my aged friends; I knew they were too slow through their years; I apprehended delay to my passion; in vain I selected for myself these young fellows on their preferment, timber-legged, most tardy chaps. Well turning round to them , if you are going to come to-day, get on, or get off hence to utter perdition! Is this the way it befits friends to give their assistance to a person in love? Why sure, this pace was bolted through a fine floursieve; unless you have been practising in fetters to creep along thus with this step.

ADVOCATI

Hark you! although we seem to you of the commonalty and poor, if you don't speak us fair, you rich man of highest rank, we are in the habit of boldly playing the mischief with the rich man; we are under no engagement to you, about what it is that you love or hate. When we paid money for our freedom, we paid our own, not yours; it's right that we should be under no restraint. We value you at nought; don't you fancy that we've been made over as slaves to your passion. It's proper for free men to go through the city at a moderate pace; I deem it like a slave to be running along in a bustle. Especially when the state is at peace and the enemies are slain, it is not decent to make a tumult. But if you were for making greater haste, you ought to have brought us here as assistants the day before. Don't you fancy it — not any one of us will this day be running through the streets, nor yet shall the people pelt us with stones for madmen.

AGORASTOCLES

But if I had said that I was taking you to a Temple to breakfast, you would have surpassed a stag in speed, or a man on stilts in your steps. Now, because I have said that I am taking you as my assistants and witnesses, you are gouty, and in the slowness of your pace have been outdoing the snail.

ADVOCATI

Why, really, is there not good cause for running swiftly, where you are to drink and eat at another man's expense as much as you please, until you are full, what you need never return against your will to your host, at whose expense you have been eating? But still, in some way or other, although we are poor men, we have at home something to eat; don't you browbeat us in such a contemptuous way. Whatever that very little is, that little of ours is all at home; we neither dun any one ourselves, nor does any one dun us. Not one of us is going to burst the veins of his lungs for your sake.

AGORASTOCLES

You are too warm; really, I said this to you in joke.

ADVOCATI

Consider it said in joke as well what we have said to you in answer.

AGORASTOCLES

Troth now, prithee, do give me this aid of yours like a fly-boat, not a merchant-ship. Do hobble along at least, for I do not ask you to hurry.

ADVOCATI

If you wish to do anything quietly and leisurely, we lend our aid; if you are in a hurry, it would be better for you to hire runners as your assistants.

AGORASTOCLES

You understand (the matter I've informed you of), that I have need of your assistance with regard to this Procurer, who has so long trifled with me in my amour; that a scheme is to be planned against him about the gold and. my servant.

ADVOCATI

All that we know already, if these Spectators know. For the sake of these Spectators it is that this Play is now being acted. 'Twere better for you to inform them, that when you do anything, they may know what it is you are doing. Don't you trouble about us; we know the whole matter; since we all learnt it together in company with yourself, so that we can answer you.

AGORASTOCLES

Such really is the fact; but come, that I may be sure then that you know it, repeat the matter at length, and tell me what I told you just now.

ADVOCATI

Are you trying in this way whether we know? Do you suppose we don't remember how you have given three hundred Philippeans to Collybiscus your bailiff, for him to bring here to the Procurer, your enemy, and to pretend that he is a foreigner from a distance, from another city? When he has brought them, you'll go there to seek your servant together with the money.

AGORASTOCLES

You remember it by heart; you have saved me.

ADVOCATI

He'll be for denying it; he'll suppose your Milphio is being looked for. He'll have to pay double all the money stolen; the Procurer will be adjudged to you. In this matter you wish us to be your witnesses.

AGORASTOCLES

You've got the matter fast.

ADVOCATI

I' faith, hardly with the tips of our fingers, indeed; it is so very small a one.

AGORASTOCLES

This must be done quickly and with expedition. Make as much haste, then, as you can.

ADVOCATI

moving as though going . Kindly fare you well, then; it's better for you to provide some active assistants, we are but slow ones.

AGORASTOCLES

You move very well. Aside. But very badly do you speak me, faith. Aloud. Moreover, I could wish your thighs to fall down into your ankles.

ADVOCATI

And, i' faith, we that your tongue had fallen into your loins, and your eyes upon the ground.

AGORASTOCLES

Heyday! it's not for you to be angry at what I said in joke.

ADVOCATI

Nor for you, indeed, to be speaking ill to your friends in joke.

AGORASTOCLES

Drop this. What I want to do, you understand.

ADVOCATI

We know full well: to undo the perjured Procurer, it's that you wish.

AGORASTOCLES

You've got the matter right. See, Milphio and the bailiff are opportunely coming out together. He's coming rigged out like a nobleman, and appropriately, for the plot.

Enter MILPHIO and COLLYBISCUS, from the house of AGORASTOCLES, dressed as a person of quality.

MILPHIO

Have you now got your instructions by heart?

COLLYBISCUS

Nicely.

MILPHIO

Take care you understand them, please.

COLLYBISCUS

What need is there of talking? I won't let my own legs understand as well.

MILPHIO

Only take you care that your speeches are learnt by heart for this plot.

COLLYBISCUS

Why, upon my faith, I am more perfect than tragic or comic actors are.

MILPHIO

You are a capital fellow.

AGORASTOCLES

to the ASSISTANTS . Let's go nearer to them. Accosting MILPHIO and COLLYBISCUS. Here are the witnesses.

MILPHIO

to AGORASTOCLES . Really you could not have brought as many men better suited for this purpose; for not one of them is tongue-tied as a witness; they are genuine men of the law-courts; there they take up their abode; there you may see them more frequently than the Prætor. At this very time there are no better cookers-up of a lawsuit, to stir up litigation, than are these men; for they, if there is no litigation, sow litigation.

ADVOCATI

May the Gods confound you!

MILPHIO

You I really do commend, inasmuch as, whoever you are, still you act both worthily and kindly in giving your aid to my master thus in love. To AGORASTOCLES. But do they now know what the business is?

AGORASTOCLES

The whole matter, all in its order.

MILPHIO

In that case, do you, then, give me your attention. Do you know this Procurer Lycus?

ADVOCATI

Perfectly.

COLLYBISCUS

But, upon my faith, I don't know him, of what appearance he is. I wish that you would point this fellow out to me.

ADVOCATI

We'll take all care: we've been instructed quite enough.

AGORASTOCLES

pointing to COLLYBISCUS . He has got three hundred pieces counted out.

ADVOCATI

Then it's right, Agorastocles, that we should see this gold, that we may know what to say by-and-by as our testimony.

AGORASTOCLES

Come and look at it. Opens the bag which COLLYBISCUS holds in his hand.

COLLYBISCUS

to the AUDIENCE . Undoubtedly it's gold, Spectators — playhouse gold; upon this, soaked in water, in foreign lands, the cattle become fat: but, for the carrying out of this design, 'tis real Philippean gold.

ADVOCATI

We'll make believe it is so.

COLLYBISCUS

But do you make believe as though I were a foreigner.

ADVOCATI

Just so; and, in fact, as though you, on your arrival to-day, had asked us to show you a spot for freedom and pleasure; where you might wench, drink, and live like a Greek.

MILPHIO

Dear me! Crafty fellows, upon my faith!

AGORASTOCLES

But it was I who instructed them.

MILPHIO

And who you, in your turn?

COLLYBISCUS

Come, be of' in-doors, Agorastocles, lest the Procurer should see you together with me, and some accident might befall our plan.

MILPHIO

This person is extremely prudent. To AGORASTOCLES. Do as he bids you.

AGORASTOCLES

Let's be off. To the ASSISTANTS. But you-has enough been said?

COLLYBISCUS

Do you be off.

AGORASTOCLES

I'm off. Immortal Gods, I beg ——

COLLYBISCUS

Nay, but why don't you be off?

AGORASTOCLES

I'm off.

COLLYBISCUS

You do wisely. AGORASTOCLES and MILPHIO go into the house.

Hush! be quiet.

ADVOCATI

What's the matter?

COLLYBISCUS

This door pointing to the door of the house of LYCUS was guilty of a great indecency just now.

ADVOCATI

What indecency is that?

COLLYBISCUS

It rumbled aloud. AsSIST. May the Deities confound you! Get you behind us.

COLLYBISCUS

Be it so. Goes behind them.

ADVOCATI

We'll walk first.

COLLYBISCUS

aside . They do what town-fellows are in the habit of doing: they put worthy men behind themselves.

ADVOCATI

pointing to the PROCURER'S house . That man that's coming out is the Procurer.

COLLYBISCUS

He's a real good one; for he's like a bad man. Even now, as he comes forth, I'll suck out his blood at this distance.

Enter LYCUS, from his house.

LYCUS

speaking to ANTHEMONIDES, within . I'll return here this moment, Captain. I wish to find us some fitting guests, to join us. Meanwhile, they'll bring the entrails; and at the same time, the women, I suppose, will soon be making their appearance at home after the sacrifice. But why are such a number of people coming this way? I wonder what they are bringing? He, too, in the scarf, that's following at a distance, who is he, I wonder? He is not an Ætolian.

ADVOCATI

We greet you, Lycus. Although against our will, we give you this salutation, and although in a very moderate degree do we entertain good wishes for procurers.

LYCUS

May you all be fortunate — a thing that I know for certain you neither will be, nor will Fortune permit it so to be.

ADVOCATI

That is a treasure hoarded in the tongues of fools, to deem it gainful to speak amiss to their superiors.

LYCUS

He who knows not the road by which to arrive at the sea, him it befits to seek a river as his own companion. I know not the way of speaking abusively to you. Now you are the rivers to me; you I'm resolved to follow. If you speak blessings, along your banks I'll follow you; if you utter curses, along your track I'll go.

ADVOCATI

To do good to the bad is a danger just as great as to do bad to the good.

LYCUS

But why?

ADVOCATI

You shall learn. If you do any good to the bad, the benefit is lost: if you do any bad to the good, it lasts for a length of time.

LYCUS

Cleverly said! But what does that matter to me?

ADVOCATI

Because for the sake of your own well-doing we came hither, although in a very moderate degree do we entertain good wishes for procurers.

LYCUS

If you bring anything that's good, I give you thanks.

ADVOCATI

Of our own, we neither bring nor give you anything that's good, nor do we promise you, nor, in fact, do we wish to give it.

LYCUS

I' faith, I do believe yon; such is your kindly feeling. But what now do you wish?

ADVOCATI

(pointing to COLLYBISCUS) This person in the scarf, whom you see, with him Mars is angered.

COLLYBISCUS

aside, to himself. May he be so indeed with your own heads!

ADVOCATI

We are now bringing him here, Lycus, to you, for tearing asunder.

COLLYBISCUS

aside, to himself. This huntsman, myself, will be going home to-day with some spoil; the dogs are cleverly driving Lycus into the toils.

LYCUS

Who is this person?

ADVOCATI

We really don't know who he is, except that some time since, after daybreak, when we went down to the harbour, at the same moment we saw him landing from a merchant-ship. Disembarking, he came up to us at once — he saluted us; we answered him.

COLLYBISCUS

aside . The artful fellows! how cleverly they do enter upon the plot!

LYC. What after that?

ADVOCATI

Then he joined in discourse with us: he said that he was a foreigner, unacquainted with this city: that he wanted a convenient place to be found here, for him to indulge his appetite. We brought the man to you; if the Gods are favourable to you, it's an opportunity for you to ply your trade.

LYCUS

Is he eager to that degree?

ADVOCATI

He has got gold.

LYCUS

aside . That booty is mine.

ADVOCATI

He wishes to drink and wench.

LYCUS

I'll find him a nice place.

ADVOCATI

But still he wants to be quite private, in a quiet way, that no persons may know it, and that there may be no overlookers; for he has been a soldier in Sparta, as, indeed, he himself has told us, with King Attalus; from there he fled hither, when the town was surrendered.

COLLYBISCUS

aside . Very clever that, about the soldier! about Sparta, most capital!

LYCUS

in a low voice . May the Gods and Goddesses bestow many blessings on you, for having given me kindly information, and finding me a choice prey.

ADVOCATI

Aye, and, as he himself has told us, that you may receive him the better, he has brought three hundred Philippean pieces as a provision.

LYCUS

I'm a king if I can to-day entice this man to my house.

ADVOCATI

Nay but, he really is your own.

LYCUS

By my troth, prithee, do persuade him to take up his abode at my house, as the best lodging.

ADVOCATI

It befit us neither to persuade nor to dissuade a person who is a foreigner; you'll transact your own business, if you are prudent. We have brought the ringdove for you, even to the trapping-ground; now it's better for yourself to catch him, if you wish him to be caught.
They move as if going.

LYCUS

Are you going now?

COLLYBISCUS

to the ASSISTANTS . What about the matters that I commissioned you upon, strangers?

ADVOCATI

pointing to LYCUS . It's better for you, young sir, to speak to him about your own concerns; he's clever in those matters which you are enquiring about.

COLLYBISCUS

aside . But, for my part, I could like you to see when I deliver him the gold.

ADVOCATI

aside . At a distance there we shall be witnesses of that.

COLLYBISCUS

to the ASSISTANTS . You've given me kind assistance. The ASSISTANTS go out of sight.

LYCUS

aside, so as to be heard . The profit comes to me.

COLLYBISCUS

aside, to himself . Age, just so, indeed, the way that the ass kicks with his heels.

LYCUS

I'll speak the fellow fairly. To COLLYBISCUS. A stranger salutes a stranger; I'm glad that you have arrived in safety.

COLLYBISCUS

May the Deities grant you many blessings, since you wish me well.

LYCUS

They say that you are in search of a lodging.

COLLYBISCUS

I am in search.

LYCUS

So those persons told me, who left me just now, that you are in search of one that is free from flies.

COLLYBISCUS

By no means in the world.

LYCUS

Why so?

COLLYBISCUS

Because if I had been looking for a retreat from the flies, on arriving here I should have straightway gone to gaol. I'm in search of this kind of lodging, where I may be treated more delicately than the eyes of King Antiochus are in the habit of being treated.

LYCUS

Upon my faith, for sure, I can provide you a charming one, if, indeed, you can put up with yourself being in a charming room, on a couch charmingly laid, a charming damsel cuddling you.

COLLYBISCUS

You are in the right road, Procurer.

LYCUS

Where, with Leucadian, Lesbian, Thasian, and Coan wine, toothless with old age, you may soak yourself. There I'll quite drench you with the effusion of unguents. Why many words? I'll cause, when you've bathed, the bathkeeper to set up unguent-shop there. But speaking confidentially all these things that I have mentioned let out their services for pay.

COLLYBISCUS

Why so?

LYCUS

Because they demand ready money.

COLLYBISCUS

Why, upon my faith, you are not more ready to receive than I to give.

LYCUS

Why then follow me in-doors.

COLLYBISCUS

Lead me in-doors, then; you've got me devoted to your will. The ASSISTANTS come forward. LYCUS and COLLYBISCUS go apart.

ADVOCATI

among themselves . What if we call Agorastocles hither out of doors, that he himself may be his own witness, past all exception? They go to the door of AGORASTOCLES and call out, in a loud whisper. Hallo! you that are to catch the thief, come out quickly, that you yourself may witness him giving the gold to the Procurer.

Enter AGORASTOCLES, in haste, from his house.

AGORASTOCLES

What's the matter? What is it you want, witnesses?

ADVOCATI

Look to the right hand; your servant is paying gold to the Procurer himself.

COLLYBISCUS

apart to LYCUS . Come, take this, will you: here are three hundred gold coins, counted out, which are called Philippeans. Gives him the bag. With these do you provide for me. I wish these to be spent with all speed.

LYCUS

By my troth, you have found a lavish steward for yourself. Come, let's away in-doors.

COLLYBISCUS

I follow you.

LYCUS

Well, well, walk on; and then we'll talk together about the other matters that remain.

COLLYBISCUS

As for me, I'll tell you about the Spartan affairs.

LYCUS

Why then follow me.

COLLYBISCUS

Lead me in-doors; lead me in, you have got me made over to you.
They go into the house of LYCUS.

AGORASTOCLES

What do you advise me now?

ADVOCATI

To be moderate.

AGORASTOCLES

What if my feelings will not let me be?

ADVOCATI

Then be as they will let you.

AGORASTOCLES

Did you see it, when the Procurer received the money?

ADVOCATI

We saw it.

AGORASTOCLES

Did you know that he is my slave?

ADVOCATI

We knew it.

AGORASTOCLES

That it is a thing against the reiterated laws of the people?

ADVOCATI

We knew it.

AGORASTOCLES

Well then, all these things I wish you to keep in memory before the Prætor by-and-by, when occasion shall come.

ADVOCATI

We remember them.

AGORASTOCLES

What if, while the matter has so recently happened, I knock at the door?

ADVOCATI

I think you ought.

AGORASTOCLES

If I do knock, he won't open it.

ADVOCATI

Then break the pannel.

AGORASTOCLES

If the Procurer comes out, do you think I ought to enquire of the fellow whether my slave has come to him or not?

ADVOCATI

Why not?

AGORASTOCLES

With two hundred golden Philippean pieces?

ADVOCATI

Why not?

AGORASTOCLES

Then the Procurer will be going astray at once.

ADVOCATI

About what matter?

AGORASTOCLES

Do you ask? Because a less sum will be named by one hundred pieces.

ADVOCATI

You judge rightly.

AGORASTOCLES

He'll think that some other person is being looked after.

ADVOCATI

No doubt.

AGORASTOCLES

He'll be denying it at once.

ADVOCATI

On his oath even.

AGORASTOCLES

The fellow will involve himself in the guilt of theft ——

ADVOCATI

Beyond a doubt, it certainly is so.

AGORASTOCLES

Of however much it is that shall have been brought to him.

ADVOCATI

Why not?

AGORASTOCLES

Jupiter confound you!

ADVOCATI

Why not your own self?

AGORASTOCLES

going towards the door of LYCUS . I'll go and knock at this door.

ADVOCATI

Even so. Why not?

AGORASTOCLES

It's time to be quiet, for the door makes a noise. I see the Procurer Lycus coming out of doors; come this way, pray!

ADVOCATI

Why not? But, if you please, cover up our heads, that the Procurer mayn't know us, who have been his decoyers into so great a calamity. He throws the lappets of their garments over their heads.

Enter LYCUS, from his house.

LYCUS

to himself . Let all soothsayers go hang themselves now at once. Why should I believe them in future, as to what they say? For they, just now at the sacrifice, told me that evil and the greatest disaster was portended to me. I have since then amplified my fortune with profit.

AGORASTOCLES

accosting him . Save you, Procurer.

LYCUS

May the Gods bless you, Agorastocles.

AGORASTOCLES

You now salute me more kindly than hitherto.

LYCUS

A calm has come, as though to a ship at sea. Just as the wind is, to that quarter is the sail shifted.

AGORASTOCLES

May those ladies be well in your house, to whom I wish it, but to yourself I do not wish it.

LYCUS

They are well, as you desire; not for you, though.

AGORASTOCLES

Send your Adelphasium to my house, to-day, please, upon this celebrated and famous festival, the Aphrodisia.

LYCUS

Have you been breakfasting on a hot breakfast today? Tell me.

AGORASTOCLES

Why so?

LYCUS

Because now you are only cooling your mouth, when you ask me.

AGORASTOCLES

Attend to this, Procurer, will you; I've heard that my slave is at your house.

LYCUS

At my house? You'll find that has never been the fact.

AGORASTOCLES

You lie; for he has come to your house, and carried off some gold there. Word has been brought me to that effect, by persons I fully believe. Pointing to the ASSISTANTS.

LYCUS

You are an artful fellow: you've come to entrap me with your witnesses. There's no one of your people in my house, nor anything of yours.

AGORASTOCLES

turning round to the ASSISTANTS . Remember that, assistants.

ADVOCATI

We will remember it.

LYCUS

laughing . Ha, ha, ha! I now understand how it is, I've this instant seen through it. These persons, who a short time since introduced that Spartan stranger to me, their brain is now fired at it, because I'm going to make a gain of these three hundred Philippean pieces; now, because they knew that this person was an enemy of mine, they have set him on to say that his slave, together with his gold, is in my house. It's a planned contrivance for them to deprive me of it, and to divide it among themselves. They are wanting to get away the lamb from the wolf. They are wasting their pains.

AGORASTOCLES

What, do you deny that either the gold or my slave is at your house?

LYCUS

I do deny it; and, if it's of any use, I make myself hoarse with denying it.

ADVOCATI

You are undone, Procurer; for that person whom we told you was a Spartan, is his bailiff; who brought you just now the three hundred Philippean pieces; and that same gold, too, is in his purse.

LYCUS

shaking his fist at them . Woe unto you!

ADVOCATI

That, indeed, is close at hand for yourself.

AGORASTOCLES

Come, you hang-dog, give up the purse this instant. You are clearly a thief; caught by me in the fact. (To the ADVOCATI.) By my troth, I do beg of you, lend me your aid, so as to see me bring my slave out of his house. He goes into the PROCURER'S house.

LYCUS

I' faith, I'm now undone for certain, beyond a doubt! This has been done on purpose that a snare might be laid for me. But why do I hesitate to betake me hence to utter perdition, before I'm dragged off to the Prætor by the throat? Alas! what soothsayers I've been having for my diviners, who, if they promise anything that's fair, it comes to pass but slowly; that which they promise as unfortunate, comes directly. Now I'll be off: I'll consult my friends in what way — they deem it best in especial for me to hang myself. (Exit.)

Enter AGORASTOCLES, from the house of LYCUS, driving out COLLYBISCUS.

AGORASTOCLES

Be off you, get out you, that the witnesses may see you coining out from here. Isn't this my servant? To the ASSISTANTS.

COLLYBISCUS

I' faith, I really am, Agorastocles.

AGORASTOCLES

How now, villanous Procurer?

ADVOCATI

He, with whom you have the dispute, has made off.

AGORASTOCLES

I hope he's gone hence to utter perdition.

ADVOCATI

It's proper that we should wish the same.

AGORASTOCLES

To-morrow I'll bring my action against the fellow.

COLLYBISCUS

Anything further with me —— ?

AGORASTOCLES

You may go; put on your own dress.

COLLYBISCUS

It wasn't for nothing that I turned soldier. I made a little booty in-doors. While the household of the Procurer was asleep, I got myself well filled with the entrails. I'll be off from here in-doors.

AGORASTOCLES

to the ASSISTANTS . 'Twas kindly done by you. Assistants, you have lent me your good services. To-morrow morning I beg you'll meet me at the court of justice. To COLLYBISCUS. Do you follow me in-doors. To the ASSISTANTS. To you, farewell!

ADVOCATI

And you, farewell! (AGORASTOCLES goes into his house, followed by COLLYBISCUS.) This fellow wants a thing that's notoriously unfair; he thinks that we are to serve him at our own expense. But such are all these rich people of ours: if you do anything of service, their thanks are lighter than a feather; if there's any offence, they show vengeance like lead. Let's now go to our houses, if you like, forthwith, since we've effected that for which we lent our services, to ruin this corrupter of our fellow-citizens. (Exeunt.)

ACT IV.

Enter MILPHIO.

MILPHIO

I'm awaiting in what way my plot is to proceed. I'm bent upon ruining this Procurer, since he torments my afflicted master; but he in his turn beats me, and strikes me with his fist and heels. It's a misery to be in the service of one who is in love, especially one who is debarred from the object which he woos. Heyday! I see Syncerastus, the Procurer's servant, betaking himself from the Temple. I'll listen to what he has to say. He stands aside.

Enter SYNCERASTUS, with some cooking utensils, from the Temple of Venus.

SYNCERASTUS

to himself It's quite clear that Gods and men neglect the benefit of him who has a master like a person of such character as I have for a master. There's not another person anywhere in the world more perjured or more wicked than is my master, nor one so filthy or so defiled with dirt. So may the Gods bless me, I'd rather pass my life either in the stone quarries or at the mill, with my sides hampered with heavy irons, than pass this servitude with a Procurer. What a race this is! What corruptors of men they are! Ye Gods, by our hopes in you, every kind of men you may see there, just as though you had come to Acheron — horse and foot, a freed-man, a thief, or a runaway, if you choose, one whipped, chained, or condemned to slavery. He who has got money to pay, whatever sort of person he is — all kinds are taken in; throughout all the house, in consequence, are darkened spots and hiding-places: drinking and eating are going on, just as though in a cookshop, and in no less degree. There may you see epistles written in letters inscribed on pottery, and sealed with pitch: the names are upon them in letters a cubit long; such a perfect levy on vintners have we got at our house.

MILPHIO

apart . Upon my faith, it is quite wonderful, if his master doesn't make him his heir; for really, the way he soliloquizes, he's making a speech over him as though dead and gone. I'd both like to accost the fellow, and yet I listen to him with extreme delight.

SYNCERASTUS

to himself . When I see these things going on, I'm vexed that slaves, purchased at the heaviest price, should at our house be robbed of the savings which ought to go to their masters. But at last nothing is left visible: "badly gotten, badly gone."

MILPHIO

apart . This man goes on talking quite as though he himself were an honest fellow, when, upon my faith, he himself is able to make worthlessness more worthless.

SYNCERASTUS

to himself . Now I'm taking home these vessels from the Temple of Venus, where with his sacrifice my master has not been able to propitiate Venus on her festive day.

MILPHIO

apart . Charming Venus!

SYNCERASTUS

to himself . But our Courtesans, with their first victims, appeased Venus in an instant.

MILPHIO

O charming Venus, once again!

SYNCERASTUS

moving . Now I'll go home.

MILPHIO

coming forward . Hallo! Syncerastus!

SYNCERASTUS

looking around . Who's calling Syncerastus?

MILPHIO

Your friend.

SYNCERASTUS

You don't act like a friend, in causing me delay when I've got a burden.

MILPHIO

But in return for this matter I'll lend you my aid, when you please, and when you give me your commands. Consider the agreement signed.

SYNCERASTUS

If so it is to be, I'll give you my services in this ——

MILPHIO

In what way?

SYNCERASTUS

Why that, when I'm to have a beating, you yourself may substitute your hide.

MILPHIO

Get along with you.

SYNCERASTUS

I don't understand what sort of person you are.

MILPHIO

I'm good for nothing.

SYNCERASTUS

Be so to yourself, then.

MILPHIO

I want you.

SYNCERASTUS

But my burden is pressing me.

MILPHIO

Then, do you set it down, and turn your face to me.

SYNCERASTUS

I'll do so, although I have no leisure. Putts down his load.

MILPHIO

Save you, Syncerastus.

SYNCERASTUS

O Milphio, may all the Gods and Goddesses favour ——

MILPHIO

What person, pray?

SYNCERASTUS

Neither you, nor me, Milphio, nor my own master, in fact.

MILPHIO

Whom are they to favour, then?

SYNCERASTUS

Any one else they please; for not one of us is de serving of it.

MILPHIO

You speak wittily.

SYNCERASTUS

It befits me to do so.

MILPHIO

What are you doing?

SYNCERASTUS

I'm doing that which, clearly, adulterers don't generally do.

MILPHIO

What's that?

SYNCERASTUS

Bringing all off in safety.

MILPHIO

May the Gods confound you and your master!

SYNCERASTUS

May they not confound me. I could make them ruin him, if I chose — ruin my master, did I not fear for myself, Milphio.

MILPHIO

What is it? Tell me.

SYNCERASTUS

You are a bad one.

MILPHIO

I am a bad one.

SYNCERASTUS

It goes but badly with me.

MILPHIO

Just tell me, then; you ought to be in quite other plight. Why is it that it goes badly with you, who have at home in superabundance what to eat, and what to drink? You don't give a single three-obol piece away to a mistress, and have her for nothing.

SYNCERASTUS

May Jupiter so love me ——

MILPHIO

I' faith, in the degree that you deserve, to wit.

SYNCERASTUS

How I do long for this family to come to ruin.

MILPHIO

If you long for it, lend your aid.

SYNCERASTUS

Without feathers it isn't easy to fly: my wings have got no feathers.

MILPHIO

Troth, then, don't pluck out any hairs; then, in the next two months, your arm-pits will be fit for flying.

SYNCERASTUS

Away to utter perdition!

MILPHIO

Away yourself, and your master!

SYNCERASTUS

But, really, if a person knew him well, the fellow might soon be ruined.

MILPHIO

Why so?

SYNCERASTUS

* * * Just as though you could be silent on any matter.

MILPHIO

I'll keep the matter more strictly secret for you than that which has been told to a dumb woman.

SYNCERASTUS

I could easily bring my mind to believe you there, if I did not know you.

MILPHIO

Trust me boldly at my own peril.

SYNCERASTUS

I shall trust you to my cost, and still I will trust you.

MILPHIO

Don't you know that your master is a mortal enemy of my master?

SYNCERASTUS

I know it.

MILPHIO

By reason of the love affair?

SYNCERASTUS

You are losing all your pains.

MILPHIO

Why so?

SYNCERASTUS

Because you are teaching one that has been taught.

MILPHIO

Why, then, do you doubt that my master will do a mischief to your master with pleasure, so far as he can do, with his deserving it? Then besides, if you lend some assistance, on that account he'll be able to do it the more easily.

SYNCERASTUS

But I'm afraid of this, Milphio ——

MILPHIO

What is it that you're afraid of?

SYNCERASTUS

That while I'm preparing the plot against my master, I may be betrayed by yourself. If my master knows that I've been talking to any individual, he'll forthwith be making me from Syncerastus into Brokenlegs.

MILPHIO

On my word, never shall any mortal be made the wiser by me; only to my master alone will I tell it; and to him, too, in such a way that he shall not disclose that this matter originated in yourself.

SYNCERASTUS

I shall trust you at my peril, and yet I will trust you. But do you keep this a secret to yourself.

MILPHIO

To Faith herself it is not more safely confided. Speak out boldly (there's room and opportunity); we are here alone.

SYNCERASTUS

If your master chooses to act with caution, he'll prove the ruin of my master.

MILPHIO

How can that be?

SYNCERASTUS

Easily.

MILPHIO

Then let me be acquainted with this "easily," that he may know it as well.

SYNCERASTUS

Because Adelphasium, whom your master dotes on is free by birth.

MILPHIO

In what way?

SYNCERASTUS

In the same way that her other sister Anterastylis is.

MILPHIO

But how am I to believe that?

SYNCERASTUS

Because he bought them at Anactorium, when little children, of a Sicilian pirate.

MILPHIO

For how much?

SYNCERASTUS

For eighteen minæ.

MILPHIO

with an air of surprise . These two for eighteen minæ?

SYNCERASTUS

And their nurse for the third. He, too, who sold them told him that he was selling persons who had been kidnapped: he said that they were free-born, and from Carthage.

MILPHIO

Ye Gods, by our hopes in you! you mention a most interesting matter; for my master Agorastocles was born in the same place; he was stolen thence when about six years old; after that, the person who stole him brought him here and sold him to my master; that person adopted him as heir to his wealth, when he departed this life.

SYNCERASTUS

You mention everything that can render it the more easy; let him assert their freedom, his own countrywomen, in an action on their freedom.

MILPHIO

Only do keep silence and hold your tongue.

SYNCERASTUS

He certainly will bring the Procurer to a backgammon, if he gets them away.

MILPHIO

Nay but, I'll cause him to be ruined before he moves one foot; 'tis so contrived already.

SYNCERASTUS

May the Gods grant it so, that I don't continue the slave of this Procurer.

MILPHIO

On the contrary, upon my faith, I'll cause you to be a free man with myself, if the Gods are willing.

SYNCERASTUS

May the Gods grant it so! Do you detain me for anything else, Milphio?

MILPHIO

Fare you well, and may happiness attend you.

SYNCERASTUS

I' faith, that lies in the power of yourself and your master. Farewell, and mind that these things have been told in secrecy.

MILPHIO

This has not been mentioned even. Farewell.

SYNCERASTUS

But really it's of no use, unless this is done while it is warm.

MILPHIO

You are right in your advice, and so it shall be done.

SYNCERASTUS

There's excellent material, if you provide an excellent workman.

MILPHIO

Can't you hold your tongue?

SYNCERASTUS

I'll hold my tongue and be off.

MILPHIO

A grand opportunity you've made for me. SYNCERASTUS goes into the house of LYCUS. He's gone from here. The immortal Gods do will my master to be preserved, and this Procurer utterly ruined; a mischief so great is impending upon him. Is it not the fact, before one weapon has been launched, then another presses upon him? I'll go in-doors, that I may recount these matters to my master. For if I were to call him out hither before the house, and, what you've to the AUDIENCE just heard, if I were now here to repeat the same, it would be folly. I'd rather in-doors be an annoyance to my master singly, than be so here to all of you. Immortal Gods, what misfortunes, what great calamities do this day await this Procurer. But now there's no reason why I should delay. This business is resolved upon; no pausing is allowed; for both this must be cleverly managed, which has just now been entrusted to me, and that plan as well which was formed at home must be attended to. If there's any delay, he who sends me a heavy mischance will be acting rightly. Now I'll off in-doors; until my master comes from the Forum, I'll wait at home. Goes into the house of AGORASTOCLES.

ACT V.

Enter HANNO, followed at a distance by his SERVANTS.

HANNO

to himself . Hyth alonim vualonuth sicorathi si ma com sith, Chi mach chumyth mumys tyal mictibariim ischi, Liphon canet luth bynuthi ad ædin bynuthii. Enter AGORASTOCLES, from his house, followed by MILPHIO.

AGORASTOCLES

in a loud voice . Do you say, Milphio, that Syncerastus told you that both of these women were freeborn, and stolen away from Carthage?

MILPHIO

I do say so; and if you were willing to act wisely, you'd at once assert their liberty by an action on their freedom. For it's a disgrace to you for you to allow your own country-people to be slaves before your eyes, who were free women at home.

HANNO

overhearing, apart . O ye immortal Gods, I do entreat your aid! What speech is this that my ears devour! Surely the words of these persons are made of chalk; how have they cleansed away all the dark spots of woe from me!

AGORASTOCLES

If you've got witnesses of this matter, I'll do as you bid me.

MILPHIO

Why speak you to me about witnesses? Why don't you stoutly insist upon it? Some way or other, Fortune will be your assistant.

AGORASTOCLES

It's much more easy to begin a thing than to bring it about.

MILPHIO

catching sight of HANNO, attended by his SERVANTS . But what bird is this, pray, that's coming hither with the tunic on? Is he from the baths, I wonder, enveloped in his cloak? I' faith, the countenance is surely Carthaginian. The man's a Gugga. I' faith, he certainly has got some ancient and antiquated servants.

AGORASTOCLES

How do you know?

MILPHIO

Don't you see the fellows following, loaded with luggage? And, as I fancy, they've got no fingers on their hands.

AGORASTOCLES

Why so?

MILPHIO

Why, because they go with their rings in their ears. I'll approach them, and address them in the Punic language: if they answer, I'll continue to speak in the Punic tongue if not, then I'll adapt my language to their usage. How say you, do you still remember anything of the Punic language?

AGORASTOCLES

Nothing at all, i' faith; for tell me, how could I know, who was but six years old when I was stolen away from Carthage?

HANNO

apart . O ye immortal Gods! very many freeborn children have been lost from Carthage after this manner.

MILPHIO

How say you?

AGORASTOCLES

What do you want?

MILPHIO

Should you like me to address this person in the Punic tongue?

AGORASTOCLES

Do you understand it?

MILPHIO

No Punic man this day is a better Punic than I.

AGORASTOCLES

Go and address him, as to what he wants, why he's come, who he is, of what country, and whence he comes. Don't be sparing of your questions.

MILPHIO

addressing HANNO and his SERVANTS. Avo! Of what country are you, or from what city?

HANNO

Hanno Muthumballe bachaëdreanech.

AGORASTOCLES

What does he say?

MILPHIO

He says that he is Hanno from Carthage, a Carthaginian, son of Muthumbal.

HAN. Avo! MIL.

He salutes us.

HANNO

Donni.

MILPHIO

He intends to present you with some “donation” out of this; what, I don’t know. Don’t you hear him promise?

AGORASTOCLES

Salute him again in Punic, in my name.

MILPHIO

to HANNO . “Avo donni” he tells me to say to you in his name.
Pointing to AGORASTOCLES.

HANNO

Mehar bocca!

MILPHIO

Be that for yourself rather than me!

AGORASTOCLES

What does he say?

MILPHIO

He declares that his “box” for his teeth is painful. Perhaps he takes us to be doctors.

AGORASTOCLES

If it is so, tell him that we are not; I don’t wish a stranger to be mistaken.

MILPHIO

to HANNO . Hear you. Rufen nuco istam.

AGORASTOCLES

This is my wish, that in fact everything should be explained to him just as it is. Ask him whether he has need of anything.

MILPHIO

to HANNO . You who have got no girdle, why have you come to this city, or what is it you seek?

HANNO

Muphursa.

AGORASTOCLES

What is it he says?

HANNO

Moin lechianna.

AGORASTOCLES

Why has he come?

MILPHIO

Don't you hear? He declares that he is wishful to give African mice to the Ædiles as a show at the games.

HANNO

Lalech lachananim liminichot.

AGORASTOCLES

What does he say now?

MILPHIO

He says he has brought latchets, water- channels, and nuts; he's now begging that you'll lend him your assistance in having them sold.

AGORASTOCLES

He is a merchant, I suppose?

HANNO

Is amar binam.

AGORASTOCLES

What is it he says?

HANNO

Palum erga dectha.

AGORASTOCLES

Milphio, what is he saying now?

MILPHIO

He says that he has got spades and forks given him for sale, for digging the garden and reaping the corn.

AGORASTOCLES

What is that to me?

MILPHIO

He wishes you to be informed of it, so that you mayn't suppose that he has taken anything secretly and by stealth. He has really, I do believe, been sent here to your harvesting.

HANNO

Muphonium sucoraim.

MILPHIO

So there! do take care, please, how you do what he's begging of you.

AGORASTOCLES

What is he saying, or what is he begging? Explain it.

MILPHIO

For you to order him to be placed beneath a hurdle, and for many stones to be heaped upon it, so as to put him to death.

HANNO

Gunebel balsamen ierasan!

AGORASTOCLES

Tell me what it is that he's saying.

MILPHIO

I' faith, now I really don't at all know.

HANNO

speaking in their own language . But that you may know, now from this moment henceforth will I speak Latin. To MILPHIO. Upon my faith, you must be a worthless and bad servant, to be laughing at a person, a foreigner and a stranger.

MILPHIO

But, i' faith, at yourself a person that's both a swindler and a cheat, who have come here to take us in, you half-and-half Lybian, you double-tongue, just like a crawling reptile.

AGORASTOCLES

to MILPHIO . Away hence with your abusiveness! do restrain your tongue. You'll keep it from uttering abuse, if you are prudent; I don't want you to be speaking harshly to my kinsmen. I was born at Carthage; do you remember that.

HANNO

O my fellow-countryman, greetings to you!

AGORASTOCLES

And you, troth, whoever you are; and if you have need of anything, pray mention it, and command me for the sake of our common country.

HANNO

I return you thanks; but I've got a place of entertainment here; I'm in search of the son of Antidamas; do point me out Agorastocles, if you know him. Do you know any young man here named Agorastocles?

AGORASTOCLES

If, indeed, you are in search of the adopted son of Antidamas, I am the very person whom you are in search of.

HANNO

starting . Hah! what's that I hear?

AGORASTOCLES

That I am the son of Antidamas.

HANNO

If so it is, if you would like to compare the token of hospitality, see here, I've brought it. Shows him the ticket.

AGORASTOCLES

Come then, show it here. He takes it in his hand, and looks at it. It is exactly true; for I've got the counterpart at home.

HANNO

O my host, hail to you right earnestly; for it was your father, then, Antidamas, that was my own and my father's guest; this was my token of hospitality with him.

AGORASTOCLES

Then here at my house shall hospitality be shown you; for I don't reject either Hospitality or Carthage, from which I sprang.

HANNO

May the Gods grant you all you may desire. How say you? How could it happen that you were born at Carthage, but had a father of Ætolia here?

AGORASTOCLES

I was stolen away from there; this Antidamas, your guest, bought me, and adopted me as his son.

HANNO

He himself, likewise, was adopted by Demarchus, But about him I say no more, and return to you. Tell me, de you at all remember the names of your parents?

AGORASTOCLES

I remember my father and my mother's name.

HANNO

Repeat them, then, to me, to see if I know them, perchance, or if they are relatives of mine.

AGORASTOCLES

Ampsigura was my mother, and Iachon my father.

HANNO

I could wish that your father and mother were alive.

AGORASTOCLES

Are they dead?

HANNO

So it is, a thing which I bore with much grief; for your mother Ampsigura was my cousin-german; your father — he was my uncle's son, and when he died he made me his heir; of whom being deprived by death, I am greatly affected. But if it is the fact that you really are the son of Sachon, there ought to be a mark upon your left hand, a bite which an ape gave you when a child, playing with it. Show it, that I may look at it; open your hand.

AGORASTOCLES

opening his hand. Look, if you like; see, there it is. My kinsman, welcome to you!

HANNO

And welcome to you, Agorastocles! I seem to myself to be born again, in having found you.

MILPHIO

By my troth, I'm delighted that this matter has fallen out so happily for you. To HANNO. And would you decline to take advice?

HANNO

Really, I should wish to be advised.

MILPHIO

His father's property ought to be restored to the son; it's fair that he should have the property which his father possessed.

HANNO

I wish no otherwise; everything shall be restored. I'll give his own property to him all safe, when he comes there.

MILPHIO

Take care and restore it, will you, even though he should live here still.

HANNO

Nay but, he shall have my own as well, if anything should happen to me.

MILPHIO

A pleasant project has just now come into my mind,

HANNO

What's that?

MILPHIO

There's need of your assistance.

HANNO

Tell me what you wish. Really, you shall have my services just as you please. What is the business?

MILPHIO

Can you act the cheat?

HANNO

Towards an enemy, I can; to a friend, it would be mere folly.

MILPHIO

I' faith, it is an enemy of his. Pointing at AGORASTOCLES.

HANNO

I could do him a mischief with pleasure.

MILPHIO

He's in love with a person who belongs to a Procurer.

HANNO

I deem that he acts discreetly.

MILPHIO

This Procurer lives close at hand.

HANNO

I could do him a mischief with pleasure.

MILPHIO

He has two slave girls, courtesans, sisters; one of these he is desperately in love with, nor has he ever taken any liberties with her.

HANNO

It's an unhappy kind of passion.

MILPHIO

The Procurer plays upon him.

HANNO

He's enhancing his own profits thereby.

MILPHIO

He wishes to do him an evil turn.

HANNO

He's right, if he does do it.

MILPHIO

Now I adopt this plan, and prepare this contrivance, that we should cite you; you are to affirm that they are your daughters, and that they were stolen when little from Carthage, and to maintain the cause of both in an action on their freedom, as though they were both your own daughters. Do you understand?

HANNO

On my faith, I do understand; for I likewise did have two daughters who were stolen away when little children, together with their nurse.

MILPHIO

Upon my word, you do feign it cleverly. At the very commencement this amuses me.

HANNO

aside, weeping . Much more, i' troth, than I could wish.

MILPHIO

aside to AGORASTOCLES . Dear me! a subtle person, upon my word, artful and knowing, both tricky and crafty! How he does whimper, in order that with his gestures he may effect this all the more easily. Even myself, now, the master-workman, does he excel in skill.

HANNO

But their nurse, of what appearance was she? Tell me.

MILPHIO

Of stature not tall, of a dusky complexion.

HANNO

'Tis the very person.

MILPHIO

Of agreeable form, with a small mouth, and very dark eyes.

HANNO

I' faith, you really have depicted her form exactly in your words.

MILPHIO

Should you like to see her?

HANNO

I'd rather see my daughters. Still, go and call her out of doors. If they are my daughters, if she is their nurse, she'll recognize me at once.

MILPHIO

knocking at the door of the PROCURER'S house . Hallo there! is there any one here? Tell Giddeneme to come out of doors; there's a person wants to see her.

Enter GIDDENEME and a BOY, from the house.

GIDDENEME

Who is it that knocks?

MILPHIO

One that's a near acquaintance of yours.

GIDDENEME

What do you want?

MILPHIO

Come now pointing to HANNO , do you know that person in the tunic, who it is?

GIDDENEME

Why, whom do I behold? O supreme Jupiter! this sure is my master, the father of my foster-children, Hanno, the Carthaginian!

MILPHIO

Now, do see the cunning hussey this Carthaginian is really a clever juggler; he has brought all over to his own opinion.

GIDDENEME

running up to HANNO . O my master! welcome to you, Hanno! most unhopd for by myself and your daughters, welcome to you! But look you, don't be wondering, or gazing so intently upon me. Don't you know Giddeneme, your female slave?

HANNO

I know her. But where are my daughters? That I'm longing to know.

GIDDENEME

At the Temple of Venus.

HANNO

What are they doing there? Tell me.

GIDDENEME

To-day is the Aphrodisia, the festive day of Venus! they have gone there to entreat the Goddess to be propitious to them.

MILPHIO

I' faith, they've fully prevailed, I'm sure, inasmuch as he has arrived here.

AGORASTOCLES

aside to GIDDENEME . How now, are these his daughters?

GIDDENEME

Just as you say. To HANNO. Your kindness has clearly come to our rescue, in your having arrived here to-day at the very time; for this day their names were to have been clanged, and they were to have made a livelihood, disgraceful to their station, by their persons.

A BOY.

Haudones illi.

GIDDENEME

Havon bene si illi, in mustine. Me ipsi et eneste dum et alamna cestinum.

AGORASTOCLES

What is it they are saying among themselves? Tell me.

MILPHIO

He's saluting his mother, and she this her son.

HANNO

Hold your peace, and let alone the woman's gear.

MILPHIO

What gear is that?

HANNO

Loud talking without limit. To MILPHIO. Do you lead these people in-doors pointing to his SERVANTS, and bid this nurse to come away together with you to your house.

AGORASTOCLES

to MILPHIO. Do as he requests.

GIDDENEME

to HANNO. But who's to point them out to you?

AGORASTOCLES

I will, right skilfully.

GIDDENEME

I'll go away then.

AGORASTOCLES

I'd only rather that you would do so, than say so. She goes into the house of AGORASTOCLES.

MILPHIO

Upon my faith, I do think that this day the very thing that I said by way of joke will be coming to pass both soberly and seriously, that these will be discovered to-day to be his daughters.

AGORASTOCLES

Troth, that very thing is quite certain now. Do you, Milphio, take them pointing to the SERVANTS in-doors; we'll wait here for these damsels. I wish a dinner to be got ready for my kinsman on his arrival.

MILPHIO

Lachananim you! aside to the SERVANTS , whom I'll just now be packing off to the mill-stones, and from there after that to the dungeon and the oaken log. I'll give you reason to praise your treatment here but slightly.

AGORASTOCLES

to HANNO . Do you hear, kinsman? I say, don't you revoke what has been said; promise me your elder daughter in marriage.

HANNO

Consider the thing as agreed on.

AGORASTOCLES

Do you promise her, then?

HANNO

I do promise her.

AGORASTOCLES

My kinsman, blessings on you! for now you are mine beyond a doubt; now at length shall I converse with her without restraint. Now, kinsman, if you wish to see your daughters, follow me.

HANNO

Why, really, this long time I've been longing for it, and I'll follow you.

AGORASTOCLES

What if we go and meet them?

HANNO

But I'm afraid lest we should pass them on the road. Great Jupiter, do now reinstate my fortunes for me as being certain instead of uncertain!

AGORASTOCLES

I trust that my charmer will be my own. But look, I catch sight of them.

HANNO

What, are these my daughters? How tall from being such little creatures have they now become!

AGORASTOCLES

Do you know how it is? These are Grecian columns; they are wont to be erect. They stand aside.

Enter ADELPHASIUM and ANTERBASTYLIS, from the Temple of Venus.

ADELPHASIUM

'Twas worth the while, to-day, of him who has a taste for loveliness to afford a feast to his eyes, in coming hither to the Temple this day to see the sights. Upon my faith, I was charmed there to-day with the most elegant offerings of the courtesans, worthy of Venus, the most handsome Goddess; nor did I despise her worship this day; so great an abundance of beauteous objects was there there, each nicely arranged in its own place. The odours of Arabia and of myrrh filled everything. The festive day seemed to be affected with no gloom, Venus, nor did thy Temple; so great a throng of her dependants was there, who had come to Venus of Calydon.

ANTERASTYLIS

But certainly, as far indeed as regarded us two, sister, we were all-powerful in our prayers, beauteous and gainers of her favour; neither were we there held in ridicule by the young men, which, i' faith, sister, happened to all the rest.

ADELPHASIUM

I'd rather that it should so appear to other persons, than that you, sister, should praise yourself.

ANTERASTYLIS

Indeed, I trust so.

ADELPHASIUM

Troth, and so do I, when I reflect of what breeding we and the others are. We were born in that station, that it befits us to be unblemished by faultiness.

HANNO

apart . Jupiter, who dost preserve and feed the race of men, through whom we pass this mortal life, in whose hands are the hopes of life in all men, prithee, do grant this day as a prosperous one for my fortunes! Those whom I've missed for many years, and whom when little I lost from their native land, to them restore their liberty, that I may be sure that for an indomitable sense of duty there is a reward.

AGORASTOCLES

apart . I'll engage that Jove shall do it all; for to me he is indebted, and stands in awe of me.

HANNO

apart . Prithee, do hold your peace. He weeps.

AGORASTOCLES

apart . Kinsman, do not weep.

ANTERASTYLIS

apart . As it is a pleasure for a man, my sister, if he succeeds in anything, to have the credit of victory, just so did we this day among the rest excel them all in beauty.

ADELPHASIUM

Sister, you are more silly than I could wish. Prithee, do you really think yourself a beauty, if your face has not been besmeared with soot?

AGORASTOCLES

apart . O kinsman! O kinsman, dearest of all kinsmen to me!

HANNO

apart . What is it, son of my cousin? My son, tell me, what is it you wish?

AGORASTOCLES

apart . Why, really, I do wish you to attend to this.

HANNO

apart . Why, really, I am attending to it.

AGORASTOCLES

apart . Kinsman, kinsman, dearest of all kinsmen to me!

HANNO

apart . What's the matter? AGO. apart . She's a clever and a nice girl. How shrewd she is!

HANNO

apart . She has her father's disposition in being shrewd.

AGORASTOCLES

apart . How's that? This long time, i' faith, she has surely used up your shrewdness. 'Tis from here pointing to himself she now derives her shrewdness; 'tis from here her sense; whatever she does shrewdly, through my love does she act so shrewdly.

ADELPHASIUM

We are not born of that rank, although we are slaves, sister, that it should befit us to do anything which any man may laugh at. Many are the faults of women; but of the many, this one is the greatest, to please themselves too much, and to give their attention too little to pleasing the men.

ANTERASTYLIS

It was a very great delight that was portended in our sacrifice of the entrails, sister, and what the soothsayer said about us both ——

AGORASTOCLES

apart . I wish he had said something about me!

ANTERASTYLIS

That we should be free in a few days, in spite of our owner. I don't know why I should hope for that, unless the Gods or our parents do something.

AGORASTOCLES

apart . 'Twas through confidence in me, kinsman, upon my faith, that the soothsayer promised them liberty, I'm sure of it, because he knows I'm in love with her.

ADELPHASIUM

Sister, follow me this way. Moves as if going.

ANTERASTYLIS

I follow. Moves also.

HANNO

stepping forward . Before you go away, I want you both. Unless it's inconvenient, stop.

ADELPHASIUM

Who's calling us back?

AGORASTOCLES

One who wishes to do you a kindness.

ADELPHASIUM

There's opportunity for doing it. But who is the person?

AGORASTOCLES

A friend of yours.

ADELPHASIUM

One> who is not an enemy, in fact.

AGORASTOCLES

This is a good man, my love.

ADELPHASIUM

I' faith, I should prefer him rather than a bad one.

AGORASTOCLES

If, indeed, friendship must be engaged in, with such a person ought it to be engaged in.

ADELPHASIUM

I don't beg for it.

AGORASTOCLES

He wishes to do you many services.

ADELPHASIUM

Being good yourself you will be doing good to the good.

HANNO

I will cause you joy ——

ADELPHASIUM

And, i' faith, we pleasure to you.

HANNO

And liberty.

ADELPHASIUM

At that price you'll easily make us your own.

AGORASTOCLES

My kinsman, so may the Gods bless me, if I were Jupiter, upon my faith I'd at once marry her for my wife, and pack Juno out of doors. How quietly did she utter her words, how considerately and becomingly! how modestly did she frame her speech! certainly she is my own!

HANNO

apart to AGORASTOCLES . But how skilfully I accosted her!

AGORASTOCLES

Cleverly and becomingly, upon my faith.

HANNO

Am I still to go on testing them?

AGORASTOCLES

Compress it in a few words; the people who are sitting here are getting thirsty.

HANNO

Well, why don't we proceed to do that which was to be done? To the WOMEN. I summon you to justice.

AGORASTOCLES

Seize hold of this one, kinsman, if you are wise. Should you like me to catch hold of her?

ADELPHASIUM

Is this person your kinsman, Agorastocles?

AGORASTOCLES

I'll soon let you know. Now, by my word, I'll be nicely revenged on you; for I'll make —— you my bride.

HANNO

Come before a court of justice; don't delay!

AGORASTOCLES

Summon me as your witness, and take me; I'll be a witness for you; and after that, her pointing to ADELPHASIUM will I love and embrace. But 'twas this, indeed, I intended to say — why yes, I did say that which I intended to say.

HANNO

to the DAMSELS. You are lingering. I summon you to justice, unless it is more becoming for you to be dragged thither.

ADELPHASIUM

Why do you summon us to justice? What are we in your debt?

AGORASTOCLES

He'll tell it there.

ADELPHASIUM

Are even my own dogs barking at me?

AGORASTOCLES

Then, troth, do you caress me; give me a kiss in place of a piece of meat; present your lips in place of a bone: that way I'll render this dog more smooth for you than oil.

HANNO

Come on, if you are coming.

ADELPHASIUM

What have we done to you?

HANNO

You are thieves, both of you.

ADELPHASIUM

What, we, as regards you?

HANNO

You, I say.

AGORASTOCLES

And I know it.

ADELPHASIUM

What theft is this?

AGORASTOCLES

Enquire of him.

HANNO

Because for many years you have been concealing my daughters from me, and, in fact, persons free-born, and free, and born of the highest rank.

ADELPHASIUM

I' faith, you'll never find that villany to have been committed by us.

AGORASTOCLES

Make a bet of a kiss now, if you are not forsworn, which is to give it to the other.

ADELPHASIUM

I've nothing to do with you; prithee, get you gone.

AGORASTOCLES

But, i' faith, I've got something to do with you; for he is my kinsman; it's necessary for me to be his advocate. And I'll inform him how you are guilty of many a theft, and in what way you have got his daughters as slaves at your house, whom you know to be free women stolen from their native land.

ADELPHASIUM

Where are these, or who are they, prithee?

AGORASTOCLES

aside to HANNO . They have been teased sufficiently.

HANNO

aside . Why not speak out, then?

AGORASTOCLES

aside . I' faith, I'm of that opinion, kinsman.

ADELPHASIUM

I'm dreadfully afraid what this business can mean, my sister; so astounded am I, I stand here without my senses.

HANNO

Damsels, give me your attention. In the first place, if it could possibly come to pass, for the Gods not to send upon the innocent what is undeserved, that could I have wished to happen; now for the good the Gods bestow upon me, upon yourselves and upon your nurse, 'tis due that we should give to the Deities our endless thanks, since the immortal Gods approve and reward our piety. You are my daughters, both of you, and this is your relation, Agorastocles, the son of my cousin.

ADELPHASIUM

Prithee, are they deluding us with imaginary joys?

AGORASTOCLES

Really, so may the Deities preserve me, this is your father. Give him your hands.

ADELPHASIUM

embracing him . Welcome, father! unhop-ed-for by us, allow us to embrace you!

ANTERASTYLIS

embracing him . Welcome, father! much wished and longed for! We are both your daughters; we both embrace you.

AGORASTOCLES

Who'll be for embracing me in the next place?

HANNO

Now am I happy! Now with this delight do I allay the miseries of many a year.

ADELPHASIUM

We hardly seem to believe this.

HANNO

I'll tell you something to make you believe it the more: why, it was your nurse who recognized me first.

ADELPHASIAM

Prithee, where is she?

HANNO

pointing to AGORASTOCLES . She's at his house.

AGORASTOCLES

to ADELPHASIAM, who is embracing her father . Pray, why does it please you to clasp his neck so long, before he has betrothed you to me? Dear one, much longed-for, blessings on you! He embraces her.

ADELPHASIAM

struggling . Do leave off your salutations!

AGORASTOCLES

I will leave off. And you the other one. To ANTERASTYLIS, whom he embraces.

ANTERASTYLIS

struggling . I don't want that; you torment me to death!

HANNO

Let us each clasp the other in our arms, than whom is there anything on earth more happy?

AGORASTOCLES

Blessings befall the deserving. Pointing to HANNO. At last his wishes are realized! O Apelles! O Zeuxis the painter! why did you die too soon? Would that you could paint a subject after this! For I don't care for other common painters to be treating subjects of this description.

HANNO

Gods and Goddesses all! I return you deservedly extreme thanks, for having blest me with this gladness so supreme and with these joys so great; as my daughters have returned to me and into my possession.

ADELPHASIAM

My father, your own piety has clearly come to our aid.

AGORASTOCLES

Kinsman, take care and keep it in memory that you've betrothed your elder daughter to me ——

HANNO

I remember it.

AGORASTOCLES

The portion, too, that you promised.

Enter ANTHEMONIDES, from the house of LYCUS.

ANTHEMONIDES

to himself . If I don't take full revenge for that mina which I gave to the Procurer, then really may the townspeople make a butt of me! This most rascally fellow even brought me to his house to breakfast. He himself went away out of doors, and left me as his chamberlain in the house. When neither the Procurer nor these women came back, nor anything was given me to eat, for the best part of the breakfast I took a pledge, and came out of doors. This way I'll pay him. I'll touch up the rascally Procurer in the military way of payment. He did get hold of a person for him to bamboozle out of a mina of silver! But I wish that my mistress would now come in my way while thus enraged. Then, by my troth, with my fists I'd make her quite black all over; I'd cover her so with swarthiness, that she should be much more swarthy than the Egyptians, or than those who carry the buckets at the games in the Circus.

ADELPHASIUM

running to AGORASTOCLES . Do hold me fast, please, my love; I sadly fear the kites; this is an evil animal — lest perchance he may carry me off, your chick.

ANTERASTYLIS

embracing her FATHER . I cannot clasp you fast enough, my father!

ANTHEMONIDES

to himself. I'm delaying. Looking in his hand. I can now pretty nearly cater a breakfast for myself with this. Raising his eyes. But what's this? How's this? What's this? What's this I see? How now? What means this strange conjunction? What's this coupling together? Who's this fellow with the long skirts, just like a tavern-boy? Do I quite see with my eyes? Isn't this my mistress, Anterastylis? Why, surely it is she. For some time past I've perceived that I'm set at nought. Isn't the girl ashamed to be hugging a tawny fellow in the middle of the street? I faith, I shall give him up forthwith to the executioner to be tortured all over. Surely this is a womanish race, with their tunics hanging down to their heels. But I'm determined to accost this African female lover. To HANNO. Hallo! you woman, I say, are you not ashamed? What business have you with her, pray? Tell me.

HANNO

Young man, greetings to you.

ANTHEMONIDES

I don't want them; that's nothing to you. What business have you to touch her with a finger?

HANNO

Because I choose.

ANTHEMONIDES

You choose?

HANNO

I say so.

ANTHEMONIDES

Away to utter perdition, you shoe-latchet! What, do you dare to be acting the lover here, you great toe of a man, or to be meddling with an object which masculine men are fond of, you skinneea pilchard, you deformed image of Serapis, you half-apron, you sheepskin-jacket, you pot of stinking sea-salt; more crammed, too, to boot, with leeks and garlick than the Roman rowers?

AGORASTOCLES

Young man, do your jaws or your teeth itch, that you are annoying this person, or are you in search of a heavy mishap?

ANTHEMONIDES

Why didn't you use a drum while you were saying that? For I take you to be more of an effeminate wretch than a real man.

AGORASTOCLES

Do you understand what sort of effeminate wretch I am? Calling aloud. Servants, come out of doors, bring out some cudgels!

ANTHEMONIDES

Hark you, if I have said anything in a joke, don't you be for taking it seriously.

ANTERASTYLIS

Prithee, what pleasure have you, Anthemonides, in speaking rudely to our kinsman and father? For this is our father; he has just now recognized us, and him as the son of his cousin.

ANTHEMONIDES

So may Jupiter kindly bless me, I heartily rejoice that it is so, and I am delighted, if, in fact, any great misfortune befalls this Procurer, and since a fortune awaits you equal to your merits.

ANTERASTYLIS

I' faith, he says what's worthy of belief; do believe him, my father.

HANNO

I do believe him.

AGORASTOCLES

And I believe him. But look pointing, I espy the Procurer Lycus, the worthy fellow; look, there he is — he's betaking himself homeward.

HANNO

Who is this?

AGORASTOCLES

He's which you please, both the Procurer and Lycus. He has been keeping your daughters in servitude, and from myself he has stolen some gold.

HANNO

A pretty fellow for you to be acquainted with!

AGORASTOCLES

Let's bring him to justice.

HANNO

By no means.

AGORASTOCLES

For what reason?

HANNO

Because 'twere better for an action of damages to be brought against him.

Enter LYCUS.

LYCUS

to himself . No one, in my opinion at least, is deceived, who rightly states his case to his friends. But by all my friends the one same thing is agreed upon, that I ought to hang myself, so as not to be adjudged to Agorastocles.

AGORASTOCLES

stepping forward . Procurer, let's away to the court of justice.

LYCUS

I do entreat you, Agorastocles, that I may be at liberty to hang myself.

HANNO

I summon you to justice.

LYCUS

But what have you to do with me?

HANNO

pointing at his DAUGHTERS . Because I affirm that both of these are my daughters, free women, and free by birth, who, when little, were kidnapped together with their nurse.

LYCUS

Indeed, I knew that already, and I wondered that no one came to assert their freedom; they really are none of mine, indeed.

ANTHEMONIDES

Procurer, you must come to justice.

LYCUS

You are talking about the breakfast; it is owing to you; I'll give it.

AGORASTOCLES

Twofold compensation I must have for the theft.

LYCUS

pointing to his neck . Take it out of this, then.

HANNO

And I require a full satisfaction.

LYCUS

pointing to his neck . Take out of this whatever you please. ANTH.
And I, indeed, a mina of silver.

LYCUS

pointing to his neck . Take out of this whatever you please. I'll at once settle the matter for all with my neck, just like a porter.

AGORASTOCLES

Do you refuse me in any way?

LYCUS

Not a word, in fact.

AGORASTOCLES

Go in-doors, then, damsels. But to HANNO , my kinsman, betroth me your daughter, as you promised.

HANNO

I should not venture to do otherwise.

ANTHEMONIDES

Kindly farewell!

AGORASTOCLES

And kindly farewell to you!

ANTHEMONIDES

holding up what he has got in his hand . Procurer, I take this as a pledge with me for my mina.

LYCUS

By heavens, I am ruined!

AGORASTOCLES

Why yes, before very long, when you've come to justice.

LYCUS

Nay but, I own myself your slave. What need of the Prætor have we? But I beseech you that I may be allowed to pay the simple sum, three hundred Philippeans. I think it can be scraped together; to-morrow I'll have an auction.

AGORASTOCLES

On condition, then, that you shall be in wooden custody at my house.

LYCUS

So be it.

AGORASTOCLES

Follow me in-doors, my kinsman, that we may keep this festive day in joyousness, upon his misfortune and our good fortune. To the AUDIENCE . Heartily fare you well. To great length have we gone; at last all these misfortunes fall upon the Procurer. Now — that which is the last seasoning for our Play — if it has pleased you, our Comedy asks applause.

AGORASTOCLES, LYCUS, HANNO, ANTHEMONIDES, ADELPHASIUM, and ANTERASTYLIS.

AGORASTOCLES

What is it you are about, Captain? Why does it please you to speak rudely to my relative? Don't be surprised that the damsels do follow after him; he has just now discovered that both of them are his own daughters.

LYCUS

starting . Hah! what speech was it that reached my ears? Now I am undone! To AGORASTOCLES. From what house were these females lost?

AGORASTOCLES

They are Carthaginians.

LYCUS

Then I am ruined. I was always in dread of that, lest some one should recognize them, a thing which has now come to pass. Woe unto wretched me! My eighteen minæ are lost, I guess, which I paid for them.

AGORASTOCLES

And you yourself are lost, Lycus.

HANNO

Who is this?

AGORASTOCLES

Which you please, he's either the Procurer or Lycus. He has been keeping your daughters in servitude, and from myself he has stolen some gold.

HANNO

A pretty fellow for you to be acquainted with!

AGORASTOCLES

Procurer, I always deemed you to be avaricious, but they know you to be a thief as well, who know more of you.

LYCUS

I'll approach him. He falls on the ground before AGORASTOCLES. By your knees I do beseech you, and by him pointing to HANNO, whom I understand to be your relative; since you are deserving persons, as it befits deserving persons to do, do then come to the aid of your suppliant! Indeed, already did I know them to be free women, and was waiting for some one to claim their freedom, for really they are none of mine. Then besides, I'll restore your gold that I've got in my house, and I'll make oath that I have done nothing, Agorastocles, with ill intent.

AGORASTOCLES

As it's right for me to do, I shall still consult my own notions. Let go of my knees.

LYCUS

I'll let them go, if such is your determination. He rises from the ground, and retires to a distance.

AGORASTOCLES

Hark you! Procurer.

LYCUS

What do you want with a Procurer amid business?

AGORASTOCLES

You to restore me my money before I take you hence to be laid in fetters.

LYCUS

May the Gods grant better things!

AGORASTOCLES

Even so; you'll be dining away from home. I see Gold, silver, and your neck, Procurer, the three things are you now owing to me all at once.

HANNO

What it befits me to do in this matter, I'm considering with myself. If I should attempt to take vengeance on this fellow, I shall be engaging in litigation in a strange city. So far as I hear, his disposition and manners, of the nature that they are ——

ADELPHASIUM

My father, do have no dealings with this man, I conjure you.

ANTERASTYLIS

Do listen to my sister. Come, put an end to your strife with the rascal.

HANNO

Attend to this, will you, Procurer. Although I know that you deserve to come to ruin, I'll not try the matter with you.

AGORASTOCLES

Nor I, if you restore me my gold; Procurer, when let go from the fetters — you may get thrust into prison.

LYCUS

What, your old habit still?

ANTHEMONIDES

Carthaginian, I wish to excuse myself to you. If I have said anything in my passion against the inclination of your feelings, I beg that you will pardon it; and as you have found these daughters of yours, so may the Deities bless me, it is a pleasure to me.

HANNO

I both forgive and believe you.

ANTERLASTYIS

Procurer, do you take care either to find me a mistress, or return me the mina of gold.

LYCUS

Should you like to have my music-girl?

ANTHEMONIDES

I don't care for a music-girl; you don't know which is the greater, their cheeks or their bosoms.

LYCUS

I'll find one to please you.

ANTHEMONIDES

Mind that,

LYCUS

to AGORASTOCLES . To-morrow I'll bring back your gold to your house.

AGORASTOCLES

Take care that you keep that in memory. Captain, follow me.

ANTHEMONIDES

Yes, I'll follow you. LYCUS goes into his house.

AGORASTOCLES

to HANNO . How say you, kinsman? When are you thinking of leaving here for Carthage? — for I'm determined to go together with you.

HANNO

As soon as ever I can, that instant I shall go.

AGORASTOCLES

It's necessary for you to stop here some days, until I've had an auction.

HANNO

I'll do just as you wish.

AGORASTOCLES

Come, please, let's be off; let's enjoy ourselves To the AUDIENCE.
Grant us your applause.]

PSEUDOLUS

Translated by Henry Thomas Riley

Pseudolus opens with the shortest prologue of any of the known plays of Plautus, though it is not known whether Plautus wrote this prologue himself or if it was added later. The comedy was first performed in 191 BC during the Megalesian Festival, which was a celebration for the Greek Goddess Rhea. The temple for worship of Rhea in Rome was completed during the same year in time for the festival.

The prologue gives a warning to the audience that the play is long and now is the time to stretch their legs as they are about to be sitting for a long time. The play begins with the young master Calidorus and his crafty slave Pseudolus entering the stage, with the former visibly upset. After Pseudolus urges his master to tell him what is wrong, Calidorus shows Pseudolus a letter he has received. It reveals that Calidorus' lover Phoenicium, a prostitute, has been sold and the man that is supposed to come with the last of the money to pay for her and pick her up for her new master is expected shortly. Calidorus obviously wants to save her, but he has no money of his own and his father won't loan him any to help save her. He turns to Pseudolus, who is his father's chief slave, for help. Pseudolus does not have the money they require to buy her, but thinks he can improvise a plan to raise it and save Phoenicium...

THE SUBJECT.

CALIDORUS, a young Athenian, the son of Simo, is in love with Phœnicium, a young woman who belongs to Ballio, a procurer. A bargain has been made by the procurer, to sell her to a military officer for twenty minæ; fifteen of these have been paid down, and it has been agreed that when the remaining five and a certain token, with a letter, shall have been sent by the Captain, the damsel shall be sent to him in return. Pseudolus, the servant of Simo, promises his master's son, that, if possible, he will prevent this. They first address Ballio on the subject; but their attempts to influence him are all in vain. Pseudolus then devises a plan to get some money out of Simo, by whom, however, it is discovered; but, after having acknowledged his fault, he prevails upon the old gentleman to promise him twenty minæ if he shall contrive to get the girl out of the procurer's hands. Harpax, the messenger from the Captain, in the meantime makes his appearance. Being a stranger to the place, he unwittingly delivers the Captain's letter and the token to Pseudolus, who pretends that he is the head-servant of the procurer. Charinus, the friend of Calidorus, lends him five minæ; and, provided with this, Pseudolus equips Simmia, a servant of Charinus, so as to represent the messenger from the Captain. He finds the procurer, delivers the letter, pays the five mine, and carries off the damsel. Ballio then makes a bet of twenty minæ with Simo, that Pseudolus shall not outwit him that day. The real Harpax now applies to Ballio for the girl, and the trick being discovered, the procurer has to pay back the fifteen minæ to the Captain, and the twenty for the bet which he has made with Simo. Simo then pays the twenty minæ, which he has promised to Pseudolus if he should succeed in outwitting the procurer. Pseudolus is handsomely entertained by Calidorus, and engages to return to Simo one-half of the money, if he wil join the entertainment.

THE ACROSTIC ARGUMENT.

An officer pays down fifteen mine, ready money (Præsentes); as a token he also (Simul) gives an impression of his seal, that the procurer may deliver Phœnicium to him (Ei), who brings it with the rest of the money. Pseudolus intercepts his camp-servant coming (Venientem) with the token, saving (Dicens), that he is Syrus, the servant of Ballio, and thus he gives his aid (Opem) to his master; for the procurer (Leno) delivers up the damsel to Simmia, whom he has substituted. The real Harpax comes (Venit); the matter is all discovered, and the old man (Senex) pays the money which he has agreed to give. PROLOGUEThe Prologue: It is generally supposed that this Prologue, with the exception of the last two lines, was not written by Plautus it is, however, of great antiquity, and is found in most of the MSS.

ATTEND to me this day; good things I bring upon the stage; for I think 'tis very just that to the good good things should be brought; as likewise bad things to the bad; that those who are bad may have what's bad, those who are good what's good; bad men are bad because they hate the good; because the good condemn the bad, needs must be that they are good; and therefore, you are good since you have ever abhorred the bad; and both by your laws, Quirites, and by your legions, have you routed them with good success. In like manner now do you give your goodly attention to this goodly company, which is a good one, and, to good people brings this day good things. Ears, eyes, and understanding, shall be amply filled. He that comes hungry or thirsty to the theatre, the same shall carefully give his attention both through laughter and a sharpened stomach; while those who are full will laugh, the hungry will be carping. Now, if you are wise, you hungry ones, give place, and go away; you who are full, stand — aye, sit you down, and give attention. I shall not now divulge the plot, nor yet the name of this play — Pseudolus will fully do that. I imagine then and I think that this is enough which I have said to you. Where mirth, jokes, laughter, wine, and jollity, are the order of the day, the Graces, too, and propriety, joyousness, and delight; he who seeks for other things, that person appears to seek for evil. Away, then, with evil cares, as being men at your ease this day. 'Tis better for your loins to be stretched, and for you to arise. A long play of Plautus is coming upon the stage.

ACT I.

Enter CALIDORUS and PSEUDOLUS from SIMO'S house.

PSEUDOLUS

If, master, by your being silent, I could be in-formed what miseries are afflicting you so sadly, I would willingly have spared the trouble of two persons — of myself in asking you, and of yourself in answering me. Since, however, that cannot be, necessity compels me to enquire of you. Answer me: What's the reason that, out of spirits for these many days past, you've been carrying a letter about with you, washing it with your tears, and making no person the sharer of your purpose? Speak out, that what I am ignorant of, I may know together with yourself.

CALIDORUS

I am wretchedly miserable, Pseudolus.

PSEUDOLUS

May Jupiter forbid it!

CALIDORUS

This belongs not at all to the arbitration of Jupiter; under the sway of Venus am I harassed, not under that of Jove.

PSEUDOLUS

Is it allowable for me to know what it is? For hitherto you have had me as chief confidant in your plans.

CALIDORUS

The same is now my intention.

PSEUDOLUS

Let me know then what's the matter with you. I'll aid you either with resources, or with my efforts, or with good counsel.

CALIDORUS

Do you take this letter: do you thence inform yourself what misery and what care are wasting me away.

PSEUDOLUS

taking the letter . Compliance shall be given you. But, prithee, how's this?

CALIDORUS

What's the matter?

PSEUDOLUS

As I think, these letters are very loving; they are climbing on each other's backs.

CALIDORUS

Are you making sport of me with your foolery?

PSEUDOLUS

I' faith, I really do believe that unless the Sibyl can read them, nobody else can possibly interpret them.

CALIDORUS

Why speak you unkindly of those sweet letters — sweet tablets too, written upon by a hand as sweet.

PSEUDOLUS

Troth now, have hens, prithee, such hands? For certainly a hen has written these letters.

CALIDORUS

You are annoying me. Either read it or return the letter.

PSEUDOLUS

Very well then, I'll read it through. Give me your attention.

CALIDORUS

That's not here.

PSEUDOLUS

Do you summon it then.

CALIDORUS

Well, I'll be silent; do you summon it from that wax there; for there my attention is at present, not in my breast.

PSEUDOLUS

I see your mistress, Calidorus.

CALIDORUS

Where is she, prithee?

PSEUDOLUS

See, here she is at full length in the letter; she's lying upon the wax.

CALIDORUS

Now, may the Gods and Goddesses, inasmuch ——

PSEUDOLUS

Preserve me from harm, to wit.

CALIDORUS

For a short season have I been like a summer plant; suddenly have I sprung up, suddenly have I withered.

PSEUDOLUS

Be silent, while I read the letter through.

CALIDORUS

Why don't you read it then?

PSEUDOLUS

reading . “ Phœnicium to her lover, Calidorus, by means of wax and string and letters, her exponents, sends health, and safety does she beg of you, weeping, and with palpitating feelings, heart, and breast.”

CALIDORUS

I'm undone; I nowhere find, Pseudolus, this safety for me to send her back.

PSEUDOLUS

What safety?

CALIDORUS

A silver one.

PSEUDOLUS

And do you wish to send her back a silver safety for one on wood? Consider what you're about.

CALIDORUS

Read on now; I'll soon cause you to know from the letter how suddenly there's need for me for one of silver to be found.

PSEUDOLUS

reading on . "The procurer has sold me, my love, for twenty minæ, to a Macedonian officer from abroad. Before he departed hence, the Captain paid him fifteen minæ; only five minæ now are remaining unpaid. On that account the Captain left here a token — his own likeness impressed on wax by his ring — that he who should bring hither a token like to that, together with him the procurer might send me. The next day hence, on the Festival of Bacchus, is the one fixed for this matter."

CALIDORUS

Well, that's to-morrow; my ruin is near at hand, unless I have some help in you.

PSEUDOLUS

Let me read it through.

CALIDORUS

I permit you; for I seem to myself to be talking to her. Read on; the sweet and the bitter are you now mingling together for me.

PSEUDOLUS

reading on . “Now our loves, our tenderness, our intimacy, our mirth, our dalliance, our talking, our sweet kisses, the close embrace of us lovers equally fond, the soft, dear kisses impressed on our tender lips, the delicious pressing of the swelling bosom; of all these delights, I say, for me and for you as well, the severance, the destruction, and the downfall is at hand, unless there is some rescue for me in you or for you in me. I have taken care that you should know all these things that I have written; now shall I make trial how far you love me, and how far you pretend to do so.”

CALIDORUS

’Tis written, Pseudolus, in wretchedness.

PSEUDOLUS

Alas! very wretchedly.

CALIDORUS

Why don’t you weep, then?

PSEUDOLUS

I’ve eyes of pumice stone; I can’t prevail upon them to squeeze out one tear even.

CALIDORUS

Why so?

PSEUDOLUS

My family was always a dryeyed one.

CALIDORUS

Won’t you attempt to assist me at all?

PSEUDOLUS

What shall I do for you?

CALIDORUS

Alas!

PSEUDOLUS

Alas! do you say? Well, don't be sparing of them, i' faith; I'll give you plenty.

CALIDORUS

I'm distracted. I nowhere can find any money to borrow.

PSEUDOLUS

Alas!

CALIDORUS

Nor is there a single coin in the house.

PSEUDOLUS

Alas!

CALIDORUS

He's going to carry the damsel away to-morrow.

PSEUDOLUS

Alas!

CALIDORUS

Is it in that fashion that you help me?

PSEUDOLUS

I give you that which I have; for I've a perpetual supply of those treasures in my house.

CALIDORUS

It's all over with me this very day. But can you now lend me one drachma, which I'll pay you back to-morrow

PSEUDOLUS

I' faith, I hardly think I could, even though I should pawn myself for it. But what do you want to do with this drachma?

CALIDORUS

I want to purchase a halter for myself.

PSEUDOLUS

For what reason?

CALIDORUS

With which to hang myself. I'm determined, ere 'tis dark, to take a leap in the dark.

PSEUDOLUS

Who then shall pay me back my drachma * * * * ? Do you wish purposely to hang yourself for the very reason, that you may cheat me out of my drachma if I lend it you?

CALIDORUS

At all events, I can in nowise survive if she's removed and carried off from me.

PSEUDOLUS

Why do you weep, you cuckoo? You shall survive.

CALIDORUS

Why should I not weep, who have neither a coin of silver in ready money, nor have the hope of a groat anywhere in the world?

PSEUDOLUS

As I understand the tenor of this letter, unless you weep for her with tears of silver, the affection which you wish yourself by those tears to prove is of no more value than if you were to pour water into a sieve. But have no fear, I'll not forsake you in your love. In troth, I do trust that this day, from some quarter or other, by my good aid I shall find you help in the money line. But whence that is to come, — that whence I know not how to pronounce; except only that so it shall be; my eyebrow twitches to that effect.

CALIDORUS

As to what you say, I trust that your deeds may be as good as your words.

PSEUDOLUS

I' faith, you surely know, if I set my plans a-going, after what fashion and how great is the bustle that I am in the habit of causing.

CALIDORUS

In you are now centred all the hopes of my existence.

PSEUDOLUS

Is it enough, if I this day make this damsel to be yours, or if I find you twenty minæ?

CALIDORUS

'Tis enough, if so it is to be.

PSEUDOLUS

Ask of me twenty minæ, that you may be assured that I'll procure for you that which I have promised. Ask them of me, by my troth, prithee do; I long to make the promise.

CALIDORUS

Will you this day find me twenty minæ of silver?

PSEUDOLUS

I will find them; be no more troublesome to me then. And this I tell you first, that you mayn't deny that it was told you; if I can no one else, I'll diddle your father out of the money.

CALIDORUS

So far as filial affection is concerned, even my mother as well. May the Gods always preserve you for me. But what if you are not able?

PSEUDOLUS

Upon that matter do you go to sleep with either eye.

CALIDORUS

With the eye or with the ear?

PSEUDOLUS

The latter is too common an expression. Now, that no one may affirm that it wasn't told him, I tell you all to the AUDIENCE, in the presence of the youths in this audience, and of all the people, to all my friends and all my acquaintances I give notice, that for this day they must guard against me, and not trust me.

CALIDORUS

Hist! be silent, prithee, by all the powers!

PSEUDOLUS

What's the matter?

CALIDORUS

There was a noise at the procurer's door.

PSEUDOLUS

I could only wish it were his legs in preference.

CALIDORUS

Yes, and he himself is coming out from in-doors, the perjured scoundrel. They stand at a distance.

Enter BALLIO, with several MALE and FEMALE SLAVES, from his house.

BALLIO

Get out, come, out with you, you rascals, kept at a loss and bought at a loss, in the minds of not one of whom aught ever comes to do aright, of whom I can't make a bit of use, unless I try it after this fashion. He flogs the men all round. At no time did I ever see human beings more like asses; so hardened are your ribs with stripes; when you flog them, you hurt yourself the most. Of such a disposition are these whipping-posts who follow this line of conduct; when the opportunity is given, pilfer, purloin, prig, plunder, drink, eat, and run away's the word. This is their method, so that you would choose rather to leave wolves among sheep, than these fellows on guard in your house. Yet, when you look at their appearance, they don't seem amiss; by their doings they deceive you. Now, therefore, unless you all of you give your attention to this charge, unless you remove drowsiness and sloth from your breasts and eyes, I'll make your sides to be right thoroughly marked with thongs, so much so that not even Campanian coverlets are coloured as well, nor yet Alexandrian tapestry of purple embroidered with beasts all over. Even yesterday I already gave you all notice, and assigned to each his own respective employment; but so utterly worthless are you, so neglectful, of such stub-born dispositions, that you compel me to put you in mind of your duty with a basting. You are so minded I suppose, to get the better of this scourge and myself through the hardness of your hides. Never, i' faith, will your hides prove harder, than is this cow-hide of mine. He dangles it before them. Do look at that, please; they are minding other matters. Attend to this, and give heed to this. He flogs one of them. How now? Does it pain? Ah, that's the way it's laid on when any slave slights his master. Stand all of you before me, you race of mortals born to be thrashed; turn your ears this way; give attention all of you to what I say. You fellow who are holding the pitcher, do you fetch the water; do you take care that the cauldron's full this instant. You, with the axe, I appoint over the wood-cutting department.

SLAVES of Ballio.

But this one is blunted on the edge.

BALLIO

Let it be so, then. And so are you yourselves with stripes; yet am I for that reason any the less to enjoy your services? My orders I give to you, that the house be made clean. You have what you are to do; make haste, and go in-doors. Exit FIRST SLAVE. Be you the one that makes the couches smooth. Do you wash the plate clean, and arrange it in order as well, Take care that when I return from the Forum, I find things done; that all be swept, sprinkled, scoured, made smooth, cleaned, and arranged in order. For this day is my birthday; it befits you all to celebrate it. Take care to lay the gammon of bacon, the brawn, the collared neck, and the udder, in water; do you hear me? I wish to entertain tip-top men in first-rate style, that they may fancy that I have property. Go you in-doors, and get these things ready quickly, that there may be no delay when the cook comes. I'm going to market, that I may make purchase of whatever fish is there. Boy, go you before me; I must have a care that no one cuts away my purse. Or wait there; there's something that I had almost forgotten to say at home. Do you hear me, you women? I have this charge for you — you, misses of distinction, who spend your time with illustrious men in refinements, luxury, and delights; now shall I know and make trial this day, which one has regard for her liberty, which for her appetite which thinks on her business, which on sleeping only: this day I'll make trial which I must think of as a freed-woman, and which as one to be sold. Take you care that many a present from your lovers comes in for me this day; for if your year's board isn't picked up for me, to-morrow I'll turn you adrift on the public. You know that this is my birthday; where are those youths, the apples of whose eyes you are, whose very existence, whose delight you are? Where are your kisses, where your bosoms sweet as honey? Make the bearers of presents to come here then, for my sake, before this house, in whole regiments. Why am I to find clothes for you, gold trinkets, and those things which you need? What have I, you jades, through your means, except vexation, you women, eager for nothing but the wine? You are a-soaking away yourselves and your paunches too, at the very time that I'm here a-dry. Now, therefore, this is the best thing to do; for me to call you each by her name, that no one of you may be declaring to me by-and-by that her business hasn't been told her. Give attention, all of you. In the first place, Hedylium, my business is with you — you, who are the favorite of the corn-merchants, men who have, all of them, immense mountains of wheat piled up at home; take you care that wheat is brought here for me, to suffice this year to come for myself and all my household, and that I may so abound in corn that the city may change my name for me, and instead of the procurer Ballio proclaim me King lasions.

CALIDORUS

apart . Do you hear what the gallows-bird is saying? * * * Doesn't he seem a regular boaster to you?

PSEUDOLUS

apart . I' troth the fellow does, and a wicked one as well. But hush now, and give attention to this.

BALLIO

Æschrodora, you who have for your patrons the butchers, those rivals of the procurers, who, just like ourselves, by false oaths seek their gains, do you listen; unless the three larders shall be crammed for me this day with carcasses of ample weight, to-morrow, just as they say that formerly the two sons of Jupiter fastened Dirce to the bull, aye, this day as well, will I tie you up to the larder; that, in fact, shall be your bull.

CALIDORUS

apart . I'm quite enraged by the talk of this fellow; that we should suffer the youth of Attica to encourage here this fellow! Where are they — where are they skulking, they of mature age, who have their amorous dealings with this procurer? Why don't they meet? Why don't they one and all deliver the public from this pestilence? But I am very simple, and very ignorant; they would venture, of course, to do that to those, to whom their passions compel them, to their misfortune, to be subservient, and, at the same time, prevent them from doing that against them which they would rather wish to do.

PSEUDOLUS

apart . Hush! CAL. apart . What's the matter?

PSEUDOLUS

apart . Pshaw! you are not very obliging. Why are you drowning his talk by your noise?

CALIDORUS

apart . I'll be silent. PSEUD. apart . But I'd much rather you would be silent, than that you should say you will be silent.

BALLIO

And you, Xystilis, take you care and give me your attention — you whose fanciers have large quantities of oil at home. If oil shall not be brought me here forthwith in leathern bags, I'll to-morrow cause yourself to be carried off in a leathern bag to the prostitutes' shambles. There a bed shall be given you, I warrant, where you can have no rest, but where, even to downright fainting —— You understand what's the tendency of that which I'm saying? Will you tell me, you viper you, you who have so many of your fanciers so right well laden with their oil, is now the head of any one of your fellow-slaves a bit the better anointed by your means, or do I, myself, get my dainty morsels a bit the better seasoned with oil for it? But I understand — you don't care much about oil; with wine you anoint yourself. Only wait a bit; by my troth I'll punish you for all at one spell, unless indeed this day you contrive to manage all these things that I've been speaking of. But as for you, Phœnicium, I tell you this, you pet of the mighty men — you who have been for so long a time always paying down to me your money for your liberty — you who only know how to promise, but don't know how to pay what you have promised; unless this day all your keep is brought me here out of the stores of your customers, to-morrow, Phœnicium, with a true Phœnician hide, you'll pay a visit to the strumpets' shambles. The SLAVES go into the house of BALLIO.

CALIDORUS and PSEUDOLUS come forward. BALLIO stands near his door.

CALIDORUS

Pseudolus, don't you hear what he says?

PSEUDOLUS

I hear it, master, and I give good heed.

CALIDORUS

What do you advise me to send him, that he mayn't devote my mistress to dishonor?

PSEUDOLUS

Don't you trouble yourself about that; be of cheerful mind. I'll manage for myself and for you. For some time past I've been on terms of goodwill with him, and he with me; and our friendship is of old standing. I'll send him this day, on his birthday, a mischief heavy and well-matured.

CALIDORUS

What's the plan?

PSEUDOLUS

Can't you attend to something else?

CALIDORUS

But ——

PSEUDOLUS

Tut.

CALIDORUS

I'm distracted.

PSEUDOLUS

Harden your heart.

CALIDORUS

I cannot.

PSEUDOLUS

Make yourself to can.

CALIDORUS

By what means, pray, can I prevail upon my feelings?

PSEUDOLUS

Carry you out that which is to your advantage, rather than give heed with your feelings to the thing that's disadvantageous.

CALIDORUS

That's nonsense; there is no pleasure, unless a lover acts like a fool.

PSEUDOLUS

Do you persist?

CALIDORUS

O my dear Pseudolus, let me be undone — do let me, please.

PSEUDOLUS

I'll let you; only let me go. Going.

CALIDORUS

Stay, stay. As you shall, then, wish me to be, so will I be.

PSEUDOLUS

Now, at last, you are in your senses.

BALLIO

coming forward from the door of his house to the other side of the stage. The day is passing; I'm causing delay to myself. Boy, do you go before me. Moves as if going.

CALIDORUS

Hallo there! he's going; why don't you call him back?

PSEUDOLUS

Why in such a hurry? Gently.

CALIDORUS

But before he's gone.

BALLIO

Why the plague do you go so slowly, boy?

PSEUDOLUS

You born on this day, hallo! you born on this day; I'm calling to you; hallo! you born on this day, come you back and look at us. Although you are busy, we want you; stop — it's because some persons want to speak to you.

BALLIO

What's this? Who is it, when I'm busy, causes me unseasonable delay?

PSEUDOLUS

He that has been your supporter.

BALLIO

He's dead that has been; only he that is, is now alive.

PSEUDOLUS

You are too saucy.

BALLIO

You are too troublesome. Turns away to go on.

CALIDORUS

Seize the fellow: follow him up.

BALLIO

Go on, boy.

PSEUDOLUS

Let's go and meet him this way. They run and stand before him.

BALLIO

May Jupiter confound you, whoever you are.

PSEUDOLUS

That for yourself I wish.

BALLIO

And for both of you do I. Turn you this way, boy. Takes another direction.

PSEUDOLUS

May we not speak with you?

BALLIO

Why, it doesn't please me.

PSEUDOLUS

But if it's something to your advantage?

BALLIO

Am I allowed to go away, pray, or am I not?

PSEUDOLUS

Pshaw! Stop. Catches hold of him. BAL. Let me go.

CALIDORUS

Ballio, listen.

BALLIO

I'm deaf.

CALIDORUS

Really, you are uncivil.

BALLIO

You are a chatterer of nonsense.

CALIDORUS

I gave you money so long as I had it.

BALLIO

I'm not asking what you gave.

CALIDORUS

I'll give you some when I have it.

BALLIO

When you have it, bring it to me.

CALIDORUS

Alas, alas! In what a foolish fashion have I lavished what I brought to you, and what I gave you.

BALLIO

Your wealth defunct, you now are talking about it; you are a simpleton, a cause that has been tried you are trying over again.

PSEUDOLUS

At least consider him, who he is.

BALLIO

I've known for a long time now who he was; who he now is, let him know himself. Do you walk on to the BOY .

PSEUDOLUS

And can't you, Ballio, only once give a look this way for your own profit?

BALLIO

At that price I'll give a look; for if I were sacrificing to supreme Jupiter, and were presenting the entrails in my hands to lay them on the altar, if in the meanwhile anything in the way of profit were offered, I should in preference forsake the sacrifice. There's no being able to resist that sort of piety, however other things go.

PSEUDOLUS

aside . The very Gods, whom it is especially our duty to reverence — them he esteems of little value.

BALLIO

I'll speak to him. Hail to you, right heartily, the very vilest slave in Athens.

PSEUDOLUS

May the Gods and Goddesses favour you, Ballio, both at his wish and at my own; or, if you are deserving of other terms, let them neither favour nor bless you.

BALLIO

What's the matter, Calidorus?

CALIDORUS

Love and pinching want are the matter.

BALLIO

I would pity you, if, upon pity I could support my establishment.

PSEUDOLUS

Aye, aye, we know you quite well, what sort of character you are; don't be proclaiming it. But do you know what we want?

BALLIO

I' faith, I know it pretty nearly; that there may be something unfortunate for me.

PSEUDOLUS

Both to that and this for which we called you back, prithee do give your attention.

BALLIO

I am attending; but compress into a few words what you want, as I'm busy now.

PSEUDOLUS

He pointing to CALIDORUS is quite ashamed about what he promised you, and the day for which he promised it, that he hasn't even yet paid you those twenty minæ for his mistress.

BALLIO

That which we are ashamed at is much more easily endured than that which we are vexed at. At not having paid the money, he is ashamed; I, because I have not received it, am vexed.

PSEUDOLUS

Still, he'll pay it, he'll procure it; do you only wait some days to come. But he has been afraid of this, that you'll sell her on account of his embarrassment.

BALLIO

He had an opportunity, had he wished, of paying the money long ago.

CALIDORUS

What if I had it not?

BALLIO

If you had been in love, you would have found it on loan. You would have gone to the usurer; you would have paid the interest; or else you would have pilfered it from your father.

PSEUDOLUS

Ought he to have pilfered it from his father, you most shameless villain? There is no fear that you'll point out to him anything that's right.

BALLIO

That's not like a procurer.

CALIDORUS

And could I possibly pilfer anything from my father, an old man so much on his guard? And besides, if I could do so, filial affection forbids.

BALLIO

I understand you; do you then at night embrace filial affection in place of Phœnicium. But since I see you prefer your filial affection to your love — are all men your fathers? Is there no one for you to ask to lend you some money?

CALIDORUS

Why, the very name of lending's dead and gone by this.

PSEUDOLUS

Look you now; since, i' faith, those fellows arose from the banker's table, with a filled skin, who, when they called in their own, paid what they had borrowed to no born creature, since then, I say, all people have been more cautious not to trust another.

CALIDORUS

Most wretched am I; nowhere am I able to find a coin of silver; so distractedly am I perishing both through love and want of money.

BALLIO

Buy oil on credit, and sell it for ready money; then, i' faith, even two hundred minæ ready money might be raised.

CALIDORUS

There I'm done; the twenty-five year old law founders me. All are afraid to trust me.

BALLIO

The same law have I. I'm afraid to trust you.

PSEUDOLUS

To trust him, indeed! How now, do you repent of the great profit he has been to you?

BALLIO

No lover is a profitable one, except him who keeps continually making presents. Either let him be always giving, or when he has nothing, let him at the same time cease to be in love.

CALIDORUS

And don't you pity me at all?

BALLIO

You come empty-handed; words don't chink. But I wish you life and health.

PSEUDOLUS

Heyday! Is he dead already?

BALLIO

However he is, to me indeed, at all events, with these speeches, he is dead. Then, does a lover really live, when he comes begging to a procurer? Do you always come to me with a complaint that brings its money. As for that, which you are now lamenting about, that you have got no money, complain of it to your stepmother.

PSEUDOLUS

Why, have you ever been married to his father, pray?

BALLIO

May the Gods grant better things.

PSEUDOLUS

Do what we ask you, Ballio, on my credit, if you are afraid to trust him. Within the next three days, from some quarter, in some way, either by land or sea, I'll rout up this money for you.

BALLIO

I, trust you?

PSEUDOLUS

Why not?

BALLIO

Because, i' faith, on the same principle that I trust you, on that principle I should tie a run-away dog to a lamb's fry.

CALIDORUS

Is the obligation thus ungratefully returned by you to me, who have deserved so well of you?

BALLIO

What do you want now?

CALIDORUS

That you will only wait these six days of the Feast, and will not sell her or prove the death of the person who loves her.

BALLIO

Be of good courage; I'll wait six months even.

CALIDORUS

Capital — most delightful man!

BALLIO

Aye; and do you wish, too, that from joyful I should make you even more joyous?

CALIDORUS

How so?

BALLIO

Why, because I've got no Phœnicium to sell.

CALIDORUS

Not got her?

BALLIO

I' faith, not I, indeed.

CALIDORUS

Pseudolus, go fetch the sacrifice, the victims, the sacrificers, that I may make offering to this supreme Jove. For this Jupiter is now much more mighty to me than is Jupiter himself.

BALLIO

I want no victims; with the entrails of minæ I wish to be appeased.

CALIDORUS

to PSEUDOLUS . Make haste. Why do you hesitate? Go fetch the lambs; do you hear what Jupiter says?

PSEUDOLUS

I'll be here this moment; but first I must run as far as beyond the gate.

CALIDORUS

Why thither?

PSEUDOLUS

I'll fetch two sacrificers thence, with their bells; at the same time I'll fetch thence two bundles of elm twigs, that this day a sufficiency may be provided for the sacrifice to this Jove.

BALLIO

Away to utter perdition.

PSEUDOLUS

Thither shall the pimping Jupiter go.

BALLIO

It isn't for your interest that I should die.

PSEUDOLUS

How so?

BALLIO

This way; because, if I'm dead, there will be no one worse than yourself in Athens. For your interest to CALIDORUS it is that I should die.

CALIDORUS

How so?

BALLIO

I'll tell you; because, i' faith, so long as I shall be alive, you'll never be a man well to do.

CALIDORUS

Troth now, prithee, in serious truth, tell me this that I ask you — have you not got my mistress, Phœnicium, on sale?

BALLIO

By my faith, I really have not; for I've now sold her already.

CALIDORUS

In what way?

BALLIO

Without her trappings, with all her inwards.

CALIDORUS

What? Have you sold my mistress?

BALLIO

Decidedly; for twenty minæ.

CALIDORUS

For twenty minæ?

BALLIO

Or, in other words, for four times five minæ, whichever you please, to a Macedonian Captain; and I've already got fifteen of the minæ at home.

CALIDORUS

What is it that I hear of you?

BALLIO

That your mistress has been turned into money.

CALIDORUS

Why did you dare to do so?

BALLIO

'Twas my pleasure; she was my own.

CALIDORUS

Hallo! Pseudolus. Run, fetch me a sword.

PSEUDOLUS

What need is there of a sword?

CALIDORUS

With which to kill this fellow this instant, and then myself.

PSEUDOLUS

But why not kill yourself only rather? For famine will soon be killing him.

CALIDORUS

What do you say, most perjured of men as many as are living upon the earth? Did you not take an oath that you would sell her to no person besides myself?

BALLIO

I confess it.

CALIDORUS

In solemn form, to wit.

BALLIO

Aye, and well considered too.

CALIDORUS

You have proved perjured, you villain.

BALLIO

I sacked the money at home, however. Villain as I am, I am now able to draw upon a stock of silver in my house; whereas you who are so dutiful, and born of that grand family, haven't a single coin.

CALIDORUS

Pseudolus, stand by him on the other side and load this fellow with imprecations.

PSEUDOLUS

Very well. Never would I run to the Prætor with equal speed that I might be made free. Stands on the other side of BALLIO.

CALIDORUS

Heap on him a multitude of curses.

PSEUDOLUS

Now will I publish you with my rebukes. Thou lackshame!

BALLIO

'Tis the fact.

PSEUDOLUS

Villain!

BALLIO

You say the truth.

PSEUDOLUS

Whipping-post!

BALLIO

Why not?

PSEUDOLUS

Robber of tombs!

BALLIO

No doubt.

PSEUDOLUS

Gallows-bird!

BALLIO

Very well done.

PSEUDOLUS

Cheater of your friends!

BALLIO

That's in my way.

PSEUDOLUS

Parricide!

BALLIO

Proceed, you.

CALIDORUS

Committer of sacrilege!

BALLIO

I own it.

CALIDORUS

Perjurer!

BALLIO

You're telling nothing new.

CALIDORUS

Lawbreaker!

BALLIO

Very much so.

PSEUDOLUS

Pest of youth!

BALLIO

Most severely said.

CALIDORUS

Thief!

BALLIO

Oh! wonderful!

PSEUDOLUS

Vagabond!

BALLIO

Pooh! pooh!

CALIDORUS

Defrauder of the public!

BALLIO

Most decidedly so.

PSEUDOLUS

Cheating scoundrel!

CALIDORUS

Filthy pander!

PSEUDOLUS

Lump of filth!

BALLIO

A capital chorus.

CALIDORUS

You beat your father and mother.

BALLIO

Aye, and killed them, too, rather than find them food; did I do wrong at all?

PSEUDOLUS

We are pouring our words into a pierced cask: we are losing our pains.

BALLIO

Would you like to call me anything else besides?

CALIDORUS

Is there anything that shames you?

BALLIO

Yes; that you have been found to be a lover as empty as a rotten nut. But although you have used towards me expressions many and harsh, unless the Captain shall bring me this day the five minæ that he owes me, as this was the last day appointed for the payment of that money, if he doesn't bring it, I think that I am able to do my duty.

CALIDORUS

What is that duty?

BALLIO

If you bring the money, I'll break faith with him; that's my duty. If it were more worth my while, I would talk further with you. But, without a coin of money, 'tis in vain that you request me to have pity upon you. Such is my determination; but do you, from this, consider what you have henceforth to do? Moves.

CALIDORUS

Are you going then?

BALLIO

At present I am full of business. (Exit.)

PSEUDOLUS

Before long you'll be more so. That man is my own, unless all Gods and men forsake me. I'll bone him just in the same fashion that a cook does a lamprey. Now, Calidorus, I wish you to give me your attention.

CALIDORUS

What do you bid me do?

PSEUDOLUS

I wish to lay siege to this town, that this day it may be taken. For that purpose, I have need of an artful, clever, knowing, and crafty fellow, who may despatch out of hand what he is ordered, not one to go to sleep upon his watch.

CALIDORUS

Tell me, then, what you are going to do?

PSEUDOLUS

In good time I'll let you know. I don't care for it to be repeated twice; stories are made too long that way.

CALIDORUS

You plead what's very fair and very just.

PSEUDOLUS

Make haste; bring the fellow hither quickly.

CALIDORUS

Out of many, there are but few friends that are to be depended upon by a person.

PSEUDOLUS

I know that; therefore, get for yourself now a choice of both, and seek out of these many one that can be depended upon.

CALIDORUS

I'll have him here this instant.

PSEUDOLUS

Can't you be off then? You create delay for yourself by your talking.
(Exit CALIDORUS.)

PSEUDOLUS, alone.

PSEUDOLUS

Since he has gone hence, you are now standing alone, Pseudolus. What are you to do now, after you have so largely promised costly delights to your master's son by your speeches? You, for whom not even one drop of sure counsel is ready, nor yet of silver * * * * nor have you where first you must begin your undertaking, nor yet fixed limits for finishing off your web. But just as the poet, when he has taken up his tablets, seeks what nowhere in the world exists, and still finds it, and makes that like truth which really is a fiction; now I'll become a poet; twenty minæ, which no-where in the world are now existing, still will I find. And some time since had I said that I would find them for him, and I had attempted to throw a net over our old gentleman; however, by what means I know not, he perceived it beforehand. But my voice and my talking must be stopped; for, see! I perceive my master, Simo, coming this way, together with his neighbour, Callipho. Out of this old sepulchre will I dig twenty minæ this day, to give them to my master's son. Now I'll step aside here, that I may pick up their conversation. He stands apart.

Enter SIMO and CALLIPHO.

SIMO

If now a Dictator were to be appointed at Athens of Attica out of the spendthrifts or out of the gallants, I do think that no one would surpass my son. For now the only talk of all throughout the city is to the effect that he is trying to set his mistress free, and is seeking after money for that purpose. Some people bring me word of this; and, in fact, I had long ago perceived it, and had suspected it, but I dissembled on it.

PSEUDOLUS

apart . Already is his son suspected by him; this affair is nipt in the bud, this business is at a stand-still. The way is now entirely blocked up against me, by which I had intended to go a-foraging for the money. He has perceived it beforehand. There's no booty for the marauders.

CALLIPHO

Those men who carry about and who listen to accusations, should all be hanged, if so it could be at my decision, the carriers by their tongues, the listeners by their ears. For these things that are told you, that your son in his amour is desirous to chouse you out of money, the chance is that these things so told you are all lies. But suppose they are true, as habits are, now-a-days especially, what has he done so surprising? What new thing, if a young man does love, and if he does liberate his mistress?

PSEUDOLUS

apart . A delightful old gentleman.

SIMO

I don't wish him to follow the old-fashioned habits.

CALLIPHO

But still, in vain do you object; or you yourself shouldn't have done the like in your youthful days. It befits the father to be immaculate, who wishes his son to be more immaculate than he has been himself. But the mischief and the profligacy you were guilty of might have been distributed throughout the whole population, a share for each man. Are you surprised at it, if the son does take after the father?

PSEUDOLUS

apart . O Zeus, Zeus! how few in number are you considerate men. See, that's being a father to a son, just as is proper.

SIMO

Who is it that's speaking here? Looking round. Why, surely 'tis my servant Pseudolus. 'Tis he corrupts my son, the wicked scoundrel; he is his leader, he his tutor. I long for him to be put to extreme torture.

CALLIPHO

This is folly now, thus to keep your anger in readiness. How much better were it to accost him with kind words and to make all enquiries, whether these things are true or not that they tell you of?

SIMO

I'll take your advice.

PSEUDOLUS

apart . They are making towards you, Pseudolus; prepare your speech to meet the old fellow. Good courage in a bad case is half the evil got over. Aloud, as he advances to meet them. First, I salute my master, as is proper; and alter that, if anything is left, that I bestow upon his neighbour.

SIMO

Good day to you. What are you about?

PSEUDOLUS

About standing here in this fashion assuming an attitude .

SIMO

See the attitude of the fellow, Callipho; how like that of a man of rank.

CALLIPHO

I consider that he is standing properly and with boldness.

PSEUDOLUS

It befits a servant innocent and guileless, as he is, to be bold, most especially before his master.

CALLIPHO

There are some things about which we wish to inquire of you, which we ourselves know and have heard of as though through a cloud of mist.

SIMO

He'll manage you now with his speeches, so that you shall think it isn't Pseudolus but Socrates that's talking to you. What do you say?

PSEUDOLUS

For a long time you have held me in contempt, I know. I see that you have but little confidence in me. You wish me to be a villain; still, I will be of strict honesty.

SIMO

Take care, please, and make the recesses of your ears free, Pseudolus, that my words may be enabled to enter where I desire.

PSEUDOLUS

Come, say anything you please, although I am angry at you.

SIMO

What, you, a slave, angry at me your master?

PSEUDOLUS

And does that seem wonderful to you?

SIMO

Why, by my troth, according to what you say, I must be on my guard against you in your anger, and you are thinking of beating me in no other way than I am wont to beat yourself. What do you think? To CALLIPHO.

CALLIPHO

I' faith, I think that he's angry with good reason, since you have so little confidence in him.

SIMO

I'll leave him alone then. Let him be angry: I'll take care that he shall do me no harm. But what do you say? What as to that which I was asking you?

PSEUDOLUS

If you want anything, ask me. What I know, do you consider given you as a response at Delphi.

SIMO

Give your attention then, and take care and please mind your promise. What do you say? Do you know that my son is in love with a certain music-girl?

PSEUDOLUS

Yea, verily.

SIMO

Whom he is trying to make free?

PSEUDOLUS

Yea, verily and indeed.

SIMO

And you are scheming by cajolery and by cunning tricks to get twenty minæ in ready money out of me?

PSEUDOLUS

I, get them out of you?

SIMO

Just so; to give them to my son, with which to liberate his mistress. Do you confess it? Speak out.

PSEUDOLUS

Yea, verily; yea, verily.

SIMO

He confesses it. Didn't I tell you so just now, Callipho?

CALLIPHO

So I remember.

SIMO

Why, directly you knew of these things, were they kept concealed from me? Why wasn't I made acquainted with them?

PSEUDOLUS

I'll tell you: because I was unwilling that a bad custom should originate in me, for a servant to accuse his master before his master.

SIMO

Wouldn't you order this fellow to be dragged head first to the treadmills?

CALLIPHO

Has he done anything amiss, Simo?

SIMO

Yes, very much so.

PSEUDOLUS

to CALLIPHO . Be quiet, I quite well understand my own affairs, Callipho. Is this a fault? Now then, give your attention to the reason why I you kept ignorant of this amour. I knew that the treadmill was close at hand, if I told you.

SIMO

And didn't you know, as well, that the treadmill would be close at hand when you kept silent on it?

PSEUDOLUS

I did know it.

SIMO

Why wasn't it told me?

PSEUDOLUS

The one evil was close at hand, the other at a greater distance; the one was at the moment, the other was a few days off.

SIMO

What will you be doing now? For assuredly the money cannot be got in this quarter out of me, who have especially detected it. I shall forthwith give notice to all that no one is to trust him the money.

PSEUDOLUS

I' faith, I'll never go begging to any person, so long, at all events, as you shall be alive; troth, you shall find me the money; and as for me, I shall take it from you.

SIMO

You, take it from me?

PSEUDOLUS

Undoubtedly.

SIMO

Troth, now, knock out my eye, if I do find it.

PSEUDOLUS

You shall provide it. I warn you then to be on your guard against me.

SIMO

By my troth, I know this for sure; if you do take it away, you will have done a wonderful and a great exploit.

PSEUDOLUS

I will do it, however.

SIMO

But if you don't carry it off?

PSEUDOLUS

Then flog me with rods. But what if I do carry it off?

SIMO

I give you Jupiter as your witness, that you shall pass your life free from punishment.

PSEUDOLUS

Take care and remember that.

SIMO

Could I possibly be unable to be on my guard, who am forewarned?

PSEUDOLUS

I forewarn you to be on your guard. I say you must be on your guard, I tell you. Keep watch. Look, now, with those same hands will you this day give me the money

SIMO

By my troth, 'tis a clever mortal if he keeps his word.

PSEUDOLUS

Carry me away to be your slave if I don't do it.

SIMO

You speak kindly and obligingly; for at present you are not mine, I suppose.

PSEUDOLUS

Would you like me to tell you, too, what you will still more wonder at?

SIMO

Come, then; i' faith, I long to hear it; I listen to you with pleasure.

PSEUDOLUS

Before I fight that battle, I shall first fight another battle, famous and memorable.

SIMO

What battle?

PSEUDOLUS

Why, with the procurer your neighbour; by means of stratagem and artful tricks, I'll cleverly bamboozle the procurer out of this music-girl, with whom your son is so desperately in love; and I surely will have both of these things effected this very day, before the evening.

SIMO

Well, if you accomplish these tasks as you say, you will surpass in might King Agathocles. But if you don't do it, is there any reason why I shouldn't forthwith put you in the treadmill?

PSEUDOLUS

Not for one day, but, i' faith, for all, whatever the time. But if I effect it, will you not at once give me the money of your own free will for me to pay to the procurer?

CALLIPHIO

Pseudolus is making a fair claim; say "I'll give it."

SIMO

But still, do you know what comes into my mind? Suppose they have made an arrangement, Callipho, among themselves, or are acting in concert, and on a preconcerted plan, to bamboozle me out of the money?

PSEUDOLUS

Who would be more audacious than myself, if I dared to do such an action? Well, Simo, if we are thus in collusion, or have ever arranged any plan, do you mark me quite all over with elm-tree stripes, just as when letters are written in a book with a reed.

SIMO

Now then, proclaim the games as soon as you please.

PSEUDOLUS

Give me your attention, Callipho, I beg you, for this day, so that you may not any way employ yourself upon other business.

CALLIPHO

Why, now, I had made up my mind yesterday to go into the country.

PSEUDOLUS

Still, do you now change the plan which you had resolved upon.

CALLIPHO

I am now resolved not to go away on account of this; I have an inclination to be a spectator of your games, Pseudolus; and if I shall find that he doesn't give you the money which he has promised, rather than it shouldn't be done, I'll give it.

SIMO

I shall not change my purpose.

PSEUDOLUS

Because, by my faith, if you don't give it, you shall be dunned for it with clamour great and plenteous. Come, now, move yourselves off hence into the house this instant, and in turn give room for my tricks.

SIMO

Be it so.

CALLIPHO

You may have your way,

PSEUDOLUS

But I want you to keep close at home.

SIMO

Well, that assistance I promise you.

CALLIPHO

But I shall be off to the Forum. I'll be back here presently. Exit CALLIPHO. SIMO goes into his house.

PSEUDOLUS

Be back directly. To the AUDIENCE. I have a suspicion, now, that you are suspecting that I have been promising these so great exploits to these persons for the purpose of amusing you, while I am acting this play, and that I shall not do that which I said I will do. I will not change my design; so far as that then I know for certain; by what means I'm to carry it out not at all do I know as yet; only this, that so it shall be. For he that appears upon the stage in a new character, him it befits to bring something that is new. If he cannot do that, let him give place to him who can. I am inclined to go hence into the house for some little time, while I summon together all my stratagems in my mind. Meanwhile this piper shall entertain you. Goes into the house of SIMO, and the PIPER strikes up a tune.

ACT II.

Enter PSEUDOLUS, from the house of SIMO.

PSEUDOLUS

O Jupiter, whatever I undertake, how cleverly and how fortunately does it befall me. Not any plan is there stored up in my breast that I can hesitate upon or be afraid of. But it is folly to entrust a bold exploit to a timorous heart; for all things are just as you make them, so as you make them of importance. Now in my breast have I already so prepared my forces — double, aye, threefold stratagems, that when I engage with the enemy, relying upon the merits, I say, of my forefathers, and on my own industry and tricking propensity for mischief, I may easily conquer, and easily spoil my antagonists by my contrivances. Now will I adroitly batter down this Ballio, the common foe of me and all of you; only lend me your attention. Now will I forthwith draw out my legions against this old town. If I take it, I shall make it a pleasant matter for the citizens: I'll load and fill myself, and my allies as well, with booty from it. I shall strike terror and fright into my enemies, so that they may know of what race I was born. Great exploits it befits me to perform, which long after may bespeak fame for me. But whom do I see here? Who's this low fellow that's presented before my eyes? I should like to know why he's come here with his sword: I' troth, now then I'll lie here in ambush for him, to see the business that he's about. Retires to a distance.

Enter HARPAX, with a bay in his hand.

HARPAX

This is the place, and this the spot, which was pointed out to me by my master, according as I form a judgment from my eyesight. For my master, the Captain, told me to this effect, that the house was the seventh from the gate, in which lives the person to whom he requested me to carry the token and this silver * * * * * I could vastly wish that some one would inform me where this Ballio, the procurer, lives. Looks from side to side.

PSEUDOLUS

apart . Hist! Silence! This man is mine, unless all Gods and men forsake me. Now have I need of a new plan; this new scheme is suddenly presented to me. This I prefer to my former one; that I shall dismiss, which, before, I had commenced to carry into effect. By my troth, I'll then work this military messenger that's just arrived.

HARPAX

I'll knock at the door, and call some one out of doors from within.
Goes towards the door of BALLIO'S house.

PSEUDOLUS

coming up to him . Whoever you are, I wish you to spare your knocking; for I've just come out of doors, I, the spokesman and the defender of the door.

HARPAX

Are you Ballio?

PSEUDOLUS

Why, no; but I'm the deputy-Ballio.

HARPAX

What means that expression?

PSEUDOLUS

I'm his butler-steward; the caterer for his larder.

HARPAX

As though you were to say, you are his chamberlain.

PSEUDOLUS

No; I'm above his chamberlain.

HARPAX

What are you, slave or free man?

PSEUDOLUS

Why, at present, I'm still a slave.

HARPAX

So you seem to be; and you don't look to be one worthy to be free.

PSEUDOLUS

Ain't you in the habit of looking at yourself when you abuse another person?

HARPAX

aside . This must be a roguish fellow.

PSEUDOLUS

aside . The Gods protect and favour me! for this is my anvil: this day will I hammer out thence full many a device.

HARPAX

Why is he talking to himself alone?

PSEUDOLUS

How say you, young man —— ?

HARPAX

What is it?

PSEUDOLUS

Are you, or are you not, from that Captain of Macedonia? The servant of him, I mean, who bought a damsel of us here, who gave fifteen silver minæ to the procurer, my master, and is still owing five?

HARPAX

I am. But where in the world have you ever known me, or have ever seen or spoken to me? For in fact, before this day, I never was at Athens, nor did I ever before this day behold you with my eyes * * *

* * * * *

PSEUDOLUS

Because you seem likely to be from him; for at the time when he went away, this was the day appointed for the money, on which he was to pay it to us, and he has not brought it as yet.

HARPAX

Yes, here it is. Holding up the bag.

PSEUDOLUS

What? — have you brought it?

HARPAX

I, myself.

PSEUDOLUS

Do you at all hesitate to give it me?

HARPAX

I, give it you?

PSEUDOLUS

Aye, faith, to me, who manage the business and the accounts of my master Ballio, receive his money, and pay it to him to whom he owes it.

HARPAX

By my troth, if you were even the keeper of the treasures of supreme Jove, I would never entrust a groat of silver to you.

PSEUDOLUS

pointing . While you've been making yourself so big, the money has become loose.

HARPAX

I'll keep it the rather tied up — this way. Ties the mouth of the bag.

PSEUDOLUS

Woe to you! You indeed have been found to doubt my honor. As though innumerable times as much are not in the habit of being entrusted to me alone.

HARPAX

It's possible that others may think so, and that I mayn't trust you.

PSEUDOLUS

As though you meant to say that I wished to chouse you out of the money.

HARPAX

Why, yes; as though you meant to say so; and as though I, on the other hand, meant to suspect it. But what's your name?

PSEUDOLUS

aside . This procurer has a servant of the name of Syrus; I'll say that I am he. I am Syrus.

HARPAX

Syrus?

PSEUDOLUS

That's my name.

HARPAX

We are making many words. If your master's at home, why don't you call him out, that I may transact that for which I was sent here, whatever be your name?

PSEUDOLUS

If he were within I would call him out. But if you choose to give it me, it will be more truly paid than if you were to give it to himself.

HARPAX

But now do you know how it is? My master has sent me to pay this, not to lose it. But I know, to a certainty, that you are in a fever now, because you cannot lay your claws upon it. I shall entrust the money to no person except to Ballio himself.

PSEUDOLUS

But at present he's full of business: a cause of his is being tried before the judge.

HARPAX

May the Gods prosper it! And I, when I shall think that he's at home, will come again. Do you take this letter from me, and give it him: for in it is the token agreed upon between your master and mine about the damsel.

PSEUDOLUS

For my part, I understand it; the person who should bring the money and the impress of his likeness hither to us, with him he said he wished the damsel to be sent; for he left a specimen of it here as well.

HARPAX

You understand the whole affair?

PSEUDOLUS

Why should I not understand it?

HARPAX

Give him this token then. Gives the letter and token.

PSEUDOLUS

Very well. But what's your name?

HARPAX

Harpax.

PSEUDOLUS

Get along with you, Harpax, I like you not. By my troth, you really shan't enter this house, lest you should be doing something in the harpy line.

HARPAX

I am wont to carry off my enemies alive from the battle-field; from that circumstance is my name.

PSEUDOLUS

I' faith, I think that you are much more likely to carry off the brass pots from a house.

HARPAX

Such is not the fact. But, Syrus, do you know what I request of you?

PSEUDOLUS

I shall know, if you tell me.

HARPAX

I shall put up outside of the gate here, at the third shop, at the house of that tun-bellied, limping, fat old woman, Chrysis.

PSEUDOLUS

What do you wish then?

HARPAX

That you'll fetch me thence when your master comes.

PSEUDOLUS

At your pleasure; by all means.

HARPAX

For, as I've come wearied off my journey, I wish to refresh myself.

PSEUDOLUS

You are very wise, and your plan is agreeable to me. But take care, please, that you are not out of the way when I send for you.

HARPAX

Why, when I've dined, I shall indulge myself with a nap.

PSEUDOLUS

I quite agree with you.

HARPAX

Do you wish aught else?

PSEUDOLUS

That you'll be off to take your nap.

HARPAX

I'm off.

PSEUDOLUS

And, do you hear, Harpax? Order yourself to be covered up, please; you'll receive the benefit if you take a good sweat. (Exit HARPAX.)

PSEUDOLUS, alone.

PSEUDOLUS

Immortal Gods! this man has preserved me by his coming. By his supply for my journey he has brought me from my wanderings quite into the right way. For the Goddess Opportunity herself could not come to me more opportunely, than has this letter in this opportune manner been brought to me. For this has been brought as a horn of plenty, in which there is whatever I wish for: here are my wiles, here all my tricks, here my stratagems, here my money, here his mistress for my master's son so much in love. And now how vaunting shall I show myself; how, with a breast so fertile in expedients, I was to do each thing, how, to steal away the damsel from the procurer, I had all my plans arranged in order in my mind as I desired, fixed, planned out. But, no doubt, thus will it come to pass: this Goddess Fortune, unaided, prevails over the designs of a hundred armed men. And this is the fact, just as each person uses his fortune, so does he surpass others, and forthwith we all pronounce him wise. When we learn that the counsels of any person have turned out well, we declare that he is a prudent man; but that he is a fool who is unsuccessful. In our folly we know not how much we are mistaken, when we eagerly wish anything to be given to us; as though we ourselves could possibly know what is for our advantage. We lose what is certain, while we are seeking what is uncertain. And this comes to pass, amid labours and amid sorrow, that death meanwhile comes creeping on. But there's enough now of philosophizing; I have been talking too long, and at too great length. Immortal Gods! my lie was not dear at its weight in double-distilled gold, which I just now trumped up here on the spur of the moment, when I said that I belonged to the procurer. Now, through this letter shall I deceive three persons — my master, and the procurer, and him who gave me this letter. Excellent! another thing as well has happened, that I wished for: see, Calidorus is coming; he is bringing some one with him, I know not whom. Stands apart.

Enter CALIDORUS and CHARINUS.

CALIDORUS

The sweets and the bitters, all have I disclosed to you. You know my love, you know my difficulty, you know my poverty.

CHARINUS

I well remember all; do you only let me know what you want me to do.

CALIDORUS

Pseudolus has directed me thus, that I should bring to him some bold and zealous person.

CHARINUS

You observe your directions well; for you bring him one both friendly and zealous. But this Pseudolus is a stranger to me.

CALIDORUS

He is a very clever fellow — he is my contriver. He said that he would effect those things for me that I have told you of.

PSEUDOLUS

apart . I'll address this person in a very lofty strain.

CALIDORUS

Whose voice is it that's heard here?

PSEUDOLUS

Oh! thee, sovereign lord, thee, oh! thee do I address who dost rule over Pseudolus: thee do I seek, to impart to thee delights thrice three, threefold, acquired by three contrivances, obtained over three persons through craftiness and through subtlety, which in this very little sealed packet I have brought unto you. Holds up the letter.

CALIDORUS

That's the fellow; how the hang-dog does bluster just like a tragedian.

PSEUDOLUS

Advance a step on thy side towards me. Boldly stretch forth thine arm for greeting.

CALIDORUS

taking his hand . Tell me, Pseudolus, whether, as Hope or as Safety, must I greet you?

PSEUDOLUS

Why both.

CALIDORUS

As both I greet you. But what has been done? Why are you silent? I have carried this person here. Pointing to CHARINUS.

PSEUDOLUS

How? Carried him here?

CALIDORUS

Brought, I meant to say.

PSEUDOLUS

Who's this person?

CALIDORUS

Charinus.

PSEUDOLUS

Well done; I return him thanks then.

CHARINUS

Will you then boldly enjoin me what it is necessary to do?

PSEUDOLUS

My thanks, so far. May it be well with you, Charinus; I don't like that we should be troublesome to you.

CHARINUS

You, troublesome to me? Now, really, that's troublesome.

PSEUDOLUS

Well, then, wait a moment. Takes the letter out from under his dress.

CALIDORUS

What's that?

PSEUDOLUS

This letter have I just now intercepted, and the token.

CALIDORUS

Token? What token?

PSEUDOLUS

The one that was brought just now from the Captain. His servant, who was bringing it, with five mineæ of silver, who came to fetch your mistress hence, him I have just now bamboozled.

CALIDORUS

How so?

PSEUDOLUS

For the sake of these Spectators the play is being performed; they know, who were present here; you I'll tell at another time.

CALIDORUS

What are we to do then?

PSEUDOLUS

You shall this day embrace your mistress at liberty.

CALIDORUS

What, I?

PSEUDOLUS

You yourself.

CALIDORUS

I?

PSEUDOLUS

Your own self, I say, if indeed this head shall exist so long; if you'll only quickly find me out a man.

CHARINUS

Of what description?

PSEUDOLUS

A cunning, crafty and clever one, who, when he has once taken hold of the beginning, may by his own ingenuity still hold fast upon what it behoves him to do; one, too, who has not often been seen here.

CHARINUS

If he is a slave, does that matter at all?

PSEUDOLUS

Why, I'd much rather have him than a free man.

CHARINUS

I think that I'm able to procure for you a cunning and clever fellow, that has lately come to my father from Carystus, and hasn't as yet gone anywhere out the house, and who never visited Athens before yesterday.

PSEUDOLUS

You assist in right earnest. But I have need to borrow five minæ of silver, which I shall repay this day, for his father pointing to

CALIDORUS owes it me.

CHARINUS

I'll lend it; don't seek it anywhere else.

PSEUDOLUS

O, how convenient a person for me. I have need of a scarf as well, a sword, and a broad-brimmed hat.

CHARINUS

I can provide them from my house.

PSEUDOLUS

Immortal Gods! surely this is not Charinus for me, but Abundance. But this servant, who is come here from Carystus, is there anything in him?

CHARINUS

Plenty of the stinking goat in him.

PSEUDOLUS

It befits the fellow, then, to have a tunic with long sleeves Has the chap anything sharp in his breast?

CHARINUS

Aye, of the very sharpest.

PSEUDOLUS

But if it is necessary for him to draw forth what is sweet from the same place, has he aught of that?

CHARINUS

Do you ask that He has wine of myrrh, sweet raisin wine, spice wine honey wine, sweets of every sort. Why, he once began to set up a hot liquor-shop in his breast.

PSEUDOLUS

Bravissi o! Why, Charinus, you beat me cleverly at my own game.

But what am I to say is the name of this servant?

CHARINUS

Simmia.

PSEUDOLUS

In a difficulty, does he understand how to twirl about?

CHARINUS

A whirlwind is not so ready as he.

PSEUDOLUS

Is he shrewd at all?

CHARINUS

In mischievous tricks very often.

PSEUDOLUS

How, when he's caught in the fact?

CHARINUS

He's a very eel; he slips out.

PSEUDOLUS

Is this fellow an experienced one?

CHARINUS

A public ordinance is not more experienced.

PSEUDOLUS

He is a suitable person, according to what I hear you say.

CHARINUS

Aye, and from this you may know it. When he looks at you he'll tell, of his own accord, what it is you want with him. But what are you about to do?

PSEUDOLUS

I'll tell you. When I've dressed up my man, I intend to make him become the pretended servant of the Captain; let him take this token to the procurer, with five minæ of silver. There's the whole plot for you. As for the rest, in what way he is to do each thing, I'll instruct himself.

CALIDORUS

Why, therefore, do we stand here then?

PSEUDOLUS

Bring the fellow to me just now, dressed out with all his accoutrements, to Æschinus, the banker's. But make all haste.

CALIDORUS

We'll be there before you.

PSEUDOLUS

Get you gone there quickly. CALIDORUS and CHARINUS go into SIMO'S house. Whatever before was uncertain or doubtful in my mind, is now clear-now fined to the dregs; my heart has now an open path. All my legions will I lead forth under their standards with happy omen with favorable auspices, and to my heart's content. I have a certainty that I can rout my enemies. Now will I go to the Forum, and load Simmia with my instructions what he is to do, that he may not be tripping at all, and that he may cleverly lay the train for this plot. Soon now shall I cause the town of this procurer to be carried by storm. (Exit.)

ACT III.

Enter a BOY from the house of BALLIO.

A BOY

On that Boy on whom the Gods bestow servitude under a procurer, when they add a base occupation as well, assuredly do they, so far as I now understand in my mind, bestow upon him a great misfortune and miseries manifold. Just as this servitude has turned out to me, where I am set over duties great and small; nor am I able to find any admirer to love me, so that at length I might be fitted out in a little better guise. Now this day is the birthday of this procurer. The procurer has made a determination, from the lowest to the highest, that if each one does not this day send him a present, he shall perish to-morrow with the greatest torments. Now, faith, I know not what to do in my line, for, unless I shall send a present to the procurer this day, to-morrow must I swallow down fullers' produce. And yet I cannot do that which they who can are wont to do. Alas! how little am I, even still for this vocation. And by my troth, now, to my misfortune how fearfully do I dread punishment. If any one lays on whose hand is too heavy, although they say that it generally is done amid great weeping, I think that I am able in some measure to keep my teeth closed. But I must keep close my lips and my talking, for see, my master is betaking himself home, and bringing a Cook with him. Stands at a distance.

Enter BALLIO and a COOK.

BALLIO

Those who call it the cook's market, call it so foolishly; for 'tis not a cook's market, but a thieves' market. For if, upon oath, I were to seek out the worst of men, I couldn't have brought a worse one than this fellow that I'm bringing, one, chattering, bragging, silly, and worthless. Why, for this very reason Orcus has declined to take him to himself, that he might be here to cook a banquet for the dead; for here he is able to cook a thing to please them alone.

A COOK.

If you thought of me in this manner that you are mentioning, why did you hire me?

BALLIO

From scarcity; there wasn't another. But why, if you were a cook, were you sitting in the market-place, you alone behind the rest?

A COOK.

I'll tell you. By reason of the avarice of men have I become an inferior cook, not through my own inclination.

BALLIO

For what reason is that?

A COOK.

I'll tell you. Because, in fact, directly people come to hire a cook, no one enquires for him that's the best and the highest priced: rather do they hire him that's the lowest priced. Through this have I to-day been the only sitter in the market. Those wretched fellows are for a drachma a-piece; not any person is able to prevail on me to rise for less than a didrachm. I don't cook a dinner too, like other cooks, who bring me up seasoned meadows of grass upon their dishes; who turn the guests into oxen, and supply the grass. This herbage, too, do they further season with other herbs: put in coriander, fennel, garlick, orage; they add, too, sorrel, cabbage, beet, and spinach. In this they dissolve a pound weight of asafœtida. The roguish mustard is pounded, which makes the eyes of those that pound it drop tears before they have pounded it. These fellows, when they cook dinners, when they do season them, season them, not with seasonings, but with vampyre owls which eat out the bowels of the guests while still alive. Through this, in fact, it is, that people here live such short lives, inasmuch as they heap up these herbs of this sort in their stomachs, dreadful to be mentioned, not only to be eaten. Herbage which the cattle eat not, men eat themselves.

BALLIO

What do you say? Do you use divine seasonings, by which you can prolong the life of men, you, who find fault with these other seasonings?

A COOK.

I proclaim it boldly; for those who shall eat of my victuals which I have seasoned will be able to exist two hundred years even. For when I've put into the saucepan either cicilendrum, or cepolindrum, or mace, or saucaptis, the very dishes become warmed forthwith. These are sauces for fish, the cattle of Neptune; the flesh of the earthly cattle I season with cicimandrum, hapalopsis, or cataractria.

BALLIO

Now may Jupiter and all the Divinities confound you with your sauces, and with all those lies of yours!

A COOK.

Do allow me to speak, please.

BALLIO

Speak, and go to very perdition.

A COOK.

When all the saucepans are hot, I open them all then does the odour fly towards heaven with its handhanging down.

BALLIO

The odour with its hands hanging down?

A COOK.

I made a mistake without thinking.

BALLIO

How so?

A COOK.

With its feet hanging down, I meant to say. Jupiter dines on that odour every day.

BALLIO

If you happen not to go out to cook, pray what does Jupiter dine upon?

A COOK.

He goes to sleep without his dinner.

BALLIO

Go to very perdition. Is it for this reason that I'm to give you a didrachm to-day?

A COOK.

Well, I confess that I am a very high-priced cook; but I make the results of my labour to be seen for the price, hired at which I go out.

BALLIO

In thieving, to wit.

A COOK.

And do you expect to meet with any cook except with the claws of a kite or of an eagle?

BALLIO

And do you expect to go anywhere to cook, and not to cook the dinner there with your claws tied up? Now, therefore, you boy to the BOY, who are my servant, I now give you notice to make haste to remove hence all my property; and to keep his eyes as well in your sight. Whichever way he shall look, do you look the same way as well. If he shall move in any direction, do you move as well. If he shall put forth his hand, put you forth your hand as well. If he shall take anything of his own, do you suffer him to take it; if he shall take what's mine, do you on the other side hold him fast. If he shall stoop to the ground, do you stoop there as well. Likewise over your understrappers I shall appoint a single guard a-piece.

A COOK.

Only have good courage.

BALLIO

Prithee, tell me how I possibly can have good courage, who am taking you home to my house?

A COOK.

Because, by my broth, this day will I do just in the way that Medea cooked up the old man Pelias whom she is said by a draught and by her potions from an aged man to have made young again; so will I make you likewise.

BALLIO

How now; are you an enchanter as well?

A COOK.

Why no, by my troth, I am rather a preserver of mankind.

BALLIO

Well now; for how much would you teach me that one point in cooking?

A COOK.

What point?

BALLIO

That I may preserve you from pilfering anything from me.

A COOK.

For a didrachm, if you believe me; if not, not for a mina even. But whether are you about to-day to give a dinner, to your friends or to your enemies?

BALLIO

Why, faith, to my friends surely.

A COOK.

But why don't you invite your enemies to it rather than your friends? For this day will I present to the guests a banquet so savoury, and I'll season it with such a dulcet sweetness, that whoever shall taste each thing that's seasoned, I'll make that same person to gnaw off the ends of his own fingers.

BALLIO

Troth now, prithee, before you shall present aught to the guests do you yourself first taste, and give some to your understrappers, that you may gnaw off the ends of your own pilfering hands.

A COOK.

Perhaps then you don't believe me in the things that I say.

BALLIO

Don't you be troublesome; you din me too much; you don't please me by it. See, there I live. Points to his house. Do you go in-doors and cook the dinner, with all speed.

A BOY

Why don't you go, and take your place? Go and find the guests; the dinner's spoiling already. COOK and BOY go into the house.

BALLIO

Now, just look, please, at that young offshoot; for he, too, is a good-for-nothing deputy-scullion for the cook. Truly I don't know what now first to be on my guard against; such thieves there are in my house, and there's a robber close at hand. For my neighbour here, the father of Calidorus, a short time since, in the market-place, asked me by all means to be on my guard against his servant Pseudolus, not to put any trust in him; for that he is on the hunt this day, if possible to dupe me out of the woman. He said that he had stoutly promised to him that he would get away Phœnicium from me by stratagem. I'll now go indoors and give notice to my household, that no one must put any trust whatever in this Pseudolus. Goes into his house.

ACT IV.

Enter PSEUDOLUS.

PSEUDOLUS

If the immortal Gods ever did determine that any person should be assisted by their aid, now do they intend that Calidorus shall be preserved for me, and the procurer destroyed, inasmuch as they produced you for my assistant, so clever and so knowing a fellow. (Looking back.) But where is he? am I not a silly fellow to be thus talking to myself alone? I' faith, he has put a trick upon myself, as I fancy; myself one knave, I have been poorly on my guard against another knave. By my troth I'm undone, if this fellow's off, and I shall not carry into effect this day what I intended. But see, there he is, a statue that deserves a whipping; how stately he does stalk along! HARPAX.

PSEUDOLUS

How now! By my faith I was looking about for you; I was very greatly afraid that you were off.

SIMO

It was my character to do so, I confess.

PSEUDOLUS

Where were you loitering?

SIMO

Where I pleased.

PSEUDOLUS

That I know well enough already.

SIMO

Why then do you ask me what you know?

PSEUDOLUS

Why this I want, to put you in mind.

SIMO

Needing to be put in mind yourself, don't you be putting me in mind.

PSEUDOLUS

Really I am treated by you quite with contempt.

SIMO

And why shouldn't I treat you with contempt, I who have the repute of being a military gentleman?

PSEUDOLUS

I want this then, which has been commenced, to be completed.

SIMO

Do you see me a-doing anything else?

PSEUDOLUS

Therefore walk on briskly.

SIMO

No, I choose to go slowly.

PSEUDOLUS

This is the opportunity; while this Harpax is asleep, I want you to be the first to accost him.

SIMO

Why are you hurrying? Softly; don't you fear. I wish Jupiter would so make it, that he were openly in the same place with me, whoever he is, that has arrived from the Captain. Never a jot, by my troth, should he be a bit the better Harpax than I. Have good courage, I'll have this business nicely accounted for to you. So by my tricks and lies would I put this military stranger in a fright that he himself would deny that he is the person that he is, and would believe me to be the person that he himself is.

PSEUDOLUS

How can that be?

SIMO

You are murdering me when you ask me that.

PSEUDOLUS

A clever fellow.

SIMO

And so are you too, who are quite my equal with your mischievous tricks and lies * * * * *

PSEUDOLUS

May Jupiter preserve you for me.

SIMO

Aye, and for myself. But look, does this dress become me quite well?

PSEUDOLUS

It suits very well.

SIMO

Be it so.

PSEUDOLUS

May the Deities grant you as many blessings as you may wish for yourself. For if I were to wish for as many as you are deserving of, they would be less than nothing; aside nor have I ever seen any one more of a rogue than this fellow.

SIMO

overhearing him . Do you say that to me?

PSEUDOLUS

This man's an honest fellow.

SIMO

It is neither this person, then pointing to PSEUDOLUS , nor myself.

PSEUDOLUS

But take care that you don't be tripping.

SIMO

Can't you hold your tongue? He that puts a man in mind of that which, remembering it, he does keep in mind, causes him to forget it. I recollect everything; they are stored up in my breast; my plans are cleverly laid.

PSEUDOLUS

I'm silent. But what good turn shall I do you if you carry through this matter with management? So may the Gods love me ——

SIMO

They won't do so; you'll be uttering sheer falsehoods then.

PSEUDOLUS

How I do love you, Simmia, for your roguery, and both fear and laud you.

SIMO

That I have learned to make a present of to others; you can't put your flatteries on me.

PSEUDOLUS

In how delightful a manner I shall receive you this day, when you have completed this matter.

SIMO

Ha, ha, ha! Laughing.

PSEUDOLUS

With nice viands, wine, perfumes, and titbits between our cups. There, too, shall be a charming damsel, who shall give you kiss upon kiss.

SIMO

You will be receiving me in a delightful manner.

PSEUDOLUS

Aye, and if you effect it, then I'll make you say so still more.

SIMO

If I don't effect it, do you, the executioner, take me off to torture. But make haste and point out to me where is the door of the procurer's house.

PSEUD.

'Tis the third hence.

SIMO

Hist! hush! the door's opening.

PSEUDOLUS

In my mind, I believe that the house is poorly.

SIMO

Why so?

PSEUDOLUS

Because, i' faith, it is vomiting forth the procurer. BALLIO is coming out of his house.

SIMO

Is this he?

PSEUDOLUS

This is his own self.

SIMO

'Tis a worthless commodity.

PSEUDOLUS

Do see that: he doesn't go straight, but sideways, just as a crab is wont. They conceal themselves from BALLIO.

Enter BALLIO from his house.

BALLIO

I do believe that this fellow is not so bad a cook as I thought he was; for he has clawed off nothing as yet except a cup and a tankard.

PSEUDOLUS

apart to SIMMIA . Hallo you! now's your opportunity and your time.

SIMO

I agree with you.

PSEUDOLUS

Step sliely out into the street; I'll be here in ambush. SIMMIA steps forward, and then walks along the middle of the street to meet BALLIO.

SIMO

talking aloud to himself . I took the number carefully; this is the sixth lane from the city gate; down that lane he bade me turn; how many houses down he told me, that I don't quite know for certain.

BALLIO

eyeing SIMMIA . Who's this fellow in the scarf, or whence does he come, or whom is he looking for? The appearance of the fellow seems outlandish and shabby.

SIMO

But see, here's a person, who, from uncertainty, will make the thing more certain for me that I wish to know.

BALLIO

He's coming straight towards me. Where in the world am I to say this fellow comes from?

SIMO

Harkye! you who are standing there with a goat's beard, answer me this that I ask you.

BALLIO

How now! Don't you salute me first?

SIMO

with a surly voice . I have no salutations to give away.

BALLIO

Well, troth, you shall get just as much from here then.

PSEUDOLUS

from behind . Well done, at the very beginning.

SIMO

Do you know any person in this lane, I ask you?

BALLIO

I know myself.

SIMO

Few persons do that which you mention; for in the Forum there is hardly every tenth person that knows his own self.

PSEUDOLUS

from behind . I'm all right; he is philosophizing now.

SIMO

I'm looking for a fellow here, a bad one, a law breaker, an impious, perjured, and dishonest rogue.

BALLIO

aside . He's looking for me, for those are my titles If he would only mention the name. To SIMMIA. What's the name of this person?

SIMO

Ballio, the procurer.

BALLIO

Do I know him? I am the very person, young man, that you are looking for.

SIMO

What, are you Ballio?

BALLIO

I really am he.

SIMO

How you are clothed, a housebreaker * * * * * He takes hold of BALLIO'S cloak.

BALLIO

I think if you were to see me in the dark, you'd be keeping your hand off.

SIMO

My master bade me present you many greetings. Receive this letter from me; he bade me give you it.

BALLIO

Who's the person that bade you?

PSEUDOLUS

from behind . I'm undone, now the fellow's in the middle of the mud. He doesn't know the name — this business is at a dead lock.

BALLIO

Who do you say sent me this?

SIMO

Observe the seal; do you yourself tell me his name, that I may know that you are Ballio himself.

BALLIO

Give me the letter.

SIMO

Take it, and look at the seal. Gives him the letter.

BALLIO

looking at it . Oho! 'Tis nothing more nor less than Polymachæroplagides, his own very self; I recognize it. Hallo you, Polymachæroplagides is his name!

SIMO

I know now that I have rightly given you the letter, since you have mentioned the name of Polymachæroplagides,

BALLIO

How fares he?

SIMO

By my troth, just as a brave man and a good soldier should. But make haste, I beg, to read this letter through, for it is requisite to do so, and to take this money at once and send out the damsel. For it's necessary for me this day to be at Sicyon, or else to suffer death to-morrow; so peremptory is my master.

BALLIO

I know it: you are telling those who know it already.

SIMO

Make haste then to read the letter through.

BALLIO

I'll do so, if you'll only hold your tongue. He reads the letter. "The Captain Polymachæroplagides sends this letter, written to the procurer Ballio, sealed with the impression which was formerly agreed upon between us two."

SIMO

The token's in the letter

BALLIO

I see the token and I recognize it. But is he in the habit of sending no greeting written in his letter?

SIMO

Such is the military etiquette, Ballio; with their hand they send health to their well-wishers, and with the same do they send destruction to their evil-wishers. But as you have commenced, go on to ascertain of yourself what this letter says.

BALLIO

Listen then. Reading on. "Harpax is my camp-servant, who has come to you." Are you this Harpax?

SIMO

I am, and the real Harpax too.

BALLIO

reading on. "Who brings this letter; I wish the money to be received from him, and the woman to be sent together with him. 'Tis becoming to send greeting to the worthy; had I deemed you worthy, I should have sent it to you."

SIMO

What then?

BALLIO

Pay me the money, take away the woman.

SIMO

Which of us is delaying the matter?

BALLIO

Follow me in-doors then.

SIMO

I'm following. They go into BALLIO'S house.

PSEUDOLUS comes forward.

PSEUDOLUS

I' troth, a more artful fellow, and one more skilfully cunning, I never did see than is this same Simmia. Very much do I dread this man, and sadly do I fear that he may prove mischievous against myself just as he has been against him; lest in his prosperity he may now turn his horns against me, if he finds an opportunity. Should he prove mischievous towards me * * * * But, i' faith, for my part I hope not, for I wish well to him. Now in three ways am I in the greatest dread. First of all then, I dread this comrade of mine, lest he should forsake me and go over from me to the enemy. Next do I dread that my master should in the meantime return from the Forum; lest, the booty taken, the plunderers should be taken. Together with these things do I fear, lest that other Harpax should arrive here before this Harpax has departed hence with the woman. By my faith, I'm undone; they are very slow in coming out of doors. With baggage packed up, my heart is waiting, ready, if he doesn't bring out the damsel together with himself, to fly away in exile out from of my breast. * * * * *
The door of BALLIO'S house opens. I'm the conqueror — I've got the better of my wary guards.

Enter SIMMIA, from BALLIO'S house, leading PHÆNICIUM.

SIMO

to PHÆNICIUM. Don't weep: you know not how the matter is, Phœnicium; but before long I'll let you know it when you are resting. I'm not leading you to that Macedonian long-teethed fellow, who now causes you to be weeping. To him will I lead you, whose you especially long to be. I'll cause you before very long to be embracing Calidorus.

PSEUDOLUS

Prithee, why did you stay so long in-doors? For how long a time was my heart throbbing with beating against my breast.

SIMO

You have found reason, you whipping-post, with a vengeance to be making enquires of me * * * * * amid the ambush of the enemy.

Why don't we go home with all speed with military strides.

PSEUDOLUS

Now, by my troth, although you are a worthless fellow, you advise aright. March in triumphal procession, this way, straight in the path to the festive goblet. They march off in triumphal procession.

Enter BALLIO, from his house.

BALLIO

Ha, ha, ha! laughing. Now, at last, my mind is in a state of ease, since that fellow has departed hence, and taken away the woman. I should like Pseudolus now to come, that wicked rascal, to carry the woman off from me by his stratagems. I know for sure, right well, that I had rather in solemn form perjure myself a thousand times, than that he should cheat me by making a laughing-stock of me. By my troth now, I'll laugh at the fellow if I meet him. But I guess that he'll soon be on the treadmill, just as befits him. Now I wish for Simo that he would come in my way, in order that he might be joyful in common with my joy.

Enter SIMO.

SIMO

to himself. I'm going to see what business my Ulysses has transacted; whether he now has the statue from the Ballionian citadel.

BALLIO

O, lucky man! give me your lucky hand. Takes his hand.

SIMO

What's the matter?

BALLIO

Now.

SIMO

What now?

BALLIO

There's nothing at all for you to fear.

SIMO

What's the matter? Has that fellow Pseudolus come to you?

BALLIO

No.

SIMO

What good fortune is there, then?

BALLIO

Your twenty minæ are safe and sound which Pseudolus stipulated for from you this day.

SIMO

I' faith, I really do wish they were.

BALLIO

Ask of me twenty minæ if he this day gets hold of that woman, or gives her to your son this day, as he has promised. On my word, prithee, do demand them of me; I quite long to promise them. And, besides this, keep the woman as a present for yourself, that in every way you may know that your money's safe.

SIMO

There's no danger that I know of in making this bargain. According as you have solemnly pledged your word, will you give me twenty minæ?

BALLIO

They shall be given.

SIMO

This, indeed, is not so badly done. But have you met the fellow?

BALLIO

Aye, both of them together.

SIMO

What did he say? What did he talk about? Prithee, what did he mention to you?

BALLIO

Theatrical nonsense; expressions which, in comedies, are wont to be used to a procurer, which boys are acquainted with. He said that I was worthless, and wicked, and forsworn.

SIMO

I' faith, he told no lie.

BALLIO

'Twas for that reason I wasn't angry. For what matters it for you to speak uncivilly to him who cares not for it, and who don't deny the truth of what you say?

SIMO

Why is it that you are in no fear of him? That I'm longing to hear.

BALLIO

Because he never will carry the woman off now, nor is he able. Don't you yourself remember that I told you, some time since, that she had been sold to a Macedonian officer?

SIMO

I remember.

BALLIO

Well, his servant just now brought me the money, and the token with the impression, which had been arranged between himself and me.

SIMO

What then?

BALLIO

He took away with him the woman, not long since.

SIMO

Do you say this in real truth?

BALLIO

Whence could I possibly have that quality?

SIMO

Do you only take care that he hasn't been playing some trick there.

BALLIO

The letter and the impress on the seal make me sure. Indeed, 'twas but just now he took her off for Sicyon.

SIMO

Troth now, 'twas well done. Why do I delay to make Pseudolus give a name to a colony at the mill-stones? But who's this fellow in the scarf?

BALLIO

I don't know, i' faith; however, let's observe whither he's going, and what business he's upon. They stand on one side.

Enter HARPAX.

HARPAX

to himself. That slave's a base and worthless fellow, who values his master's commands at nought; and he, too, is good for nothing who is forgetful to do his duty unless he's put in mind. But those who forthwith deem themselves to be at liberty, when they have hidden themselves from the sight of their master, who riot, wench, devour what they have, — aye, what they have not, — long do those same endure the name of servitude. Nor is there any good disposition in them, except only that they may uphold themselves by their dishonest contrivances. With these, neither their company nor their conversation suits me, nor by these persons have I been ever known. Although he is away, I consider my master as being here; I fear him when he isn't here, that I may not have to fear him when he is here. Therefore, as I have been ordered, to this business will I give my attention. But that Syrus, to whom I gave the token, would have been letting me stay even yet in the shop. As he bade me, I stayed there; he said that he would send for me when the procurer was at home. But since he hasn't come, or called me while staying there, I'm come hither of my own accord, that I may know what is the fact, that that fellow mayn't be playing tricks with me. And there is nothing better than that I should knock at this door, and call some out here from indoors. I want this procurer to take this money of me, and to send off this woman with me. Goes towards BALLIO'S door.

BALLIO

from behind, to SIMO . Hark you!

SIMO

apart . What do you want?

BALLIO

apart . This fellow's my own. SIMO. apart . How so?

BALLIO

apart, pointing to the purse in the hand of HARPAX . Because that booty's mine. He's in search of a mistress he has got money. I already long to fix my teeth in him.

SIMO

apart . Are you going to devour him already?

BALLIO

apart . While he's fresh, while he's in the habit of giving away, while he's warm upon it, 'tis proper for him to be gobbled up. The good men keep me poor, the bad ones support me; the virtuous are a benefit to the public, the debauched to myself.

SIMO

aside . A mischief may the Gods send you; such a villain are you.

BALLIO

apart . Venus bestows upon me these blessings, when she drives hither these haters of money, these who quite long for losses, who carefully pamper themselves and their youthful age, eat, drink, and wench. Of quite different dispositions are they and you.

HARPAX

to himself . I'm now delaying myself, in not knocking at this door, that I may know whether or no Ballio is at home now. Calls out, going up to the door. Hallo! where are you? Hallo! where are you?

BALLIO

apart . Why, he's going straight up towards my house. I shall come off finely loaded with plunder from this fellow; I know it's a lucky omen for me.

HARPAX

knocking violently at the door . Does any one come to open this door?

BALLIO

calling out to him . Hallo! you in the scarf, what's owing you at that house?

HARPAX

I'm enquiring for Ballio, the procurer, the master of the house.

BALLIO

Whoever you are, young man, make short work of your enquiries.

HARPAX

Why so?

BALLIO

Because he himself in person sees you in his presence before him.

HARPAX

What, are you he?

SIMO

You in the scarf, take you care, please, of some crooked misfortune, and point your finger at him; this fellow is a procurer.

BALLIO

pointing to SIMO . And this is an honest man. To SIMO. But you, worthy fellow, are many a time being hunted after in the Forum with noise enough, when you haven't a groat in the world, unless this procurer here comes to help you a bit.

HARPAX

But why don't you address yourself to me?

BALLIO

I do address you. What is it you want?

HARPAX

You to take this money. He holds out the five minæ.

BALLIO

holding out his hand . Already have I extended my hand, if you are going to give it.

HARPAX

Take it; here are five picked minæ of silver counted out. Gives him the money. This did my master, Polymachæroplagides. order me to deliver to you, the sum which he was owing, and that you were to send Phœnicium with me.

BALLIO

Your master?

HARPAX

I say to that effect.

BALLIO

The Captain?

HARPAX

I speak to that effect.

BALLIO

The Macedonian?

HARPAX

Such is the fact, I say.

BALLIO

Polymachæroplagides sent you to me?

HARPAX

You say what's fact.

BALLIO

To give me this money?

HARPAX

If you really are the procurer Ballio.

BALLIO

And for you to take away the woman from me?

HARPAX

Even so.

BALLIO

Did he say that it was Phœnicium?

HARPAX

You remember it exactly.

BALLIO

Wait there; I'll return to you this instant.

HARPAX

Make haste, then, with all speed, for I'm in a hurry. 'Tis now late in the day, d'ye see?

BALLIO

I see; still I wish to call this person aside. Do you only wait there; I'll return to you this instant. He takes SIMO on one side. What's to be done now, Simo? What are we to do? I've detected this fellow that has brought the money in the fact.

SIMO

How so?

BALLIO

And don't you understand what this plan is?

SIMO

About as much as the most ignorant do.

BALLIO

Your servant, Pseudolus, has sent this fellow on the message, as though he was from the Macedonian Captain.

SIMO

Have you got the money from the fellow?

BALLIO

Do you ask about that which you see? Shows the purse in his hand.

SIMO

Harkye, remember to give me one half of that plunder. It's right that that should be in common.

BALLIO

Why, plague on't, 'tis all your own.

HARPAX

coming forward a step . How soon are you going to attend to me?

BALLIO

I'll attend to you, indeed. Aside. What now do you advise me to do, Simo?

SIMO

aside . Let's make some fun of this counterfeit spy, even until he himself shall be sensible that he is being made a fool of.

BALLIO

Follow me. To HARPAX. What have you to say? You are his servant, I suppose?

HARPAX

Most certainly.

BALLIO

At what price did he purchase you?

HARPAX

With the victory of his prowess in battle; for I was a very great general at home in my own country.

BALLIO

Why, did he ever capture a gaol in your country?

HARPAX

If you utter affronting speeches, you'll be hearing them.

BALLIO

In what time did you come from Sicyon hither?

HARPAX

In one day, by noon.

SIMO

Bravo! By my troth, you did come quickly; how very swift of foot this man is.

BALLIO

When you look at his calves, you might know that he can wear heavy fetters. How say you — were you also, when a child, in the habit of sleeping in a cradle?

SIMO

Of course.

BALLIO

And were you, too, in the habit of doing — you know what I mean?

SIMO

Of course he was in the habit of doing as other children did?

HARPAX

Are you men in your senses?

BALLIO

What, because I asked you that? At night, when the Captain was going on guard, and when you were going with him, did the sword of the officer fit your scabbard?

HARPAX

Go to utter perdition.

BALLIO

You, indeed, shall have the opportunity of going there in good time to-day.

HARPAX

But do you bring out the woman to me, or else give me back the money.

BALLIO

Wait a bit.

HARPAX

Why should I wait?

BALLIO

That scarf, tell me for how much it has been lent.

HARPAX

What matters it?

SIMO

How much is the sword hired for?

HARPAX

These fellows surely stand in need of hellebore.

BALLIO

How now — Takes hold of him. HAR. repulsing him . Leave me alone.

BALLIO

What wages does that broad-brimmed hat hire to-day for its owner?

HARPAX

What owner?

SIMO

What do the shoes? * * * * *

HARPAX

What are you dreaming about? Why, I'm the owner of all these things, bought with my own savings.

BALLIO

Those, you mean, which the upper part of your thighs supports.

HARPAX

aside . These old fellows have been anointed; they want themselves rubbed down, after the old-fashioned custom.

BALLIO

I' faith, prithee, answer me this truly and seriously, which I ask of you: What are you to earn? For how trifling a sum has Pseudolus hired you?

HARPAX

Who is this Pseudolus?

BAR.

Your tutor, who has instructed you in this knavery, to take away the woman hence from me by stratagem.

HARPAX

What Pseudolus, and what stratagem are you talking to me about? A person that I know of no colour, black or white.

BALLIO

Will you not be off from here? There's no profit here for swindlers to-day. Therefore you may tell Pseudolus that another person has carried off the prize-the first Harpax that came.

HARPAX

On my word, I really am that Harpax.

BALLIO

Aye, on my word, you want to be. This is nothing more nor less than a downright impostor.

HARPAX

I have given yourself the money, and a while ago, immediately on my arrival, the token to your servant; a letter sealed with the likeness of my master, here before the door.

BALLIO

You gave a letter to my servant? What servant?

HARPAX

To Syrus.

BALLIO

to SIMO . The wicked rogue has assurance enough. He hasn't contrived his knavish scheme amiss. By my faith, that whipping-post of a fellow, Pseudolus, how cleverly he has managed his plans; just as much money as the Captain owed, he has given this man, and has dressed out the fellow that he might take away the woman * * * * * * * To HARPAX. But the real Harpax himself brought that letter hither to me.

HARPAX

My name is Harpax; I am the servant of the Macedonian Captain.
I'm doing nothing roguishly or cheatingly, nor do I know or understand this Pseudolus, what mortal being he is.

SIMO

Unless it's something wonderful, procurer, you've clearly lost the woman.

BALLIO

Assuredly, by my troth, I'm in dread of that more and more, when I come to hear his words. I' faith, that Syrus, too, has already set my heart a-freezing, that received the token from him.

SIMO

'Tis a wonder if it isn't Pseudolus. To HARPAX. How now, you! of what appearance was the person to whom you delivered the token?

HARPAX

A certain red-haired fellow, pot-bellied, with thick calves, swarthy, with a big head, sharp eyes, red face, and very large feet.

BALLIO

You prove our undoing, when you mention the feet. It was Pseudolus himself. It's all up with me. I'm dying now, Simo.

HARPAX

By my troth, I shan't let you die, unless the money's returned me-twenty minæ.

SIMO

And another twenty minæ to me as well.

BALLIO

to SIMO . And is the sum to be taken of me that I promised by way of a joke?

SIMO

From unprincipled men it's proper for both their money and their plunder to be taken.

BALLIO

At least you might give up Pseudolus to me.

SIMO

I, give up Pseudolus to you? What has he done amiss? Did I not tell you a hundred times that you were to beware of him?

BALLIO

He has ruined me.

SIMO

And on me he has laid a fine of twenty fair minæ.

BALLIO

What am I to do then?

HARPAX

When you have given me the money — go hang yourself.

BALLIO

The Gods confound you. To HARPAX. Follow me, then, this way, please, to the Forum, that I may pay you.

HARPAX

I follow you.

SIMO

What am I to do?

BALLIO

Strangers I'll pay at once; to-morrow I'll settle with fellow-citizens.

Pseudolus has been holding a council general against my life, in sending that fellow to me to-day to carry off the woman. To HARPAX. Do you follow me, To the AUDIENCE. Now don't you be expecting that I shall be returning home this way. As matters stand, I've determined to go through the alleys.

HARPAX

If you had walked at the rate you talk, you'd by this have been at the Forum.

BALLIO

I'm determined to make this, instead of my birthday, my dying day. (Exit BALLIO, HARPAX following.)

SIMO, alone

SIMO

I've touched this fellow handsomely, and cleverly has my servant managed his adversary. Now am I resolved to lie in ambush for Pseudolus in a different manner to what's done in other plays, where people lie in wait with goads or whips. Without revenge will I at once pay down the twenty minæ which I promised if he should effect it. I'll carry them to him of my own accord. This creature is very clever, very cunning, very artful. Pseudolus has surpassed the Trojan stratagem and Ulysses too. Now I'll be off in-doors. I'll take out the money; I'll lie in ambush for Pseudolus. Goes into his house.

ACT V.

Enter PSEUDOLUS, drunk, with a chaplet on his head.

PSEUDOLUS

staggering . How's this? And is it the fact? Feet-are you standing or not? Or is it this you want, some; one to pick me up here as I lie? But, by my faith, if I do fall down, yours will be the fault. Are you going to go? Heigho! I must wait upon myself. This is the great fault in wine; it first lays hold of the feet; 'tis a cunning wrestler. By my faith, assuredly am I now come off right well drenched; with such exquisite viands, with such becoming elegance, in such a delightful place, have we been delightfully entertained. What's the need for me to make much prosing? This is the thing for a man, an object for him to pass his life for; here are all pleasures and all delights. I think that the ecstasy is equal to that of the Deities, when the lover embraces his mistress, when he places lip to lip, when melting kisses are exchanged, when breast is pressed to breast, or else, if they please, they are locked in strict embrace; then for your most loving mistress, with her white hand, to be pledging you in the luscious goblet, for no one there to be disagreeable to another, for no one to be indulging in silly conversation; for unguents and perfumes, ribbons and festive wreaths, to be provided in profusion; and for the rest of the entertainment, too, to be provided in no niggardly style. That no one may have to question me then, in this manner have myself and my young master been spending this day in jollity. After I had fulfilled all my task just as I intended, the enemy put to flight, I was leaving them reclining and drinking, each lover with his mistress, and my own mistress there as well, indulging heart and soul. But after I had risen, they begged me to dance. After this fashion he dances did I show myself off there quite charmingly, in a master-like style, to wit; for I am thoroughly acquainted with the Ionian step. Thus, clad in my little mantle, full of fun, I was stepping about, this way. Some of them clapped me, others cried out for me to dance again. In that same Ionian fashion once again did I begin to take a turn; I presented myself to my mistress, that she might caress me; as I was pirouetting, down I tumbled: that was the funeral dirge for my sport. And so, while I was a-struggling to get up, near ———, almost, I mean, I soiled my mantle. Then, by my troth, I was the cause of plenteous mirth. A goblet was presented me on account of my fall. Forthwith I changed my mantle, and put on this; thence have I come hither, that I might get rid of my surfeit. Now I'm going to my old master, to put him in mind of our bargain. Open-open the door. Hallo, there! Tell Simo, somebody, that I'm here. Knocks at the door of SIMO'S house.

Enter SIMO, from his house.

SIMO

The voice of a rascally fellow is calling me out of doors. He stares at PSEUDOLUS. But what's this? How's this? What is it I see in this guise?

PSEUDOLUS

staggering towards him. Your own Pseudolus, drunk, with a chaplet on.

SIMO

to himself. By my troth, this is free and easy indeed. But see his attitude; is he on my account a bit the more afraid? I'm thinking whether I shall address him harshly or kindly. But this pointing to a purse in his hand that I'm carrying forbids me to use rough measures towards him just now; if there's any hope for me, centred in this.

PSEUDOLUS

staggering up to SIMO. A worthless fellow is coming to meet the best of men.

SIMO

May the Gods bless you, Pseudolus. PSEUDOLUS eructates. Foh! go to utter perdition. Pushes him away.

PSEUDOLUS

But why should I have that mischance befall me?

SIMO

Why, the plague, in your drunkenness, are you eructating in my face?

PSEUDOLUS

Hold me up, steadily; take care that I don't fall. Don't you see me, how drenched and soaking I am?

SIMO

What impudence is this, for you to be going about this way in broad daylight, drunk, with a chaplet on?

PSEUDOLUS

Such is my pleasure. Eructates again. SIMO. Why your pleasure? Do you persist in eructating in my very face?

PSEUDOLUS

An eructation is comforting to me; do indulge me in it; do but stand off.

SIMO

For my part I really do believe, you villain, that you are able in a single hour to drink up four right plentiful vintages of the Massic hills.

PSEUDOLUS

A winter hour, add.

SIMO

You don't remind me amiss. But tell me, however, whence I am to say that you are bringing your deeply-laden bark?

PSEUDOLUS

I've just been having a thorough bout with your son. That damsel is the cause of this; along with your son she is carousing, a free woman.

SIMO

You are a most worthless fellow.

PSEUDOLUS

But, Simo, wasn't Ballio nicely diddled? How well I carried what I told you into effect.

SIMO

I know everything in its order, just as you managed each particular.

PSEUDOLUS

Why, then, do you hesitate to pay me the money?

SIMO

You ask what's just, I confess; take it. Gives him the money.

PSEUDOLUS

But you declared that you wouldn't give it me; and still do you give it.

SIMO

Are you laughing at me? What? Are you going to take this from your master, Pseudolus?

PSEUDOLUS

With most willing heart and soul.

SIMO

Prithee, can't you venture to make me an abatement of some portion of this money?

PSEUDOLUS

No: you shall say that I really am a greedy fellow; for you shall never be richer by a single coin of this money.

SIMO

Well, I really didn't suppose that it would ever come to pass with me that I should be begging of you.

PSEUDOLUS

Load your shoulder with it, and follow me this way. Pointing.

SIMO

I — load myself with that?

PSEUDOLUS

You will load yourself, I'm sure.

SIMO

What am I to do to this fellow? Doesn't he, contrary to my expectation, take my money, and then laugh at me?

PSEUDOLUS

Woe to the conquered: turn your back, then. Turns him round.

SIMO

Oh! oh! desist. Let me alone — I'm in pain.

PSEUDOLUS

Were you not in pain, I should be in pain; and no compassion would you have had for my back, if I hadn't this day managed this.

SIMO

There will be an opportunity for me to be revenged on you, if I live.

PSEUDOLUS

Why do you threaten? I've got a back of my own.

SIMO

Very well, then. Moves as if going. PSEUD. Come you back then.

SIMO

Why come back?

PSEUDOLUS

Only come you back; you shall not be deceived.

SIMO

turns round. I am come back. PSEUD. Come and have a drink with me.

SIMO

What — I, come?

PSEUDOLUS

Do as I ask you. If you do come, I'll let you take half of this, or even more. Points to the purse in his hand.

SIMO

I'll come; take me where you like, Pseudolus.

PSEUDOLUS

How now then? Are you at all angry with me or with your son, Simo, on account of these matters?

SIMO

Certainly, not at all.

PSEUDOLUS

going . Step this way now.

SIMO

I follow you. But why don't you invite the Spectators as well?

PSEUDOLUS

turning round . I' faith, they are not in the habit of inviting me; and, therefore, I don't invite them. But if you addressing the AUDIENCE are willing to applaud and approve of this company of players, and this Comedy, I invite you for to-morrow.

RUDENS

Translated by Henry Thomas Riley

Rudens, which translates from Latin as ‘The Rope’, tells the story of Palaestra, who is stolen from her parents by pirates, and reunited with her father, Daemones, ironically, by means of her pimp, Labrax. The story is, however, far more complex; in particular, humour is derived from the interactions between slaves and masters, and the changes in friendships throughout. The play is set in Cyrene, in northern Africa, although the characters come from a range of cities around the Mediterranean, most notably, Athens.

THE SUBJECT

DÆMONES, an aged Athenian, having lost his property, goes to live in retirement near the sea-shore of Cyrene, in the vicinity of the Temple of Venus. It so happens that Labrax, a Procurer, makes purchase of two damsels, Palæstra and Ampelisca, and comes to reside at Cyrene. Plesidippus, a young Athenian, sees Palæstra there, and falls in love with her; and making an arrangement with the Procurer, gives him a sum in part payment for her, on which occasion, Labrax invites him to a sacrifice in the Temple of Venus. A Sicilian guest of his, however, named Charmides, persuades him to carry the young women over to Sicily, where he is sure to make a greater profit by them. On this, the Procurer, accompanied by his guest, sets sail with them. A tempest arises, and they are shipwrecked. The young women escape in a boat, and arriving ashore, are hospitably received by the Priestess of Venus. Labrax and Charmides also escape, and on discovering where the women are, the former attempts to drag them by force from the Temple. On this they are protected by Dæmones and Plesidippus, who, through Trachalio, finds out where they are. In the wreck a wallet has been lost, which belongs to Labrax, and in which is a casket enclosing some trinkets belonging to Palæstra. Gripus, a servant of Dæmones, draws this up with the rope attached to his net; and by means of these trinkets it is discovered that Palæstra is the daughter of Dæmones, whom he had lost in her infancy; on which she is given in marriage to Plesidippus by her father, who becomes reconciled to Labrax.

THE ACROSTIC ARGUMENT.

A FISHERMAN draws a wallet out of the sea in his net (Reti), in which (Ubi) are the trinkets of his master's daughter, who, having been stolen, had come into the possession of a Procurer as her owner (Dominum). She (Ea), having suffered shipwreck (Naufragio), without knowing it comes under the protection of her own father; she is recognized, and is married to her (Suo) lover Plesidippus. ARCTURUS

WITH him who sways all nations, seas, and lands, I am a fellow-citizen in the realms of the Gods. I am, as you see, a bright and shining star, a Constellation that ever in its season rises here on earth and in the heavens. Arcturus is my name. By night, I am glittering in the heavens and amid the Gods, passing among mortals in the day. Other Constellations, too, descend from the heavens upon the earth; Jove, who is the ruler of Gods and men — he disperses us here in various directions among the nations, to observe the actions, manners, piety, and faith of men, just as the means of each avail him. Those who commence villanous suits at law upon false testimony, and those who, in court, upon false oath deny a debt, their names written down, do we return to Jove. Each day does he learn who here is calling for vengeance. Whatever wicked men seek here to gain their cause through perjury, who succeed before the judge in their unjust demands, the same case adjudged does he judge over again, and he fines them in a penalty much greater than the results of the judgment they have gained. The good men written down on other tablets does he keep. And still these wicked persons entertain a notion of theirs, that they are able to appease Jupiter with gifts, with sacrifice; both their labour and their cost they lose. This, for this reason, is so, because no petition of the perjured is acceptable to Him. If any person that is supplicating the Deities is pious, he will more easily procure pardon for himself than he that is wicked. Therefore I do advise you this, you who are good and who pass your lives in piety and in virtue — still persevere, that one day you may rejoice that so you did. Now, the reason for which I've come hither, I will disclose to you. First, then, Diphilus has willed the name of this city to be Cyrene. There pointing to the cottage dwells Dæmones, in the country and in a cottage very close adjoining to the sea, an old gentleman who has come hither in exile from Athens, no unworthy man. And still, not for his bad deserts has he left his country, but while he was aiding others, meanwhile himself he embarrassed: a property honorably acquired he lost by his kindly ways. Long since, his daughter, then a little child, was lost; a most villanous fellow bought her of the thief, and this Procurer brought the maiden hither to Cyrene. A certain Athenian youth, a citizen of this city, beheld her as she was going home from the music-school. He begins to love her; to the Procurer he comes; he purchases the damsel for himself at the price of thirty minæ, and gives him earnest, and binds the Procurer with an oath. This Procurer, just as befitted him, did not value at one straw his word, or what, on oath, he had said to the young man. He had a guest, a fit match for himself, an old man of Sicily, a rascal from Agrigentum, a traitor to his native city; this fellow began to extol the beauty of that maiden, and of the other damsels, too, that were belonging to him. On this he began to persuade the Procurer to go together with himself to Sicily; he said that there the men were given to pleasure; that there he might be enabled to become a wealthy man; that there was the greatest profit from courtesans. He prevails. A ship is hired by stealth. Whatever he has, by night the Procurer carries it on board ship from his house; the young man who purchased the damsel of him he has told that he is desirous of performing a vow to Venus. This is the Temple of Venus, here pointing at it, and here, for that reason, has he invited the youth hither to a breakfast. From there at once did he embark on board ship, and he carried off the courtesans. Some other persons informed the young man what things were going on, how that the Procurer had departed. When the young man came to the harbour, their ship had got a great way out to sea. When I beheld how that the maiden was being carried off, I brought at the same instant both relief to her and destruction to the Procurer; the storm I rebuked, and the waves of the sea I aroused. For the most violent Constellation of them all am I, Arcturus; turbulent I am when rising, when I set, more turbulent still. Now, cast ashore there, both the Procurer and his guest are sitting upon a rock; their ship is dashed to pieces. But this maiden, and another as well, her attendant, affrighted, have leaped from the ship into a boat. At this moment the waves are bringing them from the rocks to land, to the cottage of this old man, who is living here in exile, whose roof and tiles the storm has stript off. And this is his servant who is coming out of doors. The youth will be here just now, and you shall see him, who purchased the maiden of the Procurer. Now, fare ye well, and may your foes distrust themselves. (Exit.)

ACT I.

Enter SCEPARNIO, with a spade on his shoulder.

SCEPARNIO

to himself. O ye immortal Gods, what a dreadful tempest has Neptune sent us this last night! The storm has unroofed the cottage. What need of words is there? It was no storm, but what Alcmena met with in Euripides; it has so knocked all the tiles from off the roof; more light has it given us, and has added to our windows.

Enter PLESIDIPPUS, at a distance, talking with three CITIZENS.

PLESIDIPPUS

I have both withdrawn you from your avocations, and that has not succeeded on account of which I've brought you; I could not catch the Procurer down at the harbour. But I have been unwilling to abandon all hope by reason of my remissness; on that account, my friends, have I the longer detained you. Now hither to the Temple of Venus am I come to see, where he was saying that he was about to perform a sacrifice.

SCEPARNIO

aloud to himself, at a distance. If I am wise, I shall be getting ready this clay that is awaiting me. Falls to work digging.

PLESIDIPPUS

looking round. Some one, I know not who, is speaking near to me. Enter DÆMONES, from his house.

DÆM.

Hallo! Sceparnio!

SCEPARNIO

Who's calling me by name?

DÆM.

He who paid his money for you.

SCEPARNIO

turning round . As though you would say, Dæmones, that I am your slave.

DÆM.

There's occasion for plenty of clay, therefore dig up plenty of earth. I find that the whole of my cottage must be covered; for now it's shining through it, more full of holes than a sieve.

PLESIDIPPUS

advancing . Health to you, good father, and to both of you, indeed.

DÆM. Health to you.

SCEPARNIO

to PLESIDIPPUS, who is muffled up in a coat . But whether are you male or female, who are calling him father?

PLESIDIPPUS

Why really, I'm a man.

DÆM.

Then, man, go seek a father elsewhere. I once had an only daughter, that only one I lost. Of the male sex I never had a child.

PLESIDIPPUS

But the Gods will give ——

SCEPARNIO

going on digging . A heavy mischance to you indeed, i' faith, whoever you are, who are occupying us, already occupied, with your prating.

PLESIDIPPUS

pointing to the cottage . Pray are you dwelling there?

SCEPARNIO

Why do you ask that? Are you reconnoitring the place for you to come and rob there?

PLESIDIPPUS

It befits a slave to be right rich in his savings, whom, in the presence of his master, the conversation cannot escape, or who is to speak rudely to a free man.

SCEPARNIO

And it befits a man to be shameless and impudent, for him to whom there's nothing owing, of his own accord to come to the house of another person annoying people.

DÆM.

Sceparnio, hold your tongue. To PLESIDIPPUS. What do you want, young man?

PLESIDIPPUS

A mishap to that fellow, who is in a hurry to be the first to speak when his master's present. But, unless it's troublesome, I wish to make enquiry of you in a few words.

DÆM.

My attention shall be given you, even though in the midst of business.

SCEPARNIO

to PLESIDIPPUS. Rather, be off with you to the marsh, and cut down some reeds, with which we may cover the cottage, while it is fine weather.

DÆM.

Hold your tongue. Do you tell me to PLESIDIPPUS if you have need of anything.

PLESIDIPPUS

Inform me on what I ask you; whether you have seen here any frizzle-headed fellow, with grey hair, a worthless, perjured, fawning knave.

DÆM.

Full many a one; for by reason of fellows of that stamp am I living in misery.

PLESIDIPPUS

Him, I mean, who brought with him to the Temple of Venus here two young women, and who was to make preparations for himself to perform a sacrifice either to-day or yesterday.

DÆM.

By my faith, young man, for these very many days past I haven't seen any one sacrificing there; and yet it can't be unknown to me if any one does sacrifice there. They are always asking here for water, or for fire, or for vessels, or for a knife, or for a spit, or for a pot for cooking, or something or other. What need is there of words? I procured my vessels and my well, for the use of Venus, and not my own. There has now been a cessation of it for these many days past.

PLESIDIPPUS

According to the words you utter, you tell me I'm undone.

DÆM.

Really, so far as I'm concerned, i' faith, you may be safe and sound.

SCEPARNIO

stopping in his digging . Hark you, you that are roaming about Temples for the sake of your stomach, 'twere better for you to order a breakfast to be got ready at home. Perhaps you've been invited here to breakfast. He that invited you, hasn't he come at all?

PLESIDIPPUS

'Tis the fact.

SCEPARNIO

There's no risk then in your betaking yourself hence home without your breakfast. It's better for you to be a waiter upon Ceres than upon Venus; the latter attends to love, Ceres attends to wheat.

PLESIDIPPUS

to DÆMONES . This fellow has been making sport of me in a digraceful manner.

DÆM.

looking out at the side . O ye immortal Gods, Sceparnio, what means those people near the sea-shore?

SCEPARNIO

According to my notion, they've been invited to a parting breakfast.

DÆM.

How so?

SCEPARNIO

Why, because, after dinner, I fancy, they yesterday washed themselves clean; their ship has gone to pieces out at sea.

DÆM.

looking steadfastly . Such is the fact.

SCEPARNIO

But, i' faith, on dry land our cottage and tiles have done the same.

DÆM.

Oh dear! what unfortunate creatures you are; to SCEPARNIO how the shipwrecked people are swimming.

PLESIDIPPUS

Prithee, where are these people?

DÆM.

pointing to the distance . This way, to the right; don't you see them near the shore?

PLESIDIPPUS

looking the same way . I see them; to his FRIENDS follow me. I only wish it may be he that I'm seeking, that most accursed fellow. To DÆMONES and SCEPARNIO. Fare you well.

SCEPARNIO

If you hadn't put us in mind, we should have thought of that ourselves. (Exeunt PLESIDIPPUS and FRIENDS. SCEPARNIO looks out towards the sea.) . But, O Palæmon, hallowed associate of Neptune, who art said to be the partner of Hercules, what shocking thing do I see?

DÆM.

What do you see?

SCEPARNIO

I see two young women sitting in a boat alone. How the poor things are being tossed about That's good, that's good, well done. The surge is driving the boat away from the rock towards the shore. Not a pilot could have ever done it better. I don't think that I ever saw billows more huge. They are saved, if they can escape those waves. Now, now's the danger; it has sent one overboard! See you that one whom the waves have thrown out of the boat? Still, she's in a shallow place; she'll easily wade through it now. O capital! now she's safe; she has escaped from the water; she's now on shore. But that other one has now sprung towards the land from the boat — from her alarm she has fallen into the waves upon her knees. She has got up again; if she takes this direction, the matter's safe; a pause but she has taken to the right, to utter destruction. Ah, she will be wandering all the day ——

DÆM.

What signifies that to you?

SCEPARNIO

If she should fall down from that rock towards which she is wending her way, she'll be putting a period to her wandering.

DÆM.

If you are about to dine this evening at their expense, I think you may then be concerned for them, Sceparnio; if you are going to eat at my house, I wish your services to be devoted to myself.

SCEPARNIO

You ask what's good and proper.

DÆM.

Then follow me this way.

SCEPARNIO

I follow. (Exeunt.)

Enter PALÆSTRA, at a distance, with her clothes torn and drenched.

PALÆSTRA

to herself. By heavens, the mishaps of mortals are spoken of as much less bitter than * * * * * the sharp pangs that are inflicted in the experience of them * * * * Has this then pleased the Deity, that I, clad in this guise, should, in my terror, be cast upon a spot unknown? Shall I then declare that I have been born to this wretched lot? Do I receive this meed in return for my exemplary piety? For to me it would not prove a hardship to endure this laborious lot, if I had conducted myself undutifully towards my parents or the Gods; but if studiously I have exerted myself to beware of that, then, unduly and unjustly, Deities, you send upon me this. For what henceforth shall the glaringly impious receive, if after this fashion you pay honor to the guiltless? But if I knew that I or my parents had done anything wicked, now should I have grieved the less. But the wickedness of this master of mine is pressing hard upon me, his impiety is causing my woes; everything has he lost in the sea; these are the remains looking at her dress of his property. Even she, who was carried together with me in the boat, was washed out by the violence of the waves; I am now alone. If she at least had been saved for me, through her aid my affliction here would have been lighter to me. Now, what hope or aid or what counsel shall I receive, a spot so lonesome here have I lighted upon alone? Here are the rocks, here roars the sea, and not one individual comes across my path. This dress that I am clothed in forms all my riches quite entirely; nor know I with what food or roof I am to be provided. What hope have I through which to desire to live? Neither am I acquainted with the place, nor was I ever here before. At least I could have wished for some one who would point out to me either a road or a path from these spots; so much am I now at a loss for advice whether to go this way or that; neither, indeed, do I see anywhere near here a cultivated spot. Cold, distraction, and alarm, have taken possession of all my limbs. My parents, you know not of this, that I am now thus wretched; I that was born a woman entirely free, was so to no purpose. Am I at all the less in servitude now, than if I had been born a slave? And never in any way has it been a profit to those who for their own sakes reared me up. She advances forward, and rests on one side against the cliff.

Enter AMPELISCA, at a distance, on the other side of the stage, in a similar condition.

AMPELISCA

to herself. What is there better for me, what more to my advantage, than to shut out life from my body? So wretched am I in my existence, and so many deadening cares are there in my breast; so despicable is my lot; I care not for my life; I have lost the hope with which I used to comfort myself. All places have I now rambled about, and through each covert spot have I crawled along, to seek my fellow-slave with voice, eyes, ears, that I might trace her out. And still I find her nowhere, nor have I yet determined whither to go, nor where to seek her, nor, in the meantime, do I find any person here to give me an answer, of whom I might make enquiry. No place, too, is there on earth more solitary than are these spots and this locality. And yet, if she lives, never while I exist will I cease before I discover her alive.

PALAESTRA

aloud. Whose voice is it that sounds close by me here?

AMPELISCA

starting . I am alarmed. Who's speaking near me?

PALAESTRA

Prithee, kind Hope, do come to my aid.

AMPELISCA

It's a woman: a woman's voice reaches my ears. Will you not rescue wretched me from this alarm?

PALAESTRA

Surely a woman's voice reached my ears. Prithee is it Ampelisca?

AMPELISCA

Is it you, Palæstra, that I hear?

PALAESTRA

But why don't I call her by her own name, that she may hear me?
With a loud voice. Ampelisca!

AMPELISCA

Ha! who's that?

PALAESTRA

'Tis I.

AMPELISCA

Is it Palæstra?

PALAESTRA

It is.

AMPELISCA

Tell me where you are.

PALAESTRA

Troth, I'm now in the midst of a multitude of woes.

AMPELISCA

I am your partner; and no less is my own share than yours. But I long to see you.

PALAESTRA

In that wish you are my rival.

AMPELISCA

Let's follow our voices with our steps; where are you?

PALAESTRA

See, here am I. Step onward towards me, and come straight on to meet me.

AMPELISCA

I'm doing so with care. They meet in front of the stage.

PALAESTRA

Give me your hand.

AMPELISCA

Take it.

PALAESTRA

Are you still alive Prithee, tell me.

AMPELISCA

You, indeed, make me now wish to live, since I'm empowered to touch you. How hardly can I persuade myself of this, that I am holding you. Prithee, do embrace me they embrace, my only hope; how you are now easing me of all my woes.

PAL. You are beforehand with me in using expressions which belong to me. Now it befits us to be going hence.

AMPELISCA

Prithee, whither shall we go?

PALAESTRA

Let's keep along this sea-shore. Pointing to the shore. AMP.
Wherever you please, I'll follow.

PALAESTRA

Shall we go along thus with our wet clothing?

AMPELISCA

That which exists, the same must of necessity be borne. Looking up at the Temple. But, pray, what's this?

PALAESTRA

What is it?

AMPELISCA

Prithce, don't you see this Temple? Pointing towards it.

PALAESTRA

Where is it?

AMPELISCA

On the right hand.

PALAESTRA

I seem to be looking at a place becoming the Divinities.

AMPELISCA

There must be people not far hence; it is so delightful a spot.
Whoever the God is, I pray him to relieve us from these troubles, and to succour us females, wretched, helpless, and in distress. They advance towards the Temple, and kneel down before it.

Enter PTOLEMOCRATIA, the Priestess, from the Temple of Venus.

PTOLEMOCRATIA

Who are these, that in their prayers are soliciting aid from my Patroness? For the voice of suppliants has brought me hither out of doors. They pay suit to a kind and compliant Goddess and a Patroness that makes no difficulties, and one who is very benevolent.

PALAESTRA

Mother, we bid you hail.

PTOLEMOCRATIA

Maidens, hail to you. But, prithee, whence am I to say that you are hither come with your wet garments, thus wofully arrayed?

PALAESTRA

Just now, we came from a place there pointing towards the shore , not a great way from this spot; but it is a great way off from here, whence we have been brought hither.

PTOLEMOCRATIA

Have you been borne, do you mean, by a ship, the wooden steed, over the azure paths?

PALAESTRA

Even so.

PTOLEMOCRATIA

Then it were more fitting that you should have come arrayed in white and provided with victims; it isn't the practice for people to come to this Temple in that fashion. Pointing at their dresses.

PALAESTRA

Prithee, whence would you have us, who have been both cast away at sea, to be bringing victims hither? Now, in want of assistance, do we embrace your knees, we who are of hopes undefined in places unknown, that you may receive us under your roof and shelter us, and that you will pity the miseries of us both, who have neither any place of refuge nor hope at hand, nor have anything whatever of our own beyond that which you see.

PTOLEMOCRATIA

Give me your hands, arise, both of you, from off your knees; no one among women is more compassionate than I. They arise from the ground. But, maidens, my circumstances are poor and limited; with difficulty I support my own existence; Venus I serve for my maintenance.

AMPELISCA

Prithee, is this a Temple of Venus?

PTOLEMOCRATIA

I will admit it; I am styled the Priestess of this Temple. But whatever it is, it shall be done by me with a hearty welcome, so far as my means shall suffice. Come with me this way.

PALAESTRA

Kindly and attentively, mother, do you show your attentions to us.

PTOLEMOCRATIA

So I ought to do. They go into the Temple.

ACT II.

Enter some FISHERMEN, with lines and nets.

A FISHERMAN.

Persons who are poor live wretchedly in every way, especially those who have no calling and have learned no art. Of necessity must that be deemed enough, whatever they have at home. From our garb, then, you pretty well understand how wealthy we are. These hooks and these rods here are as good to us as a calling and as our clothing. Each day from the city do we come out hither to the sea to seek for forage. Instead of exertion in the wrestling-school and the place for exercise, we have this: sea-urchins, rock-mussels, oysters, limpets, cockles, sea-nettles, sea-mussels and spotted crabs, we catch. After that, we commence our fishing with the hook and among the rocks, and thus we take our food from out of the sea. If success does not befall us, and not any fish is taken, soaked in salt water and thoroughly drenched, we quietly betake ourselves home, and without dinner go to sleep. And since the sea is now in waves so boisterous, no hopes have we; unless we take some cockles, without a doubt we've had our dinners. Now let's adore good Venus here, that she may kindly befriend us to-day. They advance towards the door of the Temple.

Enter TRACHALIO, at a distance, in haste.

TRACHALIO

to himself. I've carefully given all attention that I mightn't pass my master anywhere; for when some time since he went out of the house, he said that he was going to the harbour, and he ordered me to come here to meet him at the Temple of Venus. But see, opportunely do I espy some people standing here of whom I may enquire; I'll accost them. Goes up to the FISHERMEN. Save you, thieves of the sea, shellfish-gatherers and hook-fishers, hungry race of men, how fare ye? How perish apace?

FISHERMEN of Cyrene.

Just as befits a fisherman with hunger, thirst, and expectation.

TRACHALIO

Have you seen to-day, while you've been standing here, any young man, of courageous aspect, ruddy, stout, of genteel appearance, come by this way, who was taking with him three men in scarfs, with swords?

FISHERMEN of Cyrene.

We know of no one coming this way of that appearance which you mention.

TRACHALIO

Have you seen any old fellow, bald on the forehead and snub-nosed, of big stature, pot-bellied, with eyebrows awry, a narrow forehead, a knave, the scorn of Gods and men, a scoundrel, one full of vile dishonesty and of iniquity, who had along with him two very pretty-looking young women?

FISHERMEN of Cyrene.

One who has been born with qualities and endowments of that sort, 'twere really fitter for him to resort to the executioner than to the Temple of Venus.

TRACHALIO

But tell me if you have seen him.

FISHERMEN of Cyrene.

Really, no one has passed this way. Fare you well.

TRACHALIO

Fare ye well. (Exeunt FISHERMEN.)

TRACHALIO

to himself. I thought so; it has come to pass as I suspected; my master has been deceived; the cursed Procurer has taken himself off to distant lands. He has embarked on board ship, and carried the women away; I'm a wizard. He invited my master here to breakfast, as well, this very spawn of wickedness. Now what is better for me than to wait here in this spot until my master comes? At the same time, if this Priestess of Venus knows anything more, if I see her, I'll make enquiries; she'll give me the information.

Enter AMPELISCA, from the Temple.

AMPELISCA

to the PRIESTESS, within . I understand; here at this cottage pointing to it , which is close by the Temple of Venus, you've requested me to knock and ask for water.

TRACHALIO

Whose voice is it that has flown to my ears?

AMPELISCA

Prithce, who's speaking here? Who is it that I see?

TRACHALIO

Isn't this Ampelisca that's coming out from the Temple?

AMPELISCA

Isn't this Trachalio that I see, the servant of Plesidippus?

TRACHALIO

It is she.

AMPELISCA

It is he; Trachalio, health to you.

TRACHALIO

Health, Ampelisca, to you; how fare you?

AMPELISCA

In misery I pass a life not far advanced.

TRACHALIO

Do give some better omen.

AMPELISCA

Still it behoves all prudent persons to confer and talk together. But, prithee, where's your master, Plesidippus?

TRACHALIO

Marry, well said, indeed; as if he wasn't within there. Pointing to the Temple.

AMPELISCA

By my troth, he isn't, nor, in fact, has he come here at all.

TRACHALIO

He hasn't come?

AMPELISCA

You say the truth.

TRACHALIO

That's not my way, Ampelisca. But how nearly is the breakfast got ready?

AMPELISCA

What breakfast, I beg of you?

TRACHALIO

The sacrifice, I mean, that you are performing here.

AMPELISCA

Prithee, what is it you are dreaming about?

TRACHALIO

For certain, Labrax invited Plesidippus hither to a breakfast, your master, my master.

AMPELISCA

By my troth, you're telling of no wondrous facts: if he has deceived Gods and men, he has only acted after the fashion of Procurers.

TRACHALIO

Then neither yourselves nor my master are here performing a sacrifice.

AMPELISCA

You are a wizard.

TRACHALIO

What are you doing then?

AMPELISCA

The Priestess of Venus has received here into her abode both myself and Palæstra, after many mishaps and dreadful alarm, and from being in danger of our lives, destitute of aid and of resources.

TEACH.

Prithee, is Palæstra here, the beloved of my master?

AMPELISCA

Assuredly.

TRACHALIO

Great joyousness is there in your news, my dear Ampelisca. But I greatly long to know what was this danger of yours.

AMPELISCA

Last night our ship was wrecked, my dear Trachalio.

TRACHALIO

How, ship? What story's this?

AMPELISCA

Prithee, have you not heard in what way the Procurer intended secretly to carry us away hence to Sicily, and how, whatever there was at home, he placed on board ship? That has all gone to the bottom now.

TRACHALIO

O clever Neptune, hail to thee! Surely, no dicer is more skilful than thyself. Decidedly a right pleasant throw hast thou made; thou didst break a-villain. But where now is the Procurer Labrax?

AMPELISCA

Perished through drinking, I suppose; Neptune last night invited him to deep potatoes.

TRACHALIO

By my troth, I fancy it was given him to drink by way of cup of necessity. How much I do love you, my dear Ampelisca; how pleasing you are; what honied words you do utter. But you and Palæstra, in what way were you saved?

AMPELISCA

I'll let you know. Both in affright, we leapt from the ship into a boat, because we saw that the ship was being borne upon a rock; in haste, I unloosed the rope, while they were in dismay. The storm separated us from them with the boat in a direction to the right. And so, tossed about by winds and waves, in a multitude of ways, we, wretched creatures, during the livelong night * * * * * half dead, the wind this day has scarce borne us to the shore.

TRACHALIO

I understand; thus is Neptune wont to do; he is a very dainty Ædile; if any wares are bad, over he throws them all.

AMPELISCA

Woe to your head and life!

TRACHALIO

To your own, my dear Ampelisca. I was sure that the Procurer would do that which he has done; I often said so. It were better I should let my hair grow, and set up for a soothsayer.

AMPELISCA

Did you not take care then, you and your master, that he shouldn't go away, when you knew this?

TRACHALIO

What could he do?

AMPELISCA

If he was in love, do you ask what he could do? Both night and day he should have kept watch; he should have been always on his guard. But, by my troth, he has done like many others; thus finely has Plesidippus taken care of her.

TRACHALIO

For what reason do you say that?

AMPELISCA

The thing is evident.

TEACH.

Don't you know this? Even he who goes to the bath to bathe, while there he carefully keeps an eye upon his garments, still they are stolen; inasmuch as some one of those that he is watching is a rogue; the thief easily marks him for whom he's upon the watch; the keeper knows not which one is the thief. But bring me to her; where is she?

AMPELISCA

Well then, go here into the Temple of Venus; you'll find her sitting there, and in tears.

TRACHALIO

How disagreeable is that to me already. But why is she weeping?

AMPELISCA

I'll tell you; she's afflicting herself in mind for this; because the Procurer took away a casket from her which she had, and in which she kept that by which she might be enabled to recognize her parents; she fears that this has been lost.

TRACHALIO

Where was that little casket, pray?

AMPELISCA

There, on board the ship; he himself locked it up in his wallet, that there mightn't be the means by which she might recognize her parents.

TRACHALIO

O scandalous deed! to require her to be a slave, who ought to be a free woman.

AMPELISCA

Therefore she now laments that it has gone to the bottom along with the ship. There, too, was all the gold and silver of the Procurer.

TRACHALIO

Some one, I trust, has dived and brought it up.

AMPELISCA

For this reason is she sad and disconsolate, that she has met with the loss of them.

TRACHALIO

Then have I the greater occasion to do this, to go in and console her, that she mayn't thus distress herself in mind. For I know that many a lucky thing has happened to many a one beyond their hopes.

AMPELISCA

But I know too that hope has deceived many who have hoped.

TRACHALIO

Therefore a patient mind is the best remedy for affliction. I'll go in, unless you wish for anything. Goes into the Temple.

AMP. GO.

To herself. I'll do that which the Priestess requested me, and I'll ask for some water here at the neighbour's; for she said that if I asked for it in her name, they would give it directly. And I do think that I never saw a more worthy old lady, one to whom I should think that it is more befitting for Gods and men to show kindness. How courteously, how heartily, how kindly, how, without the least difficulty, she received us into her home, trembling, in want, drenched, shipwrecked, half dead; not otherwise, in fact, than if we had been her own offspring. How kindly did she herself, just now, tucking up her garments, make the water warm for us to bathe. Now, that I mayn't keep her waiting, I'll fetch some water from the place where she requested me. Knocking at the door of DÆMONES. Hallo, there, is there any one in the cottage? is any one going to open this door? Will any one come out?

Enter SCEPARNIO, from the cottage of DÆMONES.

SCEPARNIO

Who is it so furiously making an attack upon our door?

AMPELISCA

It's I.

SCEPARNIO

Well now, what good news is there? Aside. Dear me, a lass of comely appearance, i' troth.

AMPELISCA

Greeting to you, young man.

SCEPARNIO

And many greetings to you, young woman.

AMPELISCA

I'm come to you ——

SCEPARNIO

I'll receive you with a welcome, if you come in the evening, by-and-by, just such as I could like; for just now I've no means to receive you, a damsel, thus early in the morning * * * But what have you to say, my smiling, pretty one. Chucks her under the chin.

AMPELISCA

Oh, you're handling me too familiarly. Moves away.

SCEPARNIO

O ye immortal Gods! she's the very image of Venus. What joyousness there is in her eyes, and, only do see, what a skin 'tis of the vulture's tint, — rather, the eagle's, indeed, I meant to say. Her breasts, too, how beautiful; and then what expression on her lips! Takes hold of her.

AMPELISCA

struggling . I'm no common commodity for the whole township; can't you keep your hands off me?

SCEPARNIO

patting her . Won't you let me touch you, gentle one, in this manner, gently and lovingly? * * * * *

AMPELISCA

When I have leisure, then I'll be giving my attention to toying and dalliance to please you; for the present, prithee, do either say me "Yes" or "No" to the matter for which I was sent hither.

SCEPARNIO

What now is it that you wish?

AMPELISCA

pointing to her pitcher . To a shrewd person, my equipment would give indications of what it is I want.

SCEPARNIO

To a shrewd woman, this equipment, too, of mine, would give indication of what it is I want.

AMPELISCA

pointing to the Temple . The Priestess there of Venus, requested me to fetch some water from your house here. ...

SCEPARNIO

But I'm a lordly sort of person; unless you entreat me, you shan't have a drop. We dug this well with danger to ourselves, and with tools of iron. Not a drop can be got out of me except by means of plenty of blandishments.

AMPELISCA

Prithee, why do you make so much fuss about the water — a thing that even enemy affords to enemy?

SCEPARNIO

Why do you make so much fuss about granting a favour to me, that citizen grants to citizen?

AMPELISCA

On the contrary, my sweet one, I'll even do everything for you that you wish.

SCEPARNIO

O charming! I am favoured; she's now calling me her sweet one. The water shall be given you, so that you mayn't be coaxing me in vain. Give me the pitcher.

AMPELISCA

Take it gives it to him : make haste and bring it out, there's a dear.

SCEPARNIO

Stay a moment; I'll be here this instant, my sweet one. Goes into the cottage. * * * * *

AMPELISCA

What shall I say to the Priestess for having delayed here so long a time? * * * * * How, even still, in my wretchedness do I tremble, when with my eyes I look upon the sea. She looks towards the shore. But what, to my sorrow, do I see afar upon the shore? My master, the Procurer, and his Sicilian guest. both of whom wretched I supposed to have perished in the deep. Still does thus much more of evil survive for us than we had imagined. But why do I delay to run off into the Temple, and to tell Palæstra this, that we may take refuge at the altar before this scoundrel of a Procurer can come hither and seize us here? I'll betake myself away from this spot; for the necessity suddenly arises for me to do so. Runs into the Temple.

Enter SCEPARNIO, from the cottage.

SCEPARNIO

to himself. O ye immortal Gods, I never did imagine that there was so great delight in water; how heartily I did draw this. Thewell seemed much less deep than formerly. How entirely without exertion did I draw this up. With all deference to myself, am I not a very silly fellow, in having only to-day made a commencement of being in love? Turning slowly round, he holds out the pitcher. Here's the water for you, my pretty one; here now, I would have you carry it with as much pleasure as I carry it, that you may please me. Stares around him. But where are you, my tit-bit? Do take this water, please; where are you? Again looks about. I' troth, she's in love with me, as I fancy; the roguish one's playing bo- peep. Where are you? Are you going now to take this pitcher? Where are you, I say? You've carried the joke far enough. Really, do be serious at last. Once more, are you going to take this pitcher? Where in the world are you? Looks about. I' troth, I don't see her anywhere, for my part; she's making fun of me. I' faith, I shall now set down this pitcher in the middle of the road. But yet, suppose any person should carry away from here this sacred pitcher of Venus, he would be causing me some trouble. I' faith, I'm afraid that this woman's laying a trap for me, that I may be caught with the sacred pitcher of Venus. In such case, with very good reason, the magistrate will be letting me die in prison, if any one shall see me holding this. For it's marked with the name; itself tells its own tale, whose property it is. Troth now, I'll call that Priestess here out of doors, that she may take this pitcher. I'll go there to the door. He knocks. Hallo there! Ptolemocratia. Calling aloud. Take this pitcher of yours, please; some young woman, I don't know who, brought it here to me. A pause. It must then be carried in-doors by me. I've found myself a job, if, in fact, of my own accord, water is to be carried by me for these people as well. Goes into the Temple with the pitcher.

Enter LABRAX, dripping wet, followed by CHARMIDES, at a distance, in the same plight.

LABRAX

grumbling to himself. The person that chooses himself to be wretched and a beggar, let him trust himself and his life to Neptune. For if any one has any dealings at all with him, he sends him back home equipped in this guise. Surveying himself. By my troth, Liberty, you were a clever one, who were never willing to put even a foot, i' faith, on board ship with me. But looking round where's this guest of mine that has proved my ruin? Oh, see, here he comes.

CHARMIDES

Where the plague are you hurrying to, Labrax? For really I cannot follow you so fast.

LABRAX

I only wish that you had perished by direful torments in Sicily before I had looked upon you with my eyes, you on whose account this misfortune has befallen me.

CHARMIDES

I only wish that on the day on which you admitted me into your house, I had laid me down in a prison sooner. I pray the immortal Gods, that so long as you live, you may have all your guests just like your own self.

LABRAX

In your person I admitted misfortune into my house. What business had I to listen to a rogue like you, or what to depart hence? Or why to go on board ship, where I have lost even more wealth than I was possessor of?

CHARMIDES

Troth, I'm far from being surprised if your ship has been wrecked, which was carrying yourself, a villain, and your property villanously acquired.

LABRAX

You've utterly ruined me with your wheedling speeches.

CHARMIDES

A more accursed dinner of yours have I been dining upon than the ones that were set before Thyestes and Tereus.

LABRAX

I'm dying; I'm sick at heart. Prithee, do hold up my head.

CHARMIDES

By my troth, I could very much wish that you would vomit up your lungs.

LABRAX

Alas! Palæstra and Ampelisca, where are you now?

CHARMIDES

Supplying food for the fishes at the bottom, I suppose.

LABRAX

You have brought beggary upon me by your means, while I was listening to your bragging lies.

CHARMIDES

You have reason deservedly to give me many hearty thanks, who from an insipid morsel by my agency have made you salt.

LABRAX

Nay, but do you get out from me to extreme and utter perdition.

CHARMIDES

You be off; I was just going to do that very thing.

LABRAX

Alas! what mortal being is there living more wretched than I?

CHARMIDES

I am by very far much more wretched, Labrax, than yourself.

LABRAX

How so?

CHARMIDES

Because I am not deserving of it, whereas you are deserving.

LABRAX

O bulrush, bulrush, I do praise your lot, who always maintain your credit for dryness.

CHARMIDES

his teeth chattering . For my part, I'm exercising myself for a skirmishing fight, for, from my shivering, I utter all my words in piecemeal flashes.

LABRAX

By my troth, Neptune, you are a purveyor of chilly baths; since I got away from you with my clothes, I've been freezing. No hot liquor-shop at all for sure does he provide; so salt and cold the potions that he prepares.

CHARMIDES

How lucky are the blacksmiths who are always sitting among hot coals; they are always warm.

LABRAX

I only wish that I were now enjoying the lot of the duck, so as, although I had just come from out of the water, still to be dry.

CHARMIDES

What if I some way or other let myself out at the games for a hobgoblin?

LABRAX

For what reason?

CHARMIDES

Because, i' faith, I'm chattering aloud with my teeth. But I'm of opinion that, with very good reason, I've had this ducking.

LABRAX

How so?

CHARMIDES

Why, haven't I ventured to go on board ship with yourself, who have been stirring up the ocean for me from the very bottom?

LABRAX

I listened to you when advising me; you assured me that there in Sicily was very great profit from courtesans; there, you used to say, I should be able to amass wealth.

CHARMIDES

Did you expect, then, you unclean beast, that you were going to gobble up the whole island of Sicily?

LABRAX

What whale, I wonder, has gobbled up my wallet where all my gold and silver was packed up?

CHARMIDES

That same one, I suppose, that has swallowed my purse, which was full of silver in my travelling-bag.

LABRAX

Alas! I'm reduced even to this one poor tunic stretching it out and to this poor shabby cloak; I'm done for to all intents.

CHARMIDES

Then you may even go into partnership with me; we have got equal shares.

LABRAX

If at least my damsels had been saved, there would have been some hope. Now, if the young man Plesidippus should be seeing me, from whom I received the earnest for Palæstra, he'll then be causing me some trouble in consequence. He begins to cry.

CHARMIDES

Why cry, you fool? Really, by my troth, so long as your tongue shall exist, you have abundance with which to make payment to everybody.

Enter SCEPARNIO, from the Temple.

SCEPARNIO

to himself, aloud . What to-do is this, I'd like to know, that two young women here in the Temple, in tears, are holding in their embrace the statue of Venus, dreading I know not what in their wretchedness? But they say that this last night they have been tossed about, and to-day cast on shore from the waves.

LABRAX

overhearing . Troth now, young man, prithee, where are these young women that you are talking of?

SCEPARNIO

Here pointing in the Temple of Venus.

LABRAX

How many are there?

SCEPARNIO

Just as many as you and I make.

LABRAX

Surely, they are mine.

SCEPARNIO

Surely, I know nothing about that.

LABRAX

Of what appearance are they?

SCEPARNIO

Good-looking; I could even fall in love with either of them, if I were well liquored.

LABRAX

Surely, they are the damsels.

SCEPARNIO

Surely, you are a nuisance; be off, go in and see, if you like.

LABRAX

These must be my wenches in here, my dear Charmides.

CHARMIDES

Jupiter confound you, both if they are and still if they are not.

LABRAX

I'll straightway burst into this Temple of Venus here.

CHARMIDES

Into the bottomless pit, I would rather. LABRAX rushes into the Temple, and shuts the door. Prithee, stranger, show me some spot where I may go to sleep.

SCEPARNIO

Go to sleep there, wherever you please points to the ground ; no one hinders, it's free to the public.

CHARMIDES

pointing to his clothes . But do you see me, in what wet clothes I'm dressed? Do take me under shelter; lend me some dry clothes, while my own are drying; on some occasion I'll return you the favour.

SCEPARNIO

See, here's my outer coat, which alone is dry; that, if you like, I'll lend you. Takes it off and holds it out to him. In that same I'm wont to be clothed, by that same protected, when it rains. Do you give me those clothes of yours; I'll soon have them dried.

CHARMIDES

How now, are you afraid that, as I've been washed bare last night at sea, I mayn't be made bare again here upon shore?

SCEPARNIO

Wash you bare, or anoint you well, I don't care one fig. I shall never entrust anything to you unless upon a pledge being taken. Do you either sweat away or perish with cold, be you either sick or well. I'll put up with no stranger-guest in my house; I've had disagreements enough. Puts on his coat again, and goes into the house of DÆMONES.

CHARMIDES

What, are you off? A pause. He's a trafficker in slaves for money; whoever he is, he has no bowels of compassion. But why in my wretchedness am I standing here, soaking? Why don't I rather go away from here into the Temple of Venus, that I may sleep off this debauch which I got with drinking last night against the bent of my inclination? Neptune has been drenching us with salt water as though we were G-reek wines, and so he hoped that our stomachs might be vomited up with his salt draughts. What need of words? If he had persisted in inviting us a little longer, we should have gone fast asleep there; as it is, hardly alive has he sent us off home. Now I'll go see the Procurer, my boon companion, what he's doing within. Goes into the Temple.

ACT III.

Enter DÆMONES, from his house.

DÆM.

to himself. In wondrous ways do the Gods make sport of men, in wondrous fashions do they send dreams in sleep. Not the sleeping, even, do they allow to rest. As, for example, I, this last night which has gone by, dreamed a wonderful and a curious dream. A she-ape seemed to be endeavouring to climb up to a swallow's nest; and she was not able thence to take them out. After that, the ape seemed to come to me to beg me to lend a ladder to her. I in these terms gave answer to the ape, that swallows are the descendants of Philomela and of Progne. I expostulated with her, that she might not hurt those of my country. But then she began to be much more violent, and seemed gratuitously to be threatening me with vengeance. She summoned me to a court of justice. Then, in my anger, I seemed to seize hold of the ape by the middle, in what fashion I know not; and I fastened up with chains this most worthless beast. Now to what purpose I shall say that this dream tends, never have I this day been able to come to any conclusion. A loud noise is heard in the Temple. But what's this noise that arises in this Temple of Venus, my neighbour? My mind's in wonder about it.

Enter TRACHALIO, in haste, from the Temple.

TRACHALIO

aloud. O citizens of Cyrene, I implore your aid, countrymen, you who are near neighbours to these spots, bring aid to helplessness, and utterly crush a most vile attempt. Inflict vengeance, that the power of the wicked, who wish themselves to be distinguished by crimes, may not be stronger than of the guiltless. Make an example for the shameless man, give its reward to modest virtue; cause that one may be allowed to live here rather under the control of the laws than of brute force. Hasten hither into the Temple of Venus; again do I implore your aid, you who are here at hand and who hear my cries.

Bring assistance to those who, after the recognized usage, have entrusted their lives to Venus and to the Priestess of Venus, under their protection. Wring ye the neck of iniquity before it reaches yourselves.

DÆM.

What's all this to-do?

TRACHALIO

embracing his knees . By these knees of yours, I do entreat you, old gentleman, whoever you are ——

DÆM.

Nay, but do you let go my knees, then, and tell me why it is that you are making a noise?

TRACHALIO

I do beg and entreat you, that if you hope this year that you will have abundance of laserwort and silphium, and that that export will arrive at Capua safe and sound, and that you may ever enjoy freedom from diseased eyes ——

DÆM.

Are you in your senses?

TRACHALIO

—— Or whether you trust that you will have plenty of juice of silphium, that you will not hesitate to give me the aid which I shall entreat of you, aged sir.

DÆM.

And I, by your legs, and ancles, and back, do entreat you that, if you hope that you will have a crop of elm-twigs, and that a fruitful harvest of beatings will this year be your lot, you will tell me what's the matter here, by reason of which you are making this uproar.

TRACHALIO

Why do you choose to speak me ill? For my part, I wished you everything that's good.

DÆM.

And for my part, I'm speaking you well, in praying that things which you deserve may befall you.

TRACHALIO

Prithee, do prevent this.

DÆM.

What's the matter, then?

TRACHALIO

pointing to the Temple . Two innocent women are inside here, in need of your aid, on whom, against law and justice, an injury has been, is being, glaringly committed here in the Temple of Venus. Besides, the Priestess of Venus is being disgracefully insulted.

DÆM.

What person is there of effrontery so great as to dare to injure the Priestess? But these women, who are they? Or what injury is being done to them?

TRACHALIO

If you give me your attention, I'll tell you. They have clung to the statue of Venus; a most audacious fellow is now trying to tear them away. They ought, by rights, both of them to be free.

DÆM.

What fellow is it that so lightly holds the Gods? In a few words tell me.

TRACHALIO

One most full of fraud, villany, parricide, and perjury; a lawbreaker, an immodest, unclean, most shameless fellow; to sum up all in one word, he is a Procurer; why need I say more about him?

DÆM.

Troth now, you tell of a man that ought to be handed over to retribution.

TRACHALIO

A villain, to seize the Priestess by the throat.

DÆM.

By my troth, but he has done it at his own great peril. Calls aloud at his door. Come you out of doors here, Turbalio and Sparax; where are you?

TRACHALIO

Prithee, do go in, and hasten to their rescue.

DÆM.

impatiently . And am I to call for them once more? from the cottage.

DÆM.

Follow me this way.

TRACHALIO

Come on now this instant, bid them tear his eyes out, just in the way that cooks do cuttle-fish.

DÆM.

Drag the fellow out here by his legs, just like a slaughtered pig.

DÆMONES and his SERVANTS go into the Temple.

TRACHALIO

listening at the door . I hear a scuffling; the Procurer, I guess, is being belaboured with their fists; I'd very much like them to knock the teeth out of the jaws of the most villanous fellow. But see, here are the women themselves coming out of the Temple in consternation.

Enter PALÆSTRA and AMPELISCA, in haste, from the Temple, with dishevelled locks.

PALAESTRA

Now is that time arrived when destitution of all resources and aid, succour and defence, overtakes us. Neither hope nor means is there to bring us aid, nor know we in what direction we should commence to proceed. In exceeding terror now are we both, in this our wretchedness. Such cruelty and such outrage have been committed towards us just now in-doors here by our master, who, in his villany, pushed down the old lady, the Priestess, headlong, and struck her in a very disgraceful manner, and with his violence tore us away from the inner side of the statue. But as our lot and fortunes are now showing themselves, 'twere best to die, nor in our miseries is there anything better than death.

TRACHALIO

behind . What's this? Whose words are those? Why do I delay to console them? Aloud. Harkye, Palæstra, Ampelisca, harkye!

PALAESTRA

Prithee, who is it that calls us?

AMPELISCA

Who is it that calls me by name?

TRACHALIO

If you turn round and look, you'll know.

PALAESTRA

turning round . O hope of my safety!

TRACHALIO

Be silent and of good courage; trust me.

PALAESTRA

If only it can be so, let not violence overwhelm us.

TRACHALIO

What violence?

PALAESTRA

That same which is driving me to commit violence on myself.

TRACHALIO

Oh, do leave off; you are very silly.

PALAESTRA

Then do you leave off at once your consoling me in my misery with words.

AMPELISCA

Unless you afford us protection in reality, Trachalio, it's all over with us.

PALAESTRA

I'm resolved to die sooner than suffer this Procurer to get me in his power. But still I am of woman's heart; when, in my misery, death comes into my mind, fear takes possession of my limbs.

TRACHALIO

By my troth, although this is a bitter affliction, do have a good heart.

PALAESTRA

Why where, pray, is a good heart to be found for me?

TRACHALIO

Don't you fear, I tell you; sit you down here by the altar. Points to it.

AMPELISCA

What can this altar possibly avail us more than the statue here within the Temple of Venus, from which just now, embracing it, in our wretchedness, we were torn by force?

TRACHALIO

Only you be seated here; then I'll protect you in this spot. This altar you possess as though your bulwarks; these your fortifications; from this spot will I defend you. With the aid of Venus, I'll march against the wickedness of the Procurer.

PALAESTRA

We follow your instructions they advance to the altar and kneel ; and genial Venus, we both of us, in tears, implore thee, embracing this thy altar, bending upon our knees, that thou wilt receive us into thy guardianship, and be our protector; that thou wilt punish those wretches who have set at nought thy Temple, and that thou wilt suffer us to occupy this thy altar with thy permission, we who last night were by the might of Neptune cast away; hold us not in scorn, and do not for that reason impute it to us as a fault, if there is anything that thou shouldst think is not so well attended to by us as it ought to have been.

TRACHALIO

I think they ask what's just; it ought, Venus, by thee to be granted. Thou oughtst to pardon them; 'tis terror forces them to do this. They say that thou wast born from a shell; take thou care that thou dost not despise the shells of these. But see, most opportunely the old gentleman is coming out, both my protector and your own. He goes to the altar.

Enter DÆMONES, from the Temple, with his two SERVANTS dragging out LABRAX.

DÆM.

Come out of the Temple, you most sacrilegious of men, as many as have ever been born. Do you go calling to the WOMEN and sit by the altar. Not seeing them near the door. But where are they?

TRACHALIO

Look round here.

DÆM.

looking round . Very good; I wanted that. Now bid him come this way. To LABRAX. Are you attempting here among us to commit a violation of the laws against the Deities? To the SERVANTS, who obey with alacrity. Punch his face with your fists.

LABRAX

I'm suffering these indignities at your own cost.

DÆM.

Why, the insolent fellow's threatening even.

LABRAX

I've been robbed of my rights; you are robbing me of my female slaves against my will.

TRACHALIO

Do you then find some wealthy man of the Senate of Cyrene as judge, whether these women ought to be yours, or whether they oughtn't to be free, or whether it isn't right that you should be clapped into prison, and there spend your life, until you have worn the whole gaol out with your feet.

LABRAX

I wasn't prepared to prophesy for this day that I should be talking with a hang-gallows like yourself. Turning to DÆMONES. You do I summon to judgment.

DÆM.

pointing to TRACHALIO. In the first place, try it with him who knows you.

LABRAX

to DÆMONES. My suit is with yourself.

TRACHALIO

But it must be with myself. Pointing to the WOMEN. Are these your female slaves?

LABRAX

They are.

TRACL.

Just come then, touch either of them with your little finger only.

LABRAX

What if I do touch them?

TRACHALIO

That very instant, upon my faith, I'll make a hand-ball of you, and while you're in the air I'll belabour you with my fists, you most perjured villain.

LABRAX

Am I not to be allowed to take away my female slaves from the altar of Venus?

DÆM.

You may not; such is the law with us.

LABRAX

I've no concern with your laws; for my part, I shall at once carry them both away from here. If you are in love with them, old gentleman holding out his hand, you must down here with the ready cash.

DÆM.

But these women have proved pleasing to Venus.

LABRAX

She may have them, if she pays the money.

DÆM.

A Goddess, pay you money? Now then, that you may understand my determination, only do you commence in mere joke to offer them the very slightest violence; I'll send you away from here with such a dressing, that you won't know your own self. You, therefore turning to his SERVANTS, when I give you the signal, if you don't beat his eyes out of his head, I'll trim you round about with rods just like beds of myrtle with bulrushes.

LABRAX

You are treating me with violence.

TRACHALIO

What, do you even upbraid us with violence, you flagrant specimen of flagitiousness?

LABRAX

You, you thrice-dotted villain, do you dare to speak abusively to me?

TRACHALIO

I am a thrice-dotted villain; I confess it; you are a strictly honorable man; ought these women a bit the less to be free?

LABRAX

What — free?

TRACHALIO

Aye, and your mistresses, too, i' faith, and from genuine Greece; for one of them was born at Athens of free-born parents.

DÆM.

What is it I hear from you?

TRACHALIO

That she pointing to PALÆSTRA was born at Athens, a free-born woman.

DÆM.

to TRACHALIO . Prithee is she a countrywoman of mine?

TRACHALIO

Are you not a Cyrenian?

DÆM.

No; born at Athens in Attica, bred and educated there.

TRACHALIO

Prithee, aged sir, do protect your countrywomen.

DÆM.

aside . O daughter, when I look on her, separated from me you remind me of my miseries: aloud she who was lost by me when three years old; now, if she is living, she's just about as tall, I'm sure, as she. Pointing to PALÆSTRA.

LABRAX

I paid the money down for these two, to their owners, of whatever country they were. What matters it to me whether they were born at Athens or at Thebes, so long as they are rightfully in servitude as my slaves?

TRACHALIO

it so, you impudent fellow? What, are you, a cat prowling after maidens, to be keeping children here kidnapped from their parents and destroying them in your disgraceful calling? But as for this other one, I really don't know what her country is; I only know that she's more deserving than yourself, you most abominable rascal.

LABRAX

Are these women your property?

TRACHALIO

Come to the trial, then, which of the two according to his back is the more truthful; if you don't bear more compliments upon your back than any ship of war has nails, then I'm the greatest of liars.

Afterwards, do you examine mine, when I've examined yours; if it shall not prove to be so untouched, that any leather flask maker will say that it is a hide most capital and most sound for the purposes of his business, what reason is there why I shouldn't mangle you with stripes, even till you have your belly full? Why do you stare at them? If you touch them I'll tear your eyes out.

LABRAX

Yet notwithstanding, although you forbid me to do so, I'll at once carry them off both together with me.

DÆM.

What will you do?

LABRAX

I'll bring Vulcan; he is an enemy to Venus. Goes towards DÆMONES' cottage.

TRACHALIO

Whither is he going?

LABRAX

calling at the door . Hallo! Is there anybody here? Hallo! I say.

DÆM.

If you touch the door, that very instant, upon my faith, you shall get a harvest upon your face with fists for your pitchforks.

SERV.

We keep no fire, we live upon dried figs.

DÆM.

I'll find the fire, if only I have the opportunity of kindling it upon your head.

LABRAX

Faith, I'll go somewhere to look for some fire.

DÆM.

What, when you've found it?

LABRAX

I'll be making a great fire here.

DÆM.

What, to be burning a mortuary sacrifice for yourself?

LABRAX

No, but I'll burn both of these alive here upon the altar.

DÆM.

I'd like that. For, by my troth, I'll forthwith seize you by the head and throw you into the fire, and, half-roasted, I'll throw you out as food for the great birds. Aside. When I come to a consideration of it with myself, this is that ape, that wanted to take away those swallows from the nest against my will, as I was dreaming in my sleep.

TPACH.

Aged sir, do you know what I request of you? That you will protect these females and defend them from violence, until I fetch my master.

DÆM.

Go look for your master, and fetch him here.

TRACHALIO

But don't let him ——

DÆM.

At his own extreme peril, if he touches them, or if he attempts to do so.

TRACHALIO

Take care.

DÆM.

Due care is taken; do you be off.

TRACHALIO

And watch him too, that he doesn't go away anywhere. For we have promised either to give the executioner a great talent, or else to produce this fellow this very day.

DÆM.

Do you only be off. I'll not let him get away, while you are absent.

TRACHALIO

I'll be back here soon. (Exit TRACHALIO.)

DÆMONES, LABRAX, PALÆSTRA, AMPELISCA, and SERVANTS.

DÆM.

to LABRAX, who is struggling with the SERVANTS . Which, you Procurer, had you rather do, be quiet with a thrashing, or e'en as it is, without the thrashing, if you had the choice?

LABRAX

Old fellow, I don't care a straw for what you say. My own women, in fact, I shall drag away this instant from the altar by the hair, in spite of yourself, and Venus, and supreme Jove.

DÆM.

Just touch them.

LABRAX

going towards them I' troth, I surely will touch them.

DÆM.

Just come then; only approach this way.

LABRAX

Only bid both those fellows, then, to move away from there.

DÆM.

On the contrary, they shall move towards you.

LABRAX

I' faith, for my own part, I don't think so.

DÆM.

If they do move nearer to you, what will you do?

LABRAX

I'll retire. But, old fellow, if ever I catch you in the city, never again, upon my faith, shall any one call me a Procurer, if I don't give you some most disagreeable sport.

DÆM.

Do what you threaten. But now, in the meantime, if you do touch them, a heavy punishment shall be inflicted on you.

LABRAX

How heavy, in fact?

DÆM.

Just as much as is sufficient for a Procurer.

LABRAX

These threats of yours I don't value one straw; I certainly shall seize them both this instant without your leave.

DÆM.

Just touch them.

LABRAX

By my troth, I surely will touch them.

DÆM.

You will touch them, but do you know with what result? Go then, Turbalio, with all haste, and bring hither from out of the house two cudgels.

LABRAX

Cudgels?

DÆM.

Aye, good ones; make haste speedily. TURBALIO goes in. I'll let you have a reception this day in proper style, as you are deserving of.

LABRAX

aside . Alas! cursedly unfortunate. I lost my headpiece in the ship; it would now have been handy for me, if it had been saved. To DÆMONES. May I at least address these women?

DÆM.

You may not * * * * * TURBALIO enters bringing two cudgels. Well now, by my faith, look, the cudgel-man is coming very opportunely here.

LABRAX

aside . By my troth, this surely is a tingling for my ears.

DÆM.

Come, Sparax, do you take this other cudgel. Giving him one. Come, take your stand, one on one side, the other on one other. Take your stations both of you. They stand with lifted cudgels on each side of the altar. Just so. Now then attend to me: if, i' faith, that fellow there should this day touch these women with his finger against their inclination, if you don't give him a reception with these cudgels even to that degree that he shan't know which way he is to get home, you are undone, both of you. If he shall call for any one, do you make answer to this fellow in their stead. But if he himself shall attempt to get away from here, that instant, as hard a you can, lay on to his legs with your sticks.

LABRAX

Are they not even to allow me to go away from here?

DÆM.

I've said sufficient. And when that servant comes here with his master, he that has gone to fetch his master, do you at once go home. Attend to this with great diligence, will you. DÆMONES goes into his house.

LABRAX

O rare, by my troth, the Temple here is surely changed all of a sudden; this is now the Temple of Hercules which was that of Venus before; in such fashion has the old fellow planted two statues here with clubs. I' faith, I don't know now whither in the world I shall fly from here; so greatly are they both raging now against me, both land and sea. Palæstra!

SERV.

What do you want?

LABRAX

Away with you, there is a misunderstanding between us; that, indeed, is not my Palæstra that answers. Harkye, Ampelisca.

SERV.

Beware of a mishap, will you.

LABRAX

aside . So far as they can, the worthless fellows advise me rightly enough. Aloud. But, harkye, I ask you, whether it is any harm to you for me to come nearer to these women?

SERV.

Why none at all to ourselves.

LABRAX

Will there be any harm to myself?

SERV.

None at all, if you only take care.

LABRAX

What is it that I'm to take care against?

SERV.

Why, look you, against a heavy mishap.

LABRAX

Troth now, prithee, do let me approach them.

SERV.

Approach them, if you like.

LABRAX

I' faith, obligingly done; I return you thanks, I'll go nearer to them.
Approaches them.

SERV.

Do you stand there on the spot, where you are. Drags him to his place, with the cudgel over his head.

LABRAX

aside . By my faith, I've come scurvily off in many ways. Still, I'm resolved to get the better of them this day by constantly besieging them.

Enter PLESIDIPPUS and TRACHALIO, at a distance, on the other side of the stage.

PLESIDIPPUS

And did the Procurer attempt by force and violence to drag my mistress away from the altar of Venus?

TRACHALIO

Even so.

PLESIDIPPUS

Why didn't you kill him on the instant?

TRACHALIO

I hadn't a sword.

PLESIDIPPUS

You should have taken either a stick or a stone.

TRACHALIO

What! ought I to have pelted this most villanous fellow with stones like a dog? * * * * *

LABRAX

aside, on seeing them . By my troth, but I'm undone now; see, here's Plesidippus; he'll be sweeping me away altogether this moment with the dust.

PLESIDIPPUS

Were the damsels sitting on the altar even then when you set out to come to me?

TRACHALIO

Yes, and now they are sitting in the same place.

PLESIDIPPUS

Who is now protecting them there?

TRACHALIO

Some old gentleman, I don't know who, a neighbour of the Temple of Venus — he gave very kind assistance; he is now protecting them with his servants — I committed them to his charge.

PLESIDIPPUS

Lead me straight to the Procurer. Where is this fellow? They go towards LABRAX.

LABRAX

Health to you.

PLESIDIPPUS

I want none of your healths. Make your choice quickly, whether you had rather be seized by your throat wrenched, or be dragged along; choose whichever you please, while you may.

LABRAX

I wish for neither.

PLESIDIPPUS

Be off then, Trachalio, with all speed to the sea-shore; bid those persons that I brought with me to hand over this rascal to the executioner, to come from the harbour to the city to meet me; afterwards return hither and keep guard here. I'll now drag this scoundrelly outcast to justice. (Exit TRACHALIO. Pleusicles addresses LABRAX.) . Come, proceed to a court of justice.

LABRAX

In what have I offended?

PLESIDIPPUS

Do you ask? Didn't you receive an earnest of me for this woman pointing to PALÆSTRA , and carry her off from here?

LABRAX

I didn't carry her off.

PLESIDIPPUS

Why do you deny it?

LABRAX

Troth now, because I put her on board ship; carry her off unfortunately, I couldn't. For my part, I told you that this day I would make my appearance at the Temple of Venus; have I swerved at all from that? Am I not there?

PLESIDIPPUS

Plead your cause in the court of justice; here a word is enough.
Follow me. They lay hold of him.

LABRAX

calling aloud . I entreat you, my dear Charmides, do come to my rescue; I am being seized with my throat wrenched. Enter CHARMIDES, from the Temple.

CHARMIDES

looking about . Who calls my name?

LABRAX

Do you see me how I'm being seized?

CHARMIDES

I see, and view it with pleasure.

LABRAX

Don't you venture to assist me?

CHARMIDES

What person is seizing you?

LABRAX

Young Plesidippus.

CHARMIDES

What you've got, put up with; 'twere better for you, with a cheerful spirit, to slink to gaol; that has befallen you which many greatly wish for for themselves.

LABRAX

What's that?

CHARMIDES

To find for themselves that which they are seeking.

LABRAX

I entreat you, do follow me.

CHARMIDES

You try to persuade me, just like what you are: you are being taken off to gaol, for that reason is it you entreat me to follow you?

PLESIDIPPUS

to LABRAX . Do you still resist?

LABRAX

I'm undone.

PLESIDIPPUS

I trust that may prove the truth. You, my dear Palæstra and Ampelisca, do you remain here in the meanwhile, until I return hither.

SERV.

I would advise them rather to go to our house, until you return.

PLESIDIPPUS

I'm quite agreeable; you act obligingly. The SERVANTS open the door of the cottage, and PALÆSTRA and AMPELISCA go in.

LABRAX

You are thieves to me.

SERV.

How, thieves?

PLESIDIPPUS

Lead him along. The SERVANTS seize him.

LABRAX

calling out . I pray and entreat you, Palæstra.

PLESIDIPPUS

Follow, you hang-dog.

LABRAX

Guest, Charmides!

CHARMIDES

I am no guest of yours; I repudiate your hospitality.

LABRAX

What, do you slight me in this fashion?

CHARMIDES

I do so; I've been drinking with you once already.

LABRAX

May the Deities confound you.

CHARMIDES

To that person of yours, say that. PLESIDIPPUS leads LABRAX off, followed by the SERVANTS. I do believe that men are transformed, each into a different beast. That Procurer, I guess, is transformed into a stock-dove; for, before long, his neck will be in the stocks. He'll today be building his nest in the gaol. Still, however, I'll go, that I may be his advocate, — if by my aid he may possibly be sentenced any the sooner.

ACT IV.

Enter DÆMONES, from his cottage.

DÆM.

to himself. 'Twas rightly done, and it is a pleasure this day for me to have given aid to these young women; I have now found some dependants, and both of them of comely looks and youthful age. But my plaguy wife is watching me in all ways, lest I should be giving any hint to the young women. But I wonder what in the world my servant Gripus is about, who went last night to the sea to fish. Troth, he had done wiser if he had slept at home; for now he throws away both his pains and his nets, seeing what a storm there now is and was last night. I'll thoroughly cook upon my fingers what he has caught to-day; so violently do I see the ocean heaving. A bell rings. But my wife's calling me to breakfast; I'll return home. She'll now be filling my ears with her silly prating. Goes into the cottage.

Enter GRIPUS, dragging a net enclosing a wallet, by a rope.

to himself. These thanks do I return to Neptune, my patron, who dwells in the salt retreats, the abode of fishes, inasmuch as he has despatched me finely laden on my return from his retreats, and from his Temples, laden with most abundant booty, with safety to my boat, which in the stormy sea made me master of a singular and rich haul. In a wondrous and incredible manner has this haul turned out prosperously for me, nor yet have I this day taken a single ounce weight of fish, but only that which I am here bringing with me in my net. For when I arose in the middle of the night, and without sloth, I preferred profit to sleep and rest; in the raging tempest, I determined to try how I might lighten the poverty of my master and my own servitude, not sparing of my own exertions. Most worthless is the man that is slothful, and most detestably do I hate that kind of men. It behoves him to be vigilant who wishes to do his duty in good time; for it befits him not to be waiting until his master arouses him to his duties. For those who sleep on for the love of it, rest without profit to themselves and to their own cost. But now I, who have not been slothful, have found that for myself through which to be slothful if I should choose. Points to the wallet. This have I found in the sea to-day; whatever's in it, it's something heavy that's in it; I think it's gold that's in it. And not a single person is there my confidant in the matter. Now, Gripus, this opportunity has befallen you, that the Prætor might make you a free man from among the multitude. Now, thus shall I do, this is my determination; I'll come to my master cleverly and cunningly, little by little I'll promise money for my freedom, that I may be free. Now, when I shall be free, then, in fine, I'll provide me land and houses and slaves: I'll carry on merchandize with large ships: among the grandees I shall be considered a grandee. Afterwards, for the sake of pleasing myself, I'll build me a ship and I'll imitate Stratonicus, and I'll be carried about from town to town. When my greatness is far-spread, I shall fortify some great city: to that city I shall give the name of "Gripus," a memorial of my fame and exploits, and there I'll establish a mighty kingdom. I am resolving here in my mind to prepare for mighty matters. At present I'll hide this booty. But this grandee pointing to himself is about to breakfast upon vinegar and salt, without any good substantial meat. Gathers up the net, and drags it after him.

Enter TRACHALIO, in haste.

TRACHALIO

Hallo there! stop.

GRIPUS

Why should I stop?

TRACHALIO

While I coil up this rope for you that you are dragging.

GRIPUS

Now let it alone.

TRACHALIO

Troth, but I'll assist you. What's kindly done to worthy men, isn't thrown away.

GRIPUS

* * * * * There was a boisterous tempest yesterday; no fish have I, young man; don't you be supposing I have. Don't you see that I'm carrying my dripping net without the scaly race?

TRACHALIO

I' faith, I'm not wishing for fish so much as I am in need of your conversation.

GRIPUS

Then, whoever you are, you are worrying me to death with your annoyance.

TRACHALIO

takes hold of him . I'll not allow you to go away from here; stop.

GRIPUS

Take you care of a mishap, if you please; but why the plague are you dragging me back?

TRACHALIO

Listen.

GRIPUS

I won't listen.

TRACHALIO

But, upon my faith, you shall listen.

GRIPUS

Nay but, another time, tell me what you want.

TRACHALIO

Come now, it's worth your while at once to hear what I want to tell you.

GRIPUS

Say on, whatever it is.

TRACHALIO

See whether any person is following near us. Looks back. GRIP.
Why, what reason is there that it should matter to me?

TRACHALIO

So it is; but can you give me some good advice?

GRIPUS

What's the business? Only tell me.

TRACHALIO

I'll tell you; keep silence; if only you'll give me your word that you won't prove treacherous to me.

GRIPUS

I do give you my word; I'll be true to you, whoever you are.

TRACHALIO

Listen. I saw a person commit a theft; I knew the owner to whom that same property belonged. Afterwards I came myself to the thief, and I made him a proposal in these terms: "I know the person on whom that theft was committed; now if you are ready to give me half, I'll not make a discovery to the owner." He didn't even give me an answer. What is it fair should be given me out of it? Half, I trust you will say.

GRIPUS

Aye, even more; but unless he gives it you, I think it ought to be told to the owner.

TRACHALIO

I'll act on your advice. Now give me your attention; for it is to yourself all this relates.

GRIPUS

What has been done by me?

TRACHALIO

pointing at the wallet . I've known the person for a long time to whom that wallet belongs.

GRIPUS

What do you mean?

TRACHALIO

And in what manner it was lost.

GRIPUS

But I know in what manner it was found; and I know the person who found it, and who is now the owner. That, i' faith, is not a bit the more your matter than it is my own. I know the person to whom it now belongs; you, the person to whom it formerly belonged. This shall no individual get away from me; don't you be expecting to get it in a hurry.

TRACHALIO

If the owner comes, shan't he get it away?

GRIPUS

That you mayn't be mistaken, no born person is there that's owner of this but my own self — who took this in my own fishing.

TRACHALIO

Was it really so?

GRIPUS

Which fish in the sea will you say "is my own?" When I catch them, if indeed I do catch them, they are my own; as my own I keep them. They are not claimed as having a right to freedom nor does any person demand a share in them. In the market I sell them all openly as my own wares. Indeed, the sea is, surely, common to all persons.

TRACHALIO

I agree to that; prithee, then, why any the less is it proper that this wallet should be common to me? It was found in the sea.

GRIPUS

Assuredly you are an outrageously impudent fellow; for if this is justice which you are saying, then fishermen would be ruined. Inasmuch as, the moment that the fish were exposed upon the stalls, no one would buy them; every person would be demanding his own share of the fish for himself; he would be saying that they were caught in the sea that was common to all.

TRACHALIO

What do you say, you impudent fellow? Do you dare to compare a wallet with fish? Pray, does it appear to be the same thing?

GRIPUS

The matter doesn't lie in my power; when I've cast my hook and net into the sea, whatever has adhered I draw out. Whatever my net and hooks have got, that in especial is my own.

TRACHALIO

Nay but, i' faith, it is not; if, indeed, you've fished up any article that's made

GRIPUS

Philosopher, you.

TRACHALIO

But look now, you conjurer, did you ever see a fisherman who caught a wallet-fish, or exposed one for sale in the market? But, indeed, you shan't here be taking possession of all the profits that you choose; you expect, you dirty fellow, to be both a maker of wallets and a fisherman. Either you must show me a fish that is a wallet, or else you shall carry nothing off that wasn't produced in the sea and has no scales.

GRIPUS

What, did you never hear before to-day that a wallet was a fish?

TRACHALIO

Villain, there is no such fish.

GRIPUS

Yes, there certainly is; I, who am a fisherman, know it. But it is seldom caught; no fish more rarely comes near the land.

TRACHALIO

It's to no purpose; you hope that you can be cheating me, you rogue. Of what colour is it?

GRIPUS

looking at the wallet . Of this colour very few are caught: some are of a purple skin, there are great and black ones also.

TRACHALIO

I understand; by my troth, you'll be turning into a wallet-fish I fancy, if you don't take care; your skin will be purple, and then afterwards black.

GRIPUS

aside . What a villain this that I have met with to-day!

TRACHALIO

We are wasting words; the day wears apace. Consider, please, by whose arbitration do you wish us to proceed?

GRIPUS

By the arbitration of the wallet.

TRACHALIO

Really so, indeed? You are a fool.

GRIPUS

My respects to you, Mister Thales Going.

TRACHALIO

holding him . You shan't carry that off this day, unless you find a place of safe keeping for it, or an umpire, by whose arbitration this matter may be settled.

GRIPUS

Prithee, are you in your senses?

TRACHALIO

I'm mad, in need of hellebore.

GRIPUS

But I'm troubled with sprites; still I shan't let this go. Hugs the wallet.

TRACHALIO

Only add a single word more, that instant I'll drive my fists smash into your brains. This instant on this spot, just as a new napkin is wont to be wrung, I'll wring out of you whatever moisture there is, if you don't let this go. Seizes the wallet.

GRIPUS

Touch me; I'll dash you down on the ground just in such fashion as I'm in the habit of doing with a polypus fish. Would you like to fight? Assumes a boxing attitude.

TRACHALIO

What need is there? Nay, in preference, divide the booty.

GRIPUS

You can't get anything from here but harm to yourself, so don't expect it. I'm taking myself off.

TRACHALIO

But I'll turn aside your ship from that direction, that you mayn't be off anywhere — stop. Stands in front of him, and holds the rope.

GRIPUS

If you are the helmsman of this ship, I'll be the pilot. Let go of the rope now, you villain.

TRACHALIO

I will let go; do you let go of the wallet.

GRIPUS

I' faith, you shall never this day become a scrap the more wealthy from this.

TRACHALIO

You cannot convince me by repeatedly denying, unless either a part is given me, or it is referred to arbitration, or it is placed in safe keeping.

GRIPUS

What, that which I got out of the sea —— ?

TRACHALIO

But I spied it out from the shore.

GRIPUS

— With my own pains and labour, and net and boat.

TRACHALIO

If now the owner, whose property it is, were to come, how am I, who espied from afar that you had taken this, a bit the less the thief than yourself?

GRIPUS

None whatever. Going.

TRACHALIO

seizing the net . Stop, you whip-knave; just let me learn of you by what reasoning I am not the sharer, and yet the thief.

GRIPUS

I don't know; neither do I know these city laws of yours, only that I affirm that this is mine. Looks at the wallet.

TRACHALIO

And I, too, say that it is mine.

GRIPUS

Stay now; I've discovered by what method you may be neither thief nor sharer.

TRACHALIO

By what method?

GRIPUS

Let me go away from here; you quietly go your own way, and don't you inform against me to any one, and I won't give anything to you. You hold your tongue; I'll be mum. This is the best and the fairest plan.

TRACE.

Well, what proposition do you venture to make?

GRIPUS

I've made it already; for you to go away, to let go of the rope, and not to be a nuisance to me.

TRACHALIO

Stop while I propose terms.

GRIPUS

I' faith, do, prithee, dispose of yourself forthwith.

TRACHALIO

Do you know any one in these parts?

GRIPUS

My own neighbours I must know.

TRACHALIO

Where do you live here?

GRIPUS

pointing . At a distance out away yonder, as far off as the farthest fields.

TRACHALIO

pointing to the cottage of DAEMONES . The person that lives in that cottage, should you like it to be decided by his arbitration?

GRIPUS

Let go of the rope for a moment while I step aside and consider.

TRACHALIO

Be it so. Lets go of the rope.

GRIPUS

aside . Capital, the thing's all right; the whole of this booty is my own. He's inviting me here inside of my own abode to my own master as umpire. By my troth, he never this day will award three obols away from his own servant. Assuredly, this fellow doesn't know what proposal he has been making. To TRACHALIO. I'll go to the arbitrator with you.

TRACHALIO

What then?

GRIPUS

Although I know for sure that this is my own lawful right, let that be done rather than I should now be fighting with you.

TRACHALIO

Now you satisfy me.

GRIPUS

Although you are driving me before an arbitrator whom I don't know, if he shall administer justice, although he is unknown, he is as good as known to me; if he doesn't, though known, he is the same as though entirely unknown.

Enter DÆMONES, from his cottage, with PALÆSTRA and AMPELISCA, and SERVANTS.

DÆM.

to the WOMEN . Seriously, upon my faith, young women, although I wish what you desire, I'm afraid that on your account my wife will be turning me out of doors, who'll be saying that I've brought harlots here before her very eyes. Do you take refuge at the altar rather than I.

THE WOMEN.

We, wretched creatures, are undone. They weep.

DÆM.

I'll place you in safety; don't you fear. But why turning to the SERVANTS are you following me out of doors? Since I'm here, no one shall do them harm. Now then, be off, I say, in-doors, both of you, you guards from off guard. They go in.

GRIPUS

O master, save you.

DÆM.

Save you. How goes it?

TRACHALIO

pointing to GRIPUS . Is he your servant?

GRIPUS

I'm not ashamed to say yes.

TRACHALIO

I've nothing to do with you.

GRIPUS

Then get you gone hence, will you.

TRACHALIO

Prithee, do answer me, aged sir; is he your servant?

DÆM.

He is mine.

TRACHALIO

Oh then, that is very good, since he is yours. Again I salute you.

DÆM.

And I you. Are you he who, not long since, went away from here to fetch his master?

TRACHALIO

I am he.

DÆM.

What now is it that you want?

TRACHALIO

pointing to GRIPUS . This is your servant, you say?

DÆM.

He is mine.

TRACHALIO

That is very good, since he is yours.

DÆM.

What's the matter?

TRACHALIO

pointing to GRIPUS . That's a rascally fellow there.

DÆM.

What has the rascally fellow done to you?

TRACHALIO

I wish the ancles of that fellow were smashed.

DÆM.

What's the thing about which you are now disputing between yourselves?

TRACHALIO

I'll tell you.

GRIPUS

No, I'll tell you.

TRACHALIO

I fancy I'm to move the matter first.

GRIPUS

If indeed you were a decent person, you would be moving yourself off from here.

DÆM.

Gripus, give attention, and hold your tongue

GRIPUS

In order that that fellow may speak first?

DÆM.

Attend, Itell you. To TRACHALIO. Do you say on.

GRIPUS

Will you give the right of speaking to a stranger sooner than to your own servant?

TRACHALIO

O dear! how impossible it is for him to be kept quiet. As I was beginning to say, that Procurer, whom some little time since you turned out of the Temple of Venus — see pointing at the wallet , he has got his wallet.

GRIPUS

I haven't got it.

TRACHALIO

Do you deny that which I see with my own eyes?

GRIPUS

But I only wish you couldn't see. I have got it, and I haven't got it; why do you trouble yourself about me, what things I do?

TRACHALIO

In what way you got it does matter, whether rightfully or wrongfully.

GRIPUS

If I didn't take it in the sea, there's not a reason why you shouldn't deliver me up to the cross. If I took it in the sea with my net, how is it yours rather than my own?

TRACHALIO

to DÆMONES. He is deceiving you; the matter happened in this way, as I am telling you.

GRIPUS

What do you say?

TRACE.

So long as the person that has the first right to speak is speaking, do to DÆMONES put a check on him, please, if he belongs to you.

GRIPUS

What, do you wish the same thing to be done to myself, that your master has been accustomed to do to yourself? If he is in the habit of putting a check upon you, this master of ours isn't in the habit of doing so with us.

DÆM.

to TRACUALIO. In that remark only has he got the better of you. What do you want now? Tell me.

TRACHALIO

For my part, I neither ask for a share of that wallet there, nor have I ever said this day that it is my own; but in it there is a little casket that belongs to this female pointing to PALÆSTRA , whom a short time since I averred to be free born.

DÆM.

You are speaking of her, I suppose, whom a short time since you said was my countrywoman?

TRACHALIO

Just so; and those trinkets which formerly, when little, she used to wear, are there in that casket, which is in that wallet. This thing is of no service to him, and will be of utility to her, poor creature, if he gives it up, by means of which to seek for her parents.

DÆM.

I'll make him give it up; hold your tongue.

GRIPUS

I' faith, I'm going to give nothing to that fellow.

TRACHALIO

I ask for nothing but the casket and the trinkets.

GRIPUS

What if they are made of gold?

TRACHALIO

What's that to you? Gold shall be paid for gold, silver shall have its weight in silver in return.

GRIPUS

Please let me see the gold; after that I'll let you see the casket.

DÆM.

to GRIPUS . Do you beware of punishment, and hold your tongue.

To TRACHALIO. As you commenced to speak do you go on.

TRACK.

This one thing I entreat of you, that you will have compassion on this female, if, indeed, this wallet is that Procurer's, which I suspect it is. In this matter, I'm saying nothing of certainty to you, but only on conjecture.

GRIPUS

Do you see how the rascal's wheedling him?

TRACHALIO

Allow me to say on as I commenced. If this is the wallet that belongs to that villain whose I say it is, these women here will be able to recognize it; order him to show it to them.

GRIPUS

Say you so? To show it to them?

DÆM.

He doesn't say unreasonably, Gripus, that the wallet should be shown.

GRIPUS

Yes, i' faith, confoundedly unreasonably.

DÆM.

How so?

GRIPUS

Because, if I do show it, at once they'll say, of course, that they recognize it.

TRACHALIO

Source of villany, do you suppose that all other people are just like yourself, you author of perjury?

GRIPUS

All this I easily put up with, so long as he pointing to DÆMONES is of my way of thinking.

TEACH.

But now he is against you; from this pointing to the wallet will he obtain true testimony.

DÆM.

Gripus, do you pay attention. To TRACHALIO. You explain in a few words what it is you want?

TRACHALIO

For my part, I have stated it; but if you haven't understood me, I'll state it over again. Both of these women pointing to them, as I said a short time since, ought to be free; pointing to PALÆSTRA she was stolen at Athens when a little girl.

GRIPUS

Tell me what that has got to do with the wallet, whether they are slaves or whether free women?

TRACHALIO

You wish it all to be told over again, you rascal, so that the day may fail us.

DÆM.

Leave off your abuse, and explain to me what I've been asking.

TRACHALIO

There ought to be a casket of wicker-work in that wallet, in which are tokens by means of which she may be enabled to recognize her parents, by whom, when little, she was lost at Athens, as I said before.

GRIPUS

May Jupiter and the Gods confound you. What do you say, you sorcerer of a fellow? What, are these women dumb, that they are not able to speak for themselves?

TRACHALIO

They are silent for this reason, because a silent woman is always better than a talking one.

GRIPUS

Then, i' faith, by your way of speaking, you are neither a man nor a woman to my notion.

TRACHALIO

How so?

GRIPUS

Why, because neither talking nor silent are you ever good for anything. Prithee to DÆMONES , shall I ever be allowed to-day to speak?

DÆM.

If you utter a single word more this day, I'll break your head for you.

TRACHALIO

As I had commenced to say it, old gentleman, I beg you to order him to give up that casket to these young women; if for it he asks any reward for himself, it shall be paid; whatever else is there besides, let him keep for himself.

GRIPUS

Now at last you say that, because you are aware it is my right; just now you were asking to go halves.

TRACHALIO

Aye, and even still I ask it.

GRIPUS

I've seen a kite making a swoop, even when he got nothing at all however.

DÆM.

to GRIPUS . Can't I shut your mouth without a drubbing?

GRIPUS

pointing to TRACHALIO . If that fellow is silent, I'll be silent; if he talks, allow me to talk in my own behalf.

DÆM.

Please now give me this wallet, Gripus.

GRIPUS

I'll trust it to you; but for you to return it me, if there are none of those things in it.

DÆM.

It shall be returned.

GRIPUS

Take it. Gives him the wallet.

DÆM.

Now then listen, Palæstra and Ampelisca, to this which I say: is this the wallet, in which this Procurer said that your casket was?

PALÆSTRA

It is the same.

GRIPUS

aside . Troth, to my sorrow, I'm undone; how on the instant, before she well saw it, she said that it was it.

PALÆSTRA

I'll make this matter plain to you, instead of difficult. There ought to be a casket of wicker-work there in that wallet; whatever is in there I'll state by name; don't you show me anything. If I say wrong, I shall then have said this to no purpose; then you shall keep these things, whatever is in there for yourselves. But if the truth, then I entreat you that what is my own may be restored to me.

DÆM.

I agree; you ask for bare justice only, in my way of thinking, at least.

GRIPUS

But, i' faith, in mine, for extreme injustice; what if she is a witch or a sorceress, and shall mention exactly everything that's in it P Is a sorceress to have it?

DÆM.

She shan't get it, unless she tells the truth; in vain will she be conjuring. Unloose the wallet, then giving it to GRIPUS , that as soon as possible I may know what is the truth.

GRIPUS

first unfastens the straps of the wallet, and then hands it to his MASTER . Take it, it's unfastened. DÆMONES takes out the casket. Alas, I'm undone; I see the casket.

DÆM.

holding it up, and addressing PALÆSTRA . Is this it?

PALÆSTRA

That is it. O my parents, here do I keep you locked up; here have I enclosed both my wealth and my hopes of recognizing you.

GRIPUS

aside . Then, by my faith, the Gods must be enraged with you, whoever you are, who fasten up your parents in so narrow a compass.

DÆM.

Gripus, come hither, your cause is being tried. To PALÆSTRA. Do you, young woman, away at a distance there say what's in it, and of what appearance; mention them all. By my troth, if you make ever so slight a mistake, even if afterwards you wish, madam, to correct yourself, you'll be making a great mistake.

GRIPUS

You demand what's real justice.

TRACHALIO

By my troth, then, he doesn't demand yourself; for you are the opposite of justice.

DÆM.

Now then, say on, young woman. Gripus, give attention and hold your tongue.

PALAESTRA

There are some trinkets.

DÆM.

looking in the casket . See, here they are, I espy them.

GRIPUS

aside . In the first onset I an. worsted; takes hold of the arm of DÆMONES hold, don't be showing.

DÆM.

Of what description are they? Answer in their order.

PALAESTRA

In the first place, there's a little sword of gold, with an inscription.

DÆM.

Just tell me, what the characters are upon that little sword.

PALAESTRA

The name of my father. Next, on the other side, there's a little two-edged axe, of gold likewise, with an inscription: there on the axe is the name of my mother.

DÆM.

Stay; tell me, what's the name of your father upon the little sword?

PALAESTRA

Dæmones.

DÆM.

Immortal Gods! where in the world are my hopes?

GRIPUS

Aye, by my troth, and where are mine?

DÆM.

Do proceed forthwith, I entreat you.

GRIPUS

Cautiously, or else aside away to utter perdition.

DÆM.

Say, what's the name of your mother, here upon the little axe?

PALAESTRA

Dædalís.

DÆM.

The Gods will that I should be preserved.

GRIPUS

But that I should be ruined.

DÆM.

This must be my own daughter, Gripus.

GRIPUS

She may be for me, indeed. To TRACHALIO. May all the Gods confound you who this day saw me with your eyes, and myself as well for a blockhead, who didn't look about a hundred times first to see that no one was watching me, before I drew the net out of the water.

PALAESTRA

Next, there's a little knife of silver, and two little hands linked together, and then a little sow.

GRIPUS

aside . Nay, then, go and be hanged, you with your little sow and with your little pigs.

PALAESTRA

There's also a golden drop, which my father presented to me upon my birthday.

DÆM.

Undoubtedly there is; but I cannot restrain myself any longer from embracing you. My daughter, blessings on you; I am that father who begot you; I am Dæmones, and see, your mother Dædalus is in the house here pointing to his cottage .

AMPELISCA

embracing him . Blessings on you, my unlooked-for father.

DÆM.

Blessings on you; how joyously do I embrace you.

TRACHALIO

'Tis a pleasure to me, inasmuch as this falls to your lot from your feelings of affection.

DÆM.

Come then, Trachalio, if you can, bring that wallet into the house.

TRACHALIO

taking the wallet . See the villany of Gripus; inasmuch, Gripus, as this matter has turned out unfortunately for you, I congratulate you.

DÆM.

Come, then, let's go, my daughter, to your mother, who will be better able to enquire of you into this matter from proofs; who had you more in her hands, and is more thoroughly acquainted with your tokens.

TRACHALIO

Let's all go hence in-doors, since we are giving our common aid.

PALAESTRA

Follow me, Ampelisca.

AMPELISCA

That the Gods favour you, it is a pleasure to me. They all go into the cottage of DÆMONES, except GRIPUS.

GRIPUS

to himself. Am I not a blockhead of a fellow, to have this day fished up that wallet? Or, when I had fished it up, not to have hidden it somewhere in a secret spot? By my troth, I guessed that it would be a troublesome booty for me, because it fell to me in such troublous weather. I' faith, I guess that there's plenty of gold and silver there. What is there better for me than to be off hence in-doors and secretly hang myself — at least for a little time, until this vexation passes away from me? Goes into the cottage.

Enter DÆMONES, from his cottage.

DÆM.

to himself. O ye immortal Gods, what person is there more fortunate than I, who unexpectedly have discovered my daughter? Isn't it the fact, that if the Gods will a blessing to befall any person, that longed-for pleasure by some means or other, falls to the lot of the virtuous? I this day, a thing that I never hoped for nor yet believed, have unexpectedly discovered my daughter, and I shall bestow her upon a respectable young man of noble family, an Athenian, and my kinsman. For that reason I wish him to be fetched hither to me as soon as possible, and I've requested my servant to come out here, that he may go to the Forum. Still, I'm surprised at it that he isn't yet come out. I think I'll go to the door. Opens the door, and looks in. What do I behold? Embracing her, my wife is clasping my daughter around her neck. Her caressing is really almost too foolish and sickening.

DÆM.

Goes to the door again, and calls out. 'Twere better, wife, for an end to be made at last of your kissing; and make all ready that I may perform a sacrifice, when I come in-doors, in honor of the household Gods, inasmuch as they have increased our family. At home I have lambs and swine for sacred use. But why, ladies, are you detaining that Trachalio? Oh, I see he's coming out of doors, very seasonably.

Enter TRACHALIO, from the cottage.

TRACHALIO

speaking to those within . Wheresoever he shall be, I'll seek Plesidippus out at once, and bring him together with me to you.

DÆM.

Tell him how this matter has fallen out about my daughter. Request him to leave other occupations and to come here.

TRACHALIO

Very well

DÆM.

Tell him that I'll give him my daughter for a wife.

TRACHALIO

Very well.

DÆM.

And that I knew his father, and that he is a relation of my own.

TRACHALIO

Very well.

DÆM.

But do make haste.

TRACHALIO

Very well.

DÆM.

Take care and let a dinner be prepared here at once.

TRACHALIO

Very well.

DÆM.

What, all very well?

TRACHALIO

Very well. But do you know what it is I want of you? That you'll remember what you promised, that this day I'm to be free.

DÆM.

Very well.

TRACHALIO

Take care and entreat Plesidippus to give me my freedom.

DÆM.

Very well.

TRACHALIO

And let your daughter request it; she'll easily prevail.

DÆM.

Very well.

TRACHALIO

And that Ampelisca may marry me, when I'm a free man.

DÆM.

Very well.

TRACHALIO

And that I may experience a pleasing return to myself in kindness for my actions.

DÆM.

Very well.

TRACHALIO

What, all very well?

DÆM.

Very well. Again I return you thanks. But do you make haste to proceed to the city forthwith, and betake yourself hither again.

TRACHALIO

Very well. I'll be here directly. In the meanwhile, do you make the other preparations that are necessary. (Exit TRACHALIO.)

DÆM.

Very well — may Hercules ill befriend him with his “very-welling;” he has so stuffed my ears with it. Whatever it was I said, “very well” was the answer.

Enter GRIPUS, from the cottage.

GRIPUS

How soon may I have a word with you, Dæmones?

DÆM.

What's your business, Gripus?

GRIPUS

Touching that wallet, if you are wise, be wise; keep what goods the Gods provide you.

DÆM.

Does it seem right to you, that, what belongs to another I should assert to be my own?

GRIPUS

What, not a thing that I found in the sea?

DÆM.

So much the better does it happen for him who lost it; none the more is it necessary that it should be your wallet.

GRIPUS

For this reason are you poor because you are too scrupulously righteous.

DÆM.

O Gripus, Gripus, in the life of man very many traps there are, in what they are deceived by guile. And, by my troth, full often is a bait placed in them, which bait if any greedy person greedily snaps at, through his own greediness he is caught in the trap. He who prudently, skilfully, and warily, takes precaution, full long he may enjoy that which is honestly acquired. This booty seems to me to be about to be made a booty of by me, that it may go hence with a greater blessing than it first came. What, ought I to conceal what I know was brought to me as belonging to another? By no means will my friend Dæmones do that. 'Tis ever most becoming for prudent men to be on their guard against this, that they be not themselves confederates with their servants in evil-doing. Except only when I'm gaming, I don't care for any gain.

GRIPUS

At times, I've seen the Comedians, when acting, in this fashion repeat sayings in a wise manner, and be applauded for them, when they pointed out this prudent conduct to the public. But when each person went thence his own way home, there wasn't one after the fashion which they had recommended.

DÆM.

Go in-doors, don't be troublesome, moderate your tongue. I'm going to give you nothing, don't you deceive yourself.

GRIPUS

apart . Then I pray the Gods that whatever's in that wallet, whether it's gold, or whether silver, it may all become ashes. Goes into the cottage.

DÆM.

This is the reason why we have bad servants. For this master, if he had combined with any servant, would have made both himself and the other guilty of a theft. While he was thinking that he himself had made a capture, in the meantime he himself would have been made a capture: capture would have led to capture. Now will I go in-doors from here and sacrifice; after that, I'll at once order the dinner to be cooked for us. Goes into the cottage.

Enter PLESIDIPPUS and TRACHALIO, at the further end of the stage.

PLESIDIPPUS

Tell me all these things over again my life, my Trachalio, my freed-man, my patron, aye rather, my father; has Palæstra found her father and mother?

TRACHALIO

She has found them.

PLESIDIPPUS

And is she my countrywoman?

TRACHALIO

So I think.

PLESIDIPPUS

And is she to marry me?

TRACHALIO

So I suspect.

PLESIDIPPUS

Prithee, do you reckon that he will betroth her to me?

TRACHALIO

So I reckon.

PLESIDIPPUS

Well, shall I congratulate her father too upon his finding her?

TRACHALIO

So I reckon.

PLESIDIPPUS

Well, her mother too?

TRACHALIO

So I reckon.

PLESIDIPPUS

What then do you reckon?

TRACHALIO

What you ask me, I reckon.

PLESIDIPPUS

Tell me then how much do you reckon it at?

TRACHALIO

What I, I reckon ——

PLESIDIPPUS

Then really, do carry over. Don't be always making a reckoning.

TRACHALIO

So I reckon.

PLESIDIPPUS

What if I run? Pretends to run.

TRACHALIO

So I reckon.

PLESIDIPPUS

Or rather gently, this way? He walks slowly.

TRACHALIO

So I reckon.

PLESIDIPPUS

Ought I to salute her as well when I arrive?

TRACHALIO

So I reckon.

PLESIDIPPUS

Her father too?

TRACHALIO

So I reckon.

PLESIDIPPUS

After that, her mother?

TRACHALIO

So I reckon.

PLESIDIPPUS

And what after that? When I arrive, should I also embrace her father?

TRACHALIO

So I don't reckon.

PLESIDIPPUS

Well, her mother?

TRACHALIO

So I don't reckon.

PLESIDIPPUS

Well, her own self?

TRACHALIO

So I don't reckon.

PLESIDIPPUS

Confusion, he has closed his reckoning; now when I wish him, he doesn't reckon.

TRACHALIO

You are not in your senses; follow me.

PLESIDIPPUS

Conduct me, my patron, where you please. They go into the cottage of DÆMONES.

ACT V.

Enter LABRAX, at a distance.

LABRAX

to himself . What other mortal being is there living this day more wretched than myself, whom before the commissioned judges Plesidippus has just now cast? Palæstra has just been taken from me by award. I'm ruined outright. But I do believe that Procurers were procreated for mere sport; so much do all persons make sport if any misfortune befalls a Procurer. Now I'll go look here, in the Temple of Venus, for that other female, that her at least I may take away, the only portion of my property that remains. He retires a little distance.

Enter GRIPUS, from the cottage of DÆMONES, with a spit in his hand.

GRIPUS

calling to the PEOPLE within . By the powers, you shall never this day at nightfall behold Gripus alive, unless the wallet is restored to me.

LABRAX

behind . I'm ready to die; when I hear mention made anywhere of a wallet, I'm thumped, as it were with a stake, upon the breast.

GRIPUS

at the door, continuing . That scoundrel is free; I, the person that held the net in the sea, and drew up the wallet, to him you refuse to give anything.

LABRAX

behind . O ye immortal Gods! by his talk this person has made me prick up my ears.

GRIPUS

continuing . By my troth, in letters a cubit long, I'll immediately post it up in every quarter, "If any person has lost a wallet with plenty of gold and silver, let him come to Gripus." You shan't keep it as you are wishing.

LABRAX

behind . I' faith, this person knows, as I think, who has got the wallet. This person must be accosted by me; ye Gods, aid me, I do entreat you. Some one calls GRIPUS, from within.

GRIPUS

Why are you calling me back in-doors? He rubs away at the spit. I want to clean this here before the door. But surely this, i' faith, has been made of rust, and not of iron; so that the more I rub it, it becomes quite red and more slender. Why surely this spit has been drugged; it does waste away so in my hands.

LABRAX

accosting him . Save you, young man.

GRIPUS

May the Gods prosper you with your shorn pate.

LABRAX

What's going on?

GRIPUS

A spit being cleaned.

LABRAX

How do you do?

GRIPUS

What are you? Prithee, are you a medicant?

LABRAX

No, i' faith, I am more than a medicant by one letter.

GRIPUS

Then you are a “mendicant.”

LABRAX

You’ve hit it to a nicety.

GRIPUS

Your appearance seems suitable to it. But what’s the matter with you?

LABRAX

Troth, this last night I was shipwrecked at sea the vessel was cast away, and to my misfortune I lost there everything that I had.

GRIPUS

What did you lose?

LABRAX

A wallet with plenty of gold and silver.

GRIPUS

Do you at all remember what there was in the wallet which was lost?

LABRAX

What matters for us now to be talking of it, if, in spite of it, it’s lost?

GRIPUS

What if I know who has found it? I wish to learn from you the tokens.

LABRAX

Eight hundred golden pieces were there in a purse, besides a hundred Philippean minæ in a wash-leather bag apart.

GRIPUS

aside . Troth, it is a noble prize; I shall be getting a handsome reward. The Gods show respect to mortals; therefore I shall come off bounteously rewarded. No doubt, it is this man’s wallet. To LABRAX.
Do you proceed to relate the rest.

LABRAX

A large talent of silver of full weight was in a purse, besides a bowl, a goblet, a beaker, a boat, and a cup.

GRIPUS

Astonishing! you really did have some splendid riches.

LABRAX

A shocking expression is that, and a most abominable one. "You did have, and now have not."

GRIPUS

What would you be ready to give to one who should find these out for you, and give you information? Say, speedily and at once.

LABRAX

Three hundred didrachms.

GRIPUS

Rubbish.

LABRAX

Four hundred.

GRIPUS

Old thrums.

LABRAX

Five hundred.

GRIPUS

A rotten nut.

LABRAX

Six hundred.

GRIPUS

You are prating about mere tiny weevils.

LABRAX

I'll give seven hundred.

GRIPUS

Your mouth is hot, you are cooling it just now.

LABRAX

I'll give a thousand didrachms.

GRIPUS

You are dreaming.

LABRAX

I add no more; be off with you.

GRIPUS

Hear me then; if, i' faith, I should be off from here, I shan't be here.

LABRAX

Would you like a hundred as well as the thousand?

GRIPUS

You are asleep.

LABRAX

Say how much you ask.

GRIPUS

That you mayn't be adding anything against your inclination, a great talent; it's not possible for three obols to be bated thence; then do you say either "yes" or "no" at once.

LABRAX

aside . What's to be done here? It's a matter of necessity, I see: to GRIPUS the talent shall be paid.

GRIPUS

going towards the altar . Just step this way; I wish Venus here to put the question to you.

LABRAX

Whatever you please, that command me.

GRIPUS

Touch this altar of Venus.

LABRAX

touching it . I am touching it.

GRIPUS

By Venus here must you swear to me.

LABRAX

What must I swear?

GRIPUS

What I shall bid you.

LABRAX

Dictate in words just as you like. Aside. What I've got at home, I shall never beg of any one else.

GRIPUS

Take hold of this altar.

LABRAX

taking hold of it . I am taking hold of it.

GRIPUS

Swear that you will pay me the money on that same day on which you shall gain possession of the wallet.

LABRAX

Be it so.

GRIPUS

speaking, while LABRAX repeats after him . Venus of Cyrene, I invoke thee as my witness, if I shall find that wallet which I lost in the ship, safe with the gold and silver, and it shall come into my possession ——

GRIPUS

“Then to this Gripus do I promise;” say so and place your hand upon me.

LABRAX

Then to this Gripus do I promise, Venus, do thou hear me —— followed by LABRAX . “That I will forthwith give him a great talent of silver.”

GRIPUS

GRIPUS

If you defraud me, say, may Venus utterly destroy your body, and your existence in your calling. Aside. As it is, do you have this for yourself, when you’ve once taken the oath.

LABRAX

If, Venus, I shall do anything amiss against this oath, I supplicate thee that all Procurers may henceforth be wretched.

GRIPUS

aside . As it is, it shall be so, even if you do keep your oath. Do you wait here; going towards the cottage — I’ll at once make the old gentleman come out; do you forthwith demand of him that wallet. Goes in.

LABRAX

to himself . If ever so much he shall restore to me this wallet, I’m not this day indebted to him three obols even. It’s according to my own intention what my tongue swears. The door opens. But I’ll hold my peace; see, here he’s coming out, and bringing the old man.

Enter GRIPUS, followed by DÆMONES, with the wallet.

GRIPUS

Follow this way. Where is this Procurer? Hark you to LABRAX, see now; this person pointing at DÆMONES has got your wallet.

DÆM.

I have got it, and I confess that it is in my possession; and if it's yours, you may have it. Everything, just as each particular was in it, shall in like manner be given safe to you. Holding it out. Take it, if it's yours.

LABRAX

Immortal Gods, it is mine. Takes it. Welcome, dear wallet.

DÆM.

Is it yours?

LABRAX

Do you ask the question? If indeed, i' faith, it were in Jove's possession, still it is my own.

DÆM.

Everything in it is safe; there has only been one casket taken out of it, with some trinkets, by means of which this day I have found my daughter.

LABRAX

What person?

DÆM.

Palæstra, who was your property, she has been discovered to be my own daughter.

LABRAX

By my troth, it has happily turned out so; since this matter has happened so fortunately for you according to your wishes, I'm rejoiced.

DÆM.

In that I don't readily believe you.

LABRAX

Aye, by my faith, that you may be sure that I'm rejoiced, you shan't give me three obols for her; I excuse you.

DÆM.

I' faith, you are acting kindly.

LABRAX

No, troth; it's really yourself, indeed, that's doing so. Going off with the wallet.

GRIPUS

Hark you, you've got the wallet now.

LABRAX

I have got it.

GRIPUS

Make haste.

LABRAX

Make haste about what?

GRIPUS

To pay me the money.

LABRAX

By my troth, I'll neither give you anything nor do I owe you anything.

GRIPUS

What mode of proceeding is this? Don't you owe it me?

LABRAX

Troth, not I indeed.

GRIPUS

Didn't you promise it me upon your oath?

LABRAX

I did take an oath, and now I'll take an oath, if it is in any way my own pleasure; oaths were invented for preserving property, not for losing it.

GRIPUS

Give me, will you, a great talent of silver, you most perjured fellow.

DÆM.

Gripus, what talent is it you are asking him for?

GRIPUS

He promised it me on oath.

LABRAX

I chose to swear; turning to DÆMONES are you the priest as to my perjury?

DÆM.

to GRIPUS . For what reason did he promise you the money?

GRIPUS

If I restored this wallet into his hands, he swore that he would give me a great talent of silver.

LABRAX

Find me a person with whom I may go to the judge, to decide whether you did not make the bargain with wicked fraudulence, and whether I am yet five-and-twenty years old.

GRIPUS

pointing to DÆMONES . Go to the judge with him.

LABRAX

No; I must have some other person.

DÆM.

to LABRAX . Then I shan't allow you to take it away from him, unless I shall have found him guilty. Did you promise him the money?

LABRAX

I confess it.

DÆM.

What you promised my slave must needs be my own. Don't you be supposing, Procurer, that you are to be using your pimping honesty here. That can't be.

GRIPUS

to LABRAX . Did you fancy now that you had got hold of a person whom you might cheat? It must be paid down here holding his hand , good silver coin; I shall, at once, pay it to him pointing to DÆMONES , so that he may give me my liberty.

DÆM.

Inasmuch, therefore, as I have acted courteously towards you, and by my means these things pointing to the wallet have been saved for you

GRIPUS

I' faith, by my means, rather; don't say by yours.

DÆM.

to GRIPUS . If you are prudent you'll hold your tongue. To LABRAX. Then it befits you in a like courteous manner kindly to return the obligation to myself, who so well merit the same.

LABRAX

You are pleading, of course, for my right?

DÆM.

ironically . It would be a wonder if I didn't, at a loss to myself, ask you to forego your right.

GRIPUS

aside . I'm all right; the Procurer's giving way; my freedom is at hand.

DÆM.

pointing to GRIPUS . He found this wallet; he is my slave. I therefore have preserved this for you, together with a large sum of money.

LABRAX

I return you thanks, and with regard to the talent that I promised on oath to him, there's no reason that you shouldn't receive it.

GRIPUS

Hark you, give it me then, if you are wise.

DÆM.

to GRIPUS . Will you hold your tongue, or not?

GRIPUS

You pretend to be acting on my side: I tell you * * * * * by my troth, you shan't do me out of that, if I did lose the other booty.

DÆM.

You shall have a beating if you add a single word.

GRIPUS

Troth now, do you kill me even; I'll never be silent on any terms, unless my mouth is shut with the talent.

LABRAX

For yourself, in fact, is he using his exertions; do hold your tongue.

DÆM.

Step this way, Procurer.

LABRAX

Very well. They walk on one side.

GRIPUS

Proceed openly; I don't want any whisperings or mumblings to be going on.

DÆM.

Tell me, at what price did you buy that other young woman, Ampelisca?

LABRAX

I paid down a thousand didrachms.

DÆM.

Should you like me to make you a handsome offer?

LABRAX

I should like it much.

DÆM.

I'll divide the talent.

LABRAX

You act fairly.

DÆM.

For that other woman Ampelisca, that she may be free, take you one half, and give the other half to him.

LABRAX

By all means.

DÆM.

For that half I'll give his freedom to Gripus, by means of whom you found your wallet, and I my daughter.

LABRAX

You act fairly; I return you many thanks. They return to GRIPUS.

GRIPUS

How soon then is the money to be returned to me?

DÆM.

The money's paid, Gripus; I've got it.

GRIPUS

You, faith; but I had rather it were myself.

DÆM.

I' faith, there's nothing for you here, so don't you be expecting it. I wish you to release him from his oath.

GRIPUS

aside. Troth, I'm undone; if I don't hang myself, I'm utterly done for. Aloud. I' faith, after this day you certainly shall never be cheating me again.

DÆM.

Dine here to-day, Procurer.

LABRAX

Be it so; the proposal is to my taste.

DÆM.

Do you both follow me in-doors. He comes forward and addresses the AUDIENCE. Spectators, I would invite you to dinner as well, were it not that I'm going to give nothing, and that there is no good cheer at all at home; and if, too, I didn't believe that you are invited to dinner elsewhere. But if you shall be willing to give hearty applause to this Play, do you all come to make merry at my house some sixteen years hence. Do you to LABRAX and GRIPUS both dine here with me to-day.

GRIPUS

Be it so.

An ACTOR

THE SUBJECT.

THE plot of this Play (which is supposed by some Commentators not to have been written by Plautus) is extremely meagre. Antipho, a wealthy and jovial old gentleman of Athens, has two daughters, Philumena and Pamphila. They are married to two brothers, Epignomus and Pamphilus, who, having run through their property in the company of idlers and Parasites, have, with the view of retrieving their fortunes, taken to merchandize. Having been absent three years from home, and no tidings being heard of them whether they are alive or not Antipho assumes the prerogative of a father, and requests his daughters to marry again; who resolve, however, to maintain their fidelity to their absent husbands. Philumena sends the Parasite, Gelasimus, to the harbour to see if any ships have arrived. In the meantime, the boy, Pinacium, brings her word that her husband has. returned to Athens. He and his brother meet the Parasite, and resist all his attempts to fasten himself upon them; they then go home, and become reconciled to Antipho, from whom, in their poverty, they had become estranged; and who now requests them to make him a present of a female slave. Stichus, the servant, obtains a day's holiday, together with a present from his master of a cask of wine. He makes an entertainment for himself, his friend Sagarinus, and their mistress Stephanium. The Play concludes with a dance, to the music of the Piper.

THE ACROSTIC ARGUMENT.

[Supposed to have been written by Priscian the Grammarian.]

An old man (Senex) rebukes his daughters because they are so (Tam) persevering in thus (Ita) adhering to their husbands, brothers, poor and abroad, and in not deserting them. And, on the other hand (Contra), he is softened down by prudent words to allow them to retain (Habere) those whom they have already got. Enriched with wealth, their husbands (Viri) come back from beyond the sea; each one retains his own (Suam) wife, and to Stichus a holiday is given.

ACT I.

Enter PHILUMENA and PAMPHILA.

PHILUMENA

Sister, I think that Penelope was wretched from her very soul, who was so long deprived of her husband; for from our own fortunes, whose husbands are absent from us, we judge of her feelings; for whose affairs, still, in their absence, both night and day, sister, as is becoming, we are ever anxious.

PAMPHILA

'Tis right that we should do our duty; and we do not that any further than affection bids us.

PHILUMENA

But, sister, step this way a moment; I want to speak about the affairs of my husband.

PAMPHILA

Ain't they prospering, pray?

PHILUMENA

I hope and wish so, indeed. But, sister, at this am I vexed, that your and my father, one who is esteemed as especially honorable among all his fellow-citizens, should be now acting the part of a dishonorable man; who is undeservedly doing so great an injustice to our absent husbands, and is wishing to separate us from them. These things, sister, render me tired of existence; these things are a care and a vexation to me. She sheds tears.

PAMPHILA

Weep not, sister, nor do that to your feelings which your father is threatening to do. 'Tis to be hoped that he will act more righteously. I know him well; he says these things in jest; and he would not earn for himself the mountains of the Persians, which are said to be of gold, to do that of which you are in dread. Still, if he does do it, it befits you by no means to be angry; nor will it happen without some reason. For this is the third year since our husbands have been away from home.

PHILUMENA

'Tis as you say; while, in the meantime, they may be living, and may be well, they do not make us acquainted where they are, what they are doing, whether they are doing well, neither do they return.

PAMPHILA

And do you, sister, regret this, that they do not observe their duty, whereas you do yours?

PHILUMENA

Troth, I do.

PAMPHILA

Hold your peace, if you please; take care, please, that I hear not that same thing from you in future.

PHILUMENA

And why, pray?

PAMPHILA

Because, i' faith, in my opinion, 'tis proper for all prudent people to observe and to do their duty. For that reason, sister, although you are the older, I advise you to remember your duty; and if they are unjust and act otherwise to us than is right, then, i' faith, in exactly the same degree, that there may be no further mischief, it befits us studiously to remember our duty by all means in our power.

PHILUMENA

'Tis good; I'm silenced.

PAMPHILA

But do take care and remember it.

PHILUMENA

I do not wish, sister, to be thought to be unmindful of my husband; nor has he thrown away the distinction that he conferred upon me. For, by my troth, his kindness is pleasing and delightful to me; and, really, this choice of mine is not now irksome to me, nor is there any reason why I should wish to abandon this match. But, in fine, 'tis placed in our father's power; that must be done by us which our relatives enjoin.

PAMPHILA

I know it, and in thinking of it I am overwhelmed with grief; for already has he almost disclosed his sentiments.

PHILUMENA

Let us consider, then, what is necessary for us to do.

Enter ANTIPHO from his house, speaking at the door to his SERVANTS.

ANTIPHO

The man in condition of a servant who always waits to be told his duty, and doesn't remember to do it of his own accord, that servant, I say, is not of a deserving character. You remember well on each returning Calends to ask for your allotment of provisions; why, then, do you less remember to do what is necessary to do about the house? Now, therefore, if, when I return, the furniture shall not be set for me, each piece in its proper place, I'll be putting you in mind with a bull's hide remembrancer. Not human beings seem to be living with me, but pigs. Take care, if you please, that my house is clean, when I return home. I shall soon be back home; I'm going to her house, to see my eldest daughter. If any one should enquire for me, call me thence, some of you; or —— I shall be here soon myself.

PHILUMENA

aside . What are we to do, sister, if our father shall resolve against us?

PAMPHILA

It befits us to submit to what he does whose power is the stronger. By entreating, not by opposing, I think we must use our endeavours. If with mildness we ask for favour, I trust to obtain it of him. Oppose him we cannot, without disgrace and extreme criminality; I will neither do that myself, nor will I give you the advice to do it, but rather that we should entreat him. I know our family; he will yield to entreaty.

ANTIPHO

speaking to himself. In the first place, in what manner I should make a beginning with them, about that I am in doubt; whether I should accost them in language couched in ambiguous terms, after this fashion, as though I had never pretended anything at all against them, or whether as though I had heard that they were deserving of some censure against them; whether I should rather try them gently or with threats. I know that there will be opposition; I know my daughters right well. If they should prefer to remain here rather than to marry afresh, why, let them do so. What need is there for me, the term of my life run out, to be waging war with my children, when I think that they don't at all deserve that I should do so? By no means; I'll have no disturbances. But I think that this is the best thing to be done by me; I'll do thus; I'll pretend as though they had themselves been guilty of some fault; I'll terribly terrify their minds this day by some ambiguous expressions; and then, after that, as I shall feel disposed, I'll disclose myself. I know that many words will be spoken; I'll go in. Goes to the door of PHILUMENA'S house. But the door's open.

PHILUMENA

Why, surely the sound of my father's voice reached my ears.

PAMPHILA

I' troth, 'tis he; let's hasten to meet him with a kiss. They both run to kiss him.

PHILUMENA

My father, my respects.

ANTIPHO

And to you the same. Away this instant, and be off from me, Removes her.

PHILUMENA

One kiss.

ANTIPHO

I've had enough of your kissing.

PHILUMENA

Prithee, father, why so?

ANTIPHO

Because, as it is, the seasoning of your affection has reached my soul.

PAMPHILA

Sit down here, father. Points to a chair.

ANTIPHO

I'll not sit there; do you sit down; I'll sit on the bench. Sits on a bench.

PAMPHILA

Wait till I fetch a cushion.

ANTIPHO

You take kind care of me; I'm nicely seated now as I am.

PAMPHILA

Do let me, father. Goes into the house.

ANTIPHO

What need is there?

PAMPHILA

There is need. Coming out, and bringing a cushion.

ANTIPHO

I'll submit to you. Arranging the cushion. Yes, this does very well.

PAMPHILA

Why, daughters can never take too much care of their parent. Whom is it proper that we should esteem more dear than yourself? And then, in the next place, father, our husbands, for whom you have chosen that we should be the mothers of families.

ANTIPHO

You do as it is proper for good wives to do, in esteeming your husbands, though absent, just as though they were present.

PAMPHILA

'Tis propriety, father, for us to highly honor those who have chosen us as companions for themselves.

ANTIPHO

Is there any other person here to listen with his ears to our conversation?

PHILUMENA

There's no one except us and yourself.

ANTIPHO

I wish your attention to be given; for, unacquainted with female matters and ways, I come now as a pupil to you, my instructresses; in order that each of you may tell me what endowments matrons ought to have, who are the best esteemed.

PAMPHILA

What's the reason that you come hither to enquire about the ways of females?

ANTIPHO

Troth, I'm looking for a wife, as your mother's dead and gone.

PAMPHILA

You'll easily find, father, one both worse and of worse morals than she was; one better you'll neither find nor does the sun behold.

ANTIPHO

But I'm making the enquiry of you, and of this sister of yours.

PAMPHILA

I' faith, father, I know how they should be, if they are to be such as I think right.

ANTIPHO

I wish, then, to know what you do think right.

PAMPHILA

That when they walk through the city, they should shut the mouths of all, so that none can speak ill of them with good reason.

ANTIPHO

to PHILUMENA . And now speak you in your turn.

PHILUMENA

What do you wish that I should speak to you about, father?

ANTIPHO

How is the woman most easily distinguished, who is of a good disposition?

PHILUMENA

When she, who has the power of doing ill, refrains from doing so.

ANTIPHO

Not bad that. To PAMPHILA. Come, say you, which choice is the preferable, to marry a maiden or a widow?

PAMPHILA

So far as my skill extends, of many evils, that which is the least evil, the same is the least an evil. He that can avoid the women, let him avoid them, so that each day he takes care, the day before, not to do that which, the day after, he may regret.

ANTIPHO

What sort of woman, pray, seems to you by far the wisest?

PHILUMENA

She who, when affairs are prosperous, shall still be able to know herself, and who with equanimity can endure it to be worse with her than it has been.

ANTIPHO

By my troth, in merry mood have I been trying the bent of your dispositions. But 'tis this for which I am come to you, and for which I wished to meet you both. My friends are advising me to the effect that I should remove you hence to my own house.

PAMPHILA

But still, we, whose interests are concerned, are advising you quite otherwise. For either, father, we ought not formerly to have been bestowed in marriage, unless our husbands pleased you, or, it is not right for us now to be taken away when they are absent.

ANTIPHO

And shall I suffer you while I am alive to remain married to men who are beggars?

PAMPHILA

This beggar of mine is agreeable to me; her own king is agreeable to the queen. In poverty have I the same feelings that once I had in riches.

ANTIPHO

And do you set such high value on thieves and beggars?

PHILUMENA

You did not, as I think, give me in marriage to the money, but to the man.

ANTIPHO

Why are you still in expectation of those who have been absent for now three years? Why don't you accept an eligible match in place of a very bad one?

PAMPHILA

'Tis folly, father, to lead unwilling dogs to hunt. That wife is an enemy, who is given to a man in marriage against her will.

ANTIPHO

Are you then determined that neither of you will obey the command of your father?

PHILUMENA

We do obey; for where you gave us in marriage, thence are we unwilling to depart.

ANTIPHO

Kindly good b'ye; I'll go and tell my friends your resolutions.

PAMPHILA

They will, I doubt not, think us the more honorable, if you tell them to honorable men.

ANTIPHO

Take you care, then, of their domestic concerns, the best way that you can. (Exit.)

PHILUMENA

Now you gratify us, when you direct us aright: now we will hearken to you. Now, sister, let's go indoors.

PAMPHILA

Well, first I'll take a look at home. If, perchance, any news should come to you from your husband, take you care that I know it.

PHILUMENA

Neither will I conceal it from you, nor do you conceal from me what you may know. Calls at the door of her house. Ho there, Crocotium, go, fetch hither Gelasimus, the Parasite; bring him here with you. For, i' faith, I wish to send him to the harbour, to see if, perchance, any ship from Asia has arrived there yesterday or to-day. But, one servant has been sitting at the harbour whole days in waiting; still, however, I wish it to be visited every now and then. Make haste, and return immediately. Each goes into her own house.

Enter GELASIMUS.

GELASIMUS

I do suspect that Famine was my mother; for since I was born I have never been filled with victuals. And no man could better return the favour to his mother, than do I right unwillingly return it to my mother, Famine. For in her womb, for ten months she bore me, whereas I have been carrying her for more than ten years in my stomach. She, too, carried me but a little child, wherefore I judge that she endured the less labour; in my stomach no little Famine do I bear, but of full growth, i' faith, and extremely heavy. The labour-pains arise with me each day, but I'm unable to bring forth my mother, nor know I what to do. I've often heard it so said that the elephant is wont to be pregnant ten whole years; for sure this hunger of mine is of its breed. For now for many a year has it been clinging to, my inside. Now, if any person wants a droll fellow, I am on sale, with all my equipage: of a filling-up for these chasms am I in search. When little, my father gave me the name of Gelasimus, because, even from a tiny child, I was a droll chap. By reason of poverty, in fact, did I acquire this name, because, it was poverty that made me to be a droll; for whenever she reaches a person, she instructs him thoroughly in every art. My father used to say that I was born when provisions were dear; for that reason, I do believe, I am now the more sharply set. But on our family such complacency has been bestowed — I am in the habit of refusing no person, if any one asks me out to eat. One form of expression has most unfortunately died away with people, and one, i' faith, most beseeching and most elegant to my thinking, which formerly they employed: "Come here to dinner — do so — really, do promise — don't make any difficulties — is it convenient? — I wish it to be so, I say; I'll not part with you unless you come." But now, in the present day, they have found a substitute for these expressions — a saying, by my faith, truly right worthless and most vile: "I'd invite you to dinner, were I not dining; out myself." I' faith, I wish the very loins of that phrase broken, that it mayn't repeat its perjury if he does dine at his own house. These phrases reduce me to learn foreign habits, and to spare the necessity for an auctioneer, and so proclaim the auction, and put myself up for sale. GELASIMUS.

CROCOTIUM

aside . This is the Parasite, whom I've been sent to fetch. I'll listen to what he's saying, before I accost him.

GELASIMUS

Now there are a good many curious mischief-makers here, who, with extreme zeal, busy themselves with the affairs of other people, and who have themselves no affairs of their own to busy themselves with. They, when they know that any one is about to have an auction, go forthwith and sift out what's the reason; whether a debt compels it, or whether he has purchased a farm; or whether, on a divorce, her marriage-portion is to be repaid to his wife. All these, although, i' faith, I don't judge them undeserving, in their most wretched state, to go toiling on, I don't care about. I'll proclaim the reason of my auction, that they may rejoice in my mishaps, for there's no person a busybody but what he's ill-natured too. Very great mishaps, alas! have befallen wretched me. So dreadfully afflicted has my property rendered me: my many drinking-bouts are dead and gone; how many dinners, too, that I've bewailed, are dead! how many a draught of honeyed wine; how many breakfasts, too, that I have lost within these last three years! In my wretchedness, for very grief and vexation have I quite grown old. I'm almost dead with hunger.

CROCOTIUM

aside . There's no one such a droll, as he is when he is hungry.

GELASIMUS

Now am I resolved that I'll make a sale: out of doors am I obliged to sell whatever I possess. Attend, if you please; the bargains will be for those who are present. I've funny bon mots to sell. Come, bid your price. Who bids a dinner? Does any one bid a breakfast? They'll cost you an Herculean breakfast or dinner. Ho, there! to one of the SPECTATORS did you nod to me? No one will offer you better — I won't allow that any Parasite has better quibbles, cajoleries, and parasitical white lies. I'm selling a rusty flesh-scraper, too; a rusty-coloured brown bottle for the Greek unguents at the sweating-baths; delicate after-dinner powders; an empty Parasite as well pointing to himself, in whom to lay by your scraps. 'Tis needful that these should be sold at once for as much as they can; that, if I offer the tenth part. to Hercules, on that account it may be greater * * * * * aside . An auction of no great value, by my troth. Hunger has taken hold of the very deepest recess of the fellow's stomach. I'll accost the man. Moves towards him.

GELASIMUS

Who's this that's coming towards me? Why, surely this is Crocotium, the maid-servant of Epignomus.

CROCOTIUM

My respects, Gelasimus.

GELASIMUS

That's not my name.

CROCOTIUM

I' faith, for sure that used to be your name.

GELASIMUS

Distinctly it was so, but I've lost it by use. Now I'm called Miccotrogus from what is fact.

CROCOTIUM

O dear! I've laughed a good deal at you to-day.

GELASIMUS

When? or in what place?

CROCOTIUM

Here, when you were carrying on a most worthless auction.

GELASIMUS

How now; did you really hear it?

CROCOTIUM

Aye, and one really right worthy of yourself.

GELASIMUS

Where are you bound for now?

CROCOTIUM

For yourself.

GELASIMUS

Why have you come?

CROCOTIUM

Philumena bade me ask you by all means to come to visit her at her house this instant, together with me.

GELASIMUS

I' faith, but I'll surely come there as fast as I can. Are the entrails cooked by this? With how many lambs has she been sacrificing?

CROCOTIUM

Indeed, she hasn't been sacrificing at all.

GELASIMUS

How? What does she want with me, then?

CROCOTIUM

I think that she's going to ask you for ten measures of wheat.

GELASIMUS

Or me rather ask it of her?

CROCOTIUM

No; that you yourself should lend them to us.

GELASIMUS

Tell her that I've nothing to give myself, or that she could wish to borrow, nor anything whatever, except this cloak that I have on. Even my very tongue that so freely used to offer itself I've sold as well.

CROCOTIUM

How? Have you got no tongue?

GELASIMUS

Why, the former one, that used to say "here, take me," I've lost: see, here's one now that says "give me." Puts out his tongue.

CROCOTIUM

A curse may the Gods give you * * * *

GELASIMUS

Aye, if a curse you want, this same tongue will give you that.

CROCOTIUM

Well now, are you coming or not?

GELASIMUS

Well, be off home; tell her I'll be there this moment; make haste and be off. CROCOTIUM goes into the house. I wonder why she has requested me to be fetched to her, who has never, before this day, requested that I should be fetched to her, ever since her husband left. I wonder what it can be; except it is for some experiment to be made upon me; I'll go see what she wants. But see, here's her boy, Pinacium. Look at that now; how very facetiously and just like a picture does he stand? Full many a time, for sure, in good troth, has he poured out for me the wine, almost unmixed, right cleverly into a very tiny cup indeed. Stands aside.

ACT II.

Enter PINACIUM at a distance, with a fishing-rod, hooks, and a basket in his hand.

PINACIUM

to himself . Mercury, who is said to be the messenger of Jove, never bore such pleasing tidings to his father, as I shall e'en now be telling to my mistress. So loaded do I bear my breast with joy and with delight; and really I don't care to speak a syllable but in a highflown style. The charms of all the loves and graces do I bring; my heart, too, is overleaping its banks, and overflowing with joyousness. Now have you the means of acquiring glory, fame, and honor; make haste, Pinacium, exhort your feet to swiftness, grace your message by your deeds, and come to the rescue of your mistress in her need * * * * * who is so wretched in awaiting the arrival of her husband, Epignomus; just as becomes her does she dote upon her husband, and anxiously long for him. Now, Pinacium, do as pleases you, run on, just as you like; take care and regard no person at the value of a straw; thrust them from the path with your elbows; make right smooth your way. If a king shall come in your way, upset the king himself forthwith.

GELASIMUS

apart . Why, I wonder, is Pinacium running so overladen with baggage? He's carrying a rod, and a basket, and a fish-hook.

PINACIUM

to himself . But yet, I think 'tis proper that my mistress should come with entreaty to me, and that she should send envoys to me, and gifts of gold, and chariots in which for me to be borne, for I can't go on foot. Therefore I shall now go back. Turns back. I think it is only proper that I should be approached and addressed with entreaties. And do you really think that it's mere nonsense or nothing at all that I am now acquainted with? Blessings so great am I carrying from the harbour, joys so extensive am I bringing, that hardly could my mistress herself presume to wish this of the Gods, if she were to know it. And am I to carry it, then, of my own accord? It pleases me not, nor do I think that the duty of a man. This way does it seem to be better suited to this news of mine; let her come to meet me, let her entreat me to communicate to her this news. Haughtiness and pride befit prosperous fortunes. But, at last, when I reconsider it, how could she know that I know this? Turning round. Well, I can't do otherwise than return, than speak, than relate it at length, and relieve my mistress of her grief, and both mightily increase the good deeds of my ancestors, and present her with a comfort un hoped for and opportune. I'll outdo the deeds of Talthybius, and I'll set all messengers at nought, and at the same time I'll think about the running at the Olympic games. But this distance is far too short for the course; how sorry for it I am. How's this? I see the door's closed. I'll go and knock at the door. Knocks at the door of PHILUMENA'S house. Open, and make haste, cause the door to be thrown open; away with all delay. This matter is attended to too carelessly; see how long I've been standing here and knocking. Are you indulging yourselves with a nap? I'll try whether the door or my arms and feet are the stronger. Knocks and kicks. I wish much that this door would run away from its master, that for that reason it might meet with a heavy punishment. I'm tired of knocking. Well, be this the last for you. Knocks again.

GELASIMUS

apart . I'll go and accost him. Accosts PINACIUM. Good day to you.

PINACIUM

And good day to you.

GELASIMUS

Are you turned fisherman, then?

PINACIUM

How long is it since you ate?

GELASIMUS

Whence come you? What are you carrying? Why are you in a hurry?

PINACIUM

About that which is no business of yours, don't you trouble yourself.

GELASIMUS

What's there in that? Taking up the lid of the basket. PIN. Snakes, for you to eat.

GELASIMUS

Why are you so pettish?

PINACIUM

If you had any shame, you wouldn't address me.

GELASIMUS

May I learn the truth from you?

PINACIUM

You may; this day you'll get no dinner.

Enter PHILUMENA from her house.

PHILUMENA

Who now, pray, is breaking this door down? To GELASIMUS. Are you doing this? Do you come to me like an enemy?

GELASIMUS

My respects to you; I come at your bidding.

PHILUMENA

And is it for that reason you are breaking down my door?

GELASIMUS

Scold your own people; the offenders are your own. I came to see what you wanted me for. Why, for my own part, I pitied this door.

PINACIUM

For that reason your assistance was given so very readily.

PHILUMENA

Pray, who's that, talking here so near to us?

GELASIMUS

Pinacium.

PHILUMENA

Where is he? Looks on each side.

PINACIUM

coming forward . Attend to me, and leave alone that needy Parasite, Philumena.

PHILUMENA

Pinacium.

PINACIUM

That name my elders gave me.

PHILUMENA

What's your business

PINACIUM

What's my business, do you ask?

PHILUMENA

Why shouldn't I ask it?

PINACIUM

What's yours with me?

PHILUMENA

Do you insult me, impudent fellow? Answer me, this very instant, Pinacium.

PINACIUM

Bid those, then, to let me alone, who are detaining me.

PHILUMENA

Who are detaining you?

PINACIUM

Do you ask me that? A lassitude is in possession of all my limbs.

PHILUMENA

Well, I know right well that it's not in possession of your tongue.

PINACIUM

With such rapid speed have I been hastening from the harbour, for the sake of your own well-doing.

PHILUMENA

Why, do you bring any good news?

PINACIUM

I bring more, by very much, than you expect.

PHILUMENA

I'm saved, then.

PINACIUM

And I'm done for; lassitude is drinking up my marrow apace.

GELASIMUS

What, then, am I, the marrow of whose stomach, to my sorrow, famine has seized upon?

PHILUMENA

Did you meet any one?

PINACIUM

Many.

PHILUMENA

But any man?

PINACIUM

Very many; but, of the many, not one a greater rascal than he is.

Points at GELASIMUS.

PHILUMENA

How so?

GELASIMUS

I have been affronted already at his saying uncivil things to me. If you irritate me any further — Holds up his fist to PINACIUM.

PINACIUM

I' faith, you'll be plaguy hungry to eat >me.

GELASIMUS

I'll cause you to know that assuredly you've said that with reason.

PINACIUM

I wish everything to be made clean. Calls to the SERVANTS from the door. Bring out here your brooms, and a reed as well, that I may destroy all the labours of the spiders and their plaguy webs, and rout out all their looms. The SERVANTS bring some brooms.

GELASIMUS

The poor things will be cold in future.

PINACIUM

What? Do you think that they are just like yourself, with only one coat? Take this broom. Gives him a broom.

GELASIMUS

I'll take it.

PINACIUM

This I'll take myself. Do you sweep away there.

GELASIMUS

I'll do so. Sweeps away.

PINACIUM

calling aloud. Will some one bring here a pail and water?

GELASIMUS

Really, this fellow's playing the Ædile without the vote of the public even. The water is brought.

PINACIUM

Come, do you quickly sweep the ground, and sprinkle before he t house.

GELASIMUS

I'll do so.

PINACIUM

It needs be done. I'll knock down the spider-webs there from the door and from the wall.

GELASIMUS

I' faith, a troublesome business, this.

PHILUMENA

Still, I don't at all understand what it means; unless, perchance, some guests are about to come?

PINACIUM

ordering the SERVANTS . Do you spread the couches.

GELASIMUS

aside . The beginning pleases me, about the couches.

PINACIUM

Others, you chop the billets; others, you clean the fish which the fisherman has brought; take you down the gammon of bacon and the collar of brawn.

GELASIMUS

aside . I' faith, this is a very sensible fellow.

PHILUMENA

By my troth, as I imagine, you haven't quite minded the directions of your mistress.

PINACIUM

Why, I've left all matters unattended to by reason of what you wished.

PHILUMENA

Then do you inform me upon that, on account of which you were sent to the harbour?

PINACIUM

I'll tell you. After, with the daybreak, you had sent me to the harbour, the sun with its beams opportunely arose from out of the sea. While I was enquiring of the revenue officers whether any ship had arrived from Asia, and they were saying none had come, I beheld, in the meantime, a bark, than which I think I never saw a greater one. With a favouring breeze, and in full sail, it came into harbour. We were enquiring one of another whose ship it was, and what it carried? In the meantime I espied your husband and his servant Stichus.

PHILUMENA

Ha! what? Did you mention Epignomus?

GELASIMUS

Your husband and my own life.

PINACIUM

He has arrived, I say.

PHILUMENA

Did you see him yourself?

PINACIUM

Yes, and with pleasure too.

GELASIMUS

I' faith, I'll surely take the broom, and sweep this place with pleasure.

PINACIUM

He has brought a great amount of silver and gold.

GELASIMUS

'Tis right cleverly done.

PINACIUM

Wool and purple in plenty.

GELASIMUS

Aye, for me to clothe my carcase with.

PINACIUM

Couches, adorned with ivory and gold.

GELASIMUS

I'll recline at table right regally.

PINACIUM

Besides — Babylonian coverings for couches, and carpets dyed in purple, has he brought.

GELASIMUS

Abundance of fine things. I' faith, his business has been successful.

PINACIUM

Then, as I began to say, female players on the harp, on the pipe, sackbuts too, has he brought with him, of surprising beauty.

GELASIMUS

Capital! When I'm at my wine, I'll be quite sportive; then am I in merriest pin.

PINACIUM

Besides many unguents of numerous kinds.

GELASIMUS

I'll not sell my bon mots; I'll not have an auction now; I've got an estate in fee. Let the mischievous hunters of auctions go to perdition. Hercules, I congratulate thee that the tenths which I vowed to thee are increased. 'Tis my hope that at length, by some means or other, I may expel this plaguy famine from my stomach.

PINACIUM

And then, besides, he has brought some Parasites with him.

GELASIMUS

Alas! to my confusion, I'm undone.

PINACIUM

Right funny fellows.

GELASIMUS

I' faith, I'll sweep this dust back, which I just now swept together. Sweeps it back. Those bon mots are now on sale, which I was saying I wouldn't sell. I'm done for: now there is occasion for spiteful persons to rejoice at my misfortune. Hercules, thou who art a God, thou really hast departed not oppoitenely.

PHILUMENA

Did you see Pamphilus, the husband of my sister?

PINACIUM

No.

PHILUMENA

Isn't he there?

PINACIUM

Yes, they said that he had come as well. I ran hither before them, with all speed, that I might bring the welcome tidings.

PHILUMENA

Go in-doors, Pinacium; bid the servants prepare the sacred things for me. To GELASIMUS. Fare you well!

GELASIMUS

Do you want me to assist?

PHILUMENA

I have servants enough in the house. PHILUMENA and PINACIUM go into the house.

GELASIMUS

to himself. In good sooth, Gelasimus, I doubt you have come to but little purpose, if neither he that is here gives you any aid, nor yet he that's coming. I'll off indoors to my books, and take my instructions from the cleverest sayings; for if I don't drive away those fellows, the Parasites that are coming, most surely I'm undone. (Exit.)

ACT III.

Enter EPIGNOMUS and STICHUS, followed by some SLAVES.

EPIGNOMUS

Inasmuch as, my business prosperously carried on, I am returned safe home, thanks do I return to Neptune and to his tempests; to Mercury as well, who in my traffic has aided me, and by my profits has rendered my property fourfold. Those whom formerly I affected with sorrow at my departure, the same shall I now make joyous at my arrival. But already have I met my connexion Antipho, and from bad terms have I returned to friendship with him. See, prithee, what money can effect. Since, my affairs prospering, he sees that I've returned, and brought home great wealth, without any mediators, there on board the ship, upon the deck, we have returned to friendship and good feeling. Both he and my brother dine with me this day; for yesterday we were both in the same harbour together; but to-day my ship weighed anchor a little the soonest. Take these people in-doors, Stichus, whom I've brought with me.

STICHUS

Master, whether I'm silent or speak, I'm sure you know how many hardships I've endured in your service; now, on my arrival home, I wish to spend in freedom this one day after these many hardships.

EPIGNOMUS

You ask what's just and right. Stichus, you may take this day for yourself; I don't object to it. Go where you like. A cask, too, of old wine, I give you to drink.

STICHUS

O, grand! I'll have my mistress this day.

EPIGNOMUS

Even ten, so long as it is at your own expense

STICHUS

What * * * * ?

EPIGNOMUS

What * * * * ?

STICHUS

I'll go and dine * * 'Tis thus it pleases me * * * * *

EPIGNOMUS

Where do you dine to-day?

STICHUS

This plan have I thus resolved upon. I have a mistress here in the neighbourhood, Stephanium, the servantmaid of your brother. I'm going to invite her; I'll take her to a pic-nic entertainment at her fellow-servant's, Sagarinus. We both have the same mistress; we are rivals.

EPIGNOMUS

Come then, conduct them in. I grant you this day.

STICHUS

Hold me to blame if I don't make the most of it. Troth now, I'll pass through the garden to my mistress, to engage her beforehand for me this evening; at the same time I'll give my contribution, and bid the dinner to be cooked at Sagarinus's, or else I'll go myself and make my marketing as caterer. Sagarinus, * * * * * a servant * * * for my * * * * * with stripes * * * * to take him home well thrashed, I'll make all things to be in readiness here; but I'm delaying myself. And don't you be surprised to the AUDIENCE that men, who are slaves, drink, court, and give invitations to dinner? This is allowed us at Athens. But when I think of it, rather than meet with censure, there's here, too, another door to the back buildings of our house. I'll go that way to market; by that way I'll bring back the provisions — through the garden there's a passage that communicates with both houses. To the SLAVES. Do you follow me this way. I surely will pull this day to bits. Goes into the house of EPIGNOMUS.

Enter GELASIMUS.

GELASIMUS

to himself . I've consulted my books; I'm as sure as possible, that by my funny bon mots I shall recover my patron. Now I'm going to see whether he has arrived by this from the harbour, that when he comes I may smooth him down with my speeches.

EPIGNOMUS

Surely, this is Gelasimus, the Parasite, that's coming.

GELASIMUS

to himself . With lucky auspices, by my troth, this day did I come out of doors; since an omen auspiciously befel me. This was beheld by me; how a weasel carried off a mouse close at my feet. For as she found sustenance for herself this day, so do I hope that I shall do, as the augury predicts. Sees EPIGNOMUS. Surely this is Epignomus that's standing here; I'll go and address him. My dear Epignomus, how pleased I am to see you now; how my tears are starting forth for very joy. Have you all along enjoyed your health?

EPIGNOMUS

With care it has been preserved.

GELASIMUS

Right heartily I wish you health.

EPIGNOMUS

You speak kindly, and like a friend. May the Gods grant what you wish.

GELASIMUS

* * *

EPIGNOMUS

I, sup there with you?

GELASIMUS

Since you are returned safe.

EPIGNOMUS

Really, an engagement has been made already; but I give you thanks.

GELASIMUS

Do promise me.

EPIGNOMUS

It's settled.

GELASIMUS

But do, I say.

EPIGNOMUS

The thing's agreed on.

GELASIMUS

By my troth, you'd do it with much pleasure to me.

EPIGNOMUS

I know that well. When an opportunity shall come, it shall be so.

GELASIMUS

Now, then, is the opportunity.

EPIGNOMUS

I' faith, I cannot.

GELASIMUS

Why make difficulties? Do consider; I have I know not what luxuries at hand.

EPIGNOMUS

Do be off, now; seek for yourself another guest for to-day.

GELASIMUS

You promise, then?

EPIGNOMUS

I would make no difficulty if I could.

GELASIMUS

Really, on my word, one thing, for sure, I Promise you, I'd entertain you with pleasure, beyond a doubt, if you would promise.

EPIGNOMUS

Adieu! Moving.

GELASIMUS

Have you resolved?

EPIGNOMUS

I have resolved. I shall dine at home.

GELASIMUS

aside . Since nothing has been effected this way, I'll therefore approach him by a more open path, and I'll speak plainly out. To EPIGNOMUS. Since you, yourself, are not willing to promise to come to me, should you like that I should come to dine with you?

EPIGNOMUS

If it were possible, I should like it; but here are nine other people coming to dine at my house.

GELASIMUS

For my part, I don't ask that I should recline on the couch; you know that I'm a man for the lower seats.

EPIGNOMUS

But these are deputies of a people, tip-top men they come here as public ambassadors from Ambracia.

GELASIMUS

Let then the deputies of a people, your tip-top men, recline at the tip-top place; I, the lowest, in the lowest quarter.

EPIGNOMUS

It isn't proper for you to be entertained among deputies.

GELASIMUS

I 'faith, and I — I'm a deputy, too, but little it does avail me.

EPIGNOMUS

I intend that to-morrow we shall dine upon the scraps. Sincerely, farewell. Goes into his house.

GELASIMUS

By my troth, 'tis clear that I'm undone, and by no fault of my owns.
The number is less than it was before by one Gelasimus. I'm resolved, hereafter, never to believe in a weasel, for I know of no beast more uncertain than her. She who herself is ten times a day shifting her place, from her have I taken my omens in matters of life and death to me! I'm determined to call my friends together, to take counsel how by rule I must starve henceforth. (Exit.)

ACT IV.

Enter ANTIPHO and PAMPHILUS.

ANTIPHO

So may the Gods favour me, and preserve for me my daughters, it is a pleasure to me, Pamphilus, that I see you both return home to your native land, your business prosperously managed, yourself and your brother.

PAMPHILUS

I should have heard enough from you, Antipho, did I not see that you are friendly to me; now, since I've found that you are my friend, I'll give you credence.

ANTIPHO

I would invite you to my house to dinner, had not your brother told me that you were going to dine at his house to-day, when he invited myself to his house to dinner. And it would have been more proper for me to give you an entertainment on your arrival, than to engage myself to him, were it not that I didn't wish to disoblige him. Now I don't wish with words alone to insinuate myself into your favour; to-morrow you shall be at my house, both you and he, with your wives.

PAMPHILUS

Then, the day after, at my house; for it was yesterday he invited me for to-day. But am I quite reconciled to you, Antipho?

ANTIPHO

Since you have thus thrived in your affairs, as it behoves yourselves and persons friendly disposed to wish, let there be good-will and intercourse between us. Take you care to think of this; according as wealth is obtained by each man, so does he experience his friends. If his fortunes are flourishing, so are his friends true; if his prospects decline, so, too, do his friends decline. Fortune finds friends. from his house.

EPIGNOMUS

to himself . I'm now returned. 'Tis a great delight, if you have been long from home, when you return home again, if no anxieties come in contact with your feelings. But, in my absence, so well has my wife taken care of my private affairs, that she has made me free and unembarrassed by anxieties. But, see, here's my brother Pamphilus, walking with his father-in-law.

PAMPHILUS

How fares it, Epignomus?

EPIGNOMUS

How with you? How long since you came into harbour?

PAMPHILUS

Not very long ago.

EPIGNOMUS

aside . And is it since then that he has become on smooth terms with you?

ANTIPHO

overhearing . More smooth than the sea, on which you have both been borne.

EPIGNOMUS

You do as you are wont to do other things. Do we unlade the ship to-day, brother?

PAMPHILUS

I would rather go quietly to work. Let's rather lade ourselves with delights in their turn. How soon will the dinner be cooked? I haven't breakfasted to-day.

EPIGNOMUS

Go in-doors to my house and bathe.

PAMPHILUS

I'll only step home to my own house, to salute the Gods and my wife. If I do that as I wish, I'll forthwith return to your house.

EPIGNOMUS

But your wife is hastening to come here with her sister.

PAMPHILUS

'Tis very good; there will then be the less delay on that account. I shall be at your house this instant.

ANTIPHO

to PAMPHILUS. Before you go away, in your presence I wish to relate a single story to him.

EPIGNOMUS

By all means.

ANTIPHO

There was once an old gentleman, just as I now am; he had two daughters, such as mine now are; they were married to two brothers, just as mine now are to yourselves.

PAMPHILUS

I wonder how the story is to turn out?

ANTIPHO

One of these young men had, as you to PAMPHILUS now have, a damsel, a music-girl; he had brought her from abroad, as you have now done. Now, this old gentleman was a widower, just as I now am.

PAMPHILUS

Do proceed; this story is really à propos.

ANTIPHO

Then said this old gentleman to him to whom the music-girl belonged, just as I now say to you ——

PAMPHILUS

I'm listening, and carefully giving heed.

ANTIPHO

"I gave you my daughter, to be a comfortable bedfellow for you; now, I think it fair that one should be given me in return by you, to be my bed-fellow."

PAMPHILUS

Who says that? Does he say it just as though you were to say it?

ANTIPHO

Just as I now say it to you. "Aye, I'll give you two of them," says this young man, "if one's too little; and if you are not satisfied with two," says he, "two more shall be added."

PAMPHILUS

Prithee, who says that? Does he say it just as though I were to say it?

ANTIPHO

He says it just as though you were to say it. Then says this old gentleman, just as though I were to say it, "Well, give me four, if you like, so long only as, i' faith, you find them something to eat as well, that they mayn't consume my victuals."

PAMPHILUS

Why surely it must have been a stingy old chap to say that, in asking food as well of him who promised them to him.

ANTIPHO

Why surely, this young man must have been a good-for-nothing fellow, who forthwith, when the other asked him, refused to give him a grain of wheat. But, i' troth, the old gentleman asked what was fair, inasmuch as the dowry which he had given to his daughter, he wished him to have as an equivalent for the music-girl.

PAMPHILUS

I' faith, for sure I really do think that the young man was well advised, who wouldn't give a mistress to that old fellow in return for the dower.

ANTIPHON

The old gentleman wished, indeed, if he could, to bargain for their maintenance; because he couldn't, he said he wished it to be done on what terms it might. "Done," said this young man. "You do me a kindness," said the old gentleman. "Have I the thing agreed upon?" said he. "I'll do even as you wish it to be done," said the other. But I'll be off in-doors, and congratulate my daughters on your arrival. Then I'll go wash me at the bath; there will I take all care of my old age; after that, when I've bathed, lying down, I'll await you at my leisure. (Exit.)

PAMPHILUS

A funny mortal, Antipho; how cleverly he did make up his story. Even yet the rogue considers himself a young man. A mistress shall be given to the fellow, to sing to the old chap at night in bed; for, I' faith, indeed, I know not of what other use a mistress can be to him. But how fares our Parasite, Gelasimus? Is he well, too?

EPIGNOMUS

I' faith, I saw the fellow not so very long ago.

PAMPHILUS

How fares he?

EPIGNOMUS

Like one half-starved.

PAMPHILUS

Why didn't you invite the fellow to your house to dinner?

EPIGNOMUS

That on my arrival I mightn't be wasting anything But see, here's the wolf in the Fable; here he is in person with his ravenous fit.

PAMPHILUS

We'll have some sport with the fellow.

EPIGNOMUS

You put me in mind of a plan I had already resolved on.

Enter GELASIMUS.

GELASIMUS

... to the AUDIENCE . But as I had begun to tell you; while I have been absent hence, I've now been consulting with my friends and with my relatives. They have been my advisers to the effect that I should this very day kill myself with starvation. But don't I see Pamphilus with his brother Epignomus? Yes, 'tis he. I'll accost the man. Goes up to PAMPHILUS. O longed-for Pamphilus! O my salvation! O my life! O my delight! right welcome. I rejoice that you've returned safe from abroad to your native land. Welcome.

PAMPHILUS

Welcome, Gelasimus.

GELASIMUS

Have you been quite well?

PAMPHILUS

I have taken good care of my health.

GELASIMUS

I' troth, I'm glad of it. I' faith, I confoundedly wish I had now a thousand measures of silver.

EPIGNOMUS

What need have you of it?

GELASIMUS

I' faith, that I might invite him to dinner, and not invite you.

EPIGNOMUS

You are talking against your own interest.

GELASIMUS

This, then, that I might invite you both * * * * * for my part * * * *
* I should not avoid * * * * * there is nothing so * as this * * * *

EPIGNOMUS

Troth, now, I'd ask you with pleasure, if there were room left.

GELASIMUS

Well, standing, then, I'll gobble down a bit in the scramble.

EPIGNOMUS

No, only this one thing can be done.

GELASIMUS

What?

EPIGNOMUS

When the guests have gone, that then you may come ——

GELASIMUS

Hurra! capital!

EPIGNOMUS

To wash the pots, I mean; not to dinner.

GELASIMUS

The Gods confound you! What say you, Pamphilus?

PAMPHILUS

I' troth, this day I'm engaged to dine elsewhere abroad.

GELASIMUS

How, abroad?

PAMPHILUS

Really abroad, on my word.

GELASIMUS

How the plague do you like, thus wearied, to be supping abroad?

PAMPHILUS

Which do you advise me?

GELASIMUS

Order a dinner to be cooked at home, and word to be sent to him who invited you.

PAMPHILUS

Shall I dine at home, alone?

GELASIMUS

Why, not alone; invite me.

PAMPHILUS

But I'm afraid lest he should scold me, who has been to this expense for my sake.

GELASIMUS

It may easily be excused — only listen to me; do order a dinner to be cooked at home.

EPIGNOMUS

. Not by my advice, indeed, will he act so as to disappoint that person this day.

GELASIMUS

Will you not be off from here? Perhaps you suppose that I don't see what you're about. Do you look to yourself, please. To PAMPHILUS. How that fellow is gaping after your property just like a hungry wolf. Don't you know how men are set upon here in the street at night?

PAMPHILUS

So many the more servants will I bid to come and fetch me, that they may protect me.

EPIGNOMUS

He won't stir — he won't stir; because you persuade him so earnestly not to go out.

GELASIMUS

Do order a dinner to be cooked at home with all speed for me and for yourself and your wife. Troth, if you do so, I don't think you'll say that you are deceived.

PAMPHILUS

So far as that dinner is concerned, Gelasimus, you may be dinnerless to-day.

GELASIMUS

Are you going abroad to dine?

PAMPHILUS

I'm going to dine at my brother's, hard by.

GELASIMUS

Is that fixed?

PAMPHILUS

Fixed.

GELASIMUS

By my troth, I hope you may be struck with a stone this day.

PAMPHILUS

I'm not afraid; I shall go through the garden; I'll not go abroad.

EPIGNOMUS

What say you to that, Gelasimus?

GELASIMUS

You're entertaining your deputies; keep them to yourself.

EPIGNOMUS

Why, faith, 'tis your own business.

GELASIMUS

If, indeed, 'tis my own business, avail yourself of my assistance; invite me.

EPIGNOMUS

By my faith, I see, as I fancy, one place still for yourself only, where you may recline.

PAMPHILUS

Really, I do think it may be managed.

GELASIMUS

O light of the city!

EPIGNOMUS

If you can manage to recline in a small compass.

GELASIMUS

Aye, even between two wedges of iron. As little space as a puppy can lie in, the same will be enough for me.

EPIGNOMUS

I'll beg for it some way or other; come along. Pulls him along.

GELASIMUS

What? This way?

EPIGNOMUS

Yes, to prison. For here, indeed, you'll not find any further entertainment. Let's be off, you Pamphilus.

PAMPHILUS

I'll but salute the Gods: then I'll pass through to your house forthwith.

GELASIMUS

What then?

EPIGNOMUS

Why, I said that you might go to prison.

GELASIMUS

Well, if you order it, I'll go there even.

EPIGNOMUS

Immortal Gods! really, by my troth, this fellow might be induced by a dinner or a breakfast to bear extreme torture.

GELASIMUS

Such is my nature; with anything can I struggle much more easily than with hunger.

EPIGNOMUS

I know it: at my house full long enough has this facility of yours been experienced by me * * * * * while you were the Parasite of myself and my brother, we ruined our fortunes. Now I don't wish you to be made by me from a Gelasimus into a Catagelasimus.

EPIGNOMUS and PAMPHILUS go into their houses.

GELASIMUS

And are you gone now? Surely he is gone. Now have I need of a wise resolution. Both are gone; consider, Gelasimus, what plan you must adopt. * * * * * What, I? Yes, you. What, for myself? Yes, for yourself. Don't you see how dear provisions are? Don't you see how the kindness and the heartiness of men have vanished? Don't you see how drolls are set at nought, and how they themselves are sponged upon? By my troth, not a person shall ever behold me alive on the morrow; for, this instant, in-doors will I load my throat with a bulrush dose. And by this I shall not give cause for men to say that I died of hunger. (Exit.)

ACT V.

Enter STICHUS, and provisions, a table, and couches on the stage.

STICHUS

Foolishly and unwisely is it done in my opinion, if people are in the habit, if they are expecting a person; of looking out for him; faith, ne doesn't on that account come a bit the faster. I'm now doing that same thing, in looking out for Sagarinus; who, still, for that reason won't come a jot the faster. Troth, I shall just now be taking my place alone, if he doesn't come here. I'll now fetch that cask of wine hither from home, and then I'll take my place. The day, like snow, is melting away apace. Goes into the house of EPIGNOMUS.

Enter SAGARINUS.

SAGARINUS

Hail! Athens, thou nurse of Greece; country of my master, hail! How joyously do I behold thee. But I have a wish to see how my mistress and fellow-servant, Stephanium, is faring. For I bade Stichus to give her my regards, and to tell her that I should come to-day, so that she might cook a dinner in good time. But, surely, here's Stichus. with a cask of wine to himself. A clever thing you did, master, when you presented your servant, Stichus, with this gift. O ye immortal Gods! how many delights do I carry, how many smiles, how many jokes, how many a kiss, dancing, dalliance, and good-fellowship.

STICHUS

SAGARINUS

Stichus, how fare you?

STICHUS

Right well, Sagarinus, most delightfully; I'm bringing Dionysus, as my guest and yours. For, i' faith, the dinner's cooked; free range has been given me and you at your house. For at our house there's an entertainment; your master's dining there with his wife, and Antipho as well; there, too, is my master. This was given me as a present.Points to the cask.

SAGARINUS

How? Are you dreaming?

STICHUS

I' faith, I'm telling you the truth.

SAGARINUS

Who then gave you this?

STICHUS

What matters that to you? I wish us this day to wash away everything of foreign climes. Leave them alone; let's now attend to Athens; follow me. Do you at once make haste, and bathe.

SAGARINUS

I have bathed.

STICHUS

Very good follow me, then, this. way in-doors, Sagarinus.

SAGARINUS

Of course, I follow. By mytroth, this beginning pleases me as I return home; a happy omen and augury has met me in my path. They go into the house of PAMPHILUS.

Enter STEPHANIUM from the house of EPIGNOMUS.

STEPHANIMUM

to the AUDIENCE . I wish that it may appear wondrous to no one of you, Spectators, why I who live there pointing to the house of PAMPHILUS am come out hither from this other house: I'll inform you thereon. Just now was I sent for to this house by the back way. For as soon as news was brought that the husbands of these ladies were about to come, we all hurried thither. We attended to laying the couches, and setting all in order. Still, amid these duties, I had a care for my friends, Stichus and my fellow-servant Sagarinus, that their dinner should be cooked. Stichus has been caterer; but for cooking it, I've appointed one my deputy. Now, I'll be off hence, and attend to my friends, who, I see, are coming here. Goes into the house of PAMPHILUS.

Enter STICHUS and SAGARINUS from the house of PAMPHILUS with provisions, a PIPER following.

SAGARINUS

Come, out of doors with you; lead on the procession. Stichus, I appoint you commander of the cask. I'm resolved to prove our banquet in every fashion this day. So may the Gods love me, we are well entertained in being feasted in this place. I will that each person that passes by shall be invited to join the banquet.

STICHUS

Agreed, so long only as, i' faith, each man comes with his own wine; for of this, a mouthful shall be given to no person but ourselves, this day. Eating alone, let's wait upon ourselves.

SAGARINUS

This banquet, for our means, is quite sufficient, with its nuts, beans, figs, a dish of olives, pounded lupines, and a cake.

STICHUS

It better becomes a man who is a slave to bring his expenses within moderation than beyond. Each one to his own station; they, who have wealth at home, drink from cups, goblets, and bowls; we, if we are now drinking from our Samian jug, still build our walls according to our means.

SAGARINUS

But while she who is your mistress and mine is arranging her hair, and bedecking herself, I wish us to have some diversion among ourselves. I appoint you the commander of this feast.

STICHUS

Very aptly does it suggest itself to your mind.

SAGARINUS

Wouldn't we be more suitably entertained like Cynics on benches here, than upon couches?

STICHUS

Aye, but this is far the most pleasant.

SAGARINUS

On which side is each of us to recline by our mistress?

STICHUS

Of course you go to the upper place. And, so that you may understand it, I make a division with you on these terms: consider, and take which province you would even like now to take. They take their places.

SAGARINUS

But what's your meaning about this "province?"

STICHUS

Whether you would choose to hold the command over the water or over Bacchus.

SAGARINUS

Over Bacchus, most distinctly. But, in the meantime, general of ours, why stands this goblet here? See how many cups we have drunk.

STICHUS

As many as there are fingers on your hand. The Greek song is, "Drink either your five cups or your three, but not your four."

SAGARINUS

about to drink. I pledge you. Do you take for yourself the tenth part from the fountain, if you are wise. Here's luck to you, luck to us; here's luck to thee, luck to me; luck to our Stephanium as well.

STICHUS

'Tis bravely done. I pledge you in a goblet. Drinks.

SAGARINUS

Keep your wine; I'd very much like something by way of a relish.

STICHUS

If you are not satisfied with what's here, there's nothing else. Take some water.

SAGARINUS

You say right; I care for no dainties. Drink away, Piper; drink, if you do drink. I' faith, this must be drunk — don't shirk it. Holds the goblet to the PIPER. Why flinch at what you see must be done by you? Why don't you drink? Do it, if you are to do it. Take it, I tell you, for the public pays for this. That's not your way to shirk your drink. Take your pipes out of your mouth. The PIPER drinks.

STICHUS

When he has drunk, either do you mind my rules, or else I'll give up. I don't wish us to drink this straight out; we shall soon be about nothing; for, by my faith, almost all in a moment, the cask might be turned head downwards.

SAGARINUS

to the PIPER. How now? Although you did make a fuss about it, still it didn't hurt you. Come, Piper, when you've done drinking, put back your pipes to your lips; quickly puff out your cheeks, just like a reptile serpent. Come now, Stichus, whichever of the two breaks order, shall be fined a cup.

STICHUS

You propose a good regulation. You ought to have your way, who only ask what's fair.

SAGARINUS

Mind it then; if you offend, I'll forthwith take the forfeit on the spot.

STICHUS

You ask what's quite right and just.

SAGARINUS

pledging STICHUS . Here's to you first of all.

STICHUS

'Tis a droll thing this, for two persons, rivals of each other, to be courting, to be drinking from one goblet, and to be kissing one wench. 'Tis worthy of remark this: I am you, you are I; of one accord are we. With one mistress are we both in love; when she's with me, still she's with you; and when she's with you, she's with me as well; neither of us envies the other.

SAGARINUS

Come, come, there's enough of it; I don't want it overdone to weariness. I'd now like some other sport.

STICHUS

Drink on, if you are drinking.

SAGARINUS

There shall be no skulking in me. But, troth, I've had enough of the feast; would but our mistress come here. If she were here, nothing else would be away.

STICHUS

Should you like us to invite our mistress out? She shall give us a dance.

SAGARINUS

I agree.

STICHUS

calling aloud . My sweet one, my lovely one, my pleasing one, Stephanium, do come out of doors to your sweethearts; to me you are quite charming.

SAGARINUS

But to me, indeed, most charming.

STICHUS

Make us jovial fellows more jovial by your assistance and your company. Returning from abroad, we want you, dear little Stephanium, my honey, that is, if our lovingness is pleasing to you, if we are acceptable to you.

Enter STEPHANIUM, from the house of PAMPHILUS.

STEPHANIAM

I'll indulge you, my dears; but, so may pretty Venus favour me, I should have already come out of doors here together with you, had I not been sprucing myself up for you. For such is the way of woman, when she is well washed, made clean, dressed and tricked out, still is she incomplete; and a female who is a courtesan much more quickly acquires dislike for herself by sluttishness than always keeps in favour through neatness.

STICHUS

That's very cleverly said.

SAGARINUS

'Tis the genuine language of Venus.

STICHUS

Sagarinus.

SAGARINUS

What's the matter?

STICHUS

I'm in pain all over.

SAGARINUS

All over? So much the more unfortunate you.

STEPHANIAM

Where do I take my place?

SAGARINUS

Wherever you please.

STEPHANIAM

I'd like with both of you, for I love you both.

STICHUS

Whack go my savings. I'm done for; freedom has abandoned this person of mine.

STEPHANIAM

Prithee, do give me room, where I may take my place, if, indeed, I am agreeable. She takes her place. Now I do long to be cozy with you both.

STICHUS

. I'm ruined utterly. What were you saying?

SAGARINUS

Heyday! What's the matter?

STICHUS

So may the Gods favour me, it never shall be otherwise this day but that this girl shall have a dance somehow. Come, my love, my sweet, do dance; I'll dance too. They rise and dance.

SAGARINUS

I' faith, you shan't that way get the better of me, but what I'll have a bit of enjoyment, too, that way.

STEPHANIAM

Well, if I must dance, do you then give the Piper something to drink.

STICHUS

Aye, and to me.

SAGARINUS

holds the goblet to the PIPER . Piper, you take first: and after that, if you tippie this off, just as has been your wont before to-day, straightway strike up some merry and amorous tune to dance to, by which we may tingle all over from our very finger nails. Pour some water here.

The PIPER stops playing while he drinks the water.

SAGARINUS

Take this, you; toss it off. The drink didn't please him just now; now at last he takes it with less difficulty. Take it, you. To STEPHANIUM. In the meantime, apple of my eye, give me a kiss while he's drinking.

STEPHANIMUM

Why, it's the way of a common strumpet, for a damsel to give a kiss standing to her sweetheart as he stands. She turns away, while he tries to kiss her.

STICHUS

Bravo! bravo! that's the way it's given to a thief.

SAGARINUS

Come, blow out your cheeks now; something in the amorous way at once. Give us a new tune in return for the old wine.

SAGARINUS

What person in the Ionian or the ballet line is there that can do anything like that? He capers about.

STICHUS

If you get the better of me this turn, just challenge me to another.

SAGARINUS

Just you do it in this fashion. Capers.

STICHUS

And you in this fashion. Capers too.

SAGARINUS

O grand!

STICHUS

O fine!

SAGARINUS

O wonderful!

STICHUS

QUIET!

SAGARINUS

Now, then, both in the same step. They dance quietly, in the same measure. I challenge all the dancing-masters to dance against me. 'Tis no more possible for there to be enough of this for us than for there to be too much rain for a mushroom.

STICHUS

(ceasing to dance) Let's away hence in-doors at once now; we've danced long enough for the wine. You, Spectators, give us your applause, and then go home to enjoy yourselves.

THE SUBJECT.

CHARMIDES, a wealthy Athenian, his property having been much diminished by the reckless conduct of his son, goes abroad. His dissolute son, Lesbonicus, being left behind at Athens, consumes the little resources left him, and then puts up his father's house for sale. At his departure, Charmides has entrusted his interests and the care of his son and daughter to his friend Callicles and has also informed him that in his house there is a treasure buried as a reserve against future contingencies. In order that this may not be lost, Callicles buys the house of Lesbonicus for a small sum. Ignorant of his reason for doing so, his fellow-citizens censure him for his conduct, and accuse him of a breach of good faith in ministering to the extravagance of Lesbonicus by supplying him with money. For this reason Megaronides expostulates with his friend Callicles, and greatly censures him; on which, Callicles, in self-defence, entrusts him with the secret of the treasure. Charmides having left behind him a grown-up daughter in the care of Callicles, Lysiteles, a young man of rank and character, falls in love with her, and through his father, Philto, asks her in marriage. Her brother, Lesbonicus, is not averse to the match, but refuses to let her marry without giving her a portion; and he offers her to Lysiteles, on condition that he will receive as her marriage-portion a piece of land near the city, the sole remnant of his fortune. This, however, Lysiteles refuses to accept. In the mean time, Callicles, at the suggestion of Megaronides, determines to give the young woman a dowry out of the treasure buried in the house which he has bought; but that Lesbonicus may not suspect whence the money really comes, a Sharper is hired, with instructions to pretend that he brings letters from Charmides with a thousand gold pieces as a portion for his daughter when she should marry. It happens, that while the Sharper is on his way with his pretended errand to the abode of Callicles, Charmides, having unexpectedly returned to Athens, is going towards his house. He meets the Sharper, who discloses his errand and attempts to impose upon Charmides, who thereupon discovers himself. Charmides then meets his servant Stasimus, who tells him of the purchase of his house by Callicles, whereon he conceives himself to have been betrayed by his friend. Afterwards, on discovering the truth, he praises the fidelity of Callicles, and bestows his daughter on Lysiteles, with a portion of a thousand gold pieces, and, at the intercession of Lysiteles, he forgives his son Lesbonicus, and informs him that he is to be married to the daughter of Callicles.

THE ACROSTIC ARGUMENT.

[Supposed to have been written by Priscian the Grammarian.]

CHARMIDES,

going abroad, entrusts a treasure (Thesaurum) secretly hidden, and all his property (Rem), to his friend Callicles. He (Istoc) being absent, his son wantonly squanders his estate. For (Nam) he sells even the house: and Callicles makes purchase of it. His sister, a maiden (Virgo) without a dowry, is asked in marriage. That in a less degree (Minus), with censure, Callicles may bestow on her a dowry, he commissions one (Mandat) to say that he has brought the gold from her father. When (Ut) the Counterfeit has reached the house, the old man (Senex), Charmides, as he has just returned, disappoints him; his children then are married.

Enter LUXURY and POVERTY.

LUXURY.

Follow me this way, daughter, that you may perform your office.

POVERTY.

I am following, but I know not what to say will be the end of our journey.

LUXURY.

'Tis here. See, this is the house. Now go you in. (Exit POVERTY, who enters the house of CHARMIDES.)

LUXURY.

to the AUDIENCE . Now, that no one of you may be mistaken, in a few words I will conduct you into the right path, if, indeed, you promise to listen to me. First, then, I will now tell you who I am, and who she is who has gone in here pointing to the house , if you give your attention. In the first place, Plautus has given me the name of Luxury, and then he has willed that this Poverty should be my daughter. But why, at my suggestion, she has just entered here, listen and give attentive ear while I inform you. There is a certain young man who is living in this house; by my assistance he has squandered away his paternal estate. Since I see that there is nothing left for him to support me, I have given him my daughter, together with whom to pass his life. But expect nothing about the plot of this play: the old men who will come hither will disclose the matter to you. The name of this play in the Greek is “The Treasure” [Thesaurus]; Philemon wrote it: Plautus translated it into Latin, and gave it the name of “The Three Pieces of Money” [Trinummus]. Now, he begs this of you, that it may be allowed the play to keep that name. Thus much have I to say. Farewell. Attend in silence. (Exit.)

ACT I.

Enter MEGARONIDES.

MEGARONIDES

To reprove one's friend for a fault that deserves it, is a thankless task; but sometimes 'tis useful and 'tis profitable. Therefore, this day will I soundly reprove my friend for a fault that much deserves it. Unwilling am I, did not my friendship bid me do it. For this faultiness has encroached too much upon good morals, so drooping now are nearly all of them. But while they are in this distempered state, bad morals, in the mean time, have sprung up most plenteously, like well-watered plants; nor is there now anything abundant here but these same bad morals. Of them you may now reap a most plenteous harvest: and here a set of men are making the favour of a few of much more value than that in which they may benefit the many. Thus private interests outdo that which is to the public advantage — interests which in many points are a hindrance, and a nuisance, and cause an obstruction both to private and to public welfare.

Enter CALLICLES.

CALLICLES

as he enters . I wish our household God to be graced with a chaplet. Wife addressing her within , pay him due respect, that this dwelling may turn out for us prosperous, lucky, happy, and fortunate; and in a lower voice that, as soon as I possibly may, I may see you dead and gone.

MEGARONIDES

This is he who in his old age has become a child — who has been guilty of a fault that deserves correction. I will accost the man.

CALLICLES

looking around . Whose voice is it that sounds near me?

MEGARONIDES

Of one who wishes you well, if you are as I desire you to be; but, if you are otherwise, of one who is your enemy, and is angry with you.

CALLICLES

Health to you, O my friend and years'-mate! How are you, Megaronides?

MEGARONIDES

And, i' faith health to you, Callicles! Are you well? Have you been well?

CALLICLES

I am well, and I have been still better.

MEGARONIDES

And how does your wife do? How is she?

CALLICLES

Better than I wish.

MEGARONIDES

'Tis well, i' faith, for you, that she is alive and well

CALLICLES

Troth, I believe that you are glad if I have any misfortune.

MEGARONIDES

That which I have, I wish for all my friends as well.

CALLICLES

Harkye, how does your wife do?

MEGARONIDES

She is immortal; she lives, and is likely to live.

CALLICLES

I' faith, you tell me good news; and I pray the Gods that, surviving you, she may last out your life.

MEGARONIDES

By my troth! if indeed she were only married to yourself, I could wish it sincerely.

CALLICLES

Do you wish that we should exchange? — that I should take yours, and you mine? I'd be making you not to get a bit the better of the bargain of me.

MEGARONIDES

Indeed, I fancy you would not be surprising me unawares.

CALLICLES

Aye, faith, I should cause you not to be knowing the thing you were about.

MEGARONIDES

Keep what you've got; the evil that we know is the best. But if I were now to take one that I know not, I should not know what to do.

CALLICLES

In good sooth, just as one lives a long life, one lives a happy life.

MEGARONIDES

But give your attention to this, and have done with your joking, for I am come hither to you for a given purpose.

CALLICLES

Why have you come?

MEGARONIDES

That I may rebuke you soundly with many harsh words.

CALLICLES

Me, do you say?

MEGARONIDES

Is there any one else here besides you and me?

CALLICLES

looking about . There is no one.

MEGARONIDES

Why, then, do you ask if 'tis you I mean to rebuke? Unless, indeed, you think that I am about to reprove my own self. For if your former principles now flag in you, or if the manners of the age are working a change in your disposition, and if you preserve not those of the olden time, but are catching up these new ones, you will strike all your friends with a malady so direful, that they will turn sick at seeing and hearing you.

CALLICLES

How comes it into your mind to utter these expressions?

MEGARONIDES

Because it becomes all good men and all good women to have a care to keep suspicion and guilt away from themselves.

CALLICLES

Both cannot be done.

MEGARONIDES

Why so?

CALLICLES

Do you ask? I am the keeper of my own heart so as not to admit guilt there; suspicion is centred in the heart of another. For if now I should suspect that you had stolen the crown from the head of Jupiter in the Capitol, the statue which stands on the highest summit of the temple; if you had not done so, and still it should please me to suspect you, how could you prevent me from suspecting you? But I am anxious to know what this matter is.

MEGARONIDES

Have you any friend or intimate acquaintance whose judgment is correct?

CALLICLES

Troth, I'll tell you without reserve. There are some whom I know to be friends; there are some whom I suspect to be so, but whose dispositions and feelings I am unable to discover, whether they incline to the side of a friend or an enemy; but of my assured friends, you are the most assured. If you know that I have done anything unwittingly or wrongfully, and if you do not accuse me of it, then you yourself will be to blame.

MEGARONIDES

I know it; and if I had come hither to you for any other purpose, you request what is right.

CALLICLES

If you have anything to say, I am waiting for it.

MEGARONIDES

Then, first of all, you are badly spoken of in general conversation by the public. Your fellow-citizens are calling you greedy of grovelling gain; and then, again, there are others who nickname you a vulture, and say that you care but little whether you devour enemies or fellow-citizens. Since I have heard these things said against you, I have, to my misery, been sadly agitated.

CALLICLES

It is, and it is not, in my power, Megaronides: as to their saying this, that is not in my power; as to their saying this deservedly, that is in my power.

MEGARONIDES

Was this Charmides a friend of yours? He points to the house of CHARMIDES.

CALLICLES

He both is and he was. That you may believe it to be so, I will tell you a circumstance as a proof. For after this son of his had squandered away his fortune, and he saw himself being reduced to poverty, and that his daughter was grown up a young woman, and that she who was both her mother and his own wife was dead; as he himself was about to go hence to Seleueia he committed to my charge the maiden his daughter, and all his property, and that profligate son. These, I think, he would not have entrusted to me if he had been unfriendly to me.

MEGARONIDES

What say you as to the young man, who you see to be thus profligate, and who has been entrusted to your care and confidence? Why do you not reform him? Why do you not train him to frugal habits? It would have been somewhat more just for you to give attention to that matter, if you could have somehow made him a better man, and not for you yourself to be a party to the same disreputable conduct, and share your dishonour with his disgrace?

CALLICLES

What have I done?

MEGARONIDES

That which a bad man would do.

CALLICLES

That is no name of mine.

MEGARONIDES

Have you not bought this house from that young man? A pause. Why are you silent? This, where you yourself are now living. He points to the house of CHARMIDES.

CALLICLES

I did buy it, and I gave the money for it, — forty minæ, to the young man himself, into his own hand.

MEGARONIDES

You gave the money, do you say?

CALLICLES

'Twas done; and I am not sorry 'twas done.

MEGARONIDES

I' faith — a young man committed to untrusty keeping. Have you not by these means given him a sword with which to slay himself? For, prithee, what else is it, your giving ready money to a young man who loves women, and weak in intellect, with which to complete his edifice of folly which he had already commenced?

CALLICLES

Ought I not to have paid him the money?

MEGARONIDES

You ought not to have paid him; nor ought you either to have bought anything of or sold anything to him; nor should you have provided him with the means of becoming worse. Have you not taken in the person who was entrusted to you? Have you not driven out of his house the man who entrusted him to you? By my faith, a pretty trust, and a faithful guardianship! Leave him to take care of himself; he would manage his own affairs much better.

CALLICLES

You overpower me, Megaronides, with your accusations, in a manner so strange, that what was privately entrusted to my secrecy, fidelity, and constancy, for me to tell it to no one, nor make it public, the same I am now compelled to entrust to you.

MEGARONIDES

Whatever you shall entrust to me, you shall take up the same where you have laid it down.

CALLICLES

Look round you, then, that no overlooker may be near us

MEGARONIDES looks on every side ; and look around every now and then, I beg of you.

MEGARONIDES

I am listening if you have aught to say.

CALLICLES

If you will be silent, I will speak. At the time when Charmides set out hence for foreign parts, he showed me a treasure in this house, here in a certain closet —— He starts as if he hears a noise. But do look around.

MEGARONIDES

There is no one.

CALLICLES

Of Philippean pieces to the number of three thousand. Alone with myself, in tears, he entreated me, by our friendship and by my honour, not to entrust this to his son, nor yet to any one, from whom that might come to his knowledge. Now, if he comes back hither safe, I will restore to him his own. But if anything should happen to him, at all events I have a stock from which to give a marriage-portion to his daughter, who has been entrusted to me, that I may settle her in a condition of life that befits her.

MEGARONIDES

O ye immortal gods! how soon, in a few words, you have made another man of me; I came to you quite a different person. But, as you have begun, proceed further to inform me.

CALLICLES

What shall I tell you? How that this worthless fellow had almost utterly ruined his caution and my own trustiness and all the secret.

MEGARONIDES

How so?

CALLICLES

Because, while I was in the country for only six days, in my absence and without my knowledge, without consulting me, he advertised with bills this house for sale.

MEGARONIDES

The wolf hungered the more, and opened his mouth the wider; he watched till the dog went to sleep; and intended to carry off the whole entire flock.

CALLICLES

I' faith, he would have done it, if the dogs had not perceived this in time. But now, in my turn, I wish to ask you this: let me know what it was my duty for me to do. Whether was it right for me to discover the treasure to him, against which very thing his father had cautioned me, or should I have permitted another person to become the owner of this house? Ought that money to have belonged to him who bought the house? In preference, I myself bought the house; I gave the money for the sake of the treasure, that I might deliver it safe to my friend. I have not, then, bought this house either for myself or for my own use; for Charmides have I bought it back again; from my own store have I paid the money. This, whether it has been done rightfully or wrongfully, I own, Megaronides, that I have done. Here, then, are my misdeeds; here, then, is my avarice. Is it for these things that they spread false reports against me?

MEGARONIDES

Stay — you have overcome your corrector. You have tied my tongue; there is nothing for me to say in answer.

CALLICLES

Now I entreat you to aid me with your assistance and counsel, and to share this duty of mine in common with me.

MEGARONIDES

I promise you my assistance.

CALLICLES

Where, then, will you be a short time hence?

MEGARONIDES

At home.

CALLICLES

Do you wish anything else?

MEGARONIDES

Attend to the trust reposed in you.

CALLICLES

That is being carefully done.

MEGARONIDES

But how say you —— ?

CALLICLES

What do you want?

MEGARONIDES

Where is the young man living now?

CALLICLES

This back part of the building he retained when he sold the house.

MEGARONIDES

That I wanted to know. Now, then, go at once. But what say you, where is the damsel now? She is at your house, I suppose?

CALLICLES

She is so; I take care of her almost as much as of my own daughter.

MEGARONIDES

You act properly.

CALLICLES

Before I go away, are you going to ask me anything else?

MEGARONIDES

Farewell. Exit CALLICLES. Really, there is nothing more foolish or more stupid, nothing more lying or indeed more tattling, more self-conceited or more forsworn, than those men of this city everlastingly gossiping about, whom they call Busybodies. And thus have I enlisted myself in their ranks together with them; who have been the swallower of the false tales of those who pretend that they know everything, and yet know nothing. They know, forsooth, what each person either has in his mind, or is likely to have; they know what the king whispered in the ear of the queen; they know what Juno talked about in conversation with Jupiter; that which neither is nor is likely to be, do these fellows know. Whether they praise or dispraise any one they please, falsely or truly, they care not a straw, so they know that which they choose to know. All people were in the habit of saying that this Callicles was unworthy of this state, and, himself, to exist, who had despoiled this young man of his property. From the reports of these tale-bearers, in my ignorance I rushed forward to rebuke my guiltless friend. But if the authority was always required from the foundation, upon which they speak of anything they have heard, unless that clearly appeared, the matter ought to be to the peril and loss of the tale-bearer. If this were so, it would be for the public benefit. I would cause those to be but few, who now that which they do not know, and I would make them have their silly chattering more restricted. (Exit.)

ACT II.

Enter LYSITELES.

LYSITELES

I am revolving many things in my mind at once, and much uneasiness do I find in thinking upon them. I tease, and fret, and wear myself out; a mind that enjoins a hard task is now my master. But this thing is not clear to me, nor has it been enough studied by me, which pursuit of these two I should rather follow for myself; which of the two I should think of the greater stability for passing my life therein: whether it were preferable for me to devote myself to love or to aggrandisement; in which alternative there is more enjoyment of life in passing one's days. On this point I am not fully satisfied. But this I think I'll do, that I may weigh both the points together, I must be both judge and culprit in this trial: I'll do so — I like it much. First of all, I will enlarge upon the pursuits of love, how they conduce to one's welfare. Love never expects any but the willing man to throw himself in his toils; these he seeks for, these he follows up, and craftily counsels against their interests. He is a fawning flatterer, a rapacious grappler, a deceiver, a sweet-tooth, a spoiler, a corrupter of men who court retirement, a pryer into secrets. For he that is in love, soon as ever he has been smitten with the kisses of the object that he loves, forthwith his substance vanishes out of doors and melts away. "Give me this thing, my honey, if you love me, if you possibly can." And then this gudgeon says: "O apple of my eye, be it so: both that shall be given you, and still more, if you wish it to be given." Then does she strike while he is wavering; and now she begs for more. Not enough is this evil, unless there is still something more — what to eat, what to drink. A thing that creates a further expense, the favour of a night is granted; a whole family is then introduced for her — a wardrobe-woman a perfume-keeper, a cofferer, fan-bearers, sandal-bearers, singing-girls, casket-keepers, messengers, news-carriers, so many wasters of his bread and substance. The lover himself, while to them he is complaisant, becomes a beggar. When I revolve these things in my mind, and when I reflect how little one is valued when he is in need; away with you, Love — I like you not — no converse do I hold with you. Although 'tis sweet to feast and to carouse, Love still gives bitters enough to be distasteful. He avoids the Courts of justice, he drives away your relations, and drives yourself away from your own contemplation. Nor do men wish that he should be called their friend. In a thousand ways is Love to be held a stranger, to be kept at a distance, and to be wholly abstained from. For he who plunges into love, perishes more dreadfully than if he leapt from a rock. Away with you, Love, if you please; keep your owns property to yourself. Love, never be you a friend of mine; some there are, however, whom, in their misery, you may keep miserable and wretched — those whom you have easily rendered submissive to yourself. My fixed determination is to apply my mind to my advancement in life, although, in that, great labour is undergone by the mind. Good men wish these things for themselves, gain, credit, and honour, glory, and esteem; these are the rewards of the upright. It delights me, then, the more, to live together with the upright rather than with the deceitful promulgators of lies.

Enter PHILTO.

PHILTO

looking about . Where has this man betaken himself out of doors from the house?

LYSITELES

coming up to him . I am here, father; command me what you will, and I shall cause no delay to you, nor will I hide myself in any skulking-place out of your sight.

PHILTO

You will be doing what is consonant to the rest of your conduct if you reverence your father. By your duty to me, my son, I wish you, for my sake, not to hold any converse with profligate men, either in the street or in the Forum. I know this age — what its manners are. The bad man wishes the good man to be bad, that he may be like himself. The wicked, the rapacious, the covetous, and the envious, disorder and confound the morals of the age: a crew gaping for gain, they hold the sacred thing as profane — the public advantage as the private emolument. At these things do I grieve, these are the matters that torment me. These things am I constantly repeating both day and night, that you may use due precaution against them. They only deem it right to keep their hands off that which they cannot touch with their hands; as to the rest, seize it, carry it off, keep it, be off and go hide, that is the word with them. These things, when I behold them, draw tears from me, because I have survived to see such a race of men. Why have I not rather descended to the dead ere this? For these men praise the manners of our ancestors, and defile those same persons whom they commend. With regard, then, to these pursuits, I enjoin you not to taint your disposition with them. Live after my fashion, and according to the ancient manners; what I am prescribing to you, the same do you remember and practise. I have no patience with these fashionable manners, upsetting preconceived notions, with which good men are now disgracing themselves. If you follow these my injunctions to you, many a good maxim will take root in your breast.

LYSITELES

From my earliest youth, even up to this present age, I have always, father, paid all submission to the injunctions you have given. So far as my nature was concerned, I considered that I was free; so far as your injunctions were concerned, I deemed it proper that my mind should pay all submission to you.

PHILTO

The man who is struggling with his inclination from his earliest age, whether he ought to prefer to be so, as his inclination thinks it proper that he should be, or whether, rather so as his parents and his relations wish him to be — if his inclination conquers that man, it is all over with him; he is the slave of his inclination and not of himself. But if he conquers his inclination, he truly lives and shall be famed as a conqueror of conquerors. If you have conquered your inclination rather than your inclination you, you have reason to rejoice. 'Tis better by far that you should be such as you ought to be, than such as pleases your inclination. Those who conquer the inclination will ever be esteemed better men than those whom the inclination subdues.

LYSITELES

I have ever esteemed these maxims as the shield of my youthful age; never to betake myself to any place where vice was the order of the day, never to go to stroll about at night, nor to take from another that which is his. I have taken all precautions, my father, that I might not cause you uneasiness; I have ever kept your precepts in due preservation by my own rule of conduct.

PHILTO

And do you reproach me, because you have acted aright? For yourself have you done so, not for me: my life, indeed, is nearly past; this matter principally concerns your own. Keep on overlaying good deeds with other good deeds, that the rain may not come through. He is the upright man who is not content with it, however upright and however honest he may chance to be. He who readily gives satisfaction to himself, is not the upright man, nor is he really honest: he who thinks but meanly of himself, in him is there a tendency to well-doing.

LYSITELES

For this reason, father, I have thought that since there is a certain thing that I wish for, I would request it of you.

PHILTO

What is it? I am already longing to give assent.

LYSITELES

A young man here, of noble family, my friend and years' mate, who has managed his own affairs but heedlessly and unthinkingly — I wish, father, to do him a service, if you are not unwilling.

PHILTO

From your own means, I suppose?

LYSITELES

From my own means — for what is yours is mine, and all mine is yours.

PHILTO

What is he doing? Is he in want?

LYSITELES

He is in want.

PHILTO

Had he property?

LYSITELES

He had.

PHILTO

How did he lose it? Was he connected with public business, or with commercial matters? Had he merchandise or wares to sell, when he lost his property?

LYSITELES

None of these.

PHILTO

What then?

LYSITELES

I' faith, my father, by his good-nature. Besides, to indulge his tastes, he wasted some part of it in luxury.

PHILTO

By my troth now! a fellow spoken of boldly, and as on familiar terms; — one, indeed, who has never dissipated his fortune by any good means, and is now in want. I cannot brook that, with qualities of that description, he should be your friend.

LYSITELES

'Tis because he is without any bad disposition that I wish to relieve his wants.

PHILTO

He deserves ill of a beggar who gives him what to eat or to drink; for he both loses that which he gives and prolongs for the other a life of misery. I do not say this because I am unwilling and would not readily do what you desire; but when I apply these expressions to that same person, I am warning you beforehand, so to have compassion on others, that others may not have to pity you.

LYSITELES

I am ashamed to desert him, and to deny him aid in his adversity.

PHILTO

I' troth, shame is preferable to repentance by just as many letters as it consists of.

LYSITELES

In good sooth, father, by the care of the Gods, and of my forefathers, and your own, I may say that we possess much property, honestly obtained. If you do a service to a friend, it ought not to make you repent that you have done so; it ought rather to cause you shame if you do not do it.

PHILTO

If from great wealth you subtract something, does it become more or less?

LYSITELES

Less, father. But do you know what is wont to be repeated to the niggardly citizen? "That which thou hast mayst thou not have, and mayst thou have that misfortune which thou hast not; since thou canst neither endure it to be enjoyed by thyself nor by another."

PHILTO

I know, indeed, that so it usually is: but, my son, he is the truly niggardly man that has nought with which to pay his dues.

LYSITELES

By the care of the Gods, we have, father, both enough for us to enjoy ourselves, and with which to do kind offices to kind-hearted men.

PHILTO

Troth, I am not able to refuse you anything that you; ask of me. Whose poverty do you wish to relieve? Speak out boldly to your father.

LYSITELES

That of this young man Lesbonicus, the son of Charmides, who lives there. He points to the house of CHARMIDES.

PHILTO

Why, hasn't he devoured both what he had, and what he had not?

LYSITELES

Censure him not, my father: many things happen to a man which he likes, many, too, which he does not like.

PHILTO

Troth, you say falsely, son; and you are doing so now not according to your usual wont. For the prudent man, i' faith, really frames his own fortunes for himself: many things, therefore, do not happen which he does not like, unless he is a bungling workman.

LYSITELES

Much labour is requisite for this workmanship in him who seeks to be a clever workman in fashioning his life — but he is still very young.

PHILTO

Not by years but by disposition is wisdom acquired. Age is the relish of wisdom — wisdom is the nutriment of old age. However, come, say what you wish now to give him.

LYSITELES

Nothing at all, father. Do you only not hinder me from accepting it if he should give anything to me.

PHILTO

And will you be relieving his poverty by that, if you shall accept anything of him?

LYSITELES

By that very means, my father.

PHILTO

Faith, I wish that you would instruct me in that method.

LYSITELES

Certainly. Do you know of what family he is born?

PHILTO

I know — of an extremely honourable one.

LYSITELES

He has a sister — a fine young woman now grown up: I wish, father, to take her without a portion for my wife.

PHILTO

A wife without a portion?

LYSITELES

Just so — your riches saved as well. By these means you will be conferring an extreme favour on him, and in no way could you help him to greater advantage.

PHILTO

Am I to suffer you to take a wife without a portion?

LYSITELES

You must suffer it, father; and by these means you will be giving an estimable character to our family.

PHILTO

I could give utterance to many a learned saying, and very fluently too: this old age of mine retains stories of old and ancient times. But, since I see that you are courting friendship and esteem for our family, although I have been opposed to you, I thus give my decision — I will permit you; ask for the girl, and marry her.

LYSITELES

May the Gods preserve you to me. But, to this favour add one thing.

PHILTO

But what is this one thing?

LYSITELES

I will tell you. Do you go to him, do you solicit him, and do you ask for her yourself.

PHILTO

Think of that now.

LYSITELES

You will transact it much more speedily: all will be made sure of that you do. One word of yours in this matter will be of more consequence than a hundred of mine.

PHILTO

See, now, how, in my kindness, I have undertaken this matter. My assistance shall be given.

LYSITELES

You really are a kind father. This is the house here he dwells. He points to the house of CHARMIDES. Lesbonicus is his name. Mind and attend to the business; I will await you at home. (Exit.)

PHILTO, alone.

PHILTO

These things are not for the best, nor as I think they ought to be; but still, they are better than that which is downright bad. But this one circumstance consoles myself and my thoughts—namely, that he who counsels in respect to a son nothing else but that which pleases himself alone, only plays the fool; he becomes wretched in mind, and yet he is no nearer bringing it about. He is preparing a very inclement winter for his own old age when he arouses that unseasonable storm. The door of the house of CHARMIDES opens. But the house is opened to which I was going; most conveniently, Lesbonicus himself is coming out of doors with his servant. PHILTO retires to a distance.

Enter LESBONICUS and STASIMUS.

LESBONICUS

'Tis less than fifteen days since you received from Callicles forty minæ for this house; is it not as I say, Stasimus?

STASIMUS

When I consider, I think I remember that it was so.

LESBONICUS

What has been done with it?

STASIMUS

It has been eaten and drunk up — spent away in unguents, washed away in baths. The fishmonger and the baker have carried it off: butchers, too, and cooks, green-grocers, perfumers, and poulterers; 'twas quickly consumed. I' faith! that money was made away with not less speedily than if you were to throw a poppy among the ants.

LESBONICUS

By my troth, less has been spent on those items than six minæ?

STASIMUS

Besides, what have you given to your mistresses?

LESBONICUS

That I am including as well in it.

STASIMUS

Besides, what have I pilfered of it?

LESBONICUS

Aye, that item is a very heavy one.

STASIMUS

That cannot so appear to you, if you make all due deductions, unless you think that your money is everlasting. Aside. Too late and unwisely, — a caution that should have been used before, — after he has devoured his substance, he reckons up the account too late.

LESBONICUS

The account, however, of this money is by no means clear.

STASIMUS

I' faith, the account is very clear: the money's gone. Did you not receive forty minæ from Callicles, and did he not receive from you the house in possession?

LESBONICUS

Very good.

PHILTO

aside . Troth, I think our neighbour has sold his house. When his father shall come from abroad, his place is in the beggar's gate, unless, perchance, he should creep into his son's stomach.

STASIMUS

There were a thousand Olympic drachmæ paid to the banker, which you were owing upon account.

LESBONICUS

Those, I suppose, that I was security for?

STASIMUS

Say, rather, "Those that I paid down" — for that young man whom you used to say was so rich.

LESBONICUS

It was so done.

STASIMUS

Yes, just to be squandered away.

LESBONICUS

That was done as well. But I saw him in a pitiable state, and I did have pity on him.

STASIMUS

You have pity on others, and you have neither pity nor shame for yourself.

PHILTO

aside . 'Tis time to accost him.

LESBONICUS

Is this Philto that is coming here? Troth, 'tis he himself.

STASIMUS

I' faith, I could wish he was my slave, together with his savings.

PHILTO

Philto right heartily wishes health to both master and servant, Lesbonicus and Stasimus.

LESBONICUS

May the Gods give you, Philto, whatever you may wish for. How is your son?

PHILTO

He wishes well to you.

LESBONICUS

In good sooth, he does for me what I do for him in return!

STASIMUS

aside . That phrase, “He wishes well,” is worthless, unless a person does well too. I, too, “wish” to be a free man; I wish in vain. He, perhaps, might wish to become frugal; he would wish to no purpose.

PHILTO

My son has sent me to you to propose an alliance and bond of friendship between himself and your family. He wishes to take your sister for his wife; and I have the same feelings, and I desire it.

LESBONICUS

I really don’t understand your ways; amid your prosperity you are laughing at my adversity.

PHILTO

I am a man; you are a man. So may Jupiter love me, I have neither come to laugh at you, nor do I think you deserving of it! But as to what I said, my son begged me to ask for your sister as his wife.

LESBONICUS

It is right that I should know the state of my own circumstances. My position is not on an equal footing with yours; seek some other alliance for yourselves.

STASIMUS

to LESBONICUS . Are you really sound in mind or intellect to refuse this proposal? For I perceive that he has been found for you a very friend in need.

LESBONICUS

Get away hence, and go hang yourself.

STASIMUS

Faith, if I should commence to go, you would be forbidding me.

LESBONICUS

Unless you want me, Philto, for anything else, I have given you my answer.

PHILTO

I trust, Lesbonicus, that you will one day be more obliging to me than I now find you to be. For both to act unwisely and to talk unwisely, Lesbonicus, are sometimes neither of them profitable.

STASIMUS

Troth, he says what's true.

LESBONICUS

I will tear out your eye if you add one word.

STASIMUS

Troth, but I will talk; for if I may not be allowed to do so as I am, then I will submit to be called the one-eyed man.

PHILTO

Do you now say this, that your position and means are not on an equal footing with ours?

LESBONICUS

I do say so.

PHILTO

Well, suppose, now, you were to come to a building to a public banquet, and a wealthy man by chance were to come there as your neighbour. The banquet is set on table, one that they style a public one. Suppose that dainties were heaped up before him by his dependents, and suppose any-thing pleased you that was so heaped up before him, would you eat, or would you keep your place next to this wealthy man, going without your dinner?

LESBONICUS

I should eat, unless he were to forbid me doing so.

STASIMUS

But I, by my faith, even if he were to forbid me, would eat and cram with both cheeks stuffed out; and what pleased him, that, in especial, would I lay hold of beforehand; nor would I yield to him one jot of my very existence. At table it befits no one to be bashful; for there the decision is about things both divine and human.

PHILTO

You say what is the fact.

STASIMUS

I will tell you without any subterfuge: I would make place for him on the highway, on the footpath, in the canvass for public honors; but as to what concerns the stomach — by my troth, not this much shows the breadth of his finger-nail, unless he should first have thrashed me with his fists. With provisions at the present prices, a feast is a fortune without incumbrances.

PHILTO

Always, Lesbonicus, do you take care and think this, that that is the best, according as you yourself are the most deserving: if that you cannot attain to, at least be as near as possible to the most deserving. And now, Lesbonicus, I wish you to grant and accept these terms which I propose, and which I ask of you. The Gods are rich; wealth and station befit the Gods: but we poor mortal beings are, as it were, the salt-cellar for the salt of life. The moment that we have breathed forth this, the beggar is held of equal value at Acheron with the most wealthy man when dead.

STASIMUS

aside. It will be a wonder if you don't carry your riches there with you. When you are dead, you may, perhaps, be as good as your name imports.

PHILTO

Now, that you may understand that position and means have no place here, and that we do not undervalue your alliance; I ask for your sister without a marriage-portion. May the matter turn out happily. Do I understand her to be promised? Why are you silent?

STASIMUS

O immortal Gods, what a proposal!

PHILTO

Why don't you say, "May the Gods prosper it, I agree?"

STASIMUS

aside . Alas! when there was no advantage in the expression, he used to say, "I agree;" now, when there is advantage in it, he is not able to say so.

LESBONICUS

Since you think me, Philto, worthy of an alliance with you, I return you many thanks. But though this fortune of mine has sadly diminished through my folly, I have, Philto, a piece of land near the city here; that I will give as a portion to my sister: for, after all my follies, that alone, besides my existence, is left me.

PHILTO

Really I care nothing at all about a portion.

LESBONICUS

I am determined to give her one.

STASIMUS

whispers to LESBONICUS . And are you ready, master, to sever that nurse from us which is supporting us? Take care how you do it. What are we ourselves to eat in future?

LESBONICUS

to STASIMUS . Once more, will you hold your tongue? Am I to be rendered accountable to you?

STASIMUS

aside . We are evidently done for, unless I devise something or other. Philto, I want you. He removes to a distance, and beckons to PHILTO.

PHILTO

If you wish aught, Stasimus.

STASIMUS

Step a little this way.

PHILTO

By all means.

STASIMUS

I tell you this in secrecy, that neither he nor any one else may learn it of you.

PHILTO

Trust me boldly with anything you please.

STASIMUS

By Gods and men I warn you, not to allow that piece of land ever to become yours or your son's. I'll tell you my reasons for this matter.

PHILTO

Troth, I should like to hear them.

STASIMUS

First of all then, when at any time the ground is being ploughed, in every fifth furrow the oxen die.

PHILTO

Preserve me from it.

STASIMUS

The gate of Acheron is in that land of ours. Then the grapes, before they are ripe, hang in a putrid state.

LESBONICUS

in a low voice . He is persuading the man to something, I think. Although he is a rogue, still he is not unfaithful to me.

STASIMUS

Hear the rest. Besides that, when elsewhere the harvest of wheat is most abundant, there it comes up less by one-fourth than what you have sowed.

PHILTO

Ah! bad habits ought to be sown on that spot, if in the sowing they can be killed.

STASIMUS

And never is there any person to whom that piece of land belongs, but that his affairs turn out most unfortunate. Of those to whom it has belonged, some have gone away in banishment; some are dead outright; some, again, have hanged themselves. See this man, now, to whom it belongs, how he has been brought to a regular backgammoned state.

PHILTO

Preserve me from this piece of land.

STASIMUS

“Preserve me from it,” you would say still more, if you were to hear everything from me. For there every other tree has been blasted with lightning; the hogs die there most shockingly of inflammation in the throat; the sheep are scabby, as bare of all wool, see, as is this hand of mine. And then, besides, there is not one of the Syrian natives, a race which is the most hardy of men, who could exist there for six months; so surely do all die there of the solstitial fever.

PHILTO

I believe, Stasimus, that it is so; but the Campanian race much outdoes that of the Syrians in hardiness. But, really, that piece of land, as I have heard you describe it, is one to which it were proper for all wicked men to be sent for the public good. Just as they tell of the Islands of the Blest, where all meet together who have passed their lives uprightly: on the other hand, it seems proper that all evildoers should be packed off there, since it is a place of such a character.

STASIMUS

’Tis a very receptacle of calamity. What need is there of many words? Look for any bad thing whatsoever, there you may find it.

PHILTO

But, i' faith, you may find it there and elsewhere too.

STASIMUS

Please, take care not to say that I told you of this.

PHILTO

You have told it me in perfect secrecy.

STASIMUS

For he, indeed pointing at LESBONICUS , wishes it to be got rid of from himself, if he can find any one to impose upon about it.

PHILTO

I' faith, this land shall never become my property.

STASIMUS

Aye, if you keep in your senses. Aside. I' faith, I have cleverly frightened the old fellow away from this land; for, if my master had parted with it, there is nothing for us to live upon.

PHILTO

Lesbonicus, I now return to you.

LESBONICUS

Tell me, if you please, what has he been saying to you?

PHILTO

What do you suppose? He is a man; he wishes to become a free man, but he has not the money to give.

LESBONICUS

And I wish to be rich, but all in vain.

STASIMUS

aside . You might have been, if you had chosen; now, since you have nothing, you cannot be.

LESBONICUS

What are you talking about to yourself, Stasimus?

STASIMUS

About that which you were saying just now: if you had chosen formerly, you might have been rich; now you are wishing too late.

PHILTO

No terms can be come to with me about the marriage-portion; whatever pleases you, do you transact it yourself with my son. Now, I ask for your sister for my son; and may the matter turn out well. What now? are you still considering?

LESBONICUS

What — about that matter? Since you will have it so — may the Gods prosper it — I promise her.

PHILTO

Never, by my troth, was a son born so ardently longed for by any one, as was that expression “I promise her,” when born for me.

STASIMUS

The Gods will prosper all your plans.

PHILTO

So I wish. Come this way with me, Lesbonicus, that a day may be agreed on for the nuptials, in the presence of Lysiteles: this agreement we will ratify on that same day. (Exit PHILTO.)

LESBONICUS

Now, Stasimus, go you there points to the house which he has sold to CALLICLES to the house of Callicles, to my sister; tell her how this matter has been arranged.

STASIMUS

I will go.

LESBONICUS

And congratulate my sister.

STASIMUS

Very well.

LESBONICUS

Tell Callicles to meet me ——

STASIMUS

But rather do you go now ——

LESBONICUS

That he may see what is necessary to be done about the portion.

STASIMUS

Do go now.

LESBONICUS

For I have determined not to give her without a portion.

STASIMUS

But rather do you go now.

LESBONICUS

And I will never allow it to be a detriment to her by reason of ——

STASIMUS

Do be off now.

LESBONICUS

My recklessness ——

STASIMUS

Do go now.

LESBONICUS

It seems by no means just, but that, since I have done wrong ——

STASIMUS

Do go now.

LESBONICUS

It should be chiefly a detriment to myself.

STASIMUS

Do go now.

LESBONICUS

O my father! and shall I ever see you again?

STASIMUS

Do go now. Go — go now.

LESBONICUS

I am going. Do you take care of that which I have asked you. I shall be here directly. (Exit LESBONICUS.)

STASIMUS

At length I have prevailed on him to go. In the name of the immortal Gods, i' faith, 'tis a matter well managed by wrongful means of performance, inasmuch as our piece of land is safe; although even now 'tis still a very doubtful matter what may be the result of this affair. But, if the land is parted with, 'tis all over with my neck; I must carry a buckler in foreign lands, a helmet too, and my baggage. He will be running away from the city when the nuptials have been celebrated; he will be going hence to extreme and utter ruin, somewhere or other, to serve as a soldier, either to Asia or to Cilicia. I will go there looking at the door of the house bought by CALLICLES, where he has ordered me to go, although I detest this house ever since he has driven us out of our abode. (Exit into the house of CHARMIDES.)

ACT III.

Enter CALLICLES and STASIMUS.

CALLICLES

To what effect were you speaking about this, Stasimus?

STASIMUS

That Lesbonicus, the son of my master, has betrothed his sister; in those terms.

CALLICLES

To what person has he betrothed her?

STASIMUS

To Lysiteles, the son of Philto; without a portion, too.

CALLICLES

Without a portion, will he marry her into a family so rich? You are telling me a thing not to be credited.

STASIMUS

Why, faith, you would be for never believing. If you don't believe this, at all events I shall be believing ——

CALLICLES

What?

STASIMUS

That I don't care a fig for your belief.

CALLICLES

How long since, or where, was this matter agreed to?

STASIMUS

On this very spot — here, before his door pointing to PHILTO'S house . This moment-like, as the man of Præneste says.

CALLICLES

And has Lesbonicus, amid his ruined fortunes, become so much more frugal than in his prosperous circumstances?

STASIMUS

Why, in fact, Philto himself came of his own accord to make the offer for his son.

CALLICLES

aside. By my troth, it really will be a disgrace, if a portion is not given to the maiden. In fine, I think, i' faith, that that matter concerns myself. I will go to my corrector, and will ask advice of him. (Exit.)

STASIMUS

I pretty nearly guess, and I have a strong suspicion, why he makes such speed on this: namely, that he may turn Lesbonicus out of his bit of land, after he has turned him out of his house. O Charmides, my master! since your property here is being torn to pieces in your absence, I wish I could see you return safe, that you might both take vengeance on your enemies, and give the reward to me according as I have behaved, and do behave towards you. 'Tis an extremely difficult thing for a friend to be found really such as the name imports, to whom, when you have entrusted your interests, you may sleep without any care. But lo! I perceive our son-in-law coming, together with his neighbour. Something — what, I know not — is wrong between them. They are walking, each with a hasty step; the one is catching the other that is before him by the cloak. They have come to a stop in no very courteous fashion. I'll step aside here a little distance. I have a wish to hear the conversation of these two that are to be connected by marriage. He retires to a distance.

Enter LYSITELES and LESBONICUS.

LYSITELES

Stay, this moment; don't turn away, and don't hide yourself from me. He catches hold of his cloak.

LESBONICUS

(shaking him off) Can't you allow me to go whither I was proceeding?

LYSITELES

If, Lesbonicus, it seems to be to your interest, either for your glory or for your honour, I will let you go.

LESBONICUS

You are doing a thing that it is very easy to do.

LYSITELES

What is that?

LESBONICUS

An injury to a friend.

LYSITELES

It is no way of mine, and I have not learned so to do.

LESBONICUS

Untaught as you are, how cleverly you do it. What would you have done, if any one had taught you to be thus annoying to me? You, who, when you pretend to be acting kindly to me, use me ill, and are intending evil.

LYSITELES

What! — I?

LESBONICUS

Yes — you.

LYSITELES

How do I use you ill?

LESBONICUS

Inasmuch as you do that which I do not wish.

LYSITELES

I wish to consult your advantage.

LESBONICUS

Are you kinder to me than I am to myself? I have sense enough; I see sufficiently well those things that are for my own advantage.

LYSITELES

And is it having sense enough to refuse a kindness from a well-wisher?

LESBONICUS

I reckon it to be no kindness, when it does not please him on whom you are conferring it. I know, and I understand myself what I am doing, and my mind forsakes not its duty; nor will I be driven by your speeches from paying due regard to my own character.

LYSITELES

What do you say? For now I cannot be restrained from saying to you the things which you deserve. Have your forefathers, I pray, so handed down this reputation to you, that you, by your excesses, might lose what before was gained by their merit, and that you might become a bar to the honour of your own posterity? Your father and your grandfather made an easy and a level path for you to attain to honour; whereas you have made it to become a difficult one, by your extreme recklessness and sloth, and your besotted ways. You have made your election, to prefer your passions to virtue. Now, do you suppose that you can cover over your faults by these means? Alas! 'tis impossible. Welcome virtue to your mind, if you please, and expel slothfulness from your heart. Give your attention to your he-friends in the Courts of justice, and not to the couch of your she-friend, as you are wont to do. And earnestly do I now wish this piece of land to be left to you for this reason, that you may have wherewithal to reform yourself; so that those citizens, whom you have for enemies, may not be able altogether to throw your poverty in your teeth.

LESBONICUS

All these things which you have been saying, I know — could even set my seal to them: how I have spoiled my patrimonial estate and the fair fame of my forefathers. I knew how it became me to live; to my misfortune I was not able to act accordingly. Thus, overpowered by the force of passion, inclined to ease, I fell into the snare; and now to you, quite as you deserve, I do return most hearty thanks.

LYSITELES

Still, I cannot suffer my labour to be thus lost, and yourself to despise these words; at the same time, it grieves me that you have so little shame. And, in fine, unless you listen to me, and do this that I mention, you yourself will easily lie concealed behind your own self, so that honour cannot find you; when you will wish yourself to be especially distinguished, you will be lying in obscurity. I know right well, for my part, Lesbonicus, your highly ingenuous disposition; I know that of your own accord you have not done wrong, but that it is Love that has blinded your heart; and I myself comprehend all the ways of Love. As the charge of the balista is hurled, so is Love; nothing is there so swift, or that so swiftly flies; he, too, makes the manners of men both foolish and froward. That which is the most commended pleases him the least; that from which he is dissuaded pleases him. When there is a scarcity, then you long for a thing; when there is an abundance of it, then you don't care for it. The person that warns him off from a thing, the same invites him; he that persuades him to it interdicts him. 'Tis a misfortune of insanity for you to fly to Cupid for refuge. But I advise you again and again to think of this, how you should seek to act. If you attempt to do according as you are now showing signs, you will cause the conflagration of your family; and then, in consequence, you will have a desire for water with which to quench this conflagration of your family. And if you should obtain it, just as lovers are subtle in their devices, you will not leave even one spark with which your family may brighten up.

LESBONICUS

'Tis easy to be found: fire is granted, even though you should ask it of a foe. But you, by your reproof, are urging me from my faults to a viler course. You are persuading me to give you my sister without a portion. But it does not become me, who have misused so great a patrimony, to be still in affluent circumstances, and to be possessing land, but her to be in want, so as with good reason to detest me. Never will he be respected by others who makes himself despised by his own relatives. As I said, I will do; I do not wish you to be in doubt any longer.

LYSITELES

And is it so much preferable that for your sister's sake you should incur poverty, and that I should possess that piece of land rather than yourself, who ought to be upholding your own walls?

LESBONICUS

I do not wish you so much to have regard to myself, in order that you may relieve my poverty, as that in my neediness I may not become disgraced: that people may not spread about this report of me, that I gave my own sister without a portion to you, rather in concubinage than in marriage. Who would be said to be more dishonorable than I? The spreading of this report might do credit to you, but it would defile me, if you were to marry her without a portion. For you it would be a gain of reputation, for me it would be something for people to throw in my teeth.

LYSITELES

Why so? Do you suppose that you will become Dictator if I accept the land of you?

LESBONICUS

I neither wish, nor require, nor do I think so; but still, to be mindful of his duty, is true honour to an upright man.

LYSITELES

For my part, I know you, how you are disposed in mind; I see it, I discover it, I apprehend. You are doing this, that when you have formed an alliance between us, and when you have given up this piece of land, and have nothing here with which to support life, in beggary you may fly from the city, in exile you may desert your country, your kindred, your connexions, your friends, — the nuptials once over. People would suppose that you were frightened hence by my means, and through my cupidity. Do not fancy in your mind that I will act so as to allow that to happen.

STASIMUS

advancing . Well, I cannot but exclaim, “Well done, well done, Lysiteles, encore.” Easily do you win the victory; the other is conquered: your performance is superior. This one pointing to LYSITELES acts better in character, and composes better lines. By reason of your folly do you still dispute it? Stand in awe of the fine.

LESBONICUS

What means this interruption of yours, or your intrusion here upon our conversation?

STASIMUS

The same way that I came here I’ll get me gone.

LESBONICUS

Step this way home with me, Lysiteles; there we will talk at length about these matters.

LYSITELES

I am not in the habit of doing anything in secret. Just as my feelings are I will speak out. If your sister, as I think it right, is thus given to me in marriage without a portion, and if you are not about to go away hence, that which shall be mine, the same shall be yours. But if you are minded otherwise, may that which you do turn out for you for the best. I will never be your friend on any other terms; such is my determination. (Exit LESBONICUS, followed by LYSITELES.)

STASIMUS

Faith, he’s off. D’ye hear — Lysiteles? I want you. He’s off as well. Stasimus, you remain alone. What am I now to do, but to buckle up my baggage and sling my buckler on my back, and order soles to be fastened beneath my shoes? There is no staying now. I see that no long time hence I shall be a soldier's drudge. And when my master has thrown himself into the pay of some potentate, I guess that among the greatest warriors he will prove a brave — hand at running away, and that there he will capture the spoil, who-shall come to attack my master. I myself, the moment that I shall have assumed my bow and quiver and arrows, and the helmet on my head, shall-go to sleep very quietly in my tent. I'll be off to the Forum; I'll ask that talent back of the person to whom I lent it six days since, that I may have some provision for the journey to carry with me. (Exit.)

Enter MEGARONIDES and CALLICLES.

MEGARONIDES

According as you relate the matter to me, Callicles, it really can by no means be but that a portion must be given to the girl.

CALLICLES

Why, troth, it would hardly be honestly done on my part, if I were to allow her to contract a marriage without a portion, when I have her property in my possession at home. * * * * *

MEGARONIDES

* * * * * A portion is ready at your house; unless you like to wait until her brother has disposed of her in marriage without a portion. After that, you might go to Philto yourself, and might say that you present her with a portion, and that you do it on account of your intimacy with her father. But I dread this, lest that offer might bring you into crimination and disgrace with the public. They would say that you were so kind to the girl not without some good reason; that the dowry which you presented her was given you by her father; they would think that you were portioning her out of that, and that you had not kept it safe for her just as it was given, and that you had withheld some part. Now, if you wish to await the return of Charmides, the time is very long; meanwhile, the inclination to marry her may leave this Lysiteles; this proposal, too, is quite a first-rate one for her.

CALLICLES

All these very same things suggest themselves to my mind.

MEGARONIDES

Consider if you think this more feasible and more to the purpose: go to the young man himself, and tell him how the matter really stands.

CALLICLES

Should I now discover the treasure to a young man, ill-regulated, and brimful of passion and of wantonness? No, faith, most assuredly, by no means. For I know, beyond a doubt, that he would devour even all that spot where it is buried. I fear to dig for it, lest he should hear the noise; lest, too, he might trace out the matter itself, if I should say I will give her a portion.

MEGARONIDES

By what method, then, can the portion be secretly taken out?

CALLICLES

Until an opportunity can be found for that business, I would, in the meanwhile, ask for a loan of the money from some friend or other.

MEGARONIDES

Can it be obtained from some friend or other?

CALLICLES

It can.

MEGARONIDES

Nonsense; you'll certainly meet with this answer at once: "O, upon my faith, I really have not anything that I can lend you."

CALLICLES

Troth, I would rather they would tell me the truth than lend me the money with a bad grace.

MEGARONIDES

But consider this plan, if it pleases you.

CALLICLES

What is the plan?

MEGARONIDES

I have found out a clever plan, as I think.

CALLICLES

What is it?

MEGARONIDES

Let some person, now, be hired, of an appearance as much unknown as possible, such as has not been often seen. Let this person be dressed up to the life after a foreign fashion, just as though he were a foreigner.

CALLICLES

What is he to understand that he must do after that?

MEGARONIDES

It is necessary for him to be some lying, deceiving, impudent fellow — a loungee from the Forum.

CALLICLES

And what then, after that?

MEGARONIDES

Let him come to the young man as though from Seleucia, from his father; let him pronounce his salutation to him in the words of his father, say that he is prospering in business, and is alive and well, and that he will be shortly coming back again. Let him bring two letters; let us seal these, as though they are from his father. Let him give the one to him, and let him say that he wishes to give the other to yourself.

CALLICLES

Go on, and tell me still further.

MEGARONIDES

Let him say that he is bringing some gold as a marriage-portion from her father for the girl, and that his father has requested him to deliver it to you. Do you understand me now?

CALLICLES

Pretty nearly; and I listen with great satisfaction.

MEGARONIDES

Then, in consequence, you will finally give the gold to the young man when the girl shall be given in marriage.

CALLICLES

Troth, 'tis very cleverly contrived.

MEGARONIDES

By this means, when you have dug up the treasure, you will have removed all cause for suspicion from the young man. He will think that the gold has been brought to you from his father; whereas, you will be taking it from the treasure.

CALLICLES

Very cleverly and fairly contrived; although I am ashamed, at this time of life, for me to be playing a double part. But when he shall bring the letters sealed, don't you suppose that the young man will then recollect the impression of his father's signet?

MEGARONIDES

Will you be silent now? Reasons innumerable may be found for that circumstance. That which he used to have he has lost, and he has since had another new one made. Then, if he should bring them not sealed at all, this might be said, — that they had been unsealed for him by the custom-house officers, and had been examined. On matters of this kind, however, 'tis mere idleness to spend the day in talk; although a long discussion might be spun out. Go now, at once, privately to the treasure; send to a distance the men-servants and the maids; and — do you hear?

CALLICLES

What is it?

MEGARONIDES

Take care that you conceal this matter from that same wife of yours as well; for, i' faith, there is never any subject which they can be silent upon. Why are you standing now? Why don't you take yourself off hence, and bestir yourself? Open the treasure, take thence as much gold as is requisite for this purpose; at once close it up again, but secretly, as I have enjoined you; turn all out of the house.

CALLICLES

I will do so.

MEGARONIDES

But, really, we are continuing too long a discourse; we are wasting the day, whereas there is need now of all expedition. There is nothing for you to fear about the seal; trust me for that. This is a clever excuse to give, as I mentioned, that they have been looked at by the officers. In fine, don't you see the time of day? What do you think of him being of such a nature and disposition? He is drunk already; anything you like may be proved for him. Besides, what is the greatest point of all, this person will say that he brings, and not that he applies for, money.

CALLICLES

Now, that's enough.

MEGARONIDES

I am now going to hire a sharper from the Forum, and then I will seal the two letters; and I'll send him thither pointing to the house of CHARMIDES, well tutored in his part, to this young man.

CALLICLES

I am going in-doors then to my duty in consequence. Do you see about this matter.

MEGARONIDES

I'll take care it's done in the very cleverest style. (Exeunt.)

ACT IV.

Enter CHARMIDES.

CHARMIDES

To Neptune, potent o'er the deep and most powerful, the brother of æthereal Jove, joyously and sincerely do I proffer praise, and return my grateful thanks; to the salt waves, too, with whom lay supreme power over myself, — one, too, that existed over my property and my life, — inasmuch as from their realms they have returned me safe and sound even to my own native city. And, Neptune, before the other Deities, do I both give and return to you extreme thanks. For all people talk of you as being cruel and severe, of voracious habits, filthy, unsightly, unendurable, and outrageous; on the other hand, I have experienced your kindly aid. For, in good sooth, I have found you mild and merciful upon the deep, even to that degree that I wished. This commendation, too, I had already heard with these ears before of you among men, — that you were accustomed to spare the poor, and to depress and overawe the rich. Adieu! I commend you; you know how to treat men properly, according as is just. This is worthy of the Gods; they should ever prove benignant to the needy; to men of high station, quite otherwise. Trusty have you proved, though they are in the habit of saying that you cannot be trusted. For, without you, it would have happened, I am very sure, that on the deep your attendants would have shockingly torn in pieces and rent asunder wretched me, and, together with me, my property as well, in every direction throughout the azure surface of ocean. But just now, like raging dogs, and no otherwise, did the winds in hurricane beset the ship; storms and waves, and raging squalls were about to roar, to break the mast, to bear down the yards, to split the sails; had not your favouring kindness been nigh at hand. Have done with me, if you please; henceforth have I now determined to give myself up to ease; enough have I got. With what pains have I struggled, while I was acquiring riches for my son. But who is this that is coming up the street with his new-fangled garb and appearance? I' faith, though I wish to be at home, I'll wait awhile; at the same time, I will give my attention to see what business this fellow is about. He retires aside.

Enter the SHARPER.

A SHARPER.

To this day I give the name of “The Festival of the Three Pieces” (Trinummus); for, on this day, have I let out my services in a cheating scheme for three pieces of money. I am just arrived from Seleucia, Macedonia, Asia, and Arabia, — places which I never visited either with my eye or with my foot. See now, what business poverty brings upon the man that is wretchedly destitute; inasmuch as I am now obliged, for the sake of three pieces of money, to say that I received these letters from a certain person, about whom I don’t know, nor have I ever known, who the man is, nor do I know this for certain, whether he was ever born or not.

CHARMIDES

behind . Faith, this fellow’s surely of the mushroom genus; he covers himself entirely with his top. The countenance of the fellow appears to be Illyrian; he comes, too, in that garb.

A SHARPER.

He who hired me, when he had hired me, took me to his house; he told me what he wanted to be done; he taught and showed me beforehand how I was to do everything. If, then, I should add anything more, my employer will on that account the better forward his plan through me. As he dressed me out, so am I now equipped; his money did that. He himself borrowed my costume, at his own risk, from the theatrical wardrobe; if I shall be able, now, to impose on this man through my garb, I will give him occasion clearly to find that I am a very trickster.

CHARMIDES

behind . The more I look at him, the less does the appearance of the fellow please me. ’Tis a wonder if that fellow there is not either a night-robber or a cutpurse. He is viewing the locality; he is looking around him and surveying the houses; troth, I think he is reconnoitring the spot for him to come and rob bye and bye. I have a still greater desire to watch what he is about: I'll give attention to this matter.

A SHARPER.

This employer of mine pointed out these localities to me; at this house are my devices to be put in practice. I'll knock at the door.

CHARMIDES

behind . Surely this fellow is making in a straight line for my house; i' faith, I think I shall have to keep watch this night of my arrival.

A SHARPER.

knocks at the door of the house of CHARMIDES . Open this door! — open it! Hallo, there! who now has the care of this door?

CHARMIDES

coming up to him . Young man, what do you want? hat is it you wish? Why are you knocking at this door?

A SHARPER.

Eh! old gentleman; I am inquiring here for a young man named Lesbonicus, where in this quarter he lives — and likewise for another person, with such white hairs on his head as yours; he that gave me these letters said his name was Callicles.

CHARMIDES

aside . In fact, this fellow is looking for my own son Lesbonicus and my friend Callicles, to whom I entrusted both my children and my property.

A SHARPER.

Let me know, respected sir, if you are acquainted with it, where these persons live.

CHARMIDES

Why are you inquiring for them? Or who are you? — Or whence are you? — Or whence do you come?

A SHARPER.

I gave the return correctly to the Censor, when I was questioned by him ——

CHARMIDES

* * * *

A SHARPER.

You ask a number of things in the same breath; I know not which in especial to inform you upon. If you will ask each thing singly, and in a quiet manner, I'll both let you know my name, and my business, and my travels.

CHARMIDES

I'll do as you desire. Come then; in the first place, tell me your name.

A SHARPER.

You begin by demanding an arduous task.

CHARMIDES

How so?

A SHARPER.

Because, respected sir, if you were to begin before daylight, i' faith, to commence at the first part of my name, 'twould be the dead of the night before you could get to the end of it.

CHARMIDES

According to your story, a person should have a long journey's provision crammed tightly in for your name.

A SHARPER.

I have another name somewhat less, — about the size of a wine-casks.

CHARMIDES

What is this name of yours, young man?

A SHARPER.

“Hush,” that’s my name; that’s my every-day one.

CHARMIDES

I’ faith, ’tis a scampish name; just as though you were to say, “Hush,” if I were confiding anything to you, and then it is at an end forthwith. Aside. This fellow is evidently a sharper. What say you, young man —— ?

A SHARPER.

What is it now?

CHARMIDES

Speak out; what do these persons owe you whom you are seeking?

A SHARPER.

The father of this young man, Lesbonicus, delivered to me these two letters; he is a friend of mine.

CHARMIDES

aside . I have now caught him in the fact; he says that I gave him the letters. I will have some fine sport with the fellow.

A SHARPER.

As I have begun, if you will give attention, I will say on.

CHARMIDES

I’ll give you my attention.

A SHARPER.

He bade me give this letter to his son, Lesbonicus, and this other one, as well, he bade me give to his friend Callicles.

CHARMIDES

aside . Troth, but since he is acting the impostor, I, on the other hand, have an inclination to act the cheat as well. Where was he himself?

A SHARPER.

He was carrying on his business prosperously.

CHARMIDES

But where?

A SHARPER.

At Seleucia.

CHARMIDES

* * * * * And did you receive these from himself?

A SHARPER.

With his own hands he himself delivered them into my hands.

CHARMIDES

Of what appearance is this person?

A SHARPER.

He is a person somewhere about half a foot taller than you.

CHARMIDES

aside . This is an odd matter, if in fact I am taller when absent than when present. Do you know this person?

A SHARPER.

You are asking me a ridiculous question; together with him I was in the habit of taking my meals.

CHARMIDES

What is his name?

A SHARPER.

One, i' faith, that belongs to an honorable man.

CHARMIDES

I would like to hear it.

A SHARPER.

Troth, his name hesitating — his — his — Aside. Woe to unfortunate me.

CHARMIDES

What's the matter?

A SHARPER.

Unguardedly, I this moment swallowed the name.

CHARMIDES

I like not the man that has his friends shut up within his teeth.

A SHARPER.

And yet this moment 'twas dwelling on the very edge of my lips.

CHARMIDES

aside . I've come to-day in good time before this fellow.

A SHARPER.

aside . To my sorrow I'm caught in the fact.

CHARMIDES

Have you now recollected the name?

A SHARPER.

'Fore Gods and men, i' faith, I'm ashamed of myself

CHARMIDES

See, now, how well you know this man.

A SHARPER.

As well as my own self. This is in the habit of happening: the thing you are holding in your hand, and seeing with your eyes, that same you are looking for as lost. I'll recollect it letter by letter. C is the beginning of the name.

CHARMIDES

Is it Callias?

A SHARPER.
No: it isn't that.

CHARMIDES
Callippus?

A SHARPER.
It isn't that.

CHARMIDES
Callidemides?

A SHARPER.
It isn't that.

CHARMIDES
Callinicus?

A SHARPER.
No: it isn't that.

CHARMIDES
Or is it Callimachus?

A SHARPER.
'Tis in vain you suggest; and, i' faith, I really don't care one fillip about it, since I recollect enough myself for my own purpose.

CHARMIDES
But there are many people here of the name of Lesbonicus; unless you tell me the name of his father, I cannot show you these persons whom you are looking for. What is it like? Perhaps we can find it out by guessing.

A SHARPER.
It is something like this: Char ——

CHARMIDES

Chares? Or Charicles? Or is it Charmides?

A SHARPER.

Ah! that's he; may the Deities confound him.

CHARMIDES

I have said to you once before already * * * * that it is proper for you rather to speak well of a man that is your friend, than to curse him.

A SHARPER.

Isn't it the fact that this most worthless fellow has lain perdu between my lips and my teeth?

CHARMIDES

Don't you be cursing an absent friend.

A SHARPER.

Why, then, did this most rascally fellow hide himself away from me?

CHARMIDES

If you had only called him, he would have answered to his name. But where is he himself now?

A SHARPER.

Troth, I left him at Rhadama, in the isle of Apeland.

CHARMIDES

* * * * * aside . What person is there a greater simpleton than I, who myself am making inquiries where I am? But it is by no means unimportant to this present purpose. What do you say as —— ?

A SHARPER.

What now?

CHARMIDES

I ask you this. What places have you visited?

A SHARPER.

Places exceedingly wonderful in astonishing ways.

CHARMIDES

I should like to hear about them, unless it is inconvenient.

A SHARPER.

Really I quite long to tell you. First of all we were conveyed to Pontus, to the land of Arabia.

CHARMIDES

How now; is Arabia then in Pontus?

A SHARPER.

It is. Not that Arabia where frankincense is produced, but where the wormwood grows, and the wild marjoram which the poultry love.

CHARMIDES

aside . An extremely ingenious knave this. But the greater simpleton I, to be asking of this fellow from what place I have come back, a thing which I know, and he does not know; except that I have a mind to try how he will get out of it at last. But what say you further? Whither did you go next from thence?

A SHARPER.

If you give me your attention, I will tell you. To the source of the river which arises out of the heavens, from beneath the throne of Jupiter.

CHARMIDES

Beneath the throne of Jupiter?

A SHARPER.

Yes: I say so.

CHARMIDES

Out of the heavens?

A SHARPER.

Aye, out of the very middle.

CHARMIDES

How now; and did you ascend even to the heavens?

A SHARPER.

Yes: we were carried in a little skiff right on, up the river, against the tide.

CHARMIDES

And did you see Jupiter as well?

A SHARPER.

The other Gods said that he had gone to his country-house, to dole out the victuals for his slaves. Then, after that ——

CHARMIDES

Then after that — I don't want you to relate anything more.

A SHARPER.

Troth, I'm silent, if it's troublesome.

CHARMIDES

Why, no decent person ought to tell it, who has gone from the earth to heaven.

A SHARPER.

I'll leave you, as I see you wish it. But point me out these persons whom I am looking for, and to whom I must deliver these letters.

CHARMIDES

What say you? If now perchance you were to see Charmides himself, him, I mean, who you say gave you these letters, would you know the man?

A SHARPER.

By my troth now, do you take me to be a brute beast, who really am not able to recognise the person with whom I have been spending my life? And would he have been such a fool as to entrust to me a thousand Philippean pieces, which gold he bade me carry to his son, and to his friend Callicles, to whom he said that he had entrusted his affairs? Would he have entrusted them to me if he had not known me, and I him, very intimately?

CHARMIDES

aside . I really have a longing now to swindle this swindler, if I can cozen him out of these thousand Philippean pieces which he has said that I have given to him. A person, that I know not who he is, and have never beheld him with my eyes before this day, should I be entrusting gold to him? A man, to whom, if his life were at stake, I would not entrust a dump of lead. This fellow must be adroitly dealt with by me. Hallo! Mister Hush, I want three words with you.

A SHARPER.

Even three hundred, if you like.

CHARMIDES

Have you that gold which you received from Charmides?

A SHARPER.

Yes, and Philippeans, too, counted out on the table with his own hand, a thousand pieces.

CHARMIDES

You received it, you mean, from Charmides himself?

A SHARPER.

'Twere a wonder if I had received it of his father, or of his grandfather, who are dead.

CHARMIDES

Then, young man, hand me over this gold.

A SHARPER.

staring at him . What gold am I to give you?

CHARMIDES

That which you have owned you received from me.

A SHARPER.

Received from you?

CHARMIDES

Yes, I say so.

A SHARPER.

Who are you?

CHARMIDES

I am Charmides, who gave you the thousand pieces of money.

A SHARPER.

I' faith, you are not he; and this day, you never shall be he, for this gold, at any rate. Away with you, if you please, you impostor! Aside. You are trying to cheat the cheater.

CHARMIDES

I am Charmides.

A SHARPER.

I' faith, you are so to no purpose, for I carry no gold. Right cleverly were you down upon me, at the very nick of time. After I said that I was bringing the gold, that instant you became Charmides. Before I made mention of the gold, you were not he. It won't do. Just, therefore, in such manner as you Charmidised yourself, do you again un-Charmidise yourself.

CHARMIDES

Who am I, then, if in fact I am not he who I really am?

A SHARPER.

What matters that to me? So long as you are not he whom I do not choose you to be, you may be who you like, for what I care. Just now, you were not he who you were, now you are become he who then you were not.

CHARMIDES

Come, despatch, if you are going to do it.

A SHARPER.

What am I to do?

CHARMIDES

Give me back the gold.

A SHARPER.

You are dreaming, old gentleman.

CHARMIDES

Did you own that Charmides delivered the gold to you?

A SHARPER.

Yes — in writing.

CHARMIDES

Are you making haste or not, you night-robber, to be off with all speed this very instant from this neighbourhood, before I order you to be soundly cudgelled on the spot?

A SHARPER.

For what reason?

CHARMIDES

Because I am that self-same Charmides about whom you have been thus lying, and who you said gave the letters to you.

A SHARPER.

How now; prithee, are you really he?

CHARMIDES

I really am he.

A SHARPER.

Say you so, pray? Are you really he himself?

CHARMIDES

I do say so.

A SHARPER.

Are you his own self?

CHARMIDES

His own self, I say. I am Charmides.

A SHARPER.

And are you then his own self?

CHARMIDES

His own very self. Begone hence out of my sight.

A SHARPER.

Since you really have made your appearance here thus late, you shall be beaten both at my own award and that of the new Ædiles.

CHARMIDES

And are you abusing me as well?

A SHARPER.

Yes; seeing that you have arrived in safety, may the Gods confound me, if I care a straw for you, had you perished first. I have received the money for this job; you, I devote to bad luck. But who you are, or who you are not, I care not one jot. I'll go and carry word to him who gave me the three pieces, that he may know that he has thrown them away. I'm off. Live with a curse, and fare you ill; may all the Gods confound you, Charmides, for coming from abroad. (Exit.)

CHARMIDES

Since this fellow has gone, at last a time and opportunity seem to have arrived for speaking out without restraint. Already does this sting pierce my breast — what business he could have before my house? For these letters summon apprehensions into my heart; those thousand pieces, too — what purpose they were to serve. I' faith, a bell is never rung for no purpose; unless some one handles it or moves it, 'tis mute, 'tis dumb. But who is this, that is beginning to run this way along the street? I should like to observe what he is about. I'll step aside this way. He retires aside.

Enter STASIMUS.

STASIMUS

to himself. Stasimus, make you haste with all speed; away with you to your master's house, lest on a sudden, through your folly, fears should arise for your shoulder-blades. Quicken your pace, make haste; 'tis now a long while since you left the house. If you shall be absent when inquired after by your master, take you care, please, that the smacks of the bull's-hide don't clatter thick upon you. Don't you cease running. See now, Stasimus, what a worthless fellow you are; and isn't it the fact that you have forgotten your ring at the liquor-shop after you have been washing your throat with warm drink? Turn about, and run back now, to seek it, while the thing has but just happened.

CHARMIDES

behind. Whoever he is, his throat is his taskmaster; that teaches this fellow the art of running.

STASIMUS

What, good-for-nothing fellow, are you not ashamed of yourself? having lost your memory after only three cups? And really, because you were there drinking together with such honest fellows, who could keep their hands off the property of another without difficulty; — is it among such men that you expect you may recover your ring? Chiruchus was there, Cerconicus, Crimnus, Cricolabus, Collabus, whipped-necks, whipped-legs, iron-rubbers, whipped-knives. By my faith, any one of these could steal the sole of his shoe from a running footman.

CHARMIDES

behind . So may the Gods love me, a finished thief.

STASIMUS

Why should I go seek what is gone for ever? Unless I would bestow my pains, too, by way of addition over and above to my loss. Why, then, don't you consider that what is gone is gone? Tack about, then. Betake yourself back to your master.

CHARMIDES

behind . This fellow is no runaway; he remembers his home.

STASIMUS

I wish that the old-fashioned ways of old-fashioned days, and the old-fashioned thriftiness, were in greater esteem here, rather than these bad ways.

CHARMIDES

behind . Immortal Gods! this man really is beginning to talk of noble doings! He longs for the old-fashioned ways; know that he loves the old-fashioned ways, after the fashion of our forefathers.

STASIMUS

For, now-a-days, men's manners reckon of no value what is proper, except what is agreeable. Ambition now is sanctioned by usage, and is free from the laws. By usage, people have the license to throw away their shields, and to run away from the enemy. To seek honor thereby in place of disgrace is the usage.

CHARMIDES

behind . A shameless usage.

STASIMUS

Now-a-days, 'tis the usage to neglect the brave.

CHARMIDES

behind . Aye, 'tis really shocking.

STASIMUS

The public manners have now got the laws in their power; to them they are more submissive than are parents to their children. In their misery, these laws are even hung up against the wall with iron nails, where it had been much more becoming for bad ways to be fixed up.

CHARMIDES

behind . I'd like to go up and accost this person; but I listen to him with much pleasure, and I'm afraid, if I address him, that he may begin to talk on some other subject.

STASIMUS

And, for these ways, there is nothing rendered sacred by the law. The laws are subservient to usage; but these habits are hastening to sweep away both what is sacred and what is public property.

CHARMIDES

behind . By my troth, 'twere right for some great calamity to befall these bad customs.

STASIMUS

Ought not this state of things to be publicly censured? For this kind of men are the enemies of all persons, and do an injury to the entire people. By a non-observance of their own honour, they likewise destroy all trust even in those who merit it not; inasmuch as people form an estimate of the disposition of these from the disposition of those fellows. If you lend a person any money, it becomes lost for any purpose as one's own. When you ask for it back again, you may find a friend made an enemy by your kindness. If you begin to press still further, the option of two things ensues — either you must part with that which you have entrusted, or else you must lose that friend. As to how this suggests itself to me, I have by actual experience been lately put in mind of it.

CHARMIDES

behind . Surely this is my servant Stasimus?

STASIMUS

For as to him to whom I lent the talent, I bought myself an enemy with my talent, and sold my friend. But I am too great a simpleton to be attending to public matters rather than (what's my immediate interest) obtain safety for my back. I'll go home. Moves as if going.

CHARMIDES

Hallo, you! Stop, this instant! Harkye; hallo, you!

STASIMUS

I'll not stop.

CHARMIDES

I want you.

STASIMUS

What if I myself don't want you to want me.

CHARMIDES

Why, Stasimus, you are behaving very rudely.

STASIMUS

'Twere better for you to buy some one to give your commands to.

CHARMIDES

I' faith, I have bought one, and paid the money, too. But if he is not obedient to my orders, what ani I to do?

STASIMUS

Give him a severe punishment.

CHARMIDES

You give good advice; I am resolved to do so.

STASIMUS

Unless, indeed, you are under obligations to him.

CHARMIDES

If he is a deserving person, I am under obligations to him; but if he is otherwise, I'll do as you advise me.

STASIMUS

What matters it to me whether you have good or bad slaves?

CHARMIDES

Because you have a share in this matter both of the good and of the bad.

STASIMUS

The one share I leave to yourself; the other share, that in the good, do you set down to my account.

CHARMIDES

If you shall prove deserving, it shall be so. Look back at me — I am Charmides.

STASIMUS

Ha! what person is it that has made mention of that most worthy man?

CHARMIDES

'Tis that most worthy man himself.

STASIMUS

O seas, earth, heavens, by my trust in you — do I see quite clearly with my eyes? Is this he, or is it not? 'Tis he! 'Tis certainly he; 'tis he beyond a doubt! O my most earnestly wished-for master, health to you!

CHARMIDES

Health to you, too, Stasimus!

STASIMUS

That you are safe and sound, I —— interrupting him. I know it, and I believe you. But wave the rest; answer me this; how are my children, my son and daughter, whom I left here?

CHARMIDES

STASIMUS

They are alive, and well.

CHARMIDES

Both of them, say you?

STASIMUS

Both of them.

CHARMIDES

The Gods willed me to be safe and preserved from dangers. The rest that I want to know I will inquire about in-doors at my leisure. Let us go in-doors; follow me.

STASIMUS

Where are you going now?

CHARMIDES

Where else but to my house?

STASIMUS

Do you suppose that we are living here?

CHARMIDES

Why, where else should I suppose?

STASIMUS

Now ——

CHARMIDES

What about “now?”

STASIMUS

This house is not our own.

CHARMIDES

What is it I hear from you?

STASIMUS

Your son has sold this house.

CHARMIDES

I'm ruined.

STASIMUS

For silver minæ; ready money counted out.

CHARMIDES

How many?

STASIMUS

Forty.

CHARMIDES

I'm undone. Who has purchased it?

STASIMUS

Callicles, to whom you entrusted your affairs; he has removed here to live, and has turned us out of doors.

CHARMIDES

Where is my son now living?

STASIMUS

Here, in these back buildings. Points to the side of the house.

CHARMIDES

I'm utterly undone.

STASIMUS

I thought that this would be distressing to you when you heard of it.

CHARMIDES

To my sorrow, amid extreme dangers I have been borne over vast oceans, with the peril of my life I have preserved myself among robbers full many in number, and I have returned safe. Now, to my misery, I am here undone by reason of those same persons for whose sake I have been struggling at this time of life Grief is depriving me of my senses. Support me, Stasimus.

STASIMUS

Do you wish me to fetch you some water?

CHARMIDES

When my fortunes were in their mortal struggle, then was it befitting that water should be sprinkled upon them.

Enter CALLICLES.

CALLICLES

What noise is this that I hear before my house?

CHARMIDES

O Callicles! O Callicles! O Callicles! to what sort of friend have I entrusted my property?

CALLICLES

To one good, and faithful, and trusty, and of strict integrity. Health to you, and I rejoice that you have arrived safe and sound. ...

CHARMIDES

How, health to me? Troth, I have no patience with such health. This I wish to know; how have you kept your trust, who, without my knowledge, have utterly destroyed my property and my children that I entrusted to you and committed to your charge when going hence abroad?

CALLICLES

I don't think that it is fair, when you don't understand the matter, to censure your old friend with harsh words. For you are both mistaken and you are doing me a very great injustice.

CHARMIDES

Have you not bought this house which you came out of just now, and driven thence my son Lesbonicus? Is this so as I say, or is it not?

Answer me.

CALLICLES

I myself did buy the house; I bought it that I might keep it for you. And without that it would have happened that your son would have sold it to another person; and then you would have lost both it and that treasure together, which, concealed there, you had entrusted to my charge. See, I restore it safe to you; for you did I buy it, not for myself.

CHARMIDES

Prithee, what do you say? By my trust in Gods and men, you make me suddenly to be quite ashamed of my error in speaking unkindly to my friend in return for his services.

CALLICLES

How, then; do you now think that I am trusty and faithful?]

CHARMIDES

I do think so., if all these matters are so as you relate them. But what means this garb of yours?

CALLICLES

I'll tell you. I was digging up the treasure indoors, as a marriage-portion to be given to your daughter. But I will relate to you both this and the rest in the house. Follow me.

CHARMIDES

Stasimus.

STASIMUS

Well!

CHARMIDES

Run with all haste to the Piræus, and make but one run of it. There you will at once see the ship, on board of which I was carried hither. Bid Sagario take care that the things are brought which I enjoined him, and do you go together with them. The duty has been already paid to the custom-house officer.

STASIMUS

I make no delay.

CHARMIDES

Get you gone with all speed; and be back directly.

STASIMUS

I am both there and here in an instant.

CALLICLES

to CHARMIDES. Do you follow me this way indoors.

CHARMIDES

I follow. (Exeunt CALLICLES and CHARMIDES into the house.)

STASIMUS

This man alone has remained a firm friend to my master; nor has he allowed his mind to swerve from unshaken fidelity, although I believe that he has undergone many troubles, by reason of the property and the children of my master. Still, this person, as I suspect, alone has maintained his fidelity. (Exit.)

ACT V.

Enter LYSITELES.

LYSITELES

This individual is the very first of all men; excelling all in pleasures and delights. So truly do the blessings which I desire befall me, that whatever I undertake is brought about, and constantly succeeds: so does one delight succeed other delights. Just now, Stasimus, the servant of Lesbonicus, came to me at home. He told me that his master, Charmides, had arrived here from abroad. Now he must be forthwith waited upon by me, that the father may prove a more sure foundation in that matter on which I have treated with his son. I'll go. But this door, with its creaking, inopportunately causes me delay. He retires to a distance.

Enter CHARMIDES and CALLICLES.

CHARMIDES

There never was, nor will there be, nor yet do I think that there is a person upon the earth, whose fidelity and constancy towards his friend equals yours. For without you, it would have been that he would have ousted me out of this house.

CALLICLES

If I have in any way acted well towards my friend, or have faithfully consulted his advantage, I seem not to be deserving of praise, but I think I am free from fault. For a benefit which is conferred on a man for his own, at once is lost to the giver; what is given only as a loan, the same there is a right to ask back, whenever you please.

CHARMIDES

'Tis so as you say. But I cannot sufficiently-wonder at this, that he has betrothed his sister into a family so influential.

CALLICLES

Aye; to Lysiteles, the son of Philto.

LYSITELES

behind . Why, he is mentioning my name.

CHARMIDES

He has got into a most worthy family.

LYSITELES

behind . Why do I hesitate to address these persons? But still, I think, I may wait awhile; for something is going to be said to the purpose about this matter.

CHARMIDES

O ——

CALLICLES

What's the matter?

CHARMIDES

I forgot just now to tell you of it in-doors. Au I was coming hither, a while ago, a certain swindling fellow met me — a very finished sharper. He told me that he was carrying a thousand gold pieces, of my giving, to you and my son Lesbonicus; a fellow, that I know not who he was, nor have I ever seen him anywhere before. But why do you laugh?

CALLICLES

He came by my directions, as though he was one bringing the gold from you to me, to give as a portion to your daughter; that your son, when I should give it to her from my own hands, might suppose that it had been brought from you, and that he might not anyhow be enabled to discover the fact itself — that your treasure was in my possession, and demand it of me, as having belonged to his father, by the public laws.

CHARMIDES

Cleverly contrived, i' troth.

CALLICLES

Megaronides, a common well-wisher of yours and mine, planned this.

CHARMIDES

Well, I applaud his device, and approve of it.

LYSITELES

behind . Why, in my foolishness, while I fear to interrupt their discourse, am I standing here alone, and am not forwarding the business that I was intending to trans act? I will accost these persons.
He advances.

CHARMIDES

Who is this person that is coming this way towards us?

LYSITELES

going up to CHARMIDES . Lysiteles salutes his father-in-law Charmides.

CHARMIDES

May the Gods grant you, Lysiteles, whatever you may desire.

CALLICLES

Am I not worthy of a salutation?

LYSITELES

Yes; health to you, Callicles. It is right that I should give him the preference: the tunic is nearer the skin than the cloak.

CALLICLES

I trust that the Gods may direct your plans aright.

CHARMIDES

I hear that my daughter has been betrothed to you?

LYSITELES

Unless you are unwilling.

CHARMIDES

Nay, I am not unwilling.

LYSITELES

Do you, then, promise your daughter for my wife?

CHARMIDES

I promise a thousand gold Philippean pieces, as well, for a portion.

LYSITELES

I care nothing about a portion.

CHARMIDES

If she pleases you, the portion which she presents to you must be pleased as well. In fine, the object which you desire you shall not have, unless you shall take that which you do not desire.

CALLICLES

to LYSITELES . He asks but justice.

LYSITELES

He shall obtain it, you the advocate and the judge. On these conditions, do you engage that your daughter shall be given to me as my wife?

CHARMIDES

I do promise her.

CALLICLES

And I promise her likewise.

LYSITELES

O save you, my connexions by marriage. He embraces them.

CHARMIDES

But, in good sooth, there are some matters on account of which I still am angry with you.

LYSITELES

What have I done?

CHARMIDES

Because you have allowed my son to become dissolute.

LYSITELES

Had that been done by my consent, there would have been cause for you to blame me. * * * * * But allow me to obtain of you this one thing which I entreat?

CHARMIDES

What is it?

LYSITELES

You shall know. If he has done anything imprudently, that you will dismiss it all from your mind. Why do you shake your head?

CHARMIDES

My heart is tortured, and I fear ——

LYSITELES

What is it now?

CHARMIDES

Because he is such as I would that he was not, — by that am I tortured. I fear that if I refuse you what you ask of me, you may suppose that I am indifferent towards you. I won't make difficulties, however; I will do as you wish.

LYSITELES

You are a worthy man. I am going to call him out. He goes to the door of the house of CHARMIDES.

CHARMIDES

'Tis a shocking thing if one is not allowed to punish bad deserts just as they merit.

LYSITELES

knocking at the door . Open the door, open quickly, and call Lesbonicus out of doors, if he is at home. The occasion is very sudden, therefore I wish him to come to me with all haste. Enter LESBONICUS from the house.

LESBONICUS

What person has been calling me out of doors with so loud a knocking?

LYSITELES

'Tis your well.wisher and friend

LESBONICUS

Is all quite right? — tell me.

LYSITELES

All's well. I am glad to say that your father has returned from abroad.

LESBONICUS

Who says so?

LYSITELES

I.

LESBONICUS

Have you seen him?

LYSITELES

Aye, and you yourself may see him too. He points to CHARMIDES.

LESBONICUS

O my father, my father, blessings on you.

CHARMIDES

Many blessings on you, my son.

LESBONICUS

If, father, any trouble ——

CHARMIDES

Have no fear, nothing has happened. My affairs prosperously managed, I have returned safe. If you are only wishful to be steady, that daughter of Callicles has been promised you.

LESBONICUS

I will marry both her, father, and any one else besides that you shall bid me

CHARMIDES

Although I have been angry with you, one misery, in fact, is more than enough for one man.

CALLICLES

Nay, rather, 'twere too little for him; for if he were to marry a hundred wives for his sins, it were too little.

LESBONICUS

But henceforth, in future, I will be steady.

CHARMIDES

So you say; if you will only do it.

LESBONICUS

Is there any reason why I should not bring my wife home to-morrow?

CHARMIDES

'Tis very good. And you, Lysiteles, be ready to be married the day after to-morrow. A COMEDIAN.

Give your applause.

TRUCULENTUS

Translated by Henry Thomas Riley

Truculentus once again concerns the relationships between prostitutes and their customers, offering one of Plautus's most cynical depictions of human nature. The plot involves Phronesium, who relentlessly persuades every male she encounters to give her all their money, by means of trickery or more often by simple flirtation. The men are more than happy to comply with her wishes, although they complain frequently of their regrettable situation. They are essentially under her spell, and are completely unable or unwilling to do anything to break free from it. Her alluring outward façade masks her cold and greedy true nature. Diniarchus, the most frequent customer at her house, has almost entirely lost his wealth to her antics. By this point, he is all too familiar with the games she plays. He even assists her with deceiving other men, but nonetheless continues to be her victim as well.

The main deception is played on the soldier Stratophanes, who had lived with Phronesium prior to the play's beginning, and before leaving the city had made many promises to her about starting a family together. Phronesium decides to borrow a baby to pretend she has just given birth, claiming that it is his when the soldier returns. He begins lavishing her with gifts; however, these are not enough for her insatiable appetite...

THE SUBJECT.

PHRONESIUM, a Courtesan, has three admirers-Dinarchus, a dissipated young Athenian; Strabax, a young man from the country; and Stratophanes, an officer in the Babylonian army. To impose upon the last, she palms off a child upon him, pretending that it is hers, and that he is the father of it. In the first part of the Play, Dinarchus returns from abroad, and is admitted by the servant Astaphium into the house of Phronesium. After this, Astaphium goes to the house where Strabax lives, to invite him to visit Phronesium, but is roughly repulsed by Stratilax, his servant. Dinarchus quits the house of Phronesium, not having been allowed to see her, on the excuse that she is at the bath. Phronesium at length comes out, and, in their conversation, tells Dinarchus that she is pretending to have been pregnant by the Captain Stratophanes, and has procured a child to pass off as his. She also begs Dinarchus to make her a present, which he promises to do, and then takes his leave. She then gets everything in readiness to look as though she had just lain in. The Captain arrives from abroad, and produces his presents; but as ready money does not form a part of them, Phronesium expresses extreme dissatisfaction and contempt. At this moment Geta, the servant of Dinarchus, come's with his present, in money and provisions. A quarrel ensues between the Captain and Geta, who at last takes to his heels, on which Phronesium goes into her house. Strabax then arrives from the country with some ready money, and is admitted to visit Phronesium. Stratilax comes to look for him, and after some parley falls a prey to the allurements of Astaphium. Dinarchus then arrives, but, despite of his recent generosity, suffers a repulse. Before he quits the stage, Callicles, an old gentleman, comes with two female-servants, whom he examines as to what they have done with a female child that his daughter has been recently delivered of. They confess that they have carried it to Phronesium to be passed off as her own, and that Dinarchus is really the father of it. Dinarchus, in great alarm, overhears this conversation, and then accosts Callicles, and, confessing his fault, offers to marry his daughter forthwith. His offer is accepted; on which he revisits Phronesium, to request her to restore to him the child. She, however, prevails upon him to lend it to her for a few days, that she may fully carry out her design of imposing upon the Captain. After this, Stratophanes appears again, and brings fresh presents. He then has a quarrel with Strabax, and the Play ends by Phronesium promising to divide her favours between them both. The text of this Play is in a most corrupt state.

THE ACROSTIC ARGUMENT.

[Supposed to have been written by Priscian the Grammarian.]

THREE

(Tres) young men are desperately in love for the same woman — one from the country (Rure), another from the city, the third from abroad; and that (Utque) she may touch the Captain for a heavy haul, she secretly (Clam) passes off as her own a child that has been born by stealth. A servant uses great violence (Vi) and churlish manners, that Courtesans (Lupæ) >may not squander the savings of his master; and (Et) yet he is softened. The Captain arrives, and for the sake of the child (Nati) gives costly presents. At length (Tandem), the father of her that has been debauched comes to know all, and agrees that (Utque) he shall marry her who has seduced her; and he asks back his own (Suum) child that has been passed off by the Courtesan as hers.

THE PROLOGUE.

PROLOGUS

A VERY small portion of room does Plautus ask from out of your vast and pleasant city within the walls, whither, without builders, he may transport Athens. What then? Will you give it or not? They nod assent. I fancied, indeed, that I should obtain it of you without hesitation. What if I were to ask something of your private means? They shake their heads. Only see, i' faith, how the ancient habit still indwells among you, to keep your tongues ever ready for a denial. But let's to the point, on account of which I came hither. Let this be Athens, just as this is our stage, only for the while that we perform this Play. Here pointing to her house dwells a female whose name is Phronesium; she has in herself the manners of the present age; she never asks of her lover that which has been given; but what is left, she does her best that it mayn't be left, by begging for it and carrying it off, as is the habit of the women; for all of them do this when they discover that they are loved. She is pretending to a Captain that she has been brought to bed, that the more speedily she may sweep away his property from him every atom. Why say more? If the life of this woman should only last, he will be sweeping off his substance with his very life into her hands.

ACT I.

Enter DINARCHUS.

DINARCHUS

to himself Not a whole life is sufficient for a lover thoroughly to learn, until he has become full well aware of this, in how many modes he may come to ruin; nor does Venus herself, in whose hands lie the sum and substance of lovers, ever instruct us in that art of reckoning — in how many ways one in love may be deluded, in how many modes he may come to ruin, and with how many modes of entreaty he may be entreated. How many blandishments are there in it, how many pettish ways in it, how many perils must be courted! Ye Gods! by our trust in you! Hey! what ground for perjury as well, besides the everlasting presents! In the first place then, there's the yearly allowance; that's her first haul. For that the favour of three nights is granted. In the meantime she's trying for either money, or wine, or oil, or corn, to prove whether you are lavish or thrifty. Just like the person that throws a casting-net into a fish-pond; when the net has gone and sunk, then he contracts the folds; but if he has rightly thrown it, he takes care that the fish may not escape; then in this direction and that does he enfold the fish netted well, until he has taken them out of the water: just so is the lover. If he gives that which is asked for, and is lavish rather than thrifty, nightly favours are given in addition. Meanwhile he swallows down the hook. If once he has partaken of the cup of love unmixed, and that draught has made its way within his breast, forthwith both himself is ruined, and his fortune, and his credit. If the mistress is angry with her lover perchance, doubly is the lover ruined, both in fortune and in mind; but if one man is preferable to another in her eyes, just as much is he ruined; if he enjoys but few of her favours, in mind is he ruined; if he enjoys them in abundance, he himself is joyous, his fortunes are ruined. * * * Thus is it in the houses kept by procurers; before you've given a single thing, she's preparing a hundred to ask for; either a golden trinket's lost, or a mantle has been torn, or a female servant bought; or some silver vessel, or some vessel of brass, or expensive couch, or a Grecian cabinet, or there's always something to be lost and for the lover to be replacing for his mistress. And with one common earnestness do we conceal these losses while we are losing our fortunes, and our credit, and ourselves, lest our parents or our relatives should know something; whom, while we conceal it from them, if we were to make acquainted with it, for them in time to restrain our youthful age, we should be giving what has been received from them before to our descendants in reversion; I'd be for causing, that as there are now more procurers and harlots, there should be fewer and fewer of spendthrift fellows than there are at present; for now-a-days there are almost more procurers and harlots than flies at the time when it is most hot. For, if they are nowhere else, the procurers with their harlots are around the bankers' shops each day as though on siege. That score is the principal one; inasmuch as I know for certain, that now-a-days there are more harlots ready for the money than there are weights for weighing it. And I really don't know what purpose to say it is to serve that these procurers are thus keeping them at the bankers' shops, except as in the place of account-books, where the sums lent on loan may be set down — the sums received I mean, those expended let no one take count of. In fine, in a great nation, amid numberless persons, the state being tranquil and in quiet, the enemy vanquished, it befits all to be in love who have anything to give. Now, this Courtesan pointing to the house Phronesium, who dwells here, has totally expelled from my breast her own name. Phronesium, for Phronesis is wisdom. For I confess that I was with her first and foremost; a thing that's very disastrous to a lover's cash. The same woman, after she had found another out, a greater spendthrift, who would give more, a Babylonian Captain, whom the hussy said was troublesome and odious to her, forthwith banished me from the spot. He now is said to be about to arrive from abroad. For that reason has she now cooked up this device; she pretends that she has been brought to bed. That she may push me out of doors, and with the Captain alone live the life of a jovial Greek, she pretends that this Captain is the father of the child; for that reason does this most vile hussy need a palmed-off child. She fancies that she's deceiving me! Does she suppose that she could have concealed it from me, if she had been pregnant? Now I arrived at Athens the day before yesterday from Lemnos, whither I have been on an embassy from this place on the public service. But who's this woman? It's her servant-maid Astaphium. With her too as well I've had some acquaintanceship. Stands aside.

Enter ASTAPHIUM, from the house of PHRONESIUM.

ASTAPHIUM

speaking to the SERVANTS within . Listen at the door and guard the house, that no one who comes may go away more loaded than he came, or who has brought empty hands into our house may take them full out of it. To herself. I know the ways of people; of such habits are the young men now-a-days. For as soon as ever the jolly companions have arrived at the courtesans' houses, their plans are formed. When they've arrived in-doors, some one of them is incessantly bestowing kisses on his mistress. While they are engaged, the others are pilfering. But if they see that any one is observing them, they play some trick, by which to amuse the observer with pleasantries and sport. Full oft do they devour that belonging to us just as the sausage-makers do. Upon my faith, this is the case, and some of the Spectators to the AUDIENCE , i' faith, you know full well that I tell no lie in this. There with them is the struggle and the valour, to carry off a booty from the plunderers. But we again nicely give a like return to these robbers of us; for they themselves look on, while we are heaping up their property; indeed, of their own accord even do they themselves bring it to us.

DINARCHUS

apart . In those words she's surely lashing myself; for I've been heaping up presents there.

ASTAPHIUM

in answer to some one who calls from PHRONESIUM'S house . I well recollect it. I' troth, his own self, if he's at home, I'll at once bring here with me. Runs on.

DINARCHUS

calling out . Hallo! Astaphium, do stop a moment, before you go away.

ASTAPHIUM

Who's calling me back?

DINARCHUS

You shall know; look back this way.

ASTAPHIUM

Who is it?

DINARCHUS

One who wishes many a blessing to yourselves.

ASTAPHIUM

Give them then, if you wish us to have them.

DINARCHUS

I'll let you have them. Only do look back this way.

ASTAPHIUM

O dear, you're teasing wretched me to death, whoever you are. Runs on.

DINARCHUS

Worst of women, stop.

ASTAPHIUM

Best of men, go on; you are troublesome. Turns round. Is that Dinarchus? Why, it is he.

DINARCHUS

He's going to your house; and do you give me your hand holding out his in return, and walk together with me.

ASTAPHIUM

I am your servant, and am obedient to your command. Gives her hand.

DINARCHUS

Yourself, how are you?

ASTAPHIUM

I'm well, and am holding by the hand one who's well. Since you've arrived from abroad, a dinner must be given.

DINARCHUS

You speak obligingly.

ASTAPHIUM

But, prithee, do let me go whither she ordered me. Withdrawing her hand.

DINARCHUS

lets go her hand . Be off then. But how say you- -?

ASTAPHIUM

What do you want?

DINARCHUS

He, that you are on your road to, who is it that you're going to fetch?

ASTAPHIUM

Achiva, the midwife.

DINARCHUS

You are an artful damsel.

ASTAPHIUM

I'm as usual then; that's my practice.

DINARCHUS

You deceitful hussy, I've caught you detected in a lie.

ASTAPHIUM

How so, pray?

DINARCHUS

Because you said that you were going to bring “his own self,” and not “herself.” A woman, then, has been made out of a man. You are an artful one.

ASTAPHIUM

A conjurer!

DINARCHUS

But, pray, tell me, Astaphium who is this person? A new lover?

ASTAPHIUM

I think that you are a gentleman too much at his ease.

DINARCHUS

Why now do you think so?

ASTAPHIUM

Because you trouble yourself about things that don’t concern your own clothing and food.

DINARCHUS

It’s yourselves have made me a gentleman at ease.

ASTAPHIUM

Why so?

DINARCHUS

I’ll explain it to you. I’ve lost my property; with my property you’ve robbed me of occupation. If I had preserved my property, there had been something with which I might have been occupied.

ASTAPHIUM

And do you suppose that you can possibly well manage the affairs of state, or those of love, on any other terms without being a gentleman at ease?

DINARCHUS

It was she held a public employment, not I; you misinterpret me. But, against the law, in spite of my tax paid for pasturage, she has received other cattle beside myself.

ASTAPHIUM

Most persons who manage their property badly, do the same as you are doing; when they haven't wherewith to pay the tax, they blame the farmers of the taxes.

DINARCHUS

My pasturage contract with you turns out but badly; now in its turn, I wish to have, according to my narrow circumstances, a little bit of arable land here with you.

ASTAPHIUM

Here is no arable, but the field is pasture land. If you desire some ploughing, you had better go to those who are in the habit of ploughing; we hold this public emolument, the right of pasturage; those are farmers of other taxes.

DINARCHUS

Full well enough do I know both sides.

ASTAPHIUM

I' troth, it's that way you are a gentleman at ease, since you've been going wrong both in that direction and in this. But the acquaintance of which do you like the best?

DINARCHUS

You are the more exacting, but they are perjured. Whatever's given to them is lost outright, nor with themselves is there any show at all of it; you, if you gain anything, do at least drink and feast it away. In short, they are unprincipled; you are good-for-nothings, and full of airs.

ASTAPHIUM

All this abuse which, Dinarchus, you are uttering against us and them, you utter against yourself, both as respects us and them.

DINARCHUS

How's that?

ASTAPHIUM

I'll tell the reason; because he who accuses another of dishonesty, him it behoves to look into himself. You who are so prudent, have got nothing from us; we, who are good-for-nothings, have got all out of you.

DINARCHUS

O Astaphium! you were not in the habit of speaking to me in that fashion formerly, but courteously, when I myself possessed that which is now in your possession.

ASTAPHIUM

While he's alive, you may know a person; when he's dead, you may keep yourself quiet. I used to know you when you were alive.

DINARCHUS

Do you consider me to be dead?

ASTAPHIUM

Prithee, how can it be plainer? He who formerly was esteemed a first-rate lover, for him to be bringing to his mistress nought but lamentations.

DINARCHUS

I' faith, through your own faults it was done, who in former days were in haste to plunder me. You ought to have done it leisurely, that, unscathed, I might last the longer for you.

ASTAPHIUM

A lover is like an enemy's fortress.

DINARCHUS

On what ground?

ASTAPHIUM

The sooner the lover can be taken by storm, the better it is for the mistress.

DINARCHUS

I confess it; but far different is the friend from the lover. I' faith, for sure, the oldest friend's the best one possible for a man. I' faith, my lands and tenements are not yet all gone.

ASTAPHIUM

Why then, prithee, are you standing before the door as a stranger and an alien? Do go in-doors. Really you are no stranger; for, upon my faith, not one person this day does she more love in her heart and soul — aside if, indeed, you've got land and tenements.

DINARCHUS

Your tongues and talk are steeped in honey; your doings and dispositions are steeped in gall and sour vinegar. From your tongues you utter sweet words; you make your lovers of bitter heart if any don't give you presents.

ASTAPHIUM

I've not learnt to say what's false.

DINARCHUS

It was not this liberality of mine that taught you to say what's false, but those niggardly fellows who are struggling against their appetites. You are a sly one, and the same artful coaxer that you used to be.

ASTAPHIUM

How ardently longed for have you returned from abroad! But, prithee, do come, my mistress wants to see you.

DINARCHUS

How so, pray?

ASTAPHIUM

You alone of all mankind does she love.

DINARCHUS

aside . Well done, lands and tenements; you have come to my aid in good time. To ASTAPHIUM. But how say you, Astaphium —— ?

ASTAPHIUM

What do you want?

DINARCHUS

Is Phronesium in-doors just now?

ASTAPHIUM

To you at all events she's in-doors.

DINARCHUS

Is she well?

ASTAPHIUM

Aye, faith, and I do believe she'll be still better when she sees you.

DINARCHUS

This is our greatest fault: when we're in love, then we are undone; if that which we wish is told us, when manifestly they are telling lies, in our folly we believe it to be true; verily as though with a tide we fluctuate.

ASTAPHIUM

Heyday now — such is not the fact.

DINARCHUS

Do you say that she loves me?

ASTAPHIUM

Aye, you only, alone.

DINARCHUS

I heard that she was brought to bed.

ASTAPHIUM

Oh, prithee, Dinarchus, do hold your tongue.

DIN,
Why so?

ASTAPHIUM

I shudder in my alarm, as often as mention is made of childbirth, with such difficulty has Phronesium survived for you. Prithee, do come in-doors now; do go to see her and wait there a little. She'll be out just now; for she was at the bath.

DINARCHUS

What do you say? She who was never pregnant, how could she be brought to bed? For really, I never, that I am aware of, perceived her to be in a breeding state.

ASTAPHIUM

She concealed it from you and was afraid, lest you should persuade her to have recourse to abortion, and so destroy the child.

DINARCHUS

Troth then, who's the father of this child?

ASTAPHIUM

A Babylonian Captain, whose arrival she is now expecting. So much so, indeed, that, according as was reported, they say that he'll be here just now. I wonder he has not arrived by this.

DINARCHUS

Shall I go in, then?

ASTAPHIUM

Why not? As boldly as at home, into your own house; for even still are you now one of us, Dinarchus.

DINARCHUS

How soon are you on your return?

ASTAPHIUM

I'll be there this instant; it's close at hand where I was going.

DINARCHUS

But do return directly; meanwhile I'll wait for you at your house. He goes into the house of PHRONESIUM.

ACT II.

ASTAPHIUM, alone.

ASTAPHIUM

laughing . Ha, ha, ha! I'm at rest, since my plague has gone in-doors; now, indeed, I shall speak according to my own inclination, freely, as I please. My mistress has sung a funeral dirge at our house for this fellow, her lover, over his estate; for his lands and tenements are mortgaged for his treats in his amour. But with him does my mistress speak freely upon the objects of her plans, and so he is rather a friend by way of counsel to her than by way of maintenance. While he had it, he gave; now he has got nothing; what he did have, we have got; what we had, he has now got the same. The common course of things has happened. For. tunes are wont to change upon the instant. Life is chequered. We remember him as rich, and he us as poor; our reminiscences have shifted places. He must be a fool to wonder at it. If he is in want, it's necessary that he should allow us to make a living; that's proper to be done. 'Twere a disgrace for us to have compassion on men that squander away their fortunes. A clever Procuress ought to have good teeth; to smile upon whoever comes, to address him in flattering terms; to design mischief in her heart, but to speak fairly with her tongue. A Courtesan it befits to be like a briar; whatever man she touches, for either mischief or loss certainly to be the result. A Courtesan ought never to listen to the plea of a lover, but, when he has nothing to give, do you pack him off home from service as a deserter; and never is any gallant good for anything unless he's one who is the enemy of his own fortune. It's trifling, if, when he has just given, he doesn't take a pleasure in giving afresh. That person's esteemed with us who forgets that that has been given which he has given. As long as he has anything, so long let him go on loving; when he has got nothing, then let him look out another employment; if he himself has got nothing, let him, with a contented mind, make way for others who have. He's a proper lover who, neglecting his affairs, squanders away his property. But among themselves the men declare that we act ill, and are greedy. Prithee, do we in fact at all act ill? For, by my troth, never did any lover whatever give enough to his mistress; nor, i' faith, have we ever received enough, nor has any woman ever asked for enough. For when a gallant is barren with his gifts * * * * * If he denies that he has anything to give, alone * * * * * Nor do we receive enough, when a person has not enough to give us. It is ever our duty to look after fresh givers, who take from untouched treasures, and make presents to us. Just like this young man from the country, who dwells here pointing to the house where STRABAX lives, i' faith, a very pleasant creature, and a very bounteous giver. But he, without the knowledge of his father, even this very last night, leapt over the wall by way of the garden, and came to our house. I wish to meet with him. But one servant has he, a very great savage, who, when he sees any one of us near the door, if you approach that way, drives us off just as he scares the geese away with his noise from the corn; he's such a bumpkin. But come what may, I'll knock at the door. Knocks at the door, and calls. Who, I wonder, has the keeping of this door? Is anybody coming out from in-doors?

Enter STRATILAX, from the house of the FATHER of STRABAX.

STRATOPHANES

Who's this, that's so sturdily plying his batteringram against our door?

ASTAPHIUM

It's I. Look round at me.

STRATOPHANES

Who's I?

ASTAPHIUM

Am I not seen by you?

STRATOPHANES

turning to her. Woe worth thee! What mean you by this coming so near this door, or why's this knocking?

ASTAPHIUM

Health to you.

STRATOPHANES

Enow of thy health have I; I care nought for't, I've got no health; I'd rather be sick, than be a bit the sounder with health from thee. This I want to know, what's owing thee here in our house?

ASTAPHIUM

Do keep close ——

STRATOPHANES

Yea, faith, to my own good woman I trust; let him keep close to thee whose habit 'tis. A rare fine joke! a silly hussy to be tempting a countryman to naughty tricks.

ASTAPHIUM

Keep close your anger, I meant.

STRATOPHANES

As thee'st begun with me, so I'd e'en lay a wager there's not another like thee.

ASTAPHIUM

half to herself. Really this fellow's very churlish.

STRATOPHANES

Woman, dost thee go on abusing me?

ASTAPHIUM

Why, what did I say to you?

STRATOPHANES

Why, because thee dost call me churlish. Therefore now, if thee doesn't be off this instant, and tell me quickly what thee want'st, adzookers, woman, I'll be, here this very instant, trampling thee beneath my feet like a sow her piglings.

ASTAPHIUM

This is indeed right country, and no mistake; 'tis an abominable and truly a monkey race.

STRATOPHANES

holding up his fist . Dost thee throw the country in my teeth, when thee hast found a man who's ashamed of what's foul? Hast thee come hither to tempt me with thy decked out bones? Was it for that, shameless slut, thee dyed thy mantle of its smoke-dried colour, or art thee so fine because that thee's been a stealing? Come thee towards me then.

ASTAPHIUM

Now you charm me.

STRATOPHANES

How much I wish I could charm thee.

ASTAPHIUM

You tell a lie.

STRATOPHANES

Tell me ——

ASTAPHIUM

What?

STRATOPHANES

What I ask thee. Dost thee wish to be taken for a bondswoman, who dost carry on thee those rings? Pointing to her fingers.

ASTAPHIUM

They give them to those who are worthy.

STRATOPHANES

These are the spoils of Laverna which thee dost possess. Lays hold of her.

ASTAPHIUM

Don't be touching me. Moving away.

STRATOPHANES

I, touch thee? So help me my weeding-hoe, I'd rather i' the country for me to be harnessed like an ox with crumpled horns, and with it spend the livelong night upon the straw, than that a hundred nights with thee, with a dinner apiece, were given me for nothing! But what business, woman, hast thee at our house? Why dost thee come running this way as often as we come to town?

ASTAPHIUM

I want to meet with your women.

STRATOPHANES

What women art thee talking to me about, when there's not even a single woman-fly within the house?

ASTAPHIUM

What, does no woman live here?

STRATOPHANES

They've gone into the country, I say. Be off.

ASTAPHIUM

Why are you bawling out, you lunatic?

STRATOPHANES

If thee doesn't make haste to get away from this with prodigious speed, I'll forthwith be separating even from thy brains those falsified, daintily arranged, corkscrew curls of thine, with all their grease as well.

ASTAPHIUM

For what reason, pray?

STRATOPHANES

Why, because thee hast even presumed to approach our door anointed up with thine unguents, and because thee hast those cheeks so nicely, painted pink.

ASTAPHIUM

I' troth, it was by reason of your clamour that I coloured in my alarm.

STRATOPHANES

And is it so? Thee coloured? As though, hussy, thee really hadst left to thy skin the power of receiving any colour. Redden up thy cheeks, thee hast given all thy skin its colour with chalk. Ye are scoundrelly jades. What's the reason, abominable hussies, that this way * * * * ? I know more than thee think'st I know.

ASTAPHIUM

Prithee, what's this that you know?

STRATOPHANES

How Strabax, my master's son, is ruining himself at your house; how you are all enticing him to fraud and present-making.

ASTAPHIUM

If you appeared in your senses, I'd tell you. You're uttering abuse only; not a person is in the habit of being ruined here at our house; they waste their property; when they've wasted their property, they may go bare thence, if they choose. I don't know this young man of yours.

STRATOPHANES

Indeed so.

ASTAPHIUM

In sober truth.

STRATOPHANES

Aye, but that garden wall that's in our garden says so, which is becoming every night less by a brick, over which he travels to your house on the road to destruction.

ASTAPHIUM

The wall's an old one; it isn't wonderful if the bricks, being old, do tumble down.

STRATOPHANES

And says thee, hussy, that old bricks do tumble down? By my fakes, may never any mortal man henceforth trust me upon the two grand points, if I don't inform of these goings on of yours to my elder master.

ASTAPHIUM

Is he a savage as well?

STRATOPHANES

Why, he didn't get his money by enriching harlots, but by thriftiness, and living hard; which now, however, is being carried off to you, abominable jades. Takes her by the shoulders and shakes her.

There's for thee, six-clawed hussy; a wretched life to both of ye. Am I to keep mum about these matters? But, lookye now, I'll be off to the Forum at once and tell these goings on to the old gentleman, that he mayn't somehow be cherishing within this matting a whole swarm of misfortunes. (Exit.)

ASTAPHIUM

to herself. Upon my faith, if this fellow were living on mustard, I don't think he could possibly be as snappish. But, i' troth, how much a well-wisher to his master he is. Still, although he is a savage, I trust that he can be changed by coaxing, allurements, and other arts of the courtesan. I've seen a horse from unruly become tamed, and other brutes as well. Now I'll go back to see my mistress. But see, my plague's coming out. The door of PHRONESIUM'S house is opened. He's coming out with a sad air; he hasn't even yet had a meeting with Phronesium.

Enter DINARCHUS, from PHRONESIUM'S house.

DINARCHUS

I do believe that the fishes, that are always bathing as long as they live, do not take so long in bathing as this Phronesium does in bathing. If women could be loved on as long as they take in bathing, all lovers would be becoming bath-keepers.

ASTAPHIUM

Can't you endure waiting for a short time even?

DINARCHUS

Why, 'pon my faith, I'm wretchedly tired with waiting already.

ASTAPHIUM

I, as well, shall be obliged to go bathe from weariness

DINARCHUS

But, i' faith, Astaphium, prithee do go in-doors and tell her that I'm here. Do go at once, and persuade her that she has bathed long enough by this.

ASTAPHIUM

Very well. Going. DIN. And do you hear as well?

ASTAPHIUM

What do you want? Comes back. DIN. May the Gods confound me for calling you back. I had nothing to say to you, only do be off.

ASTAPHIUM

Why did you call me back then, you worthless and good-for-nothing fellow? A delay to me which has produced fully a mile's delay to you. Goes into the house of PHRONESIUM.

DINARCHUS

to himself. But yet why was she standing here so long before the house? Some one, I don't know who, she certainly was waiting for; the Captain, I suppose. That's it; see now, how, just like vultures, a whole three days beforehand they foresee on what day they are to have a feast. They're all agape for him; on him are all their minds fixed. No one will be giving any more attention to myself, when he comes, than if I had been dead two hundred years ago. How delightful a thing it is to keep one's money! Ah wretched me! after it's done I'm punished, who lost what I once had. But now, if any great and splendid fortune should chance to fall to my lot, now, after I know it, what sweets and what bitters come of money, by my troth, I'd so keep it, I'd live in a manner so sparing, that —— in a few days I'd make there to be none at all. I'd then confute those who now censure me. But I perceive that this tide-like door is opening the door of PHRONESIUM'S house is opened , which sucks up whatever comes within its bolts.

Enter PHRONESIUM, from her house.

PHRONESIUM

Please now, is my door apt to bite, that you are afraid to come in, my love?

DINARCHUS

aside. Behold the spring! How all blooming it is! how fragrantly does it smell! how brightly does it shine.

PHRONESIUM

Why so ill-mannered, as not, on your arrival from Lemnos, to give a kiss to your mistress, my Dinarchus?

DINARCHUS

aside . O dear, by my troth, I'm being punished now, and most terribly ——

PHRONESIUM

Why do you turn yourself away?

DINARCHUS

My greetings to you, Phronesium.

PHRONESIUM

Greetings to you as well. Will you dine here to-day, as you've arrived in safety?

DINARCHUS

I'm engaged.

PHRONESIUM

Where will you dine then?

DINARCHUS

Wherever you request me; here.

PHRONESIUM

You'll give me pleasure by doing so. They take their places at a collation spread before the house.

DINARCHUS

I' troth, myself still more. You'll give me your company to-day, I suppose, my Phronesium?

PHRONESIUM

If it could possibly be done, I would.

DINARCHUS

Give me my shoes then — make haste, remove the table.

PHRONESIUM

Are you in your senses, pray?

DINARCHUS

By heavens, I cannot drink now; so sick at heart am I.

PHRONESIUM

Stay; something shall be done. Don't go.

DINARCHUS

Ah, you've refreshed me with cold water! My senses have now returned. Take off my shoes; give me something to drink.

PHRONESIUM

By my faith, you are just the same that you used to be. But tell me, have you sped successfully?

DINARCHUS

I' troth, successfully enough, indeed, hither to you, inasmuch as I enjoy the opportunity of seeing you.

PHRONESIUM

Embrace me then.

DINARCHUS

With pleasure. He embraces her.) Oil, this is honey sweeter than sweet honey In this, Jove, my fortune does exceed thine own!

PHRONESIUM

Won't you give me a kiss?

DINARCHUS

Aye, ten even. Kisses her.

PHRONESIUM

You are not niggardly in that. You promise more than I ask of you. Turns away her head.

DINARCHUS

I only wish that from the first I had been as sparing of my property, as you are now thrifty of your kisses.

PHRONESIUM

If I could possibly cause you any saving, i' troth, I could wish it done.

DINARCHUS

Have you bathed then?

PHRONESIUM

I' troth, indeed I have then, to my own satisfaction and that of my eyes. Do I seem to be loathsome to you?

DINARCHUS

I' faith, not to myself indeed; but I remember that there was once a time when between ourselves we were loathsome, the one to the other. But what doing of yours is this I've heard upon my arrival? What new matter have you been scheming here in my absence?

PHRONESIUM

Why, what is it?

DINARCHUS

In the first place, that you've been blessed with children, and that you've safely got over it, I'm delighted.

PHRONESIUM

to some ATTENDANTS near the door . Go you away from there into the house, and shut the door. They go in, and shut the door. You now alone are left to be present at my communication; to you I've ever entrusted my designs. For my own part, I've neither had any child nor have I been pregnant; but I've pretended that I was pregnant; I wasn't though.

DINARCHUS

For what reason, O my life?

PHRONESIUM

On account of a Babylonian Captain, who kept me as though his wife for a year, while he was here.

DINARCHUS

That I knew. But what means this? For what purpose was your design in pretending this?

PHRONESIUM

That there might be a certain bond and tie for him to be returning to me again. Now he has lately sent me a letter hither, that he'll make trial how much I value him. If I should raise and bring up the child which I should bear, that then I should have all his property.

DINARCHUS

I listen with pleasure. In fine, what is it you are contriving?

PHRONESIUM

My mother ordered the servant-maids, since now the tenth month is arriving close at hand, each to go in some different direction, to seek out and bespeak a boy or a girl, to be passed off as my own. Why need I make many words? You know Syra, the female hair-dresser, who now lives hard by our house?

DINARCHUS

I know her.

PHRONESIUM

She, with the utmost care, went about among the families, and secretly found out a child, and brought it to me. She said it was given to her.

DINARCHUS

O shocking traffic! She then hasn't borne this child who at first did bear it, but you who come afterwards.

PHRONESIUM

You have the whole matter in its order. Now, as the Captain has sent a message before to me, he'll be here no long time hence.

DINARCHUS

Now, in the mean time, you are treating yourself here as though one who had just lain in?

PHRONESIUM

Why not, when, without trouble, the matter can be nicely managed? It's proper that every one should be alive at his own trade.

DINARCHUS

What's to become of me when the Captain comes? Forsaken, can I live without you?

PHRONESIUM

When I've got from him that which I want, I shall easily find a way how to create discord and a separation between us; after that, my delight, I shall be always at your side.

DINARCHUS

Aye, faith, but I'd rather it were at my couch.

PHRONESIUM

Moreover, I wish to sacrifice to-day to the Deities for the child, on this the fifth day, as is proper to be done.

DINARCHUS

I think you ought.

PHRONESIUM

Can't you venture to give me some trifling present?

DINARCHUS

Upon my faith, my delight, I seem to be making a gain for myself when you ask anything of me.

PHRONESIUM

aside . And I, when I've got it.

DINARCHUS

I'll take care it shall be here just now. I'll send my servant hither.

PHRONESIUM

Do so.

DINARCHUS

But whatever it shall be, do take it in good part.

PHRONESIUM

I troth, I'm sure that you'll give all attention to your present, of which I shan't be ashamed so long as you send it to me.

DINARCHUS

Do you wish anything else of me?

PHRONESIUM

That, when you have leisure, you'll come again to see me.

DINARCHUS

Fare you well.

PHRONESIUM

Farewell. Goes into her house.

DINARCHUS

to himself . O immortal Gods! 'twere the part not of a woman in love, but of a partner of kindred feelings and confiding, to do what she just now has done for me, in disclosing to me the palming of the child upon the Captain, — a thing that a sister entrusts not to her own born sister. She discloses herself now to me from her very soul, that she will never prove faithless to me so long as she exists. Ought I not to love her? Ought I not to wish her well? I'll rather not love myself, than that love should be wanting for her. Shall I not send her a present? This instant, then, I'll order five minæ to be brought to her from my house, besides catering to the amount of a mina at least. Much rather shall kindness be shown to her who wishes kindly to me, than to myself, who do every mischief to myself. (Exit.)

Enter PHRONESIUM, from her house.

PHRONESIUM

speaking at the door to the SERVANTS within . Give the breast to that child. To herself, coming forward. How wretchedly and anxiously are mothers distressed in mind. I' faith, 'twas craftily contrived; and when I revolve this matter in my mind, we are accounted to be much less artful than we naturally are in disposition. I'm now speaking of what, but lately, for the first time, I've been taught at home; how great is my anxiety of mind, what pangs I do feel in my heart, lest through the death of the child the plot should fail. Because I'm styled its mother, for that reason am I the more anxious for its life, who have ventured thus secretly to attempt a stratagem so great. In my avarice, for the sake of gain, have I entered on this disgraceful scheme; the pangs of others have I falsely shammed for myself. You must attempt nothing by craftiness, unless you would carry it out with cunning and with care. To the AUDIENCE. You yourselves now see in what garb I go; I'm now pretending that I'm an invalid from having lain in. A thing that a woman attempts to do in fraud, unless she is perfect in carrying it out, that same is as bad as disease to her, that same is as bad as old age to her, that to her, wretched creature, is wretchedness: if she begins to do what's right, soon does weariness of it overtake her. How very few are tired who have commenced to do what's wrong; how very few carry it out, if they have commenced to do anything aright. To a female it is a much less burden to do bad than good. In that I'm an artful one, through the agency of my mother and my own artful disposition am I artful, who have thus feigned to the Babylonian Captain that I am pregnant. I wish now the Captain may find this artful plot concocted well. He'll be here no long time hence, I suppose; forewarned of that I'm now forearmed, and I'm wearing this garb, as though I had just lain in in pregnancy. Calls to the SERVANTS within. Bring me hither some myrrh and fire for the altar, that I may pay adoration to my Lucina. They bring it. Place it here pointing to an altar near the door, and go out of my sight. Ho there! Pithecium, help me to lay me down. Come hither; thus is it proper to help one who has just lain in. A couch is brought in by ASTAPHIUM and two HANDMAIDS, and she lays herself down. Take off my sandals; throw a coverlet here over me, Archylis. Astaphium, where are you? Bring me hither, holy herbs, frankincense, and sweetmeats. Bring water for my hands. The SERVANTS go and fetch the things as ordered. Now, i' faith, I could wish that the Captain should come. The SERVANTS stand aside.

Enter STRATOPHANES, at a distance, followed by a SERVANT and several FEMALE SLAVES.

STRATOPHANES

to the AUDIENCE. Don't you be expecting, Spectators, that I should recount my combats; with my hands in battle I'm wont to recount them, and not in words. I know that many a soldier have told lies; both the Homeric poetlings, and a thousand others besides them could be named, who have been both convicted and condemned for their sham battles. He's not to be commended who trusts another any further than he sees. It pleases me not when those commend more who hear than those who see; of more value is one eye-witness than ten hearsays. Those who hear, speak of what they've heard; those who see, know beyond mistake. I like him not whom the town-gossips are praising, and the men of his maniple are mum about; nor yet those whose tongues at home make blunt the edge of our swords. The valiant are much more serviceable to the public than the eloquent and skilled. Valour easily finds for itself a fluent eloquence; without valour, for my own part, I esteem an eloquent citizen as a hired mourner, who praises other people, but can't do the same for herself. Now, after ten months, am I come to Athens of Attica to see my mistress, how she gets on, whom I left pregnant by my embrace.

PHRONESIUM

raising herself on the couch, and speaking to ASTAPHIUM . See who's talking.

ASTAPHIUM

coming forward, and looking about . The Captain's now close at hand, my mistress Phronesium: Stratophanes is coming to you. In a low voice. Now is it requisite for you to pretend yourself an invalid.

PHRONESIUM

in a low voice . Hold your tongue. What, the plague, do I want you for as an adviser in this matter? Is it possible to excel myself in craftiness?

STRATOPHANES

to himself . Madam's brought to bed, as I fancy.

ASTAPHIUM

it a low voice . Would you like me to accost the gentleman?

PHRONESIUM

I wish you. ASTAPHIUM moves forward.

STRATOPHANES

O delightful! Why, see, here's Astaphium coming to meet me.

ASTAPHIUM

affecting surprise. By all the powers! welcome to you, Stratophanes, that you're safe arrived ——

STRATOPHANES

I know it all. But, prithee, has Phronesium been brought to bed?

ASTAPHIUM

She has been delivered of a very fine boy.

STRATOPHANES

Is it like me at all?

ASTAPHIUM

Do you ask the question? Why, the moment it was born, it asked for a sabre and shield for itself.

STRATOPHANES

It's my own; I know it at once from the proofs.

ASTAPHIUM

Indeed it is extremely like you.

STRATOPHANES

Ye Gods above! Is it of full growth already? Has it already chosen some army which it intends to plunder?

ASTAPHIUM

Why really, it was only born five days ago.

STRATOPHANES

What then, after it was born? After so many days, i' faith, something really ought by this time to have been done. What business had it to leave the womb before it could go forth to battle?

ASTAPHIUM

Follow me, and wish her joy, and congratulate her.

STRATOPHANES

I follow. They move to the other side of the stage.

PHRONESIUM

in a faint voice . Prithee, where is she who has left me here and forsaken me? AST. I'm here; I'm bringing you Stratophanes, so much longed for by you.

PHRONESIUM

Prithee, where is he?

STRATOPHANES

going close to the couch . Mars, on his arrival from abroad, salutes Neriene his spouse. Since you've well got over it, and since you've been blest with offspring, I congratulate you in that you have given birth to a great glory to me and to yourself.

PHRONESIUM

Welcome to you, you who have almost deprived me of life and light; and who have, for your own gratification, centred in my body the cause of great anguish, with the pangs of which I'm even now dreadfully afflicted.

STRATOPHANES

Well, well; not to your misfortune, my love, do these pains befall you. You've brought forth a son who'll be filling your house with plunder.

PHRONESIUM

By the powers, there's very much greater need to have our granaries well filled with wheat; lest, before he takes the plunder, hunger should be putting an end to us here.

STRATOPHANES

Be of good heart.

PHRONESIUM

Do, please, take a kiss from me here. I cannot lift up my head; such pain I've felt, and in such pain I now am; and I cannot as yet, of my own strength, walk upon my feet.

STRATOPHANES

stooping down, and kissing her . If, right from the middle of the sea, you were to order me to take a kiss from you, I would not hesitate to fetch it, my sweet. You've experienced it already so to be; and now shall you experience it, my Phronesium, that I do dote upon you.

Pointing to a distance behind him. See there, I've brought you two female slaves from Syria; I present you with them. To a SERVANT behind him. Do you bring those women this way. Now, these were both of them queens at their own homes; but with my own hand I laid waste their country, I present you with them. Handing them forward to her.

PHRONESIUM

Are you dissatisfied with the number of female slaves I have already, that you must be still making additions to the number, to be devouring food for me?

STRATOPHANES

I' troth, if this indeed isn't acceptable to you, you boy beckoning to the SERVANT , do you give me that bag. See here, my love, I've brought this mantle from Panchæa for you. Take it for yourself. He presents it to her.

PHRONESIUM

What, is so little as this to be given me in return for pain so great?

STRATOPHANES

aside . I' faith, to my misfortune, I'm undone! My son's already costing me his weight in gold. To PHRONESIUM. Do you still set such little value on me? I've brought you a purple garment from Sarra, and two pretty ones from Pontus. Takes the garments from the SERVANT, and presents them. Take this for yourself, my love. To the SERVANT. Take those Syrian women hence out of my sight. The SERVANT takes them into the house. Do you love me at all?

PHRONESIUM

Not at all, i' faith; nor do you deserve it.

STRATOPHANES

aside . What, is nothing enough for her? Really, to myself she hasn't even said one word. I do believe that these presents would sell for more than twenty minæ, which I have given her. Now she's desperately enraged with me I perceive and understand it; but I'll address her still. To PHRONESIUM. What say you then? Do you wish me, my love, to go to dinner where I was invited, and after that to return hither to your house to sleep? Why are you silent? Aside. I'troth, beyond a doubt, I'm undone. But what fine affair is this? Who's this fellow that's leading such a long train? I'm resolved to watch whither they are taking it. It's being brought to her, I do believe; but I'll soon know more. He stands at a distance.

Enter GETA, at a distance, followed by SLAVES with presents from DINARCHUS.

GETA

Get on, get on this way together with you, mules laden with money only to be squandered, you emptyers out of the house, you carriers off of property by waggon-loads! To the AUDIENCE. And can't he who is in love do without being good for nought, and cleaning himself out by his disgraceful practices? But how I know this, don't any one be asking that of me; we've a lover at home, who's engaged in disgraceful pursuits; who esteems property just as dung: he's in dread of the public officers; most cleanly in his ways is he. He wishes his house to be cleaned out; whatever he has at home, it's swept completely "dehors." Since he himself is sending his own self to ruin, for my part, i' faith, I'll help him by stealth, and not through my assistance, indeed, shall he be ruined e'en a bit the less speedily than he may. For now from these provisions, from the one mina I've just now abstracted five didrachms; I've deducted for myself the Herculean share. But this is just like as though a person should turn off a stream for himself from a river; if it is not turned off into a channel, still all that water would go into the sea. For this is going into the sea, and is being utterly wasted to no good purpose whatever. When I see these things going on, I pilfer, I purloin, from plunder I plunder take. I take a harlot to be just like what the sea is; what you give her she swallows down, and yet never overflows. But this at least the sea does preserve; what's in it is seen. Give her as much as ever you please, it's never seen either by the giver or the acceptor. For instance, this harlot by her blandishments has reduced my poor master to poverty; has robbed him of fortune, life, honor, and friends. Catching sight of her. Heyday! why look, she's close by. I do think she has heard me saying all this. She's pale, as she has been delivered of a child. I'll address her, as though I didn't know her. Addressing PHRONESIUM. I present you my respects.

PHRONESIUM

Our Geta, what is it you're about? How are you?

GETA

I'm well, and I'm come to one who's not so well, and I'm bringing something with which she may get well. My master, the apple of your eye, bade me bring these presents to you, which you see those persons carrying, and these five minæ of silver.

PHRONESIUM

I' faith, it's not thrown away, that I'm so very fond of him.

GETA

He bade me beg that you would accept these in kind part.

PHRONESIUM

I' troth, I do accept them kindly and thankfully. To CYAMUS, who comes out of the house. Go, Cyamus, and order them to be taken in-doors. Do you hear at all this which has been ordered? The SERVANTS take up the things.

GETA

I don't want them to take away the vessels; I'd like to have them emptied.

PHRONESIUM

An impudent fellow, i' faith, how busy he is.

GETA

What? do you say that I'm impudent, you who yourself are a receptacle of villany?

PHRONESIUM

Tell me, I beg of you, where is Dinarchus?

GETA

At home.

PHRONESIUM

Tell him, that, for these presents which he has sent me, I love him the most of all men, and that in return I hold him in the highest esteem of all, and entreat that he will come hither to me.

GETA

This instant. But who's that person, pray (looking towards STRATOPHANES), that's devouring himself, scowling with malignant eyes I' faith, the man's distressed in his mind, whoever he is.

PHRONESIUM

I' troth, he's deserving of it.

GETA

What's the matter?

PHRONESIUM

Prithee, don't you know? He that's yonder used to live with me; he, there, is the father of my child. He ordered it to be brought up till about a before-daylight breakfast. I waited his coming, I listened to his injunctions; I attended to the child.

GETA

The good-for-nothing fellow that I knew so well, prithee, is that he?

PHRONESIUM

That's he.

GETA

He looks at me as he groans. He heaved a sigh from the very bottom of his breast. Observe that now; he gnashes his teeth; he strikes his thigh. Prithee, is he deranged, that he's beating his own self?

STRATOPHANES

coming forward . Now will I at once summon up my ungovernable indignation and my wrath from my breast! To GETA. Say, whence are you? To whom do you belong? Why have you dared to speak rudely against me?

GETA

It's my pleasure.

STRATOPHANES

Do you answer me in that way?

GETA

In this way snaps his fingers ; I don't care one straw for you.

STRATOPHANES

to PHRONESIUM. What say you? Why have you dared to say that you love another man?

PHRONESIUM

I chose to.

STRATOPHANES

Say you so, indeed? I'll first make trial of that. Do you, for the sake of such a shabby present, vegetables, and comestibles, and vinegar-water, bestow your love upon an effeminate, frizzle-pated, dark-haunt frequenting, drum-drubbing debauchee, a fellow not worth a nutshell?

GETA

What new thing's this? Do you dare, you rogue, to speak ill of my master, you spring-head of vice and perjury?

STRATOPHANES

Add a single word to that; by the powers, I'll that instant here with this cut you up into mincemeat upon the spot. Shaking his sword at him.

GETA

Only touch me; I'll that instant be making a lamb of you on the spot, and I'll slice you asunder in the middle. If you have the renown of a warrior with your troops, still I'm a Mars in the kitchen.

PHRONESIUM

to STRATOPHANES. If you did the thing that's right, you'd not be abusing my visitors, whose gifts I hold as acceptable and pleasing, and your own which I have received of you as unacceptable.

STRATOPHANES

Then, i' faith, I'm both deprived of my presents and undone as well!

GETA

Clearly it is so.

PHRONESIUM

Why then are you now here, with your annoyance, who confess that you are worsted in every point?

STRATOPHANES

aside . I' faith, I'm this day undone, if I don't drive this fellow away from you. He approaches GETA.

GETA

holding up his fist . Only approach this way; only step this way!

STRATOPHANES

Scoundrelly fellow, threatening even? Whom this very, very, very instant I'll be chopping up into splinters. What business have you coming here? What business have you to approach her? Pointing to PHRONESIUM. What business have you, I say, to be knowing my mistress? You shall die this instant if you make the slightest movement with your hand.

GETA

Why shouldn't I move my hand?

STRATOPHANES

Do as I commanded; stop; I'll this instant cut you up into mincemeat on the spot.

GETA

aside . I'm done for. STRAT. 'Twere best to be off.

GETA

It's a ticklish point; you have a longer sword there than this is pointing to a knife in his girdle ; but just let me go seek a spit, if indeed I must be having a battle with you. I'll be off home. Warrior, for me and you I'll choose an impartial judge. Aside. But why am I delaying to betake myself off hence, while with a safe inside I may? (Exit.)

PHRONESIUM and STRATOPHANES.

PHRONESIUM

to her SERVANTS . Give me my sandals, and take me at once indoors; for my head aches shockingly from the air.

STRATOPHANES

What's to become of me, to whom the two female slaves cause ache enough, with which I presented you? PHRONESIUM is led into the house. Are you off then? Well thus one's used in return. How can you possibly shut me out, The door is slammed to. Prithee, can anything be more clear than that I'm now shut out? I'm finely fooled. Be it so. With how little difficulty placing his foot against the door might I now be persuaded to break the ankles of this entire mansion! Do the manners of covetous women change at all? Since she has brought forth a son, she has plucked her spirit up. Now it's as though she said to me, "I neither ask you nor forbid you to come into the house." But I won't — I shan't go — I'll make her to be saying in a very few days that I'm a cruel man. To his ATTENDANTS. Follow me this way. A word's enough. (Exit.)

ACT III.

Enter STRABAX.

STRABAX

to himself. One morning a short time since my father ordered me to go hence, to deal out the mast for food for the oxen. After I got there a person arrived at the farmhouse (so it pleased the Gods), who was owing money to my father, who had formerly purchased some Tarentine sheep of my father; he asked for my father; I said he was in the city; I enquired what he wanted with him. The fellow takes a purse from off his neck, and gives me twenty minæ; with pleasure I receive them, and stow them in my purse; these bad sheep, the minæ, have I brought in my purse hither to the city. By my troth, Mars has proved very angry with my father; for his sheep are not very far away from the wolves. Now, with this one stroke shall I send adrift those finical town gallants, and be bundling them all out of doors. My father, in the first place, I'm quite resolved to ruin, root and branch; then next in turn, my mother. Now to-day I'll carry this money to her whom I love more than my own mother. Goes towards the door of PHRONESIUM, and knocks. Hillo there — is any one here? There's not a woman. Is any one going to open this door? opens the door.

ASTAPHIUM

Why so a stranger, pray, my dear Strabax? Why don't you come in at once? Ought you to have been doing so, you, indeed, who are so intimate?

STRABAX

I'll go in then, that you mayn't think I'm loitering. Goes into the house.

ASTAPHIUM

You act obligingly.

Enter STRATILAX.

STRATOPHANES

to himself . It seems marvellous to me, that Strabax, my master's son, hasn't returned from the country, unless perchance he has slily slipt in here into this den of corruption of his.

ASTAPHIUM

aside . Now, faith, he'll be roaring at me if he espies me.

STRATOPHANES

I'm much less savage now, Astaphium, than I was before; I'm not churlish now; don't thee fear. She runs to a distance. What wouldst thee be at? What?

ASTAPHIUM

What, say you? Why, I'm waiting for your churlishness.

STRATOPHANES

Say, command me what thee dost please, and in what way thee dost please. I've got all my manners anew: my old ones I've parted with. I can e'en fall in love, or take a mistress now.

ASTAPHIUM

Upon my faith, you do tell me fine news. But tell me, have you ——
?

STRATOPHANES

A mistress, perhaps, thee means.

ASTAPHIUM

You've understood nicely what I meant to say.

STRATOPHANES

Hark you, since I've been so many times backwards and forwards to the city, I've become quite a chatterer; I'm now a right good stalkers.

ASTAPHIUM

Prithee, what's that? That's nonsense; perhaps you intend to mean "talking."

STRATOPHANES

Just so; it differs mighty little from stalking.

ASTAPHIUM

Prithee, do follow me in-doors, my love.

STRATOPHANES

holding out some money to her . Take this for thyself; keep it as a ledger for thee, that thee mayst give me thy company this night.

ASTAPHIUM

taking the money . You are the death of me, with your “ledger.” What kind of beast am I to say that is? Thy don’t you say “pledge?”

STRATOPHANES

The “r” I make a saving of; just as the Prænestines have “conia,” for “ciconia.”

ASTAPHIUM

Prithee, do follow me.

STRATOPHANES

I’ll wait here a little for Strabax, till he comes from the farm.

ASTAPHIUM

Why, Strabax is at our house. He has just come from the farm.

STRATOPHANES

What, before he went to his own mother? Alas, the man’s worth nought, i’ faith.

ASTAPHIUM

What now, your old habit?

STRATOPHANES

Well, I’ll say nought.

ASTAPHIUM

Prithee, do come indoors. Give me your hand. Takes his hand.

STRATOPHANES

Well, take it. To the AUDIENCE. I'm being led off into a public-house, where I shall be but poorly entertained for my money. They go into the house of PHRONESIUM.

ACT IV.

Enter DINARCHUS.

DIN,

to himself. There's not a person born, nor will there be born, nor can there be found one, to whom I would now wish praises to be given, or on whom attentions bestowed, rather than on Venus. Ye great Gods, how joyous I am, and how I'm transported with joyousness! Such great tidings of joy has Cyamus brought to me this day; that my presents have been esteemed and deemed acceptable by Phronesium. While this now is a delight, then besides this in especial is rare honey-drink to me, that the Captain's presents are held as disagreeable and not acceptable. I'm all enraptured! The ball's my own; if the Captain's sent adrift, the woman will be mine. I'm saved, because I'm going to ruin; if I didn't go to ruin, it's clear I should die. Now I'll keep watch, what's going on there, who goes into the house, who comes out of doors; from here at a distance will I observe what is to be my lot. Because I've got nothing, my feelings remind me of one thing; I'll do everything by begging.

Enter ASTAPHIUM, from the house of PHRONESIUM.

ASTAPHIUM

speaking to her MISTRESS as she comes out. I'll cleverly do my duty, mistress; do you only take care that in-doors you do yours as well; love that which you ought, your own interest; clean that fellow thoroughly out. Now, while it pleases the fellow, while he has got something, adapt the opportunity to that purpose. Display all your charms to your lover that you may heighten his joys. I meantime will stay here behind and watch at this door so long as he is thus transporting his presents home to you; nor, in the meantime, will I admit any one from there to you who may cause you annoyance. Do you go on, just as you please. Are you not diddling these fellows?

DINARCHUS

How now, Astaphium, tell me, who is this fellow that's on the road to ruin?

ASTAPHIUM

Prithee, were you here?

DINARCHUS

What — am I troublesome?

ASTAPHIUM

More now than you were; for unless a person is of use to us, he is troublesome to us. But, prithee, do lend me your attention, that I may say what I want.

DINARCHUS

Why, what is it? Does it concern myself?

ASTAPHIUM

Not a rap. But what hauls he is making present of m-doors.

DINARCHUS

How? Some new lover?

ASTAPHIUM

A fresh one, and a brimming treasure she has hit upon.

DINARCHUS

Who is he?

ASTAPHIUM

I'll tell you, but you be mum. Don't you know this Strabax? Pointing to his FATHER'S house.

DINARCHUS

Why shouldn't I?

ASTAPHIUM

He alone rules the roast here at our house. He just now is a landed estate to us. With right good spirit is he wantonly wasting away his property.

DINARCHUS

He's on the road to ruin; i' faith, I, too, have come to ruin.

ASTAPHIUM

You are a simpleton, to expect with words to make undone what is done.

DINARCHUS

Even Thetis, too, in weeping, made lamentation for her son. Can I not now be admitted in-doors to your house?

ASTAPHIUM

Why so rather than the Captain?

DINARCHUS

Why, because I've given more.

ASTAPHIUM

But you were admitted more, when you were giving more; let those who give, in return for that which they give, enjoy our services. You've learnt your letters; since you know them yourself, let others learn them.

DINARCHUS

Let them learn, so long as it is allowed me to con my lesson, that I may not forget what I have paid for.

ASTAPHIUM

In the meantime, while you, who are a master, shall be conning your lesson, she, as well, is desirous to con hers.

DINARCHUS

How so?

ASTAPHIUM

In receiving money ever and anon.

DINARCHUS

For my own part, this very day I gave five minæ of silver to be carried to her, besides one for provisions.

ASTAPHIUM

I know that the same was brought; with it we are now enjoying ourselves upon your liberality.

DINARCHUS

For these enemies of mine here to be devouring my property! By heavens, I'd rather that I were dead than submit to that!

ASTAPHIUM

You are a simpleton.

DINARCHUS

How's that?

ASTAPHIUM

Wait.

DINARCHUS

Why so?

ASTAPHIUM

Because, I' troth, I'd rather that my enemies should envy me, than I my enemies; for to envy because it goes well with another, and goes badly with yourself, is wretchedness. Those who are envious, are in want; they who are envied, possess property.

DINARCHUS

May I not be a partaker of the provisions bought with the mina?

ASTAPHIUM

If you wanted to be a partaker, you should have taken half home. For here an account of the receipts is entered just as at Acheron; we take in-doors; when it's got by us, it can't be carried out of doors. Turning on her heel. Kindly farewell.

DINARCHUS

catching hold of her . Do stay.

ASTAPHIUM

struggling . Let me go! Leave off!

DINARCHUS

Do let me go in.

ASTAPHIUM

Yes, to your own house,

DINARCHUS

Aye, but here into your house.

ASTAPHIUM

You cannot go.

DINARCHUS

I can, very well. Do let me try.

ASTAPHIUM

No, wait here; it's sheer violence to try. I'd say that you are here, if she wasn't engaged. Runs to the door.

DINARCHUS

Ha! Do stop!

ASTAPHIUM

It's of no use,

DINARCHUS

Are you going to return or not?

ASTAPHIUM

I'd return, but a voice is calling me that has more influence with me than you have.

DINARCHUS

In one word I'll say it. You'll receive me?

ASTAPHIUM

You are telling a lie — be off. One word, you said; but now three words have you uttered, and those untrue. Goes into the house, and shuts the door.

DINARCHUS

to himself. She's off, and she's gone hence in- doors That I should endure these things to be done to me. By heavens, enticer, with my cries I'll be exposing you to ridicule in the street, you who, contrary to law, have received money from many a one. Upon my faith, I'll forthwith cause your name to be before every magistrate, and after that I'll sue you for fourfold, you sorceress, you kidnapper of children. By the powers, I'll now disclose all your disgraceful deeds. Worthless creature that I am, who have lost everything I had! I'm become desperate, and now I haven't the slightest bit of concern what shoes I wear. But why am I trying here? What, suppose she were to order me to be let in? I could swear in solemn form that I wouldn't do it if she wished. It's nonsense. If you thump a goad with your fists, your hands are hurt the most. It's no good to be angry at a thing of nothing; a creature that doesn't value you a straw. Starting. But what's this? O immortal Gods, I see old Callicles, him who was my connexion by marriage, bringing two female slaves in bonds, the one the hair-dresser of this Phronesium, the other his own servant-maid. I'm greatly alarmed! inasmuch as one care has so recently taken possession of my heart, I'm afraid lest all my former misdeeds should be discovered. Stands aside.

Enter CALLICLES, attended by SLAVES, with his MAID-SERVANT and SYRA, bound.

to his SERVANT. Do I use ill language to you, or do I wish you so very ill? According to my ideas, you have both pretty well experienced how mild and gentle a person I am. I interrogated you both, as you were lashed and hanging up by the arms; I well remember it; the way in which you quite confessed each point, I know. Here now, I wish in the same way to learn; do you confess without a punishment. Although you are both of you of the serpent nature, I tell you beforehand, you mustn't be having double tongues, lest with your two tongues I should be putting you to death; unless, perhaps, you wish to be taken to the men who go clink, clink.

A MAID-SERVANT of Callicles.

Violence forces me to confess the truth; the thongs do so gall my arms.

CALLICLES

But, if you confess the truth to me, you shall be relieved from the chains.

DINARCHUS

apart. Even now, what's the matter, I'm at a loss to know and uncertain; except that still I'm afraid.

SYRA

What I've done wrong I know not.

CALLICLES

First of all, then, you stand apart. They stand apart. Aye, so; that's what I mean; that you mayn't be making signs between you, I'll be a party-wall. To his MAID-SERVANT. Speak you.

A MAID-SERVANT of Callicles.

What am I to speak about?

CALLICLES

What was done with the child that my daughter was delivered of? My grandchild, I mean? Tell me the circumstances of the case.

A MAID-SERVANT of Callicles.

I gave it to her. Pointing to SYRA.

CALLICLES

to the MAID-SERVANT . Now hold your tongue. To SYRA. Did you receive the child from her?

SYRA

I did receive it.

CALLICLES

to SYRA . Hold your tongue; I want no more; you've confessed enough.

SYRA

I'm not going to deny it.

CALLICLES

By this you've now caused some relief for your shoulder-blades. So far, the account of each of them tallies.

DINARCHUS

apart . Ah wretched me! my doings are now being disclosed, which I hoped would be concealed.

CALLICLES

to the MAID-SERVANT . Speak, you. Who bade you give the child to her?

A MAID-SERVANT of Callicles.

My elder mistress.

CALLICLES

to SYRA. . What say you? Why did you receive it?

SYRA

My young mistress entreated me that the child might be brought, and that all this might remain secret.

CALLICLES

to SYRA . Speak, you. What did you do with this child?

SYRA

I took it to my mistress.

CALLICLES

What did your mistress do with this child?

SYRA

Gave it at once to my mistress.

CALLICLES

Plague on it, to what mistress?

A MAID-SERVANT of Callicles.

There are two of them.

CALLICLES

to the MAID . Take you care, unless I ask you anything, only to answer that which I ask of you.

SYRA

The mother, I say, made a present of it to the daughter.

CALLICLES

You are saying more than you did just now.

SYRA

You are asking more.

CALLICLES

Answer me quickly; what did she do, to whom it was given? Tell me.

SYRA

She passed it off as ——

CALLICLES

Whose?

SYRA

As her own son.

CALLICLES

As her own son? Ye Gods, by my trust in you I do appeal to you, how much more easily does another than she to whom it belongs, bring forth another's child! She, by the labours of another, has brought forth this child without pain. A child blest indeed! two mothers it has got, and grandams two. I'm now afraid how many fathers there may have been. Do see, please, the shocking deeds of women!

A MAID-SERVANT of Callicles.

I' troth, this fraud relates rather to the men than to the women. 'Twas a man, and not a woman, that caused her pregnancy.

CALLICLES

I know that too. You were a trusty guardian for it.

A MAID-SERVANT of Callicles.

He can do the most, who is strong the most. He was a man; he was the strongest; he prevailed; what he wanted, he carried off.

CALLICLES

And, i' faith, he too brought a heavy mishap, in fact, upon yourself.

A MAID-SERVANT of Callicles.

The thing itself experienced, I myself fully know that, even if you had held your tongue.

CALLICLES

Never, this day, have I been able to made you declare who he was.

A MAID-SERVANT of Callicles.

aside, on catching sight of DINARCHUS . I've held my tongue; but now I shan't hold my tongue, since he's here; it's necessary I should tell.

DINARCHUS

apart . I'm petrified; in my wretchedness, I dare not move myself; the matter's all out! The trial's now going on here for my life! These are my misdeeds, this is my folly. I'm in dread how soon I may be named.

CALLICLES

to the MAID-SERVANT . Speak out, who was it, debauched my maiden daughter?

A MAID-SERVANT of Callicles.

I see him near you.

CALLICLES

Hussy, who was it?

A MAID-SERVANT of Callicles.

A supporter of the wall.

DINARCHUS

apart . I'm neither alive nor dead, nor know I what I am now to do; neither know I how to go away hence, nor how to accost him; I'm numbed with fear.

CALLICLES

Will you tell me, or no?

A MAID-SERVANT of Callicles.

It is Dinarchus, to whom you first betrothed her.

CALLICLES

looking round . Where is this person whom you mention?

DINARCHUS

stepping forward . Here I am, Callicles. Falling on the ground. By your knees I do entreat you that you will bear with wisdom that which was done in folly; and that you will pardon me that, which, losing my senses, I did through the bad influence of wine.

CALLICLES

You please me not. You throw the blame on what is dumb, that which cannot speak. But the wine, if it could speak, would defend itself. It's not wine that's in the habit of ruling men, but men wine; those, indeed, who are virtuous men; but he who is bad, although he drinks water, or if indeed he abstains from intoxicating liquors, still, by nature he's bad.

DINARCHUS

Well, I'm sensible that many reproaches must be heard by me, which I would prefer not. I confess that I've offended you, and am privy to the crime.

A MAID-SERVANT of Callicles.

Callicles, prithee beware that you do injury to no person; the accused is pleading his cause at large, the witnesses you are keeping in bonds.

CALLICLES

to his SLAVES . Release those women. They are unbound. Come to each of them in turn , do you be off home, and you home as well. To SYRA. Tell your mistress this. she must give up the child, if any one asks for it. (SYRA goes into the house of PHRONESIUM, and exit the MAID-SERVANT.) You, Dinarchus, let's go before the judge.

DINARCHUS

Why do you wish me to go before the judge? You are the Prætor to me. But I entreat of you, Callicles, that you'll give me your daughter for a wife.

CALLICLES

I' faith, I find, indeed, that you've come to a decision on that point yourself; for you haven't waited till I gave her; you have helped yourself. Now keep her, as you've got her, but I'll fine you this grand haul; six great talents will I deduct from her dowry for this folly.

DINARCHUS

You act kindly towards me.

CALLICLES

'Twere best for you to demand your son back from thence. Pointing to the house of PHRONESIUM. But your wife, as soon as possible, take away from my house. I shall at once, therefore, send a messenger to that kinsman of mine by marriage, and tell him to look out for another match for his son. (Exit.) to himself. But I'll demand back the child of her, lest by-and-by she should deny it. That's of no use; for she herself, of her own accord, has discovered the whole matter to me, how it happened. But see, right opportunely, i' faith, is she coming out of doors from her house. Assuredly, a far-darting sting has that woman, who even from that distance is wounding my heart. Stands aside.

DINARCHUS

Enter PHRONESIUM and ASTAPHIUM, from the house of the former.

PHRONESIUM

to herself. A woman is a spoony and a trolloping slut, if she hasn't a view to her own interests, even in her cups. If her other limbs are soaked in wine, at least let her head be sober. But it's a vexation to me that my hair-dresser has been thus badly treated. She has been telling me that this child has been discovered to be the son of dinarchus. When I heard that * * * * She moves, as if going.

DINARCHUS

apart. She's going, in whose hands are all my fortune and my children.

PHRONESIUM

seeing DINARCHUS. I see him who has constituted me the guardian of his property.

DINARCHUS

coming forward. Madam, here am I.

PHRONESIUM

It certainly is he. What's the matter, my love?

DINARCHUS

No love; cease your trifling. I've nothing now to do with that subject.

PHRONESIUM

By my faith, I know what you want, and what you desire, and what you ask for. You want to see me; you desire to caress me; you ask for the child.

DINARCHUS

aside . Immortal Gods! how plain she speaks. How, in a few words, has she hit upon the very point!

PHRONESIUM

As for me, I know that you are betrothed, and that you have a son by your betrothed, and that a wife is now going to be married by you; that now your thoughts are elsewhere, that myself you are going to consider as forsaken. But still consider, the little mouse, how sagacious an animal it is, which never entrusts its life to one hole only; inasmuch as, if one hole is blocked up, it seeks another as a place of refuge.

DINARCHUS

When there's leisure, then I'll talk to you on those matters more at large; at present, give me up the child.

PHRONESIUM

No; do, there's a dear, let it be at my house the few next days.

DINARCHUS

Certainly not.

PHRONESIUM

Do, there's a dear.

DINARCHUS

What occasion is there?

PHRONESIUM

It's for my interest. This for the next three days at least, until the Captain is circumvented somehow; for that same purpose. If I get anything, it shall be for your own advantage as well. If you take the child away, all hope in the Captain will evaporate from my heart.

DINARCHUS

I would have that done; but, when it's taken home, to do it again, if I were to wish it, I have not the opportunity. Now make use of the child, and take care of it, because you have the means by which to take care of it.

PHRONESIUM

Upon my faith, I do love you much for this matter. When you shall be afraid of a scolding at home, do you take shelter here in my house. At least, prove a friend, to help me to a profitable speculation.

DINARCHUS

moving . Kindly farewell, Phronesium.

PHRONESIUM

Won't you any longer call me "apple of your eye?"

DINARCHUS

That name too, meanwhile, shall be repeated full oft.

PHRONESIUM

Do you wish for anything else?

DINARCHUS

Fare thee well; when I have leisure, I'll come to your house. (Exit.)

PHRONESIUM

Well, he's gone away from here, and has taken his departure; we may say here whatever we please. 'Tis a true proverb that's quoted, "Where the friends are, there are the riches." Through him, there's still some hope that the Captain may be duped to-day; whom, by the powers, I love better than my own self, — so long as I get out of him what I want: since, when we have got much, not much of it is seen that has been given. Such are the brilliant prospects of Courtesans!

ASTAPHIUM

Hush! hush! be quiet.

PHRONESIUM

Prithee, what is it?

ASTAPHIUM

The father of the child is coming.

PHRONESIUM

Well, let him come here. Let him, if it only is he, let him come himself straight up to me here just as he chooses. If he does come, for very sure, i' faith, I'll do him to-day with some cunning tricks.
They go into the house.

ACT V.

PHRONESIUM and ASTAPHIUM appear before the door of the house. Enter STRATOPHANES.

STRATOPHANES

to himself . That I should love for this! I'm taking an atonement for my offences to my mistress! That that may be taken by her in kindly part which I've squandered before, I'll add this as well. But what's this? I see the mistress and her maid before the house. I must accost her. Addressing them. What are you doing here?

PHRONESIUM

Don't speak to me.

STRATOPHANES

You are too angry. Pats her on the shoulder.

PHRONESIUM

Leave me alone. Can't you possibly cease to be an annoyance to me?

STRATOPHANES

What is the matter, my dear little Astaphium?

ASTAPHIUM

I' faith, she's angry with you with good reason.

PHRONESIUM

What, I? I'm not even half spiteful enough to. wards that fellow.

STRATOPHANES

My love, if I have at all offended before, I present you with this mina of gold. If you smile upon me, deign me a look.

PHRONESIUM

My hand forbids me to believe anything, before it holds in its possession. We require food for the child; we require it for the dame as well, that bathes the child; we require it for the nurse, as well, that she may have a leather bottle full of old wine in ample style, that night and day she may tipple; we stand in need of fire; we want coals, too; we want swathes, napkins, the cradle, the cradle-bed; oil we want; the child requires flour, for pap; all day we are wanting something; never, in the same one day, can our task be performed, but what there's always need of something; for the children of officers cannot be reared upon medlars.

STRATOPHANES

Look upon me then. Take this presenting the money , with which to satisfy these necessities.

PHRONESIUM

taking it . Give it me, although it's very little.

STRATOPHANES

Whatever you shall order, shall be given at your demand. Give me a kiss now. Tries to kiss her.

PHRONESIUM

Leave me alone, I say! You are a nuisance!

STRATOPHANES

aside . It's no use, I'm not loved by her; the day wears apace. More than ten pounds of silver have I lost in this short time by reason of my passion.

PHRONESIUM

giving the money to ASTAPHIUM . Take this, and carry it away in-doors. ASTAPHIUM carries it in. Enter STRABAX, from the house.

STRABAX

to himself . Where in the world is my mistress? I get on with no business, either in the country or here, at this rate; I'm spoiling with mouldiness, I'm grown so dreadfully numbed with lying waiting here upon the couch. But look, I perceive her. Hallo! sweetheart, what are you about?

STRATOPHANES

What fellow is that?

PHRONESIUM

One that, upon my honor, I love far more than yourself.

STRATOPHANES

Than myself? In what way?

PHRONESIUM

Why, this way, that you are not to be troublesome to me. Moves as if going.

STRATOPHANES

Are you going now, after you've got the gold?

PHRONESIUM

What you've given me, I've put away in-doors.

STRABAX

Come here, sweetheart; I've got something to say to you.

PHRONESIUM

Why, I was just coming to you.

STRABAX

To me, my charmer?

PHRONESIUM

In serious truth, i' faith.

STRABAX

Although I seem a simpleton to you, I like myself to have a bit of recreation. For pretty though you are, you are so to your own loss, unless I amuse myself a bit with you.

PHRONESIUM

Should you like me to embrace you and give you a kiss?

STRABAX

Do whatever you like, I'll deem it agreeable. She kisses him.

STRATOPHANES

What, shall I suffer her to be embracing other men before my eyes? I' faith, 'twere better that I were dead. Woman, take your hands off of him, unless, perhaps, by this sword of mine, won from the enemy, you wish yourself and him to die. Flourishing his sword.

PHRONESIUM

There's no use in "badinage," Captain. If you want yourself to be loved, with gold, Stratophanes, not with iron, may you prevent him from loving me.

STRATOPHANES

How, the plague, are you pretty or witty, to be fond of a fellow of that description?

PHRONESIUM

aside, to STRATOPHANES . Don't it come to your recollection what an actor once said upon the stage? " All people have an eye to their profit, and are not over delicate."

STRATOPHANES

That you could possibly caress this fellow, so dirty and foul!

PHRONESIUM

Although he is dirty, although he is foul, still, he's pretty to me.

STRATOPHANES

Didn't I give you some gold?

PHRONESIUM

To me? You gave money for the child's food.

STRABAX

Now, if you hope to have her, another mina of gold is requisite.

STRATOPHANES

A sore mishap upon these people, and a weighty one!

STRABAX

By all means, keep that by way of provision for your own journey.

STRATOPHANES

What does she owe you?

STRABAX

Three things.

STRATOPHANES

What, pray?

STRABAX

Perfumes, her favours, and kisses.

PHRONESIUM

apart . He answers him like for like. To STRATOPHANES. But now, at all events, if you do love me, do you give me some little trifle from your most abundant treasures.

STRATOPHANES

Do say, there's a dear, what it is that I'm to give you; only say. If I have it left, you shall have it.

PHRONESIUM

Mere kickshaws you're talking about. Be off, be off. STRABAX kisses her.

STRATOPHANES

I've considered this over with myself. My good sir, take you care, will you, that she don't inflict a wound upon you, whose teeth are made of iron. She's allowing access to her to all in common. You take your hand off of her.

STRABAX

striking him . Then, by my troth, do you take that, with a hearty punch, warlike man!

STRATOPHANES

I've given her gold.

STRABAX

And I, silver.

STRATOPHANES

And I a mantle and a purple garment.

STRABAX

And I, sheep and wool; and many other things that she shall ask for I'll give. 'Twere better for you to contest it with me with minæ than with menaces.

PHRONESIUM

Upon my faith you are a funny mortal, my Strabax. Prithee, do proceed —— Aside. A fool and a madman are contending for their ruin; I'm all right.

STRATOPHANES

Come, younker, do you offer something first.

STRABAX

Why no; do you squander first, and come to ruin.

STRATOPHANES

to PHRONESIUM . Well, here's a talent of silver for you. It's in Philippean coins. Take it for yourself.

PHRONESIUM

taking the money . So much the better. Be one of our family, but live at your own expense.

STRATOPHANES

to STRABAX . Where is that which you are going to give? Open your purse-strings.

PHRONESIUM

That's a challenge.

STRATOPHANES

to STRABAX . What are you afraid of?

STRABAX

You are from abroad. I live here points to his FATHER'S house . I am afraid.

STRATOPHANES

I am not. Walk off, then.

STRABAX

I'm bringing her some sheep fastened in a purse to my neck.

STRATOPHANES

Because I gave that, how I did flounder the fellow.

STRABAX

Why no, indeed, it's I, who am going to give.

PHRONESIUM

to STRATOPHANES . Come in-doors now, prithee, and to STRABAX do you then stay with me here.

STRATOPHANES

You will give me your company then?

STRABAX

to PHRONESIUM . What say you?

PHRONESIUM

What?

STRABAX

What do you say? What, with this fellow? Am I to be postponed?

STRATOPHANES

I have made my present.

PHRONESIUM

to STRATOPHANES . You have given; pointing to STRABAX he's going to give just now; the one I've got, the other I expect. But each of the two shall be indulged to his heart's content.

STRABAX

So be it. As I see the matter stands, that must be taken that's offered.

STRATOPHANES

Indeed, I shall assuredly not be letting you take possession of my couch.

PHRONESIUM

aside . I' faith, I've cleverly netted them, and quite to my satisfaction. To the AUDIENCE. And as I see my affairs successfully managed, yours likewise would I successfully manage. I'll caress you in reality. If you are disposed to be doing anything, take care, will you, and let me know at once. For the sake of Venus, applaud; this Play is in her honor. Spectators, kindly farewell; grant applause, and then rise up.

The Latin Texts

The Theatre of Marcellus, the sole surviving theatre of Rome, was built in the closing years of the Roman Republic. At the theatre, locals and visitors alike were able to watch performances of drama and song.

Mercvrius

Vt vos in vestris vultis mercimoniis emundis vendundisque me laetum lucris adficere atque adiuvere in rebus omnibus et ut res rationesque vestrorum omnium 5 bene me expedire vultis peregrique et domi bonoque atque amplo auctare perpetuo lucro quasque incepistis res quasque inceperitis, et uti bonis vos vestrosque omnis nuntii me adficere vultis, ea adferam, ea uti nuntiem
10 quae maxime in rem vestram communem sient (nam vos quidem id iam scitis concessum et datum mi esse ab dis aliis, nuntiis praesim et lucro):
haec ut me vultis adprobare adnitier, lucrum ut perenne vobis semper suppetat 15 ita huic facietis fabulae silentium itaque aequi et iusti hic eritis omnes arbitri.
Nunc cuius iussu venio et quam ob rem venerim dicam simulque ipse eloquar nomen meum.
Iovis iussu venio, nomen Mercurio est mihi.
20 pater huc me misit ad vos oratum meus, tam etsi, pro imperio vobis quod dictum foret, scibat facturos, quippe qui intellexerat vereri vos se et metuere, ita ut aequom est Iovem;
verum profecto hoc petere me precario 25 a vobis iussit, leniter, dictis bonis.
etenim ille, cuius huc iussu venio, Iuppiter non minus quam vestrum quivis formidat malum:
humana matre natus, humano patre, mirari non est aequom, sibi si praetimet;
30 atque ego quoque etiam, qui Iovis sum filius, contagione mei patris metuo malum.
propterea pace advenio et pacem ad vos affero:†
iustam rem et facilem esse oratam a vobis volo, nam iusta ab iustis iustus sum orator datus.

35 nam iniusta ab iustis impetrari non decet, iusta autem ab iniustis petere insipientia est;
quippe illi iniqui ius ignorant neque tenent.
nunc iam huc animum omnes quae loquar advortite.
debetis velle quae velimus: meruimus 40 et ego et pater de vobis et re publica; nam quid ego memorem (ut alios in tragoediis vidi, Neptunum Virtutem Victoriam Martem Bellonam, commemorare quae bona vobis fecissent) quis bene factis meus pater, 45 deorum regnator ... architectus omnibus?
sed mos numquam illi fuit patri meo,† ut exprobraret quod bonis faceret boni; gratum arbitratur esse id a vobis sibi meritoque vobis bona se facere quae facit.
50 Nunc quam rem oratum huc veni primum proloquar, post argumentum huius eloquar tragoediae.
quid? contraxistis frontem, quia tragoediam dixi futuram hanc? deus sum, commutavero.
eandem hanc, si voltis, faciam ex tragoedia 55 comoedia ut sit omnibus isdem vorsibus.
utrum sit an non voltis? sed ego stultior, quasi nesciam vos velle, qui divos siem.
teneo quid animi vestri super hac re siet:
faciam ut commixta sit: sit tragicomoedia.
60 nam me perpetuo facere ut sit comoedia, reges quo veniant et di, non par arbitror.
quid igitur? quoniam hic servos quoque partes habet, faciam sit, proinde ut dixi, tragicomoedia.
nunc hoc me orare a vobis iussit Iuppiter, 65 ut conqaestores singula in subsellia eant per totam caveam spectatoribus, si cui favitores delegatos viderint, ut is in cavea pignus capiantur togae;
sive quí ambissint palmam histrionibus 70 sive cuíquam artifici, si per scriptas litteras sive qui ípse ambissit seu per internuntium, sive adeo aediles perfidiose cui duint, sirempse legem iussit esse Iuppiter, quasi mágistratum sibi alterive ambiverit.

75 virtute dixit vos victores vivere, non ambitione neque perfidia: qui minus eadem histrioni sit lex quae summo viro?
virtute ambire oportet, non favioribus.
sat habet faviorum semper qui recte facit, 80 si illis fides est quibus est ea res in manu.
hoc quoque etiam mihi pater in mandatis dedit, ut conqaestores fierent histrionibus:
qui sibi mandasset delegati ut plauderent quive quo placeret alter fecisset minus, 85 eius órnamenta et corium uti conciderent.
mirari nolim vos, quapropter Iuppiter nunc histriones curet; ne miremini:
íipse hanc acturust Iuppiter comoediam.
quid? admirati estis? quasi vero novom 90 nunc proferatur, Ióvem facere histrioniam;
etiam, histriones anno cum in proscaenio hic Iovem invocarunt, venit, auxilio is fuit.
praeterea certo prodit in tragoedia.
hanc fabulam, inquam, hic Iuppiter hodie ípse aget, 95 et ego una cum illo. nunc vos animum advortite, dum huius argumentum éloquar comoediae.
Haec urbs est Thebae. in illisce habitat aedibus Amphitruo, natus Argis ex Argo patre, quicum Alcumena est nupta, Electri filia.
100 is nunc Amphitruo praefectust legionibus, nam cum Teloboís bellum est Thebano poplo.
is prius quam hinc abiit ípsemet in exercitum, gravídám Alcumenam úxorem fecit suam.
nam ego vos novisse credo iam ut sit páter meus, 105 quam liber harum rerum multarum siet quantusque amator sit quod complacitum est semel.
is amare occepit Alcumenam clam virum usuramque eius corporis cepit sibi, et gravidam fecit is eam compressu suo.

110 nunc de Alcumena ut rem teneatis rectius, utrumque est gravida, et ex viro et ex summo Iove.
et meus pater nunc intus hic cum illa cubat, et haec ob eam rem nox est facta longior,
dum cum illa quacum volt voluptatem capit;
115 sed ita adsimulavit se, quasi Amphitruo siet.
nunc ne hunc ornatum vos meum admiremini, quod ego huc processi sic cum servili schema:
veterem atque antiquam rem novam ad vos proferam, propterea ornatus in novom innessi modum.
120 nam meus pater intus nunc est eccum Iuppiter;
in Amphitruonis vertit sese imaginem omnesque eum esse censent servi qui vident:
ita versipellem se facit quando lubet.
ego servi sumpsi Sosiae mi imaginem, 125 qui cum Amphitruone abiit hinc in exercitum, ut praeservire amanti meo possem patri atque ut ne, qui essem, familiares quaererent, versari crebro hic cum viderent me domi;
nunc, cum esse credent servom et conservom suom, 130 haud quisquam quaeret qui siem aut quid venerim.
pater nunc intus suo animo morem gerit:
cubat complexus cuius cupiens maxime est;
quae illi ad legionem facta sunt memorat pater meus Alcumenae: illa illum censet virum 135 suom esse, quae cum moechno est. ibi nunc meus pater memorat, legiones hostium ut fugaverit, quo pacto sit donis donatus plurimis.
ea dona, quae illic Amphitruoni sunt data, abstulimus: facile meus pater quod volt facit.
140 nunc hodie Amphitruo veniet huc ab exercitu et servos, cuius ego hanc feró imaginem.
nunc internosse ut nos possitis facilius, ego has habebó usque in petaso pinnulas;
tum meo patri autem torulus inerat aureus

145 sub petaso: id signum Amphitruoni non erit.
ea signa nemo hórum familiarium videre poterit: verum vos videbitis.
sed Amphitruonis illic est servos Sosia:
a portu illíc nunc cum lanterna ádvenit.
150 abigam iam ego illum advenientem ab aedibus.
adeste: erit operae pretium híc spectantibus
Iovem et Mercurium facere hístrioniam.

Sosia

Qui me álter est audácior homo aút qui confidéntior, iuventútis mores qui sciam, qui hoc noctis solus ambulem?
155 quid faciam nunc, si tres viri me in carcerem compegerint?
inde crás quasi e promptaria cella depromar ad flagrum, nec causam liceat dicere mihi, néque in ero quicquam auxili nec quisquam sit quin me malo omnes esse dignum deputent.
íta quasi incudém me miserum hómines octo válidi caedant:
160 ita peregre adveniens hospitio publicitus accipiar.
haéc eri immodéstia
coegit, me qui hoc noctis a portu ingratiis excitavit.
nonne ídem hoc luci me mittere potuit?
opulénto homini hoc servitús dura est, 165 hoc mágis miser est divítis servos:
nóctesque diésque assiduó satis superque est quód facto aut dícto adeost ópus, quietus ne sis.
íipse dominus díves, operis ét laboris experts, quódcumque homini áccidit libére, posse retur:
170 aéquom esse putát, non reputát laboris quid sit.
nec aéquom anne iníquom imperét cogitábit.
ergo ín servitúte expetúnt multa iníqua:
habéndum et ferúndum hoc onúst cum labóre.

Merc.

Satiúst me queri íllo modó servitútem:
175 hodié qui fuerim líber, eúm nunc potívit patér servitútis, hic qui verna natus est queritur.

Sos.

Sum véro verna vérbero: num número mi in mentém fuit,
dis advenientem gratias pro meritis agere atque alloqui?
180 ne illi edepol si merito meo referre studeant gratiam, aliquem hominem allegent qui mihi advenienti os occillet probe, quoniam bene quae in me fecerunt ingrata ea habui atque inrita.

Merc.

Facit ille quod volgo haud solent, ut quid se sit dignum sciat.

Sos.

Quod numquam opinatus fui neque alius quisquam civium 185 sibi eventurum, id contigit, ut salvi poteremur domi.
victores victis hostibus legiones reveniunt domum, duelló exstincto maximo atque internecatis hostibus.
quod multa Thebano poplo acerba obiecit funera, id vi et virtute militum victum atque expugnatum oppidum est 190 imperio atque auspicio eri mei Amphitruonis maxime.
praeda atque agro adoriaque adfecit populares suos regique Thebano Creoni regnum stabilivit suom.
me a portu praemisit domum, ut haec nuntiem uxori suae, ut gesserit rem publicam ductu imperio auspicio suo.
195 ea nunc meditabor quo modo illi dicam, cum illo advenero.
si dixero mendacium, solens meo more fecero.
nam cum pugnabant maxume, ego tum fugiebam maxume;
verum quasi adfuerim tamen simulabo atque audita eloquar.
sed quo modo et verbis quibus me deceat fabularier, 200 prius ipse mecum etiam volo hic meditari. sic hoc proloquar.
Principio ut illo advenimus, ubi primum terram tetigimus, continuo Amphitruo delegit viros primorum principes;
eos legat, Telobois iubet sententiam ut dicant suam:
si sine vi et sine bello velint rapta et raptores tradere, 205 si quae asportassent redderent, se exercitum extemplo domum reducturum, abituros agro Argivos, pacem atque otium dare illis; sin aliter sient animati neque dent quae petat, sese igitur summa vi virisque eorum oppidum oppugnassere.
haec ubi Telobois ordine iterarunt quos praefecerat

210 Amphitruo, magnanimi viri freti virtute et viribus superbe nimis ferociter legatos nostros increpant, respondent bello se et suos tutari posse, proinde uti propere irent, de suis finibus exercitus deducerent.
haec ubi legati pertulere, Amphitruo castris ilico 215 producit omnem exercitum. Teloboae contra ex oppido legiones educunt suas nimis pulcris armis praeditas.
póstquam utrimque éxitum est máxima cópia, dispertiti viri, dispertiti ordines, nos nostras more nostro et modo instruximus 220 légiones, item hóstes contra légiones suas ínstruont.
deínde utrique ímperatóres in medium éxeunt, éxtra turbam órđinum cólloquontúr simul.
convenit, victi utri sint eo proelio, urbem agrum aras focos seque uti dederent.
225 postquam id actum est, tubae contra utrimque occanunt, consonat terra, clamorem utrimque efferunt.
imperator utrimque, hinc et illinc, Iovi vota suscipere, utrimque hortari exercitum.
tum pro se quisque id quod quisque potest et valet 230 edit, ferro ferit, tela frangunt, boat caélum fremitú virum, ex spírítu atque anhélitu nébula constát, cadunt vólnerum ví viri.
denique, ut voluimus, nostra superat manus:
hostes crebri cadunt, nostri contra ingruunt 235 vicimus ví feroces.
sed †fugam in se tamen nemo convortitur nec recedit loco quin statim rem gerat;
animam omittunt prius quam loco demigrent:
quisque ut steterat iacet optinetque ordinem.
240 hóc ubi Amphítruo erus cónspicatust, ílico equités iubet délixtera indúcere.
equites parent citi: ab dextera maximo cúm clamore involant ímpetu alacri, foédant et próterunt hóstium cópias 245 iúre iniustas.

Merc.

Numquam étiam quicquam adhúc verborum est prólocutus pérperam: namque ego fui illi in re praesenti et meus, cum pugnatum est, pater.

Sos.

Perduelles penetrant se in fugam; ibi nostris animus additust:
vortentibus Telobois telis complebantur corpora, 250 ipsusque Amphitruo regem Pterelam sua obtruncavit manu.
haec illic est pugnata pugna úsque a mani ad vesperum (hoc adeo hoc commemini magis, quia illo die inpransus fui), sed proelium id tandem diremit nox interventu suo.
postridie in castra ex urbe ad nos veniunt flentes principes:
255 velatis manibus orant ignoscamus peccatum suum, deduntque se, divina humanaque omnia, urbem et liberos in dicionem atque in arbitratum cuncti Thebano poplo.
post ob virtutem ero Amphitruoni patera donata aurea est, qui Pterela potitare solitus est rex. haec sic dicam erae.
260 nunc pergam eri imperium exequi et me domum capessere.

Merc.

Áttat, illic húc iturust. íbo ego illi óbviám, neque ego huc hominem hodie ad aedis has sinam umquam accedere;
quando imago est huius in me, certum est hominem eludere.
et enim vero quoniam formam cépi huius ín med et statum, 265 decet et facta moresque huius habere me similes item.
itaque me malum esse oportet, callidum, astutum admodum atque hunc, telo suo sibi, malitia a foribus pellere.
sed quid illúc est? caelum aspectat. observabo quam rem agat.

Sos.

Certe edepol, si quicquamst aliud quod credam aut certo sciam, 270 credo ego hac noctu Nocturnum óbdomivisse ebrium.
nam neque se Septentriones quoquam in caelo commovent, neque se Luna quoquam mutat atque uti exorta est semel, nec Iugulae neque Vesperugo neque Vergiliae óccidunt.
ita statim stant signa, neque nox quoquam concedit die.

Merc.

275 Perge, Nox, ut occepisti, gere patri morem meo:
optumo optume optumam operam das, datam pulchre locas.

Sos.

Neque ego hac nocte longiorem me vidisse censeo, nisi item unam, verberatus quam pependi perpetem;
eam quoque edepol etiam multo haec vicit longitudine.
280 credo edepol equidem dormire Solem, atque adpotum probe;
mira sunt nisi invitavit sese in cena plusculum.

Merc.

Ain vero, verbero? deos esse tui similis putas?
ego pol te istis tuis pro dictis et male factis, furcifer, accipiam; modo sis veni huc: invenies infortunium.

Sos.

285 Vbi sunt isti scortatores, qui soli inviti cubant?
haec nox scita est exercendo scorto conducto male.

Merc.

Meus pater nunc pro huius verbis recte et sapienter facit, qui complexus cum Alcumena cubat amans animo obsequens.

Sos.

Ibo ut erus quod imperavit Alcumenae nuntiem.
290 sed quis hic ést homo, quem ante aedis video hoc noctis? non placet.

Merc.

Nullust hoc metuculosus aequae.

Sos.

Mi in mentem venit,
illic homó hoc dé umero volt pallium detexere.

Merc.

Timet homo: deludam ego illum.

Sos.

Perii, dentes pruriunt;

certe advenientem hic me hospitio pugneo accepturus est.

295 credo misericors est: nunc propterea quod me meus erus fecit ut vigilarem, hic pugnis faciet hodie ut dormiam.

oppido interii. obsecro hercle, quantus et quam validus est.

Merc.

Clare advorsum fabulabor, ut hic auscultet quae loquar;

igitur magis demum maiorem in sese concipiet metum.

300 agite, pugni, iam diu est quom ventri victum non datis:

iam pridem videtur factum, heri quod homines quattuor in soporem collocastis nudos.

Sos.

Formido male,

né ego hic nomen meum commutem et Quintus fiam e Sosia; quattuor nudos sopori se dedisse hic autumat:

305 metuo ne numerum augeam illum.

Merc.

em, nunciam ergo: sic volo.

Sos.

Cingitur: certe expedit se.

Merc.

Non feret quin vapulet.

Sos.

Quis homo?

Merc.

Quisquis homo huc profecto venerit, pugnos edet.

Sos.

Apage, non placet me hoc noctis esse: cenavi modo;

proin tu istam cenam largire, si sapis, esurientibus.

Merc.

310 Haud malum huic est pondus pugno.

Sos.

Perii, pugnos ponderat.

Merc.

Quid si ego illum tractim tangam, ut dormiat?

Sos.

Servaveris,
nam continuas has tris noctes pervigilavi.

Merc.

Pessumest,
facimus nequiter, ferire malam male discit manus;
alia forma ésse oportet quem tu pugno legeris.

Sos.

315 Illic homo me interpolabit meumque os finget denuo.

Merc.

Exossatum os esse oportet quem probe percusseris.

Sos.

Mirum ni hic me quasi murenam éxossare cogitat.
ultro istunc qui exossat homines. perii, si me aspexerit.

Merc.

Olet homo quidam malo suo.

Sos.

ei, numnam ego óbolui?

Merc.

320 Atque haud longe abesse oportet, verum longe hinc afuit.

Sos.

Illic homo superstitiosust.

Merc.

Gestiunt pugni mihi.

Sos.

Si in me exercituru's, quaeso in parietem ut primum domes.

Merc.

Vox mi ad aures advolavit.

Sos.

Né ego homo infelix fui,
qui non alas intervelli: volucrem vocem gestito.

Merc.

325 Illic homo a me sibi malam rem arcessit iumento suo.

Sos.

Non equidem ullum habeo iumentum.

M.

Onerandus est pugnis probe.

Sos.

Lassus sum hercle, navi ut vectus huc sum: etiam nunc nauseo;
vix incedo inanis, ne ire posse cum onere existimes.

Merc.

Certe enim hic nescio quis loquitur.

Sos.

Salvos sum, non me videt:

330 nescioquem loqui autumat; mihi certo nomen Sosiaest.

Merc.

Hinc enim mñhi dextra vox auris, ut videtur, verberat.

Sos.

Metuo, vocis ne vicem hodie hic vapulem, quae hunc verberat.

Merc.

Optume eccum incedit ad me.

Sos.

Timeo, totus torpeo.

non edepol nunc ubi terrarum sim scio, si quis roget, ³³⁵ neque miser me commovere possum prae formidine.

ilicet, mandata eri perierunt una et Sosia.

verum certum est confidenter hominem contra conloqui, qui possim videri huic fortis, a me ut abstineat manum.

Merc.

Quo ambulas tu, qui Vulcanum in cornu conclusum geris?

Sos.

³⁴⁰ Quid id exquiris tu, qui pugnis os exossas hominibus?

Merc.

Servosne es an liber?

Sos.

Vtcumque animo conlibitum est meo.

Merc.

Ain vero?

Sos.

Aio enim vero.

M.

Verbero.

S.

Mentiris nunc.

Merc.

At iam faciam ut verum dicas dicere.

Sos.

Quid eo est opus?

Merc.

Possum scire, quo profectus, cuius sis aut quid veneris?

Sos.

³⁴⁵ Húc eo, eri iussu, eius sum servos. numquid nunc es certior?

M.

Ego tibi istam hodie, sceleste, comprimam linguam.

S.

Haud potes:

bene pudiceque adservatur.

Merc.

Pergin argutarier?

quid apud hasce aedis negoti ést tibi?

Sos.

Immo quid tibi est?

Merc.

Rex Creo vigiles nocturnos singulos semper locat.

Sos.

³⁵⁰ Bene facit: quia nos eramus peregre, tutatust domi;
at nunc abi sane, advenisse familiares dicito.

Merc.

Nescio quam tu familiaris sis: nisi actutum hinc abis, familiaris accipiere faxo haud familiariter.

S.

Hic inquam habito ego atque horunc servos sum.

M.

At scin quo modo?

355 faciam ego hodie te superbum, nisi hinc abis.

Sos.

Quonam modo?

Merc.

Auferere, non abibis, sí ego fustem sumpsero.

Sos.

Quin me esse huius familiai familiarem praedico.

Merc.

Vide sis quam mox vapulare vis, nisi actutum hinc abis.

Sos.

Tun domo prohibere peregre me advenientem postulas?

M.

360 Haecine tua domust?

S.

Ita inquam.

M.

Quis erus est igitur tibi?

Sos.

Amphitruo, qui nunc praefectust Thebanis legionibus, quicum nupta est Alcumena.

Merc.

Quid ais? quid nomen tibi est?

Sos.

Sosiam vocant Thebani, Davo prognatum patre.

Merc.

Ne tu istic hodie malo tuo compositis mendaciis
365 advenisti, audaciai columen, consutis dolis.

Sos.

Immo equidem tunicis consutis huc advenio, non dolis.

Merc.

At mentiris etiam: certo pedibus, non tunicis venis.

Sos.

Ita profecto.

Merc.

Nunc profecto vapula ob mendacium.

Sos.

Non edepol volo profecto.

Merc.

At pol profecto ingratiis.

370 hoc quidem profecto certum est, non est arbitrarium.

Sos.

Tuam fidem obsecro.

Merc.

Tun te audes Sosiam esse dicere,
quí ego sum?

S.

Perii.

M.

Parum etiam, praeut futurum est, praedicas.
quoius nunc es?

Sos.

Tuos, nam pugnīs usu fecisti tuom.

pro fidem, Thebani cives.

Merc.

Etiam clamas, carnifex?

375 loquere, quid venisti?

Sos.

Vt esset quem tu pugnīs caederes.

M.

Cuius es?

S.

Amphitruonis, inquam, Sosia.

M.

Ergo istoc magis,

quia vaniloquo's, vapulabis: ego sum, non tu, Sosia.

Sos.

Ita di faciant, ut tu potius sis atque ego te ut verberem.

M.

Etiam muttis?

S.

Iam tacebo.

M.

Quis tibi erust?

S.

Quem tu volest.

Merc.

380 Quid igitur? qui nunc vocare?

Sos.

Nemo nisi quem iusseris.

Merc.

Amphitruonis te esse aiebas Sosiam.

Sos.

Peccaveram,

nam Amphitruonis †socium ne me esse volui dicere.

Merc.

Scibam equidem nullum esse nobis nisi me servom Sosiam.
fugit te ratió.

Sos.

Vtinam istuc pugni fecissent tui.

Merc.

385 Ego sum Sosia ille quem tu dudum esse aiebas mihi.

Sos.

Obsecro ut per pacem liceat te alloqui, ut ne vapulem.

Merc.

Immo indutiae parumper fiant, si quid vis loqui.

Sos.

Non loquar nisi pace facta, quando pugnis plus vales.

Merc.

Dic si quid vis, non nocebo.

Sos.

Tuae fide credo?

Merc.

Meae.

Sos.

390 Quid si falles?

Merc.

Tum Mercurius Sosiae iratus siet.

Sos.

Animum advorte. nunc licet mihi libere quidvis loqui.
Amphitruonis ego sum servos Sosia.

Merc.

Etiam denuo?

Sos.

Pacem feci, foedus feci. vera dico.

Merc.

Vapula.

Sos.

Vt libet quid tibi libet fac, quoniam pugnīs plus vales;
395 verum, utut es facturus, hoc quidem hercle haud reticebo tamen.

Merc.

Tu me vivos hodie numquam facies quin sim Sosia.

Sos.

Certe edepol tu me alienabis numquam quin noster siem;
nec nobis praeter med alius quisquam est servos Sosia.
qui cum Amphitruone hinc una ieram in exercitum.

M.

400 Hic homo sanus non est.

S.

Quod mihi praedicas vitium, id tibi est.
quid, malum, non sūm ego servos Amphitruonis Sosia?
nonne hac noctu nostra navis huc ex portu Persico venit, quae me advexit? nonne me huc erus misit meus?
nonne ego nunc sto ante aedes nostras? non mi est lanterna in manu?
405 non loquor, nōn vigilo? nonne hic homo mōdo me pugnīs contudit?

fecit hercle, nam etiam misero nunc mihi malae dolent.
quid igitur ego dubito, aut cur non intro eo in nostram domum?

M.

Quid, domum vostram?

S.

Ita enim vero.

M.

Quin quae dixisti modo
omnia ementitu's: equidem Sosia Amphitruonis sum.
410 nam noctu hac soluta est navis nostra e portu Persico, et ubi Pterela rex regnavit oppidum expugnativimus, et legiones Teloboarum vi pugnando cepimus, et ipse Amphitruo optruncavit regem Pterelam in proelio.

Sos.

Egomet mihi non credo, cum illaec autumare illum audio;
415 hic quidem certe quae illic sunt res gestae memorat memoriter.
sed quid ais? quid Amphitruoni doni a Telobois datum est?

Merc.

Pterela rex qui potitare solitus est patera aurea.

Sos.

Elocutus est. ubi patera nunc est?

Merc.

Est in cistula;
Amphitruonis obsignata signo est.

Sos.

Signi dic quid est?

Merc.

420 Cum quadrigis Sol exoriens. quid me captas, carnufex?

Sos.

Argumentis vicit, aliud nomen quaerundum est mihi.
nescio unde haec hic spectavit. iám ego hunc decipiam probe;
nam quod egomet solus feci, nec quisquam alius affuit,
in tabernaclo, id quidem hodie numquam poterit dicere.
425 si tu Sosia es, legiones cum pugnabant maxume, quid in tabernaclo fecisti? victus sum, si dixeris.

Merc.

Cadus erat vini, inde implevi hírneam.

Sos.

Ingressust viam.

Merc.

Eam ego, ut matre fuerat natum, vini éduxi meri.

Sos.

Factum est illud, ut ego illíc vini hirneam ebiberim meri.
430 mira sunt nisi latuit intus illic in illac hirnea.

Merc.

Quid nunc? vincon argumentis, te non esse Sosiam?

Sos.

Tu negas med esse?

Merc.

Quid ego ni negem, qui egomet siem?

Sos.

Per Iovem iuro med esse neque me falsum dicere.

Merc.

At ego per Mercurium iuro, tibi Iovem non credere;
435 nam iniurato scio plus credet mihi quam iurato tibi.

Sos.

Quis ego sum saltem, si non sum Sosia? te interrogo.

Merc.

Vbi ego Sosia nolim esse, tu esto sane Sosia; nunc, quando ego sum, vapulabis, ni hinc abis, ignobilis.

Sos.

Certe edepol, quom illum contemplo et formam cognosco meam, 440 quem ad modum ego sum (saepe in speculum inspexi), nimis similest mei;
itidem habet petasum ac vestitum: tam consimilest atque ego;
sura, pes, statura, tonsus, oculi, nasum vel labra, malae, mentum, barba, collus: totus. quid verbis opust?
si tergum cicatricosum, nihil hoc similist similius.
445 sed quom cogito, equidem certo idem sum qui semper fui.
novi erum, novi aedis nostras; sane sapio et sentio.
non ego illi obtempero quod loquitur. pultabo foris.

Merc.

Quó agis te?

S.

Domum.

M.

Quadrigas si nunc inscendas Iovis atque hinc fugias, ita vix poteris effugere infortunium.

Sos.

450 Nonne erae meae nuntiare quod erus meus iussit licet?

Merc.

Tuae si quid vis nuntiare: hanc nostram adire non sinam.
nam si me inritassis, hodie lumbifragium hinc auferes.

Sos.

Abeo potius. di immortales, obsecro vostram fidem, ubi ego perii? ubi immutatus sum? ubi ego formam perdidi?

455 an egomet me illic reliqui, si forte oblitus fui?
nám hic quidem omnem imaginem meam, quae antehac fuerat, possidet.
vivo fit quod numquam quisquam mortuo faciet mihi.
ibo ad portum atque haec uti sunt facta ero dicam meo;
nisi etiam is quoque me ignorabit: quod ille faxit Iuppiter, 460 ut ego hodie ráso capite calvos capiam pilleum. —

Merc.

Bene próspere hoc hodie operis processit mihi:
amovi a foribus maximam molestiam, patri ut liceret tuto illam amplexarier.
iam ille illuc ad erum cum Amphitruonem advenerit, 5 narrabit servom hinc sese a foribus Sosiam amovisse; ille adeo illum mentiri sibi credet, neque credet huc profectum, ut iusserat.
erroris ambo ego illos et dementiae complebo atque omnem Amphitruonis familiam, 10 adeo usque, satietatem dum capiet pater illius quám amat. igitur demum omnes scient quae facta. denique Alcumenam Iuppiter redigét antiquam coniugi in concordiam.
nam Amphitruo actutum uxori turbas conciet 15 atque insimulabit eam probri; tum meus pater eam séditionem illi in tranquillum conferet.
nunc de Alcumena dudum quod dixi minus, hodie illa pariet filios geminos duos alter decumo post mense nascetur puer 20 quam seminatust, alter mense septumo;
eorum Ámphitruonis alter est, alter Iovis:
verum minori puero maior est pater,
minor maiori. iamne hoc scitis quid siet?
sed Alcumenae huius honoris gratia 25 pater curavit uno ut fetu fieret, uno ut labore absolvat aerumnas duas.
et ne in suspicione ponatur stupri et clandestina ut celetur consuetio.

quamquam, ut iam dudum dixi, resciscet tamen 30 Amphitruo rem omnem. quid igitur? nemo id probro profecto ducet Alcumenae; nam deum non par videtur facere, delictum suum suamque ut culpam expetere in mortalem ut sinat.
orationem comprimam: crepuit foris.
35 Amphitruo subditivos eccum exit foras cum Alcumena uxore usuraria.

Ivppiter

Béne vale, Alcumena, cura rem communem, quod facis; atque inperce quaeso: menses iam tibi esse actos vides.
mihi necesse est ire hinc; verum quod erit natum tollito.

Alcymena

Quid istuc est, mi vir, negoti, quod tu tam subito domo
5 abeas?

Ivpp.

Edepol haud quod tui me neque domi distaedeat;
sed ubi summus imperator non adest ad exercitum, citius quod non facto est usus fit quam quod facto est opus.

Merc.

Nimis hic scitust sycophanta, qui quidem meus sit pater.
observatote eum, quam blande mulieri palpabitur.

Alc.

10 Ecaster te experior quanti facias uxorem tuam.

Ivpp.

Satin habes, si feminarum nulla est quam aequè diligam?

Merc.

Edepol ne illa si istis rebus te sciat operam dare, ego faxim ted Amphitruonem esse malis, quam Iovem.

Alc.

Experiri istuc mavellem me quam mi memorarier.
15 prius abis quam lectus ubi cubuisti concaluit locus.
heri venisti media nocte, nunc abis. hocin placet?

Merc.

Accedam atque hanc appellabo et subparasitabor patri.
numquam edepol quemquam mortalem credo ego uxorem suam sic ecflictim amare, proinde ut hic te ecflictim deperit.

Ivpp.

20 Carnufex, non ego te novi? ábin e conspectu meo?
quid tibi hanc curatio est rem, verbero, aut muttitio?
quoii ego iam hoc scipione —

Alc.

Ah noli.

Ivpp.

Muttito modo.

Merc.

Nequiter paene expeditivit prima parasitatio.

Ivpp.

Verum quod tu dicis, mea uxor, non te mi irasci decet.
25 clanculum abii a legione: operam hanc subrupui tibi, ex me primo ut prima sciress, rem ut gessissem publicam.
ea tibi omnia enarravi. nisi te amarem plurimum, non facerem.

Merc.

Facitne ut dixi? timidam palpo percutit.

Ivpp.

Nunc, ne legio persentiscat, clam illuc redeundum est mihi,

30 ne me uxorem praevertisse dicant prae re publica.

Alc.

Lacrimantem ex habitu concinnas tu tuam uxorem.

Ivpp.

Tace,

ne corrumpe oculos, redibo actutum.

Alc.

Id actutum diu est.

Ivpp.

Non ego te hic lubens relinquo neque abeo abs te.

Alc.

Sentio,

nam qua nocte ad me venisti, eadem abis.

Ivpp.

Cur me tenes?

35 tempus est: exire ex urbe prius quam luceat volo.
nunc tibi hanc pateram, quae dono mi illi ob virtutem data est, Pterela rex qui potitavit, quem ego mea occidi manu,
Alcumena, tibi condono.

Alc.

Facis ut alias res soles.

ecastor condignum donum, qualest qui donum dedit.

Merc.

40 Immo sic: condignum donum, qualest cui dono datumst.

Ivpp.

Pergin autem? nonne ego possum, furcifer, te perdere?

Alc.

Noli amabo, Amphitruo, irasci Sosiae causa mea.

Ivpp.

Faciam ita ut vis.

Merc.

Ex amore hic admodum quam saevos est.

I.

Numquid vis?

A.

Vt quom absim mé ames, me tuam te absente tamen.

Merc.

45 Eamus, Amphitruo. lucescit hoc iam.

Ivpp.

Abi prae, Sosia,

iam ego sequar. numquid vis?

A.

Etiam: ut actutum advenias.

I.

Licet,

prius tuá opinione híc adero: bonum ánimum habe. — nunc te, nox, quae me mansisti, mitto uti cedas die, ut mortalis inlucescat luce clara et candida.

50 atque quanto, nox, fuisti longior hac proxuma, tanto brevior dies ut fiat faciam, ut aequae disparet.
sed dies e nocte accedat. ibo et Mercurium sequar. —

ACT II.

Amphitrvo

Age í tu secúndum.

Sosia

Sequór, subsequór te.

Amph.

Scelestissimum te arbitror.

Sos.

Nam quam ob rem?

Amph.

Quia id quod neque est neque fuit neque futurum est mihi praedicas.

Sos.

Eccere, iam tuatim

5 facis tu, ut tuis nulla apud te fides sit.

Amph.

Quid est? quo modo? iam quidem hercle ego tibi istam scelestam, scelus, linguam abscidam.

Sos.

Tuos sum,

proinde ut commodumst et lubet quidque facias;

tamen quin loquar haec uti facta sunt hic,

10 numquam ullo modo me potes deterrere.

Amph.

Scelestissime, audes mihi praedicare id,

domi te esse nunc, qui hic ades?

Sos.

Vera dico.

Amph.

Malum quod tibi di dabunt, atque ego hodie
dabo.

Sos.

Istuc tibist in manu, nam tuos sum.

Amph.

15 Tun me, verbero, audes erum ludificari?
tune id dicere audes, quod nemo umquam homo antehac vidit nec potest fieri, tempore uno homo idem duobus locis ut simul sit?

Sos.

Profecto ut loquor res ita est.

Amph.

Iuppiter te
20 perdat.

Sos.

Quid mali súm, ere, tua ex re promeritus?

Amph.

Rogasne, improbe, etiam, qui ludos facis me?

Sos.

Meritó maledicás mihi, si id ita factum est.†
verum haud mentior, resque uti facta dico.

Amph.

Homo hic ébrius est, ut opínor.

Sos.

25 Útinam ita essem.

Amph.

Optás quae facta.

Sos.

Égone?

Amph.

Tu istic. úbi bibisti?

Sos.

Nusquam equidem bibi.

Amph.

Quid hoc sit hominis?

Sos.

equidem decies dixi:
domi ego sum, inquam, écquid audis?
30 et apud te adsum Sosia idem.
satin hoc plane, satin diserte, ere, nunc videor
tibi locutus esse?

Amph.

Vah,
ápage te a me.

Sos.

Quíd est negoti?

Amph.

35 Péstis te tenet.

Sos.

Nám quor istuc dicis? equidem valeo et salvos sum recte, Amphitruo.

Amph.

At te ego faciam

hodie proinde ac meritis es, ut minus valeas et miser sis,

40 salvos domum si rediero: iam

sequere sis, erum qui ludificas dictis delirantibus, qui quoniam erus quod imperavit neglexisti persequi, nunc venis etiam ultro inrisum dominum: quae neque fieri

45 possunt neque fando umquam accepit quisquam profers, carnifex;

quoius ego hodie in tergum faxo ista expetant mendacia.

Sos.

Amphitruo, miserrima istaec miseria est servo bono,

apud erum qui vera loquitur, si id vi verum vincitur.

Amph.

Quo id, malum, pacto potest nam (mecum argumentis puta)

50 fieri, nunc uti tu et hic sis et domi? id dici volo.

Sos.

Sum profecto et hic et illíc. hoc cuivis mirari licet, neque tibi istuc mirum ... mágis videtur quam mihi.

Amph.

Quo modo?

S.

Nihilo, inquam, mirum magis tibi istuc quam mihi;

neque, ita me di ament, credebam primo mihimet Sosiae,

55 donec Sosia illic egomet fecit sibi uti crederem.

ordine omne, uti quicque actum est, dúm apud hostis sedimus, edissertavit. tum formam una abstulit cum nomine.

neque lac lactis magis est simile quam ille ego similest mei.

nam ut dudum ante lucem a portu me praemisisti domum —

A.

60 Quid igitur?

S.

Prius multo ante aedis stabam quam illo adveneram.

Amph.

Quas, malum, nugás? satin tu sanus es?

Sos.

Sic sum ut vides.

Amph.

Huic homini nescio quid est mali mala obiectum manu, postquam a me abiit.

Sos.

Fateor, nam sum obtusus pugnīs pessume.

Amph.

Quis te verberavit?

Sos.

Egomet memet, qui nunc sum domi.

Amph.

65 Cave quicquam, nisi quod rogabo te, mihi responderis.
omnium primum iste qui sit Sosia, hoc dici volo.

Sos.

Tuos est servos.

Amph.

Mihi quidem uno te plus etiam est quam volo, neque postquam sum natus habui nisi te servom Sosiam.

Sos.

At ego nunc, Amphitruo, dico: Sosiam servom tuom

70 praeter me alterum, inquam, adveniēns faciam ut offendas domi, Davo prognatum patre eodem quo égo sum, forma, aetate item qua égo sum. quid opust verbis? geminus Sosia hic factust tibi.

Amph.

Nimia memoras mira. sed vidistin uxorem meam?

S.

Quin intro ire in aedis numquam licitum est.

A.

Quis te prohibuit?

Sos.

75 Sosia ille, quem iam dudum dico, is qui me contudit.

Amph.

Quis istic Sosia est?

Sos.

Ego, inquam. quotiens dicendum est tibi?

Amph.

Sed quid ais? num obdormivisti dudum?

Sos.

Nusquam gentium.

Amph.

Ibi forte istum si vidisses quendam in somnis Sosiam —

Sos.

Non soleo ego somniculose éri imperia persequi.

80 vigilans vidi, vigilans nunc te video, vigilans fabulor, vigilantem ille me iam dudum vigilans pugnīs contudit.

Amph.

Quis homo?

Sos.

Sosia, inquam, ego ille. quaeso, nonne intellegis?

Amph.

Qui, malum, intellegere quisquam potis est? ita nugas blatis.

Sos.

Verum actutum nosces, quom illum nosces servom Sosiam.

Amph.

85 Sequere hac igitur me, nam mi istuc primum exquisito est opus.
sed vide ex navi efferantur quae imperavi iam omnia.

Sos.

Et memor sum et diligens, ut quae imperes compareant;
non ego cum vino simitu ébibí imperium tuom.

Amph.

Vtinam di faxint, infecta dicta re eveniant tua.

Alcymena

Satín parva rés est volúptatum in víta atque in aétate agúnda praequám quod moléstum est? ita cuíque comparátum est in aétate hominum;

ita dívis est plácitum, volúptatem ut maéror comés consequátur:
quin íncommodí plus malíque ilico ádsit, boní si optigít quid.

5 nam ego íd nunc expérior domo átque ipsa dé me sció, cui volúptas parúmper datást, dum virí mei míhi potéstas vidéndi fuit noctem únam modo; átque is repénite abiit á me hinc ánte lucem.
sola híc mihi nunc vídeor, quia ílle hinc abést quem ego amó praeter omnes.

plus aégri ex ábitu virí, quam ex advéntu volúptatis cépi.

10 sed hóc me beát

saltém, quom perduéllis vicít et domúm laudis cómpos revénit:
id sólacio est.

absít, dum modó laude páрта

domúm recipiát se; feram ét perferam úsque

15 abitum éius ánimo forti átque offirmáto, id módo si mercédís datúr mi, ut meús victor vír belli clúeat.

satis mi esse ducam.

virtús praemium ést optimúm;

virtús omnibús rebus ánteit profécto:

20 libértas salús vita rés et paréntes, patria ét prognáti tutántur, servántur:

virtús omnia ín sese habét, omnia ádsunt bona quém penest vírtus.

Amph.

Édepol me uxori éxoptatum crédo adventurúm domum, 25 quae me amat, quam contra amo, praesertim re gesta bene, victis hostibus: quos nemo posse superari ratust, eos auspicio meo atque ductu primo coetu vicimus.
certe enim méd illi expectatum optato venturum scio.

Sos.

Quid? me non rere expectatum amicae venturum meae?

Alc.

30 Meus vir hic quidem est.

Amph.

Séquere hac tu me.

Alc.

Nam quid ille revortitur qui dudum properare se aibat? án ille me temptat sciens atque id se volt experiri, suom abitum ut desiderem?
ecastor med haud invita se domum recipit suam.

Sos.

Amphitruo, redire ad navem meliust nos.

Amph.

Qua gratia?

Sos.

35 Quia domi daturus nemo est prandium advenientibus.

Am.

Qui tibi nunc istuc in mentemst?

S.

Quia enim sero advenimus.

Amph.

Qui?

Sos.

Quia Alcumenam ante aedis stare saturam intellego.

Amph.

Gravidam ego illanc hic reliqui quóm abeo.

Sos.

Ei perii miser.

Am.

Quid tibi est?

S.

Ad aquam praebendam commodum adveni domum,
40 decumo post mense, ut rationem te putare intellego.

Am.

Bono animo es.

S.

Scin quam bono animo sim? si situlam cepero, numquam edepol tu mihi divini creduis post hunc diem,
ní ego illi puteo, si occepso, ánimam omnem intertraxero.

Amph.

Sequere hac me modo; alium ego isti rei allegabo, ne time.

Al.

45 Magis nunc me meum officium facere, si huic eam advorsum, arbitror.

Amph.

Amphitruo uxorem salutat laetus speratam suam, quam omnium Thebis vir unam esse optimam diiudicat, quamque adeo cives Thebani vero rumiferant probam.
valuistin usque? expectatun advenio?

Sos.

Haud vidi magis.

50 expectatum eum salutat magis haud quicquam quam canem.

Am.

Et quom te †gravidam et quom te pulchre plenam aspicio, gaudeo.

Alc.

Obsecro ecastor, quid tu me deridiculi gratia sic salutas atque appellas, quasi dudum non videris quasique nunc primum recipias te domum huc ex hostibus?
55 atque me nunc proinde appellas quasi multo post videris?

Amph.

Immo equidem te nisi nunc hodie nusquam vidi gentium.

Alc.

Cur negas?

Am.

Quia vera didici dicere.

Al.

Haud aequom facit
qui quod didicit id dediscit. an periclitamini quid animi habeam? sed quid huc vos revortimini tam cito?
60 an te auspiciu commoratum est an tempestas continet qui non abiisti ad legiones, ita uti dudum dixeras?

Am.

Dudum? quam dudum istuc factum est?

Al.

Temptas. iam dudum, modo.

Amph.

Qui istuc potis est fieri, quaeso, ut dicis: iam dudum, modo?

Alc.

Quid enim censes? te ut deludam contra lusorem meum,
65 qui nunc primum te advenisse dicas, modo qui hinc abieris.

Amph.

Haec quidem deliramenta loquitur.

Sos.

Paulisper mane,
dum edormiscat unum somnum.

Amph.

Quaene vigilans somniat?

Alc.

Equidem ecastor vigilo, et vigilans id quod factum est fabulor.
nam dudum ante lucem et istunc et te vidi.

Amph.

Quo in loco?

Al.

70 Hic in aedibús ubi tu habitas.

Am.

Numquam factum est.

S.

Non taces?

quid si e portu navis huc nos dormientis detulit?

Amph.

Etiam tu quoque adsentaris húic?

Sos.

Quid vis fieri?

non tu scis? Bacchae bacchanti si velis advorsarier, ex insana insaniorem facies, feriet saepius;

75 si obsequare, una resolves plaga.

Amph.

At pol qui certa res

hanc est obiurgare, quae me hódie advenientem domum noluerit salutare.

Sos.

Inritabis crabrones.

Amph.

Tace.

Alcumena, unum rogare te volo.

Alc.

Quid vis roga.

Amph.

Num tibi aut stultitia accessit aut superat superbia?

Alc.

80 Qui istuc in mentemst tibi ex me, mi vir, percontarier?

Amph.

Quia salutare advenientem me solebas antidhac, appellare, itidem ut pudicae suos viros quae sunt solent.
eo more expertem te factam adveniens offendi domi.

Alc.

Ecastor equidem te certo heri advenientem ílico, 85 et salutavi et valuissesne usque exquisivi simul, mi vir, et manum prehendi et osculum tetuli tibi.

Sos.

Tun heri hunc salutavisti?

Alc.

Et te quoque etiam, Sosia.

Sos.

Amphitruo, speravi ego istam tibi parituram filium;
verum non est puero gravida.

Amph.

Quid igitur?

Sos.

Insania.

Alc.

90 Equidem sana sum et deos quaeso, ut salva pariam filium.
verum tu malum mágnum habebis, si hic suum officium facit:
ob istuc omen, ominator, capies quod te condecet.

Sos.

Enim vero praegnati oportet et malum et malum dari, ut quod obrodat sit, animo si male esse occeperit.

Amph.

95 Tu me heri hic vidisti?

Alc.

Ego, inquam, si vis decies dicere.

Am.

In somnis fortasse.

Al.

Immo vīgilans vigilantem.

Am.

Ei misero mihi.

Sos.

Quid tibi est?

Amph.

Delirat uxor.

Sos.

Atra bili percita est.

nulla res tam delirantis homines concinnat cito.

Amph.

Vbi primum tibi sensisti, mulier, impliciscier?

Alc.

100 Equidem ecastor sana et salva sum.

Amph.

Quor igitur praedicas, té heri me vidisse, qui hac noctu in portum advecti sumus?

ibi cenavi atque ibi quievi in navi noctem perpetem, neque meum pedem huc íntuli etiam in aedis, ut cum exercitu hinc profectus sum ad Teloboas hostis eosque ut vicimus.

Alc.

105 Immo mecum cenavisti et mecum cubuisti.

Amph.

Quid est?

Alc.

Vera dico.

Amph.

Non de hac quidem hercle re; de áliis nescio.

Alc.

Primulo diluculo abiisti ad legiones.

Amph.

Quo modo?

Sos.

Recte dicit, ut commeminit: somnium narrat tibi.

sed, mulier, postquam experrecta es, te prodigiali Iovi

110 aut mola salsa hodie aut ture comprecata oportuit.

Alc.

Vae capiti tuó.

Sos.

Tua istuc refert — si curaveris.

Alc.

Iterum iám hic in me inclementer dicit, atque id sine malo.

Amph.

Tace tu. tu dic: egone abs te abii hinc hodie cum diluculo?

Alc.

Quis igitur nisi vos narravit mi, illi ut fuerit proelium?

Am.

115 An etiam id tu scis?

Al.

Quippe qui éx te audiui, ut urbem maximam expugnavisses regemque Pterelam tute occideris.

Amph.

Egone istuc dixi?

Alc.

Tute istic, etiam adstante hoc Sosia.

Amph.

Audivistin tu me narrare haec hodie?

Sos.

Vbi ego audiverim?

Am.

Hanc roga.

S.

Me quidem praesente numquam factum est, quod sciam.

Alc.

120 Mirum quin te adversus dicat.

Amph.

Sosia, age me huc aspice.

Sos.

Specto.

Amph.

Vera volo loqui te, nolo adsentari mihi.
audivistin tu hodie me illi dicere ea quae illa autumat?

Sos.

Quaeso edepol, num tu quoque etiam insanis, quom id me interrogas, qui ipsus equidem nunc primum istanc tecum conspicio simul?

Am.

125 Quid nunc, mulier? audin illum?

Al.

Ego véro, ac falsum dicere.

Amph.

Neque tu illi neque mihi viro ipsi credis?

Alc.

Eo fit quia mihi plurimum credo et scio istaec facta proinde ut proloquor.

Am.

Tun me heri advenisse dicis?

Al.

Tun te abiisse hodie hinc negas?

Amph.

Nego enim vero, et me advenire nunc primum aio ad te domum.

Alc.

130 Obsecro, etiamne hoc negabis, te auream pateram mihi dédisse dono hodié, qua te illi donatum esse dixeras?

Amph.

Neque edepol dedi neque dixi; verum ita animatus fui itaque nunc sum, ut ea te patera donem. sed quis istúc tibi dixit?

Alc.

Ego equidem ex te audivi et ex tua accepi manu

135 pateram.

Amph.

Mane, mane, obsecro te. nimis demirror, Sosia, qui illaec illic me donatum esse aurea patera sciat, nisi tu dudum hanc convenisti et narravisti haec omnia.

Sos.

Neque edepol ego dixi neque istam vidi nisi tecum simul.

Am.

Quid hoc sit hominis?

Al.

Vin proferri pateram?

Am.

Proferri volo.

Alc.

140 Fiat. heus tu, Thessala, intus pateram proferto foras, qua hódie meus vir donavit me.

Amph.

Secede huc tu, Sosia, enim vero illud praeter alia mira miror maxime,
si haec habet páteram illam.

Sos.

An etiam credis id, quae in hac cistellula tuo signo obsignata fertur?

Amph.

Salvom signum est?

Sos.

Inspice.

Amph.

¹⁴⁵ Recte, ita est ut obsignavi.

Sos.

Quaeso, quin tu istanc iubes pro cerrita circumferri?

Amph.

Edepol qui facto est opus;
nam haec quidem edepol laruarum plenast.

Alc.

Quid verbis opust?
em tibi pateram, eccam.

Am.

Cedo mi.

Alc.

Age aspice huc sis nunciam tu qui quae facta infitiare; quem égo iam hic convincam palam.
¹⁵⁰ estne haec patera, qua donatu's illi?

Amph.

Summe Iuppiter,
quid ego video? haec ea est profecto patera. perii, Sosia.

Sos.

Aut pol haec praestigiatrix multo mulier maxima est aut pateram hic inesse oportet.

Amph.

Agedum, exsolve cistulam.

Sos.

Quid ego istam exsolvam? obsignatast recte, res gesta est bene:
155 tu peperisti Ámphitruonem, ego alium peperì Sosiam; nunc si patera pateram peperit, omnes congeminavimus.

Amph.

Certum est aperire atque inspicere.

Sos.

Vide sis signi quid siet,
ne posterius in me culpam conferas.

Amph.

Aperi modo;
nam haec quidem nos delirantis facere dictis postulat.

Alc.

160 Vnde haec igitur est nisi abs te quae mihi dono data est?

Amph.

Opus mi est istuc exquisito.

Sos.

Iuppiter, pro Iuppiter.

Am.

Quid tibi est?

S.

Hic patera nulla in cistulast.

AM.

Quid ego audio?

Sos.

Id quod verúmst.

Amph.

At cum cruciatu iam, nisi apparet, tuo.

Al.

Haec quidem apparet.

Am.

Quis igitur tibi dedit?

Al.

Qui me rogat.

Sos.

165 Me captas, quia tute ab navi clanculum huc alia via praecucurrísti, atque hinc pateram tute exemísti atque eam huic dedísti, post hanc rursum óbsignásti clanculum.

Amph.

Ei mihi, iam tu quoque huius adiuvas insaniam?
ain heri nos advenisse huc?

Alc.

Aio, adveniensque ilico

170 me salutavísti, et ego te, et osculum tetuli tibi.

Sos.

Iam illud non placet principium de osculo.

Amph.

Perge exsequi.

Alc.

Lavisti.

Am.

Quid postquam lavi?

Al.

Accubuisti.

S.

Euge optime.

nunc exquire.

Amph.

Ne interpella. perge porro dicere.

Alc.

Cena adposita est; cenavisti mecum, ego accubui simul.

Amph.

¹⁷⁵ In eodem lectó?

Alc.

In eodem.

Sos.

Ei, non placet convivium.

Amph.

Sine modo argumenta dicat. quid postquam cenavimus?

Alc.

Te dormire aibas; mensa ablata est, cubitum hinc abiimus.

Amph.

Vbi tu cubuisti?

Alc.

In eodem lectó tecum una in cubiculo.

Am.

Perdidisti.

Sos.

Quid tibi est?

Am.

Haec me modo ad mortem dedit.

Al.

180 Quid iam, amabo?

Am.

Ne me appella.

S.

Quid tibi est?

A.

Perii miser,
quia pudicitiae huius vitium me hinc absente est additum.

Alc.

Obsecro ecastor, cur istuc, mi vir, ex ted audio?

Amph.

Vir ego tuos sim? ne me appella, falsa, falso nomine.

Sos.

Haeret haec res, si quidem haec iam mulier facta est ex viro.

Alc.

185 Quid ego feci, qua istaec propter dicta dicantur mihi?

Amph.

Tute edictas facta tua, ex me quaeris quid deliqueris.

Alc.

Quid ego tibi deliqui, si, cui nupta sum, tecum fui?

Amph.

Tun mecum fueris? quid illac impudente audacius?
saltem, tute si pudoris egeas, sumas mutuom.

Alc.

190 Istuc facinus, quod tu insimulas, nostro generi non decet.
tu si me inpudicitiai captas, capere non potes.

Amph.

Pro di immortales, cognoscin tu me saltem, Sosia?

Sos.

Propemodum.

Amph.

Cenavin ego heri in navi in portu Persico?

Alc.

Mihi quoque adsunt testes, qui illud quod ego dicam adsentiant.

Sos.

195 Nescio quid istúc negoti dicam, nisi si quispiam est Amphitruó alius, qui forte ted hinc absenti tamen tuam rem curet teque absente hic munus fungatur tuom.
nam quod de illo subditivo Sosia mirum nimis, certe de istoc Amphitruone iam alterum mirum est magis.

Amph.

200 Nescio quis praestigiator hanc frustratur mulierem.

Alc.

Per supremi regis regnum iuro et matrem familias Iunonem, quam me vereri et metuere est par maxume, ut mi extra unum te mortalis nemo corpus corpore contigit, quo me impudicam faceret.

Amph.

Vera istaec velim.

Alc.

205 Vera dico, sed nequiquam, quoniam non vis credere.

Amph.

Mulier es, audacter iuras.

Alc.

Quae non deliquit, decet audacem esse, confidenter pro se et proterve loqui.

Amph.

Satis audacter.

Alc.

Vt pudicam decet.

Am.

†In verbis probas.

Alc.

Non ego illam mihi dotem duco esse, quae dos dicitur, 210 sed pudicitiam et pudorem et sedatum cupidinem, deum metum, parentum amorem et cognatum concordiam, tibi morigera atque ut munifica sim bonis, prosim probis.

Sos.

Ne ista edepol, si haec vera loquitur, examussim est optima.

Amph.

Delenitus sum profecto ita, ut me qui sim nesciam.

Sos.

215 Amphitruo es profecto, cave sis ne tu te usu perdis:
ita nunc homines immutantur, postquam peregre advenimus.

Amph.

Mulier, istam rem inquisitam certum est non amittere.

Alc.

Edepol me libente facies.

Amph.

Quid ais? responde mihi,
quid si adduco tuom cognatum húc a navi Naucratem, 220 qui mecum una vectust una navi, atque is si denegat facta quae tu facta dicis, quid tibi aequom est fieri?
numquid causam dicis, quin te hoc multem matrimonio?

Alc.

Si deliqui, nulla causa est.

Amph.

Convenit. tu, Sosia, duc hos intro. ego huc ab navi mecum adducam Naucratem. —

Sos.

225 Nunc quidem praeter nos nemo est. dic mihi verum serio:
ecquis alius Sosia intust, qui mei similis siet?

Alc.

Abin hinc a me dignus domino servos?

Sos.

Abeo, si iubes. —

Alc.

Nimis ecastor facinus mirum est, qui illi conlibitum siet meo viro sic me insimulare falso facinus tam malum.

²³⁰ quidquid est, iam ex Naucrate cognato id cognoscam meo. —

ACT III.

Iuppiter

Ego sum ille Amphitruo, cui est servos Sosia, idem Mercurius qui fit, quando commodumst, in superiore quí habito cenaculo, qui interdum fio Iuppiter, quando lubet;
5 huc autem quom extemplo adventum adporto, ilico
Amphitruo fio et vestitum immuto meum.
nunc huc honoris vestri venio gratia, ne hanc incohata transigam comoediam;
simul Alcumenae, quam vir insontem probri 10 Amphitruo accusat, veni ut auxilium feram:
nam mea sit culpa, quod egomet contraxerim, si id Alcumenae innocenti expetat.
nunc Amphitruonem memet, út occepi semel, esse adsimulabo, atque in horum familiam 15 frustrationem hodie iniciam maxumam; post igitur demum faciam res fiat palam atque Alcumenae in tempore auxilium feram faciamque ut uno fetu et quod gravida est viro et me quod gravidast pariat sine doloribus.
20 Mercurium iussi me continuo consequi, si quid vellem imperare. nunc hanc adloquar.

Alcymena

Durare nequeo in aedibus. ita me probri, stupri, dedecoris a viro argutam meo!
ea quae sunt facta infecta ut reddat clamitat, quae neque sunt facta neque ego in me admisi arguit;
5 atque id me susque deque esse habituram putat.
non edepol faciam, neque me perpetiar probri falso insimulatam, quin ego illum aut deseram aut sáti faciat mi ille átque adiuret insuper, nolle esse dicta quae in me insontem protulit.

Ivpp.

10 Faciundum est mi illud, fieri quód illaec postulat, si me illam amantem ad sese studeam recipere, quando ego quod feci, id factum Amphitruoni offuit atque illi dudum meus amor negotium insonti exhibuit, nunc autem insonti mihi 15 illius ira in hanc et male dicta expetent.

Alc.

Sed eccum video qui me miseram arguit stupri, dedecoris.

Ivpp.

Te volo, uxor, conloqui.
quo te avortisti? ...

Alc.

Ita ingenium meumst:
inimicos semper osa sum optuerier.

Ivpp.

20 Heia autem inimicos?

Alc.

Sic est, vera praedico;
nisi etiam hoc falso dici insimulaturus es.

Ivpp.

Nimis iracunda es.

Alc.

Potin ut abstineas manum?
nam certo, si sis sanus aut sapias satis,
quam tu impudicam esse arbitrere et praedices,

25 cum ea tú sermonem nec ioco nec serio tibi habeas, nisi sis stultior stultissimo.

Ivpp.

Si dixi, nihilo magis es, neque ego esse arbitror, et id huc revorti uti me purgarem tibi.
nam numquam quicquam meo animo fuit aegrius, 30 quam postquam audivi ted esse iratam mihi.
cur dixisti? inquires. ego expediam tibi.
non edepol quo te esse impudicam crederem;
verum periclitatus súm animum tuom,
quid faceres et quo pacto id ferre induceres.
35 equidem ioco illa dixeram dudum tibi, ridiculi causa. vél hunc rogato Sosiam.

Alc.

Quin huc adducis meum cognatum Naucratem, testem quem dudum te adducturum dixeras,
te huc non venisse?

Ivpp.

Si quid dictum est per iocum,
40 non aequom est id te serio praevortier.

Alc.

Ego illúd scio quam doluerit cordi meo.

Ivpp.

Per dexteram tuam te, Alcumena, oro obsecro, da mihi hanc veniam, ignosce, irata ne sies.

Alc.

Ego istaec feci verba virtute irrita;
45 nunc, quando factis me impudicis abstini, ab impudicis dictis avorti volo.

valeas, tibi habeas res tuas, reddas meas.
iuben mi íre comites?

Ivpp.
Sanan es?

Alc.

Si non iubes,
ibo egomet; comitem mihi Pudicitiam duxero.†

Ivpp.
50 Mane. arbitrato tuo ius iurandum dabo, me meam pudicam esse uxorem arbitrarier.
id ego si fallo, tum te, summe Iuppiter, quaeso, Amphitruoni ut semper iratus sies.

Alc.

A, propitius sit potius.

Ivpp.
Confido fore;
55 nam ius iurandum verum te advorsum dedi.
iam nunc irata non es?

Alc.

Non sum.

Ivpp.
Bene facis.
nam in hominum aetate multa eveniunt huius modi:
capiunt voluptátes, capiunt rursum miserias;
irae interveniunt, redeunt rursum in gratiam.
60 verum irae si quae forte eveniunt huius modi inter eos, rursum si reventum in gratiam est, bis tanto amici sunt inter se quam prius.

Alc.

Primum cavisse oportuit ne diceres, verum eadem si isdem purgas mi, patiunda sunt.

Ivpp.

65 Iube véro vasa pura adornari mihi, ut quae ápod legionem vota vovi, si domum rediissem salvos, ea ego exsolvam omnia.

Alc.

Ego istuc curabo.

Ivpp.

Evocate huc Sosiam;
gubernatorem qui in mea navi fuit 70 Blepharonem arcessat, qui nobiscum prandeat. is adeo ... inpransus ludificabitur, cum ego Amphitruonem collo hinc obstricto traham.

Alc.

Mirum quid solus secum secreto ille agat.
atque aperiuntur aedes. exit Sosia.

Sosia

Ámphitruo, assum. sí quid opus est, impera, imperium éxequar.

Ivpp.

Sosia, optume advenis.

Sos.

Iam pax est inter vos duos?
nam quia vos tranquillos video, gaudeo et volup est mihi.
atque ita servom par videtur frugi sese instituere:
5 proinde eri ut sint, ipse ítem sit; voltum e voltu comparet:
tristis sit, si eri sint tristes; hilarus sit, si gaudeant.

sed age responde: iam vos rediistis in concordiam?

Ivpp.

Derides, qui scis haec dudum me dixisse per iocum.

Sos.

An id ioco dixisti? équidem serio ac vero ratus.

Ivpp.

10 Habui expurigationem; facta pax est.

Sos.

Optume est.

Ivpp.

Ego rem divinam intus faciam, vota quae sunt.

Sos.

Censeo.

Ivpp.

Tu gubernatorem a navi huc evoca verbis meis
Blepharonem, qui re divina facta mecum prandeat.

Sos.

Iam hic ero, cum illic censebis esse me. —

Ivpp.

Actutum huc redi.

Alc.

15 Numquid vis, quin abeam iam intro, ut apparentur quibus opust?

Ivpp.

I sane, et quantum potest parata fac sint omnia.

Alc.

Quin venis quando vis intro? faxo haud quicquam sit morae. —

Ivpp.

Recte loquere et proinde diligentem ut uxorem decet.

iam hisce ambo, et servos et era, frustra sunt duo,

20 qui me Amphitruonem rentur esse: errant probe.

nunc tu divine húc fac adsis Sosia

(audis quae dico, tam etsi praesens non ades), fac Amphitruonem ádvenientem ab aedibus ut abigas; quovis pacto fac commentus sis.

25 volo déludi illunc, dum cum hac usuraria uxore nunc mihi morigero. haec curata sint fac sis, proinde adeo ut velle med intellegis, atque ut ministres mihi, mihi cum sacrificem.

Mercvrvivs

Concéдите atque abscédite omnes, dé via decédite, nec quísquam tam audax fúat homo, qui óbviám obsistát mihi.

nam mihi quidem hercle qui minus liceat deo minitarier populo, ni decedat mihi, quam servolo in comoediis?

5 ille návem salvam nuntiat aut irati adventum senis:

ego sum Iovi dicto audiens, eius iussu nunc huc me adfero.

quam ob rem mihi magis par est via decedere et concedere.

pater vocat me, eum sequor, eius dicto imperio sum audiens;

ut filium bonum patri esse oportet, itidem ego sum patri.

10 amanti subparasitor, hortor, adsto, admoneo, gaudeo.

si quid patri volup est, voluptas ea mi multo maxumast.

amat: sapit; recte facit, animo quando obsequitur suo, quod omnis homines facere oportet, dum id modo fiat bono.

nunc Amphitruonem volt deludi meus pater: faxo probe

15 iam hic deludetur, spectatores, vobis inspectantibus.

capiam coronam mi in caput, adsimulabo me esse ebrium;

atque illuc sursum escendero: inde optume aspellam virum de supero, cum huc accesserit; faciam ut sit madidus sobrius.

deinde illi actutum sufferet suos servos poenas Sosia:

20 eum fécisse ille hodie arguet quae ego feceró hic. quid mea?

meo me aéquomst morigerum patri, eius studio servire addecet.

sed eccum Amphitruonem, advenit; iam ille hic deludetur probe, siquidém vos voltis auscultando operam dare.
ibo intro, ornatum capiam qui potis decet;
25 dein susum ascendam in tectum, ut illum hinc prohibeam.

ACT IV.

Amphitrvo

Naúcratem quem cónvenire vólui, in navi nón erat, neque domi neque in urbe invenio quemquam qui illum viderit.
nam omnis plateas perreptavi, gymnasia et myropolia;
apud emporium atque in macello, ín palaestra atque in foro, 5 in medicinis, in tonstrinis, apud omnis aedis sacras sum defessus quaeritando: nusquam invenio Naucratem.
nunc domum ibo atque ex uxore hánc rem pergá exquirere, quis fuerit quem propter corpus suum stupri compleverit.
nam me, quam illam quaestionem inquisitam hodie amittere, 10 mortuom satiust. sed aedis occluserunt. eugepae, pariter hoc fit atque ut alia facta sunt. feriam foris.
aperite hoc. heus, ecquis hic est? ecquis hoc aperit ostium?

5 ita tanta mira in aedibus sunt facta. vae miserae mihi, animo malest, aquam velim. corrupta sum atque absumpta sum.
caput dolet, neque audio, nec oculis prospicio satis,
nec me miserior femina est neque ulla videatur magis.
ita erae meae hodie contigit. nam ubi parturit, deos síbi invocat, 10 strepitús, crepitus, sonitús, tonitrus: ut subito, ut propere, ut valide tonuit!
ubi quísque institerat, cóncidit crepitu. íbi nescio quis máxuma vóce exclamat: “Alcumena, adest auxilium, ne time:
et tibi et tuis propitius caeli cultor advenit.
exsúrgite” inquit ‘qui terrore meo occidistis prae metu.’ 15 ut iácui, exsurgo. ardére censui aédis, ita tum cónfulgebant.
íbi me inclamat Álcumena; iam éa res me horrore ádficit, erílís praevertít metus: accúrro, ut sciscam quíd velit.
atque illam geminos filios pueros peperisse conspikor;
neque nostrum quisquam sensimus, quom peperit, neque providimus.
20 séd quid hoc? quis hic ést senex, qui ante aédis nostras síc iacet?
numnam hunc percussit Iúppiter?
credo édepol, nam, pro Iúppiter, sepúltust quasi sit mórtuos.
ibo et cognoscam, quisquis est. Amphitruo híc quidem est érus meus.

Brom.

Eadem nos formido timidas terrore impulit in aedibus, tu ubi habitas. nimia mira vidi. vae mihi, Amphitruo, íta mihi animus etiam nunc abest.

Amph.

Haec sola sanam mentem gestat meorum familiarium.

Brom.

Immo omnes sani sunt profecto.

A.

At me uxor insanum facit
suis foedis factis.

Brom.

At ego faciam, tu idem ut aliter praedices,
Ámphitruo, piam et pudicam ésse tuam uxorem ut scias.
35 de ea re signa atque argumenta paucis verbis eloquar.
omnium primum: Alcumena geminos peperit filios.

A.

Ain tu, geminos?

B.

Geminos.

Di me servant.

B.

Sine me dicere,

Brom.

Postquam parturire hodie uxor occepit tua, 40 ubi utero exorti dolores, ut solent puerperae invocat deos immortales, ut sibi auxilium ferant, manibus puris, capite operto. íbi continuo contonat sonitu maxumo; aedes primo ruere rebamur tuas.
aedes totae confulgebant tuae, quasi essent aureae.

Amph.

45 Quaeso absolvito hinc me extemplo, quando satis deluseris.
quid fit deinde?

Brom.

Dum haec aguntur, interea uxorem tuam neque gementem neque plorantem nostrum quisquam audivimus;
ita profecto sine dolore peperit.

Amph.

Iam istuc gaudeo,
utut erga me merita est.

Brom.

Mitte ista atque haec quae dicam accipe.
50 postquam peperit, pueros lavere iussit nos. occepimus.
sed puer ille quem ego lavi, ut magnust et multum valet!
neque eum quisquam colligare quivit incunabulis.

Amph.

Nimia mira memoras; si istaec vera sunt, divinitus non metuo quin meae uxori latae suppetiae sient.

Brom.

55 Magis iam faxo mira dices. postquam in cunas conditust, devolant angues iubati deorsum in impluvium duo maximi: continuo extollunt ambo capita.

Amph.

Ei mihi.

Brom.

Ne pave. sed angues oculis omnis circumvisere.
postquam pueros conspicati, pergunt ad cunas citi.
60 ego cunas recessim rursus vorsum trahere et ducere, metuens pueris, mihi formidans; tantoque angues acrius persequi. postquam conspexit angues ille alter puer, citus e cunis exilit, facit recta in anguis impetum:
alterum alteraprehendit eos manu perniciter.

Amph.

65 Mira memoras, nimis formidolosum facinus praedicas;

nam mihi horror membra misero percipit dictis tuis.
quid fit deinde? porro loquere.

Brom.

Puer ambo angues enicat.
dum haec aguntur, voce clara exclamat uxorem tuam —

A.

Quis homo?

B.

Summus imperator divom atque hominum Iuppiter.
70 is se dixit cum Alcumena clam consuetum cubitibus, eumque filium suum esse qui illos angues vicerit;
alterum tuum esse dixit puerum.

Amph.

Pol me haud paenitet,
si licet boni dimidium mihi dividere cum Iove.
abi domum, iube vasa pura actutum adornari mihi, 75 ut Iovis supremi multis hostiis pacem expetam.
ego Teresiam coniectorem ádvocabo et consulam quid faciendum censeat; simul hanc rem ut facta est eloquar.
sed quid hoc? quam valide tonuit. di, obsecro vostram fidem.

Ivppiter

Bono ánimo es, adsum auxílio, Amphitruo, tibi et tuis:
nihil est quod timeas. hariolos, haruspices mitte omnes; quae futura et quae facta eloquar, multo adeo melius quam illi, quom sum Iuppiter.
5 primum omnium Alcumenae usuram corporis cepi, et concubitu gravidam feci filio.
tu gravidam item fecisti, cú in exercitum profectu's: uno partu duos peperit simul.
eorum alter, nostro qui est susceptus semine,
10 suis factis te immortalí adficiet gloria.

ACT I.

Libanvs

Sicut tuom vis unicum gnatum tuae superesse vitae sospitem et superstitem, ita ted obtestor per senectutem tuam perque illam, quam tu metuis, uxorem tuam, 5 si quid med erga hodie falsum dixeris, ut tibi superstes uxor aetatem siet atque illa viva vivos ut pestem oppetas.

Demaenetvs

Per Dium Fidium quaeris: iurato mihi video necesse esse eloqui quidquid roges.
10 ita me obstinate adgressu's, ut non audeam profecto, percontanti quin promam omnia.
proinde actutum istuc quid sit quod scire expetis

Lib.

Dic obsecro hercle serio quod te rogem,
15 cave mīhi mendaci quicquam.

Dem.

Quin tu ergo rogas?

Lib.

Num me illuc ducis, ubi lapis lapidem terit?

Dem.

Quid istúc est? aut ubi istúc est terrarum loci?

Lib.

Vbi flent nequam homines, qui polentam pinsitant.

apud fústitudinas, ferricrepinas insulas, 20 ubi vivos homines mortui incursant boves.

Dem.

Modo pol percepi, Libane, quid istuc sit loci:
ubi fit polenta, te fortasse dicere.

Lib.

Ah,
neque hercle ego istuc dico nec dictum volo,
teque obsecro hercle ut quae locutu's despuas.

Dem.

25 Fiat, geratur mos tibi.

Lib.

Age, age usque excrea.

Dem.

Etiamne?

Lib.

Age quaeso hercle usque ex penitis faucibus.

Dem.

Nam quo usque?

Lib.

Dem.

Dono te ob istuc dictum, ut expers sis metu.

Lib.

30 Di tibi dent quaecumque optes.

Dem.

Redde operam mihi.

cur hoc ego ex te quaeram? aut cur miniter tibi propterea quod me non scientem feceris?

aut cur postremo filio suscenseam, patres ut faciunt ceteri?

Lib.

Quid istuc novi est?

35 demiror quid sit et quo evadat sum in metu.

Dem.

Equidem scio iam, filius quod amet meus istanc meretricem e proxumo Philaenium.

estne hoc ut dico, Libane?

Lib.

Dem.

Bene hercle facitis ét a me initis gratiam.
verum meam uxorem, Libane, nescis qualis sit?

Lib.

45 Tu primus sentis, nos tamen in pretio sumus.

Dem.

Fateór eam esse importunam atque incommodam.

Lib.

Posterius istuc dicis quam credo tibi.

Dem.

Omnes parentes, Libane, liberis suis, qui mi auscultabunt, facient obsequellam† 50 quippe quí mage amico utantur gnato et benevolo.
atque ego me id facere studeo, volo amari a meis;
volo mé patris mei similem, qui causa mea nauclerico ipse ornatu per fallaciam quam amabam abduxit ab lenone mulierem;
55 neque puduit eum id aetatis sycphantias struere et beneficiis me emere gnatum suum sibi.
eos mé decretumst persequi mores patris.
nam me hodie oravit Argyrippus filius, uti sibi amanti facerem argenti copiam;
60 et íd ego percupio obsequi gnato meo.
volo amoris obsecutum illius, volo amet me patrem.
quamquam illum mater arte contenteque habet, patres ut consueverunt: ego mitto omnia haec.

praesertim quom is me dignum quoi concrederet 65 habuit, me habere honorem eius ingenio decet;
quom me adiit, ut pudentem gnatum aequomst patrem,
cupio esse amicae quod det argentum suae.

Lib.

Cupis id quod cupere te nequiquam intellego.
dotalem servom Sauream uxor tua
70 adduxit, cui plus in manu sit quam tibi.

Dem.

Argentum accepi, dote imperium vendidi.
nunc verba in pauca conferam quid te velim.
viginti iam usust filio argenti minis:
face id ut paratum iam sit.

Lib.

Vnde gentium?

Dem.

75 Me defraudato.

Lib.

Maxumas nugas agis:
nudo detrahare vestimenta me iubes.
defraudem te ego? age síś, tu sine pennis vola.
tene ego defraudem, cui ipsi nihil est in manu, nisi quid tu porro uxorem defraudaveris?

Dem.

80 Qua me, qua uxorem, qua tu servom Sauream potes, circumduce, aufer; promitto tibi non offuturum, si id hodie effeceris.

Lib.

Iubeas una opera me piscari in aere, venari autem rete iaculo in medio mari.†

Dem.

85 Tibi optionem sumito Leonidam, fabricare quidvis, quidvis comminiscere:
perficito, argentum hodie ut habeat filius, amicae quod det.

Lib.

Quid ais tu, Demaenete?

Dem.

Quid vis?

Lib.

Si forte in insidias devenero,
90 tun redimes me, si me hostes interceperint?

Dem.

Redimam.

Lib.

Tum tu igitur aliud cura quid lubet.
ego eo ad forum, nisi quid vis.

Dem.

Ei, bene ambula.
atque audin etiam?

Lib.

Ecce.

Dem.

Si quid te volam,

ubi eris?

Lib.

Vbicumque libitum erit animo meo.

95 profecto nemo est quem iam dehinc metuam mihi ne quid nocere possit, cum tu mihi tua oratione omnem animum ostendisti tuom.
quin te quoque ipsum facio haud magni, si hoc patro.
pergam quo ocepi atque ibi consilia exordiar.

Dem.

100 Audin tu? apud Archibulum ego ero argentarium.

Lib.

Nempe in foro?

Dem.

Ibi, si quid opus fuerit.

Lib.

Meminero. —

Dem.

Non esse servos peior hoc quisquam potest nec magis versutus nec quo ab caveas aegrius.
eidem homini, si quid recte curatum velis, 105 mandes: moriri sese misere mavolet, quam non perfectum reddat quod promiserit.
nam ego illud argentum tam paratum filio scio esse quam me hunc scipionem contui.
sed quid ego cesso ire ad forum, quo inceperam?
110 ... atque ibi manebo apud argentarium. —

Argyrippvs

Sícine hoc fít? foras aédibus me éici?

promerenti optume hoc in preti redditur?
bene merenti mala es, male merenti bona es;
at malo cum tuo, nam iam ex hoc loco 5 íbo ego ad trés viros vóstraque ibi nómina faxo erunt, capitis te perdam ego et filiam, pérlecebrae, pérmities, ádulescentum exitium.
nám mare haud ést mare, vós mare acérrimum;
nam in mari repperi, hic elavi bonis.
10 ingrata atque inrita esse omnia intellego quae dedi et quod bene feci, at posthac tibi mále quod potero fácere faciam, méritoque id faciám tuo.
ego pol te redigam eodem unde orta es, ad egestatis terminos, ego edepol te faciam ut quae sis nunc et quae fueris scias.
15 quae prius quam ístam adii atque amans ego animum méum isti dedi,
sordido vitam oblectabas pane in pannis inopia, atque ea si érant, magnás habebas omnibus dis gratias;
eadem nunc, cum est melius, me, cuius opera est, ignoras mala.
reddam ego te ex fera fame mansuetem, me specta modo.
20 nam isti quid suscenseam ipsi? nihil est, nihil quicquam meret;
tuo facit iussu, tuo imperio paret: mater tu, eadem era es.
té ego ulciscar, té ego ut digna es perdam atque ut de me meres.
at scelesti vident ut ne id quidem, me dignum esse existumat quém adeat, quem conloquatur quoique irato supplicet?
25 atque eccam inlecebra exit tandem; opinor hic ante ostium meo modo loquar quae volam, quoniam intus non licitum est mihi.

Cleareta

Vnum quodque istorum verbum nummis Philippis aureis non potest auferre hinc a me si quis emptor venerit;
nec recte quae tu in nos dicis, aurum atque argentum merumst:
fixus hic apud nós est animus tuos clavo Cupidinis.
5 remigio veloque quantum poteris festina et fuge:
quam magis té in altum capessis, tam aestus te in portum refert.

Argyr.

Ego pol istum portitorem privabo portorio;

ego te dehinc ut merita es de me et mea re tractare exsequar, quom tu med ut meritus sum non tractas atque eicis domo.

Clear.

10 Magis istuc percipimus lingua dici, quam factis fore.

Argyr.

Solus solitudine ego ted atque ab egestate abstuli;
solus si ductem, referre gratiam numquam potes.

Clear.

Solus ductato, si semper solus quae poscam dabis;
semper tibi promissum habeto hac lege, dum superes datis.

Argyr.

15 Qui modus dandi? nam numquam tu quidem expleri potes;
modo quom accepisti, haud multo post aliquid quod poscas paras.

Clear.

Quid modist ductando, amando? numquamne expleri potes?
modo remisisti, continuo iam ut remittam ad te rogas.

A.

Dedi equidem quod mecum egisti.

C.

Et tibi ego misi mulierem:

20 par pari datum hostimentumst, opera pro pecunia.

A.

Male agis mecum.

C.

Quid me accusas, si facio officium meum?

nam neque fictum usquamst neque pictum neque scriptum in poematis

ubi lena bene agat cum quiquam amante, quae frugi esse volt.

Argyr.

Mihi quidem te parcere aequomst tandem, ut tibi durem diu.

Clear.

25 Non tu scis? quae amanti parcet, eadem sibi parcet parum.
quasi piscis, itidemst amator lenae: nequam est, nisi recens;
is habet sucum, is suavitatem, eum quo vis pacto condias, vel patinarium vel assum, verses quo pacto lubet:
is dare volt, is se aliquid posci, nam ibi de pleno promitur; 30 neque ille scit quid det, quid damni faciat: illi rei studet.
volt placere sese amicae, volt mihi, volt pedisequae, volt famulis, volt etiam ancillis; et quoque catulo meo subblanditur novos amator, se ut quom videat gaudeat.
vera dico: ad suom quemque hominem quaestum esse aequomst callidum.

Argyr.

35 Perdidici istaec esse vera damno cum magno meo.

Clear.

Si ecastor nunc habeas quod des, alia verba praehibeas;
nunc quia nihil habes, maledictis te eam ductare postulas.

A.

Non meum est.

C.

Nec meum quidem edepol, ad te ut mittam gratiis.
verum aetatis atque honoris gratia hoc fiet tui, 40 quia nobis lucro fuisti potius quam decori tibi: si mihi dantur duo talenta argenti numerata in manum, hanc tibi noctem honoris causa gratiis dono dabo.

A.

Quid si non est?

C.

Tibi non esse credam, illa alio ibit tamen.

A.

Vbi illaec quae dedi ante?

C.

Abusa. nam si ea durarent mihi,

45 mulier mitteretur ad te, numquam quicquam poscerem.

diem aquam solem lunam noctem, haec argento non emo:

ceterum quae volumus uti Graeca mercamur fide.

quom a pistore panem petimus, vinum ex oenopolio, si aes habent, dant mercem: eadem nos disciplina utimur.

50 semper oculatae manus sunt nostrae, credunt quod vident.

vetus est: 'nihili coactiost' — scis cuius. non dico amplius.

Argyr.

Aliam nunc mi orationem despoliato praedicas, longe aliam, inquam, praebes nunc atque olim, quom dabam, aliam atque olim, quom inliciebas me ad te blande ac benedice.

55 tum mi aedes quoque arridebant, cum ad te veniebam, tuae; me unice unum ex omnibus te atque illam amare aibas mihi;

ubi quid dederam, quasi columbae pulli in ore ambae meo usque eratis, meo de studio studia erant vostra omnia, usque adhaerebatis: quod ego iusseram, quod volueram

60 faciebatis, quod nolebam ac votueram, de industria fugiebatis, neque conari id facere audebatis prius.

nunc neque quid velim neque nolim facitis magni, pessumae.

Clear.

Non tu scis? hic noster quaestus aucupi simillimust.

auceps quando concinnavit aream, offundit cibum;

65 aves adsuescunt: nécesse est facere sumptum qui quaerit lucrum;

saepe edunt: semel si sunt captae, rem solvont aucupi.

itidem hic apud nos: aedes nobis area est, auceps sum ego, esca est meretrix, lectus inlex est, amatores aves;

bene salutando consuescunt, compellendo blanditer,

70 osculando, oratione vinnula, venustula.

si papillam pertractavit, haud est ab re aúcupis;

savium si sumpsit, sumere eum licet sine retibus.

haecine te esse oblitum, in ludo qui fuisti tam diu?

Argyr.

Tua ista culpa est, quae discipulum semidoctum abs te amoves.

Clear.

75 Remeato audacter, mercedem sí eris nactus: nunc abi.

Argyr.

Mane, mane, audi. dic, quid me aequom censes pro illa tibi dare, annum hunc ne cum quiquam alio sit?

Clear.

Tene? viginti minas;

atque ea lege: si alius ad me prius attulerit, tu vale.

A.

At ego est etiam prius quam abis quod volo loqui.

C.

Dic quod lubet.

A.

80 Non omnino iam perii, est relicuom quo peream magis.
habeo unde istuc tibi quod poscis dem; sed in leges meas dabo, uti scire possis, perpetuom annum hunc mihi uti serviat nec quemquam interea alium admittat prorsus quam me ad se virum.

Clear.

Quin, si tu voles, domi sérví qui sunt castrabo viros.

85 postremo ut voles nos esse, syngraphum facito adferas;

ut voles, ut tibi lubebit, nobis legem imponito:

modo tecum una argentum adferto, facile patiar cetera.

portitorum símillumae sunt ianuae lenoniae:

si adfers, tum patent, si non est quod des, aedes non patent. —

Argyr.

90 Interii, si non invenio ego illas viginti minas, et profecto, nisi illud perdo argentum, pereundum est mihi.

nunc pergam ad forum atque experiar opibus, omni copia, supplicabo, exobsecrabo ut quemque amicum videro, dignos indignos adire atque experiri certumst mihi,† 95 nam si mutuas non potero, certumst sumam faenore. —

ACT II.

Libanvs

Hercle vero, Libane, nunc te meliust expergiscier atque argento comparando fingere fallaciam.
iam diu est factúm quom discesti ab ero atque abiisti ad forum, igitur inveniundo argento ut fingeres fallaciam.
5 ibi tu ad hoc diei tempus dormitasti in otio.
quin tu abs te socordiam omnem reice et segnitiem amove atque ad ingenium vetus versutum te recipis tuom.
serva erum, cave tú idem faxis alii quod servi solent, quí ad eri fraudationem callidum ingenium gerunt.
10 unde sumam? quem intervortam? quo hanc celocem conferam?
impetritum, inauguratumst: quovis admittunt aves, picus et cornix ab laeva, corvos parra ab dextera consuadent; certum herclest vostram consequi sententiam.
sed quid hoc, quod picus ulmum tundit? non temerariumst.
15 certe hercle ego quantum ex augurio éius pici intellego, aut mihi in mundo sunt virgae aut atriensi Saureae.
sed quid illúc, quod exanimatus currit huc Leonida?
metuo quom illic obscaevavit meae falsae fallaciae.

Leonida

Vbi ego nunc Libanum requiram aut familiarem filium, ut ego illos lubentiores faciam quam Lubentias?
maximam praedam et triumphum eis adfero adventu meo.
quando mecum pariter potant, pariter scortari solent,
5 hanc quidem, quam nactus, praedam pariter cum illis partiam.

Lib.

Illic homo aedis compilavit, more si fecit suo.
vae illi, qui tam indiligenter observavit ianuam.

Leon.

Aetatem velim servire, Libanum ut conveniam modo.

Lib.

Mea quidem hercle ópera liber numquam fies ocus.

Leon.

10 Etiam de tergo ducentas plagas praegnatis dabo.

Lib.

Largitur peculium, omnem in tergo thensaurum gerit.

Leon.

Nam si huic sése occasionei tempus supterduxerit, numquam edepol quadrigis albis indipiscet postea;
erum in óbsidione linquet, inimicum animos auxerit.

15 sed si mecum occasionem opprimere hanc, quae obvenit, studet, maximas opimitates, gaudio exfertissimas suis eris ille una mecum pariet, gnatoque et patri, adeo ut aetatem ambo ambobus nobis sint obnoxii, nostro devincti beneficio.

Lib.

Vinctos nescio quos ait;

20 non placet: metuo, in commune ne quam fraudem frausus sit.

Leon.

Perii ego oppido, nisi Libanum invenio iam, ubiubi est gentium.

Lib.

Illic homó socium ad malam rem quaerit quem adiungat sibi.
non placet: pro monstro extemplo est, quando qui sudat tremit.

Leon.

Sed quid ego hic properans concessio pedibus, lingua largior?
25 quin ego hanc iubeo tacere, quae loquens lacerat diem?

Lib.

Edepol hominem infelicem, qui patronam comprimat.
nam si quid scelesti fecit, lingua pro illo perierat.

Leon.

Adproperabo, ne post tempus praedae praesidium parem.

Lib.

Quae illaec praeda est? ibo advorsum atque electabo, quidquid est.
30 iubeo te salvere voce summa, quo ad vires valent.

Leon.

Gymnasium flagri, salveto.

Lib.

Quid agis, custos carceris?

Leon.

O catenarum colone.

Lib.

O virgarum lascivia.

Leon.

Quot pondo te esse censes nudum?

Lib.

Non edepol scio.

Leon.

Scibam ego te nescire, at pol ego, qui te expendi, scio:
35 nudus vinctus centum pondo es, quando pendes per pedes.

Lib.

Quo argumento istuc?

Leon.

Ego dicam, quo argumento et quo modo.

ad pedes quando adligatumst aequom centumpondium, ubi manus manicae complexae sunt atque adductae ad trabem, nec dependes nec propendes — quin malus nequamque sis.

Lib.

40 Vae tibi.

Leon.

Hoc testamento Servitus legat tibi.

Lib.

Verbivellationem fieri compendi volo.

Quid istud est negoti?

Leon.

Certum est credere.

Lib.

Audacter licet.

Leon.

Sis amanti subvenire familiari filio, tantum adest boni improvise, verum commixtum malo:

45 omnes de nobis carnificum concelebrabuntur dies.

Libane, nunc audacia usust nobis inventa et dolis.

tantum facinus modo invéni ego, ut nos dicamur duo omnium dignissimum esse, quo cruciatus confluant.

Lib.

Ergo mirabar quod dudum scapulae gestibant mihi,

50 hariolari quae oceperunt, sibi esse in mundo malum.

quidquid est, eloquere.

Leon.

Magna est praeda cum magno malo.

Lib.

Si quidem omnes coniurati cruciamenta conferant, habeo opinor familiare tergum, ne quaeram foris.

Leon.

Si istam firmitudinem animi optines, salvi sumus.

Lib.

55 Quin si tergo res solvenda est, rapere cupio publicum:
pernegabo atque obdurabo, periurabo denique.

Leon.

Em ista virtus est, quando usust qui malum fert fortiter;
fortiter malum qui patitur, idem post potitur bonum.

Lib.

Quin rem actutum edisseris? cupio malum nanciscier.

Leon.

60 Placide ergo unum quidquid rogita, ut adquiescam. non vides me ex cursura anhelitum etiam ducere?

Lib.

Age, age, mansero
tuo arbitratu, vel adeo usque dum peris.

Leon.

Vbinam est erus?

Lib.

Maior apud forumst, minor hic est intus.

Leon.

Iam satis est mihi.

Lib.

Túm igitur tu dives es factus?

Leon.

Mitte ridicularia.

Lib.

65 Mitto. ... istuc quod adfers aures exspectant meae.

Le.

Animum adverte, ut aequè mecum hæc scias.

Li.

Taceo.

Le.

Beas.

meministin asinos Arcadicos mercatori Pellaeo nostrum vendere atriensem?

Lib.

Memini. quid tum postea?

Leon.

Em ergo is argentum huc remisit, quod daretur Saureae 70 pró asinis. adulescens venit modo, qui id argentum attulit.

Lib.

Vbi is homost?

Leon.

Iam devorandum censes, si conspexeris?

Lib.

Ita enim vero. sed tamen, tu nempe eos asinos praedicas vetulos, claudos, quibus subtritae ad femina iám erant ungulae?

Leon.

Ipsos, qui tibi subvectabant rure huc virgas ulmeas.

Lib.

75 Teneo, atque idem te hinc vexerunt vinctum rus.

Le.

Memor es probe.

verum in tonstrina ut sedebam, me inquit percontarier, ecquem filium Stratonis noverim Demaenetum.
dico me novisse extemplo et me eius servom praedico esse, et aedis demonstravi nostras.

Lib.

Quid tum postea?

Leon.

80 Ait se ob asinos ferre argentum átriensi Saureae, viginti minas, séd eum sese non nosse hominem qui siet, ipsum vero se novisse callide Demaenetum.
quoniam ille elocutus haec sic —

Lib.

Quid tum?

Leon.

Ausculata ergo, scies.

extemplo facio facetum me atque magnificum virum,
85 dico med esse atriensem. sic hoc respondit mihi:
“ego pol Sauream non novi neque qua facie sit scio.
te non aequomst suscensere. sí erum vis Demaenetum, quém ego novi, adduce: argentum non morabor quin feras.”
ego me dixi erum adducturum et me domi praesto fore; 90 ille in balineas iturust, inde huc veniet postea.
quid nunc consili captandum censes? dic.

Lib.

Em istuc ago,
quo modo argento intervortam et adventorem et Sauream.
iam hoc opus est † exasceatum; nam si ille argentum prius hospes huc affert, continuo nos ambo exclusi sumus.
95 nam me hodie senex seduxit solum sorsum ab aedibus, mihi tibique interminatust nos futuros ulmeos,
ní hodie Argyrippó éssent viginti argenti minae;
iussit vel nos atriensem vel nos uxorem suam defraudare, dixit sese óperam promiscam dare.
100 nunc tu abi ad forum ad erum et narra haec ut nos acturi sumus:
te ex Leonida futurum esse atriensem Sauream, dum argentum afferat mercator pró asinis.

Leon.

Faciam ut iubes.

Lib.

Ego illum interea hic oblectabo, prius si forte advenerit.

Leon.

Quid ais?

Lib.

Quid vis?

Le.

Pugno malam si tibi percussero,

105 mox cum Sauream imitabor, caveto ne suscenseas.

Lib.

Hercle vero tu cavebis ne me attingas, si sapis, né hodie malo cum auspicio nomen commutaveris.

Leon.

Quaeso, aequo animo patitor.

L.

Patitor tú item, cum ego te referiam.

Leon.

Dico ut usust fieri.

Lib.

Dico hercle ego quoque ut facturus sum.

Leon.

110 Ne nega.

Lib.

Quin promitto, inquam, hostire contra ut merueris.

Leon.

Ego abeo, tu iam, scio, patiere. sed quis hic est? is est, ille est ipsus. iam ego recurro húc. tu hunc interea hic tene.

volò seni narrare.

Lib.

Quin tuom officium facis ergo ac fugis?

Mercator

Vt démonstratae súnit mihi, hasce aédis esse opórtet, Demaenetus ubi dicitur habitare. i, puere, pulta atque atriensem Sauream, si est intus, evocato huc.

Lib.

Quis nostras sic frangit fores? ohe, inquam, si quid audis.

Merc.

5 Nemo etiam tetigit. sanun es?

Lib.

At censebam attigisse propterea, huc quia habebas iter. nolo ego fores conservas meas á te verberarier. sane ego sum amicus nostris.

Merc.

Pol haud periculum est, cardines ne foribus effringantur, si istoc exemplo omnibus qui quaerunt respondebis.

Lib.

10 Ita haec morata est ianua: extemplo ianitorem clamat, procul si quem videt ire ad se calcitronem.
sed quid venis? quid quaeritas?

Merc.

Demaenetum volebam.

Lib.

Si sit domi, dicam tibi.

Merc.

Quid eius atriensis?

Lib.

Nihilo mage intus est.

Merc.

Vbi est?

Lib.

Ad tonsorem ire dixit.

Merc.

15 Conveni. sed post non redit?

Lib.

Non edepol. quid volebas?

Merc.

Argenti viginti minas, si adesset, accepisset.

Lib.

Qui pro istuc?

Merc.

Asinos vendidit Pellaeo mercatori mercatu.

Lib.

Scio. tu id nunc refers? iam hic credo eum adfuturum.

Merc.

Qua facie voster Saurea est? si is est, iam scire potero.

Lib.

20 Macilentis malis, rufulus aliquantum, ventriosus, truculentis oculis, commoda statura, tristi fronte.

Merc.

Non potuit pictor rectius describere eius formam.

Lib.

Atque hercle ipsum adeo contuor, quassanti capite incedit.
quisque obviam huic occesserit irato, vapulabit.

Merc.

25 Siquidem hércle Aeacidinis minis animisque expletus incedit, si med iratus tetigerit, iratus vapulabit.

Leonida

Quid hoc sít negoti, neminem meum dictum magni facere?
Libanum in tonstrinam ut iusseram venire, is nullus venit.
ne ille edepol tergo et cruribus consuluit haud decore.

Merc.

Nimis imperiosust.

Lib.

Vae mihi.

Leon.

Hodie salvere iussi

5 Libanum libertum? iam manu emíssu's?

Lib.

Obsecro te.

Leon.

Ne tu hercle cum magno malo mihi obviam occessisti.
cur non venisti, ut iusseram, in tonstrinam?

Lib.

Hic me moratust.

Leon.

Siquidem hércle nunc summum Iovem te dicas detinuisse atque is precator adsiet, malam rem effugies numquam.

10 tu, verbero, imperium meum contempsisti?

Lib.

Perii, hospes.

Merc.

Quaeso hercle noli, Saurea, mea causa hunc verberare.

Leon.

Vtinam nunc stimulus in manu mihi sit.

Merc.

Quiesce quaeso.

Leon.

Qui latera conteram tua, quae occalluere plagis.

abscede ac sine me hunc perdere, qui semper me ira incendit,

15 cui numquam unam rem me licet semel praecipere furi, quin centiens eadem imperem atque ogganniam, itaque iam hercle clamore ac stomacho non queo labori suppeditare.

iussin, sceleste, ab ianua hoc stercus hinc auferri?

iussin columnis deici operas araneorum?

20 iussin in splendorem dari bullas has foribus nostris?

nihil est: tamquam si claudus sim, cum fustist ambulandum.

quia triduom hoc unum modo foro operam adsiduam dedo, dum reperiam qui quaeritet argentum in faenus, hic vos dormitis interea domi, atque erus in hara, haud aedibus, habitat.

25 em ergo hóc tibi.

Lib.

Hospes, te obsecro, defende.

Merc.

Saurea, oro,
mea causa ut mittás.

Leon.

Eho, ecquis pro vectura olivi rem solvit?

Lib.

Solvit.

Leon.

Cui datumst?

Lib.

Sticho vicario ipsi tuo.

Leon.

Váh, delenire apparas, scio mihi vicarium esse, neque eo esse servom in aedibus eri quí sit pluris quam illest.
30 sed vina quae heri vendidi vinario Exaerambo, iam pró eis satis fecit Sticho?

Lib.

Fecisse satis opinor,
nam vidi huc ipsum adducere trapezitam Exaerambum.

Leon.

Sic dederó. prius quae credidi vix anno post exegi;
nunc satagit: adducit domum etiam ultro et scribit nummos.
35 Dromo mercedem rettulit?

Lib.

Dimidio minus opinor.

Leon.

Quid relicuom?

Lib.

Aibat reddere quom extemplo redditum esset;
nam retineri, ut quod sit sibi operis locatum efficeret.

Leon.

Scyphos quos utendos dedi Philodamo, rettulitne?

Lib.

Non etiam.

Leon.

Hem non? si velis da ... , commoda homini amico.

Merc.

40 Perii hercle, iam hic me abegerit suo odio.

Lib.

Heús iam satis tu.
audin quae loquitur?

Leon.

Audio et quiesco.

Merc.

Tandem, opinor, conticuit. nunc adeam optimum est, prius quam incipit tinnire.
quam mox mi operam das?

Leon.

Ehem, óptume. quam dudum tu advenisti?
non hercle te provideram (quaeso, ne vitio vortas), 45 ita iracundia obstitit oculis.

Merc.

Non mirum factum est.
sed si domi est, Demaenetum volebam.

Leon.

Negat esse intus.
verum istuc argentum tamen mihi si vis denumerare, repromittam istoc nomine solutam rem futuram.

Merc.

Sic potius, ut Demaeneto tibi ero praesente reddam.

Lib.

50 Erus istunc novit atque erum hic.

Merc.

Ero huic praesente reddam.

Lib.

Da modo meo periculo, rem salvam ego exhibebo;
nam si sciat noster senex fidem non esse huic habitam, suscenseat, quoi ómnium rerum ipse semper credit.

Leon.

Non magni pendo. ne duit, si non volt. sic sine astet.

Lib.

55 Da, inquam. vah, formido miser, ne hic me tibi arbitretur suasisse, sibi ne crederes. da, quaeso, ac ne formida:
salvom hercle erit.

Merc.

Credam fore, dum quidem ipse in mánu habebó.
peregrinus ego sum, Sauream non novi.

Lib.

At nosce sane.

Merc.

Sit, non sit, non edepol scio. si is est, eum esse oportet.
60 ego certe me incerto scio hoc daturum nemini homini.

Leon.

Hercle istum di omnes perduint. verbo cave supplicassis.
ferox est viginti minas meas tractare sese.
nemo accipit, aufer te domum, abscede hinc, molestus ne sis.

Merc.

Nimis iracunde. non decet superbum esse hominem servom.

Leon.

65 Malo hercle iam magno tuo, ni isti nec recte dicis.

Lib.

Impure, nihili. non vides irasci?

Leon.

Perge porro.

Lib.

Flagitium hominis. da, óbsecro, argentum huic, ne male loquatur.

Merc.

Malum hercle vobis quaeritis.

Leon.

Crura hercle diffringentur, ni istum impudicum percies.

Lib.

Perii hercle. age impudice,
70 sceleste, non audes mihi scelesto subvenire?

Leon.

Pergin precari pessimo?

Merc.

Quae res? tun libero homini male servos loquere?

Leon.

Vapula.

Merc.

Id quidém tibi hercle fiet,
ut vapules, Demaenetum simul ac conspexero hodie.
in ius voco te.

Leon.

Non eo.

Merc.

Non is? memento.

Leon.

Memini.

Merc.

75 Dabitur pol supplicium mihi de tergo vostro.

Leon.

Vae te.

tibi quidem supplicium, carnufex, de nobis detur?†

Merc.

Atque etiam
pro dictis vestris maledicis poenae pendentur mi hodie.

Leon.

Quid, verbero? ain tu, furcifer? erum nos fugitare censes?
ei nunciam ad erum, quo vocas, iam dudum quo volebas.

Merc.

80 Nunc demum? tamen numquam hinc feres argenti nummum, nisi me
dare iusserit Demaenetus.

Leon.

Ita facito, age ambula ergo.
tu contumeliam alteri facias, tibi non dicatur?
tam ego homo sum quam tu.

Me.

Scilicet. ita res est.

Le.

Sequere hac ergo.
praefiscini hoc nunc dixerim: nemo etiam me accusavit 85 merito meo, neque me alter est Athenis hodie quisquam, cui credi recte aequae putent.

Merc.

Fortassis. sed tamen me
numquam hodie induces, ut tibi credam hoc argentum ignoto.
lupus est homo homini, non homo, quom qualis sit non novit.

Leon.

Iam nunc secunda mihi facis. scibam huic te capitulo hodie 90 facturum satis pro iniuria; quamquam ego sum sordidatus, frugi tamen sum, nec potest peculium enumerari.

Merc.

Fortasse.

Leon.

Etiam † nunc dico Periphanes Rhodo mercator dives absente ero solus mihi talentum argenti soli adnumeravit et mihi cr  didit, nequest deceptus in eo.

Merc.

95 Fortasse.

Leon.

Atque etiam tu quoque ipse, si esses percontatus me ex aliis, scio pol crederes nunc quod fers.

Merc.

Haud negassim. —

ACT III.

Cleareta

Néqueon ego ted interdictis facere mansuetem meis?
an ita tu es animata, ut qui matris éxpers imperio sies?

Philaenivm

Vbi piem Pietatem, si istoc more moratam tibi postulem placere, mater, mihi quo pacto praecipis?

5

Clear.

An decorum est adversari meis te praeceptis?

Phil.

Quid est?

Clear.

Hocine est pietatem colere, matris impérium minuere?

Phil.

Neque quae recte faciunt culpo neque quae delinquent amo.

Clear.

Satis dicacula es amatrix.

Phil.

Mater, is quaestus mihi est:
lingua poscit, corpus quaerit; animus orat, res monet.

Clear.

10 Ego te volui castigare, tu mi accusatrix ades.

Phil.

Neque edepol te accuso neque id me facere fas existimo.
verum ego meas queror fortunas, cum illo quém amo prohibeor.

Clear.

Ecqua pars orationis de die dabitur mihi?

Phil.

Et meam partem loquendi ét tuam trado tibi;
15 ad loquendum atque ad tacendum tute habeas portisculum.
quin pol si reposivi remum, sola ego in casteria ubi quiesco, omnis familiae causa consistit tibi.

Clear.

Quid ais tu, quam ego unam vidi mulierem audacissimam?
quotiens te votui Argyrippum filium Demaeneti 20 compellare aut contrectare, conloquive aut contui?
quid dedit? quid ad nos iussit deportari? an tu tibi verba blanda esse aurum rere, dicta docta pro datis?
ultro amas, ultro expetessis, ultro ad te accersi iubes.
illos qui dant, eos derides; qui deludunt, deperis.
25 an te id exspectare oportet, si quis promittat tibi te facturum divitem, si moriatur mater sua?
†ecastor nobis periculum magnum et familiae portenditur, hic dies summust ... apud me inópie excusatio.

Phil.

Patiar, si cibo carere me iubes, mater mea.

Clear.

Non voto téd amare qui dant quoia amentur gratia.

Phil.

Quid si hic animus occupatust, mater, quid faciam? mone.

C.

Em,

35 meum caput contemples, si quidem ex re consultas tua.

Phil.

Etiam ópilio qui pascit, mater, alienas ovis, aliquam habet peculiarem, qui spem soletur suam.
sine me amare unum Argyrippum ánimi causa, quem volo.

Clear.

Intro abi, nam te quidem edepol nihil est impudentius.

Phil.

Leon.

Edepol virtutes qui tuas non possis conlaudare sic ut ego possim, quae domi duellique male fecisti.
15 ne illa edepol pro merito tuo memorari multa possunt:
ubi fidentem fraudaveris, ubi ero infidelis fueris,
ubi verbis conceptis sciens libenter periuraris, ubi parietes perfoderis, in furto ubi sis prehensus, ubi saepe causam dixeris pendens adversus octo
20 artutos, audacis viros, valentis virgatores.

Lib.

Fateor profecto ut praedicas, Leonida, esse vera;
verum edepol ne etiam túa quoque malefacta iterari multa et vero possunt: ubi sciens fideli infidus fueris, ubi pressus in furto sies manifesto et verberatus, 25 ubi periuraris, ubi sacro manus sis admolitus, ubi eris damno, molestiae et dedecori saepe fueris,
ubi creditum quod sit tibi datum esse pernegaris, ubi amicae quám amico tuo fueris magis fidelis, ubi saepe ad languorem tua duritia dederis octo 30 validos lictores, ulmeis adfectos lentis virgis.
num male relata est gratia, ut collegam collaudavi?

Leon.

Vt meque teque maxime atque ingenio nostro decuit.

Lib.

Iam omitte ista atque hoc quod rogo responde.

Leon.

Rogita quod vis.

Lib.

Argenti vinginti minas habesne?

Leon.

Hariolare.

35 edepol senem Demaenetum lepidum fuisse nobis:
ut adsimulabat Sauream med esse quam facete!

taciti auscultemus.

Leon.

Attatae, modo hercle in mentem venit, nimis véllem habere perticam.

Lib.

Quoi rei?

Leon.

Qui verberarem

45 asinos, si forte occeperint clamare hinc ex crumina.

Argyrippvs

Cur me retentas?

Philaenivm

Leon.

Ne iste hercle ab ista non pedem discedat, si licessit, qui nunc festinat atque ab hac minatur sese abire.

Lib.

15 Sermoni iam finem face tuo, huius sermonem accipiam.

Arg.

Vale.

Phil.

Quo properas?

Arg.

Bene vale, apud Orcum te videbo.

nam equidem me iam quantum potest a vita abiudicabo.

Phil.

Cur tu, obsecro, immerito meo me morti dedere optas?

Arg.

Ego te? quam si intellegam deficere vita, iam ipse

20 vitam meam tibi largiar et de mea ad tuam addam.

Phil.

Cur ergo minitaris mihi, te vitam esse amissurum?

nam quid me facturam putas, si istuc quod dicis faxis?

mihi certum est facere in me omnia eadem quae tu in te faxis.

Arg.

Oh melle dulci dulcior tu es.

Phil.

Certe enim tú vita es mi.

25 complectere.

Arg.

Facio lubens.

Phil.

Vtinam sic efferamur.

Leon.

O Libane, uti miser est homo qui amat.

Lib.

Immo hercle vero,
qui pendet multo est miserior.

Leon.

Scio qui periculum feci.
circum sistamus, alter hinc, hinc alter appellemus.
ere, salve. sed num fumus est haec mulier quam amplexare?

Arg.

³⁰ Quidum?

Leon.

Quia oculi sunt tibi lacrumantes, eo rogavi.

Arg.

Patronus qui vobis fuit futurus, perdidistis.

Leon.

Equidem hercle nullum perdidi, ideo quia numquam ullum habui.

Lib.

Philaenium, salve.

Phil.

Dabunt di quae velitis vobis.

Lib.

Noctem tuam et vini cadum velim, si optata fiant.

Arg.

35 Verbum cave fáxis, verbero.

Lib.

Tibi equidem, non mihi opto.

Arg.

Tum tu igitur loquere quod lubet.

Lib.

Hunc hercle verberare.

Leon.

Quisnam istuc adcredat tibi, cinaede calamistrate?
tun verberes, qui pro cibo habeas te verberari?

Arg.

Vt vestrae fortunae meis praecedunt, Libane, longe,
40 qui hódie numquam ad vesperum vivam.

Lib.

Quapropter, quaeso?

A.

Quia ego hanc amó et haec me amat, huic quod dem nusquam quicquam est,
hinc med amantem ex aedibus eiecit huius mater.
argenti viginti minae me ad mórtem appulerunt, quas hodie aduléscens Diabolus ipsi daturus dixit, 45 ut hanc ne quoquam mitteret nisi ad se hunc annum totum.
videtin viginti minae quid pollent quidve possunt?
ille qui íllas perdit salvos est, ego qui non perdo pereó.

Lib.

Iam dedit argentum?

Arg.

Non dedit.

Li.

Bono animo es, ne formida.

Leon.

Secede huc, Libane, te volo.

Lib.

Si quid vis.

Arg.

Obsecro vos,

50 eadem istac opera suavius complexos fabulari.

Lib.

Non omnia eadem aequè omnibus, ere, suavia esse scito:
vobis est suave amantibus complexos fabulari, ego complexum huius nil moror, meum autem hic aspernatur.
proinde istud facias ipse quod faciamus nobis suades.

Arg.

55 Ego vero, et quidem edepol lubens. interea, si videtur, concedite istuc.

Leon.

Vin erum deludi?

Lib.

Dignust sane.

Leon.

Vin faciam ut te Philaenium praesente hoc amplexetur?

Lib.

Cupio hercle.

Leon.

Sequere hac.

A.

Ecquid est salutis? satis locuti.

Leon.

Auscultate atque operam date et mea dicta devorate.

60 primum omnium servos tuos nos esse non negamus;
sed tibi si viginti minae argenti proferentur, quo nos vocabis nomine?

Arg.

Libertos.

Leon.

Non patronos?

Arg.

Id potius.

Leon.

Viginti minae hic insunt in crumina, has ego, si vis, tibi dabo.

Arg.

Di te servassint semper,

65 custos erilis, decus popli, thesaurus copiarum, salus interioris † corporis amorisque imperator.
hic pone, hic istam colloca cruminam in collo plane.

Leon.

Nolo ego te, quí erus sis, mihi onus istuc sustinere.

Arg.

Quin tu labore liberas te atque istam imponis in me?

Leon.

70 Ego baiulabo, tu, ut decet dominum, ante me ito inanis.

Arg.

Quid nunc?

Leon.

Quid est?

Arg.

Quin tradis huc cruminam pressatum umerum?

Leon.

Hanc, cui daturus es hanc, iube petere atque orare mecum.
nam istuc proclive est, quo iubes me plane collocare.

Phil.

Da, meus ocellus, mea rosa, mi ánime, mea voluptas,
75 Leonida, argentum mihi, ne nos diiunge amantes.

Leon.

Dic me igitur tuom passerulum, gallinam, coturnicem, agnellum, haedillum me tuom dic esse vel vitellum, prehende auriculis, compara labella cum labellis.

Arg.

Ten osculetur, verbero?

Leon.

Quam vero indignum visum est?

80 at qui pol hodie non feres, ni genua confricantur.

Arg.

Quidvis egestas imperat: fricentur. dan quod oro?

Phil.

Age, mi Leonida, obsecro, fer amanti ero salutem, redime istoc benefició te ab hoc, et tibi eme hunc isto argento.

Leon.

Nimis bélla es atque amabilis, et si hoc meum esset, hodie 85 numquam me orares quin darem: illum te orare meliust, illic hánc mihi servandam dedit. ei sane bella belle.
cape hoc sis, Libane.

Arg.

Furcifer, etiam me delusisti?

Leon.

Numquam hercle facerem, genua ni tam nequiter fricares.
age sis tu in partem nunciam hunc delude atque amplexare hanc.

Lib.

90 Taceas, me spectes.

Arg.

Quin ad hunc, Philaenium, adgredimur, virum quidem pol optimum et non similem furis huius?

Lib.

Inambulandum est: nunc mihi vicissim supplicabunt.

Arg.

Quaeso hercle, Libane, sis erum tuis factis sospitari, da mi istas viginti minas. vides me amantem egere.

Lib.

95 Videbitur. factum volo. redito huc conticinno.
nunc istanc tantisper iube petere atque orare mecum.

Phil.

Amandone exorari vis ted an osculando?

Lib.

Enim véro utrumque.

P.

Ergo, obsecro, ét tu utrumque nostrum serva.

Arg.

O Libane, mi patrone, mi trade istuc. magis decorumst 100 libertum potius quam patronum onus in via portare.

Phil.

Mi Libane, ocellus aureus, donum decusque amoris, amabo, faciam quod voles, da istuc argentum nobis.

Lib.

Dic igitur med anitculam, columbam vel catellum, hirundinem, monerulam, passerulum putillum,

Art.

Ille ecastor suppilabat me, quod ancillas meas suspocabar atque insontis miseras cruciabam.

Arg.

Pater,

40 iube dari vinum; iam dudum factum est cum primum bibi.

Dem.

Da, puere, ab summo. áge tu interibi ab infimo da savium.

Art.

Perii misera, ut osculatur carnufex, capuli decus.

Dem.

Edepol animam suaviorem aliquanto quam uxoris meae.

Phil.

Dic amabo, an fetet anima úxorís tuæ?

Dem.

Nauteam

Quid ais, pater?

50 ecquid matrem amas?

Dem.

Egone illam? nunc amo, quia non adest.

Arg.

Quid cum adest?

D.

Periisse cupio.

P.

Amat homo hic te, ut praedicat.

Art.

Ne illa ecastor faenerato funditat: nam si domum

Lar familiaris

Ne quis miretur qui sim, paucis eloquar.
ego Lar sum familiaris ex hac familia unde exeuntem me aspexistis. hanc domum iam multos annos est cum possideo et colo 5 patri avoque iam huius qui nunc hic habet.
sed mí avos huius obsecrans concredidit thensaurum aúri clam omnis: in medio foco defodit, venerans mé ut id servarem sibi.
is quoniam moritur (ita avido ingenio fuit), 10 numquam indicare id filio voluit suo, inopemque optavit potius eum relinquere, quam eum thensaurum commonstraret filio;
agri reliquit ei non magnum modum,
quo cum labore magno et misere viveret.
15 ubi is óbiit mortem qui mihi id aurum credidit, coepi observare, ecqui maiorem filius mihi honorem haberet quam eius habuisset pater.
atque ille vero minus minusque impendio curare mínusque me impertire honoribus.
20 item a me contra factum est, nam item obiit diem.
is ex se hunc reliquit qui hic nunc habitat filium pariter moratum ut pater avosque huius fuit.
huic filia una est. ea mihi cottidie aut ture aut vino aut aliqui semper supplicat, 25 dat mihi coronas. eius honoris gratia feci, thensaurum ut hic reperiret Euclio, quo illam facilius nuptum, si vellet, daret.
nam eam compressit de summo adulescens loco.
is scit adulescens quae sit quam compresserit, 30 illa illum nescit, neque compressam autem pater.
eam ego hódie faciam ut hic senex de proxumo sibi uxórem poscat. id ea faciam gratia, quo ille eam facilius ducat qui compresserat.

et hic qui poscet eam sibi uxorem senex, 35 is adolescentis illius est avonculus, qui illam stupravit noctu, Cereris vigiliis.
sed hic senex iam clamat intus ut solet.
anum foras extrudit, ne sit conscia.
credo aurum inspicere volt, ne subreptum siet.

ACT I.

Evclio

Exi, ínquam. age exi. exeúndum herclé tibi hinc est foras, circumspectatrix cum oculis emissiciis.

Staphyla

Nam cur me miseram verberas?

Evcl.

Vt misera sis

atque ut te dignam mala malam aetatem exigas.

Staph.

5 Nam qua me nunc causa extrusisti ex aedibus?

Evcl.

Tibi egó rationem reddam, stimulorum seges?

illuc regredere ab ostio. illuc sis vide, ut incédit. at scin quo modo tibi res se habet?

si hercle hodie fustem cepero aut stimulum in manum,

10 testudineum istum tibi ego grandibo gradum.

Staph.

Vtinam me divi adaxint ad suspendium potius quidem quam hoc pacto apud te serviam.

Evcl.

At ut scelestas sola secum murmurat.

oculos hercle égo istos, improba, ecfodiam tibi,

15 ne me observare possis quid rerum geram.

abscede etiam nunc — etiam nunc — etiam — ohe, istic astato. si hercle tu ex istoc loco digitum transvorsum aut unguem latum excesseris aut si respexis, donicum ego te iussero, 20 continuo hercle ego te dedam discipulam cruci.

scelestiorem me hac anu certo scio vidisse numquam, nimisque ego hanc metuo male, ne mi ex insidiis verba imprudenti duit
neu persentiscat aurum ubi est absconditum, 25 quae in occipitio quoque habet oculos pessima.
nunc ibo ut visam sitne ita aurum ut condidi, quod me sollicitat plurimis miserum modis. —

Staph.

Noenum mecastor quid ego ero dicam meo malae rei evenisse quamve insaniam, 30 queo comminisci; ita me miseram ad hunc modum decies die uno saepe extrudit aedibus.
nescio pol quae illunc hominem intemperiae tenent:
pervigilat noctes totas, tum autem interdus quasi claudus sutor domi sedet totos dies.
35 neque iam quo pacto celem erilis filiae probrum, propinqua partitudo cui appetit, queo comminisci; neque quicquam meliust mihi, ut opinor, quam ex me ut unam faciam litteram longam, meum laqueo collum quando obstrinxero.

Evcl.

Nunc defaecato demum animo egredior domo, postquam perspexi salva esse intus omnia.
redi núnciam intro atque intus serva.

Staph.

Quippini?
ego intus servem? an ne quis aedes auferat?
5 nam hic apud nos nihil est aliud quaesti furibus, ita inaniis sunt oppletae atque araneis.

Evcl.

Mirum quin tua me causa faciat Iuppiter Philippum regem aut Dareum, trivenefica. araneas mihi ego illas servari volo.
10 pauper sum; fateor, patior; quod di dant fero.
abi intro, occlude ianuam. iam ego hic ero.
cave quémquam alienum in aedis intro miseris.
quod quispiam ignem quaerat, extinguere volo, ne causae quid sit quod te quisquam quaeritet.
15 nam si ignis vivet, tu extinguere extempulo.
tum aquam aufugisse dicito, si quis petet.
cultrum, securim, pistillum, mortarium, quae utenda vasa semper vicini rogant, fures venisse atque abstulisse dicito.
20 profecto in aedis meas me absente neminem volo intro mitti. atque etiam hoc praedico tibi, si Bona Fortuna veniat, ne intro miseris.

Staph.

Pol ea ipsa credo ne intro mittatur cavet, nam ad aedis nostras numquam adit, quamquam prope est.

Evcl.

25 Tace atque abi intro.

Staph.

Taceo atque abeo. —

Evcl.

Occlude sis
fores ambobus pessulis. iam ego hic ero.
discrucior animi, quia ab domo abeundum est mihi.
nimis hercle invitus abeo. sed quid agam scio.
nam noster nostrae qui est magister curiae 30 dividere argenti dixit nummos in viros;
id si relinquo ac non peto, omnes ilico me suspicentur, credo, habere aurum domi.

nam non est veri simile, hominem pauperem pauillum parvi facere quin nummum petat.

35 nam nunc cum celo sedulo omnis, ne sciant, omnes videntur scire et me benignius
omnes salutant quam salutabant prius;
adeunt, consistunt, copulantur dexteras,
rogitant me ut valeam, quid agam, quid rerum geram.
40 nunc quo profectus sum ibo; postidea domum me rursum quantum potero tantum recipiam.

Si lubeat, faciam.

Evn.

35 In rem hoc tuam est.

Meg.

Vt quidem emoriar prius quam ducam.
sed hís legibús si quam dáre vis dúcam:
quae crás veniat, peréndie forás feratur;
his legibús dare vís? cedo: nuptiás adorna.

Evn.

Cum máxima possúm tibi, fratér, dare dote;
40 sed ést grandiór natu: média est múlteris aetas.
eam sí iubes, fratér, tibi me póscere, poscam.

Meg.

Núm non vis me intérogare te?

Evn.

Ímmo, si quid vís, roga.

Meg.

Post mediam aetatem qui media ducit uxorem domum, si eam senex anum praegnatem fortuito fecerit, 45 quid dubitas, quin sit paratum nomen puero Postumus?
nunc ego istúm, soror, laborem demam et deminuam tibi.
ego virtute deum et maiorum nostrum dives sum satis.
istas magnas factiones, animos, dotes dapsiles, clámores, impéria, eburata véhicla, pallas, púrpuram,

50 nil moror quae in servitutem sumptibus redigunt viros.

E.

Dic mihi, quaeso, quis ea est, quam vis ducere uxorem?

M.

Eloquar.

nostin hunc senem Euclionem ex proximo pauperculum?

Evn.

Novi, hominem haud malum mecastor.

Meg.

Eius cupio filiam virginem mihi desponderi. verba ne facias, soror.

55 scio quid dictura es: hanc esse pauperem. haec pauper placet.

E.

Di bene vortant.

M.

Idem ego spero.

E.

Quid me? num quid vis?

M.

Vale.

Evn.

Et tu, frater. —

Meg.

Ego conveniam Eúclionem, si domi est.

sed eccum video. nescio unde sese homo recipit domum.

Evclio

Praesagibat mi animus frustra me ire, quom exhibam domo;

itaque abibam invitus; nam neque quisquam curialium venit neque magister quem dividere argentum oportuit. nunc domum properare propero, nam egomet sum hic, animus domi est.

Meg.

5 Salvos atque fortunatus, Euclio, semper sies.

Evcl.

Di te ament, Megadore.

M.

Quid tu? recten atque ut vis vales?

Evcl.

Non temerarium est, ubi dives blande appellat pauperem. iam illic homo aurum scit me habere, eo me salutat blandius.

Meg.

Ain tu te valere?

Evcl.

Pol ego haud perbene a pecunia.

Meg.

10 Pol si est animus aequos tibi, sat hábes qui bene vitam colas.

Evcl.

Anus hercle huic indicium fecit de auro, perspicue palam est, cui ego iam linguam praecidam atque oculos effodiam domi.

Meg.

Quid tu solus tecum loquere?

Evcl.

Meam pauperiem conqueror.
virginem habeo grandem, dote cassam atque inlocabilem, 15 neque eam queo locare cuiquam.

Meg.

Tace, bonum habe animum, Euclio.
dabitur, adiuvabere a me. dic, si quid opust, impera.

Evcl.

Nunc petit, cum pollicetur; inhiat aurum ut devoret.
altera manu fert lapidem, panem ostentat altera.
nemini credo qui large blandust dives pauperi:
20 ubi manum inicit benigne, ibi onerat aliqua zamia.
ego istos novi polypos, qui ubi quidquid tetigerunt tenent.

Meg.

Da mi operam parumper. paucis, Euclio, est quod te volo de communi re appellare mea et tua.

Evcl.

Ei misero mihi,
aurum mi intus harpagatum est. nunc hic eam rem volt, scio, 25 mecum adire ad pactionem. verum intervisam domum.

Meg.

Quo abis?

Evcl.

Iam ad te revortar: nunc est quod visam domum. —

Meg.

Credo edepol, ubi mentionem ego fecero de filia, mi ut despondeat, sese a me derideri rebitur;
neque illo quisquam est alter hodie ex paupertate parciior.

Evcl.

30 Di me servant, salva res est. salvom est si quid non perit.
nimis malé timui. prius quam íntro redii, exanimatus fui.
redeo ad te, Megadore, si quid me vis.

Meg.

Habeo gratiam.

quaeso, quod te percontabor, ne id te pigeat proloqui.

Evcl.

Dum quidem né quid perconteris quod non lubeat proloqui.

Meg.

35 Dic mihi, quali me arbitrare genere prognatum?

Evcl.

Bono.

M.

Quid fide?

E.

Bona.

M.

Quid factis?

E.

Neque malis neque improbis.

Meg.

Aetatem meam scís?

Evcl.

Scio esse grandem, item ut pecuniam.

Meg.

Certe edepol equidem te civem sine mala omni malitia semper sum arbitratus et nunc arbitror.

Evcl.

Aurum huic olet.

40 quid nunc me vis?

Meg.

Quoniam tu me et ego te qualis sis scio, quae res recte vortat mihique tibiue tuaeque filiae, filiam tuam mi uxorem posco. promitte hoc fore.

Evcl.

Heia, Megadore, haud decorum facinus tuis factis facis, ut inopem atque innoxium abs te atque abs tuis me inrideas.
45 nam de te neque re neque verbis merui ut faceres quod facis.

Meg.

Neque edepol ego te derisum venio neque derideo, neque dignum arbitror.

Evcl.

Cur igitur poscis meam gnatam tibi?

Meg.

Vt propter me tibi sit melius mihique propter te et tuos.

Evcl.

Venit hoc mihi, Megadóre, in mentem, ted esse hominem divitem, 50 factiosum, me autem esse hominem pauperum pauperrimum;
nunc si filiam locassim meam tibi, in mentem venit te bovem esse et me esse asellum: ubi tecum coniunctus siem, ubi onus nequeam ferre pariter, iaceam ego asinus in luto, tu me bos magis haud respicias, gnatus quasi numquam siem.

55 et te utar iniquiore ét meus me ordo inrideat, neutrubi habeam stabile stabulum, si quid divorti fuat:
asini me mordicibus scindant, boves incursent cornibus.
hoc magnum est periculum, ab asinis ad boves transcendere.

Meg.

Quam ad probos propinquitatem proxime te adiunxeris, 60 tam optimum est. tu condicionem hanc accipe, ausculta mihi, atque eam desponde mi.

Evcl.

At nihil est dotis quod dem.

M.

Ne duas.
dum modó morata recte veniat, dotata est satis.

Evcl.

Eo dico, ne me thensauros repperisse censeas.

Meg.

Novi, ne doceas. desponde.

Evcl.

Fiat. sed pro Iuppiter,
65 num égo disperii?

M.

Quíd tibi est?

E.

Quid crepuit quasi ferrum modo? —

Meg.

Hic apud me hortúm confodere iussi. sed ubi hic est homo?

abiit neque me certiolem fecit. fastidit mei, quia videt me suam amicitiam velle: more hominum facit;
nam si opulentus it petitem pauperioris gratiam, 70 pauper metuit congregari, per metum male rem gerit.
idem, quando occasio illaec perit, post sero cupit.

Evcl.

Si hercle ego te non elinguandam dederam usque ab radicibus, impero auctorque ego sum, ut tu me cuivis castrandum loces.

Meg.

Video hercle ego te me arbitrari, Eúclio, hominem idoneum, 75 quem senecta aetate ludos facias, haud merito meo.

Evcl.

Neque edepol, Megadore, facio, neque, si cupiam, copia est.

Meg.

Quid nunc? etiam mihi despondes filiam?

Evcl.

Illis legibus,
cum illa dote quam tibi dixi.

Meg.

Sponden ergo?

Evcl.

Spondeo.

Meg.

Di bene vertant.

Evcl.

Ita di faxint. illud facito ut memineris,
80 convenisse ut ne quid dotis mea ad te afferret filia.

Meg.
Memini.

Evcl.

At scio quo vos soleatis pacto perplexarier:
pactum non pactum est, non pactum pactum est, quod vobis lubet.

Meg.
Nulla controversia mihi tecum erit. sed nuptias num quae causa est quin faciamus hodie?

Evcl.

Immo edepol optuma.

Meg.
85 Ibo igitur, parabo. numquid me vis?

Evcl.

Istuc. ei et vale.

Meg.
Heus, Pythodice, sequere propere me ad macellum strenue. —

Evcl.

Illic hinc abiit. di immortales, obsecro, aurum quid valet.
credo ego illū iam inaudivisse mi esse thesaurum domi.
id inhiat, ea affinitatem hanc obstinavit gratia.
ubi tu es, quae deblateravisti iam vicinis omnibus, meae me filiae daturum dotem? heus, Staphyla, te voco.
ecquid audis? vascula intus pure propera atque elue:
filiam despondi ego: hodie huic nuptum Megadoro dabo.

Staphyla

5 Di bene vortant. verum ecastor non potest, subitum est nimis.

Evcl.

Tace atque abi. curata fac sint cum a foro redeam domum; atque aedis occlude; iám ego hic adero. —

Staph.

Quid ego nunc agam?

nunc nobis prope adest exitium, mi atque erili filiae, nunc probrum atque partitudo prope adest ut fiat palam;
10 quod celatum atque occultatum est usque adhuc, nunc non potest.
ibo intro, ut erus quae imperavit facta, cum veniat, sient.
nam ecastor malum maerore metuo ne mixtum bibam. —

Pythodicvs

Postquam óbsonavit erus et conduxit coquos tibicinasque hasce apud forum, edixit mihi ut dispertirem obsonium hic bifariam.

Anthrax

Me quidem hercle, dicam tibi palam, non divides;
5 si quo tu totum me ire vis, operam dabo.

Congrio

Bellum et pudicum vero prostibulum popli.
post si quis vellet, te haud non velles dividi.

Pyth.

Atque ego istuc, Anthrax, alio vorsum dixeram, non istuc quo tu insimulas. sed erus nuptias 10 meus hodie faciet.

Anthr.

Cuius ducit filiam?

Pyth.

Vicini huius Euclionis senis e proximo.
ei adeo obsoni hinc iussit dimidium dari, cocum alterum itidemque alteram tibicinam.

Anthr.

Nempe huc dimidium dicis, dimidium domum?

Pyth.

15 Nempe sicut dicis.

Anthr.

Quid? hic non poterat de suo senex obsonari filiai nuptiis?

Pyth.

Vah.

Anthr.

Quid negotist?

Pyth.

Quid negoti sit rogas?
pumex non aequè est aridus atque hic est senex.

Anthr.

Ain tandem?

Pyth.

Ita esse ut dixi. tute existuma:

suam rem periisse seque eradicarier.
quin divom atque hominum clamat continuo fidem, de suo tigillo fumus si qua exit foras.
quin cum it dormitum, follem obstringit ob gulam.

Anthr.

25 Cur?

Pyth.

Ne quid animae forte amittat dormiens.

Anthr.

Etiamne obturat inferiorem gutturem, ne quid animai forte amittat dormiens?

Pyth.

Haec mihi te ut tibi med aequom est, credo, credere.

Anthr.

Immo equidem credo.

Pyth.

At scin etiam quo modo?

30 aquam hercle plorat, cum lavat, profundere.

Anthr.

Censen talentum magnum exorari pote ab istóc sene ut det, qui fiamus liberi?

Pyth.

Famem hercle utendam si roges, numquam dabit.
quin ipsi pridem tonsor unguis dempserat:
35 collegit, omnia abstulit praesegmina.

Anthr.

Edepol mortalem parce parcum praedicas.

Pyth.

Censen vero esse parcum et misere vivere?
pulmentum pridem éi eripuit miluos:
homo ad praetorem plorabundus devenit;
40 infit ibi postulare plorans, eiulans, ut sibi liceret miluom vadariet.

sescenta sunt quae memorem, si sit otium.
sed uter vestrorum est celerior? memora mihi.

Anthr.

Ego, et multo melior.

Pyth.

Cocum ego, non furem rogo.

Anthr.

45 Cocum ergo dico.

Pyth.

Quid tu ais?

Cong.

Sic sum ut vides.

Anthr.

Cocus ille nundinalest, in nonum diem solet ire coctum.

Cong.

Tun, trium litterarum homo, me vituperas? fur.

Anthr.

Etiam fur, trifurcifer.

Pyth.

Tace nunciam tu, atque agnum hinc uter est pinguior cape atque abi intro ad nos.

Anthr.

Licet. —

Pyth.

Tu, Congrio,

quem illic reliquit agnum, eum sume atque abi *intro illuc, et vos illum sequimini.

5 vos ceteri ite huc ad nos.

Cong.

Hercle iniuria

dispertivisti: pinguiorem agnum isti habent.

Pyth.

At nunc tibi dabitur pinguior tibicina.

i sane cum illo, Phrugia. tu autem, Eleusium, huc intro abi ad nos.

Cong.

O Pythodice subdole,

10 hucine detrusti me ad senem parcissimum?

ubi si quid poscam, usque ad ravim poscam prius quam quicquam detur.

Pyth.

Stultus et sine gratia es.

† tibi recte facere, quando quod facias perit.

Cong.

Qui vero?

Pyth.

Rogitas? iam principio in aedibus

15 turba istic nulla tibi erit: siquid uti voles, domo abs te adfero, ne operam perdas poscere.

hic autem apud nos magna turba ac familia est, supellex, aurum, vestis, vasa argentea:

ibi si perierit quippiam (quod te scio 20 facile abstinere posse, si nihil obviam est), dicant: coqui abstulerunt, comprehendite, vincite, verberate, in puteum condite.

horum tibi istic nihil eveniet: quippe qui ubi quid subripias nihil est. sequere hac me.

Cong.
Sequor.

Pyth.
Heus, Staphyla, prodi atque ostium aperi.

Staphyla
Qui vocat?

Pyth.
Pythodicus.

Staph.
Quid vis?

Pyth.
Hos ut accipias coquos tibicinamque obsoniumque in nuptias.
Megadorus iussit Euclioni haec mittere.

Staph.
5 Cererin, Pythodice, has sunt facturi nuptias?

Pyth.
Qui?

Staph.
Quia temeti nihil allatum intellego.

Pyth.
At iam afferetur, si a foro ipse redierit.

Staph.
Ligna hic apud nos nulla sunt.

Cong.
Sunt asseres?

Staph.
Sunt pol.

Cong.
Sunt igitur ligna, ne quaeras foris.

Staph.
10 Quid, impurate? quamquam Volcano studes, cenaene causa aut tuae mercedis gratia nos nostras aedis postulas comburere?

Cong.
Haud postulo.

Pyth.
Duc istos intro.

Staph.
Sequimini. —

Pyth.
Curate. ego intervisam quid faciant coqui;
quos pol ut ego hodie servem, cura maxuma est.
nisi unum hoc faciam, ut in puteo cenam coquant:
inde cóctam sursum subducemus corbulis.
5 si aútem deorsum comedent, si quid coxerint, superi incenati sunt et cenati inferi.
sed verba hic facio, quasi negoti nil siet, rapacidarum ubi tantum sit in aedibus.

Evclio
Volui animum tandem confirmare hodie meum, ut bene me haberem filiai nuptiis.
venio ad macellum, rogitō pisces: indicant caros; agninam caram, caram bubulam, 5 vitulinam, cetum, porcinam: cara omnia.
atque eo fuerunt cariora, aes non erat.
abeo íratus illinc, quoniam nihil est qui emam.

ita illis impuris omnibus adii manum.
deinde egomet mecum cogitare intervias 10 occepi: festo die si quid prodegeris, profesto egere liceat, nisi peperceris.
postquam hanc rationem ventri cordique edidi, accessit animus ad meam sententiam, quam minimo sumptu filiam ut nuptum darem.
15 nunc tusculum emi hoc et coronas floreas:
haec imponentur in foco nostro Lari, ut fortunatas faciat gnatae nuptias.
sed quid ego apertas aedis nostras conspikor?
et strepitust intus. numnam ego compilor miser?

Congrio

20 Aulam maiorem, si pote, ex vicinia pete: haec est parva, capere non quit.

Evcl.

Ei mihi,
perii hercle. aurum rapitur, aula quaeritur.
nimirum occidior, nisi ego intro huc propere propero currere.
Apollo, quaeso, subveni mi atque adiuva, 25 confige sagittis fures thesaurarios, si cui in re tali iam subvenisti antidhac.
sed cesso prius quam prorsus perii currere?

Anthrax

Dromo, desquama piscis. tu, Machaerio, congrum, murenam exdorsua quantum potest.
ego hinc artoptam ex proximo utendam peto
a Congrione. tu istum gallum, si sapis, 5 glabriorem reddes mihi quam volsus ludiust.
sed quid hoc clamoris oritur hinc ex proximo?
coqui hercle, credo, faciunt officium suum.
fugiam intro, ne quid turbae hic itidem fuat.

ACT III.

Congrio

†Óptati vires populares, incolae, accolae, ádvenae omnes, date viam qua fugere liceat, facite totae plateae pateant.
neque ego umquam nisi hodie ad Bacchas veni in Bacchanal coquinatum,
ita me miserum et meos discipulos fustibus male contuderunt.
5 totús doleo atque oppidó perii, ita me íste habuit senex gýmnasium;
áttat, perii hercle ego miser, áperit bacchanal, adest, séquitur. scio quam rem geram: hoc ipsús magistér me dócuit.
10 neque lígna ego usquam gentium praebéri vidi púlchrius, itaque ómnis exegit foras, me atque hos, onustos fustibus.

Evclio

Redi. quó fugis nunc? téne, tene.

Cong.

Quid, stólide, clamas?

Evcl.

Quia ad trís viros iam ego déferam nomén tuom.

C.

Quam ob rem?

Evcl.

Quia cultrum habes.

Cong.

Cocum decet.

Evcl.

Quid comminatu's mihi?

Cong.

Istud male factum arbitror, quia nón latus fódi.

Evcl.

5 Homo nullust te scelestior qui vivat hodie, neque quoi égo de industria ámplius male plús libens fáxim.

Cong.

Pol etsí taceas, palam id quidem est: res ipsa testist;
ita fustibus sum mollior magis quam úllus cinaédus.
sed quid tibi nos tactiost, mendice homo?

Evcl.

Quae res?

10 etiam rogitas? an quia minus quam aéquom erat feci?

Cong.

Sine, at hércle cum magnó malo tuo, si hóc caput séntit.

Evcl.

Pol ego haud scio quid post fuat: tuom núnc caput séntit.
sed in aedibus quid tibi meis nam erat negoti me absente, nisi ego iusseram? volo scíre.

Cong.

Tace érgo.

15 quia venimus coctum ad nuptias.

Evcl.

Quid tu, malum, cúras, utrum crudum an coctum ego edim, nisi tu mi es tutor?

Cong.

Volo scire, sínas an non sinas nos coquere hic cenam?

Evcl.

Volo scire ego item, meae domi mean sálva futura?

Cong.

Vtinam mea mihi modo auferam, quae ádtuli, salva:

20 me haud paenitet, tua ne expetam.

Evcl.

Scio, né doce, novi.

Cong.

Quid est quá prohibes nunc gratia nos coquere hic cenam?

quid fecimus, quid diximus tibi secus quam velles?

Evcl.

Etiam rogitas, scelesti homo, qui angulós in omnis mearum aedium et conclavium mihi pervium facitis?

25 ibi ubí tibi erat negotium, ad focum si adesses, non fissile auferres caput: merito id tibi factum est.

adeo ut tu meam sententiam iam noscere possis:
si ad ianuam huc accesseris, nisi iussero, propius, ego te faciam miserrimus mortalis uti sis.

30 scis iam meam sententiam. —

Cong.

Quo abis? redi rursum.

ita me bene amet Laverna, uti te iam, nisi reddi mihí vasá iubes, pípulo hic differam ante aedis.

quíd ego nunc agám? ne ego edepol véni huc auspició malo.
nummo sum conductus: plus iam medico mercedest opus.

Evclio

Hoc quidem hercle, quoquo íbo, mecum erit, mecum feram, neque isti id in tantis periclis umquam committam ut siet.
ite sane nunciam omnes, et coqui et tibicinae, etiam íntro duce, si vis, vel gregem venalium,
5 coquite, facite, festinate nunciam quantum libet.

Cong.

Temperi, postquam implevisti fusti fissorum caput.

Evcl.

Intro abite, opera huc conducta est vostra, non oratio.

Cong.

Heus, senex, pro vapulando hercle égo abs te mercedem petam.
coctum ego, non vapulatum, dudum conductus fui.

Evcl.

10 Lege agito mecum. molestus ne sis. í et cenam coque, aut abi in malum cruciatum ab aedibus.

Cong.

Abi tu modo. —

Evcl.

Illic hinc abiit. di immortales, facinus audax incipit qui cum opulento pauper homine coepit rem habere aut negotium.†
veluti Megadorus temptat me ómnibus miserum modis, qui simulavit mei honoris mittere huc causa coquos:
5 is ea causa misit, hoc qui surriperent misero mihi.
condigne etiam meus med intus gallus gallinacius,
qui érat anu peculiaris, perdidit paenissime.
ubi erat haec defossa, ocepit ibi scalpurrere unguis cirum circa. quid opust verbis? ita mihi pectus peracuit: 10 capio fustem, obtrunco gallum, furem manifestarium.
credo edepol ego illi mercedem gallo pollicitos coquos, si id palam fecisset. exemi ex manu † manubrium.

quid opust verbis? facta est pugna in gallo gallinacio.
sed Megadorus meus affinis eccum incedit a foro.
15 iam hunc non ausim praeterire, quin consistam et conloquar.

Megadorvs

Narravi amicis multis consilium meum de condicione hac. Euclionis filiam laudent. sapienter factum et consilio bono.
nam meo quidem animo sí idem faciant ceteri 5 opulentiores, pauperiorum filias ut indotatas ducant uxores domum, et multo fiat civitas concordior, et invídia nos minore utamur quam utimur, et illaé malam rem metuant quam metuont magis, 10 et nos minore sumptu simus quam sumus.
in maximam illuc populi partem est optimum;
in pauciores avidos altercatio est, quorum animis avidis atque insatietatibus neque lex neque sutor capere est qui possit modum.
15 namque hoc qui dicat “quo illae nubent divites dotatae, si istud ius pauperibus ponitur?”
quo lubeant, nubant, dum dos ne fiat comes.
hoc sí ita fiat, mores meliores sibi parent, pro dote quos ferant, quam nunc ferunt, 20 ego faxim muli, pretio qui superant equos, sint viliores Gallicis cantheriis.

Evcl.

Ita me di amabunt ut ego hunc ausculto lubens.
nimis lépide fecit verba ad parsimoniam.

Meg.

Nulla igitur dicat “equidem dotem ad te adtuli 25 maiorem multo quam tibi erat pecunia; enim míhi quidem aequomst purpuram atque aurum dari, ancillas, mulos, muliones, pedisequos, salutigerulos pueros, vehicla qui vehar.”

Evcl.

Vt matronarum hic facta pernovit probe.

30 moribus praefectum mulierum hunc factum velim.

Meg.

Nunc quoquo venias plus plaustorum in aedibus videas quam ruri, quando ad villam veneris.

sed hoc étiam pulchrum est praequam ubi sumptus petunt.

stat fullo, phyrgio, aurifex, lanarius;

35 caupones patagiarii, indusiarii, flammarii, violarii, carinarii;

stant manulearii, stant † murobatharii, propolae linteones, calceolarii;

sedentárii sutores diabathrarii,

40 solearii astant, astant molocinarii;

petunt fullones, sarcinatores petunt;

stropharii astant, astant semul sonarii.

iam hosce absolutos censeas: cedunt, petunt treceni, cum stant thylacistae in atriis

45 textores limbularii, arcularii.

ducuntur, datur aes. iam absolutos censeas, cum incedunt infectores corcotarii, aut aliqua mala crux semper est, quae aliquid petat.

Evcl.

Compellarem ego illum, ni metuam ne desinat

50 memorare mores mulierum: nunc sic sinam.

Meg.

Vbi nugivendis res soluta est omnibus, ibi ad postremum cedit miles, aes petit.

itur, putatur ratio cum argentario;

miles inpransus astat, aes censet dari.

55 ubi disputata est ratio cum argentario, etiam ipso ultro debet argentario:
spes prorogatur militi in alium diem.
haec sunt atque aliae multae in magnis dotibus incommoditates sumptusque intolerabiles.
60 nam quae indotata est, ea in potestate est viri;
dotatae mactant et malo et damno viros.
sed eccum adfinem ante aedes. quid agis, Euclio?

Evcl.

Nimium lubenter edi sermonem tuum.

Meg.

An audivisti?

Evcl.

Vsque a principio omnia.

Meg.

Tamen meo quidem animo aliquanto facias rectius, si nitidior sis filii nuptiis.

Evcl.

5 Pro re nitorem et gloriam pro copia qui habent, meminerunt sese unde oriundi sient.
neque pol, Megadore, mihi neque quoquam pauperi opinione melius res structa est domi.

Meg.

Immo est quod satis est, et di faciant ut siet
10 plus plusque et istuc sospitent quod nunc habes.

Evcl.

Illud mihi verbum non placet 'quod nunc habes.'

tam hoc scit me habere quam egomet. anus fecit palam.

Meg.

Quid tu te solus e senatu sevocas?

Evcl.

Pol ego ut te accusem merito meditabar.

Meg.

Quid est?

Evcl.

15 Quid sit me rogitas? qui mihi omnis angulos furum implevisti in aedibus misero mihi, qui mi intro misti in aedis quingentos coquos,
cum senis manibus, genere Geryonaceo;
quos si Argus servet, qui oculus totus fuit, 20 quem quondam Ioni Iuno custodem addidit, is numquam servet. praeterea tibicinam,
quae mi interbibere sola, si vino scatat, Corinthiensem fontem Pirenam potest.
tum obsonium autem —

Meg.

Pol vel legionem sat est.

25 etiam agnum misi.

Evcl.

Quo quidem agno sat scio magis curionem nusquam esse ullam beluam.

Meg.

Volo ego ex te scire qui sit agnus curio.

Evcl.

Quia ossa ac pellis totust, ita cura macet.
quin exta inspicere in sole ei vivo licet:
30 ita is pellucet quasi lanterna Punica.

Meg.

Caedundum conduxī égo illum.

Evcl.

Tum tu idem optumumst loces éfferendum; nam iam, credo, mortuost.

Meg.

Potare ego hodie, Euclio, tecum volo.

Evcl.

Non potem égo quidem hercle.

Meg.

At ego iussero
35 cadum unum vini veteris a me adferrier.

Evcl.

Nolo hercle, nam mihi bibere decretum est aquam.

Meg.

Ego te hodie reddam madidum, si vivo, probe, tibi cui decretum est bibere aquam.

Evcl.

Scio quam rem agat:
ut me deponat vino, eam adfectat viam, 40 post hoc quod habeo ut commutet coloniam.
ego id cavebo, nam alicubi abstrudam foris.
ego faxo et operam et vinum perdiderit simul.

Meg.

Ego, nisi quid me vis, eo lavatum, ut sacrificem. —

Evcl.

Edepol, ne tu, aula, multos inimicos habes

45 atque istuc aurum quod tibi concreditum est.

nunc hoc mihi factu est optimum, ut ted auferam, aula, in Fidei fanum: ibi abstrudam probe.

Fides, novisti me et ego te: cave sis tibi, ne in me mutassis nomen, si hoc concreduo.

50 ibo ad te fretus tua, Fides, fiducia. —

ACT IV.

Strobilus

Hóc est servi facinus frugi, facere quod ego persequor, ne morae molestiaeque imperium erile habeat sibi.
nam qui ero ex sententia servire servos postulat,
in erum matura, in se sera condecet capessere.
5 sin dormitet, ita dormitet, servom sese ut cogitet.
nám qui amanti ero sêrvitutum servit, quasi ego servio, si érum videt superare amorem, hoc servi esse officium reor, retinere ad salutem, non enim quo incumbat eo impellere.
quasi pueri qui nare discunt scirpea induitur ratis, 10 qui laborent minus, facilius ut nent et moveant manus, eodem modo servom ratem esse amanti ero aequom censeo, ut eum toleret, ne pessum abeat tamquam

* *

† erile imperium ediscat, ut quod frons velit oculi sciant;
quod iubeat citis quadrigis citius properet persequi.
15 qui éa curabit, abstinebit censione bubula, nec sua opera rediget umquam ín splendorem compedes.
nunc erus meus amat fíliam huius Euclionis pauperis;
eam ero nunc renuntiatum est nuptum huic Megadoro dari.
is speculatum huc misit me, ut quae fierent fieret particeps.
20 nunc sine omní suspicione in ara hic adsidam sacra;
hinc ego et huc et illuc potero quid agant arbitrarier.

Evclio

Tu modo cave quoiquam indicassis aurum meum esse istic, Fides:
non metuo ne quisquam inveniat, ita probe in latebris situmst.
edepol ne illic pulchram praedam agát, si quis illam invenerit aulam onustam auri; verum id te quaeso ut prohibeassis, Fides.
5 nunc lavabo, ut rem divinam faciam, ne affinem morer quin ubi accersát meam extemplo filiam ducat domum.
vide, Fides, etiam atque etiam nunc, salvam ut aulam abs te auferam:

tuae fide concredidi aurum, in tuo luco et fano est situm. —

Strob.

Di immortales, quod ego hunc hominem facinus audivi loqui:

10 se aulam onustam auri abstrusisse hic intus in fano Fide.

cave tu illi fidelis, quaeso, potius fueris, quam mihi.

atque hic pater est, ut ego opinor, huius, erus quám amat, virginis.

ibo hinc intro, perscrutabor fanum, si inveniam uspiam aurum, dúm hic est occupatus. sed si repperero, o Fides, 15 mulsi congialem plenam faciam tibi fideliam.

id adeo tibi faciam; verum ego mihi bibam, ubi id fecero. —

Evclio

Non temere est quod corvos cantat mihi nunc ab laeva manu;

semul radebat pedibus terram et voce croccibat sua:

continuo meum cor coepit artem facere ludicram atque in pectus emicare. sed ego cesso currere?

I foras, lumbrice, qui sub terra erepsisti modo, qui modo nusquam comparebas, nunc, cum compares, peris.

ego pol te, praestrigiator, miseris iam accipiam modis.

Strobilvs

Quae te mala crux agitat? quid tibi mecum est commercii, senex?

5 quid me adflictas? quid me raptas? qua me causa verberas?

Evcl.

Verberabilissime, etiam rogitas, non fur, sed trifur?

Strob.

Quid tibi súrrupui?

Evcl.

Redde huc sis.

Strob.

Quid tibi vis reddam?

Evcl.

Rogas?

Strob.

Nil equidem tibi abstuli.

Evcl.

At illud quod tibi abstuleras cedo.
ecquid agis?

Strob.

Quid agám?

E.

Auferre non potes.

St.

Quid vis tibi?

Evcl.

¹⁰ Pone.

Strob.

Id quidem pol te datare credo consuetum, senex.

Evcl.

Pone hoc sis, aufer cavillam, non ego nunc nugas ago.

Strob.

Quid ego ponam? quin tu eloquere quidquid est suo nomine.
non hercle equidem quicquam sumpsi nec tetigi.

Evcl.

Ostende huc manus.

Strob.

Em tibi, ostendi, eccas.

Evcl.

Video. age ostende etiam tertiam.

Strob.

15 Laruae hunc atque intemperiae insaniaeque agitant senem.
facisne iniuriam mihi?

Evcl.

Fateor, quia non pendes, maximam.
atque id quoque iam fiet, nisi fatere.

Strob.

Quid fatear tibi?

Evcl.

Quid abstulisti hinc?

S.

Di me perdant. si ego tui quicquam abstuli nive adeo abstulisse vellem.

Evcl.

Agedum, excutedum pallium.

Strob.

20 Tuo arbitrato.

E.

Ne inter tunicas habeas.

S.

Tempta qua lubet.

Evcl.

Vah, scelestus quam benigne: ut ne abstulisse intellegam.
novi sycophantias. age rusum óstende huc manum dexteram.

S.

Em.

E.

Nunc laevam ostende.

S.

Quin equidem ambas profero.

E.

Iam scrutari mitto. redde huc.

S.

Quid reddam?

E.

A, nugas agis,
25 certe habes.

S.

Habeo ego? quid habeo?

E.

Non dico, audire expetis.
id meum, quidquid habes, redde.

Strob.

Insanis: perscrutatus es
tuo arbitratu, neque tui me quicquam invenisti penes.

Evcl.

Máne, mane. quis illic est? quis hic íntus alter érat tecum simul?

perii hercle: ille nunc íntus turbat, hunc si amitto hic abierit.
30 postremo hunc iam perscrutavi, hic nihil habet. abi quo lubet.

Strob.

Iuppiter te dique perdant.

Evcl.

Haud male egit gratias.

ibo intro atque illi socienno tuo iam interstringam gulam.

fugin hinc ab oculis? abin an non?

S.

Abeo.

E.

Cave sis † te videam. —

Strob.

Emortuom ego me mavelim leto malo quam non ego illi dém hodie insidias seni.

nam híc iam non audebit aurum abstrudere:

credo ecferet iam secum et mutabit locum.

5 attat, foris crépuit. senex eccum aurum ecfert foras.

tantisper huc ego ad iánuam concessero.

Evclio

Fide censebam maxumam multo fidem esse, ea sublevit os mihi paenissume:

ni subvenisset corvos, periissem miser.

nimis hercle ego illum corvom ad me veniat velim,

5 qui indicium fecit, ut ego ílli aliquid boni dicam; nam quod edit tam duim quam perduim.

nunc hoc ubi abstrúdam cogito solum locum.

Silvani lucus extra murum est avius, crebro salicto oppletus. ibi sumam locum.

10 certumst, Silvano potius credam quam Fide. —

Strob.

Euge, euge, di me salvom et servatum volunt.
iam ego illúc praecurram atque inscendam aliquam in arborem indeque óbservabo, aúrum ubi abstrudat senex.
quamquam hic manere mé erus sese iusserat;
15 certum est, malam rem potius quaeram cum lucro. —

Lyconides

Dixi tibi, mater, iuxta rem mecum tenes, super Euclionis filia. nunc te obsecro resecroque, mater, quod dudum obsecraveram:
fac mentionem cum avonculo, mater mea.

Evnomia

5 Scis tute facta velle me quae tu velis, et istúc confido a fratre me impetrassere;
et causa iusta est, siquidem ita est ut praedicas, te eam cómpressisse vinulentum virginem.

Lyc.

Egone ut te advorsum mentiar, mater mea?

Phaedrivm

10 Perii, mea nutrix. obsecro te, uterum dolet.
Iuno Lucina, tuam fidem!

Lyc.

Em, mater mea,
tibi rem potiolem verbo: clamat, parturit.

Evn.

Ei hac intro mecum, gnate mi, ad fratrem meum, ut istúc quod me oras impetratum ab eo auferam. —

Lyc.

15 I, iam sequor te, mater. sed servom meum Strobilum miror ubi sit, quem ego me iusseram hic opperiri. nunc ego mecum cogito:

si mihi dat operam, me illi irasci iniurium est.
ibo intro, ubí de capite meo sunt comitia. —

Strobilvs

Picis divitiis, qui aureos montes colunt, ego solus supero. nam istos reges ceteros memorare nolo, hominum mendicabula:
ego sum ille rex Philippus. o lepidum diem.
5 nam ut dudum hinc abii, multo illo adveni prior multoque prius me conlocavi in arborem indéque spectabam áurum ubi abstrúdebat senex.
ubi ille ábiit, ego me deorsum duco de arbore, exfodio aulam auri plenam. inde ex eo loco 10 video recipere se senem; ille me non videt, nam ego declinavi paululum me extra viam.
attat, eccum ipsum. íbo ut hoc condem domum. —

Evclio

Perii ínterii occidi. quó curram? quo nón curram? tene, téne. quem?
quis?
nesció, nil video, caécus eo atque equidém quo eam aut ubi sim aút qui sim nequeó cum animo certum ínvestigare. óbsecro vos ego, mi aúxilio, oro óbtestor, sitís et hominem demónstretis, quis eam ábstulerit.
5 quid est? quíd ridetis? nóvi omnes, scio fúres esse hic cómplures, qui véstitu et creta óccultant sese átque sedent quasi sínt frugi.
quid aís tu? tibi crédere certum est, nam essé bonum ex voltu cógnosco.
hem, némo habet horum? occídisti. dic ígitur, quis habet? néscis?
heu mé miserum, miseré perii, 10 male pérditus, pessime ornatus eo:
tantúm gemit et mali maéstitiaeque hic diés mi optulít, famem et paúperiem.
perditíssimus ego sum omnium ín terra;
nam quid mi ópust vita, qui tántum auri 15 perdidí, quod concustódivi sedúlo? egomet me défraudavi animúmque meum geniúmque meum;

nunc eó alii laetíficantur meo málo et damno. pati néqueo.

Lyconides

20 Quínam homo hic ante aédis nostras éiulans conquéritur maerens?
átque hic quidem Euclio ést, ut opinor. óppido ego interií: palamst res, scit peperisse iam, ut ego opinor, filiam suam. nunc mi incertumst abeam an maneam, an adeam an fugiam. quid agam édepol nescio.

Evcl.

Quís homo hic loquitur?

Lyc.

Égo sum miser.

Evcl.

Immo égo sum, et misere pérditus, cui tanta mala maestitudoque optigit.

Lyc.

Animo bono es.

Evcl.

Quo, obsecro, pacto esse possum?

L.

Quia istuc facinus, quod tuom sollicitat animum, id ego feci et fateor.

Evcl.

Quid ego ex te audio?

Lyc.

5 Id quod verumst.

E.

Quid ego de te commerui, adulescens, mali, quam ob rem ita faceres meque meosque perditum ires liberos?

Lyc.

Deus impulsor mihi fuit, is me ád illam inlexit.

Evcl.

Quo modo?

Lyc.

Fateor peccavisse ét me culpam commeritum scio;
id adeo te oratum advenio ut animo aequo ignoscas mihi.

Evcl.

10 Cur id ausu's facere, ut id quod non tuom esset tangeres?

Lyc.

Quid vis fieri? factum est illud: fieri infectum non potest.
deos credo voluisse; nam ni vellent, non fieret, scio.

Evcl.

At ego deos credo voluisse ut ápod me te in nervo enicem.

Lyc.

Ne ístuc dixis.

Evcl.

Quid tibi ergo meam me invito tactiost?

Lyc.

15 Quia vini vitio atque amoris feci.

Evcl.

Homo audacissime,
cum istacin te oratione huc ad me adire ausum, impudens!
nam si istuc ius est ut tu istuc excusare possies, luci claro deripiamus aurum matronis palam, post id si prehensi simus, excusemus ebrios 20 nos fecisse amoris causa. nimis vilest vinum atque amor, si ebrio atque amanti impune facere quod lubeat licet.

Lyc.

Quin tibi ultro supplicatum venio ob stultitiam meam.

Evcl.

Non mi homines placent qui quando male fecerunt purigant.
tu illam scibas non tuam esse: non attactam oportuit.

Lyc.

25 Ergo quia sum tangere ausus, haud causificor quin eam ego habeam potissimum.

Evcl.

Tun habeas me invito meam?

Lyc.

Haud te invito postulo; sed meam esse oportere arbitror.
quin tu iam invenies, inquam, meam illam esse oportere, Euclio.

Evcl.

Iam quidem hercle te ad praetorem rapiam et tibi scribam dicam, 30 nisi refers.

Lyc.

Quid tibi ego referam?

Evcl.

Quod surripuisti meum.

Lyc.

Surripui ego tuom? unde? aut quid id est?

E.

Ita te amabit Iuppiter,
ut tu nescis.

Lyc.

Nisi quidem tu mihi quid quaeras dixeris.

Evcl.

Aulam auri, inquam, te reposco, quam tu confessu's mihi te abstulisse.

Lyc.

Neque edepol ego dixi neque feci.

Evcl.

Negas?

Lyc.

35 Pernego immo. nam neque ego aurum neque istaec aula quae siet scio nec novi.

Evcl.

Illam, ex Silvani luco quam abstuleras, cedo.
i, refer. dimidiam tecum potius partem dividam.
tam etsi fur mihi es, molestus non ero. i vero, refer.

Lyc.

Sanus tu non es qui furem me voces. ego te, Euclio,
40 dé alia re rescivisse censui, quod ad me attinet;
† magna est res quam ego tecum otiose, si otium est, cupio loqui.

Evcl.

Dic bona fide: tu id aurum non surripuisti?

Lyc.

Bona.

E.

Neque eum scis qui abstulerit?

L.

Istuc quoque bona.

E.

Atque id si scies
qui abstulerit, mihi indicabis?

Lyc.

Faciam.

Evcl.

Neque partem tibi

45 ab eo qui habet indipisces neque furem excipies?

Lyc.

Ita.

Evcl.

Quid si fallis?

Lyc.

Tum me faciat quod volt magnus Iuppiter.

Evcl.

Sat habeo. age nunc loquere quid vis.

Lyc.

Si me novisti minus,
génere quo sim gnátus: hic mihi ést Megadorus avonculus, meus pater fuit Antímachus, ego vocor Lyconides, 50 mater est Eunomia.

Evcl.

Novi genus. nunc quid vis? id volo noscere.

Lyc.

Filiam ex te tú habes.

Evcl.

Immo éccillam domi.

Lyc.

Eam tu despondisti, opinor, meo avonculo.

Evcl.

Omnem rem tenes.

Lyc.

Is me nunc renuntiare repudium iussit tibi.

Evcl.

Repudium rebus paratis, exornatis nuptiis?
55 ut illum di immortales omnes deaeque quantum est perdunt, quem propter hodie auri tantum perdidisti infelix, miser.

Lyc.

Bono animo es, bene dice. nunc quae res tibi et gnatae tuae bene feliciterque vortat — ita di faxint, inquito.

Evcl.

Ita di faciant.

Lyc.

Et mihi ita di faciant. audi nunciam.

60 qui homo culpam admisit in se, nullust tam parvi preti, quom pudeat, quin purget sese. nunc te obtestor, Euclio, ut si quid ego erga te imprudens peccavi aut gnatam tuam, ut mi ignoscas eamque uxorem mihi des, ut leges iubent.
ego me iniuriam fecisse filiae fateor tuae,

65 Cereris vigiliis, per vinum atque impulsu adulescentiae.

Eucl.

Ei mihi, quód ego facinus ex te aúdio?

Lyc.

Cur eiulas,

quém ego avom feci iam ut esses filiai nuptiis?

nam tua gnata peperit, decumo mense post: numerum cape;
ea re repudium remisit avonculus causa mea.

70 i intro, exquaere, sitne ita ut ego praedico.

Eucl.

Perii oppido,

ita mihi ad malum malae res plurimae se adglutinant.

ibo intro, ut quid huius verum sit sciam. —

Lyc.

Iam te sequor.

haec própemodum iam esse ín vado salútis res vidétur.

nunc servom esse ubi dicam meum Strobilum non reperio;

75 nisi etiam hic opperiar tamen paulisper; postea intro hunc subsequar. nunc interim spatium ei dabo exquirendi meum factum ex gnatae pedisequa nutrice anu: ea rem novit.

ACT V.

Strobilus

Di ímmortales, quíbus et quantis mé donatis gaúdiis.
quadrilibrem aulam aúro onustam hábeo. quis me est ditior?
quis me Athenis nunc magis quisquam est homo cui di sint propitii?

igitur orabo ut manu me emittat. ibo atque eloquar.

10 repperi —

Lyc.

Quid repperisti?

Strob.

Non quod pueri clamitant in faba se repperisse.

Lyc.

Iamne autem, ut soles? deludis.

S.

Ere, mane, eloquar iam, ausculta.

L.

Age ergo loquere.

S.

Repperi hodie,
ere, divitias nimias.

Lyc.

Égone te emittám manu,
scélerum cumulatissime?

Strob.

lépide hercle animum tuom temptavi. iám ut eriperes apparabas:
20 quid faceres, si repperissem?

Lyc.

Non potes probasse nugas.
i, redde aurum.

Strob.

Reddam ego aurum?

Lyc.

Redde, inquam, út huic reddatur.

Strob.

Bacchis.

Quíd si hoc potis est út tu taceas, égo loquar?

Soror.

Lepidé, licet.

Bacch.

Vbi me fugiet memoria, ibi tu facito ut subvenias, soror.

Sor.

Pol magis metuo, ne defuerit mi in monendo oratio.

Bacch.

Pol ego metuo, lusciniolae ne defuerit cantio.

5 sequere hac.

Pistoclervs.

Quid agunt duae germanae meretrices cognomines?

quid in consilio consuluistis?

Bacch.

Bene.

Pist.

Pol haud meretricium est.

Bacch.

Miserius nihil est quam mulier.

Pist.

Quid esse dices dignius?

Bacch.

Haec ita me orat, sibi qui caveat aliquem ut hominem reperiam, ut istunc militem — ut, ubi emeritum sibi sit, se revehat domum.

10 id, amabo te, huic caveas.

Pist.

Quid isti caveam?

B.

Vt revehatur domum, ubi ei dediderit operas, ne hanc ille habeat pro ancilla sibi;
nam si haec habeat aurum quod illi remuneret, faciat lubens.

P.

Vbi nunc is homost?

B.

Iam hic credo aderit. sed hoc idem apud nos rectius poteris agere; atque is dum veniat, sedens ibi opperibere.
15 eadem biberis, eadem dedero tibi, ubi biberis, savium.

P.

Viscus merus vostrast blanditia.

B.

Quid iam?

P.

Quia enim intellego, duae unum éxpetitis palumbem, † perii harundo alas verberat.
non ego istúc facinus mihi, mulier, conducibile esse arbitror.

Bacch.

Quí, amabo?

Pist.

Quia, Bacchis, bacchas metuo et bacchanal tuom.

Bacch.

20 Quid est? quid metuis? ne tibi lectus malitiam apud me suadeat?

Pist.

Magis illectum tuom quam lectum metuo. mala tu es bestia.
nam huic aetati non conducit, mulier, latebrosus locus.

Bacch.

Egomet, apud me si quid stulte facere cupias, prohibeam.
sed ego apud me te esse ob eam rem, miles cum veniat, volo, 25 quia, cum tu aderis, huic mihi que haud faciet quisquam iniuriam:
tu prohibebis, et eadem opera tuo sodali operam dabis;
et ille adveniens tuam med esse amicam suspicabitur.
quid, amabo, opticuisti?

Pist.

Quia istaec lepida sunt memoratui:
eadem in usu atque ubi periculum facias, aculeata sunt,
30 animum fodicant, bona distimulant, facta et famam sauciant.

Sor.

Quid ab hac metuis?

Pist.

Quid ego metuam rogitas? adulescens homo penetrem me huius modi in palaestram, ubi damnis desudascitur?
ubi pro disco damnum capiam, pro cursura dedecus?

Bacch.

Lepide memoras.

Pist.

Vbi ego capiam pro machaera turturem,
35 ubique imponat in manum alius mihi pro cestu cantharum pro galea scaphium, pro insigni sit corolla plectilis, pro hasta talos, pro lorica malacum capiam pallium, ubi mihi pro equo lectus detur, scortum pro scuto accubet?
apage a me, apage.

B.

Ah, nimium ferus es.

P.

Mihi sum.

B.

Malacissandus es.

40 equidem tibi do hanc operam.

Pist.

Ah, nimium pretiosa es operaria.

Bacch.

Simulato me amare.

Pist.

Vtrum égo istuc iócon adsimulem an serio?

Bacch.

Heia, hoc agere meliust. miles quom huc adveniat, te volo me amplexari.

Pist.

Quid eo mi opus est?

Bacch.

Vt ille te videat volo.
scio quid ago.

Pist.

Et pol égo scio quid metuo. sed quid ais?

B.

Quid est?

Pist.

45 Quid si apud te eveniát desubito prandium aut potatio forte aut cena, ut solet in istis fieri conciliabulis, ubi ego tum accumbam?

Bacch.

Ápud me, mi anime, ut lepidus cum lepida accubet.
locus hic apud nos, quamvis subito venias, semper liber est.
ubi tu lepide vóles esse tibi, méa rosa, mihi dicito
50 'dato qui bene sit': ego ubi bene sit tibi locum lepidum dabo.

Pist.

Rapidus fluvius est hic, non hac temere transiri potest.

Bacch.

Atque ecastor apud hunc fluvium áliquid perdundumst tibi.
manum da et sequere.

P.

Aha, minime.

B.

Quid ita?

P.

Quia istoc in lecebrosius fieri nil potest: nox mulier vinum homini adolescentulo.

Bacch.

55 Age igitur, equidem pol nihili facio nisi causa tua.
ille quidem hanc abducat; tú nullus ádfueris, si non lubet.

Pist.

Sumne autem nihili, qui nequeam ingenio moderari meo?

B.

Quid est quod metuas?

P.

Nihil est, nugae. mulier, tibi me emancupo:

tuos sum, tibi dedo operam.

B.

Lepidu's. nunc ego te facere hoc volo.

60 ego sorori meae cenam hodie dare volo viaticam:

eo tibi argentum iubebo iam intus efferri foras;

tu facito opsonatum nobis sit opulentum opsonium.

Pist.

Ego opsonabo, nam id flagitium meum sit, mea te gratia et operam dare mi ét ad eam operam facere sumptum de tuo.

Bacch.

65 At ego nolo dare te quicquam.

P.

Sine.

B.

Sino equidem, si lubet.

propera, amabo.

Pist.

Prius hic adero quam te amare desinam. —

Sor.

Bene me accipies advenientem, mea soror.

Bacch.

Quid ita, obsecro?

Sor.

Quia piscatus meo quidem animo hic tibi hodie evenit bonus.

Bacch.

Meus ille quidemst. tibi nunc operam dabo de Mnesilocho, soror, 70 ut hic accipias potius aurum, quam hinc eas cum milite.

Sor.
Cupio.

Bacch.

Dabitur opera. aqua calet: eamus hinc intro, ut laves.
nám uti navi vecta es, credo timida es.

Sor.

Aliquantum, soror.
simul huic nescio cui, turbare qui huc it, decedamus ...

Bacch.

Sequere hac igitur me intro in lectum, ut sedes lassitudinem.

Lydvs

Iam dudum, Pistoclere, tacitus te sequor, expectans quas tu res hoc ornatu geras.
namque ita me di ament, ut Lycurgus mihi quidem videtur posse hic ad nequitiam adducier.
5 quo nunc capessis ted hinc adversa via cum tanta pompa?

Pistoclervs

Húc.

Lyd.
Quid huc? quis istíc habet?

Pist.

Amor, Voluptas, Venus, Venustas, Gaudium, Iocus, Lúdus, Sermo, Suavisaviatio.

Lyd.

Quid tibi commercist cum dis damnosissimis?

Pist.

10 Mali sunt homines, qui bonis dicunt male;
tu dis nec recte dicis: non aequom facis.

Lyd.

An deus est ullus Suavisaviatio?

Pist.

An non putasti esse umquam? o Lyde, es barbarus;
quem ego sapere nimio censui plus quam Thalem, 15 is stultior es barbaro poticio, qui tantus natu deorum nescis nomina.

Lyd.

Non hic placet mi ornatus.

Pist.

Nemo ergo tibi
haec apparavit: mihi paratum est quoi placet.

Lyd.

Etiam me advorsus exordire argutias?
20 qui si decem habeas linguas, mutum esse addecet.

Pist.

Non omnis aetas, Lyde, ludo convenit.
magis unum in mentemst mihi nunc, satis ut commode pro dignitate opsoni haec concuret cocus.

Lyd.

Iam perdidisti te atque me atque operam meam,
25 qui tibi nequiquam saepe monstravi bene.

Pist.

Ibidem égo meam operam perdidi, ubi tu tuam:
tua disciplina nec mihi prodest nec tibi.

Lyd.

O praeligatum pectus.

Pist.

Odiosus mihi es.

tace atque sequere, Lyde, me.

Lyd.

Illuc sis vide,

30 non paedagogum iam me, sed Lydum vocat.

Pist.

Non par videtur neque sit consentaneum, cum haec qui emit intus sit et cūm amica accubet cumque osculetur et convivae alii accubent, praesentibus illis paedagogus una ut siet.

Lyd.

35 An hoc ad eas res opsonatumst, obsecro?

Pist.

Sperat quidem animus: quo evenat dis in manust.

Lyd.

Tu amicam habebis?

Pist.

Cum videbis, tum scies.

Lyd.

Immo neque habebis neque sinam. i prorsum domum.

Pist.

Omitte, Lyde, ac cave malo.

Lyd.

Quid? cave malo?

Pist.

40 Iam excessit mi aetas ex magisterio tuo.

Lyd.

O barathrum, ubi nunc es? ut ego te usurpem lubens.

video nimio iam multo plus quam volueram.
vixisse nimio satiust iam quam vivere.
magistron quemquam discipulum minitarier?
45 nil moror discipulos mihi iam plenos sanguinis:
valens afflictat me vacivom virium.

Pist.

Fiam, ut ego opinor, Hercules, tu autem Linus.

Lyd.

Pol metuo magis, ne Phoenix tuis factis fuam teque ad patrem esse mortuom renuntiem.

Pist.

50 Satis historiarumst.

Lyd.

Hic vereri perdidit.
compendium edepol haud aetati optabile fecisti, cum istanc nactu's inpudentiam.
occisus hic homo est. ecquid in mentem est tibi patrem tibi esse?

Pist.

Tibi ego an tu mihi servos es?

Lyd.

55 Peior magister te istaec docuit, non ego.
nimio es tu ad istas res discipulus docilior, quam ad illa quae te docui, ubi operam perdidisti.
edepol fecisti furtum in aetatem malum cum istaec flagitia me celavisti et patrem.

Pist.

60 Istactenus tibi, Lyde, libertas datast orationis. satis est. sequere hac me ac tace. —

ACT II.

Chrysalvs

Erilis patria, salve, quam ego biennio, postquam hinc in Ephesum abii, conspicio lubens.
saluto te, vicine Apollo, qui aedibus propinquos nostris accolis, veneroque te,
5 ne Nicobulum me sinas nostrum senem prius cónvenire quam sodalem viderim
Mnesilochi Pistoclerum, quem ad epistulam Mnesilochus misit super amica Bacchide.

Pistoclervs

Mirumst me ut redeam te opere tanto quaesere, qui abire hinc nullo pacto possim, si velim:
ita me vadatum amore vinctumque adtines.

Chrys.

Pro di immortales, Pistoclerum conspikor.
5 o Pistoclere, salve.

Pist.

Salve, Chrysale.

Chrys.

Compendi verba multa iam faciam tibi.
venire tu me gaudes: ego credo tibi;
hospitium et cenam pollicere, ut convenit peregre advenienti: ego autem venturum adnuo.
10 salutem tibi ab sodáli solidam nuntio:
rogabis me úbi sit: vivit.

Pist.

Nempe recté valet?

Chrys.

Istuc volebam ego ex te percontarier.

Pist.

Qui scire possum?

Chrys.

Nullus plus.

Pist.

Quemnam ad modum?

Chrys.

Quia si illa inventa est, quam ille amat, recte valet;
15 si non inventa est, minus valet moribundusque est.
animast amica amanti: sí abest, nullus est;
si adest, res nullast: ipso est — nequam et miser.
sed tu quid factitasti mandatis super?

Pist.

Egon ut, quod ab illo attigisset nuntius,
20 non impetratum id advenienti ei redderem?
regiones colere mavellem Acherunticas.

Chrys.

Eho, an invenisti Bacchidem?

Pist.

Samiam quidem.

Chrys.

Vide quaeso, ne quis tractet illam indiligens;
scis tu ut confringi vas cito Samium solet.

Pist.

25 Iamne ut soles?

Chrys.

Dic ubi ea nunc est, obsecro.

Pist.

Hic, exeuntem me unde aspexisti modo.

Chrys.

Vt istuc est lepidum: proximae viciniae habitat. ecquidnam meminit Mnesilochi?

Pist.

Rogas?

immo unice unum plurimi pendit.

Chrys.

Papae.

Pist.

30 Immo ut eam credis? misera amans desiderat.

Chrys.

Scitum istuc.

Pist.

Immo, Chrysale, em non tantulum umquam intermittit tempus quin eum nominet.

Chrys.

Tanto hercle melior.

Pist.

Immo —

Chrys.

Immo hercle abiero
potius.

Pist.

Num invitus rem bene gestam audis eri?

Chrys.

35 Non res, sed actor mihi cor odio sauciat.

etiam Epidicum, quam ego fabulam aequae ac me ipsum amo, nullam aequae invitatus specto, si agit Pello.
sed Bacchis etiam fortis tibi visast?

Pist.

Rogas?

ni nactus Venerem essem, hanc Iunonem dicerem.

Chrys.

40 Edepol, Mnesiloche, ut hanc rem natam intellego, quod ames paratumst: quod des inventost opus.
nam istic fortasse auro est opust.

Pist.

Philippeo quidem.

Chrys.

Atque eo fortasse iam opust.

Pist.

Immo etiam prius:

nam iam huc adveniet miles.

Chrys.

Et miles quidem?

Pist.

45 Qui de amittenda Bacchide aurum hic exiget.

Chrys.

Veniat quando volt, atque ita ne mihi sit morae.
domist: non metuo nec ego quoquam supplico, dum quidem hoc valebit pectus perfidia meum.
abi intro, ego hic curabo. tu intus dicito
50 Mnesilochum adesse Bacchidi.

Pist.

Faciam ut iubes. —

Chrys.

Negotium hoc ad me adtinet aurarium.
mille et ducentos Philippos áttulimus aureos Epheso, quos hospes debuit nostro seni.
inde ego hodie aliquam machinabor machinam, 55 unde aurum efficiam amanti erili filio.
sed foris concrepuit nostra: quinam exit foras?

Nicobvlvs

Ibo in Piraeum, visam écquae advenerit in portum ex Epheso navis mercatoria.
nam meus formidat animus, nostrum tam diu ibi desidere neque redire filium.

Chrys.

5 Extexam ego illum pulchre iam, si di volunt.
haud dormitandumst: opus est chryso Chrysalo. adibo hunc, quem quidem ego hódie faciam hic arietem Phrixi, itaque tondebo auro usque ad vivam cutem.
servos salutat Nicobulum Chrysalus.

Nic.

10 Pro di immortales, Chrysale, ubi mist filius?

Chrys.

Quin tu salutem primum reddis quam dedi?

Nic.

Salve. sed ubinamst Mnesilochus?

Chrys.

Vivit, valet.

Nic.

Venitne?

Chrys.

Venit.

Nic.

Euax, aspersisti aquam.
benene usque valuit?

Chrys.

Pancratice atque athleticæ.

Nic.

15 Quid hoc? qua causa éum in Ephesum miseram, accepitne aurum ab hospite Archidemide?

Chrys.

Heu, cor meum et cerebrum, Nicobule, finditur, istius hominis ubi fit quomque mentio.
tun hospitem illum nominas hostem tuom?

Nic.

20 Quid ita, obsecro hercle?

Chrys.

Quia edepol certo scio,
Volcanus, Luna, Sol, Dies, dei quattuor, scelestiorem nullum inluxere alterum.

Nic.

Quamne Archidemidem?

Chrys.

Quam, inquam, Archidemidem.

Nic.

Quid fecit?

Chrys.

Quid non fecit? quin tu id me rogas?
25 primumdum infitias ire coepit filio, negare se debere tibi triobulum.
continuo ántiquom hospitem nostrum sibi

Mnesilochus advocavit, Pelagonem senem;
eo praesente homini extemplo ostendit symbolum,
30 quem tute dederas, ad eum ut ferret, filio.

Nic.

Quid ubi ei ostendit symbolum?

Chrys.

Infit dicere

adulterinum et non eum esse symbolum.

quotque innocenti ei dixit contumelias!

adulterare eum aibat rebus ceteris.

Nic.

35 Habetin aurum? id mihi dici volo.

Chrys.

Postquam quidem praetor recuperatores dedit, damnatus demum, vi coactus reddidit ducentos et mille Philippum.

Nic.

Tantum debuit.

Chrys.

Porro etiam ausculta pugnam quam voluit dare.

Nic.

40 Etiamnest quid porro?

Chrys.

Em, accipitrina haec nunc erit.

Nic.

Deceptus sum, Autolyco hospiti aurum credidi.

Chrys.

Quin tu audi.

Nic.

Immo ingenium avari haud peritorum hospitis.

Chrys.

Postquam aurum abstulimus, in navem conscendimus, domi cupientes. forte ut adsedi in stega, 45 dum circumspecto, atque ego lembum conspicio longum, strigorem maleficum exornari.

Nic.

Perii hercle, lembus ille mihi laedit latus.

Chrys.

Is erat communis cum hospite et praedonibus.

Nic.

Adeon me fuisse fungum, ut qui illi crederem,
50 cum mi ipsum nomen eius Archidemides clamaret dempturum esse, si quid crederem?

Chrys.

Is lembus nostrae navi insidias dabat.
occepi ego observare eos quam rem gerant.
interea e portu nostra navis solvitur.
55 ubi portu eximus, homines remigio sequi, neque aves neque venti citius. quoniam sentio quae res gereretur, navem extemplo statuimus.
quoniam vident nos stare, occeperunt ratem turbare in portu.

Nic.

Edepol mortalis malos.
60 quid denique agitis?

Chrys.

Rursum in portum recipimus.

Nic.

Sapienter factum a vobis. quid illi postea?

Chrys.

Revorsionem ad terram faciunt vesperi.

Nic.

Aurum hercle auferre voluere: ei rei operam dabant.

Chrys.

Non me fefellit, sensi, eo exanimatus fui.

65 quoniam videmus auro insidias fieri, capimus consilium continuo; postridie auferimus aurum ómne illis praesentibus, palam atque aperte, ut illi id factum sciscerent.

Nic.

Scite hercle. cedo quid illi?

Chrys.

Tristes ilico,

70 quom extemplo a portu íre nos cum auro vident, subducunt lembum capitibus quassantibus.
nos apud Theotímum omne aurum deposivimus, qui illic sacerdos est Dianae Ephesiae.

Nic.

Quis istíc Theotimust?

Chrys.

Megalobuli filius,

75 qui nunc in Ephesost Ephesiis carissimus.

Nic.

Ne ille hercle mihi sit multo tanto carior, si me illo auro tanto circumduxerit.

Chrys.

Quin in eapse aede Dianai conditumst;

ibidem publicitus servant.

Nic.

Occidistis me;

80 nimio hic privatim servaretur rectius.

sed nilne áttulistis inde auri domum?

Chrys.

Immo etiam. verum quantum attulerit nescio.

Nic.

Quid? nescis?

Chrys.

Quia Mnesilochus noctu clanculum

devenit ad Theotimum, nec mihi credere

85 nec cuiquam in navi voluit: eo ego nescio quantillum attulerit; verum haud permultum attulit.

Nic.

Etiam dimidium censes?

Chrys.

Non edepol scio;

verum haud opinor.

Nic.

Fertne partem tertiam?

Chrys.

Non hercle opinor; verum verum nescio.

90 profecto de auro nil scio nisi nescio.

nunc tibimet illuc navi capiundumst iter, ut illúd reportes aurum ab Theotimo domum.

atque heus tu.

Nic.

Quid vis?

Chrys.

Anulum gnati tui facito ut memineris ferre.

Nic.

Quid opust anulo?

Chrys.

95 Quia id sígnumst cum Theotimo, quí eum illi adferet, ei aurum ut reddat.

Nic.

Meminero, et recte mones.
sed divesne est istic Theotimus?

Chrys.

Etiam rogas?
quin auro hábeat soccis subpactum solum?

Nic.

Cur ita fastidit?

Chrys.

Tantas divitias habet;
100 nescit quid faciat auro.

Nic.

Mihi dederit velim.
sed qui praesente id aurum Theotimo datumst?

Chrys.

Populo praesente: nullust Ephesi quin sciat.

Nic.

Istuc sapienter saltem fecit filius,
cum diviti homini id aurum servandum dedit;
105 ab eo licebit quamvis subito sumere.

Chrys.

Immo em tantisper numquam te morabitur, quin habeas illud quo die illuc veneris.

Nic.

Censebam me effugisse a vita marituma,
ne navigarem tandem hoc aetatis senex;
110 id mi haud, utrum velim, licere intellego:
ita bellus hospes fecit Archidemides.
ubi nunc est ergo meus Mnesilochus filius?

Chrys.

Deos átque amicos iit salutatum ad forum.

Nic.

At ego hinc ad illum, ut convenam quantum potest. —

Chrys.

115 Ille est oneratus recte et plus iusto vehit.
exorsa haec tela non male omnino mihi est:
ut amantem erilem copem facerem filium,
ita feci, ut auri quantum vellet sumeret, quantum autem lubeat reddere ut reddat patri.
120 senex in Ephesum íbit aurum arcessere, hic nostra agetur aetas in malacum modum, siquidem híc relinquet neque secum abducet senex med et Mnesilochum. quas ego hic turbas dabo!
sed quid futurumst, cum hoc senex resciverit, 125 cum se excucurrisse illuc frustra sciverit nosque aurum abusos? quid mihi fiet postea?
credo hercle adveniens nomen mutabit mihi facietque extemplo Crucisalum me ex Chrysalo.
aufugero hercle, si magis usus venerit.
130 si ero reprehensus, macto ego illum infortunio:
si illi sunt virgae ruri, at mihi tergum domist.
nunc ibo, erili filio hanc fabricam dabo super auro amicaque eius inventa Bacchide. —

ACT III.

Lydv's

Pándite atque aperíte propere iánuam hanc Orci, óbsecro.
nam équidem haud aliter esse duco, quippe quo nemo advenit, nisi quem spes reliquere omnes, esse ut frugi possiet.

Bacchides non Bacchides, sed bacchae sunt acerrumae.

5 apage istas a me sorores, quae hominum sorbent sanguinem.
omnis ad perniciem instructa domus opime atque opipare — quaé ut aspexi, me continuo contuli protinam in pedes.

egone ut haec conclusa gestem clanculum? ut celem patrem, Pistoclere, tua flagitia aut damna aut desidiabula?

10 quibus patrem et me teque amicosque omnes affectas tuos ad probrum, damnum, flagitium appellere una et perdere.
neque mei neque te tui intus puditumst factis quae facis, quibus tuom patrem meque una, amicos, adfinis tuos tua infámia fecisti gerulifugulos flagiti.

15 nunc prius quám malum istoc addis, certumst iam dicam patri de me hanc culpam demolibor iam et seni faciam palam, ut eum éx lutulento caeno propere hinc eliciat foras. —

Mnesilochv's

Múltimodis meditatus egomet mecum sum, et ita esse arbitror:
homini amico, qui est amicus ita uti nomen possidet, nisi deos ei nil praestare; id opera expertus sum esse ita.
nám ut in Ephesum hinc abii (hoc factumst ferme abhinc biennium)

5 ex Epheso huc ad Pistoclerum meum sodalem litteras misi, amicam ut mi inveniret Bacchidem. illum intellego invenisse, ut servos meus mi nuntiavit Chrysalus.

condigne is quam techinam de auro advorsum meum fecit patrem, ut mi amanti copia esset. séd eccum video incedere.

10 nam pol quidem meo animo ingrato hómine nihil inpensius;
malefactorem amitti satius quam relinqui beneficum;
nimio inpendiosum praestat te quam ingratum dicier:
illum laudabunt boni, hunc etiam ipsi culpabunt mali.
qua me causa magis cum cura esse aecum, obvigilatost opus.

15 nunc, Mnesiloche, specimen specitur, nunc certamen cernitur, sisne necne ut esse oportet, malus, bonus quoivis modi, iustus iniustus, malignus largus, comis incommodus.
cave sis te superare servom siris faciundo bene.
utut eris, moneo, haud celabis. sed eccos video incedere 20 patrem sodalis et magistrum. hinc auscultabo quam rem agant.

Lydvs

Nunc experiar, sitne aceto tibi cor acre in pectore.
sequere.

Philoxenvs

Quo sequar? quo ducis nunc me?

Lyd.

Ad illam quae tuom perdidit, pessum dedit tibi filium unice unicum.

Phil.

Heia, Lyde, leniter qui saeviunt sapiunt magis.
5 minus mirandumst, illaec aetas si quid illorum facit, quam si non faciat. feci égo istaec itidem in adulescentia.

Lyd.

Ei mihi, ei mihi, istaec illum perdidit assentatio.
nam absque te esset, égo illum haberem rectum ad ingenium bonum:
nunc propter te tuamque pravos factus est fiduciam
10 Pistoclerus.

Mnes.

Di immortales, meum sodalem hic nominat.
quid hoc negoti est, Pistoclerum Lydus quod erum tam ciet?

Phil.

Paulisper, Lyde, est libido hómini suo animo obsequi;
iam aderit tempus, cum sese etiam ipse oderit. morem geras;
dum caveatur, praeter aequom ne quid delinquat, sine.

Lyd.

15 Non sino, neque equidem illum me vivo corrumpi sinam.
sed tu, qui pro tam corrupto dicis causam filio, eademne erat haec disciplina tibi, cum tu adulescens eras?
nego tibi hoc annis viginti fuisse primis copiae, digitum longe a paedagogo pedem ut efferres aedibus.
20 ante solem exorientém nisi in palaestram veneras, gymnasi praefecto háud mediocris poenas penderes.
id quom optigerat, hoc etiam ad malum accersebatur malum:
et discipulus et magister perhibebantur improbi.
ibi cursu luctando hásta disco pugilatu pila 25 saliendo sese exercebant magis quam scorto aut saviis:
ibi suam aetatem extendebant, non in latebrosis locis.
inde de hippodromo et palaestra ubi revenisses domum, cincticulo praecinctus in sella apud magistrum adsideres cum libro: cum legeres, si unam peccavisses syllabam, 30 fieret corium tam maculosum quam est nutricis pallium.

Mnes.

Propter me haec nunc meo sodali dici discrucior miser;
innocens suspicionem hanc sustinet causa mea.

Phil.

Alii, Lyde, nunc sunt mores.

Lyd.

Id equidem ego certo scio.
nam olim populi prius honorem capiebat suffragio, 35 quam magistro desinebat esse dicto oboediens;
at nunc, prius quam septuennis est, si attingas eum manu, extemplo puer paédagogo tabula dirumpit caput.
cum patrem adeas postulatam, puero sic dicit pater:
'noster esto, dum te poteris defensare iniuria.' 40 provocatur paedagogus: "eho senex minimi preti, ne attigas puerum istac causa, quando fecit strenue."
it magister quasi lucerna uncto expretus linteo.
itur illinc iure dicto. hócine hic pacto potest inhibere imperium magister, si ipse primus vapulet?

Mnes.

45 Acris postulatio haec est. cum huius dicta intellego, mira sunt ni Pistoclerus Lydum pugnis contudit.

Lyd.

Sed quis hic est, quem astantem video ante ostium? o Philoxene, deos propitios me videre quam illum haud mavellem mihi.

Phil.

Quis illic est?

Lyd.

Mnesilochus, gnati tui sodalis Pistocleri.

50 haud consimili ingenio atque ille est qui in lupanari accubat.
fortunatum Nicobulum, qui illum produxit sibi.

Phil.

Salvos sis, Mnesilochus, salvom te advenire gaudeo.

Mnes.

Di te ament, Philoxene.

Lyd.

Hic enim rite productust patri:

in mare it, rem familiarem curat, custodit domum,

55 obsequens oboediensque est mori atque imperiis patris.

hic sodalis Pistoclero iam puer puero fuit;

triduom non interest aetatis úter maior siet:

verum ingenium plus triginta ánnis maiust quam alteri.

Phil.

Cave malo et compesce in illum dicere iniuste.

Lyd.

Tace,

60 stultus es qui illi male aegre patere dici qui facit.

nam illum meum malum promptare malim quam peculium.

Phil.

Quidum?

Lyd.

Quia, malum si promptet, in dies faciat minus.

Mnes.

Quid sodalem meum castigas, Lyde, discipulum tuum?

Lyd.

Periit tibi sodalis.

Mnes.

Ne di sirint.

Lyd.

Sic est ut loquor.

65 quin ego cum peribat vidi, non ex audito arguo.

Mnes.

Quid factum est?

Lyd.

Meretricem indigne deperit.

M.

Non tu taces?

Lyd.

Atque acerrume aestuosam: absorbet ubi quemque attigit.

M.

Vbi ea mulier habitat?

L.

Hic.

M.

Vnde eam esse aiunt?

L.

Ex Samo.

M.

Quae vocatur?

L.

Bacchis.

M.

Erras, Lyde: ego omnem rem scio

70 quem ad modumst. tu Pistoclerum falso atque insontem arguis.
nam ille amico et benevolenti suo sodali sedulo rem mandatam exsequitur. ipso neque amat nec tu creduas.

Lyd.

Itane oportet rem mandatam gerere amici sedulo, ut ipso in gremio osculantem mulierem teneat sedens?

75 nullon pacto res mandata potest agi, nisi identidem manus ferat ei ad papillas, labra ab labris nusquam auferat?
nam alia memorare quae illum facere vidi dispudet:
cum manum sub vestimenta ad corpus tetulit Bacchidi me praesente, neque pudere quicquam. quid verbis opust?

80 mihi discipulus, tibi sodalis periit, hic filius; nam ego illum periisse dico quod quidem periit pudor.
quid opust verbis? si opperiri vellem paulisper modo, ut tibi opinor illius inspectandi mihi esset maior copia, plus viderem quam deceret, quam me atque illo aequum foret.

Mnes.

85 Perdidisti me, sodalis. egone ut illam mulierem capitis non perdam? perire me malis malim modis.
satin ut quem tu habeas fidelem tibi aut cui credas nescias?

Lyd.

Viden ut aegre patitur gnatum esse corruptum tuom, suom sodalem, ut ipse sese cruciat aegritudine?

Phil.

90 Mnesiloche, hoc tecum oro, ut illius animum atque ingenium regas;
serva tibi sodalem et mihi filium.

Mnes.

Factum volo.

Lyd.

Melius esset, me quoque una si cum illo relinqueres.

Phil.

Adfatim est.

Lyd.

Mnesiloche, cura, ei, concastiga hominem probe, qui dedecorat te, me amicosque alios flagitiis suis.

Phil.

95 In te ego hoc onus omne impono. Lyde, sequere hac me.

L.

Sequor. —

Mnes.

Inimiciorem nunc utrum credam magis sodalemne esse an Bacchidem, incertum admodumst.
illum exoptavit potius? habeat. optumest.
ne illa illud hercle cum malo fecit suo;
5 nam mihi divini numquam quisquam creduat, ni ego illam exemplis plurumis planeque — amo.
ego faxo hau dicet nactam quem derideat.
nam iam domum ibo atque — aliquid surrupiam patri.
id isti dabo. ego istanc multis ulciscar modis.
10 adeo ego illam cogam usque ut mendicet — meus pater.

sed satine ego animum mente sincera gero, qui ad hunc modum haec hic quae futura fabulor?
amo hercle opino, ut pote quod pro certo sciam.
verum quam illa umquam de mea pecunia 15 ramenta fiat plumea propensior, mendicum malim mendicando vincere.
numquam edepol viva me inridebit. nam mihi decretumst renumerare iam omne aurum patri.
igitur mi inani atque inopi subblandibitur 20 tum quom blandiri nihilo pluris referet, quam si ad sepulcrum mortuo narres logos.
sed autem quam illa umquam meis opulentiis ramenta fiat gravior aut propensior, mori me malim éxcruciatum ínopia.
25 profecto stabilest me patri aurum reddere.
eadem éxorabo, Chrysalo causa mea pater ne noceat, neu quid ei suscenseat mea causa de auro quod eum ludificatus est; nam illi aequomst me consulere, qui causa mea 30 mendacium éi dixit. vos me sequimini. —

Pistoclerus

Rébus aliis antevortar, Bacchis, quae mandas mihi: Mnesilochum ut requiram atque ut eum mecum ad te adducam simul.
nam illud animus meus miratur, si a me tetigit nuntius, quid remoretur. ibo ut visam huc ad eum, si forte est domi.

Mnesilochus

Reddidi patrí omne aurum. nunc ego illam me velim convenire, postquam inanis sum, contemptricem meam.
sed veniam mihi quam gravate páter dedit de Chrysalo;
verum postremo impetravi, ut ne quid ei suscenseat.

Mnes.

Ab homine quem mi amicum esse arbitratus sum antidhac.

Pist.

Multi more isto atque exemplo vivont, quos cum censeas esse amicos, reperiuntur falsi falsimoniis, lingua factiosi, inertes opera, sublesta fide.

nullus est quoi non inuideant rem secundam optingere;
15 sibi ne inuideatur, ipsi ignavia recte cavent.

Mnes.

Edepol ne tu illorum mores perquam meditate tenes.
sed etiam unum hoc: ex ingenio malo malum inveniunt suo:
nulli amici sunt, inimicos ipsi in sese omnis habent.
ei se cum frustrantur, frustrari alios stolidi existumant.
20 sicut est hic, quem esse amicum ratus sum atque ipsum sum mihi:
ille, quod in se fuit, accuratum habuit quod posset mali faceret in me, inconciliaret copias omnis meas.

Pist.

Improbum istunc esse oportet hominem.

Mnes.

Ego ita esse arbitror.

Pist.

Obsecro hercle loquere, quis is est.

Mnes.

Benevolens vivit tibi.

Mnes.

Nequam homost, verum hercle amicus est tibi.

Pist.

Tanto magis

Mnes.

Quid est? misine ego ad te ex Epheso epistulam super amica, ut mi invenires?

Pist.

Duas ergo hic intus eccas Bacchides.

M.

P.

Átque ambas sorores.

ACT IV.

Parasitvs

Parasitus ego sum hominis nequam atque improbi, militis, qui amicam secum avexit ex Samo.
nunc me ire iussit ad eam et percontarier, utrum aurum reddat anne eat secum semul.
5 tu dudum, puere, cum illac usque isti semul:
quae harum sunt aedes, pulta. adi actutum ad fores.
recede hinc dierecte. ut pulsat propudium!
comesse panem tris pedes latum potes, fores pultare nescis. ecquis in aedibust?
10 heus, ecquis hic est? ecquis hoc aperit ostium?
ecquis éxit?

Pistoclervs

Quid istuc? quae istaec est pulsatio?

Pist.

Numquid aliud?

Chrys.

Hoc, atque etiam: úbi erit accubitus semel, ne quoquam exsurgatis, donec a me erit signum datum.

Pist.

O imperatorem probum!

Chrys.

Iam bis bibisse oportuit.

Mnes.

Nic.

Pacisce ergo, obsecro, quid tibi lubet, dum ne manifesto hominem opprimat neve enicet.

Cleom.

Nunc nisi ducenti Philippi redduntur mihi,

iam illorum ego animam amborum exsorbebo oppido.

Nic.

Em illuc pacisce, si potes; perge obsecro,

30 pacisce quid vis.

Chrys.

Ibo et faciam sedulo.

quid clamas?

Cleom.

Vbi erus tuos est?

Chrys.

Nusquam. nescio.

vis tibi ducentos nummos iam promittier, ut ne clamorem hic facias neu convicium?

Cleom.

Nihil est quod malim.

Chrys.

Atque ut tibi mala multa ingeram?

Cleom.

35 Tuo arbitrato.

Nic.

Vt subblanditur carnufex.

Chrys.

Pater hic Mnesilochi est; sequere, is promittet tibi.
tu aurum rogato; ceterum verbum sat est.

Nic.

Quid fit?

Chrys.

Ducentis Phílippis rem pepigi.

Nic.

Ah, salus
mea, servavisti me. quam mox dico 'dabo'?

Chrys.

40 Roga hunc tu, tu promitte huic.

Nic.

Promitto, roga.

Cleom.

Ducentos nummos aureos Philippós probos dabin?

Chrys.

'Dabuntur' inque. responde.

Nic.

Dabo.

Chrys.

Quid nunc, impure? numquid debetur tibi?
quid illí molestus? quid illum morte territas?
45 et ego te et ille mactámus infortunio.
si tibi est machaera, at nobis veruinast domi:
qua quidem te faciam, si tu me inritaveris, confossioŕem ſoricina nenia.

iam dudum hercle equidem ſentio, ſuſpicio
50 quae te ſollicitet: eum eſſe cum illa muliere.

Cleom.

Immo eſt quoque.

Chrys.

Ita me Iuppiter Iuno Ceres
Minerva † Latona Spes Opis Virtus Venus
Caſtor Polluces Mars Mercurius Hercules
Summanus Sol Saturnus dique omnes ament, 55 ut ille cum illa neque cubat neque ambulat neque oſculatur neque illud quod dici ſolet.

Nic.

Vt iurat! ſervat me ille ſuis periuriis.

Cleom.

Vbi nunc Mneſilochus ergoſt?

Chrys.

Ruſ miſit pater.
illa autem in arcem abiit aedem viſere
60 Minervae. nunc apertat. i, viſe eſtne ibi.

Cleom.

Abeo ad forum igitur.

Chrys.

Vél hercle ín malam crucem.

Cleom.

Hodie exigam aurum hoc?

Chrys.

Exige, ac ſuſpende te:
ne ſuſpicare hunc ceneas tibi, nihili homo. — ille est amotus. sine me (per te, ere, opsecro 65 deos immortales) ire huc intro ad filium.

Nic.

Quid eo intro ibis?

Chrys.

Vt eum dictis plurumis castigem, cum haec sic facta ad hunc faciat modum.

Nic.

Immo oro ut facias, Chrysale, et ted opsecro, cave pársis in eum dicere.

Chrys.

Etiam me mones?

70 satin est si plura ex me audiet hodie mala, quam audivit umquam Clinia ex Demetrio? —

Nic.

Lippi illic oculi servos est simillimus:
si non est, nolis esse neque desideres;
si est, abstinere quin attingas non queas.
75 nam ni illic hodie forte fortuna hic foret, miles Mnesilochum cum uxore opprimeret sua atque obtruncaret moechum manufactarium.
nunc quasi ducentis Phílippis emi filium, quos dare promisi militi: quos non dabo 80 temere etiam prius quam filium convenero.
numquam edepol quicquam temere credam Chrysalo;
verum lubet etiam mi has perlegere denuo:
aequomst tabellis consignatis credere. —

Chrysalvs

Atrídae duo fratrés cluent fecísse facinus máximum, quom Priami patriam Pergamum divina moenitum manu armis, equis, exercitu atque eximiis bellatoribus mille cum numero navium decumo anno post subegerunt.

5 non pedibus termento fuit praeut égo erum expugnabo meum sine classe sineque exercitu et tanto numero militum.
cepi expugnaui amanti erili filio aurum ab suo patre.
nunc prius quam húc senex venit, libet lámentari dum éxeat.
o Troia, o patria, o Pergamum, o Priame periisti senex, 10 qui misere male mulcabere quadringéntis Philippis aureis.
nam ego has tabellas obsignatas consignatas quas fero non sunt tabellae, sed equos quem misere Achivi ligneum.
Epiust Pistoclerus: ab eo haec sumptae; Mnesilochus Sino est relictus, eillum non in busto Achilli, sed in lecto accubat; 15 Bacchidem habet secum: ille olim hábuit ignem qui signum daret, hunc ipsum exurit; ego sum Vlixes, cuius consilio haec gerunt.
tum quae hic sunt scriptae litterae, hoc in equo ínsunt milites armati atque animati probe. ita res successit mi usque adhuc.
atque hic equos non in arcem, verum in arcam faciet impetum:
20 exitium excidium exlecebra fiet hic equos hodie auro senis.
nostro seni huic stolido, ei profecto nomen facio ego Ilio; miles Menelaust, ego Agamemno, ídem Vlixes Lartius, Mnesilochust Alexander, qui erit exitio rei patriae suae;
is Helenam avexit, cuia causa nunc facio obsidium Ilio.
25 nam illi ítidem Vlixem audiui, ut ego sum, fuisse et audacem et malum:
ín dolis ego prénsus sum, ille mendícans paene invéntus interiit, dum íbi exquirít fata Iliorum; adsímiliter mi hodie óptigit.
víntus sum, sed dólis me exemi: item se ílle servavít dolis.
Ílio tria fuísse audiui fáta quae illi fórent exitio:
30 signum ex arce si periisset; alterum etiamst Troili mors;
tertium, cum portae Phrygiae limen superum scinderetur:
paria item tria eis tribus sunt fata nostro huic Ilio.
nam dúdum primo ut díxeram nostró seni mendácium et de hóspite et de auro ét de lembo, ibi sígnum ex arce iam abstuli.
35 iam dúo restabant fáta tunc, nec mágis id ceperam óppidum.
post ubi tabellas ad senem detuli, ibi occidi Troilum, cum censuit Mnesilochum cum uxore esse dudum militis.
íbi vix me exsolvi: íd periculum adsímilo, Vlixem ut praedicant cógnum ab Helena esse proditum Hecubae; sed ut olim ille se 40 blanditiis exemit et persuasit sé ut amitteret, ítem ego dolis me illo éxtuli e períclo et decepí senem.

post cúm magnífico mílite, urbes vérbis qui inermús capit, confluxi atque hominem reppuli; dein pugnam conserui seni:
eum ego ádeo uno mendácio devíci, uno ictu extémpulo 45 cépi spolia. is núnc ducentos númmos Philippos míliti, quos dáre se promisít, dabit.
nunc álteris etiam ducentis usus est, qui dispensentur Ílio capto, ut sit mulsum qui triumphent milites.
sed Príamus hic multo illi praestat: non quinquaginta modo, 50 quadringéntos filios habet átque equidem omnis lectos sine probro:
eos égo hodie omnis contruncabo duóbus solis ictibus.
nunc Príamo nostro si ést quis emptor, cómpcionalém senem vendam ego, venalem quem habeo, extemplo ubi oppidum expugnavero.
sed Príamum adstantem eccum ánte portam vídeo. adibo atque adloquar.

55 Quóíanam vox própe me sonat?

Chrys.

O Nicobule.

Nic.

Quid fit?

quíd quod te misi, écquid egísti?

Chrys.

Rógas? congregere.

Nic.

Gradior.

Chrys.

Optumus sum oratór. ad lacrimas coégi hominem cástigando maleque dictis, quae quidem quívi comminisci.

Nic.

Quid ait?

C.

Verbum

nullum fecit: lacrumans tacitus auscultabat quae ego loquebar;

60 tacitus conscripsit tabellas, obsignatas mi has dedit.

tíbi me iussit dare, sed metuo, né idem cantent quod priores.

nosce signum. estne eius?

Nic.

Novi. libet perlegere has.

C.

Perlege.

nunc súperum limen scínditur, nunc ádest exitium Ílio, turbát equos lepide lígneus.

Nic.

Chrysále, ades, dum ego has pérlego.

Chrys.

65 Quid mé tibi adesse opus ést?

N.

Volo, ut quod iubeo facias út scias quae hic scrípta sient.

Chrys.

Níl moror neque scíre volo.

Nic.

Támen ades.

Chrys.

Quid opúst?

Nic.

Taceas:
quód iubeo id faciás.

Chrys.
Adero.

Nic.
70 Eúge litterás minutas.

Chrys.
Quí quidem videát parum;
vérum, qui satis vídeat, grandes sátis sunt.

Nic.
Animum advórtito igitur.

Chrys.
Nólo inquam.

Nic.
At volo ínquam.

Chrys.
Quid opust?

Nic.
Át enim id quod te iúbeo facias.

Chrys.
Iústumst ut tuós tibi servos tuo árbitratu sérviat.

Nic.
Hoc áge sis nunciam.

C.
Vbi lubet, recita: aúrium operam tíbi dico.

Nic.
75 Ceraé quidem haud parsit néque stilo;

sed quidquid est, pellégere certumst.
“Patér, ducentos Phílippos quaeso Chrýsalo da, si esse salvom vis me aut vitalem tibi.”
malum quidem hercle magnum.

Chrys.
Tibi dico.

Nic.
Quid est?

Chrys.
80 Non prius salutem scripsit?

Nic.
Nusquam sentio.

Chrys.
Non dabis, si sapies; verum si das maxume, ne ille alium gerulum quaerat, si sapiet, sibi:
nam ego non laturus sum, si iubeas maxume.
sat sic suspectus sum, cum careo noxia.

Nic.
85 Ausculta porro, dum hoc quod scriptumst perlego.

Chrys.
Inde a principio iam inpudens epistula est.

Nic.
“Pudet prodire me ad te in conspectum, pater:
tantum flagitium te scire audivi meum, quod cum peregrini cubui uxore militis.”
90 pol haud derides; nam ducentis aureis
Philippís redemi vitam ex flagitio tuam.

Chrys.
Nihil est illorum quin ego illi dixerim.

Nic.

“Stulte fecisse fateor. sed quaeso, pater, ne me, in stultitia si deliqui, deseras.
95 ego animo cupido atque oculis indomitis fui;
persuasumst facere quoius me nunc facti pudet.”
prius té cavisse ergo quám pudere aequom fuit.

Chrys.

Eadem istaec verba dudum illi dixi omnia.

Nic.

“Quaeso ut sat habeas id, pater, quod Chrysalus 100 me obiurigavit plurumis verbis malis, et me meliorem fecit praeceptis suis, ut te ei habere gratiam aequom sit bonam.”

Chrys.

Estne istuc istic scriptum?

Nic.

Em specta, tum scies.

Chrys.

Vt qui deliquit supplex est ultro omnibus.

Nic.

105 “Nunc si me fas est obsecrare abs te, pater, da mihi ducentos nummos Philippos, te obsecro.”

Chrys.

Ne unum quidem hercle, si sapis.

Nic.

Sine perlegam.

“ego ius iurandum verbis conceptis dedi,
datum id me hodie mulieri ante vesperum, 110 prius quam á me abiret. nunc, pater, ne perierem cura atque abduce me hinc ab hac quantum potest, quam propter tantum damni feci et flagiti.

cave tibi ducenti nummi dividiæ fuant;
sescenta tanta reddam, si vivo, tibi.
115 vale atque haec cura". quid nunc censes, Chrysale?

Chrys.

Nihil ego tibi hodie consili quicquam dabo, neque ego haud committam ut, si quid peccatum siet, fecisse dicas de mea sententia.
verum, ut ego opinor, sí ego in istoc sim loco, 120 dem potius aurum quam illum corrumpi sinam.
duae condiciones sunt: utram tu accipias vide:
vel ut aurum perdas vel ut amator perieret.
ego neque te iubeo neque veto, neque suadeo.

Nic.

Miseret me illius.

Chrys.

Tuos est, non mirum facis.
125 si plus perdundum sit, periisse suaviust, quam illud flagitium volgo dispalescere.

Nic.

Ne ille edepol Ephesi multo mavellem foret, dum salvos esset, quam revenisset domum.
quid ego istic? quod perdundumst properem perdere.
130 binos ducentos Philippos iam intus ecferam, et militi quos dudum promisi miser et istos. mane istic, iam exeo ad te, Chrysale. —

Chrys.

Fit vasta Troia, scindunt proceres Pergamum.
scivi ego iam dudum fore me exitio Pergamo.
135 edepol qui me esse dicat cruciatu malo dignum, ne ego cum illo pignus haud ausim dare;
tantas turbellas facio. sed crepuit foris:

ecfertur praeda ex Troia. taceam nunciam.

Nic.

Cape hoc tibi aurum, Chrysale, i, fer filio.

140 ego ad forum autem hinc ibo, ut solvam militi.

Chrys.

Non equidem accipiam. proin tu quaeras qui ferat.

nolo ego mihi credi.

Nic.

Cape vero, odiose facis.

Chrys.

Non equidem capiam.

Nic.

At quaeso.

C.

Dico ut res se habet.

Nic.

Morare.

Chrys.

Nolo, inquam, aurum concredi mihi.

145 vel da aliquem qui servet me.

Nic.

Ohe, odiose facis.

Chrys.

Cedo, sí necesse est.

Nic.

Cura hoc. iam égo huc revenero. —

Chrys.

Curatum est — esse te senem miserrimum.
hoc est incepta efficere pulcre: bellule mi evenit, ut ovans praeda onustus incederem; 150 salute nostra atque urbe capta per dolum domum reduco íntegrum omnem exercitum.
sed, spectatores, vos nunc ne miremini quod non triumpho: pervolgatum est, nil moror;
verum tamen accipientur mulso milites.
155 nunc hanc praedam omnem iam ad quaestorem deferam. —

Philoxenvs

Quam mágis in pectore meó foveo quas méus filius turbás turbet, quam se ád vitam et quos ád mores praecípitem inscitus capéssat, magis cúrae est magisque adfórmido, ne is péreat neu corrúmpatur.
scio, fúi ego illa aetate ét feci illa omnía, sed more modésto;
5 neque plácitant mores quíbus video volgo ín gnatos essé parentes:
dixi, hábui scortum, pótaui, dedi, donavi, sed enim íd raro.
ego dáre me meo gnato ínstítui, ut animo óbsequium sumére possit;
aequom ésse puto, sed nimis nolo desídiae ei dare lúdum.
nunc Mnésilochum, quod mándavi, 10 viso écquid eum ad virtútem aut ad frugem ópera sua compúlerit, sic ut eúm, si convenít, scio fe-cisse: eóst ingenio nátus.

Hos quos videtis stare hic captivos duos, †illi qui astant, hi stant ambo, non sedent;
hoc vos mihi testes estis me verum loqui.
senex qui hic habitat Hegio est huius pater.
5 sed is quo pacto serviat suo sibi patri, id ego hic apud vos proloquar, si operam datis.
seni huic fuerunt filii nati duo;
alterum quadrimum puerum servos surpuit eumque hinc profugiens vendidit in Alide 10 patri huius. iam hoc tenetis? ... optume est.
negát hercle ille ultimus. accedito.
si non ubi sedeas locus est, est ubi ambules, quando histrionem cogis mendicarier.
ego me tua causa, ne erres, non rupturus sum.
15 vos qui potestis ope vestra censerier, accipite relicuom: alieno uti nil moror.
fugitivos ille, ut dixeram ante, huius patri domo quem profugiens dominum abstulerat vendidit.
is postquam hunc emit, dedit eum huic gnato suo 20 peculiarem, quia quasi una aetas erat.
hic nunc domi sérvit suo patri, nec scit pater;
enim véro di nos quasi pilas homines habent.
rationem habetis, quo modo unum amiserit.
postquam belligerant Aetoli cum Aleis, 25 ut fit in bello, capitur alter filius:
medicus Menarchus emit ibidem in Alide.
coepit captivos commercari hic Aleos, si quem reperire possit qui mutet suom, illum captivom: hunc suom esse nescit, qui domist.
30 et quoniam heri indauidivit, de summo loco summoque genere captum esse equitem Aleum, nil pretio parsit, filio dum parceret:
reconciliare ut facilius posset domum, emít hosce e praeda ambos de quaestoribus.

35 hisce autem inter sese hunc confinxerunt dolum, quo pacto hic servos suom erum hinc amittat domum.
itaque inter se commutant vestem et nomina;
illic vocatur Philocrates, hic Tyndarus:
huius illic, hic illius hodie fert imaginem.
40 et hic hódie expediet hanc docte fallaciam, et suom erum faciet libertatis compotem, eodemque pacto fratrem servabit suom reducemque faciet liberum in patriam ad patrem, imprudens: itidem ut saepe iam in multis locis 45 plus insciens quis fecit quam prudens boni.
sed inscientes sua sibi fallacia ita compararunt et confinxerunt dolum itaque hi commenti, de sua sententia ut in sérvitute hic ad suom maneat patrem:
50 ita nunc ignorans suo sibi servit patri;
homunculi quanti sunt, quom recogito!
haec res agetur nobis, vobis fabula.
sed etiam est, paucis vos quod monitos voluerim.
profecto expediet fabulae huic operam dare.
55 non pertractate facta est neque item ut ceterae:
neque spurcidici insunt versus, immemorabiles;
hic neque periurus leno est nec meretrix mala neque miles gloriosus; ne vereamini, quia bellum Aetolis esse dixi cum Aleis:
60 foris illic extra scaenam fient proelia.
nam hoc paene iniquomst, comico choragio conari desubito agere nos tragoediam.
proin si quis pugnam expectat, litis contrahat:
valentiolem nactus adversarium 65 si erit, ego faciam ut pugnam inspectet non bonam, adeo ut spectare postea omnis oderit.
abeo. valete, iudices iustissimi domi duellique duellatores optumi.

ACT I.

Ergasilvs

Iuventus nomen indidit Scorto mihi, eo quía invocatus soleo esse in convivio.
scio absúrde dictum hoc derisores dicere,
at ego aio recte. nam scortum in convivio 5 sibi amator, talos quom iacit, scortum invocat.
estne invocatum an non est? est planissime;
verum hercle vero nos parasiti planius, quos numquam quisquam neque vocat neque invocat.
quasi mures semper edimus alienum cibum;
10 ubi res prolatae sunt, quom rus homines eunt, simul prolatae res sunt nostris dentibus.
quasi, cum caletur, cocleae in occulto latent,
suo sibi suco vivont, ros si non cadit, item parasiti rebus prolatis latent 15 in occúlto miseri, victitant suco suo, dum ruri rurant homines quos ligurriant.
prolatis rebus parasiti venatici sumus, quando res redierunt, molossici odiosicique et multum incommodestici.
20 et hic quidem hercle, nisi qui colaphos perpeti potest parasitus frangique aulas in caput, vel ire extra portam Trigeminam ad saccum licet.
quod mihi ne eveniat, non nullum periculum est.
nam postquam meus rex est potitus hostium — 25 ita nunc belligerant Aetoli cum Aleis; nam Aetolia haec est, illic est captus in Alide, Philopolemus, huius Hegionis filius senis, qui hic habitat, quae aedes lamentariae mihi sunt, quas quotienscumque conspicio fleo; 30 nunc hic occepit quaestum hunc fili gratia inhonestum et maxime alienum ingenio suo:
homines captivos commercatur, si queat aliquem invenire, suom qui mutet filium.

quod quidem ego nimis quam cupio ... ut impetret; 35 nam ni illum recipit, nihil est quo me recipiam.
nam nulla est spes iuventútis, sese omnis amant;
ille démum antiquis est adulescens moribus,
cuius númquam voltum tranquillavi gratiis.
condigne pater est eius moratus moribus.
40 nunc ad eum pergam. sed aperitur ostium, unde sáturitate saepe ego exii ebrius.

Hegio

Advorte animum sis tu: istos captivos duos, heri quos emi de praeda a quaestoribus, eis indito catenas singulares istas, maiores, quibus sunt iuncti, demito;
5 sinito ambulare, si foris si intus volent, sed uti adserventur magna diligentia.
liber captivos avis ferae consimilis est:
semel fugiendi si data est occasio, satis est, numquam postilla possis prendere.

Lorarius

10 Omnes profecto liberi lubentius sumus quám servimus.

Heg.

Non videre ita tu quidem.

Lor.

Si non est quod dem, mene vis dem ipse — in pedes?

Heg.

Si dederis, erit extemplo mihi quod dem tibi.

Lor.

Avis mé ferae consimilem faciam, ut praedicas.

Heg.

15 Ita ut dícis: nam si faxis, te in caveam dabo.

sed satis verborumst. cura quae iussi atque abi.
ego ibo ad fratrem ad alios captivos meos, visam ne nocte hac quippiam turbaverint.
inde mé continuo recipiam rursum domum.

Erg.

20 Aegre est mi, hunc facere quaestum carcerarium propter sui gnati miseriam miserum senem.
sed si ullo pacto ille huc conciliari potest, vel carnificinam hunc facere possum perpeti.

Heg.

Quis hic lóquitur?

Erg.

Ego, qui tuo maerore maceror, 25 macesco, consenesco et tabesco miser;
ossa atque pellis sum miser a macritudine;
neque umquam quicquam me iuvat quod edo domi:
foris aliquantillum etiam quod gusto, id beat.

Heg.

Ergasile, salve.

Erg.

Di te bene ament, Hegio.

Heg.

30 Ne fle.

Erg.

Egone illum non fleam? égon non defleam
Talem adolescentem?

Heg.

Semper sensi, filio
meo te ésse amicum, et illum intellexi tibi.

Erg.

Tum denique homines nostra intellegimus bona,
quom quae in potestate habuimus, ea amisimus.
35 ego, postquam gnatus tuos potitust hostium, expertus quanti fuerit nunc desidero.

Heg.

Alienus cum eius incommodum tam aegre feras, quid me patrem par facerest, cui ille est unicus?

Erg.

Alienus ego? alienus illi? aha, Hegio,
40 numquam istuc dixis neque animum induxis tuom;
tibi ille únícust, mi etiam unico magis unicus.

Heg.

Laudo, malum cum amici tuom ducis malum.
nunc habe bonum animum.

Erg.

Eheu, huic illud dolet,
quia nunc remissus est edendi exercitus.

Heg.

45 Nullumne interea nactu's, qui posset tibi remissum quem dixti imperare exercitum?

Erg.

Quid credis? fugitant omnes hanc provinciam, quoi optigerat postquam captust Philopolemus tuos.

Heg.

Non pol mirandum est fugitare hanc provinciam.
50 multis et multigeneribus opus est tibi militibus: primumdum opus est Pistorensibus;
eorum sunt aliquot genera Pistorensium:
opus Pániceis est, opus Placentinis quoque;
opus Turdetanis, opust Ficedulensibus;

55 iam maritumi omnes milites opus sunt tibi.

Erg.

Vt saepe summa ingenia in occulto latent;
hic qualis imperator nunc privatus est.

Heg.

Habe modo bonum animum, nam illum confido domum in his diebus me reconciliassere.

60 nam eccum hic captivom adolescentem intus Aleum, prognatum genere summo et summis ditiis:
hoc illum me mutare confido pote.

Erg.

Ita di deaeque faxint. sed num quo foras
vocatus es ad cenam?

Heg.

Nusquam, quod sciam.
65 sed quid tu id quaeris?

Erg.

Quia mi est natalis dies;
propterea te vocari ad te ad cenam volo.

Heg.

Facete dictum. sed si pauxillo potes contentus esse.

Erg.

Ne perpauxillum modo,
nam istoc me assiduo victu delecto domi;
70 age sis, roga emptum: nisi qui meliorem adferet quae mi atque amicis placeat condicio magis, quasi fundum vendam, meis me addicam legibus.

Heg.

Profundum vendis tu quidem, haud fundum, mihi.

sed si venturu's, temperi.

Erg.

Em, vel iam otium est.

Heg.

75 I modo, venare leporem: nunc irim tenes;
nam meus scruposam victus commetat viam.

Erg.

Numquam istoc vinces me, Hegio, ne postules:
cum calceatis dentibus veniam tamen.

Heg.

Asper meus victus sane est.

Erg.

Sentisne essitas?

Heg.

80 Terrestris cena est.

Erg.

Sus terrestris bestia est.

Heg.

Multis holeribus.

Erg.

Curato aegrotos domi.
numquid vis?

Heg.

Venias temperi.

Erg.

Memorem mones. —

Heg.

Ibo intro atque intus subducam ratiunculam,
quantillum argenti mi ápuđ trapezitam siet.
85 ad fratrem, quo ire dixeram, mox ivero. —

ACT II.

Lorarii

Si di ímmortales íd voluerunt, vós hanc aerumnam éxsequi, decét id pati animo aéquo: si id faciétis, levior lábos erit.
domi fuístis, credo, líberi:
nunc servitus si evenit, ei vos morigerari mos bonust 5 et erili imperio eamque ingeniis vostris lenem reddere.
indigna digna habenda sunt, erus quae facit.

Captivi

Oh oh oh.

Lor.

Éiulatione haud opus est, oculis haud lacrimantibus:
in ré mala animo sí bono utare, ádiuvat.

Tyndarvs

10 At nós pudet, quia cúm catenis súmus.

Lor.

At pigeat póstea
nostrum erum, si vos éximat vínculis, aút solutós sinat, quós argento émerit.

Tynd.

Quid a nóbis metuit? scímus nos nóstrum officiúm quod est, sí solutós sinat.

Lor.

15 Át fugam fíngitis: séntio quam rem ágitis.

Philocrates

Nós fugiamus? quó fugiamus?

L.

In patriam.

P.

Apage, haud nós id deceat, fúgitivos imitári.

Lor.

Immo edepol, si érit occasio, haúd dehortor.

Tynd.

Únum exoráre vos sínite nos.

Lor.

Quídnam id est?

Tynd.

Út sine hisce arbitris

20 átque vobis nobis détis lócum loquendi.

Lor.

Fíat. abscedíte hinc: nós concedámus huc.
séd brevem orátionem íncipisse.

Tynd.

Em istúc mihi certum erat. cóncede huc.

Lor.

Abíte ab ístis.

Tynd.

Obnóxii ámbo

25 vóbis sumus própter hanc rém, quom quae vólumus nos copia est † ea facitis nos compotes.

Phil.

Sécede huc núnciam, sí videtúr, procul, ne arbitri dicta nostra arbitrari queant
neu permanet palam haec nostra fallacia.
30 nam doli non doli sunt, nisi astu colas, sed malum maxumum, si id palam provenit.

nam sí erus mihi es tu átque ego me túom esse servom assímulo, tamen víso opust, cauto est opus, ut hoc sóbrie sineque árbitris accúrate agátur, docte ét diligénter; 35 tanta íncepta rés est: haud sómniculóse hoc agéndum est.

Tynd.

Ero út me volés esse.

Phil.

Spéro.

Tynd.

Nam tú nunc vidés pro tuó caro cápite carum ófferre mé meum capút vilitáti.

Phil.

Scio.

Tynd.

At scíre memento, quándo id quód voles habébis; 40 nam fére maxima pars mórem hunc hominés habent: quod síbi volunt,
dum id ímpetrant, boní sunt;
sed íd ubi iam penes sése habent, éx bonis péssimi et fraúduléntíssimi fíunt: nunc út mihi té volo esse aútumo.
45 quód tibi suádeam, suádeam meó patri.

Phil.

Pól ego si te aúdeam, meúm patrem nóminem:
nám secundúm patrem tu és pater próxímus.

Tynd.

Aúdio.

Phil.

Et proptérea saepiús te uti memíneris moneo:

non ego erus tibi, sed servos sum; nunc obsecro te hoc unum — 50 quoniam nobis di immortales animum ostenderunt suom, ut qui erum me tibi fuisse atque esse conservom velint, quom antehac pro iure imperitabam meo, nunc te oro per precem — per fortunam incertam et per mei te erga bonitatem patris, perque consérvitium commune, quód hostica evenit manu, 55 ne me secus honore honestes quam quom servibas mihi, atque ut qui fueris et qui nunc sis meminisse ut memineris.

Tynd.

Scio quidem me te esse nunc et te esse me.

Phil.

Em istuc si potes memoriter meminisse, inest spes nobis ín hac astutia.

Hegio

Iam ego revertar intro, si ex his quae volo exquisivero.
ubi sunt isti quos ante aedis iussi huc produci foras?

Phil.

Edepol tibi ne in quaestione essemus cautum intellego, ita vinclis custodiisque circum moeniti sumus.

Heg.

5 Qui cavet ne decipiatur, vix cavet, cum etiam cavet;
etiam cum cavisse ratus est, saepe is cautor captus est.
an vero non iusta causa est, ut vos servem sedulo, quos tam grandi sim mercatus praesenti pecunia?

Phil.

Neque pol tibi nos, quia nos servas, aequomst vitio vortere,
10 neque te nobis, sí abeamus hinc, si fuat occasio.

Heg.

Vt vos hic, itidem illic apud vos meus servatur filius.

Phil.

Captus est?

Heg.

Ita.

Phil.

Non igitur nos soli ignavi fuimus.

Heg.

Secede huc. nam sunt quae éx te solo scitari volo.
quarum rerum te falsilocum mi esse nolo.

Phil.

Non ero

15 quod sciam. si quid nescibo, id nescium tradam tibi.

Tynd.

Nunc senex est in tostrina, nunc iam cultros attinet.
ne id quidem, involucrum inicere, voluit, vestem ut ne inquinet.
sed utrum strictimne adtonsurum dicam esse an per pectinem, nescio; verum, si frugist, usque admutilabit probe.

Heg.

20 Quid tu? servosne esse an liber mavelis, memora mihi.

Phil.

Proximum quod sit bono quodque a malo longissimum, id volo; quamquam non multum fuit molesta servitus, nec mihi secus erat quam si essem familiaris filius.

Tynd.

Eugepae, Thalem talento non emam Milesium, 25 nam ad sapientiam huius ... nimius nugator fuit.
ut facete orationem ad servitutem contulit.

Heg.

Quo de genere natust illic Philocrates?

Phil.

Polyplusio:

quod genus illi est unum pollens atque honoratissimum.

H.

Quid ipse hic? quo honore est illic?

P.

Summo, atque ab summis viris.

Heg.

30 Tum igitur ei cum in Aleis tanta gratia est, ut praedicas, quid divitiae, suntne opimae?

Phil.

Vnde excoquat sebum senex.

Heg.

Quid pater, vivitne?

Phil.

Vivom, cum inde abimus, liquimus;
nunc vivatne necne, id Orcum scire oportet scilicet.

Tynd.

Salva res est, philosophatur quoque iam, non mendax modo est.

Heg.

35 Quid erat ei nomen?

Phil.

Thensaurochrysonicochrysidēs.

Heg.

Videlicet propter divitias inditum id nomen quasi est.

Phil.

Immo edepol propter avaritiam ipsius atque audaciam.

nam ille quidem Theodoromedes fuit germano nomine.

Heg.

Quid tu ais? tenaxne pater est eius?

Phil.

Immo edepol pertinax;

40 quin etiam ut magis nóscas: Genio suo ubi quando sacrificat, ad rem divinam quibus est opus, Samiis vasis utitur, ne ipse Genius surripiat: proinde aliis ut credat vide.

Heg.

Sequere hac me igitur. eadem ego ex hoc quae volo exquaesivero.
Philocrates, hic fecit, hominem frugi ut facere oportuit.

45 nám ego ex hoc quo genere gnatus sis scio, hic fassus mihi;
haec tu eadem si confiteri vis, tua ex re feceris:
quae tamen scio scire me ex hoc.

Tynd.

Fecit officium hic suom,

cum tibi est confessus verum, quamquam volui sedulo meam nobilitatem occultare et genus et divitias meas,

50 Hegio; nunc quando patriam et libertatem perdidí, non ego istunc me potius quam te metuere aequom censeo.

vis hostilis cum istoc fecit meas opes aequabiles;
memini, cum dicto haud audebat: facto nunc laedat licet.

sed viden? fortuna humana fingit artatque ut lubet:

55 me, qui liber fueram, servom fecit, e summo infimum;
qui imperare insueram, nunc alterius imperio obsequor.

et quidem si, proinde ut ipse fui imperator familiae, habeam dominum, non verear ne iniuste aut graviter mi imperet.
Hegio, hoc te monitum, nisi forte ipse non vis, voluerim.

Heg.

60 Loquere audacter.

Tynd.

Tam ego fui ante liber quam gnatus tuos, tam mihi quam illi libertatem hostilis eripuit manus, tam ille apud nos servit, quam ego nunc hic apud te servio.

est profecto deus, qui quae nos gerimus auditque et videt:
is, uti tu me hic habueris, proinde illum illic curaverit; 65 bene merenti bene profuerit, male merenti par erit.
quam tu filium tuum, tam pater me meus desiderat.

Heg.

Memini ego istuc. sed fateri eadem quae hic fassus sum mihi?

Tynd.

Ego patri meo esse fateor summas divitias domi
meae summo genere gnatum. sed te optestor, Hegio, 70 ne tuum animum avariorum faxint divitiae meae:
ne patri, tam etsi sum unicus, decere videatur magis, me saturum servire apud te sumptu et vestitu tuo potius quam illi, ubi minime honestum est, mendicantem vivere.

Heg.

Ego virtute deum et maiorum nostrum dives sum satis.
75 non ego omnino lucrum omne esse utile homini existimo:
scio ego, multos iam lucrum lutulentos homines reddidit;
est etiam ubi profecto damnum praestet facere quam lucrum.
odi ego aurum: multa multis saepe suasit perperam.
nunc hoc animum advorte, ut ea quae sentio pariter scias.
80 filius meus illic apud vos servit captus Alide:
eum si reddis mihi, praeterea unum nummum ne duis;
et te et hunc amittam hinc. alio pacto abire non potes.

Tynd.

Optimum atque aequissimum oras optimumque hominum es homo.
sed is privatam servitutem servit illi an publicam?

Heg.

85 Privatam medici Menarchi.

Tynd.

Pol is quidem huius est cliens.

tam hoc quidem tibi in proclivi quam imber est quando pluit.

Heg.

Fac is homo ut redimatur.

Tynd.

Faciam. sed te id oro, Hegio —

Heg.

Quid vis, dum ab re ne quid ores, faciam.

Tynd.

Ausculda, tum scies.

ego me amitti, donicum ille huc redierit, non postulo.

90 verum quaeso ut aestumatum hunc mihi des, quem mittam ad patrem,
ut is homo redimatur illi.

Heg.

Immo alium potius misero

hinc, ubi erunt indutiae, illuc, tuom qui conveniat patrem, qui tua quae tu iusseris mandata ita út velis perferat.

Tynd.

At nihil est ignotum ad illum mittere: operam luseris.

95 hunc mitte, hic transactum reddet omne, si illuc venerit.

nec quemquam fideliozem neque cui plus credat potes mittere ad eum nec qui magis sit servos ex sententia, neque adeo cui suom concredat filium hodie audacius.

ne vereare, meo periclo húius ego experiar fidem,

100 fretus ingenio eius, quod me ésse scit erga se benevolum.

Heg.

Mittam equidem istunc aestumatum tua fide, si vis.

Tynd.

Volo;

quam citissime potest, tam hoc cedere ad factum volo.

Heg.

Num quae causa est quin, si ille huc non redeat, viginti minas mihi des pro illo?

Tynd.

Optuma immo.

Heg.

Solvite istum nunciam,

105 atque utrumque.

Tynd.

Di tibi omnis omnia optata offerant, cum me tanto honore honestas cumque ex vinclis eximis.

hoc quidem haud molestumst, iam quod collus collari caret.

Heg.

Quod bonis bene fit beneficium, gratia ea graviora est bonis.

nunc tu illum si illo es missurus, dice monstra praecipe

110 quae ad patrem vis nuntiari. vin vocem huc ad te?

Tynd.

Voca.

Heg.

Quae res bene vortat mihi meoque filio vobisque, volt te novos erus operam dare tuo veteri domino, quod is velit, fideliter.

nam ego te aestumatum huic dedi viginti minis,

5 hic autem té ait mittere hinc velle ad patrem, meum ut illic redimat filium, mutatio inter me atque illum ut nostris fiat filiis.

Phil.

Vtroque vorsum rectumst ingenium meum,

ad te atque ad illum; pro rota me uti licet:

10 vel ego huc vel illuc vortar, quo imperabitis.

Heg.

Tute tibi tuopte ingenio prodes plurimum, cum servitutem íta fers ut ferri decet.
sequere. em tibi hominem.

Tynd.

Gratiám habeo tibi,
quom copiam istam mi et potestatem facis, 15 ut ego ad parentes hunc remittam nuntium, qui me quid rerum hic agitem et quid fieri velim patri meo, ordine omnem rem, illuc perferat.
nunc ita convenit inter me atque hunc, Tyndare, ut te aestumatum in Alidem mittam ad patrem, 20 si non rebitas huc, ut viginti minas dem pro te.

Phil.

Recte convenisse sentio.
nam pater expectat aut me aut aliquem nuntium, qui hinc ad se veniat.

Tynd.

Ergo animum advortas volo quae nuntiare hinc te volo in patriam ad patrem.

Phil.

25 Phílocrates, ut adhuc locorum feci, faciam sedulo, ut potissimum quod in rem recte conducatur tuam,
id petam idque persequar corde et animo atque viribus.

Tynd.

Facis ita ut te facere oportet. nunc animum advortas volo:
omnium primum salutem dicito matri et patri 30 et cognatis et si quem alium benevolentem videris; me hic valere et servitutem servire huic homini optumo, qui me honore honestiorem semper fecit et facit.

Phil.

Istuc ne praecipias, facile memoria memini tamen.

Tynd.

Nam equidem, nisi quod custodem habeo, liberum me esse arbitror.

35 dicito patri, quo pacto mihi cum hoc convenerit de huius filio.

Phil.

Quae memini, mora mera est monerier.

Tynd.

Vt eum redimat et remittat nostrum huc amborum vicem.

Phil.

Meminero.

H.

At quamprimum pote: istuc in rem utriquest maxime.

Phil.

Non tuom tu magis videre quam ille suom gnatum cupit.

Heg.

40 Meus mihi, suos cuique est carus.

Phil.

Numquid aliud vis patri nuntiari?

Tynd.

Me hic valere et (tute audacter dicito, Tyndare) inter nos fuisse ingenio haud discordabili, neque te commeruisse culpam (neque me adversatum tibi) beneque ero gessisse morem in tantis aerumnis tamen;

45 neque med umquam deseruisse te neque factis neque fide, rebus in dubiis egenis. haec pater quando sciet,

Tyndare, ut fueris animatus erga suom gnatum atque se, numquam erit tam avarus, quin te gratiis emittat manu † et mea opera, si hinc rebito, faciam ut faciat facilius.

50 nam tua opera et comitate et virtute et sapientia fecisti ut redire liceat ad parentis denuo, cúm apud hunc confessus es et genus et divitias meas:
quo pacto emisisti e vinclis tuom erum tua sapientia.

Phil.

Feci ego ista út commemoras, et te meminisse id gratum est mihi.
55 merito tibi ea evenerunt a me; nam nunc, Philocrates, sí ego item memorem quae me erga multa fecisti bene, nox diem adimat; nam quasi servos meus esses, nihilo setius tu mihi obsequiosus semper fuisti.

Heg.

Di vostram fidem,
hominum ingenium liberale. ut lacrimas excutiunt mihi.
60 videas corde amare inter se. quantis lautus laudibus suom erum servos collaudavit.

Tynd.

Pól istic me haud centesimam partem laudat quam ipse meritust ut laudetur laudibus.

Heg.

Ergo cum optume fecisti, nunc adest occasio bene facta cumulare, ut erga hunc rem geras fideliter.

Phil.

65 Magis non factum possum velle, quam opera experiar persequi;
id ut scias, Iovem supremum testem laudo, Hegio, me infidelem non futurum Philocrati.

Heg.

Probus es homo.

Phil.

Nec me secus umquam ei facturum quicquam quam memet mihi.

Tynd.

Istaec dicta te experiri et operis et factis volo;

70 et, quo minus dixi quam volui de te, animum advortas volo, atque horunc verborum causa caveto mi iratus fuas;

sed, te quaeso, cogitato hinc mea fide mitti domum te aestimatum, et méam esse vitam hic pro te positam pignori, ne tu me ignores, quom extemplo meo é conspectu abscesseris,

75 quom me servom in servitute pro ted hic reliqueris, tuque te pro libero esse ducas, pignus deseras neque des operam pro me ut huius reducem facias filium;

scito te hinc minis viginti aéstumatum mittier.

fac fidelis sis fideli, cave fidem fluxam geras:

80 nam pater, scio, faciet quae illum facere oportet omnia;

serva tibi in perpetuom amicum me, atque hunc inventum inveni.

haec per dexteram tuam te dextera retinens manu opsecro, infidelior mihi ne fuas quam ego sum tibi.

tu hóc age. tu mihi erus nunc es, tu patronus, tu pater, 85 tibi commendo spes opesque meas.

Phil.

Mandavisti satis.

satin habes, mandata quae sunt facta si refero?

Tynd.

Satis.

Phil.

Et tua et tua huc ornatus reveniam ex sententia.

numquid aliud?

Tynd.

Vt quam primum possis redeas.

Phil.

Res monet.

Heg.

Sequere me, viaticum ut dem á trapezita tibi,

90 eadem opera a praetore sumam sygraphum.

Tynd.

Quem sygraphum?

Heg.

Quem hic ferat secum ad legionem, hinc ire huic ut liceat domum.
tu intro abi.

T.

Bene ambulato. —

P.

Bene vale.

H.

Edepol rem meam constabilivi, quom illos emi de praeda a quaestoribus;

expedivi ex servitute filium, si dis placet.

95 at etiam dubitavi, hos homines emerem an non emerem, diu.

servate istum sultis intus, servi, ne quoquam pedem ecferat sine custodela. iam ego apparebo domi;

ad fratrem modo captivos alios inviso meos, eadem percontabor, ecquis hunc ádulescentem noverit.

100 sequere tu, te ut amittam; ei rei primum praeverti volo. —

ACT III.

Ergasilvs

Miser homo est, qui ipse sibi quod edit quaerit et id aegre invenit, sed ille est miserior, qui et aegre quaerit et nihil invenit;
ille miserrimust, qui cum esse cupit, tum quod edit non habet.
nam hercle ego huic die, si liceat, oculos effodiam libens, 5 ita malignitate oneravit omnis mortalis mihi;
neque ieiuniosiore neque magis ecfertum fame vidi nec quoi minus procedat quidquid facere occeperit, ita venter gutturque resident esurialis ferias.
ilicet parasiticae arti maximam malam crucem, 10 ita iuventus iam ridiculos inopesque ab se segregat.
nil morantur iam Lacones unisubsellii viros, plagipatidas, quibus sunt verba sine penu et pecunia:
eos requirunt, qui libenter, quom ederint, reddant domi;
ipsi obsonant, quae parasitorum ante erat provincia, 15 ipsi de foro tam aperto capite ad lenones eunt quam in tribú aperto capite sontes condemnant reos;
neque ridiculos iam terrunci faciunt, sese omnes amant.
nám uti dudum hinc abii, accessi ad adulescentes in foro.
‘salvete’ inquam. ‘quo imus una’ inquam ‘ad prandium?’ atque illi tacent.
20 ‘quis ait “hoc” aut quis profitetur?’ inquam. quasi muti silent, neque me rident. ‘ubi cenamus?’ inquam. átque illi abnuont.
dico unum ridiculum dictum de dictis melioribus, quibus solebam menstruales epulas ante adipiscier:
nemo ridet; scivi extemplo rem de compecto geri;
25 ne canem quidem irritatam voluit quisquam imitarier, saltem, si non arriderent, dentes ut restringerent.
abeo ab illis, postquam video me sic ludificarier;
pergo ad alios, venio ad alios, deinde ad alios: una res.
omnes de compecto rém agunt, quasi in Velabro olearii.
30 nunc redeo inde, quoniam mé ibi video ludificarier.
item alii parasiti frustra obambulabant in foro.
nunc barbarica lege certumst ius meum omne persequi:

qui consilium iniere, quo nos victu et vita prohibeant, is diem dicam, irrogabo multam, ut mihi cenas decem 35 meo arbitrato dent, cum cara annona sit. sic egero.
nunc ibo ad portum hinc: est illic mi una spes cenatica;
si éa decolabit, redibo huc ad senem ad cenam asperam. —

Hegio

Quid est suávius, quam bene rém gerere, bonó publicó, sic ut égo feci herí, cum emi hósce homines: ubi quísque vident, eúnt obviam gratulánturque eám rem.
5 íta me miserum restitendo retinendoque lassum reddiderunt:
vix éx gratulándo misér iam eminebam.
tandem ábii ad praetórem; ibí vix requiévi:
rogo sýngraphum, datur mi ílico; dedi Týndaro: ille abiít domum.
10 inde ílico praevórtor domúm, postquam id áctum est;
eo prótinus ad fratrém, mei ubi súnt alii captívi.
rogo, Philocratem ex Alide ecquis hominum noverit: tandem hic exclamat, eum sibi esse sodalem;
dico eum esse apud me; hic extemplo orat obsecratque, 15 eum sibi ut liceat videre:
iussi ílico hunc exsolvi. nunc tu sequere me, ut quód me oravisti ímpetres, eum hóminem uti convénias. —

Tyndarvs

Nunc íllud est, cum mé fuisse quam ésse nimio mávelim:
nunc spes opes auxiliaque a me segregant spernuntque se.
hic illést dies, cum nulla vitae meae salus sperabilest, neque † exílium exitio est néque adeo spes, quae mi hunc aspellat metum,
5 nec subdolis mendaciis mihi usquam mantellum est meis, nec sycophantiis nec fucis ullum mantellum obviam est neque deprecatio perfidiis meis nec male factis fuga est, nec confidentiae usquam hospitium est nec deverticulum dolis:
operta quae fuere aperta sunt, patent praestigiae, 10 ómnis res palam est, néque de hac re negotium est, quín male occidam oppetamque pestem eri vicem meamque.

perdidit me Aristophontes hic qui venit modo intro † is me novit, is sodalis Philocrati et cognatus est.
neque iám Salus servare, si volt, me potest, nec copia est, 15 nisi si áliquam corde machinor astutiam.
quám, malum? quid machiner? quid comminiscar? maxumas nugás ineptus incipisso. haereo.

Hegio

Quo illúm nunc hominem próripuisse fóras se dicam ex aédibus?

Tynd.

Núnc enim vero ego óccidi: eúnt ad te hostes, Tyndare.
quíd loquar? quid fabulabor? quid negabo aut quid fatebor?
mihi rés omnis ín incerto sita est. quid rebus confidam meis?
5 utinám te di prius perderent, quam periisti e patria tua, Aristophontes, qui ex parata re imparatam omnem facis.
occísa est haec res, nisi reperio atrocem mi aliquam astutiam.

Heg.

Sequere. ém tibi hominem. adi, atque adloquere.

Tynd.

Quis homo est me hominum miserior?

Aristophontes

Quíd istuc est quod meos te dicam fugitare oculos, Tyndare, 10 proque ignoto me aspernari, quasi me numquam noveris?
equidem tam sum servos quam tu, etsi ego domi liber fui, tu usque a puero servitutum servivisti in Alide.

Heg.

Edepol minime miror, si te fugitat aut oculos tuos, aut si te odit, qui istum appelles Tyndarum pro Philocrate.

Tynd.

15 Hegió, hic homó rabiosus habitus est in Alide, ne tu quód istic fabuletur auris immittas tuas.

nam istic hastis insectatus est domi matrem et patrem, et illic isti qui insputatur morbus interdum venit.
proin tu ab istoc procul recedas.

Heg.

Vltro istum a me.

A.

Ain, verbero?

20 me rabiosum atque insectatum esse hastis meum memoras patrem, et eum morbum mi esse, ut qui me ópus sit insputarier?

Heg.

Ne verere, multos iste morbus homines macerat, quibus insputari saluti fuit atque is profuit.

Arist.

Quid tu autem? etiam huic credis?

Heg.

Quid ego credam huic?

Arist.

Insanum esse me?

Tynd.

25 Viden tu hunc, quam ínimico voltu intuetur? concedi optumumst,
Hegio: fit quód tibi ego dixi, glíscit rabies, cave tibi.

Heg.

Credidi esse insanum extemplo, ubi te appellavit Tyndarum.

Tynd.

Quin suom ipse interdum ignorat nomen neque scit qui siet.

Heg.

At etiam te suom sodalem esse aibat.

Tynd.

Haud vidi magís.

30 et quidem Alcumeus atque Orestes et Lycurgus postea una opera mihi sunt sodales qua iste.

Arist.

At etiam, furcifer,
male loqui mi audés? non ego te novi?

Heg.

Pol planum id quidem est,
non novisse, qui istum appelles Tyndarum pro Philocrate.
quem vides, eum ignoras: illum nominas quem non vides.

Arist.

35 Immo iste eum sese ait, qui non est, esse, et qui vero est, negat.

Tynd.

Tu énim repertu's, Philocratem qui superes veriverbio.

Arist.

Pol ego ut rem video, tu inventu's, vera vanitudine qui convincas. sed quaeso hercle, agedum aspice ad me.

Tynd.

Em.

Arist.

Dic modo:
tun negas te Tyndarum esse?

T.

Négo, inquam.

A.

Tun te Philocratem

40 esse ais?

Tynd.

Égo, inquam.

Arist.

Tune huic credis?

Heg.

Plus quidem quam tibi aut mihi.

nam ille quidem, quem tu hunc memoras esse, hodie hinc abiit

Alidem

ad patrem huius.

Arist.

Quem patrem, qui servos est?

T.

Et tu quidem

servos es, liber fuisti, et ego me confido fore, si huius huc reconciliasso in libertatem filium.

Arist.

45 Quid ais, furcifer? tun te gnatum esse memoras liberum?

Tynd.

Non equidem me Liberum, sed Philocratem esse aio.

A.

Quid est?

ut scelestus, Hegio, nunc iste te ludos facit.

nám is est servos ipse, neque praeter se umquam ei servos fuit.

Tynd.

Quia tute ipse eges in patria nec tibi qui vivas domist,

50 omnis inveniri similis tui vis; non mirum facis:

est miserorum, ut malevolentes sint atque invideant bonis.

Arist.

Hegio, vide sis, ne quid tu huic temere insistas credere.

atque, ut perspicio, profecto iam áliquid pugnae edidit.
filium tuom quód redimere se ait, id ne utiquam mihi placet.

Tynd.

55 Scio te id nolle fieri; efficiam tamen ego id, si di adiuvant.
illum restituam huic, hic autem in Alidem me meo patri.
propterea ad patrem hinc amisi Tyndarum.

Arist.

Quin tute is es:
neque praeter te in Alide ullus servos istoc nominest.

Tynd.

Pergin servom me exprobrare esse, id quod vi hostili optigit?

Arist.

60 Enim iam nequeo contineri.

T.

Heus, audin quid ait? quin fugis?
iam illic hic nos insectabit lapidibus, nisi illunc iubes comprehendi.

Arist.

Crucior.

Tynd.

Ardent oculi: fit opus, Hegio; viden tu illi maculari corpus totum maculis luridis?
atra bilis agitat hominem.

Arist.

At pol te, si hic sapiat senex,
65 pix atra agitet apud carnificem tuoque capiti inluceat.

Tynd.

Iam deliramenta loquitur, laruae stimulant virum.
hercle qui, si hunc comprehendi iusseris, sapias magis.

Arist.

Crucior, lapidem non habere mé, ut illi mastigiae cerebrum excutiam, qui me insanum verbis concinnat suis.

Tynd.

70 Audin lapidem quaeritare?

Arist.

Solus te solum volo,

Hegio.

Heg.

Istinc loquere, si quid vis, procul. tamen audiam.

Tynd.

Namque edepol si adbites propius, os denasabit tibi mordicus.

Arist.

Neque pol me insanum, Hégio, esse creduis neque fuisse umquam, neque esse morbum quem istic autumat.
75 verum si quid metuis a me, iube me vinciri: volo, dum istic itidem vinciatur.

Tynd.

Immo enim vero, Hegio, istic, qui volt, vinciatur.

Arist.

Tace modo. ego te, Philocrates false, faciam ut verus hodie reperiare Tyndarus.
quid mi abnutas?

Tynd.

Tibi ego abnuto?

A.

Quid agat, si absis longius?

Heg.

80 Quid ais? quid si adeam hunc insanum?

Tynd.

Nugas. ludificabitur, garriet quoi neque pes umquam neque caput compareat.
ornamenta absunt: Aiace[m], hunc cum vides, ipsum vides.

Heg.

Nihili facio. tamen adibo.

Tynd.

Nunc ego omnino occidi, nunc ego inté[r] sacrum saxumque sto, nec quid faciam scio.

Heg.

85 Do tibi operam, Aristophontes, si quid est quod me velis.

Arist.

Ex me audibis vera quae nunc falsa opinare, Hegio.
sed hoc primúm, me expurigare tibi volo, me insaniam neque tenere neque mi esse ullum morbum, nisi quod servio.
at ita me rex deorum atque hominum faxit patriae compotem, 90 ut istic Philocrates non magis est quam aut ego aut tu.

H.

Eho dic mihi,
quis illic igitur est?

Arist.

Quem dudum dixi a principio tibi.
hoc si secus reperi[er]is, nullam causam dico quin mihi et parentum et libertatis apud te deliquio siet.

H.

Quid tu ais?

T.

Me tuom esse servom et te meum erum.

H.

Haud istuc rogo.

95 fuistin liber?

Tynd.

Fui.

Arist.

Enim vero non fuit, nugas agit.

Tynd.

Qui tu scis? an tu fortasse fuisti meae matri obstetrix, qui id tam audacter dicere audes?

Arist.

Puerum te vidi puer.

Tynd.

At ego te video maior maiorem: ém rursum tibi.
meam rem non cures, si recte facias. num ego curo tuam?

Heg.

100 Fuitne huic patér Thensaurochrysonicochrysides?

Arist.

Non fuit, neque ego istuc nomen umquam audiui ante hunc diem.
Philocrati Theodoromedes fuit pater.

Tynd.

Pereo probe.

quin quiescis? i diirectum cor meum, ac suspende te.
tu sussultas, ego miser vix asto prae formidine.

Heg.

105 Satin istuc mihi exquisitum est, fuisse hunc servom in Alide neque esse hunc Philocratem?

A.

Tam satis quam numquam hoc inuenies secus.
sed ubi is nunc est?

Heg.

Vbi ego minime atque ipse se vult maxime.
sed vide sis.

Arist.

Quin exploratum dico et provisum hoc tibi.

Heg.

Certon?

Arist.

Quin nihil, inquam, inuenies magis hoc certo certius.
110 Philocrates iam inde usque amicus fuit mihi a puero puer.

Heg.

Tum igitur ego deruncinatus, deartuatus sum miser huius scelesti techinis, qui me ut lubitum est ductavit dolis. sed qua faciest tuos sodalis Philocrates?

Arist.

Dicam tibi:
macilento ore, naso acuto, corpore albo, oculis nigris,
115 subrufus aliquantum, crispus, cincinnatus.

Heg.

Convenit.

Tynd.

Vt quidem hercle in medium ego hodie pessime processerim.
vae illis virgis miseris, quae hodie in tergo morientur meo.

Heg.

Verba mihi data esse video.

Tynd.

Quid cessatis, compedes, currere ad me meaque amplecti crura, ut vos custodiam?

Heg.

¹²⁰ Satin med illi hodie scelesti capti ceperunt dolo?
illic servom se assimilabat, hic sese autem liberum.
nuculeum amisi, retinui pignori putamina.
ita mihi stólido sursum versum os sublevare offuciis.
hic quidem mé numquam irridebit. Colaphe, Cordalio, Corax, ¹²⁵ ite istinc, ecferte lora.

Colaphvs

Num lignatum mittimur?

Heg.

Inícite huic manicas ... mastigiae.

Tynd.

Quid hoc ést negoti? quid ego deliqui?

Heg.

Rogas,
sator sartorque scelerum, et messor maxume?

Tynd.

Non occatorem dicere audebas prius?
⁵ nam semper occant prius quam sariunt rustici.

Heg.

At ut cónfidenter ... mihi contra astitit.

Tynd.

Decet innocentem servom átque innoxium confidentem esse, suom apud erum potissimum.

Heg.

Adstringite isti sultis vehementer manus.

Tynd.

10 Tuós sum, tu has quidem vel praecidi iube.
sed quid negoti est, quam ob rem suscenses mihi?

Heg.

Quia me meamque rem, quod in te uno fuit, tuis scelestis falsidicis fallaciis deartuasti dilaceravisti atque opes 15 confecisti omnes, res ac rationes meas:
ita mi exemisti Philocratem fallaciis.
illum esse servom credidi, te liberum;
ita vosmet aiebatis itaque nomina inter vos permutastis.

Tynd.

Fateor, omnia
20 facta esse ita ut tu dicis, et fallaciis abiisse eum abs te mea opera atque astutia;
an, obsecro hercle te, id nunc suscenses mihi?

Heg.

At cum cruciatu maxumo id factumst tuo.

Tynd.

Dum ne ob male facta, peream, parvi aestumo.
25 si ego hic peribo, ast ille ut dixit non redit, at erit mi hoc factum mortuo memorabile, me meum erum captum ex servitute atque hostibus reducem fecisse liberum in patriam ad patrem, meumque potius me caput periculo
30 praeoptavisse, quam is periret, ponere.

Heg.

Facito ergo ut Acherunti clueas gloria.

Tynd.

Qui per virtutem, periit, at non interit.

Heg.

Quando ego te exemplis pessumis cruciavero atque ob sutelas tuas te morti misero, 35 vel te interiisse vel periisse praedicent;
dum pereas, nihil intererit: dicant vivere.

Tynd.

Pol si istuc faxis, haud sine poena feceris, si ille huc rebitet, sicut confido affore.

Arist.

Pro di immortales, nunc ego teneo, nunc scio 40 quid hoc sít negoti. meus sodalis Philocrates in libertate est ad patrem in patria. bene est, nec quisquam est mihi, aequè melius cui velim.
sed hoc mihi aegre est, me huic dedisse operam malam, qui nunc propter me meaque verba vinctus est.

Heg.

45 Votuin te quicquam mi hodie falsum proloqui?

Tynd.

Votuisti.

Heg.

Cur es ausus mentiri mihi?

Tynd.

Quia vera obsessent illi quoi operam dabam:
nunc falsa prosunt.

Heg.

At tibi oberunt.

Tynd.

Optumest.

at erum servavi, quem servatum gaudeo, 50 cui me custodem addiderat erus maior meus.

sed malene id factum árbitrare?

Heg.

Pessume.

Tynd.

At ego aio recte, qui abs te sorsum sentio.
nam cogitato, si quis hoc gnato tuo tuos servos faxit, qualem haberes gratiam?
55 emitteresne necne eum servom manu?
essetne apud te is servos acceptissimus?
responde.

Heg.

Opinor.

Tynd.

Cur ergo iratus mihi es?

Heg.

Quia illi fuisti quam mihi fidelior.

Tynd.

Quid? tu una nocte postulavisti et die 60 recens captum hominem, nuperum novicium, te perdocere ut melius consulerem tibi,
quam illi, quicum una a puero aetatem exegeram?

Heg.

Ergo ab eo petito gratiam istam. ducite,
ubi ponderosas crassas capiat compedes.
65 inde ibis porro in latomias lapidarias.
ibi quom alii octonos lapides effodiunt, nisi cotidiano sesquiopus confeceris,
Sescentoplago nomen indetur tibi.

Arist.

Per deos atque homines ego te obtestor, Hegio,

70 ne tu istunc hominem perduis.

Heg.

Curabitur;

nam noctu nervo vinctus custodibitur, interdius sub terra lapides eximet:

diu ego hunc cruciabo, non uno absolvam die.

Arist.

Certumne est tibi istuc?

Heg.

Non moriri certius.

75 abducite istum actutum ad Hippolytum fabrum, iubete huic crassas compedes impingier;

inde extra portam ad meum libertum Cordalum in lapicidinas facite deductus siet:

atque hunc me velle dicite ita curarier,

80 ne qui deterius huic sit quam cui pessume est.

Tynd.

Cur ego te invito me esse salvom postulem?

periculum vitae meae tuo stat periculo.

post mortem in morte nihil est quod metuam mali.

etsi pervivo usque ad summam aetatem, tamen

85 breve spatium est perferundi quae minitas mihi.

vale atque salve, etsi aliter ut dicam meres.

tu, Aristophontes, de me ut meruisti, ita vale;

nam mihi propter te hoc optigit.

Heg.

Abducite.

Tynd.

At unum hoc quaeso, si huc rebitet Philocrates,

90 ut mi eius facias conveniundi copiam.

Heg.

Periistis, nisi hunc iam e conspectu abducitis.

Tynd.

Vis haec quidem hercle est, et trahi et trudi simul. —

Heg.

Illic ést abductus recta in phylacam, ut dignus est.

ego illís captivis aliis documentum dabo,

95 ne tale quisquam facinus incipere audeat.

quod absque hoc esset, qui mihi hoc fecit palam, usque offrenatum suis me ductarent dolis.

nunc certum est nulli posthac quicquam credere.

satis súm semel deceptus. speravi miser

100 ex servitute me exemisse filium:

ea spes elapsa est. perdidí unum filium, puerum quadrimum quem mihi servos surpuit, neque eum servom umquam repperi neque filium;

maior potitus hostium est. quod hoc ést scelus?

105 quasi in orbitatem liberos produxerim.

sequere hac. reducam te ubi fuisti. neminis miserere certum est, quia mei miseret neminem. —

Arist.

Exauspicavi ex vinclis. nunc intellego redauspicandum esse in catenas denuo. —

ACT IV.

Ergasilvs

Iúppiter supreme, servas me measque auges opes, máximas opimitates opiparasque offers mihi, laudém lucrum, ludum iocum, festivitatem ferias, pompám penum, potationis saturitatem, gaudium, 5 néc cuiquam homini supplicare ... nunc certum est mihi;
nam vél prodesse amico possum vel inimicum perdere, ita híc me amoenitate amoena amoenus oneravit dies.
síne sacris hereditatem sum aptus effertissimam.
nunc ád senem cursum capessam hunc Hegionem, cui boni 10 tantum affero quantum ipse a dis optat, atque etiam amplius.
nunc certa res est, eodem pacto ut comici servi solent coniciam in collum pallium, primo ex me hanc rem ut audiat;
spéroque me ob hunc nuntium aetérnum adepturum cibum.

Hegio

Quanto ín pectore hanc rem meó magis volúto, tanto mi aegritudo auctiór est in animo.
ad illum modum sublitum os esse mi hodie!
neque íd perspicere quivi.
5 quod cúm scibitúr, tum per úrbem inridébor.
cum extemplo ad forum advenero, omnes loquentur:
‘hic illest senex doctus, quoi verba data sunt.’
sed Ergasilus estne hic, procúl quem video?
conlécto quidem est pallio. quidnam acturust?

Erg.

10 Move áps te moram átque, Ergásile, age hanc rem.
éminor interminorque, ne mi obstiterit obviam nisi quis satis diu vixisse sese homo arbitrabitur.
nam qui obstiterit, ore sistet.

Heg.

Hic homo pugilatum incipit.

Erg.

Facere certumst. proinde ita omnes itinera insistant sua, 15 ne quis in hanc plateam negoti conferat quicquam sui.
nam meus est ballista pugnus, cubitus catapultast mihi, umerus aries, tum genu quemque icero ad terram dabo, dentilegos omnes mortales faciam, quemque offendero.

Heg.

Quae illaec eminatiost nam? nequeo mirari satis.

Erg.

20 Faciam ut huius diei locique meique semper meminerit.
Qui mihi in cursu opstiterit, faxo vitae is extemplo opstiterit suae.

Heg.

Quid hic homo tantum incipissit facere cum tantis minis?

Erg.

Prius edico, ne quis propter culpam capiatu suam:
continete vos domi, prohibete a vobis vim meam.

Heg.

25 Mira edepol sunt, n  hic in ventrem sumpsit confidentiam.
vae misero illi, cuius cibo iste factust imperiosior.

Erg.

Tum pistor es scrofipasci, qu  alunt furfuribus sues, quarum odore praeterire nemo pistrinum potest:
eorum si quousquam scrofam in publico conspexero,
30 ex ipsis dominis meis pugn  exculcabo furfures.

Heg.

Basilicas edictiones atque imperiosas habet:
satur homost, habet profecto in ventre confidentiam.

Erg.

Tum piscatores, qui praebent populo pisces foetidos, qui advehuntur quadrupedanti crucianti cantherio,

35 quorum odos subbasilicanos omnes abigit in forum, eis ego ora verberabo surpiculis piscariis,
ut sciant, alieno naso quam exhibeant molestiam.
tum lanii autem, qui concinnant liberis orbas oves, qui locant caedundos agnos et duplam agninam danunt, 40 qui petroni nomen indunt verveci sectario, eum ego si in via petronem publica conspexero, et petronem et dominum reddam mortales miserrumos.

Heg.

Eugepae, edictiones aedilicias hic quidem habet, mirumque adeost ni hunc fecere sibi Aetóli agoranomum.

Erg.

45 Non ego nunc parasitus sum, sed regum rex regalior, tantus ventri commeatus meo adest in portu cibus.
sed ego cesso hunc Hegionem onerare laetitia senem, quó homine hominum adaeque nemo vivit fortunatior?

Heg.

Quae illaec est laetitia, quam illic laetus largitur mihi?

Erg.

50 Heus ubi estis? ecquis hic est? ecquis hoc aperit ostium?

H.

Hic homo ad cenam recipit se ad me.

E.

Áperite hasce ambas fores prius quam pultando assulatim foribus exitium adfero.

H.

Perlúbet hunc hominem colloqui. Ergásile.

E.

Ergasilum qui vocat?

Heg.
Respíce.

Erg.
Fortuna quod tibi nec fácit nec faciet, me iubes.
55 séd quis est?

Heg.
Réspice ad me, Hégio sum.

Erg.
Óh mihi,
quántum est hominum óptumorum óptume, in témpore advenis.

Heg.
Nescío quem ad portum náctus es ubi cénes, eo fastídis.

E.
Cédo manum.

H.
Manum?

E.
Manum, inquam, cedo tuam actutum.

Heg.
Tene.

E.
Gaude.

H.
Quid ego gaudeam?

E.
Quia ego impero, age gaude modo.

Heg.

60 Pol maerores mi antevortunt gaudiis.

Erg.

Noli irascier

iám ego ex corpore exigam omnis maculas maerorum tibi.

gaude audacter.

Heg.

Gaudeo, etsi nil scio quod gaudeam.

Erg.

Bene facis. iubé —

Heg.

Quid iubeam?

E.

Ignem ingentem fieri.

H.

Ignem ingentem?

E.

Ita dico, magnus ut sit.

H.

Quid? me, volturi,

65 tuan causa aedis incensurum censes?

Erg.

Noli irascier.

iuben an non iubes astitui aúlas, patinas elui,

† laridum atque epulas foveri focolis ferventibus?

alium pisces praestinatum abire?

Heg.

Hic vigilans somniat.

Erg.

Alium porcinam atque agninam et pullos gallinaceos?

Heg.

70 Scis bene esse, si sit unde.

Erg.

† Pernam atque ophthalmiam, horaeum, scombrum et trygonum et cetum, et mollem caseum?

Heg.

Nominandi istorum tibi erit magis quam edundi copia hic apud me, Ergasile.

Erg.

Mean me causa hoc censes dicere?

Heg.

Nec nihil hodie nec multo plus tu hic edes, ne frustra sis.

75 proin tu tui cottidiani victi ventrem ad me afferas.

Erg.

Quin ita faciam, ut tute cupias facere sumptum, etsi ego vetem.

H.

Egone?

E.

Tune.

H.

Tum tu mi igitur erus es.

E.

Immo benevolens.

vin te faciam fortunatum?

Heg.

Malim quam miserum quidem.

E.

Cedo manum.

H.

Em manum.

E.

Di te omnes adiuvant.

H.

Nil sentio.

Erg.

80 Non enim es in senticeto, eo non sentis. sed iube vasa tibi pura apparari ád rem divinam cito, atque agnum afferri proprium pinguem.

Heg.

Cur?

Erg.

Vt sacruſices.

H.

Cui deorum?

E.

Mi hercle, nam égo nunc tibi sum summus Iuppiter, idem ego sum Salus, Fortuna, Lux, Laetitia, Gaudium.
85 proin tu deum hunc saturitate facias tranquillum tibi.

Heg.

Esurire mihi videre.

Erg.

Mi quidem esurio, non tibi.

Heg.

Tuo arbitrato, facile patior.

Erg.

Credo, consuetu's puer.

Heg.

Iuppiter te dique perdant.

E.

Te hercle — mi aequom est gratias

agere ob nuntium; tantum ego nunc porto a portu tibi boni:

90 nunc tu mihi places.

Heg.

Abi, stultu's, sero post tempus venis.

Erg.

Igitur olim si advenissem, magis tu tum istuc diceret;

nunc hanc laetitiam accipe a me, quam fero. nam filium tuom modo in portu Philopoleum vivom, salvom et sospitem vidi in publica celoce, ibidémque illum adolescentulum

95 Aleum una et tuom Stalagmum servom, qui aufugit domo, qui tibi surripuit quadrimum puerum filiolum tuom.

Heg.

Abi in malam rem, ludis me.

Erg.

Ita me amabit sancta Saturitas,

Hegio, itaque suo me semper condecoret cognomine, ut ego vidi.

H.

Meum gnatum?

E.

Tuom gnatum et genium meum.

H.

100 Et captivom illum Alidensem?

E.

μὰ τὸν ... ἀπόλλω.

H.

Et servolum

meum Stalagmum, meum qui gnatum surripuit?

Erg.

ναὶ τὰν ... κόραν.

H.

Iam credo?

E.

ναὶ τὰν ... πραινέστην.

H.

Venit?

E.

ναὶ τὰν ... σιγνίαν.

H.

Certon?

E.

ναὶ τὸν ... φρουσινῶνα.

H.

Vide sis.

E.

ναὶ τὸν ... ἀλάτρινον.

Heg.

Quid tu per barbaricas urbes iuras?

Erg.

Quia enim item asperae

105 sunt ut tuom victum autumabas esse.

Heg.

Vae aetati tuae.

Erg.

Quippe quando mihi nil credis, quod ego dico sedulo.

sed Stalagmus quoius erat tunc nationis, cum hinc abit?

Heg.

Siculus.

Erg.

At nunc Siculus non est, Boius est, Boiam terit:

liberorum quaerundorum causa ei, credo, uxor datast.

Heg.

110 Dic, bonan fide tu mi istaec verba dixisti?

Erg.

Bona.

Heg.

Di immortales, iterum gnatus videor, si vera autumas.

Erg.

Ain tu? dubium habebis etiam, sancte quom ego iurem tibi?

postremo, Hegio, si parva iuri iurandost fides, vise ad portum.

Heg.

Facere certumst. tu intus cura quod opus est.

115 sume, posce, prome quid vis. te facio cellarium.

Erg.

Nam hercle, nisi mantiscinatus probe ero, fusti pectito.

Heg.

Aeternum tibi dapinabo victum, si vera autumas.

E.

Vnde id?

H.

A me meoque gnato.

E.

Sponden tu istud?

H.

Spondeo.

Erg.

At ego tuom tibi advenisse filium respondeo.

Heg.

120 Cura quam optume potes. —

Erg.

Bene ambula et redambula.

illic hinc abiit, mihi rem summam credidit cibariam.

di immortales, iam ut ego collos praetruncabo tegoribus, quanta pernis pestis veniet, quanta labes larido, quanta sumini absumedo, quanta callo calamitas,

5 quanta laniis lassitudo, quanta porcinariis.

nam si alia memorem, quae ad ventris victum conducunt, morast.

nunc ibo, ut pro praefectura mea ius dicam larido, et quae pendent indemnatae pernae, eis auxilium ut feram. —

Pver

Diéspiter te dique, Ergasile, perdant et ventrem tuom, parasítosque omnis, et qui posthac cenam parasitis dabit.

cladés calamitasque, intemperies módo in nostram advenit domum.

quasi lúpus esuriens ille metui ne in me faceret impetum.

5 ubi ... impetum

nimisquae hércle ego illum male formidabam, ita frendebat dentibus.

advéniens deturbavit totum cum carne carnarium:
arrípuít gladium, praetruncavit tribus tegoribus glandia;
aulás calicesque omnes confregit, nisi quae modiales erant.
10 cocum pércontabatur, possentne seriae ferverescere.
cellás refregit omnis intus reclusitque armarium.
adsérvate istunc, sultis, servi. ego ibo, ut conveniam senem, dicam út sibi penum alium adornet, siquidem sese uti volet;
nam híc quidém, ut adornat, aut iam nihil est aut iam nihil erit. —

ACT V.

Hegio

Ioví disque agó gratiás merito mágnas, quom reducem tuo te patri reddiderunt quomque ex miseriis plurimis me exemerunt, † quae adhuc carens dum huc fui sustentabam,
5 quomque hunc conspikor in potestate nostra, quomque huius reperta est fides firma nobis.

Philopolemvs

Sátis iam dolui ex ánimo, et cura mé satis et lacrumis máceravi, sátis iam audivi tuás aerumnas, ád portum mihi quás memorasti.
hóc agamus.

Philocrates

Quid nunc, quoniam tecum servavi fidem
10 tibi hunc reducem in libertatem feci?

Heg.

Fecisti ut tibi,
Philocrates, numquam referre gratiam possim satis,
proinde ut tu promeritu's de me et filio.

Philop.

Immo potes,
pater, et poteris et ego potero, et dí eam potestatem dabunt ut beneficium bene merenti nostro merito muneres;
15 sicut nunc potes, pater mi, facere merito maxume.

Heg.

Quid opust verbis? lingua nullast qua negem quidquid roges.

Philocr.

Postulo abs te, ut mi illum reddas servom, quem hic reliqueram pignus pro me, qui mihi melior quam sibi semper fuit, pro bene factis eius ut ei pretium possim reddere.

Heg.

20 Quod bene fecisti referetur gratia id quod postulas; et id et aliud, quod me orabis, impetrabis. atque te nolim suscensere quod ego iratus ei feci male.

Philocr.

Quid fecisti?

Heg.

In lapicidinas compeditum condidi, ubi rescivi mihi data esse verba.

Philocr.

Vae misero mihi,

25 propter meum caput labores homini evenisse optumo.

Heg.

At ob eam rem mihi libellam pró eo argenti ne duis:
gratiis a me, ut sit liber, ducito.

Philocr.

Edepol, Hegio,

facis benigne. sed quaeso, hominem ut iubeas arcessi.

Heg.

Licet.

ubi estís vos? ite actutum, Tyndarum huc arcessite.

30 vos ite intro. interibi ego ex hac statua verberea volo erogitare, meo minore quid sit factum filio.
vos lavate interibi.

Philop.

Sequere hac, Philocrates, me intro. —

Philocr.

Sequor. —

Heg.

Age tu illuc procede, bone vir, lepidum mancupium meum.

Stalagmvs

Quid me oportet facere, ubi tu talis vir falsum autumas?
fui ego bellus, lepidus: bonus vir numquam, neque frugi bonae, neque ero umquam, ne erres: spem ponas me bonae frugi fore.

Heg.

5 Propemodum ubi loci fortunae tuae sint facile intellegis.
sí eris verax, tua ex re, facies ex mala meliusculam.
recte et vera loquere, sed neque vere neque tu recte adhuc fecisti umquam.

Stal.

Quod ego fatear, credin pudeat cum autumes?

Heg.

At ego faciam ut pudeat, nam in ruborem te totum dabo.

Stal.

10 Eia, credo ego imperito plagas minitaris mihi.
tandem ista aufer ac dic quid fers, ut feras hinc quod petis.

Heg.

Satis facundu's. sed iam fieri dicta compendi volo.

Stal.

Vt vis fiat.

Heg.

Bene morigerus fuit puer, nunc non decet.
hoc agamus. iam animum advorte ac mihi quae dicam edissere.
15 sí eris verax, ex tuis rebus feceris meliusculas.

Stal.

Nugae istaec sunt. non me censes scire quid dignus siem?

Heg.

At ea subterfugere potis es pauca, si non omnia.

Stal.

Pauca effugiam, scio; nam multa evenient, et merito meo, quia et fugi et tibi surripui filium et eum vendidi.

Heg.

20 Cui homini?

Stal.

Theodoromedi in Alide Polyplusio, sex minis.

Heg.

Pro di immortales, is quidem huius est pater

Philocrati.

Stal.

Quin melius novi quam tu et vidi saepius.

Heg.

Serva, Iuppiter supreme, et me et meum gnatum mihi.
Philocrates, per tuom te genium óbsecro, exi, te volo.

Philocrates

Hegio, assum. si quid me vis, impera.

Heg.

Hic gnatum meum
tuo patri ait se vendidisse sex minis in Alide.

Philocr.

Quam diu id factum est?

Stal.

Hic annus incipit vicensimus.

Philocr.

Falsa memorat.

Stal.

Aut ego aut tu. nam tibi quadrimulum
5 tuos pater peculiarem parvolo puero dedit.

Philocr.

Quid erat ei nomen? si vera dicis, memoradum mihi.

Stal.

Paegnium vocitatus, post vos indidistis Tyndaro.

Philocr.

Cur ego te non novi?

Stal.

Quia mos est oblivisci hominibus neque novisse cuius nihili sit faciunda gratia.

Philocr.

10 Dic mihi, isne istíc fuit, quem vendidisti meo patri, qui mihi peculiaris datus est?

Stal.

Huius filius.

Heg.

Vivitne is homo?

Stal.

Argentum accepi, nil curavi ceterum.

Heg.

Quid tu ais?

Philocr.

Quin istic ipsust Tyndarus tuos filius, ut quidem hic árgumenta loquitur. nam is mecum a puero puer 15 bene pudiceque educatust usque ad adolescentiam.

Heg.

Et miser sum et fortunatus, si vos vera dicitis;
eo miser sum quia male illi feci, si gnatust meus.
eheu, quóm ego plus minusve feci quam me aequom fuit.
quod male feci crucior; modo si infectum fieri possiet.
20 sed eccum incedit huc ornatus haúd ex suis virtutibus.

Tyndarvs

Vidi ego multa saepe picta, quae Acherunti fierent cruciamenta, verum enim vero nulla adaeque est Acheruns atque ubi ego fui, in lapicidinis. illic ibi demumst locus, ubi labore lassitudo est exigunda ex corpore.
5 nam ubi illo adveni, quasi patriciis pueris aut monerulae, aut anites aut coturnices dantur, quicum lusitent, itidem mi haec advenienti upupa, qui me delectem, datast.
sed erus eccum ante ostium, et erus alter eccum ex Alide rediit.

Heg.

Salve, éxoptate gnate mi.

Tynd.

Hem, quid gnate mi?

10 attat, scio cur te patrem adsimules esse et me filium:
quia mi item ut parentes lucis das tuendi copiam.

Philocr.

Salve, Tyndare.

T.

Et tu, quoius causa hanc aerumnam exigo.

Philocr.

At nunc liber in divitias faxo venies. nam tibi pater hic est; hic servos, qui te huic hinc quadrimum surpuit, 15 vendidit patri meo te sex minis, is te mihi parvolum peculiarem parvolo puero dedit:

illic indícium fecit; nam hunc ex Alide huc reduximus.

Tynd.

Quid huius filium?

Philocr.

Intus eccum fratrem germanum tuom.

Tynd.

Quid tu ais? adduxtin illum huius captivom filium?

Philocr.

²⁰ Quin, inquam, intus hic est.

T.

Fecisti edepol et recte et bene.

Philocr.

Nunc tibi páter hic est: hic fur est tuos, qui parvom hinc te abstulit.

Tynd.

At ego hunc grandis grandem natu ob furtum ad carnificem dabo.

Philocr.

Meritus est.

T.

Ergo edepol merito meritam mercedem dabo.
sed tu díe oro: pater meus tune es?

Heg.

Ego sum, gnate mi.

Tynd.

²⁵ Nunc demum in memoriam redeo, cum mecum recogito.
nunc edepol demum in memoriam regredior, audisse me quasi per nebulam, Hégionem meum patrem vocarier.

Heg.

Is ego sum.

Philocr.

Compedibus quaeso ut tibi sit levior filius atque huic gravior servos.

Heg.

Certum est principio id praevortier.

30 eamus intro, ut arcessatur faber, ut istas compedes tibi adimam, huic dem.

Stal.

Quoi peculi nihil est, recte feceris.

Caterva

Spectatores, ad pudicos mores facta haec fabula est, neque in hac subigitationes sunt neque ulla amatio nec pueri suppositio nec argénti circumductio, 35 neque ubi amans adulescens scortum liberet clam suum patrem.
huius modi paucas poetae reperiunt comoedias, ubi boni meliores fiant. nunc vos, si vobis placet et si placuimus neque odio fuimus, signum hoc mittite:
qui pudicitiae esse vultis praemium, plausum date.

PROLOGVS

Salvere iubeo spectatores optumos, fidem qui facitis maxumi, et vos Fides.
si verum dixi, signum clarum date mihi,
ut vos mi esse aequos iam inde a principio sciam.
5 qui utuntur vino vetere sapientis puto et qui libenter veteres spectant fabulas; atque antiqua opera et verba cum vobis placent, aequom est placere ante alias veteres fabulas:
nam nunc novae quae prodeunt comoediae 10 multo sunt nequiores quam nummi novi.
nos postquam populi rumore intelleximus studiose expetere vos Plautinas fabulas, antiquam éius edimus comoediam,
quam vos probastis qui estis in senioribus;
15 nam iuniorum qui sunt non norunt, scio;
verum ut cognoscant dabimus operam sedulo.
haec cum primum acta est, vicit omnis fabulas.
ea tempestate flos poetarum fuit, qui nunc abierunt hinc in communem locum.
20 sed tamen absentes prosunt pro praesentibus.
vos omnes opere magno esse oratos volo, benigne ut operam detis ad nostrum gregem.
eicite ex animo curam atque alienum aes ...
ne quis formidet flagitatorem suom:
25 ludi sunt, ludus datus est argentariis;
tranquillum est, Alcedonia sunt circum forum:
ratione utuntur, ludis poscunt neminem, secundum ludos reddunt autem nemini.
aures vocivae si sunt, animum advortite:
30 comoediai nomen dare vobis volo.
Clerumenoe vocatur haec comoedia graece, latine Sortientes. Deiphilus hanc graece scripsit, post id rursum denuo latine Plautus cum latranti nomine.

35 senex híc maritus habitat; éi est filius, is una cum patre in illisce habitat aedibus.
est éi quidam servos, qui in morbo cubat, immo hercle vero in lecto, ne quid mentiar;
is servos, sed abhinc annos factum est sedecim, 40 quom conspicatust primulo crepusculo puellam exponi. adít extemplo ad mulierem quae illam exponebat, orat ut eam det sibi:
exorat, aufert; detulit recta domum,
dat erae suae, orat ut eam curet, educet.
45 era fecit, educavit magna industria, quasi si esset ex se nata, non multo secus.
postquam ea adolevit ad eam aetatem, ut viris placere posset, eam puellam hic senex amat efflictim, et item contra filius.
50 nunc sibi utérque contra legiones parat, paterque filiusque, clam alter alterum:
pater adlegavit vilicum, qui posceret sibi istánc uxorem: is sperat, si ei sit data, sibi fore paratas clam uxorem excubias foris;
55 filius is autem armigerum adlegavit suom, qui sibi eam uxorem poscat: scit, si id impetret, futurum quod amat intra praeseptis suas.
senis uxor sensit virum amóri operam dare, propterea úna consentit cum filio.
60 ille autem postquam filium sensit suom eandem illam amare et esse ímpedimento sibi, hinc adulescentem peregre ablegavit pater;
sciens ei mater dat operam absenti tamen.
is, ne exspectetis, hodie in hac comoedia 65 in urbem non redibit: Plautus noluit, pontem interruptit, quí erat ei in itinere.
sunt hic, inter se quos nunc credo dicere:
“quaeso hercle, quíd istuc est? serviles nuptiae?
servin uxorem ducent aut poscent sibi?
70 novom attulerunt, quod fit nusquam gentium.”
at ego aio id fieri in Graecia et Carthagini, et hic in nostra terra † in Apulia;

maioreque opere ibi serviles nuptiae quam liberales etiam curari solent;
75 id ni fit, mecum pignus si quis volt dato in urnam mulsi, Poenus dum iudex siet vel Graecus adeo, vel mea causa Apulus.
quid nunc? nihil agitis? sentio, nemo sitit.
revortar ád illam puellam épositiciam:
80 quam servi summa vi sibi uxorem expetunt, ea invenietur et pudica et libera, ingenua Atheniensis, neque quicquam stupri faciet profecto in hac quidem comoedia.
mox hercle vero, post transactam fabulam, 85 argentum si quis dederit, ut ego suspicor, ultro ibit nuptum, non manebit auspices.
tantum est. valete, bene rem gerite et vincite virtute vera, quod fecistis antidhac.

ACT I.

Olympio

Non mihi licere meam rem me solum, ut volo, loqui atque cogitare, sine ted arbitro?
quid tu, malum, me sequere?

Chalinvs

Quia certum est mihi,
quasi umbra, quoquo tu ibis, te semper sequi;
5 quin edepol etiam si in crucem vis pergere, sequi decretumst. dehinc conicito ceterum, possisne necne clam me sutelis tuis praeripere Casinam uxorem, proinde ut postulas.

Ol.

Quid tibi negotist mecum?

Chal.

Quid ais, impudens?
10 quid in urbe reptas, vilice haud magni preti?

Ol.

Lubet.

Chal.

Quin ruri es in praefectura tua?
quin potius quod legatum est tibi negotium, id curas atque urbanis rebus te apstines?
huc mihi venisti sponsam praereptum meam:
15 abi rus, abi dierectus tuam in provinciam.

Ol.

Chaline, non sum oblitus officium meum:
praefeci ruri recte qui curet tamen.
ego huc quod veni in urbem si impetravero,
uxorem ut istam ducam, quam tu deperis,

20 bellam et tenellam Casinam, conservam tuam, quando ego eam mecum rus uxorem abduxero, ruri incubabo usque in praefectura mea.

Chal.

Tun illam ducas? hercle me suspendio, quam tu eius potior fias, satiust mortuom.

Ol.

Ol.

Scies hóc ita esse.

Chal.

Vae tibi.

Ol.

Quot te modis,
si vivo, habebó in nuptiis miserum meis.

Chal.

Quid tu mihi facies?

Ol.

Egone quid faciam tibi?

30 primum omnium huic lucebis novae nuptae facem;
postilla, ut semper, improbus nihilique eris:
post id locorum quando ad villam veneris, dabitur tibi amphora una et una semita, fons unus, unum ahenum et octo dolia:
35 quae nisi erunt semper plena, ego te implebo flagris.
ita te aggerunda curvom aqua faciam probe, ut postilena possit ex te fieri.
post autem érví nisi tu acervom éderis aut quasi lumbricus terram, quod te postules 40 gustare quicquam, numquam edepol ieiunium ieiunumst aequae atque ego te ruri reddibo.

post id, quom lassus fueris et famelicus, noctu ut condigne te cubes curabitur.

Chal.

Quid facies?

Ol.

Concludere in fénestram firmiter,
45 unde auscultare possis quóm ego illam ausculer:
quom mi illa dicet “mi animule, mi Olympio, mea vita, mea mellilla, mea festivitas, sine tuos ocellos deosculer, voluptas mea,
sine amabo ted amari, meus festus dies, 50 meus pullus passer, mea columba, mi lepus”, quom mi haec dicentur dicta, tum tu, furcifer, quasi mus, in medio pariete versabere.
nunc ne tu te mihi respondere postules, abeo intro. taedet tui sermonis. —

Chal.

Te sequor.

Lysidamvs

Omnibus rebus ego amorem credo et nitoribus nitidis antevenire, nec potis quicquam commemorari quod plus salis plusque leporis hodie

habeat; cocos equidem nimis demiror, tot qui utuntur condimentis, eos eo condimento uno non utier, omnibus quod praestat.

5 nam úbi amor condiméntum inerit, cuiús placituram escam crédo; neque sálsum neque suave ésse potest quicquam, úbi amor non admíscetur:

fel quód amarumst, id mél faciet, hominem éx tristi lepidum ét lenem.

hanc égo de me coniécturam domi fácio magis quam ex aúditis;
qui quóm amo Casinam, mágis niteo, mundítiis munditiam ántideo:

10 myropólas omnes sollicito, ubicúmque est lepidum unguéntum, unguor,
ut illí placeam; et placeo, út videor. sed uxór me excruciat, quía vivit.
tristem ástare aspició. blande haec mihi mála res appellánda est.
uxór mea meaque amoénitas, quid tu agis?

C.

Abi atque abstine manum.

Lys.

Heiá, mea Iuno, nón decet esse té tam tristem tuó Iovi.

15 quo núnc abis?

C.

Mítte me.

L.

Mane.

C.

Non máneo.

L.

At pol ego té sequar.

Cleost.

Óbsacro, sanun est?

Lys.

SánuS quom téd amo.

Cleost.

Nólo ames.

Lys.

Nón potes ímpetrare.

Cleost.

Énecas.

Lys.

Véra dicás velim.

Cleost.

Crédo ego istúc tibi.

Lys.

Réspice, o mi lepos.

Cleost.

Nempe ita ut tú mihi es.

20 unde híc, amabo, unguénta olent?

Lys.

Oh périi, manifestó miser téneor. cessó caput pállio detérgere?

út te bonus Mercúrius perdat, mýropola, quia haec míhi dedisti.

Cleost.

Ého tu nihili, cána culex, vix téneor quin quae décent te dicam, sénecta aetate únguentatus pér vias, ignáve, incedis?

Lys.

25 Pól ego amico dédi cuidam operam, dum émit unguenta.

Cl.

Vt cito comméntust.

écquid te pudet?

Lys.

Ómnia quae tu vís.

Cleost.

Vbi in lustrá iacuisti?

Lys.

Égone in lustra?

Cleost.

Scío plus quam tu me árbitrare.

Lys.

Quíd id est? quid scis?

Cleost.

Té sene omniúm † senem néminem esse ignáviozem.

únde is, nihili? ubí fuisti? ubí lustratu's? úbí bibisti?

30 mádes mecastor: víde, palliolum ut rúgat.

Lys.

Di me et te ínfelicient,

si égo in os méum hodie viní guttam índidi.

Cleost.

Immo age, út lubet,

bíbe, es, disperde rem.

Lys.

Óhe, iam satis, uxór, comprime te, nímium tinnis, relínque aliquantum orátionis, crás quod mecum lítiges.

séd quid ais? iam domuisti animum, potius ut quod vir velit 35 fieri, id facias, quam adversere contra?

Cleost.

Qua de re?

Lys.

Rogas?

super ancilla Casina, ut detur nuptum nostro vilico, servo frugi atque ubi illi bene sit ligno, aqua calida, cibo, vestimentis, ubique educat pueros quos pariat † potius quam illi servo nequam des, armigero nili atque improbo,

40 cui hominí hodie peculi nummus non est plumbeus.

Cleost.

Mirum ecastor, te senecta aétate officium tuom non meminisse.

Lys.

Quid iam?

C.

Quia, si facias recte aut commode, me sinas curare ancillas, quae mea est curatio.

Lys.

Qui, malum, homini scutigerulo dáre lubet?

Cleost.

Quía enim filio

45 nos oportet opitulari único.

Lys.

At quamquam unicust, nihilo magis ille unicust mihi filius quam ego illi pater:
illum mi aequiust quam me illi quae volo concedere.

Cleost.

Tu ecastor tibi, homo, malam rem quaeris.

Lys.

Subolet, sentio.
egone?

Cleost.

Tu. nam quid friguttis? quid istuc tam cupide cupis?

Lys.

50 Vt enim frugi servo detur potius quam servo improbo.

Cleost.

Quid si ego impetro atque exoro a vilico, causa mea ut eam illi permittat?

Lys.

Quid si ego autem ab armigero impetro, ut eam illi permittat? atque hóc credo impetrassere.

Cleost.

Convenit. vin tuis Chalinum huc evocem verbis foras?
55 tú eum orato, ego autem orabo vilicum.

Lys.

Sane volo.

Cleost.

Iam hic erit. nunc experiemur, nostrum uter sit blandior. —

Lys.

Hercules dique istam perdant, quod nunc liceat dicere.
ego discrucior miser amore, illa autem quasi ob industriam mi advorsatur. subolet hoc iam uxori quod ego machinor:
60 propter eam rem magis armigero dat operam de industria.
qui illum di omnes deaeque perdant.

*Chalinv*s

Te uxor aiebat tua me vocare.

Lys.

Ego énim vocari iussi.

Chal.

Eloquere quid velis.

Lys.

Primum ego te porrectiore fronte volo mecum loqui;
stultitia est ei te esse tristem, cuius potestas plus potest.
5 probum te et frugi hominem iam pridem esse arbitror.

Chal.

Intellego.

quin, si ita arbitrare, emittis me manu?

Lys.

Quin id volo.

sed nihil est, me cupere factum, nisi tu factis adiuvas.

Chal.

Quid velis modo id velim me scire.

Lys.

Ausculata, ego eloquar.

Casinam ego uxorem promisi vilico nostro dare.

Chal.

10 At tua uxor filiusque promiserunt mihi.

Lys.

Scio.

sed utrum nunc tu caelibem te esse mavis liberum an maritum servom aetatem degere et gnatos tuos?

optio haec tua est: utram harum vis condicionem accipe.

Chal.

Liber si sim, meo periculo vivam; nunc vivo tuo.

15 de Casina certum est concedere homini nato nemini.

Lys.

Intro abi atque actutum uxorem huc evoca ante aedis cito, et sitellam huc tecum efferto cum aqua, et sortis.

Chal.

Satis placet.

Lys.

Ego pol istam iam aliquovorsum tragulam decidero.

nam si sic nihil impetrare potero, saltem sortiar.

20 ibi ego te et suffragatores tuos ulciscar.

Chal.

Attamen

mi obtinget sors.

Lys.

Vt quidem pol pereas cruciatu malo.

Chal.

Mi illa nubet, machinare quid lubet quo vis modo.

Lys.

Abin hinc ab oculis?

Chal.

Invitus me vides, vivam tamen. —

Lys.

Sumne ego miser homo? satin omnes res sunt advorsae mihi?

25 iam metuo, ne Olympionem mea uxor exoraverit ne Casinam ducat: si id factum est, ecce me nullum senem;

si non impetravit, etiam specula in sortist mihi.

si sors autem decolassit, gladium faciam culcitam eumque incumbam. sed progreditur optume eccum Olympio.

Olympio

Vna edepol opera in furnum calidum condito atque ibi torreto me pro pane rubido, era, qua istuc opera a me impetres quod postulas.

Lys.

Salvos sum, salva spes est, ut verba audio.

Ol.

5 Quid tu me tua, era, libertate territas?

qui si tu nolis filiusque etiam tuos, vobis invitis atque amborum ingratiis una libella liber possum fieri.

Lys.

Quid istúc est? quicum litigas, Olympio?

Ol.

10 Cum eadem qua tu semper.

Lys.

Cum uxore mea?

Ol.

Quam tu mi uxorem? quasi venator tu quidem es:
dies átque noctes cum cane aetatem exigis.

Lys.

Quid agit, quid loquitur tecum?

Ol.

Orat, obsecrat,
ne Casinam uxorem ducam.

Lys.

Quid tu postea?

Ol.

15 Negavi enim ipsi me concessurum Iovi, si is mecum oraret.

Lys.

Di te servassint mihi.

Ol.

Nunc in fermento totast, ita turget mihi.

Lys.

Ego edepol illam mediam diruptam velim.

Ol.

Credo edepol esse, siquidem tu frugi bonae es.

20 verum edepol tua mihi odiosa est amatio:

inimica est tua uxor mihi, inimicus filius, inimici familiares.

Lys.

Quid id refert tua?

unus tibi hic dum propitius sit Iuppiter, tu istos minutos cave deos flocci feceris.

Ol.

25 Nugae sunt istae magnae. quasi tu nescias, repente ut emoriantur humani Ioves.

responde: si tu Iuppiter sis mortuos, cum ad deos minoris redierit regnum tuom, quis mihi subveniet tergo aut capiti aut cruribus?

Lys.

30 Opinione melius res tibi habeát tua, si hoc impetramus, ut ego cum Casina cubem.

Ol.

Non hercle opinor posse, ita uxor acriter tua instat, ne mihi detur.

Lys.

At ego sic agam:

coniciam sortis in sitellam et sortiar

35 tibi et Chalino. íta rem natam intellego:

necessum est vorsis gladiis depugnarier.

Ol.

Quid si sors aliter quam voles evenerit?

Lys.

Bene dice. dis sum fretus, deos sperabimus.

Ol.

Non ego istud verbum émpsim tittibilicio;
40 nam omnes mortales dis sunt freti, sed tamen vidi ego dis fretos saepe multos decipi.

Lys.

St, táce parumper.

Ol.

Quid vis?

Lys.

Eccum exit foras
Chalinus intus cum sitella et sortibus.
nunc nos conlatis signis depugnabimus.

Cleostrata

Fáce, Chaline, certioreme, quid meus vir me velit.

Chalinvs

Ille edepol videre ardentem te extra portam mortuam.

Cleost.

Credo ecastor velle.

Chal.

At pol ego hau credo, sed certo scio.

Lys.

Plus artificum est mihi quam rebar: hariolum hunc habeo domi.
5 quid si propius attollamus signa eamusque obviam?
sequere. quid vos agitis?

Chal.

Adsunt quae imperavisti omnia:
uxor, sortes, situla atque egomet.

Ol.

Te uno adest plus quam ego volo.

Chal.

Tibi quidem edepol ita videtur; stimulus ego nunc sum tibi, fodico corculum; adsudascis iam ex metu, mastigia.

L.

10 Tace, Chaline.

Ch.

Comprime istum.

Ol.

Immo istunc, qui didicit dare.

Lys.

Adpone hic sitellam, sortis cedo mihi. animum advortite.
atque ego censui aps te posse hoc me impetrare, uxor mea,
Casina ut uxor mihi daretur; et nunc etiam censeo.

Cleost.

Tibi daretur illa?

Lys.

Mihi enim — ah, non id volui dicere:

15 dum mihi volui, huic dixi, atque adeo mihi dum cupio — perperam
iam dudum hercle fabulor.

Cleost.

Pol tu quidem, atque etiam facis.

Lys.

Huic — immo hercle mihi — vah, tandem redii vix veram in viam.

Cleost.

Per pol saepe peccas.

Lys.

Ita fit, ubi quid tanto opere expetas.

sed te uterque tuo pro iure, ego atque hic, oramus.

Cleost.

Quid est?

Lys.

20 Dicam enim, mea mulsa: de istac Casina huic nostro vilico gratiam facias.

Cleost.

At pol ego néque facio neque censeo.

Lys.

Tum igitur ego sortis utrimque ... iam.

Cleost.

Quis votat?

Lys.

Optimum atque aequissimum istud esse iure iudico.

postremo, si illuc quod volumus eveniet, gaudebimus;

25 sin secus, patiemur animis aequis. tene sortem tibi.

vide quid scriptum est.

O.

Vnum.

Ch.

Iniquom est, quia isti prius quam mihi dedit.

Lys.

Accipe hanc sis.

Chal.

Cedo. mane, unum venit in mentem modo:

vide ne quae illic insit alia sortis sub aqua.

Lys.

Verbero,

men te censes esse?

Cleost.

Nulla est. habe quietum animum modo.

Chal.

30 Quod bonum atque fortunatum sit mihi —

Ol.

Magnum malum

tibi quidem edepol credo eveniet; novi pietatem tuam.

sed mane dum: num ista aut populna sors aut abiegnast tua?

Chal.

Quid tu id curas?

Ol.

Quia enim metuo, né in aqua summa natet.

Lys.

†Auge cave. conicite sortes nunciam ambo huc. eccere.

35 uxor, aequa.

Ol.

Noli uxori credere.

Lys.

Habe animum bonum.

Ol.

Credo hercle, hodie devotabit sortis si attigerit.

Lys.

Tace.

Ol.

Taceo. deos quaeso —

Chal.

Vt quidem tu hodie canem et furcam feras.

Ol.

Mihi ut sortito eveniat —

Chal.

Vt quidem hercle pedibus pendeas.

Ol.

At tu ut oculos emungare ex capite per nasum tuos.

Chal.

40 Quid times? paratum oportet esse iam laqueum tibi.

Ol.

Periisti.

L.

Animum advortite ambo.

O.

Taceo.

L.

Nunc tu, Cleostrata, ne a me memores malitiose de hac re factum aut suspices, tibi permitto: tute sorti.

Ol.

Perdis me.

Chal.

Lucrum facit.

Cleost.

Bene facis.

Chal.

Deos quaeso — ut tua sors ex sitella effugerit.

Ol.

45 Ain tu? quia tute es fugitivos, omnes te imitari cupis?
utinam tua quidem, sicut factum esse Herculeis praedicant quondam prognatis, in sortiundo sors deliquerit.

Chal.

Tu ut liquescas ipse, actutum virgis calefactabere.

Lys.

Hoc age sis, Olympio.

Ol.

Si hic litteratus me sinat.

Lys.

50 Quod bonum atque fortunatum mihi sit.

Ol.

Ita vero, et mihi.

Chal.

Non.

Ol.

Immo hercle.

Chal.

Immo mihi hercle.

Cleost.

Hic vincet, tu vives miser.

Lys.

Percide os tu illi † hodie. age, ecquid fit? ne obiexis manum.

Ol.

Compressan palma an porrecta ferio?

Lys.

Age ut vis.

Ol.

Em tibi.

Cleost.

Quid tibi istunc tactio est.

Ol.

Quia Iuppiter iussit meus.

Cleost.

55 Feri malam, ut ille, rursum.

Ol.

Perii, pugnis caedor, Iuppiter.

Lys.

Quid tibi tactio hunc fuit?

Chal.

Quia iussit haec Iuno mea.

Lys.

Patiundum est, siquidem me vivo mea uxor imperium exhibet.

Cleost.

Tam huic loqui licere oportet quam isti.

Ol.

Cur omen mihi vituperat?

Lys.

Malo, Chaline, tibi cavendum censeo.

Chal.

60 Temperi, postquam oppugnatum est os.

Lys.

Age, uxor, nunciam sorti. vos advortite animum. prae metu ubi sim nescio.

perii, cor lienósum, opinor, habeo, iam dudum salit, de labore pectus tundit.

Cleost.

Teneo sortem.

Lys.

Ecfer foras.

Ch.

Iamne mortuo's?

Ol.

Ostende. mea haec est.

Ch.

Mala crux éast quidem.

Cleost.

65 Victus es, Chaline.

Lys.

Cum nos di iuvare, Olympio, gaudeo.

Ol.

Pietate factum est mea atque maiorum meum.

Ly.

Intro abi, uxor, atque adorna nuptias.

Cleost.

Faciam ut iubes.

Lys.

Scin tu rus hinc esse ad villam longe quo ducat?

Cleost.

Scio.

L.

Intro abi et, quamquam hoc tibi aegre est, tamen fac accures.

CL.

Licet. —

Lys.

70 Eamus nos quoque intro, hortemur ut properent.

O.

Numquid moror? —

Lys.

Nam praesente hoc plura verba fieri non desidero. —

Chalinvs

Si nunc me suspendam, meam operam luserim et praeter operam restim sumpti fecerim et meis inimicis voluptatem creaverim.

quid opus est, qui sic mortuos? equidem tamen

5 sorti sum victus, Casina nubet vilico.

atque id non tam aegrest iam, vicisse vilicum, quam id expetivisse opere tam magno senem, ne ea mihi daretur atque ut illi nuberet.

ut illé trepidabat, ut festinabat miser;

10 ut sussultabat, postquam vicit vilicus.

attat, concedam huc, audio aperiri foris, mei benevolentes atque amici prodeunt.

hinc ex insidiis hisce ego insidias dabo.

Olympio

Sine modo rus veniat: ego remittam ad te virum cum furca in urbem tamquam carbonarium.

Lysidamvs

Ita fieri oportet.

Ol.

Factum et curatum dabo.

Lys.

Volui Chalinum, si domi esset, mittere
5 tecum obsonatum, ut etiam in maerore insuper inimico nostro miseriam hanc adiungerem.

Chal.

Recessim cedam ad parietem, imitabor nepam;
captandust horum clanculum sermo mihi.
nam illorum me alter cruciat, alter macerat.
10 at candidatus cedit hic mastigia, stimulorum loculi. protollo mortem mihi;
certum est, hunc Acheruntem praemittam prius.

Ol.

Vt tibi ego inventus sum obsequens. quod maxime cupiebas, eius copiam feci tibi.
15 erit hodie tecum quod amas clam uxorem.

Lys.

Tace.

ita me di bene ament, ut ego vix reprimo labra ob istánc rem quin te deosculer, voluptas mea.

Chal.

Quid, deosculere? quae res? quae voluptas tua?
ecfodere hercle hic volt, credo, vesicam vilico.†

Ol.

20 Ecquid amas nunc me?

Lys.

Immo edepol me quam te minus.
licetne amplecti te?

Chal.

Quid, amplecti?

Ol.

Licet.

Lys.

Vt, quia te tango, mel mihi videor lingere.

Ol.

Vltro te, amator, apage te a dorso meo.

Chal.

Illuc est, illuc, quod hic hunc fecit vilicum:
25 eidem me pridem, cum ei advorsum veneram, facere atriensem voluerat sub ianua.

Ol.

Vt tibi morigerus hodie, ut voluptati fui.

Lys.

Vt tibi, dum vivam, bene velim plus quam mihi.

Chal.

Hodie hercle, opinor, hi conturbabunt pedes:
30 solet hic barbatus sane sectari senex.

Lys.

Vt ego hodie Casinam deosculabor, ut mihi bona multa faciam clam meam uxorem.

Chal.

Attatae,
nunc pol ego demum in rectam redii semitam.
hic ipse Casinam deperit. habeo viros.

Lys.
35 Iam hercle amplexari, iam osculari gestio.

Ol.
Sine prius deduci. quid, malum, properas?

Lys.
Amo.

Ol.
At non opinor fieri hoc posse hodie.

Lys.
Potest,
siquidem cras censes te posse emitti manu.

Chal.
Enim véro huc aures magis sunt adhibendae mihi:
40 iam ego uno in saltu lepide apros capiam duos.

Lys.
Apud hunc sodalem meum atque vicinum mihi locus est paratus: ei ego amorem omnem meum concredui; is mihi se locum dixit dare.

Ol.
Quid eius uxor? ubi erit?

Lys.
Lepide repperi.
45 mea uxor vocabit huc eam ad se in nuptias, ut hic sit secum, se adiuvet, secum cubet;
ego iussi, et dixit se facturam uxor mea.
illa hic cubabit, vir aberit faxo domo;

tu rus uxorem duces: id rus hic erit 50 tantisper dum égo cum Casina faciam nuptias.
hinc tu ante lucem rus cras duces postea.
satin docte?

Ol.

Astute.

Chal.

Age modo, fabricamini,
malo hercle vestro tam vorsuti vivitis.

Lys.

Scin quid nunc facias?

Ol.

Loquere.

Lys.

Tene marsuppium,
55 abi atque obsona, propera, sed lepide volo, molliculas escas, út ipsa mollicula est.

Ol.

Licet.

Lys.

Emito sepiolas, lepadas, lolligunculas, hordeías.

Chal.

Immo triticeías, si sapis.

Lys.

Soleas.

Chal.

Qui quaeso potius quam sculponeas,

60 quibus báttuatur tíbi os, senex nequissime?

Ol.

Vin lingulacas?

Lys.

Quid opust, quando uxor domi est?

ea lingulaca est nobis, nam numquam tacet.

Ol.

In re praesenti ex copia piscaria consulere quid emam potero.

Lys.

Aéquom oras, abi.

65 argento parci nolo, obsonato ampliter.

nam mihi vicino hoc etiam convento est opus, ut quod mandavi curet.

Ol.

Iamne abeo?

Lys.

Volo. —

Chal.

Tribus nón conduci possum libertatibus,

quin ego illis hodie comparem magnum malum

70 quinque hanc omnem rem meae erae iam faciam palam.

manifesto teneo in noxia inimicos meos.

sed si nunc facere volt era officium suom, nostra omnis lis est. pulchre praevortar viros.

nostro omine it dies; iam victi vicimus.

75 ibo intro, ut id quod alius condivit cocus, ego nunc vicissim ut alio pacto condiam, quo id quoi paratum est ut paratum ne siet sitque ei paratum quod paratum non erat. —

ACT III.

Lysidamvs

Núnc amici áñne inimici síś imago, Alcésime, mihi sciam, nunc specimen specitur, nunc certamen cernitur.
cur amem me castigare, id ponito ad compendium,
'cano capite' 'aetate aliena' eo addito ad compendium,
5 'cui sit uxor' id quoque illuc ponito ad compendium.

Alcesimvs

Miseriorem ego ex amore quam te vidi neminem.

Lys.

Fac vacent aedes.

Alc.

Quin edepol servos, ancillas domo certum est omnis mittere ad te.

Lys.

Oh, nimium scite scitus es.

sed facito dum merula † pervorsus quos cantat colas:

10 cum cibo suo quique facito ut veniant, quasi eant Sutrium.

Alc.

Meminero.

Lys.

Em, nunc enim te demum nullum scitum scitiust.

cura, ego ad forum modo ibo: iam hic ero.

Alc.

Bene ambula.

Lys.

Fac habeant linguam tuae aedes.

A.

Quid ita?

L.

Cum veniam, vocent.

Alc.

Attatae, caedundus tú homo es: nimias delicias facis.

Lys.

15 Quid me amare refert, nisi sim doctus ac dicaculus?
sed tu cave in quaesitione mihi sis. —

Alc.

Vsque adero domi. —

Cleostrata

Hoc erat ecastor quod me vir tanto opere orabat meus, ut properarem arcessere hanc huc ad me vicinam meam, liberae aedes ut sibi essent, Casinam quo deducerent.
nunc adeo nequaquam arcessam, ne illis ignavissimis 5 liberi loci potestas sit, vetulis vervecibus.
sed eccum égredditur, senati columen, praesidium popli, meus vicinus, meo viro qui liberum praehibet locum.
non ecastor vilis emptu est, modio qui venit salis.

Alcesimvs

Miror huc iam non arcessi in proximum uxorem meam, 10 quae iam dudum, si arcessatur, ornata exspectat domi.
sed eccam, opino arcessit. salve, Cleostrata.

Cleost.

Et tu, Alcesime.
ubi tua uxor?

Alc.

Intus illa te, si se arcessas, manet;
nam tuos vir me orávit, ut eam ístuc ad te adiutum mitterem.
vin vocem?

Cleost.

Sine eam ... nolo si occupata est.

Alc.

Otium est.

Cleost.

¹⁵ Nil moror, molesta ei esse nolo; post convenero.

Alc.

Non ornatis istic apud vos nuptias?

Cleost.

Orno et paro.

Alc.

Non ergo opus est adiutrice?

Cleost.

Satis domist. ubi nuptiae fuerint, tum istam convenibo. nunc vale, atque istanc iube. —

Alc.

Quid ego nunc faciam? flagitium maxumum feci miser, ²⁰ propter operam illius hircui ímprobi, edéntuli, qui hoc mihí contraxit; operam uxoris polliceor foras,
quasi catillatum. flagitium hóminis, qui dixit mihi suam úxorem hanc arcessituram esse; éa se eam négat morarier.
atque edepol mirum ni subolet iam hoc huic vicinae meae.

25 verum autem altrovorsum quóm eam mecum rationem puto, si quid eius esset, esset mecum postulatio.
ibo intro, ut subducam navim rusum in pulvinaria. —

Cleost.

Iám hic est lepidè ludificatus. miseri ut festinant senes.
nunc ego illúm nihili decrepitum meum virum veniat velim, 30 ut eum ludificem vicissim, postquam hunc delusi alterum.
nam ego aliquid contrahere cupio litigi inter eos duos.
sed eccum incedit. at, quom aspicias tristem, frugi censeas.

Lysidamvs

Stultitia magna est, mea quidem sententia, hominem amatorem ullum ad forum procedere,
in eum diem quoi quod amet in mundo siet;
sicut ego feci stultus: contrivi diem,
5 dum asto advocatus cuidam cognato meo;
quem hercle ego litem adeo perdidisse gaudeo,
ne me nequiquam sibi hodie advocaverit.
nam meo quidem animo qui advocatos advocet rogitare oportet prius et percontarier, 10 adsitne ei animus necne adsit, quem ádvocet:
si neget adesse, exanimatum amittat domum.
sed uxorem ante aedis eccam. ei misero mihi, metuo ne non sit surda atque haec audiverit.

Cleost.

Audivi ecastor cum malo magno tuo.

Lys.

15 Accedam propius. quid agis, mea festivitas?

Cleost.

Te ecastor praestolabar.

Lys.

Iamne ornata res?

iamne hanc traduxti huc ad nos vicinam tuam, quae te adiutaret?

Cleost.

Arcessivi, ut iusseras.

verum hic sodalis tuos, amicus optumus,

20 nescio quid se sufflavit uxori suae:

negavit posse, quoniam arcesso, mittere.

Lys.

Vitium tibi istuc maxumum est, blanda es parum.

Cleost.

Non matronarum officiumst, sed meretricium, viris alienis, mi vir, subblandirier.

25 i tu atque arcesse illam: égo intus quod factost opus volo accurare, mi vir.

Lys.

Propera ergo.

Cleost.

Licet.

iam pol ego huic aliquem in pectus iniciam metum;

miserrumum hodie ego hunc habebo amasium. —

Alcesimvs

Viso huc, amator si a foro rediit domum, qui me atque uxorem ludificatust, larua.

sed eccum ante aedis. ad te hercle ibam commodum.

Lys.

Et hercle ego ad te. quid ais, vir minimi preti?

5 quid tibi mandavi? quid tecum oravi?

Alc.

Quid est?

Lys.

Vt bene vocivas aedis fecisti mihi, ut traduxisti huc ad nos uxorem tuam.
satin propter te pereo ego atque occasio?

Alc.

Quin tu suspendis te? nempe túte dixeras,
10 tuam arcessituram esse uxorem uxorem meam.

Lys.

Ergo arcessivisse ait sese, et dixisse te eam nón missurum.

Alc.

Quin eapse ultro mihi negavit eius operam se morarier.

Lys.

Quin eapse me adlegavit, qui istam arcesserem.

Alc.

15 Quin nihili facio.

Lys.

Quin me perdis.

Alc.

Quin benest,
quin etiam diu morabor, quin cupio tibi —

Lys.

Quin —

Alc.

Aliquid aegre facere.

Lys.

Quin faciam lubens.

numquam tibi hodie 'quin' erit plus quam mihi.

Alc.

Quin hercle di te perdant postremo quidem.

Lys.

20 Quid nunc? missurusne es ad me uxorem tuam?

Alc.

Ducas, easque in maxumam malam crucem cum hác cum ístac, cumque amica etiam tua.
abi et aliud cura, ego iam per hortum iussero meam istúc transire uxorem ad uxorem tuam. —

Lys.

25 Nunc tu mi amicus es in germanum modum.
qua ego hunc amorem mi esse avi dicam datum aut quid ego umquam erga Venerem inique fecerim, cui sic tot amanti mi obviam eveniant morae?
attat,
30 quid illúc clamoris, opsecro, in nostrast domo?

Pardalisca

Núlla sum, núlla sum, tóta, tota óccidi,

ACT IV.

Pardalisca

Nec pol ego Nemeae credo neque ego Olympiae neque usquam ludos tam festivos fieri quam hic intus fiunt ludi ludificabiles seni nōstro et nostro Olympioni vilico.
5 omnes festinant intus totis aedibus, senex ín culina clamat, hortatur coquos:
“quin agitis hodie? quin datis, si quid datis?
properate, cenam iam esse coctam oportuit.”
vilicus is autem cum corona, candide 10 vestitus, lautus exornatusque ambulat.
illae autem armigerum in cubiculo exornant duae, quem dent pro Casina nuptum nostro vilico.
sed nimium lepide dissimulant, quasi nil sciant fore huius quod futurumst; digne autem coqui 15 nimis lépide ei rei dant operam, ne cenet senex, aulas pervortunt, ignem restringunt aqua:
illarum oratu faciunt; illae autem senem cupiunt extrudere incenatum ex aedibus, ut ipsae solae ventres distendant suos.
20 novi ego illas ambestrices: corbitam cibi comesse possunt. sed aperitur ostium.

Lysidamvs

Si sapitis, uxor, vos tamen cenabitis, cena ubi erit cocta; égo ruri cenavero.
nam novom maritum ét novam nuptam volo rus prosequi, novi hominum mores maleficos, 5 ne quis eam abripiat. facite vostro animo volup.
sed properate istum atque istam actutum emittere, tandem ut † veniamus luci; égo cras hic ero.
cras habuero, uxor, ego tamen convivium.

Par.

Fit quod futurum dixi: incenatum senem
10 foras extrudunt mulieres.

Lys.

Quid tu hic agis?

Par.

Ego eo quo me ipsa misit.

Lys.

Veron?

Par.

Serio.

Lys.

Quid hic speculari?

Par.

Nil equidem speculor.

Lys.

Ol.

At ego hercle nihili facio. tibi amor pro cibost, mihiieiunitate iam dudum intestina murmurant.

Lys.

Nam quid illaéc nunc tam diu intus remorantur remeligines?
quasi ob industriam, quanto ego plus propero, procedit minus.

Ol.

Quid si etiam suffundam hymenaeum, si qui citius prodeant?

Lys.

10 Censeo, et ego te adiutabo in nuptiis communibus.

Lys. Ol.

Hymen hymenaeae o hymen.

Lys.

Perii hercle ego miser, dirumpi hymenaeum cantando licet:

Selenivm

Cum ego ántehac te amávi et mi amícam esse crévi, mea Gýmnasium, et mátrém tuám, tum id mihi hódie apéruistis, tu áttque haec: sorór si mea ésses, qui mágis potuerítis mihi honórem ire habitum, 5 néscio, nisi, ut meus est animus, fieri non posse arbitror;
íta omnibus relictis rebus mihi frequentem operam dedistis.
éo ego vos amo ét eo á me magnam iniistis gratiam.

Gymnasivm

Pol isto quidem nos pretio facile est frequentare

10 ita in prándio nos lepide ác nitide accépisti apúd te, ut sempér meminerímus.

Sel.

Lubénti edepol ánimo factum ét fiet á me,

suávibus modis,
néc nisi disciplina apud te fuit quicquam ibi quin mihi placeret.

Sel.

Quid ita, amabo?

Lena.

Raro nimium dabat quod biberem, id merum infuscabat.

Gymn.

Amábo, hicine ístud decét?

Lena.

Iusque fásque est:
20 nemo álienus híc est.

Sel.

Meritó vostro amó vos,
quía me colitis et mágni facitis.

Lena.

Decet pol, mea Selenium, hunc ésse ordiném benevoléntis inté se béneque amicitia útier, ubi istás videas summó genere natás, summatis mátronas, 25 ut amícitiam colunt átque ut eam iunctám bene habent inté se.
si idem istúd nos faciamús, si idé m imitémur, itá tamen víx vivimús cum invídia summa. suárum opum nos vólunt esse indigéntes.
nostrá copíá nil volúnt nos potésse suíque omniúm rerum nós indigére, 30 út sibi simus súplices.
éas si ádeas, abítum quam adítum malis, ita nostro ordini virís cum suís praedicánt nos solére, 35 suás paelicés esse aíúnt, eunt depréssum.

quia nós libertinaé sumus, et ego ét tua mater, ámbae meretrices fuimus: illa te, ego hanc mihi educavi ex patribus conventiciis. neque ego hanc superbiai causa pepuli ad meretricium quaestum, nisi ut ne ésurirem.

Sel.

40 At satius fuerat eam viro dare nuptum potius.

Lena.

Heia,
haec quidem ecastor cottidie viro núbit, nupsitque hodie, nubet mox noctu: numquam ego hanc viduam cubare sivi.
nam si haec non nubat, lugubri fame familia pereat.

Gymn.

Necesse est, quo tu me modo voles esse, ita esse, mater.

Lena.

45 Ecastor haud me paenitet, si ut dicis ita futura es.
nam si quidem ita eris ut volo, numquam senecta fies semperque istam quam nunc habes aetatulam optinebis, multisque damno et mihi lucro siné meo saepe eris sumptu.

Gymn.

Di faxint.

Lena.

Sine opera tua di horunc nil facere possunt.

Gymn.

50 Equidem hercle addam operam sedulo; sed tu aufer istaec verba.
meus oculus, mea Selenium, numquam ego te tristiores vidi esse. quid, cedo, te obsecro tam abhorret hilaritudo?
neque munda adaeque es, ut soles (hoc sis vide, ut petivit suspirium alte) et pallida es. eloquere utrumque nobis, 55 et quid tibi est et quid velis nostram operam, ut nos sciamus.
noli, obsecro, lacrumis tuis mi exercitum imperare.

Sel.

Méd excrucio, mea Gymnasium: male mihi est, male maceror;
doleo ab animo, doleo ab oculis, doleo ab aegritudine.
quid dicam, nisi stultitia mea me in maerorem rapi?

Gymn.

60 Indidem unde oritur facito ut facias stultitiam sepelibilem.

Sel.

Quid faciam?

Gymn.

In latebras abscondas pectore penitissimo.
tuam stultitiam sola facito ut scías sine aliis arbitris.

Sel.

At mihi cordolium est.

Gymn.

Quid? id unde est tibi cor? commemora obsecro; quod neque ego habeo neque quisquam alia mulier, ut perhibent viri.

Sel.

65 Siquid est quod doleát, dolet; si áútem non est — tamen hoc hic dolet.

Gymn.

Amat haec mulier.

Sel.

Eho an amare occipere amarum est, obsecro?

Gymn.

Namque ecastor Amor et melle et felle est fecundissimus; gustui dat dulce, amarum ad satietatem usque oggerit.

Sel.

Ad istam faciem est morbus, qui me, mea Gymnasium, macerat.

Gymn.

70 Perfidiosus est Amor.

Sel.

Ergo in mé peculatum facit.

Gymn.

Bono animo es, erit isti morbo melius.

Sel.

Confidam fore,
si medicus veniat qui huic morbo facere medicinam potest.

Gymn.

Veniet.

Sel.

Spissum istuc amanti est verbum, veniet, nisi venit.
sed ego mea culpa et stultitia peius misera maceror, 75 quom ego illum unum mi exoptavi, quicum aetatem degerem.

Lena.

Matronae magis cónducibilest istuc, mea Selenium, unum amare et cúm eo aetatem exigere quoi nuptast semel.
verum enim méretrix fortunati est oppidi simillima:
non potest suam rem obtinere sola sine multis viris.

Sel.

80 Hoc volo agatis. qua accersitae causa ad me estis, eloquar.
nam mea mater, quia ego nolo me meretricem dicier, obsecutast de ea re, gessit morem morigerae mihi, ut me, quém ego amarem graviter, sineret cúm eo vivere.

Lena.

Stulte ecastor fecit. sed tu enumquam cum quiquam viro
85 consuevisti?

Sel.

Nisi quidem cum Alcesimarcho, nemine, neque pudícitiam meam mi álius quisquam imminuit.

Lena.

Obsecro,
quó is homo insinuavit pacto se ad te?

Sel.

Per Dionysia
mater pompam me spectatum duxit. dum redeo domum, conspicillo consecutust clanculum me usque ad fores.
90 inde in amicitiam insinuavit cum matre et mecum simul blanditiis, muneribus, donis.

Lena.

Mihi istunc vellem hominem dari, ut ego illum vorsarem!

Sel.

Quid opust verbis? consuetudine coepi amare contra ego illum, et ille me.

Lena.

O mea Selenium,
adsimulare amare oportet. nam si ames, extempulo
95 melius illi multo, quém ames, consulas quam rei tuae.

Sel.

At ille conceptis iuravit verbis apud matrem meam, me uxorem ducturum esse: ei nunc alia ducendast domum, sua cognata Lemniensis, quae habitat hic in proxumo.
nam eúm pater eius subégit. nunc mea mater iratast mihi, 100 quia non redierim domum ad se, postquam hanc rem resciverim, eum uxorem ducturum esse aliam.

Lena.

Nihil amoris iniuriumst.

Sel.

Nunc te amabo ut hanc hic unum triduom hoc solum sinas esse et hic servare apud me. nam ad matrem accersita sum.

Lena.

Quamquam istud mihi erit molestum triduom, et damnum dabis,
105 faciam.

Sel.

Facis benigne et amice. sed tu, Gymnasium mea, si me absente Alcesimarchus veniet, nolito acriter eum inclámare (utut erga me est meritis, mihi cordi est tamen), sed, amabo, tranquille: ne quid, quod illi doleat, dixeris.
accipias clavis: si quid opus tibi erit prompto, promito.

110 ego volo ire.

Gymn.

Vt mi excivisti lacrimas.

Sel.

Gymnasium mea,
bene vale.

Gymn.

Cura te, amabo. sicine immunda, obsecro, ibis?

Sel.

Immundas fortunas aequom est squalorem sequi.

Gymn.

Amiculum hoc sustolle saltem.

Sel.

Sine trahi, cum egomet trahor.

Gymn.

Quando ita tibi lubet, vale atque salve.

Sel.

Si possim, velim. —

Gymn.

115 Numquid me vis, mater, intro quin eam? ecastor mihi visa amare.

Lena.

Istoc ergo auris graviter obtundo tuas, ne quem ames. abi intro.

Gymn.

Numquid me vis?

Lena.

Vt valeas.

Gymn.

Vale. —

Lena.

Idem míhi magnae quod parti est vitium mulierum quae hunc quaestum facimus: quae ubi saburratae sumus, largiloquae extemplo sumus, plus loquimur quam sat est.
nam ego illanc olim, quae hinc flens abiit, parvolam 5 puellám proiectam ex angiportu sustuli.
adulescens quidam hic est adprime nobilis quin ego nunc quia sum onusta mea ex sententia quiaque adeo me complevi flore Liberi, magis líbera uti lingua conlibitum est mihi,
10 tacere nequeo misera quod tacito usus est.
Sicyone, summo genere; ei vivit pater.
is amore misere hanc deperit mulierculam, quae hinc modo flens abiit. contra amore eum haec deperit.
eam meae ego amicae dono huic meretrici dedi, 15 quae saepe mecum mentionem fecerat, puerum aut puellam alicunde ut reperirem sibi, recens natum, eapse quod sibi supponeret.
ubi mihi potestas primum evenit, ilico
feci eius ei quod me oravit copiam.
20 postquam eam puellam á me accepit, ilico
eandem puellam peperit quam a me acceperat, sine obstetricis opera et sine doloribus, item ut aliae pariunt, quae malum quaerunt sibi.
nam amatorem aibat esse peregrinum sibi 25 suppositionemque eius facere gratia.
id duae nos solae scimus: ego quae illi dedi et illa quae a me accepit, praeter vos quidem.
haec sic res gesta est. si quid usus venerit, meminisse ego hanc rem vos volo. ego abeo domum. —

Auxilium

Vtrumque haec, et multiloqua et multibiba, est anus.

satin vix reliquit deo quod loqueretur loci, ita properavit de puellae proloqui suppositione. quod si tacuisset, tamen

5 ego eram dicturus, deus, qui poteram planius.

nam mihi Auxilio est nomen. nunc operam date, ut ego argumentum hoc vobis plane perputem.

fuere Sicyoni iam diu Dionysia.

mercator venit huc ad ludos Lemnius,

10 isque hic compressit virginem, adolescentulus, vi, vinulentus multa nocte in via.

is ubi malam rem scit se meruisse, ilico pedibus perfugium peperit, in Lemnum aufugit, ubi habitabat tum. illa quam compresserat

15 decumo post mense exacto hic peperit filiam.

quoniam reum eius facti nescit qui siet, paternum servom sui participat consili, dat eam puellam ei servo exponendam ad necem.

is eam proiecit. haec puellam sustulit.

20 ille clam observavit servos qui eam proiecerat quo aut quas in aedis haec puellam deferat.

ut eampse vos audistis confiterier, dat eam puellam meretrici Melaenidi, eaque educavit eam sibi pro filia

25 bene ac pudice. tum illic autem Lemnius propinquam uxorem duxit, cognatam suam.

ea diem suum obiit, facta morigera est viro.

postquam ille uxori iusta fecit, ilico

huc commigravit; duxit uxorem hic sibi

30 eandem quam olim virginem hic compresserat, et eam cognoscit esse, quam compresserat;

illa illi dicit, eius se ex iniuria peperisse gnatam atque eam se servo ilico

dedisse exponendam. ille extemplo servolum

35 iubet illum eundem persequi, si qua queat reperire quae sustulerit. ei rei nunc suam operam usque assiduo servos dat, si possiet meretricem illam invenire, quam olim tollere, cum ipse exponebat, ex insidiis viderat.

40 nunc quod relicuom restat volo persolvere, ut expungatur nomen, ne quid debeam.
adulescens hic est Sicyoni, ei vivit pater;
is amore proiecticiam illam deperit quae dudum flens hinc abiit ad matrem suam, 45 et illa hunc contra, qui est amor suavissimus.
ut sunt humana, nihil est perpetuom datum.
pater adulescenti dare volt uxorem; hoc ubi mater rescivit, iussit accersi eam domum.
haec sic res gesta est. bene valete et vincite 50 virtute vera, quod fecistis antidhac;
servate vestros socios, veteres et novos, augete auxilia vostra iustis legibus, perdite perduelles, parite laudem et lauream, ut vobis victi Poeni poenas sufferant. —

Iuno filia et Saturnus patruos et summus Iuppiter — 205 tu me delenis, propter te haec pecco.

Mel.

Perge dicere.

Alc.

Anne etiam, ut quid consultura sis sciam, pégis eloqui?

Mel.

Non remittam. definitumst.

Alc.

Enim vero ita me Iuppiter itaque me Iuno itaque Ianus ita — quid dicam nescio.
iam scio. immo, mulier, audi, meam ut scias sententiam.
210 di me omnes, magni minuti, ét etiam patellarii faxint, ne ego dem vivae vivos savium Selenio, nisi ego teque tuamque † filiam meque hodie obtruncavero, poste autem cum primo luci cras nisi ambo occidero, et equidem hercle nisi pedatu tertio † omnis efflixero, 215 nisi tu illam remittis ad me. dixi quae volui. vale. —

Mel.

Abiit intro iratus. quid ego nunc agam? si redierit illa ad hunc, ibidem loci res erit: ubi odium occeperit, illam extrudet, tum hanc uxorem Lemniam ducet domum.
sed tamen ibo et persequar: amens ne quid faciat, cauto opust.
220 postremo, quando aequa lege pauperi cum divite non licet, perdam operam potius quam carebo filia.
sed quis hic est qui recta platea cursum huc contendit suum?
et illud paveo et hoc formido, ita tota sum misera in metu.

Lampadio

Anum sectatus sum clamore per vias, miserrumam habui. ut illaec hodie quot modis moderatrix linguae fuit atque immemorabilis.
quot illí blanditias, quid illi promisi boni,
5 quot admoenivi fabricas, quot fallacias in quaestione. vix exculpsi ut diceret, quia ei promisi dolium vini dare.

Phanostrata

Audire vocem visa sum ante aedis modo mei Lampadisci servi.

Lamp.

Non surda es, era:
recte audivisti.

Phan.
Quid agis hic?

Lamp.
Quod gaudeas.

Phan.
Quid id est?

Lamp.
Hinc ex hisce aedibus paulo prius
5 vidi exeuntem mulierem.

Phan.
Illam quae meam
gnatam sustulerat?

Lamp.
Rem tenes.

Phan.
Quid postea?

Lamp.
Dico éi, quo pacto eam ab hippodromo viderim erilem nostram filiam sustollere.
extimuit tum illa.

Mel.
Iam horret corpus, cor salit.
10 nam mihi ab hippodromo memini adferri parvolam puellam eamque me mihi supponere.

Phan.
Age perge, quaeso. ánimus audire expetit ut gesta res sit.

Mel.

Vtinam audire non queas.

...

Lamp.

15 Pergo illam onerare dictis: “illaec ted anus fortunis ex secundis ad miseras vocat.
nam illaec tibi nutrix est, ne matrem censeas.
ego te reduco et revoco ad summas ditias, ubi tu locere in luculentam familiam, 20 unde tibi talenta magna viginti pater det dotis; non enim hic, ubi ex Tusco modo tute tibi indigne dotem quaeras corpore.”

Phan.

An, amabo, meretrix illa est quae illam sustulit?

Lamp.

Immo meretrix fuit; sed ut sit dé ea re, eloquar.
25 iam perducebam illam ad me suadela mea:
anus éi amplexa est genua, plorans, obsecrans, ne deserat se: eam suam esse filiam, seque eam peperisse sancte adiurabat mihi.
‘istanc quam quaeris’ inquit “ego amicae meae 30 dedi, quae éduicaret eam pro filiola sua;
et vivit” inquit. ‘ubi ea est?’ inquam extempulo.

Phan.

Servate di med obsecro.

Mel.

At me perditis.

Phan.

Quoi illam dedisset exquisisse oportuit.

Lamp.

Quaesivi, et dixit meretrici Melaenidi.

Mel.

35 Meum elocutust nomen, interii oppido.

Lamp.

Vbi elocuta est, ego continuo anum interrogo;
‘ubi habitat?’ inquam ‘duc ac demonstra mihi.’
‘avecta est’ inquit ‘peregred hinc habitatum.’

Mel.

Obsipat
aculam.

Lamp.

Quo avecta est, eo sequemur. sicine 40 agis nugas? periisti hercle, ni ...
... non hoc longe destiti instare, usque adeo donec se adiurat anus iam mihi monstrare.

Phan.

Át non missam oportuit.

Lamp.

Servatur. sed illaec se quandam aibat mulierem 45 suam bene volentem convenire etiam prius, commune quacum id esset sibi negotium.
et scio venturam.

Mel.

Me indicabit, et suas
ad meas miseras † alias faciem consciam.

Phan.

Quid nunc vis facere me?

Lamp.

Intro abi atque animo bono es.

50 vir tuos si veniet, iube domi opperirier, ne in quaestione mihi sit, si quid eum velim.
ego ad ánum recurro rursum.

Phan.

Lampadio, obsecro,
cura.

Lamp.

Perfectum ego hoc dabo negotium.

Phan.

Deos téque spero. —

Lamp.

Eosdem ego, uti abeas domum.

Mel.

55 Adulescens, asta atque audi.

Lamp.

Men, mulier, vocas?

Mel.

Te.

Lamp.

Quid negoti est? nam occupatus sum ampliter.

Mel.

Quis istic habitat?

Lamp.

Demipho dominus meus.

Mel.

Nempe istic est, qui Alcesimarcho filiam suam despondit in divitias maxumas?

Lamp.

60 Is ipsust.

Mel.

Eho tu, quam vos igitur filiam nunc quaeritis alteram?

Lamp.

Ego dicam tibi:
non ex uxore natam uxoris filiam.

Mel.

Quid istuc est verbi?

Lamp.

Ex priore muliere
nata, inquam, meo ero est filia.

Mel.

Certe modo
65 huius, quae locuta est, quaerere aibas filiam.

Lamp.

Huius ergo quaero.

Mel.

Quo modo igitur, obsecro,
haec est prior, quae nupta nunc est?

Lamp.

Conteris

tu tua me oratione, mulier, quisquis es.
medioxumam quam duxit uxorem, ex ea 70 nata est haec virgo, Alcesimarcho quae datur.

ea uxór diem obiit. iam scis?

Mel.

Teneo istuc satis.

sed ego illud quaero confragosum, quo modo prior pósterior sit et posterior sit prior?

Lamp.

Prius hanc compressit quam uxorem duxit domum,

75 prius grávida facta est priusque peperit filiam;

eam póstquam peperit, iussit parvam proici:

ego eam proieci, ália mulier sustulit, ego inspectavi. érus hanc duxit postibi.

eam núnc puellam filiam eius quaerimus.

80 quid nunc supina susum in caelum conspicias?

Mel.

Ei nunciam istuc quo properabas, nil moror.

nunc intellexi.

Lamp.

Dis hercle habeo gratiam, nam ni intellexes, numquam, credo, amitteres. —

Mel.

Nunc mihi bonae necessumst esse ingratiis,

85 quamquam esse nolo. rem palam esse intellego:

nunc egomet potius hanc inibo gratiam ab illis, quam illaec me indicet. ibo domum, atque ad parentes reducam Selenium. —

ACT III.

Melaenis

Rem élocuta sum tibi omnem; sequere hac me, Selenium, ut eorum quoiam esse oportet te sis potius quam mea.
quamquam invita te carebo, ánimum ego inducam tamen ut illud quem ad modum tuam in rem bene conducatur consulam.
5 nam hic crepundia insunt, quibuscum te illa olim ad me detulit, quae mihí dedit, parentes te ut cognoscant facilius.
accipe hanc cistellam, Halisca. ágedum pulta illas fores.
dic me orare ut aliquis intus prodeat propere ocus.

Alcesimarchvs

Recipe me ad te, Mors, amicum et benevolum.

Selenivm

Mater mea,
10 periius miseraé.

Alc.

Vtrum hac me feriam an ab laeva latus?

Mel.

Quid tibi est?

Sel.

Alcesimarchum non vides? ferrum tenet.

Alc.

Ecquid agis? remorare. lumen linque.

Sel.

Amabo, accurrite,
ne se interemat.

Alc.

O Salute méa salus salubrior, tu nunc, si ego volo seu nolo, sola me ut vivam facis.

Mel.

15 Haud voluisti istuc severum facere.

Alc.

Nil mecum tibi, mortuos tibi sum: hanc ut habeo certum est non amittere;
nam hercle iam ad me adglutinandam totam decretum est dare.
ubi estis, servi? occludite aedis pessulis, repagulis ilico: hanc ego tetulero intra limen. —

Mel.

Abiit, abstulit

20 mulierem. ibo, persequar iam illum intro, ut haec ex me sciat éadem, si possum tranquillum facere ex irato mihi.

ACT IV.

Lampadio

Nullam ego me vidisse credo magis anum excruciablem quam illaec est, quae dudum fassa est mihi quaene infitias eat.
sed eccam eram video. sed quid hoc est, haec quod cistella hic iacet cum crepundiis? nec quemquam conspicio alium in via.
5 faciundum est puerile officium: conquiniscam ad cistulam.

Phanostrata

Quid agis, Lampadio?

Lamp.

Haec cistella numnam hinc ab nobis domo est?
nam hinc ab ostio iacentem sustuli.

Phan.

Quid nuntias
super anu?

Lamp.

Scelestiorem in terra nullam esse alteram.
omnia infitiatur ea quae dudum confessa est mihi.
10 nam hercle ego quam illam anum inridere me ut sinam, satiust
mihi quovis exitio interire.

Phan.

Di, obsecro vostram fidem.

La.

Quid deos obsecras?

Ph.

Servate nos.

La.

Quid est?

Ph.

Crepundia

haec sunt, quibuscum tu extulisti nostram filiolum ad necem.

L.

Sanane es?

P.

Haec sunt profecto.

L.

Pergin?

P.

Haec sunt.

L.

Si mihi

15 alia mulier istoc pacto dicat, dicam esse ebriam.

Phan.

Non ecastor falsa memoro.

Lamp.

Nam, obsecro, unde haec gentium?

aut quis deus obiecit hanc ante ostium nostrum, quasi dedita opera, in tempore ipso?

Phan.

Spes mihi sancta subveni.

Halisca

Nisi quid mi opis di dant, disperii, neque unde auxilium expetam habeo.

itaque † petulantia mea me animi miseram habet.

Lam.

Era.

Ph.

Hém quid est?

Lam.

Haec ést.

Ph.

Quis est?

Lam.

Quoi haec excidit cistella.

Phan.

Certe est, eum locum signat, ubi ea excidit: apparet.

Hal.

Sed is hác iit, hac soccí video vestígium in pulvere, pérsequar hac.

sed is hác abiit. contémplabor. hinc húc iit, hinc nusquam ábiit.

actám rem ago. quod periit, periit: meum córium cum cistella.

redeo íntro.

Phan.

Muliér, mane. sunt quí volunt té conventam.

Hal.

Quis mé revocat?

Lamp.

Bona femina et malus masculus volunt te.

Hal.

40 ... postremo ille

plus qui vocat scit quod velit, quam ego quae vocor. revortor.

ecquem vidisti † quaerere hic, amabo, in hac regione cistellam cum crepundiis, quam ego hic amisi misera?

nam dudum ut accucurrimus ad Alcésimarchum, ne se

45 vita interemeret, tum éam mihi opinor excidissee.

Lamp.

Cistellam haec mulier perdidit. taceamus, era, parumper.

Hal.

Disperii misera. quid ego erae dicam? quae me opere tanto servare iussit, qui suos Selenium parentes facilius posset noscere, quae erae meae supposita est parva, 50 quam quaedam meretrix ei dedit.

Lamp.

Nostram haec rem fabulatur, hanc scire oportet, filia tua ubi sit, signa ut dicit.

Hal.

Nunc eam volt suae matri et patri, quibus nata est, reddere ultro.
mi homo, obsecro, alias res geris, ego tibi meas res mando.

Lamp.

Istuc ago, atque istic mihi cibus est, quod fabulare, 55 sed inter rem agendam istam erae huic respondi quod rogabat.
nunc ad te redeo: si quid est opus, dic, impetratumst.
quid quaeritabas?

Hal.

Mi homo et mea mulier, vos saluto.

Phan.

Et nos te. sed quid quaeritas?

Hal.

Vestigium hic requiro,
qua aufugit quaedam ... aestio ...

Lamp.

Quid id? quid nam est?

Hal.

60 Alienum ... et maerorem familiarem.

Lamp.

Mala mers, era, haec et callida est.

Phan.

Ecastor ita videtur.

Lamp.

Imitatur nequam bestiam et damnificam.

Phan.

Quamnam, amabo?

Lamp.

Involvum, quae in pampini folio intorta implicat se:
itidem haec exorditur sibi intortam orationem.

65 quid quaeritas?

Hal.

Cistellula hinc mi, adulescens, evolavit.

Lamp.

In caveam latam oportuit.

Hal.

Non edepol praeda magna.

Lamp.

Mirum quin grex venalium in cistella infuerit una.

Phan.

Sine dicat.

Lamp.

Si dicat quidem.

Phan.

Age lóquere tu quid ibi infuerit.

Hal.

Crepundia una.

Lamp.

Est quidam homo, qui illam ait se scire ubi sit.

70 at pol ille a quadam muliere, si eam monstret, gratiam ineat.

Lamp.

At sibi ille quidam volt dari mercedem.

Hal.

At pol illa quaedam, quae illam cistellam perdidit, quoidam negat esse quod det.

Lamp.

At enim ille quidam operam bonam magis expetit quam argentum.

Hal.

At pol illi quoidam mulieri nulla opera gratuita est.

Phan.

75 Commodule quaedam. tu tibi nunc prodes. confitemur cistellam habere.

Hal.

At vos Salus servassit. ubi ea nunc est?

Phan.

Salvam eccam. sed ego rem meam magnam confabulari tecum volo: sóciam te mihi adopto ad meam salutem.

Hal.

Quid istúc negoti est? aut quis es?

Phan.

Egó sum illius mater,

80 quae haec gestitavit.

Hal.

Hicine tu ergo habitas?

Phan.

Hariolare.
sed quaéso, ambages, mulier, mitte atque hoc age.
eloquere, unde haec sunt tibi, cito, crepundia.

Hal.
Mea haec erilis gestitavit filia.

Lamp.
Mentiris, nam mea gestitavit, non tua.

Phan.
85 Ne obloquere.

Lamp.
Taceo.

Phan.
Mulier, perge dicere.
ubi ea est, quae gestitavit?

Hal.
Hic in proximo.

Phan.
Istic quidem edepol mei virí habitat gener.

Lamp.

East: u ... numerus annorum attulit.

Hal.

Quid qua tibi causa haec dixi? iam quaero meam.

Lamp.

At pol ego ... sunt, quaero tertiam.

Phan.

Quod quaeritabam, filiam inveni meam.

Hal.

95 Aequom est reponi per fidem quod creditum est, ne bene merenti sit malo benignitas.
nostra haec alumna est, tua profecto filia:

...

et redditura est tuam tibi, et ea gratia 100 domo profecta est. ceterum ex ipsa, obsecro, exquaeritote: ego serva sum.

Phan.

Aequom postulas.

Hal.

Illius égo istanc esse malo gratiam.
sed istánc cistellam te opsecro ut reddas mihi.

Phan.

Quid fit, Lampadio?

Lamp.

Quod tuom est teneas tuom.

Phan.

105 At me huius miseret.

Lamp.

Sic faciundum censeo:
da isti cistellam et intro abi cum istac semul.

Phan.

Tibi auscultabo. tene tu cistellam tibi, abeamus intro. sed quid est nomen tuae dominae?

Hal.

Melaenis.

Phan.

I prae, iám ego te sequar. —

ACT V.

Demipho

Quíd hoc negoti est, quód omnes homines fabulantur per vias mihi esse filiam inventam? et Lampadionem me in foro quaesivisse aiunt.

Lamp.

Ere, unde is?

Dem.

Ex senatu.

Lamp.

Gaudeo

tibi mea opera liberorum esse amplius.

Dem.

Enim non placet.

5 nil moror aliena mi opera fieri pluris liberos.
sed quid istúc est?

Lamp.

Propera ire intro húc ad adfinem tuom, filiam tuam iám cognosces intus. íbidem uxor tua est.
abi cito.

Dem.

Praevorti hoc certumst rebus aliis omnibus. —

Caterva

Ne exspectetis, spectatores, dum illi huc ad vos exeant:
10 nemo exhibit, omnes intus conficient negotium.
ubi id erit factum, ornamenta ponent; postidea loci qui deliquit vapulabit, qui non deliquit bibet.
nunc quod ad vos, spectatores, relicuom relinquitur, more maiorum date plausum postrema in comoedia.

ACT I.

Palinrvs

Quo ted hoc noctis dicam proficisci foras
Cum istoc ornatu cumque hac pompa, Phaedrome?

Phaedromvs

Quo Venus Cupidoque imperat, suadet Amor:
si media nox est sive est prima vespera,
5 si status conductus cum hoste intercedit dies,
tamen est eundum quo imperant ingratiis.

Pal.

At tandem, tandem —

Phaed.

Tandem es odiosus mihi.

Pal.

Istuc quidem nec bellum est nec memorabile:
tute tibi puer es, lautus luces cereum.

Phaed.

10 Egon apicularum congestum opera non feram, ex dulci oriundum melculo dulci meo?

Pal.

Nam quo te dicam ego ire?

Phaed.

Si tu me roges,
dicam ut scias.

Pal.

Si rogitem, quid respondeas?

Phaed.

Hoc Aesculapi fanum est.

Pal.

Plus iam anno scio.

Phaed.

15 Huic proximum illud ostiumst oculissimum.
salve, valuistin?

Pal.

Ostium occlusissimum, caruitne febris te herí vel nudiustertius et heri cenavistine?

Phaed.

Deridesne me?

Pal.

Quid tu ergo, insane, rogitas valeatne ostium?

Phaed.

20 Bellissimum hercle vidi et taciturnissimum, numquam ullum verbum muttit: cum aperitur tacet,
cum ílla noctu clanculum ad me exit, tacet.

Pal.

Numquid tu quod te aut genere indignum sit tuo facis aut inceptas facinus facere, Phaedrome?
25 num tu pudicae cuipiam insidias locas aut quam pudicam ésse oportet?

Phaed.

Nemini,
nec me ille sirit Iuppiter.

Pal.

Ego item volo.
ita tuom conferto amare semper, si sapis,

ne id quod ames populus si sciat, tibi sit probro.
30 semper curato ne sis intestabilis.

Phaed.

Quid istúc est verbi?

Pal.

Caute ut incedas via:
quod amas amato testibus praesentibus.

Phaed.

Quin leno hic habitat.

Pal.

Nemo hinc prohibet nec vetat,
quin quod palam est venale, si argentum est, emas.
35 nemo ire quemquam publica prohibet via;
dum ne per fundum saeptum facias semitam,
dum ted abstineas nupta, vidua, virgine, iuventúte et pueris liberis, ama quid lubet.

Phaed.

Lenonis hae sunt aedes.

Pal.

Male istis evenat.

Phaed.

40 Qui?

Pal.

Quia scelestam servitutem serviunt.

Phaed.

Obloquere.

Pal.

Fiat maxume.

Phaed.

Etiam taces?

Pal.

Nempe obloqui me iusseras.

Phaed.

At nunc veto.

sed ita uti occepi dicere: ei ancillula est.

Pal.

Nempe huic lenoni qui hic habitat?

Phaed.

Recte tenes.

Pal.

45 Minus fórmidabo, ne excidat.

Phaed.

Odiosus es.

eam vólt meretricem facere. éa me deperit, ego autem cum illa facere nolo mutuom.

Pal.

Quid ita?

Phaed.

Quia proprium facio: amo pariter simul.

Pal.

Malus clándestinus est amor, damnumst merum.

Phaed.

50 Est hercle ita ut tu dicis.

Pal.

Iamne ea fert iugum?

Phaed.

Tam a me pudica est quasi soror mea sit, nisi si est osculando quippiam impudicior.

Pal.

Semper tu scito, flamma fumo est proxima;
fumo comburi nil potest, flamma potest.
55 qui é nuce nuculeum esse volt, frangit nucem:
qui volt cubare, pandit saltum saviis.

Phaed.

At illa ést pudica neque dum cubitat cum viris.

Pal.

Credam, pudor si cuiquam lenoni siet.

Phaed.

Immo ut illam censes? ut quaeque illi occasiost, 60 subripere se ad me; ubi savium oppegit, fugit.
id eo fit, quia hic leno, hic qui aegrotus incubat in Aesculapi fano, is me excruciat.

Pal.

Quid est?

Phaed.

Alias me poscit pro illa triginta minas, alias talentum magnum; neque quicquam queo
65 aequi bonique ab eo impetrare.

Pal.

Iniuriu's,
qui quod lenoni nulli est id ab eo petas.

Phaed.

Nunc hinc parasitum in Cariam misi meum petitum argentum a meo sodali mutuom.
quod si non affert, quo me vortam nescio.

Pal.

70 Si deos salutas, dextrovorsum censeo.

Phaed.

Nunc ara Veneris haec est ante horunc fores;
me inferre Veneri vovi ieientaculum.

Pal.

Quid? tu te pones Veneri ieientaculo?

Phaed.

Me, te atque hosce omnis.

Pal.

Tum tu Venerem vomere vis.

Phaed.

75 Cedo, puere, sinum.

Pal.

Quid facturu's?

Phaed.

Iam scies.

anus hic solet cubitare custos ianitrix, nomen Leaenae est, multibiba atque merobiba.

Pal.

Quasi tu lagoenam dicas, ubi vinum Chium solet ésse.

Phaed.

Quid opust verbis? vinosissima est;
80 eaque extemplo ubi ego vino has conspersi fores, de odore adesse me scit, aperit ilico.

Pal.

Eine hic cum vino sinus fertur?

Phaed.

Nisi nevis.

Pal.

Nolo hercle, nam istunc qui fert afflictum velim;
ego nobis afferri cénsui.

Phaed.

Quin tu taces?

85 si quid super illi fuerit, id nobis sat est.

Pal.

Quisnam istic fluviust, quem non recipiat mare?

Phaed.

Sequere hac, Palinure, me ad fores, fi mi obsequens.

Pal.

Ita faciam.

Phaed.

Agite bibite, festivae fores;
potate, fite mihi volentes propitiae.

Pal.

90 Voltisne olivas aut pulpamentum aut capparim?

Phaed.

Exsuscitate vostram huc custodem mihi.

Pal.

Profundis vinum: quae te res agitant?

Phaed.

Sine.

viden út aperiuntur aedes festivissumae?
num muttit cardo? est lepidus.

Pal.

Quin das savium?

Phaed.

95 Tace, occultemus lumen et vocem.

Pal.

Licet.

Leaena

Flós veteris vini meis náribus obiectust, éius amor cupidam me huc prólicit per tenebras.

ubi ubi ést, prope me est. euáx, habeo.

salve, ánime mi, Líberi lepos.

sine, ductim. sed hac abiit, hac persequar.

Phaed.

15 Sitit haéc anus.

Pal.

Quantillúm sitit?

Phaed.

Modica ést, capit quadrántal.

Pal.

Leaena

Imperatór quis est?

Phaed.

Vínipollens lépidus Liber, tíbí qui screánti, siccaé, semisómnae adfért potiónem et sitím iam sedátum it.

Leaena

25 Quám longe a me abest?

Phaed.

Lúmen hoc vide.

Leaena

Grándiorém gradum ergó fac ad me, óbsecro.

Ph.

Sálve.

Le.

Egon sálva sim, quae siti sícca sum?

Ph.

At iám bibes.

Leaena

Diu fit.

Phaed.

Ém tibi anus lepida.

Leaena

Sálve, oculissime homo.

Pal.

Age, effúnde hoc cito in barathrúm, propere

30 prolúe cloacam.

Phaed.

Tace. Nólo huic male dicí.

Pal.

Faciam igitur mále potius.

Le.

Venús, de paulo paúlulum hoc tíbi dabo haud lubénter.

nam tíbi amantes própítiantes vínun potantés danunt omnés, mihi haud saepe évenunt talés hereditátes.

Pal.

Hoc víde ut ingurgitat ímpura in se mérum avariter, faucibus plenis.

Phaed.

35 Perii hércle, huic quid primúm dicam nesció.

Pal.

Em istuc, quod míhi dixti.

Phaed.

Quid id ést?

Pal.

Periisse ut té dicas.

Phaed.

Male tibi di faciant.

Pal.

Díc isti.

Le.

Ah.

Pal.

Quíd est? ecquid lubet?

Le.

Lúbet.

Pal.

Etiam mihi quóque stimulo foderé lubet te.

Phaed.

Tace, né —

Pal.

Noli, taceo. écce autem bibit árcus, pluet credo hércle hodie.

Phaed.

Iamne égo huic dico?

Pal.

Quid díces?

Phaed.

Me periísse.

Pal.

Age dice.

Phaed.

Anus, aúdi.

40 hóc volo scíre te: pérditus súm miser.

Leaena

At pól ego oppidó servata.
séd quid est? quid lubet pérditum dícere te essé?

Phaed.

Quia id quod amo cáreo.

Leaena

Phaedrome mi, ne plora amabo.
45 tu mé curato né sitiam, ego tibi quód amas iam huc addúcam. —

Phaed.

Tibine égo, si fidem servás mecum, vineám pro aurea statuá statuum, quae tuó gutturí sit monumentum.
qui me ín terra aequé fórtunatus erít, si illa ad me bítet, Palinúre?

Pal.

Edepol qui amát, si eget, misera ádficitur, ere, aerúmna.

Phaed.

50 Non íta res est, nam cónfido parasítum hodie adventúrum cum argénto ad me.

Pal.

Magnum ínceptas, si id éxpectas quod núsquamst.

Phaed.

Quid si ádeam ad fores atque óccentem?

Pal.

Si lúbet, neque veto neque iúbeo, quando égo te video immútatis moribus esse, ere, atque ingénio.

Phaed.

Péssuli, heus péssuli, vós salutó lubens,
55 vos amo, vos volo, vos peto atque obsecro, géríte amantí mihi mórem, amoeníssumi, fíte causa mea ludii barbari, sussilite, obsecro, et mittite istanc foras,

quae mihi misero amanti ebibit sanguinem.
60 hoc vide ut dormiunt pessuli pessumi nec mea gratia commovent se ocus.
re spicio, nihili meam vos gratiam facere.
st tace, tace.

Pal.

Taceo hercle equidem.

Phaed.

Sentio sonitum.

tandem edepol mihi morigeri pessuli fiunt.

Leaena

Plácide egredere et sónitum prohibe fórium et crepitum cárdinum, ne quod hic agimus erus percipiat fieri, mea Planesium.
mane, suffundam aquolam.

Pal.

Viden ut anus tremula medicinam facit?

eapse merum condidicit bibere, foribus dat aquam quam bibant.

Planesium

5 Vbi tu es, qui me convadatu's Veneriis vadimoniis?

sisto ego tibi me et mihi contra itidem tu te ut sistas suadeo.

Phaed.

Assum; nam si absim, haud recusem quin mihi male sit, mel meum.

Plan.

Anime mi, me procul amantem abesse haud consentaneumst.

Phaed.

Palinure, Palinure.

Pal.

Eloquere, quid est quod Palinurum voces?

Phaed.

10 Est lepida.

Pal.

Nimis lepida.

Phaed.

Sum deus.

Pal.

Immo homo haud magni preti.

Phaed.

Quid vidisti aut quid videbis magis dis aequiparabile?

Pal.

Male valere te, quod mi aegrest.

Phaed.

Male mi morigeru's, tace.

Pal.

Ipsus se excruciat qui homo quod amat videt nec potitur dum licet.

Phaed.

Recte obiurgat. sane haud quicquamst, magis quod cupiam iam diu.

Plan.

15 Tene me, amplectere ergo.

Phaed.

Hoc etiam est quam ob rem cupiam vivere.
quia te prohibet erus, clam ero potior.

Pl.

Prohibet? nec prohibere quit,

nec prohibebit nisi mors méum animum aps te abalienaverit.

Pal.

Enim vero nequeo durare quin ego erum accusem meum:
nam bonum est pauxillum amare sane, insane non bonum est;
20 verum totum insanum amare, hóc est quod meus erus facit.

Phaed.

Sibi sua habeant regna reges, sibi divitias divites, sibi honores, sibi virtutes, sibi pugnas, sibi proelia:
dum mi abstineant invidere, sibi quisque habeant quod suom est.

Pal.

Quid tu? Venerin pervigilare te vovisti, Phaedrome?
25 nam hoc quidem edepol haud multo post luce lucebit.

Phaed.

Tace.

Pal.

Quid, taceam? quin tu is dormitum?

Phaed.

Dormio, ne occlamites.

Pal.

Tu quidem vígilas.

Phaed.

At meo more dormio: hic somnust mihi.

Pal.

Heus tu, mulier, male mereri de inmerente inscitia est.

Plan.

Irascere, si te edentem hic a cibo abigat.

Pal.

Ilicet,

30 pariter hos perire amando video, uterque insaniunt.
viden ut misere moliuntur? nequeunt complecti satis.
etiam dispertimini?

Plan.

Nullum homini est perpetuom bonum:
iam huic voluptati hoc adiunctum est odium.

Pal.

Quid ais, propudium?
tun etiam cum noctuinis oculis odium me vocas?
35 ebrióla, persollae nugae.

Phaed.

Tun meam Venerem vituperas?
† quod quidem mihi polluctus virgis servos sermonem serat?
at ne tu hercle cum cruciatu magno dixisti id tuo.
em tibi male dictis pro istis, dictis moderari ut queas.

Pal.

Tuam fidem, Venus noctuvigila.

Phaed.

Pergin etiam, verbero?

Plan.

40 Noli, amabo, verberare lapidem, ne perdas manum.

Pal.

Flagitium probrumque magnum, Phaedrome, expergefaxis:
bene monstrantem pugnis caedis, hanc amas, nugas meras.
hocine fieri, ut inmodestis hic te moderes moribus?

Phaed.

Auro contra cedo modestum amatorem: a me aurum accipe.

Pal.

45 Cedo mihi contra aurichalco cui ego sano serviam.

Plan.

Bene vale, ocule mi, nam sonitum et crepitum claustrorum audio, aeditumum aperire fanum ... quo usque, quaeso, ad hunc modum inter nos amore utemur semper surrepticio?

Phaed.

Minime, nam parasitum misi nudiusquartus Cariam 50 petere argentum, is hodie hic aderit.

Plan.

Nimium consultas diu.

Phaed.

Ita me Venus amet, ut ego te hoc triduom numquam sinam in domo esse istac, quin ego te liberalem liberem.

Plan.

Facito ut memineris. tene etiam, prius quam hinc abeo, savium.

Phaed.

Siquidem herclé mihi regnum detur, numquam id potius persequar.
55 quando ego te videbo?

Plan.

Em istoc verbo vindictam para:
sí amas, eme, ne rogites, facito ut pretio pervincas tuo.
bene vale.

Phaed.

Iamne ego relinquor? pulcre, Palinure, occidi.

Pal.

Ego quidem, qui et vapulando et somno pereo.

Phaed.

Sequere me. —

ACT II.

Cappadox

Migrare certumst iam nunc e fano foras, quando Aesculapi ita sentio sententiam, ut qui me nihili faciat nec salvom velit.
valetudo decrescit, adcrecit labor;
5 nam iam quasi zona liene cinctus ambulo, geminos in ventre habere videor filios.
nil metuo nisi ne medius disrumpar miser.

Palinrvs

Si recte facias, Phaedrome, auscultes mihi atque istam exturbes ex animo aegritudinem.
10 paves, parasitus quia non rediit Caria:
adferre argentum credo; nam si non ferat, tormento non retineri potuit ferreo,
quin reciperet se huc esum ad praesepem suam.

Ca.

Quis hic est qui loquitur?

Pa.

Quoiam vocem ego audio?

Capp.

15 Estne hic Palinurus Phaedromi?

Pal.

Quis hic est homo
cum collativo ventre atque oculis herbeis?
de forma novi, de colore non queo novisse. iam iam novi: leno est Cappadox. congregiar.

Capp.

Salve, Palinure.

Pal.

O scelerum caput,

20 salveto. quid agis?

Capp.

Vivo.

Pal.

Nempe ut dignus es.

sed quid tibi est?

Capp.

Lien enecat, renes dolent, pulmones distrahuntur, cruciatur iecur, radices cordis pereunt, hirae omnes dolent.

Pal.

Tum te igitur morbus agitat hepatiarius.

Capp.

25 Facile est miserum inridere.

Pal.

Quin tu aliquot dies

perdura, dum intestina exputescunt tibi, nunc dum salsura sat bonast: si id feceris, venire poteris intestinis vilius.

Capp.

Lien díirectust.

Pal.

Ambula, id lieni optumumst.

Capp.

30 Aufér istaec, quaeso, atque hoc responde quod rogo.

potin cóniecturam facere, si narrem tibi hac nocte quod ego somniavi dormiens?

Pal.

Vah, solus hic homost qui sciat divinitus.
quin coniectores a me consilium petunt:
35 quod eis respondi, ea omnes stant sententia.

Cocvs

Palinure, quid stas? quin depromuntur mihi quae opus sũnt, parasito ut sit paratum prandium, quom veniat?

Pal.

Mane sis, dum huic conicio somnium.

Coc.

Tute ipse, si quid somniasti, ad me refers.

Pal.

5 Fateór.

Coc.

Abi, déprome.

Pal.

Age tu interea huic somnium narra, meliorem quam ego sum suppono tibi.
nam quod scio omne ex hoc scio.

Cap.

Operam ut det.

Pal.

Dabit. —

Capp.

Facit hic quod pauci, ut sit magistro óbsequens.

da mi igitur operam.

Coc.

Tam etsi non novi, dabo.

Capp.

10 Hac nocte in somnis visus sum viderier procul sedere longe a me Aesculapium, neque eum ad me adire neque me magni pendere visumst.

Coc.

Item alios deos facturos scilicet:
sane illi inter se congruont concorditer.
15 nihil est mirandum, melius si nil fit tibi, namque incubare satius te fuerat Iovi, qui tibi auxilio in iure iurando fuit.

Capp.

Siquidem incubare vélint qui periuraverint,
locus nón praeberi potis est in Capitolio.

Coc.

20 Hoc animum advorte: pacem ab Aesculapio petas, ne forte tibi évenat magnum malum, quod in quiete tibi portentumst.

Capp.

Bene facis.

ibo atque orabo. —

Coc.

Quae res male vortat tibi. —

Palinrvrs

Pro di immortales, quem conspicio? quis illic est?
25 estne hic parasitus qui missust in Cariam?
heus Phaedrome, exi, exi, exi, inquam, ocius.

Phaedromvs

Quid istíc clamorem tollis?

Pal.

Parasitum tuom

video currentem ellum usque in plátea ultima.

hinc auscultemus quid agat.

Phaed.

Sane censeo.

Cvrcvlio

Dáte viam mihi, nóti atque ignoti, dúm ego hic officiúm meum facio: fugite omnes, abite et de via decedite, ne quem in cursu capite aut cubito aut pectore offendam aut genu.

ita nunc subito, propere et celere obiectumst mihi negotium,

5 nec homo quisquamst tám opulentus, qui mi obsistat in via,

nec strategus nec tyrannus quisquam, nec agoranomus, nec demarchus nec comarchus, nec cum tanta gloria,

quin cadat, quin capite sistat in via de semita.

tum isti Graeci palliati, capite operto qui ambulant,

10 qui incedunt suffarcinati cum libris, cum sportulis, constant, conferunt sermones inter sese drapetae, obstant, obsistunt, incedunt cum suis sententiis, quos semper videas bibentes esse in thermipolio, ubi quid subripuere: operto capitulo calidum bibunt,

15 tristes atque ebrioli incedunt: eos ego si offendero, ex unoquoque eorum exciam crépitum polentarium.

tum isti qui ludunt datatim servi scurrarum in via,

et datores et factores omnis subdam sub solum.

proin se domi contineant ... , vitent infortunio.

Phaed.

20 Recte hic monstrat, si imperare possit. nam ita nunc mos viget, ita nunc servitiumst: profecto modus haberi non potest.

Cvr.

Ecquis est qui mihi commonstret Phaedromum genium meum?
ita res subita est, celeriter mihi hoc hómine convento est opus.

Pal.

Te ille quaerit.

Phaed.

Quid si adeamus? heus, Curculio, te volo.

Cvrc.

25 Quis vocat? quis nominat me?

Phaed.

Qui te conventum cupit.

C.

Haud magis me cupis quam ego te cupio.

Ph.

O mea opportunitas,
Curculio exoptate, salve.

Cvrc.

Salve.

Phaed.

Salvom gaudeo
te advenire. cedo tuam mi dexteram. ubi sunt spes meae?
eloquere, obsecro hércle.

Cvrc.

Eloquere, te óbsecro, ubi súnt meae?

Phaed.

30 Quid tibist?

Cvrc.

Tenebrae oboriuntur, genua inedia succidunt.

Phaed.

Lassitudine hercle credo.

Cvrc.

Retine, retine me, obsecro.

Phaed.

Viden ut expálluit? datin isti sellam, ubi assidat, cito et aequalem cum aqua? properatin ocius?

Cvrc.

Animo male est.

Pal.

Vin aquam?

Cvrc.

Si frustulenta est, da, obsecro hercle, obsorbeam.

Pal.

35 Vae capiti tuo.

Cvrc.

Obsecro hercle, facite ventum ut gaudeam.

Pal.

Maxume.

Cvrc.

Quid facitis, quaeso?

Pal.

Ventum.

Cvrc.

Nolo equidem mihi fieri ventulum.

Phaed.

Quid igitur vis?

Cvrc.

Esse, ut ventum gaudeam.

Pal.

Iuppiter te dique perdant.

Cvrc.

Perii, prospicio parum,
gramarum habeo dentes plenos, lippiunt fauces fame, 40 ita cibi vacivitate venio lassus lactibus.

Ph.

Iám edes aliquid.

Cv.

Nolo hercle aliquid: certum quam aliquid mavolo.

Pal.

Immo si scias, reliquiae quae sint.

Cvrc.

Scire nímis lubet
ubi sient, nam illis conventis sane opus est meis dentibus.

Ph.

Pernam, abdomen, sumen sueris, glandium —

Cv.

Ain tu omnia haec?

45 in carnario fortasse dicis.

Ph.

Immo in lancibus,
quae tibi sunt parata, postquam scimus venturum.

Cvrc.

Vide

ne me ludas.

Phaed.

Ita me amabit quám ego amo, ut ego haud mentior.
sed quod te misi, nihilo sum certior.

Cvrc.

Nihil attuli.

Phaed.

Perdidisti me.

Cvrc.

Invenire possum, si mi operam datis.

50 postquam tuo iussu profectus sum, perveni in Cariam, video tuom sodalem, argenti rogo uti faciat copiam.

scires velle gratiam tuam, noluit frustrarier, ut decet velle hominem amicum amico, atque opitularier:
respondit mihi paucis verbis, atque adeo fideliter,

55 quod tibi est item sibi esse, magnam argenti ínopiam.

Phaed.

Perdis me tuis dictis.

Cvrc.

Immo servo et servatum volo.

postquam mihi responsum est, abeo ab illo maestus ad forum med illo frustra advenisse. forte aspicio militem.

aggredior hominem, saluto adveniens. ‘salve’ inquit mihi,

60 prendit dexteram, seducit, rogat quid veniam Cariam;

dico me illo advenisse animi causa. ibi me interrogat, ecquem in Epidauro Lyconem tarpezitam noverim.

dico me novisse. ‘quid? lenonem Cappadocem?’ annuo visitasse. ‘sed quid eum vis?’ “quia de illo emi virginem 65 triginta minis, vestem, aurum; et pro ís decem coáccedunt minae.” ‘dédisti tu argentum?’ inquam. “ímmo ápod trapezitam situm est illum quem dixi Lyconem, atque ei mandavi, qui anulo meo tabellas obsignatas attulisset, ut daret operam, ut mulierem a lenone cum auro et veste abduceret.” 70 postquam hoc mihi narravit, abeo ab illo. revocat me ilico, vocat me ad cenam; religio fuit, denegare nolui.

‘quid si abeamus ac décumbamus?’ inquit. consilium placet:
‘neque diem decet morari, neque nocti nocerier.’
‘omnis res paratast’. et nos, quibus paratum est, assumus.
75 postquam cenati atque appoti, talos poscit síbi in manum, provocat me in aleam, ut ego ludam: pono pallium;
ille suom amiculum opposivit, invocat Planesium.

Phaed.

Meosne amores?

Cvrc.

Tace parumper. iacit volturios quattuor.
talos arripio, invoco almam meam nutricem Hérculem, 80 iacto basilicum; propino magnum poclum: ille ebibit, caput deponit, condormiscit. ego ei subduco anulum, deduco pedes de lecto clam, ne miles sentiat.
rogant me servi quó eam: dico me ire quo saturi solent.
ostium ubi conspexi, exinde me ilico protinam dedi.

Phaed.

85 Laudo.

Cvrc.

Laudato quando illud quod cupis effecero.

...

eamus nunc intro, ut tabellas consignemus.

Phaed.

Num moror?

Cvrc.

Atque aliquid prius obstrudamus, pernam, sumen, glandium, haec sunt ventris stabilimenta, pane et assa bubula, 90 poculum grande, aula magna, ut satis consilia suppetant.
tu tabellas consignato, híc ministrabit, égo edam.
dicam quem ad modum conscribas. sequere me hac intro.

Phaed.

Sequor. —

ACT III.

Lycō

Beatus videor: subdixi ratiunculam, quantum aeris mihi sit quantumque alieni siet:
dives sum, si non reddo eis quibus debeo.
si reddo illis quibus debeo, plus alieni est.
5 verum hercle vero cum belle recogito, si magis me instabunt, ad praetorem sufferam.
habent hunc morem plerique argentarii, ut alius alium poscant, reddant nemini, pugnis rem solvant, si quis poscat clarius.
10 qui homo mature quaesivit pecuniam, nisi eam mature parsit, mature esurit.
cupio aliquem emere puerum, qui usurarius nunc mihi quaeratur. usus est pecunia.

Cyrcvlio

Nil tu me saturum monueris. memini et scio.
15 ego hoc effectum lepide tibi tradam. tace.
edepol ne ego hic med intus explevi probe, et quidem reliqui in ventre cellae uni locum, ubi reliquiarum reliquias recondere.
quis hic est qui operto capite Aesculapium 20 salutatur? attat, quem quaerebam. sequere me.
simulabo quasi non noverim. heus tu, te volo.

Lyc.

Vnocule, salve.

Cyrc.

Quaeso, deridesne me?

Lyc.

De Coclitum prosapia te esse arbitror, nam ei sunt unoculi.

Cvrc.

Catapulta hoc ictum est mihi

25 apud Sicyonem.

Lyc.

Nam quid id refert mea,

an aula quassa cum cinere effossus siet?

Cvrc.

Superstitiosus hic quidem est, véra praedicat;

nam illaec catapultae ád me crebro commeant.

adulescens, ob rem publicam hoc intus mihi

30 quod insigne habeo, quaeso ne me incomities.

Lyc.

Licetne inforare, si incomitiare non licet?

Cvrc.

Non inforabis me quidem, nec mihi placet tuom profecto nec forum nec comitium.

sed hunc, quem quaero, commonstrare si potes,

35 inibis a me solidam et grandem gratiam.

Lyconem quaero tarpezitam.

Lyc.

Dic mihi,

quid eum nunc quaeris? aut cuiati's?

Cvrc.

Eloquar.

ab Therapontigono Platagidoro milite.

Lyc.

Novi edepol nomen, nam mihi istoc nomine,

40 dum scribo, explevi totas ceras quattuor.

sed quid Lyconem quaeris?

Cvrc.

Mandatumst mihi,
ut has tabellas ad eum ferrem.

Lyc.
Quis tu homo es?

Cvrc.
Libertus illius, quem omnes Summanum vocant.

Lyc.
Summane, salve. qui Summanu's? fac sciam.

Cvrc.
45 Quia vestimenta, ubi obdormivi ebrius, summano, ob eam rem me omnes Summanum vocant.

Lyc.
Alibi te meliust quaerere hospitium tibi:
apud mé profecto nihil est Summano loci. sed istúm quem quaeris ego sum.

Cvrc.
Quaesio, tune is es,
50 Lyco trapezita?

Lyc.
Ego sum.

Cvrc.
Multam me tibi
salutem iussit Therapontigonos dicere, et has tabellas dare me iussit.

Lyc.
Mihin?

Cvrc.
Ita.

cape, signum nosce. nostin?

Lyc.

Quidni noverim?

clupeatus elephantum ubi machaera dissicit.

Cvrc.

55 Quod istic scriptum est, id te orare iusserat profecto ut faceres, suam si velles gratiam.

Lyc.

Concede, inspiciam quid sit scriptum.

Cvrc.

Maxime,

tuo arbitratu, dum auferam abs te id quod peto.

Lyc.

“Miles Lyconi in Epidauro hospiti

60 suo Thérapontigonus Platagidorus plurimam salutem dicit.”

Cvrc.

Meus hic est, hamum vorat.

Lyc.

“Tecum oro et quaeso, qui has tabellas adferet tibi, ut ei detur quam istic emi virginem, quod te praesente isti egi teque interprete,

65 et aurum et vestem. iam scis ut convenerit:

argentum des lenoni, is huic det virginem.”

ubi ipsus? cur non venit?

Cvrc.

Ego dicam tibi:

quia nudiusquartus venimus in Cariam

ex India; ibi nunc statuam volt dare auream

70 solidam faciundam ex auro Philippo, quae siet septempedalis, factis monumentum suis.

Lyc.

Quam ob rem istuc?

Cvrc.

Dicam. quia enim Persas, Paphlagones,
Sinopes, Arabes, Cares, Cretanos, Syros,
Rhodiam atque Lyciam, Perediam et Perbibesiam,
75 Centauromachiam et Classiam Vnomammiam, † Libyamque oram omnem Conterebromniam, dimidiam partem nationum usque omnium subegit solus intra viginti dies.

Lyc.

Vah.

Cvrc.

Quid mirare?

Lyc.

Quia enim in cavea si forent
80 conclusi, ítidem ut pulli gallinacei, ita non potuere uno anno circumirier.
credo hercle te esse ab illo, ita nugas blatis.

Cvrc.

Immo etiam porro, si vis, dicam.

Lyc.

Nil moror.
sequere hac, te absolvam qua advenisti gratia.
85 atque eccum video. leno, salve.

Cappadox

Di te ament.

Lyc.

Quid hoc quod ad te venio?

Capp.

Dicas quid velis.

Lyc.

Argentum accipias, cum illo mittas virginem.

Capp.

Quid quod iuratus sum?

Lyc.

Quid id refert tua,
dum argentum accipias?

Capp.

Qui monet quasi adiuvat.

90 sequimini.

Cyrc.

Leno, cave in té sit mora mihi. —

ACT IV.

Choragvs

Edepol nugatorem lepidum lepide hunc nactust Phaedromus.
halapantam an sycophantam mágis esse dicam nescio.
ornamenta quae locavi metuo ut possim recipere;
quamquam cum istoc mihi negoti nihil est: ipsi Phaedromo 5 credidi; tamen asservabo. sed dum hic egreditur foras, commonstrabo, quo in quemque hominem facile inueniatis loco, ne nimio opere sumat operam si quem conventum velit, vel vitiosum vel sine vitio, vel probum vel improbum.
qui periurum convenire volt hominem ito in comitium;
10 qui mendacem et gloriosum, ápud Cloacinae sacrum, ditis damnosos maritos sub basilica quaerito.
ibidem erunt scorta exoleta quique stipulari solent, symbolarum collatores apud forum piscarium.
in foro infimo boni homines atque dites ambulant, 15 in medio propter canalem, ibi ostentatores meri;
confidentes garrulique et malevoli supera lacum, qui alteri de nihilo audacter dicunt contumeliam et qui ipsi sat habent quod in se possit vere dicier.
sub veteribus, ibi sunt qui dant quique accipiunt faenore.

in Tusco vico, ibi sunt homines qui ipsi sese venditant, in Velabro vel pistorem vel lanium vel haruspicem vel qui ipsi vorsant vel qui aliis ubi vorsentur praebeant.
ditis damnosos maritos apud Leucadiam Oppiam.
25 sed interim fores crepuere: linguae moderandum est mihi. —

Cyrcvlio

I tú prae, virgo: nón queo quod póne me est serváre.
et aurum et vestem omnem suam esse aiebat quam haec haberet.

Cappadox

Nemo it infitias.

Cvrc.

At tamen meliusculum est monere.

Lyco

Memento promisisse te, si quisquam hanc liberali 5 causa manu assereret, mihi omne argentum redditum iri, minas triginta.

Capp.

Meminero, de istoc quietus esto.
et nunc idem dico.

Cvrc.

Et quidem meminisse ego haec volam te.

Capp.

Memini, et mancupio tibi dabo.

Cvrc.

Egon ab lenone quicquam mancupio accipiam, quibus sui nihil est nisi una lingua, 10 qui abiurant si quid creditum est? alienos mancupatis, alienos manu emittitis alienisque imperatis, nec vobis auctor ullus est nec vosmet estis ulli.
item genus est lenonium inter homines meo quidem animo ut muscae, culices, cimices pedesque pulicesque: 15 odio et malo et molestiae, bono usui estis nulli, nec vobiscum quisquam in foro frugi consistere audet;
qui constitit, culpant eum, conspicitur vituperatur, eum rem fidemque perdere, tam etsi nil fecit, aiunt.

Lyc.

Edepol lenones meo animo novisti, lusce, lepide.

Cvrc.

20 Eodem hércle vos pono et paro: parissimi estis hibus:
hi saltem in occultis locis prostant, vos in foro ipso;
vos faenore homines, hi male suadendo et lustris lacerant.

rogitationis plurimas propter vos populus scivit, quas vos rogatas rumpitis: aliquam reperitis rimam;
25 quasi aquam ferventem frigidam esse, ita vos putatis leges.

Lyc.

Tacuisse mavellem.

Capp.

Hau male meditate maledicax es.

Cvrc.

Indignis si male dicitur, male dictum id esse dico, verum si dignis dicitur, bene dictumst meo quidem animo.
ego mancupem te nil moror nec lenonem alium quemquam.

30 Lyco, numquid vis?

Ly.

Bene vale.

Cv.

Vale.

Ca.

Heus tu, tibi ego dico.

Cvrc.

Eloquere, quid vis?

Capp.

Quaeso, ut hanc cures, ut bene sit isti.
bene ego istam eduxi meae domi et pudice.

Cvrc.

Si huius miseret, ecquid das qui bene sit?

Capp.

Malúm.

Cvrc.

Opust hóc qui te procures.

Capp.

Quid stulta ploras? ne time, bene hercle vendidi égo te;
35 fac sis bonae frugi sies, sequere istum bella belle.

Lyc.

Summane, numquid nunciam me vis?

Cvrc.

Vale atque salve,
nam et operam et pecuniam benigne praebuisti.

Lyc.

Salutem multam dicito patrono.

Cvrc.

Nuntiabo. —

Lyc.

Numquid vis, leno?

Capp.

Istas minas decem, qui me procurem,
40 dum melius sit mihi, des.

Lyc.

Dabuntur, cras peti iubeto. —

Capp.

Quando bene gessi rem, volo hic in fano supplicare.
nam illam minis olim decem puellam parvolam emi, sed eum qui mi illam vendidit numquam postilla vidi;
periisse credo. quíd id mea refert? ego argentum habeo.
45 quoi hómīni di sunt propitii, lucrum ei profecto obiciunt.

nunc rei divinae operam dabo. certumst bene me curare. — Therapontigonvs

Nón ego nunc mediócri incedo irátus iracúndia, sed eapse illa qua excidionem facere condidici oppidis.
nunc nisi tu mihi propere properas dare iam triginta minas, quas ego apud te deposivi, vitam propera ponere.

Lycó

5 Non edepol nunc ego te mediocri macto infortunio, sed eopse illo quo mactare soleo quoi nil debeo.

Ther.

Ne te mi facias ferocem aut supplicare censeas.

Lyc.

Nec tu me quidem umquam subiges, redditum ut reddam tibi, nec daturus súm.

Ther.

Idem ego istuc quom credebam credidi,
10 te nihil esse redditurum.

Lyc.

Quor nunc a me igitur petis?

Ther.

Scire volo quoi reddidisti.

Lyc.

Lusco liberto tuo,
is Summanum se vocari dixit, éi reddidi.
qui has tabellas obsignatas attulit.

Ther.

Quas tu mihi tabellas?
quos tu mihi luscos libertos, quos Summanos somnias?
15 nec mihi quidém libertus ullust.

Lyc.

Fácis sapientius

quam pars † lenonum, libertos quí habent et eos deserunt.

Ther.

Quid feci †

Lyc.

Quod mandasti feci, túi honoris gratia, tuom qui signum ad me attulisset, nuntium ne spernerem.

Ther.

Stultior stulto fuisti, qui tabellis crederes.

Lyc.

20 Quis res publica et privata geritur, nonne eis crederem?

ego abeo, tibi res solutast recte. bellator, vale.

Ther.

Quid valeam?

Lyc.

Aut tu aegrota aetatem, si lubet, per me quidem. —

Ther.

Quid ego nunc faciam? quid refert me fecisse regibus ut mi oboedirent, si hic me hodie umbraticus deriserit?

Cappadox

Quoi homini di sunt propitii, ei non esse iratos puto.

postquam rem divinam feci, venit in mentem mihi, ne trapezita exulatum abierit, argentum ut petam, ut ego potius comedim quam ille.

Ther.

Iusseram salvere te.

Capp.

5 Therapontigone Platagidore, salve; salvos quom advenis in Epidaurum, hic hodie apud me — numquam delinges salem.

Ther.

Bene vocas, verum locata res est — ut male sit tibi.
sed quid agit meum mercimonium ápuđ te?

Capp.

Nil apud mé quidem,
ne facias testis, neque equidem debeo quicquam.

Ther.

Quid est?

Capp.

10 Quod fui iuratus feci.

Ther.

Reddin an non virginem, prius quam te huic meae machaerae óbicio, mastigia?

Capp.

Vapulare ego te vehementer iubeo: ne me territes.
illa abductast, tu auferere hinc a me, si perges mihi male loqui, profecto, cuí ego nisi malum nil debeo.

T.

15 Mihin malum minitare?

C.

Atque edepol non minitabor, sed dabo, mihi si perges mólestus esse.

Ther.

Leno minitatur mihi, meaeque pugnae proeliares plurimae optritae iacent?
at ita me machaera et clupeus ...
bene iuvent pugnantem in acie: nisi mi virgo redditur,

20 iam ego te faciam ut hic formicae frustillatim differant.

Capp.

At ita me volsellae, pecten, speculum, calamistrum meum bene me amassint meaque axitia linteumque extersui, ut ego tua magnifica verba néque istas tuas magnas minas non pluris facio quam ancillam meam quae latrinam lavat.
25 ego illam reddidi qui argentum a te attulit.

Ther.

Quis is est homo?

Capp.

Tuom libertum ésse aiebat sese Summanum.

Ther.

Meum?

attat, Curculio hercle verba mihi dedit, cum cogito.
is mihi anulum subripuit.

Capp.

Perdidistin tu anulum?

miles pulchre centuriatus est expuncto in manipulo.

Ther.

30 Vbi nunc Curculionem inveniam?

Capp.

In tritico facillume,
vel quingentos curculiones pro uno faxo reperias.
ego abeo, vale atque salve. —

Ther.

Male vale, male sit tibi.

quid ego faciam? maneam an abeam? sicin mi esse os oblitum?
cupio dare mercedem qui illunc ubi sit commonstret mihi.

ACT V.

Cvrcvlio

Antiquom poe+am audiui scripsisse in tragoedia, mulieres duas peiores esse quam unam. res itast.
verum mulierem peiorem quam haec amica est Phaedromi non vidi aut audiui, neque pol dici nec fingi potest 5 peior quam haec est: quae ubi me habere hunc conspicatast anulum,
rogat unde habeam. 'quid id tu quaeris?' 'quia mi quaesitost opus.'
nego me dicere. ut eum eriperet, manum arripuit mordicus.
vix foras me abripui atque effugi. apage istanc canículam.

Planesivm

Phaedrome, propera.

Phaedromvs

Quid properem?

Plan.

Parasitum ne amiseris.
magna res est.

Phaed.

Nulla est mihi, nam quam habui absumpsi celeriter.

Plan.

Teneo.

Phaed.

Quid negotist?

Plan.

Rogita unde istunc habeat anulum.
pater istum meus gestitavit ...

Cvrc.

At mea matertera.

Plan.

5 Mater ei utendum dederat.

Cvrc.

Pater † uois rusum tibi.

Plan.

Nugas garris.

Cvrc.

Soleo, nam propter eas vivo facilius.

Plan.

Quid nunc? obsecro, parentes ne meos mihi prohibeas.

Cvrc.

Quid ego? sub gemmane abstrusos habeo tuam matrem et patrem?

Plan.

Libera ego sum nata.

Cvrc.

Et alii multi qui nunc serviunt.

Phaed.

10 Enim vero irascor.

Cvrc.

Dixi equidem tibi, unde ad me hic pervenerit.
quotiens dicendum est? elusi militem, inquam, in alea.

Th.

Salvos sum, eccum quem quaerebam. quid agis, bone vir?

Cv.

Audio.

si vis tribus bolis, vel in chlamydem.

Ther.

Quin tu is in malam crucem cum bolis, cum bulbis? redde mihi iam argentum aut virginem.

Cvrc.

15 Quod argentum, quas tu mihi tricas narras? quam tu virginem me reposcis?

Ther.

Quam ab lenone ábduxti hodie, scelus viri.

C.

Nullam abduxi.

T.

Certe eccistam video.

Ph.

Virgo haec libera est.

Ther.

Mean ancilla libera ut sit, quam ego numquam emisi manu?

Phaed.

Quis tibi hanc dedit mancipio? aut unde emisti? fac sciam.

Ther.

20 Ego quidem pro istac rem solvi áb trapezita meo.
quam ego pecuniam quadruplicem ábs te et lenone auferam.

Phaed.

Qui scis mercari furtivas atque ingenuas virgines, ambula in ius.

Ther.

Non eo.

Phaed.

Licet te antestari?

Ther.

Non licet.

Phaed.

Iuppiter te, miles, perdat, intestatus vivito;

25 at ego, quem licet, te. accede huc.

Ther.

Servom antestari?

Cvrc.

Vide.

em ut scias me liberum esse. ergo ambula in ius.

Ther.

Em tibi.

C.

O cives, cives.

T.

Quid clamas?

Ph.

Quid tibi istum tactio est?

T.

Quia mihi lubitum est.

Ph.

Accede huc tu, ego illum tibi dedam, tace.

Plan.

Phaedrome, obsecro serva me.

Ph.

Tamquam me et genium meum.

30 miles, quaeso te ut mihi dicas unde illum habeas anulum, quem parasitus hic te elusit.

Plan.

Per tua genua te obsecro,
ut nos facias certiores.

Ther.

Quid istuc ad vos attinet?

quaeratis chlamydem et machaeram hanc unde ad me pervenerit.

Cvrc.

Vt fastidit gloriosus.

Ther.

Mitte istum, ego dicam omnia.

Cvrc.

35 Nihil est quod ille dicit.

Plan.

Fac me certiolem, óbsecro.

Ther.

Ego dícam, surge. hanc rem ágite atque animum advórtite.

pater meus habuit Periplanes †Planesium is prius quam moritur mihi dedit tamquam suo, ut aequom fuerat, filio.

Plan.

Pro Iuppiter.

Ther.

40 Et istó me heredem fecit.

Plan.

O Pietas mea,
serva me, quando ego te servavi sedulo.
frater mi, salve.

Ther.

Qui credam ego istuc? cedo, si vera memoras, quae fuit mater tua?

Plan.

Cleobula.

Ther.

Nutrix quae fuit?

Plan.

Archestrata.

45 ea me spectatum tulerat per Dionysia.
postquam illo ventum est, iam, ut me collocaverat, exoritur ventus turbo, spectacula ibi ruont, ego pertimesco: tum ibi mé nescio quis arripit timidam atque pavidam, nec vivam nec mortuam.
50 nec quo me pacto abstulerit possum dicere.

Ther.

Memini istanc turbam fieri. sed tu dic mihi, ubi is est homó qui te surripuit?

Plan.

Nescio.

verum hunc servavi semper mecum una anulum;
cum hoc olim perii.

Ther.

Cedo, ut inspiciam.

Cvrc.

Sanan es,

55 quae isti committas?

Plan.

Sine modo.

Ther.

Pro Iuppiter,

hic est quem egó tibi misi natali die.

tam facile novi quam me. salve, mea soror.

Plan.

Frater mi, salve.

Phaed.

Deos volo bene vortere

istam rem vobis.

Cvrc.

Et ego nobis omnibus:

60 tu ut hodie adveniens cenam des sororiam, hic nuptialem cras dabit. promittimus.

Ther.

Tace tú.

Cvrc.

Non taceo, quando res vortit bene.

tu istanc desponde huic, miles. ego dotem dabo.

Ther.

Quid dotis?

Cvrc.

Egone? ut semper, dum vivat, me alat.

65 verum hercle dico.

Ther.

Me lubente feceris.

sed leno hic debet nobis triginta minas.

Phaed.

Quam ob rem istuc?

Ther.

Quia ille ita repromisit mihi:
si quisquam hanc liberali asseruisset manu, sine controversia omne argentum reddere.
70 nunc eamus ad lenonem.

Cvrc.

Laudo.

Phaed.

Hoc prius volo,
meam rem ágere.

Ther.

Quid id est?

Phaed.

Vt mihi hanc despondeas.

Cvrc.

Quid cessas, miles, hanc huic uxorem dare?

T.

Si haec volt.

Pl.

Mi frater, cupio.

T.

Fiat.

C.

Bene facis.

Phaed.

Spondesne, miles, mi hanc uxorem?

Ther.

Spondeo.

Cvrc.

75 Et ego hoc idem una spondeo.

Ther.

Lepide facis.

sed eccúm lenonem, incedit, thesaurum meum.

Cappadox

Argentariis male credi qui aiunt, nugas praedicant:

nam et bene et male credi dico; id adeo ego hodie expertus sum.

non male creditur qui numquam reddunt, sed prorsum perit.

vel ille, décem minas dum solvit, omnis mensas transiit.

5 postquam nil fit, clamore hominem posco: ille in ius me vocat;

pessume metui, ne mihi hodie ápuđ praetorem solveret.

verum amici compulerunt: reddit argentum domo.

nunc domum properare certumst.

Ther.

Heus tu, leno, te volo.

Phaed.

Et ego te volo.

Capp.

At ego vos nolo ambos.

Ther.

Sta sis ilico,

10 atque argentum propere propera vomere.

Capp.

Quid mecum est tibi?

aut tibi?

Ther.

Quía ego ex te hódie faciam pilum catapultarium atque ita te nervo torquebo, ítidem ut catapultae solent.

Phaed.

Delicatum te hodie faciam, cum catello ut accubes,
ferreo ego dico.

Capp.

At ego vos ambo in robusto carcere
15 ut pereatis.

Phaed.

Collum obstringe, abduce istum in malam crucem.

Th.

Quidquid est, ipse ibit potius.

Ca.

Pro deum atque hominum fidem, hocine pacto indemnatum atque intestatum me abripi?
obsecro, Planesium, et te, Phaedrome, auxilium ut feras.

Plan.

Frater, obsecro te, noli hunc condemnatum perdere.
20 bene et pudice me domi habuit.

Ther.

Haud voluntate id sua:
Aesculapio huic habeto, quom pudica es, gratiam;
nam si valuisset, iam pridem quoquo posset mitteret.

Phaed.

Animum advortite, ego si possum hoc inter vos componere.
mitte istunc. accede huc, leno. dicam meam sententiam,
25 siquidem voltis quod decrero facere.

Ther.

Tibi permittimus:

Capp.

Dum quidem hercle ita iudices, ne quisquam a me argentum auferat.

T.

Quódne promisti?

Ca.

Qui promisi?

Ph.

Lingua.

Ca.

Eadem nunc nego.

dicendi, non rem perdendi gratia haec nata est mihi.

Ph.

Nihil agit, collum obstringe homini.

Ca.

Iam iam faciam ut iusseris.

Ther.

30 Quando vir bonus es, responde quod rogo.

Capp.

Roga quód lubet.

Ther.

Promistin, si liberali quisquam hanc assereret manu, te omne argentum redditurum?

Capp.

Non commemini dicere.

Ther.

Quid? negas?

Capp.

Nego hercle vero. quo praesente? quo in loco?

Ther.

Me ipso praesente et Lycone tarpezita.

Capp.

Non taces?

Ther.

35 Non taceo.

Capp.

Non ego te flocci facio; ne me territes.

Ther.

Me ipso praesente et Lycone factum est.

Phaed.

Satis credo tibi.

nunc adeo, ut tu scire possis, leno, meam sententiam:

libera haec est, hic huius frater est, haec autem illius soror, †

haec mihi nubet: tu huic argentum redde. hoc iudicium meum est.

Ther.

40 Tu autem in nervo iam iacebis, nisi mi argentum redditur.

Capp.

Hercle istam rem iudicasti perfidiose, Phaedrome.

et tibi oberit et te, miles, di deaeque perduint.

tu me sequere.

Ther.

Quo sequar te?

Capp.

Ad trapezitam meum
ad praetorem. nam inde rem solvo omnibus quibus debeo.

Ther.

45 Ego te in nervom, haud ad praetorem hinc rapiam, ni argentum refers.

Capp.

Ego te vehementer perire cupio, ne tu me nescias.

Ther.

Itane vero?

Capp.

Ita hercle vero.

Ther.

Novi ego hos pugnos meos.

Capp.

Quid tum?

Ther.

Quid tum, rogitas? hisce ego, si tu me irritaveris, placidum te hodie reddam.

Capp.

Age ergo, recipe áctutum.

Ther.

Licet.

Phaed.

50 Tu, miles, apud me cenabis. hodie fient nuptiae.

Ther.

Quae res bene vortat mi et vobis. spectatores, plaudite.

quod danistae detur, unde ego illud sumpsi faenore.

Chaer.

Si hercle haberem ...

Str.

Nam quid te igitur retulit beneficum esse oratione, si ad rem auxilium emortuom est?

Chaer.

15 Quin edepol egomet clamore differor, diffлагitor.

Str.

Malim istius modi mihi amicos furno mersos quam foro.
sed operam Epidici nunc me emere pretio pretioso velim.
quem quidem ego hominem irrigatum plagis pistori dabo, nisi hodie prius comparassit mihi quadraginta minas,
20 quam argenti fuero elocutus ei postremam syllabam.

Ep.

Salva res est: bene promittit, spero servabit fidem.
sine meo sumptu paratae iam sunt scapulis symbolae.
aggrediar hominem. advenientem peregre erum suom Stratippoclem impertit salute servos Epidicus.

Str.

Vbi is est?

Ep.

Adest.

25 salvom huc advenisse —

Str.

Tam tibi istuc credo quam mihi.

Ep.

Benene usque valuisti?

Str.

A morbo valui, ab animo aeger fui.

Ep.

Quod ad me attinuit, ego curavi: quod mandavisti mihi impetratum est, empta ancilla, quod tute ad me litteras missiculabas.

Str.

Perdidisti omnem operam.

Ep.

Nam qui perdidisti?

Str.

30 Quia meo neque cara est cordi neque placet.

Ep.

Quid retulit
mihi tanto opere te mandare et mittere ad me epistulas?

Str.

Illam amabam olím, nunc iam alia cura impendet pectori.

Ep.

Hercle miserum est ingratum esse hómini id quod facias bene.
ego quod bene feci male feci, quia amor mutavit locum.

Str.

35 Desipiebam mentis, cum illa scripta mittebam tibi.

Ep.

Men piacularum oportet fieri ob stultitiam tuam, ut meum tergum tuae stultitiae subdas succidaneum?

Str.

Quid istic? verba facimus. huic homini ópust quadraginta minis celeriter calidis, danistae quas resolvat, et cito.

Ep.

40 Dic modo unde auferre me vis. a quo trápezita peto?

Str.

Vnde libet. nam ni ante solem occasum elo ...
meam domum ne inbitas: tu te in pistrinum ...

Ep.

Facile tu istuc sine periclo et cura, corde libero fabulare; novi ego nostros: mihi dolet cum ego vapulo.

Str.

45 Quid tu nunc? patierin ut ego me interimam?

Ep.

Ne feceris.
ego istuc accedam periculum potius atque audaciam.

Str.

Nunc places, nunc ego te laudo.

Ep.

Patiar ego istuc quod lubet.

Str.

Quid illa fiet fidicina igitur?

Ep.

Aliqua res reperibitur, aliqua ope exsólvar, extricabor aliqua.

Str.

Plenus consili es.

50 novi ego te.

Ep.

Est Euboicus miles locuples, multo auro potens, qui úbi tibi istam emptam esse scibit atque hanc adductam alteram, continuo te orabit ultro ut illam tramittas sibi.
sed ubi illa est quam tu adduxisti tecum?

Str.

Iam faxo hic erit.

Ch.

Quid hic nunc agimus?

St.

Eamus intro huc ad te, ut hunc hodie diem 55 luculentum habeamus. —

Ep.

Ite intro, ego de re argentaria
iam senatum convocabo in corde consiliarium, quod potissimum indicatur bellum unde argentum auferam.
Epidice, vide quid agas, ita res subito haec obiectast tibi;
non enim núnc tibi dormitandi neque cunctandi copia est:
60 adeundumst. senem oppugnare certumst consilium mihi.
i ábi intro atque ádulescenti dic iam nostro erili filio, ne hinc foras ámbulet neve usquam óbviā veniat seni. —

ACT II.

Apoecides

Plérique homines, quós cum nil refért pudet, úbi pudendum est íbi eos deserit pudor, quom úsus est ut pudeat.
ís adeo tu és. quid est quód pudendúm siet,
5 génere natám bono paúperem domum dúcere te uxorem?
praesértim eam, qua ex tibi cómmemores hanc quaé domist fíliam prognatam.

Periphanes

Révereor filium.

Ap.

At pól ego te crédidi
10 úxorem, quam tu éxtulistí, pudore éxsequi, cúius quotiéns sepulcrúm vides, sácruficas fílico Orco hóstiis, néque adeo iniúria, quíá licitumst eam tíbi vivendo vincere.

Per.

Oh,

Hércules égo fui, dum ílla mecúm fuit;
15 neque séxta aerumna acérbior Herculí, quam illa mihi obiéctast.

Ap.

Pulcra édepol dos pecuniast.

Per.

Quae quidem pol non maritast.

Epidicvs

St, tacéte, habete animúm bonum.
liquido éxeo foras auspício, aví sinistra;
acútum cultrum habeo, senis qui exénterem marsúppium.

sed eccum ípsum ante aedis conspícor Apocíde† 5 qualis volo vetulos duo.
iam ego mé convortam in hirúdinem atque eorum éxsugebo

{{(&7Ap&.)}} cóntínuo ut maritus fiat.

Per.

Laudo consilium tuom.

10 nam égo illum audiui in amorem haerere apud néscio quam fidicinam, íd ego excrucior.

Ep.

Di hercle omnis me ádiuvant augent amant:
ipsi hí quidem mihi dant viam, quo pacto ab se argentum auferam.
age núnciam orna te, Epidice, et palliolum in collum conice itaque ádsimulato quasi per urbem totam hominem quaesiveris.
15 áge, si quid agis. di immortales, utinam conveniam domi
Periphanem, per omnem urbém quem sum defessus quaerere:
per medicinas, per tonstrinas, in gymnasio atque in foro, per myropolia et lanienas circumque argentarias.
rogitando sum raucus factus, paene in cursu concidi.

Per.

20 Epidice.

Ep.

Epidicum quis est qui revocat?

Per.

Ego sum, Periphanes.

Ap.

Et ego Apocides sum.

Ep.

Et ego quidem sum Epidicus. sed, ere, optuma vos video opportunitate ambo advenire.

Per.

Quid rei est?

Ep.

Mane dum, sine respirem quaeso.

Per.

Immo adquiesce.

Ep.

Animo malest.

A.

Recipe anhelitum.

P.

Clementer, requiesce.

E.

Animum advortite.

25 a legione omnes remissi sunt domum Thebis.

Ap.

Quis hoc dicit factum?

E.

Ego ita factum esse dico.

P.

Scin tu istuc?

E.

Scio.

Per.
Qui tu scis?

Ep.
Quia ego ire vidi milites plenis viis;
arma referunt et iumenta ducunt.

Per.
Nimis factum bene.

Ep.
Tum captivorum quid ducunt secum! pueros, virgines, 30 binos, ternos, alius quinque; fit concursus per vias, filios suos quinque visunt.

Per.
Hercle rem gestam bene.

Ep.
Tum meretricum numerus tantus, quantum in urbe omni fuit, obviam ornatae occurrebant suis quaeque amatoribus,
eos captabant. id adeo qui maxime animum advorterim?
35 pleraeque eae sub vestimentis secum habebant retia.
quom ad portam venio, atque ego illam illi video praestolarier et cum ea tibicinae ibant quattuor.

Per.
Quicum, Epidice?

Ep.
Cum illa quam tuos gnatus annos multos deamat, deperit, ubi fidemque remque seque teque properat perdere;
40 ea praestolabatur illum apud pórtam.

Per.
Viden veneficam?

Ep.

Sed vestita, aurata, ornata ut lepide, ut concinne, ut nove.

Per.

Quid erat induta? an regillam induculam an mendiculam?

Ep.

Inpluviatam, ut istaec faciunt vestimentis nomina.

Per.

Vtin inpluvium induta fuerit?

Ep.

Quid istuc tam mirabile est?

45 quasi non fundis exornatae multae incedant per vias.
at tributus quom imperatus est, negant pendi potis:
illis quibus tributus maior penditur, pendi potest.
quid istae, quae vesti quotannis nomina inveniunt nova?
tunicam rallam, tunicam spissam, linteolum caesicium, 50 indusiatam, patagiatam, caltulam aut crocotulam, subparum aut subnimum, ricam, basilicum aut exoticum, cumatile aut plumatile, carinum aut cerinum — gerrae maxumae.
cani quoque etiam adeptumst nomen.

Per.

Qui?

Ep.

Vocant Laconicum.

haec vocabula auctiones subigunt ut faciant viros.

Ap.

55 Quin tu ut occepisti loquere?

Ep.

Occepere aliae mulieres

duae post me sic fabulari inter sese — égo abscessi sciens paulum ab illis, dissimulabam earum operam sermoni dare;
nec satis exaudibam, nec sermonis fallebar tamen, quae loquerentur.

Per.

Id lubidost scire.

Ep.

Ibi illarum altera

60 dixit illi quicum ipsa ibat — (

Per.

Quid?

Ep.

Tace ergo, ut audias)

postquam illam sunt conspicatae, quam tuos gnatus deperit:

“quam facile et quam fortunate évenit illi, obsecro, mulieri, quam liberare volt amator.” ‘quisnam is est?’

inquit altera illi. ibi illa nominat Stratippoclem

65 Periphanai filium.

Per.

Perii hercle. quid ego ex te audio?

Ep.

Hoc quod actum est. egomet postquam id illas audivi loqui, coepi rursum vorsum ad illas pauxillatim accedere, quasi retruderet hominum me vis invitum.

Per.

Intellego.

Ep.

Ibi illa interrogavit illam: ‘qui scis? quis id dixit tibi?’

70 “quin hodie adlatae tabellae sunt ad eam a Stratippocle, eum argentum sumpsisse apud Thébas ab danista faenore, id paratum et sese ob eam rem id ferre.”

Per.

Certo ego occidi.

Ep.

Haec sic aibat: sic audivisse ex eapse atque epistula.

Per.

Quid ego nunc faciam? consilium a te expetesso, Apoecides.

Ap.

⁷⁵ Reperiamus aliquid calidi conducibilis consili.

nam ille quidem aut iam hic aderit, credo hercle, aut iam adest.

Ep.

Si aequom siet

me plus sapere quam vos, dederim vobis consilium catum, quod laudetis, ut ego opino, uterque,

Per.

Ergo ubi id est, Epidice?

Ep.

Atque ad eam rem conducibile.

Ap.

Quid istuc dubitas dicere?

Ep.

⁸⁰ Vos priores esse oportet, nos posterius dicere,
qui plus sapitis.

Per.

Eia vero, age díc.

Ep.

At deridebitis.

Ap.

Non edepol faciemus.

Ep.

Immo, si placebit, utitor, consilium si non placebit, reperitote rectius.
mihi istic nec seritur nec metitur, nisi ea quae tu vis volo.

Per.

85 Gratiam habeo; fac participes nos tuae sapientiae.

Ep.

Continuo arbitretur uxor tuo gnato atque ut fidicinam illam quam is volt liberare, quae illum corrumpit tibi, ulciscare atque ita curetur, usque ad mortem ut serviat.

Ap.

Fieri oportet.

Per.

Facere cupio quidvis, dum id fiat modo.

Ep.

Em,

90 nunc occasiost faciundi, prius quam in urbem advenerit, sicut cras hic aderit, hodie non venit.

Per.

Qui scis?

Ep.

Scio.

quia mihi alius dixit qui illinc venit, mane hic adfore.

Per.

Quin tu eloquere, quid faciemus?

Ep.

Sic faciundum censeo

quasi tu cupias liberare fidicinam animi gratia

95 quasique ames vehementer tu illam.

P.

Quam ad rem istuc refert?

E.

Rogas?

ut enim praestines argento, prius quam veniat filius, atque ut eam te in libertatem dicas emere,

Per.

Intellego.

Ep.

Vbi erit empta, ut aliquo ex urbe amoveas; nisi quid est tua secus sententia.

Per.

Immo docte.

Ep.

Quid tua autem, Apoecides?

Ap.

¹⁰⁰ Quid ego iam nisi te commentum nimis astute intellego?

Ep.

Iam simul igitur amota ei erit omnis consultatio nuptiarum, ne gravetur quod velis.

Per.

Vive sapis,
et placet.

Ep.

Tum tu igitur calide quidquid acturu's age.

Per.

Rem hercle loquere.

Ep.

Et repperi, haec te qui abscedat suspicio.

Per.

105 Sine me scire.

Ep.

Scibis, audi.

Ap.

Sapit hic pleno pectore.

Ep.

Opus est homine qui illo argentum deferat pro fidicina;
nam te nolo neque opus factost.

Per.

Quid iam?

Ep.

Ne te censeat
fili causa facere,

Per.

Docte.

Ep.

Quo illum ab illa prohibeas:
ne qua ob eam suspicionem difficultas evenat.

Per.

110 Quém hominem inveniēmus ad eam rem utilem?

Ep.

Hic erit optimus,
hic poterit cavere recte, iura qui et leges tenet.

Per.

Epidico habeas gratiam.

Ep.

Sed ego istuc faciam sedulo:

ego illum conveniam atque adducam hunc ad eum quoiast fidicina, atque argentum ego cum hoc feram.

P.

Quanti émi potest minimo?

Ep.

Illane?

115 ad quadraginta fortasse eam posse emi minimo minis.
verum si plus dederis, referam, nihil in ea re captiost.
atque id non decem occupatum tibi erit argentum dies.

Per.

Quidum?

Ep.

Quia enim mulierem alius illam adulescens deperit, auro opulentus, magnus miles Rhodius, raptor hostium, 120 gloriosus: is emet illam de te et dabit aurum lubens.
face modo, est lucrum hic tibi amplum.

P.

Deos quidem oro.

E.

Impetras.

Ap.

Quin tu is intro atque huic argentum promis? ego visam ad forum.
Epidice, eo veni.

Ep.

Ne abitas prius quam ego ad te venero.

A.

Vsque opperiar. —

P.

Sequere tu intro. —

E.

I, numera, nil ego te moror.

nullum esse opinor ego agrum in agro Attico aeque feracem quám hic est noster Periphanes:

quin ex occluso atque obsignato armario decutio argenti tantum quantum mihi lubet.

5 quod pol ego metuo si senex resciverit, ne ulmos parasitos faciat, quae usque attondeant.

sed me una turbat res ratioque, Apoecidi quam ostendam fidicinam aliquam conducticiam.

atque id quoque habeo: mane me iussit senex

10 conducere aliquam fidicinam sibi huc domum, quae, dum rem dinam faceret, cantaret sibi;

ea conducetur atque ei praemonstrabitur quo pacto fiat subdola adversus senem.

ibo intro, argentum accipiam ab damnoso sene. —

ACT III.

Stratippocles

Expectando éxedor míser atque exénteror, quó modo mi Épidici blándá dicta évenant.
nímis diu máceror: sítne quid nécne sit,
scíre cupió.

Chaeribvlvs

Per illám tibi cópíam
5 copíam parare aliám licet: scivi équidem in principio ilico nullám tibi esse ín illo copíam.

Str.

Interii hércle ego.

Chaer.

Ábsurde facis qui ángas te animi; si hércle ego illum semel préndero, númquam inridére nos íllum inultúm sinam servom hominem.

Chaer.

Quíd illum facere vís, qui, tibi quoi dívítiae domi máxumae sunt,
10 is númmum nullum habés neque sodáli tuo in te cópiast.

Chaer.

Si hercle hábeam, polliceár lubens, verum áliquíd aliqua aliquó modo alicúnde ab álíqui aliqua tíbi spes est fore méliorem fortúnam.

Str.

Vaé tibi, muricide homo.

Chaer.

Qui tibi lubet mihi male loqui?

Str.

Quippe tú mi aliquíd aliquo modo alicunde ab aliquibus blatis 15 quod nusquamst neque ego id inmitto in aures meas nec míhi plus adiumentí †ades, quam ille quí numquam etiam nátust.

Epidicvs

Fecísti iam officium tuom, me meum nunc facere oportet.
per hanc cúram quieto tibi licet esse — hoc quidem iam periit:
ne quid tibi hinc in spem referas, oppido hoc pollinctum est;
crede modo mihi: sic ego ago, sic egerunt nostri.
5 pro di immortales, mihi hunc diem dedistis luculentum, ut facilem atque impetrabilem! sed ego hinc migrare cesso, ut importem in coloniam hunc meo auspicio commeatum?
mihi cesso, cum sto. sed quid hoc? ante aedis duo sodales, erum et Chaéribulum, conspícor. quid hic ágitis? accipe hoc sis.

Str.

10 Quantum hic inest?

Ep.

Quantum sat est, et plus satis: superfit.
decem minis plus attuli quam tu danistae debes.
dum tibi ego placeam atque obsequar, meum térgum flocci facio.

Str.

Nam quid ita?

Ep.

Quia ego tuom patrem faciam parenticidam.

Str.

Quid istúc est verbi?

Ep.

Nil moror vetera et volgata verba;
15 peratum ductarent: ego follitum ductitabo.
nam leno omne argentum abstulit pro fidicina (ego resolvi, manibus his denúmeravi) pater suam natam quam esse credit;
nunc iterum ut fallatur pater tibi que auxilium apparetur inveni: nam ita suasi seni atque hanc habui orationem ut cum rediisses ne tibi eius copia esset.

Str.

Euge.

...

{(&7Ep&.)} ea iam domist pro filia.

Str.

Iam teneo.

Ep.

Nunc cautorem

dedit mihi ad hanc rem Apoecidem, is ápod forum manet me, 25 quasique amaret caveat.

Str.

Haud male.

Ep.

Iam ípse cautor captust.

ípse in meo cóllo tuos pater cruminam collocavit;
is adornat, adveniens domi extemplo ut maritus fias.

Str.

Vno persuadebit modo, si illam, quae adducta est mecum, mi adempsit Orcus.

Ep.

Nunc ego hanc astutiam institui.

30 deveniam ad lenonem domum egomet solus, eum ego docebo, si quid ad eum adveniam, ut sibi essé datum argentum dicat pro fidicina, argenti minas se habere quinquaginta (quippe ego qui nudiustertius meis manibus denumeravi pro illa tua amica, quam pater suam filiam esse retur):
35 ibi leno sceleratum caput suom imprudens alligabit, quasi pro illa argentum acceperit, quae tecum adducta nunc est.

Chaer.

Vorsutior es quam rota figularis.

Ep.

Iam ego parabo aliquam dolosam fidicinam, nummo conducta quae sit, quae se emptam simulet, quae senes duo dócte ludificetur.

40 eam ducet simul Apoecides ad tuom patrem.

Str.

Vt parate.

Ep.

Eam pérmeditatam, meis dolis astutiisque onustam mittam. sed nimis longum loquor, diu me éstis demorati.

haec scitis iam ut futura sint. abeo. —

Str.

Bene ambulato.

Chaer.

Nimis dóctus ille est ad male faciendum.

Str.

Me equidem certo

45 servavit consiliis suis.

Chaer.

Abeamus intro hinc ad me.

Str.

Atque aliquantó lubentius quam abs te sum egressus intus;

virtute atque auspicio Epidici cum praeda in castra redeo. —

Periphanes

iam dudum se alius tuom vidisse hic filium:
hanc edepol rem apparabat.

Per.

Planum hercle hoc quidem est.

Ap.

Ne tú habes servom graphicum et quantivis preti,

Per.

Nihil homini amicost opportuno amicus:
45 sine tuo labore quod velis actumst tamen.
ego si allegavissem aliquem ad hoc negotium minus hominem doctum minusque ad hanc rem callidum, os sublitum esset, itaque me albis dentibus meus dérideret filius meritissimo.
50 sed quis hic est quém ego huc advenientem conspikor, suam qui undantem chlamydem quassando facit?

Miles

Cave praéterbitas ullas aedis, quin roges, senex híc ubi habitat Periphanes Platenius.
incertus tuom cave ad me rettuleris pedem.

Per.

Adulescens, si istunc hominem, quem tu quaeritas,
5 tibi commonstrasso, ecquam abs te inibo gratiam?

Mil.

Virtute belli armatus promerui, ut mihi omnis mortalis agere deceat gratias.

Per.

Non repperisti, adulescens, tranquillum locum,
ubi tuas virtutes explices, ut postulas.
10 nam strenuiori deterior si praedicat suas pugnās, de illius illae fiunt sordidae.
sed istum quem quaeris Periphanem Platenium, ego sum, si quid vis.

Mil.

Nempe quem in adulescentia memorant apud régēs armis, arte duellica 15 divitias magnas indeptum?

40 ex meo servo, illam esse captam, continuo argentum dedi, ut emeretur. ille eam rem ádeo sobrie et frugaliter accuravit, utut ad alias res est impense improbus.

Phil.

Fac videam, si mea, si salva mihi sit.

Pe.

Eho, istinc, Canthara, iube Telestidem huc prodire filiam ante aedis meam, 45 ut suam videat matrem.

Phil.

Remigrat animus nunc demum mihi.

Acropolistis

Quid est, pater, quod me excivisti ante aedis?

Per.

Vt matrem tuam habet haec, ...

Ph.

10 ... aliter catuli longe olent, aliter suis.

ne ego eam novisse ...

Per.

Pro deum atque hominum fidem, quid? ego lenocinium facio, quí habeam alienos domi atque argentum egurgitem domo prosus? quid tu, quae patrem tuom vocas me atque osculare, quid stas stupida? quid taces?

Acr.

15 Quid loquar vis?

Per.

Haec negat se tuam esse matrem.

Acr.

Ne fuat,
si non volt: equidem hac invita támen ero matris filia;
non med istanc cogere aequom est meam esse matrem, si nevolt.

Per.

Cur me igitur patrem vocabas?

Acr.

Tua istaec culpast, non mea. non patrem ego te nominem, ubi tu tuam me appellas filiam?
20 hanc quoque etiam, si me appellet filiam, matrem vocem.
negat haec filiám me suam ésse: non ergo haec mater mea est.
postremo haec mea culpa non est: quae didici dixi omnia;
Epidicus mihi fuit magister.

Per.

Perii, plastrum perculi.

Acr.

Numquid ego ibi, pater, peccavi?

Per.

Si hercle te umquam audivero

Acr.

Non voco.

ubi voles pater esse, ibi esto; ubi noles, ne fueris pater.

Phil.

Quid, si ob eam rem hanc emisti, quia tuam gnatam es ratus, quibus de signis agnoscebas?

Per.

Nullis.

Phil.

Per.

Servos Epidicus dixit mihi.

Phil.

30 Quid si servo aliter visumst, non poteras novisse, obsecro? †

Per.

Quid ego, qui illam ut primum vidi, numquam vidi postea?

Phil.

Perii misera.

Per.

Ne fle, mulier. intro abi, habe animum bonum;

Ep.

Dicam tibi:
neque malo homini neque maligno tuo dedi Stratippocli.

Per.

45 Quor dare ausu's?

Ep.

Quia mi libitum est.

Per.

Quae haec, malum, impudentiast?

Ep.

Etiam inclamitor quasi servos?

Per.

Cum tu es liber, gaudeo.

Ep.

Merui ut fierem.

Per.

Tu meruisti?

Ep.

Vise intro: ego faxo scies
hoc ita esse.

Per.

Quid est negoti?

Ep.

Iam ipsa res dicet tibi.
abi modo intro.

Ap.

Ei, non illuc temerest.

Per.

Adserva istum, Apoecides. —

Ap.

50 Quid illuc, Epidice, est negoti?

Ep.

Maxima hercle iniuria

Ap.

Ain tu te illius invenisse filiam?

Ep.

Inveni, et domi est.
sed ut acerbum est, pro bene factis cum mali messim metas.

Ap.

Quamne hodie per urbem uterque sumus defessi quaerere?

Ep.

55 Ego sum defessus reperire, vos defessi quaerere.

Per.

Quid isti oratis opere tanto? mi orandum esse intellego, ut liceat merito huius facere. cedo tu ut exsolvam manus.

Ep.

Ep.

At postea?

novo liberto opus est quod pappet.

Per.

Dabitur, praebebo cibum.

Ep.

Numquam hercle hodie, nisi me orassis, solves.

Per.

Oro te, Epidice, mihi ut ignoscas, siquid imprudens culpa peccavi mea.

ACT IV.

ACT V.

PROLOGVS

Salutem primum iam a principio propitiam mihi atque vobis, spectatores, nuntio.
apporto vobis Plautum, lingua non manu, quaeso ut benignis accipiatis auribus.
5 nunc argumentum accipite atque animum advortite;
quam potero in verba conferam paucissima.
atque hoc poetae faciunt in comoediis:
omnis res gestas esse Athenis autumant, quo illud vobis graecum videatur magis;
10 ego nusquam dicam nisi ubi factum dicitur.
atque adeo hoc argumentum graecissat, tamen non atticissat, verum sicilicissitat.
huic argumento antelogium hoc fuit;
nunc argumentum vobis demensum dabo, 15 non modio, neque trimodio, verum ipso horreo:
tantum ad narrandum argumentum ádest benignitas.
mercator quidam fuit Syracusis senex, eí sunt nati filii gemini duo,
ita forma simili pueri, út mater sua 20 non internosse posset quae mammam dabat, neque adeo mater ipsa quae illos pepererat, ut quidem ille dixit mihi, qui pueros viderat:
ego illós non vidi, ne quis vostrum censeat.
postquam iam pueri septuennés sunt, pater 25 oneravit navem magnam multis mercibus;
imponit geminum álterum in navem pater,
Tarentum avexit secum ad mercatum simul, illum reliquit alterum ápod matrem domi.
Tarenti ludi forte erant, cum illuc venit.
30 mortales multi, ut ad ludos, convenerant:
puér aberravit inter homines a patre.
Epidamniensis quidam ibi mercator fuit, is puerum tollit avehitque Epidamnium.
pater eius autem postquam puerum perdidit,

35 animum despondit, eaque is aegritudine paucis diebus post Tarenti emortuost.
postquam Syracusas de ea re rediit nuntius ad avom puerorum, puerum surruptum alterum patremque pueri Tarenti esse emortuom, 40 immutat nomen avos huic gemino alteri;
ita illum dilexit, qui subruptust, alterum:
illius nomen indit illi qui domi est,
Menaechmo, idem quod alteri nomen fuit;
et ipsus eodem est avos vocatus nomine 45 (propterea illius nomen memini facilius, quia illúm clamore vidi flagitarier).
ne mox erretis, iam nunc praedico prius:
idem est ambobus nomen geminis fratribus.
nunc in Epidamnum pedibus redeundum est mihi, 50 ut hanc rem vobis examussim disputem.
si quis quid vestrum Epidamnum curari sibi velit, audacter imperato et dicito, sed ita ut det unde curari id possit sibi.
nam nisi qui argentum dederit, nugas egerit;
55 qui dederit, magis maiores nugas egerit.
verum illuc redeo unde abii, atque uno asto in loco.
Epidamniensis ille, quem dúdum dixeram, geminum illum puerum qui surrupuit alterum,
ei liberorum, nisi divitiae, nil erat:
60 adoptat illum puerum surrupticium sibi filium eique uxorem dotatam dedit, eumque heredem fecit, quom ipse obiit diem.
nam rus ut ibat forte, ut multum pluerat, ingressus fluvium rapidum ab urbe haud longule, 65 rapidus raptori pueri subduxit pedes abstraxitque hominem in maximam malam crucem.
illi divitiae evenerunt maximae.
is illic habitat geminus surrupticius.
nunc ille geminus, qui Syracusis habet, 70 hodie in Epidamnum veniet cum servo suo hunc quaeritatum geminum germanum suom.

haec urbs Epidamnus est, dum haec agitur fabula:
quando alia agetur, aliud fiet oppidum;
sicut familiae quoque solent mutarier:
75 modo †ni caditat leno, modo adulescens, modo senex, pauper, mendicus, rex, parasitus, hariolus

ACT I.

Penicvlvs

Iuventus nomen fecit Peniculo mihi, ideo quia mensam, quando edo, detergeo.
homines captivos qui catenis vinciunt et qui fugitivis servis indunt compedes, 5 nimis stúlte faciunt mea quidem sententia.
nam homini misero si ad malum accedit malum, maior lubido est fugere et facere nequiter.
nam se ex catenis eximunt aliquo modo.
tum compediti ánum lima praeterunt 10 aut lapide excutiunt clavom. nugae sunt eae.
quem tu adservare recte, ne aufugiat, voles, esca atque potione vinciri decet.
apud ménsam plenam homini rostrum deliges;
dum tu illi quod edit et quod potet praebeas, 15 suo arbitrato ádfatim cottidie, numquam edepol fugiet, tam etsi capital fecerit, facile adservabis, dúm eo vinclo vincies.
ita istaéc nimis lenta vincla sunt escaria:
quam magis extendas, tanto adstringunt artius.
20 nam ego ad Menaechmum hunc eo, quo iam diu sum iudicatus; ultro eo ut me vinciat.
nam illic homo homines non alit, verum educat, recreatque: nullus melius medicinam facit.
ita est adulescens; ipsus escae maxumae 25 cerialis cenas dat, ita mensas exstruit, tantas struices concinnat patinarias:
standumst in lecto, si quid de summo petas.
sed mi intervallum iam hos dies multos fuit:
domi domítus sum usque cum caris meis.
30 nam neque edo neque emo nisi quod est carissimum.
id quoque iam, cari qui instruuntur deserunt.
nunc ad eum invisio. sed aperitur ostium.
Menaechmum eccum ipsum video, progreditur foras.

Menaechmvs

Ní mala, ni stúlta sies, ni índomita impósque animi, quód viro esse odió videas, túte tibi odio habeas.
praéterhac sí mihi tále post hunc diem fáxis, faxó foris vídua visás patrem.
5 nám quotiens foras íre volo, mé retines, revocás, rogitas, quó ego eam, quám rem agam, quíd negotí geram, quíd petam, quid feram, quíd foris egerim.
portitorem domum duxi, ita omnem mihi rem necesse eloqui est, quidquid egi atque ago.
10 nímium ego te habui délicatam; núnc adeo ut factúrus dicam.
quando égo tibi ancillás, penum, lanam, aurum, vestem, purpuram bene praebeo nec quicquam eges, malo cavebis si sapis, 15 virum observare desines.
átque adeo, ne me nequiquam serves, ob eam industriam hodie ducam scortum ad cenam atque aliquo condicam foras.

Pen.

Illic homo se uxori simulat male loqui, loquitur mihi;
nam si foris cenat, profecto me, haud uxorem, ulciscitur.

Men.

20 Euax, iurgio hercle tandem uxorem abegi ab ianua.
ubi súnť amatores maríti? dona quid cessant mihi conférre omnes congratulantes, quia pugnavi fortiter?
hánc modo uxori intus pallam surrupui, ad scortum fero.
sic hóc decet, dari facete verba custodi catae.
25 hoc fácinus pulchrumst, hoc probumst, hoc lepidumst, hoc factumst fabre:
meó malo a mala abstuli hoc, ad damnum deferetur.
avórti praedam ab hostibus nostrum salute socium.

Pen.

Heús adulescens, ecqua in istac pars inest praeda mihi?

⁴⁰ Dic hominem lepidissimum esse me.

Pen.

Vbi essuri sumus?

Men.

Dic modo hoc quod ego te iubeo.

Pen.

Dico: homo lepidissime.

Men.

Ecquid audes de tuo istuc addere?

Pen.

Atque hilarissime.

Men.

Perge porro.

Pen.

Non pergo hercle, nisi scio qua gratia.

litigium tibi est cum uxore, eo mi ábs te caveo cautius.

Men.

45 Clam uxoremst ubi pulchre habeamus atque hunc comburamus diem.

Pen.

Age sane igitur, quando aequom oras, quam mox incendo rogam?
dies quidem iam ad umbilicum est dimidiatus mortuos.

Men.

Te morare, mihi quom obloquere.

Pen.

Oculum ecfodito per solum
mihi, Menaechme, si ullum verbum faxo nisi quod iusseris.

Men.

50 Concede huc a foribus.

Pen.

Fiat.

Men.

Etiam concede huc.

Pen.

Licet.

Men.

Etiam nunc concede audacter ab leonino cavo.

Pen.

Eu edepol ne tu, ut ego opinor, esses agitator probus.

Men.

Quidum?

Pen.

Ne te uxor sequatur, respectas identidem.

Men.

Sed quid ais?

Pen.

Egone? id enim quod tu vis, id aio atque id nego.

Men.

55 Ecquid tu de odore possis, si quid forte olfeceris, facere coniecturam

*?

*

(Pen.)

*captum sit collegium.

Men.

Agedum odorare hanc quam ego habeo pallam. quid olet? apstines?

Pen.

Summum olfactare oportet vestimentum muliebre,
60 nam ex istoc loco spurcatur nasum odore † inlucido.

Men.

Olfacta igitur hinc, Penicule. lepide ut fastidis.

Pen.

Decet.

Men.

Quid igitur? quid olet? responde.

Pen.

Furtum, scortum, prandium.

tibi fuant

elocutus, nam

65 nunc ad amicam deferetur hanc meretricem Erotium.
mihi, tibi atque illi iubebo iam adparari prandium.

Pen.

Eu.

Men.

Inde usque ad diurnam stellam crastinam potabimus.

Pen.

Eu,

expedite fabulatu's. iam fores ferio?

Men.

Feri.

vel mane etiam.

Pen.

Mille passum commoratu's cantharum.

Men.

70 Placide pulta.

Pen.

Metuis, credo, ne fores Samiae sient.

Men.

Mane, mane obsecro hercle: eapse eccam exit. oh, solem vides satin ut occaecatust prae huius corporis candoribus?

Erotivm

Anime mi, Menaechme, salve.

Pen.

Quid ego?

Er.

Extra numerum es mihi.

Pen.

Idem istuc aliis adscriptivis fieri ad legionem solet.

Men.

Ego istic mihi hodie adparari iussi apud te proelium.

Er.

Hodie id fiet.

Men.

In eo uterque proelio potabimus;

5 uter ibi melior bellator erit inventus cantharo,

† tuest legio adiudicato, cum utro hanc noctem sies.

ut ego uxorem, mea voluptas, ubi te aspicio, odi male.

Er.

Interim nequis quin eius aliquid indutus sies.

quid hoc est?

Men.

Induviae tuae atque uxoris exuviae, rosa.

Er.

10 Superas facile, ut superior sis mihi quam quisquam qui impetrant.

Pen.

Meretrix tantisper blanditur, dum illud quod rapiat videt;

nam si amabas, iam oportebat nasum abreptum mordicus.

Men.

Sustine hoc, Penicule: exuvias facere quas vovi volo.

Pen.

Cedo; sed obsecro hercle, salta sic cum palla postea.

Men.

15 Ego saltabo? sanus hercle non es.

Pen.

Egone an tu magis?

si non saltas, exue igitur.

Men.

Nimio ego hanc periculo
surrupui hodie. meo quidem animo ab Hippolyta subcingulum Hercules haud aeque magno umquam abstulit periculo.
cape tibi hanc, quando una vivis meis morigera moribus.

Er.

20 Hoc animo decet animatos esse amatores probos.

Pen.

Qui quidem ad mendicitatem se properent detrudere.

Men.

Quattuor minis ego emi istanc anno uxori meae.

Pen.

Quattuor minae perierunt plane, ut ratio redditur.

Men.

Scin quid volo ego te accurare?

Er.

Scio, curabo quae voles.

Men.

25 Iube igitur tribus nobis apud te prandium accurarier atque aliquid scitamentorum de foro opsonarier, glandionidam suillam, laridum pernonidam, aut sincipitamenta porcina aut aliquid ad eum modum, madida quae mi adposita in mensa miluinam suggerant;
30 atque actutum.

Er.

Licet ecastor.

Men.

Nos prodimus ad forum.
iam hic nos erimus: dum coquetur, interim potabimus.

Er.

Quando vis veni, parata res erit.

Men.

Propera modo.

sequere tu. —

Pen.

Ego hercle vero te et servabo et te sequar, neque hodie ut te perdam, meream deorum divitias mihi. —

Er.

35 Evocate intus Culindrum mihi coquom actutum foras.
sportulam cape atque argentum. eccos tris nummos habes.

Cylindrvs

Habeo.

Er.

Abi atque obsonium adfer; tribus vide quod sit satis:
neque defiat neque supersit.

Cyl.

Cuius modi hí homines erunt?

Er.

Ego et Menaechmus et parasitus eius.

Cyl.

Iam isti sunt decem;

5 nam parasitus octo hominum munus facile fungitur.

Er.

Elocuta sum convivas, ceterum cura.

Cyl.

Licet.

cocta sunt, iube ire accubitum.

Er.

Redi cito.

Cyl.

Iam ego hic ero. —

ACT II.

Menaechmvs

Voluptas nullast navitis, Messenio, maior meo animo, quam quom ex alto procul terram conspiciunt.

Messenio

Maior, non dicam dolo, quam si adueniens terram videas quae fuerit tua.
5 sed quaeso, quam ob rem nunc Epidamnum venimus?
an quasi mare omnis circumimus insulas?

Men.

Fratrem quaesitum geminum germanum meum.

Mess.

Nam quid modi futurum est illum quaerere?
hic annus sextust postquam ei rei operam damus.
10 Histros, Hispanos, Massiliensis, Hilurios, mare superum omne Graeciamque exoticam orasque Italicas omnis, qua adgreditur mare, sumus circumvecti. si acum, credo, quaereres, acum invenisses, si appareret, iam diu.
15 hominem inter vivos quaeritamus mortuom;
nam invenissemus iam diu, si viveret.

Men.

Ergo istuc quaero certum qui faciat mihi, qui sese dicat scire eum esse emortuom:
operam praeterea numquam sumam quaerere.
20 verum aliter vivos numquam desistam exsequi.
ego illum scio quam cordi sit carus meo.

Mess.

In scirpo nodum quaeris. quin nos hinc domum redimus, nisi si historiam scripturi sumus?

Men.

Dictum facessas, datum edis, caveas malo.

25 molestus ne sis, non tuo hoc fiet modo.

Mess.

Em

illoc enim vérbo esse me servom scio.

non potuit paucis plura plane proloqui.

verum tamen néqueo contineri quin loquar.

audin, Menaechme? quom inspicio marsuppium,

30 viaticati hercle admodum aestive sumus.

ne tu hercle, opinor, nisi domum revorteris, ubi nihil habebis, geminum dum quaeres, gemes.

nam ita est haec hominum natio: in Epidamnieis voluptárii atque potatores maxumi;

35 tum sycophantae et palpatores plurumi in urbe hac habitant; tum meretrices mulieres nusquam perhibentur blandiores gentium.

propterea huic urbi nomen Epidamno inditumst, quia nemo ferme huc sine damno devortitur.

Men.

40 Ego istúc cavebo. cedo dum huc mihi marsuppium.

Mess.

Quid eo vis?

Men.

Iam aps te metuo de verbis tuis.

Mess.

Quid metuis?

Men.

Ne mihi damnum in Epidamno duis.

tu magnus amator mulierum es, Messenio, ego autem homo iracundus, animi perdit;

45 id utrumque, argentum quando habebo, caverò, ne tu delinquas neve ego irascar tibi.

Mess.

Cape atque serva. me lubente feceris.

Cylindrvs

Bene opsonavi atque ex mea sententia, bonum anteponam prandium pransoribus.
sed ecclúm Menaechmum video. vae tergo meo, prius iám convivae ambulant ante ostium,
5 quam ego opsonatu redeo. adibo atque alloquar.
Menaechme, salve.

Men.

Di te amabunt quisquis es.

Cyl.

Quisquis ... quis ego sim?

Men.

Non hercle vero.

Cyl.

Vbi convivae ceteri?

Men.

Quos tu convivas quaeris?

Cyl.

Parasitum tuom.

Men.

10 Meum parasitum? certe hic insanust homo.

Mess.

Dixin tibi esse hic sycophantas plurumos?

...

Men.

Quem tu parasitum quaeris, adulescens, meum?

Mess.

Peniculum éccum in vidulo salvom fero.

Cyl.

15 Menaechme, numero huc advenis ad prandium.
nunc opsonatu redeo.

Men.

Responde mihi,
adulescens: quibus hic pretiis porci veneunt sacres sinceri?

Cyl.

Nummis.

Men.

Nummum a me accipe:
iube té piari de mea pecunia.
20 nam équidem insanum esse te certo scio, qui mihi molestus homini ignoto, quisquis es.

Cyl.

Cylindrus ego sum: non nosti nomen meum?

Men.

Si tu Cylindrus seu Coriendrus, perieris.
ego te non novi, neque novisse adeo volo.

Cyl.

25 Est tibi Menaechmo nomen, tantum quod sciam.

Men.

Pro sano loqueris quom me appellas nomine.

sed ubi novisti me?

Cyl.

Vbi ego te noverim,
qui amicam habes eram meam hanc Erotium?

Men.

Neque hercle ego habeo, neque te quis homo sis scio.

Cyl.

30 Non scis quis ego sim, qui tibi saepissime cyathisso apud nos, quando potas?

Mess.

Ei mihi,
quom nihil est qui illi homini diminuam caput.

Men.

Tun cyathissare mihi soles, qui ante hunc diem Epidamnum numquam vidi neque veni?

Cyl.

Negas?

Men.

35 Nego hercle vero.

Cyl.

Non tu in illisce aedibus † habitas?

Men.

Di illos homines, qui illic habitant, perduint.

Cyl.

Insanit hic quidem, qui ipse male dicit sibi.
audin, Menaechme?

Men.

Quid vis?

Cyl.

Si me consulas,
nummum illum quem mihi dudum pollicitu's dare — 40 nam tu quidem hercle certo non sanu's satis, Menaechme, qui nunc ipse male dicas tibi — iubeas, si sapias, porculum adferri tibi.

Mes.

Eu hercle hominem multum, et odiosum mihi.

Cyl.

Solet iocari saepe mecum illoc modo.
45 quam vis ridiculus est, ubi uxor non adest.
quid ais tu?

Men.

Quid vis, inquam.

Cyl.

Satin hoc quod vides tribus vóbis opsonatumst, an opsono amplius, tibi et parasito et mulieri?

Men.

Quas tu mulieres,
quos tu parasitos loquere?

Mess.

Quod te urget scelus,
50 qui huic sis molestus?

Cyl.

Quid tibi mecum est rei?
ego te non novi: cum hoc quem novi fabulor.

Mess.

Non edepol tú homo sanus es, certo scio.

Cyl.

Iam ergo haec madebunt faxo, nil morabitur.

proin tu ne quo abeas longius ab aedibus.

55 numquid vis?

Men.

Vt eas maximam malam crucem.

Cyl.

Ire hercle meliust te interim atque accumbere,

dum ego haec appono ad Volcani violentiam.

ibo intro et dicam te hic adstare Erotio, ut te hinc abducat potius quam hic adstes foris. —

Men.

60 Iamne abiit illic? edepol haud mendacia tua verba experior esse.

Mess.

Observato modo:

nam istic meretricem credo habitare mulierem, ut quidem ille insanus dixit, qui hinc abiit modo.

Men.

Sed miror qui ille noverit nomen meum.

Mess.

65 Minime hercle mirum. morem hunc meretrices habent:

ad portum mittunt servolos, ancillulas;

si quae peregrina navis in portum advenit, rogitant cuiatis sit, quid ei nomen siet, postilla extemplo se applicant, agglutinant:

70 si pellexerunt, perditum amittunt domum.

nunc ín istoc portu stát navis praedatoria, aps qua cavendum nobis sane censeo.

Men.

Mones quidem hercle recte.

Mess.

Tum demum sciam recte monuisse, si tu recte caveris.

Men.

75 Tace dúm parumper, nam concrepuit ostium:
videamus qui hinc egreditur.

Mess.

Hoc ponam interim.
asservatote haec sultis, navales pedes.

Erotivm

Sine fóres sic, abi, nolo óperiri.
intús para, curá, vide, quod opúst fiat:
sterníte lectos, incéndite odores; múnditia inlécebra animost amántium.

5 amánti amoenitás malost, nobís lucrost.
sed ubi ille est, quem coquos ánte aedis esse áit? atque eccum video, qui mi ést usui et plurímum prodest.
item hinc últro fit, ut méret, potissimus nostraé domi ut sit;
nunc éum adibo, adloquar ultro.

10 animúle mi, mihi mirá videntur, te hic stáre foris, fores quóí pateant, magis quám domus tua domus quom haéc tua sit.

omné paratumst, ut iússisti atque út voluisti, néque tibi

15 ullá morast intus.

prandium, út iussisti, hic cúratumst:
ubi lúbet, ire licet áccubitum.

M.

Quícum haec mulier loquitur?

E.

Equidem tecum.

M.

Quid mecum tibi
fuit umquam aut nunc est negoti?

Er.

Quia pol te unum ex omnibus
20 Venus me voluit magnificare, neque id haud immerito tuo.
nam ecastor solus benefactis tuis me florentem facis.

Men.

Certo haec mulier aut insana aut ebria est, Messenio, quaé hominem ignotum compellet me tam familiariter.

Mess.

Dixin égo istaec hic solere fieri? folia nunc cadunt, 25 praeut si triduom hoc hic erimus: tum arbores in te cadent.
nam ita sunt hic meretrices: omnes elecebrae argentariae.
sed sine me dum hanc compellare. heus mulier, tibi dico.

Er.

Quid est?

Mess.

Vbi tu hunc hominem novisti?

Er.

Ibidem ubi hic me iam diu,
in Epidamno.

Mess.

In Epidamno? qui huc in hanc urbem pedem,
30 nisi hodie, numquam intro tetulit?

Er.

Heia, delicias facis.
mi Menaechme, quin, amabo, is intro? hic tibi erit rectius.

Men.

Haec quidem edepol recte appellat meo me mulier nomine.
nimis miror, quid hoc sít negoti.

Mess.

Oboluit marsuppium
huic istuc quod habes.

Men.

Atque edepol tu me monuisti probe.
35 accipe dum hoc. iam scibo, utrum haec me mage amet an marsuppium.

Er.

Eamus intro, ut prandeamus.

Men.

Bene vocas: tam gratiast.

Er.

Cur igitur me tibi iussisti coquere dudum prandium?

Men.

Egon te iussi coquere?

Er.

Certo, tibi et parasito tuo.

Men.

Cui, malum, parasito? certo haec mulier non sanast satis.

Er.

40 Peniculo.

Men.

Quis iste ést Peniculus? qui extergentur baxae?

Er.

Scilicet qui dudum tecum venit, quom pallam mihi detulisti, quám ab uxore tua surrupuisti.

Men.

Quid est?

tibi pallam dedi, quam uxori meae surrupui? sanan es?
certe haec mulier cantherino ritu ástans somniat.

Er.

45 Qui lubet ludibrio habere me atque ire infitias mihi facta quae sunt?

Men.

Dic quid est id quod negem quod fecerim?

Er.

Pallam te hodie mihi dedisse uxoris.

Men.

Etiam nunc nego.

ego quidem neque umquam uxorem hábui neque habeo, neque huc umquam, postquam natus sum, intra portam penetravi pedem.

50 prandi in navi, inde huc sum egressus, te conveni.

Er.

Eccere,

perii misera, quam tu mihi nunc navem narras?

Men.

Ligneam,

saepe tritam, saepe fixam, saepe excussam malleo;
quasi supellex pellionis, palus palo proxumust.

Er.

Iám, amabo, desiste ludos facere atque i hac mecum semul.

Men.

55 Nescio quem, mulier, alium hóminem, non me quaeritas.

Er.

Non ego te novi Menaechmum, Moscho prognatum patre, qui Syracusis perhibere natus esse in Sicilia, ubi rex Agathocles regnator fuit et iterum Phintia, tertium Liparo, qui in morte regnum Hieroni tradidit, 60 nunc Hiero est?

Men.

Haud falsa, mulier, praedicas.

Mess.

Pro Iuppiter,
num istaec mulier illinc venit, quae te novit tam cate?

Men.

Hercle opinor, pernegari non potest.

Mess.

Ne feceris.
periisti, si intrassis intra limen.

Men.

Quin tu tace modo.
bene res geritur. adsentabor quidquid dicet mulieri, 65 si possum hospitium nancisci. iam dudum, mulier, tibi non imprudens advorsabar: hunc metuebam, ne meae uxori renuntiaret de palla et de prandio.
nunc, quando vis, eamus intro.

Er.

Etiam parasitum manes?

Men.

Neque ego illum maneo, neque flocci facio, neque, si venerit,
70 eum volo intromitti.

Er.

Ecastor haud invita fecero.

sed scin quid te amabo ut facias?

Men.

Impera quid vis modo.

Er.

Pallam illam, quam dudum dederas, ad phrygionem ut deferas, ut reconcinnetur atque ut opera addantur quae volo.

Men.

Hercle qui tu recte dicis: eádem ignorabitur,
75 ne uxor cognoscat te habere, si in via conspexerit.

Er.

Ergo mox auferto tecum, quando abibis.

Men.

Maxime.

Er.

Eamus intro

Men.

Iam sequar te. hunc volo etiam conloqui.
eho Messenio, accede huc.

Mess.

Quid negoti est?

Men.

†susciri.

M.

Quid eo opust?

M.

Opus est. scio ut me dices.

M.

Tanto nequior.

Men.

80 Habeo praedam: tantum incepti óperis. ei quantum potes, abduc istos in tabernam actutum devorsoriam.
tum facito ante solem occasum ut venias advorsum mihi.

Mess.

Non tu istas meretrices novisti, ere.

Men.

Tace, inquam ...

mihi dolebit, non tibi, si quid ego stulte fecero.

85 mulier haec stulta atque inscita est; quantum perspexi modo, est hic praeda nobis. —

Mess.

Perii, iamne abis? periit probe:

ducit lembum diirectum navis praedatoria.

sed ego inscitus qui domino me postulem moderarier:

dicto me emit audientem, haud imperatorem sibi.

90 sequimini, ut, quod imperatum est, veniam advorsum temperi. —

ACT III.

Penicvlvs

Plus triginta ánnis natus sum, quom ínterea loci, numquam quicquam facinus feci peius neque scelestius, quám hodie, quom in contionem mediam me immersi miser.
ubi ego dúm hieto, Menaechmus se subterduxit mihi 5 atque abiit ad amicam, credo, neque me voluit ducere.
qui illum di omnes perduint, qui primus commentust ...
contionem habere, qui homines occupatos occupat.
non ad eam rem ótiosos homines decuit deligi, qui nisi adsint quom citentur, census capiat ilico?

10 ...

adfatim est hominum, in dies qui singulas escas edint, quibus negoti nihil est, qui essum neque vocantur neque vocant:
eos oportet contioni dare operam atque comitiis.
15 sí id ita esset, non ego hodie perdidissem prandium, quoi tam credo † datum voluisse quam me video vivere.
ibo: etiamnum reliquiarum spes animum oblectat meum.
sed quid ego video? Menaechmus cum corona exit foras.
sublatum est convivium, edepol venio adversum temperi.
20 observabo, quid agat, hominem. post adibo atque adloquar.

Menaechmvs

Potine ut quiescas? ego tibi hanc hodie probe lepideque concinnatam referam temperi.
non faxo eam esse dices: íta ignorabitur.

Pen.

Pallam ad phrygionem fert confecto prandio
5 vinoque expoto, parasito excluso foras.
non hercle is sum qui sum, ni hánc iniuriam meque ultus pulchre fuero. observa quid dabo.

Men.

Pro di immortales, quóí homini umquam uno die boni dedistis plus, qui minus speraverit?

10 prandi, potavi, scortum accubui, apstuli hanc, quói heres numquam erit post hunc diem.

Pen.

Nequeo quae loquitur exaudire clanculum;
satur nunc loquitur de me et de parti mea.

Men.

Ait hanc dedisse me sibi, atque eam meae 15 uxori surrupuisse. quoniam sentio errare, extemplo, quasi res cúm ea esset mihi, coepi adsentari: mulier quidquid dixerat, idem ego dicebam. quid multis verbis opust?
minore nusquam bene fui dispendio.

Pen.

20 Adibo ad hominem, nam turbare gestio.

Men.

Quis hic ést, qui adversus it mihi?

Pen.

Quid ais, homo levior quam pluma, pessime et nequissime, flagitium hominis, subdole ac minimi preti?
quid de te merui, qua me causa perderes?
25 ut surrupuisti te mihi dudum de foro!
fecisti funus med absente prandio.
cur ausu's facere, quói ego aequae heres eram?

Men.

Adulescens, quaeso, quid tibi mecum est rei,
qui mihi male dicas homini ignoto insciens?
30 an tibi malam rem vis pro male dictis dari?

Pen.

†Pol eam quidem edepol te dedisse intellego.

Men.

Responde, adulescens, quaeso, quid nomen tibist?

Pen.

Etiam derides, quasi nomen non noveris?

Men.

Non edepol ego te, quod sciam, umquam ante hunc diem 35 vidi neque novi; verum certo, quisquis es, si aequom facias, mihi odiosus ne sies.

Pen.

Menaechme, vigila.

Men.

Vigilo hercle equidem, quod sciam.

Pen.

Non me novisti?

Men.

Non negem, si noverim.

Pen.

Tuom parasitum non novisti?

Men.

Non tibi

40 sanum est, adulescens, sinciput, intellego.

Pen.

Responde, surrupuistin uxori tuae pallam istanc hodie átque dédisti Erotio?

Men.

Neque hercle ego uxorem habeo neque ego Erotio dedi nec pallam surrupui.

Pen.

Satin sanus es?

45 occisast haec res. non ego te indutum foras
exire vidi pallam?

Men.

Vae capiti tuo.

omnis cinaedos esse censes, tu quia es?
tun med indutum fuisse pallam praedicas?

Pen.

Ego hercle vero.

Men.

Non tu abis quo dignus es?

50 aut te piari iube, homo insanissime.

Pen.

Numquam edepol quisquam me exorabit, quin tuae uxori rem omnem iám, uti sit gesta, eloquar;
omnes in te istaec recident contumeliae:
faxo haud inultus prandium comederis. —

Men.

55 Quid hoc ést negoti? satine, ut quemque conspikor, ita me ludificant? sed concrepuit ostium.

Ancilla

Menaechme, amare ait te multum Erotium, ut hoc una opera sibi ad aurificem deferas, atque huc ut addas auri pondo únciam iubeasque spinter novom reconcinnarier.

Men.

5 Et istúc et aliud, si quid curari volet, me curaturum dicito, quidquid volet.

Anc.

Scin quid hoc sit spinter?

Men.

Nescio, nisi aureum.

Anc.

Hoc est quod olim clanculum ex armario te surrupuisse aiebas uxori tuae.

Men.

¹⁰ Numquam hercle factum est.

Anc.

Non meministi, obsecro?
redde igitur spinter, si non meministi.

Men.

Mane.

immo equidem memini. nempe hoc est, quod illí dedi.

Anc.

Istuc.

Men.

Vbi illae armillaé sunt, quas una dedi?

Anc.

Numquam dedisti.

Men.

Nam pol hoc unum dedi.

Anc.

¹⁵ Dicam curare?

Men.

Dicito: curabitur.
et palla et spinter faxo referantur simul.

Anc.

Amabo, mi Menaechme, inauris da mihi faciendas pondo duom nummum, stalagmia, ut te libenter videam, quom ad nos veneris.

Men.

20 Fiat. cedo aurum, ego manupretium dabo.

Anc.

Da sodes abs te: ego post reddidero tibi.

Men.

Immo cedo abs te: ego post tibi reddam duplex.

Anc.

Non habeo.

Men.

At tu, quando habebis, tum dato.

Anc.

Numquid me vis? —

Men.

Haec me curaturum dicito —

25 ut quantum possint quique liceant veneant.

iamne abiit intro? abiit, operuit fores.

di me quidem omnes adiuvant, augent, amant.

sed quid ego cesso, dum datur mi occasio tempusque, abire ab his locis lenoniis?

30 propera, Menaechme, fer pedem, confer gradum.

demam hanc coronam atque abiciam ad laevam manum, ut, siquis sequatur, hac me abiisse censeant.

ibo et conveniam servom, si potero, meum, ut haec, quae bona dant di mihi, ex me sciat. —

ACT IV.

Matrona

Egone hic me patiar frustra in matrimonio, ubi vir compilet clanculum quidquid domist atque ea ad amicam deferat?

Pen.

Quin tu taces?

manifesto faxo iam opprimes: sequere hac modo.

5 pallam ad phrygionem cum corona ébrius ferebat, hodie tibi quam surrupuit domo.

sed eccám coronam quám habuit. num mentior?

em hac ábiit, si vis persequi vestigiis.

atque edepol eccum óptume revortitur;

10 sed pallam non fert.

Mat.

Quid ego nunc cum illoc agam?

Pen.

Idem quod semper: male habeas; sic censeo.

huc concedamus: ex insidiis aucupa.

Men.

Quin ut dudum divorti abs te, redeo nunc demum domum.

Pen.

Novi ego te. non mihi censebas esse, qui te ulciscerer.

Men.

Per Iovem deosque omnis adiuro, uxor (satin hoc est tibi?) non dedisse.

Mat.

Immo hercle vero, nos non falsum dicere.

Men.

Sed ego illam non condonavi, sed sic utendam dedi.

Mat.

Equidem ecastor tuam nec chlamydem do foras nec pallium cuiquam utendum. mulierem aequom est vestimentum muliebre 100 dare foras, virum virile. quin refers pallam domum?

Men.

Ego faxo referetur.

Mat.

Ex re tua, ut opinor, feceris;
nam domum numquam introibis, nisi feres pallam simul.
eo domum.

Pen.

Quid mihi futurum est, qui tibi hanc operam dedi?

Mat.

Opera reddetur, quando quid tibi erit surruptum domo. —

Pen.

105 Id quidem edepol numquam erit, nam nihil est quod perdam domi.

cum viro cum uxore di vos perdant. properabo ad forum, nam ex hac familia me plane éxcidisse intellego. —

Men.

Male mi uxor sese fecisse censet, quom exclusit foras;
quasi non habeam, quo intromittar, alium meliorem locum.
110 si tibi displiceo, patiundum: at placuero huic Erotio, quae me non excludet ab se, sed apud se occludet domi.
nunc ibo, orabo ut mihi pallam reddat, quam dudum dedi;
aliam illi redimam meliorem. heus, ecquis hic est ianitor?
aperite atque Erotium aliquis evocate ante ostium.

Erotivm

Quis hic me quaerit?

Men.

Sibi inimicus magis quam aétati tuae.

Er.

Mi Menaechme, cur ante aedis astas? sequere intro.

Men.

Mane.

scin quid est quod ego ad te venio?

Er.

Scio, ut tibi ex me sit volup.

Men.

Immo edepol pallam illam, amabo te, quam tibi dudum dedi,
5 mihi eam redde. uxor rescivit rem omnem, ut factum est, ordine.
ego tibi redimam bis tanto pluris pallam, quam voles.

Er.

Tibi dedi equidem illam, ad phrygionem út ferres, paulo prius, et illud spinter, ut ad aurificem ferres, ut fieret novom.

Men.

Mihi tu ut dederis pallam et spinter? numquam factum reperies.
10 nam ego quidem postquam illam dudum tibi dedi atque abii ad forum, nunc redeo, nunc te postillac video.

Er.

Video quam rem agis.
quia commisi, ut me defrudes, ad eam rem adfectas viam.

Men.

Neque edepol te defrudandi causa posco (quin tibi dico uxorem rescivisse) —

Er.

Nec te ultro oravi ut dares:

15 tute ultro ad me detulisti, dedisti eam dono mihi; eandem nunc reposcis: patiar. tibi habe, aufer, utere vel tu vel tua uxor, vel etiam in loculos compingite.
tu huc post hunc diem pedem intro non feres, ne frustra sis;
quando tu me bene merentem tibi habes despicatui, 20 nisi feres argentum, frustra me ductare non potes.
aliam posthac invenito quám habeas frustratui. —

Men.

Nimis iracunde hercle tandem. heús tu, tibi dico, mane, redi. etiamne astas? etiam audes mea revorti gratia?
abiit intro, occlusit aedis. nunc ego sum exclusissimus:
25 neque domi neque apud amicam mihi iam quicquam creditur.
ibo et consulam hanc rem amicos, quid faciendum censeant. —

ACT V.

Menaechmvs

Nimis stúlte dudum feci, quom marsuppium Messenioni cum argento concredidi.
immersit aliquo sese, credo, in ganeum.

Matrona

Provisam quam mox vir meus redeat domum.
5 sed eccum video. salva sum, pallam refert.

Men.

Demiror ubi nunc ambulet Messenio.

Mat.

Adibo atque hominem accipiam quibus dictis meret.
non te pudet prodire in conspectum meum, flagitium hominis, cum istoc ornatu?

Men.

Quid est?

10 quae te res agitat, mulier?

Mat.

Etiamne, impudens,
muttire verbum unum audes aut mecum loqui?

Men.

Quid tandem admisi in me, ut loqui non audeam?

Mat.

Rogas me? o hominis impudentem audaciam!

Men.

Non tu scis, mulier, Hecubam quapropter canem 15 Graii esse praedicabant?

Mat.

Non equidem scio.

Men.

Quia idem faciebat Hecuba quod tu nunc facis:
omnia mala ingerebat, quemquem aspexerat.
itaque adeo iure coepta appellari est canes.

Mat.

Non ego istaec tua flagitia possum perpeti.
20 nam med aetatem viduam esse mavelim, quam istaec flagitia tua pati quae tu facis.

Men.

Quid id ad me, tu te nuptam possis perpeti an sis abitura a tuo viro? an mos hic ita est, peregrino ut advenienti narrent fabulas?

Mat.

25 Quas fabulas? non, inquam, patiar praeterhac,
quin vidua vivam quam tuos mores perferam.

Men.

Mea quidem hercle causa vidua vivo, vel usque dum regnum optinebit Iuppiter.

Mat.

At mihi negabas dudum surrupuisse te,
30 nunc eandem ante oculos attines: non te pudet?

Men.

Eu hercle, mulier, multum et audax et mala es.
tun tibi hanc surreptam dicere audes, quam mihi dedit alia mulier ut concinnandam darem?

Mat.

Ne istuc mecastor — iam patrem accersam meum 35 atque ei narrabo tua flagitia quae facis.

ei, † Deceo, quaere meum patrem, tecum simul ut veniat ad me: ita rem esse dicito.
iam ego aperiam istaec tua flagitia.

Men.

Sanan es?
quae mea flagitia?

Mat.

Pallam atque aurum meum
40 domo suppilas tuae uxori et tuae degeris amicae. satin haec recte fabulor?

Men.

Quaeso hercle, mulier, si scis, monstra quod bibam, tuam qui possim perpeti petulantiam.
quem tú hominem esse me arbitrere, nescio;
45 ego te simitu novi cum Porthaone.

Mat.

Si me derides, at pol illum non potes, patrem meum, qui huc advenit. quin respicis?
novistin tu illum?

Men.

Novi cum Calcha simul:
eodém die illum vidi quo te ante hunc diem.

Mat.

50 Negas novisse me? negas patrem meum?

Men.

Idem hercle dicam, sí avom vis adducere.

Mat.

Ecastor pariter hoc atque alias res soles.

Senex

Vt aetas mea est atque ut hoc usus facto est gradum proferam, progredi properabo.
sed id quam mihi facile sit, haud sum falsus.
nam pernicitas deserit: consitus sum 5 senectute, onustum gero corpus, vires reliquere: ut aetas mala est; mers mala ergost.
nam res plurimas pessimas, quom advenit, fert:
quas si autumem omnis, nimis longus sermost.
sed haec res mihi in pectore et corde curaest, 10 quidnam hoc sit negoti, quod filia sic repente expetit me, ut ad sese irem.
nec, quid id sit, mihi certiús facit, quid velit, quid me accersat.
verum propemodum iam scio, quid siet rei.
15 credo cum viro litigium natum esse aliquod.
ita istaec solent, quae viros subservire sibi postulant, dote fretae, feroces.
et illi quoque haud abstinent saepe culpa.
verum est modus tamen, quoad pati uxorem oportet;
20 nec pol filia umquam patrem accersit ad se, nisi aut quid commissi aut iurgi est iusta causa.
sed id quidquid est, iam sciam. atque eccam eampse ante aedis et eius virum tristem video.
id est quod suspicabar.
25 appellabo hanc.

Mat.

Ibo advorsum. salve multum, mi pater.

Sen.

Salva sis. salven advenio? salven accersi iubes?
quid tu tristis es? quid ille autem abs te iratus destitit?
nescio quid vos velitati estis inter vos duos.
loquere, uter meruistis culpam? paucis, non longos logos.

Mat.

30 Nusquam equidem quicquam deliqui: hoc primum te absolve,

pater.
verum vivere hic non possum neque durare ullo modo.
proin tu me hinc abducas.

Sen.
Quid istuc autem est?

Mat.
Ludibrio, pater, habeor.

Sen.
Vnde?

Mat.
Ab illo, quoi me mandavisti, meo viro.

Sen.
Ecce autem litigium. quotiens tandem édixi tibi,
35 ut caveres, neuter ad me iretis cum querimonia?

Mat.
Qui ego istuc, mi pater, cavere possum?

Sen.
Men interrogas?

Mat.
Nisi non vis.

Sen.
Quotiens monstravi tibi, viro ut morem geras, quid ille faciat, né id observes, quó eat, quid rerum gerat.

Mat.
At enim ille hinc amat meretricem ex proxumo.

Sen.

Sane sapit,

40 atque ob istánc industriam etiam faxo amabit amplius.

Mat.

Atque ibi potat.

Sen.

Tua quidem ille causa potabit minus, si illic sive alibi libebit? quae haec, malum, impudentiast?
una opera prohibere, ad cenam ne promittat, postules, neve quemquam accipiat alienum apud se. serviren tibi 45 postulas viros? dare una ópera pensum postules, inter ancillas sedere iubeas, lanam carere.

Mat.

Non equidem mihi te advocatum, pater, adduxi, sed viro.
hinc stas, illim causam dicis.

Sen.

Si ille quid deliquerit,
multo tanto illum accusabo, quam te accusavi, amplius.
50 quando te auratam et vestitam bene habet, ancillas penum recte praehibet, melius sanam est, mulier, mentem sumere.

Mat.

At ille suppilat mihi aurum et pallas ex arcis domo, me despoliat, mea ornamenta clam ad meretrices degerit.

Sen.

Male facit, si istuc facit; si non facit, tu male facis, 55 quae insontem insimules.

Mat.

Quin etiam nunc habet pallam, pater, et spinter, quod ad hanc detulerat, nunc, quia rescivi, refert.

Sen.

Iám ego ex hoc, ut factumst, scibo. íbo ad hominem atque adloquar.

dic mi istuc, Menaechme, quod vos dissertatis, ut sciam.
quid tu tristis es? quid illa autem irata abs te destitit?

Men.

60 Quisquis es, quidquid tibi nomen est, senex, summum Iovem deosque do testes —

Sen.

Qua de re aut cuius rei rerum omnium?

Men.

Me neque isti male fecisse mulieri, quae me arguit hanc domo ab se surrupuisse atque abstulisse ... deierat.
sí ego intra aedis huius umquam, ubi habitat, penetravi pedem, 65 omnium hominum exopto ut fiam miserorum miserrimus.

Sen.

Sanun es, qui istuc exoptes aut neges te umquam pedem in eas aedis intulisse ubi habitas, insanissime?

Men.

Tun, senex, ais habitare med in illisce aedibus?

Sen.

Tun negas?

Men.

Nego hercle vero.

Sen.

Immo hercle †ludere negas;
70 nisi quo nocte hac exmigrastis. concede huc, mea filia.
quid tu ais? num hinc exmigrastis?

Mat.

Quem in locum aut quam ob rem, obsecro?

Sen.

Non edepol scio.

Mat.

Profecto ludit te hic. non tu tenes?

Sen.

Iam vero, Menaechme, satis iocatu's. nunc hanc rem gere.

Men.

Quaeso, quid mihi tecum est? unde aut quis tu homo es? ...

75 † tibi aut adeo isti, quae mihi molesta est quoquo modo?

Mat.

Viden tu illi oculos virere? ut viridis exoritur colos ex temporibus atque fronte, ut oculi scintillant, vide.

Men.

Quid mihi meliust, quam quando illi me insanire praedicant, ego me adsimulem insanire, ut illos a me absterream?

Mat.

80 Vt pandiculans oscitatur. quid nunc faciam, mi pater?

Sen.

Concede huc, mea nata, ab istoc quam potest longissime.

Men.

Euhoe Bacche, Bromie, quo me in silvam venatum vocas?
audio, sed non abire possum ab his regionibus, ita illa me ab laeva rabiosa femina adservat canis, 85 poste autem illinc hircus † alus, qui saepe aetate in sua perdidit civem innocentem falso testimonio.

Sen.

Vae capiti tuo.

Men.

Ecce, Apollo mi ex oraclo ímperat, ut ego illi oculos exuram lampadibus ardentibus.

Mat.

Perii, mi pater, minatur mihi oculos exurere.

90

Men.

Ei mihi, insanire me aiunt, ultro cum ipsi insaniunt.

Sen.

Filia, heus.

Mat.

Quid est? quid agimus?

Sen.

Quid si ego huc servos cito?

ibo, abducam qui hunc hinc tollant et domi devinciant, prius quam turbarum quid faciat amplius.

Men.

Enim haereo;

ni occupo aliquid mihi consilium, hī domum me ad se auferent.

95 pugnīs me votas in huius ore quicquam parcere, ni a meis oculis abscedat in malam magnam crucem.
faciam quod iubes, Apollo.

Sen.

Fuge domum, quantum potest,
ne hic te obtundat.

Mat.

Fugio. amabo, adserva istunc, mi pater, ne quo hinc abeat. sumne ego mulier misera, quae illaec audio? —

Men.

100 Haud male, Apollo illanc amovi; nunc hunc impurissimum, barbatum, tremulum Tithonum, qui cluet Cygno patre, ita mihi imperas ut ego huius membra atque ossa atque artua comminuam illo scipione quem ipse habet.

Sen.

Dabitur malum,
me quidem si attíggeris aut si propius ad me accesseris.

Men.

105 Faciam quod iubes; securim capiam ancipitem, atque hunc senem osse fini dedolabo ássulatim viscera.

Sen.

Enim vero illud praecavendumst, atque adcurandumst mihi;
sane ego illúm metuo, ut minatur, ne quid male faxit mihi.

Men.

Multa mi imperas, Apollo: nunc equos iunctos iubes 110 capere me indomitos, ferocis, atque in currum inscendere, ut ego hunc proteram leonem vetulum, olentem, edentulum.
iam adstiti in currum, iam lora teneo, iam stimulus in manust.
agite equi, facitote sonitus ungularum appareat, cursu celeri facite inflexa sit pedum pernicitas.

Sen.

115 Mihin equis iunctis minare?

Men.

Ecce, Apollo, denuo
me iubes facere impetum in eum qui stat atque occidere.
sed quis hic est qui me capillo hínc de curru deripit?
imperium tuom demutat atque edictum Apollinis.

Sen.

Eu hércle morbum acrem ac durum ... di vostram fidem.
120 vel hic qui insanit, quam valuit paulo prius;
ei derepente tantus morbus incidit.
ibo atque accersam medicum iam quantum potest. —

Men.

Iamne isti abierunt, quaeso, ex conspectu meo, qui me vi cogunt, ut validus insaniam?
quid cesso abire ad navem, dum salvo licet?
vosque omnis quaeso, si senex revererit,
5 ne me indicetis qua platea hinc aufugerim. —

Senex

Lumbi sedendo, óculi spectando dolent, manendo medicum, dum se ex opere recipiat.
odiosus tandem vix ab aegrotis venit.
ait se óbligasse crus fractum Aesculapio, 10 Apollini autem brachium. nunc cogito, utrum me dicam ducere medicum an fabrum.
atque eccum incedit. move formicinum gradum.

Medicvs

quid esse ílli morbi, dixeras? narra, senex.
num laruatust aut cerritus? fac sciam.
num eum veternus aut aqua intercus tenet?

Sen.

Quin ea te causa duco, ut id dicas mihi
5 atque illum ut sanum facias.

Med.

Perfacile id quidemst.
sanum futurum, mea ego id promitto fide.

Sen.

Magna cum cura ego illum curari volo.

Med.

Quin suspirabo plus sescenta ín die:
ita ego eum cum cura magna curabo tibi.

Sen.

10 Atque eccum ipsum hominem. observemus, quam rem agat.

Menaechmvs

Edepol ne hic dies pervorsus atque advorsus mi optigit.
quae me clam ratus sum facere, ea ómnia fecit palam parasitus, qui me complevit flagiti et formidinis, meus Vlixes, suo qui regi tantum concivit mali.

5 quém ego hominem, síquidem vivo, vita evolvam sua — sed ego stultus sum, qui illius esse dico, quae meast:
meo cibo et sumptu educatust. anima privabo virum.
condigne autem haec meretrix fecit, ut mos est meretricius:
quia rogo, palla ut referatur rursum ad uxorem meam,
10 mihi se ait dedisse. eu edepol né ego homo vivo miser.

Sen.

Audin quae loquitur?

Med.

Se miserum praedicat.

Sen.

Adeas velim.

Med.

Salvos sis, Menaechme. quaeso, cur apertas brachium?
non tu scis, quantum isti morbo nunc tuo facias mali?

Men.

Quin tu te suspendis?

Sen.

Ecquid sentis?

Med.

Quidni sentiam?

15 non potest haec res ellebori †iungere optinerier.
sed quid ais, Menaechme?

Men.

Quid vis?

Med.

Dic mihi hoc quod te rogo:
album an atrum vinum potas?

Men.

Quin tu is in malam crucem?

Med.

Iam hercle ocepstat insanire primulum. ...

Men.

Quin tu me interrogas,
purpureum panem an puniceum soleam ego esse an luteum?
20 soleamne esse avis squamosas, piscis pennatos?

Sen.

Papae,
audin tu ut deliramenta loquitur? quid cessas dare potionis aliquid prius quam percipit insania?

Med.

Mane modo, etiam percontabor alia.

Sen.

Occidis fabulans.

Med.

Dic mihi hoc: solent tibi umquam óculi duri fieri?

Men.

25 Quid? tu me lucustam censes esse, homo ignavissime?

Med.

Dic mihi: en umquam intestina tibi crepant, quod sentias?

Men.

Vbi satur sum, nulla crepitant; quando esurio, tum crepant.

Med.

Hoc quidem edepol hau pro insano verbum respondit mihi.
perdormiscin usque ad lucem? facilen tu dormis cubans?

Men.

30 Perdormisco, si resolvi árgentum cui debeo — qui te Iuppiter dique omnes, percontator, perduint.

Med.

Nunc homo insanire occeptat: de illis verbis cave tibi.

Sen.

Immo Nestor nunc quidem est de verbis, praeut dudum fuit;
nam dudum uxorem suam esse aiebat rabiosam canem.

Men.

35 Quid, ego?

Sen.

Dixti insanus, inquam.

Men.

Egone?

Sen.

Tu istic, qui mihi
etiam me iunctis quadrigis minitatu's prosternere.
egomet haec te vidi facere, égomet haec ted arguo.

Men.

At ego te sacram coronam surrupuisse Iovi scio, et ob eam rem in carcerem ted esse compactum scio, 40 et postquam es emissus, caesum virgis sub furca scio;
tum patrem occidis et matrem vendidis etiam scio.
satin haec pro sano male dicta male dictis respondeo?

Sen.

Obsecro hercle, medice, propere, quidquid facturu's, face.

non vides hominem insanire?

Med.

Scin quid facias optimum est?

45 ad me face uti deferatur.

Sen.

Itane censes?

Med.

Quippini?

ibi meo arbitrato potero curare hominem.

Sen.

Age ut lubet.

Med.

Elleborum potabis faxo aliquos viginti dies.

Men.

At ego te pendentem fodiam stimulis triginta dies.

Med.

I, arcesse homines, qui illunc ad me deferant.

Sen.

Quot sunt satis?

Med.

50 Proinde ut insanire video, quattuor, nihilo minus.

Sen.

Iam hic erunt. asserva tu istunc, medice.

Med.

Immo ibo domum,

ut parentur quibus paratis opus est. tu servos iube

hunc ad me ferant.

Sen.

Iam ego illic faxo erit.

Med.

Abeo.

Sen.

Vale. —

Men.

Abiit socerus, abiit medicus. nunc sólus sum. pro Iuppiter, 55 quid illuc est quod med hisce homines insanire praedicant?
nam équidem, postquam gnatus sum, numquam aegrotavi unum
diem,

neque ego insanio neque pugnas neque ego litis coepio.

salvus salvos alios video, novi homines, adloquor.

an illi perperam insanire me aiunt, ipsi insaniunt?

60 quid ego nunc faciam? domum ire cupio: úxor non sinit;

huc autem nemo intromittit. nimis proventum est nequiter.

hic ero usque: ad noctem saltem, credo, intromittar domum.

Messenio

Spectámen bonó servo id ést, qui rem erílem procurat, videt, collocat cogitatque, ut absente eró rem erí diligenter tutétur, quam si ípse adsit aút rectiús.

5 tergúm quam gulam, crura quam ventrem oportet potióra esse, cuí cor modéste sitúmst.

recordetur id, qui nihili sunt, quid eis preti détur ab suis eris, ignavis, improbis viris:

verbéra compedes

10 molaé, magna lassitudo fames frigus durum,

haec prétia sunt ignaviae.

id ego male malum metuo: propterea bonum esse certumst potius quam malum;

nam magis multo patior facilius verba: verbera ego odi, nimióque edo lubéntius molitúm, quam molitum praéhibeo.

15 propterea eri imperium exsequor, bene et sedate servo id;
atque mihi id prodest.

alii ita ut in rem esse ducunt, sint: ego ita ero ut me esse oportet;
metum mihi adhibeam, culpam abstineam, ero ut omnibus in locis sim praesto:

servi, qui cum culpa carent metuont, solent esse eris utiles.

20 nam illi, qui nil metuont, postquam malum promeriti, tunc ei metuont.

metuam haud multum. prope est quando erus ob facta pretium exsolvet.

eo ego exemplo servio, tergi ut in rem esse arbitror.

postquam in tabernam vasa et servos conlocavi, ut iusserat, ita venio adversum. nunc foris pultabo, adesse ut me sciat,

25 † neque virum ex hoc saltu damni salvom ut educam foras.
sed metuo, ne sero veniam depugnato proelio.

Senex

Per ego vobis deos atque homines dico, ut imperium meum sapienter habeatis curae, quae imperavi atque impero:

facite illic homo iam in medicinam ablatus sublimen siet, nisi quidem vos vostra crura aut latera nihili penditis.

5 cave quisquam, quod illic minitetur, vestrum flocci fecerit.

quid statis? quid dubitatis? iam sublimen raptum oportuit.

ego ibo ad medicum: praesto ero illi, cum venietis.

Men.

Occidi,

quid hoc est negoti? quid illisce homines ad me currunt, opsecro?

quid voltis vos? quid quaeritis? quid me circumsistitis?

10 quo rapitis me? quo fertis me? perii, opsecro vestram fidem,

Epidamnienses, subvenite, cives. quin me mittitis?

Mess.

Pro di immortales, obsecro, quid ego oculis aspicio meis?

erum meum indignissime nescio qui sublimen ferunt.

Men.

Ecquis suppetias mihi audet ferre?

Mess.

Ego, ere, audacissime.

15 o facinus indignum et malum, Epidamnii cives, erum meum hic in pacato oppido luci deripier in via, qui liber ad vos venerit.
mittite istunc.

Men.

Obsecro te, quisquis es, operam mihi ut des,
neu sinas in me insignite fieri tantam iniuriam.

Mess.

20 Immo et operam dabo et defendam et subvenibo sedulo.
numquam te patiar perire, me perirest aequius.
eripe oculum ísti, ab umero qui tenet, ere, te obsecro.
hisce ego iam sementem in ore faciam pugnosque obseram.
maximo hodie malo hercle vostro ístunc fertis. mittite.

Men.

25 Teneo ego huic oculum.

Mess.

Face ut oculi locus in capite appareat.
vos scelesti, vos rapacis, vos praedones.

Lorarii.

Periimus.
obsecro hercle.

Mess.

Mittite ergo.

Men.

Quid me vobis tactiost?
pecte pugnīs.

Mess.

Agite abite, fugite hinc in malam crucem.
em tibi etiam: quia postremus cedis, hoc praemi feres.
30 nimis bene ora commetavi atque ex mea sententia.
edepol, ere, ne tibi suppetias temperi adveni modo.

Men.

At tibi di semper, adulescens, quisquis es, faciant bene.
nam absque te esset, hodie numquam ad solem occasum viverem.

Mess.

Ergo edepol, si recte facias, ere, med emittas manu.

Men.

35 Liberem ego te?

Mess.

Verum, quandoquidem, ere, te servavi.

Men.

Quid est?
adulescens, erras.

Mess.

Quid, erro?

Men.

Per Iovem adiuro patrem,
med erum tuom non esse.

Mess.

Non taces?

Men.

Non mentior;
nec meus servos úmquam tale fecit quale tu mihi.

Mess.

Sic sine igitur, si tuom négas me ésse, abire liberum.

Men.

40 Mea quidem hercle causa liber esto atque ito quo voles.

Mess.

Nempe iubes?

Men.

Iubeo hercle, si quid imperi est in te mihi.

Mess.

Salve, mi patrone. cum tu liber es, Messenio, gaudeo. credo hercle vobis. sed, patrone, te obsecro, ne minus imperes mihí quam cum tuos servos fui.
45 apud ted habitabo et quando ibis, una tecum ibo domum.

Men.

Minime.

Mess.

Nunc ibo in tabernam, vasa atque argentum tibi referam. recte est obsignatum in vidulo marsuppium cum viatico: id tibí iam huc adferam.

Men.

Adfer strenue.

Mess.

Salvom tibi ita ut mihi dedisti reddibo. hic me mane. —

Men.

50 Nimia mira mihi quidem hodie exorta sunt miris modis:
alii me negant eum esse qui sum, atque excludunt foras

...

vel ille qui se petere argentum modo, qui servom se meum esse aiebat, meus servator, quem ego modo emisi manu; 55 is ait se mihi allaturum cum argento marsuppiū:

id si attulerit, dicam ut a me ábeat liber quo volet, ne tum, quando sanus factus sit, a me argentum petat.
socer et medicus me insanire aiebant. quid sit, mira sunt.
haec nihilo esse mihi videntur setius quam somnia.
60 nunc ibo intro ad hanc meretricem, quamquam suscenset mihi, si possum exorare ut pallam reddat, quam referam domum. —
Menaechmvs (sosicles)
Men hodie usquam convenisse te, audax, audes dicere, postquam advorsum mi imperavi ut huc venires?

Messenio

Quin modo

erupui, homines quom ferebant te sublimen quattuor, apud hasce aedis. tu clamabas deum fidem atque hominum omnium, 5 quóm ego accurro teque eripio vi pugnando ingratiis.
ob eam rem, quia te servavi, me amisisti liberum.
cum argentum dixi me petere et vasa, tu quantum potest praecucurristi obviam, ut quae fecisti infitias eas.

Sos.

Liberum ego te iussi abire?

Mess.

Certo.

Sos.

Quin certissimumst,

10 mepte potius fieri servom, quam te umquam emittam manu.

Menaechmvs

Si vóltis per oculos iurare, nihilo hercle ea causa magis faciétis, ut ego hódie abstulerim pallam et spinter, pessumae.

Mes.

Pro di ímmortales, quid ego video?

S.
Quid vides?

Mes.
Speculum tuum.

Sos.
Quid negoti est?

Mes.
Tuast imago. tam consimilest quam potest.

Sos.
5 Pol profecto haud est dissimilis, meam quom formam noscito.

Men.
O adulescens, salve, qui me servavisti, quisquis es.

Mess.
Adulescens, quaeso hercle eloquere tuum mihi nomen, nisi piget.

Men.
Non edepol ita promeruisti de me, ut pigeat, quae velis obsequi. mihi est Menaechmo nomen.

Sos.
Immo edepol mihi.

Men.
10 Siculus sum Syracusanus.

Sos.
Eadem urbs et patria est mihi.

Men.
Quid ego ex te audio?

Sos.
Hoc quod res est.

Mess.

Novi equidem hunc: erus est meus.

ego quidem huius servos sum, sed me esse huius credidi.

ego hunc censebam te esse, huic etiam exhibui negotium.

quaeso ignoscas, si quid stulte dixi atque imprudens tibi.

Sos.

15 Delirare mihi videre: non commeministi, simul te hodie mecum exire ex navi?

Mess.

Enim vero aequom postulas.

tú erus es: tu servom quaere. tu salveto: tu vale.

hunc ego esse aio Menaechmum.

Men.

At ego me.

Sos.

Quae haec fabulast?

tú es Menaechmus?

Men.

Me esse dico, Moscho prognatum patre.

Sos.

20 Tun meo patre es prognatus?

Men.

Immo equidem, adulescens, meo;

tuom tibi neque occupare neque praeripere postulo.

Mess.

Di immortales, spem insperatam date mihi quam suspicor.

nam nisi me animus fallit, hi sunt gemini germani duo.

nam et patriam et patrem commemorant pariter qui fuerint sibi.

25 sevocabo erum. Menaechme.

Men. Sos.

Quid vis?

Mess.

Non ambos volo,
sed uter vostrorum est advectus mecum navi.

Men.

Non ego.

Sos.

At ego.

Mess.

Te volo igitur. huc concede.

Sos.

Concessi. quid est?

Mess.

Illic homó aut sycophanta aut geminus est frater tuos.
nam ego hominem hominis similiorem numquam vidi álterum.
30 neque aqua aquae nec lacte est lactis, crede mi, usquam similis, quam hic tui est, tuque huius autem; post eandem patriam ac patrem memorat. meliust nos adire átque hunc percontarier.

Sos.

Hercle qui tu me admonuisti recte, et habeo gratiam.
perge operam dare, obsecro hercle; liber esto, si invenis 35 hunc meum fratrem esse.

Mess.

Spero.

Sos.

Et ego item spero fore.

Mess.

Quid ais tu? Menaechmum, opinor, te vocari dixeras.

Men.

Ita vero.

Mess.

Huic item Menaechmo nomen est. in Sicilia te Syracusis natum esse dixti: et hic natust ibi.
Moschum tibi patrem fuisse dixti: huic itidem fuit.
40 nunc operam potestis ambo mihi dare et vobis simul.

Men.

Promeruisti ut ne quid ores quod velis, quin impetres.
tam quasi me emeris argento, liber servibo tibi.

Mess.

Spes mihi est, vos inventurum fratres germanos duos geminos, una matre natos et patre uno uno die.

Men.

45 Mira memoras. utinam efficere quod pollicitu's possies.

Mess.

Possum. sed nunc agite uterque id quod rogabo dicite.

Men.

Vbi lubet, roga: respondebo. nil reticebo quod sciam.

Mess.

Est tibi nomen Menaechmo?

Men.

Fateor.

Mess.

Est itidem tibi?

Sos.

Est.

Mess.

Patrem fuisse Moschum tibi ais?

Men.

Ita vero.

Sos.

Et mihi.

Mess.

50 Esne tu Syracusanus?

Men.

Certo.

Mess.

Quid tu?

Sos.

Quippini?

Mess.

Optime usque adhuc conveniunt signa. porro operam date.
quid longissime meministi, dic mihi, in patria tua?

Men.

Cum patre ut abii Tarentum ád mercatum, postea inter homines me deerrare á patre atque inde avehi.

Sos.

55 Iuppiter supreme, serva me.

Mess.

Quid clamas? quin taces?

quot eras annos gnatus, quom te pater a patria ávehit?

Men.

Septuennis: nam tunc dentes mihi cadebant primulum.
neque patrém umquam postilla vidi.

Mess.

Quid? vos tum patri
filii quot eratis?

Men.

Vt nunc maxime memini, duo.

Mess.

60 Vter eratis, tun an ille, maior?

Men.

Aequae ambo pares.

Mess.

Qui id potest?

Men.

Gemini ambo eramus.

Sos.

Di me servatum volunt.

Mess.

Si interpellas, ego tacebo potius.

Sos.

Taceo.

Mess.

Dic mihi:
uno nomine ambo eratis?

Men.

Minime. nam mihi hoc erat,
quod nunc est, Menaechmo: illum tum vocabant Sosiclem.

Sos.

65 Signa adgnovi, contineri quin complectar non queo.
mi germane gemine frater, salve. ego sum Sosicles.

Men.

Quo modo igitur post Menaechmo nomen est factum tibi?

Sos.

Postquam ad nos renuntiatum est te ... et patrem esse mortuom, avos noster mutavit: quod tibi nomen est, fecit mihi.

Men.

70 Credo ita esse factum ut dicis. sed mi hoc responde.

Sos.

Roga.

Men.

Quid erat nomen nostrae matri?

Sos.

Teuximarchae.

Men.

Convenit.

o salve, insperate multis annis post quem conspikor.

Sos.

Frater, et tu, quém ego multis miseriis laboribus usque adhuc quaesivi quemque ego esse inventum gaudeo.

Mess.

75 Hoc erat, quod haec te meretrix huius vocabat nomine:
hunc censebat te esse, credo, quom vocat te ad prandium.

Men.

Namque edepol iussi hic mihi hodie prandium appararier, clam meam uxorem, quoi pallam surrupui dudum domo, eam dedi huic.

S.

Hanc, dicis, frater, pallam, quam ego habeo?

M.

Haec east.

80 quo modo haec ad te pervenit?

Sos.

Meretrix huc ad prandium me abduxit, me sibi dedisse aiebat. prandi perbene, potavi atque accubui scortum, pallam et aurum hoc abstuli.

Men.

Gaudeo edepol, si quid propter me tibi evenit boni.
nam illa quom te ad se vocabat, memet esse credidit.

Mess.

85 Numquid me morare quin ego liber, ut iusti, siem?

Men.

Optimum atque aequissimum orat, frater: fac causa mea.

Sos.

Liber esto.

Men.

Quom tu es liber, gaudeo, Messenio.

Mess.

Sed meliorest opus auspicio, ut liber perpetuo siem.

Sos.

Quoniam haec evenerunt, frater, nostra éx sententia, 90 in patriam redeamus ambo.

Men.

Frater, faciam, ut tu voles.
auctionem hic faciam et vendam quidquid est. nunc interim eamus intro, frater.

Sos.

Fiat.

Mess.

Scitin quid ego vos rogo?

M.

Quid?

Mes.

Praeconium mi ut detis.

M.

Dabitur.

Mes.

Ergo nunciam vis conclamari auctionem fore?

Men.

Equidem die septimi.

Mess.

95 Auctio fiet Menaechmi mane sane septimi.

venibunt servi, supellex, fundi, aedes, omnia.

venibunt quique licebunt, praesenti pecunia.

venibit uxor quoque etiam, si quis emptor venerit.

vix credo tota auctione capiet † quinquagesies.

100 nunc, spectatores, valet et nobis clare plaudite.

Charinvs

Duas res simul nunc agere decretumst mihi:
et argumentum et meos amores eloquar.
non ego item facio ut alios in comoediis vi vidi amoris facere, qui aut nocti aut die 5 aut soli aut lunae miserias narrant suas:
quos pol ego credo húmanas querimonias non tanti facere, quid velint quid non velint; vobis narrabo potius meas nunc miserias.
graece haec vocatur Emporos Philemonis, 10 eadem Latine Mercator Macci Titi.
pater ad mercatum hinc me meus misit Rhodum;
biennium iam factum est, postquam abii domo.
ibi amare occepi forma eximia mulierem.
sed ea ut sim implicitus dicam, si operaest auribus 15 atque advortendum ad animum adest benignitas.
et hoc parum hercle more amatorum institi:
†per mea per conatus sum uos sumque inde exilico.
nam amorem haec cuncta vitia sectari solent, cura aegritudo nimiaque elegantia, 20 haec non modo illum quí amat, sed quemque attigit magno atque solido multat infortunio, nec pol profecto quisquam sine grandi malo praequam res patitur studuit elegantiae.
sed amor accedunt etiam haec, quae dixi minus:
25 insomnia, aerumna, error, terror et fuga, ineptia stultitiaque adeo et temeritas, incogitantia excors, immodestia, petulantia et cupiditas, malevolentia, inertia, aviditas, desidia, iniuria, 30 inopia, contumelia et dispendium, multiloquium: parumlóquium hoc ideo fit quia, quae nihil attingunt ad rem nec sunt usui,
tam amator profert saepe advorso tempore;

hoc pauciloquium rursum idcirco praedico, 35 quia nullus umquam amator adeost callide facundus, quae in rem sint suam ut possit loqui.
nunc vos mi irasci ob multiloquium non decet:
eodém quo amorem Venus mi hoc legavit die.
illuc revorti certumst, conata eloquar.
40 principio ut ex ephebis aetate exii atque animus studio amotus puerilist meus, amare valide coepi hinc meretricem: ilico
res exulatum ad illam clám abibat patris.
leno importunus, dominus eius mulieris, 45 vi summa ut quicque poterat rapiebat domum.
obiurigare pater haec noctes et dies,
perfidiam, iniustitiam lenonum expromere;
lacerari valide suam rem, illius augerier.
summo haec clamore; interdum mussans conloqui:
50 abnuere, negitare adeo me natum suom.
conclamitare tota urbe et praedicere, omnes tenerent mutuitanti credere.
amorem multos inlexe in dispendium:
intemperantem, non modestum, iniurium 55 trahere, exhaustire me quod quirem ab se domo; ratione pessuma a me ea quae ipse optuma omnis labores invenisset perferens, in amoribus diffunditari ac didier.
convicium tot me annos iam se pascere;
60 quod nisi puderet, ne luberet vivere.
sese extemplo ex ephebis postquam excesserit, non, ut ego, amori neque desidia in otio operam dedisse, neque potestatem sibi fuisse; adeo arte cohibitum esse se a patre:
65 multo opere immundo rustico se exercitum, neque nisi quinto anno quoque †positum visere urbem, atque extemplo inde, ut spectavisset peplum, rus rusum confestim exigi solitum a patre.
ibi multo primum sese familiarium
70 laboravisse, quom haec pater sibi diceret:

‘tibi aras, tibi occas, tibi seris, tibi idem metis, tibi denique iste pariet laetitiam labos.’
postquam recesset vita patrio corpore, agrum se vendidisse atque ea pecunia 75 navem, metretas quae trecentas tolleret, parasse atque ea se mercis mercatum undique, adeo dum, quae tum haberet, peperisset bona;
me idem decere, si ut deceret me forem.
ego mé ubi invisum meo patri esse intellego 80 atque odio me esse quoi placere aequom fuit, amens amansque ut ánimum offirmo meum,
dico esse iturum me mercatum, si velit:
amorem missum facere me, dum illi obsequar.
agit grátias mi atque ingenium adlaudat meum;
85 sed mea promissa non neglexit persequi.
aedificat navem cercurum et mercis emit, parata navi imponit, praeterea mihi talentum argenti ipse sua adnumerat manu;
servom una mittit, qui olim puero parvulo 90 mihi paedagogus fuerat, quasi uti mihi foret custos. his sic confectis navem solvimus.
Rhodum venimus, ubi quas merces vexeram omnis ut volui vendidi ex sententia.
lucrum ingens facio praeterquam mihi meus pater 95 dedit aestimatas merces: ita peculium conficio grande. sed dum in portu illi ambulo, hospes me quidam adgnovit, ad cenam vocat.
venio, decumbo acceptus hilare atque ampliter.
discubitum noctu ut imus, ecce ad me advenit 100 mulier, qua mulier alia nullast pulchrior;
ea nocte mecum illa hospitis iussu fuit.
vosmet videte quam mihi valde placuerit:
postridie hospitem adeo, oro ut vendat mihi, dico eius pro méritis gratum me et munem fore.
105 quid verbis opus est? emi, átque advexi heri.
eam me ádvexisse nolo resciscat pater.
modo eam reliqui ad portum in navi et servolum.

sed quid currentem servom a portu conspícor, quem navi abire vetui? timeo quid siet.

Acanthio

Ex súmmiss opibus víribusque usque éxperire, nítère, erus ut minor opera tua servetur: agedum, Acanthio, abíge abs te lassitudinem, cave pigritiae praeverteris.
simul enicat suspiritus (vix suffero hercle anhelitum), 5 simul autem plenís semítis qui adversum eunt: aspellito, detrude, deturba in viám. haec disciplina hic pessumast:
cúrrenti properanti haud quisquam dignum habet decedere.
ita trés simítu res agendaé sunt, quando unam occeperis:
et currendum et pugnandum et autem iurígandum est in via.

Char.

10 Quid illúc est quod ille tam expedite exquirít cursuram sibi?
curaest, negoti quid sit aut quid nuntiet.

Acan.

Nugas ago.
quam restito, tam maxime res in periclo vortitur.

Char.

Mali nescio quid nuntiat.

Acan.

Genua hunc cursorem deserunt;
perii, seditionem facit lien, óccupát praecordia,
15 perii, animam nequeo vertere, nimis nihili tibicen siem.

Char.

At tu edepol sume laciniam atque absterge sudorem tibi.

Acan.

numquam edepol omnes balineae mi hanc lassitudinem eximent.
domin án foris dicam esse erum Charinum?

Char.

Ego animi pendeo.
quíd illud sit negoti lubet scire, ex hoc metu ut eximar.

Acan.

20 Át etiam asto? at etiam cesso foribus facere hisce assulas?
áperite aliquis. ubi Charinus est erus? dómin est an foris?
num quísquam adire ad ostium dignum arbitratur?

Char.

Ecce me,
Acanthio, quem quaeris.

Acan.

Nusquamst disciplina ignavior.

Char.

Quae té malae res ágitant?

Acan.

Multae, ere, te átque me.

Char.

25 Quid ést negoti?

Acan.

Périimus.

Char.

Principium id inimicis dato.

Acan.

At tibi sortito id optigit.

Char.

Loquere íd negoti quidquid est.

Acan.

Placide, volo adquiescere.

tua causa rupi ramites, iam dudum sputo sanguinem.

Char.

30 Resinam ex melle Aegyptiam vorato, salvom feceris.

Acan.

At edepol tu calidam picem bibito, aegritudo abscesserit.

Char.

Hóminem ego iracundiozem quam te novi neminem.

Acan.

At ego maledicentiozem quam te novi neminem.

Char.

Sin saluti quod tibi esse censeo, id consuadeo?

Acan.

35 Apage istiusmodi salutem, cum cruciatu quae advenit.

Char.

Dic mihi, an boni quid usquamst, quod quisquam uti possiet sine malo omni, aut ne laborem capias cum illo uti voles?

Acan.

Nescio ego istaec: philosophari numquam didici neque scio. ego bonum, malum quo accedit, mihi dari haud desidero.

Ch.

40 Cedo tuam mihi dexteram, agedum, Acanthio.

Ac.

Em dabitur, tene.

Char.

Vin tu te mihi obsequentem esse an nevis?

Acan.

Opera licet experiri, qui me rupi causa currendo tua, ut quae scirem scire actutum tibi liceret.

Char.

Liberum
caput tibi faciam cis paucos mensis.

Acan.
Palpo percutis.

Char.
45 Egon ausim tibi usquam quicquam facinus falsum proloqui?
quin iam prius quam sum elocutus, scis si mentiri volo.

Ac.

Ah,
lassitudinem hercle verba tua mihi addunt, enicas.

Ch.
Sicine mi obsequens es?

Ac.

Quid vis faciam?

Ch.
Tun? id quod volo.

Ac.

Quid id est igitur quod vis?

Ch.
Dicam.

Ac.

Dice.

Ch.

At énim placide volo.

Acan.

50 Dormientis spectatores metuis ne ex somno excites?

Char.

Vae tibi.

Acan.

Tibi equidem a portu adporto hoc —

Char.

Quid fers? dic mihi.

Acan.

Vim metum, cruciatum curam, iurgiumque atque inopiam.

Char.

Perii, tu quidem thesaurum huc mi adportavisti mali.
nullus sum.

Ac.

Immo es —

Ch.

Scio iam, miserum dices tu.

Ac.

Dixi ego tacens.

Char.

55 Quid istuc est mali?

Acan.

Ne rogites, maxumum infortunium est.

Char.

Obsecro, dissolve iam me; nimis diu animi pendeo.

Acan.

Placide, multa exquirere etiam prius volo quam vapulem.

Char.

Hercle vero vapulabis, nisi iam loquere aut hinc abis.

Acan.

Hoc sis vide, ut palpatur. nullust, quando ocepit, blandior.

Char.

60 Obsecro hercle oroque ut istuc quid sit actutum indices, quandoquidem mihi supplicandum servolo video meo.

Ac.

Tandem indignus videor?

Char.

Immo dignus.

Ac.

Equidem credidi.

Char.

Obsecro, num navis periit?

Acan.

Salvast navis, ne time.

Ch.

Quid alia armamenta?

Ac.

Salva et sana sunt.

Ch.

Quin tu expedis

65 quid siet quod me per urbem currens quaerebas modo.

Acan.

Tu quidem ex óre orationem mi eripis.

Char.

Taceo.

Acan.

Tace.

credo, si boni quid ad te nuntiem, instes acriter, qui nunc, quom malum audiendumst, flagitas me ut eloquar.

Char.

Obsecro hercle te, istuc ut tu mihi malum facias palam.

Ac.

70 Eloquar, quandoquidem me oras. tuos pater —

Ch.

Quid meus pater?

Acan.

Tuam amicam —

Char.

Quid eam?

Acan.

Vidit.

Char.

Vidit? vae misero mihi.

hoc quod te rogo responde.

Acan.

Quin tu, si quid vis, roga.

Ch.

Qui potuit videre?

Ac.

Oculis.

Ch.

Quo pacto?

Ac.

Hiantibus.

Char.

In hinc diirectus? nógare in re capitali mea.

Acan.

75 Qui, malum, ego nugor, si tibi quod me rogas respondeo?

Char.

Certen vidit?

Acan.

Tam hercle certe quám ego te aut tu me vides.

Char.

Vbi eam vidit?

Acan.

Intus intra navem, út prope astitit;
et cum ea confabulatust.

Char.

Perdidisti me, pater.

eho tu, eho tu, quin cavisti ne eam videret, verbero?

80 quin, sceleste, ábstrudebas, né eam conspiceret pater?

Acan.

Quia negotiosi eramus nos nostris negotiis:
armamentis complicandis et componendis studuimus.
dum haec aguntur, lembo advehitur tuos pater pauxillulo, neque quisquam hominem conspiciat, donec in navem subit.

Char.

85 Nequiquam, mare, subterfugi á tuis tempestatibus:
equidem me iam censebam esse in terra atque in tuto loco, verum video me ad saxa ferri saevis fluctibus.
loquere porro, quid sit actum.

Acan.

Postquam aspexit mulierem, rogitare coepit cuia esset.

Char.

Quid respondit?

Acan.

Ilico

90 occucurri atque interpello, matri te ancillam tuae emisse illam.

Char.

Visun est tibi credere id?

Acan.

Etiam rogas?
sed scelestus subigitare coepit.

Char.

Illamne, obsecro?

Acan.

Mirum quin me subigitaret.

Char.

Edepol cor miserum meum,
quod guttatim contabescit, quasi in aquam indideris salem.
95 perii.

Acan.

Em istuc unum verbum dixisti verissimum.
stultitia istaec est.

Char.

Quid faciam? credo, non credet pater, si illam matri meae me emissem dicam; post autem mihi scelus videtur, me parenti proloqui mendacium.
neque ille credet, neque credibile est forma eximia mulierem, 100 eam me emissem ancillam matri.

Acan.

Non taces, stultissime?
credet hercle, nam credebat iam mihi.

Char.

Metuo miser,
ne patremprehendat, ut sit gesta res, suspicio.
hoc quod te rogo responde quaeso.

Acan.

Quaeso quid rogas?

Char.

Num esse amicam suspicari visus est?

Acan.

Non visus est.
105 quin quicque ut dicebam mihi credebat.

Char.

Verum, ut tibi quidem visus est.

Acan.

Non, sed credebat.

Char.

Vae mihi misero, nullus sum.

sed quid ego hic in lamentando pereo, ad navem non eo?
sequere.

Acan.

Si istac ibis, commodum obviam venies patri;
postea aspiciet te timidum esse atque exanimatum: ilico 110 retinebit, rogitabit unde illam emeris, quanti emeris:
timidum temptabit te.

Char.

Hac ibo potius. iam censes patrem abiisse a portu?

Acan.

Quin ea ego huc praecucurri gratia, ne te opprimeret imprudentem atque electaret.

Char.

Optime. —

ACT II.

Demipho

Miris modis di ludos faciunt hominibus
mirisque exemplis somnia in somnis danunt.
velut ego nocte hac quae praeteriit proxuma in somnis egi satis et fui homo exercitus.

5 mercari visus mihi sum formosam capram;
ei ne noceret quam domi ante habui capram
neu discordarent, si ambae in uno essent loco, posterius quam mercatus fueram, visus sum in custodelam simiae concredere.

10 ea simia adeo post haud multo ad me venit, male mihi precatur et facit convicium:

ait sése illius opera atque adventu caprae flagitium et damnum fecisse haud mediocriter;
dicit capram, quam dederam servandam sibi,

15 suaé uxoris dotem ambedisse oppido.
mi illud videri mirum, ut una illaec capra uxoris simiai dotem ambederit.

instare factum simia, atque hoc denique respondet, ni properem illam ab sese abducere, 20 ad me domum intro ad uxórem ducturum meam.

atque oppido hercle bene velle illi visus sum,
ast non habere cui commendarem capram;
quo magis quid facerem cura cruciabar miser.

interea ad me haedus visust adgredirier,

25 infit mihi praedicare, sese ab simia capram abduxisse, et coepit inridere me;

ego énim lugere atque abductam illam aegre pati.

hoc quam ad rem credam pertinere somnium, nequeo invenire; nisi capram illam suspicor

30 iam me invenisse quae sit aut quid voluerit.

ad portum hinc abii mane cum luci simul;

postquam id quod volui transegi, atque ego conspicio navem ex Rhodo quast héri advectus filius;

conlibitumst illuc mihi nescio qui visere:
35 inscendo in lembum átque ad navem devehor.
atque égo illi aspicio forma eximia mulierem, filius quam advexit meus matri ancillam suae.
quam ego postquam aspexi, non ita amo ut sani solent homines, sed eodem pacto ut insani solent.
40 amavi hercle equidem ego olim in adulescentia, verum ad hoc exemplum numquam, ut nunc insanio.
unum quidem hercle iam scio, periisse me;
vosmet videte ceterum quanti siem.
nunc hoc profecto sic est: haec illast capra;
45 verum hercle simia illa atque haedus mihi malum adportant, atque eos esse quos dicam hau scio.
sed conticiscam, nam eccum it vicinus foras.

Lysimachvs

Profecto ego illunc hircum castrari volo, ruri qui vobis exhibet negotium.

Dem.

Nec omen illud mihi nec auspicium placet.
quasi hircum metuo ne uxor me castret mea.
5 atque illius haec nunc simiae partis ferat.

Lys.

I tu hinc ad villam atque istos rastros vilico
Pisto ipsi facito coram ut tradas in manum.
uxori facito ut nunties, negotium mihi esse in urbe, ne me exspectet; nam mihi 10 tris hodie litis iudicandas dicito.
ei, et hoc memento dicere.

Servvs

Numquid amplius?

Lys.

Tantumst.

Dem.

Lysimache, salve.

Lys.

Euge, Demipho, salveto. quid agis? quid fit?

Dem.

Quod miserrumus.

Lys.

Di melius faxint.

Dem.

Di hoc quidem faciunt.

Lys.

Quid est?

Dem.

15 Dicam, si videam tibi esse óperam aut otium.

Lys.

Quamquam negotiumst, si quid vis, Demipho, non sum occupatus umquam amico operam dare.

Dem.

Benignitatem tuam mi experto praedicas.
quid tibi ego aetatis videor?

Lys.

Acherunticus,
20 senex vetus, decrepítus.

Dem.

Pervorse vides.
puer súm, Lysimache, septuennis.

Lys.
Sanum es,
qui puerum te esse dicas?

Dem.
Vera praedico.

Lys.
Modo hercle in mentem venit, quid tu diceres:
senex quom extemplo est, iam nec sentit nec sapit,
25 aiunt solere eum rusum repuerascere.

Dem.
Immo bis tanto valeo quam valui prius.

Lys.
Bene hercle factum, et gaudeo.

Dem.
Immo si scias,
oculis quoque etiam plus iam video quam prius.

Lys.
Benest.

Dem.
Malae rei dico.

Lys.
Iam istuc non benest.

Dem.
30 Sed ausimne ego tibi eloqui fideliter?

Lys.
Audacter.

Dem.

Animum advorte.

Lys.

Fiet sedulo.

Dem.

Hodie ire in ludum occepi litterarium,

Lysimache. ternas scio iam.

Lys.

Quid ternas?

Dem.

Amo.

Lys.

Tun capite cano amas, senex nequissime?

Dem.

35 Si canum seu istuc rutilum sive atrumst, amo.

Lys.

Ludificas nunc tu me hic, opinor, Demipho.

Dem.

Decide collum stanti, si falsum loquor;

vel, ut scias me amare, cape cultrum ac seca digitum vel aurem vel tu nasum vel labrum:

40 si movero me seu secari sensero,

Lysimache, auctór sum ut me amando enices.

Lys.

Si umquam vidistis pictum amatorem, em illic est.

nam meo quidem animo vetulus decrepitus senex tantidemst quasi sit signum pictum in pariete.

Dem.

45 Nunc tu me, credo, castigare cogitas.

Lys.

Egon té?

Dem.

Nihil est iam quod tu mihi suscenseas:

fecere tale ante alii spectati viri.

humanum amarest, humanum autem ignoscerest:

ne sís me obiurga, hoc non voluntas me impulit.

Lys.

50 Quin non obiurgo.

Dem.

At ne deteriores tamen

hoc facto ducas.

Lys.

Egon te? ah, ne di siverint.

D.

Vide sís modo etiam.

L.

Visumst.

D.

Certen?

Lys.

Perdis me.

hic homo ex amore insanit. numquid vis?

Dem.

Vale.

Lys.

Ad portum propero, nam ibi mihi negotium est.

Dem.

55 Bene ambulato.

Lys.

Bene vale. —

Dem.

Bene sit tibi.

quin mihi quoque etiamst ad portum negotium.

nunc adeo ibo illuc. séd optume gnatum meum video eccum. opperiar hominem. hoc nunc mihi viso opust, huic persuadere quo modo potis siem,

60 ut illam vendat neve det matri suae;

nam ei dono advexe audivi. sed praecauto opust, ne hic illam me animum adiecisse aliqua sentiat.

Charinvs

Homó me misérrior nullúst aequé, opínor, neque ádvorsa cuí plura sínt sempitérna;

satin quídquid est, quam rem agere óccepi, proprium nequit mihi evenire quod cupio?

5 ita míhi mala res aliqua óbicitur, bonum quae meum comprimit cónsilium.

míser amicam míhi paravi, ánimi causa, pretio † eripui, ratús clam patrém me meúm posse habere:

is rescivit et vidit, et perdidit me;

10 neque is cum roget quid loquar cogitatumst, ita animi decem in pectore incerti certant.

nec quid corde nunc consili capere possim scio, tantus cum cura meost error animo, dum servi mei perplacet mihi consilium,

15 dum rursum haud placet nec pater potis videtur induci ut putet matri ancillam emptam esse illam.

nunc si dico ut res est atque illam mihi me emisse indico, quem ad modum existumet me?

atque illam abstrahat, trans mare hinc venum asportet;

20 scio saevos quam sit, domo doctus. igitur

hócone est amare? arare mavelim, quam sic amare.
iam hínc olim invitum domo extrusit ab se, mercatum ire iussit: ibi hoc malum ego inveni.
úbi voluptatem aegritudo vincat, quid ibi inest amoeni?
25 nequíquam abdidi, abscondidi, abstrusam habebam:
muscast meus pater, nil potest clam illum haberi, néc sacrum nec tam profanum quicquam est, quin ibi ilico adsit.
nec, qui rebus meis confidam mi ulla spes in corde certast.

Dem.

Quíd illuc est quod solus secum fabulatur filius?
30 sollicitus mihí nescio qua re videtur.

Char.

Attatae,
meus patér hic quidem est quem video. ibo, adloquar. quid fit, pater?

Dem.

Vnde incedis, quid festinas, gnate mi?

Char.

Recte, pater.

Dem.

Ita volo, sed istúc quid est, tibi quod commutatust color?
numquid tibi dolet?

Char.

Nescio quid meo animost aegre, pater.
35 poste hac nocte non quievi satis mea ex sententia.

Dem.

Per mare ut vectu's, nunc oculi terram mirantur tui.

Ch.

Magis opinor —

D.

Id est profecto; verum actutum abscesserit.
ergo edepol palles. si sapias, eas ac decumbas domi.

Char.

Otium non est: mandatis rebus praeverti volo.

Dem.

40 Cras agito, perendie agito.

Char.

Saepe ex te audivi, pater:
rei mandatae omnis sapientis primum praeverti decet.

Dem.

Age igitur; nolo advorsari tuam advorsum sententiam.

Char.

Salvos sum, siquidem ísti dicto solida et perpetuast fides.

Dem.

Quid illuc est quod ille á me solus se in consilium sevocat?
45 iam nón vereor ne illam me amare hic potuerit resciscere;
quippe haud etiam quicquam inepte feci, amantes ut solent.

Char.

Res adhuc quidem hercle in tutost, nam hunc nescire sat scio de illa amica; quod si sciret, esset alia oratio.

D.

Quin ego hunc adgredior de illa?

Ch.

Quin ego hinc me amolior?
50 eo ego, ut quae mandata amicus amicis tradam.

Dem.

Immo mane;
paucula etiam sciscitare prius volo.

Char.

Dic quid velis.

Dem.

Vsquene valuisti?

Char.

Perpetuo recte, dum quidem illic fui;
verum in portum huc ut sum advectus, nescio qui animus mihi dolet.

Dem.

Nausea edepol factum credo; verum actutum abscesserit.
55 sed quid ais? ecquam tu advexti tuae matri ancillam e Rhodo?

Char.

Advexi.

Dem.

Quid? ea ut videtur mulier?

Ch.

Non edepol mala.

Dem.

Vt moratast?

Char.

Nullam vidi melius mea sententia.

D.

Mihi quidem edepol visast, quom illam vidi.

Ch.

Eho an vidisti, pater?

Dem.

Vidi. verum non ex usu nostrorst, neque adeo placet.

Ch.

60 Qui vero?

D.

Quia †non nostra formam habet dignam domo.
nihil opust nobis ancilla nisi quae texat, quae molat, lignum caedat, pensum faciat, aedis verrat, vapulet, quae habeat cottidianum familiae coctum cibum:
horunc illa nihilum quicquam facere poterit.

Char.

Admodum.

65 ea causa equidem illam emi, dono quam darem matri meae.

Dem.

Ne duas, neve te advexisse dixeris.

Char.

Di me adiuvant.

Dem.

Labefacto paulatim. verum quod praeterii dicere, neque illa matrem satis honeste tuam sequi poterit comes,
neque sinam.

Char.

Qui vero?

Dem.

Quia illa forma matrem familias
70 flagitium sit si sequatur; quando incedat per vias, contemplant, conspiciant omnes, nutent, nictent, sibilent, vellicent, vocent, molesti sint; occentent ostium:
impleantur élegeorum meae fores carbonibus.
atque, ut nunc sunt maledicentes homines, uxori meae
75 mihi que obiectent lenocinium facere. nam quid eost opus?

Char.

Hercle qui tu recte dicis, et tibi adsentior.

sed quid illá nunc fiet?

Dem.

Recte. ego emero matri tuae ancillam viraginem aliquam non malam, forma mala, ut matrem addecet familias, aut Syram aut Aegyptiam:
80 ea molet, coquet, conficiet pensum, pinsetur flagro, neque propter eam quicquam eveniet nostris foribus flagiti.

Char.

Quid si igitur reddatur illi unde empta est?

Dem.

Minime gentium.

Char.

Dixit se redhibere, si non placeat.

Dem.

Nihil istoc opust:
litigari nolo ego usquam, tuam autem accusari fidem;
85 multo edepol si quid faciendumst facere damni mavolo, quam opprobramentum aut flagitium muliebre exferri domo.
me tibi illam posse opinor luculente vendere.

Char.

Dum quidem hercle ne minoris vendas quám ego emi, pater.

Dem.

Tace modo: senex est quidam, qui illam mandavit mihi 90 ut emerem aut ad istanc faciem.

Char.

At mihi quidam adulescens, pater, mandavit ad illam faciem, ita ut illaec est, emerem sibi.

Dem.

Viginti minis opinor posse me illam vendere.

Char.

At ego si velim, iam dantur septem et viginti minae.

Dem.

At ego —

Char.

Quin ego, inquam —

Dem.

Ah, nescis quid dicturus sum, tace.

95 tris minas accudere etiam possum, ut triginta sient.

Ch.

Quo vortisti?

D.

Ad illum qui emit.

Ch.

Vbinamst is homo gentium?

Dem.

Eccillum video. iubet quínque me addere etiam nunc minas.

Char.

Hercle illunc divi infelicient, quisquis est.

Dem.

Ibidem mihi

etiam nunc adnutat addam sex minas.

Char.

Septem mihi.

Dem.

100 Numquam edepol me vincet hodie.

Char.

Commodis poscit, pater.

Dem.

Nequiquam poscit: ego habeo.

Char.

At illic pollicitust prior.

Dem.

Nihili facio.

Char.

Quinquaginta poscit.

Dem.

Non centum datur.

potine ut ne licitere advorsum mei animi sententiam?

maximam hercle habebis praedam: ita ille est, quoi emitur, senex;

105 sanus non est ex amore illius. quod posces feres.

Char.

Certe edepol adolescens ille, cui ego emo, efflictim perit eius amore.

Dem.

Multo hercle ille magis senex, si tu scias.

Char.

Numquam edepol fuit neque fiet ille senex insanior ex amore quam ille adolescens cui ego do hanc operam, pater.

D.

110 Quiesce, inquam. istanc rém ego recte videro.

C.

Quid ais?

D.

Quid est?

C.

Non ego illám mancupio accepi.

D.

Sed ille illam accipiet. sine.

Char.

Non potes tu lege vendere illam.

Dem.

Ego aliquid videro.

Char.

Post autem communest illa mihi cum álio. qui scio quid sit ei animi, venirene eam velit an non velit?

Dem.

115 Ego scio velle.

Char.

At pol ego esse credo aliquem qui non velit.

D.

Quid id mea refert?

C.

Quia illi suam rem esse aequomst in manu.

D.

Quid ais?

C.

Communis mihi illa est cum illo: is hic nunc non adest.

Dem.

Prius respondes quam rogo.

Char.

Prius tú emis quam vendo, pater.

nescio, inquam, velit ille illam necne abalienarier.

Dem.

¹²⁰ Quid? illi quoidam qui mandavit tibi si emetur, tum volet, sí ego emo illi qui mandavit, tum ille nolet? nihil agis.

numquam edepol quisquam illam habebit potius quam ille quem ego volo.

C.

Certumnest?

D.

Censen certum esse? quin ad navem iam hinc eo, ibi venibit.

Char.

Vin me tecum illo ire?

Dem.

Nolo.

Char.

Non places.

Dem.

¹²⁵ Meliust te, quae sunt mandatae res tibi, praevertier.

Char.

Tu prohibes.

Dem.

At me incusato: te fecisse sedulo.
ad portum ne bitas, dico iam tibi.

Char.

Auscultabitur.

Dem.

Ibo ad portum. ne hic resciscat, cauto opust: non ipse emam, sed Lysimacho amico mandabo. is se ad portum dixerat 130 ire dudum. me moror quom hic asto. —

Char.

Nullus sum, occidi.

Char.

Pentheum diripuisse aiunt Bacchas: nugas maximas fuisse credo, praeut quo pacto égo divorsus distrahor.
cur ego vivo? cur non morior? quid mihist in vita boni?
certumst, ibo ad medicum atque ibi me toxico morti dabo,
5 quando id mi adimitur, qua causa vitam cupio vivere.

Evtychvs

Mane, mane obsecro, Charine.

Char.

Quis me revocat?

Evt.

Eutychus,
tuos amicus et sodalis, simul vicinus proximus.

Char.

Non tu scis, quantum malarum rerum sustineam.

Evt.

Scio;
omnia ego istaec auscultavi ab ostio, omnem rem scio.

C.

10 Quid id est quod scis?

E.

Tuos pater volt vendere —

C.

Omnem rem tenes.

Evt.

Tuam amicam.

Char.

Nimium multum scis.

Evt.

Tuis ingratiis.

Char.

Plurimum tu scis. sed qui scis esse amicam illam meam?

Evt.

Tute heri ipse mihi narrasti.

Char.

Satin ut oblitus fui, tibi me narravisse?

Evt.

Hau mirumst factum.

Char.

Te nunc consulo.

15 responde: quo leto censes me ut peream potissimum?

Evt.

Non taces? cave tu istuc dixis.

Char.

Quid vis me igitur dicere?

Evt.

Vin patri sublinere pulchre me os tuo?

Char.

Sane volo.

E.

Visne eam ad portum —

C.

Qui potius quam voles?

E.

Atque eximam mulierem pretio?

C.

Qui potius quam auro expendas?

E.

Vnde erit?

Char.

20 Achillem orabo, aurum ut mihi det, Hector qui expensus fuit.

Evt.

Sanun es?

Char.

Pol sanus si sim, non te medicum mi expetam.

Evt.

Tanti quanti poscit, vin tanti illam emi?

Char.

Auctarium

adicito vel mille nummum plus quam poscet.

Evt.

Iam tace.

sed quid ais? unde erit argentum quod des, quom poscet pater?

Char.

25 Invenietur, exquiretur, aliquid fiet; enicas.

Evt.

Iam istuc 'aliquid fiet' metuo.

Char.

Quin taces?

Evt.

Muto imperas.

C.

Satin istuc mandatumst?

E.

Potin ut aliud cures?

C.

Non potest.

Evt.

Bene vale.

Char.

Non edepol possum prius quam tu ad me redieris.

E.

Melius sanus sis.

C.

Vale, vince ét me serva.

E.

Ego fecero.

30 domi maneto me.

Char.

Ergo actutum face cum praeda recipias. —

ACT III.

Lysimachus

Amice amico operam dedi: vicinus quod rogavit, hoc emi mercimonium. mea es tu, sequere sane.
ne plora: nimis stulte facis, oculos corrumpis tales.
quin tibi quidem quod rideas magis est, quam ut lamentere.

Pasicompsa

5 Amabo ecastor, mi senex, eloquere —

Lys.

Exquire quidvis.

Pas.

Cur emeris me.

Lys.

Tene ego? ut quod imperetur facias, item quod tu mihi si imperes, ego faciam.

Pas.

Facere certumst
pro copia et sapientia quae te velle arbitrabor.

Lys.

Laboriosi nil tibi quicquam operis imperabo.

Pas.

10 Namque edepol equidem, mi senex, non didici baiolare nec pecua ruri pascere nec pueros nutrire.

Lys.

Bona si esse vis, bene erit tibi.

Pas.

Tum pol ego perii misera.

Lys.
Qui?

Pas.
Quia illim unde huc advecta sum, malis bene esse solitumst.

Lys.
Quasi dicas nullam mulierem bonam esse.

Pas.
Haud equidem dico,
15 nec mos meust ut praedicem quod ego omnis scire credam.

Lys.
Oratio edepol pluris est huius quam quanti haec emptast.
rogare hoc unum te volo.

Pas.
Roganti respondebo.

Lys.
Quid ais tu? quid nomen tibi dicam esse?

Pas.
Pasicompsae.

Lys.
Ex forma nomen inditumst. sed quid ais, Pasicompsa?
20 possin tu, si usus venerit, subtemen tenue nere?

Pas.
Possum.

Lys.
Si tenue scis, scio te uberius posse nere.

Pas.
De lanificio neminem metuo, una aetate quae sit.

Lys.

Bonam hercle te et frugi arbitror, matura iam † inde aetate quom scis facere officium tuom, mulier.

Pas.

Pol docta didici.

25 operam accusari non sinam meam.

Lys.

Em istaec hercle res est.

ovem tibi eccillam dabo, natam annos sexaginta, peculiarem.

Pas.

Mi senex, tam vetulam?

Lys.

Generis graecist;

eam si curabis, perbonast, tondetur nimium scite.

Pas.

Honoris causa quidquid est quod dabitur gratum habebo.

Lys.

30 Nunc, mulier, ne tu frustra sis, mea non es, ne arbitrere.

Pas.

Dic igitur quaeso, quoa sum?

Lys.

Tuo ero redempta es rursum;

ego te redemi, ille mecum oravit.

Pas.

Animus rediit,

si mecum servatur fides.

Lys.

Bono animo es, liberabit ille te homo: ita edepol deperit, atque hodie primum vidit.

Pas.

35 Ecce iam bienniumst, quom mecum rem coe+pit.
nunc, quando amicum te scio esse illius, indicabo.

Lys.

Quid ais tu? iam bienniumst, quom tecum rem habet?

Pas.

Certo;

et inter nos coniuravimus, ego cum illo et ille mecum:
ego cum viro et ille cum muliere, nisi cum illo aut ille mecum, 40 neuter stupri causa caput limaret.

Lys.

Di immortales,
etiam cum uxore non cubet?

Pas.

Amabo, an maritust?
neque est neque erit.

Lys.

Nolim quidem. homo hercle periuravit.

Pas.

Nullum adolescentem plus amo.

Lys.

Puer est ille quidem, stulta.
nam illi quidem haec sane diu quom dentes exciderunt.

Pas.

45 Quid, dentes?

Lys.

Nihil est. sequere sis. hunc me diem unum oravit ut apud me praehiberem locum, ideo quia uxor rurist. —

Demipho

Tandem impetravi ut egomet me corrumperem:
emptast amica clam uxorem et clam filium.
certumst, antiqua recolam et servibo mihi.
decurso spatio breve quod vitae relicuomst 5 voluptáte, vino et amore delectavero.
nam hanc se bene habere aetatem nimios aequius.
adulescens quom sis, tum quom est sanguis integer, rei tuae quaerundae convenit operam dare;
demum igitur quom sis iam senex, tum in otium 10 te conloces, dum potes ames: id iam lucrumst quod vivis. hoc ut dico, factis persequar.
interea tamen huc intro ad me invisam domum:
uxor me exspectat iam dudum esuriens domi;
iam iurgio enicabit, si intro rediero.
15 verum hercle postremo, utut est, non ibo tamen, sed hunc vicinum prius conveniam quam domum redeam; ut mihi aedis aliquas conducat volo, ubi habitet istaec mulier. atque eccum it foras.

Lysimachus

Adducam ego illum iam ad te, si convenero.

Dem.

Me dicit.

Lys.

Quid ais, Demipho?

Dem.

Est mulier domi?

Lys.

Quid censes?

Dem.

Quid si visam?

Lys.

Quid properas? mane.

Dem.

Quid faciam?

Lys.

Quod opust facto facito ut cogites.

Dem.

5 Quid cogitem? equidem hercle opus hoc facto existimo, ut illo íntro eam.

Lys.

Itane vero, vervex? intro eas?

Dem.

Quid aliud faciam?

Lys.

Prius hoc ausculta, atque ades:
prius etiamst, quod te facere ego aequom censeo.
nam nunc si illuc intro ieris, amplecti voles, 10 confabulari atque osculari.

Dem.

Tu quidem
meum animum gestas: scis quid acturus siem.

Lys.

Pervorse facies.

Dem.

Quodne ames —

Lys.

Tanto minus.

ieiunitatis plenus, anima foetida, senex hircosus tu osculere mulierem?

15 utíne adveniens vomitum excutias mulieri?

scio pol te amare, quom istaec praemonstras mihi.

Dem.

Quid si igitur unum faciam hoc? si censes, coquom aliquem arripiamus, prandium qui percoquat apud te hic usque ad vesperum.

Lys.

Em istuc censeo.

20 nunc tu sapienter loquere atque amatorie.

Dem.

Quid stamus? quin ergo imus atque obsonium curamus, pulchre ut simus?

Lys.

Equidem te sequor.

atque hercle invenies tu locum illi, si sapis:

nullum hercle praeter hunc diem illa apud med erit.

25 metuo ego uxórem, cras si rure redierit ne illam hic offendat.

Dem.

Res parata est, sequere me. —

Charinvs

Súmne ego homo miser, qui nusquam bene queo quiescere?

si domi sum, foris est animus, sin foris sum, animus domist.

ita mi in pectore atque in corde facit amor incendium:

ni ex oculis lacrumae defendant, iam ardeat credo caput.

5 spem teneo, salutem amisi; redeat an non, nescio:

si opprimit pater quod dixit, exsulatum abiit salus;

sin sodalis quod promisit fecit, non abiit salus.

sed tamen dem si podagrosis pedibus esset Eutyclus,
iam a portu rediisse potuit. id illi vitium maximumst, 10 quod nimis tardus est advorsum mei animi sententiam.
sed in est, quem currentem video? ípsus est. ibo obviam.
nunc, quod restat, ei disperii: voltus neutiquam huius placet;
tristis incédit (pectus ardet, haereo), quassat caput.

Eutyche.

Etychvs
Eu, Charine.

Char.
Prius quam recipias anhelitum,
15 uno verbo eloquere: ubi égo sum? hicine an apud mortuos?

Evt.
Neque apud mortuos neque hic es.

Char.
Salvos sum, immortalitas mihi data est: hic emit illam, pulchre os sublevit patri.
impetrabilior qui vivat nullus est. dice, obsecro:
si neque hic neque Acherunti sum, úbi sum?

Evt.
Nusquam gentium.

Char.
20 Disperii, illaec interemit me modó oratio.

Evt.
Odiosast oratio, cum rém agas longinquom loqui.

Char.
Quidquid est, ad capita rerum perveni.

Evt.

Primum omnium:
periimus.

Char.
Quin tu illud potius nuntias quod nescio?

Evt.
Mulier alienata est abs te.

Char.
Eutyché, capital facis.

Evt.
25 Qui?

Char.
Quia aequalem et sodalem, liberum civem, enicas.

Evt.
Ne di sierint.

Char.
Demisisti gladium in iugulum: iam cadam.

Evt.
Quaeso hercle, animum ne desponde.

Char.
Nullust quem despondeam.
loquere porro aliam malam rem. cui est empta?

Evt.
Nescio.
iam addicta atque abducta erat, quom ad portum venio.

Char.
Vae mihi,
30 montis tu quidem mali in me ardentis iam dudum iacis.

perge, excrucia, carnufex, quandoquidem occepisti semel.

Evt.

Non tibi istuc mágis dividiaest, quam mihí hodie fuit.

C.

Dic, quis emit?

E.

Nescio hercle.

C.

Em istúcinest operam dare
bonum sodalem?

Evt.

Quid me facere vis?

Char.

Idem quod me vides,
35 ut pereas. quin percontatu's, hominis quae facies foret qui illam emisset: eo si pacto posset indagarier mulier? heu me miserum.

Evt.

Flere omitte, istuc quod nunc agis.

Evt.

Quid ego feci?

Char.

Perdidisti me et fidem mecum tuam.

Evt.

Di sciunt culpam meam istanc non esse ullam.

Char.

Eugepae,

40 deos absentis testis memoras: quí ego istuc credam tibi?

Evt.

Quia tibi in manu est quod credas, ego quod dicam, id mi in manust.

Char.

De istac ré argutus es, ut par pari respondeas, ad mandata claudus caecus mutus mancus debilis.
promittebas te os sublinere meo patri: egomet credidi
45 homini docto rem mandare, is lapidi mando maximo.

Evt.

Quid ego facerem?

Char.

Quid tu faceres? men rogas? requireres, rogitares quis esset aut unde esset, qua prosapia, civisne esset an peregrinus.

Evt.

Civem esse aibant Atticum.

Char.

Vbi habitaret invenires saltem, si nomen nequis.

Evt.

50 Nemo aiebat scire.

Char.

At saltem hóminis faciem exquireres.

Evt.

Feci.

Char.

Qua forma esse aiebant igitur?

Evt.

Ego dicam tibi:
canum, varum, ventriosum, bucculentum, breviculum, subnigris oculis, oblongis malis, pansam aliquantulum.

Char.

Non hominem mihi, sed thesaurum nescio quem memoras mali.
55 numquid est quod dicas aliud de illo?

Evt.

Tantum, quod sciam.

Char.

Edepol ne ille oblongis malis mihi dedit magnum malum.
non possum durare, certumst exulatum hinc ire me.
sed quam capiam civitatem, cogito, potissimum:
Megares, Eretriam, Corinthum, Chalcidem, Cretam, Cyprum, 60 Sicyonem, Cnidum, Zacynthum, Lesbiam, Boeotiam.

Evt.

Cur istuc coeptas consilium?

Char.

Quia enim me adfflictat amor.

Evt.

Quid tu ais? quid cum illuc, quo nunc ire paritas, veneris, sí ibi amare forte occipias atque item eius sit inopia,
iam inde porro aufugies, deinde item illinc, sí item evenerit?
65 quis modus tibi exílio tandem eveniet, qui finis fugae?
quae patria aut domus tibi stabilis esse poterit? dic mihi.
cedo, si hac urbe abis, amorem te hic relicturum putas?
si id fore ita sat animo acceptum est, certum id, pro certo si habes, quanto te satiust rus aliquo abire, ibi esse, ibi vivere 70 adeo dum illius te cupiditas atque amor missum facit?

Char.

Iam dixisti?

Evt.
Dixi.

Char.

Frustra dixti. hoc mihi certissimumst.
eo domum, patrem atque matrem ut meos salutem, postea clam patrem patria hac effugiam, aut aliquid capiam consili. —

Evt.

Vt corripuit se repente atque abiit. heu misero mihi, 75 si ille abierit, mea factum omnes dicent esse ignavia.
certumst praeconum iubere iam quantum est conducier, qui illam investigent, qui inveniant. post ad praetorem ilico ibo, orabo, ut conquaestores det mi in vicis omnibus; nam mihi nil relictum quicquam aliud iam esse intellego. —

ACT IV.

Dorippa

Quoniam a viro ad me rus advenit nuntius, rus non iturum, feci ego ingenium meum, reveni, ut illum persequar qui me fugit.
sed anum non video consequi nostram Syram.
5 atque eccam incedit tandem. quin is ocius?

Syra

nequeo mecastor, tantum hoc onerist quod fero.

Dor.

Quid oneris?

Syr.

Annos octoginta et quattuor;
et eodem accedit servitus, sudor, sitis:
simul haec quae porto deprimunt.

Dor.

Aliquid cedo

10 qui hanc vicini nostri áram augeam.
da sane hanc virgam lauri. abi tu intro.

Syr.

Eo. —

Dor.

Apollo, quaeso te, ut des pacem propitius, salutem et sanitatem nostrae familiae, meoque ut parcas gnato pace propitius.

Syra

15 Disperii, perii misera, vae miserae mihi.

Dor.

Satin tu sana es, obsecro? quid eiulas?

Syr.

Dorippa, mea Dorippa.

Dor.

Quid clamas, obsecro?

Syr.

Nescio quaest mulier intus hic in aedibus.

Dor.

Quid, mulier?

Syr.

Mulier meretrix.

Dor.

Veron serio?

Syr.

20 Nimium scis sapere, ruri quae non manseris.
quamvis insipiens poterat persentiscere

...

illam esse amicam tui viri bellissimi.

Dor.

Credo mecastor.

Syr.

Ei hac mecum, ut videas semul

25 tuam Alcumenam paelicem, Iuno mea. —

Dor.

Ecaster vero istuc eo quantum potest. —

Lysimachvs

Parumne ést malai rei, quod amat Demipho, ni sumptuosus insuper etiam siet?
decem sí vocasset summos ad cenam viros, nimium obsonavit. sed coquos, quasi in mari 5 solét hortator remiges hortarier, ita hortabatur. egomet conduxí coquom.
sed eum demiror non venire, ut iusseram.
sed quinam hinc a nobis exit? aperitur foris.

Dorippa

Miserior mulier me nec fiet, nec fuit, tali viro quae nupserim. heu miserae mihi.
em quói te et tua, quae tu habeas, commendes viro, em quói decem talenta dotis detuli,
5 haec ut viderem, ut ferrem has contumelias.

Lys.

Perii hercle, rure iam rediit uxor mea:
vidisse credo mulierem in aedibus.
sed quae loquatur exaudire hinc non queo.
accedam propius.

Dor.

Vae miserae mi.

Lys.

Immo mihi.

Dor.

10 Disperii.

Lys.

Equidem hercle oppido perii miser.
vidit. ut te omnes, Demipho, di perduint.

Dor.

Pol hoc est, ire quod rus meus vir noluit.

Lys.

Quid nunc ego faciam nisi uti ádeam atque adloquar?
iubet salvere suos vir uxorem suam.

15 urbani fiunt rustici?

Dor.

Pudicius

faciunt, quam ílli qui non fiunt rustici.

Lys.

Num quid delinquent rustici?

Dor.

Ecastor minus

quam urbani, et multo minus mali quaerunt sibi.

Lys.

Quid autem urbani deliquerunt? dic mihi,

20 cupio hercle scire.

Dor.

Sed tu me temptas sciens.

quoia illa mulier intust?

Lys.

Vidistine eam?

Dor.

Vidi.

Lys.

Quoia ea sit rogitas?

Dor.

Resciscam tamen.

Lys.

Vin dicam quoiast? illa — illa edepol — vae mihi, nescio quid dicam.

Dor.
Haeres.

Lys.
Haud vidi magis.

Dor.
25 Quin dicis?

Lys.
Quin si liceat —

Dor.
Dictum oportuit.

Lys.
Non possum, ita instas; urges quasi pro noxio.

Dor.
Scio, innóxiu's.

Lys.
Audacter quam vis dicito.

Dor.
Dic igitur.

Lys.
Dicam.

Dor.
At qui dicundum est tamen.

Lys.
Illast — etiam vis nomen dicam?

Dor.

Nihil agis,

30 manifesto teneo in noxia.

Lys.

Qua noxia?

ista quidem illa est.

Dor.

Quae illa est?

Lys.

Illa —

Dor.

†Iohia

Lys.

Iam — si nihil usus esset, iam non dicerem.

Dor.

Non tu scis quae sit illa?

Lys.

Immo iam scio:

de istac sum iudex captus.

Dor.

Iudex? iam scio:

35 nunc tu in consilium istam advocavisti tibi.

Lys.

Immo sic: séquestro mihi datast.

Dor.

Intellego.

Lys.

Nihil hercle istius quicquam est.

Dor.

Numero purigas.

Lys.

Nimium negoti repperi. enim vero haereo.

Cocvs

Agite ite actutum, nam mi amatori seni coquendast cena. átque, quom recogito, nobis coquendast, non quoi conducti sumus.
nam quí amat quod amat sí habet, id habet pro cibo:
5 videre, amplecti, ósculari, álloqui;
sed nos confido onustos redituros domum.
ite hac. sed eccum qui nos conduxit senex.

Lys.

Ecce autem perii, coquos adest.

Coc.

Advenimus.

Lys.

Abi.

Coc.

Quid, abeam?

Lys.

St, abi.

Coc.

Abeam?

Lys.

Abi.

Coc.

10 Non estis cenaturi?

Lys.

Iam saturi sumus.

Coc.

Sed —

Lys.

Intérii.

Dor.

Quid ais tu? etiamne haec illi tibi iusserunt ferri, quos inter iudex datu's?

Coc.

Haecin tua est amica, quam dudum mihi te amare dixti, quom obsonabas?

Lys.

Non taces?

Coc.

15 Satis scítum filum mulieris. verum hercle anet.

Lys.

Abin díerectus?

Coc.

Haud malast.

Lys.

At tu malu's.

Coc.

Scitam hercle opinor concubinam hanc.

Lys.

Non abis?
non ego sum qui te dudum conduxī.

Coc.
Quid est?
immo hercle tu istic ip̄sus.

Lys.
Vae misero mihi.

Coc.
20 Nempe uxor rurist tua, quam dudum dixeras te odisse aequē atque anguis.†

Lys.
Egone istuc dixi tibi?

Coc.
Mihi quidem hercle.

Lys.
Ita me amabit Iuppiter, uxor, ut ego illud numquam dixi.

Dor.
Etiam negas?
palam istaec fiunt, te me odisse.

Lys.
Quin nego.

Coc.
25 Non, non te odisse aiebat, sed uxorem suam;
et uxórem suam ruri esse aiebat.

Lys.
Haec east.
quid mihi molestus?

Coc.

Quia novisse me negas;
nisi metuis tu istanc.

Lys.

Sapio, nam mihi unicast.

Coc.

Vin me experiri?

Lys.

Nolo.

Coc.

Mercedem cedo.

Lys.

30 Cras petito; dabitur. nunc abi.

Dor.

Heu miserae mihi.

Lys.

Nunc ego verum illud verbum esse experior vetus:
aliquid mali esse propter vicinum malum.

Coc.

Cur hic astamus? quin abimus? incommodi si quid tibi événit, id non est culpa mea.

Lys.

35 Quin me eradicas miserum.

Coc.

Scio iam quid velis:
nempe me hínc abire vis.

Lys.

Volo inquam.

Coc.

Abibitur.

drachmam dato.

Lys.

Dabitur.

Coc.

Dari ergo sis iube.

dari pótest interea dum illi ponunt.

Lys.

Quin abis?

potine ut molestus ne sis?

Coc.

Agite apponite

40 obsonium istuc ante pedes illi seni.

haec vasa aut mox aut cras iubebo abs te peti sequimíni. —

Lys.

Fortasse te illum mirari coquam,

quod venit atque haec attulit. dicam quid est.

Dor.

Non miror si quid damni facis aut flagiti.

45 nec pol ego patiar, sic me nuptam tam male measque in aedis sic scorta obductarier.

Syra, i, rogato meum patrem verbis meis, ut veniat ad me iam simul tecum. —

Syr.

Eo. —

Lys.

Nescis negoti quid sit, uxor, obsecro.
50 conceptis verbis iam iusiurandum dabo, me numquam quicquam cum illa — iamne abiit Syra?
perii hercle. ecce autem haec abiit. vae misero mihi.
at te, vicine, di deaeque perdunt, cum tua amíca cumque amationibus.
55 suspicione implevit me indignissime, concivit hostis dómi: uxór acerrumast.
ibo ad forum atque haec Demiphoni éloquar, me istanc capillo protracturum esse in viam,
nisi hinc abducit quo volt ex hisce aedibus.
60 uxor, heus uxor, quamquam tu irata es mihi, iubeas, si sapias, haec intró auferrier:
eadem licebit mox cenare rectius. —

Syra

Era quo me misit, ad patrem, non est domi:
rus abiisse aibant. nunc domum renuntio.

Evtychvs

Defessus sum urbem totam pervenarier:
nihil investigo quicquam de illa muliere.
5 sed mater rure rediit, nam video Syram astare ante aedis. Syra.

Syr.

Quis est qui me vocat?

Evt.

Erus atque alumnus tuos sum.

Syr.

Salve, alumne mi.

Evt.

Iam mater rure rediit? responde mihi.

Syr.

Sua quidem salute ac familiai maxuma.

Evt.

10 Quid istúc negotist?

Syr.

Tuos pater bellissimus amicam adduxit intro in aedis.

Evt.

Quo modo?

Syr.

Adveniens mater rure eam offendit domi.

Evt.

Pol haud censebam istarum esse operarum patrem.
etiam nunc mulier intust?

Syr.

Etiam.

Evt.

Sequere me. —

Syr.

Ecastor lege dura vivont mulieres multoque iniquiore miserae quam viri.
nam si vir scortum duxit clam uxorem suam, id si rescivit uxor, impunest viro;
5 uxor virum si clam domo egressa est foras,
viro fit causa, exigitur matrimonio.
utinam lex esset eadem quae uxori est viro;
nam uxor contenta est, quae bona est, uno viro:
qui minus vir una uxore contentus siet?
10 ecastor faxim, si itidem plectantur viri, si quis clam uxorem duxerit scortum suam, ut illae éxiguntur quae in se culpam commerent, plures viri sint vidui quam nunc mulieres. —

ACT V.

Charinvs

Límen superum ínferumque, salve, simul autem vale:
hunc hodie postremum extollo mea domo patria pedem.
usus, fructus, victus, cultus iam mihi harunc aedium interemptust, interfectust, alienatust. occidi.

5 di penates meum parentum, familiai Lar pater, vobis mando, meum parentum rem bene ut tutemini.
ego mihi alios deos penatis persequar, alium Larem, aliam urbem, aliam civitatem: ab Atticis abhorreo;
nám ubi mores deteriores increbrescunt in dies, 10 ubi qui amici, qui infideles sint nequeas pernoscere ubique id eripiat, animo tuo quod placeat maxume, ibi quidem si regnum detur, non cupita est civitas.

Evtychvs

Divom atque hominum quae spectatrix atque era eadem es hominibus,

spem speratam quom obtulisti hanc mihi, tibi grates ago.
ecquisnam deus est, qui mea nunc laetus laetitia fuat?
domi erát quod quaeritabam: sex sodales repperi, 5 vitam, amícitiam, civitátem, laetitiam, ludum, iocum;
eorum inventu res simitu pessumas pessum dedi,
iram, inimicitiam, maerorem, lacrumas, exilium, inopiam solitudinem, stultitiam, exitium, pertinaciam.
date, di, quaeso conveniundi mi eius celerem copiam.

Char.

10 Apparatus sum ut videtis: abicio superbiam;
egomet mihi comes, calator, equos, agaso, ármiger, egomet sum mihi imperator, idem egomet mihi oboedio, egomet mihi fero quod usust. o Cupido, quantus es.
nam tu quemvis confidentem facile tuis factis facis,
15 eundem ex confidente actutum diffidentem denuo.

Evt.

Cogito quonam égo illum curram quaeritatum.

Char.

Certa res

me usque quaerere illam, quoquo hinc abductast gentium; neque mihi ulla obsistet amnis nec mons neque adeo mare, nec calor nec frigus metuo neque ventum neque grandinem; 20 imbrem perpetiar, laborem sufferam, solem, sitim;
non concedam neque quiescam úsquam noctu neque dius prius profecto quam aut amicam aut mortem investigavero.

Evt.

Nescio quóia vox ad aures mi advolavit.

Char.

Invoco

vos, Lares viales, ut me bene tutetis.

Evt.

Iuppiter,

25 estne illic Charinus?

Char.

Cives, bene valete.

Evt.

Illico

sta, Charine.

Char.

Qui me revocat?

Evt.

Spes, Salus, Victoria.

Ch.

Quid me voltis?

E.

Ire tecum.

Ch.

Alium comitem quaerite,
non amittunt hi me comites qui tenent.

Evt.

Qui sunt ei?

Char.

Cura, miseria, aegritudo, lacrumae, lamentatio.

Evt.

30 Repudia istos comites atque hoc respice et revortere.

Char.

Siquidem mecum fabulari vis, subsequere.

Evt.

Sta ilico.

Char.

Male facis, properantem qui me commorare. sol abit.

Evt.

Si huc item properes ut istuc properas, facias rectius:

huc secundus ventus nunc est; cape modo vorsoriam:

35 hic favonius serenust, istic auster imbricus;

hic facit tranquillitatem, iste omnis fluctus conciet.

recipe te ad terram, Charine, huc. nonne ex advorso vides, nubis atra imberque ut instat? aspice ad sinistram, caelum ut est splendore plenum atque ut dei istuc vorti iubent?

Char.

40 Religionem illic mi obiecit: recipiam me illuc.

Evt.

Sapis.

o Charine, contra pariter fer gradum et confer pedem, porge bracchium.

Char.

Prehende. iam tenes?

Evt.

Teneo.

Char.

Tene.

Evt.

Quo nunc ibas?

Char.

Exulatum.

Evt.

Quid ibi faceres?

Char.

Quod miser.

Evt.

Ne pave, restituam iam ego te in gaudio antiquo ut sies.

45 maxime quod vis audire, id audies, quod gaudeas sta ilico, amicus aduenio multum beneuolens.

tuam amicam —

Ch.

Quid eam?

E.

Vbi sit ego scio.

Ch.

Tune, obsecro?

Evt.

Sanam et salvam.

Char.

Vbi eam salvam?

Evt.

Ego scio.

Char.

Ego me mavelim.

Evt.

Potin ut animo sis tranquillo?

Char.

Quid si mi animus fluctuat?

Evt.

50 Ego istum in tranquillo quieto tuto sistam: ne time.

Char.

Obsecro te, loquere propere ubi sit, ubi eam videris.
quid taces? dic. enicas me miserum tua reticentia.

Evt.

Non longe hinc abest a nobis.

Char.

Quin ergo commostras, si vides?†

Evt.

Non video hercle nunc, sed vidi modo.

Char.

Quin égo videam facis?

Evt.

55 Faciam.

Char.

Longum istuc amantist.

Evt.

Etiam metuis? omnia
commonstrabo. amior mihi nullus vivit atque is est qui illam habet, neque est quod magis me velle melius aequum siet.

Char.

Non curo istunc, de illa quaero.

Evt.

De illa ergo ego dico tibi.
sane hoc non in mentem venit dudum, ut ubi sit dicerem.

Char.

60 Dic igitur, ubi illa est?

Evt.

In nostris aedibus.

Char.

Aedis probas,
si tu vera dicis; pulchre aedificatas arbitro.
sed qui ego istuc credam? vidistin an de audito nuntias?

E.

Egomet vidi.

Ch.

Quis eam adduxit ad vos?

E.

Vt inique rogas.

quid tua refert, qui cum istac venerit?

Char.

Dum istic siet.

65 vera dicis?

Evt.

Nil, Charine, te quidem quicquam pudet;

est profecto.

Char.

Opta ergo ob istunc nuntium quid vis tibi.

Evt.

Quid si optabo?

Char.

Deos orato ut eius faciant copiam.

Evt.

Derides.

Char.

Servata res est demum, si illam videro.

sed quin ornatum hunc reicio? heus, aliquis actutum huc foras

70 exite illinc, pallium mi ecferte.

Evt.

Em, nunc tu mihi places.

Char.

Optume advenis, pueré, cape chlamydem atque istic sta ilico, ut, si haec non sint vera, inceptum hoc itiner perficere exsequar.

Evt.

Non mihi credis?

Char.

Omnia equidem credo quae dicis mihi.
sed quin intro ducis me ad eam, ut videam?

Evt.

Paulisper mane.

Ch.

75 Quid, manebo?

E.

Tempus non est intro eundi.

Ch.

Enicas.

Evt.

Non opus est, inquam, nunc intro te ire.

Char.

Responde mihi,
qua causa?

Evt.

Operae non est.

Char.

Cur?

Evt.

Quia non est illi commodum.

Char.

Itane? commodum illi non est, quae me amat, quam ego contra amo?
omnibus hic ludificatur me modis. ego stultior, 80 qui isti credam. commoratur. chlamydem sumam denuo.

Evt.

Mane parumper atque haec audi.

Char.

Cape sis, puere, hoc pallium.

Evt.

Mater irata est patri vehementer, quia scortum sibi ob oculos adduxerit in aedis, dum ruri ipsa abest: suspicatur illam amicam esse illi.

Char.

Sonam sustuli.

Evt.

85 Eam rem nunc exquirat intus.

Char.

Iam machaerast in manu.

Evt.

Nam si eo ted intro ducam —

Char.

Tollo ampullam atque hinc eo.

Evt.

Mane, mane, Charine.

Char.

Erras, me decipere haud potes.

Evt.

Neque edepol volo.

Char.

Quin tu ergo itiner exsequi meum me sinis?

Evt.

Non sino.

Char.

Egomet me moror. tu puere, abi hinc intro ocus.

90 iam in currum escendi, iam lora ín manus cepi meas.

Evt.

Sanus non es.

Char.

Quin, pedes, vos in curriculum conicitis in Cyprum recta, quandoquidem pater mihi exilium parat?

Evt.

Stultus es, noli istuc quaeso dicere.

Char.

Certum exsequist,

operam ut sumam ad pervestigandum, ubi sit illaec.

Evt.

Quin domist.

Char.

95 Nam hic quod dixit, id mentitust.

Evt.

Vera dixi equidem tibi.

Char.

Iam Cyprum veni.

Evt.

Quin sequere, ut illam videas quam expetis.

Char.

Percontatus non inveni.

Evt.

Matris iam iram neglego.

Char.

Porro proficiscor quaesitum. nunc perveni Chalcidem;
video ibi hospitem Zacyntho, dico quid eo advenerim, 100 rogo quis eam vexerit, quis habeat si ibi indauidiverit.

Evt.

Quin tu istas omittis nugas ac mecum huc intro ambulas?

Char.

Hospes respondit, Zacynthi ficos fieri non malas.

Evt.

Nil mentitust.

Char.

Sed de amica se indauidivisse autumat, hic Athenis esse.

Evt.

Calchas iste quidem Zacynthiust.

Char.

105 Navem conscendo, proficiscor ilico. iam sum domi,
iam redii ex exilio. salve, mi sodalis Eutyche:
ut valuisti? quid parentes mei? valent mater pater?
bene vocas, benigne dicis: cras apud te, nunc domi.
sic decet, sic fieri oportet.

Evt.

†Eloque ni somnias.

110 hic homo non sanust.

Char.

Medicari amicus quin properas mihi?

Evt.

Sequere sis.

Char.
Sequor.

Evt.
Clementer quaeso, calces deteris.
audin tu?

Char.
Iam dudum audivi.

Evt.
Pacem componi volo
meo patri cum matre: nam nunc est irata —

Char.
I modo.

Evt.
Propter istanc.

Char.
I modo.

Evt.
Ergo cura.

Char.
Quin tu ergo i modo.
115 tam propitiam reddam, quam quom propitias Iuno Iovi. —

Demipho
Quasi tu numquam quicquam adsimile huius facti feceris.

Lysimachvs
Edepol numquam; cavi ne quid facerem. vix vivo miser.
nam mea uxor propter illam tota in fermento iacet.

Dem.

At ego expurigationem habeo, ut ne suscenseat.

Lys.

5 Sequere me. sed exeuntem filium video meum.

Evytychvs

Ad patrem ibo, ut matris iram sibi esse sedatam sciat.
iam redeo.

Lys.

Placet principium. quid agis? quid fit, Eutyche?

Evt.

Optima opportunitate ambo advenistis.

Lys.

Quid rei est?

Evt.

Vxor tibi placida ét placatast. cete dextras nunciam.

Lys.

5 Di me servant.

Evt.

Tibi amicam ésse nullam nuntio.

Dem.

Di te perdant. quid negotist nam, quaeso, istuc?

Evt.

Eloquar.

animum advortite igitur ambo.

Dem.

Quin tibi ambo operam damus.

Evt.

Qui bono sunt genere nati, si sunt ingenio malo, suapte culpa genere sapiunt, genus ingenio improbant.

Dem.

10 Verum hic dicit.

Lys.

Tibi ergo dicit.

Evt.

Eo illud est verum magis.

nam te istac aetate haud aequom filio fuerat tuo adulescenti amanti amicam eripere emptam argento suo.

Dem.

Quid tu ais? Charini amicast illa?

Evt.

Vt dissimulat malus.

Dem.

Ille quidem illam sese ancillam matri emissee dixerat.

Evt.

15 Propterea igitur tu mercatu's, novos amator, vetus puer?

Lys.

Optume hercle, perge tú, ego ádsistam hinc altrinsecus.

quibus est dictis dignus, usque oneremus ambo.

Dem.

Nullus sum.

Lys.

Filio suo qui innocenti fecit tantam iniuriam.

Evt.

Quem quidem hercle ego, in exilium cum iret, redduxi domum;

20 nam ibat exulatum.

Dem.

An abiit?

Lys.

Etiam loquere, larua?

temperare istac aetate istis decebat artibus.

Dem.

Fateor, deliqui profecto.

Evt.

Etiam loquere, larua?

vacuom esse istac ted aetate hís decebat noxiis.

itidem ut tempus anni, aetatem aliam áliud factum condecet;

25 nam si istuc ius est, senecta aetate scortari senes, ubi locist res summa nostra publica?

Dem.

Ei, perii miser.

Lys.

Adulscntes rei agendae isti magis solent operam dare.

Dem.

Iam obsecro hercle vobis habete cum porcis, cum fiscina.

Evt.

Redde illi.

Dem.

Sibi habeat, iam ut volt per me sibi habeat licet.

Evt.

30 Temperi edepol, quoniam ut aliter facias non est copia.

Dem.

Supplici sibi sumat quid volt ipse ob hanc iniuriam, modo pacem faciatís oro, ut ne mihi iratus siet.

si hercle scivissem sive adeo ioculo dixisset mihi, se illam amare, numquam facerem ut illam amanti abducerem.
35 Eutyche, ted oro, sodalis eius es, sérvā et subveni:
hunc senem para me clientem; memorem dices benefici.

Lys.

Ora ut ignoscat delictis tuis atque adolescentiae.

Dem.

Pergin tu autem? heia, superbe invehere. spero ego mihi quoque tempus tale eventurum, ut tibi gratiam referam parem.

Lys.

40 Missas iam égo istas artis feci.

Dem.

Et quidem ego dehinc iam.

Evt.

Nihil agis:

consuetudine animus rursus te huc inducet.

Dem.

Obsecro,

satis iam ut habeatís. quin loris caedite etiam, si lubet.

Lys.

Recte dicis. sed istuc uxor faciet, quom hoc resciverit.

Dem.

Nihil opust resciscat.

Evt.

Quid istic? non resciscet, ne time.

45 eamus intro, non utibilest hic locus, factis tuis, dum memoramus, arbitri ut sint qui praetereant per vias.

Dem.

Hercle qui tu recte dicis: eadem brevior fabula erit. eamus.

Evt.

Hic est intus filius apud nos tuos.

Dem.

Optumest. illac per hortum nos domum transibimus.

Lys.

50 Eutyche, hanc volo prius rém agi, quam meum intró refero pedem.

Evt.

Quid istuc est?

Lys.

Suam quisque homo rem meminit. responde mihi:
certon scis non suscensere mihi tuam matrem?

Evt.

Scio.

Lys.

Vide.

Evt.

Mea fide.

Lys.

Satis habeo. sed quaeso hercle, etiam vide.

Evt.

Non mihi credis?

Lys.

Immo credo, sed tamen metuo miser.

Dem.

55 Eamus intro.

Evt.

Immo dicamus senibus legem censeo, prius quam abeamus, qua se lege teneant contentique sint.
annos gnatus sexaginta quí erit, si quem scibimus si maritum sive hercle adeo caelibem scortarier, cúm eo nos hac lege agemus: inscitum arbitrabimur, 60 et per nos quidem hercle egebit qui suom prodegerit.
neu quisquam posthac prohibeto ádulescentem filium quin amet et scortum ducat, quod bono fiat modo; siquis prohibuerit, plus perdet clam quasi praehibuerit palam.
haec adeó ut ex hac nocte primum lex teneat senes.
65 bene valete; atque, adulescentes, haec si vobis lex placet, ob senum hercle industriam vos aequom est clare plaudere.

ACT II.

Palaestrio

Mihi ad enarrandum hoc argumentum est comitas, si ad auscultandum vostra erit benignitas;
qui autem auscultare nolet, exsurgat foras,
ut sit ubi sedeat ille qui auscultare volt.

5 nunc qua adsedistis causa in festivo loco, comoediai quam nos acturi sumus et argumentum et nomen vobis eloquar.

Alazon Graece huic nomen est comoediae, id nos Latine gloriosum dicimus.

10 hoc oppidum Ephesus; ille miles meus erus, qui hinc ad forum abiit, gloriosus, impudens, stercoreus, plenus periuri atque adulteri.

ait sésé ultro omnis mulieres sectarier:
is deridiculost, quaquam incedit, omnibus.

15 itaque hic meretrices, labiis dum ductant eum, maiolem partem videas valgis saviis.

nam ego hau diu apud hunc servitutem servio;
id volo vos scire, quo modo ad hunc devenerim in servitutem ab eo cui servivi prius.

20 date operam, nam nunc argumentum exordiar.
erat erus Athenis mihi adulescens optumus;
is amabat meretricem ... matre Athenis Atticis, et illa illum contra; qui est amor cultu optumus.

is publice legatus Naupactum fuit

25 magnai rei publicai gratia.

interibi hic miles forte Athenas advenit, insinuat sese ad illam amicam eri † occepit eius matri suppalarier vino, ornamentis opiparisque obsoniis,

30 itaque intimum ibi se miles apud lenam facit.

ubi primum evenit militi huic occasio, sublinit os illi lenae, matri mulieris, quam erus meus amabat; nam is illius filiam conicit in navem miles clam matrem suam, 35 eamque húc invitam mulierem in Ephesum advehit.

ubi amicam erilem Athenis avectam scio, ego quantum vivos possum mihi navem paro, inscendo, ut eam rem Naupactum ad erum nuntiem.
ubi sumus provecti in altum, fit quod di volunt, 40 capiunt praedones navem illam ubi vectus fui:
prius périi quam ad erum veni, quo ire occeperam.
ille quí me cepit dat me huic dono militi.
hic postquam in aedis me ad se deduxit domum, video illam amicam erilem, Athenis quae fuit.
45 ubi contra aspexit me, oculis mihi signum dedit, ne se appellarem; deinde, postquam occasio est,
conqueritur mecum mulier fortunas suas:
ait sése Athenas fugere cupere ex hac domu, sese illum amare meum erum, Athenis qui fuit, 50 neque peius quemquam odisse quam istum militem.
ego quoniam inspexi mulieris sententiam, cepi tabellas, consignavi, clanculum dedi mércatori cuidam, qui ad illum deferat meum erum, qui Athenis fuerat, qui hanc amaverat, 55 ut is huc veniret. is non sprexit nuntium; nam et venit et is in proximo hic devertitur apud suom paternum hóspitem, lepidum senem; isque illi amanti suo hospiti morem gerit nosque opera consilioque adhortatur, iuvat.
60 itaque ego paravi hic intus magnas machinas, qui amantis una inter se facerem convenas.
nam unum conclave, concubinae quod dedit miles, quo nemo nisi eapse inferret pedem, in eo conclavi égo perfodi parietem, 65 qua commeatus clam esset hinc huc mulieri;
et sene sciente hoc feci: is consilium dedit.
nam meus conservos est homo haud magni preti, quem concubinae miles custodem addidit.
ei nos facitis fabricis et doctis dolis 70 glaucumam ob oculos obiciemus eumque ita faciemus ut quod viderit ne viderit.

et mox ne erretis, haec duarum hodie vicem suam et hinc et illinc mulier feret imaginem, atque eadem erit, verum alia esse adsimulabitur.

75 ita sublinetur os custodi mulieris.
sed foris concrepuit hinc a vicino sene;
ipse exit: hic ille est lepidus quem dixi senex.

Periplectomenus

Ni hércle diffregéritis talos pósthac quemque in tégulis videritis alienum, ego vostra faciam latera lorea.
mi equidem iam arbitri vicini sunt, meae quid fiat domi,
ita per impluvium intro spectant. nunc adeo edico omnibus:
5 quemque a milite hoc videritis hominem in nostris tegulis, extra unum Palaestrionem, huc deturbatote in viam.
quod ille gallinam aut columbam se sectari aut simiam dicat, disperiistis ni usque ad mortem male mulcassitis.
atque adeo ut ne legi fraudem faciant aleariae,
10 adcuratote ut sine talis domi agitent convivium.

Pal.

Nescio quid malefactum a nostra hic familiast, quantum audio:
ita hic senex talos elidi iussit conservis meis;
sed me excepit: nihili facio, quid illis faciat ceteris.
adgrediar hominem.

Per.

Estne advorsum hic qui advenit Palaestrio?

Pal.

15 Quid agis, Periplectomene?

Per.

Hau multos homines, si optandum foret, nunc videre et convenire quam te mavellem.

Pal.

Quid est?

quid tumultuas cum nostra familia?

Per.

Occisi sumus.

Pal.

Quid negotist?

Per.

Res palamst.

Pal.

Quae res palamst?

Per.

De tegulis

modo nescio quis inspectavit vestrum familiarium

20 per nostrum impluvium intus ápuđ nos Philocomasium atque hospitem osculantis.

Pal.

Quis homo id vidit?

Per.

Tuos conservos.

Pal.

Quis is homost?

Per.

Nescio, ita abripuit repente sese subito.

Pal.

Suspikor

me periisse.

Per.

Vbi abit, conclamo: 'heus quid agis tu' inquam 'in tegulis?'
ille mihi abiens ita respondit 'se sectari simiam.'

Pal.

25 Vae mihi misero, quoi pereundumst propter nihili bestiam.
sed Philocomasium hicine etiam nunc est?

Per.

Quom exhibam, hic erat.

Pal.

I sis, iube transire huc quantum possit, se ut videant domi familiares, nisi quidem illa nos volt, qui servi sumus, propter amorem suom omnes crucibus contubernales dari.

Per.

30 Dixi ego istuc; nisi quid aliud vis.

Pal.

Volo. hoc ei dicito:
profecto ut ne quoquam de ingenio degrediatu muliebri earumque artem et disciplinam optineat colere.

Per.

Quem ad modum?

Pal.

Vt eum, qui hic se vidit, verbis vincat, ne is se viderit.
siquidem centiens hic visa sit, tamen infitias eat.

35 os habet, linguam, perfidiam, malitiam atque audaciam, confidentiam, confirmitatem, fraudulentiam.

qui arguat se, eum contra vincat iureiurando suo:

domi habet animum falsiloquom, falsificum, falsiurium, domi dolos, domi delenifica facta, dómi fallacias.

40 nam mulier holitori numquam supplicat, si quast mala:
domi habet hortum et condimenta ad omnis mores maleficos.

Per.

Ego istaec, si erit hic, nuntiabo. sed quid est, Palaestrio, quod volutas tute tecum in corde?

Pal.

Paulisper tace,
dúm ego mihi consilia in animum convoco et dum consulo 45 quid agam, quem dolum doloso contra conservo parem, qui illam hic vidit osculantem, id visum ut ne visum siet.

Per.

Quaere: ego hinc abscessero aps te huc interim. illuc sis vide, quem ad modum adstitit, severo fronte curans cogitans.
pectus digitis pultat, cor credo evocaturus foras;
50 ecce avortit: nixus laevo in femine habet laevam manum, dextera digitis rationem computat, ferit femur dexterum. ita vehementer icit: quod agat aegre suppetit.
concrepuit digitis: laborat; crebro commutat status,
eccere autem capite nutat: non placet quod repperit.
55 quidquid est, incoctum non expromet, bene coctum dabit.
ecce autem aedificat: columnam mento suffigit suo.
apage, non placet profecto mi illaec aedificatio;
nam os columnatum poetae esse indauidi barbaro, cui bini custodes semper totis horis occubant.
60 euge, euscheme hercle astitit et dulice et comoedice;
numquam hodie quiescet prius quam id quod petit perfecerit.
habet opinor. age si quid agis, vigila, ne somno stude, nisi quidem hic agitare mavis varius virgis vigilias.
tibi ego dico. an heri maduisti? heus te adloquor, Palaestrio:
65 vigila inquam, expergiscere inquam, lucet hoc inquam.

Pal.

Audio.

Per.

Viden hostis tibi adesse tuoque tergo obsidium? consule, arripe opem auxiliumque ad hanc rem: propere hoc, non placide decet.

anteveni aliqua aut tú aliquosum circumduce exercitum, coge in obsidium perduellis, nostris praesidium para;
70 interclude inimicis commeatum, tibi muni viam qua cibatus commeatusque ad te et legiones tuas tuto possit pervenire: hanc rém age, res subitaria est.
reperi, comminiscere, cedo calidum consilium cito, quae hic sunt visa ut visa ne sint, facta ut facta ne sient.
75 magnam illic homo rem incipissit, magna munit moenia.
tu unus si recipere hoc ad te dicis, confidentiast nos inimicos profligare posse.

Pal.

Dico et recipio
ad me.

Per.

Et ego impetrare dico id quod petis.

Pal.

At te Iuppiter
bene amet.

Per.

Auden participare me quod commentu's?

Pal.

Tace,
80 dum in regionem astutiarum mearum te induco, ut scias iuxta mecum mea consilia.

Per.

Salva sumes indidem.

Pal.

Erus meus elephanti corio circumtentust, non suo, neque habet plus sapientiai quam lapis.

Per.

Ego istuc scio.

Pal.

Nunc sic rationem incipisso, hanc institutam astutiam, 85 ut Philocomasio huc sororem geminam germanam alteram dicam Athenis advenisse cum amatore aliquo suo, tam similem, quam lacte lactist; apud te eos hic devortier dicam hospitio.

Per.

Euge euge, lepide, laudo commentum tuum.

Pal.

Vt si illic concriminatus sit advorsum militem 90 meus conservos, eam vidisse hic cum alieno oscularier, eam arguam vidisse apud te contra conservom meum cum suo amatore amplexantem atque osculantem.

Per.

Immo optume.

idem ego dicam, si ex me exquiret miles.

Pal.

Sed simillimas
dicito esse, et Philocomasio id praecipendum est ut sciat, 95 ne titubet, si exquiret ex ea miles.

Per.

Nimis doctum dolum.

sed si ambas videre in uno miles concilio volet,
quid agimus?

Pal.

Facilest: trecentae possunt causae conligi:
“non domist, abiit ambulatum, dormit, ornatur, lavat, prandet, potat: occupatast, operae non est, non potest”, 100 quantum vis prolationum, dum modo hunc prima via inducamus, vera ut esse credat quae mentibimur.

Per.

Placet ut dicis.

Pal.

Intro abi ergo, et si isti est mulier, eam iube cito domum transire, atque haec ei dice monstra praecipe, ut teneat consilia nostra, quem ad modum exorsi sumus, 105 de gemina sorore.

Per.

Docte tibi illam perdoctam dabo.
numquid aliud?

Pal.

Intro ut abeas.

Per.

Abeo. —

Pal.

Et quidem ego ibo domum atque hominem investigando operam huic dissimulabiliter dabo, qui fuerit conservos qui hodie sit sectatus simiam.
nam ille non pótuit quin sermone suo aliquem familiarium 110 participaverit de amica eri, sese vidisse eam hic in proximo osculantem cum alieno adolescentulo.
novi morem: egomet tacere nequeo solus quod scio.
si invenio qui vidit, ad eum vineas pluteosque agam:
res paratast, vi pugnandoque hominem caperest certa res.
115 si ita non reperio, ibo odorans quasi canis venaticus, usque donec persecutus volpem ero vestigiis.
sed fores crepuerunt nostrae, ego voci moderabor meae;
nam illic est Philocomasio custos meus conservos qui it foras.

Sceledrvs

Nisi quidem ego hodie ambulavi dormiens in tegulis, certo edepol scio me vidisse hic proximae viciniae
Philocomasium erilem amicam sibi malam rem quaerere.

Pal.

Hic illam vidit osculantem, quantum hunc audiui loqui.

Scel.

5 Quis hic est?

Pal.

Tuos conservos. quid agis, Sceledre?

Scel.

Te, Palaestrio,
volup est convenisse.

Pal.

Quid iam? aut quid negotist? fac sciam.

Scel.

Metuo —

Pal.

Quid metuis?

Scel.

Ne hercle hodie, quantum hic familiariumst, maximum in malum cruciatumque insuliamus.

Pal.

Tu sali
solus, nám ego istam insulturam et desulturam nil moror.

Scel.

10 Nescis tu fortasse, apud nos facinus quod natumst novom.

Pal.

Quod id est facinus?

Scel.

Impudicum.

Pal.

Tute scias soli tibi, mihi ne dixis, scire nolo.

Scel.

Non enim fáciam quin scias.
simiam hodie sum sectatus nostram in horum tegulis.

Pal.

Edepol, Sceledre, homo sectatu's nihili nequam bestiam.

Scel.

¹⁵ Di te perdant.

Pal.

Te istuc aequom — quoniam occepisti, eloqui.

Scel.

Forte fortuna per impluvium huc despexi in proximum, atque ego illi áspicio osculantem Philocomasium cum altero nescio quo adolescente.

Pal.

Quod ego, Sceledre, scelus ex te audio?

Scel.

Profecto vidi.

Pal.

Tutin?

Scel.

Egomet duobus his oculis meis.

Pal.

²⁰ Abi, non verisimile dicis, neque vidisti.

Scel.

Num tibi lippus videor?

Pal.

Medicum istuc tibi meliust percontarier.
verum enim tu istam, si te di ament, temere hau tollas fabulam:
tuis nunc cruribus capitique fraudem capitalem hinc creas.
nam tibi iam ut pereas paratum est dupliciter, nisi suppressis 25 tuom stultiloquium.

Scel.

Qui vero dupliciter?

Pal.

Dicam tibi.
primumdum, si falso insimulas Philocomasium, hoc perieris;
iterum, si id verumst, tu ei custos additus eo perieris.

Scel.

Quid fuat me, nescio: haec me vidisse ego certo scio.

Pal.

Pergin, infelix?

Scel.

Quid tibi vis dicam nisi quod viderim?
30 quin etiam nunc intus hic in proxumost.

Pal.

Eho an non domist?

Scel.

Vise, abi intro tute, nam ego mi iam nil credi postulo.

Pal.

Certum est facere. —

Scel.

Hic te opperiar; eadem illi insidias dabo, quam mox horsum ad stabulum iuuenix recipiat se a pabulo.
quid ego nunc faciam? custodem me illi miles addidit:
35 nunc si indicium facio, interii; si taceo, interii tamen, si hoc palam fuerit. quid peius muliere aut audacius?
dúm ego in tegulis sum, illaec sese ex hospitio edit foras;
edepol facinus fecit audax. hocine si miles sciat, credo hercle has sustollat aedis totas atque hunc in crucem.
40 hercle quidquid est, mussitabo potius quam inteream male;
non ego possum quae ipsa sese venditat tutarier.

Pal.

Sceledre, Sceledre, quis homo in terra te alter est audacior?
quis magis dís inimicis natus quam tu atque iratis?

Scel.

Quid est?

Pal.

Iuben tibi oculos exfodiri, quibus id quod nusquam est vides?

Scel.

45 Quid, nusquam?

Pal.

Non ego tuam empsim vitam vitiosa nuce.

Sc.

Quid negotist?

Pal.

Quid negoti sit rogas?

Sc.

Cur non rogem?

Pal.

Non tu tibi istam praetruncari linguam largiloquam iubes?

Scel.

Quam ob rem iubeam?

Pal.

Philocomasium eccam domi, quam in proxumo vidisse aibas te osculantem atque amplexantem cum altero.

Scel.

50 Mirumst lolio victitare te tam vili tritico.

Pal.

Quid iam?

Scel.

Quia luscitosu's.

Pal.

Verbero, edepol tu quidem caecus, non luscitosu's. nam illa quidem ... domi.

Scel.

Quid, domi?

Pal.

Domi hercle vero.

Scel.

Abi, ludis me, Palaestrio.

Pa.

Tum mihi sunt manus inquinatae.

Sc.

Qui dum?

Pa.

Quia ludo luto.

Scel.

55 Vae capiti tuo.

Pal.

Tuo istuc, Sceledre, promitto fore, nisi oculos orationemque aliam commutas tibi.
sed fores cóncrepuerunt nostrae.

Scel.

At ego ilico observo foris;
nam nihil est qua hinc huc transire ea possit nisi recto ostio.

Pal.

Quin domi eccam. nescio quae te, Sceledre, scelera suscitant.

Scel.

60 Mihi ego video, mihi ego sapio, mihi ego credo plurimum:
mé homo nemo deterrebit, quin ea sit in his aedibus.
hic obsistam, ne imprudenti huc ea se subrepsit mihi.

Pal.

Meus illic homo est, deturbabo iam ego illum de pugnaculis.
vin iam faciam, ut stultividum ... fateare?

Scel.

Age face.

Pal.

65 Neque te quicquam sapere corde neque oculis uti?

Scel.

Volo.

Pal.

Nempe tu istíc ais esse erilem concubinam?

Scel.

Atque arguo
eam me vidisse osculantem hic intus cum alieno viro.

Pal.

Scin tu nullum commeatum hinc esse a nobis?

Scel.

Scio.

Pal.

Neque solarium neque hortum, nisi per impluvium?

Scel.

Scio.

Pal.

70 Quid nunc? si ea domist, si facio, ut eam exire hinc videas domo, dignun es verberibus multis?

Scel.

Dignus.

Pal.

Serva istas fores,
ne tibi clam se subterducat istinc atque huc transeat.

Scel.

Consilium est ita facere.

Pal.

Pede ego iam illam huc tibi sistam in viam. —

Scel.

Agedum ergo face. vólo scire, utrum egon id quod vidi viderim 75 an illic faciat, quod facturum dicit, ut ea sit domi.

nam ego quidem meos oculos habeo nec rogo utendos foris.

sed hic illi subparasitatur semper, hic eae proxumust, primus ad cibum vocatur, primo pulmentum datur;

nam illic noster est fortasse circiter triennium,

80 neque cuiquam quam illi in nostra meliust famulo familia.

sed ego hoc quod ago, id me agere oportet, hoc observare ostium.

sic obsistam. hac quidem pol certo verba mihi numquam dabunt.

Pal.

Praecépta facito ut mémineris.

Philocomasivm

Totiéns monere mírumst.

Pal.

At metuo ut satis sis subdola.

Phil.

Cedo vel decem, edocebo minime malas ut sint malae, mihi solae quod superfit.

Pal.

Age nunciam insiste in dolos; ego abs te procul recedam.

5 quid ais tu, Sceledre?

Scel.

Hanc rem gero. habeo auris, loquere quidvis.

Pal.

Credo ego istoc extemplo tibi esse eundum actutum extra portam, dispessis manibus, patibulum quom habebis.

Scel.

Quamnam ob rem?

Pal.

Respice dum ad laevam: quis illaec est mulier?

Scel.

Pro di immortales, eri cóncubinast haec quidem.

Pal.

Mihi quoque pol ita videtur.

10 age nunciam, quando lubet —

Scel.

Quid agam?

Pal.

Perire propera.

Phil.

Vbi iste ést bonus sérvos, qui probri me maxumi innocentem falso insimulavit?

Pal.

Em tibi, hic mihi dixit tibi quae dixi.

Phil.

Tun me vidisse in proxumo hic, sceleste, ais osculantem?

Pal.

Atque cum álieno adolescentulo dixit.

Scel.

Dixi hercle vero.

Ph.

15 Tun me vidisti?

S.

Atque his quidem hercle oculis.

Ph.

Carebis, credo,
qui plus vident quam quod vident.

Scel.

Numquam hercle deterrebor
quin viderim id quod viderim.

Phil.

Ego stulta et mora multum, quae cum hoc insano fabuler, quem pol ego capitis perdam.

Scel.

Noli minitari: scio crucem futuram mihi sepulcrum;
20 ibi meí sunt maiores siti, pater, avos, proavos, abavos.
non possunt mihi minaciis tuis hisce oculi exfodiri.
sed paucis verbis te volo, Palaestrio. opsecro te,
unde exit haec?

Pal.

Vnde nísi domo?

Scel.

Domo?

Pal.

Mé viden?

Scel.

Te video.

nimis mírumst facinus, quo modo haec hinc huc transire potuit;
25 nam certo neque solariumst apud nós neque hortus ullus neque fénéstra nisi clatrata; nam certe ego te hic intus vidi.

Pal.

Pergin, sceleste, intendere hanc arguere?

Phil.

Ecastor ergo

mi hau falsum evenit somnium, quod noctu hac somniavi.

Pal.

Quid somniasti?

Phil.

Ego eloquar. sed amabo advortite animum.

30 hac nocte in somnis mea soror geminast germana visa venisse Athenis in Ephesum cum suo amatore quodam; ei ambo hóspitio huc in proximum mihi devortisse visi.

Pal.

Palaestrionis somnium narratur. perge porro.

Phil.

Ego laeta visa, quia soror venisset, propter eandem 35 suspicionem maximam sum visa sustinere.
nam arguere in somnis me meus mihi familiaris visust, me cum alieno adulescentulo, quasi nunc tu, esse osculatam, quom illa osculata mea soror gemina esset suompte amicum.
id me insimulatam perperam falsum esse somniavi.

Pal.

40 Satin eadem vigilanti expetunt quae in somnis visa memoras?
eu hércle praesens somnium. abi intro et comprecare.
narrandum ego istuc militi censebo.

Phil.

Facere certum est,
neque me quidem patiar probri falso impune insimulatam. —

Scel.

Timeo quid rerum gesserim, ita dorsus totus prurit.

Pal.

45 Scin te periisse?

Scel.

Nunc quidem domi certo est. certa res est nunc nostrum observare ostium, ubi ubist.

Pal.

At, Sceledre, quaeso, ut ad id exemplum somnium quam simile somniavit atque ut tu suspicatus es eam vídisse osculantem.

Scel.

Nescio quid credam egomet mihi iam, ita quod vidisse credo 50 me id iam non vidisse arbitror.

Pal.

Ne tu hercle sero, opinor, resipisces: si ad erum haec res prius † devenerit, peribis pulchre.

Scel.

Nunc demum experior, mi ob oculos caliginem opstitisse.

Pal.

Dudum edepol planum est id quidem, quae hic usque fuerit intus.

Scel.

Nihil habeo certi quid loquar: non vidi eam, etsi vidi.

Pal.

55 Ne tu edepol stultitia tua nos paene perdidisti:
dum te fidelem facere ero voluisti, absumptu's paene.
sed fores vicini proxumi crepuerunt. conticiscam.

Phil.

Inde ignem in aram, ut Ephesiae Dianae laeta laudes gratesque agam eique ut Arabico fumificem odore amoene, quom me in locis Neptuniis templisque turbulentis servavit, saevis fluctibus ubi sum adfluctata multum.

Scel.

5 Palaestrio, o Palaestrio.

Pal.

O Sceledre, Sceledre, quid vis?

Scel.

Haec mulier, quae hinc exit modo, estne erilis concubina
Philocomasium, an non est ea?

Pal.

Hercle opinor, ea videtur.

sed facinus mirum est, quo modo haec hinc huc transire potuit, si quidem east.

Scel.

An dubium tibi est eam esse hanc?

Pal.

Ea videtur.

Scel.

¹⁰ Adeamus, appellemus. heus, quid istúc est, Philocomasium?
quid tibi istic in istisce aedibus debetur, quid negotist?
quid nunc taces? tecum loquor.

Pal.

Immo edepol tute tecum;
nam haec nil respondet.

Scel.

Te adloquor, viti probrique plena, quae circum vicinos vagas.

Phil.

Quicum tu fabulare?

Scel.

¹⁵ Quicum nisi tecum?

Phil.

Quis tu homo es, aut mecum quid est negoti?

Scel.

Mé rogas homo qui sim?

Phil.

Quin ego hoc rogem quod nesciam?

Pal.

Quis ego sum igitur, si hunc ignoras?

Phil.

Mihi odiosus, quisquis es,
et tu et hic.

Sc.

Non nos novisti?

Ph.

Neutrum.

Sc.

Metuo maxume,

Pal.

Quid metuis?

Scel.

Enim ne nos nosmet perdiderimus uspiam;
20 nam nec te neque me novisse ait haec.

Pal.

Persectari hic volo,
Sceledre, nos nostri an alieni simus, ne dum quispiam nos vicinorum imprudentis aliquis immutaverit.

Scel.

Certe equidem noster sum.

Pal.

Et pol ego. quaeris tu, mulier, malum.
tibi ego dico, heus, Philocomasium.

Phil.

Quae te intemperiae tenent,
25 qui me perperam perplexo nomine appelles?

Pal.

Eho,

quis igitur vocare?

Phil.

Diceae nomen est.

Scel.

Iniuria es,

falsum nomen possidere, Philocomasium, postulas;

ᾧδίκος es tu, non δικάια, et meo ero facis iniuriam.

Phil.

Egone?

Scel.

Tune.

Phil.

Quaé heri Athenis Ephesum adveni vesperi

30 cum meo amatore, adulescente Atheniensi?

Pal.

Dic mihi,

quid hic tibi in Epheso est negoti?

Phil.

Geminam germanam meam hic sororem esse indauidi, eam veni quaesitum.

Scel.

Mala es.

Phil.

Immo ecastor stulta multum, quae vobiscum fabuler.

abeo.

Scel.

Abire non sinam te.

Phil.

Mitte.

Scel.

Manifestaria es.

35 non omitto.

Phil.

At iam crepabunt mihi manus, malae tibi, nisi me omittis.

Scel.

Quid, malum, astas? quin tenes altrinsecus?

Pal.

Nil moror negotiosum mi esse tergum. qui scio an ista non sit Philocomasium atque alia eius similis sit?

Phil.

Mittis me an non mittis?

Scel.

Immo vi atque invitam ingratiis,
40 nisi voluntate ibis, rapiam te domum.

Phil.

Hosticum hoc mihi domicilium est, Athenis domus est Atticis; ego istam domum neque moror neque vos qui hómines sitis novi neque scio.

Scel.

Lege agito: te nusquam mittam, nisi das firmatam fidem, te huc, si omisero, intro ituram.

Phil.

Vi me cogis, quisquis es.

45 do fidem, si omittis, isto me intro ituram quo iubes.

Sc.

Ecce omitto.

Ph.

At ego abeo missa. —

Sc.

Muliebri fecit fide.

Pal.

Sceledre, manibus amisisti praedam. tám east quam potis nostra erilis concubina. vin tu facere hoc strenue?

S.

Quid faciam?

P.

Ecfer mihi machaeram huc intus.

S.

Quid facies ea?

Pal.

50 Intro rumpam recta in aedis: quemque hic intus videro cum Philocomasio osculantem, eum ego óbtruncabo extempulo.

Scel.

Visanest ea esse?

Pal.

Immo edepol plane east.

Scel.

Sed quo modo dissimulabat.

Pa.

Abi, machaeram huc ecfer.

Sc.

Iam faxo hic erit. —

Pal.

Neque eques neque pedes profectost quisquam tanta audacia, 55 qui aequae faciat confidenter quicquam quam mulier facit.
ut utrubique orationem docte divisit suam, ut sublimitur os custodi cauto, conservo meo.
nimis beat quod commeatus transtinet trans parietem.

Scel.

Heus, Palaestrio, machaera nihil opust.

Pal.

Quid iam, aut quid est?

S.

60 Domi eccam erilem concubinam.

P.

Quid, domi?

S.

In lecto cubat.

Pal.

Edepol ne tu tibi malam rem repperisti, ut praedicas.

Scel.

Quid iam?

Pal.

Quia hanc attingere ausu's mulierem hinc ex proxumo.

Scel.

Magis hercle metuo.

Pal.

Sed numquam quisquam faciet quin soror istaec sit gemina huius: eam pol tu osculantem hic videras.

Scel.

65 Id quidem palam est eam esse, ut dicis; quid propius fuit, quam ut perirem, si elocutus essem ero?

Pal.

Ergo, si sapis,
mussitabis: plus oportet scire servom quam loqui.
ego abeo a te, ne quid tecum consili commisceam, atque apud hunc ero vicinum; tuae mihi turbae non placent.
70 erus si veniet, si me quaeret, hic ero: hinc me arcesso. —

Sceledrvs

Satin abiit ille neque erile negotium plus curat, quasi non servitutem serviat?
certo illa quidem hic nunc intus est in aedibus, nam egomet cubantem eam modo offendi domi.
5 certum est nunc observationi operam dare.
Periplectomenvs
non hercle hisce homines me marem, sed feminam vicini rentur esse servi militis:
ita me ludificant. meamne hic invitam hospitam, quae heri huc Athenis cum hospite advenit meo,
10 tractatam et ludificatam, ingenuam et liberam?

Scel.

Perii hercle, hic ad me recta habet rectam viam.
metuo, illaec mihi res ne malo magno fuat, quantum hunc audiui facere verborum senem.

Per.

Accedam ad hominem. tun, Sceledre, hic, scelerum caput, 15 meam ludificavisti hospitam ante aedis modo?

Scel.

Vicine, ausculta quaeso.

Per.

Ego auscultem tibi?

Scel.

Expurigare volo me.

Per.

Tun te expuriges,
qui facinus tantum tamque indignum feceris?
an quia latrocinamini, arbitramini
20 quidvis licere facere vobis, verbero?

Scel.

Licetne?

Per.

At ita me di deaeque omnis ament, nisi mihi supplicium virgeum de te datur longum diutinumque, a mane ad vesperum, quod meas confregisti imbricis et tegulas, 25 ibi dum condignam te sectatu's simiam, quodque inde inspectavisti meum apud me hospitem amplexum amicam, quom osculabatur, suam, quodque concubinam erilem insimulare ausus es probri pudicam meque summi flagiti, 30 tum quod tractavisti hospitam ante aedis meam:
nisi mihi supplicium stimuleum de te datur, dedecoris pleniorum erum faciam tuorum, quam magno vento plenumst undarum mare.

Scel.

Ita sum coactus, Periplectomene, ut nesciam 35 utrum me postulare prius ... tecum aequom siet; nisi si istaec non est haec neque haec istast, mihi me expurigare tibi videtur aequius;
sicut etiam nunc nescio quid viderim:

itast ista huius similis nostrai tua,
40 siquidem non eadem est.

Per.

Vise ad me intro, iam scies.

Scel.

Licetne?

Per.

Quin te iubeo; et placide noscita.

Scel.

Ita facere certum est. —

Per.

Heus, Philocomasium, cito transcurre curriculo ad nos, ita negotiumst.
post, quando exierit Sceledrus a nobis, cito 45 transcurrito ad vos rursum curriculo domum.
nunc pol ego metuo ne quid infuscaverit.
si hic non videbit mulierem — aperitur foris.

Scel.

Pro di immortales, similiorem mulierem magisque eándem, ut pote quae non sit eadem, non reor
50 deos fácere posse.

Per.

Quid nunc?

Scel.

Commerui malum.

Per.

Quid igitur? eanest?

Scel.

Etsi east, non est ea.

Per.

Vidistin istam?

Scel.

Vidi, et illam et hospitem, complexam atque osculantem.

Per.

Eanest?

Scel.

Nescio.

Pe.

Vin scire plane?

Sc.

Cupio.

Pe.

Abi intro ad vos domum
55 continuo, vide sitne istaec vostra intus.

Scel.

Licet,
pulchre admonuisti. iám ego ad te exhibo foras. —

Per.

Numquam edepol hominem quemquam ludificarier magis facete vidi et magis miris modis.
sed eccum egreditur.

Scel.

Periplectomene, te opsecro
60 per deos atque homines perque stultitiam meam perque tua genua —

Per.

Quíd opsecras me?

Scel.

Inscitiae

meae et stultitiae ignoscas. nunc demum scio me fuisse excordem, caecum, incogitabilem.
nam Philocomasium eccam intus.

Per.

Quid nunc, furcifer?

65 vidistin ambas?

Scel.

Vidi.

Per.

Erum exhibeas volo.

Scel.

Meruisse equidem me maxumum fateor malum, et tuae fecisse me hospitae aio iniuriam;
sed meam esse erilem concubinam censui,
cui me custodem erus addidit miles meus.
70 nam ex uno puteo similior numquam potis aqua aquai sumi quam haec est atque ista hospita.
et me despexe ad te per impluvium tuom
fateor.

Per.

Quid ni fateare, ego quod viderim?

et ibi osculantem meum hospitem cum ista hospita

75 vidisti?

Scel.

Vidi (cur negem quod viderim?), sed Philocomasium me vidisse censui.

Per.

Ratun istic me hominem esse omnium minimi preti, si ego me sciente paterer vicino meo eam fieri apud me tam insignite iniuriam?

Scel.

80 Nunc demum a me insipienter factum esse arbitror, cum rem cognosco; at non malitiose tamen
feci.

Per.

Immo indigne; nám hominem servom suos domitos habere oportet oculos et manus orationemque.

Scel.

Egone si post hunc diem 85 muttivero, etiam quod egomet certo sciam, dato excruciantum me: egomet me dedam tibi;
nunc hoc mi ignosce quaeso.

Per.

Vincam animum meum,
ne malitiose factum id esse aps te arbitrer.
ignoscam tibi istuc.

Scel.

At tibi di faciant bene.

Per.

90 Ne tu hercle, si te di ament, linguam comprimes posthac, etiam illud quod scies nesciveris nec videris quod videris.

Scel.

Bene me mones,
ita facere certum est. sed satine oratu's?

Per.

Abi.

Scel.

Numquid nunc aliud me vis?

Per.

Ne me noveris.

Scel.

95 Dedit híc mihi verba. quam benigne gratiam fecit, ne iratus esset. scio quam rem gerat:

ut miles cum extemplo a foro adveniat domum,

domi cómprehendar. una hic et Palaestrio me habent venalem: sensi et iam dudum scio.

100 numquam hercle ex ista nassa ego hodie escam petam;

nam iam aliquo aufugiam et me occultabo aliquot dies,

dum haec consilescunt turbae atque irae leniunt.

nam uni satis populo impio merui mali. — verum tamen dé me quidquid est, ibo hinc domum.

Per.

105 Illic hínc abscessit. sat edepol certo scio, occisam saepe sapere plus multo suem:

quoin id adimatur ne id quod vidit viderit.

nam illius oculi atque aures atque opinio transfugere ad nos. usque adhuc actum est probe;

110 nimium festivam mulier operam praehibuit.

redeo in senatum rusum; nam Palaestrio domi nunc apud me est, Sceledrus nunc autemst foris:

frequens senatus poterit nunc haberier.

ibo intro, ne, dum absum, alter sorti defuat. —

ACT III.

Palaestrio

Cóhibete intra limen etiam vos parumper, Pleusicles, sinite me prius pèrspectare, ne uspiam insidiae sient concilium quod habere volumus. nam ópus est nunc tuto loco, unde inimicus ne quis nostri spolia capiat consili.
5 nam bene consultum inconsultum est, si id inimicis usuist, neque potest quin, si id inimicis usuist, obsit tibi;
nam bene consultum consilium surripitur saepissime, si minus cúm cura aut cautella locus loquendi lectus est.
quippe qui, si rescivere inimici consilium tuom, 10 tuopte tibi consilio occludunt linguam et constringunt manus, atque eadem quae illis voluisti facere, illi faciunt tibi.
sed speculabor, ne quis aut hinc aut ab laeva aut dextera nostro consilio venator adsit cum auritis plagis.
sterilis hinc prospectus usque ad ultumam est plateam probe.
15 evocabo. heus Periplectomene et Pleusicles, progredimini.
Periplectomenvs
Ecce nos tibi oboedientes.

Pal.

Facilest imperium in bonis.
sed volo scíre: eodem consilio, quód intus meditati sumus, gerimus rem?

Per.

Magis nóñ potest esse ad rem utibile.

Pal.

Immo ...
quid tibi, Pleusicles?

Plevsicles

Quodne vóbis placeat, displiceat mihi?
20 quis homo sit magis meus quam tu es?

Pal.

Loquere lepide et commode.

Per.

Pol ita decet hunc facere.

Pl.

At hoc me facinus miserum macerat meumque cor corpusque cruciat.

Per.

Quid id est quod cruciat? cedo.

Plevs.

Me tibi istúc aetatis homini facinora puerilia obicere, neque te decora neque tuis virtutibus; 25 ea te expetere ex opibus summis mei honoris gratia mihique amanti ire opitulatum atque ea te facere facinora, quae istaec aetas fugere facta magis quam sectari solet:
eam pudet me tibi in senecta obicere sollicitudinem.

Pal.

Novo modo tu homo amás, siquidem te quicquam quod faxis pudet;
30 nihil amas, umbra es amantis magis quam amator, Pleusicles.

Plevs.

Hancine aetatem exercere mei me amoris gratia?

Per.

Quid ais tu? itane tibi ego videor oppido Acherunticus?
tam capularis, tamine tibi diu videor vitam vivere?
nam équidem haud sum natus annos praeter quinquaginta et quattuor, 35 clare oculis video, pernix sum manibus, pedibus mobilis.

Pal.

Si albicapillus hic, videtur neutiquam ab ingenio senex.
inest in hoc emussitata sua sibi ingenua indoles.

Plevs.

Pol id quidem éxperior ita esse ut praedicas, Palaestrio; nam benignitas quidem huius oppido adulescentula est.

Per.

40 Immo, hospes, magis cúm periculum facies, magis nosces meam comitatem erga te amantem.

Plevs.

Quid opus nota noscere?

Per.

Vt apud te exemplum experiundi hábeas, ne quaeras foris;
nam nisi qui ipse amavit, aegre amantis ingenium inspicit:
et ego amoris aliquantum habeo umorisque etiam in corpore, 45 neque dum exarui ex amoenis rebus et voluptariis.
vel cavillator facetus vel conviva commodus item eró, neque ego oblocutor sum alteri in convivio:
incommoditate abstinere me apud convivas commodo commemini et meae orationis iustam partem persequi 50 et meam partem itidem tacere, quom aliena est oratio;
minime sputator, screator sum, itidem minime mucidus:
post Ephesi sum natus, non enim in Apulis; non sum Animulas.

Pal.

O lepidum senem, in se si quas memorat virtutis habet, atque equidem plane educatum in nutricatu Venerio.

Per.

55 Plus dabo quam praedicabo ex me venustatis tibi.
neque ego úmquam alienum scortum subigito in convivio, neque praeipio pulpamentum neque praevertio poculum, neque per vinum umquam ex me exoritur discidium in convivio:
si quis ibi est odiosus, abeo domum, sermonem segrego;
60 Venerem, amorem amoenitatemque accubans exerceo.

Pal.

Tu quidem edepol omnis moris ad venustatem † vacet;

cedo tris mi hominis aurichalco contra cum istis moribus.

Plevs.

At quidem illúc aetatis qui sit non invenies alterum lepidiorem ad omnís res nec qui amicus amico sit magis.

Per.

65 Tute me ut fateare faciam esse adulescentem moribus, ita apud omnis comparebo tibi res bene factis frequens.
opusne erit tibi advocationi tristi, iracundo? ecce me;
opusne leni? leniorem dices quam mutum est mare,
liquidiusculusque ero quam ventus est favonius.
70 vel hilarissimum convivam hinc indidem expromam tibi, pel primarium parasitum atque obsonatorem optimum;
tum ad saltandum non cinaedus malacus aequum atque ego.

Pal.

Quid ad illas artis optassis, si optio eveniat tibi?

Plevs.

Huius pro méritis ut referri pariter possit gratia, 75 tibi que, quibus nunc me esse experior summae sollicitudini.
at tibi tanto sumptui esse mihi molestumst.

Per.

Morus es.

nam in mala uxore atque inimico si quid sumas, sumptus est, in bono hospite atque amico quaestus est quod sumitur et quod in divinis rebus sumptumst, sapienti lucrumst.
80 deum virtute est te unde hospitio accipiam apud me comiter:
es, bibe, animo obsequere mecum atque onera te hilaritudine.
liberae sunt aedis, liber sum autem ego: mei volo vivere.
nam mihi, deum virtute dicam, propter divitias meas licuit uxorem dotatam genere summo ducere;
85 sed nolo mi oblatricem in aedis intro mittere.

Pal.

Cur non vis? nam procreare liberos lepidumst onus.

Per.

Hercle vero liberum esse tete, id multo lepidiust.

Pal.

Tu homo et alteri sapienter potis es consulere et tibi.

Per.

Nam bona uxor suave ductust, si sit usquam gentium 90 ubi ea possit inveniri; verum egone eam ducam domum, quae mihi numquam hoc dicat “eme, mi vir, lanam, unde tibi pallium malacum et calidum conficiatur tunicaeque hibernae bonae, ne algeas hac hieme” (hoc numquam verbum ex uxore audias), verum prius quam galli cantent quae me e somno suscitet, 95 dicat “da, mi vir, kalendis meam qui matrem munerem, da qui faciam † condiat, dá quod dem quinquatribus praecantrici, coniectrici, hariolae atque haruspicae;
flagitiumst, si nil mittetur quae supercilio spicit;
tum plicatricem clementer non potest quin munerem; 100 iam pridem, quia nihil abstulerit, suscenset ceriaria;
tum opstetrix expostulavit mecum, parum missum sibi;
quid? nutrici non missuru’s quicquam, quae vernas alit?”
haec atque horum similia alia damna multa mulierum me uxore prohibent, mihi quae huius similes sermones serat.

Pal.

105 Di tibi propitii sunt, nam hercle si istam semel amiseris libertatem, haud facile in eundem rusum restitues locum.

Plevs.

At illa laus est, magno in genere et in divitiis maxumis liberos hominem educare, generi monumentum et sibi.

Per.

Quando habeo multos cognatos, quid opus est mihi liberis?
110 nunc bene vivo et fortunate atque ut volo atque animo ut lubet.
mea bona in morté cognatis didam, inter eos partiam.
ei apud me aderunt, me curabunt, visent quid agam, ecquid velim.

prius quam lucet adsunt, rogitant noctu ut somnum ceperim.
eos pro liberis habebo, qui mihi mittunt munera.

115 sacrificant: dant inde partem mihi maiorem quam sibi, abducunt ad exta; me ad se ad prandium, ad cenam vocant;
ille misérillum se retur, minimum qui misit mihi.
illi inter se certant donis, egomet mecum mussito:
bona mea inhiant, me certatim nutricant et munerant.

Pal.

120 Nimis bona ratione nimiumque ad te te et tuam vitam habes:
et tibi sunt gemini et trigemini, si te bene habes, filii.

Per.

Pol si habuissem, satis cepissem miseriarum e liberis:
continuo excruciarer animi: si ei forte fuisset febris, censerem emori; cecidissetve ebrius aut de equo uspiam, 125 metuerem ne ibi diffregisset crura aut cervices sibi.

Pal.

Huic homini dignum est divitias esse et diu vitam dari, qui et rem servat et se bene habet suisque amicis usui est.

Plevs.

O lepidum caput. ita me di deaque ament, aequom fuit deos paravisse, uno exemplo ne omnes vitam viverent; 130 sicut merci pretium statuit qui est probus agoranomus:
quae probast mers, pretium ei statuit, pro virtute ut veneat, quae improbast, pro mercis vitio dominum pretio pauperat, itidem divos dispertisse vitam humanam aequom fuit:
qui lepide ingeniatus esset, vitam ei longinquam darent, 135 qui improbi essent et scelesti, is adimerent animam cito.
si hoc paravissent, et homines essent minus multi mali et minus audacter scelesta facerent facta, et postea, quí homines probi essent, esset is annona vilior.

Per.

Qui deorum consilia culpet, stultus inscitique sit,

140 quique eos vituperet. nunc istis rebus desisti decet.
nunc volo opsonare, ut, hospes, tua te ex virtute et mea meae domi accipiam benigne, lepide et lepidis victibus.

Plevs.

Nihil me paenitet iam quanto sumptui fuerim tibi;
nam hospes nullus tām in amici hospitium devorti potest, 145 quin, ubi triduom continuom fuerit, iam odiosus siet;
verum ubi dies decem continuos sit, east odiorum Ilias:
tam etsi dominus non invitus patitur, servi murmurant.

Per.

Serviendae servituti ego servos instruxi mihi, hospes, non qui mi imperarent quibusve ego essem obnoxius:
150 si illis aegrest mihi quod volup est, meo remigio rem gero, tamen id quod odios faciundumst cum malo atque ingratiis.
nunc, quod occepi, opsonatum pergam.

Plevs.

Si certumst tibi,
commodulum obsona, ne magno sumptu: mihi quidvis sat est.

Per.

Quin tu istanc orationem hinc veterem atque antiquam amoves?
155 nam proletario sermone nunc quidem, hospes, utere;
nam ei solent, quando accubuere, ubi cena adpositast, dicere:
“quid opus fuit hoc, hospes, sumptu tanto nostra gratia?
insanivisti hercle, nám idem hoc hominibus sat erat decem.”
quod eorum causa obsonatumst culpant et comedunt tamen.

Pal.

160 Fit pol illud ad illud exemplum. ut docte et perspecte sapit.

Per.

Sed eidem homines numquam dicunt, quamquam adpositumst ampliter:
“iube illud demi; tolle hanc patinam; remove pernam, nil moror;
aufer illam offam porcinam, probus hic conger frigidus, remove, abi aufer” neminem eorum haec adseverare audias, 165 sed procellunt se et procumbunt dimidiati, dum appetunt.

Pal.

Bonus bene ut malos descripsit mores.

Per.

Haud centesimam
partem dixi atque, otium rei si sit, possum expromere.

Pal.

Igitur id quod agitur, † hic primum praeverti decet.
nunc hoc animum advortite ambo. mihi opus est opera tua, 170 Periplectomene; nám ego inveni lepidam sycophantiam, qui admutiletur miles usque caesariatus atque uti huic amanti ac Philocomasio hanc ecficiamus copiam, ut hic eam abducat habeatque.

Per.

Dari istanc rationem volo.

Pal.

At ego mi anulum dari istunc tuom volo.

Per.

Quam ad rem usui est?

Pal.

175 Quando habebo, igitur rationem mearum fabricarum dabo.

Per.

Vtere, accipe.

Pal.

Accipe a me rusum rationem doli, quam institui.

Plevs.

Perpurigatis damus tibi ambo operam auribus.

Pal.

Erus meus ita magnus moechus mulierum est, ut neminem fuisse aequae neque futurum credo.

Plevs.

Credo ego istuc idem.

Pal.

180 Isque Alexandri praestare praedicat formae suam, itaque omnis se ultro sectari in Epheso memorat mulieres.

Per.

Edepol qui te de isto multi cupiunt † non mentirier, sed ego ita esse ut dicis teneo pulchre. proin, Palaestrio, quam potis tam verba confer maxime ad compendium.

Pal.

185 Ecquam tu potes reperire forma lepida mulierem, cui facetiarum cor pectusque sit plenum et doli?

Per.

Ingenuamne an libertinam?

Pal.

Aequi istuc facio, dum modo eam des quae sit quaestuosa, quae alat corpus corpore, cuique sapiat pectus; nam cor non potest, quod nulla habet.

Per.

190 Lautam vis an quae nondum sit lauta?

Pal.

Sic consucidam,
quam lepidissimam potis quamque adulescentem maxime.

Per.

Habeo eccillam meam clientam, meretricem adolescentulam.
sed quid ea usus est?

Pal.

Vt ad te eam iam deducas domum itaque eam huc ornatam adducas, ex matronarum modo, 195 capite compto, crinis vittasque habeat, adsimuletque se tuam esse uxorem: ita praecipiundum est.

Plevs.

Erro quam insistas viam.

Pal.

At scietis. séd ecquae ancillast illi?

Per.

Est prime cata.

Pal.

Ea quoque opus est. ita praecipito mulieri atque ancillulae, ut simulet se tuam esse uxorem et deperire hunc militem, 200 quasque hunc anulum faveae suae dederit, ea porro mihi, militi ut darem, quasque ego ei rei sim interpret.

Per.

Audio;

ne me surdum esse arbitrare, si audes. ego recte meis auribus utor ...

Pal.

...

ei dabo, aps tua mi uxore dicam delatum et datum, 205 ut sese ad eum conciliarem; ille eiusmodi est: cupiet miser, qui nisi adulterio studiosus rei nulli aliaest improbus.

Per.

Non potuit reperire, si ipsi Soli quaerendas dares, lepidiores duas ad hanc rem quám ego. hábe animum bonum.

Pal.

Ergo adcura, sed propere opus est. nunc tu ausculta, Pleusicles.

Plevs.

210 Tibi sum oboediens.

Pal.

Hoc facito, miles domum ubi advenerit, memineris ne Philocomasium nomines.

Plevs.

Quem nominem?

Pa.

Diceam.

Pl.

Nempe eandem quae dudum constitutast.

Pa.

Pax, abi.

Plevs.

Meminero. sed quid meminisse id refert, rogo ego te tamen.

Pal.

Ego enim dicam tum quando usus poscet; interea tace, 215 ut nunc etiam hic agat ac tu tum partis defendas tuas.

Plevs.

Ego eo intro igitur. —

Pal.

Et praecepta sobrie ut cures face.
quantas res turbo, quantas moveo machinas.

eripiam ego hodie concubinam militi, si centuriati bene sunt manipulares mei.
sed illúm vocabo. heus Sceledre, nisi negotiumst,
5 progredere ante aedis, te vocat Palaestrio.

Lvc

Non operaest Sceledro.

Pal.

Quid iam?

Lvc.

Sorbet dormiens.

Pal.

Quid, sorbet?

Lvc.

Illud, stertit, volui dicere.

sed quia consimile est, quom stertas, quasi sorbeas —

Pal.

Eho an dórmit Sceledrus intus?

Lvc.

Non naso quidem,

10 nam eo mágnus clamat. tetigit calicem clanculum, dum misit nardum in amphoram, cellarius.

Pal.

Eho tu sceleste, qui illi suppromu's, eho —

Lvc.

Quid vis?

Pal.

Qui lubitum est illi condormiscere?

Lvc.

Oculis opinor.

Pal.

Non te istuc rogitō, scelus.

15 procede huc. periisti iam, nisi verum scio.

prompsisti tu illi vinum?

Lvc.

Non prompsi.

Pal.

Negas?

Lvc.

Nego hercle vero, nam ille me vetuit dicere;
neque equidem heminas octo exprompsi in urceum neque illic calidum exhibuit in prandium.

Pal.

20 Neque tu bibisti?

Lvc.

Di me perdant, si bibi,
si bibere potui.

Pal.

Quid iam?

Lvc.

Quia enim obsorbui;

nam nimis calebat, amburebat gutturem.

Pal.

Alii ebrii sunt, alii poscam potitant.
bono subpromo et promo cellam creditam.

Lvcr.

25 Tu hércle idem fáceres, si tibi esset credita:
quoniam aemulari non licet, nunc invides.

Pal.

Eho an umquam prompsit antehac? responde, scelus.
atque ut tu scire possis, ego dico tibi: si falsa dices, Lucrio, excruciabere.

Lvcr.

30 Ita vero? ut tu ipse me dixisse delices, post e sagina ego eiciar cellaria, ut tibi, si promptes, alium subpromum pares.

Pal.

Non edepol faciam. age eloquere audacter mihi.

Lvcr.

Numquam edepol vidi promere. verum hoc erat:
35 mihi imperabat, ego promebam postea.

Pal.

Hoc illi crebro capite sistebant cadi.

Lvcr.

Non hercle tam istoc valide cassabant cadi;
sed in célla erat paulum nimis lóculi lubrici,
ibi erat bilibris aula sic propter cados, 40 ea saepe deciens complebatur: vidi eam plenam atque inanem fieri, plenam maxume;
ubi bacchabatur aula, cassabant cadi.

Pal.

Abi, abi íntro iam. vos in cella vinaria bacchanal facitis. iam hercle ego erum ádducam a foro.

Lvcr.

45 Perii, excruciabit mé erus, domum si venerit, quom haec facta scibit, quia sibi non dixerim.
fugiam hercle aliquo atque hoc in diem extollam malum.
ne dixeritis, obsecro, huic, vostram fidem.

Pal.

Quo té agis?

Lvcr.

Missus sum aliquo: iam huc revenero.

Pal.

50 Quis misit?

Lvcr.

Philocomasium.

Pal.

Abi, actutum redi.

Lvcr.

Quaeso tamen tu meam partem, infortunium si dividetur, me absente accipito tamen. —

Pal.

Modo intellexi quam rem mulier gesserit:
quia Sceledrus dormit, hunc subcustodem suum 55 foras áblegavit, dum ab se huc transiret. placet.
sed Periplectomenus quam ei mandavi mulierem nimis lépida forma ducit. di hercle hanc rem adiuvant.
quam digne ornata incedit, haud meretricie.
lepide hoc succedit sub manus negotium.
Periplectomenus

Rem omném tibi, Acroteleútium, tibi que úna, Milphidíppa, domi démonstravi in ordine. hanc fabricam fallaciasque minus sí tenetis, denuo volo percipiatis plane;
satis si íntellegitis, aliud est quod potius fabulemur.

Acrotelevtívm

5 Stultitia atque insipientia mea istaec sit, mi patrone, me ire in opus alienum aut ibi meam operam pollicitari, si ea in ópificina nesciam aut mala esse aut fraudulenta.

Per.

At melius est monerier.

Acr.

Meretricem commoneri, quam sane magni referat, nihil clam est. quin egomet ultro, 10 postquam adbibere auris meae tuae oram orationis, tibi dixi, miles quem ad modum potis sit deasciari.

Per.

At nemo solus satis sapit. nam ego multos saepe vidi regionem fugere consili prius quam repertam haberent.

Acr.

Si quid faciendum est mulieri male atque malitiose, 15 ea síbi immortalis memoriast meminisse et sempiterna;
sin bene quid aut fideliter faciundum eisdem veniat, obliviosae extempulo fiunt, meminisse nequeunt.

Per.

Ergo istuc metuo, quom venit vobis faciundum utrumque:
nam id proderit mihi, militi male quod facietis ambae.

Acr.

20 Dum nescientes quod bonum faciamus, ne formida.

Per.

Mala mulier mers est.

Acr.

Ne pave, peioribus conveniunt.

Per.

Ita vos decet. consequimini.

Pal.

Cesso égo illis obviam ire?

venire salvom gaudeo, lepide hercle ornatus incedis.

Per.

Bene opportuneque obviam es, Palaestrio. em tibi adsunt

25 quas me iussisti adducere et quo ornatu.

Pal.

eu, noster esto.

Palaestrio Acroteleutium salutat.

Acr.

Quis hic amabo est,

qui tam pro nota nominat me?

Per.

Hic noster architectust.

Acr.

Salve, architecte.

Pal.

Salva sis. sed dic mihi, ecquid hic te oneravit praeceptis?

Per.

Probe meditatam utramque duco.

Pal.

30 Audire cupio, quem ad modum; ne quid peccetis paveo.

Per.

Ad tua praecepta de meo nihil his novom adposivi.

Acr.

Nempe lúdicari militem tuom erum vis?

Pal.

Exlocuta es.

Acr.

Lepide et sapienter, commode et facete res paratast.

Pal.

Atque huius uxorem volo te esse adsimulare.

Acr.

Fiet.

Pal.

35 Quasi militi animum adieceris, simulare.

Acr.

Sic futurum est.

Pal.

Quasique ea res per me interpretem et tuam ancillam ei curetur.

Acr.

Bonus vátes poteras esse, nam quae sunt futura dicis.

Pal.

Quasique anulum hunc ancillula tua abs té detulerit ad me, quem ego militi porro darem tuis verbis.

Acr.

Vera dicis.

Per.

40 Quid istís nunc memoratis opust quae commeminere?

Acr.

Meliust.

nam, mi patrone, hoc cogitato, ubi probus est architectus, bene lineatam si semel carinam conlocavit, facile esse navem facere, ubi fundata, constitutast.
nunc haec carina satis probe fundata, bene statutast, 45 atque architecto adsunt fabri ad eam rem haud imperiti.
si non nos materiarius remoratur, quod opus qui det (novi indolem nostri ingeni), cito erit parata navis.

Pal.

Nempe tú novisti militem meum erum?

Acr.

Rogare mirumst.

populi odium quidni noverim, magnidicum, cincinnatum, 50 moechum unguentatum.

Pal.

Num ille te nam novit?

Acr.

Numquam vidit:

qui noverit me quis ego sim?

Pal.

Nimis lépide fabulare;

eo †potiuerim lepidius pol fieri.

Acr.

Potin ut hominem

mihi des, quiescas cetera? ni ludificata lepide ero, cúlпам omnem in me imponito.

Pal.

Age igitur intro abite,

55 insistite hoc negotium sapienter.

Acr.

Alia cura.

Pal.

Age, Periplectomene, has nunciam duc intro; ego ad forum illum conveniam atque illi hunc anulum dabo, atque praedicabo a tua uxore mihi datum esse eamque illum deperire.
hanc ad nos, quom extemplo a foro veniemus, mittitote, 60 quasi clanculum ad eum missa sit.

Per.

Faciemus. alia cura.

Pal.

Vos modo curate, ego illúm probe iam oneratum huc acciebo. —

Per.

Bene ambula, bene rem geras. egone hoc si efficiam plane, ut concubinam militis meus hospes habeat hodie atque hinc Athenas avehat, si hodie hunc dolum dolamus, 65 quid tibi ego mittam muneris!

Acr.

Datne ab se mulier operam?

Per.

Lepidissime et compsissume.

Acr.

Confido confuturum.

ubi facta erit conlatiostrarum malitiarum, haud vereor ne nos subdola perfidia pervincamur.

Per.

Abeamus ergo intro, haec uti meditemur cogitate, 70 ut accurate et commode hoc quod agendumst exsequamur, ne quid, ubi miles venerit, titubetur.

Acr.

Tu morare. —

ACT IV.

Pyrgopolinices

Vólup est, quod agas, si id procedit lepide atque ex sententia;
nam ego hodie ad Seleucum regem misi parasitum meum, ut latrones quos conduxí hinc ad Seleucum duceret, qui eius regnum tutarentur, mihi dum fieret otium

Palaestrio

5 Quin tu tuam rem cura potius quam Seleuci, quae tibi condicio nova et lúculenta fertur per me interpretem.

Pyrg.

Immo omnis res posteriores pono atque operam do tibi.
loquere: auris meas profecto dedo in dicionem tuam.

Pal.

Circumspice dum, ne quis nostro hic auceps sermoni siet.
10 nam hoc negoti clandestino ut agerem mandatumst mihi.

Pyrg.

Nemo adest.

Pal.

Hunc arrabonem amoris primum a me accipe.

Pyrg.

Quid hic? unde est?

Pal.

A luculenta átque festiva femina, quae te amat tuamque éxpetessit pulcram pulcritudinem;
eius nunc mi ánulum ad te ancilla porro ut deferrem dedit.

Pyrg.

15 Quid ea? ingenuan an festuca facta e serva liberast?

Pal.

Vah, egone ut ad te ab libertina esse auderem internuntius, qui ingenuis satis résponsare nequeas quae cupiunt tui?

Pyrg.

Nuptan est an vidua?

Pal.

Et nupta et vidua.

Pyrg.

Quo pacto potis
nupta et vidua esse eadem?

Pal.

Quia adulescens nuptast cum sene.

Pyrg.

²⁰ Euge.

Pal.

Lepida et liberali formast.

Pyrg.

Cave mendacium.

Pal.

Ad tuam formam illa una dignast.

Pyrg.

Hercle pulchram praedicas.
sed quis east?

Pal.

Senis huius uxor Periplectomeni ex proxumo;
ea demoritur te atque ab illo cupit abire: odit senem.
nunc te orare atque obsecrare iussit, ut eam copiam
²⁵ sibi potestatemque facias.

Pyrg.

Cupio hercle equidem, si illa volt.

Pal.

Quae cupit?

Pyrg.

Quid illá faciemus concubina, quae domist?

Pal.

Quin tu illam iube abs te abire quo lubet: sicut soror eius huc gémina venit Ephesum et mater, accersuntque eam.

Pyrg.

Eho tu, an venit Ephesum mater eius?

Pal.

Aiunt qui sciunt.

Pyrg.

30 Hercle occasionem lepidam, ut mulierem excludam foras.

Pal.

Immo vin tu lepide facere?

Pyrg.

Loquere et consilium cedo.

Pal.

Vin tu illam actutum amovere, a te ut abeat per gratiam?

Pyrg.

Cupio.

Pal.

Tum te hoc facere oportet. tibi divitiarum adfatimst:
iube sibi aurum atque ornamenta, quae illi instruxti mulieri, 35 dono habere, auferre ... abs te quo lubeat sibi.

Pyrg.

Placet ut dicis; sed ne et istam amittam et haec mutet fidem vide modo.

Pal.

Vah delicatu's, quae te tamquam oculos amet.

Pyrg.

Venus me amat.

Pal.

St tace, aperitur foris, concede huc clanculum.
haec celox illiust, quae hinc egreditur, internuntia,

40

Pyrg.

Quae haec celox?

Pal.

Ancillula illiust, quae hinc egreditur foras.
quae anulum istunc attulit quem tibi dedi.

Pyrg.

Edepol haec quidem bellulast.

Pal.

Pithecium haec est prae illa et spinturnicium.
viden tu illam oculis venaturam facere atque aucupium auribus?

Milphidippa

Iam est ante aedis circus ubi sunt ludi faciundi mihi.
dissimulabo, hos quasi non videam néque esse hic etiamdum sciam.

Pyrg.

Tace, subauscultemus ecquid de me fiat mentio.

Milph.

Numquis nam hic própe adest qui rem alienam potius curet quam suam,

5 qui aucupet me quid agam, qui de vesperi vivat suo?
eos nunc homines metuo, mihi ne obsint neve opstent uspiam, domo si bitat, dum huc transbitat, quae huius cupiens corporist, quae ámat hunc hominem nimium lepidum et nimia pulchritudine, militem Pyrgopolynicem.

Pyrg.

Satin haec quoque me deperit?

10 meam laudat speciem. edepol huius sermo haud cinerem quaeritat.

Pal.

Quo argumento?

Pyrg.

Quia enim loquitur laute et minime sordide.

Pal.

Quippini? istaec de te loquitur: nihil attrectat sordidi.

Pyrg.

Tum autem illa ipsa est nimium lepida nimisque nitida femina.
hercle vero iam adlubescit primulum, Palaestrio.

Pal.

15 Priusne quam illam oculis tuis videas?

Pyrg.

Video id quod credo tibi.

tum haec celocula autem absentem subigit me ut amem.

Pal.

Hercle hanc quidem

nil tu amassis; mi haec desponsast: tibi si illa hodie nupserit, ego hanc continuo uxorem ducam.

Pyrg.

Quíd ergo hanc dubitas conloqui?

Pal.

Sequere hac me ergo.

Pyrg.

Pedisequos tibi sum.

Milph.

Vtinam, cuius causa foras

20 sum egressa, eius conveniundi mihi potestas evenat.

Pal.

Erit, ét tibi exoptatum óptinget, bonum habe ánimum, ne formída;
homo quidamst qui scit, quód quaeris ubi sít.

Milph.

Quem ego hic audívi?

Pal.

Sociúm tuorum concíliorum et partícipem consiliorum.

Milph.

Tum pól ego id quod celo haú celo.

Pal.

Immo et célas et non célas.

Milph.

25 Quo argúmento?

Pal.

Infidós celas: ego súm tibi firme fidus.

Milph.

Cedo sígnum, si harunc BÁCcharum es.

Pal.

Amat múlíer quaedam quéndam.

Milph.

Pol istúc quidem multae.

Pal.

At nón multae de dígitō donum mítunt.

Milph.

Enim cógnovi nunc, fécisti modo mi éx proclivo plánum.
sed hic núnquis adest?

Pal.

Vel adést vel non.

Milph.

Cedo té mihi solae sólum.

Pal.

30 Brevin án longinquo sérmoni?

Milph.

Tribus vérbis.

Pal.

Iam ad te rédeo.

Pyrg.

Quid ego? híc astabo tántisper cum hac fórma et factis frústra?

Pal.

Patere átteque asta, tibi ego hánc do operam.

Pyrg.

Propera, éxpectando excrúciōr.

Pal.

Pedetémptim (tu hoc scis) tráctari satiúst hasce huius modi mércis.

Pyrg.

Age age út tibi maxume cóncinnumst.

Pal.

Nullúmst hoc stolidius sáxum.

35 redeo ád te. quid me vóluisti?

Milph.

Quo pácto hoc Ilium accédi velis, út ferrem abs te consilium.

Pal.

Quasi hunc dépereat —

Milph.

Teneo ístuc.

Pal.

Conlaúdato formam ét faciem et virtútis commemoráto.

Milph.

Ad eám rem habeo omnem aciém, tibi uti dudúm iam demonstrávi.

Pal.

Tu cétera cura et cóntempla et de meis venator vérbis.

Pyrg.

40 Aliquám mihi partem hodie óperae des deníque, tandem ades, ait íllam, miseram crúciari et lacrimántem se adfflictare, quia tís egeat, quia té careat. ob eám rem huc ad te míssast.

Pyrg.

Iube adíre.

Pal.

At scin quid tú facias? facitó fastidi plénium,

45 quasi nón lubeat; me inclámato, quia síc te volgo vólgem.

Pyrg.

Memini ét praeceptis párebo.

Pal.

Vocon érgo hanc quae te quaérit?

Pyrg.

Adeát, si quid volt.

Pal.

Sí quid vis, adi, múlíer.

Mil.

Pulcher, sálve.

Pyrg.

Pyrg.

Quid nunc mi es auctor ut faciam, Palaestrio, de concubina? nam nullo pacto potest prius haec in aedis recipi quam illam amiserim.

Pal.

Quid me consultas quid agas? dixi equidem tibi
5 quo id pacto fieri possit clementissime.
aurum atque vestem muliebrem omnem habeat sibi, quae illi instruxisti: sumat, habeat, auferat;
dicasque tempus maxume esse, ut eat domum:
sororem geminam adesse et matrem dicito,
10 quibus cóncomitata recte deveniat domum.

Pyrg.

Qui tu scis eas adesse?

Pal.

Quia oculis meis vidi hic sororem esse eius.

Pyrg.

Convenitne eam?

Pal.

Convenit.

Pyrg.

Ecquid fortis visast?

Pal.

Omnia

vis optinere.

Pyrg.

Vbi matrem esse aiebat soror?

Pal.

15 Cubare in navi lippam atque oculis turgidis naucerus dixit, qui illas advexit, mihi.
is ad hos naucerus hospitio devortitur.

Pyrg.

Quid is? ecquid fortis?

Pal.

Abi sis hinc, nam tu quidem ad equas fuisti scitus admissarius, 20 qui consecrare qua maris qua feminas.
hoc age nunc.

Pyrg.

Istuc quod das consilium mihi,
te cum illa verba facere de ista re volo;
nam cum illa sane congruos sermo tibi.

Pal.

Qui potius quam tute adeas, tuam rem tute agas?
25 dicas uxorem tibi necessum ducere;
cognatos persuadere, amicos cogere.

Pyrg.

Itan tu censes?

Pal.

Quid ego ní ita censeam?

Pyrg.

Ibo igitur intro. tu hic ante aedis interim speculare, ut, ubi illaec prodeat, me provoces.

Pal.

30 Tu modo istuc cura quod agis.

Pyrg.

Curatum id quidemst.
quin si voluntáte nolet, vi extrudam foras.

Pal.

Istuc cave fáxis; quin potius per gratiam bonam abeat abs te. atque illaec quae dixi dato, aurum, ornamenta quae illi instruxisti ferat.

Pyrg.

35 Cupio hercle.

Pal.

Pal.

Nimis facete nimisque facunde malast.
ut lepide deruncinavit militem.

Milph.

At etiam parum.

Pal.

Bono animo es: negotium omne iam succedit sub manus;
vos modo porro, ut occepistis, date operam adiutabilem.
nam ipse miles concubinam intro abiit oratum suam,
10 ab se ut abeat cum sorore et matre Athenas.

Plevsicles

hinc senem aps te abiisse, postquam feceris divortium:
ne ille mox vereatur intro íre in alienam domum.

Acr.

Bene mones.

Pal.

Sed ubi ille exierit intus, istinc te procul

35 quasique eiús opulentitatem reverearis, et simul formam, amoenitatem illius, faciem, pulchritudinem conlaudato. satin praeceptumst?

Acr.

Teneo. satinest, si tibi
meum opus ita dabo expoliturum, ut improbare non queas?

Pal.

Sat habeo. nunc tibi vicissim quae imperabo ea discito.
40 quom extemplo hoc erit factum, ubi intro haec abierit, ibi tu ilico facito uti venias ornatu húc ad nos nauclerico; causeam habeas ferrugineam, et scutulam ob oculos laneam, palliolum habeas ferrugineum (nam is colos thalassicust), id conexum in umero laevo, exfaillato brachio, 45 praecinctus aliqui: adsimulato quasi gubernator sies;
atque apud hunc senem omnia haec sunt, nam is piscatores habet.

Plevs.

Quid? ubi ero exornatus quin tu dicis quid facturus sim?

Pal.

Huc venito et matris verbis Philocomasium arcessito, ut, si itura sit Athenas, eat tecum ad portum cito, 50 atque ut iubeat ferri in navim si quid imponi velit.
nisi eat, te soluturum esse navim: ventum operam dare.

Plevs.

Satis placet pictura. perge.

Pal.

Ille extemplo illam hortabitur ut eat, ut properet, ne morae sit matri.

Plevs.

Multimodis sapis.

Pal.

Ego illi dicam, ut me adiutorem, qui onus feram ad portum, roget.
55 ille iubebit me ire cum illa ad portum. ego adeo, ut tu scias, prorsum Athenas protinus abibo tecum.

Plevs.

Atque ubi illo veneris,
triduum servire numquam te, quin liber sis, sinam.

Pal.

Abi cito atque orna te.

Plevs.

Numquid aliud?

Pal.

Haec ut memineris.

Plevs.

Abeo. —

Pal.

Et vos abite hinc intro actutum; nam illum huc sat scio
60 iam exiturum esse intus.

Acr.

Celebre apud nos imperium tuomst. —

Pal.

Agite abscedite ergo. ecce autem commodum aperitur foris.
hilarus exit: impetravit. inhiat quod nusquam est miser.
Pyrgopolinices
Quod volui ut volui impetravi, per amicitiam et gratiam, a Philocomasio.

Pal.

Pyrg.

Numquam ego me tam sensi amari quam nunc ab illa muliere.

Pal.

Quid iam?

Pyrg.

Vt multa verba feci, ut lenta materies fuit.

5 verum postremo impetravi ut volui: donavi dedi
quae voluit, quae postulavit; te quoque ei dono dedi.

Pal.

Etiam me? quo modo ego vivam sine te?

Pyrg.

Age, animo bono es,
eidem ego te illim liberabo. nam si possem ullo modo impetrare ut abiret, ne te abduceret, operam dedi;
10 verum oppressit.

Pal.

Deos sperabo teque. postremo tamen etsi istuc mi acerbumst, quia ero te carendum est optimo, saltem id volup est, quom ex virtute formae évenit tibi mea opera super hac vicina, quam ego nunc concilio tibi.

Pyrg.

Quid opust verbis? libertatem tibi ego et divitias dabo, 15 si impetras.

Pal.

Reddam impetratum.

Pyrg.

Ite cito, iam ego adsequar vos: cúm ero pauca volo loqui. — quamquam alios fideliores semper habuisti tibi

45 quam me, tamen tibi habeo magnam gratiam rerum omnium; et, si ita sententia esset, tibi servire malui multo, quam alii libertus esse.

Pyrg.

Habe bonum animum.

Pal.

Eheu, quom venit mi in mentem, ut mores mutandi sient, muliebris mores discendi, obliscendi stratiotici.

Pyrg.

50 Fac sis frugi.

Pal.

Iam non possum, amisi omnem lubidinem.

Pyrg.

I, sequere illos, ne morere.

Pal.

Bene vale.

Pyrg.

Et tu bene vale.

Pal.

Quaeso memineris, si forte liber fieri occeperim (mittam nuntium ad te), ne me deseras.

Pyrg.

Non est meum.

Pal.

Cogitato identidem, tibi quam fidelis fuerim.

55 si id facies, tum demum scibis, tibi qui bonus sit, qui malus.

Pyrg.

Scio et perspexi saepe.

Pal.

Verum cum antehac, hodie maxume scies: immo hodie me tuum factum faxo post dices magis.

Pyrg.

Vix reprimor quin te manere iubeam.

Pal.

Cave istuc feceris:
dicent te mendacem nec verum esse, fide nulla esse te,
60 dicent servorum praeter me esse hic fidelem neminem.
nam si honeste censeam te facere posse, suadeam;
verum non potest. cave fáxis.

Pyr.

Abi iam.

Pal.

Patiar quidquid est.

Pyrg.

Bene vale igitur.

Pal.

Ire meliust strenue. —

Pyrg.

Etiam nunc vale.
ante hoc factum hunc sum arbitratus semper servom pessimum:
65 eum fidelem mi esse invenio. cum egomet mecum cogito, stulte feci qui hunc amisi. íbo hinc intro nunciam ad amores meos. sed, sensi, hinc sonitum fecerunt foris.

Pver

Ne me moneatis, memini ego officium meum, ego † nam conveniam illum, ubi ubi est gentium;

investigabo, óperae non parcam meae.

Pyrg.

Me quaerit illic. ibo huic puero obviam.

Pver.

5 Ehem, te quaero. salve, vir lepidissime, cumulate commoditate, praeter ceteros duo dí quem curant.

Pyrg.

Qui duo?

Pver.

Mars et Venus.

Pyrg.

Facetum puerum.

Pver.

Intro te ut eas obsecrat,
te volt, te quaerit, teque exspectans expetit.
10 amanti fer opem. quid stas? quin intro is?

Pyrg.

Eo. —

Pver.

Ipsus illic sese iam impedivit in plagas;
paratae insidiae sunt: in statu stat senex,
ut adoriatur moechum, qui formast ferox, qui omnis se amare credit, quaeque aspexerit 15 mulier: eum oderunt qua viri qua mulieres.
nunc in tumultum ibo: intus clamorem audio. —

ACT V.

Periplectomenvs

Dúcite istum; sí non sequitur, rápite sublimén foras, facite inter terram atque caelum ut sit situs, discindite.

Pyrgopolinices

Obsecro hercle, Periplectomene, te.

Per.

Nequiquam hercle obsecras.

vide ut istic tibi sit acutus, Cario, culter probe.

Cario

5 Quin iamdudum gestit moecho hóc abdomen adimere, ut ea iam quasi puero in collo pendeant crepundia.

Pyrg.

Perii.

Per.

Haud etiam, numero hoc dicis.

Car.

Iamne in hominem ívolo?

Per.

Immo etiam prius vérberetur fustibus.

Car.

Multum quidem.

...

Per.

10 Cur es ausus subigitare álienam uxorem, impudens?

Pyrg.

Ita me di ament, ultro ventumst ad me.

Per.

Mentitur, feri.

Pyrg.

Mane, dum narro.

Per.

Quid cessatis?

Pyrg.

Non licet mihi dicere?

Per.

Dic.

Pyrg.

Oratus sum, ad eam ut irem.

Per.

Quor ire ausu's? em tibi.

Pyrg.

Oiei, satis sum verberatus. obsecro.

Car.

Quam mox seco?

Per.

15 Vbi lubet: dispennite hominem divorsum et distendite.

Pyrg.

Obsecro hercle te, ut mea verba aúdias prius quam secat.

Per.

Loquere.

Pyrg.

Non volui nec factum est: viduam hercle esse censui, itaque ancilla, conciliatrix quae erat, dicebat mihi.

Per.

Iura te non nociturum esse hómini de hac re nemini, 20 quod tu hódie hic verberatu's aut quod verberabere, si te salvom hinc amitteremus Venerium nepotulum.

Pyrg.

Iuro per Iovem et Mavortem, me nociturum nemini, quod ego hic hodie vapularim, iureque id factum arbitror;
et si intestatus non abeo hinc, bene agitur pro noxia.

Per.

25 Quid si id non faxis?

Pyrg.

Vt vivam semper intestabilis.

Car.

Verberetur etiam, postibi amittendum censeo.

Pyrg.

Di tibi bene faciant semper, quom advocatus mihi venis.

Car.

Ergo des minam auri nobis.

Pyrg.

Quam ob rem?

Car.

Salvis testibus
ut te hódie hinc amittamus Venerium nepotulum;
30 aliter hinc non ibis, ne sis frustra.

Pyrg.

Dabitur.

Car.

Magis sapis.

de tunica et chlamyde et machaera ne quid speres, non feres.

Car.

Verberon etiam, an iam mittis?

Pyrg.

Mitis sum equidem fustibus.

opsecro vos.

Per.

Solvite istunc.

Pyrg.

Gratiam habeo tibi.

Per.

Si posthac prehendero ego te híc, carebis testibus.

Pyrg.

35 Causam haud dico.

Per.

Eamus intro, Cario. —

Pyrg.

Servos meos

eccos video. Philocomasium iam profecta est? dic mihi.

Servvs

Iam dudum.

Pyrg.

Ei mihi.

Ser.

Magis dícas, si scias quod ego scio.

nam ille qui lánam ob oculum habebat laevom, nauta non erat.

Pyrg.

Quis erat igitur?

Ser.

Philocomasio amator.

Pyrg.

Qui tu scis?

Ser.

Scio.

40 nam postquam porta exierunt, nil cessarunt ilico
osculari atque amplexari inter se.

Pyrg.

Vae misero mihi,

verba mihi data esse video. scelus viri Palaestrio, is me in hanc inlexit fraudem. iure factum iudico;

si sic aliis moechis fiat, minus hic moechorum siet,

45 magis metuant, minus has res studeant. eamus ad me. plaudite.

Grymio

Exi e culina sis foras, mastigia, qui mi inter patinas exhibes argutias.
egredere, erilis permities, ex aedibus.
ego pol te ruri, si vivam, ulciscar probe.
5 exi, inquam, nidor, e culina. quid lates?

Tranio

quid tibi, malum, hic ante aedis clamitatio?
an ruri censes te esse? abscede ab aedibus.
abi rús, abi dírecte, abscede ab ianua.
em, hocíne volebas?

Gr.

Perii. cur me verberas?

Tr.

10 Quia vivis.

Gr.

Patiar. sine modo adveniat senex.
sine modo venire salvom, quem absentem comes.

Tr.

Nec veri simile loquere nec verum, frutex, comesse quemquam ut quisquam absentem possiet.

Gr.

Tu urbanus vero scurra, deliciae popli,
15 rus mihi tu obiectas? sane hoc, credo, Tranio, quod te in pistrinum scis actutum tradier.
cis hercle paucas tempestates, Tranio, augebis ruri numerum, genus ferratile.
nunc, dum tibi lúbet licetque, pota, perde rem, 20 corrump e rilem ádulescentem óptumum;

dies noctesque bibite, pergraecamini, amicas emite liberate, pascite parasitos, obsonate pollucibiliter.
haecine mandavit tibi, quom peregre hinc it, senex?
25 hocine modo hic rem curatam offendet suam?
hocine boni esse officium servi existumas, ut eri sui corrumpat et rem et filium?
nam ego illúm corruptum duco, quom his factis studet;
quo nemo adaeque iuventute ex omni Attica 30 antehac est habitus parcus nec magis continens, is nunc in aliam partem palmam possidet.
virtute id factum tua et magisterio tuo.

Tr.

Quid tibi, malum, me aut quid ego agam curatios?
an ruri quaeso non sunt, quos cures, bovis?
35 lubet potare, amare, scorta ducere.
mei tergi facio haec, non tui fiducia.

Gr.

Quam confidenter loquitur.

Tr.

At te Iuppiter
dique omnes perdant, fu, oboluisti alium.
germana inludies, rusticus, hircus, hara suis, 40 caeno κοπρῶν commixte.

Gr.

Quid vis fieri?
non omnes possunt olere unguenta exotica, si tú oles, neque superiores accumbere neque tam facetis quam tu vivis victibus.
tu tíbi istos habeas turtures piscis avis, 45 sine me aliato fungi fortunas meas.
tu fortunatu's, ego miser: patiunda sunt.
meum bonum me, te tuom maneat malum.

Tr.

Quasi invidere mi hoc videre, Grumio, quia mihi bene est et tibi male est; dignissimumst:
50 decet me amare et te bubulcitarier, me victitare pulchre, te miseris modis.

Gr.

O carnuficium cribrum, quod credo fore, ita te forabunt patibulatum per vias stimulis carnufices, si huc reveniat senex.

Tr.

55 Qui scis, an tibi istuc evenat prius quam mihi?

Gr.

Quia numquam merui, tu meruisti et nunc meres.

Tr.

Orationis operam compendi face, nisi te mala re magna mactari cupis.

Gr.

Ervom daturin estis, bubus quod feram?
60 date, si non estis. agite, porro pergite quoniam occepistis: bibite, pergraecamini, este, ecfercite vos, saginam caedite.

Tr.

Tace atque abi rús. ego ire in Piraeum volo,
in vesperum parare piscatum mihi.
65 ervom tibi aliquis cras faxo ad villam adferat.
quid est? quid tu me nunc optuere, furcifer?

Gr.

Pol tibi istuc credo nomen actutum fore.

Tr.

Dum interea sic sit, istuc actutum sino.

Gr.

Ita est. sed unum hoc scito: nimio celerius

70 veniet quod noles quam illud, quod cupide petas.

Tr.

Molestus ne sis nunciam, i rus, te amove.

ne tu erres hercle praeterhac mihi non facies moram. —

Gr.

Satin abiit neque quod dixi flocci existumat?

pro di immortales, obsecro vostram fidem,

75 facite, huc ut redeat noster quam primum senex, triennium qui iam hinc abest, prius quam omnia periere, et aedis et ager; qui nisi huc redit, paucorum mensum sunt relictæ reliquiae.

nunc rus abibo. nam eccum erilem filium

80 video, corruptum ex adolescente optumo. —

Philolaches

Recórdatus múltum et diú cogitávi argúmentaque ín pectus ínstitui multa ego, átque ín meó corde, si ést quod mihí cor, eám rem volútavi et diú disputávi,

5 hominém cuius réi, quandó natus esset, similem ésse arbitrárer simulácrumque habére:

id répperi iam exémplum.

novárum aedium ésse arbitrór similem ego hómínem, quandó natus ést. ei rei argúmenta dícam.

10 atque hóc haud vidétur verí simile vóbis, at ego id faciam esse ita ut credatis.

profécto ita esse út praedicó vera víncam.

atque hóc vosmet ípsi, sció, proinde utí nunc ego ésse autumó, quando dícta audiétis

15 mea, haud áliter id dicétis.

auscúltate, argúmenta dúm dico ad hanc rem:

simúl gnarurís vos volo ésse hanc rem mécum.

aedés quom extempló sunt parátae, expolítae,

factaé probe examússim,

20 laudánt fabrum atque aedés probant, sibi quísque inde exemplum éxpetunt,

sibi quísque similis vólt suas, sumptum óperam non parcúnt suam.

átque ubi illo ímmigrat néquam homo, indíligens cúm pigra fámilia, immúndus, instrénuos, hic iam aédibus vitium ádditur, bonaé cum curantúr male;

25 átque illud saépe fit: témpestas venit, cónfringit tégulas ímbricesque: ibi dóminus indíligens réddere aliás nevolt;

vénit imber, pér lavit párietes, pér pluont, tígna putéfacit, pérdit operám fabri:

35 haec árgumenta ego aédificiis díxi; nunc etiám volo dicére, ut homines aedium esse símilis arbitrémíni.

primúmdum paréntes fabrí liberúm sunt:

50 nám ego ad illúd frugi usque ét probus fui, ín fabrorúm potestáte dum fui.

póstea quom ímmigravi íngenium in meum, pérdidi operám fabrorum ílico oppido.

vénit ignávia, ea míhi tempestás fuit,

55 mi ádvēntu suo grándinem ímbremque attulit;
haéc verēcúndiam mi ét virtutís modum déturbavít detexítque a me ilico;
póstilla optígere me néglegens fui.
contínuo pro ímbre amór advenit in cor meum, 60 ís úsque in pectus pérmanavit, pérmadefecit cór meum.
núnc simul rés, fides, fáma, virtús, decus déseruerunt: égo sum in usu fáctus nimio néquior.
atque édepol ita haec tigna úmide iam pútent: non videór mihi sarcíre posse aedés meas, quin tótae perpetuae ruant, 65 cum fúndamento pérrierint nec quísqum esse auxilió queat.
cór dolet, cum scio ut núnc sum atque ut fui, quó neque indústrior dé iuventúte erat quisquam nec clárior árte gymnástica:
díscó, hastís, pila, cúrsu, armís, equo 70 víctitabám volup, pársimonia ét duritia díscipulinae aliís eram, óptumi quique éxpetebant á me doctrinám sibi.
núnc, postquam nihilí sum, id vero meópte ingenio répperi.

Philemativm

Iam pridem ecastor frígida non lávi magis lubénter nec quom me melius, mea Scapha, rear esse defícatam.

Sc.

Eventus rebus omnibus, velut horno messis magna fuit.

Philem.

Quíd ea messis attinet ad meam lavationem?

Sc.

5 Nihilo plus quam lavatio tua ad messim.

Philol.

O Venus venusta, haec illa est tempestas mea, mihi quae modestiam omnem detexit, tectus qua fui; tum mihi Amor et Cupido in pectus perpluit meum, neque iam umquam optigere possum:

madent iam in corde parietes, periire haec oppido aedis.

Philem.

10 Contempla, amabo, mea Scapha, satin haec me vestis deceat.
volo mé placere Philolachi, meo oculo, meo patrono.

Sc.

Quin tu te exornas moribus lepidis, quom lepidam tute es?
non vestem amatores amant mulieris, sed vestis fartim.

Philol.

Ita me di ament, lepidast Scapha, sapit scelestam multum.
15 ut lepide omnes mores tenet sententiasque amantum.

Philem.

Quid nunc?

Sc.

Quid est?

Philem.

Quin me aspice et contempla, ut haec me deceat.

Sc.

Virtute formae id evenit, te ut deceat quidquid habeas.

Philol.

Ergo ob istuc verbum te, Scapha, donabo ego hodie aliqui, neque patiar te istanc gratiis laudasse, quae placet mi.

Philem.

20 Nolo ego te adsentari mihi.

Sc.

Nimis tú quidem stulta es mulier.
eho, mavis vituperarier falso quam vero extolli?

equidem pol vel falso tamen laudari multo malo, quam vero culpari aut meam speciem alios inridere.

Philem.

Ego verum amo, verum volo dici mihi: mendacem odi.

Sc.

25 Ita tu me ames, ita Philolaches tuos té amet, ut venusta es.

Philol.

Quid ais, scelesta? quo modo adiurasti? ita ego istam amarem?
quid istaéc me, id cur non additum est? infecta dona facio.
periisti: quod promiseram tibi donum, perdidisti.

Sc.

Equidem pol miror tam catam, tam docilem te et bene doctam 30 nunc stultam stulte facere.

Philem.

Quin mone quaéso, si quid erro.

Sc.

Tu ecastor erras, quae quidem illum expectes unum atque illi morem praecipue sic geras atque alios asperneris.
matronae, non meretricium est unum inservire amantem.

Philol.

Pro Iuppiter, nam quod malum versatur meae domi illud?
35 di deaque me omnes pessumis exemplis interficiant, nisi ego illam anum interfecero siti fameque atque algu.

Philem.

Nolo ego mihi male te, Scapha, praecipere.

Sc.

Stulta es plane,
quae illum tibi aeternum putes fore amicum et benevolentem.
moneo ego te: te ille deseret aetate et satietate.

Philem.

40 Non spero.

Sc.

Inesperata accidunt magis saepe quam quae speres.
postremo, si dictis nequis perduci, ut vera haec credas mea dicta, ex factis nosce rem. vides quae sim; et quae fui ante.
nihil ego quam nunc tu ... amata sum; atque uni modo gessi morem:
qui pol me, ubi aetate hoc caput colorem commutavit,
45 reliquit deseruitque me. tibi idem futurum credo.

Philol.

Vix comprimor, quin involem illi in oculos stimulatrici.

Philem.

Solam ille me soli sibi suo sumptu liberavit:
illi me soli censeo esse oportere opsequentem.

Philol.

Pro di immortales, mulierem lepidam et pudico ingenio.
50 bene hercle factum et gaudeo mihi nihil esse huius causa.

Sc.

Inscita ecastor tu quidem es.

Philem.

Quapropter?

Sc.

Quae istuc cures,
ut te ille amet.

Philem.

Cur obsecro non curem?

Sc.

Libera es iam.
tu iam quod quaerebas habes: ille te nisi amabit ultro, id pro tuo capite quod dedit perdiderit tantum argenti.

Philol.

55 Perii hercle, ni ego illam pessumis exemplis enicasso.
illa hanc corrumpit mulierem malesuada † vitilena.

Philem.

Numquam ego illi possum gratiam referre ut meritust de me.
Scapha, id tu mihi ne suadeas, ut illúm minoris pendam.

Sc.

At hoc únum facito cogites: si illum inservibis solum
60 dum tibi nunc haec aetatulast, in sénecta male querere.

Philol.

In anginam ego nunc me velim verti, ut veneficae illi fauces prehendam atque enicem scelestam stimulatricem.

Philem.

Eundem ánimum oportet nunc mihi esse gratum, ut impetravi, atque olim, prius quam id extudi, quom illi subblandiebar.

Philol.

65 Divi me faciant quod volunt, ni ob istam orationem te liberasso denuo et ni Scapham enicasso.

Sc.

Si tibi sat acceptum est fore tibi victum sempiternum atque illum amatorem tibi proprium futurum in vita, soli gerundum censeo morem et capiundas crines.

Philem.

70 Vt fama est homini, exin solet pecuniam invenire.
ego si bonam famam mihi servasso, sat ero dives.

Philol.

Siquidem hércle vendundust pater, venibit multo potius, quam te me vivo umquam sinam egere aut mendicare.

Sc.

Quid illís futurum est ceteris qui té amat?

Philem.

Magis amabunt,

75 quom me videbunt gratiam referre bene merenti.

Philol.

Vtinam nunc meus emortuos pater ad me nuntietur, ut ego exheredem meis bonis me faciam atque haec sit heres.

Sc.

Iam ista quidem absumpta res erit: dies nóctesque estur bibitur, neque quisquam parsimoniam adhibet: sagina plane est.

Philol.

80 In te hercle certumst principe ut sim parcus experiri, nam neque edes quicquam neque bibes apud me his decem diebus.

Philem.

Si quid tu in illum bene voles loqui, id loqui licebit:
nec recte si illi dixeris, iam ecastor vapulabis.

Philol.

Edepol si summo Ióvi bovi eo argénto sacruficassem, 85 pro illius capite quod dedi, numquam aequae id bene locassem.
videas eam medullitus me amare. oh, probus homo sum:
quae pro me causam diceret, patronum liberavi.

Sc.

Video te nihili pendere prae Philolache omnis homines.

nunc, ne eius causa vapulem, tibi potius adsentabor.

90 si acceptum sat habes, tibi fore illum amicum sempiternum.

Philem.

Cédo mi speculum et cum ornamentis arculam actutum, Scapha, ornata ut sim, quom huc adveniat Philolaches voluptas mea.

Sc.

Mulier quae se suamque aetatem spernit, speculo ei usus est:
quid opust speculo tibi, quae tute speculo speculum es maximum?

Philol.

95 Ob istuc verbum, ne nequiquam, Scapha, tam lepide dixeris, dabo aliquid hodie peculi tibi, Philematium mea.

Philem.

Suo quique loco (viden?) capillus satis compositust commode.

Sc.

Vbi tu commoda es, capillum commodum esse credito.

Philol.

Vah, quid illá pote peius quicquam muliere memorarier?
100 nunc adsentatrix scelestá est, dudum adversatrix erat.

Philem.

Cedo cerussam.

Sc.

Quid cerussa opust nám?

Philem.

Qui malas oblinam.

Sc.

Vna operá ebur atramento candefacere postules.

Philol.

Lepide dictum de atramento atque ebore. euge, plaudo Scaphae.

Philem.

Tum tu igitur cedo purpurisum.

Sc.

Non do. scita es tu quidem.

105 nova pictura interpolare vis opus lepidissimum?
non istanc aetatem oportet pigmentum ullum attingere, neque cerussam neque melinum, neque aliam ullam offuciam.

Philem.

Cape igitur speculum.

Philol.

Ei mihi misero, savium speculo dedit.
nimis velim lapidem, qui ego illi speculo diminuam caput.

Sc.

110 Linteum cape atque exerge tibi manus.

Philem.

Quid ita, obsecro?

Sc.

Vt speculum tenuisti, metuo né olant argentum manus:
ne usquam argentum te accepisse suspicetur Philolaches.

Philol.

Non videor vidisse lenam callidiorem ullam alteras.
ut lepide atque astute in mentem venit de speculo malae.

Philem.

115 Etiamne unguentis unguendam censes?

Sc.

Minime feceris.

Philem.

Quapropter?

Sc.

Quia ecastor mulier recte olet, ubi nihil olet.
nam istae veteres, quae se unguentis unctitant, interpoles, vetulae, edentulae, quae vitia corporis fuco occulunt, ubi sese sudor cum unguentis consociavit, ilico 120 itidem olent, quasi cum una multa iura confudit cocus.

quid olant nescias, nisi id unum, † ni male olere intellegas.

Philol.

Vt perdocte cuncta callet. nihil hac docta doctius.
verum illud ésse maxima adeo pars vestrorum intellegit, quibus anus domi súnť uxores, quae vos dote meruerunt.

Philem.

125 Agedum contempla aurum et pallam, satin haec me deceat, Scapha.

Sc.

Non me istuc curare oportet.

Philem.

Quem obsecro igitur?

Sc.

Eloquar:

Philolachem, is ne quid emat, nisi quod sibi placere censeat.
nám amator meretricis mores sibi emit auro et purpura.
quid opust, quod suom esse nolit, ei ultro ostentariet?
130 purpura aetati occultandaest, aurum turpi mulieri.
pulchra mulier nuda erit quam purpurata pulchrior:
poste nequiquam exornata est bene, si morata est male.
pulchrum ornatum turpes mores peius caeno conlinunt.
nam si pulchra est, nimis ornata est.

Philol.

Nimis diu abstineo manum.

135 quid hic vos agitis?

Philem.

Tibi me exorno út placeam.

Philol.

Ornata es satis.

abi tu hinc intro atque ornamenta haec aufer. sed, voluptas mea, mea Philematium, potare tecum conlibitum est mihi.

Philem.

Et edepol mihi tecum, nam quod tibi libet idem mihi libet, mea voluptas.

Philol.

Em istuc verbum vile est viginti minis.

Philem.

140 Cedo, amabo, decem: bene emptum tibi dare hoc verbum volo.

Philol.

Etiam nunc decem minae apud te sunt; vel rationem puta. triginta minas pro capite tuo dedi.

Philem.

Cur exprobras?

Philol.

Egone id exprobrem, qui mihimet cupio id opprobrarier? nec quicquam argenti locavi iam diu usquam aequè bene.

Philem.

145 Certe ego, quod te amo, operam nusquam melius potui ponere.

Philol.

Bene igitur ratio accepti atque expensi inter nos convenit: tu me amas, ego té amo; merito id fieri uterque existimat. haec qui gaudent, gaudeant perpetuo suo semper bono; qui invident, ne umquam eorum quisquam invideat prosus commodis.

Philem.

150 Age accumbe igitur. cedo aquam manibus, puere, appone hic mensulam.

vide, tali ubi sint. vin unguenta?

Philol.

Quid opust? cum stacta accubo.

sed estne hic meus sodalis, qui huc incedit cúm amica sua?
is est, Callidamates cum amica incedit. euge, oculus meus, conveniunt manuplares eccos: praedam participes petunt.

Callidamates

Advérsum veníri mihi ád Philolachétem voló temperi. aúdi, em tibi ímperatum est.
nam ílli ubi fui, inde éffugi foras,
ita me íbi male convívi sermónisque taésumst.
5 nunc cómissatum íbo ad Phílolachetem, ubi nós hilari ingénio et lépide accipient.
ecquíd tibi videór mammamadére?

Delphivm

Sémper istóc modo.

morátu's tu te. íre huc debébas.

Call.

10 Visne égo te ac tu me ampléctare?

Del.

Si tíbi cordi est faceré, licet.

Call.

Lépida es.

dúc me amabó.

Del.

Cave né cadas, ásta.

Call.

O — o — ocellús meus, túos sum alumnus, méi meum.

Del.

Cáve modo, né prius ín via accúmbas,
15 quam ílli, ubi léctus est strátus, concúbimus.

Call.

Síne, sine cádere me.

Del.

Síno, sed hoc, quod mi in manu est:
sí cades, nón cades quín cadam técum.

Call.

Iacéntis tollet póstea nos ámbos aliquis.

Del.

Madet hómo.

Call.

Tun me ais mammámadere?

Del.

20 Cedo mánum, nolo equidem te ádfliigi.

Call.

Em téne.

Del.

Age, i símul.

Call.

Quo ego eam?

Del.

An nescis?

Call.

Scio, ín mentem venít modo:
nempe dómum eo commissátum.

Del.

Immo, ístuc quidem.

Call.

Iam mémini.

Philol.

25 Núm non vis me óbviau hís ire, anime mi?
ílli ego ex ómnibus óptume volo.
iám revertár.

Philem.

Diu ést iam id mihi.

Call.

Écquis hic ést?

Philol.

Adest.

Call.

Eú, Philolaches,

sálve, amicíssime mi ómnium hominum.

Philol.

30 Dí te ament. áccuba, Cállidamates.

únde agis te?

Call.

Únde homo ébrius probe.

Philem.

Quín amabo áccubas, Délphium mea?

da ílli quod bibat.

Call.

Dórmiam ego iam.

Philol.

Núm mirum aut novom quíppiam facit?

Del.

35 Quíd ego hoc faciam póstea?

Philem.

Mea, síc sine eumpse.

age tu ínterim da ab Délphio cito cántharum circum.

ACT II.

Tranio

Iúppiter supremus summis opibus atque industriis me periisse et Philolachetem cupit erilem filium.
occidit Spes nostra, nusquam stabulum est Confidentiae, nec Salus nobis saluti iam esse, si cupiat, potest:
5 ita mali, maeroris montem maximum ad portum modo conspicatus sum: erus advenit peregre, periit Tranio.
ecquis homo est, qui facere argenti cupiat aliquantum lucri, quí hodie sese excruciarí meam vicem possit pati?
ubi sunt isti plagipatidae, feritribaces viri, 10 vel isti qui hosticas trium númmum causa subeunt sub falas, ubi quinis aut denis hastis corpus transfigi solet?
ego dabo ei talentum, primus qui in crucem excucurrerit;
sed ea lege, ut offigantur bis pedes, bis bracchia.
ubi id erit factum, a me argentum petito praesentarium.
15 sed ego — sumne infelix, qui non curro curriculo domum?

Philol.

Adest adest opsonium. eccum Tranio a portu redit.

Tr.

Philolaches.

Philol.

Quid est?

Tr.

Et ego et tu —

Philol.

Quid et ego et tu?

Tr.

Periimus.

Philol.

Quid ita?

Tr.

Pater adest.

Philol.

Quid ego ex te aúdio?

Tr.

Absumpti sumus.

pater inquam tuos venit.

Philol.

Vbi is est, obsecro?

Tr.

... adest.

Philol.

²⁰ Quis id ait? quis vidit?

Tr.

Egomet inquam vidi.

Philol.

Vae mihi.

quid ego ago?

Tr.

Nam quid tu, malum, me rogitas quid agas? accubas.

Philol.

Tutin vidisti?

Tr.

Egomet, inquam.

Philol.

Certe?

Tr.

Certe inquam.

Philol.

Occidi,

si tu vera memoras.

Tr.

Quid mihi sit boni, si mentiar?

Philol.

Quid ego nunc faciam?

Tr.

Iube haec hinc omnia amolirier.

25 quis istic dormit?

Philol.

Callidamates.

Tr.

Suscita istum, Delphium.

Del.

Callidamates, Callidamates, vigila.

Call.

Vigilo, cedo ut bibam.

Del.

Vigila. pater advenit peregre Philolachis.

Call.

Valeat pater.

Philol.

Valet ille quidem, atque ego disperii.

Call.

Bis periisti? qui potest?

Philol.

Quaeso edepol, exsurge; pater advenit.

Call.

Tuos venit pater?

30 iube abíre rursum. quíd illi reditio etiam húc fuit?

Philol.

Quid ego agam? pater iam híc me offendet miserum adveniens ebrium,

aedis plenas convivarum et mulierum. miserum est opus, igitur demum fodere puteum, úbi sitis fauces tenet;
sicut ego adventu patris nunc quaero quid faciam miser.

Tr.

35 Ecce autem iterum hic deposivit caput et dormit. suscita.

Philol.

Etiam vigilas? pater, inquam, aderit iam hic meus.

Call.

Ain tu, pater?

cedo soleas mihi, ut arma capiam. iam pol ego occidam patrem.

Philol.

Perdis rem.

Del.

Tace, amabo.

Tr.

Abripite hunc intro actutum inter manus.

Call.

Iam hercle ego vos pro matula habebo, nisi mihi matulam datis.

Philol.

40 Perii.

Tr.

Habe bonum animum: ego istum lepide medicabo metum.

Philol.

Nullus sum.

Tr.

Taceas: ego qui istaec sedem meditabor tibi.

sat in habes, si ego advenientem ita patrem faciam tuum, non modo ne intro eat, verum etiam ut fugiat longe ab aedibus?
vos modo hinc abite intro atque haec hinc propere amolimini.

Philol.

45 Vbi ego ero?

Tr.

Vbi maxime esse vis: cum hac, cum istac eris.

Del.

Quid si igitur abeamus hinc nos?

Tr.

Non hoc longe, Delphium.

nam intus potate hau tantillo hac quidem causa minus.

Philol.

Ei mihi, quam ístaec blanda dicta quo evenant madeo metu.

Tr.

Potin animó ut sis quieto et facias quod iubeo?

Philol.

Potest.

Tr.

50 Omnium primum, Philematium, intro abi, et tu, Delphium.

Del.

Morigerae tibi erimus ambae. —

Tr.

Ita ille faxit Iuppiter.

animum advorte nunciam tu quae volo accurarier.

omnium primumdum aédes iam face occlusae sient;

intus cave muttire quemquam siveris.

Philol.

Curabitur.

Tr.

55 Tamquam si intus natus nemo in aedibus habitet.

Philol.

Licet.

Tr.

Neu quisquam responset, quando hasce aedis pultabit senex.

Philol.

Numquid aliud?

Tr.

Clavem mi harunc aedium Laconicam

iam iube efferri intus: hasce ego aedis occludam hinc foris.

Philol.

In tuam cústodelam meque et meas spes trado, Tranio. —

Tr.

60 Pluma haud interest, patronus an cliens probior siet.

Homini, cui nulla in pectore est audacia, nam cuivis homini, vel optumo vel pessumo quamvis desubito facile est facere nequiter:

verum id videndum est, id viri docti est opus,

65 quae designata sint et facta nequiter, tranquille cuncta et ut proveniant sine malo, ne quid potiatur, quam ob rem pigeat vivere.

sicut ego efficiam, quae facta hic turbavimus, profecto ut liqueant omnia et tranquilla sint

70 neque quicquam nobis pariant ex se incommodi.

sed quid tu egredere, Sphaerio?

Pver

Iamiam ...

...

Tr.

Optime.

praeceptis paruisti.

Pver.

Iussit maximo

opere orare, ut patrem aliquo absterreris modo,

75 ne intro iret ad se.

Tr.

Quin etiam illi hoc dicito, facturum me, ut ne etiam aspicere aedis audeat, capite obvoluto ut fugiat cum summo metu.

clavem cedo atque abi intro atque occlude ostium, et ego hinc occludam. — iube venire nunciam.

80 ludos ego hodie vivo praesenti hic seni faciam, quod credo mortuo numquam fore.

concedam a foribus huc, hinc speculabor procul, unde advenienti sarcinam imponam seni.

Theopropides

Habeo, Neptune, gratiam magnam tibi, quom med amisisti abs te vix vivom domum.
verum si posthac me pedem latum modo scies ímposisse in undam, hau causast, ilico
5 quod nunc voluisti facere quin facias mihi.
apage, apage te a me nunciam post hunc diem:
quod crediturus tibi fui, omne credidi.

Tr.

Edepol, Neptune, peccavisti largiter, qui occasionem hanc amisisti tam bonam.

Th.

10 Triennio post Aegypto advenio domum;
credo exspectatus veniam familiaribus.

Tr.

Nimio edepol ille potuit exspectatior venire, qui te nuntiaret mortuom.

Th.

Sed quid hoc? occlusa ianua est interdius.
15 pultabo. heus, ecquis intust? aperitin fores?

Tr.

Quis homo est, qui nostras aedes accessit prope?

Th.

Meus sérvos hic quidem est Tranio.

Tr.

O Theopropides,
ere, salve, salvom te advenisse gaudeo.

usquin valuisti?

Th.

Vsque ut vides.

Tr.

Factum optime.

Th.

20 Quid vos? insanin estis?

Tr.

Quidum?

Th.

Sic, quia

foris ámbulatis, natus nemo in aedibus servat, neque qui recludat neque † quis respondeat.

pultando pedibus paene confregi hasce ambas foris.

Tr.

Eho an tú tetigisti has aedis?

Th.

Cur non tangerem?

25 quin pultando, inquam, paene confregi foris.

Tr.

Tetigistin?

Th.

Tetigi, inquam, et pultavi.

Tr.

Vah.

Th.

Quid est?

Tr.

Male hercle factum.

Th.

Quid est negoti?

Tr.

Non potest
dici, quam indignum facinus fecisti et malum.

Th.

Quid iam?

Tr.

Fuge, obsecro, atque abscede ab aedibus.
30 fuge huc, fuge ad me propius. tetigistin foris?

Th.

Quo modo pultare potui, si non tangerem?

Tr.

Occidisti hercle —

Th.

Quem mortalem?

Tr.

Omnis tuos.

Th.

Di te deaeque ómnes faxint cum istoc omine —

Tr.

Metuo, te atque istos expiare ut possies.

Th.

35 Quam ob rem? aut quam subito rem mihi adportas novam?

...

Tr.

Et heus, iube illos illinc ambo abscedere.

Th.

Apscedite.

Tr.

Aedes ne attigatis. tangite vos quoque terram.

Th.

Obsecro hercle, quin eloquere ...

40 ...

Tr.

Quia septem menses sunt, quom in hasce aedis pedem nemo intro tetulit, semel ut emigravimus.

Th.

Eloquere, quid ita?

Tr.

Circumspicedum, numquis est,
sermonem nostrum qui aucupet?

Th.

Tutum probest.

Tr.

45 Circumspice etiam.

Th.

Nemo est. loquere nunciam.

Tr.

Capitale scelus est.

Th.

Quid est? non satis intellego.

Tr.

Scelus, inquam, factum est iam diu, antiquom et vetus.

Th.

Antiquom?

Tr.

Id adeo nos nunc factum invenimus.

Th.

Quid istúc est sceleris? aut quis id fecit? cedo.

Tr.

50 Hospes necavit hospitem captum manu;
iste, ut ego opinor, qui has tibi aedis vendidit.

Th.

Necavit?

Tr.

Aurumque ei ademit hospiti eumque híc defodit hospitem íbidem in aedibus.

Th.

Quapropter id vos factum suspicamini?

Tr.

55 Ego dicam, auscultá. út foris cenaverat tuos gnátus, postquam rediit a cena domum, abimus omnes cubitum; condormivimus:
lucernam forte oblitus fueram exstinguere;
atque ille exclamat derepente maximum.

Th.

60 Quis homo? án gnatus meus?

Tr.

St, tace, ausculta modo.

ait vénisse illum in somnis ad se mortuom.

Th.

Nempe ergo in somnis?

Tr.

Ita. sed ausculta modo.

ait illum hoc pacto sibi dixisse mortuom.

Th.

In somnis?

Tr.

Mirum quin vigilanti diceret,

65 qui abhinc sexaginta annos occisus foret.

interdum inepte stultus es, Theopropides.

Th.

Taceo.

Tr.

Sed ecce quae illi in ...

“ego transmarinus hospes sum Diapontius.

hic habito, haéc mihi dedita est habitatio.

70 nam me Acheruntem recipere Orcus noluit, quia praemature vita careo. per fidem deceptus sum: hospes hic me necavit isque me defodit insepultum clám ibidem in hisce aedibus, scelestus, auri causa. nunc tu hinc emigra.

75 scelestae haé sunt aedes, impia est habitatio”.

quae hic monstra fiunt, anno vix possum eloqui.

Th.

St, st.

Tr.

Quid, obsecro hercle, factum est?

Th.

Concrepuit foris.

Tr.

Hicin percussit!

Th.

Guttam haud habeo sanguinis,

80 vivom me accersunt Acheruntem mortui.

Tr.

Perii, illisce hodie hanc conturbabunt fabulam.

nimis quám formido, ne manifesto hic me opprimat.

Th.

Quid tute tecum loquere?

Tr.

Abscede ab ianua.

fuge, obsecro hercle.

Th.

Quo fugiam? etiam tu fuge.

Tr.

85 Nihil ego formido, pax mihi est cum mortuis.

Intvs.

Heus, Tranio.

Tr.

Non me appellabis, si sapis.

nihil ego commerui, neque istas percussi fores.

Intvs.

Quaeso — >

Tr.

Cave verbum faxis.

Th.

Dic quid segreges sermonem.

Tr.

Apage hinc te.

Th.

Quae res te agitat, Tranio?
90 quicum istaec loquere?

Tr.

An quaeso tu appellaveras?
ita me di amabunt, mortuom illum credidi expostulare quia percussisses fores.
sed tu, etiamne astas nec quae dico optemperas?

Th.

Quid faciam?

Tr.

Cave respexis, fuge, atque operi caput.

Th.

95 Cur non fugis tu?

Tr.

Pax mihi est cum mortuis.

Th.

Scio. quíd modo igitur? cur tanto opere extimueras?

Tr.

Nil me curassis, inquam, ego mihi providero:
tu, ut occepisti, tantum quantum quis fuge,

atque Herculem invoca.

Th.

Hercules, ted invoco. —

Tr.

¹⁰⁰ Et ego — tibi hodie ut det, senex, magnum malum.
pro di immortales, obsecro vestram fidem, quid ego hodie negoti confeci mali.

ACT III.

Danista

Scelestio rem ego annum argento faenori numquam ullum vidi quam hic mihi annus optigit.
a mani ad noctem usque in foro dego diem, locare argenti nemini nummum queo.

Tr.

5 Nunc pol ego perii plane in perpetuo modum.
danista adest, qui dedit argentum faenore, qui amica est empti quoque opus in sumptus fuit.
manifesta res est, nisi quid occurro prius,
ne hoc senex resciscat. ibo huic obviam.
10 sed quidnam hic sese tam cito recipit domum?
metuo ne de hac re quippiam indauidiverit.
accedam atque adpellabo. ei quam timeo miser.
nihil est miserius quam animus hominis conscius, sicut me † habet. verum utut res sese habet, 15 pergam turbare porro: ita haec res postulat.
unde is?

Theopropides

Conveni illum unde hasce aedis emeram.

Tr.

Numquid dixisti de illo quod dixi tibi?

Th.

Dixi hercle vero omnia.

Tr.

Ei misero mihi,
metuo ne techinae meae perpetuo perierint.

Th.

20 Quid tute tecum?

Tr.

Nihil enim. sed dic mihi, dixistine quaeso?

Th.

Dixi, inquam, ordine omnia.

Tr.

Etiam fatetur de hospite?

Th.

Immo pernegat.

Tr.

Negat scelestus?

Th.

Negitat inquam.

Tr.

Cogita:
non confitetur?

Th.

Dicam si confessus sit.
25 quid nunc faciundum censes?

Tr.

Egon quid censeam?
cape, obsecro hercle, cūm eo ūna iudicem (sed eum videto ut capias, qui credat mihi):
tam facile vinces quam pirum volpes comest.

Dan.

Sed Philolachetis servom éccum Tranium,
30 qui mihi neque faenus neque sortem argenti danunt.

Th.

Quo té agis?

Tr.

Nec quoquam abeo. né ego sum miser, scelestus, natus dis inimicis omnibus.
iam illo praesente adibit. ne ego homo sum miser,
ita et hinc et illinc mi exhibent negotium.

35 sed occupabo adire.

Dan.

Hic ad me it, salvos sum,
spes est de argento.

Tr.

Hílarus est: frustra est homo.
salvere iubeo te, Misargyrides, bene.

Dan.

Salve et tu. quid de argentost?

Tr.

Abi sis, belua.
continuo adveniens pilum iniecisti mihi.

Dan.

40 Hic homo est inanis.

Tr.

Hic homo est certe háriolus.

Dan.

Quin tu istas mittis tricas?

Tr.

Quin quid vis cedo.

Dan.

Vbi Philolaches est?

Tr.

Numquam potuisti mihi magis opportunus advenire quam advenis.

Dan.

Quid est?

Tr.

Concede huc.

Dan.

Quin mihi faenus redditur?

Tr.

45 Scio té bona esse voce, ne clama nimis.

Dan.

Ego hercle vero clamo.

Tr.

Ah, gere morem mihi.

Dan.

Quid tibi ego morem vis geram?

Tr.

Abi quaeso hinc domum.

Dan.

Abeam?

Tr.

Redito huc circiter meridie.

Dan.

Reddeturne igitur faenus?

Tr.

Reddeturne. abi.

Dan.

50 Quid ego huc recursem aut operam sumam aut conteram?
quid si hic manebo potius ad meridiem?

Tr.

Immo abi domum, verum hercle dico, abi modo.

...

Dan.

Quin vos mihi faenus date. quid hic nugamini?

Tr.

55 Eu hércle, ne tu — abi modo, ausculta mihi.

Dan.

Iam hercle ego illum nominabo. ...

Tr.

Euge strenue.

beatus vero es nunc, quom clamas.

Dan.

Meum peto.

multos me hoc pacto iam dies frustramini.

molestus si sum, reddite argentum: abiero.

60 respensiones omnes hoc verbo eripis.

Tr.

Sortem accipe.

Dan.

Immo faenus, id primum volo.

Tr.

Quid ais tu, ómnium hominum taeterrime?

venisti huc te extentatum? agas quod in manu est.

non dat, non debet.

Dan.

Non debet?

Tr.

Ne frit quidem

65 ferre hinc potes. an metuis ne quo abeat foras
urbe exulatum faenoris causa tui, quoi sortem accipere iam licet?

Dan.

Quin non peto sortem: illuc primum, faenus, reddundum est mihi.

Tr.

Molestus ne sis. nemo dat, age quid lubet.

70 tu solus, credo, faenore argentum datas.

Dan.

Cedo faenus, redde faenus, faenus reddite.

daturin estis faenus actutum mihi?

datur faenus mihi?

Tr.

Faenus illic, faenus hic.

nescit quidem nisi faenus fabularier.

75 ultro te. neque ego taetriorem beluam vidisse me umquam quemquam quam te censeo.

Dan.

Non edepol tu nunc me istis verbis territas.

Th.

... calidum hoc est: etsi procul abest, urit male. ...

quod illúc est faenus, opsecro, quod illíc petit?

Tr.

80 Pater eccum advenit peregre non multo prius illius, is tibi et faénus et sortem dabit, ne inconciliare quid nos porro postules.

vide num moratur.

Dan.

Quin feram, si quid datur.

Th.

Quid ais tu?

Tr.

Quid vis?

Th.

Quis illic est? quid illíc petit?

85 quid Philolachetem gnatum compellat meum sic et praesenti tibi facit convicium?
quid illí debetur?

Tr.

Obsecro hercle, illud iube obici illi argentum ob os impurae beluae.

Th.

Iubeam — ?

Tr.

Iuben homini argento os verberarier?

Dan.

90 Perfacile ego ictus perpetior argenteos.

Tr.

Audin? videturne, obsecro hercle, idoneus, danista qui sit, genus quod improbissimum est.

Th.

Non ego istuc curo qui sit quid sit unde sit:
id volo mihi dici, id me scire éxpeto,

95 quod illud argentum est?

Tr.

Est — huic debet Philolaches paulum.

Th.

Quantillum?

Tr.

Quasi — quadraginta minas;
ne sane id multum censeas.

Th.

Paulum id quidem est.
adeo etiam argenti faenus creditum audio.

Tr.

Quattuor quadraginta illi debentur minae,
100 et sors et faenus.

Dan.

Tantumst, nihilo plus peto.

Tr.

Velim quidem hercle ut uno nummo plus petas.
dic te daturum, ut abeat.

Th.

Egon dicam dare?

Tr.

Dic.

Th.

Egone?

Tr.

Tu ipsus. dic modo, ausculta mihi.
promitte, age inquam: ego iubeo.

Th.

Responde mihi:

105 quid eo est argento factum?

Tr.

Salvom est.

Th.

Solvite

vosmet igitur, si salvomst.

Tr.

Aedis filius

tuos emit.

Th.

Aedis?

Tr.

Aedis.

Th.

Euge, Philolaches

patrissat: iám homo in mercatura vortitur.

ain tu, aedis?

Tr.

Aedis inquam. sed scin quoius modi?

Th.

110 Qui scire possum?

Tr.

Vah.

Th.

Quid est?

Tr.

Ne me roga.

Th.

Nam quid ita?

Tr.

Speculo claras, candorem merum.

Th.

Bene hercle factum. quid, eas quanti destinat?

Tr.

Talentis magnis totidem quot ego et tu sumus.

sed arraboni has dedit quadraginta minas;

115 hinc sumpsit quas ei dedimus. satin intellegis?

nam postquam haec aedes ita erant, ut dixi tibi, continuo est alias aedis mercatus sibi.

Th.

Bene hercle factum.

Dan.

Heus, iam adpetit meridie.

Tr.

Absolve hunc quaeso, vomitu ne hic nos enecet.

Th.

120 Adulescens, mecum rém habe.

Dan.

Nempe aps te petam?

Th.

Petito cras.

Dan.

Abeo: sat habeo, si cras fero. —

Tr.

Malum quod isti di deaeque omnes duint, ita mea consilia perturbat paenissime.
nullum edepol hodie genus est hominum taetrius
125 nec minus bono cum iure, quam danisticum.

Th.

Qua in regione istas aedis emit filius?

Tr.

Ecce autem perii.

Th.

Dicisne hoc quod te rogo?

Tr.

Dicam. sed nomen domini quaero quid siet.

Th.

Age comminiscere ergo.

Tr.

Quid ego nunc agam,
130 nisi ut in vicinum hunc proximum ... , eas émissee aedis huius dicam filium?
calidum hercle esse audivi optimum mendacium.
quidquid dei dicunt, id decretumst dicere.

Th.

Quid igitur? iam commentu's?

Tr.

Di istum perduint —

135 (immo istunc potius) de vicino hoc proximo tuos emit aedis filius.

Th.

Bonan fide?

Tr.

Siquidém tu argentum reddituru's, tum bona, si redditurus non es, non emit bona.
non in loco emit perbono?

Th.

Immo in optumo.

140 cupio hercle inspicere hasce aedis. pultadum fores
atque evoca aliquem íntus ad te, Tranio.

Tr.

Ecce autem perii. nunc quid dicam nescio.
iterum iam ad unum saxum me fluctus ferunt.
quid nunc? non hercle quid nunc faciam reperio:
145 manifesto teneor.

Th.

Evocadum aliquem ocius, roga círcumducat.

Tr.

Heus tu, at hic sunt mulieres:
videndumst primum, utrum eae velintne an non velint.

Th.

Bonum aequomque oras. i, percontare et roga.
ego hic tantisper, dum exis, te opperiar foris.

Tr.

Si.

Nil moror mi istius modi clientis.

Tr.

Nunc hoc quod ad te noster me misit senex —

Si.

Hoc mihi responde primum, quod ego te rogo:
60 iam de istis rebus voster quid sensit senex?

Tr.

Nil quicquam.

Si.

Numquid increpavit filium?

Tr.

Tam liquidust quam liquida esse tempestas solet ...
nunc te hoc orare iussit opere maximo, ut sibi liceret inspicere hasce aedis tuas.

Si.

65 Non sunt venales.

Tr.

Scio equidem istuc. sed senex gynaeceum aedificare volt hic in suis et balneas et ambulacrum et porticum.

Si.

Quid ergo somniavit?

Tr.

Ego dicam tibi.
dare volt uxorem filio quantum potest, 70 ad eam rem facere volt novom gynaeceum.
nam sibi laudavisse hasce ait architectonem nescio quem exaedificatas insanum bene;
nunc hinc exemplum capere volt, nisi tu nevis.
nam ille eo maiore hinc opere ex te exemplum petit, 75 quia isti úmbram aestate tíbi esse audivit perbonam sub sicco lumine usque perpetuom diem.

Si.

Immo edepol vero, quom usquequaque umbra est, tamen sol semper hic est usque a mani ad vesperum:
quasi flagitator astat usque ad ostium,
80 nec mi umbra hic usquamst, nisi si in puteo quaeipiamst.

Tr.

Quid, Sarsinatis ecqua est, si Vmbram non habes?

Si.

Molestus ne sis. haec sunt sicut praedico.

Tr.

At tamen inspicere volt.

Si.

Inspiciat, si lubet;
si quid erit quod illi placeat, de exemplo meo 85 ipse aedificato.

Tr.

Eon, voco huc hominem?

Si.

I, voca.

Tr.

Alexándrum magnum atque Agathoclem aiunt maximas duo rés gessisse: quid mihi fiet tertio, qui solus facio facinora immortalia?

vehit hic clitellas, vehit hic autem alter senex.

90 novicium mihi quaestum institui non malum:

nam muliones mulos clitellarios

Tr.

At ego video. nam inter volturios duos cornix astat, ea volturios duo vicissim vellicat.
quaeso huc ad me specta, cornicem ut conspicere possies.
iam vides?

Th.

Profecto nullam equidem illic cornicem intuo.

Tr.

150 At tu isto ad vos optuere, quoniam cornicem nequis conspicari, si volturios forte possis contui.

Th.

Omnino, ut te absolvam, nullam pictam conspicio hic avem.

Tr.

Age, iam mitto, ignosco: aetate non quis optuerier.

Th.

Haec, quae possum, ea mihi profecto cuncta vehementer placent.

Si.

nam egomet ductarem, nisi mi esset apud forum negotium.

Th.

Apage istum a me perductorem, nil moror ductarier.
quidquid est, errabo potius quam perductet quispiam.

Si.

¹⁶⁰ Aedis dico.

Th.

Ergo intro eo igitur sine perductore.

Si.

Illicet.

Th.

Ibo intro igitur.

Tr.

Mane sis videam, ne canis —

Th.

Agedum vide.

Tr.

Est! abi, canis. est! abin diérecta? abin hinc in malam crucem?
at etiam restas? est! ábi istinc.

Si.

Nil pericli est, age modo.

tam placidast, quam feta. quam vis ire intro audacter licet.

¹⁶⁵ eo ego hinc ad forum. —

Th.

Fecisti commode, bene ambula.

Tranio, age, canem istam a foribus aliquis abducat face, etsi non metuenda est.

Tr.

Quin tu illam aspice ut placide accubat;
nisi molestum vis videri te atque ignavom.

Th.

Iam ut lubet.

sequere hac me igitur. —

Tr.

Equidem haud usquam a pedibus apscedam tuis. —

Pin.

Etiamne aperis? Callidamati nostro adversum venimus.

Th.

Heus vos, pueri, quid istic agitis? quid istas aedis frangitis?

Phan.

Heus senex, quid tu percontare ad te quod nihil attinet?

Th.

Nihil ad me attinet?

Phan.

Nisi forte factu's praefectus novos,

Th.

Erus hic voster potat?

Phan.

Ita loquor.

Th.

15 Puere, nimium delicatu's.

Phan.

Ei advorsum venimus.

Th.

Cui homini?

Phan.

Ero nostro. quaeso, quotiens dicendumst tibi?

Th.

Puere, nemo hic habitat. nam te esse arbitror puerum probum.

Phan.

Non hic Philolaches adulescens habitat hisce in aedibus?

Th.

Habitavit, verum emigravit iam diu ex hisce aedibus.

Pin.

20 Senex hic elleborosust certe.

Phan.

Erras pervorse, pater.

nam nisi hinc hodie emigravit aut heri, certo scio hic habitare.

Th.

Quin sex menses iam hic nemo habitat.

Pin.

Somnias.

Th.

Egone?

Pin.

Tu.

Th.

Tu ne molestus sine me cum puero loqui.
nemo habitat.

Phan.

Habitat profecto, nám heri et nudius tertius,
25 quartus, quintus, sextus, usque postquam hinc peregre eius pater

Th.

Quid ais?

Phan.

Triduom unum est haud intermissum hic esse et bibi, scorta duci, pergraecari, fidicinas tibicinas

Th.

Quis istaec faciebat?

Phan.

Philolaches.

Th.

Qui Philolaches?

Phan.

Phan.

Quid est?

Th.

Ita dico, ne ad alias aedis perperam deveneris.

Phan.

Scio qua me ire oportet et quo venerim novi locum.
Philolaches hic habitat, cuius est pater Theopropides.
qui, postquam pater ad mercatum hinc abiit, hic tibicinam 40 liberavit.

Th.

Philolachesne ergo?

Phan.

Ita, Philematium quidem.

Th.

Quanti?

Phan.

Triginta.

Th.

Talentis?

Phan.

μὰ τὸν ... 'απόλλω, sed minis.

Th.

Liberavit?

Phan.

Liberavit valide, triginta minis.

Th.

Ain minis triginta amicam destinatam Philolachi?

Phan.

Aio.

Th.

Atque eam manu emisisse?

Phan.

Aio.

Th.

Et, postquam eius hinc pater

45 sit profectus peregre, perpotasse assiduo, ác simul tuo cum domino?

Phan.

Aió.

Th.

Quid? is aedis emit has hinc proxumas?

Phan.

Non aio.

Th.

Quadraginta etiam dedit huic quae essent pignori?

Phan.

Neque istud aio.

Th.

Ei, perdis.

Phan.

Immo suom patrem illic perdidit.

Th.

Vera cantas.

Phan.

Vana vellem. patris amicu's videlicet.

Th.

50 Eu edepol patrem eius miserum praedicas.

Phan.

Nihil hoc quidem est,
triginta minae, prae quam alios dapsilis sumptus facit.

Th.

Perdidit patrem.

Phan.

Vnus istic servos est sacerrimus, Tranio: is vel Herculi conterere quaestum possiet.
edepol ne me eiús patris misere miseret, qui cum istaec sciet 55 facta ita, amburet ei misero corculum carbunculus.

Th.

Si quidem istaec vera sunt.

Phan.

Quid meream, quam ob rem mentiar?

Pin.

Heus vos, ecquis hasce aperit?

Phan.

Quid istas pultas, ubi nemo intus est?
alio credo commissatum abiisse. abeamus nunciam atque porro quaeritemus illos. sequere hac me.

Pin.

Sequor.

Th.

60 Puere, iamne abis?

Phan.

Libertas paenulast tergo tuo:
mihi, nisi ut erum metuam et curem, nihil est qui tergum tegam. —

Th.

Perii hercle, quid opust verbis? ut verba audio,
non equidem in Aegyptum hinc modo vectus fui, sed etiam in terras solas orasque ultimas sum circumvectus, ita ubi nunc sim nescio.
5 verum iam scibo, nam eccum unde aedis filius meus emit. quid agis tu?

Simo

A foro incedo domum.

Th.

Numquid processit ad forum hodie novi?

Si.

Etiam.

Th.

Quid tandem?

Si.

Vidi efferri mortuom.

Th.

Hem.

Si.

Novom unum: vidi mortuom efferri foras.

10 modo eum vixisse aiebant.

Th.

Vae capiti tuo.

Si.

Quid tu otiosus res novas requiritas?

Th.

Quia hodie adveni peregre.

Si.

Promisi foras,

ad cenam ne me te vocare censeas.

Th.

Haud postulo edepol.

Si.

Verum cras, nisi quis prius

15 vocaverit me, vel apud te cenavero.

Th.

Ne istuc quidem edepol postulo. nisi quid magis es occupatus, operam mihi da.

Si.

Maxime.

Th.

Minas quadraginta accepisti, quod sciam,
a Philolachete?

Si.

Numquam nummum, quod sciam.

Th.

²⁰ Quid, a Tránione servo?

Si.

Multo hercle id minus.

Th.

Quas arraboni tibi dedit?

Si.

Quid somnias?

Th.

Egone? at quidem tu, qui istoc te speras modo potesse dissimulando infectum hoc reddere.

Si.

Quid autem?

Th.

Quod me apsente hic tecum filius
²⁵ negoti gessit.

Si.

Mecum ut ille hic gesserit, dum tu hinc abes, negoti? quidnam aut quo die?

Th.

Minas tibi octoginta argenti debeo.

Si.

Non mihi quidem hercle. verum, si debes, cedo.
fides servanda est, ne ire infitias postules.

Th.

30 Profecto non negabo debere, et dabo;
tu cave quadraginta accepisse hinc te neges.

Si.

Quaeso edepol huc me aspecta, et responde mihi.
quadraginta istas cur mihi argenti minas filius, ut ais, debebat?

Th.

Ego dicam tibi.

35 talentis duobus, Tranio ut dixit mihi, de te aedis emit.

Si.

De me ille aedis emerit?

...

Si.

Te velle uxorem aiebat tuo nato dare,
ideo aedificare hic velle aiebat in tuis.

Th.

40 Hic aedificare volui?

Si.

Sic dixit mihi.

Th.

Ei mihi, disperii. vocis non habeo satis.
vicine, perii, interii.

Si.

Numquid Tranio
turbavit?

Th.

Immo éxturbavit omnia.
deludificatust mé hodie indignis modis.

Si.

45 Quid tú ais?

Th.

Haec res sic est ut narro tibi:
deludificatust me hodie in perpetuom modum.
nunc te obsecro, ut me bene iuves operamque des.

Si.

Quid vis?

Th.

I mecum hinc, obsecro, ad te una simul.

Si.

Fiat.

Th.

Servorumque operam et lora mihi cedo.

Si.

50 Sume.

Th.

Eademque opera haéc tibi narravero, quis med exemplis hodie ludificatus est.

Th.

Docte atque astu mihi captandumst cum illo, ubi huc advenerit.
non ego illi éxtemplo hamum ostendam, sensim mittam lineam.

dissimulabo me horum quicquam scire.

Tr.

O mortalem malum,

alter hoc Athenis nemo doctior dici potest.

30 verba illi non magis dare hodie quisquam quam lapidi potest.

adgrediar hominem, appellabo.

Th.

Nunc ego ille húc veniat velim.

Tr.

Siquidem pol me quaeris, adsum praesens praesenti tibi.

Th.

Euge, Tranio, quid agitur?

Tr.

Veniunt rure rustici.

Philolaches iam hic aderit.

Th.

Edepol mi opportune advenerit.

35 nostrum ego hunc vicinum opinor esse hominem audacem et malum.

Tr.

Quidum?

Th.

Quia negat novisse vos.

Tr.

Negat?

Th.

Nec vos sibi nummum umquam argenti dedisse.

Tr.

Abi, lúdis me, credo haud negat.

Th.

Quid iam?

Tr.

Scio, iocaris nunc tu. nam ille quidem edepol haud negat.

Th.

Immo edepol negat profecto, neque se hasce aedis Philolachi 40 vendidisse.

Tr.

Eho, an negavit sibi datum argentum, obsecro?

Th.

Quin ius iurandum pollicitust dare se, si vellem, mihi, neque se hasce aedis vendidisse neque sibi argentum datum est.

...

Th.

Dixi ego istuc idem illi.

Tr.

Quid ait?

Th.

Servos pollicitust dare
45 suos mihi omnes quaestioni.

Tr.

Nugas. numquam edepol dabit.

Th.

Dat profecto.

Tr.

Quin i cum illo in ius. sine inveniam.

Th.

Mane.

experiar, ut opinor. certum est.

Tr.

Immo mihi hominem cedo.

vel hominem iube aedis † mancipio poscere.

Th.

Immo hoc primum volo, quaestioni accipere servos.

Tr.

Faciundum edepol censeo.

Th.

50 Quid si igitur ego accersam homines?

Tr.

Factum iam esse oportuit.

ego interim hanc aram occupabo.

Th.

Quid ita?

Tr.

Nullam rem sapis.

né enim illi huc confugere possint, quaestioni quos dabit.

hic ego tibi praesidebo, ne interbitat quaestio.

Th.

Surge.

Tr.

Minime.

Th.

Ne occupassis, obsecro, aram.

Tr.

Cur?

Th.

Scies.

55 quia enim id maxime volo, ut illi ístoc confugiant. sine:
tanto apud iúdicem hunc argenti condemnabo facilius.

Tr.

Quod agas id agas. quid tu porro serere vis negotium?
nescis quam metuculosa res sit ire ad iudicem?

Th.

Surgedum huc igitur. consulere quiddam est quod tecum volo.

Tr.

60 Sic tamen hinc consilium dederó. nimio plus sapio sedens.
tum consilia firmiora sunt de divinis locis.

Th.

Surge, ne nugare. aspicedum contra me.

Tr.

Aspexi.

Th.

Vides?

Tr.

Video. huc si quis intercedat tertius, pereat fame.

Th.

Quidum?

Tr.

Quia nil illi quaesti sit. mali hercle ambo sumus.

Th.

65 Perii.

Tr.

Quid tibi est?

Th.

Dedisti verba.

Tr.

Qui tandem?

Th.

Probe

med emunxti.

Tr.

Vide sis, satine recte: num mucchi fluont?

Th.

Immo etiam cerebrum quoque omne é capite emunxti meo.
nam omnia male facta vestra repperi radicitus, non radicitus quidem hercle, verum etiam exradicitus.

Tr.

70 Numquam edepol hodie hinc, si vivo, invitus desistam tibi.

Th.

Iam iubebo ignem et sarmenta, carnifex, circumdari.

Tr.

Ne faxis, nam elixus esse quam assus soleo suavior.

Th.

Exempla edepol faciam ego in te.

Tr.

Quia placeo, exemplum expetis?

Th.

Loquere: quoui modi reliqui, quom hinc abibam, filium?

Tr.

75 Cum pedibus, manibus, cum digitis, auribus, oculis, labris.

Th.

Aliud te rogo.

Tr.

Aliud ergo nunc tibi respondeo.

sed eccum tui gnati sodalem video húc incedere

Callidamatem: illo praesente mecum agito, si quid voles.

Callidamates

Vbi somno sepelivi omnem atque édormivi crapulam, Philolaches venisse dixit mihi suom peregre huc patrem quoque modo hominem advenientem servos ludificatus sit, ait se metuere in conspectum sui patris procedere.

5 nunc ego de sodalitate solus sum orator datus, qui a patre eius conciliarem pacem. átuque eccum optime.
iubeo te salvere et salvos cum advenis, Theopropides, peregre, gaudeo. hic apud nos hodie cenes, sic face.

Th.

Callidamates, dei te ament. de cena facio gratiam.

Call.

10 Quin venis?

Tr.

Promitte: ego ibo pro te, si tibi non libet.

Th.

Verbero, etiam inrides?

Tr.

Quian me pro te ire ad cenam autumo?

Th.

Non enim ibis. ego ferare faxo, ut meruisti, in crucem.

Call.

Age mitte ista ac te ad me ad cenam dic venturum.

Tr.

Quid taces?

Call.

Sed tu, istuc quid confugisti in aram?

Tr.

Inscitissimus

15 adveniens perterruit me. loquere nunc quid fecerim:
nunc utrisque disceptator eccum adest, age disputa.

Th.

Filium corrupisse aio te meum.

Tr.

Ausculta modo.

fateor potavisse, amicam liberasse absente te, faenore argentum sumpsisse; id esse absumptum praedico.

20 numquid aliud fecit nisi quod faciunt summis gnati generibus?

Th.

Hercle mihi tecum cavendum est, nimis qui es orator catus.

Call.

Sine me dum istuc iudicare. surge, ego isti adsedero.

Th.

Maxime, accipito hanc tute ad te litem.

Tr.

Enim istic captio est.

fac ego ne metuam ... ut tu meam timeas vicem.

Th.

25 Iam minoris omnia alia facio, prae quam quibus modis me ludificatust.

Tr.

Bene hercle factum, et factum gaudeo:

sapere istac aetate oportet, qui sunt capite candido.

Th.

Quid ego nunc faciam?

Tr.

Si amicus Diphilo aut Philemoni es, dicito eis, quo pacto tuos te servos ludificaverit:

30 optumas frustrationes dederis in comoediis.

Call.

Tace parumper, sine vicissim me loqui, ausculta.

Th.

Licet.

Call.

Omnium primum sodalem me esse scis gnato tuo.

is adiit me, nam eum prodire pudet in conspectum tuom propterea quia fecit quae te scire scit. nunc te obsecro,

35 stultitiae adulescentiaeque eius ignoscas: tuost;

scis solere illanc aetatem tali ludo ludere.
quidquid fecit, una nobiscum fécit: nos deliquimus.
faenus, sortem sumptumque omnem, quí amica empta est, omnia nos dabimus, nos conferemus, nostro sumptu, non tuo.

Th.

40 Non potuit venire orator magis ad me impetrabilis quam tu; neque iam illi sum iratus neque quicquam suscenseo.
immo me praesente amato bibito, facito quod lubet:
si hoc pudet, fecisse sumptum, supplicí habeo satis.

Call.

Disputet.

Tr.

Post istam veniam quid me fiet nunciam?

Th.

45 Verberibus caedere multum pendens.

Tr.

Tamen etsi pudet?

Th.

Interimam hercle ego te, si vivo.

Call.

Fac istam cunctam gratiam:
Tranioni amitte quaeso hanc noxiam causa mea.

Th.

Aliud quidvis impetrari perferam a me facilius, quam ut non égo istum pro suis factis pessumis pessum premam.

Call.

50 Mitte quaeso.

Th.

Istumne ut mittam? viden ut astat furcifer?

Call.

Tranio, quiesce, si sapis.

Th.

Tu quiesce hanc rem modo petere: ego illum, ut sit quietus, verberibus subegero.

Tr.

Nihil opust profecto.

Call.

Áge iam, sine te hoc exorarier.

Th.

Nolo ores.

Call.

Quaeso hercle.

Th.

Nolo, inquam, ores.

Call.

Nequiquam nevis.

55 hanc modo noxiam unam, quaeso, missam fac causa mea.

Tr.

Quid gravaris? quasi non cras iam commeream aliam noxiam:
ibi utrúmque, et hoc et illud, poteris ulcisci probe.

Call.

Sine te exorem.

Th.

Age abi, abi impune. em huic habeto gratiam.
spectatores, fabula haec est acta, vos plausum date.

usque ero domi, dum excoxero lenoni malam rem magnam. —

Satvrio

Veterem atque antiquom quaestum maiorum meum servo atque obtineo et magna cum cura colo.
nam numquam quisquam meorum maiorum fuit,
quin parasitando paverint ventres suos:
5 patér, avos, proavos, abavos, atavos, tritavos quasi mures semper edere alienum cibum, neque edacitate eos quisquam poterat vincere;
atque eis cognómentum erat durís Capitonibus.
unde égo hunc quaestum optineo et maiorum locum.
10 neque quadrupulari me volo, neque enim decet sine meo periclo ire aliena ereptum bona, neque illí qui faciunt mihi placent. planen loquor?
nam publicae rei causa quicumque id facit magis quám sui quaesti, animus induci potest,

15 eum esse civem ét fidelem ét bonum.
sed ...
si legirupam qui damnet, det in publicum dimidium; atque etiam in ea lege adscribier:
ubi quadrupulator quempiam iniexit manum, 20 tantidem ille illi rursus iníciat manum, ut aequa parti prodeant ad tris viros:
si id fiat, ne isti faxim nusquam appareant, qui hic albo rete áliena oppugnant bona.
sed sumne ego stultus, qui rem curo publicam, 25 ubi sint magistratus, quos curare oporteat?
nunc huc intro ibo, visam hesternas reliquias, quieríntne recte necne, num afuerit febris, opertaen fuerint, ne quis obreptaverit.
sed aperiuntur aedes, remorandust gradus.

*Toxílv*s

Omnem rem inveni, ut sua sibi pecunia hodie illam faciat leno libertam suam.
sed eccúm parasitum, quoius mi auxilio est opus.
simulabo quasi non videam: ita alliciam virum.
5 curate ístic vos atque adproperate ocíus, ne mihi morae sit quicquam, ubi ego intro advenero.
commisce mulsum, struthea † coluthequam appara, bene ut in scutris concaleat, et calamum iníce.
iam pól ille hic aderit, credo, congerro meus.

Sat.

10 Me dicit, euge.

Tox.

Lautum credo e balineis
iam hic adfuturum.

Sat.

Vt ordine omnem rem tenet.

Tox.

Collyrae facite ut madeant et colyphia,
ne mihi incócta detis.

Sat.

Rem loquitur meram.

nihili sunt crudae, nisi quas madidas gluttias; 15 tum nisi cremore crassost ius collyricum, nihilist, macrum illud epicrocum pellucidum:
quasi †iuream esse ius decet collyricum.
nolo in vesicam quod eat, in ventrem volo.

Tox.

Prope me hic nescio quis loquitur.

Sat.

O mi Iuppiter

20 terrestris, te coepulonus compellat tuos.

Tox.

O Saturio, opportune advenisti mihi.

Sat.

Mendacium edepol dicis, atque haud te decet:
nam essurio venio, non advenio saturio.

Tox.

At edes, nam iam intus ventris fumant focula.
25 calefieri iussi reliquias.

Sat.

Pernam quidem

ius est adponi frigidam postridie.

Tox.

Ita fieri iussi.

Sat.

Ecquid hallecis?

Tox.

Vah, rogas?

Sat.

Sapis múltum ad genium.

Tox.

Sed tu, ecquid meministi, here
qua de re ego tecum mentionem feceram?

Sat.

30 Memini: ut murena et conger ne calefierent;
nam nimio melius oppectuntur frigida.
sed quid cessamus proelium committere?
dum mane est, omnis esse mortalis decet.

Tox.

Nimis paéne manest.

Sat.

Mane quod tu occeperis
35 negotium agere, id totum procedit diem.

Tox.

Quaeso animum advorte hoc. iám heri narravi tibi tecumque oravi, ut nummos sescentos mihi dares utendos mutuos.

Sat.

Memini et scio,
et te me orare et mihi non esse quod darem.
40 nihili parasitus est, cui árgentum domi est:
lubido extemplo coeperest convivium, tuburcinari de suo, si quid domi est.
cynicum esse egentem oportet parasitum probe:
ampullam, strigilem, scaphium, soccos, pallium,

45 marsuppiū habeat, inibi paullū praesidi, qui familiarem suam vitam oblectet modo.

Tox.

Iam nolo argentum: filiam utendam tuam mihi da.

Sat.

Numquam edepol cuiquam etiam utendam dedi.

Tox.

Non ad istuc quod tu insimulas.

Sat.

Quid eam vis?

Tox.

Scies.

50 quia forma lepida et liberali est.

Sat.

Res itast.

Tox.

Hic leno neque te novit neque gnatam tuam.

Sat.

Me ut quisquam norit, nisi ille qui praebet cibum?

Tox.

Ita est. hoc tu mihi reperire argentum potes.

Sat.

Cupio hercle.

Tox.

Tum tu me sine illam vendere.

Sat.

55 Tun illam vendas?

Tox.

Immo alium adlegavero
qui vendat, qui esse se peregrinum praedicet.
sicut istic leno non sex menses Megaribus huc est cum commigravit.

Sat.

Pereunt reliquiae.
posterius istuc tamen potest.

Tox.

Scin quam potest?

60 numquam hercle hodie hic prius edes, ne frustra sis, quam te hoc facturum quod rogo adfirmas mihi;
atqué nisi gnatam tecum huc iam quantum potest adducis, exigam hercle ego te ex hac decuria.
quid nunc? quid est? quin dicis quid facturus sis?

Sat.

65 Quaeso hercle me quoque etiam vende, si lubet, dum satum vendas.

Tox.

Hoc, si facturu's, face.

Sat.

Faciam equidem quae vis.

Tox.

Bene facis. propera, abi domum;
praemonstra docte, praecipe astu filiae,
quid fabuletur: ubi se natam praedicet, 70 qui sibi parentes fuerint, unde surpta sit.
sed longe ab Athenis esse se gnatam autumet;
et ut adfleat, cum ea memoret.

Sat.

Etiam tu taces?

ter tanto peior ipsa est quam illam tu esse vis.

Tox.

Lepide hercle dicis. sed scin quid facias? cape

75 tunicam atque zonam, et chlamydem adfero et causeam, quam ille habeat qui hanc lenoni huic vendat.

Sat.

Eu, probe.

Tox.

Quasi sit peregrinus.

Sat.

Laudo.

Tox.

Et tu gnatam tuam

ornatam adduce lepide in peregrinum modum.

Sat.

πὸθεν ornamenta?

Tox.

Abs chorago sumito;

80 dare debet: praebenda aediles locaverunt.

Sat.

Iam faxo hic aderunt. sed ego nihil horunc scio.

Tox.

Nihil hercle vero. nam ubi ego argentum accepero, continuo tu illam a lenone adserito manu.

Sat.

Sibi habeat, si non extemplo ab eo abduxero. —

Tox.

85 Abi et istuc cura. interibi egó puerum volo mittere ad amicam meam, út habeat animum bonum, me esse effecturum hoc hodie. nimis longum loquor. —

ACT II.

Sophoclidisca

Satis fuit indoctae, immemori, insipienti dicere totiens.

nimis tandem me quidem pro barda et pro rustica reor habitam esse aps te.

quamquam ego vinum bibo, at mandata non consuevi simul bibere una.

me quidem iam satis tibi spectatam censebam esse et meos mores.

5 nam equidem te iam sector quintum hunc annum, quom interea,
credo,

ovis si in ludum iret, potuisset iam fieri ut probe litteras sciret, quom interim tu meum ingenium fans atque infans nondum etiam edidicisti.

potin ut taceas? potin ne moneas?

memini et scio et calleo et commemini.

10 amas pol misera: id tuos scatit animus.

ego istuc placidum tibi ut sit faciam.

Lemniselenis

Miser est qui amat. —

Soph.

Certo is quidem nihilist,

qui nil amat: quid ei homini opus vita est?

ire decet me, ut erae opsequens fiam, libera ea opera ocius ut sit.

15 conveniam hunc Toxilum: eius auris, quae mandata sunt, onerabo.

Toxilvs

Satin haec tibi sunt plana et certa? satin haec meministi et tenes?

Paegnium

Melius quam tu qui docuisti.

Tox.

Ain vero, verbereum caput?

P.

Aio enim véro.

T.

Quid ergo dixi?

P.

Ego recte apud illam dixero.

Tox.

Non edepol scis.

Paeg.

Da hercle pignus, ni omnia memini et scio,
5 et quidem sí scis tute, quot hodie habeas digitos in manu.

Tox.

Egon dem pignus tecum?

Paeg.

Audacter, si lubido est perdere.

T.

Bona pax sit potius.

P.

Tum tu igitur sine me ire.

T.

Et iubeo et sino;
sed ita volo te ire, ut domí sis, cum ego te esse illi censeam.

Paeg.

Faciam.

Tox.

Quo ergo is nunc?

Paeg.

Domum: uti domi sim, quom illi censeas.

Tox.

10 Scelus tu pueri es, atque ob istanc rem ego aliqui te peculiabo.

Paeg.

Scio fide hercle erili ut soleat impudicitia opprobri nec subigi queantur umquam, ut pro éa fide habeant iudicem.

Paeg.

Apud hanc obieci ...

Soph.

Paegnium, deliciae pueri, salve. quid agis? ut vales?

Paeg.

Sophoclidisca, di me amabunt.

Soph.

Quid me?

Paeg.

Vtrum hercle di volent;

sed si ut digna es faciant, odio hercle habeant et faciant male.

Soph.

25 Mitte male loqui.

Paeg.

Quom ut digna es dico, bene, non male loquor.

Soph.

Quid agis?

Paeg.

Feminam scelestam te astans contra contuor.

Soph.

Certe equidem puerum peiorem quam te novi neminem.

Paeg.

Quid male facio aut quoi male dico?

Soph.

Quoi pol cumque occasio est.

Paeg.

Nemo homo umquam ita arbitratust.

55 numquam hercle istuc exterebrabis, tu ut sis peior quam ego siem.

Soph.

Malitia certare tecum miseria est.

Paeg.

Mers tu mala es.

So.

Quid est quod metuas?

Pa.

Idem istuc quod tu.

So.

Dic ergo ...

ne hoc cuiquam homini edicerem, omnes muti ut loquerentur prius.

Pa.

Edictum est magno opere mihi, ne quoquam hoc homini crederem,

60 omnes muti ut eloquerentur prius hoc quám ego.

So.

At tu hoc face:

fide data credamus.

Paeg.

Novi: omnes sunt lenae levifidae, neque tippulae levius pondust, quam fides lenonia.

So.

Dic amabo.

Pa.

Dic amabo.

So.

Nolo ames.

Pa.

Facile impetras.

Soph.

Tecum habeto.

Paeg.

Et tu hoc taceto.

danúnt, argenti mutui ut éi egenti opem adferam;

quód ego non magis sómniabam neque opinabar neque censebam, eam fore mihi occasionem, ea nunc quasi decidit de caelo;

nam erus meus me Eretriam misit, domitos boves ut sibi mercarer,

10 dedit argentum, nam ibi mercatum dixit esse die septumi:

stultus, qui hoc mihi daret argentum, cuius ingenium noverat.

nam hoc argentum álibi abutar: boves, quos emerem, non erant;

nunc et amico prosperabo et genio meo multá bona faciam, diu quo bene erit, die úno absolvam: tux tax tergo erit meo. non curo.

15 nunc amico homini boves dómitos mea ex crumina largiar.

nam id demum lepidumst, triparcos homines, vetulos, avidos, aridos béne admordere, qui salinum servo obsignant cum sale.

virtús, ubi occásio admonet, dispicere. quid faciet mihi?

verberibus caedi iusserit, compédes impingi? vapulet,

ACT III.

Satvrio

Quae res bene vortat mi et tibi et ventri meo perennitatie adeo huic, perpetuo cibus ut mihi supersit, suppetat, superstitet:
sequere hac, mea gnata, me, cum dis volentibus.
5 quoi rei opera detur scis, tenes, intellegis;
communicavi tecum consilia omnia.
ea causa ad hoc exemplum te exornavi ego.
venibis tu hodie, virgo.

Virgo

Amabo, mi pater, quamquam libenter escis alienis studes,
10 tuin véntris causa filiam vendas tuam?

Sat.

Mirum quin regis Phílippi causa aut Attali te potius vendam quam mea, quae sis mea.

Vir.

Vtrum tú pro ancilla mé habes an pro filia?

Sat.

Vtrum hercle magis in ventris rem videbitur.
15 meum, opino, imperiumst in te, non in me tibi.

Vir.

Tua istaéc potestas est, pater. verum tamen, quamquam res nostrae sunt, pater, pauperculae, modice et modeste meliust vitam vivere;
nam ad paupertatem si admigrant infamiae,
20 gravior paupertas fit, fides sublestior.

Sat.

Enim véro odiosa es.

Vir.

Non sum, neque me esse arbitror, quom parva natu recte praecipio patri.
nam inimici famam non ita ut natast ferunt.

Sat.

Ferant eantque maximam malam crucem;
25 neque ego ínimicitias omnes pluris existimo, quam mensa inanis nunc si apponatur mihi.

Vir.

Patér, hominum immortalis est infamia;
etiam tum vivit, cum esse credas mortuam.

Sat.

Quid? metuis, ne te vendam?

Vir.

Non metuo, pater.
30 verum insimulari nolo.

Sat.

At nequiquam nevis.
meo modo istuc potius fiet quam tuo fiat. quae hae res sunt?

Vir.

Cogita hoc verbum, pater:
erus sí minatus est malum servo suo, tametsi íd futurum non est, ubi captumst flagrum, 35 dum tunicas ponit, quanta adficitur miseria!
ego nunc quod non futurumst formido tamen.

Sat.

Virgo atque mulier nulla erit quin sit mala, quae praeter sapiet quam placet parentibus.

Vir.

Virgo atque mulier nulla erit quin sit mala,
40 quae reticet, si quid fieri pervorse videt.

Sat.

Malo cavere meliust te.

Vir.

At si non licet cavere, quid agam? nám ego tibi cautum volo.

Sa.

Malusne égo sum?

Vi.

Non es, neque me dignumst dicere,
verum ei rei operam do, ne alii dicant, quibus licet.

Sat.

45 Dicat quod quisque volt; ego de hac sententia non demovebor.

Vir.

At, meo sí liceat modo, sapienter potius facias quam stulte.

Sat.

Lubet.

Vir.

Lubere per me tibi licere intellego; verum lubere hau lubeat, sí liceat mihi.

Sat.

50 Futura es dicto oboediens an non patri?

Vir.

Futura.

Sat.

Scis iam tibi quae praecepi?

Vir.

Omnia.

Sat.

Et ut surrupta fueris?

Vir.

Docte calleo.

Sat.

Et qui parentes fuerint?

Vir.

Habeo in memoria.

necessitate me mala ut fiam facis.

55 verum videto, me ubi voles nuptum dare, ne haec fama faciat repudiosas nuptias.

Sat.

Tace, stúlta. non tu nunc hominum mores vides?

quoivis modi hic cum mala fama facile nubitur:

dum dos sit, nullum vitium vitio vortitur.

Vir.

60 Ergo istuc facito ut veniat in mentem tibi, me esse indotatam.

Sat.

Cave sis tu istuc dixeris.

pol deum virtute dicam et maiorum meum, ne te indotatam dicas, quoi dos sit domi:

librorum eccillum hábeo plenum soracum.

65 si hoc adcurassis lepide, cui rei operam damus, dabuntur dotis tibi inde sescenti logi, atque Attici omnes; nullum Siculum acceperis:

cum hac dote poteris vel mendico nubere.

Vir.

Quin tu me ducis, si quo ducturu's, pater?
70 vel tu me vende vel face quid tibi lubet.

Sat.

Bonum aequomque oras. sequere hac. —

Vir.

Dicto sum audiens. —

Dordalvs

Quidnam esse acturum hunc dicam vicinum meum, qui mihi iurast sese hodie argentum dare?
quod si non dederit atque hic dies praeterierit, ego argentum, ille iusiurandum amiserit.
5 sed ibi concrepuit foris. quisnam egreditur foras?

Toxilvs

Curate isti intus, iam ego domum me recipiam.

Dor.

Oh,
Toxile, quid agitur?

Tox.

Oh, lutum lenonium, commixtum caeno sterculinum publicum,
impure, inhoneste, iniure, inlex, labes popli, 5 pecuniae accípiter avide atque invide, procax, rapax, trahax — trecentis versibus tuas ímpuritas traloqui nemo potest — accipin argentum? accipe sis argentum, impudens, tené sis argentum, etiam tu argentum tenes?
10 possum te facere ut argentum accipias, lutum?
non mihi censebas copiam argenti fore,
qui nisi iurato mihi nil ausu's credere?

Dor.

Sine respirare me, ut tibi respondeam.
vir summe populi, stabulum servitutium, 15 scortorum liberator, suduculum flagri, compedium tritor, pistrinorum civitas, perenniserve, lurco, edax, furax, fugax, cedo sis mi argentum, da mihi argentum, impudens, possum a te exigere argentum? argentum, inquam, cedo, 20 quin tu mi argentum reddis? nilne te pudet?
leno te argentum poscit, solida servitus, pro liberanda amica, ut omnes audiant.

Tox.

Tace, obsecro hercle. ne tua vox valide valet.

Dor.

Referundae ego habeo linguam natam gratiae.
25 eodém mihi pretio sal praehibetur quo tibi.
nisi me haec defendet, numquam delinget salem.

Tox.

Iam omitte iratus esse. id tibi suscensui, quia te negabas credere argentum mihi.

Dor.

Mirum quin tibi ego crederém, ut idem mihi 30 faceres quod partim faciunt argentarii:
ubi quid credideris, citius extemplo a foro fugiant quam ex porta ludis cum emissust lepus.

Tox.

Cape hoc sis.

Dor.

Quin das?

Tox.

Nummi sescenti hic erunt, probi, numerati. fac sit mulier libera,

35 atque huc continuo adduce.

Dor.

Iam faxo hic erit.
non hercle, quoi nunc hoc dem spectandum, scio.

Tox.

Fortasse metuis in manum concredere?

Dor.

Mirum quin ... citius iam a foro argentarii abeunt, quam in cursu rotula circumvortitur.

Tox.

40 Abi istác travorsis angiporis ad forum;
eadem ístaec facito mulier ad me transeat per hortum.

Dor.

Iam hic faxo aderit.

Tox.

At ne propalam.

Dor.

Sapienter sane.

Tox.

Supplicatum cras eat.

Dor.

Ita hercle vero. —

Tox.

Dum stas, reditum oportuit.

Tox.

Hau verbúm faciam

Dor.

Salutem dicit Toxilo Timarchides et familiae omni. si valetis, gaudeo.

ego valeo recte et rem gero et facio lucrum, neque istóc redire his octo possum mensibus,
35 itaque hic est quod me detinet negotium.
Chrysopolim Persae cepere urbem in Arabia, plenam bonarum rerum atque antiquom oppidum:
ea comportatur praeda, ut fiat auctio publicitus; ea res me domo expertem facit.
40 operam atque hospitium ego isti praehiberi volo, qui tibi tabellas adfert. cura quae is volet, nam is mihi honores suae domi habuit maxumos.

Dor.

Quíd id ad me aut ad meam rem refert, Persae quid rerum gerant aut quid erus tuos?

Tox.

Tace, stultiloque; nescis quid te instet boni
45 neque quam tibi Fortuna faculam lucrifera adlucere volt.

Dor.

Quae istaec lucrifera est Fortuna?

Tox.

Istas, quae norunt, roga.
ego tantumdem scio quantum tu, nisi quod pellegi prior.
sed, ut occepisti, ex tabellis nosce rem.

Dor.

Bene me mones.
fac silentium.

Tox.

Nunc ad illud venies quod refert tua.

Dor.

50 Iste quí tabellas adfert adduxit simul forma expetenda liberalem virginem, furtivam, abductam ex Arabia penitissima;

eam te volo accurare ut istic veneat.
ac suo periclo is emat qui eam mercabitur:
55 mancipio neque promittet neque quisquam dabit. probum et numeratum argentum ut accipiat face.
haec cura, et hospes cura ut curetur. vale.

Tox.

Quid igitur? postquam recitasti quod erat cerae creditum,
iam mihi credis?

Dor.

Vbi nunc illest hospes, qui hasce huc attulit?

Tox.

60 Iam hic credo aderit: arcessivit illam a navi.

Dor.

Nil mi opust
litibus neque tricis. quam ob rem ego argentum enumerem foras? nisi mancipio accipio, quid eo mi opus est mercimonio?

Tox.

Tacen an non taces? numquam ego te tam esse matulam credidi.
quid metuis?

Dor.

Metuo hercle vero. sensi ego iam compluriens,
65 neque mi haud imperito eveniet, tali ut in luto haeream.

Tox.

Nil pericli mihi videtur.

Dor.

Scio istuc, sed metuo mihi.

Tox.

Mea quidem istuc nil refert: tua ego hoc facio gratia, ut tibi recte conciliandi primo facerem copiam.

Dor.

Gratiam habeo. sed te de aliis, quam alios de te suavius
70 fieri doctos.

Tox.

Ne quis vero ex Arabia penitissima persequatur. etiam tu illam destinās?

Dor.

Videam modo mercimonium.

Tox.

Aequa dicis. sed optime eccum ipse advenit hospes ille, qui has tabellas attulit.

Dor.

Hic inest?

Tox.

Hic est.

Dor.

Haecine illāst furtiva virgo?

Tox.

Iuxta tecum aequē scio,
75 nisi quia specie quidem edepol liberalist, quisquis est.

Dor.

Dor.

Laudo consilium tuom.

Sagaristio

Satin Athenae tibi sunt visae fortunatae atque opiparae?

Virgo

Vrbis speciem vidi, hominum móres perspexi parum.

Tox.

Numquid in principiό cessavit verbum docte dicere?

Dor.

Hau potui etiam in primo verbo perspicere sapientiam.

Sag.

5 Quid id quod vidisti? ut munitum muro tibi visum oppidumst?

Vir.

Si incolae bene sunt morati, pulchre munitum arbitror.

perfidia et pecúlatus ex urbe et avaritia si exulant, quarta invidia, quinta ambitio, sexta óbtrectatio, septimum periurium,

Tox.

Euge.

Vir.

Octava indiligentia,

10 nona iniuria, decimum, quod pessimum adgressust, scelus:

haec unde aberunt, ea urbs moenita muro sat erit simplici;

ubi ea aderúnt, centumplex murus rebus servandis parumst.

Tox.

Quid ais tu?

Dor.

Quid vis?

Tox.

Tu in illis es decem sodalibus:
té in exilium ire hinc oportet.

Dor.

Quid iam?

Tox.

Quia periurus es.

D.

15 Verba quidem haud indocte fecit.

T.

Ex tuo, inquam, usust: eme hanc.

D.

Edepol qui cum hanc magis contemplo, magis placet.

T.

Si hanc emeris,
di immortales, nullus leno te alter érit opulentior.
evortes tuo arbitrato hómines fundis, familiis;
cum optimis viris rem habebis, gratiam cupient tuam:
20 venient ad te comissatum.

Dor.

At ego intro mitti votuero.

Tox.

At enim illi noctu occentabunt ostium, exurent fores:
proin tu tibi iubeás concludi aedis foribus ferreis, ferreas aedis commutes, limina indas ferrea, ferream seram atque anellum; ne sis ferro parseris:
25 ferreas tute tibi impingi iubeas crassas compedis.

Dor.

I sis in malum cruciatum.

Tox.

I sane tu, hanc eme atque auscultam mihi.

Dor.

Modo uti sciam, quanti indicet.

Tox.

Vin huc vocem?

Dor.

Ego illo accessero.

Tox.

Quid agis, hospes?

Sag.

Venio, adduco hanc ad te, ut dudum dixeram.

nám heri in portum noctu navis venit. venire hanc volo,

30 si potest; si non potest, iri hinc volo quantum potest.

Dor.

Salvos sis, adulescens.

Sag.

Siquidem hanc vendidero pretio suo.

Tox.

At qui aut hoc emptore vendes pulchre, aut alio non potis.

S.

Esne tu huic amicus?

T.

Tam quam di omnes qui caelum colunt.

Dor.

Tum tu mi es inimicus certus. nam generi lenonio

35 numquam ullus deus tam benignus fuit, qui fuerit propitius.

Sag.

Hoc age. opusnest hac tibi empta?

Dor.

Si tibi venissect opus,

Dor.

Tua mers est, tua indicatiost.

Tox.

Aequom hic orat.

Sag.

Vin bene emere?

Dor.

Vin tu pulchre vendere?

Tox.

40 Ego scio hercle utrumque velle.

Dor.

Age, indica prognariter.

S.

Prius dico: hanc mancupio nemo tibi dabit. iam scis?

D.

Scio.

indica, minimo daturus qui sis, qui duci queat.

Tox.

Tace, tace. nimis tú quidem hercle homo stultus es pueriliter.

Dor.

Quid ita?

Tox.

Quia enim te ex puella prius percontari volo
45 quae ad rem referúnt.

Dor.

Atque hercle tu me monuisti hau male.
vide sis, ego ille doctus leno paene in foveam decidi, ni hic adesses. quantum est adhibere hominem amicum, ubi quid

Tox.

Quo genere aut qua in patria nata sit aut quibus parentibus, ne temere hanc te emisse dicas suasu atque impulsu meo,
50 volo te percontari.

Dor.

Quin laudo, inquam, consilium tuom.

T.

Nisi molestum est, percontari hanc paucis hic volt.

S.

Maxime,
suo arbitrato.

Tox.

Quid stas? adi sis tute atque ipse itidem roga, ut tibi percontari liceat quae velis; etsi mihi dixit dare potestatem eius; sed ego te malo tamen, 55 eumpse adire, ut ne contemnat te ille.

Dor.

Satis recte mones.
hospes, volo ego hanc percontari.

Sag.

A terra ad caelum, quid lubet.

Dor.

Iube dum eam hoc accedat ad me.

Sag.

I sane ac morem illi gere.

percontare, exquire quid vis.

Tox.

Age, age nunc tu, in proelium vide ut ingrediare auspicato.

Vir.

Liquidumst auspicium, tace.

60 curabo ut praedati pulchre ad castra convertamini.

Tox.

Concede istuc, ego illam adducam.

Dor.

Age, ut rem esse in nostram putas.

T.

Ehodum huc, virgo. vide sis quid agas.

V.

Taceas, curabo ut voles.

Tox.

Sequere me. adduco hanc, si quid vis ex hac percontarier.

D.

Enim volo te adesse.

T.

Hau possum quin huic operam dem hospiti,

65 quóí erus iussit. quid si hic non volt mé adesse una?

Sag.

Immo i modo.

Tox.

Do tibi ego operam.

Dor.

Tibi ibidem das, ubi tu tuom amicum adiuvas.

Tox.

Exquire. heus tu, advigila.

Vir.

Satis est dictum: quamquam ego serva sum, scio ego officium meum, ut quae rogiter vera, ut accepi, eloquar.

Tox.

Virgo, híc homo probus est.

Vir.

Credo.

Tox.

Non diu apud hunc servies.

Vir.

70 Ita pol spero, si parentes facient officium suom.

Dor.

Nolo ego te mirari, si nos ex te percontabimur aut patriam tuam aut parentes.

Vir.

Quor ego id mirer, mi homo?
servitus mea mi interdixit, ne quid mirer meum malum.

Dor.

Noli flere.

Tox.

Ah, di istam perdant, ita catast et callida.

75 ut sapiens habet cór, quam dicit quod opust!

Dor.

Quid nomen tibist?

Tox.

Nunc metuo ne peccet.

Vir.

Lucridi nomen in patria fuit.

Tox.

Nomen atque omen quantivis iam est preti. quin tu hanc emis?
nimis pavebam, ne peccaret. expedivit.

Dor.

Si te emam,
mihi quoque Lucridem confido fore te.

Tox.

Tu si hanc emeris,
80 numquam hercle hunc mensem vortentem, credo, servibit tibi.

Dor.

Ita velim quidem hercle.

Tox.

Optata ut evenant, operam addito.
nihil adhuc peccavit etiam.

Dor.

Vbi tu nata es?

Vir.

Vt mihi
mater dixit, in culina, in angulo ad laevam manum.

Tox.

Haec erit tibi fausta meretrix: natast in calido loco, 85 ubi rerum omnium bonarum copias saepissime.
tactust leno; qui rogaret, ubi nata esset diceret, lepide lusit.

Dor.

At ego patriam te rogo quae sit tua.

Vir.

Quae mihi sít, nisi haec ubi nunc sum?

Dor.

At ego illam quaero quae fuit.

Vir.

Omne ego pro nihilo esse duco quod fuit, quando fuit:
90 tamquam hominem, quando animam eclavit, quid eum quaeras qui fuit?

Tox.

Ita me di bene ament, sapienter. atque equidem miseret tamen.
sed tamen, virgo, quae patriast tua, age mi actutum expedi.
quid taces?

Vir.

Dico equidem: quando hic servio, haec patriast mea.

Tox.

Iam de istoc rogare omitte (non vides nolle eloqui?)
95 ne suarúm se miseriarum in memoriam inducas.

Dor.

Quid est?
captusne est pater?

Vir.

Non captus, sed quod habuit perdidit.

Tox.

Haec erit bono genere nata: nil scit nisi verum loqui.

Dor.

Quis fuit? dic nomen.

Vir.

Quid illum miserum memorem qui fuit?

nunc et illúm miserum et me miseram aéquom est nominarier.

Dor.

100 Quoius modi is suo ín populo habitust?

Vir.

Nemo quisquam acceptior:

servi liberique amabant.

Tox.

Hominem miserum praedicas, quom ét ipsus prorsus perditust et benevolentis perdidit.

Dor.

Emam, opinor.

Tox.

Etiam opinor? summo genere esse arbitror;

divitias tu ex istac facies.

Dor.

Ita di faxint.

Tox.

Eme modo.

Vir.

105 Iam hoc tibi dico: iam actutum ecastor meus pater, ubi me sciet veniisse, ipse aderit et me abs te redimet.

T.

Quid nunc?

D.

Quid est?

Tox.

Audin quid ait?

Vir.

Nam etsi res sunt fractae, amici sunt tamen.

Dor.

Ne sis plora; libera eris actutum, si crebro cades.
vin mea esse?

Vir.

Dum quidem ne nímis diu tua sim, volo.

Tox.

110 Satin ut meminit libertatis? dabit haec tibi grandis bolos.
age si quid agis. ego ad hunc redeo. sequere. reduco hanc tibi.

Dor.

Adulescens, vin vendere istanc?

Sag.

Magis libet quam perdere.

Dor.

Tum tu pauca in verba confer: qui datur, tanti indica.

Sag.

Faciam ita ut te velle video, út emas. habe centum minis.

Dor.

115 Nimiumst.

Sag.

Octoginta.

Dor.

Nimiumst.

Sag.

Nummus abesse hinc non potest,
quod nunc dicam.

Dor.

Quid id est ergo? eloquere actutum atque indica.

Sag.

Tuo periculo sexaginta haec dabitur argenti minis.

Dor.

Toxilé, quid ago?

Tox.

Di deaeque te agitant irati, scelus, qui hanc non properes destinare.

D.

Habeto.

T.

Eu, praedatu's probe.

120 non edepol minis trecentis carast. fecisti lucri.

Sag.

Heus tu, etiam pro vestimentis huc decem accedent minae.

Dor.

Abscedent enim, nón accedent.

Tox.

Tace sis, non tu illum vides quaerere ansam, infectum ut faciat? abin atque argentum petis?

... atque ut dignust perit.

Dor.

125 Heus tu serva istum.

Tox.

Quin tu is intro?

Dor.

Abeo atque argentum affero. —

Tox.

Edepol dedisti, virgo, operam adlaudabilem, probam et sapientem et sobriam.

Vir.

Si quid bonis

boni fit, esse id et grave et gratum solet.

Tox.

Audin tu, Persa? ubi argentum ab hoc acceperis,
5 simulato, quasi eas prorsum in navem.

Sag.

Ne doce.

Tox.

Per angiportum rursum te ad me recipito illac per hortum.

Sag.

Quod futurum est praedicas.

Tox.

At ne cum argento protinam permittas domum, moneo, te.

Sag.

Quod te dignumst, me dignum esse vis?

Tox.

10 Tace, pārce voci: praeda progreditur foras.

Dordalvs

Probae hic argenti sunt sexaginta minae, duobus nummis minus est.

Sag.

Quid ei nummi sciunt?

Dor.

Cruminam hanc emere aut facere uti remigret domum.

Sag.

Ne non sat esses leno, id metuebas miser,
5 impure, avare, ne crumillam amitteres?

Tox.

Sine quaeso. quando lenost, nil mirum facit.

Dor.

Lucro faciundo ego auspicavi in hunc diem:
nil mihi tam parvist, quin me id pigeat perdere.
age, accipe hoc sis.

Sag.

Hunc in collum, nisi piget,
10 impone.

Dor.

Vero fiat.

Sag.

Numquid ceterum me voltis?

Tox.

Quid tam properas?

Sag.

Ita negotiumst:

mandatae quae sunt, volo deferre epistulas;
geminum autem fratrem servire audivi hic meum, eum ego ut requiram átque uti redimam volo.

Tox.

15 Atque edepol tu me commonuisti haú male.
videor vidisse hic forma persimilem tui, eadém statura.

Sag.

Quippe qui frater siet.

Dor.

Quid est tibi nomen?

Tox.

... quod ad te attinet.

Dor.

Quid attinet non scire?

Sag.

Ausculda ergo, ut scias:

20 Vaniloquidorus Virginesvendonides
Nugiepiloquides Argentumexterebronides
Tedigniloquides Nugides Palponides
Quodsemelarripides Numquameripides. em tibi.

Dor.

Eu hercle, nomen multimodis scriptumst tuom.

Sag.

25 Ita sunt Persarum mores, longa nomina, contortiplicata habemus. numquid ceterum voltis?

Dor.
Vale.

Sag.
Et vos, nam animus iam in navist meus.

Tox.
Cras ires potius, hodie hic cenares.

Sag.
Vale. —

Tox.
Postquam illic hinc abiit, dicere hic quidvis licet.
ne hic tibi dies inluxit lucrificabilis.
nam non emisti hanc, verum fecisti lucri.

Dor.
Ille quidem iam scit, quid negoti gesserit,
5 qui mihi furtivam meo periclo vendidit, argentum accepit, abiit. quí ego nunc scio,
an iam adseratur haec manu? quo illum sequar?
in Persas? nugas.

Tox.
Credidi gratum fore
beneficium meum apud te.

Dor.
Immo equidem gratiam
10 tibi, Toxile, habeo; nam te sensi sedulo mihi dare bonam operam.

Tox.
Tibine ego? immo sedulo.

Dor.

Attat, oblitus sum intus dudum edicere quae volui edicta. adserva hanc. —

Tox.

Salvast haec quidem.

Vir.

Pater nunc cessat.

Tox.

Quid si admoneam?

Vir.

Tempus est.

Tox.

¹⁵ Heus, Saturio, exi. nunc est illa occasio inimicum ulcisci.

Satvrio

Ecce me. numquid moror?

Tox.

Age, illúc abscede procul e conspectu, tace;
ubi cum lenone me videbis conloqui, tum turbam facito.

Sag.

Dictum sapienti sat est.

Tox.

²⁰ Tunc, quando abiero —

Sag.

Quin taces? scio quid velis.

Dordalvs

Transcidi loris omnis adveniens domi,
ita mihi supellex squallet atque aedes meae.

Tox.

Redis tu tandem?

Dor.

Redeo.

Tox.

Ne ego hodie tibi
bona multa feci.

Dor.

Fateor, habeo gratiam.

Tox.

5 Num quippiam aliud me vis?

Dor.

Vt bene sit tibi.

Tox.

Pol istúc quidem omen iám ego usurpabo domi,
nam iam inclinabo me cum liberta tua.

Satvrio

Nisi ego illum hominem perdo, perii. atque optume eccum ipsum ante aedes.

Vir.

Salve multum, mi pater.

Sat.

Salve, mea gnata.

Dor.

Ei, Persa me pessum dedit.

Vir.

Pater hic meus est.

Dor.

Hem, quid? pater? perii oppido.

5 quid ego igitur cesso infelix lamentarier minas sexaginta?

Sat.

Ego pol te faciam, scelus, te quoque etiam ipsum ut lamenteris.

Dor.

Occidi.

Sat.

Age ambula in ius, leno.

Dor.

Quid me in ius vocas?

Sat.

Illi apud praetorem dicam. sed ego in ius voco.

Dor.

10 Nonne antestaris?

Sat.

Tuan ego causa, carnufex, cuiquam mortali libero auris atteram, qui hic commercaris civis homines liberos?

Dor.

Sine dicam.

Sat.

Nolo.

Dor.

Aúdi.

Sat.

Surdus sum. ambula.

sequere hac, sceleste, feles virginaria.

15 sequere hac, mea gnata, me usque ad praetorem. —

Vir.

Sequor. —

Achillem Aristarchi mihi commentari lubet:
inde mīhi principium capiam, ex ea tragoedia.
sileteque et tacete atque animum advortite, audire iūbet vos imperator histricus,
5 bonoque ut animo sedeate in subselliis, et qui esurientes et qui saturi venerint:
qui edistis, multo fecistis sapientius, qui non edistis, saturi fite fabulis;
nam cui paratumst quod edit, nostra gratia exsurge, praeco, fac populo audientiam;

iam dudum exspecto, si tuom officium scias:
exerce vocem, quam per vivisque et † colis.
nam nisi clamabis, tacitum te obrepet fames.

bonum factum esse, edicta ut servetis mea.
scortum exoletum ne quis in proscaenio sedeat, neu lictor verbum aut virgae muttiant, 20 neu dissignator praeter os obambulet
neu sessum ducat, dum histrio in scaena siet.
diu quí domi otiosi dormierunt, decet animo aequo nunc stent, vel dormire temperent.
servi ne obsideant, liberis ut sit locus, 25 vel aes pro capite dent; si id facere non queunt, domum abeant, vitent ancipiti infortunio, ne et hic varientur virgis et loris domi,
si minus curassint, quóm eri reveniant domum.
nutrices pueros infantis minutulos

Carchedonius vocatur haec comoedia,

55

* * *

latine Plautus patruus pultiphagonides.
nomen iam habetis. nunc rationes ceteras accipite; nam argumentum hoc hic censebitur:
locus argumentost suum sibi proscaenium,
60 vos iuratores estis. quaeso, operam date.
Carthaginienses fratres patruales duo fuere, summo genere et summis ditiis;
eorum álter vivit, alter est emortuos.
propterea apud vos dico confidentius, 65 quia mihi pollictor dixit qui eum pollinxerat.

sed illí seni qui mortuost, ei filius, unicus qui fuerat, ab divitiis a patre puer séptuennis surripitur Carthagine, sexennio prius quidem quam moritur pater.
70 quoniam periisse sibi videt gnatum unicum, conicitur ipse in morbum ex aegritudine:
facit illum heredem fratrem patrualem suum,
ipse abit ad Acheruntem sine viatico.
ille quí surripuit puerum Calydonem avehit, 75 vendit eum domino hic diviti quoidam seni, cupienti liberorum, osori mulierum.
emit hospitem is filium imprudens senex puerum illum eumque adoptat sibi pro filio eumque heredem fecit, quom ipse obiit diem.
80 is illíc adulescens habitat in illisce aedibus.
revertor rursus denuo Carthaginem:
si quid mandare vultis aut curarier, argentum nisi qui dederit, nugas egerit;
verum qui dederit, magis maiores nugas egerit.
85 sed illi patruo huius, qui vivit senex, Carthaginensi duae fuere filiae, altera quinquennis, altera quadrimula:
cum nutrice una periire a Magaribus.
eas quí surripuit, in Anactorium devehit, 90 vendit eas omnis, et nutricem et virgines, praesenti argento hómini, si leno est homo, quantum hominum terra sustinet sacerrumo.
vosmet nunc facite coniecturam ceterum,
quid id sit hominis, cui Lyco nomen siet.
95 is ex Anactorio, ubi prius habitaverat, huc commigravit in Calydonem háu diu, sui quaesti causa. is in illis habitat aedibus.
earum híc adulescens alteram efflictim perit, suam síbi cognatam, imprudens, neque scit quae siet 100 neque eam umquam tetigit, ita eum leno macerat:
neque quicquam cúm ea fecit etiamnum stupri neque duxit umquam, neque ille voluit mittere quia amare cernit, tangere hominem volt bolo.

illam minorem in concubinatum sibi 105 volt emere miles quidam, qui illam deperit.
sed pater illarum Poenus, postquam eas perdidit, mari terraque úsquequaque quaeritat.
ubi quamque in urbem ést ingressus, ilico
omnes meretrices, ubi quisque habitant, invenit; 110 dat aurum, ducit noctem, rogitat postibi unde síť, quoiatis, captane an surrupta sit, quo genere gnata, qui parentes fuerint.
ita docte atque astu filias quaerit suas.
et is omnis linguas scit, sed dissimulat sciens 115 se scire: Poenus plane est. quid verbis opust?
is heri huc in portum navi venit vesperi, pater harunc; idem huic patruos adolescentulo est:
iamne hoc tenetis? si tenetis, ducite;
cave dírumptatis, quaeso, sinite transigi.
120 ehem, paéne oblitus sum relicuom dicere.
ille quí adoptavit hunc sibi pro filio, is illi Poeno húius patruo hospes fuit.
is hodie huc veniet reperietque hic filias et hunc sui fratris filium, ut quidem dídici ego.
125 ego ibo, ornabor; vos aequo animo noscite.
hic qui hodie veniet, reperiet suas filias et hunc sui fratris filium. dehinc ceterum valete, adeste. ibo, alius nunc fieri volo:
quod restat, restant alii qui faciant palam.
130 valete atque adiuvate, ut vos servet Salus.

ACT I.

Agorastocles

Saepe ego res multas tibi mandavi, Milphio, dubias, egenas, inopiosas consili, quas tu sapienter, docte et cordate et cate mihi reddidisti ópiparas opera tua.
5 quibus pró bene factis fateor deberi tibi et libertatem et multas grates gratias.

Milphio

Scitumst, per tempus si obviamst, verbum vetus.
nam tuae blanditiae mihi sunt, quod dici solet, gerrae germanae, σαλ δὲ κολλῦραι λῦραι.
10 nunc mihi blandidicus es: heri in tergo meo tris facile corios contrivisti bubulos.

Agor.

Amans per amorem si quid feci, Milphio, ignoscere id te mi aequom est.

Mil.

Haud vidi magis.
em, nunc ego amore pereo. sine te verberem, 15 item ut tu mihi fecisti, ob nullam noxiam:
post id locorum tu mihi amanti ignoscito.

Agor.

Si tibi lubido est aut voluptati, sino:
suspende, vinci, verbera; auctor sum, sino.

Mil.

Si auctoritatem postea defugeris,
20 ubi dissolutus tu sies, ego pendeam.

Agor.

Egone istuc ausim facere, praesertim tibi?

quin si feriri video te, extemplo dolet.

Mil.

Mihi quidem hercle.

Ag.

Immo mihi.

Mil.

Istuc mavelim.

sed quid nunc tibi vis?

Agor.

Cur ego apud te mentiar?

25 amo immodeste.

Mil.

Meae istuc scapulae sentiunt.

Agor.

At ego hanc vicinam dico Adelphasium meam, lenonis huius meretricem maiusculam.

Mil.

Iam pridem equidem istuc ex te audivi.

Agor.

Differor

cupidine eius. sed lenone istoc Lyco,
30 illius domino, non lutumst lutulentius.

Mil.

Vin tu illi nequam dare nunc?

Agor.

Cupio.

Mil.

Em me dato.

Agor.

Abi díerectus.

Mil.

Dic mihi vero serio:
vin dare malum illi?

Agor.

Cupio.

Mil.

Em, eundem me dato:
utrumque faxo habebit, et nequam et malum.

Agor.

35 Iocare.

Mil.

Vin tu illam hodie sine damno et dispendio tuo túam libertam facere?

Agor.

Cupio, Milphio.

Mil.

Ego faciam ut facias. sunt tibi intus aurei trecenti nummi Philippi?

Agor.

Sescenti quoque.

Mil.

Satis súnt trecenti.

Agor.

Quid iis facturu's?

Mil.

Tace.

40 totum lenonem tibi cum tota familia dabo hodie dono.

Agor.

Qui id facturu's?

Mil.

Iam scies.

tuos Cóllybiscus nunc in urbest vilicus;
eum hic non novit leno. satin intellegis?

Agor.

Intellego hercle, sed quo evadas nescio.

Mil.

45 Non scis?

Agor.

Non hercle.

Mil.

At ego iam faxo scies.

ei dabitur aurum, ut ad lenonem deferat dicatque se peregrinum esse, ex alio oppido:
se amare velle atque obsequí animo suo;
locum sibi velle liberum praeberier,
50 ubi nequam faciat clam, ne quis sit arbiter.
leno ad se accipiet auri cupidus ilico:
celabit hominem et aurum.

Agor.

Consilium placet.

Mil.

Rogato, servos veneritne ad eum tuos.
ille mé censebit quaeri: continuo tibi 55 negabit. quid tu dubitas, quin extempulo dupli tibi auri et hominis fur leno siet?
neque id unde efficiat habet: ubi in ius venerit, addicet praetor familiam totam tibi.
ita decipiemus fovea lenonem Lycum.

Agor.

60 Placet consilium.

Mil.

Immo etiam, ubi expolivero, magis hoc tum demum dices: nunc etiam rudest.

Agor.

Ego in aedem Veneris eo, nisi quid vis, Milphio.
Aphrodisia hodie sunt.

Mil.

Scio.

Agor.

Oculos volo
meos délectare munditiis meretriciis.

Mil.

65 Hoc primum agamus quod consilium cepimus.
abeamus intro, ut Collybiscum vilicum hanc perdoceamus ut ferat fallaciam.

Agor.

Quamquam Cupido in corde vorsatur, tamen tibi auscultabo. —

Mil.

Faciam ut facto gaudeas.

70 inest amoris macula huic homini in pectore, sine damno magno quae elui ne utiquam potest.

itaque hic scelestus est homo leno Lycus, quoi iam infortuni intenta ballistast probe,
quam ego haud multo post mittam e ballistario.
75 sed Adelphasium eccam exit atque Anterastilis.
haec est prior, quae meum erum dementem facit. sed evocabo. heus, i foras, Agorastocles, si vis videre ludos iucundissimos.

Agorastocles

Quid istúc tumultist, Milphio?

Mil.

Em amores tuos,
80 si vis spectare.

Agor.

O multa tibi di dent bona,
quom hoc mi optulisti tam lepidum spectaculum.

Adelphasium

Negóti sibi qui volét vim paráre, navem et mulierem, haec duo comparato.
nam nullae magis res duae plus negoti habent, forte si occeperis exornare, 5 neque umquam satis hae duae res ornantur neque eis ulla ornandi satis satietas est.
atque haec, ut loquor, nunc domo docta dico.
nam nos usque ab aurora ad hoc quod diei est, postquam aurora inluxit, numquam concessamus 10 ex industria ambae numquam concessamus lavari aut fricari aut tergeri aut ornari, poliri expoliri, pingi fingi; et una binae singulis quae datae nobis ancillae, eae nos lavando eluendo operam déderunt, 15 aggerúndaque aqua sunt viri duo defessi.
apage sis, negoti quantum in muliere una est.

sed vero duae, sat scio, maxumo uni poplo cuilibet plus satis dare potis sunt, quae noctes diesque omni in aetate semper 20 ornantur, lavantur, tergentur, poliuntur.
postremo modus muliebris nullust: numquam lavando et fricando scimus facere finem.
nam quae lauta est nisi perculsa est, meo quidem animo quasi inluta est.

Anterastilis

Mirór equidem, sóror, te istaec sic fabulari, 25 quae tam callida et docta sis et faceta.
nam quom sedulo munditer nos habemus, vix aegreque amatorculos invenimus.

Ad.

Ita est. verum hoc unum tamen cogitato:
modus ómnibus rebús, soror, optimus est habitu.
30 nimia ómnia nimium éxhibent negóti hominibus éx se.

Ant.

Sorór, cogitá, amabo, itém nos perhibéri quam si salsa muriatica esse autumantur:
sine omni lepore et síne suavitate nisí multa aqua usque et diu macerantur, 35 olént, salsa súnť, tangere út non velís.
itém nos sumús
eius seminis mulieres sunt insúlsae admodum átque invenústae sine múnditia et súmptu.

Mil.

40 Coqua ést haec quidem, Ágorastoclés, ut ego opínor:
scit, muriatica ut maceret.

Agor.

Quid molestus?

Ad.

Soror, parce, amabo: sat est istuc alios dicere nobis, ne nosmet in nostra etiam vitia loquamur.

Ant.

Quiéscō.

Ad.

Ergo amó te. sed hóc nunc respónde 45 mihí: sunt hic ómnia, quae ad deúm pacem opórtet adéssē?

Ant.

Omnia áccuravi.

Agor.

Diém pulchrum et célebrem et venústatis plénū, dignúm Venere pól, quoi sunt Áphrodisia hódie.

Mil.

Ecquid gratiae, quom huc foras te evocavi?
50 iam núm me decét donari
cadó vini véteris? dic dáre. nil respóndes?
lingua huíc excidít, ut ego opínor.
quíd hic, malum, astans ópstipuisti?

Agor.

Síne amem, ne opturba ac tace.

Mil.

Taceo.

Agor.

Si tacuisses, iam istuc taceo non gnatum foret.

Ant.

55 Eamus, mea soror.

Ad.

Eho amabo, quid illo nunc properas?

Ant.

Rogas?

quia erus nos apud aedem Veneris mantat.

Ad.

Maneat pol. mane.

turba est nunc apud aram. an te ibi vis inter istás versarier prosedas, pistorum amicas, reliquias alicarias, miseras schoeno delibutas servolicolas sordidas,

60 quae tibi olant stabulum statumque, sellam et sessibulum merum, quas adeo hau quisquam umquam liber tetigit neque duxit domum, servolorum sordidulorum scorta diobolaria?

Mil.

I in malam crucem. tun audes etiam servos spernere, propudium? quasi bella sit, quasi eampse reges ductitent,

65 monstrum mulieris, tantilla tanta verba funditat, quouis egó nebulai cyatho septem noctes non emam.

Agor.

Di immortales omnipotentes, quid est apud vos pulchrius?

quid habetis qui mage immortales vos credam esse quam ego siem, qui haec tanta oculis bona concipio? nam Venus non est Venus:

70 hanc equidem Venerem venerabor, me ut amet posthac propitia.

Milphio, heus, ubi es?

Mil.

Assum ápud te, eccum.

Agor.

At ego elixus sis volo.

Mil.

Enim vero, ere, facis delicias.

Agor.

De tequidem haéc didici omnia.

Mil.

Etiamne ut ames eam quam numquam tetigeris?

Agor.

Nihil id quidemst:

deos quoque edepol et amo et metuo, quíbus tamen ábstineo manus.

Ant.

75 Eu ecastor, quom ornatum aspicio nostrum ambarum, paenitet exornatae ut simus.

Ad.

Immo vero sane commode;

nam pro erili et nostro quaestu satis bene ornatae sumus.

non enim pótis est quaestus fieri, ni sumptus sequitur, scio, et tamen quaéstus non consistet, si eum sumptus superat, soror.

80 eo illud satiust, satis quod habitu, haud satis est quod plus quam sat est.

Agor.

Ita me di ament, ut illa me amet malim quam di, Milphio.

nam illa mulier lapidem silicem subigere, ut se amet, potest.

Mil.

Pol id quidem hau mentire, nam tu es lapide silice stultior, qui hanc ames.

Agor.

At vide sis, cum illac numquam limavi caput.

Mil.

85 Curram igitur aliquo ad piscinam aut ad lacum, limum petam.

Agor.

Quid eo opust?

Mil.

Ego dicam: ut illi ét tibi limem caput.

Agor.

I in malam rem.

Mil.

Ibi sum équidem.

Agor.

Perdis.

Mil.

Taceo.

Agor.

At perpetuo volo.

Mil.

Enim vero, ere, meo me laccessis ludo et delicias facis.

Ant.

Satis nunc lepide ornatam credo, soror, te tibi viderier;
90 sed ubi exempla conferentur meretricum aliarum, ibi tibi erit cordolium, si quam ornatam melius forte aspexeris.

Ad.

Invidia in me numquam innatast neque malitia, mea soror.
bono med esse ingenio ornatam quam auro multo mavolo:
aurum, id fortuna invenitur, natura ingenium bonum.
95 bonam ego quam beatam me esse nimio dici mavolo.
meretricem pudorem gerere magis decet quam purpuram:

magisque meretricem pudorem quam aurum gerere condecet.
pulchrum ornatum turpes mores peius caeno conlinunt,
lepidi mores turpem ornatum facile factis comprobant.

Agor.

100 Eho tu, vin tu facinus facere lepidum et festivom?

Mil.

Volo.

Agor.

Potesne mi auscultare?

Mil.

Possum.

Agor.

Abi domum ac suspende te.

Mil.

Quam ob rem?

Agor.

Quia iam numquam audibis verba tot tam suavia.
quid tibi opust vixisse? ausculta mihi modo ac suspende te.

Mil.

Siquidem tu es mecum futurus pro uva passa pensilis.

Agor.

105 At ego amo hanc.

Mil.

At ego esse et bibere.

Ad.

Eho tu, quid ais?

Ant.

Quid rogas?

Ad.

Viden tu? pleni oculi sorderum quí erant, iam splendent mihi.

Ant.

Immo etiam in medio oculo paullum sordest.

Ad.

Cedo sis dexteram.

Agor.

Vt quidem tu huius oculos inlutis manibus tractes aut teras?

Ant.

Nimia nos socordia hodie tenuit.

Ad.

Qua de re, obsecro?

Ant.

110 Quia non iam dudum ante lucem ad aedem Veneris venimus, primae ut inferremus ignem in aram.

Ad.

Aha, non factost opus:

quaé habent nocturna ora, noctu sacrificatum ire occupant.
prius quam Venus expergiscatur, prius deproperant sedulo sacrificare; nam vigilante Venere si veniant eae,

115 ita sunt turpes, credo ecastor Venerem ipsam e fano fugent.

Agor.

Milphio.

Mil.

Edepol Milphionem miserum. quid nunc vis tibi?

Agor.

Opsecro hercle, ut mulsa loquitur.

Mil.

Nil nisi laterculos,
sesumam papaveremque, triticum et frictas nuces.

Ag.

Ecquid amare videor?

M.

Damnum, quod Mercurius minime amat.

Agor.

120 Namque edepol lucrum amare nullum amatorem addecet.

Ant.

Eamus, mea germana.

Ad.

Age sis, ut lubet.

Ant.

Sequere hac.

Ad.

Sequor.

Mil.

Eunt hae.

Agor.

Quid si adeamus?

Mil.

Adeas.

Agor.

Primum prima salva sis, et secunda tu secundo salve in pretio; tertia salve extra pretium.

Anc.

Tum pol ego et oleum et operam perdidi.

Agor.

¹²⁵ Quo te agis?

Ad.

Egone? in aedem Veneris.

Agor.

Quid eo?

Ad.

Vt Venerem propitiem.

Agor.

Eho, an irata est? propitia hercle est. vel ego pro illa spondeo.
quid tu ais?

Ad.

Quid mihi molestus, opsecro?

Agor.

Aha, tam saeviter.

Ad.

Mitte, amabo.

Agor.

Quid festinas? turba nunc illi est.

Ad.

Scio.

sunt illi aliae quas spectare ego, et me spectari volo.

Agor.

130 Qui lubet spectare turpes, pulchram spectandam dare?

Ad.

Quia apud aedem Veneris hodie est mercatus meretricius:
eo conveniunt mercatores, ibi ego me ostendi volo.

Agor.

Invendibili merci oportet ultro emptorem adducere:
proba mers facile emptorem reperit, tam etsi in abstruso sitast.
135 quid ais tu? quando illi apud me mecum caput et corpus copulas?

†

Ad.

Quo die Orcus Acherunte mortuos amiserit.

Agor.

Sunt mihi intus nescio quot nummi aurei lymphatici.

Ad.

Deferto ad me, faxo actutum constiterit lymphaticum.

Mil.

Bellula hercle.

Agor.

I díerecte in maxumam malam crucem.

Mil.

140 Quam magis aspecto, tam magis est nimbata et nugae merae.

Ad.

Segrega sermonem. taedet.

Agor.

Age, sustolle hoc amiculum.

Ad.

Pura sum, comperce amabo me attrectare, Agorastocles.

Agor.

Quid agam nunc?

Ad.

Si sapias, curam hanc facere compendi potes.

Ag.

Quid? ego non te curem? quid ais, Milphio?

M.

Ecce odium meum.

145 quid me vis?

Ag.

Cur mi haec irata est?

M.

Cur haec irata est tibi?

cur ego id curem? namque istaec magis meast curatio. †

Agor.

Iam hercle tu periisti, nÍsi illam mihi tam tranquillam facis quam mare olimst, quóm ibi alcedo pullos educit suos.

Mil.

Quid faciam?

Agor.

Exora, blandire, expalpa.

Mil.

Faciam sedulo.

150 sed vide sís, ne tu oratorem hunc pugnīs pectas postea.

Agor.

Non faciam.

Ad.

Non aequos in me es, sed morare et male facis.

bene promittis multa ex multis: omnia in cassum cadunt.

liberare iuravisti me haud semel, sed centiens:

dum te exspecto, neque ego usquam aliam mihi paravi copiam 155 neque istuc usquam apparet; ita nunc servio nihilo minus.

i, soror. apscede tu a me.

Agor.

Perii. ecquid agis, Milphio?

Mil.

Mea voluptas, mea delicia, mea vita, mea amoenitas, meus ocellus, meum labellum, mea salus, meum savium, meum mel, meum cor, mea colustra, meus molliculus caseus —

Agor.

160 Mene ego illaéc patiar praesente dici? discrucior miser, nisi ego illum iubeo quadrigis cursim ad carnificem rapi.

Mil.

Noli, amabo, suscensere ero meo, causa mea.

ego faxo, si non irata es, ninnium pro te dabit atque te faciet ut sis civis Attica atque libera.

165 quin adire sínis? quin tibi qui bene volunt, bene vis item?
si ante quid mentitust, nunciam dehinc érit verax tibi.
sine te exorem, sineprehendam auriculis, sine dem savium.

Ad.

Apscede hinc sis, sycophanta par ero.

Mil.

At scin quo modo?

iam hercle ego faciam ploratillum, nisi te facio propitiam, 170 atque hic ne me verberetillum faciat, nisi te propitio, male formido: novi ego huius mores morosi malos.
quam ob rem amabo, mea voluptas, sine te hoc exorarier.

Agor.

Non ego homo trioboli sum, nisi ego illi mastigiae exturbo oculos atque dentes. em voluptatem tibi, 175 em mel, em cor, em labellum, em salutem, em savium.

Mil.

Impias, ere, te: oratorem verberas.

Agor.

Iam istoc magis:
etiam ocellum addam et labellum et linguam.

Mil.

Ecquid facies modi?

Ag.

sicine ego te orare iussi?

Mil.

Quo modo ergo orem?

Ag.

Rogas?

sic enim díceres, sceleste: huius voluptas, te opsecro, 180 huius mel, huius cor, huius labellum, huius lingua, huius savium, huius delicia, huiús salus amoena, huius festivitas:
huius colustra, huius dulciculus caseus, mastigia, huius cor, huius studium, huius savium, mastigia omnia illa, quae dicebas tua, ésse ea memorares mea.

Mil.

185 Opsecro hercle te, voluptas huius atque odium meum, huius amica mammeata, mea inimica et malevola, oculus huius, lippitudo mea, mel huius, fel meum, ut tu huic irata ne sis aut, si id fieri non potest, capias restim ac te suspendas cúm ero et vostra familia.
190 nam mihi iam video propter te victitandum sorbilo, itaque iam quasi ostreatum tergum ulceribus gestito propter amorem vestrum.

Ad.

Amabo, men prohibere postulas ne te verberet magis quám ne mendax me advorsum siet?

Ant.

Aliquid huic responde, amabo, commode, ne incommodus
195 nobis sit. nam detinet nos de nostro negotio.

Ad.

Verum. etiam tibi hanc amittam noxiam unam, Agorastocles.
non sum irata.

Agor.

Non es?

Ad.

Non sum.

Agor.

Da ergo, ut credam, savium.

Ad.

Mox dabo, quom ab re divina rediero.

Agor.

I ergo strenue.

Ad.

Sequere me, soror.

Agor.

Atque audin etiam? Veneri dicito

200 multam meis verbis salutem.

Ad.

Dicam.

Ag.

Atque hoc audi.

Ad.

Quid est?

Agor.

Paucis verbis rem divinam facito. atque audin? respice.

respexit. idem edepol Venerem credo facturam tibi.

quid nunc mi es auctor, Milphio?

Mil.

Vt me verberes

atque auctionem facias: nam impunissime tibi quidem hercle vendere hasce aedis licet.

Agor.

Quid iam?

Mil.

Maiores partem in ore habitas meo.

Agor.

5 Supersede istis verbis.

Mil.

Quid nunc vis tibi?

Agor.

Trecentos Philippos Collybisco vilico dedi dúdum, prius quam me evocavisti foras.
nunc opsecro te, Milphio, hanc per dexteram perque hanc sororem laevam perque oculos tuos 10 perque meos amores perque Adelphasium meam perque tuam libertatem —

Mil.

Em nunc nihil opsecras.

Agor.

Mi Milphidisce, mea commoditas, mea salus, fac quod facturum te esse promisti mihi, ut ego hunc lenonem perdam.

Mil.

Perfacile id quidemst.

15 i, adduce testis tecum; ego intus interim iam et ornamentis meis et sycophantiis tuom exornabo vilicum. propera atque abi.

Agor.

Fugio.

Mil.

Meum est istuc magis officium quam tuom.

Agor.

Egone egone, si istuc lepide ecfexis —

Mil.

I modo.

Agor.

²⁰ Vt non ego te hodie —

Mil.

Abi modo.

Agor.

Emittam manu —

Mil.

I modo.

Ag.

Non hercle meream.

Mil.

Oh —

Ag.

Vah —

Mil.

Abi modo.

Agor.

Quantum Acheruntest mortuorum.

Mil.

Etiamne abis?

Agor.

Neque quantum aquaist in mari.

Mil.

Abiturun es?

Agor.

Neque nubes omnes quantumst.

Mil.

Pergin pergere?

Agor.

25 Neque stellae in caelo.

Mil.

Pergin auris tundere?

Agor.

Neque hoc neque illud neque — enim vero serio — neque — hercle vero — quid opust verbis? quippini?
quod uno verbo — dicere hic quidvis licet, neque — hercle vero serio, scin quomodo?
30 ita me di amabunt, vin bona dicam fide, quod hic inter nos liceat? ita me Iuppiter, scin quam videtur? credin quod ego fabuler?

Mil.

Si nequeo facere ut abeas, egomet abiero;
nam isti quidem hercle orationi Oedipo 35 opust cóniectore, qui Sphingi interpret fuit. —

Agor.

Illic hínc iratus abiit. nunc mihi cautio est, ne meámet culpa meo amori obiexim moram.

ibo atque arcessam testis, quando Amor iubet me oboedientem ésse servo liberum. —

ACT II.

Lycvs

Di illum infelicient omnes, qui post hunc diem leno ullam Veneri umquam immolarit hostiam quive ullum turis granum sacrificaverit.
nam ego hodie infelix dis meis iratissumis
5 sex immolavi ágnos, nec potui tamen propitiam Venerem facere utí esset mihi.
quoniam litare nequeo, ábii illim ilico
iratus, votui éxta prosicarier; neque ea poricere volui, quoniam non bona 10 haruspex dixit: deam esse indignam credidi.
eo pacto avarae Veneri pulchre adii manum.
quando id quod sat erat satis habere noluit, ego pausam feci. sic ago, sic me decet.
ego faxo posthac di deaeque ceteri 15 contentiores mage erunt atque avidi minus, quom scibunt, Veneri ut adierit leno manum.
condigne haruspex, non homo trioboli, omnibus in extis aibat portendi mihi malum damnumque et deos esse iratos mihi.
20 quid ei divini aut humani aequomst credere?
mina mihi argenti dono postilla datast.
sed quaeso, ubi nam illic restitit miles modo, qui hanc mihi donavit, quem ego vocavi ad prandium?
sed eccum incedit.

Antamonides

Ita ut occepi dicere,
25 lenulle, de illa pugna Pentetronica, quom sexaginta milia hominum uno die volaticorum manibus occidi meis.

Lyc.

Volaticorum hóminum?

Antam.

Ita dico quidem.

Lyc.

An, opsecro, usquam sunt homines volatici?

Antam.

30 Fuere. verum ego interfeci.

Lyc.

Quo modo
potuisti?

Antam.

Dicam. viscum legioni dedi
fundasque; eo praésternebant folia farferi.

Lyc.

Quoi rei?

Antam.

Ad fundas viscus né adhaeresceret.

Lyc.

Perge. optume hercle perieras. quid postea?

Antam.

35 In fundas visci indebant grandiculos globos, eo illós volantis iussi funditarier.
quid multa verba? quemquem visco offenderant, tam crebri ad terram áccidebant quam pira.
ut quisque acciderat, eum necabam ílico 40 per cerebrum pinna sua sibi, quasi turturem.

Lyc.

Si hercle istuc umquam factum est, tum me Iuppiter faciat ut semper sacrificem nec umquám litem.

A.

An mi haec non credis?

L.

Credo, ut mi aequomst credier.
age eamus intro.

Lyc.

Dum exta referuntur, volo
45 narrare tibi etiam unam pugnam.

Lyc.

Nil moror.

A.

Ausculata.

L.

Non hercle auscultabo.

A.

Quo modo?

colaphis quidem hercle tuom iam dilidam caput,

ACT III.

Agorastocles

Íta me di ament, tardo amico nihil est quicquam inaequius, praesertim homini amanti, qui quidquid agit properat omnia.
sicut ego hos duco advocatos, homines spissigradissimos, tardiores quam corbitae sunt in tranquillo mari.

5 atque equidem hercle dedita opera amicos fugitavi senes:
scibam aetate tardiores, metui meo amori moram.
nequiquam hos procos mi elegi loripedis, tardissimos.
quin si ituri hodie estis, ite, aut ite hinc in malam crucem.
sicine oportet ire amicos homini amanti operam datum?

10 nam iste quidem gradus succretust cribro pollinario, nisi cum pedicis condidicistis istoc grassari gradu.

Advocati

Heus tu, quamquam nos videmur tibi plebeii et pauperes, si nec recte dicis nobis, dives de summo loco, divitem audacter solemus mactare infortunio.

15 nec tibi nos obnoxii sumus istuc, quid tu ames aut oderis:
quom argentum pro capite dedimus, nostrum dedimus, non tuom;
liberos nos esse oportet. nos te nihili pendimus, ne tuo nos amori servos tuos esse addictos censeas.
liberos homines per urbem modico magis par est gradu 20 ire, servile esse duco festinantem currere.
praesertim in re populi placida atque interfectis hostibus non decet tumultuari. sed si properabas magis, pridie nos te advocatos huc duxisse oportuit.
ne tu opinere, haud quisquam hodie nostrum curret per vias, 25 neque nos populus pro cerritis insectabit lapidibus.

Agor.

At si ad prandium me in aedem vos dixissem ducere, vinceretis cervom cursu vel gralatorem gradu;
nunc vos quia mihi advocatos dixi et testis ducere, podagrosi estis ac vicistis cochleam tarditudine.

Adv.

30 An vero non iusta causa est, quor curratur celeriter ubi bibas, edas de alieno quantum velis usque ad fatim, quod tu invitus numquam reddas domino, de quoio ederis?
sed tamen cum eo cum quiqui, quamquam sumus pauperculi, est domi quod edimus, ne nos tam contemptim conteras.
35 quidquid est pauxillulum illuc, nostrum id omne, non tuomst, neque nos quemquam flagitamus neque nos quisquam flagitat.
tua causa nemo nostrorumst suos rupturus ramites.

Agor.

Nimis iracundi estis: equidem haec vobis dixi per iocum.

Adv.

Per iocum itidem dictum habeto quae nos tibi respondimus.

Agor.

40 Obsecro hercle, operam celocem hanc mihi, ne corbitam date;
attempidate saltem, nam vos adproperare haud postulo.

Adv.

Si quid tu placide otioseque agere vis, operam damus;
si properas, cursores meliust te advocatos ducere.

Agor.

Scitis rem, narraui vobis quod vestra opera mi opus siet, 45 de lenone hoc, qui me amantem ludificatur tam diu, ei paratae ut sint insidiae de auro et de servo meo.

Adv.

Omnia istaec scimus iam nos, si hi spectatores sciant;
horunc hic nunc causa haec agitur spectatorum fabula:
hos te satius est docere, ut, quando agas, quid agas sciant.
50 nos tu ne curassis: scimus rem omnem, quippe omnes simul didicimus tecum una, ut respondere possemus tibi.

Agor.

Ita profecto est. sed agite igitur, ut sciam vos scire rem, expedite et mihi quae vobis dudum dixi dicite.

Adv.

Itane? temptas an sciamus? non meminisse nos ratu's, 55 quo modo trecentos Philippos Collybisco vilico dederis, quos deferret huc ad lenonem inimicum tuom, isque sé ut assimilaret peregrinum esse aliunde ex alio oppido?
ubi is detulerit, tu eo quaesitum servom advenies tuom cum pecunia.

Agor.

Meministis memoriter, servastis me.

Adv.

60 Ille negabit: Milphionem quaeri censebit tuom;
id duplicabit omne furtum. leno addicetur tibi.
ad eam rem nos esse testis vis tibi.

Agor.

Tenetis rem.

Adv.

Vix quidem hercle, ita pauxilla est, digitulis primoribus.

Agor.

Hoc cito et cursim est agendum. propera iam quantum potest.

Adv.

65 Bene vale igitur. te advocatos meliust celeris ducere;
tardi sumus nos.

Agor.

Optime itis, pessime hercle dicitis.
quin etiam deciderint vobis femina ín talos velim.

Adv.

At edepol nos tibi in lumbos linguam atque oculos in solum.

Agor.

Heia, hau vostrumst iracundos esse, quod dixi ioco.

Adv.

70 Nec tuom quidem est amicis per iocum iniuste loqui.

Agor.

Mittite istaec. quid velim vos, scitis.

Adv.

Callemus probe:
lenonem ut periurum perdas, id studes.

Agor.

Tenetis rem.
euge, opportune egrediuntur Milphio una et vilicus.
basilice exornatus incedit et fabre ad fallaciam.

Milphio

Iam tenes praecepta in corde?

Collybiscvs

Pulchre.

Mil.

Vide sis calleas.

Coll.

Quid opust verbis? callum aprugnum callere aequè non sinam.

Mil.

Fac modo ut condocta tibi sint dicta ad hanc fallaciam.

Coll.

Quin edepol condoctior sum, quam tragoedi aut comici.

Mil.

5 Probus homost.

Agor.

Adeamus propius.

Mil.

Adsunt testes?

Agor.

Tot quidem.

Mil.

Non potuisti adducere homines magis ad hanc rem idoneos.
nam istorum nullus nefastust: comitiales sunt meri;
ibi habitant, ibi eos conspicias quam praetorem saepius.
hodie iuris coctiores non sunt qui lites creant,
10 quam hi sunt, qui si nihil est quicum litigent, lites emunt.

Adv.

Di te perdant.

M.

Vos quidem hercle — cum eo cum quiqui tamen et bene et benigne facitis, quóm ero amanti operam datis.
sed isti iam sciunt, negoti quid sit?

Agor.

Omne in ordine.

Mil.

Tum vos animum advortite igitur. hunc vos lenonem Lycum
15 novistis?

Adv.

Facile.

Coll.

At pol ego eum, qua sit facie, nescio.
eum mihi volo demonstretis hominem.

Adv.

Nos curabimus.
satis praeceptumst.

Agor.

Hic trecentos nummos numeratos habet.

Adv.

Ergo nos inspicere oportet istuc aurum, Agorastocles, ut sciamus quid dicamus mox pro testimonio.

Coll.

20 Agite, inspicite.

Adv.

Aurum est profecto hoc, spectatores, comicum:
macerato hoc pingues fiunt auro in barbaria boves;
verum ad hanc rem agundam Philippum est: ita nos adsimulabimus.

Coll.

Sed ita adsimulatote quasi ego sim peregrinus.

Adv.

Scilicet,

et quidem quasi tu nobiscum adveniens hodie oraveris, 25 liberum ut commostraremus tibi locum et voluptarium, ubi ames, potes, pergraecere.

Coll.

Eu, edepol mortales malos.

Agor.

Ego enim docui.

Mil.

Quis te porro?

Coll.

Agite intro abite, Agorastocles, ne hic vos mecum conspicetur leno neu fallaciae praepedimentum obiciatur.

Adv.

Hic homo sapienter sapit.
30 facite quod iubet.

Agor.

Abeamus. sed vos —

Adv.

Satis dictumst. abi.

Agor.

Abeo.

Adv.

Quaeso, di immortales, quin abis?

Agor.

Abeo. —

Adv.

Adv.

Quid id est flagiti?

Coll.

Crepuerunt clare.

Adv.

Di te perduint.

35 pone nos recede.

Coll.

Fiat.

Adv.

Nos priores ibimus.

Coll.

Faciunt scurrae quod consuerunt: pone sese homines locant.

Adv.

Illic homo est, qui egreditur, leno.

C.

Bonus est, nam similis malist.

iam nunc ego illi égredienti sanguinem exsugam procul.

Lycvs

Iam ego istúc revortar, miles: convivas volo reperire nobis commodos, qui una sient;

interibi attulerint exta, atque eádem mulieres

iam ab re divina credo apparebunt domi.

5 sed quid huc tantum hominum incedunt? ecquidnam adferunt?

et illé chlamydatum quisnam est, qui sequitur procul?

Adv.

Aetoli cives te salutamus, Lyce, quamquam hanc salutem ferimus inviti tibi.

Lyc.

Fortunati omnes sitis, quod certo scio

10 nec fore nec fortunam id situram fieri.

Adv.

Istic ést thensaurus stultis in lingua situs, ut quaestui habeant male loqui melioribus.

Lyc.

Viam qui nescit, qua deveniat ad mare,

eum oportet amnem quaerere comitem sibi.

15 ego male loquendi vobis nescivi viam:

nunc vos mihi amnes estis; vos certum est sequi:

si bene dicetis, vostra ripa vos sequar, si male dicetis, vostro gradiar limite.

Adv.

Malo bene facere tantundemst periculum
20 quantum bono male facere.

Lyc.
Qui vero?

Adv.

Scies.
malo si quid bene facias, id beneficium interit;
bono si quid male facias, aetatem expetit.

Lyc.
Facete dictum. sed quid istuc ad me attinet?

Adv.

Quia nos honoris tui causa ad te venimus,
25 quamquam bene volumus leniter lenonibus.

Lyc.
Si quid boni adportatis, habeo gratiam.

Adv.

Boni de nostro tibi nec ferimus nec damus neque pollicemur, neque adeo volumus datum.

Lyc.
Credo hercle vobis: ita vestra est benignitas.
30 sed quid nunc voltis?

Adv.

Hunc chlamydatum quem vides,
ei Mars iratust.

Coll.
Capiti vestro istuc quidem.

Adv.

Nunc hunc, Lyce, ad te diripiundum adducimus.

Coll.

Cum praeda hic hodie incedet venator domum:
canes compellunt in plagas lepide lupum.

Lyc.

35 Quis hic est?

Adv.

Nescimus nos quidem istum qui siet;
nisi dudum mane ut ad portum processimus, atque istum e navi éxeuntem oneraria videmus. adiit ad nos extemplo exiens;
salutat, respondemus.

Coll.

Mortalis malos,
40 ut ingrediuntur docte in sycophantiam.

Lyc.

Quid deinde?

Adv.

Sermonem ibi nobiscum copulat.
ait sé peregrinum esse huius ignarum oppidi;
locum sibi velle liberum praeberier,
ubi nequam faciat. nos hominem ad te adduximus.
45 tu si te di amant, agere tuam rem occasiost.

Lyc.

Itane?

Adv.

Ille est cupiens, aurum habet.

Lyc.

Praeda haec meast.

Adv.

Potare, amare volt.

Lyc.

Locum lepidum dabo.

Adv.

At enim hic clam furtim ésse volt, ne quis sciat neve arbiter sit. nam hic latro in Sparta fuit, 50 ut quidem ipse nobis dixit, apud regem Attalum;
inde huc aufugit, quoniam capitur oppidum.

Coll.

Nimis lépide de latrone, de Sparta optume.

Lyc.

Di deaeque vobis multa bona dent, quom mihi et bene praecipitis et bonam praedam datis.

Adv.

55 Immo ut ipse nobis dixit, quo accures magis, trecentos nummos Philippos portat praesidi.

Lyc.

Rex sum, si ego illum hodie ad me hominem adlexero.

Adv.

Quin hic quidem tuos est.

Lyc.

Opsecro hercle hortamini,
ut devortatur ad me in hospitium optimum.

Adv.

60 Neque nos hortari neque dehortari decet hominem peregrinum: tuam rem tú ages, si sapis.
nos tibi palumbem ad aream usque adduximus:
nunc te illum meliust capere, si captum esse vis.

Coll.

Iamne itis? quid quod vobis mandavi, hospites?

Adv.

65 Cum illoc te meliust tuam rem, ádulescens, loqui:
illic ést ad istas res probus, quas quaeritas.

Coll.

Videre equidem vos vellem, quom huic aurum darem.

Adv.

Coll.

Bonam dedistis mihi operam.

Lyc.

Coll.

70 Illud quidem quorsum asinus caedit calcibus.

Lyc.

Blande hominem compellabo. hós pes hospitem salutat. salvom te advenire gaudeo.

Coll.

Lyc.

Hospitium te aiunt quaeritare.

Coll.

Quaerito.

Lyc.

75 Ita illí dixerunt, qui hinc a me abierunt modo, te quaeritare a muscis.

Coll.

Minime gentium.

Lyc.

Quid itá?

Coll.

Quia a muscis si mi hospitium quaererem, adveniens irem in carcerem recta via.
ego id quaero hospitium, ubi ego curer mollius, 80 quam regi Antiocho óculi curari solent.

Lyc.

Edepol ne tibi illud possum festivom dare, siquidém potes ésse te pati in lepido loco, in lecto lepide strato lepidam mulierem complexum contrectare.

Coll.

Is, leno, viam.

Lyc.

85 Vbi tu Leucadio, Lesbio, Thasio, Chio, vetustáte vino edentulo aetatem inriges;
ibi ego te replebo usque unguentum geumatis,
quid multa verba? faciam, ubi tu laveris, ibi ut bálneator faciat unguentariam.

90 sed haec latrocinantur, quae ego dixi, omnia.

Coll.

Quid itá?

Lyc.

Quia aurum poscunt praesentarium.

Coll.

Quin hercle accipere tu non mavis quam ego dare.

Adv.

Quid si evocemus huc foras Agorastoclem,
ut ipsus testis sit sibi certissimus?

95 heus tu, qui furem captas, egredere ocius, ut tute inspectes aurum lenoni dari.

Agorastocles

Quid est? quid voltis, testes?

Adv.

Specta ad dexteram.

hi qui illum dudum conciliaverunt mihi 25 peregrinum Spartanum, id nunc his cerebrum uritur, me esse hos trecentos Philippos facturum lucri.
nunc hunc inimicum quia esse sciverunt mihi, eum adlegarunt, suum qui servom diceret cum auro esse apud me; compositast fallacia, 30 ut eo me priverent atque inter se dividant.
lupo agnum eripere postulant. nugas agunt.

Agor.

Negasne apud te esse aurum, nec servom meum?

Lyc.

Nego: et negando, si quid refert, ravio.

Adv.

Periisti, leno. nam istest huius vilicus
35 quem tibi nos esse Spartiatam diximus, qui ad te trecentos Philippeos modo detulit.
idque in istoc adeo aúrum inest marsuppio.

Rectius

tacitas tibi res sistam quam quod dictum est mutae mulieri.

Sync.

55 Animum inducam facile ut tibi istuc credam, ni te noverim.

Mil.

Crede audacter meo periclo.

Sync.

Male credam, et credam tamen.

Mil.

Scin tu erum tuom meo ero esse inimicum capitalem?

Sync.

Scio.

Mil.

Propter amorem —

Sync.

Omnem operam perdis.

Mil.

Quid iam?

Sync.

Quia doctum doces.

Mil.

Quid ergo dubitas quin lubenter tuo ero meus quid possiet 60 facere faciat male, eius merito? tum autem si quid tu adiuvas, eo facilius facere poterit.

Sync.

At ego hoc metuo, Milphio.

M.

Quid est quod metuas?

S.

Dúm ero insidias paritem, ne me perduim.
si erus meus me esse elocutum quoiquam mortali sciat, continuo is me ex Syncerasto Crurifragium fecerit.

Mil.

65 Numquam edepol mortalis quisquam fiet e me certior, nisi ero meo uni indicasso, atque ei quoque ut ne enuntiet id esse facinus ex ted ortum.

Sync.

Male credam, et credam tamen.
sed hoc tu tecum tacitum habeto.

Mil.

Fide non melius creditur.
loquere (locus occasioque est) libere: hic soli sumus.

Sy.

70 Erus si tuos volt facere frugem, meum erum perdet.

Mi.

Qui id potest?

Sync.

Facile.

Mil.

Fac ergo id facile noscam ego, ut ille possit noscere.

S.

Quia Adelphasium, quám erus deamat tuos, ingenuast.

M.

Quo modo?

Sync.

Eodem quo soror illius altera Anterastilis.

Mil.

Cedo qui id credam.

Sync.

Quia illas emit in Anactorio parvolas

75 de praedone Siculo.

Mil.

Quanti?

Sync.

Duodeviginti minis,

duas illas et Giddenenem nutricem earum tertiam.

et ille qui eas vendebat dixit se furtivas vendere:

ingenuas Carthagine aibat esse.

Mil.

Di vostram fidem,

nimum lepidum memoras facinus. nam erus meus Agorastocles

80 ibidem gnatust, inde surptus fere sexennis, postibi qui eum surrupuit huc devexit meoque ero eum hic vendidit.

is in divitias homo adoptavit hunc, quom diem obiit suom.

Sync.

Omnia memoras quo id facilius fiat: manu eas adserat suas popularis liberali causa.

Mil.

Tacitus tace modo.

Sync.

85 Profecto ad incitas lenonem rediget, si eas abduxerit.

Mil.

Quin prius disperibit faxo, quam unam calcem civerit.
ita paratumst.

Sync.

Ita di faxint, ne apud lenonem hunc serviam.

Mil.

Hercle qui meus conlibertus faxo eris, si di volent.

Sync.

Ita di faxint. numquid aliud me morare, Milphio?

Mil.

90 Valeas beneque ut tibi sit.

Sync.

Pol istuc tibi et tuost ero in manu.
vale et haec cura clanculum ut sint dicta.

Mil.

Non dictumst. vale.

S.

At enim nihil est, nisi dum calet hoc agitur.

M.

Lepidu's, quom mones.

et ita hoc fiet.

Sync.

Proba materies data est, si probum adhibes fabrum.

Mil.

Potin ut taceas?

Sync.

Taceo atque abeo. —

Mil.

Mihi commoditatem creas.

95 illic hinc abiit. di immortales meum erum servatum volunt et hunc disperditum lenonem: tantum eum instat exiti.

satine prius quam unumst iniectum telum, iam instat alterum?

ibo intro, haec ut meo ero memorem. nam huc si ante aedes evocem, quae audivistis modo, nunc si eadem híc iterum iterem, inscitiast.

100 ero uni potius intus ero odio, quam hic sim vobis omnibus. — di immortales, quanta turba, quanta adventat calamitas hodie ad hunc lenonem. sed ego nunc est cum me commoror.

ita negotium institutumst, non datur cessatio;

nám et hoc docte consulendum, quod modo concreditumst,

105 et illud autem inserviendumst consilium vernaculum.

remora si sit, qui malam rem mihi det merito fecerit.

nunc intro ibo: dum erus adveniat a foro, opperiar domi. —

Agorastocles

Ain tú tibi dixit Syncerastum, Milphio, eas esse ingenuas ambas surrupticias Charthaginiensis?

Milphio

Aio, et, si frugi esse vis, eas liberali iam adseres causa manu.
5 nam tuum flagitiumst tuas te popularis pati servire ante oculos, domi quae fuerint liberae.

Han.

Pro di immortales, opsecro vostram fidem, quam orationem hanc aures dulcem devorant.
creta est profecto horum hominum oratio,
10 ut mihi apsterserunt omnem sorditudinem.

Agor.

Si ad eam rem testis habeam, faciam quod iubes.

Mil.

Quid tu mihi testis? quin tu insistis fortiter?
aliqua Fortuna fuerit adiutrix tibi.

Agor.

Agor.

Quid iam?

Mil.

Quia incedunt cum anulatis auribus.

Han.

Adibo hosce atque áppellabo Punice.

si respondebunt, Punice pergam loqui;

si non, tum ad horum mores linguam vertero.

Mil.

25 Quid ais tu? écquid commeministi Punice?

Agor.

Nihil edepol. nam qui scire potui, dic mihi, qui illim sexennis perierim Carthagine?

Han.

Pro di immortales, plurumi ad illum modum periere pueri liberi Carthagine.

Mil.

30 Quid ais tu?

Agor.

Quid vis?

Mil.

Vin appellem hunc Punice?

Agor.

quid ait?

Mil.

Non hercle nunc quidem quicquam scio.

Hann.

At ut scias, nunc dehinc latine iam loquar.

70 servom hercle te esse oportet et nequam et malum, hominem peregrinum atque advenam qui inrideas.

Mil.

At hercle te hominem et sycophantam et subdolum, qui huc advenisti nos captatum, migdilix, bisulci lingua quasi proserpens bestia.

Agor.

75 Maledicta hinc aufer, linguam compescas face.
maledicere huic tu temperabis, si sapis.
meis cónsanguineis nolo te iniuste loqui.
Carthagini ego sum gnatus, ut tu sis sciens.

Han.

O mi popularis, salve.

Agor.

Et tu edepol, quisquis es.
80 et si quid opus est, quaeso, dic atque impera popularitatis causa.

Han.

Habeo gratiam.
verum ego hic hospitium hábeo: Antidamae filium quaero (commostra si novisti) Agorastoclem.
sed ecquem ádulescentem tu hic novisti Agorastoclem?

Agor.

85 Siquidem Ántidamai quaeris ádoptaticium, ego sum ipse quem tu quaeris.

Han.

Hem, quid ego audio?

Agor.

Antidamae gnatum me esse.

Han.

Sí itast, tesseram

Agor.

Agedum huc ostende. est par probe, quam habeo domi.

Han.

90 O mi hospes, salve multum. nam mihi tuos pater patritus † ergo hospes Antidamas fuit.

haec mi hospitalis tessera cum illo fuit.

Agor.

Ergo hic apud me hospitium tibi praebebitur.

nam haúd repudio hospitium neque Carthaginem,

95 unde súm oriundus.

Han.

Di dent tibi omnes quae velis.

quid ais? qui potuit fieri, ut Carthagini gnatus sis? hic autem habuisti Aetolum patrem.

Agor.

Surruptus sum illinc. hic me Antidama hospes tuos emit, et is me sibi adoptavit filium.

Han.

100 Demarcho item ipse fuit adoptaticius.

sed mitto de illoc, ad te redeo. dic mihi, ecquid meministi tuom parentum nomina, patris atque matris?

Agor.

Memini.

Han.

Memoradum mihi,

nam mihi sobrina Ampsigura tua mater fuit;
pater tuos, is erat frater patruelis meus, 110 et is me heredem fecit, quom suom obiit diem, quo me privatum aégre patior mortuo.
sed sí ita est, ut tu sis Iahonis filius, signum esse oportet in manu laeva tibi, ludenti puero quod memordit simia.
115 ostende, inspiciam.

Agor.

Em ostendo.

Han.

Aperi. audi atque ades:

...

Agor.

Mi patruae, salve.

Han.

Ét tu salve, Agorastocles.
iterum mihi gnatus videor, quom te repperi.

Mil.

Pol istám rem vobis bene evenisse gaudeo.
120 sed te moneri num nevis?

Han.

Sane volo.

Mil.

Paterna oportet filio reddi bona.
aequomst habere hunc bona quae possedit pater.

Han.

Haud postulo aliter: restituentur omnia;
suam sibi rem salvam sistam, si illo advenerit.

Mil.

125 Facito sis reddas, etsi hic habitabit, tamen.

Han.

Quin mea quoque iste habebit, si quid me fuat.

Mil.

Festivom facinus venit mi in mentem modo.

Han.

Quid id est?

Mil.

Tua opus est opera.

Han.

Dic mihi quid lubet:
profecto uteris, ut voles, operam meam.
130 quid est negoti?

Mil.

Potin tu fieri subdolus?

Han.

Inimico possum, amico insipientia est.

Hunc leno ludificatur.

Han.

Suom quaestum colit.

Mil.

Hic illi malam rem dare volt.

Han.

Frugist, si id facit.

Mil.

140 Nunc hoc consilium capio et hanc fabricam apparo, ut te allegemus, filias dicas tuas surrupasque esse parvolas Carthagine ...

manu liberali causa ámbas adseras, quasi filiae tuae sint. iamne intellegis?

Han.

¹⁴⁵ Intellego hercle. nam mihi item gnatae duae cum nutrice una sunt surruptae parvolae.

Mil.

Lepide hercle adsimulas. iam in principio id mihi placet.

Han.

Pol magis quam vellem.

Mil.

Eu hércle mortalem catum,
... malum crudumque, estolidum et subdolum.
¹⁵⁰ ut adflet, quo illud gestu faciat facilius.
me quoque dolis iam superat architectonem.

Han.

Sed earum nutrix qua sit facie, mi expedi.

Mil.

Statura hau magna, corpore aquilost.

Han.

Ipsa east.

Mil.

Specie venusta, óre atque oculis pernigris.

Han.

¹⁵⁵ Formam quidem hercle verbis depinxti probe.

Mil.

Vin eam videre?

Han.

Filias malo meas.
sed i átque evoca illam; sí eae meae sunt filiae, si illarum est nutrix, me continuo noverit.

Mil.

Heus, ecquis hic est? nuntiate ut prodeat
160 foras Gíddeneni. est qui illam conventam esse volt.

Giddenes

Quis pultat?

Mil.

Qui te proximust.

Gidd.

Quid vis?

Mil.

Eho,
novistin tu illunc tunicatum hominem qui siet?

Gidd.

Nam quém ego aspicio? pro supreme Iuppiter, erus meus hic quidem est, mearum alumnarum pater,
5 Hanno Carthaginiensis.

Mil.

Ecce autem mala.
praestrigiator hic quidem Poenus probust, perduxit omnis ad suam sententiam.

Gidd.

O mí ere, salve, Hánno, insperatissime mihi tuisque filiis, salve atque — eho, 10 mirari noli neque me contemplarier.

cognoscin Giddenenem áncillam tuam?

Han.

Novi. sed ubi sunt meae gnatae? id scire expeto.

Gidd.

Apud aedem Veneris.

Han.

Quid ibi faciunt? dic mihi.

Gidd.

Aphrodisia hodie Veneris est festus dies:

15 oratum ierunt deam, ut sibi esset propitia.

Mil.

Pol satis scio, impetrarunt, quando hic hic adest.

Agor.

Eho an huius sunt illae filiae?

Gidd.

Ita ut praedicas.

tua pietas nobis plane aúxilio fuit, quom huc advenisti hodie in ipso tempore;

20 namque hodie earum mutarentur nomina facerentque indignum genere quaestum corpore.

Pver

Auamma illi.

Gidd.

Hauon bane silli in mustine.

Gidd.

Mepstaetemes tas dum et alanna cestimim.

Agor.

Quid illí locuti sunt inter se? dic mihi.

Han.

25 Matrem hic salutat suam, haec autem hunc filium.
tace atque parce muliebri supellectili.

Agor.

Quae east supellex?

Han.

Clarus clamor.

Agor.

Sine modo.

Han.

Tu abduc hosce intro; et una nutricem simul iube hanc abire hinc ad te.

Agor.

Fac quod imperat.

Mil.

30 Sed quís illas tibi monstrabit?

Agor.

Ego doctissime.

Mil.

Abeo igitur.

Agor.

Facias modo quam memores mavelim.
patruo advenienti cena curetur volo.

Mil.

Lachanna vos, quos ego iam detrudam ad molas, inde pórro ad puteum atque ad robustum codicem.
35 ego faxo hospitium hoc leniter laudabitis. —

Agor.

Audin tu, patruē? dico, ne dictum neges:
tuam míhi maiorem filiam despondeas.

Han.

Pactam rem habeto.

Agor.

Spondesne igitur?

Han.

Spondeo.

Agor.

Mi patruē, salve. nam nunc es plane meus.
40 nunc demum ego cum illa fabulabor libere.
nunc, patruē, si vis tuas videre filias, me sequere.

Han.

Iamdudum equidem cupio, et te sequor.

Agor.

Quid si eámus illis obviam?

Han.

At ne intervias praeterbitamus metuo. magne Iuppiter,
45 restitue certas mi ex incertis nunc opes.

Agor.

† Ego quidem meos amores mecum confido fore.
sed eccás video ipsas.

Han.

Haecine meae sunt filiae?
quantae e quantillis iam sunt factae.

Agor.

Scin quid est?
tragicae sunt: in calones sustolli solent.

Mil.

50 Opino hercle hodie, quod ego dixi per iocum, id eventurum esse et severum et serium, ut haec ínveniantur hodie esse huius filiae.

Agor.

Pol istúc quidem iam certum est. tu istos, Milphio, abduce intro. nos hasce hic praestolabimur.

Ant.

Nimiae voluptatist quod in extis nostris portentumst, soror,
45 quodque haruspéx de ambabus dixit.

Agor.

Velim de me aliquid dixerit.

Ant.

Nos fore invíto domino nostro diebus paucis liberas.
id ego nisi quid di aut parentes faxint, qui sperem hau scio.

Agor.

Mea fiducia hercle haruspex, patruae, his promisit, scio, libertatem, quia me amare hanc scit.

Ad.

Soror, sequere hac.

An.

Sequor.

Han.

50 Prius quam abitis, vos volo ambas. nisi piget, consistite.

Ad.

Quis revocat?

Ag.

Qui bene volt vobis facere.

Ad.

Facere occasiost.
sed quis homost?

Ag.

Amicus vobis.

Ad.

Qui quidem inimicus non siet.

Ag.

Bonus est hic homo, mea voluptas.

Ad.

Pol istum malim quam malum.

Agor.

Siquidem amicitias habenda, cum hoc habendast.

Ad.

Hau precor.

Agor.

55 Multa bona vult vobis facere.

Ad.

Bonus bonis bene feceris.

Han.

Gaudio ero vobis.

Ad.

At edepol nos voluptati tibi.

Han.

Libertatique.

Ad.

Istoc pretio tuas nos facile feceris.

Agor.

Patruē mi, ita me di amabunt, ut ego, si sim Iuppiter, iam hercle ego illam uxorem ducam et Iunonem extrudam foras.
60 ut pudice verba fecit, cogitate et commode, ut modeste orationem praebuit.

Han.

Certo haec meast.
sed ut astú sum adgressus ad eas.

Agor.

Lepide hercle atque commode.

Han.

Pergo etiam temptare?

Agor.

In pauca confer: sitiunt qui sedent.

Han.

Quid istic? quod faciundumst cur non agimus? in ius vos voco.

Agor.

65 Nunc, pátrūe, tu frugí bonae es. tené. vin ego hanc adpréndam?

Ad.

An patruos est, Agorastocles, tuos hic?

Agor.

Iam faxo scibis.
nunc pol ego te ulciscar probe, nam faxo — mea eris sponsa.

Han.

Ite in ius, ne moramini. antestare me atque duce.

Agor.

Ego te antestabor, postea hanc amabo atque amplexabor.

70 sed illúd quidem volui dícere — immo hercle díxi quod volebam.

Han.

Moramini. in ius vos voco, nisi honestiust prehendi.

Ad.

Quid in iús vocas nos? quid tibi debemus?

Agor.

Dicet illi.

Ad.

Etiam me meae latrant canes?

Agor.

At tu hercle adludiato:

dato mihi pro offa savium, pro ósse linguam obicito.

75 ita hanc canem faciam tibi oleo tranquilliozem.

Han.

Ite si ítis.

Ad.

Quid nos fecimus tibi?

Han.

Fures estis ambae.

Ad.

Nosne tíbi?

Han.

Vos inquam.

Agor.

Atque ego scio.

Ad.

Quid id fúrtist?

Agor.

Hunc rogato.

Han.

Quia annos multos filias meas célavistis clam me, atque equidem ingenuas liberas summoque genere gnatas.

Ad.

80 Numquam mecastor reperies tu istuc probrum penes nos.

Agor.

Da pignus, ni nunc perieres, in savium, uter utri det.

Ad.

Nil tecum ago, apscede opsecro.

Ag.

Atque hércle mecum agendum est.

nam hic patruos meus est, pro hoc mihi patronus sim necesse est;

et praedicabo quo modo vos furta faciatis multa

85 quoque modo húius filias apud vós habeatis servas, quas vos ex patria liberas surruptas esse scitis.

Ad.

Vbi sunt eae? aut quas, opsecro?

Ag.

Satis iam sunt maceratae.

H.

Quid si eloquamur?

Ag.

Censeo hercle, patruae.

Ad.

Misera timeo,

quid hoc sit negoti, mea soror; ita stupida sine animo asto.

Han.

90 Advortite animum, mulieres. primum, si id fieri possit, ne indigna indignis di darent, id ego evenire vellem;
nunc quod boni mihi di danunt, vobis vostraeque matri, eas diis est aequom gratias nos agere sempiternas,
quom nostram pietatem adprobant decorantque di immortales.
95 vos meae estis ambae filiae et hic est cognatus vester, huiusce fratris filius, Agorastocles.

Ad.

Amabo,

num hi falso oblectant gaudio nos?

Agor.

At ita me di servent,

ut hic pater est vester. date manus.

Ad.

Salve, insperate nobis pater, te complecti nos sine.

Ant.

Cupite atque exspectate

100 pater, salve.

Ad.

Ambae filiae sumus.

Ant.

Amplectamur ambae.

Agor.

Quis me amplectetur postea?

Han.

Nunc ego sum fortunatus, multorum annorum miserias nunc hac voluptate sedo.

Ad.

Vix hoc videmur credere.

Han.

Magis quí credatis dicam.
nam vostra nutrix † primum me cognovit.

Ad.

Vbi ea, amabo, est?

Han.

105 Apud hunc est.

Agor.

Quaeso, qui lubet tam diu tenere collum?
omite saltem tu altera. nolo ego istuc.

Ad.

Enicas me.

...

prius quám tibi desponderit.

Agor.

Mitto.

Ad.

Sperate, salve.

Han.

Condamus alter alterum ergo in nervom bracchiale.

110 quibus núnc in terra melius est?

Agor.

Eveniunt digna dignis.

Han.

Tandem huic cupitum contigit.

Ag.

O Apella, o Zeuxis pictor, cur numero éstis mortui, hoc exemplo ut pingeretis?
nam alios pictores nil moror huius modi tractare exempla.

Han.

Dí deaeque omnes, vóbis habeo mérito magnas grátias, 115 quom hac me laetitia adfecistis tanta et tantis gaudiis, ut meae gnátae ad me redirent in potestatem meam.

Ad.

Mi pater, tua pietas plane nobis auxilio fuit.

Agor.

Patruë, facito in memoria habeas, tuam maiorem filiam mihi te despondisse.

Han.

Memini.

Agor.

Et dotis quid promiseris.

Antamonides

Si ego minam non ultus fuero probe, quam lenoni dedi, tum profecto me sibi habento scurrae ludificatui.
is etiam me ad prandium ad se abduxit ignavissimus, ipse abiit foras, mé reliquit pro atriensi in aedibus, 5 ubi nec leno néque illae redeunt, nec quod edim quicquam datur.
pro maiore parte prandi pignus cepi, abii foras;
sic dederò: aere militari tetigero lenunculum.
nactus est hominem, mina quem argenti circumduceret.
sed mea amica nunc mihi irato obviam veniat velim:
10 iam pol ego illam pugnīs totam faciam uti sit merulea, ita replebo átritāte, átrior multo ut siet,
quam Aegyptini, qui cortinam ludis per circum ferunt.

Anter.

Tene sis me arte, mea voluptas; male ego metuo miluos, mala illa bestia est, ne forte me auferat pullum tuom.

Ad.

15 Vt nequeo te satis complecti, mi pater.

Antam.

Ego me moror.
propemodúm hoc opsonare prandium potero mihi.
sed quid hoc ést? quid est? quid hóc est? quid ego video? quo modo?
quid hoc est conduplicationis? quae haec est congreginatio?
quis hic homo est cum tunicis longis quasi puer cauponius?
20 satin ego oculis cerno? estne illaec mea amica Anterastilis?
et ea est certo. iam pridem ego me sensi nihili pendier.
non pudet puellam áplexari baiolum in media via?
iam hercle ego illum éxcruciandum totum carnufici dabo.

sane genus hoc mulierosumst tunicis demissiciis.
25 sed adire certum est hanc amatricem Africam.
heus tu, tibi dico, mulier, ecquid te pudet?
quid tibi negoti est autem cum istac? dic mihi.

Han.

Adulescens, salve.

Antam.

Nolo, nihil ad te attinet.
quid tibi hanc digito tactio est?

Han.

Quia mihi lubet.

Ant.

30 Lubet?

Han.

Ita dico.

Ant.

Ligula, i in malam crucem.
tunc hic amator audes esse, hallex viri, aut contrectare quod mares homines amant?
deglupta mena, sarrapis, sementium, manstruca, halagora, sampsa, tum autem plenior 35 ali ulpique quam Romani remiges.

Agor.

Num tibi, adulescens, malae aut dentes pruriunt, qui huic es molestus, an malam rem quaeritas?

Antam.

Quin adhibuisti, dum istaec loquere, tympanum?
nam te cinaedum esse arbitror magis quam virum.

Agor.

40 Scin quam cinaedus sum? ite istinc, servi, foras,
ecferte fustis.

Antam.

Heus tu, si quid per iocum dixi, nolito in serium convertere.

Anter.

Qui tibi lubido est, opsecro, Antamonides, loqui inclementer nostro cognato et patri?
45 nam hic noster pater est; hic nos cognovit modo et hunc sui fratris filium.

Antam.

Ita me Iuppiter
bene amet, bene factum. gaudeo et volup est mihi, si quid lenoni optigit magni mali.
quomque e virtute vobis fortuna optigit.

Anter.

50 Credibile ecastor dicit. crede huic, mi pater.

Han.

Credo.

Agor.

Et ego credo. sed eccum lenonem Lycum.

Agor.

Bonum virum eccum video, se recipit domum;

Han.

Quis hic est?

Agor.

Vtrumvis est, vel leno vel Lycus.
in servitute hic filias habuit tuas
55 et mi auri fur est.

Han.

Bellum hominem, quem noveris.
rapiamus in ius.

Han.

Minime.

Ag.

Quapropter?

Han.

Quia

†iniuriarum multo induci satius est.

Lycvs

Decipitur nemo, mea quidem sententia, qui suis amicis narrat recte res suas;
nam omnibus amicis meis idem unum convenit, ut me suspendam, ne addicar Agorastocli.

Ag.

5 Leno, eamus in ius.

Lyc.

Opsecro te, Agorastocles, suspendere ut me liceat.

Han.

In ius te voco.

Lyc.

Quid tibi mecum autem?

Han.

Quia hasce aio liberas ingenuasque esse filias ambas meas;

cae sūnt surruptae cum nutrice parvolae.

Lyc.

10 Iam pridem equidem istuc scivi, et miratus fui, neminem venire qui istas adsereret manu.
meae quidem profecto non sunt.

Antam.

Leno, in ius eas.

Lyc.

De prandio tu dicis. debetur, dabo.

Ag.

Duplum pro furto mi opus est.

Lyc.

Sume hinc quid lubet.

Han.

15 Et mihi suppliciis multis.

Lyc.

Sume hinc quid lubet:

Antam.

Et mihi quidem mina argenti.

Ly.

Sume hinc quid lubet.

collo rem solvam iam omnibus, quasi baiolus.

Ag.

Numquid recusas contra me?

Lyc.

Haud verbum quidem.

Ag.

Ite igitur intro, mulieres. sed patruë mi,
20 tuam, ut dixisti, mihi desponde filiam.

Han.

Haud aliter ausim.

Antam.

Bene vale.

Ag.

Et tu bene vale.

Antam.

Leno, arrabonem hoc pro mina mecum fero. —

Lyc.

Perii hercle.

Ag.

Immo haud multo post, si in ius veneris.

Lyc.

Quin egomet tibi me addico. quid praetore opust?

25 verum obsecro te, ut liceat simplum solvere, trecentos Philippos; credo conradi potest:
cras auctionem faciam.

Ag.

Tantisper quidem
ut sis apud me lignea in custodia.

Lyc.

Fiat.

Ag.

Sequere intro, patruē mi, ūt hunc festum diem 30 habeamus hilare, huius malo et nostro bono.
multum valete. multa verba fecimus;
malum postremo omne ad lenonem reccidit.
nunc, quod postremum est condimentum fabulae, si placuit, plausum postulat comoedia. —

Agor.

Quam rēm agis, miles? qui lubet patruo meo loqui inclementer? ne mirere, mulieres quod eum secuntur: modo cognovit filias suas ēsse hasce ambas.

Lycvs

Hem, quod verbum aures meas
5 tetigit? nunc perii.

Antam.

Vnde haec perierunt domo?

Ag.

Carthaginienses sunt.

Lyc.

At ego sum perditus.
illuc ego metui semper, ne cognosceret eas āliquis, quod nunc factumst. vae misero mihi, periere, opinor, duodeviginti minae,
10 qui hasce emi.

Agor.

Et tute ipse periisti, Lyce.

Han.

Quis hic est?

Agor.

Vtrumvis est, vel leno vel Lycus.
in servitute hic filias habuit tuas,
et mi auri fur est.

Han.

Bellum hominem, quem noveris.

Antam.

Leno, rapacem te esse semper credidi,
15 verúm etiam furacem qui norunt magis.

Lyc.

Accedam. per ego tua te genua óbsecro et hunc, cognatum quem tuom esse intellego:
quando boni estis, ut bonos facere addecet faciatis, vestro subveniatis supplici.
20 iam pridem equidem istas scivi ésse liberas et exspectabam, si qui eas ássereret manu.
nam non meae sunt prosum. tum autem aurum tuom reddam, quod apud me est, et iusiurandum dabo, me malitiose nil fecisse, Agorastocles.

Agor.

25 Quid mihi par facere sit, ego mecum consulam.
omite genua.

Lyc.

Mitto, si ita sententia est.

Antam.

Heús tu leno.

Lyc.

Quid lenonem vis inter negotium?

Antam.

Vt minam mi argenti reddas, prius quam in nervom abducere.

Lyc.

Di meliora faxint.

Antam.

Sic est: hodie cenabis toris.

30 aurum argentum collum, leno, tris res nunc debes simul.

Han.

Quid me in hac re facere deceat, egomet mecum cogito.

si volo hunc ulcisci, litis sequar in alieno oppido, quantum audiui ingenium et mores eius quo pacto sient.

Adelph.

Mi pater, ne quid tibi cum istoc rei sit pessumo, obsecro.

Anter.

35 Ausculta sorori. abi, dñunge inimicitias cum improbo.

Han.

Hoc age sis, leno. quamquam ego te meruisse ut pereas scio, non experiar tecum.

Agor.

Neque ego; si aurum mihi reddes meum, leno, quando ex nervo emissu's — compingere in carcerem.

Lyc.

Iamne autem ut soles?

Antam.

Ego, Poene, tibi me purgatum volo.

40 si quid dixi iratus advorsum animi tui sententiam, id uti ignoscas quaeso; et quom istas invenisti filias, ita me di ament ut mihi volup est.

Han.

Ignosco et credo tibi.

Antam.

Leno, tu autem amicam mihi des facito aut auri mihi reddas minam.

Lyc.

Vin tibicinam meam habere?

Antam.

Nil moror tibicinam;

45 nescias, utrum ei maiores buccaene an mammae sient.

Lyc.

Dabo quae placeat.

Antam.

Cura.

Lyc.

Aúrum cras ad te referam tuom.

Agor.

Facito in memoria habeas.

Lyc.

Miles, sequere me. —

Antam.

Ego vero sequor. —

Agor.

Quid ais, patruē? quando hinc ire cogitas Carthaginem?

nam tecum mi una ire certum est.

Han.

Vbi primum potero, ilico.

Agor.

50 Dum auctionem facio, hic opus est aliquot ut maneat dies.

Han.

Faciam ita ut vis.

Agor.

Age sis, eamus, nos curemus. plaudite.

ACT I.

Pseudolus

Si ex te tacente fieri possem certior, ere, quae miseriae te tam misere macerent, duorum labori ego hominum parsissem lubens,
mei te rogandi et tuis respondendi mihi;
5 nunc quoniam id fieri non potest, necessitas me subigit ut te rogem. responde mihi:
quid est quod tu exanimatus iam hos multos dies gestas tabellas tecum, eas lacrumis lavis, neque tui participem consili quemquam facis?
10 eloquere, ut quod ego nescio id tecum sciam.

Calidorus

Misere miser sum, Pseudole.

Ps.

Id te Iuppiter prohibessit.

Cal.

Nihil hoc Iovis ad iudicium attinet:
sub Veneris regno vapulo, non sub Iovis.

Ps.

Licet me id scire quid sit? nam tu me antihac
15 supremum habuisti comitem consiliis tuis.

Cal.

Idem animus nunc est.

Ps.

Face me certum quid tibi;
iuvabo aut ré aut opera aut consilio bono.

Cal.

Cape has tabellas, tute hinc narrato tibi quae me miseria et cura contabefacit.

Ps.

20 Mos tibi geretur. sed quid hoc, quaeso?

Cal.

Quid est?

Ps.

Vt opinor, quaerunt litterae hae sibi liberos:
alia aliam scandit.

Cal.

Ludis iam ludo tuo?

Ps.

Has quidem pol credo nisi Sibulla legerit, interpretari álium posse neminem.

Cal.

25 Cur inclementer dicis lepidis litteris lepidis tabellis lepida conscriptis manu?

Ps.

An, opsecro hercle, habent quas gallinae manus?
nam has quidem gallina scripsit.

Cal.

Odiosus mihi es.
lege vel tabellas redde.

Ps.

Immo enim pellegam.

30 advortito animum.

Cal.

Non adest.

Ps.

At tu cita.

Cal.

Immo ego tacebo, tu istinc ex cera cita;
nam istic meus animus nunc est, non in pectore.

Ps.

Tuam amicam video, Calidore.

Cal.

Vbi ea est, opsecro?

Ps.

Eccam in tabellis porrectam: in cera cubat.

Cal.

35 At te di deaeque quantumst —

Ps.

Servassint quidem.

Cal.

Quasi solstitialis herba paulisper fui:
repente exortus sum, repentino occidi.

Ps.

Tace, dúm tabellas pellego.

Cal.

Ergo quin legis?

Ps.

“Phoenicium Calidoro amatori suo 40 per ceram et lignum litterasque interpretes salutem mittit et salutem abs te expetit, lacrumans titubanti ánimo, corde et pectore.”

Cal.

Perii, salutem nusquam invenio, Pseudole, quam illi remittam.

Ps.

Quam salutem?

Cal.

Argenteam.

Ps.

45 Pro lignean salute vis argenteam remittere illi? vide sis quam tu rem geras.

Cal.

Recita modo: ex tabellis iam faxo scies quam subito argento mi usus invento siet.

Ps.

“Leno me peregre militi Macedonio 50 minis viginti vendidit, voluptas mea; et prius quam hinc abiit, quindecim miles minas dederat; nunc unae quinque remorantur minae.
ea caúsa miles hic reliquit symbolum, expressam in cera ex anulo suam imaginem,

55 ut qui huc adferret eius similem symbolum, cum eo simul me mitteret. ei rei dies haec praestituta est, proxuma Dionysia.”
cras ea quidem sunt.

Cal.

Prope adest exitium mihi,
nisi quid mihi in te est auxili.

Ps.

Sine pellegam.

Cal.

60 Sino, nám mihi videor cúm ea fabularier;
lege: dulce amarumque una nunc misces mihi.

Ps.

“Nunc nostri amores mores consuetudines,
iocus lúdus sermo suavisaviatio
compressiones artae amantum corporum, 65 teneris labellis molles morsiunculae, nostrorum órgiorum — iunculae papillarum horridularum oppressiunculae, harunc voluptátum mi omnium atque itidem tibi distractio discidium vastities venit, 70 nisi quae mihi in test aut tibist in me salus.
haec quae ego scivi ut scires curavi omnia;
nunc ego te experiar quid ames, quid simules. vale.”

Cal.

Est misere scriptum, Pseudole.

Ps.

O, miserrime.

Cal.

Quin fles?

Ps.

Pumiceos oculos habeo: non queo

75 lacrumam exorare ut expuant unam modo.

Cal.

Quid ita?

Ps.

Genus nostrum semper siccoculum fuit.

Cal.

Nilne adiuuare me audes?

Ps.

Quid faciam tibi?

Cal.

Eheú.

Ps.

Eheu? id quidem hercle ne parsis: dabo.

Cal.

Miser sum, argentum nusquam inuenio mutuom.

Ps.

80 Eheu.

Cal.

Neque intus nummus ullus est.

Ps.
Eheu.

Cal.

Ille abducturus est mulierem cras.

Ps.
Eheu.

Cal.

Istocine pacto me adiuvas?

Ps.
Do id quod mihi est;
nam is mihi thesaurus iugis in nostra est domo.

Cal.

Actum est de me hodie. sed potes nunc mutuum
85 drachumam dare unam mihi, quam cras reddam tibi?

Ps.
Vix hercle, opinor, si me opponam pignori.
sed quid ea drachuma facere vis?

Cal.

Restim volo mihi émere.

Ps.
Quam ob rem?

Cal.

Qui me faciam pensilem.
certum est mihi ante tenebras tenebras persequi.

Ps.

90 Quis mi igitur drachumam reddet, si dederō tibi?
an tu te ea cāsa vis sciens suspendere ut me defraudes, drachumam si dederim tibi?

Cal.

Profecto nullo pacto possum vivere, si illa a me abalienatur atque abducitur.

Ps.

95 Quid fles, cucule? vives.

Cal.

Quid ego ni fleam,
quōi nec paratus nummus argenti siet neque libellai spes sit usquam gentium?

Ps.

Vt litterarum ego harum sermonem audio,
nisi tu illi lacrumis fleveris argenteis, 100 quod tu istis lacrumis te probare postulas, non pluris refert quam si imbrem in cribrum geras.
verum ego te amantem, ne pave, non deseram.
spero alicunde hodie me bona opera aut hac mea tibi inventurum esse auxilium argentarium.
105 atque id futurum unde unde dicam nescio, nisi quia futurum est: ita supercilium salit.

Cal.

Vtinam quae dicis dictis facta suppetant.

Ps.

Scis tu quidem hercle, mea si commovi sacra, quo pacto et quantas soleam turbellas dare.

Cal.

110 In te nunc omnes spes sunt aetati meae.

Ps.

Satin est, si hanc hodie mulierem efficio tibi tua ut sit, aut si tibi do viginti minas?

Cal.

Satis, sí futurumst.

Ps.

Roga me viginti minas,
ut me effecturum tibi quod promisi scias.
115 roga, opsecro hercle. gestio promittere.

Cal.

Dabisne argenti mi hodie viginti minas?

Ps.

Dabo. molestus nunciam ne sis mihi.
atque hoc, ne dictum tibi neges, dico prius:
si neminem alium potero, tuom tangam patrem.

Cal.

120 Di te mihi semper servent. verum, si potest, pietatis causa — vel etiam matrem quoque.

Ps.

De istac re in oculum utrumvis conquiescito.

Cal.

Oculum anne in aurem?

Ps.

At hoc pervolgatumst minus.
nunc, ne quis dictum sibi neget, dico omnibus 125 pube praesenti in contione: omni poplo, omnibus amicis notisque edico meis,
in hunc diem a me ut caveant, ne credant mihi.

Cal.

St, táce opsecro hércle.

Ps.

Quid negoti est?

Cal.

Ostium

lenonis crepuit.

Ps.

Crura mavellem modo.

Cal.

130 Atque ipse egreditur intus, periuri caput.

Ballio

Ps.

Potin ut abeas? tibi moram dictis creas.

postquam illic hinc abiit, tu astas solus, Pseudole.
quid nunc acturu's, postquam erili filio largitu's dictis dapsilis? ubi sunt ea?
quoi neque paratast gutta certi consili,
5 neque adeo argenti — neque nunc quid faciam scio.
neque exordiri primum unde occipias habes, neque ad détexundam telam certos terminos.
sed quasi poeta, tabulas cum cepit sibi, quaerit quod nusquamst gentium, reperit tamen, 10 facit illud veri simile, quod mendacium est, nunc ego poeta fiam: viginti minas, quae nusquam nunc sunt gentium, inveniam tamen.
atque ego me iam pridem huic daturum dixeram et volui inicere tragulam in nostrum senem; 15 verum is nescio quo pacto praesensit prius.
sed comprimundast vox mihi atque oratio:
erum eccum video húc Simonem una simul cum suo vicino Calliphone incedere.
ex hoc sepulcro vetere viginti minas 20 effodiam ego hodie, quas dem erili filio.
nunc huc concedam, unde horum sermonem legam.

Simo

Si de damnosis aut si dé amatoribus dictator fiat nunc Athenis Atticis, nemo anteveniat filio, credo, meo:
ita nunc per urbem solus sermoni omnibust,
5 eum velle amicam liberare et quaerere argentum ad eam rem. hoc alii mihi renuntiant; atque id iam pridem sensi et subolebat mihi,
sed dissimulabam.

Ps.

Iám illi fetet filius.

Callipho

Homines qui gestant quique auscultant crimina, si meo arbitrato liceat, omnes pendeant, 15 gestores linguis, auditores auribus.
nam istaec quae tibi renuntiantur, filium te velle amantem argento circumducere, fors fuit an istaec dicta sint mendacia;
sed si sint ea vera, ut nunc mos est, maxume, 20 quid mirum fecit? quid novom, adulescens homo si amat, si amicam liberat?

Ps.

Cal.

Studeo hercle audire, nam ted ausculto lubens.

Sim.

Agedum, nam satis libenter te ausculto loqui.

Ps.

Prius quam ístam pugnam pugnabo, ego etiam prius dabo aliam pugnam claram et commemorabilem.

Sim.

Quam pugnam?

Ps.

Em ab hoc lenone vicino tuo per sycophantiam atque per doctos dolos 115 tibicinam illam, tuos quam gnatus deperit, ea círcumducam lepide lenonem.

Sim.

Quid est?

Ps.

Effectum hoc hodie reddam utrumque ad vesperum.

Sim.

Siquidem ístaec opera, ut praedicas, perfeceris, virtute regi Ágathocli antecesseris.
120 sed si non faxis, numquid causaest, ilico
quin te in pistrinum condem?

Ps.

Non unum in diem modo, verum hercle in omnis, quantumst; sed si effecero, dabin mi argentum, quod dem lenoni, ilico,
tua voluntáte?

Cal.

Ius bonum orat Pseudolus;
125 dabo inque.

Sim.

At enim scin quid mihi in mentem venit?
quid si hisce inter se consenserunt, Callipho, aut de compecto faciunt consutis dolis, qui me argento intervertant?

Ps.

Quis me audacior
sit, si istuc facinus audeam? immo sic, Simo: 130 si sumus compecti seu consilium umquam iniimus de istac re aut si de ea re umquam inter nos convenimus, quasi in libro cūm scribuntur calamo litterae stilis me totum usque ulmeis conscribito.

Sim.

Indice ludos nunciam, quando lubet.

Ps.

135 Da in hunc diem operam, Callipho, quaeso mihi, ne quo te ad aliud occupes negotium.

Cal.

Quin rus ut irem iām heri mecum statueram.

Ps.

At nunc disturba quas statuisti machinas.

Cal.

Nunc non abire certum est istac gratia;
140 lubidost ludos tuos spectare, Pseudole.
et si hunc videbo non dare argentum tibi, quod dixit, potius quam id non fiat, ego dabo.

Sim.

Non demutabo.

Ps.

Namque edepol, si non dabis, clamore magno et multo flagitabere.

¹⁴⁵ agite amolimini hinc vos intro nunciam ac meis vicissim date locum fallaciis.

Cal.

Fiat, geratur mos tibi.

Ps.

Sed te volo
domi usque adesse.

Cal.

Quin tibi hanc operam dico. —

Sim.

At ego ad forum ibo. iam hic ero. —

PS.

Actutum redi.

¹⁵⁰ suspicio est mihi nunc vos suspicari, me idcirco haec tanta facinora promittere,
quo vos oblectem, hanc fabulam dum transigam, neque sim facturus quod facturum dixeram.
non demutabo. atque etiam certum, quod sciam, ¹⁵⁵ quo id sim facturus pacto nil etiam scio, nisi quia futurumst. nam qui in scaenam provenit,

Bállionem, exbállistabo lépide: date operam modo;

hóc ego oppidum ádmoenire, ut hodie capiatúr, volo.

atque húc meas legionés adducam; si éxpugno

15 (facilem hánc rem meis civíbus faciam), post ád oppidum hoc vetus cóntinuo meum exércitum protinus óbducam:

inde me ét simul participés omnis meos praéda onerabo atque ópplebo, metum ét fugam perduéllibus meis me út sciant natum.

éo sum genere gnátus: magna mé facinora decet efficere,

20 quae póst mihi clara et diú clueant.

sed hunc quém video? quis hic ést qui oculis meis óbviám ignobilis óbicitur?

lubet scíre quid hic veniát cum machaéra et huic, quám rem agat, hinc dabo insídias.

Harpax

Hi lóci sunt atque hae régiones quae mi áb ero sunt démonstratae, ut ego óculis rationém capio quam mi íta dixit erus méus miles, septumás esse aedis á porta ubi ille hábitet leno, quóí iussit symbólum me ferre et hoc árgentum. nimis vélím, certum qui id míhi faciat,

5 Ballió leno ubi hic hábitat.

Ps.

St, tace, tace, meus hic est homo, ni omnes di atque homines deserunt.

novo cónsilio nunc míhi opus est,

nova rés subito mi haec óbiectast:

hoc praévortar principio; illa omnia missa habeo, quae ante agere occepi.

10 iam pol ego hunc stratioticum nuntium advenientem probe percutiam.

Harp.

Óstium pultábo atque intus évocabo aliquém foras.

Ps.

Quisquis es, compendium ego te facere pultandi volo;
nam ego precator et patronus foribus processi foras.

Harp.

Tune es Ballio?

Ps.

Immo vero ego eius sum Subballio.

Harp.

15 Quid istuc verbist?

Ps.

Condus promus sum, procurator peni.

Harp.

Quasi te dicas atriensem.

Ps.

Immo atriensi ego impero.

Harp.

Quid tu, servon es an liber?

Ps.

Nunc quidem etiam servio.

Harp.

Ita videre, et non videre dignus qui liber sies.

Ps.

Non soles respicere te, quom dicis iniuste alteri?

H.

²⁰ Hunc hominem malum esse oportet.

P.

Di me servant atque amant, nam haec mihi incus est: procudam égo hodie hinc multos dolos.

H.

Quid illic secum solus loquitur?

P.

Quid ais tu, adulescens?

H.

Quid est?

Ps.

Esne tu an non es ab illo milite Macedonio, servos eius qui hinc a nobis est mercatus mulierem, ²⁵ qui argenti ero meo lenoni quindecim dederat minas, quinque debet?

Harp.

Sum. sed ubi tu me novisti gentium aut vidisti aut conlocutu's? nam equidem Athenas antidhac numquam veni, neque te vidi ante hunc diem umquam oculis meis.

Ps.

Quia videre inde esse; nam olim quom abiit, argento haec dies 30 praestitutast, quoad referret nobis, neque dum rettulit.

H.

Immo adest.

P.

Tun attulisti?

H.

Egomet.

P.

Quid dubitas dare?

Harp.

Tibi ego dem?

Ps.

Mihi hercle vero, qui res rationesque eri
Ballionis curo, argentum accepto expenso et quoi debet dato.

Harp.

Si quidem hercle etiam supremi promptas thensauros Iovis, 35 tibi libellam argenti numquam credam.

Ps.

Dum tu sternuas,
res erit soluta.

Harp.

Vinctam potius sic servavero.

Ps.

Vae tibi, tu inventu's vero, meam qui furcilles fidem.
quasi mihi nón sescenta tanta soli soleant credier.

Harp.

Potest ut alii ita arbitrentur et ego ut ne credam tibi.

Ps.

40 Quasi tu dicas me te velle argento circumducere.

Harp.

Immo vero quasi tu dicas quasique ego autem id suspicer.
sed quid est tibi nomen?

Ps.

Servos est huic lenoni Surus, eum esse me dicam. Surus sum.

H.

Surus?

P.

Id est nomen mihi.

Harp.

Verba multa facimus. erus si tuos domi est, quin provocas, 45 ut id agam quod missus huc sum, quidquid est nomen tibi?

Ps.

Si intus esset, evocarem. verum si dare vis mihi, magis erit solutum, quasi ipsi dederis.

Harp.

At enim scin quid est?

reddere hoc, non perdere erus me misit. nam certo scio, hoc febrim tibi esse, quia non licet huc inicere ungulas.

50 ego, nisi ipsi Ballioni, nummum credam nemini.

Ps.

At illic nunc negotiosust: res agitur apud iudicem.

Harp.

Di bene vortant. at ego quando eum esse censebo domi,
rediero. tu epistulam hanc a me accipe atque illi dato.
nam istic sumbolust inter erum meum et tuom de muliere.

Ps.

55 Scio equidem: ut qui argentum adferret atque expressam imaginem suam huc ad nos, cum eo aiebat velle mitti mulierem.
nam hic quoque exemplum reliquit eius.

Harp.

Omnem rem tenes.

Ps.

Quid ego ni teneam?

Harp.

Dato istunc sumbolum ergo illi.

P.

Licet.

sed quid est tibi nomen?

Harp.

Harpax.

Ps.

Apage te, Harpax, hau places;
60 huc quidem hercle haud ibis intro, ne quid ἄπραξ feceris.

Harp.

Hostis vivos rapere soleo ex acie: eo hoc nomen mihi est.

Ps.

Pol te multo magis opinor vasa athena ex aedibus.

Harp.

Non ita est. sed scin quid te oro, Sure?

Ps.

Sciam si dixeris.

Harp.

Ego devortor extra portam huc in tabernam tertiam,
65 apud anum illam doliarem, claudam crassam, Chrysidem.

Ps.

Quid nunc vis?

Harp.

Inde ut me arcessas, erus tuos ubi venerit.

Ps.

Tuo arbitrato, maxume.

Harp.

Nam ut lassus veni de via,
me volo curare.

Ps.

Sane sapis et consilium placet.
sed vide sís ne in quaestione sis, quando arcessam, mihi.

Harp.

70 Quin ubi prandero, dabo operam somno.

Ps.

Sane censeo.

Harp.

Numquid vis?

Ps.

Dormitum ut abeas.

Harp.

Abeo. —

Ps.

Atque audin, Harpage?

iube sis te operiri: beatus éris, si consudaveris.

di immortales, conservavit me illic homo adventu suo.

suo viatico redduxit me usque ex errore in viam.

nam ipsa mi Opportunitas non potuit opportunius advenire quam haec allatast mi opportune epistula.

5 nam haec allata cornu copiaest, ubi inest quidquid volo:

hic doli, hic fallaciae omnes, hic sunt sycophantiae, hic argentum, híc amica amanti erili filio.

atque ego nunc me ut gloriosum faciam et copi pectore:

quo modo quícque agerem, ut lenoni surruperem mulierculam,

10 iam instituta ornata cuncta in ordine, animo ut vlueram, certa deformata habebam; sed profecto hoc sic erit:

centum doctum hominum consilia sola haec devincit dea,

Fortuna. atque hoc verum est: proinde ut quisque Fortuna utitur, ita praecllet atque exinde sapere eum omnes dicimus.

15 bene ubi quoi scimus consilium áccidisse, hominem catum eum esse declaramus, stultum autem illum quoi vortit male.

stulti hau scimus, frustra ut simus, quom quid cupienter dari petimus nobis, quasi quid in rem sit possimus noscere.

certa mittimus, dum incerta petimus; atque hoc evenit

20 in labore atque in dolore, ut mors obrepat interim.

sed iam satis est philosophatum. nimis diu et longum loquor.

di immortales, aurichalco contra non carum fuit meum mendacium, hic modo quod subito commentus fui, quia lenonis me esse dixi. nunc ego hac epistula

25 tris deludam, erum et lenonem et qui hanc dedit mi epistulam.

euge, par pari aliud autem quod cupiebam contigit:

venit eccum Calidorus, ducit nescio quem secum simul.

Calidorvs

Dulcia atque amara apud te sum elocutus omnia:

scis amorem, scis laborem, scis egestatem meam.

Charinvs

Commemini omnia: id tu modo, me quid vis facere, fac sciam.

Cal.

Quom haec tibi alia sum elocutus, vix rem scis de symbolo.

Char.

5 Omnia, inquam. tu modo quid me facere vis fac ut sciam.

Cal.

Pseudolus mi ita imperavit, ut aliquem hominem strenuom benevolentem adducerem ad se.

Char.

Servas imperium probe;

nám et amicum et benevolentem ducis. sed istic Pseudolus novos mihist.

Cal.

Nimium est mortalis graphicus, †heuretes mihi est.

10 is mihi haec sese efecturum dixit quae dixi tibi.

Ps.

Magnufice hominem compellabo.

Cal.

Quoia vox resonat?

Ps.

Io,

io te te, turanne, te te égo, qui imperitas Pseudolo, quaero, quoi ter trina tríplicia, tríbus modis tria gaudia, artibus tribus trís demeritas dem laetitias, de tribus

15 fraude partas per malitiam et per dolum et fallaciam;
in libello hoc obsignato ad te attuli pauxillulo.

Cal.

Illic homost.

Char.

Vt paratragedat carnufex.

Ps.

Confer gradum

contra pariter, porge audacter ad salutem brachium.

Cal.

Dic utrum Spemne an Salutem te salutem, Pseudole?

Ps.

²⁰ Immo utrumque.

Char.

Vtrumque, salve. sed quid actumst?

Ps.

Quid times?

Cal.

Attuli hunc.

Ps.

Quid, attulisti?

Cal.

Adduxi volui dicere.

Ps.

Quis istic est?

Cal.

Charinus.

Ps.

Euge. iam χάριν τοῦτω ποιοῦ.

Char.

Quin tu si quid opust, mi audacter imperas?

Ps.

Tam gratiast.

bene sit tibi, Charine. nolo tibi molestos esse nos.

Ch.

²⁵ Vos molestos mihi? molestumst mi id quidem.

P.

Tum igitur mane.

Cal.

Quid istuc est?

Ps.

Epistulam modo hanc íntercepi et symbolum.

Cal.

Symbolum? quem symbolum?

Ps.

Qui a milite allatust modo.

eius servos qui hunc ferebat cum quinque argenti minis, tuam qui amicam hinc arcessebat, éi os sublevi modo.

Cal.

³⁰ Quo modo?

Ps.

Horum causa haec agitur spectatorum fabula:
hi sciunt, qui hic adfuerunt; vobis post narravero.

Cal.

Quid nunc agimus?

Ps.

Liberam hodie tuam amicam amplexabere.

Cal.

Egone?

Ps.

Tu istic ipse, inquam, si quidem hoc vivet caput;
si modo mihi hominem invenietis propere.

Char.

Qua facie?

Ps.

Malum,

35 callidum, doctum, qui quando principium prehenderit, porro sua virtute teneat quid se facere oporteat;
atque qui hic non visitatus saepe sit.

Char.

Si servos est,
numquid refert?

Ps.

Immo multo mavolo quam liberum.

Char.

Posse opinor me dare hominem tibi malum et doctum domo, 40 qui a patre advenit Carysto nec dum exiit ex aedibus quoquam neque Athenas advenit umquam ante hesternum diem.

Ps.

Bene iuvas. sed quinque inventis opus est argenti minis mutuis, quas hodie reddam: nam huius mihi debet pater.

Char.

Ego dabo, ne quaere aliunde.

Ps.

O hominem opportunum mihi.

45 etiam opust chlamyde et machaera et petaso.

Char.

Possum a me dare.

Ps.

Di immortales, non Charinus míhi hic quidem, sed Copiast.
sed istic servos, ex Carysto qui hic adest, ecquid sapit?

Char.

Hircum ab alis.

Ps.

Manuleatam tunicam habere hominem addecet.
ecquid is homo habet aceti in pectore?

Char.

Atque acidissumi.

Ps.

50 Quid, si opus sít ut dulce promat indidem, ecquid habet?

Ch.

Rogas?

murrinam, passum, defrutum, mellam, mel quoivismodi;
quin in corde instruere quondam coepit pantopolium.

Ps.

Eugepae, lepide, Charine, meo me ludo lamberas.

sed quid nomen esse dicam ego isti servo?

Char.

Simiae.

Ps.

55 Scitne in re advorsa vorsari?

Char.

Turbo non aequè citust.

Ps.

Ecquid argutust?

Char.

Malorum facinorum saepissime.

Ps.

Quid cum manifesto tenetur?

Char.

Anguillast, elabitur.

Ps.

Ecquid is homo scitust?

Char.

Plebi scitum non est scitius.

Ps.

Probus homo est, ut praedicare te audio.

Char.

Immo si scias,

60 ubi te aspexerit, narrabit ultro quid sese velis.

sed quid es acturus?

Ps.

Dicam. úbi hominem exornavero, subditivom fieri ego illum militis servom volo;

sumbolum hunc ferat lenoni cum quinque argenti minis, mulierem ab lenone abducatur: em tibi omnem fabulam.
65 ceterum quo quicque pacto faciat, ipsi dixerō.

Cal.

Quid nunc igitur stamus?

Ps.

Hominem cum ornamentis omnibus exornatum adducite ad me iam ad trapezitam Aeschinum.
sed properate.

Cal.

Prius illi erimus quam tu. —

Ps.

Abite ergo ocius.
quidquid incerti mi in animo prius aut ambiguum fuit, 70 nunc liquet, nunc defaecatumst cor mihi; nunc perviumst:
omnes ordine sub signis ducam legiones meas,
avi sinistra, auspicio liquido atque ex mea sententia;
confidentia est inimicos meos me posse perdere.
nunc ibo ad forum atque onerabo meis praeceptis Simiam, 75 quid agat, ne quid titubet, docte ut hanc ferat fallaciam.
iam ego hoc ipsum oppidum expugnatum faxo erit lenonium.

ACT III.

Pver

Cui servitutem di danunt lenoniam puero, atque eidem si addunt turpitudinem, ne illi, quantum ego nunc corde conspicio meo,
malam rem magnam multasque aerumnas danunt.
5 velut haec mi evenit servitus, ubi ego omnibus parvis magnisque miseriis praefulcior:
neque ego amatorem mi invenire ullum queo, qui amet me, ut curer tandem nitidiuscule.
nunc huic lenoni hodie est natalis dies:
10 interminatus est a minimo ad maximum,
si quis non hodie munus misisset sibi, eum crás cruciatu maximo perbitere.
nunc nescio hercle rebus quid faciam meis;
neque ego illud possum, quod illi qui possunt solent.
15 nunc, nisi lenoni munus hodie misero, cras mihi potandus fructus est fullonius.
eheu, quam illae rei ego etiam nunc sum parvulus.
atque edepol, ut nunc male eúm metuo miser,
si quispiam det qui manus gravior siet, 20 quamquam illud aiunt magno gemitu fieri, comprimere dentes videor posse aliquo modo.
sed comprimenda est mihi vox atque oratio:
erus eccum recipit se domum et ducit coquom.

Ballio

Forum coquinum qui vocant, stulte vocant, nam non coquinum est, verum furinum est forum.
nam ego si iuratus peiorem hominem quaererem coquom, non potui, quam hunc quem duco, ducere, 5 multiloquom gloriosum insulsum inutilem.
quin ob eam rem Orcus recipere ad se hunc noluit, ut esset hic qui mortuis cenam coquat;
nam hic solus illis coquere quod placeat potest.

Cocvs

Si me arbitrabare isto pacto, ut praedicas,
10 cur conducebas?

Bal.

Inopia: alius non erat.
sed cur sedebas in foro, si eras coquos, tu solus praeter alios?

Coc.

Ego dicam tibi:
hominum vitio ego sum factus improbior coquos,
non meopte ingenio.

Bal.

Qua istuc ratione?

Coc.

Eloquar.

15 quia enim, cum extemplo veniunt conductum coquom, nemo illum quaerit qui optimus et carissimust:
illum conducunt potius qui vilissimust.
hoc ego fui hodie solus obsessor fori.
illi drachmissent miseri: me nemo potest 20 minoris quisquam nummo ut surgam subigere.
non ego item cenam condio ut alii coqui, qui mihi condita prata in patinis proferunt,
boves quí convivas faciunt herbasque oggerunt,
eas hérbas herbis aliis porro condiunt:
25 indunt coriandrum, feniculum, alium, atrum holus, apponunt rumicem, brassicam, betam, blitum, eo láserpici libram pondo diluont, teritur sinapis scelera, quae illis qui terunt prius quá́m triverunt oculi ut extillent facit.
30 ei homines cenas ubi coquont, cum condiunt, non condimentis condiunt, sed strigibus, vivis convivis intestina quae exedint.

hoc hic quidem homines tam brevem vitam colunt, quom hasce herbas huius modi in suom alvom congerunt, 35 formidulosas dictu, non essu modo.
quas herbas pecudes non edunt, homines edunt.

Bal.

Quid tu? divinis condimentis utere, qui prorogare vitam possis hominibus,
qui ea culpes condimenta?

Coc.

Audacter dicito;

40 nam vel ducenos annos poterunt vivere meas qui éssitabunt escas quas condivero.
nam egó cocilendrum quando in patinas indidi aut cepolendrum aut maccidem aut secaptidem, eaepse sese patinae fervefaciunt ilico.
45 haec ad Neptuni pecudes condimenta sunt:
terrestris pecudes cicimalindro condio, hapalocopide aut cataractria.

Bal.

At te Iuppiter
dique omnes perdant cum condimentis tuis cumque tuis istis omnibus mendaciis.

Coc.

50 Sine sis loqui me.

Bal.

Loquere, atque i in malam crucem.

Coc.

Vbi omnes patinae fervont, omnis aperio:

is odos dimissis manibus in caelum volat.

Bal.

Odos dimissis manibus?

Coc.

Peccavi insciens.

Bal.

Quidum?

Coc.

Dimissis pedibus volui dicere.

55 eum odorem cenat Iuppiter cottidie.

Bal.

Si nusquam is coctum, quidnam cenat Iuppiter?

Coc.

It incenatus cubitum.

Bal.

I in malam crucem.

istacine causa tibi hodie nummum dabo?

Coc.

Fateór equidem esse me coquom carissimum;

60 verum pro pretio facio ut opera appareat mea quo conductus venio.

Bal.

Ad furandum quidem.

Coc.

An tu invenire postulas quemquam coquom nisi miluinis aut aquilinis ungulis?

Bal.

An tu coquinator te ire quoquam postulas,
65 quin ibi constrictis ungulis cenam coquas?
nunc adeo tu, qui meus es, iam edico tibi, ut nostra properes amoliri ómnia, tum ut huius oculos in oculis habeas tuis:
quoquo hic spectabit, eo tu spectato simul;
70 si quo hic gradietur, pariter progredimino;
manum sí protollet, pariter proferto manum:
suom sí quid sumet, id tu sinito sumere;
si nostrum sumet, tu teneto altrinsecus.
si iste ibit, ito, stabit, astato simul;
75 si conquiniscet istic, conquiniscito.
item his discipulis privos custodes dabo.

Coc.

Habe módo bonum animum.

Bal.

Quaeso, qui possum, doce, bonum animum habere qui te ad me adducam domum?

Coc.

Quia sorbitione faciam ego hodie te mea,
80 item ut Medea Peliam concoxit senem, quem medicamento et suis venenis dicitur fecisse rursus ex sene adolescentulum, item ego te faciam.

Bal.

Eho, an etiam es veneficus?

Coc.

Immo edepol vero hóminum servator.

Bal.

Ehem,

85 quanti istuc unum me †coquinare perdoces?

Coc.

Quid?

Bal.

Vt te servem, ne quid surripias mihi.

Coc.

Si credis, nummo; si non, ne mina quidem.
sed utrum tu amicis hodie an inimicis tuis daturu's cenam?

Bal.

Pol ego amicis scilicet.

Coc.

90 Quin tuós inimicos potius quám amicos vocas?
nam ego ita convivis cenam conditam dabo hodie atque ita suavi suavitate condiam:
ut quisque quicque conditum gustaverit, ipsum sibi faciam ut digitos praerodat suos.

Bal.

95 Quaeso hercle, prius quam quoiquam convivae dabis, gustato tute prius et discipulis dato,
ut praerodatis vostras furtificas manus.

Coc.

Fortasse haec tu nunc mihi non credis quae loquor.

Bal.

Molestus ne sis, nimium iam tinnis; non taces?
100 em illíc ego habito. íntro abi et cenam coque.
propera.

Pver

Quin tu is accubitus, et convivas cedo, corrumpitur iam cena. —

Bal.

Em, subolem sis vide:
iam hic quoque scelestus est, coqui sublingulo.
profecto quid nunc primum caveam nescio, 105 ita in aedibus sunt fures, praedo in proxumo est.
nam mi hic vicinus apud forum paulo prius, pater Calidori, ópere edixit maxumo, ut mihi caverem a Pseudolo servo suo, ne fídem ei haberem. nam eum circum ire in hunc diem, 110 ut me, si posset, muliere intervorteret;
eum prómisisse firmiter dixit sibi,
sese abducturum a me dolis Phoenicium.
nunc ibo intro atque edicam familiaribus, profecto ne quis quicquam credat Pseudolo. —

ACT IV.

Psevdolvs

Si umquám quemquam di immórtales voluére esse auxilio ádiutum, tum me ét Calidorum sérvatum volunt ésse et lenonem éxtinctum, quom te ádiutorem génuerunt mihi tám doctum hominem atque ástutum.

sed ubi íllic est? sumne ego homo ínsipiens, qui haec mécum egomet loquar sólus?

5 dedit vérba mihi hercle, ut opínor:

malus cúm malo stulte cávi.

tum pól ego interii, homo si ílle abiit, neque hoc ópus quod volui hodie éfficiam.

sed eccúm video verberéam statuam: ut it, út magnifice infert sese.
ehem, te hércle ego circumspéctabam, nimis métuebam male, ne quotumas aedis dixerit, id ego admodum incerto scio.

Bal.

Quis hic homo chlamydatum est aut unde est aut quem quaeritat?
peregrina facies videtur hominis atque ignobilis.

Sim.

10 Sed eccum qui ex incerto faciet mihi quod quaero certius.

Bal.

Ad me adit recta. unde ego hominem hunc esse dicam gentium?

Sim.

Heus tu, qui cum hircina barba stas, responde quod rogo.

Bal.

Eho, an non prius salutas?

Sim.

Nulla est mihi salus dataria.

B.

Nam pol hinc tantumdem accipies.

Ps.

Iam inde a principio probe.

Sim.

15 Ecquem in angiporto hoc hominem tu novisti? te rogo.

Bal.

Egomet me.

Sim.

Pauci istuc faciunt homines quod tu praedicas, nam in foro vix decumus quisque est qui ipsus sese noverit.

Ps.

Salvos sum, iam philosophatur.

Sim.

Hominem ego hic quaero malum, legirupam, impurum, peiurum atque impium.

Bal.

Me quaeritat,

20 nam illa mea sunt cognomenta; nomen si memoret modo.
quid est ei homini nomen?

Sim.

Leno Ballio.

Bal.

Scivin ego?

ipse ego is sum, adulescens, quem tu quaeris.

Sim.

Tune es Ballio?

Bal.

Ego enim vero is sum.

Sim.

Vt vestitu's, es perfossor parietum.

Bal.

Credo, in tenebris, conspicatus si sis me, apstineas manum.

Sim.

25 Erus meus tibi me salutem multam voluit dicere.
hanc epistulam accipe a me, hanc mé tibi iussit dare.

Bal.

Quis is homost qui iussit?

Ps.

Perii, nunc homo in medio lutost;
nomen nescit, haeret haec res.

Bal.

Quem hanc misisse ad me autumas?

Sim.

Nosce imaginem: tute eius nomen memorato mihi,
30 ut sciam te Ballionem esse ipsum.

Bal.

Cedo mi epistulam.

Sim.

Accipe et cognosce signum.

Bal.

Oh, Polymachaeroplágides
purus putus est ipsus. novi. heus, Polymachaeroplágides nomen est.

Sim.

Scio iám me recte tibi dedisse epistulam, postquam Polymachaeroplágidem elocutus nomen es.

Bal.

35 Quid agit is?

Sim.

Quod homo edepol fortis atque bellator probus.
sed propera hanc pellegere quaeso epistulam (ita negotium est), atque accipere argentum actutum mulieremque emittere.
nam necessést hodie Sicyoni me esse aut cras mortem exsequi, ita erus meus est imperiosus.

Bal.

Novi, notis praedicas.

Sim.

40 Propera pellegere épistulam ergo.

Bal.

Id ago, si taceas modo.
milés lenoni Ballioni epistulam conscriptam mittit Polymachaeroplágides, imagine obsignatam quae inter nos duo convenit olim. sumbolust in epistula.
45 video, et cognosco signum. sed in epistula nullam salutem mittere scriptam solet?

Sim.

Ita militaris disciplinast, Ballio:

manu salutem mittunt benevolentibus;
eadém malam rem mittunt malevolentibus.

50 sed, ut occepisti, perge opera experirier quid epistula ista narret.

Bal.

Ausculata modo.

‘Harpax calator meus est, ad te qui venit—’ tun es is Harpax?

Sim.

Ego sum, atque ipse ἄρπαξ quidem.

Bal.

“Qui epistulam istam fert; ab eo argentum accipi, 55 cum eo simitu mulierem mitti volo.
salutem scriptam dignum est dignis mittere:
te si arbitrarem dignum, misissem tibi.”

Sim.

Quid nunc?

Bal.

Argentum des, abducas mulierem.

Sim.

Vter remoratur?

Bal.

Quin sequere ergo intro. —

Sim.

Sequor. —

Ps.

Peiorem ego hominem magisque vorsute malum numquam edepol quemquam vidi, quám hic est Simia; nimisque égo illum hominem metuo et formido male,
ne malus item erga me sit út erga illum fuit,
5 ne in re secunda nunc mi obvertat cornua, si occasionem capsit qui sit mihi malus;
atque edepol equidem nolo, nam illi bene volo.
nunc in metu sum maximo, triplici modo:
primum omnium iam hunc comparem metuo meum, 10 ne deserat med atque ad hostis transeat;
metuo autem, né erus redeat etiam dum a foro, ne capta praeda capti praedones fuant.
quom haec metuo, metuo ne ille huc Harpax advenat prius quam hínc hic Harpax abierit cum muliere.
15 perii hercle, nimium tarde egrediuntur foras.
cor conligatis vasis expectat meum, si non educat mulierem secum simul, ut exulatum ex pectore aufugiat meo.
victor sum, vici cautos custodes meos.

Simia

Ne plora, nescis ut res sit, Phoenicium, verum haud multo post faxo scibis accubans.
non ego te ad illum duco dentatum virum
Macedoniensem, qui te nunc flentem facit:
5 cuiam esse te vis maxime, ad eum ducere:
Calidorum haud multo post faxo amplexabere.

Ps.

Quid tu intus quaeso desedisti quam diu?
mihi cor retunsumst oppugnando pectore.

Sim.

Occasionem repperisti, verbero,
10 ubi perconteris me, insidiis hostilibus?
quin hinc metimur gradibus militariis?

Ps.

Atque edepol, quamquam nequam homo es, recte mones.
ite hac triumphi ad cantharum recta via. —

Ballio

Hahae, nunc demum mi animus in tuto est loco, postquam iste hinc abiit atque abduxit mulierem.
iube nunc venire Pseudolum, scelerum caput, et abducere a me mulierem fallaciis.

5 conceptis hercle verbis, satis certo scio, ego periurare me mavellem miliens, quam mi illum verba per deridiculum dare.
nunc deridebo hercle hominem, si convenero;
verum in pistrino credo, ut convenit, fore.
10 nunc ego Simonem mi obviam veniat velim, ut mea laetitia laetus promiscam siet.

Simo

Viso quid rerum meus Vlixes egerit, iamne habeat signum ex arce Ballionia.

Bal.

O fortunate, cedo fortunatam manum,

Simo.

Sim.

Quid est?

Ba.

Iam —

Sim.

Quid iam?

Bal.

Nihil est quod metuas.

Sim.

Quid est?

5 venitne homo ad te?

Bal.

Non.

Sim.

Quid est igitur boni?

Bal.

Minae viginti sanae et salvae sunt tibi, hodie quas aps te est instipulatus Pseudolus.

Sim.

Velim quidem hercle.

Bal.

Róga me viginti minas,
si ille hodie ílla sit potitus muliere 10 sive eam tuo gnato hodie, ut promisit, dabit, roga opsecro hercle, gestio promittere.
omnibus modis tibi esse rem ut salvam scias;
atque etiam habeto mulierem dono tibi.

Sim.

Nullum periculumst, quod sciam, stipularier, 15 ut concepisti verba: viginti minas
dabin?

Bal.

Dabuntur.

Sim.

Hoc quidem actumst hau male.
sed convenistin hominem?

Bal.

Immo ambo simul.

Sim.

Quid ait? quid narrat? quaeso, quid dixit tibi?

Bal.

Nugas theatri, verba quae in comoediis 20 solent lenoni dici, quae pueri sciunt:
malum et scelestum et peiurum aibat esse me.

Sim.

Pol hau mentitust.

Bal.

Ergo haud iratus fui:
nam quanti refert ei nec recte dicere,
qui nihili faciat quique infitias non eat?

Sim.

25 Quid est? quid non metuam ab eo? id audire expeto.

Bal.

Quia numquam abducet mulierem iam, nec potest,
a me. meministin tibi me dudum dicere,
eam véniisse militi Macedonio?

Sim.

Memini.

Bal.

Em illius servos húc ad me argentum attulit
30 et obsignatum symbolum,

Sim.

Quid postea?

Bal.

Qui inter me atque illum militem convenerat:
is secum abduxit mulierem hau multo prius.

Sim.

Bonan fide istuc dicis?

Bal.

Vnde ea sit mihi?

Sim.

Vide módo, ne illic sit contechnatus quippiam.

Bal.

35 Epistula atque imago me certum facit;
quín illam quidem iam in Sicyonem ex urbe abduxit modo.

Sim.

Bene hercle factum. quid ego cesso Pseudolum facere ut det nomen ad molas coloniam?
sed quis hic homo est chlamydatus?

Bal.

Non edepol scio,
40 nisi ut observemus quó eat aut quam rem gerat.

Harpax

Malus ét nequam est homo quí nihili eri ímperium sui sérvos facit, nihilíst autem suom quí ófficium facere ímmemor est, nisi est ádmonitus.

nam quí liberós esse ilicó se arbitrantur,

ex cónspectu erí si suí se abdidérunt,

5 lúxantur, lustrántur, comedunt quód habent, ei nomén diu sérvitutís ferunt.

néc boni ingeni quícquam in is inest, nisi ut improbis se artibus teneant. †

cum hís mihi néc locus

10 nec sérmo convenít neque is úmquam nobilís fui.

ego, ut mi ímperatumst, étsi abest, híc adesse erum árbitor.

núnc ego illum metuo, quom hic nón adest, ne quom ádsiet métuam. ei rei operám dabo.

nam ín taberna úsque adhuc, sí venirét Syrus,

15 cui dedi sumbolum, mansi, uti iusserat:

leno ubi esset domi, me aibat arcessere;

vérum ubi is nón venit néc vocat, venio húc ultro, ut sciam, quíd rei sit, ne illíc homo me ludíficetur.

neque quícquamst melius, quam út hoc pultém atque aliquem évocem hinc íntus.

20 léno argentum hóc volo á me accipiat átque amittat múlIERem mecúm simul.

Bal.

Heús tu.

Sim.

Quid vis?

Bal.

Híc homo meus est.

Sim.

Quídum?

Bal.

Quia praeda haec meast:
scórtum quaerit, hábet argentum. iam ádmordere hunc míhi lubet.

Sim.

Iamne íllum coméssurus és?

Bal.

Dum recéns est

25 datór, dum calét, devorári decét iam.

boní me virí pauperánt, improbi aúgent;

popló strenuúi, mi improbí usuí sunt.

Sim.

Malúm quod tíbí di dabúnt, sic sceléstu's.

Har.

Me nunc commoror, quom has foris non ferio, ut sciam,

30 sítne Ballió domi.

Bal.

Vénus mi haec bona dat, quom hós huc adigit lúcrifugas, damnícupidos, qui sé suamque aetatém bene curant, édunt, bibunt, scortántur: illi súnt alio ingenio átque tu, quí neque tibi bene ésse patere et íllis quibus est ínvides.

Har.

35 Heús ubi estis vós?

Bal.

Hic quidem ad me récta habet rectám viam.

H.

Heus ubi estís vos?

B.

Heus adulescens, quid istic debetur tibi?

bene ego ab hoc praedatus ibo; novi, bona scaevast mihi.

Har.

Ecquis hoc áperit?

Bal.

Heus chlamydate, quid istic debetur tibi?

Har.

Aedium dominum lenonem Ballionem quaerito.

Bal.

40 Quisquis es, adulescens, operam fac compendi quaerere.

Har.

Quid iam?

Bal.

Quia tute ipsus ipsum praesens praesentem vides.

Har.

Tune is es?

Sim.

Chlamydate, cáve sis tibi a curvo infortunio atque in hunc intende digitum: hic leno est.

Bal.

At hic est vir bonus.

sed, tu, bone vir, flagitare saepe clamore in foro,

45 quom libella nusquamst, nisi quid leno hic subvenit tibi.

Har.

Quin tu mecum fabulare?

Bal.

Fabulor. quid vis tibi?

Har.

Argentum accipias.

BAL.

Iamdudum, si des, porrexī manum.

Har.

Accipe: hic sunt quinque argenti lectae numeratae minae.

hoc tibi erus me iussit ferre Polymachaeroplāgides,

50 quod deberet, atque ut mecum mitteres Phoenicium.

Bal.

Erus tuos —

Har.

Ita dico.

Bal.

Miles —

Har.

Ita loquor.

Bal.

Macedonius —

Har.

Admodum, inquam.

Bal.

Te ad me misit Polymachaeroplāgides?

Har.

Vera memoras.

Bal.

Hoc argentum ut mihi dares?

Har.

Si tu quidem es

leno Ballio.

BAL.

Atque ut a me mulierem tu abduceres?

H.

55 Ita.

B.

Phoenicium esse dixit?

H.

Recte meministi.

B.

Mane.

iam redeo ad te.

Har.

At maturate propera, nam propero: vides

iam diem multum esse.

Bal.

Video: hunc advocare etiam volo;

mane modo istic, iam revertar ad te. quid nunc fit, Simo?

quid agimus? manifesto hunc hominem teneo, qui argentum attulit.

Sim.

60 Quidum?

BAL.

An nescis quae sit haec res?

Sim.

Iuxta cum ignarissimis.

Bal.

Pseudolus tuos allegavit hunc, quasi a Macedonio milite esset.

Sim.

Haben argentum ab homine?

Bal.

Rogitas quod vides?

Sim.

Heus, memento ergo dimidium istinc mihi de praeda dare: commune istuc esse oportet.

Bal.

Quid, malum? id totum tuum est.

Har.

⁶⁵ Quam mox mi operam das?

Bal.

Tibi do equidem. quid nunc mi es auctor, Simo?

Sim.

Exploratorem hunc faciamus ludos suppositicium, adeo donecum ipse sese ludos fieri senserit.

Bal.

Sequere. quid ais? nempe tu illius servos es?

Har.

Planissume.

Bal.

Quanti te emit?

Har.

Suarum in pugna virium victoria.

70 nám ego eram domi imperator summus in patria mea.

Bal.

An etiam umquam ille expugnavit carcerem, patriam tuam?

Har.

Contumeliam si dices, audies.

Bal.

Quotumo die
ex Sicyone huc pervenisti?

Har.

Altero ad meridiem.

Bal.

Strenue mehercule iisti.

Sim.

Quamvis pernix híc est homo:

75 ubi suram aspicias, scias pósse eum — gerere crassas compedes.

Bal.

Quid ais? tune etiam cubitare solitu's in cunis puer?

Sim.

Scilicet.

Bal.

Etiamne facere solitus es — scin quid loquar?

Sim.

Scilicet solitum esse.

Har.

Sanine estis?

Bal.

Quíd hoc quod te rogo?

noctu in vigiliam quando ibat miles, quom tu ibas simul,

80 conveniebatne in vaginam tuam machaera militis?

Har.

I in malam crucem.

Bal.

Ire licebit tamen tibi hodie temperi.

Har.

Quin tu mulierem mi emittis, aut redde argentum.

Bal.

Mane.

Har.

Quid maneam?

Bal.

Chlamydem hanc commemora quanti conductast.

Har.

Quid est?

Sim.

Quid meret machaera?

Har.

Elleborum hisce hóminibus opus ést.

Bal.

Eho.

Har.

85 Mitte.

Bal.

Quid mercedis petasus hodie domino demeret?

Har.

Quid domino? quid somniatis? mea quidem haec habeo omnia, meo peculio empta.

Bal.

Nempe quod fémina summa sustinent.

Har.

Vncti hi sunt senes, fricari sese ex antiquo volunt.

Bal.

Responde, opsecro hercle, vero serio hoc quod te rogo:
90 quid meres? quantillo argento te conduxit Pseudolus?

Har.

Quis istic Pseudolust?

BAL.

Praeceptor tuos, qui te hanc fallaciam docuit, ut fallaciis hinc mulierem a me abduceres.

Har.

Quem tu Pseudolum, quas tu mihi praedicas fallacias?
quem ego hominem † nullius coloris novi.

Bal.

Non tu istinc abis?

95 nihil est hodie hic sucophantis quaestus: proin tu Pseudolo nunties abduxisse alium praedam, qui occurrit prior

Harpax.

Har.

Is quidem edepol Harpax ego sum.

Bal.

Immo edepol esse vis.
purus putus hic sucophanta est.

Har.

Ego tibi argentum dedi
et dudum, adveniens extemplo, sumbolum servo tuo, 100 eri imágine obsignatam epistulam, hic ante ostium.

Bal.

Meo tu epistulam dedisti servo? quoi servo?

Har.

Suro.

Bal.

Non confidit sycophanta hic nequam est nugis: meditatus malest.
edepol hominem verberonem Pseudolum, ut docte dolum commentust: tantundem argenti quantum miles debuit

105 dedit huic atque hominem exornavit, mulierem qui abduceret.
nam illam epistulam ipsus verus Harpax huc ad me attulit.

Har.

Harpax ego vocor, ego servos sum Macedonis militis;
ego nec sycophantiose quicquam ago nec malefice, neque istum Pseudolum mortalis qui sit novi neque scio.

Sim.

110 Tu, nisi mirumst, leno, plane perdidisti mulierem.

Bal.

Edepol ne istuc magis magisque metuo, quom verba audio.
mihi quoque edepol iamdudum ille Surus cor perfrigefacit, sumbolum qui ab hoc accepit. mira sunt ni Pseudolust.
eho tu, qua facie fuit, dúdum quoi dedisti sumbolum?

Har.

115 Rufus quidam, ventriosus, crassis suris, subniger, magno capite, acutis oculis, ore rubicundo, admodum magnis pedibus.

Bal.

Perdidisti, postquam dixisti pedes.
Pseudolus fuit ipsus. actumst de me. iam morior, Simo.

Har.

Hercle te hau sinam emoriri, nisi mi argentum redditur,
120 viginti minae.

Sim.

Atque etiam mihi aliae viginti minae.

Bal.

Auferen tu id praemium a me, quod promisi per iocum?

Sim.

De improbis viris auferri praemium et praedam decet.

Bal.

Saltem Pseudolum mihi dedas.

Sim.

Pseudolum ego dedam tibi?

quid deliquit? dixin, ab eo tibi ut caveres, centiens?

Bal.

125 Perdidit me.

Sim.

At me viginti modicis multavit minis.

Bal.

Quid nunc faciam?

Har.

Si mi argentum dederis, te suspendito.

Bal.

Di te perdant. sequere sis me ergo hac ad fórum, ut solvam.

Har.

Sequor.

Sim.

Quid ego?

Bal.

Peregrinos absolvam, cras agam cum civibus.

Pseudolus mihi centuriata hábuit capitis comitia,

130 qui illum ad mé hodie adlegavit, mulierem qui abduceret.
sequere tu. nunc ne expectetis, dum hac domum redeam via;
ita res gestast: angiporta haec certum est consecrarier.

Har.

Si graderere tantum quantum loquere, iam esses ad forum. —

Bal.

Certumst mi hunc emortualem facere ex natali die. —

Sim.

Bene ego illum tetigi, bene autem servos inimicum suom.
nunc mihi certum est alio pacto Pseudolo insidias dare, quam in aliis comoediis fit, ubi cum stimulis aut flagris insidiantur: at ego iam intus promam viginti minas, 5 quas promisi si effecisset; obviam ei ultro deferam.
nimis illic mortalis doctus, nimis vorsutus, nimis malus;
superavit dolum Troianum átque Vlixem Pseudolus.
nunc ibo intro, argentum promam, Pseudolo insidias dabo. —

ACT V.

Pseudolus

Quid hóc? sicine hóc fit, pedés? statin án non?

Qui gentes omnes mariaque et terras movet, eius sum civis civitate caelitum.
ita sum, ut videtis, splendens stella candida, signum quod semper tempore exoritur suo 5 hic atque in caelo: nomen Arcturo est mihi.
noctu sum in caelo clarus atque inter deos, inter mortalis ambuló interdus.
at alia signa de caelo ad terram accidunt.
qui est imperator divom atque hominum Iuppiter, 10 is nos per gentis alium ália disparat, qui facta hominum, mores, pietatem et fidem noscamus, ut quemque adiuvet opulencia.
qui falsas litis falsis testimoniis petunt quique in iure abiurant pecuniam, 15 eorúm referimus nomina exscripta ad Iovem;
cotidie ille scit quis hic quaerat malum:
qui hic litem apisci postulant peiurio mali, res falsas qui impetrant apud iudicem, iterum ille eam rem iudicatam iudicat;
20 maiore multa multat quam litem auferunt.
bonos in aliis tabulis exscriptos habet.
atque hoc scelesti in animum inducunt suom, Iovem sé placare posse donis, hostiis:
et operam et sumptum perdunt; id eo fit quia 25 nihil éi acceptumst a periuris supplici; facilius si qui pius est a dis supplicans, quam qui scelestust, inveniet veniam sibi.
idcirco moneo vos ego haec, qui estis boni quique aetatem agitis cum pietate et cum fide: 30 ...
retinete porro, post factum ut laetemini.
nunc, huc qua causa veni, argumentum eloquar.
primumdum huic esse nomen urbi Diphilus

Cyrenas voluit. illic habitat Daemones 35 in agro atque villa proxima propter mare, senex, qui húc Athenis exul venit, hau malus;
neque is adeo propter malitiam patria caret, sed dum alios servat se impedivit interim,
rem bene paratam comitate perdidit.
40 huíc filiola virgo periit parvola.
eam dé praedone vir mercatur pessumus, is eam huc Cyrenas leno advexit virginem.
adulescens quidam civis huius Atticus eam vídit ire e ludo fidicinio domum, 45 amare occepit: ad lenonem devenit, minis triginta sibi puellam destinat datque arrabonem et iure iurando alligat.
is leno, ut se aequom est, flocci non fecit fidem neque quod iuratus adulescenti dixerat.
50 eí erat hospes par sui, Siculus senex scelestus, Agrigentinus, urbis proditor; is illius laudare infit formam virginis et aliarum itidem quae eius erant mulierculae.
infit lenoni suadere, ut secum simul 55 eat in Siciliam: ibi esse homines voluptários dicit, potesse íbi eum fieri divitem.
ibi esse quaestum maximum meretricibus.
persuadet. navis clanculum conducitur, quidquid erat noctu in navem comportat domo 60 leno; adulescenti qui puellam ab eo emerat ait sése Veneri velle votum solvere (id hic est Veneris fanum) et eo ad prandium vocavit adulescentem huc. ipse hinc ilico conscendit navem, ávehit meretriculas.
65 adulescenti alii narrant ut res gesta sit,
lenonem abiisse. ad portum ádulescens venit:
illorum navis longe in altum abscesserat.
ego quoniam video virginem asportarier, tetuli éi auxilium et lenoni exitium simul:
70 increpui hibernum et fluctus movi maritimos.

nam Arcturus signum sum omniúm acerrimum:
vehemens sum exoriens, cum occido vehementior.
nunc ambo in saxo, leno átque hospes, simul sedent eiecti: navis confracta est eis.
75 illa autem virgo atque altera itidem ancillula de navi timidae desuluerunt in scapham.
nunc eas ab saxo fluctus ad terram ferunt ad villam illius, exul ubi habitat senex, cuius déturbavit ventus tectum et tegulas;
80 et servos illic est éius, qui egreditur foras.
adulescens huc iam adveniet, quem videbitis, qui illam mercatust de lenone virginem.
valete, ut hostes vestri diffidant sibi. —

ACT I.

Sceparnio

Pro di immortales, tempestatem cuius modi Neptunus nobis nocte hac misit proxima.
detexit ventus villam — quid verbis opust?
non ventus fuit, verum Álcumena Euripidi, 5 ita omnis de tecto deturbavit tegulas;
inlustrioris fecit fenestrasque indidit.

Plesidippvs

Et vos a vestris abduxi negotiis neque id processit qua vos duxi gratia, neque quivi ad portum lenonemprehendere.
sed mea desidia spem deserere nolui:
5 eo vós, amici, detinui diutius.
nunc huc ad Veneris fanum venio visere, ubi rem divinam se facturum dixerat.

Scep.

Si sapiam, hoc quod me mactat concinnem lutum.

Ples.

Prope me hic nescio quis loquitur.

Daemones

Heus, Sceparnio.

Scep.

10 Qui nominat me?

Daem.

Qui pro te argentum dedit.

Scep.

Quasi me tuom esse servom dicas, Daemones.

Daem.

Luto usust multo, multam terram confode.
villam integundam intellego totam mihi, nam nunc perlucet ea quam cribrum crebrius.

Ples.

15 Pater salveto, ámboque adeo.

Daem.

Salvos sis.

Scep.

Sed utrum tu masne an femina es, qui illum patrem voces?

Pl.

Vir sum equidem.

Sc.

Quaere vir porro patrem.

Daem.

Filiolam ego unam hábui, eam unam perdidi.
virile sexus numquam ullum habui.

Ples.

At di dabunt.

Scep.

20 Tibi quidem hercle, quisquis es, magnum malum, qui oratione nos hic occupatos occupes.

Ples.

Isticine vos habitatis?

Scep.

Quid tu id quaeritas?
quon furatum mox venias, vestigas loca?

Ples.

Peculiosum esse addecet servom et probum, 25 quem ero praesente † praetereat oratio aut qui inclementer dicat homini libero.

Scep.

Et impudicum et impudentem hominem addecet molestum ultro advenire ad alienam domum, cui debeatur nil.

Daem.

Tace, Sceparnio.

30 quid opust, adulescens?

Ples.

Istic infortunium,
qui praefestinet, ubi erus adsit, praeloqui.
sed nisi molestumst, paucis percontarier volo ego ex te.

Daem.

Dabitur opera, atque in negotio.

Scep.

Quin tu in paludem is exicasque harundinem,
35 qui pertegamus villam, dum sudumst?

Daem.

Tace.

tu si quid opus est dice.

Ples.

Dic quod te rogo, ecquem tu hic hominem crispum, incanum videris, malum, periurum, palpatorem —

Daem.

Plurimos,

nam ego propter eius modi viros vivo miser.

Ples.

40 Hic dico, in fanum Veneris qui mulierculas duas sécum adduxit, quique adornaret sibi ut rem divinam faciat, aut hodie aut heri.

Daem.

Non hercle, adulescens, iam hos dies complusculos quemquam istic vidi sacrificare, neque potest 45 clam me esse si qui sacrificat: semper petunt aquam hinc aut ignem aut vascula aut cultrum aut veru aut aulam extarem, aut aliquid — quid verbis opust?
Veneri paravi vasa et puteum, non mihi.
nunc intervallum iam hos dies multos fuit.

Ples.

50 Vt verba praehibes, me periisse praedicas.

Daem.

Mea quidem hercle causa salvos sis licet.

Scep.

Heus tu, qui fana ventris causa circumis, iubere meliust prandium ornari domi.

Daem.

Fortasse tu huc vocatus es ad prandium,
55 ille qui vocavit nullus venit?

Ples.

Admodum.

Scep.

Nullumst periculum te hinc ire inpransum domum:
Cererem te meliust quam Venerem sectarier:
amori haec curat; tritico curat Ceres.

Ples.

Deludificavit me illic homo indignis modis.

Daem.

60 Pro di immortales, quid illuc est, Sceparnio, hominum secundum litus?

Scep.

Vt mea est opinio,
propter viam illi sunt vocati ad prandium.

Daem.

Qui?

Scep.

Quia post cenam, credo, laverunt heri.

Daem.

Confracta navis in mari est illis.

Scep.

Ita est.

65 at hercle nobis villa in terra et tegulae.

Daem.

Hui,

homunculi quanti estis. eiecti ut natant.

Ples.

Vbi sunt i homines, obsecro?

Daem.

Hac ad dexteram

(viden?) secundum litus.

Ples.

Video. sequimini.

utinam is sit quém ego quaero, vir sacerrimus.

70 valete. —

Scep.

Si non moneas, nosmet meminimus.
sed, o Palaemon, sancte Neptuni comes, qui Herculis socius esse diceris,† quod facinus video.

Daem.

Quid vides?

Scep.

Mulierculas

video sedentis in scapha solas duas.
75 ut adfflictantur miserae. euge euge, perbene, ab saxo avortit fluctus ad litus scapham, nequé gubernator umquam potuit rectius.
non vidisse undas me maioris censeo.
salvae sunt, si illos fluctus devitaverint.
80 nunc, nunc periculumst. unda eiecit alteram.
at in vadost, iam facile enabit. eugepae, viden alteram illam ut fluctus eiecit foras?
surrexit, horsum se capessit. salva res.
desiluit haec autem altera in terram e scapha.
85 ut prae timore in genua in undas concidit.
salvast, evasit ex aqua. iam in litore est.
sed dextrovorsum avorsa it in malam crucem.
hem, errabit illaec hodie.

Daem.

Quid id refert tua?

Scep.

Si ad saxum quo capessit, ea deorsum cadit,
90 errationis fecerit compendium.

Daem.

Si tu de illarum cenaturus vesperi es,
illis curandum censeo, Sceparnio, si apud me essurus, mihi darí operam volo.

Scep.

Bonum aequomque oras.

Daem.

Sequere me hac ergo. —

Scep.

Sequor. —

ACT II.

Piscatores

Omnibus modis qui pauperes sunt homines miseri vivunt, praesertim quibus nec quaestus est, nec didicere artem ullam:
necessitate quidquid est domi id sat est habendum.
nos iam de ornatu propemodum ut locupletes simus scitis:
5 hisce hami atque haec harundines sunt nobis quaestu et cultu.
... ex urbe ad mare huc prodimus pabulatum:
pro exercitu gymnastico et palaestrico hoc habemus;
echinos, lopadas, ostreas, balanos captamus, conchas, marinam urticam, musculos, plagusias striatas;
10 post id piscatum hamatilem et saxatilem aggredimur.
cibum captamus e mari: si eventus non evenit neque quicquam captumst piscium, salsi lautique pure domum redimus clanculum, dormimus incenati.
atque ut nunc valide fluctuat mare, nulla nobis spes est:
15 nisi quid conclarum capsimus, incenati sumus profecto.
nunc Venerem hanc veneremur bonam, ut nos lepide adiuerit hodie.

Trachalio

Animum adversavi sedulo, ne erum usquam praeterirem;
nam cum modo exibat foras, ad portum se aibat ire, me huc obviam iussit sibi venire ad Veneris fanum.
sed quos perconter commode eccos video astare. adibo.
5 salvete, fures maritimi, conchitae atque hamiotae, famelica hominum natio. quid agitis? ut peritis?

Pisc.

Vt piscatorem aequomst, fame sitique speque ...

Trach.

... ecquem adolescentem
huc, dum hic astat, strenua facie rubicundum fortem, 10 qui tres secum homines duceret chlamydatos cum machaeris, vidistis vos venire ... ? ...

Pisc.

Nullum istac facie ut praedicas venisse huc scimus.

Trach.

Ecquem

recalvom ac silanum senem, statutum, ventriosum, tortis superciliis, contracta fronte, fraudulentum, 15 deorum ódium atque hominum, málum, mali viti probrique plenum,
qui duceret mulierculas duas sécum satis venustas?

Pisc.

Cum istius modi virtutibus operisque natus qui sit, eum quídem ad carnificem est aequius quam ad Venerem commeare.

Trach.

At si vidistis, dicite.

Pisc.

Huc profecto nullus venit.

20 vale. —

Trach.

Valete. credidi: factum est quod suspicabar, data verba ero sunt, leno abít scelestus exulatum, in navem ascendit, mulieres avexit: hariolus sum.
is huc erum etiam ad prandium vocavit, sceleris semen.
nunc quid mihi meliust, quam ilico hic opperiar erum dum veniat?
25 eadém, sacerdos Veneria haec sí quid amplius scit, si videro, exquisivero: faciet me certiolem.

Ampelisca

Intellego: hanc quae proxuma est víllam Veneris fano pulsare iussisti atque aquam rogare.

Trach.

Cuia ad auris

vox mi advolavit?

Amp.

Obsecro, quis hic loquitur? quém ego video?

Tr.

Estne Ampelisca haec quae foras e fano egreditur?

Am.

Estne hic

5 Trachalio, quem conspikor, calator Plesidippi?

Trach.

East.

Amp.

Is est. Trachalio, salve.

Trach.

Salve, Ampelisca.

quid agis tu?

Amp.

Aétatem haud malam male.

Trach.

Melius ominare.

Amph.

Verum omnes sapientes decet conferre et fabulari.

sed Plesidippus tuos erus ubi, amabo, est?

Trach.

Heia vero,

10 quasi non sit intus.

Amp.

Neque pol est neque huc quidem ullus venit.

Tr.

Non venit?

Amp.

Vera praedicas.

Tr.

Non est meum, Ampelisca.
sed quam mox coctum est prandium?

Amp.

Quod prandium, obsecro te?

Trach.

Nempe rém divinam facitis hic.

Amp.

Quid somnias, amabo?

Trach.

Certe huc Labrax ad prandium vocavit Plesidippum 15 erúm meum erus vestér.

Amp.

Pol haud miranda facta dicis:
si deos decepit et homines, lenonum more fecit.

Trach.

Non rem divinam facitis hic vos neque erus?

Amp.

Hariolare.

Trach.

Quid tu agis hic igitur?

Amp.

Ex malis multis metuque summo capitalique ex periculo orbas auxiliique opumque huc 20 recepit ad se Veneria haec sacerdos me et Palaestram.

Trach.

An hic Palaestrast, obsecro, erí mei amica?

Amp.

Certo.

Trach.

Inest lepos in nuntio tuo mágnus, mea Ampelisca.
sed istúc periculum perlubet quod fuerit vobis scire.

Amp.

Confracta est, mi Trachalio, hac nocte navis nobis.

Trach.

25 Quid navis? quae istaec fabulast?

Amp.

Non audivisti, amabo,
quo pacto leno clanculum nos hinc auferre voluit in Siciliam et quidquid domi fuit in navem imposivit?
ea nunc perierunt omnia.

Trach.

Oh, Neptune leptide, salve,
nec te aleator nullus est sapientior; profecto 30 nimis lépide iecisti bolum: periurum perdidisti.
sed nunc ubi est leno Labrax?

Amp.

Periit potando, opinor.
Neptunus magnis poculis hac nocte eum invitavit.

Trach.

Credo hercle anancaeo datum quod biberet. ut ego amo te,
mea Ampelisca, ut dulcis es, ut mulsa dicta dicis.

35 sed tu et Palaestra quomodo salvae estis?

Amp.

Scibis faxo.

de navi timidae ambae in scapham insiluimus, quia videmus ad saxa navem ferrier; properans exsolvi restim, dum illi timent; nos cum scapha tempestas dextrovorsum differt ab illis. itaque nos ventisque fluctibusque 40 iactatae exemplis plurimis miserae perpetuam noctem; vix hodie ad litus pertulit nos ventus exanimatas.

Trach.

Novi, Neptunus ita solet, quamvis fastidiosus aedilis est: si quae improbae sunt merces, iactat omnis.

Amp.

Vae capiti atque aetati tuae.

Trach.

Tuo, mea Ampelisca.

45 scivi lenonem facere hóc, quod fecit, saepe dixi;
capillum promittam optimumst occipiamque hariolari.

Amp.

Cavistis ergo tu atque erus ne abiret, cum scibatis.

Trach.

Quid faceret?

Amp.

Sí amabat, rogas, quid faceret? adservaret dies nóctesque, in custodia esset semper. verum ecastor 50 ut multi fecit ita probe curavit Plesidippus.

Trach.

Cur tu istuc dicis?

Amp.

Res palam est.

Trach.

Scin tu? etiam qui it lavatum in balineas, cum ibi sedulo sua vestimenta servat, tamen surripiuntur, quippe qui quem illorum observet falsust;
fur facile qui observat videt: custos qui fur sit nescit.
55 sed duce me ad illam ubi est.

Amp.

I sane in Veneris fanum huc intro, sedentem flentemque opprimes.

Trach.

Vt iam istuc mihi molestumst.
sed quid flet?

Amp.

Ego dicam tibi: hoc sésé excruciat animi, quia leno ademit cistulam ei, quam habebat ubique habebat qui suos parentis noscere possét: eam veretur 60 ne perierit.

Trach.

Vbinam ea fuit cistellula?

Amp.

Ibidem in navi.
conclusit ipse in vidulum, ne copia esset eius, qui suos parentes nosceret.

Trach.

O facinus impudicum,
quam liberam esse oporteat servire postulare.

Amp.

Nunc eam cum navi scilicet abiisse pessum in altum.
65 et aurum et argentum fuit lenonis omne ibidem.

T.

Credo aliquem immersisse atque eum excepisse.

A.

Id misera maestast,
sibi eorum evenisse inopiam.

Trach.

Iam istoc magis usus factost,
ut eam intro consolerque eam, ne sic se excruciet animi;
nam multa praeter spem scio multis bona evenisse.

Amp.

70 At ego étiam, qui speraverint spem decepisse multos.

Trach.

Ergo animus aequos optimum est aerumnae condimentum.
ego eo intro, nisi quid vis. —

Amp.

Eas. ego quod mihi imperavit sacerdos, id faciam atque aquam hinc de proximo rogabo;
nam extemplo, si verbis suis peterem, daturos dixit.
75 neque digniorem censeo vidisse anum me quemquam, cui deos atque homines censeam bene facere magis decere.
ut lepide, ut liberaliter, ut honeste atque haud gravate timidas egentes uvidas eiectas exanimatas accepit ad sese, haud secus quam si ex se simus natae; 80 ut eapse sic succincta aquam calefactat, ut lavemus.
nunc ne morae illi sim, petam hinc aquam, unde mi imperavit.
heus ecquis in vîllast? ecquis hoc recludit? ecquis prodit?

Sceparnio

Quís est qui nostris tám proterve fóribus facit iniúriam?

Amp.

Égo sum.

Scep.

Hem, quid hoc boni est? eu edepol specie lepida mulierem.

Amp.

Salve, adulescens.

Scep.

Et tu multum salveto, adulescentula.

Amp.

Ad vos venio.

Scep.

Accipiam hospitio, si mox venies ...

5 item ut adfectam; nam nunc nihil est qui te manem ...

sed quid ais, meá lepida, hilara?

Amp.

Aha, nimium familiariter me attrectas.

Scep.

Pro di immortales, Veneris effigia haec quidem est.

ut in ocellis hilaritudo est, heia, corpus cuius modi, subvolturium — illud quidem, subaquilum volui dicere.

10 vel papillae cuius modi, tum quae indoles in saviost.

Amp.

Non ego sum pollucta pago. potin ut me abstineas manum?

Scep.

Non licet saltem sic placide bellam belle tangere?

Amp.

Otium ubi erit, tum tibi operam ludo et deliciae dabo;

nunc quam ob rem huc sum missa, amabo, vel tu mi aias vel neges.

Scep.

15 Quid nunc vis?

Amp.

Sapienti ornatus quid velim indicium facit.

Scep.

Meus quoque hic sapienti ornatus quid velim indicium facit.

Amp.

Haec sacerdos Veneris hinc me petere aquam iussit a vobis. †

Scep.

At ego basilicus sum: quem nisi oras, guttam non feres.

nostro illum puteum periclo et ferramentis fodimus.

20 nisi multis blanditiis a me gutta non ferri potest.

Amp.

Cur tu aquam gravare, amabo, quam hostis hosti commodat?

Scep.

Cur tu operam gravare mihi quam civis civi commodat?

Amp.

Immo etiam tibi, mea voluptas, quae voles faciam omnia.

Scep.

Eugepae, salvos sum, haec iam me suam voluptatem vocat.

25 dabitur tibi aqua, ne nequiquam mé ames. cedo mi urnam.

Amp.

Cape.

propera, amabo, efferre.

Scep.

Manta, iam hic ero, voluptas mea. —

Amp.

Quid sacerdoti me dicam hic demoratum tam diu?

ut etiam nunc misera timeo, ubi oculis intueor mare.
sed quid ego misera video procul in litore?
30 meum erum lenonem Siciliensemque hospitem, quos periisse ambos misera censebam in mari.
iam illud mali plus nobis vivit quam ratae.
sed quid ego cesso fugere in fanum ac dicere haec
Palaestrae, in aram ut confugiamus prius quam huc† 35 scelestus leno veniat nosque hic opprimat?
confugiam huc, ita res suppetit subit ...

Sceparnio

Pro di immortales, in aqua numquam credidi voluptatē inesse tantam. ut hanc traxi lubens.
nimio minus altus puteus visust quam prius.
ut sine labore hanc extraxi, praefiscine.
5 satin néquam sum, ut pote qui hodie amare inceperim?
em tibi aquam, mea tu belliata. em sic volo te ferre honeste, ut ego fero, ut placeas mihi.
sed ubi tu es, delicata? cape aquam hanc sis. ubi es?
amat hercle me, ut ego opinor. delituit mala.
10 ubi tu es? etiamne hanc urnam acceptura es? ubi es?
commodule ludis. tandem vero serio, etiam acceptura es urnam hanc? ubi tu es gentium?
nusquam hercle equidem illam video. ludos me facit.
adponam hercle urnam iám ego hanc in media via.
15 sed autem, quid si hanc hinc abstulerit quispiam, sacram urnam Veneris? mi exhibeat negotium.
metuo hercle ne illa mulier mi insidias locet, ut comprehendar cum sacra urna Veneria.
nempe optimo me iure in vinclis enicet 20 magistrátus si quis me hanc habere viderit. nam haec litteratast, eapse cantat cuia sit.
iam hercle evocabo hinc hanc sacerdotem foras,
ut hanc accipiat urnam. accedam huc ad fores.
heus exi, Ptolemocratia, cape hanc urnam tibi:
25 muliercula hanc nescio quae huc ad me detulit.
intro ferundast. repperi negotium, siquidem hís mihi ultro ádgerunda etiam est aqua. —

Labrax

Qui homo sese miserum et mendicum volet,† Neptuno credat sese atque aetatem suam:
nam si quis cúm eo quid rei commiscuit,
ad hoc exemplum amittit ornatum domum.
5 edepol, Libertas, lepida es, quae numquam pedem voluisti in navem cum Hercule una imponere.
sed ubi ille meus est hospes, qui me perdidit?
atque eccum incedit.

Charmides

Quo malum properas, Labrax?
nam equidem te nequeo consequi tam strenue.

Labr.

10 Vtinam te prius quam óculis vidissem meis, malo cruciatu in Sicilia perbiteres, quem propter hoc mihi optigit misero mali.

Charm.

Vtinam, quom in aedis me ad te adduxisti tuas,
in carcere illo potius cubuissem die.
15 deosque ímmortales quaeso, dum vivas uti omnes tui símiles hospites habeas tibi.

Labr.

Malam fortunam in aedis te adduxi meas.
quid mihi scelesto tibi erat auscultatio, quidve hinc abitio quidve in navem incensio?
20 ubi perdidí etiam plus boni quam mihi fuit.

dum tuis ausculto magnidicis mendaciis.

Charm.

Bonam est quod habeas gratiam merito mihi, qui te ex insulso salsum feci opera mea.

Labr.

Quin tu hinc is a me in maxumam malam crucem?

Charm.

35 Eas. easque res agebam commodum.

Labr.

Eheu, quis vivit me mortalis miserior?

Charm.

Ego multo tanto miserior quam tu, Labrax.

Labr.

Qui?

Ch.

Quia ego indignus sum, tu dignus qui sies.

Labr.

O scirpe, scirpe, laudo fortunas tuas,
40 qui semper servas gloriam aritudinis.

Charm.

Equidem me ad velitationem exerceo, nam omnia corusca prae temore fabulor.

Labr.

Edepol, Neptune, es balineator frigidus:
cum vestimentis postquam aps té abii, algeo.

Charm.

45 Ne thermipolium quidem ullum ínstruit, ita salsam praehibet potionem et frigidam.

Labr.

Vt fortunati sunt fabri ferrarii, qui apud carbones adsident: semper calent.

Charm.

Vtinam fortuna nunc anetina úterer,
50 ut quom exiissem éx aqua, arerem tamen.

Labr.

Charm.

Quapropter?

Labr.

Quia pol clare crepito dentibus.

Charm.

Iure optumo me élavisse árbitor.

L.

Qui?

Ch.

Qui una auderem tecum in navem ascendere,

55 qui a fundamento mi usque movisti mare.

Labr.

Tibi auscultavi, tu promittebas mihi illi esse quaestum maximum meretricibus, ibi me conruere posse aiebas ditias.

Charm.

Iam postulabas te, impurata belua,

60 totam Siciliam devoraturum insulam?

Labr.

Quaenam ballaena meum voravit vidulum, aurum atque argentum ubi omne compactum fuit?

Charm.

Eadem illa, credo, quae meum marsuppium, quod plenum argenti fuit in sacciperio.

Labr.

65 Eheu, redactus sum usque ad unam hanc tuniculam et ad hoc misellum pallium. perii oppido.

Charm.

Vel consociare mihi quidem tecum licet:

aequas habemus partes.

Labr.

Saltem si mihi mulierculae essent salvae, spes aliquae forent.

70 nunc si me adulescens Plesidippus viderit, quo ab arrabonem pro Palaestra acceperam,
iam is exhibebit hic mihi negotium.

Charm.

Quid, stulte, ploras? tibi quidem edepol copias, dum lingua vivet, qui rem solvas omnibus.

Sceparnio

Quid illuc, opsecro, negotist quod duae mulierculae hic in fano Veneris signum flentes amplexae tenent, nescio quem metuentes miserae? nocte hac aiunt proxuma se iactatas, atque eiectas hodie esse aiunt e mari.

Labr.

5 Opsecro hercle, adulescens, ubi istaec sunt quas memoras mulieres?

Scep.

Hic in fano Veneris.

Labr.

Scep.

Totidem quot ego et tu sumus.

Labr.

Nempe meae?

Scep.

Nempe nescio istuc.

Labr.

Qua sunt facie?

Scep.

Scitula.

vel ego amare utramvis possum, si probe adpotus siem.

Labr.

Nempe puellae?

Scep.

Nempe moléstus es. i vise, si lubet.

Labr.

10 Meas oportet intus esse hic mulieres, mi Charmides.

Charm.

Iuppiter te perdat, et si sunt, et si non sunt tamen.

Labr.

Intro rumpam iam huc in Veneris fanum. —

Charm.

In barathrum mavelim.

opsecro, hospes, da mihi aliquid ubi condormiscam loci.

Scep.

Istic ubi vis condormisce; nemo prohibet, publicum est.

Charm.

15 At vides me ornatus ut sim vestimentis uvidis:
recipe me in tectum, da mihi vestimenti aliquid aridi, dum arescunt mea; ín aliquo tibi gratiam referam loco.

Scep.

Tegillum eccillud, mihi unum id aret; id si vis, dabo:
eodem amictus, eodem tectus esse soleo, si pluit.

20 tu istaec mihi dato: exarescent faxo.

Charm.

Eho an te paenitet,

in mari quod elavi, ni híc in terra iterum eluam?

Scep.

Eluas tu an exunguare, ciccum non interduim.

tibi ego numquam quicquam credam, nisi si accepto pignore.

tu vel suda vel peri algu, vel tu aegrota vel vale.

25 barbarum hospitem mi in aedis nil moror. sat litiumst. —

Charm.

Iamne abis? venalis illic ductitavit, quisquis est;

non est misericors. sed quid ego hic asto infelix uvidus?

quin abeo huc in Veneris fanum, ut edormiscam hanc crapulam, quam potavi praeter animi quam libuit sententiam?

30 quasi vinis Graecis Neptunus nobis suffudit mare, itaque alvom prodi speravit nobis salsis poculis;

quid opust verbis? si invitare nos paulisper pergeret, ibidem obdormissemus: nunc vix vivos amisit domum.

nunc lenonem quid agat intus visam, convivam meum. —

ACT III.

Daemones

Miris modis di ludos faciunt hominibus:
mirisque exemplis somnia in somnis danunt ne dormientis quidem sinunt quiescere.
velut ego hac nocte quae praecessit proxima 5 mirum atque inscitum somniavi somnium.
ad hirundinum nidum visa est simia ascensionem ut faceret admolirier

...

neque eas eripere quibat inde. postibi 10 videtur ad me simia adgredirier, rogare scalas ut darem utendas sibi.
ego ad hoc exemplum simiae respondeo,

...

natas ex Philomela † atque ex Progne esse hirundines.
15 ago cum illa, ne quid noceat meis popularibus.
atque illa ánimo iam fieri ferocior;
videtur ultro mihi malum minitarier.
in ius vocat med. ibi ego nescio quo modo iratus videor mediam arripere simiam;
20 concludo in vincla bestiam nequissimam.
nunc quam ad rem dicam hoc attinere somnium, numquam hodie quivi ad coniecturam evadere.
sed quid hic in Veneris fano meae viciniae clamoris oritur? animus miratur meus.

Trachalio

Pró Cyrenenses populares, vostram ego imploro fidem, agricolae, accolae propinqui qui estis his regionibus, ferite opem inopiae atque exemplum pessimum pessum date.
vindicate, ne impiorum potior sit pollentia

5 quam innocentum, qui se scelere fieri nolunt nobiles.
statuite exemplum impudenti, date pudori praemium, facite hic lege potius liceat quam vi victo vivere.
currite huc in Veneris fanum, vostram iterum imploro fidem, qui prope hic adestis quique auditis clamorem meum, 10 ferte suppetias qui Veneri Veneriaeque antistitae more antiquo in custodelam suam commiserunt caput, praetorquete iniuriae prius collum quam ad vos pervenat.

Da.

Quid istuc est negoti?

Tr.

Per ego haec genua te optestor, senex, quisquis es —

Daem.

Quin tu ergo omitte genua et quid sit mi expedi
15 quod tumultues.

Trach.

Teque oro et quaeso, si speras tibi hoc anno multum futurum sirpe et laserpicium eamque eventuram exagogam Capuam salvam et sospitem, atque ab lippitudine usque siccitas ut sit tibi,

Daem.

Sanun es?

Trach.

Seu tibi confidis fore multam magударim
20 ut te ne pigeat dare operam mihi quod te orabo, senex.

Daem.

At ego te per crura et talos tergumque obtestor tuum, ut, tibi ulmeam ni deesse speres virgidemiam et tibi eventuram hoc anno úberem messem mali, ut mi istuc dicas negoti quid sit, quod tumultues.

Trach.

25 Qui lubet maledicere? equidem tibi bona optavi omnia.

Daem.

Bene equidem tibi dico, qui te digna ut eveniant precor.

Tr.

Obsecro, hoc praevortere ergo.

Da.

Quid negotist?

Tr.

Mulieres

duae innocentes intus hic sunt, tui indigentes auxili, quibus advorsum ius legesque ínsignite iniuria hic

30 facta est fitque in Veneris fano; tum sacerdos Veneria indigne adflctatur.

Daem.

Quis homo est tanta confidentia, qui sacerdotem violare áudet? sed eae mulieres quae sunt? aut quid is iniqui fit?

Trach.

Si das operam, eloquar.

Veneris signum sunt amplexae. nunc homo audacissimus

35 eas deripere volt. eas ámbas esse oportet liberas.

Daem.

Quis istic est qui deos tam parvi pendit? paucis expedi.

Trach.

Fraudis sceleris parricidi periuri plenissimus, legirupa impudens impurus inverecundissimus, uno verbo absolvam, lenost: quid illum porro praedicem?

Daem.

40 Edepol infortunio hominem praedicas donabilem.

Trach.

Qui sacerdoti scelestus faucis interpreterit.

Daem.

At malo cum magno suo fecit hercle. ite istinc foras,
Turbalio, Sparax. ubi estis?

Trach.

I obsecro intro, subveni illis.

Daem.

Iterum haud imperabo. sequimini hac.

Trach.

Age nunciam,

45 iube oculos elidere, itidem ut sepiis faciunt coqui.

Daem.

Proripite hominem pedibus huc itidem quasi occisam suam. —

Trach.

Audio tumultum. opinor, leno pugnīs pectitur.
nimis velim improbissimo homini malas edentaverint.
sed eccas ipsae huc egrediuntur timidae e fano mulieres.

Ah, désine, nímis inepta es.

Pal.

20 Desíste dictis nūnciam miserám me consolári;
nisi quid re praesidium apparas, Trachalio, acta haec res est.

Amp.

Certumst moriri quam hunc pati saevire lenonem in me.
sed muliebri animo sum tamen: miserae quom venit in mentem mihi mortis, metus membra occupat. edepol ... hunc acerbum.

T.

25 Bonum animum habete.

P.

Nam, obsecro, unde ánimus mi invenitur?

Trach.

Ne, inquam, timete; adsidite hic in ara.

Amp.

Quid istaec ara
prodesse nobis plus potest quam signum in fano hic intus
Veneris, quod amplexae modo, unde abreptae per vim miserae?

Trach.

Sedete hic modo, ego hinc vós tamen tutabor. aram habete hanc 30 vobis pro castris, moenia hinc égo vos defensabo; praesidio Veneris malitiae lenonis contra incedam.

Pal.

Tibi auscultamus et, Venús alma, ambae te obsecramus, aram amplexantes hanc tuam lacrumantes, genibus nixae,
in custodelam nos tuam ut recipias et tutere;
35 illos scelestos, qui tuom fecerunt fanum parvi, fac ut ulciscare nosque ut hanc tua páce aram obsidere patiare: elautae ambae sumus opera Neptuni noctu, ne invisās habeas neve idcirco nobis vitio vortas, si quippiamst, minus quód bene esse lautum tu arbitrare.

Trach.

40 Venus, aequom has petere intellego: decet abs te id impetrari;
ignoscere his te convenit: metus has id ut fáciant subigit.
te ex concha natam esse autumant, cave tu hárum conchas spernas.
sed optume eccum exit senex, patronus mihique et vobis.

Daemones

Éxi e fano, natum quantum est hominum sacrilegissime.
vos in aram abite sessum. sed ubi sunt?

Trach.

Huc respice.

Daem.

Optume, istuc volueramus. iube modo accedat prope.
tun legirupionem hic nobis cum dis facere postulas?
5 pugnum in os impinge.

Labr.

Iniqua haec patior cum pretio tuo.

Daem.

At etiam minitatur audax?

Labr.

Ius meum ereptum est mihi,
meas mihi ancillas invito me eripis.

Trach.

Cedo iudicem

de senatu Cyrenensi quemvis opulentum virum, si tuas ésse oportet nive eas ésse oportet liberas 10 nive in carcerem compingi te est aequom aetatemque ibi te usque habitare, donec totum carcerem contriveris.

Labr.

Non hodie isti rei auspicavi, ut cum furcifero fabuler.
té ego appello.

Daem.

Cum istoc primum, qui te novit, disputa.

Labr.

Tecum ago.

Trach.

At qui mecum agendumst. suntne illae ancillae tuae?

Labr.

¹⁵ Sunt.

Trach.

Agedum ergo, tange utramvis digitulo minimo modo.

L.

Quid si attigero?

T.

Extemplo hercle ego te follem pugilatorium faciam et pendentem incursabo pugnīs, periurissime.

Labr.

Mihi non liceat meas ancillas Veneris de ara abducere?

Daem.

Non licet: est lex apud nos —

Labr.

Mihi cum vestris legibus

²⁰ nil quicquamst commercii. equidem istas iam ambas educam foras.

tu, senex, si istas amas, huc arido argentost opus;

si autem Veneri complacuerunt, habeat, si argentum dabit.

Daem.

Det tibi argentum? nunc adeo meam ut scias sententiam, occipito modo illís adferre vim ioculo pausillulum, 25 ita ego te hinc ornatum amittam, tu ipsus te ut non noveris.
vos adeo, ubi ego innuero vobis, ni ei caput exoculassitis, quasi murteta iunci, item ego vos virgis circumvinciam.

La.

Ví agis mecum.

Tr.

Etiam vim †proportas, flagiti flagrantia?

Labr.

Tun, trifurcifer, mihi audes inclementer dicere?

Trach.

30 Fateor, ego trifurcifer sum, tu es homo adprime probus:
numqui minus hasce esse oportet liberas?

Labr.

Quid, liberas?

Trach.

Atque eras tuas quidem hercle, atque ex germana Graecia;
nam altera haec est nata Athenis ingenuis parentibus.

Daem.

Quid ego ex te audio?

Trach.

Hanc Athenis esse natam liberam.

Da.

35 Mea popularis, obsecro, haec est?

Tr.

Non tu Cyrenensis es?

Daem.

Immo Athenis natus altusque educatusque Atticis.

Trach.

Opsecro, defende cives tuas, senex.

Daem.

O filia mea, quom hanc video, mearum me absens miseriarum communes;

trima quae periit mihi, iam tanta esset, si vivit, scio.

Labr.

40 Argentum ego pro istisce ambabus cuiae erant domino dedi;
quid mea réfert, haec Athenis natae án Thebis sient, dum mihi recte servitutem serviant?

Trach.

Itane, impudens?

tune hic, feles virginalis, liberos parentibus sublectos habebis atque indigno quaestu conteres?

45 nam húic alterae quae patria sit profecto nescio, nisi scio probiorem hanc esse, quam te, impuratissime.

La.

†Tuae istae sunt.

Tr.

Contende ergo, uter sit tergo — verior:

ni offerumentas habebis pluris in tergo tuo, quam ulla navis longa clavos, tum ego ero mendacissimus:

50 postea aspicio meum, quando ego tuom inspectavero:

ní erit tam sincerum, ut quivis dicat ampullarius optimum esse operi faciundo corium et sincerissimum, quid causae est quin virgis te usque ad saturitatem sauciem?

quid illas spectas? quas si attigeris, oculos eripiam tibi.

Labr.

55 At qui, quia votas, utramque iam mecum abducam simul.

Daem.

Quid facies?

Labr.

Volcanum adducam, is Venerist adversarius.

Trach.

Quo illic it?

Labr.

Heus, ecquis hic est? heus.

Daem.

Si attigeris ostium,
iam hercle tibi messis in ore fiet mergis pugneis.

Lorarivs

Nullum habemus ignem, ficis victitamus aridis.

Daem.

60 Ego dabo ignem, siquidem in capite tuo conflandi copias.

Labr.

Ibo hercle aliquo quaeritatum ígnem.

Daem.

Quid quom inveneris?

La.

Ignem magnum hic faciam.

Da.

Quin † inhumanum exuras tibi?

Labr.

Immo hasce ambas hic in ara ut vivas comburam, id volo.

Daem.

Iam hercle ego te barba continuo arripiam, in ignem coniciam 65 teque ambustulatum obiciam magnis avibus pabulum.
quom coniecturam egomet mecum facio, haec illast simia, quae has hirundines ex nido volt eripere ingratiis, quod ego in somnis somniavi.

Trach.

Scin quid tecum oro, senex?
ut illas serves, vim defendas, dúm ego erum adduco meum.

D.

70 Quaere erum atque adduce.

T.

At hic ne —

D.

Maximo malo suo,
si attigerit sive ocepssit.

Trach.

Cura.

Daem.

Curatumst, abi.

Trach.

Hunc quoque adserva ipsum, ne quo abitat; nam promisimus carnufici aut talentum magnum aút hunc hodie sistere.

Daem.

Abi modo, ego dum hoc curabo recte.

Trach.

Iam ego revenero.

Daem.

Vtrum tu, leno, cum malo lubentius quiescis an sic sine malo, si copias?

Labr.

Ego quae tu loquere flocci non facio, senex.
meas quidem te invito et Venere et summo Iove
5 de ara capillo iam deripiam.

Daem.

Tange dum.

Labr.

Tangam hercle vero.

Daem.

Agedum ergo, accede huc modo.

Labr.

Iube dúm recedere istos ambo illuc modo.

Daem.

Immo ad te accedent.

Labr.

Non hercle equidem censeo.

Daem.

Quid ages, si accedent propius?

Labr.

Ego recessero.

10 verum, senex, si te umquam in urbe offendero, numquam hercle quisquam me lenonem dixerit,
si te non ludos pessimos dimisero.

Daem.

Facito istuc quod minitare; sed nunc interim, si illas attigeris, dabitur tibi magnum malum.

Labr.

15 Quam magnum vero?

Daem.

Quantum lenoni sat est.

Labr.

Minacias ego flocci non faciam tuas, equidem has te invito iam ambas rapiam.

Daem.

Tange dum.

Labr.

Tangam hercle vero.

Daem.

Tanges, at scin quo modo?
i dum, Turbalio, curriculo, adfero domo 20 duas clavas.

Labr.

Clavas?

Daem.

Sed probas. propera cito.
ego te hodie faxo recte acceptum, ut dignus es.

Labr.

Eheu, scelestus galeam in navi perdidici;
nunc mi opportuna hic esset, salva si foret.
licet saltem istas mi appellare?

Daem.

Non licet.

25 ehem, optime edepol eccum clavator ádvenit.

Labr.

Illud quidem edepol tinnimentum est auribus.

Daem.

Age accipe illinc alteram clavam, Sparax.

age, alter istinc, alter hinc adsistite.

adsistite ambo. sic. audite nunciam:

30 si hercle illic illas hodie digito tetigerit invitas, ni istunc istis invitassitis usque adeo donec qua domum abeat nesciat, periistis ambo. si appellabit quempiam, vos respondetote istinc istarum vicem;

35 sin ipse abire hinc volet, quantum potest extemplo amplexitote crura fustibus.

Labr.

Etiam me abire hinc non sinent?

Daem.

Dixi satis.

et ubi ille servos cúm ero huc advenerit, qui erum accersivit, itote extemplo domum.

40 curate haec sultis magna diligentia. —

Labr.

Heu hercle, ne istic fana mutantur cito:

iam hoc Herculi est, Veneris fanum quod fuit, ita duo destituit signa hic cum clavis senex.

non hercle quo hinc nunc gentium aufugiam scio,

45 ita nunc mi utrumque saevit, et terra et mare.

Palaestra.

Lor.

Quid vis?

Labr.

Apage, controversia est,
haec quidem Palaestra, quae respondit, non mea est.
heus, Ampelisca.

Lor. alter

Cave sis infortunio.

Labr.

Vltro te. signa ut homines satis recte monent.
50 sed vobis dico, heús vos, num molestiaest, me adire ad illas propius?

Lor.

Nil nobis quidem.

Labr.

Numquid molestum mihi erit?

Lor.

Nil, si caveris.

Labr.

Quid est quod caveam?

Lor.

Em, a crasso infortunio.

Labr.

Quaeso hercle, abire ut liceat.

Lor.

Abeas, si velis.

Labr.

55 Bene hercle factum. habeo vobis gratiam.
non accedam potius.

Lor.

Illic astato ilico.

Labr.

Edepol proveni nequiter multis modis.
certumst hasce hodie usque obsidione vincere.

Plesidippvs

Meamne ille amicam leno vi, violentia de ara deripere Veneris voluit?

Trachalio

Admodum.

Ples.

Quin occidisti extemplo?

Trach.

Gladius non erat.

Pl.

Caperes aut fustem aut lapidem.

Tr.

Quid? ego quasi canem

5 hominem insectarer lapidibus nequissimum?

Labr.

Nunc pol ego perii, Plesidippus eccum adest.
converret iam hic me totum cum pulvisculo.

Ples.

Etiamne in ara tunc sedebant mulieres, quom ad me profectu's ire?

Trach.

Ibidem nunc sedent.

Ples.

10 Quis illás nunc illic servat?

Trach.

Nescio quis senex,
vicinus Veneris; is dedit operam optumam.
is nunc cum servis servat. ego mandaveram.

Ples.

Duc me ad lenonem recta. ubi illic est homo?

Labr.

Salve.

Ples.

Salutem nil moror. opta ocus:
15 rapi te obtorto collo mavis an trahi?
utrum vis opta, dum licet.

Labr.

Neutrum volo.

Ples.

Abi sáne ad litus curriculo, Trachalio, iube illós in urbem ire obviam ad portum mihi, quos mecum duxi, hunc qui ad carnificem traderent.
20 post huc redito atque agitato hic custodiam.
ego hunc scelestum ín ius rapiam éxulem.
age, ambula in ius.

Labr.

Quid ego deliqui?

Ples.

Rogas,
quin arrabonem a me accepisti ob mulierem et eam hinc abduxi?

Labr.

Non avexi.

Ples.

Cur negas?

Labr.

25 Quia pol provexi: avehere non quivi miser.
equidem tibi me dixeram praesto fore apud Véneris fanum: numquid muto? sumne ibi?

Ples.

In iure causam dicito, hic verbum sat est:
sequere.

Labr.

Obsecro te, subveni mi, Charmides.
30 rapior optorto collo.

Charmides

Quis me nominat?

Labr.

Viden me ut rapior?

Charm.

Video, atque inspecto lubens.

Labr.

Non subvenire mi audes?

Charm.

Quis homo te rapit?

Labr.

Adulescens Plesidippus.

Charm.

Vt nactus, habe.

bono animo meliust te in nervom conrepere.
35 tibi optigit quod plurimi exoptant sibi.

Labr.

Quid id est?

Charm.

Vt id quod quaerant inveniant sibi.

Labr.

Sequere, obsecro, me.

Charm.

Pariter suades qualis es:

tu in nervom rapere, eo me óbsecras ut te sequar.
etiam retentas?

Labr.

Perii.

Ples.

Verum sit velim.

40 tu, mea Palaestra et Ampelisca, ibidem ilico manete, dúm ego huc redeo.

Lor.

Equidem suadeo,

ut ad nos abeant potius, dum recipis.

Ples.

Placet,

bene facitis.

Labr.

Fures mi estis.

Lor.

Quid, fures? rape.

Labr.

Oro obsecro, Palaestra.

Ples.

Sequere, carnufex.

Labr.

45 Hospes —

Charm.

Non sum hospes, repudio hospitium tuom.

Labr.

Sicine me spernis?

Charm.

Sic ago: semel bibo.

Labr.

Di te infelicient. —

Charm.

Isti capiti dicito.

credo alium in aliam beluam hominem vortier:

illic ín columbum, credo, leno vortitur,

50 nam in collumbari collus haud multo post erit;

in nervom ille hodie nidamenta congeret.

verum tamen ibo, ei advocatus ut siem, si qui mea opera citius addici potest. —

Grip.
Quid fáctumst?

Tr.
Vídulum istum cúiust novi ego hóminem iam pridem.

Gr.
Quid est?

Trach.
Et quo pacto periit.

Grip.
At ego quo pacto inventust scio et qui invenit hominem novi et dominus qui nunc est scio.
nihilo pol pluris tua hoc quam quanti illud refert mea:
35 ego illum novi cuius nunc est, tu illum cuius antehac fuit.
hunc homo feret a me nemo, ne tu te speres potis.

Trach.
Non ferat si dominus veniat?

Grip.
Dominus huic, ne frustra sis, nisi ego nemo natust, hunc qui cepi in venatu meo.

Trach.
Itane vero?

Grip.
Ecquem esse dices in mari piscem meum?
40 quos cum capio, siquidem cepi, mei sunt; habeo pro meis, nec manu adseruntur neque illinc partem quisquam postulat.
in foro palam omnes vendo pro meis venalibus.

mare quidem commune certost omnibus.

Trach.

Adsentio:

qui minus hunc communem quaeso mi esse oportet vidulum?

45 in mari inventust communi.

Grip.

Esne impudenter impudens?

nam si istuc ius sit quod memoras, piscatores perierint.

quippe quom extemplo in macellum pisces prolati sient, nemo emat, suam quisque partem piscium poscant sibi, dicant, in mari communi captos.

Trach.

Quid ais, impudens?

50 ausu's etiam comparare vidulum cum piscibus?

eadem tandem res videtur?

Grip.

In manu non est mea:

ubi demisi rete atque hamum, quidquid haesit extraho.

meum quod rete atque hami nanci sunt, meum potissimumst.

Tr.

Immo hercle haud est, siquidem quod vas excepisti.

Gr.

Philosophe.

Trach.

55 Sed tu enumquam piscatorem vidisti, venefice, vidulum piscem cepisse aut protulisse ullum in forum?

non enim tu híc quidem occupabis omnis quaestus quos voles:

et vitorem et piscatorem te esse, impure, postulas.

vel te mihi monstrare oportet piscis qui sit vidulus,

60 vel quod in mari non natum est neque habet squamas ne feras.

Gr.

Quid, tu numquam audisti esse antehac vidulum piscem?

Tr.

Scelus,
nullus est.

Grip.

Immo est profecto; ego, qui sum piscator, scio;
verum raro capitur, nullus minus saepe ad terram venit.

Trach.

Nil agis, dare verba speras mihi te posse, furcifer.

Gr.

65 Quo colore est, hoc colore capiuntur pauxilluli;
sunt alii puniceo corio, magni item; atque atri.

Trach.

Scio.

tu hercle, opino, in vidulum te bis convertes, nisi caves:
fiet tibi puniceum corium, postea atrum denuo.

Grip.

Quod scelus hodie hoc inveni.

Trach.

Verba facimus, it dies.

70 vide sis, cuius arbitrato nos vis facere.

Grip.

Viduli

arbitratu. ... ita enim vero.

Trach.

Stultus es.

Grip.

Salve, Thales.

Trach.

Tu istunc hodie non feres, nisi das sequestrum aut arbitrum, quouiis haec res arbitrato fiat.

Grip.

Quaeso, sanus es?

Trach.

Elleborosus sum.

Grip.

At ego cerritus, hunc non amittam tamen.

Trach.

75 Verbum etiam adde unum, iam in cerebro colaphos apstrudam tuo;
iam ego te hic, itidem quasi peniculus novos exurgeri solet, ni hunc amittis, exurgebo quidquid umoris tibist.

Grip.

Tange: adfligam ad terram te itidem ut piscem soleo polypum.
vis pugnare?

Trach.

Quid opust? quin tu potius praedam divide.

Grip.

80 Hinc tu nisi malum frunisci nil potes, ne postules.
abeo ego hinc.

Tr.

At ego hinc offlectam navem, ne quo abeas. mane.

Grip.

Si tu proreta isti navi es, ego gubernator ero.
mitte rudentem, sceleste.

Trach.

Mittam: omitte vidulum.

Grip.

Numquam hercle hinc hodie ramenta fies fortunator.

Trach.

85 Non probare pernegando mihi potes, nisi pars datur aut ad arbitrum reditur aut sequestro ponitur.

Grip.

Quemne ego excepi in mari —

Trach.

At ego ínspectavi e litore.

Grip.

Mea opera, labore et rete et horia?

Trach.

Numqui minus,
si veniat nunc dominus cuius, ego qui ínspectavi procul
90 te hunc habere, fur sum quam tu?

Grip.

Nihilo.

Trach.

Mane, mastigia:
quo argumento socius non sum, et fur sum? fac dum ex te sciam.

Grip.

Nescio, neque ego istas vestras leges urbanas scio, nisi quia hunc meum esse dico.

Trach.

Ét ego item esse aio meum.

Grip.

Mane, iam repperi quo pacto nec fur nec socius sies.

Trach.

95 Quo pacto?

Grip.

Sine me hinc abire, tú abi tacitus tuam viam;
nec tu me cuiquam indicassis neque ego tibi quicquam dabo;
tu taceto, ego mussitabo: hoc optimum atque aequissimum est.

Trach.

Ecquid condicionis audes ferre?

Grip.

Iam dudum fero:
ut abeas, rudentem amittas, mihi molestus ne sies.

Tr.

100 Mane, dum refero condicionem.

Gr.

Te, opsecro hercle, aufer modo.

Trach.

Ecquem in his locis novisti?

Grip.

Oportet vicinos meos.

Tr.

Vbi tu hic habitas?

Gr.

Porro illic longe usque in campis ultimis.

Trach.

Vin qui in hac villa habitat, eius arbitrato fieri?

Grip.

Paulisper remitte restem, dum concedo et consulo.

Trach.

105 Fiat.

Grip.

Euge, salva res est, praeda haec perpetua est mea;
ad meum erum arbitrum vocat me hic intra praeseptis meas:
numquam hercle hodie abiudicabit ab suo triobolum.
ne iste haud scit quam condicionem tetulerit. íbo ad arbitrum.

Tr.

Quid igitur?

Gr.

Quamquam istuc esse ius meum certo scio,
110 fiat istuc potius, quam nunc pugnem tecum.

Trach.

Nunc places.

Grip.

Quamquam ad ignotum arbitrum me appellis, si adhibebit fidem, etsist ignotus, notus: si non, notus ignotissimust.

Daemones

Serio edepol, quamquam vobis volo quae voltis, mulieres, metuo, propter vos ne uxor mea med extrudat aedibus, quae me paelices adduxe dicet ante oculos suos.

ite, inquam, domum ambo nunciam ex praesidio praesides.

Grip.

O ere, salve.

Daem.

Salve, Gripe. quid fit?

Trach.

Túosne hic servos est?

Grip.

Haud pudet.

Da.

Quid nunc vis tibi?

Tr.

Nempe hic tuos est?

Da.

Meus est.

Tr.

Istuc optime, quando tuost.

Da.

Quid negotist?

Tr.

Vir scelestus illic est.

Da.

Quid fecit tibi

¹⁵ vir scelestus?

Trach.

Homini ego isti talos subfringi volo.

Daem.

Quid est? qua de re litigatis nunc inter vos?

Trach.

Eloquar.

Gr.

Immo ego eloquar.

Tr.

Ego, opinor, rem facesso.

Gr.

Daem.

Gripe, animum advorte ac tace.

Gr.

Vtin istic prius dicat?

Da.

Audi. loquere tu.

Gr.

Alienon prius
20 quam tuo dábis orationem?

Trach.

Vt nequitur comprimi.
ita ut occepi dicere, illum quem dudum e fano foras lenonem extrusisti, hic eius vidulum eccillum tenet.

Gr.

Non habeo.

Tr.

Negas quod oculis video?

Gr.

At ne videas velim.
habeo, non habeo: quid tu me curas quid rerum geram?

Trach.

25 Quo modó habeas, id refert, iurene anne iniuria.

Grip.

Ni istum cepi, nulla causa est quin me condones cruci;
si in mari reti prehendi, qui tuom pótiust quam meum?

Tr.

Verba dat. hoc modo res gesta est ut ego dico.

Gr.

Quid tu ais?

Trach.

Quod primarius vir dicat: comprime hunc sis, si tuost.

Grip.

30 Quid? tu idem mihi vis fieri quod erus consuevit tibi? si ille te comprimere solitust, hic noster nos non solet.

Daem.

Verbo illo modo ille vicit. quid nunc tu vis? dic mihi.

Trach.

Equidem ego neque partem posco mi istinc de istoc vidulo neque meum esse hodie umquam dixi; séd isti inest cistellula 35 huius mulieris, quam dudum dixi fuisse liberam.

Daem.

Nempe tu hanc dícis quam esse aiebas dudum popularem meam?

Trach.

Admodum; et ea quae olim parva gestavit crepundia istic ín ista cistula insunt, quae isti inest in vidulo.
hoc neque isti usust, et illi miserae suppetias feret, 40 si id dederit, qui suos parentis quaerat.

Daem.

Faciam ut det. tace.

Grip.

Nil hercle ego sum isti daturus.

Trach.

Nil peto nisi cistulam et crepundia.

Grip.

Quid si ea sunt aurea?

Trach.

Quid istuc tua?
aurum auro expendetur, argentum argento exaequabitur.

Grip.

Fac sis aurum ut videam, post ego faciam ut videas cistulam.

Daem.

45 Cave malo ac tace tú. tu perge ut occepisti dicere.

Trach.

Vnum te obsecro, ut ted huius commiserescat mulieris, si quidem hic lenonis eiust vidulus, quem suspicor;
hic, nisi de opinione, certum nil dico tibi.

Grip.

Viden? scelestus aucupatur.

Trach.

Sine me ut ocepi loqui.
50 si scelesti illius est hic, cuius dico, vidulus,
haec poterunt novisse: ostendere his iube.

Grip.

Ain? ostendere?

Daem.

Haud iniquom dicit, Gripe, ut ostendatur vidulus.

G.

Immo hercle insignite inique.

D.

Quidum?

G.

Quia, si ostendero,
continuo hunc novisse dicent scilicet.

Trach.

Scelerum caput,
55 ut tute es, item omnis censes esse, periuri caput?

Grip.

Omnia istaéc ego facile patior, dúm hic hinc a me sentiat.

Trach.

At qui nunc abs te stat, verum hinc ... ibi testimonium.

Daem.

Gripe, advorte animum. tu paucis expedi, quid postulas.

Trach.

Dixi equidem, sed si parum intellexti, dicam denuo.
60 hasce ambas, ut dudum dixi, ita esse oportet liberas:
haec Athenis parva fúit virgo surpta.

Grip.

Dic mihi,
quid id ad vidulum pertinet, servae sint istae an fuerint liberae?

Trach.

Omnia iterum vis memorari, scelus, ut defiat dies.

Daem.

Apstine maledictis et mihi quod rogavi dilue.

Trach.

65 Cistellam isti inesse oportet caudeam ín isto vidulo, ubi sunt signa qui parentes noscere haec possit suos, quibuscum periit parva Athenis, sicuti dixi prius.

Grip.

Iuppiter te dique perdant. quid ais, vir venefice?
quid, istae mutae sunt, quae pro se fabulari non queant?

Trach.

70 Eo tacent, quia tacitast melior mulier semper quam loquens.

Grip.

Tum pol tu pro portione nec vir nec mulier mihi es.

T.

Quidum?

G.

Quia enim neque loquens es neque tacens umquam bonus.
quaeso, enumquam hodie licebit mihi loqui?

Daem.

Si praeterhac unum verbum faxis hodie, ego tibi comminuam caput.

Trach.

75 Vt id occepi diceré, senex, eam te quaeso cistulam ut iubeas hunc reddere illis; ob eam si quid postulat sibi mercedis, dabitur: aliud quidquid ibi est habeat sibi.

Grip.

Nunc demum istuc dicis, quoniam ius meum esse intellegis:
dudum dimidiam petebas partem.

Trach.

Immo etiam nunc peto.

Grip.

80 Vidi petere miluom, etiam cum nihil auferret tamen.

Daem.

Non ego te comprimere possum sine malo?

Grip.

Si istic tacet,

ego tacebo; si iste loquitur, sine me pro parte loqui.

Daem.

Cedo modó mihi vidulum istum, Gripe.

Grip.

Concedam tibi,

ac, si istorum nil sit, ut mihi reddas.

Daem.

Reddetur.

Grip.

Tene.

Daem.

85 Audi nunciam, Palaestra atque Ampelisca, hoc quod loquor.
estne hic vidulus úbi cistellam tuam inesse aiebas?

Pal.

Is est.

Grip.

Perii hercle ego miser, uti, prius quam plane aspexit, ilico eum esse dixit.

Pal.

Faciam ego hanc rem ex procliva planam tibi.

cistellam isti inesse oportet caudeam ín isto vidulo.

90 ibi ego dicam quidquid inerit nominatim: tu mihi nullum ostenderis; si falsa dicam, frustra dixero, vos tamen istaec, quidquid istic inerit, vobis habebitis;

sed si erunt véra, tum opsecro te, ut mea mi reddantur.

Daem.

Placet.

ius merum oras meo quidem animo.

Grip.

Át meo hercle iniuriam.

95 quid si ista aut superstitiosa aut hariolast atque omnia, quidquid insit, vera dicet? anne habebit hariola?

Daem.

Non feret, nisi vera dicet: nequiquam hariolabitur.

solve vidulum ergo, ut quid sit verum quam primum sciam.

Grip.

Hoc habet, solutust.

Daem.

Aperi. video cistellam. haecinest?

Pal.

100 Istaec est. o mei parentes, hic vos conclusos gero, huc opesque spesque vestrum cognoscendum condidi.

Grip.

Tum tibi hercle deos iratos esse oportet, quisquis es, quae parentis tám in angustum tuos locum compegeris.

Daem.

Gripe, accede huc; tua res agitur. tu, puella, istinc procul si hercle tantillum peccassis, quod posterius postules te ad verum convorti, nugas, mulier, magnas egeris.

Grip.

Ius bonum oras.

Trach.

Edepol haud te órat, nam tu iniuriu's.

Daem.

Loquere nunciam, puella. Gripe, animum advorte ac tace.

Pal.

110 Sunt crepundia.

Daem.

Ecce video.

Grip.

Perii in primo proelio.

mane, ne ostenderis.

Daem.

Qua facie sunt? responde ex ordine.

Pal.

Grip.

Placide, aut i in malam crucem.

Daem.

Loquere matris nomen hic quid in securicula siet.

Pal.

¹²⁰ Daedalis.

Daem.

Di me servatum cupiunt.

Grip.

At me perditum.

Daem.

Filiam meam esse hanc oportet, Gripe.

Grip.

Sit per me quidem.

qui te di omnes perdant, qui me hodie oculis vidisti tuis, meque adeo scelestum, qui non circumspexi centiens, prius me ne quis inspectaret quam rete extraxi ex aqua.

Pal.

¹²⁵ Post sicilicula argenteola et duae conexae manicae et

Grip.

Quin tu i dírecta, cum sucula et cum porculis.

Pal.

Et bulla aurea est, pater quam dedit mi natali die.

Daem.

Ea est profecto. contineri quin complectar non queo.
filia mea, salve. ego is sum qui te produxi pater, 130 ego sum Daemones, et mater tua eccam hic intus Daedalis.

Pal.

Salve, mi pater insperate.

Daem.

Salve. ut te amplector libens.

Trach.

Volup est cum istuc ex pietate vestra vobis contigit.

Daem.

Cape dum, hunc si potes fer intro vidulum, age, Trachalio.

Trach.

Ecce Gripi scelera. cum istaec res male evenit tibi, 135 Gripe, gratulor.

Daem.

Age eamus, mea gnata, ad matrem tuam, quae ex te poterit argumentis hanc rem magis exquirere, quae te magis tractavit magisque signa pernovit tua. —

Trach.

Eamus intro ómnes, quando óperam promiscam damus. —

P.

Sequere me, Ampelisca. —

A.

Cum te di amant, voluptati est mihi. —

Grip.

140 Sumne ego sceléstus, qui illunc hodie excepi vidulum?
aut cum excepi, qui non alicubi in solo abstrusi loco?
credebam edepol turbulentam praedam eventuram mihi, quia illa mihi tam turbulenta tempestate evenerat.
credo edepol ego illic inesse argenti et auri largiter.
145 quid meliust, quam ut hinc intro abeam et me suspendam clanculum,
saltem tantisper dum abscedat haec a me aegrimonia? —

Daemones

Pro di immortales, quis me est fortunatior, qui ex improvise filiam inveni meam?
satin si cui homini dei esse bene factum volunt, aliquo illud pacto optingit optatum piis?
5 ego hodie neque speravi neque illud credidi:
is improvise filiam inveni tamen;
et eam de genere summo adulescenti dabo ingenuo, Atheniensi et cognato meo.
ego eum adeo arcessi huc ad me quam primum volo, 10 iussique exire huc servom éius, ut ad forum iret; nondum egressum esse eum, id miror tamen.
accedam, opinor, ad fores. quid conspikor?
uxor complexa collo retinet filiam.
nimis paéne inepta atque odiosa eius amatiost.
Aliquando osculando meliust, uxor, pausam fieri;
atque adorna, ut rem divinam faciam, cum intro advenero, Laribus familiaribus, cum auxerunt nostram familiam.
sunt domi agni et porci sacres. sed quid istúm remoramini,
5 mulieres, Trachalionem? atque optime eccum exit foras.

Trachalio

Vbi ubi erit, iam investigabo et mecum ad te adducam simul

Plesidippum.

Daem.

Eloquere ut haec res optigit de filia;
eum roga, ut relinquat alias res et huc veniat.

Trach.

Licet.

Daem.

Dicito daturum meam illi filiam uxorem.

Trach.

Licet.

Daem.

10 Et patrem eius me novisse et mi esse cognatum.

Trach.

Licet.

D.

Sed propera.

T.

Licet.

D.

Iam hic fac sit, cena ut curetur.

T.

Licet.

Daem.

Omnian licet?

Trach.

Licet. sed scin quid est quod te volo?

quod promisisti ut memineris, hodie ut liber sim.

Daem.

Licet.

Trach.

Fac ut exores Plesidippum, ut me manu emittat.

Daem.

Licet.

Trach.

15 Et tua filiá facito oret: facile exorabit.

Daem.

Licet.

Trach.

Atque ut mi Ampelisca nubat, ubi ego sim liber.

Daem.

Licet.

Trach.

Atque ut gratum mi beneficium factis experiar.

Daem.

Licet.

Trach.

Omnian licet?

Daem.

Licet: tibi rursum refero gratiam.

sed propera ire in urbem actutum et recipe te huc rursum.

T.

Licet.

20 iam hic ero. tu interibi adorna ceterum quod opust. —

Daem.

Licet.

Hercules istum infelicet cum sua licentia;

ita meas replevit auris, quidquid memorabam, licet.

Gripvs

Quam mox licet te compellare, Daemones?

Daem.

Quid est negoti, Gripe?

Grip.

De illo vidulo:

si sapias, sapias; habeas quod di dant boni.

Daem.

Aequom videtur tibi, ut ego, alienum quod est,
5 meum esse dicam?

Grip.

Quodne ego inveni in mari?

Daem.

Tanto illi melius optigit qui perdidit;
tuom esse nihilo magis oportet vidulum.

Grip.

Isto tu pauper es, quom nimis sancte pius.

Daem.

O Gripe, Gripe, in aetate hominum plurimae 10 fiunt trasennae, ubi decipiuntur dolis.
atque edepol in eas plerumque esca imponitur:
quam si quis avidus poscit escam avariter, decipitur in trasenna avaritia sua.
ille quí consulte, docte atque astute cavet, 15 diutine uti bene licet partum bene.
mihi istaéc videtur praeda praedatum irier, ut cum maiore dote abeat quam advenerit.
egone ut quod ad me allatum esse alienum sciam, celem? minime istuc faciet noster Daemones.
20 semper cavere hoc sapientis aequissimumst, ne conscii sint ipsi malefici suis.
ego mihi cum † lusi nil moror ullum lucrum.

Grip.

Spectavi ego pridem comicos ad istúnc modum sapienter dicta dicere atque eis plaudier, 25 cum illos sapientis mores monstrabant poplo:
sed cum inde suam quisque ibant divorsi domum, nullus erat illo pacto ut illi iusserant.

Daem.

Abi intro, ne molestus, linguae tempera.
ego tibi daturus nil sum, ne tu frustra sis.

Grip.

30 At ego deos quaeso, ut quidquid ín illo vidulost, si aurum si argentum est, omne id ut fiat cinis. —

Daem.

Illuc est quod nos nequam servis utimur.
nam illic cum † servo si quo congressus foret, et ipsum sese et illum furti adstringeret;
35 dum praedam habere se censeret, interim praeda ipse esset, praeda praedam duceret.
nunc hinc intro ibo et sacrificabo, postibi iubebo nobis cenam continuo coqui. —

Plesidippvs

Íterum mihi istaec omnia itera, mi anime, mi Trachalio, mi liberte, mi patrone potius, immo mi pater.
repperit patrem Palaestra suum atque matrem?

Trachalio

Repperit.

Ples.

Et popularis est?

Trach.

Opino.

Ples.

Et mihi nuptura est?

Trach.

Suspikor.

Ples.

5 Censen hodie despondebit eam mihi, quaéso?

Trach.

Censeo.

Ples.

Quid? patri etiam gratulabor cum illam invenit?

Trach.

Censeo.

P.

Quid matri eius?

T.

Censeo.

P.

Quid ergo censes?

T.

Quod rogas,
censeo.

Ples.

Dic ergo quanti censes?

Trach.

Egone? censeo.

Ples.

Adsum equidem, ne censionem semper facias.

Trach.
Censeo.

P.
10 Quid si curram?

T.
Censeo.

P.
An sic potius placide?

T.
Censeo.

P.
Etiamne eam adveniēns salutem?

T.
Censeo.

Etiam patrem?

T.
Censeo.

P.
Post eius matrem?

T.
Censeo.

P.
Quid postea?
etiamne adveniēns complectar eius patrem?

Trach.
Non censeo.

P.

Quid matrem?

T.

Non censeo.

P.

Quid eampse illam?

T.

Non censeo.

Ples.

15 Perii, dilectum dimisit. nunc non censet, cum volo.

T.

Sanus non es. sequere. —

P.

Duc me, mi patrone, quo libet. —

ACT V.

Labrax

Quis me ést mortalis miserior qui vivat alter hodie, quem ad recuperatores modo damnavit Plesidippus?
abiudicata a me modo est Palaestra. perditus sum.
nam lenones ex Gaudio credo esse procreatos, 5 ita omnés mortales, si quid est mali lenoni, gaudent.
nunc alteram illam quae mea est visam huc in Veneris fanum, saltem ut eam abducam, de bonis quod restat reliquiarum.

Gripvs

Numquam edepol hodie ad vesperum Gripum inspicietis vivom, nisi vidulus mihi redditur.

Labr.

Perii, cum mentionem fieri audio usquam viduli ... quasi palo pectus tundat.

Grip.

Istic scelestus liber est: ego qui in mari prehendi
5 reti atque excepi vidulum, ei dáre negatis quicquam.

Labr.

Pro di immortales, suo mihi hic sermone arrexit aures.

Grip.

Cubitum hercle longis litteris signabo iam usquequaque, si quis perdiderit vidulum cum auro atque argento multo, ad Gripum ut veniat. non feretis istum, ut postulatis.

Labr.

10 Meum hercle illic homo vidulum scit quí habet, ut ego opinor.
adeundus mihi illic est homo. di, quaeso, subvenite.

Grip.

Quid me intro revocas? hoc volo hic ante ostium extergere.

nam hoc quidem pol e robigine, non est e ferro factum, ita quanto magis extergeo, rutilum atque tenuius fit.
15 † nam quidem hoc venenatumst verum: ita in manibus consenescit.

L.
Adulescens, salve.

G.
Di te ament cum inraso capite.

L.
Quid fit?

G.
Verum extergetur.

L.
Vt vales?

G.
Quid tu? num medicus, quaeso, es?

Labr.
Immo edepol una littera plus sum quam medicus.

Grip.
Tum tu
mendicus es?

Labr.
Tetigisti acu.

Grip.
Videtur digna forma.
20 sed quid tibi est?

Labr.

Hac proxima nocte in marí elavi.
confracta est navis, perdidí quidquid erat miser ibi omne.

Grip.
Quid perdidisti?

Labr.
Vidulum cum auro atque argento multo.

Grip.
Ecquid meministi, in vidulo qui periit quid ibi infuerit?

Labr.
Quid refert, qui periit tamen? sine hoc, áliud fabulemur.

Grip.
25 Quid si ego sciam qui invenerit? volo ex te scire signa.

Labr.
Nummi octingenti áurei in marsuppio infuerunt, praeterea centum minaria Philippa ín pasceolo sorsus.

Grip.
Magna hercle praedast, largiter mercedis indipiscar;
di homines respiciunt: bené ego hinc praedatus ibo.
30 profecto húius est vidulus. perge alia tu expedire.

Labr.
Talentum argenti commodum magnum inerat in crumina, praeterea sinus, cantharus, epichysis, gaulus, cyathus.

Grip.
Papae, divitias tu quidé m habuisti luculentas.

Labr.
Miserum istuc verbum et pessimum est, habuisse, et nihil habere.

Grip.

35 Quid dare velis, qui istaec tibi investiget indicetque?
eloquere propere celeriter.

Labr.

Nummos trecentos.

Grip.

Tricas.

L.

Quadringéntos.

G.

Tramas putidas.

L.

Quingentos.

G.

Cassam glandem.

Labr.

Sescentos.

Grip.

Curculiunculos minutos fabulare.

Labr.

Dabo séptingentos.

Grip.

Os calet tibi, nunc id frigefactas.

Labr.

40 Millé dabo nummum.

Grip.

Somnias.

Labr.

Nihil addo.

Grip.

Abi igitur.

Labr.

Audi:

si hercle abiero hinc, hic non ero. vin centum et mille?

Grip.

Dormis.

Labr.

Eloquere quantum postules.

Grip.

Quo nihil invitus addas:

talentum magnum. non potest triobolum hinc abesse.

proin tú vel aias vel neges.

Labr.

Quid istíc? necessum est, video:

45 dabitur talentum.

Grip.

Accede dum huc: Venus haec volo adroget te.

Labr.

Quod tibi libet id mi impera.

Grip.

Tange aram hanc Veneris.

Labr.

Tango.

G.

Per Venerem hanc iurandum est tibi.

L.

Quid iurem?

G.

Quod iubebo.

Labr.

Praei vĕrbis quidvis. íd quod domi est, numquam ulli supplicabo.

G.

Tene aram hanc.

L.

Teneo.

C.

Deiera te mi argentum daturum

50 eodém die, tui viduli ubi sis potitus.

Labr.

Fiat.

Grip.

Venus Cýrenensis, testem te testor mihi, si vidulum illum, quém ego in navi perdidi, cum auro atque argento salvom investigavero isque in potestatem meam pervenerit,
55 tum ego húic Gripo, ínquito, et me tangito —

Labr.

Tum ego húic Gripo (dico, Venus, ut tu audias) talentum argenti magnum continuo dabo.

Grip.

Si quid fraudassis, dic ut te in quaestu tuo
Venus eradicet, caput atque aetatem tuam.

60 tecum hoc habeto tamen, ubi iuraveris.

Labr.

Illaec advorsum si quid peccasso, Venus, veneror te ut omnes miseri lenones sient.

Grip.

Tamen fiet, etsi tu fidem servaveris.
tu hic opperire, iam ego faxo exhibit senex;
65 eum tú continuo vidulum reposcito. —

Labr.

Si maxime mi illum reddiderit vidulum, non ego illi hodie debeo triobolum.
meus arbitratust, lingua quod iuret mea.
sed conticiscam: eccum exit et ducit senem.

Gripvs

Séquere hac.

Daemones

Vbi istic lenost?

Grip.

Heus tu. ém tibi, hic habet vidulum.

Daem.

Habeo et fateor esse apud me, et, si tuos est, habeas tibi.
omnia, ut quídquid infuit, ita salva sistentur tibi.
tene, si tuost.

Labr.

O di immortales, meus est. salve, vidule.

D.

5 Tuosne est?

L.

Rogitas? si quidem hercle Iovis fuit, meus est tamen.

Daem.

Omnia insunt salva; una istinc cistella excepta est modo cum crepundiis, quibuscum hódie filiam inveni meam.

Labr.

Quam?

Daem.

Tua quae fuit Palaestra, ea filia inventast mea.

Labr.

Bene mehercle factum est. cum istaec res tibi ex sententia 10 pulchre evenit, gaudeo.

Daem.

Istuc facile non credo tibi.

Labr.

Immo hercle, ut scias gaudere me, mihi triobolum ob eam ne duis, condono te.

Daem.

Benigne edepol facis.

L.

Immo tu quidem hercle vero.

G.

Heus tu, iám habes vidulum.

L.

Habeo.

G.

Propera.

L.

Quid properabo?

G.

Reddere argentum mihi.

L.

15 Neque edepol tibi do, neque quicquam debeo.

G.

Quae haec factio est?

non debes?

Labr.

Non hercle vero.

Grip.

Non tu iuratus mihi es?

Labr.

Iuratus sum, et nunc iurabo, si quid vóluptati est mihi:
ius iurandum rei servandae, non perdendae conditum est.

Grip.

Cedo sis mihi talentum magnum argenti, periurissime.

Daem.

20 Gripe, quod tu istum talentum poscis?

Grip.

Iuratust mihi dare.

Labr.

Libet iurare. tun meo póntifex peiurio es?

Daem.

Qua pro re argentum promisit hic tibi?

Grip.

Si vidulum
hunc redegissem in potestatem eius, iuratust dare mihi talentum magnum argenti.

Labr.

Cedo quicum habeam iudicem,
25 ni dolo malo instipulatus sis nive etiamdum haud siem quinque et viginti annos natus.

G.

Habe cum hóc.

L.

Aliost opus.

Daem.

Iám ab isto auferre haud potis sim, si istunc condemnavero.
promisistin huic argentum?

Labr.

Fateor.

Daem.

Quod servo meo
promisisti, meum esse oportet, ne tu, leno, postules 30 te hic fide lenonia uti: non potes.

Grip.

Iam te ratu's
nactum hominem quem defraudares? dandum huc argentum est probum:
id ego continuo huic dabo adeo, mé ut hic emittat manu.

Daem.

Quando ergo erga te benignus ego fui atque opera mea
haec tibi sunt servata —

Grip.

Immo hercle mea, ne tu dicas tua.

Daem.

35 (Si sapiēs, tacebis) tum te mihi benigne itidem addecet bene merenti bene referre gratiam.

Labr.

Nempe pró meo
iure oras?

Daem.

Mirum quin tuom ius meo periclo aps te expetam.

Grip.

Salvos sum, leno labascit, libertas portenditur.

Daem.

Vidulum istunc ille invenit, illud mancipium meum est;
40 ego tibi hunc porro servavi cum magna pecunia.

Labr.

Gratiam habeo, et de talento nulla causa est quin feras, quod isti sum iuratus.

Grip.

Heus tu, mihi dato ergo, si sapis.

Daem.

Tacen an non?

Grip.

Tu meam rem simulas agere, tibi mu non hercle istoc me intervortes, si aliam praedam perdidi.

Daem.

45 Vapulabis, verbum si addis istúc unum.

Grip.

Vel hercle énica,
non tacebo umquam alio pacto, nisi talento comprimor.

Labr.

Tibi operam hic quidem dát. tace.

Daem.

Concede hoc tu, leno.

Labr.

Licet.

Grip.

Palam age, nolo ego murmurillum neque susurrum fieri.

Daem.

Dic mihi, quanti íllam emisti tuam alteram mulierculam,
50 Ampeliscam?

Labr.

Mille nummum denumeravi.

Daem.

Vin tibi condicionem luculentam ferre me?

Labr.

Sane volo.

D.

Dividuom talentum faciam.

L.

Bene facis.

D.

Pro illa altera,
libera ut sit, dimidium tibi sume, dimidium huc cedo.

Labr.

Maxime.

Daem.

Pro illo dimidio égo Gripum emittam manu,
55 quem propter tu vidulum et ego gnatam inveni.

Labr.

Bene facis,
gratiam habeo magnam.

Grip.

Quam mox mi argentum ergo redditur?

Daem.

Res soluta est, Gripe. ego habeo.

Grip.

Át ego me hercle mavolo.

Daem.

Nihil hercle hic tibi est, né tu speres. iuris iurandi volo gratiam facias.

Grip.

Perii hercle. nisi me suspendo, occidi.
60 numquam hercle iterum defraudabis me quidem post hunc diem.

Daem.

Hic hodie cenato, leno.

Labr.

Fiat, condicio placet.

Daem.

Sequimini intro. spectatores, vos quoque ad cenam vocem, ni daturus nil sim neque sit quicquam pollucti domi,
nive adeo vocatos credam vos esse ad cenam foras.

65 verum si voletis plausum fabulae huic clarum dare, comissatum omnes venitote ad me ad annos sedecim.
vos hic hodie cenatote ambó.

Labr.

Fiat.

Daem.

Plausum date.

Panegyris

Crédo egó miserám fuisse Penelopam, sorór, suo ex animo,
quae tám diu vidua
5 viró suo caruit;
nam nós eius ánimum
de nóstris factis nóscimus, quarúm viri hinc ápsunt, quorúmque nos negótiis apséntum, ita ut aéquom est,
sollícitae noctes ét dies, sorór, sumus sémper.

Soror

10 Nostrum officium nos fácere aequomst, neque id mágis facimus
quam nós monet píetas.
sed híc, soror, assíde dum: multá volo tecum 15 loquí de re viri.

Pan.

Salvéne, amabo?

Sor.

Speró quidem et volo; sed hóc, soror, crúciór, patrém tuom meúmque adeo, unice qui unus † civíbus ex omnibus probús perhibetur, eúm nunc improbi viri officio uti, 20 virís qui tantas apséntibus nóstris facit íniurias immérito nosque áb eis abducére volt.
haec rés vitae me, sóror, saturant,
haec míhi dividiae et sénio sunt.

Pan.

25 Ne lácruma, soror, neu túo id animo fac quod tibi tuos pater faceré minatur:
spes ést eum melius fácturum.
novi égo illum: ioculo istaec dicit, neque illé sibi mereat Pérsarum 30 montís, qui esse aurei pérhibentur, ut istúc faciat quod tú metuis.
tamen sí faciat, minime irasci decet, néque id immerito evéniet.
nam víri nostri domo ut ábierunt,
35 hic tértius annus.

Sor.

Ita út memoras.

Pan.

Quom ipsi ínterea vivánt, valeant, ubi sínt, quid agant, ecquíd agant, neque párticipant nos, néque redeunt.

Sor.

An id dóles, soror, quia illi suom ófficium
40 non cólunt, quom tu tuom fácis?

Pan.

Ita pol.

Sor.

Tace sís, cave sis audíam ego istuc posthác ex te.

Pan.

Nam quíd iam?

Sor.

Quia pól meo animo omnis sápiéntis suom officium aequom est colere ét facere.
45 quam ob rem égo te hoc, soror, tametsi és maior, moneo, út tuom memineris ófficio:

etsi illi improbi sint átque aliter nobís faciant quam aequómst, tam pol ne quíd magis simus ... omnibus obnixe opibus
50 nostrum ófficio meminísse decet.

Pan.

Placet; táceo.

Sor.

At memineris fácito.

Pan.

Nolo égo, soror, me credi esse immemorem viri, neque ille éos honores, mihi quos habuit, perdidit;
nam pol mihi grata acceptaque eiust benignitas.
55 et me quidem haec condicio nunc non paenitet, neque est cur non studeam has nuptias mutarier;
verum postremo in patris potestate est situm:
faciendum id nobis quod parentes imperant.

Sor.

Scio, atque in cogitando maerore augeor,
60 nam propemodum iam ostendit suam sententiam.

Pan.

Igitur quaeramus, nobis quid facto usus sit.

Antipho

Quí manet ut moneatur semper servos homo officium suom nec voluntáte id facere meminit, servos is habitu hau probust.
vos meministis quot kalendis petere demensum cibum:
qui minus méministis quod opus sit facto facere in aedibus?
5 iam quidem in súo quicqué loco nisi erit mihi situm supellectilis, quom ego revortar, vos monimentis commonefaciam bubulis.
non homines habitare mecum mi hic videntur, sed sues.
facite sultis, nitidae ut aedes meae sint, quom redeam domum.
iam ego domi adero: ad meam maiorem filiam in viso modo;

10 siquis me quaéret, inde vocátote aliqui; aut iam egomet hic ero.

Sor.

Quid agimus, soror, si óffirmabit pater adversum nos?

Pan.

Pati

nos oportet quod ille faciat, cuius potestas plus potest.
exorando, haud adversando sumendam operam censeo:
gratiam per si petimus, spero áb eo impetrassere;
15 adversari sine dedecore et scelere summo haud possumus, neque equidem id factura neque tu ut facias consilium dabo, verum ut exoremus. novi ego nostros: exorabilest.

Ant.

Principium ego quo pacto cum illis occipiam, id ratiocinor:
utrum ego perplexim laccessam oratione ad hunc modum, 20 quasi numquam quicquam in eas simulem, quasi nil indaudierim eas in se meruisse culpam, an potius temptem saeviter, an minaciter. scio litis fore, ego meas novi optume.
si manere hic sese malint potius quam alio nubere.
non faciam. quid mi ópust decurso aetatis spatio cum meis 25 gerere bellum, quom nil, quam ob rem id faciam, meruisse arbitror?
minime, nolo turbas, séd hoc mihi optimum factu arbitror:
sic faciam: adsimulabo quasi quam culpam in sese admiserint.
perplexabilitér earum hodie perpavefaciam pectora;
post id agam igitur deinde, ut animus meus erit, faciam palam.
30 multa scio faciunda verba. ibo intro. sed apertast foris.

Sor.

Certo enim míhi paternae vocis sonitus auris accidit.

Pan.

Is est ecastor. ferre advorsum homini occupemus osculum.

Sor.

Salve, mi pater.

Ant.

Et vos ambae. Ílico agite assidite.

Sor.

Osculum —

Ant.

Sat est ósculi mihi vestri.

Pan.

Quí, amabo, pater?

Ant.

35 Quia ita meae animae salsura evenit.

Sor.

Asside hic, pater.

Ant.

Non sedeo istic, vos sedete; ego sedero in subsellio.

Pan.

Mane pulvinum.

Ant.

Bene procuras. mihi satis sic fultumst. sede.

Sor.

Sine, pater.

Ant.

Quid opust?

Pan.

Opust.

Ant.

Mórem tibi geram. atque hoc est satis.

Sor.

Numquam enim nímis curare possunt suom parentem filiae.
40 quem aequiust nós potiozem habere quam te? postidea, pater, viros nostros, quibus tú voluisti ésse nos matres familias.

Ant.

Bonas ut aequomst facere facitis, quom tamen apsentis viros proinde habetis quasi praesentes sint.

Sor.

Pudicitiaſt, pater,
eos nos magnificare, qui nos socias sumpserunt sibi.

Ant.

45 Num quis hic ést alienus nostris dictis auceps auribus?

Pan.

Nullus praeter nosque teque.

Ant.

Vostrum animum adhiberi volo;
nám ego ad vos nunc imperitus rerum et morum mulierum, discipulus venio ad magistras: quibus matronas moribus, quae optumae sunt, esse oportet? sed utraque ut dicat mihi.

Sor.

50 Quid istuc est quod huc éxquaesitum mulierum mores venis?

Ant.

Pol ego uxorem quaero, postquam vostra mater mortuast.

Sor.

Facile invenies et peiorem et peius moratam, pater, quam illa fuit: meliorem neque tu reperies neque sol videt.

Ant.

At ego ex te éxquaero atque ex istac tua sorore.

Sor.

Edepol pater,

55 scio ut oportet esse: si sint — ita ut ego aequom censeo.

A.

Volo scire ergo, ut aequom censes.

S.

Vt, per urbem quom ambulent, omnibus os opturent, ne quis merito male dicat sibi.

Ant.

Dic vicissim nunciam tu.

Pan.

Quid vis tibi dicam, pater?

Ant.

Vbi facillime spectatur mulier, quae ingenio est bono?

Pan.

60 Quoi male faciundi est potestas, quae ne id faciat temperat.

Ant.

Hau male istuc. age tu altera, utra sit condicio pensior, virginemne an viduam habere?

Sor.

Quanta méa sapientias,

ex malis multis malum quod minimumst, id minimest malum.

Ant.

Qui potest mulier vitare vitiis?

Sor.

Vt cottidie

65 pridie caveat ne faciat quod pigeat postridie.

Ant.

Quae tibi muliér videtur multo sapientissima?

Pan.

Quae tamen, cum res secundae sunt, se poterit noscere, et illa quae aequo animo patietur sibi esse peius quam fuit.

Ant.

Edepol vos lepide temptavi vostrumque ingenium ingeni.
70 sed hoc est quod ad vos venio quodque esse ambas conventas
volo:
mi auctores ita sunt amici, ut vos hinc abducam domum.

Sor.

At enim nos, quarum res agitur, aliter auctores sumus.
nam aut olim, nisi tibi placebant, non datas oportuit, aut nunc non aequomst abduci, pater, illisce apsentibus.

Ant.

75 Vosne ego patiar cum mendicis nuptas me vivo viris?

Sor.

Placet ille meus mihi mendicus: suos rex reginae placet.
idem animust in paupertate qui olim in divitiis fuit:

Ant.

Vosne latrones et mendicos homines magni penditis?

Sor.

non tu me argento dedisti, opinor, nuptum, sed viro.

Ant.

80 Quid illos exspectatis, quí abhinc iam abierunt triennium?
quin vos capitis condicionem ex pessuma primariam?

Pan.

Stultitiast, pater, venatum ducere invitas canes.
hostis est uxor, invita quae viro nuptum datur.

Ant.

Certumne est neutram vostrarum persequi imperium patris?

Pan.

85 Persequimur, nam quo dedisti nuptum, abire nolumus.

Ant.

Bene valet. ibo atque amicis vostra consilia eloquar.

Pan.

Probiores credo arbitrabunt, si probis narraveris.

Ant.

Curate igitur familiarem rem ut potestis.

Pan.

Optume,
nunc places, quom recte monstras; nunc tibi auscultabimus.
90 nunc, soror, abeamus intro.

Sor.

Ímmo intervisam domum.
si a viro tibi forte veniet nuntius, facito ut sciam. —

Pan.

Neque ego te celabo, neque tu me celassis quod scias.
eho, Crocotium, i, parasitum Gelasimum huc arcesso, tecum adduce; nam illum ecastor mittere ad portum volo, 95 si quae forte ex Asia navis heri aut hodie venerit.
nam dies totos apud pórtum servos unus assidet;
sed tamen volo intervisi. propera atque actutum redi. —

Gelasimvs

Famem ego fuisse suspicor matrem mihi, nam postquam natus sum, satur numquam fui.

neque quisquam melius referet matri gratiam quam ego meae matri refero ínvitissimus.

5 neque rettulit, quam ego refero meae matri Fami.

nam illa me in alvo menses gestavit decem,

at ego illam in alvo gesto plus annos decem.

atque illa puerum me gestavit parvolum, quo minus laboris cepisse illam existumo:

10 ego non pauxillulam in utero gesto famem, verum hercle multo maximam et gravissimam;

uteri dolores mihi oboriuntur cotidie, †

sed matrem parere nequeo, nec quid agam scio.

atque auditavi saepe hoc volgo dicier,

15 solere elephantum gravidam perpetuos decem esse annos; eius ex sémine haec certost fames, nam iam complures annos utero haeret meo.

nunc si ridiculum hominem quaerat quispiam, venalis ego sum cum ornamentis omnibus;

20 inanimentis explementum quaerito.

Gelasimo nomen mi indidit parvo pater, quia inde iam a pausillo puero ridiculus fui. †

propter pauperiem hoc adeo nomen repperi, eo quía paupertas fecit ridiculus forem;

25 nam illa artis omnis perdocet, ubi quem attingit.

per annónam caram dixit me natum pater:

propterea, credo, nunc essurio ácrius.

sed generi nostro haec redditast benignitas:

nulli negare soleo, siquis me essúm vocat.

30 oratio una interiit hominum pessume, atque optuma hercle meo animo et scitissima, qua ante utebantur: “véni illo ad cenam, sic face, promitte vero, ne gravare. est commodum?

volo inquam fieri, non amittam quin eas.”

35 nunc reppererunt iam ei verbo vicarium

(nihili quidem hercle verbumst ac vilissimum):

‘vocem te ad cenam, nisi egomet cenem foris.’

ei hércle ego verbo lumbos diffractos velim, ni vere perierit, si cenassit domi.

40 haec verba subigunt mé uti mores barbaros discam atque ut faciam praeconis compendium itaque auctionem praedicem, ipse ut venditem.

Crocotivm

Hic illést parasitus, quem arcessitum missa sum.
quae loquitur auscultabo prius quam conloquar.

Gel.

45 Sed curiosi sunt hic complures mali, alienas res qui curant studio maximo, quibus ipsis nullast res, quam procurent, sua:
ei quando quem auctionem facturum sciunt, adeunt, perquirunt quid sit causae ilico:
50 alienum aes cogat an pararit praedium, uxorin sit reddenda dos divortio.
eos ómnis tametsi hercle haud indignos iudico qui multum miseri sint, laborent, nil moror:
dicam auctionis causam, ut damno gaudeant;
55 nam curiosus nemo est quin sit malevolus.
ipse egomet quam ob rem áuctionem praedicem damna evererunt maxuma misero mihi, ita me mancupia miserum adfecerunt male,
potationes plurumae demortuae, 60 quot adeo cenae, quas deflevi, mortuae, quot potiones mulsi, quae autem prandia, quae inter continuom perdidi triennium.
prae maerore adeo miser atque aegritudine consenui; paene sum famé emortuos.

Croc.

65 Ridiculus aequè nullus est quando esurit.

Gel.

Nunc auctionem facere decretumst mihi:
foras necessumst quidquid habeo vendere.

adeste sultis, praeda erit praesentium.
logos ridiculos vendo. áge licemini.
70 qui cena poscit? ecqui poscit prandio?
hercle aestumavi prandio, cena tibi.
ehem, adnuistin? nemo meliores dabit.
nulli meliores esse parasito sinam.
vel unctiones Graecas sudatorias 75 vendo vel alias malacas, crapularias; cavillátiones, adsentatiunculas
ac perieratiunculas parasiticas;
robiginosam strigilem, ampullam rubidam, parasitum inanem quo recondas reliquias.
80 haec veniisse iám opus est quantum potest, ut decumam partem Hérculi polluceam.

Croc.

Ecastor auctionem haúd magni preti.
adhaesit homini ad infimum ventrem fames.
adibo ad hominem.

Gel.

Quis haec est quae advorsum it mihi?
85 Epignómi ancilla haéc quidem est Crocotium.

Croc.

Gelasime, salve.

Gel.

Non id est nomen mihi.

Croc.

Certo mecastor id fuit nomen tibi.

Gel.

Fuit disertim, verum id usu perdididi:

nunc Miccotrogus nomine e vero vocor.

C.

90 † Eu ecastor, risi te hodie multum.

G.

Quando aut quo in loco?

Croc.

Hic quom auctionem praedicabas,

Gel.

Pessuma,
eho an audivisti?

Croc.

Te quidem dignisumam.

G.

Quo nunc is?

C.

Ad te.

G.

Quid venis?

C.

Panegyris

rogare iussit ted ut opere maximo,
95 mecum simitu ut ires ad sese domum.

Gel.

Ego illo mehercle vero eo quantum potest.
iamne exta cocta sunt? quot agnis fecerat?

Croc.

Illa quidem nullum sacrificavit.

Gel.

Quo modo?
quid igitur me volt?

Croc.

Tritici modios decem
100 rogare, opinor te volt.

Gel.

Mene, ut ab sese petam?

Croc.

Immo ut a vobis mutuom nobis dares.

Gel.

Nega esse quod dem nec mihi nec mutuom, neque aliud quicquam nisi hoc quod habeo pallium;
linguam quoque etiam vendidi datariam.

Croc.

Au,
105 nullan tibi lingua est?

Gel.

Quae quidem dicat ‘dabo’;
ventri reliqui eccam aliam quae dicat ‘cedo’.

Croc.

Malum quidem sí vis —

Gel.

Haec eadem dicit tibi.

Croc.

Quid nunc? ituru's an non?

Gel.

Abi sane domum,

iam illo venturum dicito. propera atque abi. —

110 demiror quid illaec me ad se arcessi iusserit, quae numquam iussit me ad se arcessi ante hunc diem, postquam vir abiit eius. miror quid siet, nisi ut periculum fiat: visam quid velit.

sed eccum Pinacium eius puerum. hoc vide,

115 satin ut facete, aequae atque ex pictura, astitit?

ne iste edepol vinum poculo pauxillulo saepe exanclavit submerum scitissime.

ACT II.

Pinacivm

Mercúrius, Iovis qui núnťius perhibétur, numquam aequé patri suo núnťium lepidum áttulit quam égo nunc meae erae núnťiabo:
ítaque onustum péctus porto laétitia lubéntiaque néque lubet nisi gloriose quicquam proloqui profecto.
5 amoénitates omnium venerum et venustatum adfero ripísque superat mi atque abundat pectus laetitia meum.
própera, Pinacium, pedes hortare, honesta dicta factis (nunc tíbi potestas adipiscendist gloriam laudem decus) eraéque egenti subveni, benefacta maiorum tuom 10 quae mísera in exspectatione est Epignomi adventum viri.
proinde út decet, amat vírum suom, cupide expetit. nunc, Pinacium, age út placet, curre ut lubet, cave quémquam flocci feceris, cubitis depulsa de via, tranquillam concinna viam;
si rex obstabit obviam, regem ipsum prius pervortito.

Gel.

15 Quídnam dicam Pínacium lascívibundum tam lubentem currere?
harúndinem fert sportulamque et hamulum piscarium.

Pin.

Sed tandem, opinor, aequiust eram mihi esse supplicem atque óratores mittere ad me donaque ex auro et quadrigas, 20 quí vehar, nam pedibus ire non queo. ergo iam revortar.
ad me adiri et supplicari égomet mi aequom censeo.
an véro nugas censeas, nihil esse quod ego nunc scio?
tantum a portu adporto bonum, tam gaudium grande adfero, vix ipsa domina hoc, nisi sciat, exoptare ab deis audeat.
25 nunc ultro id deportem? hau placet, neque id viri officium arbitror.
sic hoc videtur mihi magis meo cónvenire huic nuntio:
adversum veniat, opsecret, se ut nuntio hoc impertiam;
secundas fortunas decent superbiae.

sed tandem cum recogito, qui potuit scire haec scire me?
30 nón enim póssum quin revortar, quin loquar, quin edisserterem erámque ex maerore eximam, bene facta maiorum meum exaugeam atque illam augeam insperato opportuno bono:
contundam facta Talthubi contemnamque omnis nuntios;
símulque ad cursuram meditabor me ad ludos Olympios.
35 sed spátium hoc occidit: brevest curriculo; quam me paenitet.
quid hoc? oclusam ianuam video. ibo et pultabo fores.
aperíte atque adproperáte, fores facite út pateant, removéte moram;
nimis haéc res sine curá geritur. vide quám dudum hic asto ét pulto.
sommóne operam datis? éxperiar, fores án cubiti ac pedes plús valeant.
40 nimis véllem hae fores erum fúgissent, ea caúsa ut haberent malum magnum;
deféssus sum pultádo.
hoc póstremumst. vae vobis.

Gel.

Ibo átque hunc compellábo.
salvós sis.

Pin.

Et tu sálve.

Gel.

45 Iam tú piscator fáctu's?

Pin.

Quam prídem non edísti?

G.

Vnde ís? quid fers? quid féstinas?

P.

Tua quód nil refert, né cures.

G.

Quid istíc inest?

P.

Quas tu edés colubras.

G.

Quid tam íracundu's?

Pin.

Si ín te pudor ádsit, non me appélles.

Gel.

50 Possúm scire ex te vérum?

Pin.

Potes: hódie non cenábis.

Panegyris

Quisnam, ópsecro, has frangit fóres? ubi est?

tun haéc facis? tun mihi huc hóstis venis?

Gel.

Salvé, tuo arcessitú venio huc.

Pan.

Ean grátia fores effrínkis?

Gel.

Tuos ínclama, tui délinquant: ego quíd me velles vísebam;

5 nam mé quidem harum míserebat.

Pin.

Ergo aúxilium properé latumst.

Pa.

Quisnam híc loquitur tam própe nos?

Pi.

Pinacium.

Pa.

Úbi is est?

Pin.

Réspice ad me et relínque egentem párasitum, Panégyris.

Pan.

Pinacium.

Pin.

Istuc indiderunt nomen maiores mihi.

Pan.

Quid agis?

Pin.

Quid agam rogitas?

Pan.

Quidni rogitem?

Pin.

Quid mecum est tibi?

Pan.

¹⁰ Mein fastidis, propudiose? eloquere propere, Pinacium.

Pi.

Iube me omittere igitur hos, qui retinent.

Pa.

Qui retinent?

PI.

Rogas?
omnia membra lassitudo mihi tenet.

Pan.
Linguam quidem
sat scio tibi non tenere.

Pin.
Ita celeri curriculo fui propere a portu, tui honoris causa.

Pan.
Ecquid adportas boni?

Pin.
15 Nimio † inparti multo tanto plus quam speras.

Pan.
Salva sum.

Pin.
At ego perii, quoi medullam lassitudo perbibit.

Gel.

Quid ego, quoi misero medullam ventris percepit fames.

Pan.
Ecquem convenisti?

Pin.
Multos.

Pan.
At virum?

Pin.
Equidem plurimos:
verum ex multis nequiores nullum quám hic est.

Gel.

Quo modo?

20 iam dudum ego ístum patior dicere iniuste mihi.
praeterhac si me inritassis —

Pin.

Edepol essuries male.

Gel.

Animum inducam, ut istuc verum te elocutum esse arbitrer.

Pin.

Munditias volo fieri. ecferre huc scopas simulque harundinem, ut operam omnem araneorum perdam et texturam improbem 25 deiciamque eorum ómnis telas.

Gel.

Miseri algebunt postea.

Pin.

Quid? illos itidemne esse censes quasi te, cum veste unica?
cape illas scopas.

Gel.

Cápiam.

Pin.

Hoc egomet, tu hoc converre.

Gel.

Ego fecero.

Pin.

Ecquis huc effert nassiternam cúm aqua?

Gel.

Sine suffragio
populi tamen aedilitatem hic quidém gerít.

Pin.

Age tu ocius
30 † pinge, humum consperge ante aedis.

G.

Faciam.

P.

Factum oportuit.
ego hinc araneas de foribus deiciam et de pariete.

Gel.

Edepol rem negotiosam.

Pan.

Quid sit, nil etiam scio,
nisi forte hospites venturi sunt.

Pin.

Vos lectos sternite.

Gel.

Principium placet de lectis.

Pin.

Alii ligna caedite,
35 alii piscis depurgate, quos piscatu rettuli, pernam et glandium deicite.

Gel.

Hic hercle homo nimium sapit.

Pan.

Non ecastor, ut ego opinor, satis erae morem geris.

Pin.

Immo res omnis relictas habeo prae quod tu velis.

Pan.

Tum tu igitur, qua causa missus es ad portum, id expedi.

Pin.

40 Dicam. postquam me misisti ad portum, cum luci simul, commodum radiosus sese sol superabat ex mari.
dum percontor portitores, ecquae navis venerit ex Asia, negant venisse, conspicatus sum interim cercurum, quo ego me maiorem non vidisse censeo.
45 in portum vento secundo, velo passo pervenit.
alius alium percontamur: quoiast navis? quid vehit?
interibi Epignomúm conspicio tuom virum et servom Stichum.

Pan.

Hem quid? Epignomum elocutu's?

Pin.

Tuom virum.

Gel.

Et vitam meam.

Pin.

Venit inquam.

Pan.

Tutin ipsus ipsum vidisti?

Pin.

Lubens.

50 argentí aurique advexit nimium.

Gel.

Nimis factum bene.

hercle vero capiam scopas atque hoc convorram lubens.

Pin.

Lanam purpuramque multam.

Gel.

Em qui ventrem vestiam.

Pin.

Lectos eburatos, auratos.

Gel.

Accubabo regie.

Pin.

Tum Babylonica et peristroma tonsilia et tappetia 55 advexit, nimium bonae rei.

Gel.

Hercle rem gestam bene.

Pin.

Poste, ut occepi narrare, fidicinas, tibicinas, sambucas advexit secum forma eximia.

Gel.

Eugepae,
quando adbibero, adludiabo: tum sum ridiculissimus.

Pin.

Poste unguenta multigenerum multa.

Gel.

Non vendo logos.

60 iam non facio aúctionem, mi optigit hereditas:

malivoli, perquisitores auctionum, perierint.

Hercules, decumam esse adauctam tibi quam vovi gratulor.

spes est, tandem aliquando inportunam exigere ex utero famem.

Pin.

Poste autem advexit parasitos secum.

Gel.

Ei, perii miser.

Pin.

65 Ridiculissimos.

Gel.

Revorram hercle hoc quod converri modo.

Pan.

Vidistin virum sororis Pamphilum?

Pin.

Non.

Pan.

Non adest?

Pin.

Immo venisse eum simitu aiebat ille: ego huc citus praecucurri, ut nuntiarem nuntium exoptabilem.

Gel.

Venales logi sunt illi, quos negabam vendere.

70 ilicet, iam meo malost quod malevolentes gaudeant.

Hercules, qui deus sis, sane discessisti non bene.

Pan.

I intro, Pinacium, iube fámulos rem divinam mi apparent.
bene vale.

Gel.

Vin administrem?

Pan.

Sat servorum habeo domi. —

Gel.

Enim vero, Gelasime, opinor provenisti futtile, 75 si neque ille adest neque hic, qui venit, quicquam subvenit.
ibo intro ad libros et discam de dictis melioribus;
nam ni illos homines expello, ego occidi planissime. —

ACT III.

Epignomvs

Quom bene re gesta salvos convortor domum, Neptuno grates habeo et Tempestatibus;
simul Mercurio, qui me in mercimoniis iuvit lucrisque quadruplicavit rem meam.
5 olim quos abiens adfeci aegrimonia, eos nunc laetantis faciam adventu meo.
nam iam Antiphonem conveni adfinem meum cumque eo reveni ex inimicitia in gratiam.
videte, quaeso, quid potest pecunia:
10 quoniam bene gesta re rediisse me videt magnasque adportavisse divitias domum, sine advocatis ibidem in cercuro in stega in amicitiam atque in gratiam convortimus.
et is hodie apud me cenat et frater meus;
15 nam heri ambo in uno portu fuimus, sed mea hodie solutast navis aliquanto prius.
age abdúce hasce intro, quas mecum adduxi, Stiche.

Stichvs

Ere, sí ego taceam seu loquar, scio scire te quam multas tecum miserias mulcaverim.
20 nunc hunc diem unum ex illis multis miseriis volo mé eleutheria capere advenientem domum.

Epig.

Et ius et aequom postulas: sumas, Stiche.
in hunc diem te nil moror; abi quo lubet.
cadum tibi veteris vini propino.

St.

Papae,
25 ducam hodie amicam.

Epig.

Vel decem, dum de tuo.

S.

Quid? hoc etiam unum?

E.

Quid id autem unumst? expedi.

Stich.

Ad cenam ibone?

Epig.

Si vocatu's, censeo.

Stich.

Sic hoc placet; rogatu necne, nil moror.

Epig.

Vbi cenas hodie?

Stich.

Sic hanc rationem institi:

30 amicam ego habeo Stephanium hinc ex proxumo, tui frátris ancillam: eo condixi in symbolam ad cenam, ad eius consérvom Sangarinum Syrum. eademst amica ambobus, rivalet sumus.

Epig.

Age abduce hasce intro. hunc tibi dedo diem.

Stich.

35 Meam culpam habeto, nisi probe excruciavero.
iam hercle ego per hortum ad amicam transibo meam mi hanc occupatum noctem; eadem symbolam dabo et iubebo ad Sangarinum cenam coqui.
aut egomet ibo atque opsonabo opsonium.
40 Sangarinus scio iam hic aderit cum domino suo, servos homo, qui nisi temperi ad cenam meat, advorsitores pol cum verberibus decet dari, uti eum verberabundi adducant domum.

parata res faciam ut sit. egomet me moror.
45 atque id ne vos miremini, hominis servolos potare, amare atque ad cenam condicere:
licet haec Athenis nobis. sed quom cogito, potius quam invidiam inveniam, est etiam hic ostium aliud posticum nostrarum harunc aedium:
50 posticam partem magis utuntur aedium ea ibo opsonatum, eadem referam opsonium:
per hortum utroque commeatus continet.
ite hac secundum vos me. ego hunc lacero diem. —

Gelasimvs

Libros inspexi; tam confido quam potis, me meum optenturum regem ridiculis meis.
nunc interviso, iamne a portu advenerit,
ut eum ádvenientem meis dictis deleniam.

Epig.

5 Hic quidém Gelasimus est parasitus, qui venit.

Gel.

Auspicio hodie óptumo exivi foras:
mustela murem ábstulit praeter pedes;
cum strena óbscaevavit; spectatum hoc mihist.
nam ut illa vitam repperit hodie sibi,
10 item me spero facturum: augurium hac facit.
Epignómus hic quidemst qui ástat. ibo atque adloquar.
o Épignome, ut ego nunc te conspicio libens, ut prae laetitia lacrimae prosiliunt mihi.
valuistin usque?

Epig.

Sustentatumst sedulo.

Gel.

15 Propino tibi salutem plenae faucibus.

Epig.

Bene atque amice dicis. di dent quae velis.

Gel.

Cenem illi apud te, quoniam salvos advenis.

Epig.

Locatast opera nunc quidem; tam gratiast.

G.

Promitte.

E.

Certumst.

G.

Sic face inquam.

E.

Certa res.

G.

20 Lubente me hercle facies.

E.

Idem ego istuc scio.
quando usus veniet, fiet.

Gel.

Nunc ergo usus est.

Epig.

Non edepol possum.

Gel.

Quid gravare? censeas.
nescio quid vero hábeo in mundo.

Epig.

I modo,
aliud convivam quaerito tibi in hunc diem.

Gel.

25 Quin tu promittis?

Epig.

Non graver, si possiem.

Gel.

Vnum quidem hercle certo promitto tibi:
libens accipiam certo, si promiseris.

Ep.

Valeas.

Gel.

Certumnest?

Ep.

Certum. cenabo domi.

Gel.

Quando quidem tu ad me non vis promittere 30 sed — quoniam nil processit hac, ego ivero apertiore magis via; ita plane loquar:
vin ad te ad cenam veniam?

Epig.

Si possim, velim;
verum hic apud me cenant alieni novem.

Gel.

Hau postulo equidem med in lecto accumbere:
35 scis tu me esse unisubsellii virum.

Epig.

At ei óratores sunt popli, summi viri;
Ambracia veniunt huc legati publice.

Gel.

Ergo oratores populi, summates viri, summi accubent, ego infimatis infimus.

Epig.

40 Haud aequomst te inter oratores accipi.

Gel.

Equidem hercle orator sum, sed procedit parum.

Epig.

Cras de reliquiis nos volo. multum vale. —

Gel.

Perii hercle vero plane, nihil obnoxie.
uno Gelasimo minus est quam dudum fuit.
45 certumst mustelae posthac numquam credere, nam incertiozem nullam novi bestiam;
quaen eapse deciens in die mutat locum,
ea ego auspicavi ín re capitali mea?
certumst amicos convocare, ut consulam
50 qua lege nunc med essurire oporteat. —

ACT IV.

Antipho

Íta me di bene amént measque mihi bene servassint filias, ut mihi volup est, Pamphilippe, quia vos in patriam domum rediisse video bene gesta re ambos, te et fratrem tuom.

Pamphilippvs

Satis abs te accipiam, nisi videam mihi te amicum esse, Antipho;
5 nunc quia té amicum mihi experior esse, credetur tibi.

Ant.

Vocem ego te ad me ad cenam, frater tuos ni dixisset mihi, te apud se cenaturum esse hodie, quom me ad se ad cenam vocat.
et magis pár fuerat me vobis dare cenam advenientibus, quam me ad illúm promittere, nisi nollem ei advorsarier.
10 nunc me gratiam abs te inire verbis nil desidero:
cras apud me éritis et tu et ille cum vostris uxoribus.

Pamph.

At apud mé perendie. nam ille heri me iam vocaverat in hunc diem. sed satin ego tecum pacificatus sum, Antipho?

Ant.

Quando ita rem gessistis ut vos velle amicosque addecet, 15 pax commersque est vobis mecum. nam hoc tu facito ut cogites:
ut cuique homini res paratast, périnde amicis utitur:
si res firma, item fírmi amici sunt; sin res laxe labat, itidem amici conlabascunt: res amicos invenit.

Epignomvs

Iam redeo. nimias voluptas, ubi diu afueris domo, 20 domum ubi rédieris, sí tibi nullast aegritudo animo obviam.
nam ita me absente familiarem rem uxor curavit meam, omnium me éxilem atque inanem fecit aegritudinum.
sed eccum fratrem Pamphilippum, incedit cum socero suo.

P.

Quid agitur, Epignome?

E.

Quid tu? quam dudum in portum venis?

Pamph.

25 Hau longissime.

Epig.

Postilla iam iste est tranquillus tibi?

A.

Magis quam mare quo ambo estis vecti.

E.

Facis ut alias res soles.

hodiene exoneramus navem, frater?

Pamph.

Clementer volo.

nos potius oneremus nosmet viciissatim voluptatibus.

quam mox coctast cena? inpransus ego sum.

E.

Abi intro ad me et lava.

Pamph.

30 Deos salutatum atque uxorem modo intro devortor domum;

haec si ita ut volo conficio, continuo ad te transeo.

Epig.

Apud nos eccillam festinat cum sorore uxor tua.

Pamph.

Optumest, iam istoc morai minus erit. iam ego apud te ero.

Ant.

Prius quam abis, praesente ted huic apologum agere unum volo.

Pamph.

35 Maxume.

Ant.

Fuit olim, quasi ego sum, senex; ei filiae duae erant, quasi nunc meae sunt; eae erant duobus nuptae fratribus, quasi nunc meae sunt vobis.

Epig.

Miror quo evasurust apologus.

Ant.

Erant minori illi adulescenti fidicina et tibicina, peregre advexerat, quasi nunc tu; sed ille erat caeleps senex, 40 quasi ego nunc sum.

E.

Perge porro. praesens hic quidem est apologus.

Ant.

Deinde senex ille illi dixit, cuius erat tibicina, quasi ego nunc tibi dico:

Epig.

Ausculdo atque animum advorto sedulo.

Ant.

“Ego tibi meam filiam, bene quicum cubitares, dedi:
nunc mihi reddi ego aequom esse abs te quicum cubitem censeo.”

Epig.

45 Quis istuc dicit? an ille quasi tu?

Ant.

Quasi ego nunc dico tibi.

‘Immo duas dabo,’ inquit ille adulescens “una si parumst; et si duarum paenitebit,” inquit ‘addentur duae.’

E.

Quis istuc quaeso? an ille quasi ego?

A.

Is ipse quasi tu. tum senex ille quasi ego: ‘si vis,’ inquit “quattuor sane dato, 50 dúm equidem hercle quod edint addas, meum ne contruncent cibum.”

Epig.

Videlicet parcum illum fuisse senem, qui illi istaec dixerit, quóm ille, illi qui pollicetur, eum cibum poposcerit.

Ant.

Videlicet non fuisse illum aequom ádulescentem, qui ilico
ubi ille poscit denegavit dare se granum tritici.
55 hercle qui aequom postulabat ille senex, quando quidem filiae illae dederat dotem, accipere pro tibicina.

Epig.

Hercle ille quidem certo adulescens docte vorsutus fuit, qui seni illi concubinam dare dotatam noluit.

Ant.

Senex quidem voluit, si posset, indipisci de cibo;
60 quia nequit, qua lege licuit velle dixit fieri.
‘fiat’ ille inquit adulescens. ‘facis benigne’ inquit senex.
‘habeon rem pactam?’ inquit. ‘faciam ita’ inquit ‘ut fieri voles.’
sed ego ibo intro et gratulabor vostrum adventum filiis.
poste ibo lautum ín pyelum, ibi fovebo sénectutem meam.
65 post ubi lavero, otiosus vos opperiar accubans. —

Pamph.

Graphicum mortalem Antiphonem, ut apologum fecit quam fabre.

Epig.

Etiam nunc scelestus se esse ducit pro adolescentulo.
dabitur homini amica, noctu quae in lecto occentet senem;
namque edepol aliud quidem illi quid amica opus sit nescio.

Pamph.

70 Sed quid agit parasitus noster Gelasimus? etiam valet?

E.

Vidi edepol hominem haud perdudum.

P.

Quid agit?

E.

Quod famelicus.

P.

Quin vocavisti hominem ad cenam?

E.

Ne quid advéniens perderem.

atque eccum tibi lúpum in sermone: praesens esuriens adest.

Pamph.

Ludificemur hominem.

Epig.

Capti consili memorem mones.

Gelasimvs

Sed ita ut occepi narrare vobis: quom hic non adfui, cúm amicis deliberavi iam et cum cognatis meis.

ita mi auctores fuere, ut egomet me hodie iugularem fame.

sed videone ego Pamphilippum cum fratre Epignomo? atque is est.

5 adgrediar hominem. o sperate Pamphilippe, o spes mea,

o mea vita, o mea voluptas, salve. salvom gaudeo peregre te in patriam rediisse.

Pamph.

Salvo salve, Gelasime.

G.

Valuistin bene?

P.

Sustentatumst sedulo.

G.

Edepol gaudeo.

edepol ne ego nunc mihi medimnum mille esse argenti velim.

Epig.

¹⁰ Quid eo tibi opust?

Gel.

Hunc hercle ad cenam ut vocem, te non vocem.

Epig.

Advorsum te fabulare.

Gel.

Illud quidem, ambos ut vocem;

et equidem simitu hau maligne vos invitassem domum ad me, sed mihi ipsi domi meae nihil est. atque hoc scitis vos.

Epig.

Edepol te vocem lubenter, si superfiat locus.

G.

¹⁵ Quin tum stans obstrusero aliquid strenue.

E.

Immo unum hoc potest.

G.

Quid?

E.

Vbi convivae abierint, tum venias.

G.

Vae aetati tuae.

Epig.

Vasa lautum, non ad cenam dico.

Gel.

Di te perduint.

quid ais, Pamphilippe?

Pamph.

Ad cenam hercle alio promisi foras.

G.

Quid, foras?

P.

Foras hércle vero.

G.

Qui malum tibi lasso libet

20 foris cenare?

Pamph.

Vtrum tu censes?

Gel.

Iuben domi cenam coqui

atque ad illúm renuntiari?

Pamph.

Solus cenabo domi?

Gel.

Non enim sólus: me vocato.

Pamph.

At ille ne suscenseat, mea qui causa sumptum fecit.

Gel.

Facile excusari potest.
mihi modo ausculta, iube cénam domi coqui.

Epig.

Non me quidem
25 faciet auctore, hodie ut illum decipiat.

Gel.

Non tu hinc abis?
nisi me non perspicere censes quid agas. cave sis tu tibi, nam illic homó tuam hereditatem inhiát, quasi esuriens lupo.
non tu scis, quam éfflictentur homines noctu hic in via?

Pamph.

Tanto pluris qui defendant ire advorsum iussero.

Epig.

30 Non it, non it, quia tanto opere suades ne ebitat.

Gel.

Iube

domi mi tibiue tuaeque uxori celeriter cenam coqui.
si hercle faxis, non opinor dices deceptum fore.

Pamph.

Per hanc tibi cenam incenato, Gelasime, esse hodie licet.

Gel.

Ibisne ad cenam foras?

Pamph.

Apud frátrem ceno in proxumo.

G.

³⁵ Certumnest?

P.

Certum.

G.

Edepol te hodie lapide percussum velim.

Pamph.

Non metuo: per hortúm transibo, non prodibo in publicum.

Epig.

Quid ais, Gelasime?

Gel.

Oratores tu accipis, habeas tibi.

Epig.

Tua pol refert.

Gel.

Enim, si quidem meá refert, opera utere.

Epig.

Posse edepol tibi opinor etiam uni locum condi ...

⁴⁰ ubi accubes.

Pamph.

Sane faciundum censeo.

Gel.

O lux oppidi.

Epig.

Si arte poteris accubare.

Gel.

Vél inter cuneos ferreos;
tantillum loculi, ubi catellus cubet, id mi satis est loci.

E.

Exorabo aliquo modo. veni.

G.

Hucine?

E.

Immo in carcerem;
nam hic quidem genium meliorem tuom non facies. eamus, tu.

Pamph.

45 Deos salutabo modo, poste ad te continuo transeo. —

G.

Quid igitur?

E.

Dixi equidem, in carcerem ires.

G.

Quin si iusseris,
eo quoque ibo.

E.

Di immortales, hic quidem pól summam in crucem cena aut prandio perduci potest.

Gel.

Ita ingenium meumst:

quicumvis depugno multo facilius quam cum fame.

Epig.

50 Dum parasitus mi atque fratri fuisti, rem confregimus.

Gel.

Non nego ista apud te.

Epig.

Satis spectatast mihi iam tua felicitas;

nunc ego nolo ex Gelasimo mihi fieri te Catagelasimum. —

Gel.

Iamne abiisti? Gelasime, vide quid es capturus consili.

egone? tune. mihine? tibine. viden ut annonast gravis?

55 viden, benignitates hominum ut periere et prothymiae?

viden ridiculos nihili fieri, atque ipsos parasitarier?

numquam edepol me vivom quisquam in crastinum inspiciet diem;

nam mihi iam intus potione iunceae onerabo gulam, neque ego hoc committam, ut me esse homines mortuom dicant fame. —

More hoc fit, atque stulte mea sententia:
si quem hominem exspectant, eum solent provisere;
qui hercle illa causa ócius nihilo venit.

Sangarinvs

Salvete, Athenae, quae nutrices Graeciae, sperata erilis patria, te video libens.
sed amica mea et conserva quid agat Stephanium

ACT I.

Megaronides

Amicum castigare ob meritam noxiam immoene est facinus, verum in aetate utile et conducibile. nám ego amicum hodie meum concastigabo pro commerita noxia, 5 invitus, ni id me invitet ut faciam fides.
nam hic nimium morbus mores invasit bonos;
ita plerique omnes iam sunt intermortui.
sed dum illi aegrotant, interim mores mali quasi herba inrigua succrevere uberrime:
10 eorúm licet iam metere messem maxumam, neque quicquam hic nunc est vile nisi mores mali.
nimioque hic pluris pauciorum gratiam faciunt pars hominum quam id quod prosint pluribus.
ita vincunt illud conducibile gratiae, 15 quae in rebus multis opstant odiosaeque sunt remoramque faciunt rei privatae et publicae.

Callicles

Larem corona nostrum decorari volo.
uxor, venerare ut nobis haec habitatio bona fausta felix fortunataque evenat — teque ut quam primum possim videam emortuam.

Meg.

5 Hic ille ést, senecta aetate qui factust puer, qui admisit in se culpam castigabilem.
adgrediar hominem.

Cal.

Quoia hic vox prope me sonat?

Meg.

Tui benevolentis, sí ita es ut ego te volo, sin aliter es, inimici atque irati tibi.

Cal.

¹⁰ O amice, salve, átque aequalis. ut vales,
Megaronides?

Meg.

Et tu edepol salve, Callicles.

Cal.

Valen? valuistin?

Meg.

Valeo, et valui rectius.

Cal.

Quid tua agit uxor? ut valet?

Meg.

Cal.

Bene hercle est illam tibi valere et vivere.

Meg.

¹⁵ Credo hercle te gaudere, si quid mihi mali est.

Cal.

Meg.

Eho tu, tua uxor quid agit?

Cal.

Immortalis est,

Meg.

Bene hercle nuntias,

Cal.

20 Dum quidem hercle tecum nupta sit, sane velim.

Meg.

Vin commutemus, tuam ego ducam et tu meam?

Cal.

Namque enim tu, credo, me imprudentem obrepseris.

Meg.

Ne tu hercle faxo haud nescias quam rem egeris.

Cal.

25 Habeas ut nanctu's: nota mala res optumast.
nam ego nunc si ignotam capiam, quid agam nesciam.

Meg.

Edepol proinde ut diu vivitur, bene vivitur.

Cal.

Quid venis?

Meg.

30 Malis te ut verbis multis multum obiurigem.

Cal.

Men?

Meg.

Numquis est hic alius praeter me atque te?

Cal.

Nemost.

Meg.

Quid tu igitur rogitas, tene obiurigem?
nisi tu me mihimet censes dicturum male.
nam si in te aegrotant artes antiquae tuae, 35 sin immutare vis ingenium moribus aut si demutant mores ingenium tuom neque eos antiquos servas, ast captas novos omnibus amicis morbum tu incuties gravem, ut te videre audireque aegroti sient.

Cal.

40 Qui in mentem venit tibi istaec dicta dicere?

Meg.

Quia omnis bonos bonasque adcurare addecet, suspicionem et culpam ut ab se segregent.

Cal.

Non potest utrumque fieri.

Meg.

Quapropter?

Cal.

Rogas?

ne admittam culpam, ego meo sum promus pectori:

45 suspicio est in pectore alieno sita.

nam nunc ego si te surrupuisse suspicer

Iovi coronam de capite ex Capitolio, qui in columine astat summo: si id non feceris atque id tamen mihi lubeat suspicarier,

50 qui tu id prohibere me potes ne suspicer?

sed istúc negoti cupio scire quid siet.

Meg.

Haben tu amicum aut familiarem quempiam, quoi pectus sapiat?

Cal.

Edepol haud dicam dolo:

sunt quos scio esse amicos, sunt quos suspicor,

55 sunt quorum ingenia atque animos nequeo noscere, ad amici partem an ad inimici pervenant;

sed tu ex amicis mi es certis certissimus.

si quid scis me fecisse inscite aut improbe,

†si id me non accusas, tute ipse obiurgandus es.

Meg.

Scio;

60 et, si alia huc causa ad te adveni, aequom postulas.

Cal.

Expecto si quid dicas.

Meg.

Primumdum omnium,

male dictitatur tibi volgo in sermonibus:

turpilucricupidum te vocant cives tui;

tum autem sunt alii, qui te volturium vocant:

65 hostisne an civis comedis, parvi pendere.

haec cum audio in te dici, discrucior miser.

Cal.

Est atque non est mi in manu, Megaronides:
quin dicant, non est; merito ut ne dicant, id est.

Meg.

Fuitne híc tibi amicus Charmides?

Cal.

Est et fuit.

70 id ita esse ut credas, rem tibi auctorem dabo.
nam postquam hic eius rem confregit filius videtque ípse ad paupertatem protractum esse se suamque filiam esse adultam virginem, simul eius matrem suamque uxorem mortuam, 75 quoniam hinc iturust ipse in Seleuciam, mihi commendavit virginem gnatam suam et rem suam omnem et illúm corruptum filium.
haec, si mihi inimicus esset, credo haud crederet.

Meg.

Quid tu, adulescentem, quem esse corruptum vides, 80 qui tuae mandatus est fide et fiducia,
quin eum restituís, quin ad frugem conrigis?
ei rei óperam dare te fuerat aliquanto aequius, si qui probiorem facere posses, non uti in eandem tute accederes infamiam 85 malumque ut eius cum tuo mísceres malo.

C.

Quid feci?

M.

Quod homo nequam.

C.

Non istuc meumst.

Meg.

Emistin de adulescente has aedes (quid taces?)
ubi nunc tute habitas?

Cal.

Emi atque argentum dedi,
minas quadraginta, adulescenti ipsi in manum.

Meg.

90 Dedistín argentum?

Cal.

Factum, neque facti piget.

Meg.

Edepol fide adulescentem mandatum malae.
dedistíne hoc facto ei gladium, qui se occideret?
quid secus est aut quid interest dare te in manus argentum amanti homini adulescenti, animi impoti, 95 qui exaedicaret suam incohatam ignaviam?

Cal.

Non ego illi argentum redderem?

Meg.

Non redderes,
neque de illo quicquam neque emeris neque venderes,
nec qui deterior esset faceres copiam.
inconciliastin eum qui mandatust tibi, 100 ille quí mandavit, eum exturbasti ex aedibus?
edepol mandatum pulchre et curatum probe;
crede huic tutelam: suam melius rem gesserit.

Cal.

Subigis maledictis me tuis, Megaronides, novo modo adeo, ut quod meae concreditumst 105 taciturnitati clam, fide et fiducia, ne enuntiarem quoquam neu facerem palam,
ut mihi necesse sit iam id tibi concredere.

Meg.

Mihi quod credideris sumes ubi posiveris.

Cal.

Circumspicedum te, ne quis adsit arbiter
110 nobis, et quaeso identidem circumspice.

Meg.

Ausculdo si quid dicas.

Cal.

Si taceas, loquar.
quoniam hinc est profecturus peregre Charmides, thensaurum demonstravit mihi in hisce aedibus,
hic in conclavi quodam — sed circumspice.

Meg.

115 Nemost.

Cal.

Nummorum Philippeum ad tria milia.
id solus solum per amicitiam et per fidem flens me obsecravit suo ne gnato crederem neu quoquam unde ad eum id posset permanascere.
nunc si ille huc salvos revenit, reddam suom sibi;
120 si quid eo fuerit, certe illius filiae, quae mihi mandatast, habeo dotem unde dem,
ut eam in se dignam condicionem conlocem.

Meg.

Pro di immortales, verbis paucis quam cito alium fecisti me, alius ad te veneram.

125 sed ut ocepisti, perge porro proloqui.

Cal.

Quid tibi ego dicam, qui illius sapientiam et meam fidelitatem et celata omnia paene ille ignavos funditus pessum dedit.

Meg.

Quidum?

Cal.

Quia, ruri dum sum ego unos sex dies,
130 me absente atque insciente, inconsultu meo, aedis venalis hasce inscripsit litteris.

Meg.

Adesurivit magis et inhiavit acrius lupus, observavit dum dormitarent canes:
gregem universum voluit totum avortere.

Cal.

135 Fecisset edepol, ni haec praesensisset canes.
sed nunc rogare ego vicissim te volo:
quid fuit officium meum me facere? face sciam;
utrum indicare me ei thesaurum aequom fuit, adversum quam eius me opsecravisset pater, 140 an ego alium dominum paterer fieri hisce aedibus?
qui emisset, eius essetne ea pecunia?
emi egomet potius aedis, argentum dedi
thesauri causa, ut salvom amico traderem.
neque adeo hasce emi mihi nec usurae meae:
145 illi redemi rusum, a me argentum dedi.

haec sunt: si recte seu pervorse facta sunt, ego me fecisse confiteor, Megaronides.
em mea malefacta, em meam aváritiam tibi;
hascine propter res maledicas famas ferunt.

Meg.

150 παῦσαι, vicisti castigatorem tuom:
occlusti linguam, nihil est quod respondeam.

Cal.

Nunc ego te quaeso ut me opera et consilio iuves communicesque hanc mecum meam provinciam.

Meg.

Polliceor operam.

Cal.

Ergo ubi eris paulo post?

Meg.

Domi.

Cal.

155 Numquid vis?

Meg.

Cures tuam fidem.

Cal.

Fíet sedulo.

Me.

Sed quid ais?

Ca.

Quid vis?

Me.

Vbi nunc adulescens habet?

Cal.

Posticulum hoc recepit, quom aedis vendidit.

Meg.

Istuc volebam scire. i sane nunciam.

sed quid ais? quid nunc virgo? nempe apud te ést?

Cal.

Itast,

160 iuxtaque eam cúro cum mea.

Meg.

Recte facis.

Cal.

Numquid, prius quam abeo, me rogaturu's? —

Meg.

Vale.

nihil est profecto stultius neque stolidius neque mendaciloquius neque argutum magis, neque confidentiloquius neque peiurius,

165 quam urbani assidui cives, quos scurras vocant.

atque egomet me adeo cum illis una ibidem traho, qui illorum verbis falsis acceptor fui, qui omnia se simulant scire neque quicquam sciunt.

quod quisque in animo habet aut habiturust sciunt,

170 sciunt íd quod in aurem rex reginae dixerit, sciunt quod Iuno fabulatast cum Iove;

quae neque futura neque sunt, tamen illi sciunt.
falsos an vero laudent, culpent quem velint,
non flocci faciunt, dum illud quod lubeat sciant.

175 omnes mortales hunc aiebant Calliclem indignum civitate hac esse et vivere, bonis qui hunc adulescentem evortisset suis.
ego de eorum verbis famigeratorum insciens prosilui amicum castigatum innoxium.

180 quod si exquiratur usque ab stirpe auctoritas, unde quidquid auditum dicant, nisi id appareat, famigeratori res sit cum damno et malo, hoc ita si fiat, publico fiat bono,
pauci sint faxim qui sciant quod nesciunt,
185 occlusioremque habeant stultiloquentiam. —

ACT II.

Lysiteles

Multás res simítu in meó corde vórso, multum ín cogitándo dolórem indipíscor:
egomét me coquo ét macero ét defetígo, magíster mihi éxercitór animus núnc est.
5 sed hóc non liquét neque satís cogitátumst, utrám potius hárum mihi ártem expetéssam, utram aétati agúndae arbitrér firmiórem:
amórin med án rei opsequí potius pár sit,
utra ín parte plús sit volúptatis vítae 10 ad aetatem agundam.
de hac ré mihi satis haú liquet; nisi hóc sic faciam, opínor, ut utrámque rem simul éxputem, iudéx sim reusque ad eám rem.
ita fáciam, ita placet; omniúm primum
Amóris artis eloquar quem ad modum expédiant.
15 numquam Ámor quemquam nisi cúpidum hominem postulát se in plagas conícere:
eos cúpit, eos consecatúr;
súbdole blanditur ab re cónsulit,
blandíloquentulus, harpagó, mendax, 20 cuppés, avarus, élegans, despoliator, latebrícolarum hominum córruptor, blandus inops célatum indagátor.
nam quí amat quod amat quom éxtemplo saviís sagittatis pérculsust,
25 ílico rés foras lábitur, líquitur.
‘dá mihi hoc, mél meum, sí me amas, si aúdes’.
ibi ille cuculus: “ocelle mi, fiat:
ét istuc et si ámplius vís dari, dábitur.”
ibi ílla pendentém ferit: iam ámplius orat;
30 nón satis id ést mali, ni ámplius étiam, quód ecbibit, quód comest, quód facit sump̄ti.
nóx datur: dúcitur fámilia tóta, véstiplica, unctor, auri custos, flabellíferae, sandaligerulae, cantrices, cistellatrices, nuntii, renuntii, 35 raptóres panis et peni;

fit ípse, dum illis comis est, inóps amator.
haec égo quom ago cúm meo animo ét recolo, ubi quí eget, quam preti sít parvi:
apagé te, Amor, nóñ places níl te utor;
40 quamquam íllud est dúlce, esse ét bibere, Amór amara dát tamen, satis quod aegre sit:
fugít fórum, fugitat suos cógnatos, fugat ípsus se ab suo cóntutu,
neque eúm sibi amicum vólunt dici.
45 millé modis, Amor, ignórandu's, procul abhibendu's atque abstandu's, nam qui ín amorem praecípítavit, peiús perit quasi saxó saliat:
apagé te, Amor, tuas res tíbi habeto, 50 Amor, míhi amicus ne fúas umquam;
sunt támen quos miseros máleque habeas,
quos tíbi obnoxios fecísti.
certúmst ad frugem adplicáre animum, quamquam íbi labos grandis cápitur.
55 boni síbi haec expetúnt, rem, fídem, honorem, gloriam ét gratiam: hoc probis prétiumst.
eo míhi magis lubet cum próbis potius quam cum ímprobis vivere vánidicis.

Philo

Quo illíc homo foras se pénetravit ex aedíbus?

Lys.

Pater, adsum, imperá quidvis, neque tíbi ero in mora neque látebrose me abs tuó conspectu occúltabo.

Ph.

5 Féceris pár tuis ceteris fáctis, patrém tuom si pércoles per pietatem.

nólo ego cum ímprobis té viris, gnáte mi, neque ín via, neque ín foro necúllum sermonem éxsequi nóvi ego hoc saeculum móribus quíbus siet:

10 malús bonum malum ésse volt, ut sít sui similis;

turbánt, miscent morés mali: rapáx avarus ínvidus sacrúm profanum, públicum privátum habent, hiúlca gens.

haec égo doleo, haec súnt quae me excruciánt, haec dies noctésque tibi canto út caveas.

15 quod mánu non queunt tangére tantum fas hábent quo manus abstíneant,

cetéra: rape trahe, fuge láte — lacrumas

haec míhi quom video elíciunt, quia ego ád hoc genus hominum dúravi.

quin príus me ad plures pénetravi?

20 nam hi móres maiorúm laudant, eosdém lutitant quos cónlaudent.

hisce égo de artibus gratiám facio, ne cólas neve imbuas íngenium.

meo módo et moribus vivito ántiquis, quae ego tíbi praecipio, ea fácito.

nihil égo istos moror faeceós mores, turbidós, quibus boni dedécorant se.

25 haec tíbi si mea imperiá capesses, multá bona in pectore cónsident.

Lys.

Sémper ego usque ad hanc aetatem ab ineunte adulescentia tuis serviví servitutem imperiis et praeceptis, pater.

pro ingenio ego me liberum esse ratus sum, pro imperio tuo meum animum tibi servitutem servire aequom censui.

Phil.

30 Quí homo cum animo inde ab ineunte aetate depugnat suo, utrum itane esse mavelit ut eum animus aequom censeat, an ita potius ut parentes eum esse et cognati velint:

si animus hominem pepulit, actumst: animo servit, non sibi;

si ipse animum pepulit, dum vivit victor victorum cluet.

35 tu si animum vicisti potius quam animus te, est quod gaudeas.

nimio satiust, ut opust té ita ésse, quam ut animo lubet:
qui animum vincunt, quam quos animus, semper probiores cluent.

Lys.

Istaec ego mi semper habui aetati integumentum meae;
ne penetrarem me usquam ubi esset damni conciliabulum 40 neu noctu irem obambulatum neu suom adimerem alteri neu tibi aegritudinem, pater, párerem, parsi sedulo:
sarta tecta tua praecepta usque habui mea modestia.

Phil.

Quid exprobras? bene quod fecisti tibi fecisti, non mihi;
mihi quidem aetas actast ferme: tua istuc refert maxime.
45 is probus est quem paenitet quam probus sit et frugi bonae;
qui ipse sibi satis placet, nec probus est nec frugi bonae:
qui ipse se contemnit, in eost indoles industriae.
bene facta bene factis aliis pertegito, ne perpluant.

Lys.

Ob eam rem haec, pater, autumavi, quia res quaedamst quam volo 50 ego me abs te exorare.

Phil.

Quid id est? dare iam veniam gestio.

Lys.

Adulescenti hinc genere summo, amico atque aequali meo, minus qui caute et cogitate suam rem tractavit, pater, bene volo ego illi facere, si tu non nevis.

Phil.

Nempe dé tuo?

Lys.

De meo: nam quod tuomst meumst, ómne meumst autem tuom.

Phil.

55 Quid is? egetne?

Lys.
Eget.

Phil.
Habuitne rem?

Lys.
Habuit.

Phil.
Quí eam perdidit?
publicisne adfinis fuit an maritumis negotiis?
mercaturan, an venales habuit ubi rem perdidit?

L.
Nihil istorum.

P.
Quid igitur?

L.
Per comitatem edepol, pater;
praeterea aliquantum animi causa in deliciis disperdidit.

Phil.
60 Edepol hominem praemandatum ferme familiariter, qui quidem núsquam per virtutem rem confregit, atque eget;
nil moror eum tibi esse amicum cum eius modi virtutibus.

Lys.
Quia sine omni malitias, tolerare eius égestatem volo.

Phil.
De mendico male meretur qui ei dat quod edit aut bibat;
65 nam et illud quod dat perdit ét illi prodit vitam ad miseriam.
non eo haec díco, quin quae tu vis ego velim et faciam lubens:
sed ego hoc verbum quom illi quoidam dico, praemonstro tibi, ut ita te aliorum miserescat, ne tis alios misereat.

Lys.

Deserere illum et deiuvare in rebus advorsis pudet.

Phil.

70 Pol pudere quam pigere praestat, totidem litteris.

Lys.

Edepol, deum virtute dicam, pater, et maiorum et tua multa bóna bene parta habemus, bene si amico feceris ne pigeat fecisse, ut potius pudeat si non feceris.

Phil.

De magnis divitiis si quid demas, plus fit an minus?

Lys.

75 Minus, pater; sed civi immuni scin quid cantari solet?
“quod habes né habeas et illúc quod non habes habeas, malum, quandoquidem nec tibi bene esse pote pati neque alteri.”

Phil.

Scio equidem istuc ita solere fieri; verum, gnate mi, is est immunis, cui nihil est qui munus fungatur suom.

Lys.

80 Deum virtute habemus et qui nosmet utamur, pater, et aliis qui comitati simus benevolentibus.

Phil.

Non edepol tibi pernegare possum quicquam quod velis. cuí egestatem tolerari vis? eloquere audacter patri.

Lys.

Lesbonico huic adulescenti, Charmidai filio,
85 qui illic habitat.

Phil.

Quin comedit quod fuit, quod non fuit?

Lys.

Ne opprobra, pater; multa eveniunt homini quae volt, quae nevolt.

Phil.

Mentire edepol, gnate, atque id nunc facis haud consuetudine.
nam sapiens quidem pol ipse fingit fortunam sibi:
eo non multa quae nevolt eveniunt, nisi fictor malust.

Lys.

90 Multa illi opera opust ficturae, qui se fictorem probum vitae agundae esse expetit: sed hic admodum adulescentulust.

Phil.

Non aetate, verum ingenio apiscitur sapientia;
sapienti aetas condimentum, sapiens aetati cibust.
agedum eloquere, quid dare illi nunc vis?

Lys.

Nil quicquam, pater;
95 tu modo ne me prohibeas accipere, si quid det mihi.

Phil.

An eo egestatem ei tolerabis, si quid ab illo acceperis?

L.

Eo, pater.

P.

Pol ego istam volo me rationem edoceas.

L.

Licet.

scin tu illum quo genere natus sit?

Phil.

Scio, adprime probo.

Lys.

Soror illi est adulta virgo grandis: eam cupio, pater,
100 ducere uxorem sine dote.

Phil.

Sine dote uxorem?

Lys.

Ita;

tua re salva hoc pacto ab illo summam inibis gratiam, neque commodius ullo pacto ei poteris auxiliari.

Phil.

Egone indotatam te uxorem ut patiar?

Lys.

Patiundumst, pater;

et eo pacto addideris nostrae lepidam famam familiae.

Phil.

105 Multa ego possum docta dicta et quamvis facunde loqui, historiam veterem atque antiquam haec mea senectus sustinet;
verum ego quando te et amicitiam et gratiam in nostram domum video adlicere, etsi adversatus tibi fui, istac iudico:
tibi permitto; posce, duce.

Lys.

Di te servassint mihi.

110 sed adde ad istam gratiam unum.

P.

Quid id est autem unum?

L.

Eloquar.

tute ad eum adeas, tute concilies, tute poscas.

Phil.

Eccere.

Lys.

Nimio citius transiges: firmum omne erit quod tu egeris.
gravius tuum erit unum verbum ad eam rem quam centum mea.

Phil.

Ecce autem in benignitate hoc repperi, negotium.

115 dabitur opera.

Lys.

Lepidus vivis. haec sunt aedes, hic habet;
Lesbonico est nomen. age, rem cura. ego te opperiar domi. —

Phil.

Non optuma haec sunt, neque ut ego aequom censeo;
verum meliora sunt quam quae deterruma.

sed hoc me unum consolatur atque animum meum, quia qui nihil aliud nisi quod sibi soli placet

5 consulit advorsum filium, nugas agit:

miser ex animo fit, factius nihilo facit.

suae senectuti is acriorem hiemem parat, quom illam importunam tempestatem conciet.

sed aperiuntur aedes quo ibam: commodum

10 ipse exit Lesbonicus cum servo foras.

Lesbonicus

Minus quindecim dies sunt, quom pro hisce aedibus minas quadraginta accepisti a Callicle.

estne hoc quod dico, Stasime?

Stasimus

Quom considero,

meminisse videor fieri.

Lesb.

Quid factumst eo?

Stas.

5 Comessum, expotum; exussum: elotum in balineis, piscator, pistor apstulit, lanii, coqui, holitores, myropolae, aucupes: confit cito;

non hercle minus divorce distrahitur cito, quam si tu obicias formicis papaverem.

Lesb.

10 Minus hercle in istis rebus sumptumst sex minis.

Stas.

Quid quod dedisti scortis?

Lesb.

Ibidem una traho.

Stas.

Quid quod égo defrudavi?

Lesb.

Em, istaec ratio maxumast.

Stas.

Non tibi illud apparere, si sumas, potest;
nisi tu immortale rere esse argentum tibi.

Phil.

15 Sero atque stulte, prius quod cautum oportuit, postquam comedit rem, post rationem putat.

Lesb.

Nequaquam argenti ratio comparet tamen.

Stas.

Ratio quidem hercle apparet: argentum οἷχεται.
minas quadraginta accepisti a Callicle,
20 et ille aedis mancipio abs te accepit?

Lesb.

Admodum.

Phil.

Pol opino adfinis noster aedis vendidit;
pater quom peregre veniet, in portast locus,
nisi forte in ventrem filio conrepserit.

Stas.

Trapezítae mille drachumarúm Olympico,
25 quas de ratione dehibuisti, redditae?

Lesb.

Nempe quás spopondi.

Stas.

Immó ‘quas dependi’ inquito †qua sponsione pronuper tu exactus es pro illo adolescente, quem tu esse aibas divitem.

L.

Factum.

S.

Vt quidem illud perierit.

L.

Factum id quoque est.

30 nam nunc eum vidi miserum et me eius miseritumst.

Stas.

Miseret te aliorum, tui nec miseret nec pudet.

Phil.

Tempust adeundi.

Lesb.

Éstne hic Philto qui advenit? is herclest ipsus.

Stas.

Edepol né ego istum velim meum fieri servom cum suo peculio.

Phil.

35 Erum atque servom plurumum Philto iubet salvere, Lesbonicum et Stasimum.

Lesb.

Di duint
tibi, Philto, quaequomque optes. quid agit filius?

Phil.

Bene volt tibi.

Lesb.

Edepol mutuom mecum facit.

Stas.

Nequam illud verbumst 'bene volt', nisi qui bene facit.
40 ego quoque volo esse liber: nequiquam volo;
hic postulet frugi esse: nugas postulet.

Phil.

Meus gnátus me ad te misit, inter te atque nos adfinitem ut conciliarem et gratiam.
tuam vólt sororem ducere uxorem; et mihi
45 sententia eademst et volo.

Lesb.

Hau nosco tuom:
bonis tuis rebus meas res inrides malas.

Phil.

Homo ego sum, homo tu es: ita me amabit Iuppiter, neque te derisum advenio neque dignum puto.
verum hoc quod dixi: meus me oravit filius,
50 ut tuam sororem poscerem uxorem sibi.

Lesb.

Mearúm me rerum novisse aequomst ordinem.
cum vostra nostra non est aequa factio.
adfinitatem vobis aliam quaerite.

Stas.

Satin tu es sanus mentis aut animi tui,
55 qui condicionem hanc repudies? nam illum tibi ferentárium esse amicum inventum intellego.

Lesb.

Abin hínc dierecte?

Stas.

Si hercle ire occipiam, votes.

Lesb.

Nisi quid me aliud vis, Philto, respondi tibi.

Phil.

Benigniore, Lesbouice, te mihi,
60 quam nunc experior esse, confido fore;
nam et stulte facere et stulte fabularier, utrumque, Lesbouice, in aetate hau bonumst.

Stas.

Verum hercle hic dicit.

Lesb.

Oculum ego ecfodiam tibi, si verbum addideris.

Stas.

Hercle qui dicam tamen;
65 nam si sic non licebit, luscus dixero.

Phil.

Ita tu nunc dicis, non esse aequiperabiles vostras cum nostris factiones atque opes?

Lesb.

Dico.

Phil.

Quid? nunc si in aedem ad cenam veneris atque ibi opulentus tibi par forte obvenerit 70 (adposita cena sit, popularem quam vocant), si illi congestae sint epulae a cluentibus:
si quid tibi placeat quod illi congestum siet, edisne an incenatus cum opulento accubes?

Lesb.

Edim, nisi si ille votet.

Stas.

At pol ego etsi votet 75 edim, atque ambabus malis expletis vorem, et quod illi placeat praeripiam potissimum, neque illi concedam quicquam de vita mea.
verecundari neminem apud mensam decet, nam ibi de divinis atque humanis cernitur.

Phil.

80 Rem fabulare.

Stas.

Non tibi dicam dolo:
decedam ego illi de via, de semita,
de honore populi; verum quod ad ventrem attinet,
non hercle hoc longe, nisi me pugnīs vicerit.
cena hac annona est sine sacris hereditas.

Phil.

85 Semper tu hoc facito, Lesbōnice, cogites, id optumum esse, tute uti sis optumus;
si id nequeas, saltem ut optumis sis proximus.

nunc condicionem hanc, quam ego fero et quam abs te peto, dare atque accipere, Lesbonice, te volo.

90 di divites sunt, deos decent opulentiae et factiones, verum nos homunculi, satillum animai qui quom extemplo emisimus, aequo mendicus atque ille opulentissimus censetur censu ad Acheruntem mortuos.

Stas.

95 Mirum quin tu illo tecum divitias feras.
ubi mortuos sis, ita sis ut nomen cluet.

Phil.

Nunc ut scias hic factiones atque opes non esse neque nos tuam neglegere gratiam, sine dote posco tuam sororem filio.
100 quae res bene vortat — habeon pactam? quid taces?

Stas.

Pro di immortales, condicionem quouis modi.

Phil.

Quin fabulare ‘di bene vortant, spondeo’?

Stas.

Eheú ubi usus nil erat dícto, spondeo dicebat; nunc hic, quom opus est, non quit dicere.

Lesb.

105 Quom adfinitate vostra me arbitramini dignum, habeo vobis, Philto, magnam gratiam.
sed si haec res graviter cecidit stultitia mea, Philto, est ager sub urbe hic nobis: eum dabo dotem sorori; nam is de divitiis meis
110 solus superfit praeter vitam reliquos.

Phil.

Profecto dotem nil moror.

Lesb.

Certumst dare.

Stas.

Nostramne, ere, vis nutricem, quae nos educat, abalienare a nobis? cave sis feceris.

quid edemus nosmet postea?

Lesb.

Etiam tu taces?

115 tibi ego rationem reddam?

Stas.

Plane periimus,
nisi quid ego comminiscor. Philto, te volo.

P.

Si quid vis, Stasime.

S.

Huc cóncede aliquantum.

P.

Licet.

Stas.

Arcano tibi ego hoc dico, ne ille ex te sciat neve alius quisquam.

Phil.

Crede audacter quidlubet.

Stas.

120 Per deos atque homines dico, ne tu illunc agrum tuom síris umquam fieri neque gnati tui.
ei rei argumenta dicam.

Phil.

Audire edepol lubet.

Stas.

Primum omnium olim terra cum proscinditur, in quinto quoque sulco moriuntur boves.

Phil.

125 Apage, Acheruntis ostium in vtrost agro.

Stas.

Tum vinum prius quam coctumst pendet putidum.

Lesb.

Consuadet homini, credo. etsi scelestus est,
at mi infidelis non est.

Stas.

Audi cetera.

post id, frumenti quom alibi messis maximast, 130 tribus tantis illi minus redit quam opseveris.

Phil.

Em istic oportet opseri mores malos, si in opserendo possint interfieri.

Stas.

Neque umquam quisquamst, quouis ille ager fuit,
quin pessume ei res vorterit: quouum fuit, 135 alii exulatum abierunt, alii emortui, alii se suspendere. em nunc hic quouis est,
ut ad incitas redactust.

Phil.

Apage a me istum agrum.

Stas.

Magis apage dicas, si omnia ex me audiveris.
nam fulguritae sunt alternae árbores;
140 sues moriuntur angina acerrume;
oves scabrae sunt, tam glabrae, em, quam haec est manus.

tum autem Surorum, genus quod patientissimumst hominum, nemo extat qui ibi sex menses vixerit:
ita cuncti solstitiali morbo decidunt.

Phil.

145 Credo ego istuc, Stasime, ita esse; sed Campans genus multo Surorum iam antidit patientia.
sed istést ager profecto, ut te audiui loqui, malos in quem omnes publice mitti decet, sicut fortunatorum memorant insulas, 150 quo cuncti qui aetatem egerint caste suam conveniant; contra istoc detrudi maleficos aequom videtur, qui quidem istius sit modi.

Stas.

Hospitium est calamitatis: quid verbis opust?
quamvis malam rem quaeras, illic reperias.

Phil.

155 At tu hercle et illi et alibi.

Stas.

Cave sis dixeris me tibi dixisse hoc.

Phil.

Dixisti arcano satis.

Stas.

Quin hic quidem cúpit illum ab se abalienarier, si quem reperire possit cui os sublinat.

Phil.

Meus quídem hercle numquam fiet.

Stas.

Si sapies quidem.

160 lepide hercle dé agro ego hunc senem deterrui;

nam qui vivamus nihil est, si illum amiserit.

Phil.

Redeo ad te, Lesbonice.

Lesb.

Dic sodes mihi,
quid hic est locutus tecum?

Phil.

Quid censes? homost:
volt fieri liber, verum quod det non habet.

Lesb.

165 Et ego esse locuples, verum nequiquam volo.

Stas.

Licitumst, si velles; nunc, quom nihil est, non licet.

Lesb.

Quid tecum, Stasime?

Stas.

De istoc quod dixti modo:
si ante voluisses, esses; nunc sero cupis.

Phil.

De dote mecum convenire nil potest:
170 quid tibi lubet tute agito cum nato meo.
nunc tuam sororem filio posco meo.
quae res bene vortat. quid nunc? etiam consulis?

Lesb.

Quid istíc? quando ita vis: di bene vortant. spondeo.

Stas.

Numquam edepol quoiquam tam expectatus filius 175 natus quam illuc est spondeo natum mihi.

di fortunabunt vostra consilia.

Phil.

Ita volo.

Lesb.

Sed, Stasime, abi huc ad meam sororem ad Calliclem, dic hoc negoti quo modo actumst.

Stas.

Ibitur.

Lesb.

Et gratulator meae sorori.

Stas.

Scilicet.

Phil.

180 I hac, Lesbonice, mecum, ut coram nuptiis dies cónstituatur; eadem haec confirmabimus. —

Lesb.

Tu ístuc cura quod iussi. ego iam hic ero. — dic Callicli, me ut convenat.

Stas.

Quin tu i modo.

Lesb.

De dote ut videat quid opus sit facto.

Stas.

I modo.

Lesb.

185 Nam certumst sine dote haud dare.

Stas.

Quin tu i modo.

Lesb.

Neque enim illi damno umquam esse patiar

Stas.

Abi modo.

Lesb.

Meam néglegentiam.

Stas.

I modo.

Lesb.

Nullo modo
aequom videtur quin quod peccarim

Stas.

I modo.

Lesb.

Potissimum mi id obsit.

Stas.

I modo.

Lesb.

O pater,
190 enumquam aspiciam te? —

Stas.

I modo, i modo, i modo.
tandem impetravi abiret. di vestram fidem, edepol re gesta pessume gestam probe, si quidem ager nobis salvos est; etsi admodum in ambiguo est etiam nunc quid ea re fuat.
195 sed id si alienatur, actumst de collo meo, gestandust peregre clupeus, galea, sarcina:

effugiet ex urbe, ubi erunt factae nuptiae, ibít istac, aliquo, in maximam malam crucem, latrocinatum, aut in Asiam aut in Ciliciam.
200 ibo huc quo mi imperatumst, etsi odi hanc domum, postquam exturbavit hic nós ex nostris aedibus. —

ACT III.

Callicles

Quó modo tu istuc, Stasime, dixti?

Stasimvs

Nostrum erilem filium

Lesbonicum suam sororem despondisse. em hoc modo.

Call.

Cuí homini despondit?

Stas.

Lysiteli Philtonis filio,
sine dote.

Call.

Sine dote ille illam in tantas divitias dabit?

5 non credibile dicis.

Stas.

At tu édepol nullus creduas.
si hoc non credis, ego credidero —

C.

Quid?

S.

Me nihili pendere.

Call.

Quam dudum istuc aut ubi actumst?

Stas.

Illico hic ante ostium, tam modo, inquit Praenestinus.

Call.

Tanton in re perdita, quam in re salva Lesbonicus factus est frugalior?

Stas.

10 Atque equidem ipse ultro venit Philto oratum filio.

Call.

Flagitium quidem hercle fiet, nisi dos dabitur virgini.
postremo edepol ego istam rem ad me áttinere intellego.
ibo ad meum castigatorem atque ab eo consilium petam. —

Stas.

Propemodum quid illic festinet sentio et subolet mihi:
15 ut agro evortat Lesbonicum, quando evortit aedibus.
o ere Charmides, quam apsentí hic tua res distrahitur tibi!
utinam te rediisse salvom videam, ut inimicos tuos ulciscare, ut míhi, ut erga te fui et sum, referas gratiam.
nimium difficilest reperiri amicum ita ut nomen cluet, 20 quoi tuam quom rem credideris, síne omni cura dormias.
sed generum nostrum ire eccillum video cum adfini suo.
nescio quíd non satis inter eos convenit: celeri gradu eunt uterque, ille reprehendit hunc priorem pallio.
haud ineuscheme astiterunt. huc aliquantum apscessero:
25 est lubido orationem audire duorum adfinium.

Lysiteles

Sta ilico, noli avorsari neque te occultassis mihi.

Lesbonicvs

Potin ut me ire quo profectus sum sinas?

Lys.

Si in rem tuam,

Lesbonice, esse videatur, gloriae aut famae, sinam.

Lesb.

Quod est facillumum, facís.

Lys.

Quid id est?

Lesb.

Amico iniuriam.

Ly.

5 Neque meumst neque facere didici.

Le.

Indoctus quam docte facis.

quid faceres, si quis docuisset te, ut sic odio esses mihi?

qui bene cum simulas facere mihi te, male facis, male consulis.

Lys.

Egone?

Lesb.

Tune.

Lys.

Quid male facio?

Lesb.

Quod ego nolo, id cum facis.

Lys.

Tuae rei bene consulere cupio.

Lesb.

Tu mihi es melior quam egomet mihi?

10 sat sapio, satis in rem quae sint meam ego conspicio mihi.

Lys.

An id est sapere, ut qui beneficium a benevolente repudies?

Lesb.

Nullum beneficium ésse duco id quod quoi facias non placet.
scio ego et sentio ipse quid agam, neque mens officio migrat, nec tuis depellar dictis quin rumori serviam.

Lys.

15 Quid ais? nam retineri nequeo quin dicam ea quae promeres:
itan tandem hanc maiores famam tradiderunt tibi tui, ut virtute eorum anteparta per flagitium perderes?
atque honori posterorum tuorum ut vindex fieres, tibi paterque avosque facilem fecit et planam viam 20 ad quaerendum honorem: tu fecisti ut difficilis foret, culpa maxume et desidia tuisque stultis moribus.
praeoptavisti, amorem tuom uti virtuti praeponeres.
nunc te hoc pacto credis posse optegere errata? aha, non itast:
cape sis virtutem animo et corde expelle desidiam tuo:
25 in foro operam amicis da, ne in lecto amicae, ut solitus es.
atque ego istum agrum tibi relinqui ób eam rem enixe expeto, ut tibi sit qui te corrigere possis, ne omnino inopiam cives obiectare possint tibi, quos tu inimicos habes.

Lesb.

Omnia ego istaec quae tu dixti scio, vel exsignavero, 30 ut rem patriam et gloriam maiorum foedarim meum:
scibam ut esse me deceret, facere non quibam miser;
ita vi Veneris vinctus, otio captus in fraudem incidi.
et tibi nunc, proinde ut merere, summas habeo gratias.

Lys.

At operam perire meam sic et te haec dicta corde spernere † 35 perpeti nequeo, simul me piget parum pudere te;
et postremo, nisi mi auscultas atque hoc ut dico facis, tute pone te latebis facile, ne inveniat te Honor, in occulto iacebis cum te maxume clarum voles.

pernovi equidem, Lesbouice, ingenium tuom ingenuom admodum;
40 scio te sponte non tuapte errasse, sed amorem tibi pectus opscurasse; atque ipse Amoris teneo omnis vias.
ita est amor, ballista ut iacitur: nihil sic celere est neque volat;
atque is mores hominum moros et morosos efficit:
minus placet magis quód suadetur, quod dissuadetur placet;
45 quom inopiast, cupias, quando eius copias, tum non velis;
ille qui aspéllit is compellit, ille qui cónsuadet vetat.
insanum et malumst in hospítium devorti ad Cupidinem.
sed te moneo hoc etiam atque etiam, ut reputes quid facere expetas.
si istuc, ut conare, facis † indicium tuom incendes genus;
50 tum igitur tibi aquae érit cupido, genus qui restinguas tuom, atque sí eris nactus, proinde ut corde amantes sunt cati — ne scintillam quidem relinques, genus qui conglicat tuom.

Lesb.

Facilest inventu: datur ignis, tametsi ab inimico petas.
sed tu obiurgans me a peccatis rapis deteriozem in viam.
55 meam vis sororem tibi dem suades sine dote. aha, non convenit me, qui abusus sum tantam rem patriam, porro in ditiis esse agrumque habere, egere illam autem, ut me merito oderit.
numquam erit alienis gravis qui suis se concinnat levem.
sicut dixi, faciam: nolo te iactari diutius.

Lys.

60 Tanto meliust te sororis causa egestatem exsequi atque eum agrum me habere, quam te, tua qui tolereas moenia?

Lesb.

Nolo ego mihi te tam prospicere, qui meam egestatem leves, sed ut inops infamis ne sim, ne mi hanc famam differant, me germanam meam sororem in concubinatum tibi, 65 si sine dote dem, dedisse magis quam in matrimonium.
quis me improbius perhibeatur esse? haec famigeratio té honestet, me conlulentet, si sine dote duxeris:
tibi sit emolumentum honoris, mihi quod obiectent siet.

Lys.

Quid? te dictatorem censes fore, si aps té agrum acceperim?

Lesb.

70 Neque volo neque postulo neque censeo, verum tamen is est honos homini pudico, meminisse officium suum.

Lys.

Scio equidem te animatus ut sis; video, subolet, sentio:
id agis, ut, ubi adfinitatem inter nos nostram adstrinxeris atque eum agrum dederis nec quicquam hic tibi sit qui vitam colas, 75 effugias ex urbe inanis; profugus patriam deseres, cognatos, adfinitatem, amicos factis nuptiis:
mea opera hinc proterritum te meaque avaritia autument.
id me commissurum ut patiar fieri, ne animum induxeris.

Stas.

Non enim pōssum quin exclamem euge. euge, Lysiteles, πάλιν.
80 facile palmam habes: hic victust, vicit tua comoedia.
hic agit magis ex argumento et versus melioris facit.
etiam ob stultitiam tuam te † curis multabo mina.

Lesb.

Quid tibi intérpellatio aut in consilium huc accessio est?

S.

Eodem pacto, quo huc accessi, apscessero.

Le.

I hac mecum domum,
85 Lysiteles, ibi de istis rebus plura fabulabimur.

Lys.

Nil ego in occulto agere soleo. meus ut animust, eloquar:
si mihi tua soror, ut ego aequom censeo, ita nuptum datur, sine dote, neque tu hinc abituru's, quod meum erit id erit tuom;
sin aliter animatus es, bene quod agas eveniat tibi,

90 ego amicus numquam tibi ero alio pacto. sic sententia est. —

Stas.

Abiit hercle ille quidem. ecquid audis, Lysiteles? ego te volo.
hic quoque hinc ábiit. Stasime, restas solus. quid ego nunc agam, nisi uti sarcinam constringam et clupeum ad dorsum accommodem, fulmentas iubeam suppingi soccis? non sisti potest.

95 video caculam militarem me futurum haud longius:
ad aliquem regem in saginam erus sésé coniciet meus;
credo ad summos bellatores acrem fugitorem fore et capturum spolia ibi illum quí meo ero adversus venerit.
egomet autem quom extemplo arcum mihi et pharetram et ságittas sumpsero,

100 cassidem in caput, dormibo placide ín tabernaculo.
ad forum ibo: nudius sextus quoi talentum mutuom dedi, reposcam, ut habeam, mecum quod feram, viaticum. —

Megaronides

Vt mihi rem narras, Callicles, nullo modo potest fieri prosus quin dos detur virgini.

Callicles

Namque hercle honeste fieri ferme non potest, ut eam perpetiar ire in matrimonium
5 sine dote, quom eius rem penes me habeam domi.

Meg.

Parata dos domist; nisi expectare vis,
ut eam sine dote frater nuptum conlocet.
post adeas tute Philtonem et dotem dare te ei dicas, facere id eius ob amícitiam patris.

10 verum hoc ego vereor, ne istaec pollicitatio te in crimen populo ponat atque infamiam;
non temere dicant te benignum virgini:
datam tibi dotem, ei quam dares, eius a patre, ex ea largiri te illi, neque ita ut sit data 15 columem te sistere illi, et detraxe autument.

nunc si opperiri vis adventum Charmidi, perlongumst: huic ducendi interea abscesserit lubido; atque ea condicio huic vel primaria est.

Call.

Nam hercle omnia istaec veniunt in mentem mihi.
20 vide si hoc utile magis atque in rem deputas, ut adeam Lesbonicum, edoceam ut res se habet.
sed ut ego nunc adulescenti thesaurum indicem indomito, pleno amoris ac lasciviae?
minime, minime hercle vero. nam certo scio, 25 locum quoque illum omnem, ubi situst, comederit;
quem fodere metuo, sonitum ne ille exaudiat
neu rem ipsam indaget, dotem dare si dixerim.

Meg.

Quo pacto ergo igitur clam dos depromi potest?

Call.

Dum occasio ei rei reperiatur, interim
30 ab amico alicunde mutuom argentum rogem.

Meg.

Potin est ab amico alicunde exorari?

Call.

Potest.

Meg.

Gerrae. ne tu illud verbum actutum inveneris:
'mihi quidem hercle non est quod dem mutuom.'

Call.

Malim hercle ut verum dicas, quam ut des mutuom.

Meg.

35 Sed vide consilium, si placet.

Call.

Quid consilist?

Meg.

Scitum, ut ego opinor, consilium inveni.

Call.

Quid est?

Meg.

Homo cōducatur aliquis iam, quantum potest,
quasi sit peregrinus.

Call.

Quid is scit facere postea?
ignota facie, quae hic non visitata sit;
40 mendacilocum aliquem

Call.

Quid is scit facere postea?
falsidicum, confidentem.

Call.

Quid tum postea?

Meg.

Is homo exornetur graphice in peregrinum modum;
quasi ad adulescentem a patre ex Seleucia veniat, salutem ei nuntiet verbis patris:
45 illum bene gerere rem et valere et vivere, et eum redituum actutum; ferat epistulas duas, éas nos consignemus, quasi sint a patre:

det alteram illi, álteram dicat tibi dare sese velle.

Call.

Perge porro dicere.

Meg.

50 Seque aurum ferre virgini dotem a patre dicat patremque id iussisse aurum tibi dare.
tenes iam?

Call.

Propemodo, atque ausculto perlubens.

Meg.

Tum tú igitur demum adulescenti aurum dabis, ubi erit locata virgo in matrimonium.

Call.

55 Scite hercle sane.

Meg.

Hoc, ubi thensaurum effoderis, suspicionem ab adulescente amoveris:
censebit aurum esse a patre allatum tibi, tu de thensauro sumes.

Call.

Satis scite et probe;
quamquam hoc me aetatis sycophantari pudet.
60 sed epistulas quando opsignatas adferet, sed quom opsignatas attulerit epistulas nonne arbitraris eum adulescentem anuli paterni signum novisse?

Meg.

Etiam tu taces?

sescentae ad eam rem causae possunt conligi:

65 illum quem habuit perdidit, alium post fecit novom.†

iam si opsignatas non feret, dici hoc potest, apud pórtitorem eas resignatas sibi inspectasque esse. in huius modi negotio diem sermone terere segnities merast:

70 quam vis sermones possunt longi texier.

abi ad thensaurum iam confestim clanculum, servos ancillas amove. atque audin?

Call.

Quid est?

Meg.

Vxorem quoque eampse hanc rem uti celes face, nam pol tacere numquam quicquamst quod queat.

75 quid nunc stas? quin tu hinc amoves et te moves?

aperi, deprome inde auri ad hanc rem quod sat est, continuo operíto denuo; sed clanculum, sicut praecepi; cunctos exturba aedibus.

Call.

Ita faciam.

Meg.

At énim nimis lóngo sermone utimur,

80 diem conficimus quod iam properatost opus.

nihil est de signo quod vereare; me vide:

lepida est illa caúsa, ut commemoravi, dicere

apud pórtitores esse inspectas. denique diei tempus non vides? quid illúm putas,

85 natura illa atque ingenio? iam dudum ebriust.

quidvis probare poterit; tum, quod maxumumst, adferre, non petere hinc se dicet.

Call.

Iam sat est.

Meg.

Ego sycophantam iam conduco de foro epistulasque iam consignabo duas, 90 eumque húc ad adolescentem meditatatum probe mittam.

Call.

Eo ego igitur intro ad officium meum.
tu istuc age. —

Meg.

Actum reddam nugacissime. —

ACT IV.

Charmides

Salsípotenti et mulsípotenti Iovis frátri et Nerei Néptuno laetús lubens laudes ágo et grates gratiásque habeo et fluctibus salsis, quos pénes mei fuit saepé potestas, bonis meis quid foret et meaé vitae,

quom suís med ex locis ín patriam suavíssumam reducem fáciunt.

5 atque égo, Neptune, tibi ánte alios deos grátias ago atque habeo summas;

nam te ómnes saevomqué severumque atque ávidis moribus cómmemorant,

spurcíficum, immanem, intólerandum, vesánum: contra opera éxpertus, nam pól placido te et clémenti meo usqué modo, ut volui, usús sum in alto.

atque hánc tuam gloriam iam ánte auribus accéperam, et nobilest ápud homines,

10 paupéribus te parcére solitum, dités damnare atqué domare.

abi, laúdo, scis ordíne, ut aequomst, tractáre homines; hoc dís dignumst.

semper mendicis modesti sint.

fidús fuisti: infidum ésse iterant; nam apsqué foret te, sat scío in alto distráxissent disqué tulissent satellítes tui me miserúm foede

15 bonaque ómnia mea item uná mecum passím caeruleos pér campos:

ita iám quasi canes, haud sécus, circum stabánt navem turbinés venti, imbrés fluctusque atqué procellae infénsae frangere málum, ruere ántemnas, scindére vela, ni túa pax propitia fóret praesto.

apage á me sis, dehinc iám certumst otió dare me; satis pártum habeo 20 quibus aérumnis delúctavi, filió dum divitiás quaero.

sed quis hic est, qui in plateam íngreditur cum nóvo ornatu speciéque simul?

pol quámquam domi cupio, ópperiar, quam hic rém agat animum advortam.

Sycophanta

Huic ego die nomén Trinummo fáciam: nam ego operám meam tribus nummis hodie locavi ad artis nugatorias.
advenio ex Seleucia, Macedonia, Asia atque Arabia, quas ego neque oculis nec pedibus umquam usurpavi meis.
5 viden egestas quid negoti dat homini misero mali, quin ego nunc subigor trium nummum causa ut hasce epistulas dicam ab eo homine me accepisse, quem ego qui sit homo nescio neque noví, neque natus necne is fuerit, id solide scio.

Charm.

Pol hic quidem fungino generest: capite se totum tegit.
10 Hilurica facies videtur hominis, eo ornatu advenit.

Syc.

Ille qui mé conduxit, ubi conduxit, abduxit domum, quae voluit mihi dixit, docuit et praemonstravit prius, quo modo quicque agerem; nunc adeo si quid ego addidero amplius, eo conductor melius de me nugas conciliaverit.
15 ut ille me exornavit, ita sum ornatus; argentum hoc facit.
ipse ornamenta a chorago haec sumpsit suo periculo.
nunc ego si potero ornamentis hominem circumducere, dabo operam, ut me esse ipsum plane sycophantam sentiat.

Charm.

Quam magis spécto, minus placet mi haec hominis facies. mira sunt, 20 ni illic homost aut dormitator aut sector zonarius.
loca contemplat, circumspectat sese atque aedis noscitat.
credo edepol, quo mox furatum veniat speculatur loca.
magis lubidost opservare quid agat: ei rei operam dabo.

Syc.

Has regiones demonstravit mi ille conductor meus;
25 apud illas aedis sistendae mihi sunt sycophantiae.
fores pultabo.

Charm.

Ad nostras aedis hic quidem habet rectam viam.
hercle opinor mi advenienti hac noctu agitandumst vigilias.

Syc.

Aperite hoc, aperite. heus, ecquis his fóribus tutelam gerit?

Ch.

Quid, adulescens, quaeris? quid vis? quid istas pultas?

S.

Heus senex,

30 census cum sum, iuratori recte rationem dedi.

...

Lesbonicum hic adulescentem quaero in his regionibus ubi habitat, et item alterum ád istanc capitis albitudinem:
Calliclem aiebat vocari qui has dedit mi epistulas.

Charm.

35 Meum gnatum hic quidem Lesbonicum quaerit et amicum meum, cuí ego liberosque bonaque commendavi, Calliclem.

Syc.

Fac me, si scis, certiolem, hisce homines ubi habitent, pater.

Charm.

Quid eos quaeris? aut quis es? aut unde es? aut unde advenis?

Syc.

Multa simul rogitas, nescio quid expediam potissimum.

40 si unum quidquid singillatim et placide percontabere, et meum nómen et mea facta et itinera ego faxo scias.

Charm.

Faciam ita ut vis. agedum nomen tuom primum memora mihi.

Syc.

Magnum facinus incipissis petere.

Ch.

Quid ita?

Syc.

Quia, pater,

si ante lucem ire occipias a meo primo nomine,

45 concubium sit noctis prius quam ad postremum perveneris.

Charm.

Opus factost viatico ad tuom nomen, ut tu praedicas.

Syc.

Est minusculum alterum, quasi vixillum vinarium.

Charm.

Quid est tibi nomen, adolescens?

Syc.

Pax, id est nomen mihi.

hoc cotidianumst.

Charm.

Edepol nomen nugatorium,

50 quasi dicas, si quid crediderim tibi, pax — periisse ilico.

hic homo solide sycophantast. quid ais tu, adolescens?

Syc.

Quid est?

Charm.

Eloquere, isti tibi quid homines debent, quos tu quaeritas?

Syc.

Pater istius adolescentis dedit has duas mi epistulas,

Lesbonici. is mi est amicus.

Charm.

Teneo hunc manifestarium.

55 me sibi epistulas dedisse dicit. ludam hominem probe.

Syc.

Ita ut occepi, si animum advortas, dicam.

Charm.

Dabo operam tibi.

Syc.

Hanc me iussit Lesbónico suo gnato dare epistulam, et item hanc alteram suo amico Callicli iussit dare.

Charm.

Mihi quoque edepol, quom hic nugatur, contra nugari lubet.
60 ubi ipse erat?

Sy.

Bene rem gerebat.

Ch.

Ergo ubi?

Sy.

In Seleucia.

Ch.

Ab ipson istas accepisti?

Syc.

E manibus dedit mi ipse in manus.

Ch.

Qua facie est homo?

S.

Sesquipede quiddamst quam tu longior.

Charm.

Haeret haec res, siquidem ego apsens sum quam praesens longior.
novistin hominem?

Syc.

Ridicule rogitas, quicum una cibum
65 capere soleo.

Ch.

Quid est ei nomen?

Syc.

Quod edepol homini probo.

Charm.

Lubet audire.

Syc.

Illi edepol — illi — illi — vae misero mihi.

Charm.

Quid est negoti?

Syc.

Devoravi nomen imprudens modo.

Charm.

Non placet qui amicos intra dentes conclusos habet.

Syc.

Atque etiam modo vorsabatur mi in labris primoribus.

Charm.

70 Temperi huic hodie anteveni.

Syc.

Teneor manifesto miser.

Charm.

Iam recommentatu's nomen?

Syc.

Deum hercle me atque hominum pudet.

Ch.

Vide modo ut hóminem noveris.

S.

Tam quam me. fieri istuc solet,
quod in manu teneas atque oculis videas, id desideres.
litteris recomminiscar. C est principium nomini.

Ch.

75 Callias?

S.

Non est.

Ch.

Callippus?

S.

Non est.

Ch.

Callidemides?

S.

Non est.

Ch.

Callinicus?

S.

Non est.

Ch.

Callimarchus?

S.

Nil agis.

neque adeo edepol flocci facio, quando egomet memini mihi.

Charm.

At enim multi Lesbionici sunt hic: nisi nomen patris dices, non monstrare istos possum homines quos tu quaeritas.

80 quod ad exemplum est? coniectura si reperire possumus.

Syc.

Ad hoc exemplum est —

Charm.

An Chares? an Charmides?

Syc.

Enim Charmides.

em istic erit. qui istum di perdant. dixi ego iam dudum tibi:

...

Charm.

Te potius bene dicere aequomst homini amico, quam male.

Syc.

85 Satin inter labra atque dentes latuit vir minimi preti?

Ch.

Ne male loquere apsentis amico.

Syc.

Quid ergo ille ignavissimus mihi latitabat?

Charm.

Si appellasses, respondisset, nomine.
sed ipse ubi est?

S.

Pol illúm reliqui ad Rhadamantem in Cecropia insula.†

Ch.

Quis homo est me insipientior, qui ipse, egomet ubi sim, quaeritem?

90 sed nil disconducit huic rei. quid ais? quid hoc quod te rogo?

quos locos adiisti?

Syc.

Nimum mirimodis mirabiles.

Charm.

Lubet audire, nisi molestumst.

Syc.

Quin discupio dicere.

omnium prímum in Pontum advecti ad Arabiam terram sumus.

Ch.

Eho an etiam Arabiast in Ponto?

S.

Est: non illa ubi tus gignitur,

95 sed ubi apsinthium fit atque cunila gallinacea.

Charm.

Nimum graphicum hunc nugatorem. sed ego sum insipientior, qui egomet unde redeam hunc rogitem, quae ego sciam atque hic nesciat;

nisi quia lubet experiri, quo evasurust denique.

sed quid ais? quo inde isti porro?

Syc.

Si animum advortes, eloquar.

100 ad caput amnis, quod de caelo exoritur sub solio Iovis.

Ch.

Sub solio Iovis?

S.

Ita dico.

Ch.

E caelo?

S.

Atque e medio quidem.

Ch.

Eho an etiam ín caelum escendisti?

S.

Immo horiola advecti sumus, usque aqua advorsa per amnem.

Charm.

Eho an tu etiam vidisti Iovem?

Syc.

Alii di isse ad villam aiebant servis depromptum cibum.

105 deinde porro —

Charm.

Deinde porro nolo quicquam praedices.

Syc.

Sed —

Cha.

Abeo hercle, si es molestus. nam pudicum neminem,
Pax, referre oportet, qui aps terra ad caelum pervenerit.

Syc.

Faciam ita ut te velle video. sed monstra hosce homines mihi, quos ego quaero, quibus me oportet has deferre epistulas.

Charm.

110 Quid ais? tu nunc si forte eumpse Charmidem conspexeris, illum quem tibi istás dedisse commemoras epistulas, norisne hominem?

Syc.

Ne tu me edepol arbitrare beluam,
qui quidem nón novisse possim quicum aetatem exegerim.
an ille tam esset stultus, qui mihi mille nummum crederet 115 Philippum, quod me aurum deferre iussit ad gnatum suum atque ad amicum Calliclem, quoi rem aibat mandasse hic suam?
mihi concrederet, nisi me ille ét ego illum nossem approbe?

Charm.

Enim vero ego nunc sycophantae huic sycophantari volo, si hunc possum illo mille nummum Philippum circumducere, 120 quod sibi me dedisse dixit, quem ego qui sit homo nescio neque oculis ante hunc diem umquam vidi. eine aurum crederem, quoi, si capitis res sit, nummum numquam credam plumbeum?
adgrediundust hic homo mi astu. heus, Pax, te tribus verbis volo.

Syc.

Vel trecentis.

Charm.

Haben tu id aurum quod accepisti a Charmide?

Syc.

125 Atque etiam Philippúm, numeratum illius in mensa manu, mille nummum.

Charm.

Nempe ab ipso id accepisti Charmide?

Syc.

Mirum quin ab avo eius aut próavo acciperem, qui sunt mortui.

Ch.

Adolescens, cedo dum istuc aurum mi.

S.

Quod ego aurum dem tibi?

Ch.

Quod a me te accepisse fassu's.

S.

Aps te accepisse?

Ch.

Ita loquor.

S.

¹³⁰ Quis tu homo es?

Ch.

Qui mille nummum tibi dedi ego sum Charmides.

Syc.

Neque edepol tu is es neque hodie is umquam eris, auro huic quidem.
abi sis, nugator: nugari nugatori postulas.

Ch.

Charmides ego sum.

S.

Nequiquam hercle es, nam nihil auri fero.

nimis argute óbrepisti in eapse occasiuncula:

¹³⁵ postquam ego me aurum ferre dixi, post tu factu's Charmides;
prius tu non eras, quam aúri feci mentionem. nihil agis;
proin tu te, itidem ut charmidatus es, rursum recharmida.

Charm.

Quis ego sum igitur, siquidem is non sum qui sum?

Syc.

Quid id ad me attinet?

dúm ille ne sis quem ego esse nolo, sis mea caúsa qui lubet.

140 prius non is eras quí eras: nunc is factu's qui tum non eras.

Charm.

Age si quid agis.

Syc.

Quid ego agam?

Charm.

Aurum redde.

Syc.

Dormitas, senex.

Charm.

Fassu's Charmidem dedisse aurum tibi.

Syc.

Scriptum quidem.

Charm.

Properas an non properas ire actutum ab his regionibus, dormitator, prius quam ego hic te iubeo mulcari male?

Syc.

145 Quam ob rem?

Charm.

Quia illum quem ementitus es, ego sum ipsus Charmides, quem tibi epistulas dedisse aiebas.

Syc.

Eho, quaeso, an tu is es?

Charm.

Is enim vero sum.

Syc.

Ain tu tandem? is ipsusne es?

Charm.

Aio.

Syc.

Ipsus es?

C.

Ipsus, inquam, Charmides sum.

S.

Ergo ipsusne es?

C.

Ipsissimus.

abin hinc ab oculis?

Syc.

Enim véro serio, quoniam advenis —

150 vapulabis meo arbitrato ét novorum aedilium.

Charm.

At etiam maledicis?

Syc.

Immo, salvos quandoquidem advenis — di te perdant, si te flocci facio an periisses prius.

ego ob hanc operam argentum accepi, te macto infortunio:

ceterum qui sis, qui non sis, floccum non interdum.

155 ibo, ad illúm renuntiabo qui mihi tris nummos dedit, ut sciat se perdidisse. ego abeo. male vive et vale.

qui te di omnes advenientem peregre perdant, Charmides. —

Charm.

Postquam illic hinc ábiit, post loquendi libere videtur tempus venisse atque occasio.

160 iam dudum meum ille pectus pnngit aculeus, quid illí negoti fuerit ante aedis meas.

nam epistula illa mihi concenturiat metum in corde et illud mille nummum quam rem agat.

numquam edepol temere tinnit tintinnabulum:
165 nisi qui illud tractat aut movet, mutumst, tacet.
sed quis hic est, qui huc in plateam cursuram incipit?
lubet observare quid agat: huc concessero.

Stasimvs

Stasime, fac te propere celerem, recipe te ad dominum domum, ne subito metus exoriatur scapulis stultitia tua.
adde gradum, adpropera. iam dudum factumst, cum abiisti domo.
cave sis tibi, ne bubuli in te cottabi crebri crepent, 5 si aberis ab eri quaestione. ne destiteris currere.
ecce hominem te, Stasime, nihili: satin in thermipolio condalium es oblitus, postquam thermopotasti gutturem?
recipe te et recurre petere re recenti.

Charm.

Huic, quisquis est,
gurgulios exercitor: is hunc hominem cursuram docet.

Stas.

10 Quid, homo nihili, non pudet te? tribusne te poteris memoriam esse oblitum? an vero, quia cum frugi hominibus ibi bibisti, qui ab alieno facile cohiberent manus?
Truthus fuit, Cerconicus, Crinnus, Cercobulus, Collabus, oculicrepidae cruricrepidae, ferriteri mastigiae:
15 inter eosne homines condalium te redipisci postulas?
quorum eorum unus surrupuit currenti cursori solum.

Ch.

Ita me di ament, graphicum furem.

S.

Quid ego quod periit petam?
nisi etiam laborem ad damnum apponam epithecā insuper.
quin tu quod periit periisse ducis? cape vorsoriam,
20 recipe te ad erum.

Charm.

Non fugitivost hic homo, commeminit domi.

Stas.

Vtinam veteres hominum mores, veteres parsimoniae potius in maiore honore hic essent quam mores mali.

Charm.

Di immortales, basilica hic quidem facinora inceptat loqui.
vetera quaerit, vetera amare hunc more maiorum scias.

Stas.

25 Nam nunc mores nihili faciunt quod licet, nisi quod lubet:
ambitio iam more sanctast, liberast a legibus;
scuta iacere fugereque hostis more habent licentiam:
petere honorem pro flagitio more fit.

Charm.

Morem improbum.

Stas.

Strenuiores praeterire more fit.

Charm.

Nequam quidem.

Stas.

30 Mores leges perduxerunt iam in potestatem suam, magisque is sunt obnoxiosae quam parentes liberis.
eae miserae etiam ad parietem sunt fixae clavis ferreis, ubi malos mores adfigi nimio fuerat aequius.

Charm.

Lubet adire atque appellare hunc; verum ausculto perlubens 35 et metuo, si compellabo, ne aliam rem occipiat loqui.

Stas.

Neque istis quicquam lege sanctumst: leges mori serviunt, mores autem rapere properant qua sacrum qua publicum.

Charm.

Hercle istis malam rem magnam moribus dignumst dari.

S.

Nonne hoc publice animum advorti? nam id genus hominum omnibus

40 univorsis est advorsum atque omni populo male facit:
male fidem servando illis quoque abrogant etiam fidem, qui nil meriti; quippe eorum ex ingenio ingenium horum probant.
hoc qui in mentem venerit mihi? re ipsa modo commonitus sum.
si quoi mutuom quid dederis, fit pro proprio perditum:
45 quom repetas, inimicum amicum beneficio invenias tuo.
si mage exigere occupias, duarum rerum exoritur optio:
vel illud quod credideris perdas, vel illum amicum amiseris.

Ch.

Meus est hic quidem Stasimus servos.

S.

Nam ego talentum mutuom quoi dederam, talento inimicum mi emi, amicum vendidi.
50 sed ego sum insipientior, qui rebus curem publicis potius quam, id quod proximumst, meo tergo tutelam geram.
eo domum.

Ch.

Heus tu, asta ilico. audi.

S.

Heús tu, non sto.

Ch.

Te volo.

St.

Quid si ego me te velle nolo?

Ch.

Aha nimium, Stasime, saeviter.

S.

Emere meliust cui imperes.

Ch.

Pol ego emi atque argentum dedi;

55 sed si non dicto audiens est, quid ago?

Stas.

Da magnum malum.

Charm.

Bene mones, ita facere certumst.

Stas.

Nisi quidem es obnoxius.

Charm.

Si bonus es, obnoxius sum; sin secus es, faciam ut iubes.

Stas.

Quid id ad me attinet, bonisne servis tu utare an malis?

Charm.

Quia boni malique in ea re pars tibi est.

Stas.

Partem alteram

60 tibi permitto; illam alteram ápuđ me, quod bonist, apponito.

Charm.

Sí eris meritus, fiet. respice huc ad me. ego sum Charmides.

Stas.

Hem quis est qui mentionem homo hominis fecit optumi?

Charm.

Ipsus homo optumus.

Stas.

Mare terra caelum, di vestram fidem, satin ego oculis plane video? estne ipsus an non est? is est, 65 certe is est, is est profecto. o mí ere exoptatissime, salve.

Ch.

Salve, Stasime.

S.

Salvom te —

Ch.

Scio et credo tibi.
sed omitto alia, hoc mihi responde: liberi quid agunt mei, quos reliqui hic filium atque filiam?

Stas.

Vivont, valent.

Ch.

Nempe uterque?

S.

Vterque.

Ch.

Di me salvom et servatum volunt.
70 cetera intus otiose percontabor quae volo.
eamus intro, sequere.

S.

Quo tu té agis?

Ch.

Quonam nisi domum?

Stas.

Hicine nos habitare censes?

Charm.

Vbinam ego alibi censeam?

S.

Iam —

Ch.

Quid iam?

S.

Non sunt nostrae aedis istae.

Ch.

Quid ego ex te audio?

Stas.

Vendidit tuos natus aedis.

Charm.

Perii.

Stas.

Praesentariis

75 argenti minis numeratis —

Ch.

Quot?

S.

Quadraginta.

Ch.

Occidi.

quis eas emit?

Stas.

Callicles, cui tuam rem commendaveras;
is habitatum huc commigravit nosque exturbavit foras.

Charm.

Vbi nunc filius meus habitat?

Stas.

Hic in hoc posticulo.

Charm.

Male disperii.

Stas.

Credidi aegre tibi id, ubi audisses, fore.

Charm.

80 Ego miserrumis periclis sum per maria maxuma vectus, capitali periclo per praedones plurimos me servavi, salvos redii: nunc hic disperii miser, propter eosdem quorum causa fui hac aetate exercitus.
adimit animam mi aegritudo. Stasime, tene me.

Stas.

Visne aquam
85 tibi petam?

Ch.

Res quom animam agebat, tum esse offusam oportuit.

Callicles

Quid hoc híc clamoris audio ante aedis meas?

Charm.

O Callicles, o Callicles, o Callicles, qualine amico mea commendavi bona?

Call.

Probo et fideli et fido et cum magna fide.
5 et salve et salvom te advenisse gaudeo.

Charm.

Credo, omnia istaec sí ita sunt ut praedicas.
sed quis iste est tuos ornatus?

Call.

Ego dicam tibi.
thensaurum effodiebam intus, dotem, filiae tuae quae daretur. sed intus narrabo tibi 10 et hoc et alia. sequere.

Ch.

Stasime.

St.

Hem.

Ch.

Strenue

curre in Piraeum, atque unum curriculum face.
videbis iam illic navem qua advecti sumus.
iubeto Sangarionem quae imperaverim curare ut efferantur, et tu ito simul.
15 solutumst portitori iam portorium:
nihil est morae. i, i, ambula, actutum redi.

Stas.

Illic sum atque hic sum.

Call.

Sequere tu hac me intro. —

Charm.

Sequor. —

Stas.

Hic meo ero amicus solus firmus restitit, neque demutavit animum de firma fide,

20 quamquam labores multos

sed hic unus, ut ego suspicor, servat fidem.

† ob rem laborem eum ego cepisse censeo. —

ACT V.

Lysiteles

Hic homóst omnium hominum praécipuos, voluptátibus gaudiisque ántepotens:
ita cómmoda quae cupio éveniunt,
quod ago ádsequitur, subest, súbsequitur,
5 ita gaúdiis gaudium súppeditat.
módo me Stasimus Lesbónici servos convenit domi;
is mihi dixit, suom erum peregre huc advenisse Charmidem.
nunc mi is prope conveniundust, ut quae cum eius filio egi, ei rei fundus pater sit potior. eo quantum potest.
10 sed fores haé sonitu suo míhi moram obiciunt incommode.

Charmides

Neque fuit neque erit neque esse quemquam hominem in terra arbitror,
quói fides fidelitasque amicum erga aequiperet tuam;
nam exaedificavisset me ex his aedibus, apsque te foret.

Callicles

Si quid amicum erga bene feci aut consului fideliter, 5 non videor meruisse laudem, culpa caruisse arbitror.
nam beneficium, homini proprium quod datur, † prosumpserit, quod datum utendumst, id repetundi copias quando velit.

Charm.

Est ita ut tu dicis. sed ego hoc nequeo mirari satis,
eum sororem despondisse suam in tam fortem familiam.

Call.

10 Lysiteli quidem Philtonis filio.

Lys.

Enim me nominat.

Charm.

Familiam optumam occupavit.

Lys.

Quid ego cesso hos conloqui?

sed maneam etiam opinor, namque hoc commodum orditur loqui.

Ch.

Vah.

Call.

Quid est?

Ch.

Oblitus intus dudum tibi sum dicere:

modo mi advenienti nugator quidam occessit obviam,

15 nimis pergraphicus sycophanta; is mille nummum se aureum meo datu tibi ferre et gnato Lesbónico aibat meo;

quem ego nec qui esset noram, neque eum ante usquam conspexi prius.

sed quid rides?

Call.

Meo adlegatu venit, quasi qui aurum mihi ferret aps te, quod darem tuae gnatae dotem, ut filius

20 tuos, quando illi a me darem, esse allatum id aps te crederet neu qui rem ipsam posset intellegere, et thesaurum tuum me esse penes, atque eum a me lege populi patrium posceret.

Charm.

Scite edepol.

Call.

Megaronides communis hoc meus et tuos benevolens commentust.

Charm.

Quin conlaudo consilium et probo.

Lys.

25 Quid ego ineptus, dum sermonem vereor interrumpere, solus sto nec quod conatus sum agere ago? hominis conloquar.

Ch.

Quis hic est, qui huc ad nos incedit?

L.

Charmidem socerum suum

Lysiteles salutat.

Charm.

Di dent tibi, Lysiteles, quae velis.

Call.

Non ego sum salute dignus?

Lys.

Immo salve, Callicles;

30 hunc priorem aequomst me habere: tunica propior palliost.

Call.

Deos volo consilia vostra vobis recte vortere.

Charm.

Filiam meam tibi desponsam esse audio.

Lys.

Nisi tu nevis.

Ch.

Immo haud nolo.

L.

Sponden ergo tuam gnatam uxorem mihi?

Charm.

Spondeo, et mille auri Philippum dotis.

Lys.

Dotem nil moror.

Charm.

35 Si illa tibi placet, placenda dos quoque est quam dat tibi.
postremo quod vis non duces, nisi illud quod non vis feres.

Call.

Ius hic orat.

Lys.

Impetrabit te advocato atque arbitro.
istac lege filiam tuam spónden mi uxorem dari?

Ch.

Spondeo.

C.

Et ego spondeo ídem hoc.

L.

Oh salvete, adfines mei.

Charm.

40 Atque edepol sunt res, quas propter tibi tamen suscensui.

Lys.

Quid ego feci?

Charm.

Meum corrumpi quia perpressu's filium.

Lys.

Si id mea voluntate factumst, est quod mihi suscenseas.
sed sine me hoc aps te impetrare quod volo.

Ch.

Quid id est?

L.

Scies.

si quid stulte fecit, ut ea missa facias omnia.

45 quid quassas caput?

Ch.

Cruciaturo cor mi, et metuo.

L.

Quidnam id est?

Charm.

Quom ille itast ut esse nolo, id crucior; metuo, si tibi denegem quod me oras, ne te leviozem erga me putes.
non gravabor. faciam ita ut vis.

Lys.

Probus es. eo, ut illum evocem.

Charm.

Miserumst, male promerita, ut merita sunt, si ulcisci non licet.

Lys.

50 Aperite hoc, aperite propere et Lesbonicum, si domist, foras evocate: ita subitost propere quod eum conventum volo.

Lesbonicvs

Quis homo tam tumultuoso sonitu me excivit subito foras?

Lys.

Benevolens tuos atque amicus.

Lesb.

Satine salve? dic mihi.

Lys.

Recte. tuom patrem rediisse salvom peregre gaudeo.

Le.

55 Quis id ait?

Ly.

Ego.

Le.

Tun vidisti?

Ly.

Et tute item videas licet.

Lesb.

O pater, pater mi, salve.

Charm.

Salve multum, gnate mi.

Lesb.

Si quid tibi, pater, laboris —

Charm.

Nihil evenit, ne time:

bene re gesta salvos redeo — si tu modo frugi esse vis.

haec tibi pactast Callicli huius filia.

Lesb.

Ego ducam, pater,

60 et eam et si quam aliam iubebis.

Charm.

Quamquam tibi suscensui, miseria una uni quidem hominist adfatim.

Call.

Immo huic parumst,
nam si pro peccatis centum ducat uxores, parumst.

Lesb.

At iam posthac temperabo.

Charm.

Dicis, si facies modo.

Lys.

Numquid causaest quin uxorem cras domum ducam?

Charm.

optimumst. Licet.

65 tu in perendinum paratus sis ut ducas.

ACT V.

PROLOGVS

Perparvam partem postulat Plautus loci de vestris magnis atque amoenis moenibus, Athenas quo sine architectis conferat.
quid nunc? daturin estis an non? adnuont.
5 scio rém quidem urbis me ablaturum sine mora;
quid si de vostro quippiam orem? abnuont.
eu hercle in vobis resident mores pristini,
ad denegandum ut celeri lingua utamini.
sed hoc agamus quá huc ventumst gratia.
10 Athenis mutabo ita ut hoc est proscaenium tantisper dum transigimus hanc comoediam.
hic habitat mulier, nomen cui est Phronesium;
haec huius saeculi mores in se possidet:
numquam ab amatore suo postulat id quod datumst, 15 sed relicuom dat operam ne sit relicuom, poscendo atque auferendo, ut mos est mulierum;
nam omnes id faciunt, cum se amari intellegunt.

...

ea se peperisse puerum simulat militi, 20 quo citius rem ab eo avertat cum pulvisculo.
quid multa? †stuic superet muliere †hiscum anima ad eum habenti erce teritur.

ACT I.

Diniarchvs

Non omnis aetas ad perdiscendum sat est amanti, dum id perdiscat, quot pereat modis;
neque eam rationem eapse umquam educet Venus,
quam penes amantum summa summarum redit,
5 quot amans exemplis ludificetur, quot modis pereat quotque exoretur exorabilis:
quot illíc blanditiae, quót illic iracundiae sunt, quot supplicia danda, di vostram fidem, hui, quid perierandum est etiam, praeter munera:
10 primumdum merces annua, is primus bolust, ob eam tres noctes dantur; interea loci †aut ara aut vinum aut oleum aut triticum, temptat benignusne an bonae frugi sies:
quasi in piscinam rete qui iaculum parat, 15 quando abiit rete pessum, adducit lineam;
si inierit rete piscis, ne effugiat cavet:
dum huc dum illuc rete circumvortit, impedit piscis usque adeo donicum eduxit foras.
itidem si amator id quod oratur dedit 20 atque est benignus potius quam frugi bonae adduntur noctes, interim ille hamum vorat, si semel amoris poculum accepit meri eaeque intra pectus se penetravit potio, extemplo et ipso periit et res et fides.
25 si iratum scortumst forte amatori suo, bis perit amator, ab re atque ab animo simul;
sin alter altri propitiust, idem perit:
si raras noctes ducit, ab animo perit;
sin crebras ducit, ipso gaudet, res perit.
30 †iteca in aedibus lenosis† prius quam únum dederis, centum quae poscat parat:
aut periit aurum aut conscissa pallula est aut empta ancilla aut aliquod vasum argenteum aut vasum ahenum antiquom aut lectus †laptiles 35 aut armariola Graeca, aut aliquid semper est quod † petra debeatque amans scorto suo.

atque haec celamus nos clam magna industria, quom rem fidemque nosque nosmet perdimus,
ne qui parentes neu cognati sentiant;
40 quos cum celamus si faximus conscios, qui nostrae aetati tempestivo temperent, unde anteparta demus postpartoribus, faxim lenonum et scortorum † plus est et minus damnosorum hominum quam nunc sunt siet.
45 nam nunc lenonum et scortorum plus est fere, quam olim muscarum est cum caletur maxime.
nam nusquam alibi si sunt, circum argentarias scorta et lenones qui sedent cottidie, ea nimia est ratio; quippe qui certo scio, 50 ibi plus scortorum esse iam quam ponderum.
quos quidem quam ád rem dicam in argentariis referre habere, nisi pro tabulis, nescio, ubi aera perscribantur usuraria:
accepta dico, expensa ne qui censeat.
55 postremo id magno in populo † mulier hominibus, re placida atque otiosa, victis hostibus:
amare oportet omnes qui quod dent habent.
nam mihi haec méretrix quae hic habet, Phronesium, suom nómen omne ex pectore exmovit meo, 60 phronesim, nam phronesis est sapientia.
nam me fuisse huic fateor summum atque intumum, quod amantis multo pessimum est pecuniae;
eadem postquam alium repperit qui plus daret, damniosiorem, † mihi exinde immovit loco,
65 quem antehác odiosum sibi esse memorabat mala, Babyloniensem militem. is nunc dicitur venturus peregre; eo nunc commenta est dolum:
peperisse simulat sese, ut me extrudat foras
atque ut cum solo pergraecetur milite; 70 eum esse simulat militem puero patrem.

eum istí suppositum puerum opinor pessumae.
mihi verba retur dare se? án me censuit celare se potesse, gravida si foret?
nam ego Lemno advenio Athenas nudius tertius, 75 legatus hinc quo cum publico imperio fui.
sed haec quidem eius Astaphium est ancillula;
cum ea quoque etiam mihi fuit commercium.

Astaphium

Ad fores auscultate atque adservate aedis, ne quis adventor gravior abaetat quam adveniat,
neu, qui manus attulerit steriles intro ad nos,
gravidas foras exportet. novi ego hominum mores;
5 ita nunc adulescentes morati sunt: quini aut seni adveniunt ad scorta congerrones;
consulta sunt consilia: quando intro advenerunt, oenús eorum aliqui oscúlum amicae usque oggerít, dum illi agant ceterí cleptae;
sin vídent quempiam se adsérvare, obludiánt qui custodem óblectent 10 per ióculum et ludum; dé nostro saepe édunt: quod fatorés, faciunt.
fit pól hoc, et pars spectátorum scitís pol haec vos me haud méntiri, †tibi sibus pugnae et vírtuti de praédonibus praedám capere.
at ecástor nos rursúm lepide referímus gratiam furíbus nostris:

volo habere aratiunculam pro copia hic apud vos.

Ast.

Non arvos hic, sed pascuost ager: si arationes habituru's, quí arari solent, ad pueros ire meliust.
hunc nos habemus publicum, illi alii sunt publicani.

Din.

55 Vtrosque pergnovi probe.

Ast.

Em istoc pol tu otiosu's, cum et illíc et hic pervorsus es. sed utriscum rem esse mavis?

Din.

Procaciores estis vos, sed illí periuriores;
illis perit quidquid datur, neque ipsís apparet quicquam:
vos saltem si quid quaeritis, ecbibitis et comestis.
60 postremo illi sunt improbi, vos nequam et gloriosae.

Ast.

Male quae in nos vis, ea omnia tibi dicis, Diniarche, et nostram et illorum vicem.

Din.

Qui istuc?

Ast.

Rationem dicam:
quia qui alterum incusat probri, sumpse enitere oportet.
tu a nobis sapiens nihil habes, nos nequam abs ted habemus.

Din.

65 O Ástaphium, haud istoc modo solita es me ante appellare, sed blande, cum illuc, quod apud vos nunc est, apud me habebam.

Ast.

Dum vivit, hominem noveris: ubi mortuost, quiescat.
te dum vivebas noveram.

Din.

An me mortuom arbitrare?

Ast.

Qui potis est, amabo, planius? qui antehac amator summus
70 habitu's, nunc ad amicam venis querimoniam deferre.

Din.

Vestra hercle factum iniuria, quae properavistis olim:
rapere otiose oportuit, diu ut essem incolumis vobis.

Ast.

Amator similest oppidi hostilis.

Din.

Quo argumento est?

Ast.

Quam primum expugnari potis est, tam id optimum est amicae.

Din.

75 Ego fateor, sed longe aliter est amicus atque amator:
certe hercle quam veterrimus, tam homini optimust amicus.

Ast.

Si vivit.

Din.

Non hercle occidi, sunt mi etiam fundi et aedis.

Ast.

Cur, obsecro, ergo ante ostium pro ignoto alienoque astas?
i intro, haud alienus tu quidem es; nam ecastor neminem hodie 80 mage amat corde atque animo suo, si quidem habes fundum atque aedis.

Din.

In melle sunt linguae sitae vestrae atque orationes, facta atque corda in felle sunt sita atque acerbo aceto:

eo dicta lingua dulcia datis, cōrde amara facitis.

Ast.

Amantes si qui non danunt, † non didici fabulari.
85 non istaec, mea benignitas, decuit te fabulari, sed istós qui cum geniis suis belligerant parcipromi.

Din.

Mala es atque eadem quae soles inlecebra.

Ast.

Vt exspectatus peregre advenisti, quam, obsecro, cupiebat te era videre.

D.

Quid tandem?

A.

Te unum ex omnibus amat.

D.

Euge, fundi et aedis,
90 per tempus subvenistis. sed quid ais, Astaphium?

Ast.

Quid vis?

Din.

Estne intus nunc Phronesium?

Ast.

Vtut aliis, tibi quidem intus.

Din.

Valetne?

Ast.

Immo edepol melius iam fore spero, te ubi videbit.

Din.

Hoc nobis vitium maxumumst, cum amamus tum hoc perimus:
si illud quod volumus dicitur, palam cum mentiuntur,
95 verum esse insciti credimus, ne ut iusta utamur ira.

A.

Heia, haud itast res.

D.

Ain tu eam me amare?

A.

Immo unice unum.

D.

Peperisse audiui.

A.

Ah obsecro, tace, Diniarche.

D.

Quid iam?

Ast.

Horresco misera, mentio quotiens fit partionis,
ita paene nulla tibi fuit Phronesium. i intro, amabo, 100 vise illam. atque opperimino: iam exibat; nam lavabat.

Din.

Quid ais tu? quae numquam fuit praegnas, qui parere potuit?
nam équidem illi uterum, quod sciam, numquam extumere sensi.

Ast.

Celabat metuebatque te, ne tu sibi persuaderes, ut abortioni operam daret puerumque ut enicaret.

Din.

105 Tum pol isti ést puero pater Babylonienſis miles, quoius núnc iſta adventum expetit.

Ast.

Immo ab eo ut nuntiatumſt,
iam hic adfuturum aiunt eum. nondum advenſiſſe miror.

Din.

Ibo igitur intro?

Ast.

Quippini? tam audacter quam domum ad te;
nam tu quidem edepol noster es etiam nunc, Diniarche.

Din.

110 Quam mox te huc recipis?

Ast.

Iam hic ero: propeſt, profecta quo ſum.

Din.

Redi véro actutum. ego interim hic apud vos opperibor. —

ACT II.

Ast.

Hahahaé, requievi, quia íntro abiit odiúm meum.

tandém sola súm. nunc quidém meo arbitrátu loquár liberé quae volam ét quae lubébit.

5 huic hómini amanti méa era apud nos naéniam dixit domi, nam fundi et aedis obligatae sunt ob Amoris praedium.

verum apud hunc mea era sua consilia summa eloquitur libere, magisque ádeo ei consiliarius hic amicust quam auxiliarius.

dum fuit, dedit; nunc nihil habet: quod habebat nos habemus,

10 iste id habet quod nos habuimus. humanum facinus factumst.

actutum fortunae solent mutari, varia vitast:

nos divitem istum meminimus atque iste pauperes nos:

verterunt sese memoriae; stultus sit qui id miretur.

si eget, necessest nos pati: amavit, aequom ei factum est.

15 piaculumst miserere nos hominum rei male gerentum.

bonis ésse oportet déntibus lenám probam, adripere ut quisquis veniat blandeque adloqui, male corde consultare, bene lingua loqui.

meretricem sentis similem ésse condecet,

20 quémquem hominem attigerit, profecto ei aut malum aut damnum dare.

numquam amatoris meretricem oportet causam noscere, quin, ubi nil det, pro infrequente eum mittat militia domum.

nec umquam erit probus quísquam amator nisi qui rei inimicust suae.

nugae sunt nisi, modo quom dederit, dare iam lubeat denuo;

25 is amatur hic apud nos, qui quod dedit id oblitust datum.

dum habeat, dúm amet; ubi nil habeat, alium quaestum coepiat.

aequo animo, ipse si nihil habeat, aliis quí habent, det locum.

proburst amator, qui relictis rebus rem perdit suam.

at nós male agere praedicant viri solere secum,

30 nosque esse avaras. qui sumus? quid male nos agimus tandem?

nam ecastor numquam satis dedit suae quísquam amicae amator, neque pol nos satis accepimus neque umquam úlla satis poposcit.

nam quando sterilis est amator ab datis, si negat se habere quod det, soli credimus, 35 nec satis accipimus, satis cum quod det non habet:
semper datores novos oportet quaerere,
qui de thesauris integris demus danunt.
velút hic agrestis est adulescens, qui hic habet, nimis pól mortalis lepidus nimisque probus dator.
40 sed is clam patrem etiam hac nocte illac per hortum transiluit ad nos. eum volo convenire.
sed est huic unus servos violentissimus, qui ubi quámque nostrarum videt prope hasce aedis adgredi, item ut de frumento anseres, clamore absterret abigit;
45 ita est agrestis. sed fores, quidquid ést futurum, feriam.
ecquis huíc tutelam ianuae gerit? ecquis intus exit?

Trvcvlentvs

Quís illic est qui tam proterve nostras aedis arietat?

Ast.

Ego sum, respice ad me.

Trvc.

Quid ego? nonne egó videor tibi?

quid tibi ad hasce accessio aedis est prope aut pultatio?

Ast.

Salve.

Trvc.

Sat mihi est tuae salutis. nil moror. non salveo?

5 aegrotare malim quam esse tua salute sanior.

sed volo scíre, quid debetur hic tibi nostrae domi?

Ast.

Comprime sis eiram.

Trvc.

Eam quidem hercle tu, quae solita es, comprime, impudens, quae per ridiculum rustico suades stuprum.

Ast.

Eiram dixi: ut decepisti! dempsisti unam litteram.

10 nimis quidem hic truculentust.

Trvc.

Pergin male loqui, mulier, mihi?

Ast.

Quid tibi ego male dicó?

Trvc.

Quia enim me truncum lentum nominas.

nunc adeo, nisi abis actutum aut dicis quid quaeras cito, iam hercle ego hic te, mulier, quasi sus catulos pedibus proteram.

Ast.

Rus merum hoc quidemst.

Trvc.

Pudendumst vero clurinum pecus.

15 advenisti huc te ostentatum, cum exornatis ossibus, quia tibi suaso infecisti propudiosa pallulam?

an eo bella es, quia accepisti ármillas aeneas?

A.

Nunc places, cum mi inclementer dicis.

T.

Quid hoc quod te rogo?

mancupion qui accipias, gestas tecum ahenos anulos?

20 pignus da ni lignae haec sunt quas habes Victorias.

Ast.

Ne attigas me.

Trvc.

Egon te tangam? íta me amabit sarculum, ut ego me ruri amplexari mavelim patulam bovem cumque ea noctem in stramentis pernoctare perpetem, quam tuas centum cenatas noctes mihi dono dari.
25 rus tu mi opprobras? ut nancta es hominem quem pudeat probri!
sed quid ápuđ nostras negoti, mulier, est aedis tibi?
quid tu huc occursas, in urbem quotienscumque advenimus?

Ast.

Mulieres volo convenire vostras.

Trvc.

Quas tu mulieres
mihi narras, ubi musca nulla feminast in aedibus?

Ast.

30 Nullan istic mulier habitat?

Trvc.

Rus, inquam, abierunt. abi.

Ast.

Quid clamas, insane?

Trvc.

Abire hinc ni properas grandi gradu, iam hercle ego istós fictos compositos crispas cincinnos tuos unguentatos usque ex cerebro exvellam.

Ast.

Quanam gratia?

Trvc.

Quia ad foris nostras unguentis uncta es ausa accedere
35 quiaque istas buccas tam belle purpurissatas habes.

Ast.

Erubui mecastor misera propter clamorem tuom.

Trvc.

Itane? erubuisti? quasi vero corpori reliqueris tuo potestatem coloris ulli capiendi, mala.
buccas rubrica, créta omne corpus intinxisti tibi.
40 pessumae estis.

Ast.

Quíd est quod vobis pessumae haec male fecerint?

T.

Scio ego plus quam tu arbitrare scire me.

A.

Quid id obsecrost
quod scias?

Trvc.

Erilis noster filius apud vos Strabax ut pereat, ut eum inliciat in malam fraudem et probrum.

Ast.

Sanus si videare, dicam: dicis contumeliam.
45 nemo homo hic solet perire apud nos: res perdunt suas;
ubi res perdidere, abire hinc, si volunt, salvis licet.
ego istunc non novi adulescentem vostrum.

Trvc.

Veron serio?
quid maceria illa ait, in horto quae est, quae in noctes singulas latere fit minor, qua ístoc ad vos damni permensust viam?

Ast.

50 Nil mirum (vetus est maceria) lateres si veteres ruont.

Trvc.

Ain tu vero veteres lateres ruere? numquam edepol mihi quisquam homo mortalis posthac duarum rerum creduit, ní ego vostra ero maiori facta denarravero.

Ast.

Estne item violentus ut tu?

Trvc.

Non enim ille meretriculis

55 munerandis rem coegit, verum parsimonia duritiaque: quae nunc ad vos clam exportantur, pessumae;

ea vos estis exunguimini ebibitis. egone haec mussitem?

iam quidem hercle ibo ad forum atque haec facta narrabo seni, neque istuc insegesti tergo coget examen mali. —

Ast.

60 Si ecastor hic homo sinapi victitet, non censeam tam esse tristem posse. at pol ero benevolens visust suo.

verum ego illúm, quamquam violentust, spero inmutari pote blandimentis, oramentis, ceteris meretriciis;

vidi equom ex indomito domitum fieri atque alias beluas.

65 nunc ad eram revidebo. sed eccum ódium progreditur meum.

tristis exit. haud convenit etiam hic dum Phronesium.

Diniarchvs

Piscis ego credo, qui usque dum vivont lavant, minus diú lavare quam haec lavat Phronesium.

si proinde amentur, mulieres diu quam lavant, omnes amantes balneatores sient.

Ast.

5 Non quis parumper durare opperirier?

Din.

Quin hercle lassus iam sum durando miser:

mihi quoque prae lassitudine opus est ut lavem.

sed obsecro hercle, Astaphium, i intro ac nuntia me adesse, ut properet suade, iam ut satis laverit.

A.

10 Licet.

D.

Audin etiam?

A.

Quid vis?

D.

Di me perduint,
qui te revocavi. non tibi dicebam 'i' modo?

Ast.

Quidnam revocabas? improbu's nihilique homo:
tute tibi mille passum peperisti moram. —

Din.

Sed quid haec hic autem tam diu ante aedis stetit?

15 nescio quem praestolata est; credo, militem.

illum student iam; quasi volturii triduo prius praédivinant, quo die esuri sient:

illum inhiant omnes, illi est animus omnibus;

me nemo magis respiciet, ubi is est huc venerit,

20 quasi abhinc ducentos annos fuerim mortuos.

ut rem servare suave est! vae misero mihi, post factum flector, qui antepartum perdidit.

verum nunc si qua mi obtigerit hereditas magna atque luculenta, nunc postquam scio

25 dulce atque amarum quid sit ex pecunia, ita ego íllam edepol servem itaque parce victitem, ut — nulla faxim cis dies paucos siet;

ego istós, qui nunc me culpant, confutaverim.

sed aestuosas sentio aperiri fores,

30 quae obsorbent quidquid venit intra pessulos.

Phronesivm

Num tibi nam, amabo, ianua est mordax mea, quo intro ire metuas, mea voluptas?

Din.

Ver vide,
ut tota floret, ut olet, ut nitide nitet.

Phron.

Quid tam inficetu's, Lemno adveniens qui tuae
5 non des amicae, Diniarche, savium?

Din.

Vah, vapulo hercle ego nunc, atque adeo male.

Phron.

Quo te avortisti?

Din.

Salva sis, Phronesium.

Phron.

Salve. hicine hodie cenas, salvos cum advenis?

Din.

Promisi.

Phron.

Vbi cenabis?

Din.

Vbi tu iusseris.

Phron.

10 Hic me lubente facies.

Din.

Edepol me magis.
nempe tú eris hodie mecum, mea Phronesium?

Phron.

Velim, si fieri possit.

Din.

Cedo soleas mihi,
properate, auferte mensam.

Phron.

Amabo, sanun es?

Din.

Non edepol bibere possum iam, ita animo malest.

Phron.

¹⁵ Mane, aliquid fiet, né abi.

Din.

Ah, aspersisti aquam.

iam rediit animus. deme soleas, cedo bibam.

Phron.

Idem es mecastor qui soles. sed dic mihi, benene ambulatumst?

Din.

Huc quidem hercle ad te bene, quia tui videndi copia est.

Phron.

Complextere.

Din.

²⁰ Lubens. heia, hoc est melle dulci dulcius.
hoc tuis fortunis, Iuppiter, praestant meae.

Phron.

Dan savium?

Din.

Immo vel decem.

Phron.

Em istoc pauper es:
semper plus pollicere quam ego abs te postulo.

Din.

Vtinam a principio reí item parsisses meae
25 ut nunc reparcis saviis.

Phron.

Si quid tibi compendi facere possim, factum edepol velim.

Din.

Iam lauta es?

Phron.

Iam pol mihi quidem atque oculis meis.
num tibi sordere videor?

Din.

Non pol mihi quidem;
verum tempestas, memini, quondam etiam fuit, 30 cum inter nos sordebamus alter de altero.
sed quid ego facinus audiui adveniens tuom, quod tu hic me absente novi negoti gesseris?

Phron.

Quid id est?

Din.

Primumdum, cum tu es aucta liberis cumque bene provenisti salva, gaudeo.

Phron.

35 Concedite hinc vos intro atque operite ostium.
tu nunc superstes solus sermoni meo es. tibi mea consilia summa semper credidi.
equidem neque peperí puerum neque praegnas fui;
verum adsimulavi me esse praegnatem: haud nego.

Din.

40 Quem propter, o mea vita?

Phron.

Propter militem

Babyloniensem, qui quasi uxorem sibi me habebat anno, dum hic fuit.

Din.

Ego senseram.

sed quid istuc? cui rei te adsimulare retulit?

Phron.

Vt esset aliquis laqueus et redimiculum,

45 reversionem ut ad me faceret denuo.

nunc huc remisit nuper ad me epistulam, sese experturum quanti sese penderem:

si quod peperissem id non necarem ac tollerem, bona sua med habiturum omnia esse.

Din.

Ausculdo lubens.

50 quid denique agitis?

Phron.

Mater ancillas iubet,

quoniam iam decimus mensis adventat prope,

aliam aliorum ire, praemandare et quaerere puerum aut puellam, qui supponatur mihi.

quid multa verba faciam? tonstricem Suram

55 novisti nostram, quae mercedem sese habet?†

Din.

Novi.

Phron.

Haec ut opera circumit, per familias, puerum vestigat; clanculum ad me detulit,

datum sibi esse dixit.

Din.

O mercis malae.

eum nunc non illa peperit, quae peperit prior,

60 sed tu posterior.

Phron.

Ordine omnem rem tenes.

nunc ut praemisit nuntium miles mihi,

non multo post hic aderit.

Din.

Nunc tu te interim

quasi pro puerpera hic procuras?

Phron.

Quippini,

ubi sine labore res geri pulcre potest?

65 ad suum quemque aequum est quaestum esse callidum.

Din.

Quid me futurum est, quando miles venerit?

relictusne abs te vivam?

Phron.

Vbi illud quod volo

habebo ab illo, facile inveniam quo modo divortium et discordiam inter nos parem:

70 post id ego totum tecum, mea voluptas, usque ero assiduo.

Din.

Immo hercle vero accubuo mavelim.

Phron.

quin Dis hodie sacrificare pro puero volo, quinto die quod fieri oportet.

Din.

Censeo.

Phron.

Non audes aliquid mihi dare munusculum?

Din.

75 Lucrum hercle videor facere mi, voluptas mea, ubi quippiam me poscis.

Phron.

At ego, ubi abstuli.

Din.

Iam faxo hic aderit. servolum huc mittam meum.

Phron.

Sic facito.

Din.

Quidquid attulerit, boni consulas.

Phron.

Ecaster munus te curaturum scio,
80 ut cuius me nón paeniteat mittatur mihi.

Din.

Num quippiam aliud me vis?

Phron.

Vt quando otium
tibi sit ad me revisas, et valeas. —

Din.

Vale.

pro di immortales, non amantis mulieris, sed sociae únanimantis, fidentis fuit

85 officium facere quod modo haec fecit mihi, suppositionem pueri quae mihi credidit, germanae quod sorori non credit soror.
ostendit sese iam mihi medullitus:
scio mi infidelem numquam, dum vivat, fore.
90 egone illam ut non amem? egone illi ut non bene velim?
me potius non amabo quam huic desit amor.
ego istí non munus mittam? iam † modo ex hoc loco iubebo ad istam quinque deferri minas, praeterea obsonari una dumtaxat mina.
95 multo illi potius bene erit quae bene volt mihi, quam mihi, qui mihimet omnia facio mala. —

Phronesivm

Puero ísti date mammam. út miserae matrés sollicitaeque éx animo sumus crúciamurque!
edepól commentum mále, cumque eam rem in córde agito, nimió — minus perhibemúr malae quam sumus íngenio.
5 egó prima dé me, domó docta, díco.
quanta ést cura in animo, quantum corde capio dolorem — dolus ne occidat morte pueri:
mater dicta quod sum, eo magis studeo vitae;
quae ausa hunc sum, tantundem dolum nunc adgrediar.
10 lucri causa avara probrum sum exsecuta, alienos dolores mihi suppositivi;
sed nullam rem oportet dolose adgrediri, nisi astu totam accurateque exsequare.
vosmet iam videtis, ut ornata incedo:
15 puerperio ego nunc med esse aegram adsimulo.
mále quod mulier fácere incepit, nísi id efficere pérpetrat, id illi morbo, id illi seníost, ea illi miserae miseríast;
bene sí facere incepit, eius rei nimis cito odium percipit.
nimis quam paucae sunt defessae, male quae facere occeperunt, 20 nimisque paucae efficiunt, sí quid facere occeperunt bene:
mulieri nimio male facere levius onus est quam bene.
ego quod mala sum, matris opera mala sum et meapte malítia, quae me gravidam esse adsimulavi militi Babylonio:

eam nunc malitiam accuratam miles inveniatur volo.

25 is hic haud multo post, credo, aderit; nunc prius praecaveo sciens sumque ornata ita ut aegra videar, quasi puerperio cubem.

date mi huc stactam atque ignem in aram, ut venerem Lucinam meam.

hic apponite atque abite ab oculis. eho, Pithecius, face ut accumbam, accede, adiuta. em sic decet puerperam.

30 soleas mihi deduce, pallium inice in me huc, Archilis.
ubi es, Astaphium? fer huc verbenam mi intus et bellaria.
date aquam manibus. nunc ecastor adveniat miles velim.

Stratophanes

Ne expectetis, spectatores, meas pugnas dum praedicem:
manibus duella praedicare soleo, haud in sermonibus.

scio ego multos memoravisse milites mendacium:
et Homeronida et postilla mille memorari pote,

5 qui et convicti et condemnati falsis de pugnis sient.
non laudandus cui plus credit qui audit quam ille qui videt:
non placet quem illi plus laudant qui audiunt, quam qui vident.
pluris est oculatus testis unus quam auriti decem;
qui audiunt audita dicunt, qui vident plane sciunt.

10 non placet quem scurrae laudant, manipularis mussitant, neque illi quorum lingua gladiatorum aciem praestringit domi.
strenui nimio plus prosunt populo quam arguti et cati:
facile sibi facunditatem virtus argutam invenit, sine virtute argutum civem mihi habeam pro praefica, 15 quae alios conlaudat, eapse sese vero non potest.
nunc ad amicam decimo mense post Athenas Atticas viso, quam gravidam hic reliqui meo compressu, quid ea agat.

Phron.

Vide quis loquitur tam propinque.

Astaphium

Miles, mea Phronesium, tibi adest Stratophanes. nunc tibi opust, aegram ut te adsimules.

Ph.

Tace.

20 cuí adhuc ego tam mala eram monetrix, me maleficio vinceres?

St.

Peperit mulier, ut ego opinor.

A.

Vin adeam ad hominem?

Ph.

Volo.

S.

Euge, Astaphium eccam it mi advorsum.

A.

Salve ecastor, Stratophanes.

venire salvom te —

Strat.

Scio. sed peperitne, ópsecro, Phronesium?

Ast.

Peperit puerum nimium lepidum.

Strat.

Ehem, ecquid mei similest?

Ast.

Rogas?

25 quin ubí natust machaeram et clupeum poscebat sibi?

Strat.

Meus est, scio iam de argumentis.

Ast.

Nimium tuí similest.

Strat.

Papae,

iam magnust? iamne iit ad legionem? ecquae spolia rettulit?

Ast.

Heia, nudius quintus natus ille quidem est.

Strat.

Quid postea?

inter tot dies quidem hercle iam aliquid actum oportuit.

30 quid illi ex utero exitiost prius quam poterat ire in proelium?

Ast.

Consequere atque illam saluta et gratulare illi.

Strat.

Sequor.

Phron.

Vbi illa, óbsecro, est quae me hic reliquit, eapse abiit? ubist?

A.

Adsum, adduco tibi exoptatum Stratophanem.

Ph.

Vbi is est, óbsecro?

Strat.

Mars peregre adveniens salutat Nerienem uxorem suam.

35 quom tu recte provenisti quomque es aucta liberis, gratulor, quom mihi tibiue magnum peperisti decus.

Phron.

Salve, qui me interfecisti paene vita et lumine quique mihi magni doloris per voluptatem tuam condidisti in corpus, quo nunc etiam morbo misera sum.

Strat.

40 Heia, haud ab re, mea voluptas, tibi istic obvenit labos:
filium peperisti, qui aedis spoliis opplebit tuas.

Phron.

Multo ecastor magis oppletis tritici ópust granariis, ne, ille prius quam spolia capiat, hic nos extinxit fames.

Strat.

Habe bonum animum.

Phron.

Savium pete hinc sis. ah, nequeo caput
45 tollere, ita dolet itaque ego † medulo, neque etiam queo pedibus mea sponte ambulare.

Strat.

Si hercle me ex medio mari savium petere tuom iubeas, petere hau pigeat me, mel meum.
id ita esse experta es: nunc experiere, mea Phronesium, me te amare. adduxi ancillas tibi eccas ex Suria duas, 50 is te dono. adduce hoc tu istas. sed istae reginae domi suae fuerunt ambae, earum patriam ego excidi manu.
his te dono.

Phron.

Paenitetne te quot ancillas alam,
quin examen super adducas, quae mihi comedint cibum?

St.

Hoc quidem herclést ingratum donum. cedo tu mi istam purpuram.
55 mea voluptas, attuli eccam pallulam ex Phrygia tibi.
tene tibi.

Phron.

Hocine mi ob labores tantos tantillum dari?

Strat.

Perii hercle ego miser. iam mi auro contra constat filius:

†etiam num mali pendit addit purpuram. ex Arabia tibi attuli tus, Ponto amomum. tene tibi, voluptas mea.

Phron.

60 Accipe hoc, Astaphium, abduce hasce hinc e conspectu Suras.

S.

Ecquid amas me?

Ph.

Nihil ecastor, neque meres.

S.

Nilne huic sat est?

ne bonum verbum quidem unum dixit. viginti minis venire illaec posse credo dona quae ei dono dedi.

vehementer nunc mi est irata, sentio atque intellego;

65 verum abibo. quid ais? nunc tu num nevis mé, voluptas mea,

Call.

Pro filiolon?

T.

Pro filiolo.

C.

Di, obsecro vostram fidem,

ut facilius alia quam alia eundem puerum unum parit:

haec labore alieno puerum peperit sine doloribus.

puer quidem beatust: matres duás habet et avias duas:

35 iam metuo, patres quot fuerint. vide sis facinus muliebre.

Anc.

Magis pol haec malitia pertinet ad viros quam ad mulieres:

vir illam, non mulier praegnatem fecit.

Call.

Idem ego istuc scio.

meum illuc facinus, mea stultitia est. timeo, quam mox nominer.

Call.

Loquere, filiam meam quis integram stupraverit.

Anc.

Video ego té, propter male facta qui es patronus parieti.

Din.

Neque vivos neque mortuos sum, neque quid nunc faciam scio,

50 neque ut hinc abeam neque ut hunc adeam scio, timore torpeo.

Call.

Dicin an non?

Anc.

Diniarchus, quoi illam prius desponderas.

C.

Vbi is homost quem dicis?

D.

Adsum, Callicles. per tua obsecro genua te, ut istuc insipienter factum sapienter feras, mihique ignoscas quod animi impos vini vitio fecerim.

Call.

55 Non placet qui in mutum culpam confert, qui non quit loqui.
nam vinum si fabulari possit, se defenderet.
non vinum viris moderari, sed viri vino solent, qui quidem probi sunt; verum qui improbust si quasi bibit sive adeo caret temeto, tamen ab ingenio improbust.

Din.

60 Scio equidem quae nolo multa mi audienda ob noxiam.
ego tibi me obnoxium esse fateor culpae compotem.

Anc.

Callicles, vide in quaestione ne facias iniuriam:
reus solutus causam dicit, testis vinctos attines.

Call.

Solvite istas. agite, abite tu domum et tu autem domum.
65 eloquere haec eras tu: puerum reddat, si quis eum petat.
eamus tu in ius.

Din.

Quid vis in ius me ire? tu es praetor mihi.
verum te obsecro, ut tuam gnatam des mi uxorem, Callicles.

Call.

Eundem pol te iudicasse qui admisti eam rem intellego.
nam haud mansisti, dum ego darem illam: tute sumpsisti tibi.
70 nunc habeas ut nactu's. verum hoc ego te multabo bolo:
sex talenta magna dotis demam pro ista inscitia.

Din.

Bene agis mecum.

Call.

Filium istinc tuom te meliust repetere.
ceterum uxorem quam primum potest abduce ex aedibus.
ego abeo. iam illi remittam nuntium adfini meo,

Din.

Non voluptas, aufer nugas, nil ego nunc de istac re ago.

Phron.

10 Scio mecastor quid velis ét quid postules et quid petas:
me videre vis, et me te a me ire postulas, puerum petis.

Din.

The Biography

A well preserved Roman theatre in Bosra, Syria

INTRODUCTION TO PLAUTUS by Paul Nixon

Little is known of the life of Titus Maccius Plautus. He was born about 255 B.C. at Sarsina, in Umbria; it is said that he went to Rome at an early age, worked at a theatre, saved some money, lost it in a mercantile venture, returned to Rome penniless, got employment in a mill and wrote, during his leisure hours, three plays. These three plays were followed by many more than the twenty extant, most of them written, it would seem, in the latter half of his life, and all of them adapted from the comedies of various Greek dramatists, chiefly of the New Comedy. Adaptations rather than translations they certainly were. Apart from the many allusions in his comedies to customs and conditions distinctly Roman, there is evidence enough in Plautus's language and style that he was not a close translator. Modern translators who have struggled vainly to reproduce faithfully in their own tongues, even in prose, the countless puns and quips, the incessant alliteration and assonance in the Latin lines, would be the last to admit that Plautus, writing so much, writing in verse, and writing with such careless, jovial, exuberant ease, was nothing but a translator in the narrow sense of the term.

Very few of his extant comedies can be dated, so far as the year of their production in Rome is concerned, with any great degree of certainty. The Miles Gloriosus appeared about 206, the Cistellaria about 202, Stichus in 200, Pseudolus in 191 B.C.; the Truculentus, like Pseudolus, was composed when Plautus was an old man, not many years before his death in 184 B.C.

Welcome as a full autobiography of Plautus would be, in place of such scant and tasteless biographical morsels as we do have, only less welcome, perhaps, would be his own stage directions for his plays, supposing him to have written stage directions and to have written them with something more than even modern fullness. We should learn how he met the stage conventions and limitations of his day; how successfully he could, by make-up and mannerism, bring on the boards palpably different persons in the Scapins and Bobadils and Doll Tear-sheets that on the printed page often seem so confusingly similar, and most important, we should learn precisely what sort of dramatist he was and wished to be.

If Plautus himself greatly cared or expected his restless, uncultivated, fun-seeking audience to xiicare, about the construction of his plays, one must criticize him and rank him on a very different basis than if his main, and often his sole, object was to amuse the groundlings. If he often took himself and his art with hardly more seriousness than does the writer of the vaudeville skit or musical comedy of to-day, if he often wished primarily to gain the immediate laugh, then much of Langen's long list of the playwright's dramatic delinquencies is somewhat beside its intended point.

And in large measure this — to hold his audience by any means — does seem to have been his ambition: if the joke mars the part, down with the part; if the ludicrous scene interrupts the development of the plot, down with the plot. We have plenty of verbal evidence that the dramatist frequently chose to let his characters become caricatures; we have some verbal evidence that their "stage business" was sometimes made laughably extravagant; in many cases it is sufficiently obvious that he expected his actors to indulge in grotesqueries, well or ill timed, no matter, provided they brought guffaws. It is probable, therefore, that in many other cases, where the tone and "stage business" are not as obvious, where an actor's high seriousness might elicit catcalls, and burlesque certainly would elicit chuckles, Plautus wished his players to avoid the catcalls.

This is by no means the universal rule. In the writer of the Captivi, for instance, we are dealing with a dramatist whose aims are different and higher. Though Lessing's encomium of the play is one to which not all of us can assent, and though even the Captivi shows some technical flaws, it is a work which must be rated according to the standards we apply to a Minna von Barnhelm rather than according to those applied to a Pinafore: here, certainly, we have comedy, not farce.

But whatever standards be applied to his plays their outstanding characters, their amusing situations, their vigour and comicality of dialogue remain. Euclio and Pyrgopolynices, the straits of the brothers Menaechmus and the postponement of Argyrippus's desires, the verbal encounter of Tranio and Grumio, of Trachalio and the fishermen — characters, situations, and dialogues such as these should survive because of their own excellence, not because of modern imitations and parallels such as Harpagon and Parolles, the misadventures of the brothers Antipholus and Juliet's difficulties with her nurse, the remarks of Petruchio to the tailor, of Touchstone to William.

Though his best drawn characters can and should stand by themselves, it is interesting to note how many favourite personages in the modern drama and in modern fiction Plautus at least prefigures. Long though the list is, it does not contain a large proportion of thoroughly respectable names: Plautus rarely introduces us to people, male or female, whom we should care to have long in the same house with us. A real lady seldom appears in these comedies, and — to approach a paradox — when she does she usually comes perilously close to being no lady; the same is usually true of the real gentleman. The generalization in the Epilogue of The Captives may well be made particular: "Plautus finds few plays such as this which make good men better." Yet there is little in his plays which makes men — to say nothing of good men — worse. A bluff Shakespearean coarseness of thought and expression there often is, together with a number of atrocious characters and scenes and situations. But compared with the worst of a Congreve or a Wycherley, compared with the worst of our own contemporary plays and musical comedies, the worst of Plautus, now because of its being too revolting, now because of its being too laughable, is innocuous. His moral land is one of black and white, mostly black, without many of those really dangerous half-lights and shadows in which too many of our present day playwrights virtuously invite us to skulk and peer and speculate.

Comparatively harmless though they are, the translator has felt obliged to dilute certain phrases and lines.

The text accompanying his version is that of Leo, published by Weidmann, 1895-96. In the few cases where he has departed from this text brief critical notes are given; a few changes in punctuation have been accepted without comment. In view of the wish of the Editors of the Library that the text pages be printed without unnecessary defacements, it has seemed best to omit the lines that Leo brackets as un-Plautine: attention is called to the omission in each case and the omitted lines are given in the note; the numbering, of course, is kept unchanged. Leo's daggers and asterisks indicating corruption and lacunae are omitted, again with brief notes in each case.

The translator gladly acknowledges his indebtedness to several of the English editors of the plays, notably to Lindsay, and to two or three English translators, for a number of phrases much more happily turned by them than by himself: the difficulty of rendering verse into prose — if one is to remain as close as may be to the spirit and letter of the verse, and at the same time not disregard entirely the contributions made by the metre to gaiety and gravity of tone — is sufficient to make him wish to mitigate his failure by whatever means. He is also much indebted to Professors Charles Knapp, K. C. M. Sills, and F. E. Woodruff for many valuable suggestions.

DELPHI MASTERS OF ART

Very little is known of Plautus' life — Rome was likely the location of his death.
